'BRAIN' BEHIND GUIDED MISSILES

UNIVAC-SCIENTIFIC, a newly-developed electronic "brain," is now being used to aid the guided missile program at the White Sands Proving Grounds, New Mexico. Its task is to compute and analyze the tremendous amounts of data taken from each firing and turn out the results in time for its use when the next missile is fired. Photo at right, shows a missile in straight-up flight. At bottom, another missile is headed for angle firing. At bottom, left, the guided destroyer roars off at an angle. At bottom, right, are radar instruments which receive data from the missile during the flight through space. (Central Press)

Senator Tells Of Eerie Experience

By Sen. Albert Gore
WASHINGTON—How deep the Nautilus can dive is a secret. But there is no secret that I had nervous twinges as she plunged downward in excess of 300 feet. How fast she will race through the dark, briny depths is also a secret. But it was the thrill of a lifetime to break all previous records in this respect as the midnight hour approached.

The fright which I frankly admit and the exhilaration, which I shall not forget, were only aspects of an enlightening, enjoyable, and inspiring experience.

The food that we ate was cooked, milled, and the exhilaration, which we drank was distilled from ocean water by atomic energy. The submarine was not only driven but heated and air-conditioned by atomic energy. In fact, all power for all purposes was exclusively nuclear in origin.

We boarded the submarine about 8 p.m. at New London, Conn., and almost immediately the Nautilus started down the Thames River. We wrapped ourselves in Navy blankets to stay on deck until we reached open waters.

After a late lunch of sandwiches and coffee, the committee broke up into parties of two or three to inspect the vessel. Each of us carefully placed upon the lapel of his coat instruments to test radioactivity.

Upon entering the reactor room, I noticed Sen. Easton (D-Mt) taking a quick glance at his. Of course I am sure it was entirely out of curiosity. I looked at mine too, even though I had previously checked a gauge. The gauge ranged from zero to 300. At no time did my gauge register more than two points. Sen. Anderson's (D-Mt) gauge registered highest after the hour, standing at 10 points. One very easily checked 20 points on a warm sunny day.

The atomic reactor was, of course, the center of interest. We were never far from it. It was, doubtless, radiating. Yet, we could harmlessly place our hands upon this still, warm, but quiet source of enormous power.

I cannot feel the heat rays. I cannot feel the heat rays. I cannot feel the heat rays.

...date all 12 of us plus the clerk, Corbin C. Allardice. At first, it was difficult to get committee business under way because members were still watching the gauges.

Sen. Anderson called Adm. Rickover before us to ask him about the operation, the performance, the cost and the promise of the Nautilus. The replies of Adm. Rickover soon broke the tenseness and for about two hours there was an enlightening and penetrating discussion of this man-made phenomenon.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) remarked at one point that this would undoubtedly be "the deepest thinking" congressional committee meeting that had ever been held. And I suggested that this might be a good place to dump the Dixon-Yates report.

After we had been submerged for hours, I asked Adm. Rickover how many days the Nautilus could proceed under water at full speed. "Indefinitely," he answered. "Long enough to go the distance around the world and the answer would still be 'indefinite.'"

The significance of this may be measured by the fact that an orthodox submarine can travel full speed under water for only about an hour.

22 Men Are Killed In Mine Explosion

SPOLETO, Italy—An explosion nearly 1,000 feet deep in a lignite coal mine today killed at least 22 miners and injured 16 others. First reports said none were trapped in the workings.

The blast occurred in a mine at Morgnano di Spoleto, a hamlet near this city about 65 miles northeast of Rome. Apparently caused by accumulated coal gas, it smashed through the tunnels at 6 a.m., just as the day's second shift was starting to work.

...After about 24 hours of thorough and detailed inspection, we returned to the central compartment to exchange views, look each other about our nervousness, and ask more questions of Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who is entitled to more credit than any other person for the Nautilus.

The ranking naval officers took their turns in presiding over three sittings at the dinner table where we were served delicious atomically cooked turkey.

After dinner the real shakedown maneuvers of the Nautilus began. Now that his guests had become thoroughly conditioned for it, as he thought, the captain ordered the Nautilus put through her paces.

The throttle was opened. The propeller surged and we excitedly watched the dials as we went faster—down, down, down, down. Then up, then down. Straight ahead, full power.

The speedometer needle moved rapidly clockwise, receding only as the Nautilus took sharp banks and turns. Straight ahead again through the deep, and again the speedometer moved clockwise until we were told that we were racing under water at a record-breaking speed.

Then, up again; then, down again; up again; down again. The crew intently watched all instruments, tested all valves, watched the performance of every delicate gadget. As for the members of Congress, we sat tensely watching the depth gauge with one eye and the speedometer with the other.

At the nadir of a deep dive, Sen. Anderson, chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, called a meeting. We gathered around a table large enough to accommodate

...The first European settler on the site of Boston, the Shawmut Peninsula between Charles River and South Bay, was William Blackstone, an English clergyman.

...Both women denied the accusations. The maid charged she had been beaten by police after her arrest. Miss Monzon, a school teacher, also complained against police treatment.

Miss Monzon said the charges were an attack on her brother Col. Elfigo Monzon, who was at one time a member of Castillo Armas' ruling junta. Exiled after an abortive coup early this year, Monzon reportedly is living in Miami, Fla.

A court dismissed the complaints against Miss Monzon and her maid yesterday. The two women were arrested Saturday.

Police accused Miss Monzon of placing a small rag doll — representing Castillo Armas — in a jar containing a thick liquid, pieces of garlic, onion, tomato and buckshot. After sticking pins into the doll's head, they asserted she sent her maid to bury the jar in the cemetery.

Witchcraft Charge Placed On Woman Dismissed By Court

GUATEMALA—Olga Monzon, sister of an exiled rival of President Carlos Castillo Armas, has been cleared of charges she practiced witchcraft against the President.

A court dismissed the complaints against Miss Monzon and her maid yesterday. The two women were arrested Saturday.

Police accused Miss Monzon of placing a small rag doll — representing Castillo Armas — in a jar containing a thick liquid, pieces of garlic, onion, tomato and buckshot. After sticking pins into the doll's head, they asserted she sent her maid to bury the jar in the cemetery.

Sen. George Calls For New Efforts To Achieve Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) called today for new efforts to achieve world unity as a prelude to a possible Big Four meeting this year on world peace.

Agreeing such unity is needed, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said in a separate interview it might be well to hold a preliminary "Big Three" conference to iron out policy differences before any full-dress talks with Russia.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has advocated a top-level meeting of the United States, Russia, Britain and France as soon as the West European defense setup is ratified and the way cleared for Germany to rearm.

He said he feels President Eisenhower's news conference comments yesterday indicate the President is willing to meet with the Soviet Union on a permanent basis if there is a reasonable hope of getting something done.

"After the Paris agreements for arming Germany have been ratified, I hope that work can be started on an agenda for a high-level conference," George said. "I would hope that such an agenda would be developed by fall."

Security Council Action Is Delayed On Border Clashes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council has delayed action until next week on Egyptian-Israeli border clashes. It heard a plea by Israel yesterday for Egypt to join her in a pledge not to use force along the frontier.

The plea was made by Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban in his country's first formal statement to the council on the Feb. 28 Gaza clash, in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed.

Eban restated Israel's contention that the Gaza Strip attack was in retaliation for numerous Egyptian acts of aggression against Israel.

He said if Egypt would agree to convert the six-year-old armistice agreement into a permanent peace, Israel would guarantee its borders would not carry out hostile acts against Egypt.

Ratification Talk Continued Today

PARIS (AP)—Two half-hearted supporters of the Paris agreements returned West Germany continued the ratification debate today in the French Senate. Observers expect the Council of the Republic to give the treaties France's final parliamentary approval in a vote late Friday or Saturday.

Yvon Cousteau de Foresta, a member of a Communist party, and Marcel Champetier, a Socialist, both urged the chamber to accept the agreements as the best that France can obtain at this time.

Pravda Says Reds Have Proposal

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for banning nuclear weapons, reduction of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance.

The Communist party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.

As explained by Pravda, the plan largely parallels the proposal Russia put before the U.N. General Assembly last fall, except that it goes more fully into the disputed question of a central organ to guarantee that disarmament is carried out.

The plan calls for all nations to sign a convention agreeing to arms reductions in two stages:

Union Workers Said Locked Out

ATLANTA (AP)—Union workers in Kentucky charge they are being "locked out" at Western Electric Co. because of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike which entered its 11th day today.

Alex Cecil, president of Local 3395, CIO Communications Workers of America, said Western Electric notified some 75 union members at Louisville yesterday not to return to work until further notice because of the Southern Bell strike.

He said the contract provided Western Electric must give the union at least 14 days notice of any layoff.

Richard C. Valentine, Western Electric manager at Louisville, said the action was "in no sense a layoff." He called it a temporary suspension of operations caused by pickets placed at Western Electric buildings by the telephone strikers.

Western Electric installs and distributes equipment to Southern Bell whose workers have been on strike in a 9-state area since March 14.

In other developments yesterday cable flashings knocked out long distance telephone circuits in Florida and about 500 points in Georgia.

Dan Anderson, Jacksonville, Fla. district company manager, reported wires carrying 148 long distance circuits were cut nine miles south of Starke, Fla.

Jaycees Are Told Sanford Should Get Natural Gas Soon

Within three years, the Sanford area should have natural gas, Don Bales, local Packard-Studebaker dealer, told the Junior Chamber of Commerce today. This, he said, will be a big factor in attracting industry.

He also went on to point out that Florida can supply 17 per cent of the needs of industry in the entire nation. The northern part of the United States has all the industry it can support because of water shortages, Bales said.

"Industry is interested in good city government," he continued, "as well as a balanced budget, an aggressive town spirit, and the appearance of the town."

He listed other important factors as hospital and general health benefits, educational facilities, churches, housing, and good shopping areas.

The Jaycees have scheduled an Easter Egg hunt April 10 in Ft. Mellon Park, beginning at 9 p. m. The hunt will be for Seminole County children from the ages of one through 10. Children have also been invited from Lutheran Haven and from the Methodist Children's Home.

The Chamber of Commerce has asked the Jaycees to sponsor a barbecue for the Minneapolis and Richmond baseball clubs. The request is being considered by the board of directors.

Lack Of Evidence Ends Second Trial

MONTREAL (AP)—A jury last night freed Mrs. Harry Pursey, wife of a British Parliament member, of a charge of possessing counterfeit U. S. currency. It was her second trial.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty through lack of evidence." Her first trial ended Nov. 20 when a jury was unable to reach a verdict.

Pursey is a Labor member of Parliament. The couple, who is 41 and he is 66—were married in Trenton, N. J., last September. She was arrested while they were honeymooning.

Knowland Insists On Talking Yalta Anytime Pertinent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he is going to talk about the Yalta conference "whenever it is pertinent" despite President Eisenhower's statement such discussions gain nothing.

The President told his news conference yesterday he saw no advantage in going back 10 years and showing, in the light of after events, that somebody may have been wrong or right.

"President Eisenhower was expressing his personal opinion on this matter and I don't agree with him," said Knowland, the GOP leader. "I intend to continue to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it is pertinent."

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee took the same view, saying in a separate interview: "The best guidepost in looking forward lies in benefiting from the lessons of the past. Yalta was one of the sad lessons of history."

Many Republicans have contended that at Yalta President Franklin D. Roosevelt made concessions to the Russians which eventually put Eastern Europe and China behind the Iron Curtain. Democrats reply that Roosevelt was following the advice of his military advisers in trying to get Russia into the war with Japan.

Former Governor Of Indiana Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul V. McNutt, former governor of Indiana and ex-ambassador to the Philippines, died today.

McNutt, 61, about six months, was flown home from Manila about two weeks ago, interrupting an around-the-world cruise with Mrs. McNutt.

Both his wife and his daughter, Worsley, were with him when he died at his Fifth Ave. apartment about 8:30 a. m.

McNutt had not been active in public affairs in recent years but maintained his interest in Democratic party affairs.

His business interests were mainly in the insurance field and he was consulted to several international insurance agencies.

The membership of the National Council, which will have its next convention in New York City in the fall, is approximately 40,000 with $500,000 in assets.

Disclosing the purpose of the National Council, Smith said, "We hope, through our efforts, to make the study of English even more interesting and rewarding than it now is."

Senators Question Outgoing Adviser About Peres Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—John G. Adams, outgoing chief Army counselor, goes before investigating senators today for questioning about the Irving Peres case.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee is seeking to pinpoint responsibility for Army actions advancing Peres to major and giving him an honorable discharge after he had been listed as a security risk.

An Army report last January said Adams and Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy chief of staff, made the final decision on Peres' discharge Feb. 2, 1954.

Weible testified yesterday he never did recommend an honorable discharge, and that he thinks the decision was "in the judge advocate general's office." He said that if he had known then what he knows now "I would have recommended a court-martial" for Peres, but he did not say on what specific charge.

Ex-Superintendent Sues School Board In Taxes Dilemma

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—A damage suit for $200,000 has been filed by Dr. John A. Beard, whose discharge as superintendent of schools here caused a walkout of nearly 200 teachers and school employees.

Beard named the board of the Irving Independent School District principal defendant, alleging members made libelous and slanderous statements against him. The petition also named board member Loyda Beard's husband and the Cain organization, a Dallas public relations firm retained by some Irving citizens and some school board members.

Beard also replied yesterday to a statement by School Board President Charles E. Young that Beard showed "apparent incompetency with usual accounting methods" in handling school cafeteria funds.

Beard said the accounting system was set up by Young, member of a Dallas accounting firm, before Beard took office five years ago.

Don Shoeppe Heads Patrol Auxiliary

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Don Shoeppe of Euless is elected here yesterday to head a highway patrol auxiliary composed of American Legion members.

The auxiliary would assist the patrol in case of disaster, enemy attack or emergency.

Lt. Jay Hill of Tallahassee said 21 men have been in patrol school learning subjects they will teach the Legionnaire auxiliary patrolmen who will go through a 45 to 50 hour instruction period.

Attack Contained In Letter

Act Significant Of Renewed Fight

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Former Acting Gov. Johns today assailed what he called Gov. Collins' interference in the operations of the University of Florida as "cheap, petty politics for selfish motives."

Johns' attack was contained in a letter addressed to Collins and signed as president of the 1953 Senate. He became governor with the death of Gov. Dan McCarty in September 1953.

He apparently referred to the controversy aroused by charges that Collins attempted to exert pressure on the Board of Control in selection of a university president. Collins has denied the charges.

Johns' attack is significant with the legislative session less than two weeks away. It indicated the former acting governor, who will hold his old seat as senator from the 15th District, is prepared to renew his bitter fight with Collins.

The difference started with Johns' assumption of the governor's powers, carried through a campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor and continued ever since Johns took over the office from Johns Jan. 4.

As a veteran of seven previous Senate sessions and having held the powers of governor for 15 months, Johns will be a powerful figure in the 1955 session. He will be chairman of the Taxation and Finance Committee, through which the administration's proposal to impose additional taxes on dog racing tracks and all other revenue measures must pass.

In his letter to Collins, Johns said "I was surprised and shocked at the display of insincerity when you sought to dictate to the Board of Control as you have told the people of Florida many times that education should be free of politics."

"This latest maneuver by you proves beyond a doubt that you have already broken faith with the people of Florida and no doubt will break the faith many, many more times before your term is out."

The new newspaper said Stephens is planning a nationwide swing to prepare "the way for a second term nomination for the Eisenhower-Nixon" ticket.

"Has anybody talked to Stephens?" Hagerty asked when newsmen inquired about the report. "I would say, as you all know, Tom Stephens is no longer a member of the White House staff."

"He's a private citizen engaged in the private practice of law. In that capacity, so long as he stays within the law, he has a constitutional right to do whatever he so desires anywhere, anytime and any place."

Owners Confirm Report On Aruba

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—The owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba today confirmed that the vessel is sailing back to Communist Romania with her cargo of jet plane fuel originally earmarked for Red China.

"According to an agreement with the owners of the cargo of the tanker Aruba, the shipping company last Sunday ordered the ship to return to the port of departure because of obstacles which could prevent the completion of the journey," the Re-Bo Shipping Co. announced.

Woman Is Notified Of Sister's Death

A New Smyrna Beach woman, who was playing at the shuffleboard court here, was notified by City Police yesterday of the death of her sister.

The message was delivered to Mrs. Bert Kay at 2:50 p. m. by Patrolman Rex Butler.

Conference Cancellation Forced

SEATTLE (AP)—Seven scientists, holding that the University of Washington has placed itself "outside the community of scholars" by banning Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from the campus, have forced cancellation of a scientific conference.

The university department of biochemistry announced yesterday a "Symposium on the Molecular Basis of Enzyme Action" would not be held here April 7-8 as planned. More than 200 scientists were to attend. The event was scheduled as grand luncheon. An announcement by the department said, "Because of the opposition

Suggestion Made To End Executive Board Meetings

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Elimination of executive sessions of the Board of Control was recommended by two of its members today as being "in the best public interest."

This stand by Chairman J. Lee Ballard of St. Petersburg and Vice Chairman W. Glenn Miller of Monticello was announced in the wake of continuing charges and counter-charges growing out of an executive session of the board at St. Petersburg last week.

It was at this session that Dr. J. Wayne Teitz was nominated for the presidency of the University of Florida to succeed to the post left vacant with the death of Dr. J. Hollis Miller in 1953.

A vice chairman Miller touched off a barrage of statements when he reported Tuesday that the board had agreed on the nomination of Dr. Kenneth Williams, Ocala educator, but switched to Dr. Teitz when Gov. Collins voiced strong opposition to Dr. Williams.

Miller said Gov. Collins exerted pressure on the Board of Control by threatening to work against Dr. Williams' confirmation by the Board of Education.

Ballard and another board member, Hollis Rinehart of Miami, disagreed that Collins exerted pressure and challenged Miller on other points.

Thomas Stephens Is On His Own, States Hagerty

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House press secretary James G. Hagerty said today Thomas E. Stephens, who resigned last month as President Eisenhower's appointment secretary, is now a private citizen and has a right to do whatever he pleases.

"His remark was in reply to a request for comment on a report published by the New York Daily Mirror that Stephens left the White House staff to become chief of a movement favoring Eisenhower's nomination for a second term."

The newspaper said Stephens is planning a nationwide swing to prepare "the way for a second term nomination for the Eisenhower-Nixon" ticket.

"Has anybody talked to Stephens?" Hagerty asked when newsmen inquired about the report. "I would say, as you all know, Tom Stephens is no longer a member of the White House staff."

Charges Of Fraud Dash Truce Hopes

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Government charges of fraud directed today at parochial schools appeared to dash hopes for an early truce between Roman Catholic church officials and the Peron regime.

President Juan B. Peron's Education Ministry accused 88 private Roman Catholic schools of defrauding the government of more than four million pesos ($200,000).

The ministry accused the church schools of collecting state aid for nonresident teachers or for more hours than were actually taught; of receiving help to pay professors not legally qualified to teach; and of charging excessive tuition fees.

Indispensable Henson

Matthew Alexander Henson, who died recently at 88, had a long life of adventure and accomplishment to look back on.

Henson, a Negro, was hired by Admiral Robert E. Peary as a valet. He became so efficient that the Admiral trusted him with some of the most important details of his various expeditions. In 1909 he had the honor of being the only American to accompany Peary in the historic five-day dash to the North Pole.

Many of the formal honors that might have come to this brave man eluded him until late in life. He did receive an appointment as clerk of New York Custom House, a position he held until he retired in 1946.

But if public appreciation of his exploits was slow in coming he had the consolation of knowing how highly Admiral Peary had regarded him. After the North Pole expedition Peary stated that without Henson the five day dash would not have been possible. That, and his own sense of accomplishment, must have meant a great deal to Henson in his last days.

Friendliness Shows Signs Of Wear

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the friendliness of the Senate's "friendly study" of the stock market appears to be wearing thin. Members of the Senate Banking Committee disagree sharply among themselves, and witnesses to their question are increasingly at odds over these questions: 1. Are stock prices too high? 2. Are the Treasury Department's figures on the stock market inflated? 3. Are the leading stock exchanges in the market healthy? But the head of the Sears Roebuck pension fund is nervous about the recent stock market swings.

2. Is the Senate inquiry rocking the market?
William McC. Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, says he doesn't know. But even while the senators were arguing the point, stock prices—whether by intention or accident—tumbled at a rate that makes some wonder if the whole question of high prices might not soon become academic.

3. Is there too much speculation in the market?
One witness tells the committee the type of boom-bust is possible. A number of others say the 1929 and 1933 situations aren't comparable. 4. Is the public buying so many stocks on margin (that is, in part on the cuff) that it is hurting the economy? Some say the percentage of margin trading is too small to be dangerous. Others urge that margins promptly be moved nearer the all-cash basis to protect the public from itself. And some say there's nothing like falling stock prices to make a change unnecessary. At present, the stock purchase rule is at least 50 per cent cash and not more than 50 per cent on credit.

Florida's population, set at 2,332,000 in July, 1954, will have doubled by 1970, according to estimates. To absorb this growth, the greater number of communities will have to accept annexation. You can't hold back progress, officials say.

"We're not getting all we're paying for here!" That is the basic argument of fringe residents who oppose annexation. City taxes begin as soon as an area is annexed. But, says City Manager Warren Knowles, "no one pays for services until you get it. The same goes for water."

Many fringe residents who have provided their homes with septic tanks and a private water supply have been told that they must accept annexation. They see no advantage in being taken into the city, they claim. Others oppose the move because they enjoy "living in the country."

Several Florida cities, in an effort to overcome opposition to annexation, are pointing out to property owners involved that being taken into the city will enhance the value of their property. The possibility of land being chosen for a plant site is not to be disregarded, they add.

This is the proper time to face the annexation issue. Hundreds of new families are settling in Florida. School enrollment is booming. The state's future has never been brighter. The many-debated issue may be settled around the month. A tough decision faces everyone involved. But it is a decision that must be made.

Something Else To Buy

If a man cannot afford it, he buys a car. If he can afford it, he buys a second car. Or he may replace his television set by a larger and better one. These are standard forms of expenditure which are counted on by the manufacturers of these two commodities.

They should be warned that a possible competitor is in sight which may claim a sizable part of the purchaser's dollar. This is the outboard motor. A manufacturer in the field estimates that this year sales of outboard boats and motors will total $525,000,000. Outboarding, as the manufacturer points out, is free from the nervous tension that too often accompanies driving.

The obvious trouble with outboarding as a sport is that it requires a sizable body of water, something which too many communities lack. Perhaps the resourceful manufacturers may think up a way around this difficulty.

Market Probe

It has been argued that the recent decline in the stock market has resulted from the investigation into the market by a Senate committee.

Yet the committee has done nothing more than take testimony from a number of people, all of whom have some claim to knowledge of how the market operates and what factors affect it. As might be expected in any matter in which human judgment plays a part, some of the witnesses have offered conflicting testimony and opinions.

Stocks are actually shares in various properties. The investigation has not in any way affected the value of any properties in which shares are sold. It may have had some effect on the behavior of those who speculate in the market but that is a different matter.

Congress has a right to investigate the market to determine whether the public is adequately protected by existing regulations and whether new legislation is necessary. The committee conducting this investigation has acted objectively and given equal voice to all who have had a point of view to express.

If the condition of the market is really cently at 88, had a long life of adventure and if there is something wrong with it the very fact that it is given publicity may make it possible to correct what is wrong before it is too late.

Annexation Should Be Added As Must

"The only things certain in life are death and taxes." That's an old saying. To modernize it, annexation should be added. Fringe residents of any city need expect to be eventually annexed. The population of Florida and the nation is skyrocketing. Cities are expanding. Florida's population, set at 2,332,000 in July, 1954, will have doubled by 1970, according to estimates. To absorb this growth, the greater number of communities will have to accept annexation. You can't hold back progress, officials say.

How About Getting A Phobia?

NEW YORK (AP)—Do flutes frighten you? Are you afraid of harboring tapeworms? Does snow fill you with panic?

If not, why not? Perhaps you are letting your life get cluttered up with the same old dull, boring fears that have worried mankind for ages. Why not pep up your existence by getting a new and interesting fear nobody in your social set knows about?

There is a long list to choose from. I have a medical dictionary which indexes more than 300 phobias, all available to anyone who is seriously looking for something to worry about that will make him stand out from the common herd.

Some of these phobias are highly useful. And they all have wonderful names. For example, people might be tempted to laugh at you if you confessed that you were terrified by Gules, snowflakes and the possibility that you might be invaded by a prowling tapeworm.

But imagine the awe and respect in their eyes if you merely remarked offhand: "My doctor says I've got a triple case of anisophobia, chionophobia, and isenophobia. But he thinks with a little luck he'll pull me through."

Suppose your wife bawls you out because your income is low. "Don't pick on a sick man, honey," you can tell her. "Most people suffer from chromatophobia, or love of mopey. I've simply been struck down by an even rarer disease—chromatophobia, or fear of money. If only you could catch it, too, then we'd both be happy."

Incidentally, if your wife is hammering at you to buy her a mink coat, you might try to seduce her with deraphobia, the fear of touching animal fur. It's hard to do, but it's worth trying.

The teen-age boy seeking to wheedle the use of the family car might gain some parental sympathy by throwing in this clincher, "Dad, I didn't want to tell you, but I'm a victim of basiphobia."

Actually, basiphobia is very widespread among teen-agers today. It is the fear of walking. Many also suffer from stasiphobia, or the fear of standing upright. But few seem stricken with bathiophobia, the fear of sitting down.

Perhaps it is against public policy to suggest these fears to anyone. You want a more unusual one? Well, how about autrophobia or fear of the northern lights? Chances are none of your neighbors can brag he's got that one.

George Starts Double Confusion

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—Twice within 10 days dignified Sen. George (D-Ga.) has set the Eisenhower administration to talking every which way. The result has been confusion compounded.

The 77-year-old Georgian simply said what was on his mind. If the Eisenhower administration had been as direct, there might have been no confusion. George is the Senate Democrats' leader on foreign affairs.

First he refused to accept the Yalta papers on a confidential basis from Secretary of State Dulles. Then he suggested President Eisenhower sit down with the heads of the British, French and Russian governments to talk peace. He wanted it done soon.

Here is what happened: A week ago Monday the State Department said it was sending the Yalta papers — on the wartime Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting — to six congressional committees and the Democratic and Republican leaders in both houses. Twenty-four copies were to be sent.

But there is a fear for everyone. If you don't like shopping around for fears, you can win the jackpot by coming down with pantophobia. That means you have a fear of everything.

How about a man who boasts he is without fear? Well, the truth is there really is no such fellow. He has a secret fear all right. It is called phobophobia—the fear of being afraid.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — There will be a noticeable slowdown in Congressional hearings into Communism this year. None of the investigating committees have made plans for extensive hearings in this field.

The reason: The Democrats who are now in control want to concentrate on foreign affairs and domestic issues in an effort to develop new campaign issues for 1956 and they feel the Red inquiries have distracted public attention from the less-headline-catching but nonetheless serious work of Congress.

In addition, the Democrats feel that often the Red hunts of the past were exaggerated by the Republicans for political purposes to assail the record of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

While they claim they will continue to be on the alert to the danger of Communist infiltration, the Democratic leaders in both House and Senate are willing to leave the job of rooting out Red subversion to the FBI.

Another factor working as a deterrent to large-scale hearings is the recent repudiation by ex-Red Harvey Matusow of testimony he gave as a witness before congressional committees. Democrats are anxious to avoid any repetition of such a turnabout incident, which they feel could seriously discredit the work done in the field.

1956 split — Should President Eisenhower run and win a second term in 1956, it might well be he would find himself confronted again with either one or both of Congress controlled by the Democrats.

In last year's election, most observers foresaw election of a Democratic House a fairly certain thing while a sea-saw battle waged for control of the Senate.

In 1956, the situation will be reversed if Mr. Eisenhower runs again. Even with him heading the ticket, Republicans face an uphill struggle to regain control of the Senate while his political popularity would give the GOP a pre-election edge in the chances for winning a majority of the 435 House seats that will be at stake.

The Senate situation was reflected in the recent survey made by Senator Barry Goldwater (R), Arizona. Goldwater, chairman of the Senate GOP campaign committee, indicated that the Republicans stand in danger of losing 16 seats while the Democrats, at this moment, have only two shaky senatorships upcoming next year.

Conservation News

BY JAMES R. SARGENT, SOIL-CO.SERVATION-SERVICE
C. H. Galloway and son B. A. Galloway, who live near Lake Howell and are cooperators of the Seminole Soil Conservation District, have planted several willow strips for quail feed. These strips consist of partridge pea and biclor lespedeza. The plantings will also be used for observational purposes and some seed production.

Quail feed in the winter time is very limited in this section, therefore conservation of our farm game such as the quail depends on how well the farmer and rancher make use of all his land. Almost every farmer and rancher has some area of his farm that could be utilized to produce cover and some feed for quail.

Quail are an important agricultural crop. In addition to providing food and recreation, they help the farmer with his crops by eating weed seed and injurious insects. Hunting privileges are both a delight and source of income.

Dana Andrews Levels Attack

HOLLYWOOD — Dana Andrews today leveled a blast at the practice of having stars double as TV salesmen.

That, he said, is one of the reasons he has a hands-off policy for television.

"I think an actor should act," he said. "He shouldn't be forced into the position of selling products. But if you do TV, the sponsor often makes you throw in a pitch for what he's selling. I think that lowers an actor's dignity."

He cited one distinguished actor who played host for a beer series and had to favor the product on TV. Another fine actor has to riposte over a certain soap.

"They make themselves look silly," he said. "I wonder if testimonial ads, which Andrews and nearly all stars submit to, don't amount to the same kind of commercializing."

"There's a difference," he said. "There you get a direct tieup with a picture you are selling. It's a way of advertising movies. You are merely lending your name and face."

"But at least you don't have to extol the product. That I refuse to do. Why, once they wanted me to endorse a vegetable juice with a picture of me holding up my hand to make the product's trademark. I refused."

The actor cited the wisdom of his old boss Samuel Goldwyn. The producer put a clause in Andrews' contract that he could not endorse alcoholic beverages or any product pertaining to bodily health and hygiene. This was at a time when Goldwyn was plagued with complaints about Danny Kaye's being sponsored by a beer on radio.

Andrews' objections to TV go beyond the use of actors as pitchmen.

"It seems to me that the medium has been taken out of the hands of the creators and is controlled by the people who are selling things," he observed. "The shows are put on not to please the public, but to please the sponsors. The result is pretty poor entertainment."

Washington Full Of Stuffed Shirts, Says Mrs. D. Reed

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON — Mrs. Daniel Reed, whose husband has been Republican congressman from New York for 36 consecutive years, says you have to have a sense of humor if you can still laugh after living here that long.

"There are so many stuffed shirts," she says, but adds that there are always incidents and situations to chuckle over.

Washington was just a "sleepy old Southern town, slow-growing and delightful" when the Reeds first came here. "Nearly everyone lived on Sixteenth street, or Massachusetts avenue, people rode around in Victorias, or electric, and there were no traffic jams. But even today, overcrowded as it is, Washington is still just a village," she says.

Today Rep. Reed, the oldest Republican member of the House and ranking member of its powerful Ways and Means Committee, and Mrs. Reed live in a modern, air-conditioned luxury apartment on Sixteenth street, their third home since coming to the capital.

"We're not the moving kind," Mrs. Reed told me. "When we came here in 1918 we lived at Congress Hall where the new House Office now stands, along with 80 other congressional families. It was American plan, very formal, and we always dressed for dinner, the men in blackties the ladies in fussy gowns."

Those were the days when everyone in official life had to call on everyone else. The wives in Congress Hall ganged together, gave two big receptions a year on the Mezzanine floor to take care of their official days "at home."

"There were notices in the paper and everyone came in from the street," she told me. "Sometimes as many as 2,000 would show up, including big groups from girls' schools, whose catalogues boasted they would get to meet 'society.'"

"The refreshments were elegant—strawberry mousse in February; delicious two-slices-of-bread sandwiches (nobody knew what hors-d'oeuvre were) frosted cupcakes and nuts—imagine it, for that mob!"

The Reeds lived at Congress Hall until it was sold to the government in 1928. "When I left, I told the manager I had gotten to tired sitting on the hole in the drawing room sofa when visitors came, it was about time," Mrs. Reed explained.

Before moving to their present address, the Reeds lived for 24 years at the Roosevelt Hotel which "used to be like a private club."

Along about there, the cocktail party and the hors d'oeuvre began to appear, Mrs. Reed says, adding, however, she finds a "lessening of the drinking of alcohol" and more people inviting you to tea "where tea is served."

"Mr. Reed and I have never had a drink of liquor in our lives and I guess some hostesses are glad of it," Mrs. Reed said. "Some complain, though, that I'm always drinking former Speaker Joe Martin's tomato juice."

Some cooks like to use a moderate (350 degrees) temperature for turkey rather than the low (325 degrees) temperature usually called for. Make your choice, but be sure to cover the turkey with a fat-soaked piece of muslin during the roasting. If the cloth dries, moisten it with more fat, remove it about half an hour before the end of the roasting time.

Anna Miller Circle Initiates Ladies Tuesday Evening

Mrs. Ernest H. Cowley, Mrs. Fred Reitter, and Mrs. Charles H. Stafford became members of the Anna Miller Circle at initiation ceremonies conducted in the Elks Club Tuesday evening as the ladies met for a business and social meeting.

Mrs. Lowell Ozier presided over the session as routine reports were given by various officers and committee chairmen.

During the social period that followed Mrs. Hulén Hale and Mrs. Peter J. Bukur, hostesses, served a light course of refreshments including hot coffee to offset the chilly night.

Play Is Presented By Stetson Actors

"The Boon" a play by Cheek was presented for the Fine Arts department of the Sanford Women's Club by the Stetson speakers Bureau Actors yesterday at 3 p. m. at the clubhouse.

Dealing with a young widow, Cynthia Taylor, and her servant, Allen Meyer, the plot leans toward the bitterness of her plight after her husband was killed, Hugh Young, the boor, forces his way into her house and after threatening to leave several times, love finds the end. It was well received by everyone and loudly applauded.

Tea was served afterwards from a silver tea service by Mrs. W. B. Brunson. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and had in its center a large bouquet of gerber daisies and sweet peas. At the entrance of the club was a beautiful arrangement of gladioli.

About 50 members and visitors were present and later enjoyed a social get-together.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. E. C. Harper, Mrs. E. A. Montforton, and Miss Ella Lee Kirchhoff.

Plane Investigation May Take 2 Weeks

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—It may take two weeks for Civil Aeronautics Board investigators to complete their study of an American Airlines plane crash near here. Twelve persons died and 23 were injured in the Sunday night crash. The pilot, Jack Fripplak, suffered critical injuries, and still could not be questioned. The plane, with 25 aboard, was preparing to land in a drizzling rain at Springfield Airport when it crashed. Jack Parshall, a CAB official from Kansas City, said the plane apparently was on the proper path for a landing, had not appeared to be in trouble and communications between the pilot and the control tower were normal. "We may be here two weeks," he said. "We have absolutely no clues."

FP&L Distributes '54 Annual Report

"Florida Land of Sunshine" is the title of Florida Power & Light Company's attractive 1954 annual report which is in the mails to its 30,000 stockholders all over the nation and in foreign countries. The tinted photograph on its cover pictures a family playing and relaxing on the lawn "in Florida, where the world's best climate magically transforms thoud backyard into a spacious living room and family recreation center." Inside, a feature article reveals that "behind this scene there's a sound and expanding economy." The growth in permanent population and in tourism, "bolstered and stabilized by a new found crop of summer visitors, has created substantial consumer markets that are attracting and supporting new businesses and industries." Citing the tremendous success of frozen citrus concentrates, it credits "an imaginative use of basic industrial research" with contributing much to Florida's present growth and outlook for the future. Under a heading "Climate—An Industrial Asset," the report says, "Florida's wonderful climate just naturally makes folks more cooperative and productive," pointing out that it is easy to recruit skilled workers and live in Florida. Also, airlines and other industries make big savings because climate permits much maintenance and assembly work to be done out of doors or under open shelters. "But Floridians still, and likewise always will put forth their greatest effort in promoting tourism," the report says, calling attention to the fact that today Mr. and Mrs. America enjoy some 60 million weeks of paid vacation market nearly four times as big as it was back in the booming twenties. "Furthermore, tourism doesn't turn off suddenly from a depression or shutdown." The company's own figures help reflect how Florida is outstripping the rest of the nation in rate and growth through its depression-resistant, year-round tourist industry backed by an expanding manufacturing empire.

Appreciation Night Set For Fred Ganas

Benefit Baseball Game To Be Played Thursday Eve At Memorial Stadium

A Seminole High School teacher and coach whose youth activities have won the heart of Sanford and Seminole County will be partially repaid by a grateful public next week.

All proceeds going to the Fred Ganas hospital fund, the Minneapolis Millers and the Richmond Virginians will participate in a baseball game at Ganas Appreciation Night exercises Thursday at Memorial Stadium.

Ganas has been a patient at Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando since early January. He is suffering from a rare skin disease known as Stevens-Johnson's disease. The disease requires multiple skin graftings.

Ganas, before being hospitalized, was head football coach and assistant basketball and baseball coach at Seminole High School. He also took an active part in many youth programs.

A slender, always smiling individual, he was a familiar figure at every athletic event. He wore his "lucky hat," a brown canvas fishing hat, at each football game.

Ganas Appreciation Night has been designed to pay tribute to his community spirit and his contributions to the education and athletic growth of the area.

The Minneapolis and Richmond baseball teams are donating their time and effort to make the appreciation night a big success. Members of the Elks lodge will man the concession stands, and high school students have volunteered to sell drinks in the stands. Proceeds from the concessions will also go to the Ganas fund.

The game will begin at 8 p. m. Pre-game exercises will include selections by the High School band.

Ed Higgins, representing the Elks Club, is general chairman of Appreciation Night. Other organizations participating include the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets are being sold for $1 for adults and 50 cents for school children. Tickets may be obtained at Roumillat and Anderson Drug Store, B. L. Perkins Men's Store, Touchon's Drug Store, Jim Spencer's, Robson's Sporting Goods, the Smokehouse, and McReynolds Drug Store.

Tickets are also being sold by members of the participating organizations.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may mail contributions to the Elks Club or The Sanford Herald.

Typical of the athletic talent Ganas has developed are Junior (Buck) Meets and Hamilton (Subbs) Bisbee, who are now playing on the first-string football team at the Florida State University.

How well do you know our fair city? Without seeking could you tell someone what's on the top of the clock at 12 intersection of Park Ave. and First St. For those of you who give up, including the stroller who is asked, there's a double cross indicating a TB emblem, a ball, and a light on top of that ball. When ever the night policemen is on duty on the other side of town and the light on top goes on he knows that there is a call for him on the corner phone. Clever, eh?

Frank D. Hickok, 78, died at the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital in Orlando last night after being in ill health for two weeks.

He was born in Grover, Pa., April 2, 1878, and had lived in Geneva for the past 32 years where he was a citrus grower.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Violet H. Hickok, Geneva. Funeral services are set for tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. George H. Carlton, officiating. The remains will be taken to Salem, Pa. at a later date for interment.

Intersection Jinx To Cars

Two cars and a truck sustained damage totaling $835 in an accident yesterday on Park Ave., 87 feet south of the 9th St. intersection. City Police reported.

Police said the accident occurred because one car was going too fast to stop on the wet pavement. The driver of the car, a 1954 Packard sedan, was charged with careless and negligent driving. He was identified as James Richard Laney Jr., 39, of 2100 Forest Hill Rd., Jacksonville.

Damage to Laney's car was estimated at $475. The front bumper, grill, radiator and fan of the vehicle were damaged. Other vehicles involved in the 11:15 a. m. accident were a 1953 Dodge truck driven by Charles William Willets, 26, police officer, of 535 Fairmont Rd., Daytona Beach, and a 1954 Ford sedan driven by Miles Oliver Thornburg, 63, salesman, of 1110 Cumberland Ave., Gastonia, N. C.

The truck sustained only $10 damage, but damage to Thornburg's car was estimated at $350. The front and rear bumpers, body and grill of the car were damaged. Thornburg and his wife, 49, were shock victims, but they declined to go to the hospital.

Patrolman Arnold Williams, investigating officer, said Willets and Thornburg had stopped in the northbound lane of traffic to wait for the traffic light to change. Thornburg's car was behind Willets' truck.

Laney came north on Park Ave., the officer said, and although the Jacksonville man applied his brakes, he was unable to stop his car because of speed and the wet pavement. His car hit the rear of Thornburg's car, knocking it into Willets' truck.

Cop Asks Youth If He Won, Lost

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Policeman Michael O'Flaherty was directing traffic in downtown Philadelphia yesterday when a battered-looking auto, at least 20 years old, chugged by.

As the vehicle stopped for a light with a loud squealing of brakes, O'Flaherty sidled over and asked the youthful driver where he picked up the vibrating heap.

"In a crap game, sir," replied the youth.

"Win or lose?" asked O'Flaherty.

"I think Dr. Reitz is an able man and I am going to vote for his confirmation," Gray said. "I sincerely believe and hope for the good of the university of Florida that he will be confirmed so that the wrangling over this matter can be stopped."

"After he has been confirmed there are some things I want to say to the Board of Control about its obligations to the Board of Education as a matter of law and a matter of courtesy."

Gray said that throughout the entire proceedings the Board of Education was kept in the dark and didn't know until it was all over who the three finalists were. The secretary of state said the law setting up the Board of Control stated that it "shall act in con-

More Criticism Hurlled At Board

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More criticism was hurled at the Board of Control today.

The University of Florida newspaper "Alligator" called for its abolition and Secretary of State Gray said it had disregarded the Board of Education in its search for a president for the University of Florida.

The Board of Control's chairman, Leo Ballard of St. Petersburg, and Vice Chairman W. Glenn Miller of Monticello already have recommended elimination of executive sessions of the body.

Gray, vice chairman of the Board of Education, said he would vote to confirm Dr. J. Wayne Reitz for president of the university despite the board of control's action, however.

junction with, but at all times under and subject to the control and supervision of, the State Board of Education."

He said the matter could have been settled months earlier if the Board of Control had called the Board of Education in for a joint meeting.

The "Alligator" said the Board of Control's functions should be replaced with a trustee group composed of educators of both state and national zipups.

In an editorial by Editor Art Smith of Bradenton, the paper took the board to task for its squabble in the hunt for a new president, asked that the story around the controversy be investigated, and called for an end to secret sessions by administrative bodies.

The youngsters, aged 9, 7, 4 and 1, belong to Mrs. Rosie Lee Bell, 23, Barrier, Ky., who has had 11 children in her 11 years of marriage.

"And that," she said, "is enough."

She has had five sets of twins, but the firstborns, as well as her only single child, died.

U. S., Reds Develop Rival Peace Drives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Russia are developing rival peace campaigns. These may spur the move toward a Big Four foreign ministers' conference a few months hence.

While Soviet behavior may be designed for propaganda purposes, a top U. S. State Department official said today whether the "peace" really had to come to some agreement.

The diplomatic maneuvering could be the cold war battle of the year.

President Eisenhower gave new impetus yesterday to talk of an eventual meeting with the heads of state of Russia, Britain, France and the United States.

The announced purpose is to talk about foreign policy. The White House said there could hardly be but discussion of the call by Sen. George (D-Ga) for a top-level Big Four meeting, perhaps this year. Eisenhower left open the possibility of such a session at his news conference Wednesday. While sticking to a demand for prior evidence of Soviet good faith.

On the Russian side, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov last night invited Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab to Moscow to negotiate the remaining provisions of an Austrian peace treaty. The Russians last month began talking about such earlier troop withdrawal than they had indicated earlier they would agree to.

Gromyko, who until yesterday was chief Soviet delegate at the talks, accused the West of attempting to "pursue, as before, an armaments race" and block nuclear disarmament.

Russia is meeting with the United States, Britain, France and Canada in a renewed session of the U. N. Disarmament Commission subcommittee. The talks were arranged last October at the U. N. General Assembly. It was agreed the talks should be kept strictly secret in the hope more progress could be achieved that way.

Crime-Buster Kohn Serving Ten Days

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Aaron Kohn, the Philadelphia crime buster who set out two years ago to investigate New Orleans police, was in jail today, serving a 10-day sentence for contempt of the grand jury.

Kohn was sentenced when he refused to reveal his informants.

As City Councilman Fred Cassidy put it, the city spent $80,000 for the probe and the only person who is going to jail is the investigator.

Three Sanford Men Chosen Directors Of Farm Loan Assn.

Leo Butler was named president and Gus Schmalz and Roy Partin were chosen as directors of the Sanford National Farm Loan Association at a meeting yesterday at the Golf Club in Orlando.

The Lake-Orange NEFA also participated in the meeting.

J. P. Ferguson, Florida regional manager for the Federal Land Bank, Columbia, S. C., outlined lending policies and changes in appraisal standards.

Ferguson also told of pending provisions for increasing maximum amount of loans to individuals and corporations and reviewed the land bank loan system.

The vice president of the Sanford NEFA is C. H. Nelson Jr., Titusville, and the other director is W. H. McBride, Seville.

The farm loan associations are owned by citrus growers, cattlemen, truck farmers and other agricultural enterprises.

Clean-Up Urged By State Attorney

TAMPA (AP)—State Atty. James M. McEwen has suggested to Gov. Collins that all legal actions in the involved affairs of the Overseas Toll Highway be cleaned up.

Collins asked McEwen what he thought should be the next step for the state to take in the matter.

Brooks Halem, ousted general manager of the old toll road, and Alonzo Coltrane, a contractor, were acquitted of five charges of stealing $18,792 by padding machinery and work vouchers.

Nine charges against the two were dropped by John Marsh, Dade County solicitor named by Acting Gov. Johns to prosecute the case.

McEwen also said the State Road Department is looking into the status of a civil suit filed by the road board under Johns seeking to recover alleged overpayments for contracting work done by Coltrane.

Milk Committee Drafts Petition

DAYTONA BEACH (AP)—The Florida Citizens Milk Committee, a group organized here this week with the aim of abolishing the State Milk Commission, last night drafted a petition which it hopes will draw enough signatures to achieve that goal.

Only about 20 persons attended the campaign mapping meeting in suburban South Daytona but Tom Varner, Post Orange grocer whose milk license was ordered suspended 60 days for selling milk below price fixed by the commission, said he has four pages of names of persons who voluntarily called him to say they will help fight the commission.

Offer's Limits Are Told

Pearson Remarks Clarify Speech

OTTAWA (AP)—Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson says Canada's readiness to stand by the United States in a major war does not extend to a "limited" conflict over the Nationalist-held Chinese coastal islands.

But he warned the House of Commons yesterday that he fears even "limited intervention" by the United States in the defense of Quemoy and the Matsu "might have a chain reaction" which would bring a world war involving Canada.

Pearson's remarks, opening a foreign policy debate, were largely a restatement and clarification of a speech he made in Toronto March 14 in which he said:

1. That it "would be unthinkable" for either Canada or the United States to be neutral if the other was fighting "a major war" in which its very existence were at stake.

2. That "certain United States commitments, those for instance covering help to Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa and certain Chinese coastal islands, have not been accepted by us."

3. That failure to agree with the United States on Formosa and the coastal islands "is not the same thing as saying that they may not involve us. And it is certainly not the same thing as saying that they do not concern us."

The foreign secretary said his Toronto speech had aroused misunderstanding, but that he did not mean "that whenever the United States is engaged in any kind of war, we are at war."

"It certainly does not mean that we must participate in limited or peripheral wars," he told the House.

Swiss Newspapers Say Letter Exists From Late FDR

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Two influential Swiss newspapers claimed today there exists a letter from the late President Roosevelt making demands on Switzerland not far from Stalin's demands on his allies to force a march through Switzerland.

Both newspapers, the Basler Nachrichten, Liberal Democratic and Die Tat of Zurich, Independent, called on the Swiss government to release the alleged letter in view of American publication of the Yalta record.

"If they already have started in America to bare the sins of the past, there is something in this field in Switzerland to catch up on," the Basler Nachrichten said.

"There should be a letter of President Roosevelt to the Federal Council of the summer of 1944 in existence containing remarkable demands, whose essence lay not far from Stalin's demands on his allies to force a march through Switzerland."

McFarland's trip was the culmination of months of saving and planning by him and his wife who is a matron in the Dade County jail.

Armed with only a smattering of German picked up from his Austrian-born wife and at the University of Miami, plus a letter of introduction from U. S. Sen. George Smathers and 19 days of vacation time, he left March 12.

McFarland stayed with his wife's aunt and uncle in West Berlin while cutting through the maze of rules and regulations. He finally got a visitor's pass for Mrs. Asche which entitles her to stay in this country for six months. After that, she may get citizenship.

"I got it for you—it was very expensive," she told Mrs. McFarland. Her purse also yielded a few bits of treasured chocolate.

"When we were on the plane coming back, she pulled out a beat-up cigarette and gave it to me," said the burly veteran of 13 years on the Miami force. "Somebody had given it to her in Berlin and she saved it for me."
