Knit And Silk Ties Are Back In Style

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Those old-fashioned knit ties are back this spring and so are the printed silk crepes of the 1930s. A lot of $10 ties are a dollar cheaper—and the $25 ones are selling better than ever. The market is soft, though, and sales may not reach the $1 billion of 1970.
In general, the tie just over 4 inches is the best seller and the 3 1/2 inch tie is almost dead. Heavy textured fabrics, both printed and jacquard wovens, are still in top demand. More and more manufacturers are using white backgrounds and there is more paisley than in years.
One of the freshest looks for spring comes from designer Bill Miller, who designs remembrance of the Middle East and the Near East—and with traces of India, Burma, Turkey and Morocco.
Ralph Lauren designed this year what he reports called "a feast for the eye" with his $25 ties still outselling everything. Most spectacular were his paisies as intricate as a mosaic and in as many colors. His spring look was "unstructured" to go with his unstructured suits—such as soft cotton crepes for wear with a crumpled white cotton suit.

St. Patrick A Revered Symbol

By JAMES O'HARA
Copy News Service
BOSTON — The arrival each year of St. Patrick's Day (March 17) never fails to bring out a rash of stories about the nation's saint of Ireland. And their number is almost matched by the varying theories as to his origin, his deeds and his accomplishments.
One can take almost any two different books of history or encyclopedias and find inconsistencies that appear against the name of this character beloved by Irishmen everywhere.
The green neckties and hats, the plastic shamrocks, the parades that are held in the nation's cities all testify to the popularity of the man. After all, who cares where he was born and what he actually did during his lifetime? He's still the revered symbol of the Emerald Isle and without doubt always will be.

COOKING

By SANDI GOULD
ARCHBOLD, Ohio (UPI)—There's a world of difference between the exotic Orient and this typical American small town in northwestern Ohio, but they have one thing in common—food.
Archbold, population 2,300, is the world's largest producer of canned Chinese food. That includes China.
To meet the growing popularity of Cantonese dishes in American homes, 29 different Chinese food specialties are cooked up, canned or freeze-packed, and rolled out with assembly line speed and precision in the seven and a half acre plant of LaChoy Division, Beatrice Foods Inc.
The whole thing started back in 1920 as the branch of two University of Michigan students, Wally Smith, wanted to sell fresh-grown bean sprouts in his Detroit grocery store. Then New, a Korean, had the know-how to produce them.
During the next 10 years, the two men grew sprouts, put them in glass jars, later in cans, and incorporated their business.
Larger Headquarters
LaChoy grew and moved into larger headquarters in Michigan, finally settling here at the beginning of World War II. Archbold was chosen because it is strategically located on the main railway line between New York and Chicago.
With expansion came the invention of machinery and special equipment to clean the bean sprouts, peel fresh onions, try those thin noodles continuously and clean and dice large quantities of celery.
The firm not only puts Chinese foods in metal cans

Wekiva Pollution Halt Is Ordered

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Department of Air and Water Pollution Control has ordered the Hi-Acres citrus processing plant at Forest City to halt pollution of the Little Wekiva River. The state agency instructed the firm to present a plan for an interim solution within 15 days and said it must halt discharge of polluting citrus waste within 10 days after that.
If the plant does not meet the deadline for halting discharges, it apparently would have to shut down, said a department spokesman.
The Sanford Herald sought a statement from Hi-Acres this morning but was advised the company spokesman was "in conference until late this afternoon."
The Herald last Feb. 10 reported that Yalda J. Robbins, county sanitarian, before the County Commission, refuted statements by Mayor W. Lawrence Swoford, of Altamonte Springs, anent pollution in the Wekiva River.
Robbins was quoted that Orange County "has sewage treatment plants dumping effluent into the river, as well as two plants in Seminole County." He explained this was the approved method at the time of construction of the plants.
Robbins was quoted further that "a citrus industrial plant had emptied waste but that in July 1970 the plant completed a treatment facility which would handle on-site disposal."
The Feb. 10 article quoted Commission Chairman Greg Drummond, "apparently referring to Altamonte's mayor, said that 'this is the last of the improper allegations which the county will consider'... he expressed that the allegations are of a political nature..."

Teacher Held Guilty Of Dope Charge

By MARION BETHEA
Rose Ann Anderson, 26-year-old former Winter Park high school teacher, was found innocent of one count of possession of a narcotic drug, that is, cannabis in the form of hashish, and was found guilty by a six-man jury in Circuit Court last night of two counts, possession of a hallucinogenic (LSD).
Judge Roger Dykes withheld adjudication pending a presentence investigation, and the defendant was allowed to remain free on $5,000 bond.
Immediately following the verdict for which the jury took 78 minutes to deliberate, defense attorney Edward Kirkland was granted 15 days to file motions for a new trial. The state objected to the defendant being released on bond.
Mrs. Anderson, after the judge's decision on bonding, gave a broad smile and said, "Thank you, judge." During the deliberations of the jury she appeared relaxed, joking with friends and her handsome husband.
Kirkland appeared in court yesterday in all his sartorial splendor, wearing blue pin striped trousers, blue blazer and wide striped shirt with a white silk tie. Kirkland apparently suffers from arthritis, as he was wearing a copper bracelet commonly worn by those afflicted.
Testimony was received from Mrs. Arja Jane Landquist that records indicated the Andersons are the sole owners of the home on 234 Carriage Hill Drive, Casselberry, in which a cache of drugs was uncovered by six Casselberry police on Sept. 16.
Police officer Tim McKeever testified as to the raid but Kirkland uncovered an inconsistency in the previous day's testimony by the officer in which he said that Chief Brunley asked the defendant what was in the plastic bag confiscated by the police, to which Mrs. Anderson answered, "mesalline." Yes- (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 3)

Chamber Reports Projects 'Turn Toward Tomorrow' Urged

By BILL SCOTT
Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce committee heads gathered Thursday night at the House of Steak to report on the projects undertaken by the separate groups this year.
One by one, heads of the 13 committees were called on by Chamber President John V. Mercer to furnish information on this year's chosen goals.
Membership Chairman Garret White reported chamber membership at 487 and added there are 44 new members over a year ago.
William Francis, advertising and promotions head, said his group would concern itself with raising the $1,400 needed to buy 20 prints of a new color film about Sanford, entitled "The River Flows North," and will act as convention host this year.
Harold Brooks, legislative and national affairs committee chairman, said his committee's job would be to investigate all upcoming legislation and would look into the possible state income tax versus corporation tax issue now before the state legislature.
John Carli, agri-business committee chairman, outlined a long list of objectives concerning farming community including: bettering the agri-business public image; supporting food and agricultural sciences; expansion of youth training into agricultural vocations and better roads.
Dr. J. C. Ringling, education committee chairman, stressed the need for placing emphasis on vocational education to help high school graduates find jobs.
Commercial committee head E. C. Elsea said merchants are planning an "Old Fashion Days" event this fall.
Ralph Perzold, airport committee chairman, informed that a brochure about the Sanford Airport is being prepared by his group along with a quarterly news letter, called "The Sandfly" to publicize the airport.
Michael Porter, tourism committee chairman, proposed the building of a convention hall for Sanford to attract Walt Disney World patrons. Referring to the problems of Sanford's floating docks and expected demise of the municipal zoo, Porter said he felt "like putting the City Commission on a Noah's ark and sending them down the St. Johns River."
"I have seen nothing but grants here in Sanford, nobody wants to be a private," he stated.
He emphasized his desire to see Sanford grow and said the area is now distressed and had over six per cent unemployment.

Sunlander Arrested For Vice

A Sunlander Estates father of three has been arrested by Seminole County sheriff's officers on lewd and lascivious assault upon a child charges.
L. J. Kria, chief county investigator, reported John Leann Williams, 40, of 711 Wynn Drive, had been jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond after arrest by Det. Sgt. Tony Calanog on the issuance of a warrant by the mother of a 15-year-old girl.
Kria said this was the second time in less than two years that Williams had been arrested on the same charge allegedly committed against the same girl.
He said the man was charged in 1969 with the same offense but the state attorney notified him, informed that a brochure about the Sanford Airport is being prepared by his group along with a quarterly news letter, called "The Sandfly" to publicize the airport.
Michael Porter, tourism committee chairman, proposed the building of a convention hall for Sanford to attract Walt Disney World patrons. Referring to the problems of Sanford's floating docks and expected demise of the municipal zoo, Porter said he felt "like putting the City Commission on a Noah's ark and sending them down the St. Johns River."

Longwood Opposes Annex Bill

By ANN RILEY
LONGWOOD — City Council passed a resolution Thursday night opposing a proposed annexation legislation sponsored by the Seminole Board of County Commissioners as it was felt that this bill would curtail the growth of the city.
The resolution stated: "Whereas it is deemed advisable that the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County, Florida, in the energy and efforts to solve the many problems facing all county residents and taxpayers and to work in harmony with the city of Longwood and other cities in finding solutions to mutual and common areas of concern, rather than harassing the city in attempting to control its growth and progress."
"The City of Longwood is unalterably opposed to any annexation proposal submitted to the Seminole Board of County Commissioners for introduction and passage in the Florida Legislature," the resolution declared.
In a second resolution, the council opposed the so-called Government Study Commission Bill proposed by the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County and requested a Seminole-Orange legislative delegation to refuse to introduce same for passage in the Florida Legislature.
The City of Longwood adopted five paid holidays for city employees: Christmas, Thanksgiving, New Year's Day, Labor Day and the Fourth of July.
A group of citizens appeared before the council protesting the proposed mobile home park that would bring 400 mobile homes into the city but the matter was not brought before the council last night.
Franklin Ramsey appeared before the Council in behalf of a proposed 42-home development near Longlake, Longwood North Home Sites. Tentative approval has been given a "go ahead" by the Board of County Commissioners and requested a Seminole-Orange legislative delegation to refuse to introduce same for passage in the Florida Legislature.
A letter was received from the State Department of Transportation stating that in the near future there will be a traffic light placed at the intersection of SR 434 and 427.
Councilman Eugene Jacques brought up the need for redistricting the city for providing for more equal representation. Council will study the matter and appoint a citizen's group to follow through.

Dare You Be A Prophet?

By REV. WILLIAM PICKETT
Community Unit Church

Have you ever considered yourself a prophet? Probably not, for we generally think of prophecy as something mystical, unusual and in the same general category as "talking in tongues" or the "washing of feet" — something that one time had relevance but no longer communicates to our day. Quite often the prophet is considered no more than an "odd ball" with some secret truth or a strange affinity for "predicting the future." Prophecy is often relegated to days past in religious activities.

Such ancient ideas have often rendered useless the role of the prophet in modern society and in the modern Christian church. Sophistication has convinced many of the people that real prophecy no longer exists. To most the age of prophecy ended with the completion of the Biblical text — anything more being only an echo to what has already been given to generations past. These conceptions have cast a great shadow on the calling of today's prophet.

But let us reconsider the role of the prophet. The Biblical directive to God's Children indicates that they should "all prophesy one by one" (1 Cor. 14:31) and "speak earnestly to one another" (Eph. 5:19). The meaning of the Bible is clear to all men. Prophecy in the highest sense is not only possible but expected of all Christians. The Apostle Paul defends prophecy as "the acknowledgment of the commandment of the Lord." It is no more nor less than the speaking of the plain truth of God to man. To prophesy is to become God's spokesman to your age, to your people. It is no more unusual, nor mystical than prayer with God and communication with man. It is simply God's message breaking through you into the world.

The admission to us all is clear. God has entrusted to us as Christians the speaking of His truth to a world in need. Just as Amos, Hosea, Jeremiah, Isaiah and Ezekiel spoke to the citizens of their day, so God calls us to speak to ours. One must forget any stigma associated with prophecy. Those who might be ashamed to recognize someone as the truth in a life and death matter, God needs prophets never before. In fact, to fail to speak the truth would be the most unkind thing a Christian could do. The question asked of you and me by our Lord is, "How shall they hear if there is no preacher or prophet?"

But, be forewarned — being a prophet is not an easy thing. It is often like giving medicine to a child. The medicine is needed to bring a return to health, but administering it will often bring struggle, pain, and even hatred because the child does not like the taste. To the prophet Jesus' words from the Beatitudes will ring true. It is his lot to be "reviled and persecuted falsely for My sake."

But do not forget the glories. To know you have shared the Word of God, telling the truth to a bewildered society, is worth the risk. To see a nation change his whole life through the power of Christ, to see His family an entire new hope, is worth paying the price. To see every man meted out justice in the same way, thus insuring justice for all, lets one lie down with the sense of satisfaction at the close of the day. To see young people committed with a way that satisfies their deepest longings contributes to one's own attitude of usefulness. Indeed, the rewards are great when God is allowed to speak through us.

Therefore, as pastor and prophet I challenge you with God's call to prophecy. Far from being outmoded, it is the call to declare the "Good News" for today. If for some who would not receive it, it appears as "bad news" leading to our persecution, this is simply the price we Christians must pay. Our task must forever be that of the prophet. The world needs the truth in our day, too.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Deltona United Methodist Church was held in Fellowship Hall on Monday, Feb. 15. Hope Circle served a delicious dessert and coffee to a large group of guests. An outstanding flower arranging program was presented by Mrs. Cecil Halbert. She made four arrangements depicting "Creation," "Meditation," "Christian Strength" and "Grateful Praise." Mrs. Halbert attended the Ichby School of Floral Art in Toivon, Japan, and studied with Mr. Kasuya, Headmaster. She first received her teacher's certificate and is later awarded the instructor's certificate. She has given many Hawaiian demonstrations for clubs and different groups in Deltona and surrounding areas.

Church Women United in Seminoles County will celebrate World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 5, at First Presbyterian Church of Sanford beginning at 10 a. m. On this day church women in 25,000 communities in the United States will unite their prayers with women in 165 countries on six continents to affirm faith, hope and love in facing issues and needs of today and tomorrow.

One whole town turned out to watch a well-attended program which would eventually bring good water for their needs. After centuries of lifting water in leaky buckets that never really supplied enough for the needs of the community. It was practically a "miracle" to see people to see modern crops dig better wells, build better homes and improve living conditions in many ways, even to keeping population to a level where it can be sustained.

Answers to many problems were attempted in all parts of the world, and as one man asked, "How do you solve a problem? With a Program." He then went on to show what a program means, but how hard it is, sometimes, to get even needy people to change their ways.

DELTONA — In celebrating the "Week of Compassion" the Christian Church of Deltona, located on Normandy Boulevard and Hancock Drive, opened a "soup kitchen" and served a "frugal meal" of chicken soup with homemade noodles. Nothing ever tasted better!

Guests and friends arrived with a soup bowl each, and a soup spoon, and lined up against the kitchen wall for "handouts." Donations paid for the meal. This supper was served on the date of the regular Fellowship dinner, the third Thursday in each month. Every one is invited to attend, and quite a few guests were present.

Air Firm Devoted To Missionaries

Whirlpool Corporation is only one of the nationally recognized companies which has donated planes, materials, or money to enable Maranatha to serve more countries. The program is non-denominational in that many contributors and participants are not Seventh-Day Adventists. As one member termed it they are "putting some P-U-N-I to life as well as doing some good."

The homecoming activities began as plane after plane landed on the 2,000-foot landing strip behind the academy. Pilots and passengers came from such distant places as Berrien Springs, Mich., and Washington, D. C.

Florida, however, was just a "short hop" compared to the regular flights of Maranatha missionaries which take them to South and Central America and the various islands.

The purpose of Maranatha, a non-profit corporation, is to transport people and materials to needy areas. The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Deltona United Methodist Church was held in Fellowship Hall on Monday, Feb. 15. Hope Circle served a delicious dessert and coffee to a large group of guests.

An outstanding flower arranging program was presented by Mrs. Cecil Halbert. She made four arrangements depicting "Creation," "Meditation," "Christian Strength" and "Grateful Praise." Mrs. Halbert attended the Ichby School of Floral Art in Toivon, Japan, and studied with Mr. Kasuya, Headmaster. She first received her teacher's certificate and is later awarded the instructor's certificate. She has given many Hawaiian demonstrations for clubs and different groups in Deltona and surrounding areas.

Church Women United in Seminoles County will celebrate World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 5, at First Presbyterian Church of Sanford beginning at 10 a. m. On this day church women in 25,000 communities in the United States will unite their prayers with women in 165 countries on six continents to affirm faith, hope and love in facing issues and needs of today and tomorrow.

One whole town turned out to watch a well-attended program which would eventually bring good water for their needs. After centuries of lifting water in leaky buckets that never really supplied enough for the needs of the community. It was practically a "miracle" to see people to see modern crops dig better wells, build better homes and improve living conditions in many ways, even to keeping population to a level where it can be sustained.

Answers to many problems were attempted in all parts of the world, and as one man asked, "How do you solve a problem? With a Program." He then went on to show what a program means, but how hard it is, sometimes, to get even needy people to change their ways.

Proviso On Road Extension

Extension of Onora Road in the Sanford Airport, in which the county had been requested to participate by the City of Sanford, was approved by the County Commission yesterday. However, a proviso was attached that the city give a firm commitment that the site can be used as a transfer station in the county's sanitary landfill program.

County Engineer William Bush told the board that a traffic count was taken and that there were 1,366 cars going in and out during a 24 hour period, with 822 going past. Therefore, he said, the entrance to the Airport should have the right of way.

It was also stipulated that the city assume maintenance of fencing, gates, trees, poles, etc. Commissioners voted to allocate funds in the amount of $1,500 from the Road and Bridge materials fund for the extension and modification of east Onora Road.

Chairman Greg Drummond said that he favored allocating the same amount to other cities, if they agreed to provide transfer stations, and that he would vote against the issue if it is not on an equitable basis with other cities.

Commissioner Sid Vollen Jr. moved to amend the motion to notify other municipalities that the same opportunity was extended to them if they have a suitable location, with similar terms as those extended to Sanford.

Commissioner Al Davis said that he would favor the motion only if there is a firm commitment by Sanford relative to the transfer station, which, he said, would benefit the county. So far, it was stated, there has only been a verbal agreement with City Manager W. E. Knowles as to the transfer station.

Nixon's Foreign Policy—A Mixed Bag

President Nixon's 65,000 word "Foreign Policy for the 1970s" report is one which, in itself, projects goals, describes milestones reached and in view, that appeal to the best interests of men everywhere.

South Vietnamese ground forces and American air forces into the same pattern of speeding American troop withdrawals.

This foreign policy report is very much in keeping with the Nixon announcement that he would be wearing his presidential hat in 1971, not the politician's hat he put on in 1970 and will don again openly within a year.

recognizing Red China as a force to be reckoned with in peaceful terms is another indication of what the President persistently is attempting — to bring existing and changing conditions into action in the formation of foreign policy.

Officers Congratulated On 'Job Well Done' Guard Relates Raiford Convicts' Beating

(Editors Note: In the aftermath of last week's violence at Raiford Prison, inmates told stories of official brutality and guards taking prisoners. Jacksonville television station WXTV, Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—For two hours Feb. 15, riot-greased officers marched through Raiford State Prison's hallways, methodically beating unresisting prisoners. One guard says when it was over the men got a "job well done" from a prison inspector.

Prison guard Edward F. Roberts told his eyewitness account of the bloody night to Jacksonville television station WXTV.

Roberts said he was standing next to warden Donald Hasfurther when the riot squad entered and began assembling prisoners from each wing on the bottom floor.

He said the inmates were told if any man didn't want to be hit he should step forward.

"And anybody that stepped forward got the devil beat out of them," Roberts said. "They were hit with rifle butts, billy clubs. They were stabbed in the stomach with rifle barrels. I only saw one man resisting. All the rest were passive."

Roberts said when no one stepped forward, inmates who looked like they didn't "understand" were pulled out of line and brutalized by the officers.

"I saw one man with blood running out of his ears. And I saw one man, his mouth was completely full," Roberts said.

In all Roberts said he saw forward but got the devil beat out of them," Roberts said. "They were hit with rifle butts, billy clubs. They were stabbed in the stomach with rifle barrels. I only saw one man resisting. All the rest were passive."

Lyman, Seminole Fall In Tourney

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

The Class AA District B basketball tournament moves into the semi-finals tonight, minus its two competitors from Seminole County. Lyman was blasted 62-39 and Seminole dropped 44-39, with neither team managing to control the lead at any time in their contest. Seabreeze defeated Lake City in the opener, 76-59. Mainland, who drew a "bye" last night, meets Seabreeze tonight in a battle of the two Daytona Beach schools. That game is at 7 p.m., and will be followed by a contest between tournament favorites Gainesville and DeLand at 9 p.m.

Seminole couldn't get on the scoreboard until over half of the period had elapsed. When they did, DeLand scored four straight to lead 8-1. Ricky Grant scored with 14 seconds left and the Seminoles trailed 10-4 as the opening period came to an end.

The Seminoles pulled to within two points, 12-10 with 4:47 remaining in the first half and killed by the same margin, 10-16 as the two teams went to the dressing room.

The first two minutes and 10 seconds of the third period were scores, but then Seminoles hit on a bucket to tie it up 18-18. But in just a little over a minute, the Seminoles trailed 30-19. The Seminoles began pressing and a five second violation by the Bulldogs and a key steal by Tommy Barks brought the Tribe to within four points, 22-18, as the period ended.

With 4:50 remaining in the final period, Seminoles tied the lead at 34-34 on a basket by Grant. Some three and a half minutes later, Clifford Martin went in for a lay-up to knot the score again, this time at 36-36.

With 53 seconds showing on the clock, Seminole trailed 34-36 and Greg Mitchell was at the line for a pair of charity shots. This was likely the turning point of the contest. He hit on the first shot and the second also fell through the basket. But an alert official called a lane violation on a Seminole and the basket was nullified and DeLand given possession of the ball. DeLand went to the foul line nine times in the last 46 seconds, hitting six of the attempts.

Clifford Martin led the Seminoles' offense with 16, while Grant had 10. DeLand was paced by Spencer LaCopa with 13 and Leonard Cook and Rodney Harris with 10 each.

Lyman tied the score at 2-2 and 4-4, but from that point on, they led the Hurricanes for the remainder of the game. They trailed 13-7 at the end of the first period and 31-14 at the half. Gainesville scored the first 13 points of the second period, holding the Hounds scoreless until Bruce Rose hit on a jumper with 3:36 left.

Gainesville continued to score, but Lyman's Rose and Harris carried a comfortable 53-25 lead into the final eight minutes of play. Trailing 60-29, Lyman's Rose scored with 3:59 left to tie the game and scored 10 of the last 12 points of the contest.

Lyman had only one man in the basket for the easy shot. Twice he found himself alone with Ellyzy who was forced to stand helpless as the former Oviedo High star went up and hit easy bunnies.

A free throw by Harper ended the scoring in the first half with State on top of a 30-29 count.

Southern held the lead twice in the second half, at 31-30 and nearly everyone in the place seemed ready to sit back and watch a rout. A rout that was expected by many of the ticket purchasers and many others who didn't pay their way in.

However, the Mocs, led by Harper overtook the visitors 8-7 and gave new "air" to the inside of the Southern gymnasium. That was Southern's only lead of the first half as Vern Ellyzy connected on a shot to put Seminoles in front 9-8 and they stayed there the rest of the half.

State pulled out to a six point lead several times in the first half but each time Southern would rally and come within one.

Playing a man for man State's Ellyzy was assigned to guard Harper in the early going. Afforded several fine picks by his mates Harper was able to shake Ellyzy and get an easy shot from in close. When he didn't make the shot he fouled. Twice in the first seven minutes Ellyzy was charged with fouling Harper and State coach changed assignments with Ellyzy guarding either Mike Lester or Joshua High while Rowland Garrett leved on Harper.

LAKELAND — It was called just a little change by Florida State coach Hugh Durham but it turned out to be a big difference in his team's 74-66 victory over a stubborn Florida Southern quintet last night.

Leading by a point at half-time Durham's "little change" was a free throw by Harper ended the scoring in the first half with State on top of a 30-29 count.

Rent-All Still Holds The Lead

The Able Rent-All team strengthened their lead in the Friday Morning Bowling League as Joan Nordquist's 186-465 led them to a clean sweep over Michael's Restaurant.

Sharon Tillis and Nancy Van Dusen were high for Country Club Atlantic as they also scored four wins over Stephen Chemicals.

Paul Doucette's 182-644 boosted Fausta Drug Store to score three points from Spencer Inc.

Myrna Van Duzey's 168-430 was high for Capt. Jim's Oyster Bar as they chalked in four wins over G & H Tennessee.

Paul Doucette spared the 2-7; the 3-10 fell for Doris Baron, Alice Homan, and Mary Smith. Mabel Adams spared the 4-5.

Emily Griffith and Joan Nordquist chalked in the only turkeys.

Paul Doucette, Joan Nordquist, Sharon Tillis, Nancy Van Dusen, and Myrna Van Duzey all scored more than 50 points over their average and will compete in the "Winner of the Week" roll off Saturday.

Durham Is Prejudiced About Sanford's Ellyzy

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Staff

When it comes to Vernell Ellyzy Florida State basketball coach Hugh Durham is prejudiced—but in a positive manner.

Asked which player, Ellyzy or former Oviedo star Simon Harper, he would prefer Durham, he would prefer Durham. "Well, I'm a fan of Vern Ellyzy because I've got Ellyzy."

That has to be a bigger compliment to the former Sanford Croonca cage star than it appears at first. Ellyzy has but one more varsity game left in his two year career at Florida State and that will be this weekend in Miami. And Harper has a few games left this year and another season at Florida Southern next year.

But there was no talking Durham out of his preference and it was understandable after watching Ellyzy in action against Florida Southern last night.

Described by Durham as a 6-foot-4 rebounder who leaps as if he's 6-10, Ellyzy led the Seminoles in rebounding with eight caroms and taking the play away from his 6-foot-10 sophomore teammate, Reggie Royals under the boards. Harper led all rebounders in the game as he hauled down a dozen missed shots.

Durham described the two former Seminole Junior College stars as being different in their style of play and their overall contribution to their teams.

"Both of them can rebound well and they both certainly like the play," stated Durham.

The difference in the two is the fact that Ellyzy may be a little more versatile in that he can operate on the outside, much better than Harper. Ellyzy's ability to score from outside helped in Florida State's 74-66 victory over Florida Southern last night. While he did not hit many from the outside he did come up with clutch hoops when the Seminoles needed them most.

Durham told why he and his staff did not "go after" Harper upon his graduation from Seminole Junior College. "We had Royals (6-foot-10) King (6-foot-4) and Rowland Harris (6-foot-7) so we really weren't in need of a fellow like Harper and his talents."

Neither Harper nor Ellyzy were especially "high" for the game although Harper scored 14 points in the first half of the game. Both went about their task in the best way they knew how and it doesn't take any extra incentive to do that as both have proven many times this season.

HEAD START AN INVESTMENT IN TOMORROW... TODAY

Let's Make It A Full 12 Months Per Year!

WHY EXTEND THIS PROGRAM?

Children receive specialized pre-school training plus medical and dental care. Family courses include nutrition, good health, and basic sewing skills.

A high percentage of the Head Start staff come from the communities being served — many are parents of children enrolled. A special grant allowed a Career Development Program for the staff. Through accredited courses, one cook rose to teacher aide, four teacher aides became teachers, and one aide assumed the position of coordinator of services. Staff efforts secured scholarships for two teachers to finish college at Florida State.

Head Start is supported by 80% federal funds plus community contributions of space, materials, and volunteer time and talent. Developing the potential of these children at some later point in their lives is very difficult and extremely costly, as our remedial programs and dropout rate have shown.

Head Start children do learn basic preschool skills; but more important, they're introduced to concepts of social adjustment, group participation, and community pride — essential to success in public schools.

Second Major Defeat For South Vietnamese Allied Base Fails In Laos; 450 Defenders Die

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese paratrooper base inside Laos fell to the North Vietnamese today, and the 450 defenders were virtually wiped out, allied military sources said.

The North Vietnamese then laid siege to a second paratrooper base six miles to the southeast, and field reports said they were inflicting heavy casualties on the South Vietnamese defenders.

The fall of the Saigon base on Hill 31 was the second major defeat for the South Vietnamese in the 19-day-old Laotian campaign to disrupt enemy supply traffic down the Ho Chi Minh trail. Last Sunday a ranger battalion was driven from a base five miles away with 323 of its 450 men killed, wounded or missing.

Shortly before Hill 31 was overrun, two downed American pilots were plucked from the fringes of the base after 21 hours hiding in a trench from the 1,500 to 2,000 North Vietnamese besieging the base. The aircraft fire was so heavy it took 75 fighter-bomber strikes to suppress it enough for a rescue helicopter to get in.

Hill 31, an outpost on the Ho Chi Minh trail, is eight miles inside Laos and north of Highway 9. Military sources said the battalion of 450 paratroopers there was virtually wiped out.

Associated Press correspondent William Barton reported from Khe Sanh that an American helicopter pilot flew back from a mission over the base with 29 AK47 bullet holes in his craft.

The pilot said he was sighted down to the outpost by troops "popping green smoke." They were North Vietnamese, but "they were dressed in ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) uniforms," the pilot said. "They got them from the dead, I guess."

After he landed his Cobra gunship, the enemy troops opened fire. The pilot took off in a rush and literally skidded into Khe Sanh, Barton reported.

RETRIEVED FROM BATTLE for repairs, row on row of military equipment awaits attention at the Army's Second Logistical Command on Okinawa. The vehicles were damaged in South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese forces have made no forward movement in the past nine days. The fighting Thursday and today was some of the heaviest of the Indochina war, and some U.S. officers said it was the heaviest.

Nixon Unhappy Over Inflation

Wholesale Price Index Is Boosted

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another big jump in wholesale prices has dampened the Nixon administration's optimism that inflation is fading, foretelling possible higher costs to consumers in the weeks ahead.

Despite the eight-tenths of one per cent increase in the preliminary wholesale price index for February, the administration rushed ahead with its drive to reduce inflation and unemployment at the same time by expanding the economy.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally told the House Appropriations Committee Wednesday the administration is not satisfied with the way the Federal Reserve Board has been expanding the money supply since September.

He said the administration may not be able to accomplish its ambitious economic goals unless the independent board pumps more money into the nation's sluggish economy.

With vigorous expansion of money, the administration believes it can reduce unemployment to 4 1/2 per cent by mid-1972 while scaling down inflation to 3 per cent.

But the Fed has cast doubt on whether the economy should expand as fast as Nixon wants this year, fearing a new wave of inflation.

The February rise in wholesale prices pointed to future inflated prices for consumers, if the Labor Department's index proves to be the barometer it has in the past.

The Department said the eight-tenths of one per cent preliminary increase last month built the January and February

Autopsy Report Given

Deodorant Fatal To 'Sniffer'

Respiratory arrest!

This was given as the official cause of the death of a 13-year-old South Seminole Middle School girl after an autopsy performed today by Dr. Arthur Schwartz, Daytona Beach pathologist, at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Chief Deputy Duane Hatrell reported the results just minutes after the completion of the autopsy into the death of Karen L. Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Yates, of Forest City.

The girl apparently died after she inhaled deodorant sprayed onto tissue paper and breathed through a crudely constructed cardboard funnel while in a stall in the school's restroom.

According to a news release from Sheriff John Polk's office, Karen and another girl were in a restroom at the South Seminole Middle School. At approximately noon, one of the teachers walked into the restroom and saw the two girls in the one enclosure.

The teacher told the pair to leave and Karen reportedly gasped for breath and fell backward, her head striking the terra

Two other teachers were called into the room by shouts from the Yates' girl's friend.

Attempts to revive Karen by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation were started, but the girl apparently died on the way to Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

County Det. Lt. L. J. Kriz said he believed the cause of death would be labeled as accidental by the coroner after the post mortem which was completed at Seminole Memorial Hospital this morning.

Cindy Rinyu, who was out side the restroom door when Karen was found, said she did not know if Karen sniffed the fumes on a dare from a classmate. The girl said, "I know kids have been doing this, although none have been caught at it. It's just a way to get high." Cindy added, "I'm as many as 35 per cent of the pupils have tried it."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Court has issued a divorce decree ending the 26-year marriage of Burl Ives, retired singer and actor, and Helen Peck Ives.

A judge ordered the 62-year-old Ives on Wednesday to pay $2,000 monthly alimony. Mrs. Ives, 54, is the entertainer's former business manager.

Ives says they have been separated 15 years. They have one son, Alexander, 21.

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's Lord Snowdon came to lunch Wednesday and hardly anybody noticed.

One who did, a Daily News reporter, quoted the peer as saying: "One of the reasons I so much enjoy coming to New York is that I'm left alone here and can enjoy some privacy."

Snowdon, husband of Princess Margaret, was dining at the Trattoria restaurant with two staffers of Vogue magazine whom he was consulting on photography. He takes photographs professionally.

Princess Margaret apparently remained in the Caribbean area where they had been vacationing.

McGovern Says He Can End War In A Few Weeks

By WALTER R. MEARS

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern is campaigning for a Democratic presidential primary more than a year away, acknowledging he doesn't expect to win it but forecasting that he will demonstrate his strength during the first four or five primaries of 1972.

Preparing for the first one, in New Hampshire on March 14, 1972, McGovern said he may wind up on the primary ballot in eight or 10 states in a campaign designed to overtake the front-running but underdog Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

"I think it's fair to say that New Hampshire is not one that I would be expected to win," McGovern said Thursday. "We're right next door to Sen. Muskie, who was on the national ticket in 1968 and went into New Hampshire many times."

"This is a state he ought to carry by a very large margin," the South Dakota senator said, "but if I or some other candidate can demonstrate respectable strength here and could indicate that there is a hard core of support, I think that's significant."

McGovern visited the state legislature in Concord, campaigning at Nathaniel Hawthorne College in Andover and answering questions at a reception in a Durham living room, emphasizing as always his opposition to U.S. policy in South Vietnam.

"We will end that war in a matter of weeks if I become the president," McGovern said. In a WENI television interview in Durham, McGovern declared current American operations in Indochina as immoral and unworkable.

"I really don't know how we ever got our consciences into the position where we can order a year away, acknowledging he doesn't expect to win it but forecasting that he will demonstrate his strength during the first four or five primaries of 1972.

Youth Hijacks Jetliner In Try To Escape Draft

By DAVID STUDDER
VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI) — A teen-age Army draftee on his way to basic training hijacked a Boeing 737 Thursday and forced it to fly to Canada.

Chapin J. Paterson, 19, of Shingle Springs, Calif., surrendered to Royal Canadian Mounted Police after the Boeing 737 touched down at Vancouver International Airport.

The hijacker, who first ordered the plane flown to Cuba, was one of 49 Army inductees among the 52 passengers on the plane, which was en route to Seattle, 128 miles south of here.

Pilot Bruce Despain told authorities the youth approached a stewardess carrying a satchel and told her it contained a bomb. She notified Despain, who had her bring the inductor to the cockpit.

The hijacker told the captain he wanted the plane diverted to Cuba. Despain said the jetliner didn't have enough fuel to reach the Caribbean.

"All right. Then take me to Vancouver," the young man told the pilot.

When the plane landed, Paterson allowed the passengers and five crew members to leave and then surrendered to rifle carrying Mounties on the runway. He identified himself to the officers.

terday McEvers said that Chief Brumley asked if the white capsules were mescaline, to which the defendant answered, "yes." Pressed as to the disparity in statements, McEvers said that he misunderstood Kirkland's question. Kirkland shot back, "It was not my question, it was Mr. Leone's."

Chief Brumley in concise testimony told the court that the home had been under surveillance for several hours, and that when the defendant left her home accompanied by a male, she was shown a search warrant and requested to accompany the police. Chief Brumley said that the officers found the clear plastic bag in the master bathroom. Subsequently, it was taken to the master bedroom and the contents dumped, Chief Brumley said that he questioned Mrs. Anderson as to the nature of the capsules and that she answered in "a calm voice" with out hesitation, "mescaline." The same question was posed about a brown substance wrapped in foil, to which the answer was "hashish." Again she was questioned about a "green vegetable substance and answered "marijuana."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was having trouble with my TV set so I called a TV repairman who lives in my neighborhood. I called him at his place of business and he came right over and looked at the set. I asked him to tell me how much it would cost to fix the set, and he smiled and said, "That all depends on how nice you are to me."

We both laughed, and, of course, I thought he was joking. Then he took the set to his shop and said he'd bring it back in a week. Well, after two weeks I called him and asked him when he was going to bring my set back and he said, "When your husband isn't home." That's where my set back without causing a lot of trouble? If my husband knew about this he would take that punk apart.

DEAR KENWOOD: Call that self-styled caravaca and tell him if he doesn't have to work back today, you will tell your husband and report him to the Better Business Bureau. I don't think you will have to wait long.

North's three-heart bid was a little raise. His hand was worth 12 points in support of hearts and he wanted to be in game unless his partner had a rock-bottom minimum. South's hand was far from it. # Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE P-363: Esther V., aged 36, is the plump wife who worried because her husband had lost his romantic fervor regarding her.

"Dr. Crane," she wailed, "when he kisses me, he just gives me dull little pecks on the cheek."

"But I want his kisses to sizzle, as they did during our honeymoon."

"So what can I do to restore his ardor toward me?"

The best tonic to restore Cupid's early fervor is a slender diet figure.

Alas, Esther had zoomed from 117 pounds on her wedding day to a blubbery 157.

Those extra 40 pounds changed her appearance from that of a seductive siren to a good old motherly aunt!

As a result, her husband treated her as such via his dull little pecks on the cheek.

So I urged Esther to launch upon my 10-day dehydration diet whereby she would lose 10 pounds the first 10 days.

This diet is medically sound and involves no drugs, so it doesn't raise your heart or raise your blood pressure.

All you do is limit your intake to 800 calories per day, if you are a woman, or 1,200 for a man.

But most dieters grow discouraged if they can't see a dramatic quick weight loss, so they usually go off the usual diet in a week.

To help produce that speedy reduction on your scales and also kill your hunger, this 10-day diet involves a reduction in fluid intake.

The first day, you limit your fluid to one full glass of total liquids, including coffee, soup, milk, tea or water.

Many women find it easier to pour that full glass of water into the usual ice cube tray. This produces many ice waters.

When thirsty, place one on your tongue. That quenches your thirst fairly well.

The second day, you are entitled to two full glasses of fluid and three glasses of the third day through the 10th.

Remember, however, that your body meanwhile manufactures water internally!

Thus, each pound of fat that you shed will produce two glasses of water.

A camel's hump is thus composed of fat. As it melts away, 12 gallons of water result from that metabolized fat.

Some process works on us human beings when we diet.

Since protein is a daily necessity for doctors, include about 40 calories of protein food; this includes cottage cheese.

Always pulverize aspirin, instead of swallowing the tablets whole, for whole aspirin tablets seem to increase the likelihood of peptic ulcers!

At the end of 10 days, Esther was down to 147. Then she shifted to Diet No. 2, which allows unrestricted liquid intake and raises the caloric quotas to 1,200 and 1,600 daily for women and men.

In 3 more months, Esther was a svelte 129 pounds. Her husband's ardor then caused his kisses to sizzle.

So send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope with 10 cents. You can look 30 years younger by Easter.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, care of a long stamped, return envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

We The Women: By Betty Canary

Not long ago we assembled a list to help the bride and groom know it was time to brush the rice from their eyelashes because the honeymoon was over.

Following are more helpful hints sent in by readers. The honeymoon is over. A girl asks, "How do I look dear?" and her husband answers, "Compared to what?"

A couple named Gladys and Don start calling each other Vera and Bill.

She doesn't realize he came home late from the office because she came home later from her office.

He hints about taking up a hobby, regulates her statistics on how healthful tramping over a golf course can be, leaves ads for golf bags and a membership entry blank for the local country club in strategic places around the house. And she buys him a pack of seeds and a book entitled, "Making Birdhouses from Gourds for Fun and Profit."

She says, "I think I want a divorce," and he immediately places a classified ad in the paper that says, "Thanks to St. Jude for favors received. She begins opening her own car door and slamming it closed on his hand."

She gets a new hairdo and his only comment is, "Are you going that beauty parlor or are you just going to picket the museum?"

She asks if she should put her bonus into their joint savings account and he says, "Oh, did I tell you? I closed it."

She says, "Well, I'm off to the museum!" one morning and objects meeting the museum she's going to see is named The Louvre.

THE SHINING GOAL

It's a long hike! Traveling to our goal can take a lifetime, but it's worth it. Every morning we start out on another stage of the journey, and it's up to us how much we accomplish before nightfall. What is the goal? What is our highest peak of spiritual development? What are the rewards? All the things we long for — peace of mind... perfect freedom... contentment... happiness. Many are still struggling through the forests of unbelief and despair. Some are lost and confused in the mists of doubt. Others are already climbing the foothills of hope. Many of us will reach the summit if we pray constantly for help and strength. The Christian scriptures are your infallible guidebook, and the Christian Church offers you a place of spiritual refreshment along life's road. Attend church this Sunday, and continue your journey with a lighter burden... and a lighter heart.

TV Improved On Novel

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Some authors might be unhappy about it, but not Fletcher Knebel.

He wrote a novel which was a 1968 best-seller—"Vanished." It was sold to Universal for a movie, at a very nice figure. Two years later he heard—"second-hand"—that the studio had decided to make it for television, rather than for theatrical release.

While he already had the money, still there was the matter of prestige. In some literary circles, television is hardly considered an art form, and the idea that a big book would wind up in living rooms instead of theaters would definitely rankle some.

But Knebel is happy. He has seen "Vanished"—you will, too, on March 5 and 6, via NBC—and he likes it. In some ways, actually, he thinks the TV script improved on the novel and, for an author to make that admission is like Lassie saying she'd rather be a cat.

"When I wrote 'Vanished,'" Knebel says, "I spent a long time trying to figure out how the guy who disappeared could vanish without telling his wife. But the scriptwriter gave the wife a drinking problem, which solved it neatly. I could have saved two months' work."

Knebel admits his first reaction when he heard that the book was destined for TV was skepticism. He thinks that most television, with the exception of Public Broadcasting, is "bland" and was afraid that Universal might bland up "Vanished."

But he wasn't about to raise a fuss. He says he's from the "take the money and run" school of writing, anyhow. Now, as noted, he's pleased, and doubts that it could have been any better had it been designed for movie theaters.

Knebel is a veteran Washington newspaperman who wrote his first book when he was 48. Only one of his earlier novels was filmed. That was "Seven Days In May." But another one, "Night of Camp David," had a curious movie-sale history.

Knebel says that Paul Newman, shortly after the novel's publication, made a deal for $350,000 to do the picture version.

"Then, a little later," Knebel says, "his attorneys canceled the deal I heard, via the grapevine, it was because Johnson who was then president, didn't like the book and thought it implied he was going insane, and brought pressure on everybody to stop it from being filmed."

Knebel is working on a sequel to "Vanished," strictly for television, as well as another novel. But there are two things he'd rather be doing.

"What I'd like to do," he says, "is do a book on the great railroad rides of the world. I've ridden many of them and think it would make a great picture-and-text book."

"But that's not what I'd really like to do. What I'd really like to do is sit in a little Mexican village, fishing or just doing nothing."

Knebel has never written a screenplay or tried to. He thinks he's too old to tackle a new field.

"I'm 59," he says. "If I was 38, I'd be writing movies—that's the place for creative writing today."

'The Hard Road' At Drive-In

The Age of Aquarius, with its fast-paced life-style, gets a critical examination in the new film, "The Hard Road," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

This exciting color film traces the life of a 17-year-old girl from a rich family who becomes pregnant, gives her baby up for adoption, and is dragged down in a spiral of violence, drugs and disease.

Companion feature is "Baby Doll," starring Carroll Baker. "The Hard Road," starring John Alderman and Catherine Howard and introducing Connie Nelson, is the first United States production to examine the problems facing America's youth.

The film's producer, Jack Valle, and screenwriter, Richard Stetson, spent the past several years amassing prodigious factual documentation from many prominent authorities. Among these were agents from the Bureau of Narcotics California and Dr. Oliver E. Byrd, of the Stanford University Medical Center.

Recent data even affected the final print of the film, when one factual error regarding drug dosage was discovered. The fictional account of Pamela Banner's life, as portrayed by Connie Nelson, is accompanied by today's facts, in frank, straightforward language.

'Dolls' Return To Plaza

The opening of Russ Meyer's 20th Century-Fox production, "Beyond the Valley of the Dolls," is set for Sunday at the Plaza Theatre. Sneak preview will be at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

Described as a sexy, violent melodrama interspersed with nine sparkling new tunes, "Beyond the Valley of the Dolls" is a put-on of the rock music business with a group of uninhibited young persons moving in a milieu of permissiveness and a reckless indifference to consequences.

"Beyond the Valley of the Dolls," produced and directed by Meyer from a screenplay by Rober Ebert, was filmed in Panavision and De Luxe Color. The ads for the picture point out that "this is not a sequel—there has never been anything like it."

Boasting one of the largest casts of recent motion pictures, the film lists 55 speaking parts, headed by newcomers Dolly

Read, David Goran, Ely Williams, Erica Gavin, Cynthia Myers, Marcia McBroom, John LaZar, Michael Blodgett, Phyllis Davis, Harrison Page, Duncan McLeod and James Iglehart.

Broadway Star Comes To Old Ritz Theatre

With Samuel Goldwyn Jr.'s presentation of the suspense comedy "Cotton Comes To Harlem" one of the biggest names in, on and off Broadway writing, acting and producing steps into motion picture direction in a start which many are hailing as auspicious.

The name belongs to Ossie Davis and his first offering, starring Godfrey Cambridge, Raymond St. Jacques and Calvin Lockhart opens Sunday at the Old Ritz Theatre as a major attraction in Color by DeLuxe from United Artists, entertainment subsidiary of the Transamerica Corporation. Tale is from the highly successful Chester Himes novel and was filmed in its entirety in New York's Harlem.

While he has appeared in such motion pictures as "The Scalphunters," "The Hall" and "Sam Whiskey," Davis has been more closely identified with the stage.

Davis and Ruby Dee, with whom he starred in "Anna Lucasta," were married and he added considerably to their fame when he wrote and both appeared in "Purlie Victorious." It is currently a musical, "Purlie," packing them in on Broadway.

Brass Sees Questions And Answers

Hit For Dow Jones

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Times may be had around this town, but the big movie brass are bullish about the national economy.

"I talked to several of them, the ones who make more money on their stock market deals than on their movie deals. And they predict that by the end of 1972, maybe sooner, the Dow-Jones Industrial average will be at 1200."

What's wrong with television? One interesting theory, advanced by the young veteran producer-director-writer, Barry Shear, is that it's all the government's fault.

He points an accusing finger at government interference in television. This interference takes a roundabout way of making itself felt, in Shear's view.

He says that producers are afraid of the networks and the networks, in turn, are afraid of the FCC taking away their station licenses.

Further, he calls the FCC's action, in giving a half-hour a day back to local stations, "criminal." He believes that locally produced programs are worse than anything the networks do.

As for the FCC itself, Shear has more harsh words.

Q: Are the Goldiggers all Hollywood show girls?—P.L., San Antonio.

A: Not really. In fact, producer Greg Garrison recently traveled throughout the country testing for new additions to the lovely line-up because he felt that the Hollywood talent supply was "jaded and sloppy."

Q: Robert Hooks' young son Kevin starred in a young people's special, "J.T." sometime ago on TV. He's apparently appeared in nothing else since. Why?—G.S., San Jose, Calif.

A: Most likely because there hasn't been any new, worthwhile showcase for his talent on TV. He was seriously considered to co-star in the TV pilot, "Crosscurrent," which his papa is currently filming, but studio brass decided there was no real role for a youngster.

Q: Is Bobby Darrin a regular performer on "The Flip Wilson Show" now?—G. K., Norfolk, Va.

A: Since Bobby's appeared on six of the Wilson shows, you might call him a regular even if his contract doesn't.

Q: Tony Curtis and his wife recently had a new son. To settle an argument, please tell us whether or not this child is Tony's first son?—F.D., Seattle.

A: To settle an argument—yes, this is Tony's first son, although he has four daughters from his two previous marriages.

Q: You've said that old time great actors like Hank Fonda and James Garner have agreed to appear in TV series because there's no work in movies right now. But I don't believe that of Jimmy Stewart. He's still popular in the movies and yet he'll have a series. How do you account for that?—R.D., Tacoma.

A: I don't, but Jimmy can.

He says that he's still as adventurous as ever in his career, but has never had his own TV show and would like to "before my time is up."

Q: Dina Merrill was recently on "Medical Center," and we are trying to remember to which famous actor she is married. What can you tell us?—S.S., Pensacola.

A: I can tell you that she's married to Cliff Robertson who won the Oscar for "Charley" two years ago. Will that help?

Q: Is it true that Tina Cole left her husband because she fell for Don Grady who is also on "My Three Sons"?—B. L., Hartford.

A: Tina did leave husband Volney Howard, but it's only speculation that the split was because of a romance with Don Grady. She has been seeing a great deal of her co-star since her separation, however.

Q: Is it true that Henry Fonda is quite a talented artist?—J.O., Rockford, Ill.

A: Is there any question? In the fine art of acting, he's undoubtedly one of the most gifted around. If you're referring to a painting-type artist, Fonda's talented in that area as well, has been painting for many years.

Q: We saw Rita Hayworth recently on "The Carol Burnett Show" and wonder how often she has made television appearances. We don't recall ever seeing her before except in old movies.—R.W., Hartford.

A: Miss Hayworth never made a "live" or variety-type TV appearance before she agreed to guest on the Burnett show.

Q: Do you think that Burt Bacharach will have another one of those super-specials like the two he presented last year?—H.J., Rockford.

A: I don't only think so. I'm sure he will present another super-special. The next one's scheduled for March, so keep an eye on the TV directory.

OUR SIDE OF THE GAP

By KATHY NIBLACK
Well, hello there! How have you been? I hope it's been a super-fantastic week for each and every one of you!

It looks like Spring is finally sneaking up on us—and wow! am I glad. It's been a long, cold winter.

Lots of PEOPLE are in the news this week. Take LYMAN HIGH for instance. American Legion Auxiliary 256 of Casselberry Girl State Committee interviewed four LYMAN Juniors Saturday and chose Sheryl Hull as delegate and Donna Powell as alternate. Other girls nominated for the honor were Kris Browne and Debbie Peraldo. Sheryl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hull of 117 W. Lauren Court, Fern Park.

She is president of Student Life, participated in the American Legion Oratorical contest, is a member of Pep Club, is active in her church, and likes to sing and play piano and guitar. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don M. Powell of Altamonte Springs. Donna is a member of Student Life, Drama Club, her church youth choir and Hand Bell Choir and plays piano, clarinet, and guitar.

Girl State will be held in July. Winners in the Oratorical Contest sponsored by American Legion Post 256 at Lyman were first, Judy Scott; second Darryl Payne, and third, Kris Roush. Their speeches, both prepared and extemporaneous, were on the U. S. Constitution. The finalists are eligible to go on to the district contest in Orlando.

Speaking of LYMAN, I hear they had a pretty successful Sadie Hawkins Dance the other night. Congratulations to the Key Club for a job well done in setting up the dance.

Congratulations to the SEMINOLE HIGH Latin Club members who brought home laurels from the district Roman Forum held in Apopka. Jerome Pittshaw was elected first counsel and in competition Diane Feddersen was first in Mythology and Nancy Euga second in Roman Customs. Wow! That sounds like fun!!

The Seminole County Youth Deputies will sponsor a dance tomorrow night, Feb. 27, at the Sanford Civic Center. "Mother Country" will play and Pat O'Day, WLOF disc jockey, will MC.

Good luck to the SEMINOLE JR. COLLEGE "Raiders" who are contenders tonight in the State Basketball Tournament. Go, Raiders!!!

Boy, there are some smart people around here. Take the SANFORD NAVAL ACADEMY, for example. Ted M. Haag, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Haag of Sanford made the Headmaster's List (that means all A's!) for the six weeks grading period ending January 22. Making the Honor Roll from Sanford were James H. Dunn, Donald R. Jones, and David A. Terwilliger. That means they had a B average.

The Sanford Naval Academy, designed as a naval honor school since 1968, has experienced a near capacity enrollment this year.

Mrs. Sandy Hawkins, daughter of Elder and Mrs. Ronald Seeley of Sanford, was named on the Honor Roll for superior scholarship at Southern Missionary College, Chattanooga, Tennessee, for the semester just ended.

Donald C. Whitmire, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Whitmire of Sanford, was elected as the Treasurer of the FLORIDA TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY colony of Tau Kappa Epsilon. Don, a Junior majoring in Accounting, was installed during formal ceremonies at the Park Plaza Hotel in Orlando on Jan. 29. A 1969 graduate of Seminole High School, Don had previously served as the assistant treasurer and is presently head of the Incorporation Committee. Congratulations, Don!

Tonight and tomorrow nights are the last two nights in the series of four during which the FTU Village Players will present eight one-act plays. The plays to be presented are "A Slight Ache," "Aria Da Capo," "The Leader," "Purgatory," "The Dumb Waiter," "Impromptu," "Riders to the Sea," and "A Bedtime Story." Admission to these plays is free to FTU students, faculty and staff and their guests. Reservations, which are required for all performances, will be handled on a first-come basis.

Miss Florida, Lisa Louise Donovan, was a visitor to FTU Monday. She stopped by to tour FTU after helping to open up the 1971 Central Florida Fair at Exposition Park in Orlando. FTU's first pre-registration will begin for seniors on Monday.

Six members of the FTU Department of Art and one member of the College of Education have mounted an exhibition of their work in the Auditorium Gallery at Brevard Junior College. The show will run through the month of February.

Well, believe it or not (you probably will)—that's all I have for this week. Take it easy, and please let me hear from you.

YOUTH BEAT

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

By ROGER DOUGHTY

LENNON'S LASH—Ex-Beatle John Lennon pulled no punches in his celebrated interview in Rolling Stone, knocking just about everyone he has ever known, with the exception of Yoko. Included was George Martin, the group's musical director, who first signed them to a recording contract after auditioning them in 1962. Lennon says Martin's contribution to the group's success is hardly worth mentioning, so he hardly mentions it. Martin comments in the February issue of Stereo Review on his days with the then "fab four." He says of the first recording session: "The boys were all playing acoustic guitar, which was the only instrument they knew anything about. When I went to the piano to illustrate an idea, John Lennon looked over my shoulder at the keyboard, trying to figure out the chord. Finally he said, 'I see, it's my D shape.' Seems that the great John (who admits he's a "genius" in the Rolling Stone piece) identified guitar chords by the shapes formed by his fingers on the guitar frets. Martin also says that the Beatles' songs came to them in tune fragments which he helped them "get together." Martin is one of the most widely respected craftsmen in the music business, so it's hard to believe he had "nothing" to do with the refinement and sophistication achieved by the Beatles. But who are we to contradict John?

IN THE CAN—A manufacturer of aluminum cans (Reynolds) is doing something to encourage environmental cleanliness by running a contest pitting Los Angeles and New York against each other to determine which city can collect more used aluminum cans. The old cans will be recycled into new ones, natch. They're paying can collectors in each city 10 cents a pound for cans brought in to specified "can collection centers." Which just goes to show you that there's nothing plastic about the aluminum folks.

EATIN' NEAT AGAIN—Leslie Thornton of Elberton, Ga., wrote in a suggestion for our rock restaurant name: "Foodstock" (why not?). A surprise prize (always the best kind) is on its way to Leslie.

FOR THE RECORD—Deja Vu, the Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young album released a year ago, recently passed the two million mark in sales and is still moving. . . Columbia Records has a new LP by Sly and the Family Stone almost finished. Sly is not the kind of guy who can be rushed, so it may be some time before it gets finished. . . Two Beatles LPs are currently the Top 10, battling it out for the No. 1 Spot. At the moment it looks as if George Harrison's "All Things Must Pass" isn't going to be headed by John Lennon's "John Lennon/Plastic Ono Band LP," which is O.K. with us. The Harrison record seems a lot more musical, at least to Youth Beat's collective ears.

Electoral Clout

Youth Lead Registration Drive

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years before the 1972 election, 10 young people are spearheading a drive to give the New Generation some electoral clout.

They organized the Youth Citizenship Fund, Inc., six months ago and, armed with $40,000 in foundation funds, set out to register the country's 11 million 18 to 24 year olds. The Fund also is working to encourage 21 to 24 year olds to vote. "Historically, 21 to 24 year olds have the poorest voting record of any age group in the country," said 23-year-old Charles Gonzales of New Iberia, La., a Fund staff member who dropped out of New Mexico's College of Santa Fe to lobby for the 18-year-old vote. "We're trying to deal with the problems of apathy and disillusionment so many young people face with the electoral process," Gonzales said in an interview. "We want to impress kids with the idea that they have power if they vote together."

The Fund also has a problem in impressing many state legislatures that teen-agers should vote at all. When the Supreme Court ruled last December that 18 year olds have the right to vote in federal elections, it said the franchise in state and local elections remains within the jurisdiction of the individual states. So far, only nine states have dropped the voting age below 21.

The group is testing its two-pronged registration and education program in four areas which have already dropped the voting age from 21: Chicago, Louisville, Ky., Boston and Washington, D.C. Gonzales said, "we're going to set up branch registration programs in each high school and college if the county clerks agree."

"And in Boston, the public school system has agreed to begin work on developing new curricula in the social studies program. Before the kids actually start registering, they'll be provided with citizenship education and registration material."

The Fund's advisory council includes John W. Gardner, chairman of Common Cause; Mrs. Bruce B. Benson, national president of the League of Women Voters; Dr. S.I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College; and Dr. Margaret Mead, the anthropologist.

Financial assistance has been provided by John D. Rockefeller 3rd, the Stern Family Fund, the Eugene and Agnes Meyer Foundation, the Episcopal Church Center and Western Union. Each staff member receives a weekly salary of $125.

If the Fund's efforts to register the country's young people succeed, will they vote like their parents, as some experts have predicted?

"I don't think so," said Gonzales. "Our surveys show kids are interested in different issues: stopping pollution, ending the war and equal rights for all people."

"They place more emphasis on human concerns and they're not as oriented towards bureaucracy and production as their parents are."

That Gonzales' colleagues share his assessment of the young voters' interests is emphasized by the Fund's slogan: "Register Your Discontent."

Councilman Allen Quits Mayor Race

By MARION BETHA
NORTH ORLANDO — An authoritative source revealed today that Councilman Richard Allen, who had announced that he would seek the mayoralty of the Village, and who had completed all the necessary procedures, has declared his intention not to seek the office, and has requested the return of his qualifying fee. Allen reportedly said that he ran for the office only because no other individuals had announced intention to seek the mayor's office. Since Councilman W. R. Hurt has announced that he will seek the mayor's post in the March 16 elections, Allen dropped out.

As of this morning only one person had completed all the necessary forms. Troy Filand will seek the Group 5 seat on council. Others who have announced their intention to qualify are incumbent Charles Rowell, Richard Gardner and Herbert Fox, who is presently chairman of the Village planning and zoning board.

WILLIAM KNIFFIN
... charged with murder

By BILL SCOTT
A City of Sanford refuse employee has been charged with the rape of a 45-year-old widow by Sanford police after a weekend of three reported county rapes, two of which had their beginning in Orange County.

Det. Sgt. William Lykens and Lt. Edward Hayden Sunday night arrested James Herbert Stephens, 26, of 1121 West 12th Street, on rape and breaking and entering charges after the suspect called his victim on the telephone two days after he allegedly broke into her home and assaulted her twice.

Det. Lykens and Lt. Hayden located Stephens in a telephone booth at the intersection of Sanford Avenue and Fourth Street, after the woman, working with police, arranged to keep the man talking while police cruised the city looking for a man in a 'phone booth dressed in blue.'

Lykens stated he and Hayden located Stephens after he called the woman on the telephone and told her he had been to a movie and was all 'dressed up in blue.'

Stephens wore a blue shirt and trousers when arrested inside the telephone booth.

The victim's father from St. Petersburg was at the house at the time of the Sunday night call and he asked neighbors to call police.

Det. Lykens stated the police began recording the 'phone conversation while officers searched the city. After spotting the man in the Sanford Avenue booth, Lykens said he and Lt. Hayden watched him for several minutes, then moved into the booth before the man could hang up.

They talked with the victim after taking the receiver, to determine if this was the voice identified by the woman as her attacker. Based on the information Stephens was picked out by the victim as the man who held a knife to her and threatened to kill her if she screamed while he assaulted her twice in a two-hour period early Saturday.

Sgt. Lykens also confiscated an overnight bag (Continued on Page 2A, Col. 4)

Yankee 'Great' In Town

By GARY TAYLOR
Former Yankee great Bill "Moose" Skowron and Seminole Junior College baseball coach Jay Bergman will be guest speakers tonight at the Sanford Recreation Department's little league organization meeting.

Registration for the little league program will also be held tonight. All boys interested in playing in the leagues should bring their birth certificates along with them tonight.

"Moose" will be around afterwards to sign autographs. A special film on the 1960 World Series will also be shown. The meeting gets underway at 7:30 p. m. at the Sanford Civic Center.

The Sanford Recreation Department will also give away several autographed baseballs tonight. All children entering the building will receive a number, and the numbers will be drawn on stage to determine the winner of the baseballs.

The meeting is expected to last approximately two hours.

County Will Air Legislative Bills

County Commissioners tomorrow will discuss proposed legislation which will be submitted at a hearing of the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation to be held in Sanford March 10 at 7:30 p. m.

According to Administrative Assistant Martin Gainer, the commission will take under consideration the proposed annexation bill for municipalities. This bill follows, in part, the North Carolina plan in which municipalities are required to provide a plan for services to be performed in annexed areas. The annexation bill proposed by the commission has run into considerable opposition from area municipalities, notably Casselberry and Longwood.

Casselberry has announced unequivocal opposition and on Thursday Longwood adopted a resolution against the proposed annexation, contending that it would curtail growth of the city. Although not specifically designated, it is possible that the discussions will also encompass the local government study commission, also proposed by municipalities.

A discussion will be held regarding an inspector for zoning violations. Regulations for alleviating congestion at intersections will be discussed. County Attorney Harold Johnson will give a report relative to procedure for parks site acquisition. Voters, in November, approved the acquisition of the amount of $1,680,000, and the county proposes to apply for matching federal funds in the neighborhood parks program.

ROBERT CARNIE, former owner of Sanford Furniture Company and director of Sanford Male Chorus for 12 years died Thursday. Complete obit on 2A.

Charged With Murder

Wayne Daffron is charged with possession of narcotic paraphernalia; James Mitchell, also known as James MacDonald, is charged with possession or control of a central nervous system stimulant in an amended charge. Robert Baldwin, also known as Robbie Bolan, is charged on two amended counts of sale of a narcotic and possession of a narcotic. Danny Thomas Ziss, also known as Danny Pickett, is charged in two separate cases on two amended counts of sale of a narcotic drug and possession of a narcotic drug.

Other cases are Willie Keaton, charged on two counts of breaking and entering and grand larceny; Wallace Oglesby, charged on two counts of grand larceny; Robert Lee Byrd, charged with rape James Bridgeman, charged with arson (third); and Gary Meister, charged on two counts of B&E and grand larceny.

Save-Zoo Meets Set
With only a week to go before the Sanford City Commission is scheduled to receive a report from the city zoo committee pertaining to its efforts to save the Sanford Municipal Zoo, slated to be phased out by Sept. 30, at least two meetings have been scheduled this week to deal with the situation.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer, also a member of the zoo committee, advised that Cleveland Zoo director Dr. L. J. Goss will visit Sanford Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week to study the zoo problems and give his ideas relative to solutions.

Meyer said a breakfast meeting involving City Commission, zoo committee, civic group representatives and Chamber of Commerce officials would possibly be scheduled for 7 a. m. Friday morning with Dr. Goss.

He said this would be firmly fixed as soon as it had been determined that Dr. Goss would be able to attend a Friday morning meeting.

High Costs Postpone Home Plans

By LOUISE L. GILL
Extension Home Economics Agent

Soaring housing costs have caused postponement of many home building plans. Even the cost of an ordinary place to live has climbed well out of reach for many families.

But the situation is changing. Money is becoming more plentiful, interest rates are decreasing, and activity in the construction industry is gaining momentum. About 1,650,000 new homes will be started in 1971, according to the National Association of Home Builders.

This is an increase from a projected total of 1,400,000 in 1970. In spite of the sizable price tags on new houses, buyers will find a wider selection of lower-priced homes available as builders are determined to widen their markets. In the past, families with incomes of less than $10,000 have been priced out of homeownership, since the median cost of a new house was $26,700 in 1960 — up $2,100 in one year.

To try to regain this market builders are eliminating some conveniences. The result has been a drop in the average price of a new home to $24,000 in the last 12 months. One large builder, for example, is omitting air conditioning, carpeting and several automatic gadgets from his most popular model, and reducing the cost by about $5,000. Due to the housing crisis, builders are also using innovative techniques. Factory assembled components and modules are being used more extensively, cutting down construction cost and time.

And in urban areas, an increasing number of multiple-family housing developments are available. For the family not interested in conventional homeownership, apartments, condominiums, cooperatives and townhouses provide alternatives.

Biological Control Used

By FRANK J. JASA
County Agricultural Agent
The public outcry about environmental quality has placed increased emphasis on biological control as a solution to the farmer's pest problems. And such emphasis could lead the layman to ask whether or not biological control offers a magical solution or if it is merely an impractical dream of long-haired professors. The truth lies somewhere between the extremes. Biological control is controlling insects by the use of other organisms — whether they be the size of birds or micro-organisms. Biological control is a powerful and useful tool. However, to think we can go in tomorrow and replace all the insecticides with biological control techniques is absurd.

Biological control techniques employ one of three approaches — importing predators, parasites or pathogens to combat domestic pests; mass producing the predators, parasites or pathogens; or by manipulating the environment to increase beneficial insects which prey on the pests. In any event, biological control is a slow, long, hard difficult approach. Until some technique is perfected, we will continue to use insecticides — but with discretion.

Gladiolus Growing Rewarding

By DAVID DEVOLL
Extension Agent

Growing gladiolus in the home garden is easy and rewarding. When in bloom, the plants add a splash of color to the garden and produce 2-squats for use in the home. Selected varieties are available in a wide range of clear, variegated and smoky colors; they may be obtained from catalogs or your garden supplier.

Flowers are grown from corms (commonly called bulbs) an inch or more in diameter. Corms have 4 to 8 buds in a line across the top but usually only 1 or 2 buds will grow and produce flower spikes. At the base of the corm is a circular scar corm away from the old or mother corm. Roots originate in a ring around the scar at the base of the corm after the corm is planted.

Seven or eight leaves usually develop from a large corm. Flowers may be expected 60 to 90 days after planting. Just before the flower spike emerges, a new corm normally will start to develop above the mother corm. Between the new and the old corm, appear contractile roots or cormels or bulblets.
