U.S. begins scrapping missiles

The United States began taking its first steps to comply with the historic INF treaty, burning and crushing Pershing missiles outlawed in the nuclear arms reduction accord while shipping cruise missiles home from Europe for destruction.

The first of the nation's intermediate range Pershing missiles were destroyed Thursday at the Longhorn Army Ammunition Depot in Texas while 12 Soviet inspectors and Vice President George Bush watched through binoculars 1,200 feet away.

PBS sweeps news Emmys

NEW YORK — PBS swept the annual Emmys for news and documentary programs by winning 14 of the 33 awards, including two separate awards for the series "Eyes on the Prize: America's Civil Rights Years."

ABC picked up prizes in nine separate categories, including best coverage of a breaking story for the Nightline coverage of the Tower Commission report on the Iran-Contra scandal.

PBS with 37 nominations outstripped the commercial networks, but CBS garnered 34 nominations. ABC had 28 nominations and NBC seven.

Lady Seminoles win thriller

CASSELBERRY — What started out as a good old-fashioned rout turned out to be one of the most exciting volleyball matches thus far this season as Sanford's Lady Seminoles managed to escape the come-from-behind clutches of the feisty Lady Silver Hawks of Lake Howell, 15-1, 12-15, 15-13.

"I'm really proud of our girls," an elated Beth Corso said after the nailbiter. "Tonight was the true test. We were at match point four times and we finally pulled it out. We played great volleyball tonight."

The victory was the first for Corso and her Lady Seminoles in five years at Lake Howell and put the Lady Noles at 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the Seminole Athletic Conference. Lake Howell dropped to 0-1 in the SAC and 0-2 overall.

SHA director fired

Action stirs controversy at meeting

Linda Williams

By WAYNE MIZE
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — In an unexpected, yet calculated move, the Sanford Housing Authority Board of Commissioners fired executive director Elliot Smith for what it termed incompetence and named Linda Williams as interim director Thursday night.

The commissioners also accepted the resignation of Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) legal counsel Ned Julian, Jr., after a motion had been made to fire him.

Sanford attorney James Sweeting III was appointed to replace Julian as legal counsel.

The SHA commissioners approved both motions by 3-2 votes.

Bob Ball, Teri Buratti and Alberta Detreville formed the majority vote with Robert Frazier and chairman Alexander Wynn III voting against the motions.

Both resolutions and motions were introduced by Ball just before the meeting's end. Buratti quickly seconded each motion. After discussions that often became heated, Detreville cast the deciding vote on each proposal.

Smith said after the meeting the move to fire him was unexpected. When asked if he would pursue legal action against the SHA commissioners, Smith replied, "No com-

Traffic mishap

An empty Seminole County school bus and a car driven by Sheryl Snell, 26, of 21 Cowan Moughton Terrace, were involved in a minor accident Thursday afternoon at the intersection of W. 25th Street and Old Lake Mary Road. No one was injured in the 1:30 p.m. accident, although Snell's late model compact car sustained extensive front-end damage. Heavy rains in and around Seminole County during much of this week have left many roadways slick and some nearly impassible.

Lake Mary City Commission votes to change charter

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary commissioners voted unanimously last night for an amendment that would change the commission to a four-member body with a voting mayor.

This amendment to the charter will be on the Nov. 8 ballot. If the amendment passes, it will change the makeup of the now five member commission and a non-voting mayor in December 1989.

"Commission seat one would be done away with and the mayor would be able to vote," Lake Mary Mayor Richard A. Fess said.

Currently, the mayor only votes when there is a tied vote in the commission.

Commissioner Tom Mahoney had initially proposed that the electorate elect five commissioners and that they, in turn, elect a mayor, but this was voted down, Fess said.

The resolution to this charter amendment will be done on Sept. 27.

The commissioners also approved a resolution to allow any standing commissioner to vote the next incoming commissioner a raise. This will also be on the Nov. 8 ballot.

In budget matters, the commissioners adopted a 4-mill property tax of $967,941 and a $2,626,344 general fund budget for 1988-89.

The property tax is anticipated to generate $967,941 in revenue and $550,000 of surplus cash is expected to go toward the purchase of land for recreational use.

"Previous commissioners put about $500,000 aside for the purchase of park property. This is the time to buy it," Fess said.

At next Thursday's meeting, commissioners will appoint a recreation committee for the proposed park.

Deputies respond to bus fight

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The Seminole County Sheriff's Department was called Thursday morning to restore order on a school bus on which fighting had erupted.

Seven students were suspended from school for 10 days after the incident.

Bus Six, which transports students from Midway on the outskirts of Sanford, was on its way to Seminole High School when the fighting broke out, according to principal Wayne Epps.

Tammy Smith, a contract substitute driver, was assigned to fill in for the usual driver who was out for medical reasons, according to Smith. Another driver who was checking time schedules and route lengths was also aboard the 88-passenger bus, according to Benny Arnold, director of transportation.

"One guy on the bus had a rude mouth," Smith said. "I was never attacked."

The argument began when youths from the first stop at Greenway and 40th streets were joined with those from the second stop at Byrd and Bryson streets, the driver said.

"This was just a freak accident. This bus run has never given me any problem," Smith said.

According to Captain Roy Hughley of the Seminole County Sheriff's department, three youths were involved and no injuries were reported. Deputy Sheriff Kemp Showalter was dispatched to the

Sanford delivers wastewater pact check to Lake Mary

By WAYNE MIZE
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — City government made its first payment to Lake Mary today as part of a treated wastewater agreement between the two municipalities.

Mayor Bettye Smith presented a $1,110,000 check to Lake Mary finance officer Nancy Teeter at City Hall at approximately 9 a.m.

Another check for the same amount will become due five business days after Lake Mary notifies the city it is ready to accept the wastewater.

The 25-year lease agreement calls for Lake Mary to accept an average of 750,000 gallons of treated wastewater per day to be sprayed on the Timacuan Golf & Country Club golf course.

If the city chooses to give Lake Mary more than 750,000 gallons per day, Sanford will be charged an additional $2.96 per gallon for the additional gallons. Sanford has first right of refusal of sending more than 750,000 gallons per day to Lake Mary.

In addition, the city will incur the $250,000 cost of installing sewage pipe to connect with Lake Mary.

Bill Simmons, Sanford's engineering and planning director, expects the Lake Mary connection to be functional in December, 1989.

The city commission voted 3-2 on May 23 to approve the lease agreement in a heated, but short discussion.

Smith, commissioners A.A. McClanahan and Bob Thomas, voted for the agreement, and commissioners John Y. Mercer and Herbert "Whitey" Eckstein voted against the lease.

The Lake Mary city commission approved the agreement unanimously in early June.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

FLORIDA BRIEFS

Discovery ready to 'leave the station'

CAPE CANAVERAL — The crew of the shuttle Discovery faces a hectic two weeks of final training in Houston before returning to the Kennedy Space Center late this month for blastoff on the first post-Challenger mission.

Commander Frederick Hauck, co-pilot Richard Covey, George "Finky" Nelson, David Hilmers and John "Mike" Lounge breezed through a relatively trouble-free practice countdown aboard Discovery Thursday at the Kennedy Space Center that marked one of the last remaining hurdles on the road to blastoff.

The "terminal countdown demonstration test" capped a three-day visit by the crew to the Florida spaceport to review new emergency procedures and to practice working in bulky new space suits required for a rudimentary post-Challenger crew bailout system.

Next on the agenda for the astronauts: final training in shuttle simulators at the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

Court clears way for Clark execution

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Supreme Court has cleared the way for the execution of Raymond Robert Clark, who earlier this year survived two death warrants for the abduction and murder of a St. Petersburg businessman.

In a 6-1 ruling Thursday, the justices rejected Clark's plea to have his death sentence overturned on the grounds his trial lawyer failed to present evidence to show Clark did not deserve the death penalty.

The unsigned majority opinion says although Clark's lawyer did not understand mitigating evidence not spelled out by statute still could be introduced in the penalty phase of Clark's trial, her investigation uncovered little that would have helped him.

Evidence that in 1984 Clark murdered a 14-year-old California boy with whom he had been having a homosexual affair would have been particularly damaging during the penalty phase of the trial, the opinion says.

Broward death reopens Orlando murder

ORLANDO — Investigators unable to find the attacker of a Walt Disney World costume designer severely beaten a decade ago now have a murder case with the woman's death, but they hold little hope of solving the crime.

"We really don't have much to go on," said Police Lt. Ronnie Ferguson, who helped investigate the assault on Blanche Wendelin in her Orlando home.

The beating left her paralyzed, speechless and unable to care for herself. She suffered strokes, seizures and kidney failure.

Wendelin underwent brain surgery three times and was hospitalized for eight months before spending the last nine years in the Fort Lauderdale home of her daughter, Barbara Nevadomaki.

The Broward County Medical Examiner ruled the 69-year-old woman's death Sunday at her daughter's house was a direct result of the attack.

Martinez: Protect Everglades with land

WEST PALM BEACH — Gov. Bob Martinez on Thursday proposed using a large tract of state-owned land now leased for sugar cane production as a "filter system" to protect the Everglades from agricultural runoff.

"We have an opportunity to take a bold step forward to help the Lake Okechobee-Everglades system," Martinez said in a speech to South Florida Management District officials. "We must seize that opportunity, for it may not present itself again anytime soon."

Martinez said he would ask the Cabinet to not accept leasing bids on the 3,742-acre S.N. Knight Tract when the current lease comes before them next month.

The Knight tract is adjacent to the Art Marshall Loxahatchee National Wildlife Refuge in Palm Beach County. Martinez would combine that tract with an adjacent 1,326-acre tract owned by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, known as the "Snail Farm."

TaxWatch says Florida stiffed by Feds

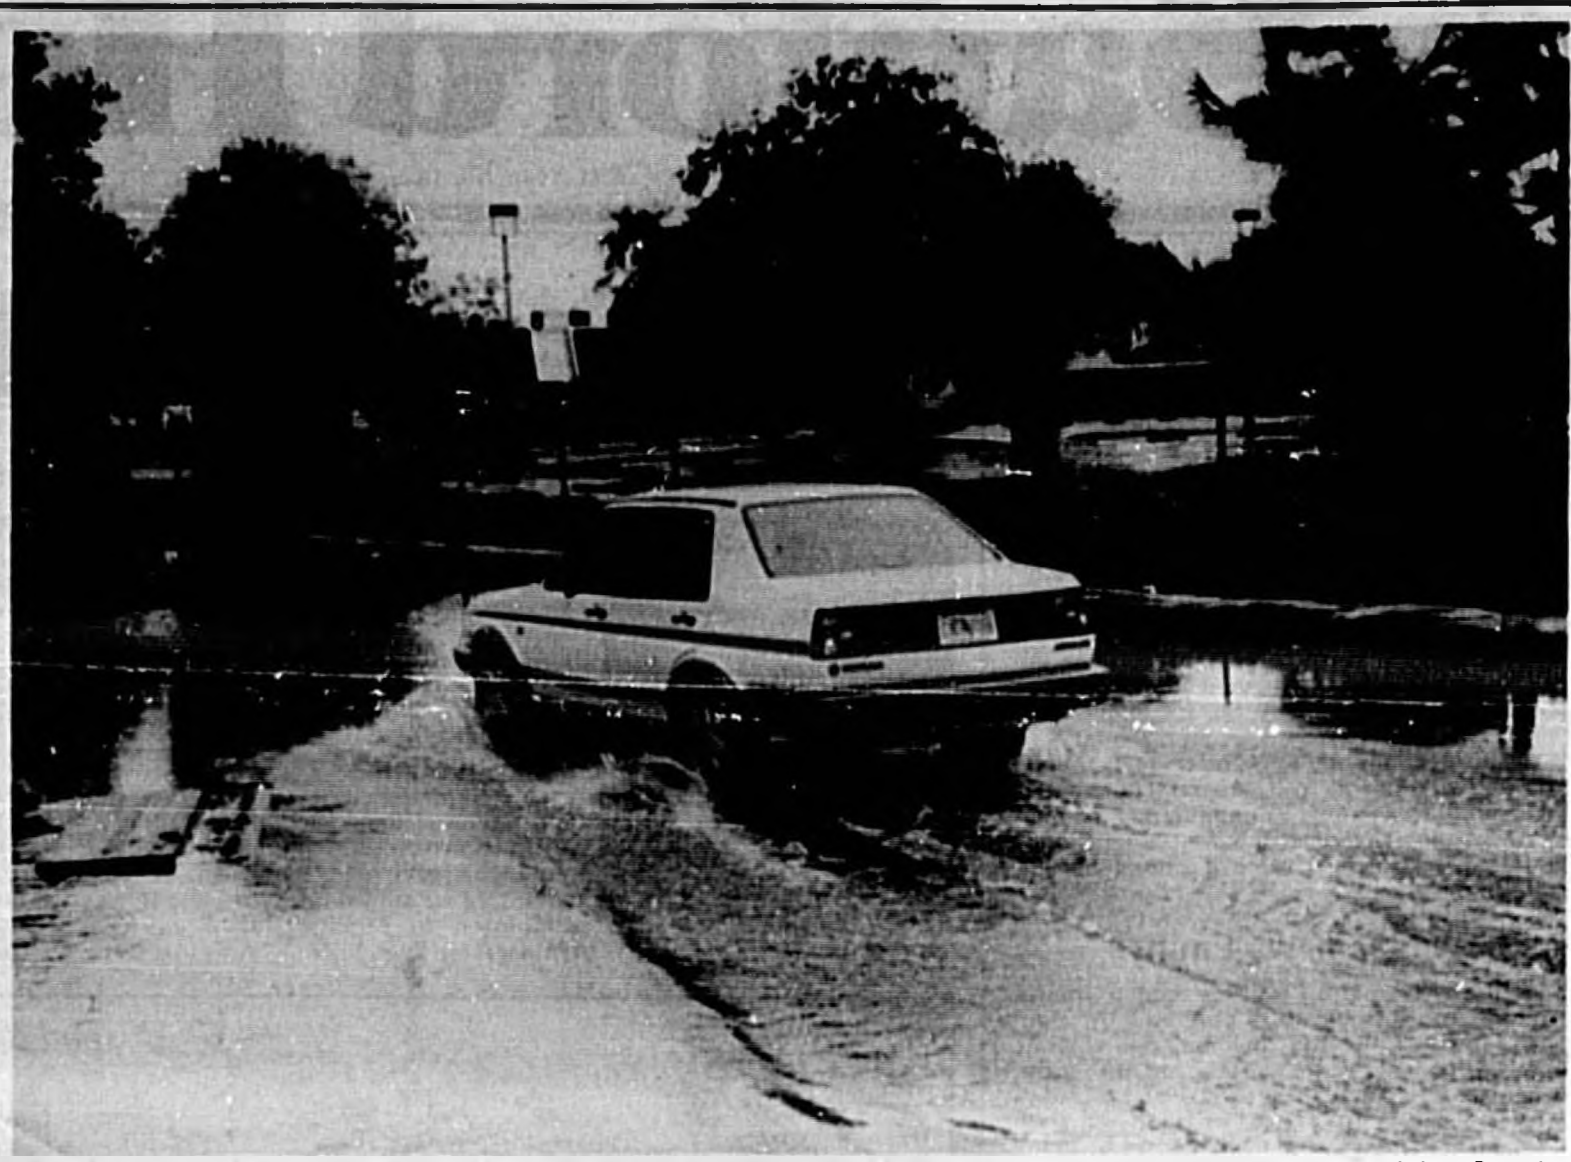

TALLAHASSEE — The federal government shortchanged Florida by nearly $2 billion last year by doing out its grants pool according to outdated population statistics, according to a report by Florida TaxWatch.

The business-supported tax watchdog organization released the report in a news conference Thursday and urged Florida lawmakers to press more aggressively for its piece of the pie.

"We're not getting anywhere near our fair share," said Dominic Calabro, executive director of the organization. "All we are asking is to make sure the federal dole is allocated in a more fair and responsive fashion."

According to TaxWatch, Floridians paid about $40 billion in federal taxes during fiscal year 1987, about 4.9 percent of all federal taxes. A proportional return on the $102.5 billion federal grants pool would have amounted to $5 billion, but the state received only $3.15 billion.

Automobiles drive low and slow along West 13th Street in Sanford, one of many streets flooded by Thursday's afternoon deluge which poured more than two inches of rain on the city.

An uncleared city drainage ditch overflowed causing the flooded streets adjacent to the Croom's School, according to residents.

Heavy rain floods Tampa Bay area

United Press International

Central Floridians endured a fourth straight day of virtually steady rain Thursday from a stalled weather system that dumped up to 18 inches of rain on some areas and may have caused up to seven deaths.

Most rivers and creeks in the Tampa Bay area were above flood stage and ponds and lakes were overflowing, sending flood waters into low-lying subdivisions throughout the area.

A section of Interstate 4 was closed for a second day by flood waters, resulting in major traffic jams.

The Hillsborough County

Sheriff's Department reported 34 road closures. A number of flooded roads were reported in Pinellas County, along with additional beach erosion.

A car collided with a school bus in heavy rain in front of Lutz Elementary School north of Tampa, injuring nine students and three people in the car. Four of the students were treated at the scene for minor injuries and the other eight victims were taken to hospitals. Authorities said all injuries were minor.

Tom Strickland of the Manatee County Civil Defense said many of the estimated 1,000 people forced to evacuate their homes below the dam on Lake Manatee east of Bradenton were allowed to go back to their homes, even though the Manatee River remained well above flood stage.

After the residents were evacuated Wednesday, engineers opened gates on the dam to lower the lake level and that sent the river cascading out of its banks and into homes. Heavy rains slackened about midnight and with only a light rain continuing Thursday and the river falling, the engineers opened the gates wider.

"We are letting some of the people evacuated go back in," Strickland said. "We have let about three-fourths of them go back because the water never got to their homes. But we have some houses covered and some with 5 to 6 feet of water inside. It's the first time they have been flooded in some 60 years."

Some homes along the Alafia River south of Tampa in Hillsborough County were under as much as 12-to-15 feet of water.

The heavier rain, which had moved south of Tampa Bay Wednesday after two days of drenching rains to the north and east, moved back north of the bay Thursday and up to two inches of rain was recorded by dusk, with rain still falling.

Chappell to release financial information

United Press International

DAYTONA BEACH — Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Fla., under investigation in the Pentagon procurement scandal, said Thursday he would release financial information in his 1984 divorce records.

Chappell said his overwhelming primary victory Tuesday prompted him to settle a legal dispute with the Ocala Star-Banner, which had filed a motion to unseal the records, which Chappell had asked a judge to remove from public inspection.

"Even though I strongly feel my divorce is a private matter, I want to make sure there are no questions left unanswered," Chappell said in a statement. "I also hope that we can now put this matter behind us and discuss the substantive issues that are important to the voters."

At least one revelation from the divorce proceedings already has drawn scrutiny from federal investigators. Representatives of at least three defense contractors were involved in buying a failing Florida health spa that Chappell had co-owned.

The deal, settling a bank foreclosure on the Wind Meadows Racquet Club in Ocala, freed Chappell and his partner of about $172,000 in personal liabilities. The three defense representatives later sold the property to a real estate subsidiary of the Martin Marietta Corp., a major defense contractor.

Chappell, who has denied there was any impropriety in the transaction, promised to make the divorce documents public by Sept. 16.

Marc Dann, manager of Chappell's campaign for an 11th House term, said the Democrat would release only "financial information" and none of the depositions in his divorce, placed under court seal. Some witnesses in the case were familiar with Chappell's past financial difficulties.

Dann said he could not specify which documents would be released.

"Our lawyers have not looked at it yet," he said. "They're going to come down and look at the files. They'll know what it's going to be when they look at it."

Mark Mathes, executive editor of the Ocala Star-Banner, said, "The only thing we were looking to examine were details relating to his personal and business finances. We were not interested in seeing any... embarrassing details. They were private."

Mathes said subpoenas for three Ocala residents prompted the newspaper to seek the divorce records, which in Florida are open for public inspection. Chappell requested that the records be sealed in 1983.

Chappell's divorce from his wife, Marguerite, was final Dec. 17, 1984. Chappell defeated his Democratic opponent by better than 2-1.

POLICE BRIEFS

Fingerprint leads to arrest

SANFORD — A man who allegedly pawned a video recorder in Longwood the day it was stolen from an Altamonte Springs house, was arrested after Seminole County sheriff's deputies reportedly matched his fingerprint to one left on a pawn ticket.

Byron Dean Larson, 29, of 163 Moswood Circle, Winter Springs, was charged with dealing in stolen property at 12:35 p.m. Thursday at the sheriff's department. He's accused of pawning a video recorder at Elite Pawn Shop, U.S. Highway 17-92, Aug. 12, the day it was stolen from the house of Greg Schmidt, 916-B Lake Destiny Drive, Altamonte Springs. Larson's bond is $2,000.

Drivers accused of DUI

SANFORD — The following persons were arrested on counts of driving while under the influence in Seminole County:

● Lloyd Simmons, 47, of 2458 Sherbrook Road, Winter Park, was arrested at 8:59 p.m. Thursday after his car was in an accident on Hanson Parkway, Sanford.

● James Frederick Allen, 21, of Tampa, was arrested at 1:55 a.m. today after he was seen driving his car onto U.S. highway 17-92, Sanford, at high speed.

Two strong arm robberies reported

FERN PARK — Seminole County sheriff's deputies are investigating two strong arm robberies which occurred Thursday.

In one case, Larry Duane Nix, 25, of 816 Mimosa St., Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies he was knocked down in a fight behind the House of Babes, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park. He said there were two attackers who also allegedly beat Nix's brother, David, 24, when he tried to aid him. Larry Nix was held down and his wallet containing $200 stolen.

In the other case, Allen McWilliams of Winter Garden said his car broke down and he stopped at the Club 2 Spot, State Road 46, Midway, Thursday night. He said two men approached his car and one held him while the other ripped two gold necklaces with a combined value of $575 from his neck and fled on foot.

Longwood gets proposal to merge fire departments

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald staff writer

LONGWOOD — County Administrator Ken Hooper says consolidating Longwood's fire department with the county's could increase the level of service, provide a new and better-located fire station and reduce overall cost of operation to the city.

City Administrator Gene DeMarie said today he has not yet analyzed the complex proposal for consolidating the two departments. Hooper submitted the proposal at the request of the Longwood city commission. If an agreement is reached for the county to take over city fire and rescue services, it will be the first such consolidation between the county and another municipality.

DeMarie said he will report to the city commission on the proposal at the 7:30 p.m. meeting Monday. He said he had hoped to discuss details with Hooper before the proposal was made public. "This sort of thing takes time," DeMarie explained. "It's something you shouldn't rush into. I will review the proposal and then make my recommendations."

The proposal assumes the same manpower, operating costs and apparatus currently used by the county, which would provide full fire protection and Advanced Life Support rescue services to the city.

Although the consolidation proposal has not yet been presented to the county commission for formal review, Hooper said if the city commission considers the proposal a viable and cost-effective alternate to the city's current program, he is prepared to seek the county commission's approval.

DeMarie was asked by city commissioners to determine the cost-effectiveness and feasibility of the city consolidating its fire protection services with another agency with an eye to reducing costs to the city.

He said reduced costs are not the only thing to be considered. He said he had discussed ways fire department costs could be cut with Fire Chief Charlie Chapman, but they had determined it cannot be done without reducing the level of services.

DeMarie said the other thing to be considered is whether officials want to dismantle the third largest department in the city and turn a city function over to the county. He said if the proposal appears to be good for the city and the existing employees he will consider it, but he will have to look at it carefully.

"There are a lot of 'iffy' things in it; for instance where do we get guarantees of manpower levels or that salary costs will remain the same?" he asked.

Many people have suggested the real reason behind the move is to get back at the firefighters, who were the first city employees to vote for a union. Seminole County employees are not unionized.

All the firefighters, with the exception of the chief and assistant chief, have joined the International Association of Fire Fighters, which has petitioned Florida Public Employees Relations Commission to represent them in negotiations with the city.

DeMarie made the formal request to the county in a letter dated Aug. 5, following a meeting with Hooper and Gary Kaiser, county director of public safety, to discuss fire department operations in the city.

The county proposed operating two fire station facilities (Stations 15 at 301 W. Warren Ave. and 17, at 400 Wayman St.), each with two units staffed with two personnel per unit per shift. Some of the existing facilities and equipment would be assumed by the county and the city would be provided a credit for equipment and facilities retained.

In terms of certified fire-rescue staffing, the level of service would be increased by additional personnel to operate a second ALS unit from Station 17.

Additionally, personnel would conduct routine in-service safety surveys on all commercial buildings in the city if the commission desired, according to the proposal.

Each station would be staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Normal staffing would include one lieutenant, one paramedic, and two fire service technicians per shift for a total of 12 employees per station. In addition, the existing fire loss management, training and clerical positions would be retained to assist in providing required services. These positions would be assimilated into the existing County Fire Division bureaus. There would be a total of 27 employees to serve Longwood.

Hooper said existing qualified city employees, which should be all, would be retained by the county.

The city currently operates two fire stations and the county proposes to take over the existing Station 17, valued at $150,000, and operate out of the existing Station 15 for the first 18 months to two years of the agreement. At the end of the second fiscal year, the county would secure additional property and construct a new three-bay facility conforming to county specifications in the vicinity of west of State Road 434 and Rangeline Road. When the new station was completed, the existing facility would be released to the city for other uses if desired.

The approximate value of two fire engines, a rescue unit and staff vehicles which would be transferred to the county is estimated at $350,000, which would be credited to the city in the first two years of the proposed agreement.

The proposed fire department budget projected for the 1988-89 fiscal year in Longwood is $959,855 including $838,676 personal services, $56,179 for operating expenses and $65,000 capital expenses.

This compares to $856,605 for personal services; $81,316 operating expenses and $120,269 capital expenses or a total of $1,058,189, less a credit of $250,000, to be charged back to the city in the first year of the proposal.

With the addition of Battalion 3 ($158,876) and capital expenses of $945,607 to be funded by the county deficit correction program, the county's expenditures would go up to $2,042,404 the second year, but Longwood would be charged back $1,001,471 less a $250,000 credit or $751,471.

The continuing years of the proposal call for all of the projected expenditures, or a total of $986,929 a year, to be charged back to the city.

An alternate consideration, after the first two years, would be to assess the city at the same rate as the county fire millage. Also, the County Fire Impact Program would need to be extended to cover the city. Growth related expenses which might occur during the first two years would need to be addressed by the existing city impact fee structure, Hooper said.

Soliciting for sex arrest made

CASSELLBERRY — A Casselberry man who allegedly advertised "free rent" in return for "care of pets," has been arrested on complaint of soliciting for prostitution. He is accused of telling women who answered the classified ad that in addition to feeding his cat they would also have to have sex with him about twice a week.

James Arthur Gort, 59, of 436 Crossbeam Circle E., was arrested at home about 8:30 p.m. Thursday. Gort, an insurance manager for American Sun in Orlando, is free today on $100 bond, scheduled to appear in court Sept. 21.

Hundreds of women reportedly responded to the Aug. 30 ad that called for "liberal-minded females." CCIB agents said they found a list of 60 women Gort had interviewed as potential roommates. Two women who answered the ad complained to the City County Investigative Bureau that Gort wanted sex as well as pet care, in exchange for free rent, which he reportedly valued at $1,000 a month.

Thursday night a Seminole County sheriff's investigator wearing a recording device met Gort at his four bedroom house, where he allegedly made her a similar offer of free rent in exchange for sex and feeding his cat. CCIB agents moved in and made the arrest.

Funds for runoffs vary

By J. MARK BARFIELD

SANFORD — Incumbent District 3 commissioner Fred Streetman and challenger Jeff Etchberger will almost match dollar for dollar campaign promotion war chests going into the Oct. 4 Republican runoff.

At the end of the Sept. 2 reporting period, Streetman had $10,718 remaining in his campaign coffers after receiving a total of $56,399 in contributions and loans throughout his campaign. Streetman spent $45,681 during his campaign leading to the primary this week, including $35,148 in the last two weeks.

Etchberger received $34,785 in contributions and spent $24,222, leaving him with $10,563 to advertise for the Oct. 4 runoff. Etchberger spent about a fifth of his total contributions, $7,872, during the last two weeks before Tuesday's primary.

Etchberger's report shows $30,672 in expenditures, but that figure includes $6,450 he refunded to contributors for dollars he received before he was eligible to accept them.

The winner of the District 3 Republican runoff next month will face Democrat Warren Keiner in November. Keiner has raised a total of $14,762 and has spent $6,274, leaving him with $8,488.

Dick Van Der Weide will be less financially equipped to start a Republican District 5 runoff bid next month with opponent Jennifer Kelley. Van Der Weide raised $32,670 in contributions and personal loans during his campaign, but spent $31,941, leaving him with $729 gone into a month-long runoff period.

The low funds will pressure Van Der Weide to raise more dollars as he campaigns this month.

Van Der Weide spent over half his money, $17,965, during the last two weeks before the primary.

Kelley is in a more comfortable financial position. She raised $63,229 in contributions and loans in her primary campaign and spent $57,049, leaving her with $6,180 to begin her runoff campaign. She spent $17,615 during the last two weeks before the primary, about the same amount as Van Der Weide.

Kelley failed to submit or mail her campaign finance report by Friday, the deadline, and when Supervisor of Elections Sandra Gourd received the report Thursday, she assessed Kelley $300 in fines. The amount is to be paid out of Kelley's personal expenses, not campaign funds.

Democrat Art Davis will begin his two-month run to the November election for the District 5 commission seat in a comfortable financial position. He raised $10,170, mostly in personal loans, and spent $5,327, leaving him with $4,843.

Unsuccessful District 5 Democratic challenger Amos Jones exhausted his contributions, spending $4,628 of the $4,655 he raised during his campaign. Jones' financial report shows he spent another $3,513 of his own money in advertising and mailing expenses during the last two weeks of his campaign.

Republican Ray Valdes will have to raise more funds during the next two months before he faces Democrat Karen Richardson Nov. 8. He spent all but $108 of his $24,590 to fight a three-way, often vicious, race for the Republican candidate for tax collector. Valdes raised $24,590 in contributions and personal loans, but spent $24,482 in advertising and promotion expenses.

Karen Richardson, the sole Democratic challenger for tax collector, will continue her campaign with $1,505. Richardson raised $6,166 since beginning her campaign in July and has spent $4,661.

The John Polk campaign coffers, though smaller, are still more than 30 times more full than challenger Patrick Wilson's. Polk survived the Republican primary Tuesday with $30,089 in his re-election bid against former deputy Larry Coniff. Polk spent $40,529

World according to Mr. Wick

U.S. Information Agency Director Charles Z. Wick seems to be interested in the American way only if it conforms to his own peculiar version of the way things ought to be.

Mr. Wick has been trying to impose his views on the world by denying USIA certification to any American documentary films that are even faintly critical of White House policies. The USIA can't actually ban the export of films. But without an official imprimatur from the Wick's office, the filmmakers face great difficulty and often have to pay huge tariffs and duties to distribute their works abroad. Since it's hard enough already to raise money for filming studies on serious subjects in this country, Mr. Wick's control of any international seal of approval amounts to a virtual stranglehold on the documentary film industry in the United States.

The federal courts so far have twice struck down Mr. Wick's effort at censorship, ordering him to come up with new regulations for the certification process that pay due respect to such things as constitutional guarantees of free speech. But Mr. Wick has refused to alter his course or to comply with the courts' demands. If he can't pick which documentaries are fit for the rest of the world to see, he has announced, he won't certify any at all.

That kind of irresponsible and embarrassing behavior is nothing new for Mr. Wick, whose ideological zealotry and political paranoia have put him into the middle of ridiculous imbroglios before. He has been caught taping all of his office telephone conversations in violation of federal law, for example, and two years ago, it turned out he had included Walter Cronkite and David Brinkley on a secret, semi-official enemies list that he maintained at USIA as a way of excluding the people he didn't like from government-sponsored overseas speaking engagements.

In this instance, he's not just threatening to disrupt the economic vitality of an entire branch of the American film industry. He also wants to pull the United States out of an international treaty governing the distribution of documentary films that has been working well for 40 years to offer better cultural and education communications between nations. If the president is unwilling to teach Mr. Wick some respect for the law, Congress should.

The Tip Mahal

Tip O'Neill has been gone from the speakership of the House of Representatives since 1986, but from the political grave he made one last valiant effort to pick your pocket recently.

Before leaving office, Tip had arranged a $14 million federal loan for a new library to his alma mater, Boston College. To give thanks for not having to bother with a bank, the college thoughtfully named the edifice for its benefactor. To make Mr. O'Neill feel even more at home, a detailed replica of his Capitol Hill office was built within the library. Finally, some of his former colleagues sought to "forgive" the loan and make the $14 million an outright grant.

No dice, said Wisconsin Republican Rep. Tom Petri, whose amendment to block the giveaway passed 239-158. "The implication is that a college can get a free library by naming the place after somebody in Congress," Rep. Petri said. "After all, $14 million here, $14 million there and pretty soon you're talking about real money."

Why they're debating over debates

WASHINGTON (NEA) — An increasingly bitter behind-the-scenes battle is raging over how many presidential campaign debates there will be between George Bush and Michael Dukakis, where and when they will be held — and even who will be the sponsor.

Since 1976, the presidential and vice presidential debates have been sponsored and controlled by the non-partisan League of Women Voters. In consultation with the candidates, the League has set the locations, formats and chosen moderators and questioners.

Generally, this has not pleased the Democratic and Republican national committees. The parties have been ranked by "having to dance to the League's tune," as one high-level Democratic National Committee operative put it.

Also, the debates have become a money-maker for the League. The two parties decided it was time to cash in. So, in February 1987, Republicans and Democrats formed an organization — the Commission on Presidential Debates — to sponsor future debates and to effectively shut the League out of the process.

The Commission is co-chaired by the two parties' national chairmen: Frank Fahrenkopf for the GOP and Paul Kirk for the Democrats. They have put together an executive board equally divided between Democratic and Republican politicians and operatives. With wide-ranging corporate sponsorship, they have hired a staff including former CBS and NBC news executive Ed Fouhy to serve as executive producer.

The party leaders say the Commission was formed to "institutionalize" the debates and to end what they term "the quadrennial debate over the debates." But, in actuality, the formation of the Commission has only intensified that debate.

The Commission has scheduled three presidential debates and one vice presidential debate. The presidential matchups had been set for Annapolis, Md. (Sept. 14), Omaha, Neb. (Oct. 11) and Pittsburgh (Oct. 27). The vice presidential debate is projected for Winston-Salem, N.C., on Sept. 25.

The GOP, however, has not ruled out also working with the League.

However, the League has gone ahead with its own planning. Like the Commission, it has set up a schedule of three presidential debates and one vice presidential meeting. The League scheduled presidential debates for Sept. 8, in Birmingham, Ala.; Oct. 5, in Minneapolis; and Nov. 1, in Los Angeles. The League's vice presidential debate is set for Boston on Oct. 4.

The Democratic National Committee says that it is committed to the debates under the sponsorship of the Commission. The GOP, however, has not ruled out also working with the League.

The problem with all this is that the final decision as to how many debates, and under whose sponsorship, rests with the Bush and Dukakis campaigns. Right now they are far apart on what they want.

Bush wants fewer debates — no more than two and preferably only one — and he wants them held between Sept. 20 and Oct. 20. This would mean that no matter how they are scheduled they would be in direct competition with either the Olympics or the World Series and would attract far fewer viewers. Dukakis wants at least three debates — with one coming immediately, before the start of the Olympics, and one after the World Series.

DAVID S. BRODER

Americans focus on youth

WASHINGTON — As obsessions go, America's fixation on youth and the future is a pretty healthy one. From the beginnings of the nation, we have always understood that the destiny of the United States lies in the next generation. Thomas Jefferson established the indelible link between education and democracy. And each year at this time, as classes resume, we have an impulse to check up on the condition of our successors.

This year, that impulse is even stronger, because the election focuses so heavily on Americans' conflicting hopes and fears for their children. That is why the modestly titled booklet, "Youth Indicators 1988," which came out of the Department of Education last week without any trumpet blasts of publicity, is such a useful document.

The 130-page volume of charts and graphs is the project of Chester E. (Checker) Finn, Jr., an educator and social scientist who was an influential Senate Democratic staff member before becoming assistant secretary of Education under retiring secretary Bill Bennett.

Recognizing that "no subject is more susceptible to sensational treatment than the lives of adolescents," Finn says in the introduction to what he hopes will be the first of an annual series: "If we are to make wise choices about policies that affect them, we must be armed with reliable information."

One of the virtues of the volume is that it lets readers draw their own conclusions. But Finn points out that the reality depicted in the data is "more complex and in some ways more encouraging" than the picture we in the press often draw of a mini-generation (those between 14 and 24) "dropping out of school, getting pregnant out of wedlock, taking drugs, running away from home and otherwise getting into trouble at increasing rates."

In fact, the dropout rate has declined one-sixth in the last 15 years, and for blacks has been cut almost in half. The overall rate of births to young unmarried women rose by one-quarter between 1970 and 1985 but, contrary to the myth, it dropped by one-sixth among blacks.

As for alcohol and drugs, the annual survey of high-school seniors shows a slight decline over the past decade, except for cocaine. Cocaine has spread to the point that one-sixth of the members of recent high-school graduating classes acknowledge having tried it. But beer and booze, which have been tried by nine out of ten seniors, are still the most pervasive source of substance abuse.

Overall, Finn suggests that the stress and turmoil youths experienced in the 1960s and 1970s—a time in which divorce among their parents doubled and so did the percent of children living in single-parent families—has begun to abate. Presumably that, along with various school-reform efforts, is a factor in halting the decline in young people's education achievements and intellectual competency.

Still, there are real reasons for concern, and this is one Reagan administration document which does not seek to obfuscate problems. Between 1970 and 1985, the percent of children living in poverty rose by one-third. For youngsters who do drop out of school (and we're talking about more than half a million each year), the job outlook is "generally dismal." Fewer than half find any kind of job and those who don't often get into trouble.

Even among those who finish high school, there are some worrisome trends. Surveys of seniors show that, while close to three-quarters of them watch television every day, reading of books, magazines and newspapers has declined to the point that barely half describe such reading as part of their routine. Mr. Jefferson would certainly wonder how long a society of non-readers can sustain a meaningful system of representative government.

Finally, there is the historic issue of race. What Finn calls "troubling gaps" between whites and non-whites are tragically documented. Only one-sixth of white children and one-quarter of Hispanic children, but more than half the black children, live in single-parent homes. Only one-sixth of white children, but two out of five black and Hispanic children, live in poverty.

Almost half of white youths continue their education beyond high school, but only one-third of blacks do and only a quarter of Hispanics. While blacks and Hispanics are catching up in reading and mathematics proficiency, they still lag far behind white classmates. And when it comes to unemployment among youths, the races are miles apart.

The task of closing that gap will challenge this society, whoever is the next President.

The dropout rate has declined one-sixth in the last 15 years.

BEN WATTENBERG

Do it, Duke! Admit errors

How strange. Not long ago every pundit on the block said this presidential election would be decided on "bread 'n' butter" issues. Yet now, George Bush is gaining by stressing social issues (pledge of allegiance, death penalty, prayer) as well as defense and foreign policy issues (Bush says Dukakis believes defense modernization went out with the discovery of the slingshot).

What accounts for the pundit pratfall? A confusion about problems vs. issues. Thus, the economy — bread 'n' butter — is surely a problem. There are deficits, fear of the future, jobs lost to foreign competitors. But there is not much difference of opinion about what to do about it: Reduce the deficits, job retraining, bolster our competitive position, etc. Only Bush's plan to cut capital gains taxes (which helps rich people, says Dukakis) seems to fall into the Democratic ideal paradigm of "big guys vs. little guy." There are economic problems, but because there is little disagreement about what to do, there is not much of a political issue.

Not so on social concerns, nor on defense and foreign policy.

There we find both problems and disagreements — made salient by two decades of Democratic Party history. George Bush, nasty fellow, is trying to make Dukakis pay for that history; and Dukakis has not yet figured out how to deal with it.

Thus, consider the public perception of the national president-picking liberal wing of the Democratic Party. What have the voters heard over the years? The squeakiest part of the liberal wheel. Exaggerating for effect, it came out something like this: Law 'n' order is a code word for racism; America is a sick society; quotas and busing are necessary; Americans are racist, sexist, imperialist. Then the liberals cry foul when Bush tags Dukakis with prison furloughs, death penalty, the American Civil Liberties Union and the pledge.

So, too, on defense and foreign policy. The liberal Democrats condemned America's "criminal" and "illegal" conduct in Nicaragua, knelt at the altar of the nuclear freeze, opposed new defense systems, did not challenge Jesse Jackson's pro-socialist Third World tilt. But when Bush says slingshot, the liberals say slingshot is cheap shot.

This banging-upon-the-Duke is paying off. Polls show Bush moving into what now looks like a small lead. What can Dukakis do about the central charge that he is a soft liberal?

Dukakis can say, right, we have been liberals, we still are, and proud of it. That's a loser.

He can dissemble. He can say he's not a liberal, that he's never been one, and neither has the Democratic Party been too liberal. I use the word "dissemble." The Republicans will say "lie." It will be found out. Another loser.

Dukakis can ignore it. He can say he stands for competence, not ideology. But Americans want a philosophy. Another loser.

The last choice is the hardest, but the most profitable. Three little words might save him: "We were wrong." Dukakis can say that Democrats have made mistakes and gone too far, that they understand their mistakes, and that they've changed. After all, DNC Chairman Paul Kirk, and others, have spent years of hard work changing things. Why? Because mistakes were indeed made.

Moreover, Dukakis has some credentials on the anti-soft side. He is a genuine governmental cheapskate, not a pronomiscious program proliferator.

Troops join demonstrations in Burma

RANGOON, Burma — About 200 members of the Burmese air force marched through Rangoon today in support of popular calls for democracy in the first major military break with the ruling one-party government, witnesses said.

The United States and at least six other countries made preparations — including the possible use of military aircraft — to evacuate dependents of embassy staff as Burma continued its slide toward anarchy.

A group of about 200 uniformed airmen marched through downtown Rangoon, one witness said. The airmen said they were going to meet with student groups at Rangoon University, she said.

It was not immediately clear whether any officers were in the group or whether the march represented a larger breakdown in military loyalty towards the ruling party.

Iraq: chemicals not used against Kurds

WASHINGTON — A top Iraqi denies accusations by the United States that the Middle Eastern nation used chemical weapons recently against Kurdish separatists in their ongoing fight for independence.

Saddoun Hammadi, the second-highest ranking foreign affairs official in Iraq, made the denial Thursday after emerging from a meeting with Secretary of State George Shultz, who accused Iraq of using the chemicals.

A spokesman for Kurdish leader Massoud Barzani last week accused Iraq of using poison gas to kill 500 Kurdish civilians and of shooting 1,300 more, prompting the flight of 100,000 Kurds into Turkey.

Chilean opposition confident of victory

SANTIAGO, Chile — The political coalition opposing an extension to the 15-year rule of Gen. Augusto Pinochet in a plebiscite next month says it is confident of victory but must convince citizens that the vote will be secret.

Pinochet, 72, one of the leaders of a 1973 coup, faces a simple "yes" or "no" vote in the plebiscite in which he is the only candidate. Approval means eight more years as president, while a "no" vote leads to an open election in about a year.

"In poorer areas of Santiago, there are still 30 percent who believe their vote is not going to be secret," Genardo Arriagada, executive secretary of the 18-party coalition, told reporters.

Garcia denies he will step down

LIMA, Peru — President Alan Garcia, facing growing social unrest over a tough anti-inflation program that triggered a third day of looting, denied reports that he was considering resigning from office.

Soldiers in armored cars Thursday patrolled the capital of 6.4 million people and the nearby seaport of Callao, where radio reports said looters clashed with merchants at two markets. Many storekeepers kept protective metal shutters partly drawn so they could be closed rapidly in case of disturbances.

Police dispersed a group of 40 or so marchers carrying a red banner from the Maoist Shining Path insurgency six blocks from Congress. Three students were reported arrested.

Navy says computer worked, crew erred

WASHINGTON — The Aegis weapons system on the USS Vincennes worked as designed, according to the Navy, and a flurry of crew errors must be blamed for the ship's downing of Iran Air Flight 655 that killed 290 people.

At the same time, Navy officials emphasized to the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday, Iran must bear some responsibility for the July 3 tragedy because it let the jetliner fly from a joint military-civilian airport into a Persian Gulf freight instigated by Iranian gunboats with the Vincennes.

In a public hearing called by the Senate panel, Capt. George Gee of the Chief of Naval Operations office said the Navy is looking at its training to see if improvements can be made to help crews better handle the stress of battle.

Rear Adm. William Fogarty, who led the investigation of the incident, said ways to make the Aegis air defense system easier to use also are being explored, as are ways to make civil aviation readily stand out on radar.

House approves tough anti-drug bill

WASHINGTON — With an eye on re-election time, the House approved two get-tough provisions to an anti-drug bill that would permit the execution of murderous drug dealers and would end federal benefits to other offenders.

Moving toward a final vote expected next week, nearly all Republicans and more than half the Democrats in the chamber joined forces to add the capital punishment measure Thursday. Adopted 299-111, it would allow prosecutors to seek death sentences for those who intentionally kill during a drug felony.

"If we're going to be serious about deterrence, let's once and for all pass the death penalty and put the laws on the books to truly deter the drug kingpin," said Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Fla., in arguing for the provision.

To address the demand side of the drug problem, the House voted 335-67 for a so-called "user-accountability" provision to withhold benefits such as grants, loans and public housing from serious drug offenders, including veterans.

The House also approved, 259-154, an amendment that would allow police to conduct warrantless searches in certain cases, contending too many narcotics traffickers are walking free on technicalities.

Researchers transplant brain tissue

WASHINGTON — In a breakthrough once considered nearly impossible, French scientists claim to have accomplished a cross-species transfer of behavior by transplanting brain tissue.

The major scientific achievement, however, was manifested in almost comical form — domestic chickens with calls resembling those of the Japanese quail.

In a study published Thursday in the journal Science, researchers from the National Scientific Research Center and College of France said they implanted into the brains of five chicken fetuses the tissue taken from parts of the Japanese quail brain believed to control its call.

"The crowing sounds of the chickens in the first 10 days after hatching do not resemble the familiar 'cock-a-doodle-doo' of adult animals but instead consist of a single loud 'squeak' about 5-second duration," which is typical of a quail call's introductory notes, wrote Evan Balaban, a developmental biologist and chief author of the study.

Vietnamese airliner crash kills 73

United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand — A Soviet-built Air Vietnam airliner, hit by a bolt of lightning, crashed in a monsoon rainstorm on its approach today to the Bangkok airport today and burst into flames, killing at least 73 people and seriously injuring six, officials said.

Two pilots survived the crash and said the plane was hit by lightning in a heavy rainstorm, said Tran Van Viet, third secretary at the Vietnamese Embassy in Bangkok.

Viet said he was quoting the co-pilot identified only as Phuang, 41. Viet said another pilot, named Dong, also survived the crash and was undergoing operations for serious injuries.

Diplomatic sources indicated a Japanese diplomat and a number of Vietnamese officials died in the crash.

Air Search and Rescue Center spokesman Sumlern Nansikul said that 73 bodies have been recovered from the wreckage and six survivors were sent to a hospital with serious burn injuries.

Earlier, he said, a "body part" had been mistakenly counted as a 74th victim.

Thai Communications Minister Montri Pongpanich told reporters the plane carried 90 people — 84 passengers and six crew members. There was no immediate word on the fate of the 11 people unaccounted for as either dead or injured.

Viet said the crew included three cockpit crew and three cabin crew.

Sumlern said the nationalities of the victims and the number of people aboard the plane were not yet certain but it was believed all the bodies had been recovered.

"We are awaiting a telex from Hanoi with the passenger list," he said.

The plane crashed about 5 miles short of Don Muang International Airport and burst into a fireball near Sakram Village housing estate, officials said. Flames that engulfed the wreckage made rescue operations difficult, they said.

Striking teachers disobey court orders

United Press International

More than 7,500 teachers in six states remained on strike, some defying back-to-work orders and risking possible jail time, while students in one New Hampshire town ended a strike of their own.

Teachers in two Massachusetts school districts vowed to continue striking today despite rulings by a judge and a state commission ordering them to work.

In New Jersey, teachers disobeyed a judge's back-to-work order Thursday, risking possible criminal charges, but said they had not decided whether to continue the walkout today.

Across the nation, 7,501 instructors were on strike Thursday, affecting 115,450 students in Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. Nearly all the negotiation hangups centered on salary issues.

Meanwhile, more than half the students in Stratford, N.H., ended a strike of their own Thursday. The 111 students, grades kindergarten through 12, boycotted classes Wednesday, most at the urging of their parents, to protest the reinstatement of a gun-toting classmate.

The 17-year-old student took a loaded 9mm pistol to school March 9 and was expelled for the remainder of last school year.

Pope avoids trip to South Africa

United Press International

VATICAN CITY — Pope John Paul II departs Saturday on the first leg of a five-nation tour of southern Africa, but will avoid white-ruled South Africa because he has been advised by his bishops there that the time "is not ripe."

Vatican officials say the pope is certain to voice his condemnation of South Africa's apartheid policies during his trip to neighboring black nations.

The omission is all the more pointed because four of the countries to which he will travel border on South Africa.

The fifth, the tiny, mountainous kingdom of Lesotho, is entirely surrounded by South African territory.

John Paul's 39th trip outside Italy in his 10 years as Roman Catholic pontiff will start in Zimbabwe, where he will address a regional bishops' conference.

From Zimbabwe, the pontiff will go to Botswana, then to Lesotho, where he will beatify a 19th century French missionary. From there he travels to the kingdom of Swaziland and winds up in Mozambique with an address intended for all of Africa. He is to head home Sept. 19.

Sanford's Tim Raines, an outfielder for the Montreal Expos, will miss the remainder of the season due to a shoulder injury. Raines is to undergo surgery in the near future. It is Raines' first serious injury of his professional career.

Tim Raines

The last game Raines played in was Saturday when he was 3 for 6 with a double and stolen base.

For the season, Raines has played in 108 of the Expos' 139 games. He has 116 hits in 425 at bats for a .272 average. Raines' average slipped after the All-Star break, when he played with the shoulder injury. The former Seminole High star has scored 65 runs with 19 doubles, 7 triples, 12 home runs and 33 stolen bases.

BYU thrashes Texas, 47-6

PROVO, Utah — Texas Coach David McWilliams said it simply: "They just gave us a good whipping."

Brigham Young, led by Sean Covey, piled up 402 yards passing, more than any other team ever against Texas, and handed the Longhorns their most lopsided loss in 32 years, a 47-6 thrashing Thursday night.

"They gave us opportunities and we didn't take advantage of them early," said McWilliams. "And things finally got out of hand. We just didn't play very well."

Covey passed for 272 yards in the first half and 323 yards overall and threw touchdown bombs of 80 and 52 yards in guiding BYU, 1-1, to the early lead. The Cougar defense then took over in the second half, shutting out the Longhorns, 0-1, and scoring on cornerback Rodney Rice's 70-yard interception return.

YACHTING

Cup court battle still rages

SAN DIEGO — New Zealand backer Michael Fay Thursday said his America's Cup court challenge will resume if Stars & Stripes continues to sail its catamaran against the Kiwis monohull.

"Other than having them put a monohull on the starting line on Friday, I think the question has to be answered," Fay said on an off day in the "best-of-three" Cup series. "Should a monohull race against a catamaran?"

"For us, the protest is a fact of life. Last night, we wrote an appropriate letter to the San Diego Yacht Club (asking that they change boats). If nothing is done after the race we will immediately follow up to the Supreme Court."

In July, a New York Supreme Court judge rejected Fay's bid to bar Stars & Stripes skipper Dennis Conner from racing a catamaran in yachting's most prestigious event.

Giamatti elected commissioner

NEW YORK — Major League Baseball announced today National League President A. Bartlett Giamatti has been elected to a five-year term as Commissioner, succeeding Peter Ueberroth.

Giamatti, 50, served as president of Yale University before joining the National League in Dec. of 1986. The announcement said he will work side-by-side with Ueberroth to ensure an orderly transition. He will become baseball's seventh commissioner April 1, 1989.

Giamatti won unanimous approval from baseball's 26 owners, the release said, and is to serve a five-year term. Ueberroth took office in 1984.

Previous baseball commissioner's were: Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, Happy Chandler, Ford Frick, General William Eckert, Bowie Kuhn and Ueberroth.

By CHRIS FISTER
 Herald sports editor

TITUSVILLE — Seminole High broke Titusville Astronaut's opening game hex with an impressive 28-0 victory a year ago. Tonight, the Fighting Seminoles will venture to Titusville and look for their first win on the War Eagles' home turf.

"We beat them for the first time ever a year ago, now we'll try for our first win at their home stadium," Seminole coach Emory Blake said. "Astronaut always has a good ball club and the name of the game for us will be to play mistake-free football."

Tonight's contest will be broadcast by Sanford's WKUS (AM 1400) with Jeff Deen, Mike Kirby and statman Steve Laurence mikeside.

It will be the first regular-season game for the Seminoles since Blake took over the head coaching reins. Blake was the offensive coordinator on last year's squad, which averaged 20.7 points per game during the regular season.

SHS is coming off its most successful season ever, in which it compiled a 9-4 record and made it to the Class 4A State Semifinals.

Agassi ousts Connors

United Press International

NEW YORK — From the stage he most wanted, Andre Agassi announced by word and deed he is ready to become the leading man in American tennis.

The 18-year-old showman from Las Vegas, Nev., earned a berth in the semifinals of the U.S. Open by dispatching 36-year-old Jimmy Connors 6-2, 7-6 (8-6), 6-1 Thursday night, then said: "I think I'm ready to lead the show."

"I think I've proven to a lot of people I'm ready to handle the responsibility," said the teenager, who becomes the youngest men's semifinalist since the Open era began in 1968.

The match was the first ever between the two. Connors, seeded sixth, was irritated by Agassi telling he had privately predicted a 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 victory.

"He made a mistake there, which I will remember the next time we play," Connors said tersely.

Lady 'Noles win SAC thriller

SHS holds off Lake Howell

CASSELBERRY — What started out as a good old-fashioned rout turned out to be one of the most exciting volleyball matches thus far this season as Sanford's Lady Seminoles managed to escape the come-from-behind clutches of the feisty Lady Silver Hawks of Lake Howell, 15-1, 12-15, 15-13.

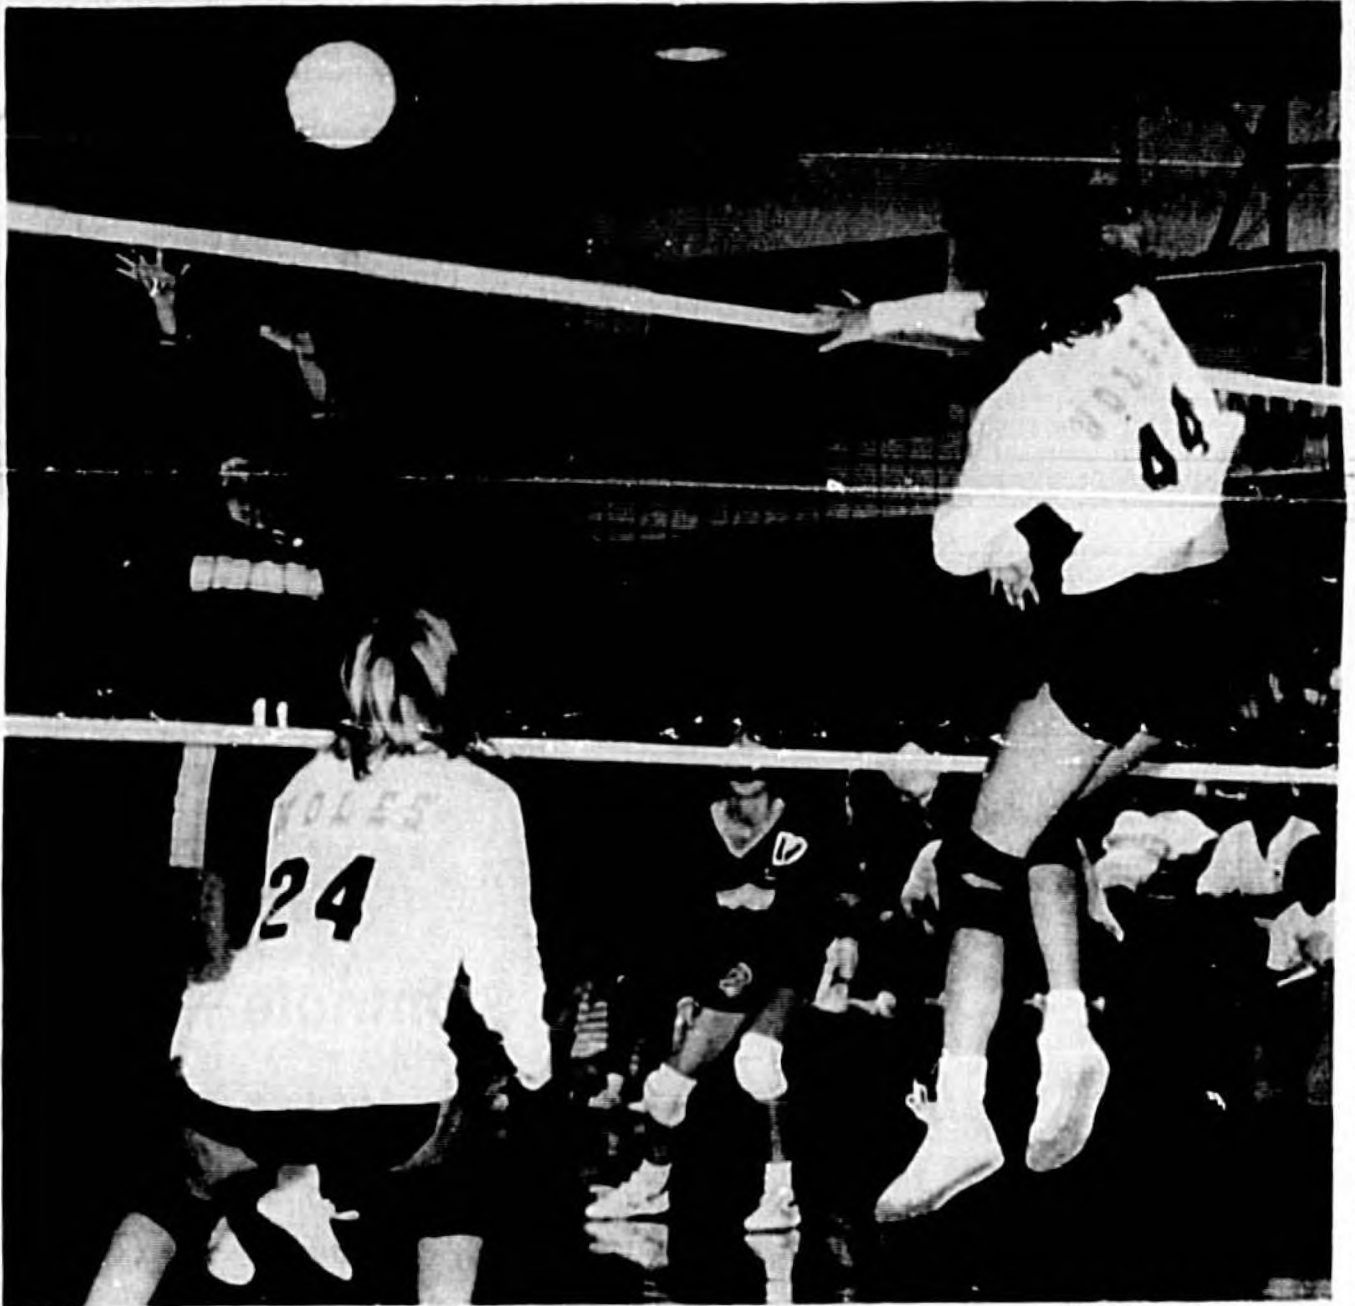

"I'm really proud of our girls," an elated Beth Corso said after the nailbiter. "Tonight was the true test. We were at match point four times and we finally pulled it out. We played great volleyball tonight."

The victory was the first for Corso and her Lady Seminoles in five years at Lake Howell and put the Lady 'Noles at 3-0 overall and 1-0 in the Seminole Athletic Conference. Lake Howell dropped to 0-1 in the SAC and 0-2 overall.

Seminole started out the night coming right at the lethargic Lady Hawks in the first game with the power serve Heather Brown got things rolling with two straight points and with two service winners and an ace. Yolanda Baker built the Seminole lead to 5-0. Then it was showtime for seniors Liz Long and Bobbie Osborne. Long served another service winner up the middle and then answered with a nifty dink over the confused Silver Hawk defense for a 7-0 lead.

"Liz (Long) really played well tonight," Corso said. "We were really on the first game and we looked great."

Mitchell cruises to individual crown

By MARK BLYTHE
 Herald sports writer

TITUSVILLE — Teddy Mitchell received strong competition from Niceville's Chris Wilson Thursday night, but the Lyman High junior was up to the task as he took the individual title and helped Lyman to a third place finish in the Titusville Astronaut Invitational on a rain-drenched course before 251 fans at Dunn Airport.

Mitchell, the top-ranked runner in the state in Class 4A, cruised the three-mile course in a time of 15:30 while Chris Wilson took second with a time of 15:37.

In the team battle the two Tampa powers, Leto and Largo, dueling with Leto taking a narrow victory with a low score of 80 points. Largo finished with 82 followed by Lyman's 114. Rockledge was fourth with 140 points with Lake Howell turning in a strong performance and finishing fifth overall with 144 points.

A total of 20 teams turned in team scores but many teams failed to show due to the rain.

Other area teams to compete were Lake Brantley who took ninth with 254 points and Lake Mary who took 16th place with 418 points.

Mitchell went out and led with Lake Brantley's Darrin Tugman for the first half mile before taking the sole lead at the mile. By the midway point in the race, Wilson had made up the distance and he and Mitchell took turns in the lead. Mitchell, though, used a surge in the last mile and put on a nice finishing kick to keep Wilson a good distance back.

Lake Howell's Kavan Howell was the next Seminole County runner to cross the finish line as he turned in an impressive performance and captured fifth place with a 16:03 clocking. Lyman's Nick Radkewich came across the line next in sixth place with a time of 16:05.

Lyman ran just five runners out of the allowed seven in the event due to sickness to two of its runners. The Greyhounds were ranked 1st in class 4A entering the meet.

TITUSVILLE — With the likes of Titusville Astronaut, Fort Lauderdale Cardinal Gibbons and Rockledge, the best competition in the state appears to be in Class 3A and Class 2A in girls cross country.

Lake Brantley and Lake Mary are certainly happy to be in Class 4A.

Lake Brantley finished sixth overall and third among 4A teams and Lake Mary was seventh overall and fourth in Class 4A at Thursday's rain-soaked Astronaut Invitational before 251 fans at Dunn Airport.

Astronaut ran off with the team title with a score of 46 compared to 93 for Cardinal Gibbons and 120 for Rockledge. The first 4A team was Tampa Leto at 137 followed by Palm Bay at 143, Lake Brantley (161) and Lake Mary (166).

Rams open with eighth-ranked Winter Park

By CHUCK BURRESS
Special to the Herald

WINTER PARK — For Lake Mary head football coach Harry Nelson, tonight's 7:30 p.m. Class 5A high school matchup at Showalter Field against the eighth-ranked Winter Park Wildcats may be just what his Rams need before they kick off their District 5A-4 season next week against the Lake Brantley Patriots.

"It's going to be one heck of a game," Nelson said of the game with the Wildcats. "As far as our record goes, it's not going to help us or hurt us in the district, but that doesn't mean we don't want to win."

Winter Park head coach Larry Gergley echoed Nelson's sentiments about tonight's tough physical matchup. "Lake Mary is always a tough physical team to play," Gergley said of the Rams. "They're a very well-coached, well-disciplined football team and I'm expecting a great game."

Gergley also feels that the season opener against the Rams is good for both clubs in the long run. "I think the smart coaches schedule good teams at the beginning of their schedule to see where their teams stand and how much more work they have to do," Gergley said. "We always get up to play Lake Mary because we know that anything can happen, especially since it's the first game of the season. They're very explosive and even though this isn't a district game, we're going to be prepared for anything and everything."

To taste victory, the Rams will have to key defensively on Winter Park's 220-pound, all-state tailback Scott Wilson. Last year Wilson and the "Cats ran circles around the Rams en route to a 28-7 drubbing, however this year Nelson has switched gears and hopes to find the right defensive strategy to throw at Wilson.

"Their tailback (Wilson) just killed us," Nelson said of Wilson's contribution to Lake Mary's loss last year. "This year we're running a 6-5-3 defense. We'll spring that on him and see how he handles it. It should work pretty well for us."

Gergley knows that the Rams will be ready for Wilson this year, but feels Wilson should be up to the task of breaking the game wide open. "Scott (Wilson) is very, very strong," Gergley said of his senior tailback. "He's really not a breakaway type of runner, but he's really physical."

Besides preparing for the physical Wilson, who ended up rumberling for over 1,200 yards last season, Nelson and the Rams have also been working on handling the ball in bad weather conditions. "The main thing we've been doing this week is learning how to play with a wet ball," Nelson said. "If we don't beat ourselves with turnovers, we should match up well with them."

For the "Cats to dispose of the Rams, Gergley feels that shutting down senior quarterback Carlos Hartafield is the number one priority. "He's a very talented quarterback with a strong arm," Gergley said of Hartafield, who led the Rams to their second straight district title a year ago. "He kills us from both sides. Last year he was very elusive on offense and then made about every tackle on the defensive end. We'll definitely be keeping our eyes on him the entire night."

Helping Hartafield to pick apart the Wildcat defense will be a much improved offensive line led by offensive tackle Mike Haas. "Haas has really improved a lot in a short time," Nelson said. "He, Brian Laird, and Chris Tims are three real big tackles that have helped us a lot so far. We've got a hard-working bunch of pretty good athletes up there on that front line, so we should be in good shape."

Whatever the outcome tonight at Showalter Field, one thing is certain, it will be a knock-down, drag-out battle between two of the hardest hitting teams in the state. Both teams should be ready for each other, according to Gergley. "This is going to be a great game," Gergley said. "On paper it's a very close game and on the field it's probably going to be even closer. A lot of people should come to the game if they want to see what high school football is all about."

Oviedo looks to outgun Patriots

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

OVIDEO — When the Seminole Athletic Conference was formed, Lake Brantley and Oviedo were matched up against each other in the season opener and played the first ever SAC football game. Oviedo has won the first three games of the series and a bigger and better Lake Brantley team will try to put an end to that tonight.

Oviedo will be using a big play offense, the Run and Shoot, while Lake Brantley will be running the triple option. The only thing that could prevent the game from being spectacular is the recent weather that has put a damper on practice sessions for both teams.

"It needs to stop raining," Oviedo coach Jack Blanton said. "We haven't been able to do much to prepare for Brantley. They have the size this year so we'll have to be quicker, we don't know how quick we are yet, but we'll find out Friday night."

Oviedo is young this season and had its first taste of action against Lyman in the preseason jamboree last week. After falling to Lyman in the jamboree, Blanton has made a few adjustments in his offense.

"Our offense has a long way to go," Blanton said. "We're trying to do a couple of things differently."

Lake Brantley will look for its defense to come up with the big plays and hope its offense can put together some long drives and control the football. Brantley has one of the most sizeable defenses in the area and looked impressive against DeLand in the preseason jamboree.

"Our defense is the best we've had in quite a while here," Almon said. "They are big and they are quick, they also like to hit. We're tired of beating up on ourselves. We're ready to play."

Almon is happy with the intensity his team has shown so far this year and feels his squad is ready to contend for conference and district honors this season.

"We haven't played good defense against Oviedo for the past three years and they've taken advantage of it," Almon said. "This weather scares me too, it's a lot easier for a defensive player to slip, an offensive player knows where they're going a defender has to guess."

Oviedo has won the last three meetings between the schools and four out of the last five which includes a 28-21 victory in overtime last year. Blanton is hoping his youthful squad can come up with some big plays to offset Brantley's size.

"We're extremely young," Blanton said. "We have seven sophomores on the team and six start. I know Lake Brantley will be ready to play. I just hope we're as ready as they are."

Unlike many other coaches Almon has had his team out in the rain practicing every day this week and feels his unit should be used to it by now. The rain has hindered most of the area's practice time but not the Patriots.

"The rain shouldn't bother us," Almon said. "We've been out in it all week, we should be used to it by now."

Brantley's defense will be led by 6-7 senior Pat French who weighs in at 255 along with Sammy Smith and Kurt Thomason who are both in the 6-4, 220-pound range. All three were impressive in stopping the DeLand running attack in the jamboree.

"Our defensive line and linebackers did real well in the jamboree," Almon said. "It was our secondary that didn't look too impressive."

Ironically the Patriots secondary is one of the best in Central Florida and it will have to prove itself tonight as Oviedo may be forced to throw the football.

"The secondary has been looking strong in practice," Almon said. "I think if they can keep their footing they should play well."

Oviedo will hope its wide open offense attack led by quarterback Matt Blanton and running backs Chad Duncan and Willie Pauldo can break open some big plays for the Lions.

"We like to throw the ball and we hope we can run a little against them (Lake Brantley)," Blanton said. "We'll need a couple of big plays to get us going. Our defense is healthy right now and hopefully we can stop their offense, they run a Troy State type option and we've been working on it this week in practice."

Both teams have solid programs and are very capable of providing an excellent football game. Brantley likes control football where Oviedo has a run and gun type set. Brantley may have the edge on defense but if it is raining anything can happen.

memory, a 2-8 mark. Second-year coach Bennett Boyd said the War Eagles are still in the rebuilding process.

Seminole, which defeated Kissimmee Osceola, 7-0, in the preseason jamboree, is looking to put together a balanced offensive attack behind a pair of returning running backs and a sophomore quarterback.

Jerod Jones, the team's leading rusher a year ago, returns for his senior year and will be the horse in the running attack while senior Kevin Richardson is another good runner who is also an excellent blocking back. Adding speed in the backfield will be sophomore Henry Williams.

"We'll try to keep the ball in Jerod's hands a lot, but Kevin (Richardson) and Henry (Williams) will also carry some of the load for us," Blake said.

Kerry Wiggins gets the call at quarterback where he replaces the school's best passing quarterback in quite some time in Jeff Blake. Wiggins displayed good running ability in the jamboree and has the potential to develop into a good passer.

The defense has the most experience of the two units with returning starters Kyle Faulkner and Ron Cox leading the way. Faulkner will play the monster back spot while Cox is at linebacker. Also at linebacker are Julius Bennett and Robert Amie. The ends are Lester Bobb and Kevin Nathan with Wesley and Troutman at the tackles.

The secondary includes cornerbacks Duck Crayson and David Willis and Bernard Eddy at safety.

Astronaut, which dropped a 3-0 decision to Rockledge in the preseason jamboree, has most of its experience on the offense. The Eagles are solid up front where they return four starters including linemen Chris Harvey, Mark Galbreath and Dwayne Edwards and tight end Bruce McKinney. Other offensive leaders are running backs Octavius Wooten and Tommy Walls and quarterback John Rothell.

Osborne becomes UCF's unsung hero

By DAVID CORCORAN
Special to the Herald

It happens every year. Star player gets hurt, and back up man comes in and becomes an "unsung hero."

Last year for the University of Central Florida Knights, linebacker Jimmy Goodman was one of those players when he replaced All-American Wyatt Hogan, and set a school record with 160 tackles in a season.

And this year, tight end John Osborne is the man.

Not many people have heard of John "Ozzy" Osborne before this season, as was supposed to be only a backup to starter Don Grayson, a Lake Mary High graduate.

But Grayson hurt his knee on the last day of spring practice, and was to miss the first two games of the season.

So Osborne (6-4, 205), was pressed into the starting lineup, and the sophomore from Milledgeville, Ga., played a vital role in the Knights' (1-0) 29-21 season opening victory over the Bethune-Cookman Wildcats this past Friday night at the Florida Citrus Bowl.

Knights quarterback Shane Willis had an excellent game against the Wildcats, completing 18 of 35 passes for 266 yards and 2 touchdowns, and ran for 27 more. Willis got most of the headlines, but it was Osborne who provided the key blocking that gave Willis extra time to throw, and also surprised many with his ability as a receiver by catching 3 passes for 49 yards, including a key 30 yarder that set up the Knights second touchdown, a 7-yarder by Gil Barnes to tie the Knights a 14 all tie with the Wildcats in the second quarter.

So how does Osborne feel about his new found fame?

In his words "not much, because I always knew I could do the job if I was given the chance."

That sounds like a very

John Osborne

cocky statement, but its typical of this very determined player who caught 4 passes for 58 yards last year as a redshirt freshman in limited action.

And how did John get the nickname "Ozzy"?

"I got it from Mac (former UCF tight end Mac Lantrip), in '86 after I reminded him of rocker Ozzy Osborne, and it stuck with me ever since."

KNIGHT NOTES

Willis, for his performance against Bethune-Cookman, was named NCAA Division II Offensive Player of the Week by the Football Gazette.

The Knights (1-0), ranked fifth in NCAA II, are not looking past West Georgia, their opponent Saturday night, with the big rematch with Troy (Ala.) St. on Sept. 17, according to McDowell.

Apopka hosts Lake Howell

By DEAN SMITH
Herald sports writer

APOPKA — A pair of football programs who have built up fine traditions in Central Florida square off in a nonconference contest tonight when the Blue Darters of Apopka High School play host to the Silver Hawks of Lake Howell High School. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Apopka coming off a disappointing 5-6 campaign looks to get back on the winning track that carried them to consecutive district championships in 1985 and '86. They hope to do so with 22 returning lettermen, including 17 starters, nine on offense and eight on defense.

The Darters got off to a good start this year when they defeated Dr. Phillips, 6-0, in the jamboree last week.

But coach Chip Gierke is still worried: "We are playing one of the best teams in the area over the last few years," he said. "They are well coached and they have given us a lot of problems."

"Also, we have been struggling offensively without our starting quarterback (Joey Hunt), who is out," added

Gierke. "And our practices have been messed up all week by the rain, we can't get outside."

Lake Howell is coming off a year where they went 6-4 but tied for the District 5A-4 title for the second straight year only to lose in a playoff to decide who goes to the state playoffs, also for the second straight year.

The Hawks have one of the top running backs in Central Florida, sophomore Marquette Smith, who rushed for 787 yards as a freshman, but are very young on both top offensive and defensive lines. Coach Mike Biseaglia hopes his team learned some things in last week's jamboree.

"We hopefully have corrected the young mistakes we made last week, the jamboree was very good for us because we got to see some things, and the kids got to play, which they needed," Biseaglia said. "But to beat Apopka we have to play a very good game, we may need to play a perfect game just to stay with them. They are real good in the skill positions."

"We have had a good week of practice and the kids have had a real positive attitude," added

Biseaglia. "We have tried to tell the team that there is not a lot of pressure to win this game because it is not a district or conference game. We came out to play the jamboree last week very uptight for some reason and we want to get them to relax."

Junior Brett King will replace Hunt at quarterback for Apopka. Others expected to contribute offensively are running backs Shawn Monroe and Wallace Henderson and receivers Gavan Jones and Lorenzo Woods. The offensive line is big with 6-foot, 260-pound center Joe Carter, 6-4, 225-pound guard Marcus Holmes, and 6-4, 270-pound tackle Tim Harrison. The defense is led by Todd Migliori and Woods, who doubles as the free safety.

Lake Howell will be led on offense, beside Smith, by junior quarterback Dan Vereck, who had a very good spring jamboree, but is just now recovering from an injury. The defense is led by 6-2, 225-pound linebacker Greg Astle, 6-2, 175-pound strong safety George Wisneski, and cornerbacks Robert Barnes and Ken Lindsay. All are returning from last year's squad.

Criticism gives hint to bathe more often

DEAR DR. GOTT: I need an answer to resolve a domestic battle. How often should the average respectable citizen bathe? If a person is relatively inactive, perspires relatively little, does not become soiled, uses deodorant and changes clothes every day, is there any hygienic reason that person should be criticized?

DEAR READER: The question of appropriate bathing intervals is less a medical issue than a personal one. People do not "need" to bathe, in the sense that they have to eat and sleep. Washing feels good and makes us more socially acceptable. However, you can bathe as infrequently as you wish. When you are ready for a bath or shower, I am sure those friends and family around you will be more than happy to let you know.

Any criticism you are getting perhaps should alert you that you ought to bathe more frequently. When it comes to washing, cleanliness is not necessarily next to godliness — but in some cases, it can appear to be.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Whenever I get nervous or laugh, my neck gets really red, then breaks into hives. People ask me what's the matter, which just makes it worse. Would hypnosis help?

DEAR READER: Possibly. You are experiencing an emotion-induced release of histamine into the skin. Since this reaction is mediated by the brain, hypnosis or biofeedback might help you overcome this troublesome condition. On the other hand, some might antihistamines or medicines called beta-blockers, which interfere with the cascade of nerve impulses reaching the skin's blood vessels at times of tension. See your doctor.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My niece's baby is on a soy formula and, to me, he seems very small for his age. Is this adequate nutrition? His family is rabidly vegetarian.

DEAR READER: A baby's growth is often determined more by genetic factors than by diet. Commercial soy-formula preparations contain a balance of nutrients that is suitable for most infants. Nonetheless, your niece should certainly check with the pediatrician, because any youngster who appears not to be growing normally should have an examination and a dietary assessment.

WIN AT BRIDGE

A style of his own
By James Jacoby

For the great Zia Mahmood to have a role in "Murder at the Bridge Table," a deal from rubber bridge at the club must appear. So it is that Zia cites today's deal as an example of his own style in playing a hand. If the bidding seems strange, don't be surprised. Rubber bridge games produce unusual bidding sequences. Apparently North did not wish to investigate the chance for grand slam, nor did he wish to give information to the opponents, so he simply bid six.

If you look at all the cards, you can see that the queen of diamonds lead makes it possible to make slam if declarer wins the diamond ace and then sets up his fourth diamond for a discard of a heart from dummy. But Zia had a different idea. He simply ducked the diamond in both hands, false-carding with his seven. Thinking his partner had the diamond ace, West continued the suit and Zia claimed the contract. (Sure, there would be a different ending if East could have ruffed the second diamond.) Here is how Zia explains his play: "The world tries to make the seven-spot high, but I throw it away at trick one, receive a second diamond lead and spread my cards. Not only do I make my slam, but my left hand opponent trembles for the rest of the night."

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharus Books.

HOROSCOPE

What the day will bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
September 10, 1988

Interesting developments could occur in the year ahead that will set the scene for years to come. Fortunately, you will be the author and initiator of your future.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If your past work has merited it, there is a possibility of a promotion in this time frame. You may learn of it within the next few days. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The aspects indicate that you might be on the verge of an important change in your financial position. You'll like what transpires.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

Your popularity is about to ascend. You will have a greater influence over your peer group than you do at present. New friendships are also in the offing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today marks the beginning of a new achievement cycle. A secret ambition that you have been nurturing has a good chance of being fulfilled.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Hope, coupled with faith in your abilities and ideas, are assets which you will start using more to your advantage than you have in the past few weeks.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Some unexpected changes may develop where your career is concerned. They will prove to be to your ultimate benefit, though early appearances may look otherwise.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Over the next few weeks your partnership arrangements have good chances of working out better than usual. This could be true in at least three instances.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) New measures instituted at this time could produce additional benefits for you where your work or career is concerned. Be patient regarding their development.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something interesting is presently stirring that could bring you contact with a new social group. It will contain the types of people with whom you'll feel at ease.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Something you've been anxious to terminate looks like it is finally on its last legs. You'll soon be able to move in a new direction.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is a good time to start building up more expertise in a sport or activity that has captured your fancy. You could learn to do it well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're now entering a favorable cycle, so be alert for ways to increase your earnings or add to your resources. They shouldn't be too hard to uncover.

Automatic sprinklers douse a Sanford lawn needlessly after a storm.

Rain, rain won't go away, but plants may be salvaged

With the large amounts of rainfall that we've had in the past few weeks, many of our ornamental plants and lawns have experienced flooded conditions. It is difficult to gauge the amount of damage done to lawns and plants that have been submerged in the floodwaters accompanying a heavy storm. But once the floodwaters recede, immediate and proper care of valuable plants and grasses will greatly enhance their chances of survival.

The extent of the plant damage will depend on such factors as the type of plant, its age, the length of submergence, and the amount of salt, soils and debris deposited by the waters. Only time will reveal the true amount of damage, but surprisingly enough, many plants that appear in poor condition will survive and should not be destroyed, but cared for instead.

Normally temperamental plants such as roses, camellias and azaleas will suffer heavily, whereas more rugged ornamentals such as Nandina, Ligustrum, Oleander and Pyracantha will have a better chance of surviving.

When the waters subside, foliage and branch areas should be washed with a strong stream of water to remove all salt, mud and debris. Excess amounts of soil or silt that have accumulated around or over root areas should be removed, since heavy soil cover could seriously damage an already weakened plant.

Survival of flooded plants also will depend on later environmental conditions. Intense sunlight, for example, can severely scald previously flooded plants and cause great injury. Therefore, plants should be temporarily shaded by a structure covered with burlap, tar paper, plywood or similar materials. The structure also should be constructed so as not to touch foliage, or block good air circulation.

GARDENING

Removing excessive salt from the soil is not an easy task, but the amount of salt in the soil usually can be reduced to a level most plants will tolerate. This is accomplished by leaching—the flushing of soil with fresh water.

On well-drained soils, leaching is highly effective because the water moves fairly easily through the soil. On level, moderately-drained or poorly drained soils, leaching can be done by building a small dike approximately 3 to 4 inches high around the plant or bed and then filling the inner area with fresh water. Allow the water to stand for no more than two hours during the cooler part of the day, and repeat the process several times. After initial leaching or "ponding," the soil should be kept moist but not so wet as to cause root damage from lack of air.

Lawn grasses will, of course, be heavily damaged by flooding. Again, the amount of damage and the likelihood of survival will depend upon salt conditions, the condition of the grass at the time of the flood, conditions after the flood, and the type of lawn grass. St. Augustine grass will tolerate some salt and flooded conditions and is less likely to be damaged than other grasses. All lawn grasses, however, should be cleared of fallen leaves, silt, mud and debris, which can smother the grass.

Publicity procedure

The Sanford Herald welcomes organization and personal news. The following suggestions are recommended to expedite publication:

1. Type releases (upper and lower case), double-space, and write in narrative style (third person).
2. Do not abbreviate.
3. Include a contact person's name and phone number.
4. Keep releases simple.
5. Submit organization releases no later than two days after the event.
6. Submit advance notices and requests for photographer at least one week prior to the preferred publication date.

Noises in head doesn't signal lunacy

DEAR ABBY: My mother, age 79, has been hearing "music" in her head for about two years. Her physician was unable to find the cause, so he sent her to a psychiatrist, who also found no reason for this. Abby, if an answer isn't found soon, I fear that my mother's remaining years will be spent in total misery. Otherwise, her general health is excellent.

A while back, you printed several letters from people who had heard noises—especially music—in their heads.

Perhaps drawing on the experience of others who have had this problem will help my mother. Would you please reprint them?

E.H., LANCASTER, OHIO

DEAR E.H.: With pleasure, I hope they help.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing all those letters from people who keep hearing music in their heads. I am one. I am now 76, and never told others because I was afraid of what they might think. I have been a nurse for more than 50 years and had never heard of this condition. I heard that maybe I was experiencing senility. I was truly relieved after reading in your column that many others had the same experience.

During my waking hours I hear hymns and waltzes. All the waltzes I loved to dance to are drifting through my mind. Now I can tell my doctor about it and not be afraid that he will look at me and think, "Poor soul. She is really failing."

EMILIE IN BUCKS COUNTY

DEAR EMILIE: You would not believe the number of letters from readers who had also been hearing things and doubted their sanity. One man said he nearly went crazy because he heard bees buzzing continually in one ear—night and day. Another said he heard constant crackling sounds, like bacon frying. A woman heard "chirping" of crickets. Still another said it sounded like a freight train was roaring through her head. All thought they were going mad.

ADVICE

The constant sounds are due to a condition called "tinnitus," but the musical hallucinations are yet another matter. Read on.

DEAR ABBY: It was interesting seeing all the letters sent to you by people with musical hallucinations.

The two cases I describe in my book, The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, were rather rare and special examples of musical epilepsy associated with damage to the brain. But musical hallucinations are relatively common, especially in older people and though they should be checked out, nearly always turn out to be benign—a nuisance, but not necessarily a sign of neurological disease.

Readers should be assured about this. Yours sincerely...

OLIVER SACKS, M.D., PROFESSOR OF NEUROLOGY, ALBERT EINSTEIN COLLEGE OF MEDICINE, BRONX, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: I'm in my late 60s and profoundly deaf, but that is not my worst problem. I have a severe case of tinnitus, which is a chronic ringing sensation in my ears. My case is unbelievable. The sounds might be compared to a bad LSD trip without the psychedelic visions. They last sometimes as long as four days.

You, like most people, will probably think I'm a nut case. I hear music or singing, or both—the same compositions over and over. Would you be good enough to consult one of your authorities to verify the fact that I am not crazy? I believe that would be an otorhinolaryngologist. This

Talking with Christine Lahti

By Frank Sanello
NEA Hollywood reporter

Christine Lahti is an actress whose film performances the critics routinely swoon over, but her name has yet to become a household word.

The Detroit-born actress hopes that will change with the release of her new film, "Running on Empty." The Sidney Lumet-directed drama deals with a husband (Judd Hirsch) and wife (Lahti) who were college radicals in the early '70s. Their act of sabotage against a napalm-manufacturing plant inadvertently forced them to go underground, and today they are still fleeing the FBI.

The film focuses on the psychological harm life on the run has wreaked on the couple's two sons.

Lahti is no stranger to high-stakes drama. She co-starred with Richard Dreyfuss in 1981's "Whose Life Is It, Anyway?" a drama about euthanasia, and earned an Oscar nomination for her work in the World War II-era film "Swing Shift" (1984).

Lahti's work in the theater has been even more extensive, and her TV credits include the ABC miniseries "Amerika."

Here the 38-year-old actress talks about fleeing the barricades in college; upstaging the stars in Hollywood; and working on her newest project, her six-week-old son Willie.

Q "Running on Empty" is a family drama, but its title sounds like a car-chase movie. Do you think the title will hurt the film?

A I am a little worried people will expect car chases, a melodrama with the FBI following us everywhere — that kind of intrigue. That's why I'm doing publicity for the movie, to make sure people know it's a people movie, not a hardware film.

Q Will the left-wing sympathies of "Running on Empty" make it a hard sell to a conservative America?

A The film isn't left-wing. It's timely. I'm hoping we've gotten away from the "Me" generation, the "Me" decade. There seems to be a lot more political activity on campuses these days. And I think politics are secondary to the family issues in the film.

Q Didn't you have a stint as a college radical yourself, albeit a non-violent one, at the University of Michigan?

A I went to rallies, demonstrations, but as soon as rocks started to be thrown and windows broken, I left. It made me very uncomfortable. I was never arrested. I guess I was a fair-weather political activist. I was more involved in campus theater than campus politics.

Q In films like "Swing Shift" with Goldie Hawn and "Just Between Friends" (1986) with Mary Tyler Moore, many critics said you stole the show from the more established stars. How did you feel about that?

A At first it was flattering. Now it's just kind of irritating. In both those films I had parts that were more flamboyant than the stars', so it was easier to get attention. I'd prefer the critics find another way of praising me without diminishing someone else. You can compliment someone without bringing someone else down.

Q How did you feel when Hawn ordered "Swing Shift" recut so her relationship with Kurt Russell, her real-life boyfriend, would be emphasized?

A She thought the movie would be more commercial with the love story emphasized. I was angry. No, more disappointed than angry.

Q In "Whose Life Is It, Anyway?" you were a psychiatrist who tried to persuade a paraplegic Richard Dreyfuss not to commit suicide. How do you personally feel about euthanasia?

A I believe a person should have the right to decide. In the movie, my character didn't hold that point of view, and I didn't feel that way at the time. I've just come around to that recently.

Q What actress inspired you to become one yourself?

A Vanessa Redgrave has always been an inspiration to me. I don't think about her politics. That's her business.

Q During your starving-actress days, did you ever have any encounters with the infamous casting couch?

A Yes. A guy promised me two national TV commercials. He told me I didn't have to audition. He would just show pictures (of me) to his director friend. Suddenly it dawned on me he was acting as a pimp for the director. I was shocked and horrified and started to cry. He said that basically this is the way a lot of women did it, and if I didn't do it, I'd never make it. I ran out of the office. I should have reported him to the union, but I didn't.

Q You always receive rave reviews, even when you're in flops. Why do you think superstardom has eluded you?

A Very simple. The movies I've been in haven't made money. You need to be in a movie that makes a lot of money before you have that title. Maybe if "Running on Empty" makes money, it will make me a superstar.

Q What's your next project?

A I had a baby boy six weeks ago. He's my next project.

LOVING

Lily left town after accepting a music scholarship. Gayneeth admitted to Jeff that Charles is in town and that he wanted to see her to get to Jeff. Jeff later confronted Charles face-to-face. Dan warned Charles that Jeff might not react favorably to the fact that Charles secretly offered to syndicate "Image" for Allen Enterprises. Clay (Alex) asked Dan to investigate the syndication service, Global Systems, which Dan knows is owned by Charles. Jack is gathering information about Stacey's affair with Rick.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

Connie and Jay O'Neill, as well as Brad Vernon, returned to Llanview for Duke's funeral. Also on hand for the funeral was Becky White, who brought her and her son, Drew, along with her. Drew reluctantly agreed to try to get to know the man who is never been a father to the boy. Tina, who is being held hostage, learned from Ursula's father, Cornelius, that Ursula was a former mental patient that had fallen in love with Patrick before he escaped from the hospital. Cornelius told Tina that he's paralyzed because Ursula had once pushed him down a flight of stairs. Megan reluctantly agreed to work with Max, who has a romantic tie to "Fraternity Row." Steve and Brenda arrived at the lighthouse and talked to Cornelius about Ursula. Ursula threatened to push Tina off a cliff into the rocks below. Carl and Melinda offered to buy WFLD-TV from Joanna, who was going to sell it to Ana.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Jill was encouraged when Kay told her that Phillip offered to take care of Phillip IV if Nina wants to go off by herself on an extended vacation. Chase reminded Jill that he doesn't want a permanent relationship with Nina. Jill told David that she doesn't care about the fact that Jack fired Matt, because she was tired of dealing with Matt's inflated ego. Victor was surprised that Nikki didn't tell him ahead of time that she and Victoria were leaving on a vacation. Jack is upset that Leanna's (Kelly) tell-all book about Victor has been delayed at the publishers. After Brad warned Tracy that he would accept Robert's Chicago job offer even if she objected, Tracy agreed to go along with the move. John and Jessica returned from their honeymoon. John wished Brad and Tracy luck with their move. Brad turned when he learned that Tina was behind his Chicago job offer.

Joe Miller guides his car on the track

The racers
are coming!

The racers
are coming!

Story and photos
By Susan Loden
Herald staff writer

The roar of tiny engines, the thrill of the race not heard or experienced in 20 years is bringing back memories as adults of today realize slot car racing is back on the track.

Their cars don't deceive. That blurred whiz of colorful mini-cars they catch out of the corner of their eye when they visit a Hobby Box is a direct trip into the past. They stand at the track and stare in disbelief and then return on the weekend with their kids, to introduce them to an old form of fun and games. But space age technology has made their boyhood game bigger and better than ever.

For those who spent their youth in pool halls, libraries, or on sports fields there may be no memory of these mini, motorized machines. Slot cars are small, lightweight cars — little more than an airfoil, powered by an electric motor through use of a hand control. They each fit into a color coded slot in a curving track that's from 155 to 200 feet long. There are typically eight slot per track, making eight the maximum competition in a single race. The cars, that come in an array of colors and body styles, can whiz around the track with a roar at speeds of from 30 to 100 mph.

The return of slot cars is reality for hundreds of men like Joe Miller, 35, of Orlando, who dropped a friend off for a haircut in Longwood and glanced into the Hobby Box to see a 200-foot long, elevated track with slot fit to hold these little racers.

Miller didn't need any excuse, such as a child companion, to immediately enter the store and rent a couple of slot cars, controls and some track time, for less than $10. Although he said the race would be more fun with competition, he found himself competing with time. The time that had passed since he was at the controls of a slot car.

He found his skills have rusted a bit in 20 years, but the machines he said were sleek and superior to those he raced as a child. "The thrill and excitement are still there," he said after a few turns around the track.

When he was a boy, Miller said, he and other racers would pay another boy 50 cents an hour to re-track their cars, which invariably would fly out the slot midway through a race. Today's race cars have a firmer hold on the track.

Kelly Taylor, of Hobby Box, said the new cars have drawn on 20 years of technological advances and are lighter and more powerful. At high speeds, air presses down on these little airfoils and helps hold them to the track, Taylor said.

For those adults who need an excuse to return to the track of their boyhood, they find their sons and daughters give them a reason other than cheap thrills and nostalgia to join the games again.

Slot cars, Taylor said, are helping to bridge the generation gap in some families. "The kids think it's new. But dad explains it's something he did as a boy. It's a great family activity," Taylor said.

When the slot cars were new on the scene they were mainly toys for boys. But today, Taylor said, girls are stepping up to the track and slot car racing is becoming a fast growing family sport, fueled by Dad's memories.

Taylor said he first put a slot car track in one of his 32 stores about a year ago. He was astonished by the favorable response. Slot car racing, he said, is heating up as a national sport, with some competitions offering thousands of dollars in prizes.

Serious slot car race contenders aren't content with the rental cars available. They buy or make a more expensive customized racer to give them an edge in the run for fame and fortune.

The cars, which are powered by electricity, draw energy from the track. A combination of user skills and the machine are tested in a race, Taylor said. The operator's reflexes, the power of the motor, the weight of the frame and the gear ratio are all factors in determining the champ in a slot car race.

The expense is minimal for the casual racer, Taylor said. Costs increase as the racer becomes more serious about his machine. A basic car costs about $30, with the most expensive kits priced at just under $100.

In any case, Taylor said, slot cars are less expensive and easier to maintain than radio control cars, another type of mini-racer that runs free of a track.

The slot car race is on — again.

Fall movies follow summer record-breakers

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The glut of summer movies is behind us and it's time to take a look at what will be filling the silver screen this fall.

The film industry may be hard pressed to follow the record-breaking summer box-office business this year, but from all indications, Hollywood should break the financial record for box-office grosses in a single year.

The 1988 record-setting pace had help from five blockbusters that surpassed the $100 million mark:

"Three Men and a Cradle," $167 million; "Who Framed Roger Rabbit," $124 million; "Good Morning, Vietnam," $123 million; "Coming to America," $114 million; "Crocodile Dundee II," $106 million.

Here is a look at some of the major films scheduled for release in the coming months:

September:

"The Beast" — Action thriller about a Soviet tank isolated when it destroys an Afghan village with Soviet soldier facing guerrilla band seeking revenge.

"Crossing Delancey" — Stars Amy Irving in comic romance of New York career woman whose values are turned upside down by pickle vendor.

"Dead Ringers" — Identical-twin doctors become involved with the same beautiful actress. Stars Jeremy Irons as the twins and Genevieve Bu-Jold.

"Distant Thunder" — Vietnam vet leaves Pacific Northwest wilderness to rejoin society. Stars John Lithgow, Ralph Macchio.

"Gorillas in the Mist" — Sigourney Weaver plays anthropologist Dian Fossey, who devoted 20 years to save African gorillas.

"Ground Zero" — British-Australian suspense drama of British nuclear testing Down Under, starring Colin Fries, Jack Thompson and Donald Pleasence.

"Heartbreak Hotel" — Small town rock musician and his mother rejoice when Elvis Presley joins their household in a rock 'n' roll fable of 1972.

"Messenger of Death" — Charles Bronson as a Denver detective trails a serial killer to a century-old cult of Mormon avengers.

"Moon over Parador" — Richard Dreyfuss plays unemployed actor forced to double for banana republic dictator in wacky comedy.

"Pascal's Island" — Drama set on an Aegean island during decline of the Ottoman Empire starring Ben Kingsley, Charles Dance and Helen Mirren.

"Punchline" — Tom Hanks and Sally Field star as aspiring stand-up comedians in the war between the sexes.

"Rocket Gibraltar" — Burt Lancaster stars in family story of three generations celebrating his birthday in heart-warming fashion.

"Running on Empty" — Story of a '60s radical couple in the '80s, starring Judd Hirsch, Christine Lahti and River Phoenix.

"A Summer Story" — Drama of 1902 failed romance between college man and farm girl, based on a John Galsworthy story.

"Sweet Hearts Dance" — Don Johnson and Jeff Daniels play pals — one married, one single — who envy each other's lifestyles.

"Waxwork" — Campy horror picture with cast of newcomers investigating mysterious haunted mansion filled with historic villains of the past.

"The Year My Voice Broke" — Australian import about childhood pals in 1962 who face harsh choices of adulthood. Big winner of Australian film awards.

October

"Alien Nation" — Science-fiction thriller about Los Angeles invaded by 300,000 immigrant "newcomers," starring James Caan, Mandy Patinkin.

"Bat 21" — Survival story of Air Force rescue mission, starring Gene Hackman and Danny Glover.

"Child's Play" — Suspense thriller of widow, her son and a cop who suspects the kid of murder. Stars Catherine Hicks and Chris Sarandon.

"Fresh Horses" — Young passions flair as Molly Ringwald and Andrew McCarthy play a pair of obsessed lovers.

"Hanna's War" — Story of a Jewish resistance fighter, poet and paratrooper, who fought behind Nazi lines in World War II, starring Ellen Burstyn.

"Imagine: John Lennon" — Documentary of the legendary singer-composer, featuring home movies provided by Yoko Ono.

"Little Dorrit" — Adaptation of Charles Dickens' character study of a young woman's strength of spirit in a world of impossible odds.

"Madame Sousatzka" — Shirley MacLaine stars in comedy-drama of an eccentric piano teacher and her brilliant young student.

"Memories of Me" — Comedy-drama with Billy Crystal, Alan King as son and father, co-starring JoBeth Williams. Henry Winkler makes directing debut.

"1969" — A story of high school graduates making difficult decisions, starring Robert Downey Jr., Kiefer Sutherland.

"Platoon Leader" — Action-adventure thriller finds Michael Dudikoff in the jungles of Vietnam.

"The Prince of Pennsylvania" — Comedy-drama of a young man who does not conform to upwardly mobile family lifestyle, starring Fred Ward, Bonnie Bedelia.

"Spike of Bensonhurst" — Irreverent comedy of a young man (Sasha Mitchell) aspiring to become a boxing champion but who conspicuously lacks talent.

"Tapeheads" — Wild, wacky comedy about buddies (John Cusack and Tim Robbins) who turn the music video business inside out.

"Things Change" — Comedy starring Don Ameche as a shoe shine man who agrees to take the rap for a Mafia murderer.

"Without a Clue" — Sherlock Holmes mystery starring Michael Caine and Ben Kingsley, but this time, Dr. Watson is a great detective and Holmes is a besotted, unemployed actor.

ANSWER: No Time for Sorghum

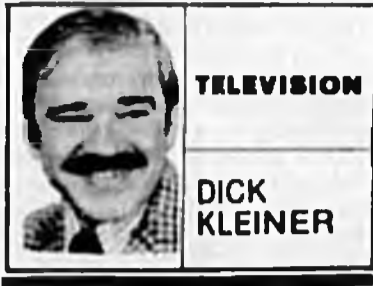

Who has played Jesus? Who was the first?

Q. My sister-in-law says "Jesus of Nazareth" was the first movie made in which an actor played Jesus. Who was that actor? But wasn't Jesus shown in "The Greatest Story Ever Told?" And who was that actor? — V.G., Fort Mill, S.C.

A. Actually, Jesus has been portrayed on the screen in dozens of movies, going way back to D.W. Griffith's era. Robert Powell was in "Jesus of Nazareth" and Max Von Sydow played Jesus in "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Q. I have a bet with my fiance, Paul, that the children's names on "Eight Is Enough" were: David, Mary, Nancy, Joannie, Tommy, Susan, Elizabeth and Nicholas. I was also wondering in what order they were born. — G.C., Nacogdoches, Texas.

A. If I were Paul, I'd worry

TELEVISION

about marrying somebody with a steel-trap memory like that. The Bradford children were, from the oldest to the youngest: David, Mary, Joannie, Susan, Nancy, Elizabeth, Tommy and Nicholas.

Q. An old TV program, "Cimarron Strip," starred Stuart Whitman. Who was the female star? — J.P., Madison, Wis.

A. Jill Townsend was Whitman's leading lady, playing Dulcey. She was English and went back to England, where, for a time, she was Mrs. Nicol Williamson.

Q. We have a bet on. Is David Janssen — who starred in "The Fugitive" — dead? If so, when did he die? — K.S., Formosa, Ontario.

A. David Janssen died in 1980.

Q. Please help! I'm outnumbered! My husband and brother-in-law say James Arness wasn't in the movie "Hondo." I say he was. — Mrs. B.R.H., Houston.

A. I am with you, so we've got 'em licked. James Arness very definitely was in "Hondo," which starred John Wayne.

Q. Could you please settle an argument for me? I think Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza were the original stars of "South Pacific," but a friend says I'm very wrong, that it was Betty Hutton. And I also seem to recall

Robert Powell David Janssen

Mitzi Gaynor playing the starring role in a remake. My friend says Mitzi Gaynor never sang and never was in "South Pacific," only Betty Hutton. — D.J.H., Vancouver, Wash.

A. Your friend should retire from giving opinions. Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza created those parts on Broadway. Mitzi Gaynor (who was a singer) and Rossano Brazzi were in the movie version. If Betty Hutton ever played it, it was in some road company somewhere.

Q. What was the name of the movie in which Barbara Bel Geddes killed her husband with a frozen roast, then cooks it and feeds it to the detective investigating the crime? — Mrs. B.G., North Muskegon, Ill.

A. It wasn't a movie, it was an episode of the old Alfred Hitchcock series of mysteries.

Q. I have a bet with a friend I would like you to settle. I say that Judy Garland had two daughters, Bernadette Peters and Liza Minnelli. My friend says they are not sisters. Please settle this bet for us. — R.B., Catawba, S.C.

A. You lose big. Judy had two daughters, all right — Liza Minnelli and Lorna Luft. Joey Luft rounds out Garland's children. Bernadette Peters is not related to any of them.

ALL MY CHILDREN

Ted Martin looked a one-way ticket from California to Pine Valley. On the phone, Phoebe urged giving Ted an address where he can reach Hillary. (Dear opened Palmer's globe sale, but was disappointed to see that it only contained a memento tape. Nancy saved Frankie from getting hit by a train, but Frankie will blame Henry for Jerry's shooting death. (Dear's heart fluttered whenever she's around Nancy. Nancy convinced Sean not to tell Tom that she isn't paralyzed. Nancy warned Palmer to bail out of his relationship with Julie. Cliff told Cordy all about Sean serving time for murdering Sybil Thorne, but Sean talked Cordy into believing that he's not a bad guy. Palmer was surprised to learn that Cliff didn't demand a paternity test to determine whether Cliff is the father of Nancy's baby. Eric is unaware that Steven is living at the boarding house.

ANOTHER WORLD

Eric, who is very much alive, spent on Florida, Maui, Nevada and Guam while they were in Atlantic City. Later, Eric was pleased when his mystery lover told him that Mar had been indicted on charges that he murdered Irene. Virky had a fainting spell. Marshall hired Evan when he went to bail for Cory Publishing during a board meeting. Michael admitted to a stunned Irene that he bribed a welfare lawyer in an attempt to keep Mike. Mar resigned as chairman of the Cory board of directors, then appointed Marshall to the post. John learned that Chris told Sharon that she was the only child, but Chris told John that she had a brother, Tony, who died in Vietnam. Lisa agreed to let Jerome fight Virky for custody of his child. John missed letting Chris embrace him, then told her that he needs some space. Luke confronted Virky about her pregnancy, but she insisted that he's not her baby's father.

AS THE WORLD TURNS

It was revealed that Lilit in Duran's wife. Tom followed Inspector Pappas to Margie's home. Tom was with Margie when she went into labor. While giving birth to her son, Margie told a stunned Tom that that is the baby's father. Angel is pregnant of the children between Lily and Holden. Betty made plans to begin her new job in Madison, Wis. Lilit was surprised when Duran told her that her doctor, Sylvester, had been murdered. Lilit insisted she didn't kill Sylvester, when she claimed had usually allowed her when she was in the mental hospital. Lilit brought up the fact that Beatrice is Duran's daughter, not his sister. Kirk recalled meeting Eva's real father, Jarrod Carpenter, who is very wealthy. Kirk assured Lucinda that he has a plan to keep Holden away from Lily. Kirk is worried that if Eva finds her parents, her relationship with Kirk will change.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Peth was heartbroken when Eric told her that he's not going to divorce Stephanie because he wants to keep his family together. Eric told Stephanie that he's working with her because of Angela. Eric told Stephanie that he doesn't intend to sleep with her. Heidi and Stephanie separated off over the fact that Stephanie ruined Beth's romance with Eric. With the exception of Susan, Beth's children want her to go to Paris with Stephen. Caroline brought Thorne home from the hospital.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Litch begged out when he found Ellen Hawk's body on the Salem dock. Norman hinted that he might have killed Ellen during one of his blackouts. Norman asked Orion to help him put the pieces of his past together, but Orion insisted that he can't help. Shane and Kimberly left for London, but she's unaware that he's on a special NSA mission. Abe told Leticia that he loves her, and that's why he doesn't want her to go back on her former police beat. Benny, who was devastated about his mother's death, was kidnapped while he was on a picnic with Kayla, Mabry and Jack (Billy), who both want Harper's Bernice's seat, got into a break-down drag-out fight over the smear campaign Jack has launched against Mickey. Justin welcomed his old friend Thane and Thane's daughter, Christina, who arrived for a visit. Christina took more than a passing interest in Justin.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Francis' grandmother, Maria Ramirez, arrived in Port Charles. After arriving at a health spa, Maria spent most of her time with inmate pen. Ward. Under hypnosis, Colton told Tom that after he was discharged from the Marines, he met mystery woman Annie, in the Greek Islands. Colton also remembered that Annie and her friends were members of a terrorist organization. Nipley searched into Tom's office and replayed the tapes of Colton's sessions with Tom. Duke learned that Olivia is not pregnant. To protect Anna and Jason, Duke decided to take over Victor's place as head of the justice center family after Victor underwent heart surgery. During another session with Tom, Colton learned that he killed Prince and left his Marine dog tags on Prince's body. Army told Tom that Olivia is Victor's daughter. Olivia told Theresa that she intends to take over Victor's crime family.

SANTA BARBARA

"Sonny" escaped from Gina and Keith and went to Julia's home after reverting to his Mason personality. Julia and Mason made love. Eden is worried that Cruz, who is investigating street gang activity for city councilman, Sam Weiss, will wind up being hurt. Through Eden, Cruz tracked down Amanda's kid, Carter, who was arrested on charges that he was involved with the drug overdose death of another street kid, Chaz Morales. Gina, who is determined to get the reward that C.C. had offered for Mason's return, children-lovered Mason and then kidnapped him. When Mason reverted back to "Sonny," Gina became convinced that he has a split personality. Philip decided to head Ming Li back to Bangkok after he saw her kissing Kai. Ming Li admitted to Cain that she's not his daughter. Eden began a job as a TV reporter and met her new boss, Brent Livingston. Eden thinks that she may be pregnant.

GUIDING LIGHT

Nancy is curious about Blake's fascination with the Spaulding clan. Meredith accepted Kirk's marriage proposal. Frank cautioned Harley not to get mixed up with Alan Michael because he's from a different background than she is. Harley reminded Frank that Mindy is also from a wealthy family. The nurses worried about mystery patient, John Doe, because of his weakened condition. A woman named Eleanor believed that John Doe is her son, Davey. Dr. Neilly told John Doe's mother, Dr. Jensen, that Eleanor doesn't have any children, but they continued to let her see John Doe because it seemed to help him. Nancy agreed to help Neva check out Will's disappearance. Harley was misled that Alan and Philip hired Alan Michael to escort Heather, the daughter of a Spaulding board member, to the annual Spaulding Sports Day meeting. Harley got a phone call from her mother, Nadine.

RYAN'S HOPE

Sirhan breathed a sigh of relief when the "stranger" in her hotel room turned out to be her. Sirhan is still convinced that Max is stalking her. Angelina (Sister Mary Jo) told Jack that she raised him like a son, but kept mum that she was his mother to protect him from the Hyatt crime family. Sister Mary Jo told Ryan that she can't give up her commitment to the church. Della didn't believe Roger, who told her that Rub is only dating her because Sherry doesn't like her. Ryan, Chad and Zerra attempted to lure Jack, Silvio and Sister Mary Jo (Angelina) together as a family.

Writers strike part I
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - Programming problems are mounting in the face of the Writers Guild of America strike but "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" will return to CBS-TV this September with six original episodes.
 The current edition of the comedy show premiered last March, after the special "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour 20th Reunion Show," which was broadcast last Feb. 3.
 "We are delighted that Tom and Dick will be on CBS again this fall," said Kim LeMaster, CBS Entertainment president. "As we strive to get fresh new products, we are especially fortunate that it will come from a source as creative and innovative as the Smothers."

New season hits, misses and dates

By JOAN HANAUER
 UPI Feature Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — For rating purposes the 1988-89 prime time network television season will begin on schedule on Sept. 19, but in reality it will come trickling in over the next four or five months.

The spread ranges from "Baby Boom," previewing on Sept. 10 but tentatively scheduled to premiere on Nov. 3, to "A Fine Romance," which now looks like it will bow in January. That's almost a mid-season replacement.

The villain of this scheduling nightmare is the 22-week strike by the Writers Guild of America against the TV producers, and the shows hardest hit are the new ones, in which the writers still had a lot of work to do in defining characters and dreaming up plots.

Given all the turmoil, it is still possible to handicap the hits and misses of the season, and advertising agencies, television critics and other interested parties have been trying to do just that.

What are the likely hits and flops of the season? Two shows were given unanimous "hit" status — "Dear John" (NBC) and "Roseanne" (ABC). Almost unanimous honors went to "Empty Nest" (NBC).

After that it gets to look more like a horse race. Here's the view from some of the top advertising agencies, who get paid by their clients to pick winners:

HBO. Sure hits: "Dear John" (NBC), "Empty Nest" (NBC) and "Roseanne" (ABC), thanks to positioning on the schedule as well as quality. High quality shows in poor scheduling position: "Murphy Brown" and "TV 101," CBS; "Midnight Caller" and "Tattinger's," NBC.

Campbell-Mithun-Esty. Possible hits: "Roseanne" and "A Fine Romance" (both ABC); "Murphy Brown," "TV 101," "Dirty Dancing" (CBS); and "Midnight Caller" and "Dear John" (NBC). Flops: "Knightwatch" (ABC), "Something Is Out There" (NBC) and "Paradise" (CBS), called "easily the worst show we have seen in some years."

McCann-Erickson. Winners: "Roseanne," "Murphy Brown," "Dear John," "Empty Nest." Passing grades: "Unsolved Mysteries," "Baby Boom" and "Tattinger's" (all NBC). Possibles: "Midnight Caller," "Something Is Out There" and "The Disney Hour" (all NBC). Borderline: "The Saturday Mystery Movie" (ABC).

Saatchi Saatchi DFS Compton: This agency rates shows on a scale of one to 10, long shot to hit. The "10" shows were "Roseanne," "Dear John" and "Empty Nest." Rated a "7," between "maybe" and "hit," were "Murphy Brown," "Almost Grown" (CBS), "Unsolved Mysteries" and "Tattinger's." "Baby Boom" was right behind with a "6."

Hitting the "5" or "maybe" mark were "TV 101," "Something Is Out There," "Saturday Mystery Movie" and "The Magical World of Disney" (NBC). "A Fine Romance" and Mary Tyler Moore's show each got a "4." "The Van Dyke Show" (CBS), "Incredible Sunday" (ABC) and "Paradise" were rated "3," while "Knightwatch" and "Dirty Dancing" were terrible 2s and "Close to Home" was the sole "1."

You may wonder when you are going to see all these new shows. Here are the latest starting dates for new shows, all times Eastern, offered with the warning that network schedules are as changeable as the weather.

Week beginning Monday, Oct. 3:
 "Unsolved Mysteries," NBC, Wednesday, 8-9 p.m.
 "Dear John," NBC, Thursday, previewing 9-9:30 p.m. for several weeks, then premiering regular time slot, 9:30-10 p.m. on Nov. 3.

Lange trio

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jessica Lange has begun work on location in Chicago, starting in "Men Don't Leave," her third film this year in addition to "Far North" and "Everybody's All-American," both awaiting release.

"Men Don't Leave" is the story of an average family whose routine is abruptly altered when the father dies, thrusting his widow (Lange) and her children into frightening new circumstances.

Included in the cast are Arliss Howard, Joan Cusack, Tom Mason, Kathy Bates and Chris O'Donnell.
