

Mississippi Girl Named Miss America

By CLAREN COE
United Press International
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—A brown-eyed Mississippi singer, who was named Miss America Saturday night, set out today to collect the fortune that goes with the title. Mary Ann Mobley, 21, Brandon, Miss., college senior, who never had a date until she was 18 years old, became the first Mississippi entrant ever to win the beauty title shortly before midnight Saturday in a nationally televised finale to the week-long pageant.

"I used to be the biggest tomboy you've ever seen," she later told a press conference. "I had long pig tails and I wore braces on my teeth for four years. I was 16 when I had my first date."

Broadway Her Goal
Miss Mobley, who wants to sing and dance on Broadway, won the coveted title over 52 contestants from 48 states, the cities of Washington, D. C., Chicago and New York, and Alaska, Hawaii and Canada. She weighs 114 pounds and measures 34-24-36.

She won a total of $10,000 in scholarships, $15,000 in clothes, furs, an auto and a television set, and the opportunity to earn a small fortune during her year-long reign.

A total of $30,000 in scholarships was given to the 20 top winners among the 52.

First Stop New York
The runners-up for Miss America were: Miss Iowa, Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, of Ames, a $3,000 scholarship; Miss Oklahoma, Anita Bryant, 19, of Tulsa, a $2,500 scholarship; Miss California, Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, of Riverside, a $2,000 scholarship, and Miss North Carolina, Betty Lane Evans, 18, of Greenville, a $1,000 scholarship.

The first stop for Miss Mobley after Atlantic City was New York City. There she will be fitted for a complete wardrobe and furs and make the necessary business arrangements for a year-old beauty reign.

Mary Ann expects to return to her family's home a year from now with a tidy little nestegg of $50,000 earned in personal appearances, advertising endorsements, television guest spots and other activities. She also will travel to Europe.

Virginia's Almond Dramatic Speaker

PERSONALITY SPOTLIGHT
United Press International
If Virginia's white-manned Gov. J. Lindsay Almond weren't known so much for his unbending stand against racial integration, he probably would be known as one of the South's most spellbinding speakers.

It's an experience to watch James Lindsay Almond make a speech. In recent days such Almond pronouncements as "I will see the public schools close before I see them integrated," "federal troops will patrol empty schools" if they try enforced integration, and integration will mean "chaos and the destruction of public education in Virginia," have been making news.

But if Almond, a former state attorney general and congressman were merely talking about the burning pigeons he used to raise as a hobby, he would still have an audience straining for every word. Drama at Podium

When the governor launches into a speech, he crashes his heavy fist on the podium in one instant, then flicks up an erect stubby finger at another. His booming, deep voice bellows forth and his white hair falls in his face when he builds up to a point, then, as he pushes his hair back, his voice falls to a hoarse whisper for dramatic underscoring.

His sentences, reflecting his training in Virginia courtrooms for nearly 40 years, flow smoothly, and long, complicated phrases, seem always, some how, to come out clear.

He uses colorful, if sometimes Victorian, language. Phrases such as the "massive political bloodletting" of federal encroachment on states' rights; the "judicial surgeons" and the "cynical philibotony" of the Supreme Court; the dedication of "all that I am and pray to be to the service of the people of Virginia."

Bought Legal Firm
Almond, who turned 60 this summer, began training his voice in high school at Orange, Va., at the age of 16. He had long since decided he wanted to be a lawyer. His campaign managers have said his youth was marked with studying on the kitchen table of his farm home; walking miles to a one-room schoolhouse, and helping his father, a railroad engineer, raise crops for the family.

At the University of Virginia, Almond became a boxer and once was knocked out by a fellow student who now serves in Virginia's State Senate.

He was named a prosecuting attorney in Roanoke within seven years after gaining his law degree, then was named a judge at the age of 33.

Raised Wife's Nephew
He married, and although he never had any children of his own, he raised Mrs. Almond's nephew after her brother died.

Almond gave up his judgeship in 1945 to make a successful bid for Congress, and since then has been giving up positions regularly to take higher political office.

In 1948 he quit his seat in Congress to become Virginia's attorney general, and he was re-elected in 1952. In 1957, he gave up the attorney general's office to run for governor.

Hunt Push For Slayers Of Patrolman

SANTER, S.C. (UPI)—A search continued today for the slayers of State Highway Patrolman Harry Lloyd Ray as ballistics experts in Columbia checked two guns taken from two men at Charlotte, N.C., in an effort to produce a lead in the case.

A three-state alert remained in effect in the Carolinas and Georgia for three bandits who held up the Clover hotel here early Sunday and later shot down the veteran patrolman as he tried to give them a traffic summons.

Charlotte police held John Samuel Crawford, 34, and James Clarence Clay Jr., 30, both of Charlotte, until a ballistics check could be made. The two were arrested while trying to start a car.

Ray, 31, who was stationed at Summerton, was found draped over the bumper of his patrol car at 1:10 a.m. Sunday at the intersection of Highways 301 and 15 with his blinker lights still on. He had been shot four times in the chest and stomach.

Officers said they found his summons book nearby and approximately $41 in cash was lying near the car. The shooting occurred approximately one mile from the motel where the car had been taken more than $1,000.

Ray, father of two children, had issued two traffic summonses earlier in the night near the area, and apparently had stopped the getaway car to give a speeding summons when the shooting occurred.

H. M. Gaskin, owner and operator of the motel, said the trio came into his office about 12:25 a.m., pulled guns and demanded his money. He said efforts to talk the men out of the robbery failed.

After receiving the money the bandits attempted to lock Gaskin, his wife and son, and two in-laws in the bathroom. The robbers pulled the phone wires out and sped away in the getaway car. Gaskin said he did not see the automobile, but that he heard it "screech gravel" as it moved onto the highway. Gaskin said he then drove into town to report the robbery.

Revolt In Venezuela Ends; 23 Dead

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—The second attempt in six weeks to overthrow the Venezuelan government killed 23 persons and wounded more than 100 in hours-long street fighting here Sunday.

A government communiqué said the revolt, led by a small group of officers of the military police, was brought quickly under "absolute control."

An aide to Provisional President Wolfgang Larrazabal said a "confused" situation and the anger of a loyal throng of civilians gathered outside the Presidential Palace contributed to the large number of casualties.

The army, navy and air force refused to join the revolt and it soon began to collapse. The police marched back into their barracks and the revolt was just about over when civilians, summoned into the streets by government officials, gathered in front of the palace.

Five On Crowd
There they taunted the rebels and shouted "traitors" at the barricaded police. The rebels replied with gunfire, killing many. The angry civilians, some of whom had been armed with machetes, finally swarmed into the barracks and the police surrendered.

Rebel leader Lt. Col. Juan de Dios Doncoca was granted asylum in the Mexican Embassy. Military police chief Maj. Vivar Ramirez and a third mutinous officer escaped to another foreign embassy. Junta member Arturo Ross said the No. 2 rebel, Maj. Jose Holy Mendosa, had been arrested.

Larrazabal was visiting Cumana, 300 miles away in eastern Venezuela, when the rebels marched out of their barracks before dawn, seized the Caracas radio station and surrounded the Presidential and Miraflores palaces.

The rebels were reported displeased with Larrazabal's recent moves granting more freedom in leftist political parties. He came to power in a military coup that overthrew dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez last January.

The rebels also were angered over recent dismissals of army officers by Larrazabal and his ruling five-man junta.

Keep Florida Ahead!
RE-ELECT SPESSARD L. HOLLAND
YOUR U. S. SENATOR

Nearly $200,000,000 for Florida!
What Senator Holland Did In The Last Congress . . .

Senior U. S. Senator Spessard Holland's record in the U. S. Senate has been a great one. A single quotation from one of his colleagues in the Senate proves it:

"Senator Holland's record abundantly demonstrates that he has truly represented the interests of the people of Florida. Greatly respected by his colleagues in the Senate for his ability, sincerity, sound judgment, knowledge, honesty, and integrity, he has served Florida and the Nation well."

What Holland Accomplished in 1958
A look at the records of the last Congress bears this out:

HE SUPPORTED:

- Reorganization and strengthening of the Defense Department.
- Expansion of military bases and the Warning System.
- Authorization of Atomic Energy Commission construction and expansion.
- Salary increases for Civil Service and Postal employees.
- Annuity increases for Civil Service employees.
- Act to provide greater air safety.
- Emergency Housing Act to stimulate national economy.
- Increased FHA Mortgage Insurance.
- Stopped-up Federal Highway Assistance program . . . Florida to receive nearly $80,000,000 by June 30, 1960.
- Repeal of 3% excise tax on transportation of property.
- Help for small business.
- FHA funds for more personnel in Florida.
- Authorized Corn Acreage Allotment bill benefiting 5 counties in Florida.
- Minimum farm allotments for cotton.
- Three-year extension of special school milk program.
- Seven percent increase (out of $1-ing) in Social Security payments. Co-sponsored legislation to increase earnings limitation in Social Security Act to $1,500. (This was withdrawn after threat of Presidential veto but will be re-introduced at next session of Congress.)

Holland strongly supported the earlier increase in Social Security earnings limitation from $900 to $1,200.)

FEDERAL DOLLARS FOR FLORIDA

- Construction: Intracoastal Waterway, Central and Southern Florida flood control, Port St. Joe Harbor, Tampa Harbor and Hillsboro River—$11,383,000.
- Operation and maintenance rivers, harbors and canals—$1,476,000.
- Other rivers and harbors work—$351,000.
- Military Construction, Navy, Air Force, Florida National Guard—$51,974,000.
- Federal Aid for Highways—$79,225,091.

- Weika fish hatcheries, Marianna Research Center, Lake City forestry research, Everglades National Park—$2,572,144.

The above is only a partial list of what Holland has done for Florida. His influence on general national legislation was also great. He believes in keeping America strong, prosperous, and stable.

Compare his record with that of his opponent who was ousted by Florida voters in 1950 because he had failed Florida and the nation. Do so and you'll vote to re-elect Spessard Holland tomorrow.

GET OUT AND VOTE TOMORROW

Sanford Seeks Projects Okay

The City of Sanford last night officially requested the U. S. Post Office Department to construct a new post office "at a site recommended by city officials."

A resolution adopted at last night's meeting of the City Commission said that "traffic has been increased greatly and a new site is needed to relieve the congestion."

Sanford To Start Street Repairing; Projects Listed

The Sanford City Commission last night approved the start of a city-wide street resurfacing program, estimated to cost about $60,000.

Only about one-half of the program can be carried out this year because of limited funds, City Manager W. E. (Pat) Knowles told the Commission. Included in the program authorized last night are 15 projects.

Knowles said the city needs to start "at the north end and move south, throughout our paving system." Many of the streets included in the first part of the program were paved about 25 years ago, Knowles added.

Commissioners agreed that many of the streets are in such a bad state of repair that the city is in danger of losing them.

Estimated cost of the 15 projects approved last night is $30,000.

Following are the streets scheduled for resurfacing in this program:

- Hosalla, Sanford to Melbourne, 2,800 feet at a cost of $5,381; Grandview, North 20th St. to Sanford, 650 feet, cost $1,210; Grandview, South Hillsides to Lilly, 400, $700; Hillsides Ct. 20th St. to Grandview, North, 250, $400; Sumnerline, RR Track to Celery, 1,300, $2,400; Paloma Ave. Hosalla to Locust, 1,000, $1,920; Sanford Ave., First to Blvd., 600, $1,704.

Girl Found Dead; Kidnaper Arrested

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (UPI)—Authorities said they would file first degree murder charges today against a mild mannered young cement plant carpenter who confessed the mutilation slaying of a pretty secretary he kidnaped from a lovers' lane near here Sunday.

Floyd J. Robertson, 24, the father of three young children, led authorities to the nearly nude body of the stenographer, Marjorie Schneider, 18, about 33 miles northwest of here Monday.

The body, clad only in a bra, sweater and blouse, was buried in a shallow grave beneath logs and rocks more than 400 feet up the side of an incline overlooking state Highway 14. Nearby was a camp, located on Cache la Poudre River in Roosevelt National Park.

Local Vegetable Growers Discuss Pre-Cool Plant

Vegetable growers of Seminole County and interested persons met last night at the courthouse to discuss the possibility of establishing a vacuum pre-cooling plant in the Sanford area. Erection of such a plant would bring the Sanford Farmer's Market, already one of the state's largest (unofficially ranking third), into competition with powerful out-of-state markets.

The vacuum pre-cooling plant would insure the freshness of such perishable vegetables as lettuce and celery by their destination. The vegetables are rolled into the chamber, where all air is removed. The process also removes some water from the tissues and all heat. In this way, quality is retained until the vegetable reaches its destination.

Seminole County Agent Cecil Tucker, who conducted the meeting, said that vegetable growers in the area are considering, primarily, lettuce and a high quality pack of cabbage. Tucker told the

Big Vote Expected In Seminole Today

The important state primary and senatorial race between Sen. Spessard Holland and former Sen. Claude Pepper was overshadowed today in Seminole County by interest in the school bond election.

Voting in the 16 Seminole County precincts was considered steady by noon today. Officials expected the crowds to start coming as the working day drew to a close.

registered freeholders will decide the bond election. Over half of them must vote to pass the issue.

Figures at noon from four of the local precincts revealed that 1,127 freeholders, 240 had voted on the school bond issue with 732 in the Democratic precinct 3 (East Sanford) with 200 voters, charged up the school bond issue with 732 voters, while only 620 voted in the primary precinct 10 (Lake Mary) reported over 100 voters in both categories. It has 902 freeholders (Precinct 10 (Sanford) proper), with 1,236 registered freeholders, reported 530 had voted on the school bonds by noon, and 314 in the primary. Precinct 15, with voting booths in the Sanford Armory, also contributed the first casualty of this election day. Mrs. James Lawson, 205 E. 10th St., fell on the steps of the armory and broke her arm. Mrs. Lawson was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital, where she will remain for several days, according to her husband. Incidentally, she had already voted.

The polls will remain open until 7 p. m. in Seminole County. R. T. Mjilwee, county school superintendent, reminded freeholders that "everyone must get out and vote if the bond issue is to go through."

In other parts of the state, voting was light until noon, when it picked up sharply around the State. Cloudy weather and scattered thunderstorms prevailed over the entire state before noon. The weather was not, however, expected to influence the voting.

U. S. Note Seeks Talks With China On Formosa Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today he does not believe there will be a war over the Formosa Strait Islands if the United States follows its firm policy.

At the same time he disclosed that the United States today sent a note to Red China saying that it is prepared to resume ambassadorial talks to solve their disputes. He said the United States is ready to begin talking in Warsaw at any time Red China is prepared.

Dulles told his news conference that if Red China renounces the use of force in the Formosa area, the Chinese Communist action could lead to what he termed further consequences. He refused to spell those out.

Dulles made that intriguing comment when he was asked whether the United States was prepared to negotiate with Red China on the future of the Quemoy and Matsu Islands if the Peiping regime agreed to renounce force in the Formosa area. He began his answer by saying the United States is in no position to negotiate on the future of territory held by an ally, Nationalist China.

Concrete action hinted. But then he continued in a vein that might hint at some U.S. concessions. He said Red China's agreement to give up use of force, if it came, would be a constructive new element that might have further consequences.

A reporter asked whether Dulles meant the United States might recommend that Nationalist China evacuate Quemoy and Matsu. Dulles again said he did not intend to spell out what he had in mind. He said one reason is that his ideas might have consequences involving the rights of Nationalist China.

Women Hold Phone As Parents Plead; Young Baby Dies

FRANKLIN LAKES, N.J. (UPI)—Burial services will be held today for a five-month-old boy whose death was blamed on two talkative women who stubbornly refused to give up a party-line when the child's parents tried to call an ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown said they pleaded with party-liners four times Saturday morning to let them make a call to Paterson to get an ambulance and oxygen for their son, Robert Jr.

The boy died in the arms of his 18-year-old mother, Beverly, as she carried him into Paterson General Hospital after a wild, 90-mile-an-hour ride, Brown said.

Brown said he made the trip in desperation because Robert had turned "purple from lack of oxygen."

Incidentally, Police Chief Arthur W. Pickering, who lives across the street from the Browns, said he had a two-hour emergency supply of oxygen in the borough police car parked near his home. But the Browns didn't know it.

Pickering said he "now knows the name" of the other three parties on the Browns' telephone line and was gathering "other information."

Brown said his son was a cardiac case. He said that when Robert began gasping for breath he pleaded with persons using the telephone party line to hang up.

"I kept hollering, 'Please get off the line. This is an emergency,'" Brown said. "I kept telling them my baby was very sick but they kept right on talking." He said one of the women told him she wished he would get off the line.

Night Flying Important Training For Pilots At Naval Air Station

Night flying at the Sanford Naval Air Station has disturbed the sleep of some local citizens. It also has disturbed the sleep of some of the pilots who are getting ready to leave the U. S.

The average person, awakened from sound slumber by the roar of a jet, would be somewhat unhappy. The immediate reaction is natural. One wonders why the heck they can't fly those things in the daytime and let a hard-working man get his sleep.

Personnel at the Station, of course, know this. We are sure too, that the pilots, maintenance men and others on the flight line would prefer to be at home in bed.

Capt. L. A. Arthur, commanding officer of the Station, and others have issued public apologies to the people of this area. Capt. Arthur's statements were informative.

Quiz Shows In Spotlight

Even if charges of wrongdoing on some of the television quiz shows do not stick, there is a good chance that such shows may be entering a period of decline. Worse things would happen.

Question and answer programs of various kinds have been riding high for some time. Audiences enjoy the display of knowledge, as long as it is dispensed in small, easily digestible fragments. Viewers like to identify themselves with the contestants, suffering with them as the answers are dredged from memory, sharing their triumphs at payoff time. Any suspicion of trickery removes some of the bloom from the peach, however, and that may not be a bad thing.

Some of the quiz shows are so superficial that they insult intelligence. All of them foster, in varying degree, the false notion that a retentive memory is a substitute for wisdom and understanding. The nation's cultural climate would be improved if there were fewer quiz shows and more programs which point up differences between the man who wisely uses his knowledge and the man who resembles Alexander Pope's "bookful blockhead, ignorantly read, with loads of learned lumber in his head."

Science Is Solving Strange Riddle

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—After about 140 years of trying, science seems to be solving the strange riddle in the disease called "tobacco amblyopia."

When you have that disease your vision gets dim and dimmer. Yet no cause for it can be found in the eyes. And if you have it, you're a smoker. Non-smokers don't have it.

But only a relatively few smokers get it, and they may be light smokers who haven't been smoking for long. On the other hand, the vast numbers of the heaviest smokers never show a trace of "tobacco amblyopia."

That's been the big riddle and scores of medical scientists have been trying to make something of it since 1817 when the first case of it was described and studied scientifically. In this century, another riddle has been added to that one. Women took to smoking in vast numbers, yet women rarely show up with "tobacco amblyopia." Why shouldn't they be as often affected as men?

Science Finds Answer
Now, in 1958, science has what appear to be the answers. Tobacco definitely is not the cause of the disease. But it can be the trigger. The cause is a deficiency of vitamin B-12 in body chemistry. That deficiency makes the retina of the eyes or the optic nerves sensitive to tobacco.

But the thin, light smoke of cigarettes isn't enough to trigger this gun usually; it takes the stronger, heavier smoke of pipes and cigars. A woman with a cigaret between her lips is no unusual sight, but you rarely see a woman smoking a cigar or a pipe. These answers were obtained by three scientists of the University of Bristol, England, from 14 men who were proved by test to have "tobacco amblyopia." That is an important point because dimming of vision can be brought about by many other conditions.

Dr. J. M. Hoaton, A. J. A. M. Cornick, and A. G. Freeman, reporting to the technical journal, The Lancet, suggested "tobacco amblyopia" was a way-station on the road to pernicious anemia. In some of their patients, it was the only clear outward sign of B-12 deficiency.

Vitamin B-12 or "cyanocobalamin" is a relatively new vitamin—in point of discovery. It is essential for the proper function of

TODAY'S THOUGHT
"The heroes are those who do the things that the world and the future think they should do."

ROADS OF DESTINY

Conning The News

Excitement is rampant in the air today, as eager politicians try to edge out their woody supporters or maligners for one last promise before it is too late. Tonight we will know if our children will attend school all day next year, or if they will be in double session as so many already are at Pinckney. For heaven's sake if you haven't voted, run to your precinct polling place and cast your ballot, at least in favor of the school bond issue. As far as politicians are concerned, it was difficult to find out where any of them stand, since members of the audience in recent rallies tried to do most of the talking. However, by this time, most of us know for whom we will vote—if we have not already.

Your reporter arrived in Sanford Thursday, after a long trip from Boothbay Harbor, Me. Traveling with five children in a car is rarely a treat. It would be easy for me to write a book on how to make things more pleasant, but I doubt if I would ever take my own advice. Instead of conversation, my mumblyings degenerated to a word of one syllable—"No." With proper emphasis, of course.

Someone yelled every time there was an important turn off in the road, so naturally half my mileage was spent going in the wrong direction. The longest part of the trip turned out to be the last hundred miles when we couldn't get home fast enough. And it is really wonderful to be back. This town has something that is not found anywhere else. Heard about this in Maine, Rhode Island and other parts of call. When Sanford was mentioned those who had been through here said, "Oh that's the place where everyone is so friendly." That commodity came to mind before bathing suits, fishing, oranges or celery. May be unmarketable, but there is no denying that it's nice. And so now I'm back at my desk at The Sanford Herald—a different desk to be sure—with a different set of orders. From now on your former society editor will write local news and feature stories. This is a deal that makes me completely happy, and we hope will satisfy you yen for hometown news. And if it doesn't, let us know. Letters to the editor are great little items and sometimes work wonders. Phone calls with tip-offs on hot stories are just about the best thing in the world to reporters.

Somewhat I feel too good to tear anyone or anything apart. Things that were nice to come home to—John Krider pleased as punch about the winning of the reappraisal battle—the completion of the French Ave. extension to the south of Sanford—Cliff McKibbin shouting "Now things will be back to normal with you in town", Mac and Fanchon McRoberts building a swimming pool—the Sanford Police Department getting a new radio system, as well as leather jackets while the mercury stands at 93—Harriet Williams with the key to my house in her pocket—Tot and John Fitzpatrick's new house across the street—Chief Mack Cleveland pushing a cart in the grocery store—It's September, Bob will be home next month and all's well with the world.

TOWN'S REVENUE LOST

Dental Bureau Planning Florida Fluoride Survey

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state Board of Health's Dental Bureau will conduct surveys in four Florida cities this year to determine the effect of water fluoridation on the teeth of school children.

The checks will be made within the next few months in Greater Miami, Gainesville, Clewiston and Naples.

The fluorides are added to water to retard tooth decay. And state health officials, after studies and public hearings in 1949 and 1956, reported that the chemicals markedly reduce tooth decay.

However, there has been a strong battle by some groups to ban the fluorides. They claim it is harmful to health.

Public health officials and dentists say this isn't so. They say the effectiveness and safety of fluoridation have been so well proven it is no longer considered an experiment.

Gainesville added fluoride to its water supply in 1945. Clewiston and Naples initiated their programs in 1951 and Miami followed a year later.

Dr. Floyd H. DeCamp, director of the Dental Bureau, said the schedule for the surveys has not been made yet. But he said the board planned to examine 2,000 children in Miami alone, "which is a large enough statistical sample to build."

DeCamp said there are now over 1,044 communities in the United States with a population of 32,418,719 using fluoridated drinking water. There are 44 communities in Florida with a population of 825,968 using water with "about the correct amount of fluoride."

DeCamp said this means about one person in four in the state is drinking fluoride water.

He said a survey of the Jacksonville area, which has natural fluoride in its water supply, showed that 45 per cent of the children examined had never experienced dental decay in their permanent teeth nor had their teeth filled.

"The results in other areas not having natural fluoride or fluoridation showed approximately 55 per cent of all children had experienced fillings, dental decay and had lost permanent teeth," DeCamp said.

Girls' State Delegates Tell Experiences

Three girls who attended Girl's State in Tallahassee (July 12-19) were the special guests of Campbell Loring Unit 33 at their meeting Friday night.

Miss Peggy Westgate, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Miss Lynda Yeackle, sponsored by the Pilot's Club, and Miss Audrey Bolger, sponsored by Anna Miller Circle, told of their experiences at the State Capital.

The girls spoke of receiving instructions in bill preparation, the importance of nominating state officer, the political rallies, and the elections held, as well as details concerning their visit to the home of the ESU president the Capitol Building, and the Governor's Mansion.

They emphasized that the week at Girl's State helped them understand our government. One of the girls stated, "This is the greatest experience I've had and I'm sure it will help make me a better citizen."

A business meeting presided over by Mrs. Dorothy Webster, president, followed. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to the 25 members present.

Pocketbook, Not Appetite Decides Meats To Buy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women buy meat according to the pocketbook, not the appetite, says the Agriculture Department.

We buy more expensive cuts of beef or pork and larger amounts of veal or lamb if the budget is larger, an Agricultural Marketing Service report showed.

The effect of income on choices of meat was determined in a survey of food consumption by households in all parts of the United States.

Total meat consumption also is related to family income level, the survey showed. The relationship was marked most sharply in the South.

No matter what the income, most families tend to eat less pork than beef. The amount of pork consumed varies in each part of the country. In the South and North Central states, families eat more lamb. Slicing and boiling beef is most popular with low income families. Ham has lost favor with the wealthy, and ground beef is popular in all income levels.

Coming To Florida, World Follows Sun

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veterans' realtor John C. Tyson is convinced the world is "chasing the sun."

"Take a look at the moving patterns of families in the last few years," said Tyson. "They are going from north to south, from New England to Florida from Minnesota and the Dakotas to California and Arizona, even to the Mediterranean coast and Mexico. Industry is doing the same. It seems to me the whole world is chasing the sun."

Tyson, in the real estate business for 22 years, gives two basic reasons for the population shift: health and money.

"World War II put a lot of people in training," he explained. "Military men got used to discipline, most camps were in warm climates. They went back when they got the war over with their wives, found their husbands and found how wonderful it is to have children go through a winter without wet feet and those ghastly snow suits."

No Heating Bills
"Families found how much money is saved when they have no bills for heating, no basement is needed, less clothing to buy."

"There has become an almost absolute worship of the sun. And to think that 50 years ago a woman wouldn't be caught out without her parasol!"

Tyson keeps tabs on moving trends through Preview, an international clearing house for real estate. He has been its president since 1950. Through the years, the unique organization has sold everything from cottages in the suburbs to castles on the Blue Islands. Currently, Tyson is trying to get rid of a little old country ranch at Elko, Nev. It is the most expensive individual property he ever has listed — available for 3 million dollars.

In an interview, the realtor told the prospective home owner that the find good buys in almost any part of the country — if he looks long enough. But readily available and classed as "best value" are properties in northern parts of the United States.

Spain Has Bargains
"Or, in Spain, he added, "Spain has the great bargains of the century, because it is 30 years behind the rest of Europe."

Tyson hinted it's a wise family which invests in a property in the south and can wait for its value to increase. He explained that real estate preferences, like fashion tastes, run in cycles.

"In another decade or so, people will get fed up with the ard and the hub. They will remember and long for the lush greens," he said. "The New England farm house will become popular again."

"And there's one thing about an older property. You can build anything you want in the way of a new house, but you can't produce a 100-year-old oak to go with it."

Little boys look like "gentlemen sportsmen" New styles for the small fry include rugged tweed jackets, classic flannels, sports shirts and sleeveless "vest" sweaters.

Tea Set At Center

A formal tea will be given September 11 at the Sanford Civic Center by the SNAS Officer's Wives Club. Officer's wives are invited to attend and may bring guests. VAW-11 wives will act as hostesses for the event. Hours for the tea are from 2 to 4 in the afternoon.

Final plans for the tea were made recently when the executive board met at the home of the president, Mrs. D. E. Brubaker. A representative from the Dale Carnegie School in Orlando attended the meeting, and gave a brief description of the courses offered.

The board voted to sponsor a course in Sanford for all interested Navy personnel, dependents and civilians. An explanation meeting will be held September 29 at 8 p. m. at the Civic Center. Doors will open at 7:30 p. m. There will be an attendance prise. A cancer film will be shown at the base movie for all dependents and base civilian wives on September 21 and 23 at 10:00 a. m.

2nd Place Showdown Slated

By TIM MORTARTY
United Press International
If the war is over in the major league races, somebody forgot to tell the second-line troops.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, for instance, aren't given much of a chance of catching Milwaukee in the National League but they'd still like a cut of that second-place money. So would the San Francisco Giants.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox and the Boston Red Sox gave up the pennant almost long ago. But they're waging a close struggle to determine who winds up in the runner-up spot behind the Yankees.

COMING THROUGH . . . By Alan Mauer

HE'S BEEN REMAINING THE PIRATES' LEFT FIELDER FOR SEVERAL YEARS. UP TO THIS YEAR, BOB HAD BEEN A PUNCH HITTER AND INFIELD-OUTFIELD FULLER-IN. THIS YEAR HE'S EVEN BEEN AN ALL-STAR GAME STARTER AND RECENTLY BECAME STAR TO HIT HOMER AND FITT'S RIGHT-FIELD ADD.

Oregon State, Huskies Big Pacific Coast Teams

BY SCOTT BAILLIE
United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Oregon State and Washington State, who got stronger as the Pacific Coast Conference grew weaker, shape up as the class of the doomed league which launches its final football season on Sept. 20.

Tailback Joe Francis is long gone from Oregon State but coach Tommy Prothro has welcomed back two speed-burners named Earnal Durden and Paul Lewis. Lewis had to sit out a year because of scholastic troubles. Both are tremendous runners. Durden seems a clutch to retain his half-back job while Lewis handles the tricky tailback post in Prothro's plenty of experience up front headed by tackle Ted Hates.

At Pullman, Wash., however, the Cougar backers think coach Jim Sutherland finally has arrived after two years of huddling. Quarterback Bob Newman, who ranked second last year among the nation's passers, is on hand again with veteran ends Don Ellingsen and Jack Fanning. Sutherland is playing it easy but insiders say the Cougars may return to the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1931 if their defenses don't break down.

Beat On Crusade
UCLA always has been tough, even if crippled because of conference penalties, and the Bruins are expected to go on a crusade this season in memory of the late Red Sanders. George Dickerson, who learned the balanced-line, single-wing attack during 12 years on Sanders' staff, has 27 lettersmen to work with. Dick Wilson, Don Long and Chuck Kendall give him good depth among the tailbacks. Dick Wallen, a sensational end last year, also has returned and Dickerson expects a lot from Jim Steffan at left half. Wallen is among the eight Bruin seniors who are limited to only five consecutive games this season as a final echo of the 1958 scandal.

Oregon, the lowly Ducks who held mighty Ohio State to a 10-7 triumph in the Rose Bowl last year, can't return because of the no-repeat rule but still looks rough. Coach Len Casanova is stacked with a veteran line although he has lost such stalwarts as halfback Jim Shanley, quarterback Jack Crabtree and all-purpose man Jack Morris.

Others Are Lacking
The other five clubs—with the exception of outmanned Idaho—may have to scurry around for the leavings. California and Southern California will seek to bounce back from disastrous seasons with their coaches. Stanford has a new boss in Jack Curtice but nothing spectacular in the way of quarterbacks which are needed to spark his wide-open football. Coach Jim Owens at Washington says the Huskies will be "more interesting" this year.

Pete Elliott, California's youthful coach, will have Joe Kepp available again for the quarter-back job. Guy Gianulis, who throws a long pass but was out last year with injuries, joins as Kepp's biggest rival to run the split-T. Pete Demoto, Hank Ogden and Jack Hart give Elliott speed and experience in the backfield.

Needs Quarterback
Curtice checked in at Stanford just as Jack Douglas, last year's Pitt Brer Kaysa key and tennis racket. Bob Nicolet, a good thrower but uncertain signal-caller, figures as a top candidate for the vacancy. Little Sid Garber averages a chance and has looked good on the option plays. There also competition among veterans for backfield jobs but where they'll end up is anybody's guess—just like one of Curtice's razor-sharp plays. The Indians have power and experience up front.

Idaho, which had a surprising season last year, is minus 11 lettersmen and generally tabbed for last place.

College of the Pacific, the coast's top independent, has Dick Hase on hand for another season. He missed much of the first two because of injuries. Coach Jack Myers only has about 10 minutes worth of varsity experience at quarterback and is banking heavily on sophomores Herm Urenda.

Coach Bob Titchenal of San Jose State thinks a flock of Junior Transfers, headed by end Clarion Appleton, will improve last year's showing. The line is 100 per cent better, Titchenal declares.

Play Final Series
Starting tonight, the Red Sox and the White Sox tangle in a final three-game series at Chicago, with the White Sox holding a narrow one-half game margin.

This series is so important to the Red Sox, who are shooting for their highest finish in nine years, that Ted Williams plans to swing back into action for the first time since Aug. 25 when he was sidelined with a heavy cold. The 40-year-old slugger may not be in tonight's starting lineup but he will be ready for pinch-hit duty.

The Pirates haven't finished as high as second in the National League since 1944. However, they opened a 3 game bulge over the third-place Giants by knocking off the Cincinnati Redlegs, 4-1, in Monday's only major league action. Now they're ready for the Giants, who invade Pittsburgh for the final time starting tonight.

Resume Uncompleted Game
Prior to tonight's contest, Pittsburgh and San Francisco will resume their uncompleted game of July 27, which was interrupted in the eighth inning with the score tied 3-3. A double victory for the Pirates would just about clinch the runner-up spot.

Curt Raydon and Don Gross cooled off the Redlegs Monday night by collaborating on a four-hit pitching job. Gross took over in the seventh inning when Cincinnati loaded the bases with none out. He induced pinch-hitter Walt Dropo to hit into a double play, allowing one run to score and then retired Johnny Temple on a pop fly.

Roberto Clemente of the Pirates equalled a major league record by hanging out three consecutive triples. It was only Cincinnati's third defeat in their last 15 games.

Player Of The Day
United Press International
—ROBERTO CLEMENTE—
Not very many top-flight players have come into the major leagues via the annual player draft from the minors, but mark down outfielder Roberto (Bob) Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates as one draftee who made good.

The Pirates picked up Clemente from the Brooklyn Dodgers' Montreal farm team after the 1951 season, paying only the $4,000 player draft price.

Actually, it was a mistake on the Dodgers' part. Clemente had batted only .257 for Montreal in '51 and the Dodgers figured he wouldn't be picked in the draft, so they failed to "protect" him.

The Puerto Rican outfielder has since become a fixture in the blue gardens where his steady hitting and clutch fielding have made him popular. His latest feat came Monday night when he whacked three triples—a real tribute to his speed—in the Pirates' 4-1 win over Cincinnati.

Three triples in one game equalled the modern major league record.

Moving Franchises Will Be Discussed

CHICAGO (UPI)—Major League club owners met in joint session to discuss a host of things but it appeared their out-of-meeting talk would center on something said Monday.

It was Monday that the American League announced Edwin Griffith had no immediate plans to move his Washington Senators to Minneapolis or any other city.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said the joint meeting was designed primarily to acquaint owners with a number of topics which might come up for a vote at a later date.

High on the agenda were the matters of bonuses, legislation governing sports under anti-trust laws, and minor league relations.

Among the minor league problems were included realignment of franchises, the minor league fund, and broadcasting-telecasting rights.

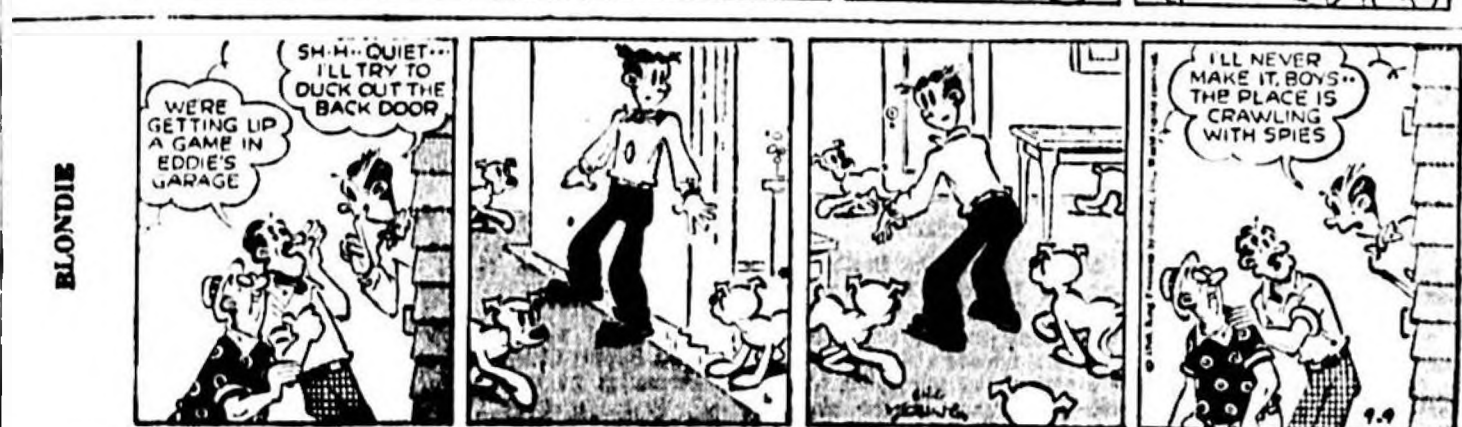

Another key topic for review was the proposed earlier season opening dates for both major leagues.

National League club owners Friday adopted a 1959 schedule with an April 10 opening date, four days earlier than this season. The American League was expected to follow suit.

The season thus would officially begin April 9 with pre-opening games at Washington and Cincinnati.

Cleveland Indians General Manager Frank Lane said most of the American League's meeting Monday was spent discussing the bonus rule—or the lack of one.

"We definitely could use a good, and enforceable bonus rule," Lane said. "We spent quite some time discussing the stupidity of the bonus situation as it now stands."

Series Tickets Being Printed
 CHICAGO (UPI)—The New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves, experienced hands at the printing, today cranked up the printing presses for 1958 World Series tickets.
 Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick gave the Yankees and Braves ticket authority Monday. He said if any other clubs suddenly boom as contenders they, too, will be allowed to run off tickets.
 The commissioner's office, however, is committed to food the bill for all tickets printed by any club that doesn't wind up in the series. It thus grants printing permission only to apparent pennant winners.
 The 1958 series will open at the park of the National League pennant winner on Wednesday, Oct. 1. The second game will be Thursday.

France Clamps Down On Algerian Rebs

PARIS (UPI)—The government imposed new and tougher police measures today to combat a growing wave of terrorism by Algerian nationalist underground agents in France.

The new measures followed a fresh outbreak of Muslim nationalist shootings and sabotage attempts over the weekend that included the slaying of two French soldiers on the streets of Paris. Gummies from the Algerian underground (FLN) also opened fire Monday night on a big state-owned electric generating plant just outside Lyons and a gasoline supply depot at Marseilles.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International
WITH U. S. 7TH FLEET—Rear Adm. Paul Blackburn, commander of the U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Strait Patrol, warning American ships will retaliate if hit by Communist guns:
 "They are authorized to throw everything but the kitchen sink."

WASHINGTON—Civil Defense Administrator Leo Hoegh, urging Americans to build their own air raid shelters:
 "The people must recognize they have a responsibility."

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—Mary Ann Mobley, 21, of Brandon, Miss., Miss America of 1959:
 "I used to be the biggest tom-boy you've ever seen."

RELFEST, Maine—Mrs. Michael Rutigliano, witness to a hotel fire in which six persons perished:
 "It was the worst thing I have ever seen. The woman who was trapped kept screaming, 'Help... Help... Please, help me. Help. Please, somebody help me!'"

The FLN's campaign of terrorism on the mainland already has brought such strict security measures as the day and night guarding of gasoline dumps by combat-armed soldiers, massive identity checks of North Africans in Paris and an unofficial curfew for Algerians in the French capital.

Informed sources said these new steps have now been ordered or are in the making:
 —Top ranking police officials will be transferred from areas where there are no Algerians to temporary duty to Paris and other key cities.
 —French army officers and non-commissioned officers may soon be authorized to carry sidearms when off duty and in uniform to protect themselves against FLN gunmen.

—North African dock workers, of which there are many in France, may shortly be barred from work in the major ports.
 —Tight security measures at all commercial airports, especially those with airlines flying between France and North Africa.

MISS AMERICA 1959—A smile of victory flashes across the lovely face of Miss America of 1959, 21-year-old Mary Ann Mobley, of Brandon, Miss. Mary Ann, posing on the famous boardwalk at Atlantic City, N. J., beat out 51 other beauties for the crown. She now goes ahead with her year-long reign which will bring her more than $50,000 in scholarships and prizes. (UPI Telephoto)

Dag Finishes Talks In Jordan, Leaves For Lebanon Today

AMMAN (UPI)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold winds up his talks with Jordanian leaders today and flies to Lebanon for the closing phase of his Middle Eastern peace mission.

Hammarskjold and Jordanian leaders are scheduled to issue a joint communique before he leaves for Beirut. Hammarskjold returns to Cairo Wednesday for final talks with United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser before returning to New York.

The U.N. chief presented to Jordan's King Hussein and other officials in Amman the peace conditions Nasser outlined on Hammarskjold's previous visit to Cairo, informed sources said. Hammarskjold is seeking to obtain agreement on ways to put into effect a U.N.-approved Arab resolution to stabilize the Middle East with its dangerous rivalries and enable withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon and of British troops from Jordan.

Unless Nasser's peace conditions include concrete guarantees for Jordan's independence, Jordan will not budge from its demand that British troops remain in the country as a protective measure. It was understood Hammarskjold's mission would be considered a failure unless Jordan can feel safe with the guarantees given by Nasser, who is pressing for Anglo-American withdrawals.

Police Shoot Man Attempting Swindle

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 28-year-old man was shot and wounded Monday when police sought to arrest him on a charge of trying to swindle a $30,000 house from the television quiz "The Price Is Right."

Gerard Mignone, who police said ran away when they came to arrest him, was reported in good condition today at Kings County Hospital. He was struck in the cheek by a ricocheting bullet, fired as a warning to stop.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bernard Patten said the Brooklyn man laid the groundwork of his plot to "win" a house offered on the program early last month.

Viewers were told to mail in postcards by Aug. 29 with an estimate of the value of the house. Patten said Mignone mailed several cards to himself on Aug. 26 to get legitimate postmarks on them.

After the deadline, master of ceremonies Bill Cullen announced on the air the price of the house was $30,000. Mignone was said to have erased his name from two of his cards, re-addressed them to the program with his "guesses" of $2,000.00 and $20,200.00.

Mignone was said to have approached two teen-age employees of Radioland Mail Service, Inc., which handles mail for the program, and offered to give them $3,000 to slip the doctored cards into the bags of legitimate mail. The mallroom employees reported the offer to their boss, and the district attorney's office was brought into the case.

Prisons To Ban Solitary Confinement

By BARBARA FRYE
United Press International
TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida prison officials were under orders today to destroy the long-used solitary confinement "sweat boxes" for troublemakers at the state's 36 convict road camps.

Road Chairman Joe Grotegut said Monday the primitive cells would be replaced by modern custody cells in which unruly convicts will be held until they can be returned to the state prison at Raiford.

Grotegut said he issued the order because the problem prisoners now can be handled "by other means."

Grotegut, who became road chairman in June after serving as assistant to Gov. LeRoy Collins, acted after a newspaper (the Tampa Tribune) disclosed that a teen-age convict at the Moore Haven Road Camp was held in a sweat box for 26 days and nights.

The sweat boxes are about three feet wide and six feet long and are ventilated by holes at the top. Long enough for most to stretch out in, the cells have no water or toilet facilities.

Grotegut did not criticize the handling of unruly prisoners in the past. He said prison authorities have done the best they could with the facilities they had available.

"However, we have reached the point where disciplinary problems in the road prisons can be handled by means other than solitary confinement cells which may be described as sweat boxes," Grotegut said. He added he had the approval of Collins and state Penal Director R. O. Culver in ordering the cells destroyed.

He said he and Collins had believed the sweat boxes were abandoned two years ago. The state will pay about $80,000, or about $2,000 each, for the new detention cells, Grotegut said.

Grotegut said it was necessary to maintain discipline "efficiently and humanely without resort to outmoded methods," and that if an unruly prisoner is found working with a road crew he will be returned promptly to Raiford. "I am satisfied the steps to be taken throughout the system will minimize such troubles in the future," he said.

School Bonds Approved; Gatchel, Dunn Winners

Seminole Will Get Funds Needed For New Construction

Seminole County voters yesterday gave overwhelming approval to a $3,200,000 school bond issue.

VERNON W. DUNN

DAVID GATCHEL

A total of 9,430 freeholders cast ballots in the election. The official canvass today revealed that 3,823 voted for the bonds, 607 against them. A total vote of 4,437 was needed for a valid election.

R. T. Milwee, county superintendent, today expressed "sincere appreciation on behalf of the county school system and myself" for passage of the issue.

"With adequate facilities, we will be in a position to provide the best education possible for our children," Milwee said.

The bond issue will make possible construction and renovation of 18 schools. The money will be used to build a new senior high school in Sanford, new elementary schools in Southwest Sanford, Casselberry and Longwood.

Additional classrooms, facilities and renovations will modernize Sanford Junior High (present school in Longwood, Lake Mary School, Ovidio High School, Cromas Academy, Midway Elementary School, Rosenwald School, Ovidio Elementary, Sanford Grammar, Southside Primary, Sandif West Side Primary, Geneva Elementary, Lake Monroe Elementary and Wilson Elementary.

MIAMI (UPI)—A strong stand for segregation carried Sen. Spessard Holland to a thumping Florida Democratic primary victory today over Claude Pepper, seeking a return to the U.S. Senate as a "Dixie liberal."

Returns from 1,870 of the state's 1,888 precincts gave Holland 399,427 votes to 315,605 for Pepper. The primary landslide by more than 80,000 votes assured the whitehead, 66-year-old Holland, a staunch member of the South's conservative congressional bloc.

Holland's victory came at the end of a strenuous campaign that ranged the full 700-mile length of Florida and cost the two candidates a total of more than $500,000. Pepper admitted that Holland's appeals to segregationists and his charges that Pepper had been "quibbled" toward communism while in the Senate were the telling blows in the race.

Dunn captured a five-vote margin in the Paola box, first to report, but then trailed Dodd until the 15th of the 16 precincts reported. In Fern Park, Dunn got 239, Dodd 240. Tall grass, Dunn's nine-vote lead with Bear Lake still out.

Pepper had counted heavily on big population centers and particularly in the western "panhandle" but he completed a sizable margin only in the Miami area where Duval County voters—more than 50,000 less than expected—gave him a 21,300 majority.

Holland's home stamping grounds of Central Florida gave him a rousing runoff. Polk County cast a 7,500-vote margin for the winner and Orange (Orlando) went for Holland 3-1 by 11,900 votes.

Cleveland Scores Smashing Victory In Reelection Bid

Two veteran members of the Seminole County Commission yesterday failed in their bids for fourth terms. The only other incumbent with opposition in the primary election swept every box in the county to win handily.

R. C. Dodd and F. A. Dyson, both ending 12 years on the board, lost by narrow margins, but Mack Cleveland Jr. seeking his third term in the House of Representatives, piled up about a 4-1 margin over E. E. Brady, former member of the House and ex-sheriff of Seminole County.

Dodd was ousted by Vernon W. Dunn, a political newcomer, by 37 votes. Dyson lost to David Gatchel, former Sanford mayor and now a member of the City Commission, by 213 votes.

Cleveland took a substantial lead in early returns and was never in danger. His reelection was assured after he received 1,015 votes in one box and more than 1,300 in another.

The last three boxes to report turned the tide in favor of Dunn, who had trailed Dodd in early returns. The last three boxes to report, Longwood, Fern Park and Bear Lake, in that order, also assured Gatchel of victory.

Dunn captured a five-vote margin in the Paola box, first to report, but then trailed Dodd until the 15th of the 16 precincts reported. In Fern Park, Dunn got 239, Dodd 240. Tall grass, Dunn's nine-vote lead with Bear Lake still out.
