

THE SHIP BY WATER MEETING AT ORLANDO LAST NIGHT WAS GREAT

Delegates From Every Section of Central Florida Present ROUSING MEETING AND ONE THAT WILL MAKE HISTORY FOR FLORIDA IN THE FUTURE

The Ship-by-Water Campaign received a great big boost last night at the meeting held in the Orlando Chamber of Commerce building and attended by representatives from every trade body within a radius of 100 miles and even as far as Palatka on the north. The Chamber of Commerce rooms were filled at the hour appointed for the meeting and it was a most enthusiastic crowd that greeted Geo. W. Knight, president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, when he was made chairman of the meeting and rose to address them on the object of the meeting. Col. Knight has his heart in this great movement and he impressed his hearers last night with the earnestness of his convictions. He called upon the representatives of the various communities represented and there were many very able and interesting talks made and the statistics were given by Messrs. Sligh, Skelley, Marlowe and many others of the traffic experts who had made these figures from the actual facts as they were presented. It showed that millions have been lost to the growers of the state by the exorbitant freight rates as against the water rates and after many of the business men present had expressed themselves on the subject it was decided that the delegates present would hold a meeting and perfect a permanent organization. There was not a dissenting voice at the meeting and Messrs. White and Scoble, of the Clyde Line, who were present, gave those present to understand that they fully appreciated the efforts being made to ship by water, that the movement was already being felt, that they would put on extra steamers and would use the ventilator system on the ocean steamers and if necessary would use the, precooling system that would absolutely insure the safe carrying of perishables. As Mr. Daetwyler, one of the big Orlando shippers truthfully said "the boats could offer even a better service than the trains for the refrigerator cars lacked a lot of being perfect with their poor being and poor service while the steamers could guarantee a better ventilator service and a temperature of 32 degrees which would insure against decay of oranges."

In fact it was the consensus of opinion of those present that where any community could get to water that it would be to their advantage to ship by water and where any cities or towns were any distance from the water they could truck to Sanford and still save money in freight rates. It was made apparent by Secretary Hart of the Palatka Chamber of Commerce that the ship by water idea was the right move but he stressed the fact that if the move was started the people should continue to stand by the Clyde Line or any other river line that would help them to reduce the freight rates and not go back to the railroads once they started coming down on the rates. In other words, if the ship-by-water move is good now it should continue to be good even if the railroads drop their prices in the effort to stem the tide. It means that the shippers should stand by the water rate regardless and put their faith and their money into this great movement. If the spirit of the meeting is any criterion the people intend to patronize the Clyde Line in the future every time they can do so and it is almost certain that from this time forward the Clyde Line will be able to put on a daily boat all the year round and refrigeration service from Jacksonville north for the fruits and vegetables. One manager of a truck line between Sanford and Orlando present at the meeting when it was found that Mt. Dora would have to send their stuff to Sanford offered to put on a truck line from Mt. Dora to Sanford, which shows that people are becoming aroused to the fact that the St.

WILL FIGHT FOR STATE ROADS SAY DELEGATES

TWO HUNDRED MET AT GAINESVILLE AND WANT ROAD NO. 2

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 14.—There were approximately two hundred delegates present from Lake, Columbia, Orange, Marion and Hamilton counties to meet with more than one hundred citizens of Alachua county in the convention in Gainesville last night in the interest of State Road No. 2. The gathering criticized the state highway commission in no uncertain terms and repeatedly expressed its intention of using political weapons to achieve its desired ends should more peaceful means fail. The convention adopted resolutions calling on the road department to immediately concentrate its efforts in this section to construction of the road. A committee of prominent citizens from Marion, Orange, DeSoto, Hamilton, Columbia, Lake and Alachua counties was appointed to carry copies of the resolutions to the state highway commission and to Governor Hardee some time this week.

Johns river offers a solution to their troubles if they will only use the river now and forever for the more traffic is given to river lines the larger and better service will be given by the government, the inland waterways and all other forces that will combine to make the river traffic what it should be. At the later meeting the following were elected as a committee to start the propaganda and to look after the permanent organization, to draft the by-laws and report at the next meeting which will be held in Orlando on September 27th: Committee Chosen to Draw Up By-Laws George W. Knight, of Sanford, chairman; J. W. Hart, Palatka; E. E. Truskett, Mount Dora; W. M. Taryl, Orlando, and A. P. Connelley, Sanford, who will draw up by-laws and choose a name for an organization to carry on the fight to line up the shippers of Florida on the "ship by water" movement to combat the excessive freight rates of the railroads. Those attending the meeting from Sanford were: George W. Knight, Secretary Pearman, A. P. Connelley, E. T. Woodruff, D. C. Marlowe, R. J. Holly and J. G. Ball.

Novel Airplane With Folding Wings

An airplane whose outstanding features are its folding wings—the invention of G. Edward Barnhardt—recently made a successful flight over Los Angeles, Cal. In the opinion of Secretary Wagner of the Aero Club of Southern California the invention is the nearest approach to a solution for the problems of commercial flying. The plane is equipped with twin motors, either one of which is sufficient to keep the plane traveling at a moderate pace. The folding wings permit the machine to be buckled back so that an automobile attached to the end of the fuselage may draw the airplane through streets or over rough roads.

TWO CHARGES ON FATTY ARBUCKLE WILL HOLD HIM IN JAIL FOR A WHILE

Death of Movie Actress Will Put Fat Comedy King in Bad

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Two charges today were placed against Arbuckle, in connection with the death of Miss Rappe. The San Francisco county grand jury late last night voted an indictment charging manslaughter but District Attorney Brady declared that the prosecution on murder complaint already under way in the Justice Court, would not be halted. The grand jury indictment goes directly to the superior court where it is returnable next Thursday. The murder complaint was sworn to Monday by Mrs. Bambino Belmont, a close friend of Miss Rappe. The grand jury's voting an indictment charging lesser offense than murder will not make Arbuckle eligible for bail at once, the district attorney declared.

Committee Voted to Amend Bill Retain Express Tax

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Retention for calendar year, 1922 of transportation taxes on freight and passenger and Pullman accommodations, but at one-half the present rate, was agreed upon today by the Senate Finance Committee. Committee voted to amend provision of house bill so as to retain full tax on express packages.

STOP PLANTING OF COTTON FOR YEAR; KILL BOLL WEEVIL

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—The complete abolition of cotton planting throughout the cotton belt by legislative action for one year, was advocated as the only sure method of ridding the South of the boll weevil, by Paul M. Potts, a planter of Natchitoches, La., in an address before the Louisiana and Mississippi divisions of the American Cotton division here yesterday in conjunction with the Interstate Farm Congress. W. B. Thomas, a leading cotton factor of New Orleans, spoke on the necessity for controlling acreage and developing a chain of bonded warehouses throughout the cotton belt.

APPOINTMENT AMBASSADORS IRISH PEACE

APPROVED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARLIAMENT TODAY

DUBLIN, Sept. 14.—The appointment of plenipotentiaries to the proposed conference at Inverness with the British representatives to discuss a settlement of the Irish question approved by the Irish Republican parliament today.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—An unexpected hitch has arisen in the Irish negotiations. Premier Lloyd George, who is at Gairloch, Scotland, yesterday received Harry Boland, secretary to Eamon DeValera, and Joseph McGrath, another Sinn Fein representative, according to an official communication issued last night and Boland and McGrath are returning to Dublin with the prime minister's explanation of certain points in the government's proposals for consideration of the Dail Eireann. It is said that Mr. DeValera's reply dealing with the charge of not accepting the invitation to a conference will not be delivered until Friday or Saturday. It is understood that the letter which Couriers McGrath and Boland bore to the prime minister asked for a fresh explanation respecting the British government's latest communication and that these points are of vital importance, necessitating the return of the couriers to Dublin for consultation with Mr. DeValera and his colleagues. Yesterday's conference lasted an hour or more, the delegates leaving immediately for Ireland. The new developments will delay the proposed conference between the government and the Irish plenipotentiaries September 20th, the date suggested by Mr. Lloyd George.

One Big Day With Old Fashioned Barbecue AND STREET DANCE

WILL BE ONE OF THE BIGGEST AND BEST GET-TOGETHER EVENTS OF SEASON

The Merchant's Gala Day on Thursday, September 20th, promises to be an event in the social life of Seminole county never before attempted. In this day of high prices and charges for everything—with the memories of war prices still lingering in our system—it is refreshing to hear that the merchants of Sanford will give their visitors to the city on the 20th something absolutely free. There will be free eats in the shape of a real old-fashioned barbecue, there will be a free show in the shape of a tournament riding and horse racing, there will be a free dance at night on the street with good band music and all of it absolutely free. This is one of the reasons why Sanford will be filled with people on Thursday, September 20th. It is something unheard of in the annals of good times and establishes a record among the cities of the state. We intend to get the people here and ask them for nothing except their presence. They will be given a grand afternoon and evening and we want them to come in the morning when they come, for the merchants of the city will keep their stores open all morning and will have special sales and special bargains for the visitors. Altogether the Merchants' Gala Day here on September 20th is simply a big getting together of the people of this section of Florida here in Sanford to get better acquainted, to spend a day with your friends and neighbors, to enjoy some good sports, to enjoy a good dinner out of doors, to enjoy the street dance at night and it is all yours just as free as the air. It is only one of the many stunts that Greater Sanford is pulling and intends to pull in the next twelve months. We want the people to know that Sanford is the greatest little town on the map and we want them to know that it is the natural trading center of this part of Florida and for that reason we are hosts to thousands and intend to be the hosts to many more as the season advances. We have so many things in common with the localities adjacent to us and we want to have you come to Sanford and talk it over and there is no time like the 20th of September to do this talking. Come to Sanford on the 20th. You will be made welcome. You will not be required to buy anything. We do want you to look over the wonderful lines that the merchants will have to show you that day and we do want you to come back again as soon as possible.

No Poor Farm Needed in Peerless, Pruneless Pinellas and Proves It

Says Poor Farm Invites Aged Dependents from Colder Climes

(By The Associated Press)
CLEARWATER, Sept. 15.—Revival in some quarters of agitation for a county poor farm for Pinellas county, has brought forth a vigorous protest from Mrs. Sarah Colton Smith, county probation officer. She takes the occasion of her monthly report for August to assert that no such public charge is needed and that the establishment of a poor farm would prove inviting to persons in other parts of the country who might take advantage of Pinellas county's benevolence to spend their declining days in a congenial climate.

"There may come a time in the development of Pinellas county when a poor farm will be a necessity," she says, "but for the present such an institution would only be a standing invitation to the aged dependents in colder climates to come here to spend their last days."

Reviewing the welfare work now carried on in the county, Mrs. Smith adds: "The strength of a nation lies largely in its homes, and poverty alone is never a reason for breaking up a home. Child welfare workers are agreed that even a poor home is a better place to rear a child than the best of institutions, and many states have laws forbidding caring for children in poor houses. We have eight names on our relief list each of whom have one or more children, and it would be nothing short of a crime to compel any one of these people to break home ties and enter an institution. 'Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home,' especially to the aged, and it would be most cruel—and much more expensive—to compel our nine aged people to exchange their humble firesides for a poor farm."

VETERANS BUREAU POLITICAL FIZZLE SAYS DR. EMERSON.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—Dr. Haven Emerson, medical adviser of the Veterans Bureau at Washington, charged in a speech before the Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis here last night that the newly organized veterans bureau was "being made the football of politics," and announced that he had tendered his resignation as medical adviser, effective September 15.

"Plumbers and blacksmiths," Dr. Emerson declared, "are being substituted for scientific medical men in the soldiers bureau at Washington," which he said had been taken away from the public health service and was being handled as a political organization, much after the fashion of Grand Army of the Republic politics. "Unnecessary salaries to the extent of $500,000 a year," Dr. Emerson declared, "are being distributed for political patronage. The public ought to know these facts."

His speech here last night was an indictment of the system in vogue relative to compensation and care of disabled veterans of the world war prior to the enactment of the Sweet act, passed last month. Dr. Emerson has been in the War Risk Insurance and Veterans' Bureau since November, 1920.

SPECIAL EXTENSION FEATURES IN SCHOOL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 13.—George M. Lynch, superintendent of the St. Petersburg schools, has just completed with the head of the extension division of the University of Florida for co-operation with the local high school in courses to be given during the school year.

The extension division has planned to send out at stated intervals special educational and literary motion picture films which will be shown at the auditorium. These programs will be supplemented with explanations and study when necessary. Classes in governmental study and history will be given two afternoons of each week for persons outside of the high school. The classes will be in charge of the high school teachers, and lecturers from the university who are specialists in civics and history, will come here to speak before the classes.

MRS. SPIKER DISAPPEARS.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13.—The romance of Mrs. Emiline Knowles Spiker, who created a sensation two years ago when, as the mother of Pearley Spiker's child, she came to America from England to wed his brother, Guy Spiker, is at an end. The child is at the home of the Pearley Spikers. The woman disappeared a few days ago leaving a note according to the husband, saying that she no longer cared to live with him.

109 VICTIMS OF THE FLOOD ARE FOUND

SAN ANTONIO IS RECOVERING AND NEEDS NO OUTSIDE HELP

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 13.—Despite the disastrous flood of Saturday which swept through San Antonio's business and residence district bringing death and great property loss, optimism reigned among city officials and civic organizations today.

Mayor O. B. Black declared that while the city had suffered one of the greatest catastrophes in its history, aid from the outside was not needed.

The number of houses swept away or damaged seriously on Alazan creek, in Saturday's flood was placed at 145 by newspapermen yesterday. It is estimated that probably fifty more dwellings were carried away or damaged beyond repair along San Antonio river, San Pedro and Martinez creeks. Many of the structures, especially along Alazan creek were small and poorly built.

The known death list here remains at forty-nine last night. Most of the dead have been buried. One family of seven was buried in one grave. Where more than one member of a family was drowned, one grave frequently was used.

Various civic organizations yesterday afternoon began consideration of plans for lending financial assistance the flood and who may need help in to business men who lost heavily in re-establishing their businesses.

More than 100 bodies of flood and storm victims in the lowlands along the San Gabriel river in Williamson and Milan counties have been recovered, according to the correspondent of the San Antonio Express at Taylor who telegraphed a report last night.

The correspondent telephoned the following:

"One hundred and nine bodies have been recovered from flooded lowlands along the San Gabriel river in Williamson and Milan counties. Most of the dead are Mexican farm laborers."

Another dispatch to the Express from Rockdale, Milan county, says:

"More than twenty families in the Brazos bottoms between Cuase and Valley Junction are reported lost. Five persons are known to have drowned on the Ed. Green farm in the San Gabriel bottoms."

More than twenty feet of water rose over the roads in Brazos bottoms and nothing has been heard from the twenty families living there.

Property losses will exceed $1,000,000 the report said.

Conditions along the Brazos river between Rockdale and Hearn are unknown. Ed. Green on whose land several were drowned, was rescued after being in a three thirty-six hours. Two white boys and a girl were rescued at the same time.

Americans whose bodies have been recovered are two unidentified children drowned in Brushy creek, near Taylor, Mrs. H. L. Brown and son, Lee, at Rodville Gin on Alligator creek.

FLORIDA SHORT 57 APPOINTMENTS IN DEPARTMENTS OF U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Florida office-seekers will derive no satisfaction from the latest report of the United States civil service commission setting forth the distribution by states of the positions in departmental service.

The report shows that Florida is entitled to 370 appointments and has received only 222. In other words the state is "shy" 57 appointments in the departmental service which should go to the state under the act of congress which provides for a pro rata distribution of the jobs among the various states and territories and the District of Columbia.

While Florida is lagging far behind her rightful allowance of departmental positions the District of Columbia and the near-by states of Maryland and Virginia are greatly in excess of their allotments. For instance, the District of Columbia is entitled to 171 appointments in the departments and it actually has 11,701. Maryland is entitled to 568 and it has 2,297. Virginia is entitled to 905 and there are 2,356 Virginians on the rolls.

UNIVERSITY OPENS WITH LARGE ENROLLMENT.

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 13.—The formal opening of the 1921-22 season of the University of Florida took place today with more than 900 enrollments. This, it is said, is the largest enrollment ever made at the university. Approximately 500 students will enter the freshman class, or 300 more than entered that class last year, according to officials.

CHURCH HAD ACCOMPLICES 'IL COLD BLOODED MURDER' OF AUTO SALESMEN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Leon Parks, named today by Harvey W. Church as an accomplice in the murders of Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus, last night confessed his implication in the crimes according to the police. Another man whose identity was not disclosed, has also been named by Church as an accomplice.

Church, according to Chief Fitzmorris, named Parks as the man who helped him load the body of Daugherty into the automobile and later helped him throw the body in the Des Plaines river. Parks had stealthily denied any connection with the murders until late last night. The police brought Church and Parks face to face for questioning.

Chief Fitzmorris would not state whether the third man in the case had been arrested.

A coroner's jury investigating the deaths of Bernard J. Daugherty and Carl A. Ausmus, automobile salesmen returned a verdict today finding that they came to their deaths through external violence inflicted by Harvey W. Church and recommended that he be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder in both cases without bail.

Church, a twenty-year-old youth, heard the verdict calmly. His face showed no nervousness or emotion as he faced a crowd of several hundred jeering men after the inquest. It was necessary for the police to clear a way through the threatening crowd for the prisoner.

Yesterday, according to the police, Church confessed that he killed the two men to get possession of a $5,400 automobile for which he was negotiating. The body of Daugherty was found Friday in the Des Plaines river, and that of Ausmus, in a garage behind the Church home on Saturday night, at Adams, Wis., where he had gone in the car for a visit to his former home.

ENTRE NOUS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. R. J. Holly was the charming hostess last evening when she entertained the members of the Entre Nous Bridge Club and a few extra guests in compliment to Mrs. J. G. Sharon, who has recently moved here from Tallahassee, and her sister, Mrs. T. A. Vincent, of Vero, Fla.

The spacious living room where the card tables were placed was artistically decorated with baskets and vases of yellow elms.

Of exceptional interest was the game of bridge played during the evening. Mrs. Forrest Lake making high score, was presented with a beautiful box of stationary.

Following the game, the hostess served cherry sherbert and cake as refreshments.

The club members present were: Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. E. D. Mobley and Mrs. J. G. Ball. The invited guests included, Mrs. Vincent, and Mrs. Sharon, honoreess, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. S. M. Lloyd, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mr. Stringfellow, Miss Martha Fox and Mrs. W. T. Langley.

PIPE ORGAN CLUB

Monday, September 5th, the Pipe Organ Club resumed its activities for the winter months, the meeting being held with Mrs. Estridge, at her home on Park avenue. The meeting was well attended and plans made for work to be accomplished. The hostess served delicious refreshments during the social hour.

Last Monday, Mrs. Geo. Hyman entertained the club and the new officers were elected for the coming six months.

Sixteen members enjoyed a very enthusiastic meeting at the conclusion of which Mrs. Hyman served iced tea, pound cake and grapes.

SEMINOLES' BRIDGE CLUB

The members of the Seminole's Bridge Club were most delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon, by Mrs. D. C. Marlowe, at her home on Seventh street.

Lovely pink hibiscus were used in decorating the rooms.

A very interesting game of bridge was played during the afternoon. High score being made by Mrs. Fred Daiger, who was awarded amber beads.

At the conclusion of the card game Mrs. Marlowe served Neapolitan ice cream topped with whipped cream and cherries, and marble cake.

Those enjoying Mrs. Marlowe's charming hospitality were: Mrs. A. W. Lee, Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. John C. Smith, Mrs. J. B. Lawson, Mrs. Archie Betts, Mrs. Fred Daiger and Mrs. Robert Hines.

NEWBERRY IS SERVING THEM

Newberry's new drug store opened this morning with a large crowd present that promises to be a stampede this afternoon when the free ice cream is given away. The new drug store is a thing of beauty and as neat and clean as a pin with all the new and up-to-date fixtures and new stock of goods. The ice cream and cold drinks are served in a manner that will get the trade and Mr. Newberry is well pleased with his new venture in the best city in Florida.

E. C. HARPER IS INJURED

E. C. Harper, who is an electrician for the firm of Gillon & Fry, fell from a ladder while working inside a new building this morning and sustained seriously injury. It is thought that his hip was shattered.

ATTENTION KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

The officers of Taylor Commandery will meet at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, for Red Cross rehearsal. This is the last rehearsal to be held before conferring the order of the Red Cross and each officer is expected to be present. All Sir Knights who desire to order uniforms please attend.

H. E. TOLAR, Eminent Commander.

STYLES FOR YOUTH

Designers have taken much thought for the school or college girl this fall, and have provided for her such enviable things as the one-piece frock pictured here. It is made of a dark-colored satting, and simply trimmed with ruffles of moire ribbon to match. Straps of the material at the sides support the ribbon belt. If one wishes to remodel a last year's frock, ribbon used in this way will give it an entirely new aspect.

CREPE AND BEADS

It appears that georgette crepe and seed beads were made for one another, and it is useless to try to keep them apart. In the new blouses for fall and winter they show their fitness for each other as set forth in the model pictured here. Beads in two colors make a rich and very tasteful embellishment for this blouse.

FREE RANGE AND THE CATTLE MAN

—BY—

DR. W. F. BLACKMAN

Former Member of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board

Similar and unfortunate conditions in Florida, in the matter of free range. Owners of cattle have no land, owners of land have no cattle. Of course, there are numerous exceptions to this rule. Usually, land and live stock go together, and the owner of the free range regions, the owner of the land, or else leases, on which his herds feed, and part of the cost of his business interest on his investment together with the taxes on which he has to pay. In the free range county the land-owners pay the interest charges and taxes, while the owner of the stock which feeds on these ranges escapes both burdens. His land is free without any cost what-so-ever; about all he needs to do is to mark or brand his cattle, and to eat and murder from time to time. He says that the owners of the land which these cattle graze on make no use what-so-ever of the land, while the cattle do it to their property; and this is true, unless the cattleman over these ranges every year the content of the owner, thus the water sorts of grasses, and the growth of valuable crops. If he does this—and it is not that this is what many range men do—he works an injury to the land and the men from whom he derives an unearned and exclusive livelihood. When other men enter a free range, as ranchmen and farmers, and fence lands, perhaps cultivate them, and increase their livestock after the general methods of the world, a new question, and new questions as to justice, appear. Smith, let us suppose, owns a hundred acres of land. It is generally agreed that some fifteen acres of average quality are required to support one cow; then, John Smith is enjoying an exclusive and gratuitous grazing use of fifteen thousand acres of land, owned by other people. If we can suppose that this land is worth $80.00 per acre, a capital investment of $800,000 is required for the maintenance of John Smith's cattle. The interest charge on this investment at 5 per cent amounts annually to $5,400, and the taxes, let us assume, to an additional thousand dollar or more. That is to say, John Smith is receiving a gift of six or seven thousand dollars every year—or, if one chooses to put it that way, he is absorbing from others, for his own enrichment, and probably without the consent of those others, that tidy sum of money. Smith's neighbor, Thomas Brown, owns fifteen thousand acres of land which he has fenced at considerable cost, and on this tract he also grazes one thousand head of cattle, the same number that Smith owns. Brown has to pay interest on his investment; state and county, and perhaps school and drainage district, exact tribute from him, in the form of taxes on his real estate, and he has fences to maintain. Can he meet all these costs and make a profit on his operations? Perhaps he can, perhaps he cannot; the point I emphasize is that in competition with Smith he is at an immense, possibly a fatal, disadvantage. He is loaded down with heavy expenses from which Smith is free. He must take vigilant care of his cattle, and he must send his beef for a fair price, or go broke. Not so with Smith; he is not compelled to exercise sound business judgment, to calculate costs, to keep accounts, to strike balances, and to obtain a fair price for his product. Manifestly, therefore, he can undersell Brown in the local markets, and perhaps drive him to the wall. Now, this is unjust to Brown, and it is a fundamentally and fatally wrong business situation. Raising cattle under such conditions is not a business, it is a game, or a gift, or a graft, or a gamble with loaded dice. Under such conditions, what inducement is there for ranchmen and farmers from other states to come into Florida, purchase and improve land, and raise livestock, and thus help to develop and enrich the state? It is my judgment that if they understand the situation they will not come in any numbers, until the people of the state enact and enforce such legislation as will afford them an opportunity to transact their business on an equal footing with their free range neighbors, and in fair competition with them. The opponents of a no-fence law in Florida argue that the open range, in a sparsely populated region, puts to productive use a vast area which would otherwise be waste and worthless; this argument has weight. The question is, whether we can retain the open range until these great areas are in demand for ranches and farms, and at the same time cure the defects and the injustice, and escape the paralyzing consequences, of the present system. I submit the following plan to the consideration of the citizens of the state: Just as the Federal government has pasture rights to cattlemen in the forest reserves of the West, so let Florida place a special PER CAPITA tax on all cattle which are grazed on the open range. Such a tax would tend to equalize the costs of business as between the range cattlemen and the farmer, and so insure a more nearly fair and just competition between the two classes of beef producers; it would make the ranging of cattle a real business, instead of a form of graft; it would, I should think, add to the self-respect of the cattlemen themselves; and it would provide a fund which could be used to promote the agricultural interests of the state. Perhaps the best use to which a part of this fund could be put for two or three years, would be to meet that portion of the total cost of tick-eradication which falls upon the state and the several counties, in co-operation with the Federal Board of Animal Industry. This cost is great; many of our poor and thinly populated counties would find it burdensome if not prohibitive; and for the owners of cattle themselves, it constitutes a heavy tax. I am aware that this is a proposition which would require careful consideration, both from the legal and the administrative points of view; but I believe that it could be arranged, and in a way to greatly facilitate the work of tick-eradication and hasten its completion. I am confident that with the assistance of such a fund, and the hearty co-operation of all our people, the tick would be completely exterminated in nearly all Florida within two, and in the entire state, within three years. Next to the eradication of the tick, the most important interests of Florida lie in the conservation and increase of its forests and the creation of permanent improved pastures. I therefore suggest that the monies derived from the proposed tax, except such part as would be needed to eradicate the tick, be covered into a FOREST and PASTURE FUND, to be administered either by the Department of Agriculture or by a special commission. It could be used to pay, or abate for a certain number of years, the taxes on lands whose owners would agree to devote them to either of these two purposes, in strict accordance with methods and rules laid down by the commission, and under its careful supervision; to maintain an efficient system of fire control; possibly to assist in the building of fences where these would be needed; and in any other way that might be decided upon as feasible and just to all concerned. It seems to me that in this way these two major interests of Florida could be greatly promoted, and without cost to the general tax payer. Is it too much to hope that many of the range cattlemen would themselves approve of this plan? Of course, they would prefer that things should be left as they now are and always have been; but if they saw that the almost certain alternative to my plan is the passage at an early date of a statewide no-fence law, which would deprive them altogether of the use of the open range and put them out of business, they might prefer to pay a moderate and equitable tax for pasture rights. Moreover, they are now learning—what some of us have been trying hard to show them for years—that the eradication of the tick is absolutely necessary to the carrying on of the cattle industry in Florida. The federal and state quarantines will certainly not be lifted or modified, and there will be no profitable market for our cattle in the future as there is none today, until the fever tick is exterminated. I should be glad to know what the readers of this article who are interested in the matter, think of the proposed plan. The Welaka Ranch, Lake Monroe, Fla., Sept. 6th, 1921. Again we wish to say—ship by water.

The great St. Johns river will then come into its own.

The Daily Herald is growing in many ways. We want to make it the best small daily in Florida this winter.

Sanford is in the public eye right now, and will remain there if the broad minded people will just get together and stay together on the great principle of boosting the city.

Harry Neel, of the Herald, who is prosiding over the destinies of the Okeechobee News, at present, says that we would jump into Lake Okeechobee if we could see the immense quantities of fish being brought in every day.

Orlando is certainly a bustling city. The editor of the Herald was down there last night, and was almost lost in the labyrinth of tall buildings, new buildings, etc.

SHIP BY WATER.

The Ship by Water campaign is not a bluff. It is an outstanding fact and not a theory. It is an honest effort on the part of the long suffering public to correct some of the evils that seem unable to be corrected by the government and not a lot of bluff.

It is apparent even to the most pessimistic that the movement that was started by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce will sweep the country by water movement that the entire United States has ever seen.

Steamed Blueberry Pudding. 2 cups flour; 4 teaspoons baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 cup milk. Deane Turner WELAKA BLOCK take the credit for starting the movement in the State. California really started the movement that will be taken up by every community that is within a hundred miles of water.

For many years before the railroads came to Florida the people shipped their fruits and vegetables by water and they arrived at their destination in better shape than the railroads are now transporting them with the so-called refrigeration system.

It will mean better service for the shippers, better rates and better inland waterways, Sanford as a port, Palatka as a port, and any other point on the river as a port will mean more business and a greater state in many ways.

The meeting at Orlando last night showed that the people are in earnest about this ship by water idea, and it will be a permanent idea and not just for the moment.

Ship by Water has come to stay. Get on the ship and stay by the ship—by water.

IS WORLD GETTING WORSE?

Is the world growing worse? This question has been asked repeatedly during the last few weeks because of the character of the news which has been printed by newspapers.

Hardly a day goes by without the wires carrying reports of another sensational murder, robbery or domestic upheaval. And with the news of these happenings comes other news of loss of life in fires, floods, automobile wrecks, etc.

The question is a natural one. And if everything else were equal, the inference might be that it should be answered in the affirmative. But it is not that the world is growing worse, but that the world's sordidness and meanness—the world's crime—is being subjected to the best possible means of overcoming it—publicity.

Development of the world's means of communication and the combination of newspapers into press associations which bring the farthestmost city in the country to the very doors of the newspaper reader are responsible for the great number of tragedies placed before the reading public.

And should the newspapers print these stories which have brought about this question? There is argument both for and against the publication of crime news. Perhaps the best indication that the world is growing better instead of worse is found in these arguments.

The very publication of such news acts as a curb upon the would-be criminal to a much larger degree than most of us realize. Most every newspaperman has at some time or other in his life been engaged in the reporting of police news.

It is apparent even to the most pessimistic that the movement that was started by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce will sweep the country by water movement that the entire United States has ever seen.

OUR FLORIDA COLLEGES.

Now that the boys and girls are getting ready to go to college, the great question of where they shall attend school, is paramount. There are so many colleges in the South, and in the North, that are good, and appeal to the boys and girls and their parents, that it is difficult to decide, but the same old thought of patronizing the home institutions should always govern our actions.

The different State institutions of learning open this week and hundreds of Florida boys and girls will be back in the class-room within a few days. Florida has State institutions that she has every right to feel proud of.

The time was when a man who wanted to send his boy or girl to a good college was forced to send her to some other State if he wanted to give his child the best. But today there are schools right in the State that rank with the best in any other State.

The Women's College at Tallahassee ranks with Smiths, Wesleyan, Vassar and the other high institutions for training young women. The State University at Gainesville ranks with State universities of other Southern States and stands high in the list.

In addition to the State colleges there are several big private and denominational schools that also rank high. These schools have large endowments, good faculties and their course of instruction is the same as that given by the big schools of the East.

Florida is blessed in her schools. But even though it is some time until the next legislature meets it would be well for those interested in the educational advancement of the boys and girls of the State to get busy so that at the next session the lawmakers will "tote square" with the schools.

Education is too important an item for politicians to kick around like a football. Large appropriations for the schools should be one plank that should be in every candidate's platform.

When Dr. J. V. Blackman gave through the Tribune his plan for solving the tick infested ranges of Florida, it appeared that he had hit the right idea. His plan briefly is: that all range cattle be taxed and that the money be used, or so much as is necessary, in the tick eradication work.

Second, the range cattle men are opposed strongly to fencing on the ranges, and until fenced pastures can be furnished so that definite parts of the ranges may be cleared of ticks, it will be a continual task of trying to eradicate by dipping alone.

It seems to the Tribune that the solution of the taxing part of the problem lies in the branding of the herds. Every cattle owner has his brand registered and to be used by none but himself.

Suppose the state took a hand in that branding! Instead of the cruel methods of applying the red hot iron to the hip or shoulder of an animal let the State of Florida provide metal tags to be attached to the ear of each animal; that the brands be stamped on the tag, and let the state sell these tags for a sum sufficient to amount to the fair honest, tax that should be paid on these cattle, counting calves and all as cattle.

We require license tags and identification number on automobiles, and such like vehicles that use the roads and streets generally and promiscuously; why not an identifying tag and license on all cattle roaming the ranges, streets, and roads of the state?

When you have made the range cattle herd pay its honest part of the taxes, you have wiped out 95 per cent of the objection to "dipping" whether voluntary or compulsory.

The other part of Dr. Blackman's suggestion—that of applying the money received from the cattle tax to tick eradication is good. Not that it should be applied to the building and maintenance of vats on open ranges; but that it should go to meet the expense of the state in carrying on the tick eradication work in those counties where fencing is being done and maintained and effort is being made to eliminate by degrees the open range system.

But in all this matter it must be remembered that the conservation of our forests and plant life, and the reforestation of our timber area are so closely interwoven with the range cattle question that they must go hand in hand. So long as the open free range is permitted to be burned at the will and pleasure of the cattle men, so long will it be impossible to carry on any reforestation or forest conservation work in this state.

TOWN IS THREATENED WHEN FIRE DESTROYS HASTINGS BUILDING.

HASTINGS, Sept. 14.—Fire at noon Monday destroyed the old frame livery stable and garage operated by J. L. Leonard. For a time it was feared that the entire business section of the town was in danger, but a strong northeast wind fanned the flames and sparks over vacant lots and thus eliminated the danger.

The fire broke out through the roof of the two-story building and before the fire engine operated by a volunteer fire company got to going the entire building was enveloped in flames. Efforts of the firemen were confined to prevent spreading to nearby buildings, and in this the fire fighters were successful.

The building was owned by the occupant who conducted a livery, feed and sales stables as well as a storage place for automobiles. All stock and cars were saved. Several tons of hay and feed went up in smoke with the old building, which was a landmark in Hastings. The total loss will run up to three or four thousand dollars.

ARBUCKLE CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY NOT COMPLETED TODAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—With the grand jury which has been hearing evidence against him adjourned and the coroner's inquest extending into its second day without a verdict, Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, an actress, whose death occurred after a party in Arbuckle's rooms in a hotel, spent his third night in a cell here last night.

The grand jury adjourned without returning an indictment but another session will be held as soon as District Attorney Matthew Brady is ready to present further testimony, the foreman announced.

Added interest was given the case today when the district attorney declared he would start an investigation to ascertain whether witnesses, who were present at the party last week have been tampered with. The official's statement followed the appearance of Miss Zey Provost, also known as Miss Pyvron, before the grand jury. According to Mr. Bray, her testimony there was entirely different from that she previously gave him. Reports that another witness, Alice Blake, had disappeared, proved erroneous when she appeared at the district attorney's office. Miss Blake explained, according to Brady, that she had gone from her home in Berkeley to a friend's home in Oakland in order to avoid publicity.

Among witnesses before the grand jury, some of whom later testified at the second day's proceedings of the coroner's inquest, were Mrs. Bambina Maud Delmont, Al Semmacher, Miss Rappe's manager; Vy Provost, and Alice Blake all of whom are said to have been present at the Arbuckle party, and Mrs. Jean Jameson, a nurse, who attended Miss Rappe before her death.

ATTENTION! REWARD. My pulpit bible disappeared from the Congregational Church Sunday night. To the person returning the same to me in good condition, I will give a reward of five dollars, and will ask no questions. 147-1tp PAUL C. BURHANS.

CLEAR RIGHT OF WAY ELECTRIC LINE TO WEBSTER

BUSHNELL, Sept. 14.—The right of way has been cleared from the Bushnell-Center Hill electric line to Webster, where the Webster electric line will run and work has also begun on the erecting of the poles and wire. This work is being done by W. D. Kirkland who received the contract from the city of Webster for the erection of this system of electric lighting plant. Webster at this rate will soon be in the class with Bushnell, Center Hill, Wildwood, Tampa and Jacksonville having and owning her own electric lighting system.

It is also rumored in Webster that a city bond election is soon to be held for the purpose of bonding the town for paving the street with hard asphalt as Bushnell did a few months ago. Bushnell bonds have been vaalidated and are now ready to be advertised for sale and sold. Bushnell bonding issue called for a bond of $10,000 and also for the abutting property owners to be made to pay a similar amount making the bond issue amounting to $30,000, to be used for the purpose of paving the city of Bushnell's streets. When this is done and the county highway running through this city, Bushnell will be connected by hard asphalt road with any large city in the state.

Crews of men have started work at Wildwood, Webster, Sumterville and Oxford on laying of rock on the road bed. Work will soon be finished, it is thought and laying of the asphalt to begun. When this road is completed, Sumter county will have 57 miles of hard-surfaced road for travel south to Tampa or north to Jacksonville.

OVIDEDO

Mrs. T. W. Lawton's Sunday school class gave a surprise party to Francis Swope, last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Moore, of Miami, are visitors in Oviedo, stopping at the Hotel Oviedo.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norris, of Greensboro, Ala., are visiting their sister, Mrs. L. R. Mitchell. Mrs. Norris has decided to move to Florida, but will remain in Oviedo until he decides upon a location.

Mr. Francis Swope left for Gulfport, Miss., Monday, where he will enter the Gulf Coast Military Academy, as a student the next scholastic year.

Miss A. D. Mitchell, also left for Mobile, Ala., on the S. A. L., Monday morning. Miss Mitchell will be the guest of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. John O. Rush, while in Mobile.

Quite a party of young people attended the B. Y. P. U., among whom were Misses Pope, Young and Swope, Messrs. Alton Farnell-Reverdy Wright.

The Methodists held an out-door Sunday school last Sunday, which was quite an enjoyable session. The church which is being repaired, will be ready for services next Sunday.

Mr. James Carlton, of Micanopy, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Thompson.

Mrs. Sheldon visited Geneva this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Swope, Miss Mable Swope, were visitors in Sanford Monday.

Mrs. L. H. Gore has returned from Daytona where she has been on a visit to her sister.

The many friends of Mrs. O. P. Swope sympathize with her in her illness.

Mr. Daniel, of Chuluota, has put up foundations for a small cottage, on a small lot next to the hotel. There is a demand for houses. If the houses were only large enough for an ordinary family, a great many could be rented.

ATTENTION, FOOTBALL MEN!

All High School students wanting to play football this year, please be at the High School Monday, Sept. 19th, at 6:00 p. m.

NOTICE!

All cars must have rear lights. Also the 20-miles per hour will be more rigidly enforced hereafter.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is aching; if what you eat sours and forms acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before eating more food.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate, which is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. —Adv.
