Teen arrested for drug violations

The 15-year old who smashed a friend's car into a house and ran from the scene was arrested on Thursday in Wekiva.

Justin Schulaka, 15, was arrested at his Wekiva area home on Thursday night. Deputies found marijuana and weighing scales in the bedroom of his home, located at 103 Bilsdale Court. He is charged with marijuana possession and possession with intent to deliver, in addition to traffic infractions.

Just after 1 p.m. on Wednesday, Seminole County Sheriff's Deputies were on their way to the teen's home to pick him up for violating his community control. Schulaka had been through the juvenile court system for a 1998 burglary.

However, authorities received information that the teen had been in possession of drugs, which is a violation of the terms of his sentence. As deputies were pulling onto his street, the teen was pulling out, driving a friend's car.

In an effort to speed away from deputies, Schulaka panicked and lost control of the car. It smashed into a home at 109 Ledbury Drive.

Ironically, the home Schulaka crashed into is the same one which was arrested and charged with burglarizing in 1998.

Oviedo annexes new church site

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

OVIEDO — A community church took a key step on Monday toward building a new home.

Hope Community Church was unanimously granted a petition for annexation by the Oviedo City Council on Monday. The church, which has been holding meetings on the weekends at Indian Trails Middle School, is building a new home on 7.5 acres located east of Lockwood Boulevard and south of County Road 419.

"We would strongly like to be part of the city," said David Brett, Pastor of Hope Community Church, which is affiliated with Church of God. "We have many members in the city."

The church, to be located on 1811 West County Road 419, will be bordered by a farm to the east, and private residences to the south and west. The primary access road will be CR 419.

"It's very important to us as a church to have a community home instead of meeting at a school," said church member Pierre Brook.

Meanwhile, the final plat of a private development consisting of 249 lots on 168.9 acres of land that will use CR 419 as a primary access road was also approved by the council on Monday.

The Live Oak Reserve Unit One subdivision will be located on the south side of CR 419, east of Twin Rivers Boulevard. The minimum lot sizes range from 7,130 square feet to 1,700 square feet.

The Live Oak Reserve has already satisfied the city's requirements for a traffic plan to be approved. However, councilman Tom O'Hanlon said he is concerned about the additional traffic on CR 419.

"We're talking about adding to an already poor situation," O'Hanlon said. The final plat was approved 4-1, over the objection of O'Hanlon.

Other action taken by the council on Monday included:

- The appointment of Mike Ertel, who operates a public relations firm and is a former candidate for the council, to the Code Enforcement Board.

- The approval of an end of pavement sign on North Division Street. Property owners have complained that vehicles are making U-turns on privately owned land.

Now, the council is waiting to see whether the Seminole County School Board will approve sharing in the cost of See Oviedo, Page 6A

Sheriff reveals plan to handle rapid growth in UCF area

Architects, developers part of strategy

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger presented a strategy known as CPTED - Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design - to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners in a work session today at the County Services Building.

Five apartment complexes that are to house as many as 3,000 University of Central Florida students soon may be built in the southeast area of Seminole County. Eslinger said his law enforcement agency becomes a "partner" in the process.

In order to maintain safety and quality of life for the present residents and the new apartment dwellers, CPTED is a call for proactive crime prevention from all parties - architects, developers, property owners and law enforcement.

Key territorial reinforcement CPTED concepts include the use of pavement treatments, landscaping, signage, screening and fences to define and demonstrate ownership of property.

Soap Box Derby races benefit Toys for Tots

By Bill Kerns

SANFORD — Drivers will toss water balloons at each other in December.

A pair of soap box derby races will be held at Derby Park in Sanford on Dec. 4, with an All-American Soap Box Rally at 8 a.m. followed by the Second Annual Toys For Tots Adult Race for ages 18 and up at 1 p.m., with proceeds benefitting the Marine Corps Reserve Toys For Tots.

During the Adult Race, drivers will throw water balloons and shoot water pistols at each other. Participants will also toss candy at children watching the race.

"It was a lot of fun last year," said Norman Perry, regional director of the All-American Soap Box Derby. "The kids really got into it, with all the water balloons, horns, bells and whistles, it was better than a Christmas Parade."

The morning race will be a monthly soap box derby rally for the stock, superstock and master divisions. The fee for participants is an unwrapped toy worth $20 for Toys for Tots.

The check-in, inspection and practice run for the rally race is at 7 a.m.

There is no admission fee for the Adult Race, although an unwrapped toy is requested. The race will begin after the morning All-American Soap Box Rally, at about 1 p.m. Each car will be given one practice run, and prizes will be given to top finishers. Cars must be at Derby Park by 12 p.m. for safety inspections.

"We have cars with in-line skates, and we've even had a coffee table with wheels on it," Perry said. "We can have just See Races, Page 6A

Organizers pleased with festival

SANFORD — The Second Annual Sanford Heritage Festival brought live musical performances, carnival rides, and a wide variety of food to downtown Sanford this weekend.

The three-day event featured performances by Lee Roy Parnell, Chubby Checker, C-Note, and Backstreet Boyz the tribute. The festival offered six stages of entertainment, including jazz performances at Magnolia Square and Rand Alley.

Although an estimate on the size of the crowd attending the festival is not yet available, officials are hailing the event a success.

"As far as I'm concerned it was a big success," said Helen Stairs, President of the Sanford/Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the sponsor of the event. "We were pleased with the crowd. We had visitors from all over, including Volusia County and Orlando."

Other musical entertainers at the festival included The Local Girls, Eddy Rivers, Double Vision and the Funk Gang Island Band. There were also musical performances by Sanford-area schools, local bands and solo acts.

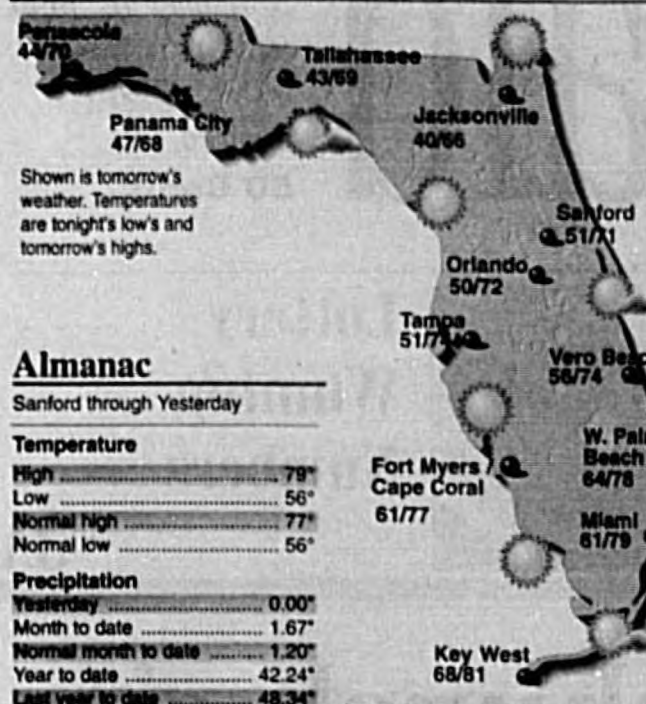

In addition, the festival featured a Bahamian Marketplace, jugglers, unicyclists, a Seminole County Public Schools student art exhibit, the Chipmunk Dancers, and the Central Florida Zoo Animal Experience.

Who's nice and who's not

Leo Durocher used to say, "Nice Guys Finish Last." Durocher prided himself on not being too nice. He played with the St. Louis Cardinals Gas House Gang and managed the Brooklyn Dodgers, New York Giants, Chicago Cubs and the Houston Astros. He was known as "Leo the Lip." He's in baseball's Hall of Fame. He had passed away before being enshrined.

In the summer of 1969, Durocher had the Cubs in the thick of the pennant race. It took a miracle season by the New York Mets to fend off Chicago. He stayed at the Regency O'Hare and used the hotel sauna frequently before going to Wrigley Field.

To my surprise, Leo Durocher and I were the only ones in that sauna one morning. He was reading the sports page of the Chicago Sun Times. To my delight, Leo was Mr. Nice Guy that day. We talked baseball. Especially about the Cubs. About Ernie Banks.

Life's funny. You meet a guy who's known to be nasty and he turns out to be nice. Leo Durocher was a nice guy in my book. Never had a problem with him. But for some reason I never did hit it off with Al Lopez, who managed the Chicago White Sox. Nice Al, everyone thought. Everyone but me.

You know who else was nice? O.J. Simpson. The first time I met O.J. was also in 1969 at a Touchdown Club Dinner in Washington, D.C. Richard Nixon spoke that night. I don't want to happen to me — either food or speech poisoning. But I became ill while interviewing O.J. in his hotel room. The Juice couldn't have been nicer or kinder. So, here I am recalling nice guys I've met and Leo the Lip and O.J. are on my list. So is Billy Martin, who was one of the nicest guys on earth before he went to work for George Steinbrenner. One night when I had hay fever, Billy suggested I get the "Billy Martin shot" from the Minnesota Twins trainer. It worked. I was so pleased, I playfully tried to choke Billy. "Hey, I told you the shot was good," he told me.

One night when the Hollywood Stars were playing against the Washington Media in a baseball game at Kennedy Stadium, tough guy Jack Palanca introduced himself when I was at bat. Palanca was catching for the Stars. He didn't have a mask or shoes. When I tapped the bat at his toes, he looked up and said, "I wouldn't do that." He was smiling.

Pat Boone played that night for the Hollywood Stars. He played centerfield and he wore white baseball shoes — that before Charles O. Finley's A's wore white shoes. Boone, of course, was a nice guy. So was Hugh O'Brien, Wyatt Earp. They were good ballplayers, too. They beat the press, 10-1. And we had nice guy Senators manager Gil Hodges on our side.

I don't know whether anyone could call Richard Nixon nice but he was pleasant to everyone when he visited baseball parks. He wanted to be a sportswriter, he told us at a White House luncheon. We gave him an honorary Baseball Writers pass. Nixon got booted out of the White House just after Washington lost the Senators baseball team. Figure.

Hockey players are all nice guys. Gordie Howe. Bobby Orr. Wayne Gretzky. When you live as dangerously as they do, take hundreds of stitches and lose teeth, being nice is easy. Sportswriters Red Smith and Jim Murray were wonderfully, nice guys. I was Murray's chauffeur at the Kentucky Derby in 1986. He had just had eye surgery. Wonderful man. Smith, the same. Neither complained about a thing. They were great talents. Great friends. Sports broadcaster Red Barber was another nice guy. He told me about a reporter's best friends: Who, What, Why, When, Where and How.

Come to think of it, Reds all seem to be good guys. Red Grange, the football great, was another. Red Schoendienst, the ex-St. Cardinal second baseman and manager. I'd enjoyed being with Red Auerbach, too. He was coached the old Washington Capitals.

The funniest Red I met was the late Red Skelton. He was doing a show in Boston and was staying at the same hotel where the hockey writers were for a Stanley Cup final. I met Red Skelton on the hotel elevator. He was wearing a tuxedo and had his theatrical trunk on wheels.

He made a funny face that made me laugh, and accepted my handshake. As we exited the hotel, I asked Mr. Skelton for a favor. Would he poke his head inside the bus waiting to take the hockey writers to the Boston Garden? "Sure," he said.

Mr. Skelton boarded the bus and made everyone laugh. I can't tell you who won the hockey game that night, but I'll never forget Red Skelton. Nice, nice man.

Widow upset by the eagerness to divvy up the loot

DEAR ABBY: After only six years of marriage, my darling husband died on Oct. 4. He had three children and taught them good values. He once said during our marriage, "When I die, I hope my kids don't come in and start announcing, 'I want this' or 'I want that.'"

Well, sure enough, two days after my husband's death — even before the funeral arrangements had been completed — his son came to me with a verbal list of things they wanted.

Dear Abby

I kindly told him that his father and I had discussed what he would like them to have, and we would take care of it sometime later. I left his kids at home while I went out to run some errands. When I returned and they had left, I found evidence that they had gone through my belongings looking, I suppose, for things they wanted.

The next day his son called and said they would be bringing my husband's ex-wife over to load up the things they wanted before they went home. The day of the funeral his son called to inform me that they had brought a truck from Arkansas to haul it all away.

Abby, I couldn't take it any more. I said, "Your daddy would be ashamed of you. To ask his widow on the day of his funeral to come over immediately afterward is incredibly crass."

Well, during the funeral, I observed his son's grief, and now I feel terribly guilty for being a wicked stepmother. Am I?

Also, is it in good taste for an ex-wife to pluck flowers from her ex-husband's grave in front of his widow, before he is lowered into the ground? I'm appalled.

GRIEVING IN MISSOURI

DEAR GRIEVING: Stop feeling guilty for having reacted the way you did to the phone calls. You showed remarkable restraint in the face of insensitivity.

Something tells me that any hurt feelings will be mended as soon as you tell "the kids" they can come and collect the loot.

As for your husband's ex-wife taking flowers from his grave at the burial, customs vary in different parts of the country. Perhaps she wanted to press them and put them in a family album. After having had three children with him, she must have been feeling some sense of loss at his death. When people are grieving, they sometimes say or do things without thinking them through. Give her the benefit of the doubt.

DEAR ABBY: I recently took a commercial airline flight home from England to the United States. Regrettably, the woman I sat next to wore too much perfume. I don't mind perfume in good taste, but this woman must have taken a bath in it. The smell was unbearable, so I first covered my nose with a blanket. Then I tried turning my head in the other direction. Then I tried to sleep. Lastly, I put the air on me, but nothing seemed to help.

What should I have done to get away from the horrible perfume smell?

SENSITIVE NOSE IN GARDEN GROVE, CALIF.

DEAR SENSITIVE NOSE: I have heard countless complaints over the years from people who are sensitive to perfumes. Many of them suffered allergic reactions when in close quarters such as elevators. The problem is perfume wearers who think that if a little bit is good, then more must be better. Not true! You should have informed the flight attendant that you couldn't tolerate the strong odor and asked to change your seat. If the flight wasn't fully booked, the attendant would have accommodated you.

Cultivating the Butterfly Bush

A member of the legume family and native to Brazil and other countries in South America, the butterfly bush produces a brilliant display of yellow blossoms in the fall that resemble golden butterflies.

This plant is also known as climbing cassia, Christmas senna or simply cassia shrub. It is the food and nectar source of a group of yellow butterflies better known as "Sulphurs".

The plant: This sprawling, semi-evergreen shrub, reaches a height of 8 to 10 feet with an equal spread. Leaves are alternate, even pinnately compound, with ovate leaflets less than 2 inches long. When partially folded, the leaf creates a "lobster-tail."

The flowers are yellow, very showy, about 1.5 inches across, in 3 to 12 flowered racemes that grow near the stem tips. Each flower has prominent, curved, filamentous stamens which are characteristic of this plant. The fruit is a brown slender cylindrical pod, about 3 to 6 inches long.

The butterflies: The sulphur butterflies are so named because of their bright coloration, resembling the color of the element sulphur. Actually, their colors vary from lemon yellow to bright orange, and pastel green to faded white. Some of the females have a yellow and a white form.

Cloudless Sulphur, and Orange-barred Sulphur, are two of the most prominent butterflies that feed on this plant.

Sulphur butterflies often migrate across the state in large numbers, going south during the months of September through November and a smaller migration occurs in a northward direction in the spring. The cloudless sulphur butterfly is one of the most common butterflies in Florida. Males are easily recognized because of their pure yellow color without any markings on the underside of its wings. The females have small black spots and markings along the edges of the forewings. Both sexes have very small, silver spots, rimmed in pink, on the underside of the hindwings.

Ecological notes: Commonly cultivated for ornament in Florida at least since the 1940s, is known to escape cultivation displacing native vegetation in disturbed and undisturbed areas of Florida's tropical hammocks, coastal strands, and canal banks. It has become naturalized in south Florida, considered somewhat weedy in the Bahamas and disturbed areas in South America.

Culture: The butterfly bush grows well in partial shade, but needs full sun for best growth and flowering. Tolerates a wide range of well drained types of soil and becomes moderate drought tolerant after becoming established.

This plant will benefit from frequent pinching of the young shoot tips during the growing season up to the beginning of September; this encourages branching and increases the number of flowers. Appropriate training can produce a very small specimen tree which looks nice growing in a low ground cover.

Trees often fall over and will require staking to hold them upright. For this reason, it is easiest to place it in a shrub border among other shrubs which will help hold it erect. Cut off at ground level as soon as the frost kills back the stems during severe winters.

Uses: Container or above-ground planter. Recommended for buffer strips around parking lots or for median strip plantings in the highway. Plant near a deck or patio or use as specimen. Use in the back of a border to hide its straggly, leafless lower stems.

Propagation: Propagation is by seed or cuttings.

Pests and diseases: Foliage and flower buds are often eaten by caterpillars in the fall, but these can be easily picked off by hand. If you are a butterfly lover, you can leave some caterpillars alive so they reach the adult stage and watch the life cycle of the butterfly unfold in front of your eyes.

You can control the damage of the caterpillars by spraying biological insecticides such as Dipel or Thuricide. Damaged or stressed plants can be infested with trunk borers. There are no serious disease problems that affect cassia plants.

Note: Buddleia officinalis is another plant known as butterfly bush, belonging to the Loganiaceae plant family, which includes the Carolina Yellow-jasmine and not related to the Cassia.

Al Ferrer is Seminole County Urban Horticulturist. Inquiries may be directed to him at the Cooperative Extension service, 250 W. County Home Road, Sanford, FL 32773 or phone 645-5551. All Seminole County Cooperative Extension services are open to all regardless of race, color, sex, handicap or national origin.

 building a new sidewalk and traffic light near Jackson Heights Middle School.

The School Board will discuss the proposal tonight during the Board meeting at the Educational Support Center.

In an effort to prevent potential traffic accidents, the Oviedo City Council earlier this month agreed to share with the county the costs of a new sidewalk and traffic light near Jackson Heights Middle School.

Oviedo and Seminole County will spend up to $40,000 toward sidewalk construction on the north side of County Road 419 from Evans Street to Academy Avenue.

In addition, Oviedo will spend up to $25,000 for the installation of a traffic signal on

The Seminole County Commission has agreed to fund one-third of both school safety projects for Jackson Heights Middle School, and is requesting one-third funding each from the City of Oviedo and the Seminole County School Board.

Residents in the area have repeatedly asked the Council to address the need for a sidewalk and traffic light on the north side of CR 419, complaining that children were walking to school without a sidewalk.

Councilman Tom Hagood said that if the School Board does not agree to fund the remaining one-third of the cost for the sidewalk and traffic light, the city should consider covering the cost.

However, other council members said they wanted to see what action the School Board will take before taking further action on building the sidewalk and traffic light.

An Advisory Safety Committee, with input from the School Board, also recommended the need for the sidewalk and traffic light.

No date has been set for the installation of the sidewalk and traffic light.

Since Sept. 30, 11 Central Florida high school children have been injured and one has been killed while walking to or from school.

There was one fatal accident at a bus stop on the Oak Ridge Road and Harcourt Avenue intersection near Dr. Phillips High School in Orlando.

 of physical guidance of people coming and going from a space by the judicious placement of entrances, exits, fencing, landscaping and lighting.

Natural surveillance shall consist of the placement of physical features, activities, and people in such a way to maximize visibility. This includes nighttime lighting of public spaces and walkways.

"The proper design and effective use of the built environment," Eslinger said, "can lead to a reduction in the incidence and the fear of crime and an improvement in the quality of life."

Gainesville developer Phillip Emmer vowed his support to the sheriff during a commissioners meeting on Oct. 26. He said that apartments would be available at a discounted rate for deputies. Eslinger said that as many as three or four new deputies would be hired to patrol the area once the student apartments were opened.

Residents have asked Eslinger for help, citing difficulties that have arisen in UCF apartment complexes in the Orange County/Orlando corridor. Eslinger said he hopes that residents will be comfortable with the strategies he is proposing today to the board of commissioners.

"We realize that the majority of the new residents in these apartments are between the ages of 18 and 22 and there are going to be calls," Eslinger said. "What we need is everyone's cooperation. We need to be proactive."

UCF officials have told the BCC that more on campus housing also is planned. Some predict that as many as 50,000 will attend the school by the year 2005, a total that would surpass the enrollment at the University of Florida.

Festival

 The event also included mid-way thrill rides.

"I thought it was a great event, and look event to an even greater event in the Year 2000," said Sanford City Commissioner Velma Williams.

Chubby Checker, famous as the King of Twist from the 1960's, made a return appearance for two shows on Saturday after also performing at the Festival last year.

The idea of the Festival was to attract visitors to Sanford, a city of 32,000, to enjoy music, amusement rides, food, the Budweiser Clydesdales, a Merry-go-round, a Junkanoo parade and fire show.

"I thought it was great," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. "I saw Chubby perform on Saturday, and both shows were full. Chubby did a great job. I thought there was good crowd there. I think we got a good chance to showcase Sanford."

Downtown merchants kept their shops and restaurants open during the Festival.

The Festival began at 3 p.m. Friday when the gates opened for a couple hundred visitors.

FWC makes marine fisheries decisions

OCALA - Regarding marine issues, the FWC approved a rule that specifies that a legal cast net can have a stretched length (the distance from the horn at the center of the net, with the net gathered and pulled taut, to the lead line) no greater than 14 feet.

The FWC also adopted changes to shrimp harvesting regulations, primarily for Biscayne Bay waters in Dade County, including eliminating the count law (minimum size limit) for food shrimp harvested in Dade County, establishing an October 15-to-May 15 allowable harvesting season for food shrimp in Biscayne Bay (with a 6 a.m. Saturday to 6 a.m. Sunday closed period to food shrimp harvest each week during this open season), and prohibiting the use of frame nets by recreational fishermen to harvest shrimp in Dade County.

The Commission also voted to designate shrimp as a "restricted species" statewide, effective January 1, 2001.

In addition, the Commission approved various reef fish rule amendments, including merging amberjack rules into the current reef fish rule chapter, conforming amberjack commercial licensing requirements to those of reef fish (with a clarification that the appropriate federal commercial permit is a condition of sale for all species in the rule), eliminating the five-day commercial season closure extension in the reef fish rule, restoring the documentation requirement for reef fish species possessed during a closure period, including a one-fish-daily vessel limit for speckled hind and warsaw grouper within the five-fish grouper aggregate bag limit, and increasing the maximum size limit for banded rudderfish and lesser amberjack from 20 to 22 inches in length.

In other action, the FWC voted to hold the final public hearing in December on a proposed rule for the recreational harvest of Gulf of Mexico red snapper that would establish an April 15-to-October 31 open season, a minimum size limit of 16 inches total length and a daily bag limit of four fish per person for this species in Gulf state waters.

The Commission further directed staff to encourage federal fisheries managers to adopt this man in all Gulf waters.

Commissioners also:
 • received a spotted seatrout stock assessment and directed staff to present management options for this fishery at the December meeting.
 • directed staff to continue development of a management plan for horseshoe crabs to protect this species while allowing historical Florida harvesting practices.

• agreed that the recently certified Jones Davis catch

LAKE BUENA VISTA - It was a match worthy of the top two teams in the state.

Winter Springs showed that it definitely was worthy of its lofty ranking, but Boca Raton-Olympic Heights showed why it was the three-time defending state champions as the Lions rallied past the Bears, 15-11, 7-15 and 15-9, in the final of the Class 6A FHSAA State Girls Volleyball Championships at Disney's Wide World of Sports complex Saturday night. Playing in the 5,000 seat

Fieldhouse, the Bears, 31-4 and ranked No. 2 in the FHSAA Class 6A State Poll, bounced back from a tough opening game loss to overpower Olympic Heights at the net, setting up a winner-take-all third game.

Winter Springs got off to a fast start, going up 4-0.

But the Lions, who finished the season 33-0 and winners of five of the last six Class 6A state titles, started dinking the ball over the Bears' front line, forcing Winter Springs to change its attack, allowing Olympic Heights to go back to its power game which led to another title.

The Bears had advanced to the final by beating Palm Bay 15-11 and 15-13, while the Lions had to rally to beat Miami-Braddock, 15-5, 6-15 and 15-11.

Despite falling short in its hopes of joining the girls cross country and girls basketball team as state champions, the Winter Springs squad of coach Kim Vach have nothing to hang their heads about.

In just three years of existence, the Bears have reached the Regional Semifinals (Class 3A, 1998), the Regional Finals (Class 2A, 1997) and the State Finals (Class 6A, 1999) and the five seniors that are graduating have accumulated an impressive 81-19 match record during that time, leaving an amazing legacy for future Winter Springs teams to live up to.

Joining Olympic Heights as state champions at the Fieldhouse at Disney's Wide World of Sports complex on Saturday were:

Class A - Gainesville-Oak Hall (29-6) won its second title with a 38-minute, 15-5 and 15-2 romp over St. Petersburg-Kewick Christian School (21-10).

Class 2A - Tampa-Berkely Prep (30-5) won its 10th state championship with a straight-game, 15-6 and 15-3 clubbing of Baker (30-4).

Class 3A - Bishop Moore (33-2) waltzed past Ft. Lauderdale-Cardinal Gibbons (33-2), which had won six of the last seven state title and 17 championships overall, 15-12 and 15-5 in 47 minutes.

Class 4A - Jacksonville-Bishop Kenny (24-11) out-fought Ft. Myers-Cypress Lake (26-4) in three games, 12-15, 15-5 and 15-8.

Class 5A - Plant City-Durant (27-8) won its first state championship with a 15-7 and 15-13 victory over Stuart-Martin County (32-3).

Lions roar into playoffs

WINTER SPRINGS - Oviedo had a very simple game plan for Friday night's Seminole Athletic Conference football game at Winter Springs: go in, get in as many people as possible, and get out with a win without getting anyone hurt.

The Lions (7-3) were successful on all counts, shutting out the Bears, 34-0.

Next week, Oviedo travels to West Orange for a Class 6A first-round state playoff game.

The Lions will join Lake Mary, Lake Brantley and Seminole as Seminole Athletic Conference teams making the FHSAA Football Championships.

All four will be in action at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, with, in addition to the Oviedo/Warriors matchup, Orange Park will take on the Rams at Don T. Reynolds Stadium; Dr. Phillips will battle the Patriots at Tom Story Field; and the Fighting Seminoles will travel to Palm Beach Gardens to face Dwyer High School.

"It was a very successful night," said Oviedo coach Greg Register, who was treated to the obligatory water cooler dunking by his team following the game.

"We wanted to get the first team plenty of repetitions so they would keep their rhythm and timing going into next week. We also wanted to get in as many players as possible, which we were able to do. Also, we didn't suffer any injuries, so the evening was a complete success."

Raiders soar over Eagles

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The Seminole Community College men's basketball team pushed won its second game in as many nights on Saturday, whipping American Eagle, 76-54, at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

Unlike previous games, the Raiders did not get off to a particularly fast start as the Eagles, an Amateur Athletic Union team from Clearwater consisting of former college stars and sponsored by American Eagle Airlines, stayed close behind the inside domination of Mike Roberson, who scored 15 of his game-high 21 points in the first half, most coming in the first 10 minutes of the game.

SCC, which improved to 4-2 on the season, took a slight lead behind the inside play of Justin Williams, eight points in the first half, and the outside shooting of Eric Walker, nine first half points.

The Raiders' pressure defense dominated the last 10 minutes of the opening half with budding superstar Chris Thomas (a freshman from Edgewater), Mario Scott, Apopka's Chris Calderon, Sanford's Mequail Bush and Lake Mary's Robbie Shapiro doing the damage.

Thomas, who had scored 22 and 27 points in two earlier games this week, tallied nine points in the first half as SCC raced to a 44-28 lead at intermission.

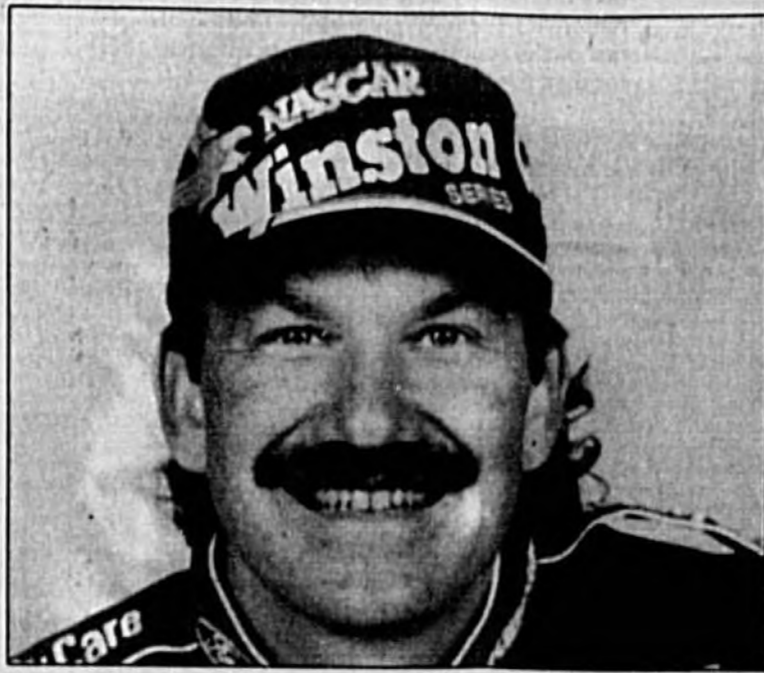

Roberson scored six quick points to open the second half as the Eagles made a play to stay in the game, but Thomas and company eventually got the running game going as the Raiders pulled away for the HOMESTEAD - It was just a dream back in January when Dale Jarrett (left) took to his No. 88 Ford Taurus onto Daytona International Speedway for winter testing....becoming the NASCAR Winston Cup Champion for 1999.

But today it is a reality as Jarrett became the second oldest first-time Winston Cup Champion after finishing fifth in Sunday's Pennzoil 400 at Homestead-Miami Speedway.

Jarrett, who will turn 43 on November 26th is only younger than Bobby Allison, who won the championship at the age of 45.

Jarrett, who gave owner Robert Yates his first championship, also joined his father, Ned, as a NASCAR champion, becoming only the second father/son combination, along with Lee and Richard Petty, to win the title.

Rookie sensation Tony Stewart won his second consecutive race on Sunday, giving him three for the season, the most races ever won in a season by a rookie, breaking the record of the late Davey Allison, who also drove for Robert Yates.

Stewart's teammate, Bobby Labonte, was second, followed by Roush teammates Jeff Burton and Mark Martin ahead of Jarrett.

Lions

Winter Springs wasn't quite as fortunate; with 2:46 left in the first quarter, junior punter Jarred Groom suffered what appeared to be a neck injury scrambling to recover a bad snap on a punt attempt and was transported by ambulance to the hospital.

"That was frightening," said Register. "You hate to see anything like that happen. Our prayers and best wishes are with him."

As far as the final outcome was concerned, the Lions made it a foregone conclusion by scoring on four consecutive possessions in the first half. Their first points came on a two-play, nine-yard drive following Groom's injury. Alvin Hudson scoring on a 9-yard run.

Tim Wilde set up Oviedo's next score by recovering a Winter Springs fumble at the Bears' 2-yard line. Two plays later, Kenny Starling lofted a 27-yard pass to Steve Asby in the corner of the end for the Lions' second touchdown.

In the second quarter, Starling and Nick Tenekedes hooked up on a 3-yard touchdown pass play to complete a five-play, 47-yard yard drive before Asby capped another short drive with a 23-yard field goal.

As efficient as the Lions were in the first half, the second half was a different story as the Oviedo coaching staff substituted freely, using players called up from the junior varsity and freshman teams.

But there was no mistaking Tyrone Foster as a late-season call-up.

A junior defensive back who has carried the ball maybe a dozen times for the Lions this season, Foster ripped off a 63-yard run on Oviedo's first play from scrimmage in the third quarter, setting up a 21-yard field goal by Asby.

Moments later, Hudson, back at his familiar position in the Lion defense, picked off a Winter Springs pass and returned it 35 yards for a touchdown. He later intercepted a second pass near the end of the third quarter and recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter.

Foster's 65 yards rushing on three carries highlighted the Lions' 185-yard ground attack. Dwayne Allen, brought up from the junior varsity team, added 54 yards on four carries while Hudson finished with 40 yards on six carries.

In all, 11 players had at least one rush attempt for the Lions while three players - Starling, Tenekedes, and sophomore Brett Murphy (all members of the Lion varsity baseball team) - look turns at quarterback.

Starling completed six of 12 passes for 87 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Asby had his 27-yard catch while Corey Zedo had a 22-yard reception. Tenekedes caught two passes for 16 yards.

Johnnie Blake accounted for most of the offensive yards for Winter Springs, carrying the ball 15 times for 65 yards. He also gained 31 yards on three kickoff returns. Daryl Wright contributed 19 yards rushing on seven attempts.

While he considered Friday night's effort a success, Register knew it will take considerably more for the Lions to get past the West Orange Warriors next week.

"We have a lot of work to do," said Register. "West Orange is a great team with a lot of great athletes. All we can do is go out, play our game, and see what happens."

The Commission also considered various federal reef fisheries management issues, and voted to close Atlantic state waters to the recreational harvest of red porgy through March 5, 2000 and increased the minimum size limit for king mackerel from 20 to 24 inches fork length.

These actions conform with recent federal rule changes.

The next FWC meeting is scheduled for December 8-through-10 at a location to be announced later.

FISHING FORECAST

Fishing the river will be extremely difficult with the high water. Fish will be scattered into newly flooded areas in search of food. Bass anglers would be well advised to use lures that cover a lot of water in a hurry---spinnerbaits and buzzbaits.

Sebastian Inlet has steady action with snook to over 20 pounds. Large live shrimp and small to medium-sized baitfish also work well. Trout, flounder, and a few redfish are also mixed in with snook catches.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that high seas are keeping boats in Port. The ocean will also be stirred up and will likely be dirty. Inside the Port, look for sheepshead, flounder, and a few snook to provide fair action. Trout and redfish are rated as fair on the flats of the Banana and Indian rivers.

Ponce Inlet is featuring fast action with sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle and bluefish. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Horoscopes

Your Birthday
Wednesday, Nov. 17, 1999
There's a chance you could meet a dynamic, new friend in the year ahead who could add a lot of zest to your social life and pastime interests. You'll have much in common to share.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your ability to get along in a convivial manner with friends and associates today provides the environment for compromises and concessions. Have a "meeting of the minds" where one is needed. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Accept help when offered today and your work will go more smoothly. Don't be too proud to let others know that you can use the extra hands to get a job done.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're always looking for ways to advance your personal aims and today might afford you just such an opportunity through social contacts. Don't separate them from your business concerns.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Pursue in earnest today an ambitious objective you've been contemplating, because the aspects greatly favor you, especially with material acquisitions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) While you might have days where you sit around wishing and dreaming for good things to happen to you, today you will actively seek out ways to make your hopes a reality.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Situations that appear to intimidate your associates won't look that fearful to you. In fact, you thrive on challenges and they'll awaken your resolve and determination today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It may take a bit of selling to get others to see your way of thinking and go along with your desires today, but you're more than up to the task, once you're determined to do so.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Work hand in hand with your associates today on objectives that are important to you. Excellent results are likely when you know how to pull together as a unit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Utilize that wonderful imagination you possess today to find the alternatives you're seeking to a dilemma you haven't as yet been able to solve. It's out there if you'll simply search.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Important changes could occur for you today through the good auspices of an associate. However, you have got to be willing to make some transformations on your part.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't pass up any invitations today to gatherings that have convivial overtones. Something propitious could develop for you through social exposures.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Because any tasks or assignments you take will be handled in an effective, efficient manner today, this can be an extremely productive day for you. Get an early start.

Win at Bridge

The odds are compelling

William James, in a 1906 letter to the Polish composer Witold Lutoslawski, wrote, "Most people live, whether physically, intellectually or morally, in a very restricted circle of their potential being. They make use of a very small portion of their possible consciousness, and of their soul's resources in general, much like a man who, out of his whole bodily organism, should get into a habit of using and moving only his little finger. Great emergencies and crises show us how much greater our vital resources are than we had supposed."

Is that the answer at the bridge table — assume each deal is a great emergency? Well, the alarm bells are ringing for you right now. You get into seven no-trump. West leads a spade. After winning perforce in hand, you take the club ace, West dropping the queen.

You cross to dummy, then call for a club. When East plays low, do you finesse the 10, go up with the king, or flip a coin to decide? Would it make any difference if West had played the jack, not the queen, under your ace?

This type of problem is unsatisfactory in a newspaper column, where you get to see the full deal and, therefore, the winning play. Still, it doesn't affect the right play, which is to finesse.

If West has a singleton club honor, he must play that card. However, if he started with the doubleton queen-jack, he can choose to play one card or the other. So, you should assume that he had no choice. (This is called the Principle of Restricted Choice.) The odds are slightly below 2-1 in favor of the finesse.

Doctor Gott

Too many vitamins cause problems

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've read that supplements of vitamins A, C and E may actually be harmful. Is this correct?

DEAR READER: Information reported in the Medical Letter last year should give all vitamin aficionados pause. For example, excess vitamin A or beta carotene has been found to increase the risk of cancer and cardiac death. In addition, the claims that vitamin C enhances the immune system are groundless. Moreover, high doses of vitamin C may lead to kidney stones. Vitamin E doesn't come off much better. One study showed that supplements of the vitamin were associated with higher incidences of heart disease and all-cause mortality. The Medical Letter pointed out that vitamin E in food is mostly gamma-tocopherol (which has beneficial anti-oxidant effects), whereas vitamin E in pills is primarily alpha-tocopherol, which blocks the action of the gamma form and may actually be a pro-oxidant. Previous findings in vitamin studies may reflect the tremendous difficulties in analyzing the effects of vitamin supplements. Consider this: many of our healthiest citizens eat well, exercise regularly, don't smoke, use alcohol modestly — and just happen to take vitamins. Clearly, this entire issue has yet to be resolved. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Fads I: Vitamins & Minerals." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title. DEAR DR. GOTT: I've always agreed with your views until I read the column in which you urged teachers to allow children full access to the bathroom. As a fifth-grade teacher, I know from experience that such a liberal policy would turn the classroom into chaos. Many children who request a trip to the bathroom do so because they don't want to work or are eager to socialize. In the past, I have permitted one child to go, only to have a number of other children request the same privilege. The urge to urinate is not contagious, is it?

In my opinion, teachers need to use discretion. Students who habitually try to avoid staying on task should politely be reminded to finish their work first.

DEAR READER: Absolutely correct. Teachers should have discretion. The type of misuse of bathroom privileges that you describe must be discouraged. Even so, I believe that children who have a bona fide urge to relieve themselves should be permitted to do so rather than being forced to wait interminably. Who has to go and who is faking is a distinction most experienced teachers should be able to make.
