Overall, Crime Down Over Holiday

Police Investigate Murder In Sanford

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Although fewer crimes were reported over the Christmas holiday weekend than might be expected for a weekend, Sanford police reported today they are investigating the death of a man whose body was found lying in front of a South Sanford Avenue house Sunday morning.

The man, identified as Juan Nova, 21, a migrant farm worker was found at 9:47 a.m. Sunday at 601 S. Sanford Ave., police said today.

Sgt. Herb Shea said the man suffered multiple wounds. But he would not reveal

'Burglaries and things dropped off.'

the nature of the wounds. An autopsy is slated for today.

Shea said the man was apparently dead for about five hours when his body was discovered.

The man was wounded at another place and either walked or was dropped off in front of the house, he said.

The names of the residents who discovered the body are being withheld by police.

Police said Seminole County was relatively quiet over the Christmas weekend.

Shea said no driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs arrests were made in Sanford and there was very little criminal activity reported.

"Burglaries and things dropped off, as they always do," he said.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk reported similar reductions in weekend crime.

Polk said no daily reports had been received this morning but no highway fatalities were reported for the county during the holiday weekend.

Statewide, 36 people were killed in the second worst death toll in the country for the Christmas weekend.

Polk said the DUI total for the county "appeared to be lower than normal." He attributed the reduction to the state's tougher drunk-driving law, which went into effect this year.

Other reported crimes, such as burglaries and armed robberies, were about the same as other holidays, Polk said.

Sanford Rebuilds Martin Houses

The city of Sanford has reconditioned, cleaned or replaced the purple martin apartment complexes all along the Lake Monroe water front in preparation for the migratory birds' appearance in the city sometime between Jan. 15 and March 15.

Jim Jernigan, director of recreation and parks for the city, said that the purple martin houses knocked down or damaged as a result of the April hail storm have been repaired and those stolen or damaged beyond repair have been replaced.

"Some came loose and went into the lake and we were unable to salvage those," he said.

Jernigan noted the houses were "well occupied" by the birds, which are known for their penchant to devour massive numbers of insects, at the time of the storm. "We lost a lot of birds, nests and eggs from the bird houses when the storm hit Sanford," Jernigan said.

Purple martin apartment buildings repaired

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce more than a year ago began a drive to encourage residents of the city and the city government to install purple martin houses throughout the community. The purpose was to attract the birds to the city as a way to eradicate mosquitoes.

In a special drive more than 75 purple martin houses were located in the city.

Once the birds settle in the area, they will usually stay until it's time to head south in August or September, which is the end of winter in their homeland south of the Equator.

Jernigan said the high lake level last year kept down the usually large numbers of the midges and the birds did an adequate job of eradicating the remainder. He noted the blind mosquito larva remain at the bottom of the lake ready to hatch if the water level goes down.

For Commissioners

Bus Depot, Park, Water Tank On Tap

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

A permit for a bus station, local funding for a park and a site for a new elevated water storage tank will be considered by the Sanford City Commission at a 7 p.m. meeting today.

The meeting will be held at city hall, 300 N. Park Ave.

The City Commission will consider an appeal by John Root from a Planning and Zoning Commission decision denying a use and site plan for his property at the southwest corner of French Avenue and 10th Street for a Trailways Bus Depot.

The advisory board denied the approval because it considered the location inappropriate and poor planning.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles noted the location of the bus depot would require the use of city right-of-way for bus loading and unloading.

He added that if the commission approves the proposal, all parking areas and use of the right-of-way should be contingent upon Root paying within 30 days. Root also should be required to obtain a license for the bus depot, Knowles said.

Knowles noted that a truck dispatching service with as many as five tractor-trailer units parked at one time is located on the northwest corner of 10th and French. He said the city has notified the property owner to stop the operation.

The commission also will consider accepting a grant and funding the improvements of the Marshall Avenue Park which is between Marshall and Georgia avenues, south of 25th Street.

The 10-acre plus park property was dedicated to the public when the city was laid out years ago.

With much of the tract being lowlands, the city has been filling it in for years. The nature park will include trails, picnic areas, recreation and a ball field.

The total cost of the improvement is estimated at $48,742 and includes a $12,500 grant from the state, a city cash match of $25,000 and $11,422 for city labor and equipment.

The park will serve the surrounding residential areas including Geneva Gardens and Terrace and Dreamwood.

The commission also will consider the purchase of a 100 foot square site in the Cornwell Road — Silver Lake area from Thomas McDonald, who is developing a light industrial park in the area.

The site is to be used for an elevated water storage tank to maintain steady gravity water pressure in the area.

In other business, Knowles will report to the Commission that Metro Systems, which owns the advertising benches, placed at various spots in the city was to submit an executed agreement and a $1,000 cashier check with the city today to assure the benches will be maintained.

Fewer In State Able To Pay Utility Bills

Utility companies in Florida are reporting more people unable to pay their bills as the unemployment rate in the state increases.

However, no increase has been seen in Seminole County. John Higgins, customer service supervisor for Florida Power & Light's Sanford office, said he has seen no increase in the number of cut-offs for non-payment.

"A lot of people come in to make arrangements for paying their bill because they have been laid off or in an accident, but this is a normal day to day occurrence," Higgins said.

"There are a few chronics who don't pay their power bills and we have to bear down on them, but we take the customers on an individual basis and are willing to work with them if there is a legitimate reason.

"As of Jan. 1, we will have a new rate schedule to help people who have large fluctuations in their monthly bills," he said. "Called budget billing, it is based on previous usage and takes away the high peaks and hopefully makes it easier to pay."

As for new hook-ups, Higgins said they are "down a little bit, but with the interest rates down and new construction starting, we expect the picture will look better in several months."

The number of uncollectible bills and new hook-ups are up substantially this year for the state's largest electricity producer, Florida Power and Light Co., and for Southern Bell. The Miami Herald reported in today's editions.

"We've really had to put the screws on this year," said Don Mathis, spokesman for Southern Bell.

Earl Tillman, a 33-year-old father of two from Miami's Liberty City area, became one of the disconnected. Jobless since May, he found a pink slip from FP&L on his door when he returned home Thursday.

"Disconnected. First it was my job. Then it was the phone. Now it's the electric. They don't care if you're out of work or what," Tillman said.

FP&L said "uncollectibles" rose 73 percent over the last year. Peoples Gas Co., the state's largest natural gas firm, cut off service to 844 customers in south Florida last month, 25 percent more than in November 1981.

Southern Bell predicts only half the new customers this year as last. FP&L's bad debts will total $10.4 million in 1982, compared to $6 million in 1981, company officials told the newspaper.

"This is probably the worst we've ever seen as far as uncollectibles," said Wayne Hoffman of Peoples Gas. "As far as the utility business today, this is probably one of the greatest concerns."

Peoples sent out past due notices last month to 19,841 Dade County consumers — 28 percent of the firm's Miami-area customers.

By November of this year, Southern Bell tallied 249,000 shutoffs in 11 months compared to 247,000 for all of 1981. Some of those cut-offs, however, occurred when consumers moved.

Unlike some northern states, Florida has no provision to keep utilities from shutting off power in the winter months. Officials say no such moratorium is under consideration because of the state's relatively mild winter. Also, most companies have special payment plans for customers who fall behind on their bills, the Herald said.

PUPPET PALS

Many children are happier today because of the E.T. or Smurf doll Santa brought on Christmas. These youngsters are even happier — all year. They are Sanford Middle School students who conduct the "Kids On The Block" puppet show which is a presentation about handicapped students joining other students in regular classroom study. The students in the gifted program do the puppet shows for each fourth grade class in the area. They also were recently featured on Channel 9 on "Kid's World". Seated, from left, are Sharon Clinton, Beth Brooks, Debby Horner, and standing, from left, are John Mixon, Kathy Buckmaster, Becky Anderson and Robert Vann.

Chemists Trace Cyanide Used To Poison Anacin

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Chemists are trying to determine whether cyanide used to poison Anacin-3 capsules in Southern California might be from the same batch used in last month's cyanide poisoning of another California woman 400 miles away.

Eighteen of 29 Maximum Strength Anacin-3 capsules in a bottle purchased Dec. 8 in San Pedro were laced with cyanide, and the manufacturers of the pain reliever ordered the product removed from California shelves.

The cyanide-laced capsules found in San Pedro bore the code number F-229, the same as a bottle of Anacin-3 purchased by a San Jose woman who became seriously ill last month after taking capsules containing cyanide.

Computer 'Man Of The Year'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The computer finally bested its maker, eclipsing three human luminaries and E.T. to become Time magazine's 1982 Man of the Year.

For the past 55 years, Time's Man of the Year has been either an individual or a group of people. But the current edition released Sunday bears the image of the machine Time singled out as the year's "greatest influence for good or evil."

Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin, British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul A. Volcker and "E.T., the Extra Terrestrial," the space alien from the film of the same name, were picked as runners-up.

"There are some occasions, though, when the most significant force in a year's news is not a single individual but a process, and a widespread recognition that this process is changing the course of all other processes. That is why, after weighing the ebb and flow of events around the world, Time has decided 1982 is the year of the computer," the magazine said.

Holiday Fires Kill 35

United Press International

A fire apparently started by a space heater roared through a Centerville, Ill., home, killing a family of seven, including a great-grandmother and five children, in one of a series of Christmas holiday blazes that claimed at least 35 deaths nationwide.

The dead in the Centerville blaze included a 79-year-old woman, her cousin and five of her great-grandchildren who had paid her a birthday visit — Christmas Day — and spent the night.

A United Press International count showed at least 35 people were killed in fires during the long Christmas weekend that began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Holiday fires killed 10 people in Pennsylvania and eight in Illinois. Connecticut and California each reported four holiday fire deaths. Alabama, Minnesota and Iowa each reported two and Michigan, Maryland and Ohio each reported one.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Thunderstorms crashed into Texas and Louisiana today, threatening more flooding in the South where rain and twisters killed three people in a plane crash and drove 200 people from their homes. Weekend storms killed 13 nationwide. Workers in Denver attacked the ice and huge drifts left by a Christmas Eve blizzard that killed three people in Colorado. Denver was smothered by a record 2 feet of snow. Stapleton International Airport, normally the seventh busiest airport in the nation, was closed for 34 hours and was running at only 15 percent of capacity late Sunday. More than 5 inches of rain fell in six hours by early today along the Gulf Coast near the Louisiana border, swamping Beaumont and Port Arthur, Texas. Sandbagging was reported in nearby Port Acres and runoff covered roads at Bridge City. A half-foot of snow blanketed central Texas. The East Coast enjoyed a day of record warmth, with temperatures in Burlington, Vt., peaking at 58, 30 degrees above normal. Warm weather in New Hampshire exposed the barren rock of stormy Mount Washington — the first time in a half-century the mountain was not clad in snow on Christmas Day.

'Panhandling' On The Hill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The system of campaign financing that makes politicians turn to "panhandling" money from special interests is corrupting Congress, say two retiring lawmakers.

Reps. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., retiring after 28 years, and Millicent Fenwick, R-N.J., defeated for the Senate after eight years in the House, said on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday, expensive campaigns leave the impression politicians are bought by campaign contributors.

"Very often it's perceived, rather than actual, but sometimes it's actual," Mrs. Fenwick said. "When a complete stranger ... will tell you quite frankly, 'Yes, I'm going to vote that way because I took $50,000 from such-and-such a group and they want it,' I call that corruption."

"Campaign expenditures are out of control," Reuss said. "Unless we do something meaningful about it, it will corrupt and ruin the republic."

He urged congressional action to nullify a Supreme Court decision permitting candidates to spend any amount of money on an election while retaining limits on what can be donated, a system that allows wealthy candidates to pour their own money into the campaign.

Mrs. Fenwick opposed the idea of public financing of elections. "The way ... is simply to insist you cannot spend that much."

"The corruption is not only in people seeming to sell access, or perhaps even their votes," Reuss said. "It lies in the preoccupation of legislators ... who have to spend a large part of their lives panhandling, going around to all these groups saying, 'I would just love to have a check from you.' Elections cost money, but they needn't cost millions and millions of dollars which are now being spent."

On other topics: —Mrs. Fenwick, a liberal Republican defeated by free-spending businessman Frank Lautenberg, said she disagreed with Sen. Robert Packwood's warning the GOP is "in danger of extinction" because of its alleged exclusion of minorities, women and poor people.

"I don't think we're dead, I don't think we're out of the picture," she said, adding, the party will have to address issues with "common sense" and "compassion."

—Reuss said although Congress "is in a batting slump at the moment," it has during his service "improved its membership." But, he added, "Congress by itself cannot govern, and when you have a White House such as we now have, that believes in confrontation, you do not get good government."

Reuss said parties should exert more discipline on their members and members of Congress should be allowed to serve in a president's Cabinet without losing their seats, as is done in other democracies.

The rise of political action committees is a striking phenomenon of contemporary American politics. Non-affiliated groups now lead the traditional union and trade association bodies both in numbers and receipts.

COUNTY COUNSELOR

Randy Hillman began his duties as Assistant Seminole County Attorney Dec. 13. Hillman is a graduate of the University of Florida and Florida State University's law school. He will be responsible for litigation. Before joining the county legal staff, he was in the felony division of the State Attorney's office in Orlando.

Drug Task Forces Get Congressional Seal Of Approval

United Press International

U.S. Attorney General William French Smith says Congress' refusal to substantially slash a spending request for the federal south Florida anti-drug task force underscores the need for 12 similar units throughout the nation.

While Congress cut budgets requested by President Reagan for the MX missile and a federal jobs program, lawmakers left funding requests for the South Florida Task Force on Crime and the other programs almost untouched.

"We believe that the new drug task force program will in time come to be viewed as one of the historic developments in the history of law enforcement," Smith said.

Legislators allocated more than $6 million for the south Florida task force. Similar efforts to be started next month in 12 other areas got $127.5 million of a $130-million request to foot the bill for new prisons, jail renovations, equipment, prosecutors, agents, and other personnel.

Even Renewable Energy Sources May Pose Environmental Hazards

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Greater use of renewable energy sources such as solar power may pose environmental hazards that must be examined as the nation searches for alternatives to fossil fuels, the Audubon Society reports.

In a study funded by the National Science Foundation, the environmental group warns that although renewable energy holds great promise for reducing the use of diminishing fossil fuels, scientists and citizens alike should be aware of potential hazards.

The report focuses on a variety of alternative energy sources, including solar power, wood burning, biomass, wind power, hydroelectric power, geothermal energy, ocean thermal energy conversion and household energy conservation.

"Even renewable energy sources have environmental risks, and seemingly benign technologies can, if care is not taken, have very undesirable consequences," the report warned.

The society found the main hazards associated with increased use of renewable energy sources include air pollution, disruption of wildlife or marine habitat and greater use of construction materials.

Audubon Society President Russell Peterson commented the study shows, "Even when it comes to solar energy and energy conservation, there's still no such thing as a free lunch."

A key portion of the report focused on solar photovoltaic cells, which change the sun's energy directly into electricity. The manufacture of solar cells could create shortages of some substances, such as cadmium and gallium, the study found. In addition, it cautioned, large centralized banks of solar cells may use up large areas of land.

Another threat to land is posed by wood burning and biomass energy production from animal wastes and plants, the society said. The burning of wood and use of biomass, if improperly managed, could lead to destruction of forests, increased air pollution, disruption of wildlife habitats and soil erosion.

Other forms of renewable energy and their possible environmental hazards discussed in the Audubon Society report include:

- Wind power: large, modern-day windmills can cause noise pollution and may interfere with television, radio and microwave transmissions.
- Hydroelectric power: damming of rivers can cause siltation and possible stagnation of streams, as well as soil erosion and loss of available land.
- Geothermal energy: tapping for water and steam heat deep within the earth may cause earthquakes, release toxic gases and contribute to water shortages.
- Ocean thermal energy conversion: makes use of temperature differences between ocean surfaces and deep waters. This energy source may use up valuable coastal land, disrupt local marine life cycles and cause weather changes by altering ocean currents.
- Energy conservation: insulating, caulking and use of storm windows may lead to increased indoor air pollution, as stagnant air remains locked inside.

Heavy Drinking Affects Men, Not Women Sexually

BELMONT, Mass. — Heavy drinking can cause men to become impotent and infertile but has no effect on the fertility of women, medical researchers report in a study supported by distilleries.

Dr. Jack Mendelson, director of the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Research Center at McLean Hospital, said the study of more than 3,400 people also turned up evidence that consumption of small amounts of alcohol may reduce the risk of developing coronary artery disease.

"Thirty laboratories now concur that in males — including humans, rats and mice — excessive drinking can lead to problems with impotence and the procreative function,"

Mendelson told representatives from 11 leading distilleries. Mendelson said chronic drinking heavy enough to make someone legally intoxicated inhibited the "transport" of testosterone, the major male sex hormone that gives signals to the brain.

The same intake of alcohol, however, had no apparent effect on the secretion of female sex hormones by the pituitary gland, or of estradiol, a hormone secreted by the ovary that is needed to become pregnant and sustain pregnancy, he said.

The findings, disclosed recently at a hospital symposium, were based on a study of 3,411 patients in nine hospitals.

'Ain't' No Proper Way To Address A Whopper

MIAMI (UPI) — Burger King thought using "ain't" in a television commercial would be cute but a class of fourth-graders took offense and fired off letters scolding the fast-food chain.

Burger King, based in Miami, aired a commercial last week in which an actor said, "And that ain't peanuts." Arlene Stelzer and her pupils at Sylvania Heights Elementary School decided to point out the error.

Ms. Stelzer, who has taught elementary school for 15 years, said grammatical errors on television undermine her efforts to teach students to speak the language correctly.

Con Walks Out Of Prison

STARKE (UPI) — Police are seeking a convicted murderer who walked out the front gate of Florida's highest-security prison after painting his clothes like a guard's and donning an overcoat.

There were no clues to the whereabouts of 43-year-old Myron Fleming when police checked with known acquaintances Sunday, Department of Corrections spokesman Vernon Bradford said.

Fleming, a former death row inmate whose sentence was commuted to life in prison, sawed through bars in a shower stall near the entrance to Florida State Prison, Bradford said.

Push The Grapefruit

VERO BEACH (UPI) — Grapefruit supply is expected to outstrip demand in the next decade, say industry leaders, so Florida growers must either find ways around foreign trade restrictions or convert new U.S. grapefruit eaters.

By 1990, Florida's grapefruit production is expected to total 66 million boxes, a 50 percent increase over the 44 million boxes projected to be harvested in the 1982 crop, said Dan Gunter, economic research director of the state Department of Citrus in Lakeland.

But demand for grapefruit, grown mostly on a narrow piece of land stretching along the Indian River from Volusia County to Palm Beach County, may be leveling off as supply skyrockets, officials say.

New Shelling At Site Of Withdrawal Talks

United Press International

Artillery battles broke out between rival Militiamen in the Shouf mountains with shells reportedly hitting the Beirut suburb where the opening round of Israeli-Lebanese talks on foreign troop withdrawals begins Tuesday.

State-run Beirut Radio said five shells slammed into the coastal area of suburban Khalde Sunday as Lebanese army troops took up position at the town's Lebanon Beach hotel where the withdrawal talks are to be held.

In other developments today, Palestine Liberation Organization chief Yasser Arafat was meeting Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky on the Spanish island of Mallorca for talks on Palestinian refugees and the Middle East in general.

The scheduled meeting came amid a report by Newsweek magazine Kreisky was supervising direct talks between the PLO and Israel to free eight Israeli soldiers in return for the freedom of thousands of Palestinians held in southern Lebanon.

Bombs Kill 6, Injure 83

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Authorities blamed Moslem guerrillas today for two bombs that ripped through a crowded ferryboat and a marketplace in a southern port city, killing six people and injuring 83 others.

Three of the dead and 50 wounded were taken from the ferry docked at Pagadian port after the blast Sunday night sent dozens of terrified passengers leaping overboard to escape, authorities said.

Thieves Steal Goodies For A Party

Thieves, apparently planning a Christmas party, robbed a Seminole County grocery store Friday, taking $4,500 in merchandise, police said.

Seminole County sheriff's deputies said 27 cases of beer, 153 cartons of cigarettes, 10 gallons of milk, 25 loaves of bread, several packages of meat and cheese, a meat slicer, radios with headphones, 20 quarts of oil, a television set and the cash register were taken from the Outpost on State Road 46 west of Sanford.

Deputies said the break-in occurred between 1:30 and 2:45 a.m. Friday.

ROBBERY BY TELEPHONE

A Barnett Bank loan officer reported an attempted extortion Wednesday. And the would-be crook phoned in his demand.

Linda Lee Anderson, loan officer at the bank's Longwood branch, 2601 State Road 436, told deputies a man called her and demanded $250,000 in thousand dollar bills be delivered to the Club Juana on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry.

Ms. Anderson said the man threatened to erase computer tapes containing bank records if the money was not delivered Wednesday.

The bank did not comply with the demand, she said.

HOUSE ROBBED

A Casselberry family returned home Thursday to find that their Christmas gifts, jewelry and sterling silver had been stolen, deputies said.

Charles Parker, 1537 Sharon Way, told deputies a sliding glass door in the house was broken and the gifts, jewelry and silver were stolen between 11:30 a.m. and 11 p.m.

Among the stolen items were a silver candelabrum, 10 silver spoons, a silver bowl, a gold necklace, pearl earrings, a pearl necklace and a gold ring. No estimate of the value of the items has been made.

CAR TAKEN

Randy Snyder, 22, of 1535 Glastonberry Drive, Fern Park reported his 1978 Volkswagen Rabbit was stolen Friday.

Snyder estimated the value of the car at $4,000.

SHOPLIFTING ARREST

An Osteen man was arrested Sunday after Zayre's officials charged him with taking a $9 cassette tape without paying for it.

Kenneth Harvey, 18, was arrested at 4:52 p.m. after he was allegedly observed taking the tape, removing the wrapping and putting it in his pocket.

He was later freed from the Seminole County jail on $100 bond.

TEEN CHARGED

Richard L. Laurado, 19, of 511 W. Lake Branley Road, Forest City, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor Sunday after deputies observed him smoking marijuana and drinking with three juveniles.

Deputies said the three juveniles were observed drinking while they were parked in a car with Laurado along West Lake Branley Road.

'TAKE ME' BANNER TAKEN

Someone took a banner ... literally ... from Photo Express on State Road 434 near Interstate 4 in Longwood Tuesday night.

The banner read, "Take Me Home." So, someone did.

CAMERA MISSING

A fishing trip proved to be an expensive proposition for Robert Eger, 66, of 1436 Coronet Ave. in Sanford.

Eger took his 35 millimeter camera with him to the seaway on Lake Monroe. While fishing, Eger left the camera on the wall. When he returned, the camera, valued at $150 was taken.

DUI ARRESTS

The following people were arrested on DUI charges:

- Lawrence Guy, 19, Sorrento, was arrested at 2:41 a.m. Thursday at the intersection of Lake Mary Boulevard and Longwood-Lake Mary Road. Guy was charged with DUI and speeding after police observed him traveling 50 miles per hour in a 30 mph zone. He was lodged in $500 bond.
- Terry Penn, 30, 859 Ballard St., Altamonte Springs, was arrested following an accident on state Road 434 near Interstate 4 Wednesday evening. Police said Penn's vehicle struck a car stopped along the road.

Holiday Death Toll Hits 311

United Press International

Holiday traffic accidents killed at least 311 people during Christmas weekend, including a father and two daughters who died in a car crash that Illinois officials blamed on thrillseekers who dragged a concrete-filled milk can onto a road.

Vandals placed the 3-foot-tall milk can filled with concrete onto the roadway in a western Chicago suburb, triggering the fatal crash.

"I wonder if somebody is going to be able to live with that," one neighbor said.

A UPI count showed deaths at least 311 people died on the nation's highways before the three-day weekend ended Sunday at midnight local time. The holiday began Thursday evening.

Texas had the worst toll — 40, including five members of one family. Florida reported 36, followed by California with 27 and New York with 21. Fifteen died in Pennsylvania. Illinois and Michigan had 14 deaths each, North Carolina 12 and Kentucky 10.

The Michigan State Police reported alcohol was involved in 10 deaths and 11 victims were not using seat belts.

The National Safety Council estimated traffic accidents would kill between 300 and 400 people during the weekend. During the Christmas weekend of 1981, 354 people were killed and 16,500 were seriously injured.

Cook County sheriff's police hunted for pranksters in the crash that killed Richard Steinmetz, 40, of Addison, Ill., and his daughters, Amy, 10, and Colleen, 7. His wife and a son survived the crash, which occurred as the family returned home after spending Christmas evening with relatives.

A van hit the can, which was used as a lawn decoration, and veered into the Steinmetz station wagon.

"My dad tried to swerve, but it was too late," said the son, Richard. "Then it was over. I looked over at my dad but his eyes were wide open, staring into nothingness."

New York police said Jeffrey Floriglio, 12, Brooklyn, testing the motorbike he had gotten as a present, drove into a parked car and died Friday apparently while trying to hide from a passing police car.

Three people died north of Kingman, Ariz., Christmas Day when two vehicles collided on U.S. 83 and were engulfed in flames. Authorities said it might take days to find out what happened and identify the victims.

A family of five died in central Texas late Friday in a two-vehicle crash at College Station. The victims were Thad Davis, 67, and his wife, Minnie Naomi Davis, 58, both of Corpus Christi, their daughter, Sheri Franze, 38, and her husband, E. Franze, 39, both of Bryan, and the Franze's son, Jody, 9.

Rat's Goose Is Cooked

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A giant rat chewed through a main power line at a county jail facility causing a 12-hour blackout that forced evacuation of more than 900 inmates just minutes before their Christmas Day dinner could be served.

"A rat jinxed them out of their dinner," said Robert L. Hull of the Southern California Edison Co. "He made a shambles out of the whole thing."

Hull said the rat apparently crawled into a 16,000-volt fuse box, then set a chain reaction that "fused everything together." The smoldering rat was alongside the melted wiring.

The lights went out at the Biscailuz Center, a minimum security county facility in East Los Angeles, at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. The inmates were bused to two other jails while Edison workmen repaired the wiring.

Shirley Chisholm Packs Her Bags

SHIRLEY CHISHOLM
... out of office, but not out of sight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Shirley Chisholm, the first black woman elected to Congress and run for president, is stepping down after 24 years in politics but says she will be vocal in international affairs, particularly concerning "racist" U.S. immigration policies.

Mrs. Chisholm, 58, who announced last February she would not seek re-election to an eighth term in the House of Representatives, will begin teaching "pragmatic politics" three days a week next month at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass.

As her staff sorted through files and packed boxes in her Brooklyn office, Mrs. Chisholm, who ran for president in 1972, hinted at other projects that will keep her involved in public affairs.

Mrs. Chisholm said she hoped to do some radio or television work, intended to pursue her efforts supporting black colleges and become involved with the National Council of Negro Women, founded by Mary McLeod Bethune, one of her personal heroines.

Mrs. Chisholm also said she would continue to be vocal in international affairs, particularly concerning South Africa and the United States' "racist" immigration policies she contended unfairly bar Haitians and African refugees from entering the country.

From her office overlooking the streets of Bedford-Stuyvesant, the core of her Brooklyn congressional district, Mrs. Chisholm chose her words carefully in discussing the bitterly divided black political leadership in Brooklyn.

Trim and simply, but elegantly dressed, Mrs. Chisholm exuded the energy and self-confidence that gave her strength to march into positions never before attempted by a black woman, but her enthusiasm dampened as she discussed the slings and arrows she has suffered from her own people.

She declined to comment on her successor, Democratic state Sen. Major Owens, who won a close primary contest marred by allegations of vote fraud from both major contenders.

"That's the future for them. I am attempting to leave without controversy," Mrs. Chisholm said.

Nothing she has been attacked frequently by local politicians and sometimes labeled an "Aunt Jemima," Mrs. Chisholm said, "There's no other group that carries on in public the way we do."

"Brooklyn is fast becoming a minority community," she said. "But what do the numbers mean if you are not united or consolidated on the issues that should be bringing you forward?"

Nutcracker Sweets Are Delightful Treats Any Occasion, Any Season

Most everyone knows of the peanut's pizzazz. It's got taste, versatility and the rest of that jazz.

From veggies and stuffing to cookies and breads, The great taste of peanuts will always turn heads.

So, for nutty ideas and recipes, too, Just give us a jingle cause we're nuts about you!

PEANUT BUTTER TEMPTATIONS
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup peanut butter
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1 egg
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1 1/4 cups flour
 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 48 miniature peanut butter candies

Cream butter, peanut butter, sugars; add egg and vanilla. Beat until creamy. Stir in dry ingredients until blended. Roll dough into 1-inch balls. Press into 1 1/2-inch muffin tins. Bake at 350 degrees 12 minutes. Remove from oven and immediately press on miniature peanut butter cup candy into each hot cookie crust; allow to cool.

PEANUT BUTTER PRALINES
 1 cup buttermilk
 1 cup butter or margarine
 2 1/2 cups sugar
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 1 Tablespoon vanilla
 2 Tablespoons peanut butter
 2 1/2 cups roasted peanuts
 Mix the buttermilk, butter and sugar in a 2-quart saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Add peanuts and cook over medium heat to soft-ball stage or to 234 degrees on candy thermometer, stirring constantly. Add soda, vanilla, peanut butter; stir rapidly until mixture is creamy and thickened. Drop rapidly from a table spoon onto a lightly greased baking sheet to form patties. Let stand until cool and set.

DOUBLE PEANUT CLUSTERS

1/2 cup peanut butter
 2 packages German chocolate
 2 cups roasted peanuts
 Combine peanut butter and chocolate in top of double boiler and place over hot (not boiling) water until chocolate melts. Stir until blended. Add peanuts and stir until well coated. Drop on waxed paper. Chill. Makes 2 dozen clusters.

PEANUT BRITTLE (MICROWAVE)

1 cup raw peanuts
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 cup white corn syrup
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon butter
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 In a 1 1/2 qt. casserole stir together peanuts, sugar, syrup, and salt. Cook 8 minutes on high in microwave oven stirring well after 4 minutes. Stir in butter and vanilla. Microwave 2 minutes longer on high. Add baking soda and quickly stir until light and foamy. Immediately pour onto lightly greased baking sheet; spread out very thin. When cool break into small pieces. Store in airtight container. Makes 1 pound.

PEANUT ORANGE BALLS

1 cup chopped peanuts
 1 package (12 ounces) orange slices, diced
 1 package (14 ounces) sweetened condensed milk
 Two-thirds cup powdered sugar
 Combine chopped peanuts, orange slices (diced) and coconut in large mixing bowl. Add sweetened condensed milk, mixing well. Shape into 1-inch balls. Roll in powdered sugar. Makes about 9 dozen.

PEANUT BUTTER BALLS

1 16-ounce package confectioners sugar
 1 cup butter or margarine
 1 12-ounce jar crunchy peanut butter
 1 block paraffin

12-ounce bag chocolate chips (semi-sweet)
 In medium bowl beat butter with sugar and peanut butter until smooth. Roll into 1" balls. Chill. Place paraffin and chocolate chips in the top of a double broiler and melt over medium heat. Drop balls in chocolate mixture one at a time. Allow to cool on wax paper.

PEANUT BUTTER DREAMS
 1 cup butter
 1 cup creamy peanut butter

2 1/2 cups confectioners sugar
 1 3/4 cups graham cracker crumbs

1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
 1/4 cup finely chopped salted peanuts

In medium saucepan, melt butter over medium heat. Add peanut butter, stirring until See NUTS Page 3B

Molded Salad Is A Real Show-Off

This molded salad is as beautiful as it is delicious and ideal for company. Grated carrots tint the gelatin a beautiful shade of orange above a snowy cream cheese base. Slices of pimiento-stuffed olives add colorful flavor accents and, throughout, the salad is studded with crunchy walnuts, toasted to keep their crispness intact.

WALNUT-CARROT PARTY SALAD

- 1 6-ounce package lemon flavor gelatin
- 3 1/2 cups hot water
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups grated carrots
- 1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
- 1 1/3 cups chopped toasted walnuts
- 2 3-ounce packages cream cheese, softened

Dissolve gelatin in hot water, stir in lemon juice and salt. Chill until mixture thickens slightly. Fold in carrots, olives and walnuts; halfway fill a 6 1/2-cup mold and set mold in a bowl of ice water. Beat cream cheese well and gradually blend in remaining gelatin mixture. Spoon over the clear layer to fill mold. Chill for several hours or overnight before unmolding. Makes about 10 servings.

Right Diet Pays

Times change. Eating patterns change also. This is very true but, "Be not the first to seize the new nor the last to leave the old." That advice has proved worthy of attention despite all the advertising and hoopla to the contrary.

For example, I know a man who is 88 years old. He is vigorous, perfectly well in all organs, his voice is good and he lives normally. In his 88 years he has gone through many dietary changes prescribed by leading scientists such as nutritionists, doctors and chemists. Yet he is today an example of good American health. We have asked him to describe his diet patterns and here is the way he answers the question.

"I remember first the Fletcher Movement which emphasized the number of times you bite to make food digestible. It was quite a sight to see all members of a family chewing like mad before swallowing. Then came the calorie onslaught. Everything in life, almost including daily prayers, seemed to revolve around calories. Next, vitamins. Vitamin C, Bs, A and all the rest became permanent residents in the nutrition pattern. Now fats and cholesterol; both of these have much more to be said about them than has yet been said. Fiber came along with its advice that it must be included in a normal diet. As a matter of fact, prior to this knowledge of the value of fiber, a cousin of mine used to routinely add 'feed store' roughage to her diet and said it helped her greatly!

"Then, of course, we're in the midst of the great salt brouhaha. We are all eating too much salt but we are learning to eat less salty and salted foods. Too much sugar is also taboo to a large extent. Your morning coffee will have to be less sweet."

He continues, "For 88 years I have lived through all these changes. My mother was an excellent cook and my father more or less a gourmet. That may have helped. We always had fresh salad every night."

In line with the above thought the new "Food Sleuth Handbook" by Sandra K. Friday and Heidi S. Hurwitz, published by Atheneum, is a great contribution to modern living.

smooth. Remove from heat and stir in sugar and graham cracker crumbs. Pat into a greased 8x8-inch pan. Chill. Melt chocolate pieces. Spread over mixture in pan. Sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Chill until firm. Cut into 1-inch squares. Makes 64 pieces.

PEANUT BUTTER DIP TOPS

- 1/2 cup butter, softened
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 3/4 cup creamy peanut butter
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - 2 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 4 ounces semi-sweet chocolate, melted
 - 1/2 cup chopped peanuts
- Cream together butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg, peanut butter and vanilla. Thoroughly blend flour, baking soda and salt. Gradually add to creamed mixture. Beat until well mixed. Form into 1-inch balls. Place on greased baking sheet 2 inches apart. Using bottom of glass, flatten into 3-inch circles. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 15 minutes or until golden. Remove from baking sheets and cool. Spread about 1/2 teaspoon melted chocolate on each cookie. Sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Makes about 4 1/2 dozen.

No Kidding, Cheese Caused Bad Breath

DEAR DR. LAMB — We thought you might like to know how we solved the bad breath problem. After spending a lot of money with a specialist 75 miles away who was of no help, my husband went for his regular checkup with our family doctor. I said, "Tell him something has to be done," as I could not go near my husband. The doctor casually said it could be cheese. No cheese, no bad breath. It is an allergy. It is hard to cook around here as I can't eat seafood or onions, and now this.

DEAR READER — Your husband is fortunate, and so are you, that he found out what was causing his bad breath. Often it is difficult to find the cause. Food allergies can indeed cause bad breath. How is not clear. Perhaps it is because the allergy upsets the body chemistry.

Whenever a disease, allergy or even ingesting an odorous chemical affects the body chemistry, the odorous chemicals are exhaled from the lungs. The chemicals are dissolved in the blood stream and emit gases into the air spaces which are in the exhaled air.

Milk products are commonly a cause for food allergies. Although the accepted thinking is that digestive disorders do not cause bad breath, I don't totally believe that. Any chemical that is formed inside the long intestinal tract can be absorbed into the bloodstream and carried to the lungs.

Some women develop bad breath at the time of their menses. Through some chemical change in the body, odorous chemicals are in the bloodstream and cause the condition. It is not because the women are unclean but due to a chemical change. At least it is temporary.

If you have been listening to the news you should know that those highly advertised mouthwash preparations that cure bad breath by killing bacteria do not help. The FDA has made it official that such preparations do not really help. To give you the guidelines of what does help, I am sending you the Health Letter number 9-4, Halitosis: The Breath Problem and What to Do About It. Others can obtain this issue by sending 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 72 years old and for the past few years my fingernails have been splitting and peeling. I used "Hard As Nails," but that didn't help. I have been taking multivitamins.

My nails looked so ugly that I finally went to a very fine druggist who suggested gelatin capsules. I take these after each meal. Do you think these will help my nails? If not, what do you suggest?

DEAR READER — I wish correcting splitting and peeling fingernails was that easy. It isn't. Gelatin is a poor protein. It does not contain all the essential amino acids. Some nutritionists would call it an incomplete protein. There is no valid evidence that taking gelatin will improve nails at all. And you can get better quality protein from meats, milk and natural food sources of complete protein.

Just be sure you are on a good diet with adequate calcium and protein. Then avoid using any fingernail polish preparations or polish removers (removers are hard on nails). Moisturize your nails by covering them with a heavy oily salve such as Vaseline regularly to conserve their natural moisture.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL
For Tuesday, December 28, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
Dec. 28, 1982
Opportunities could develop for you this coming year through the least-expected sources. Make it a point to treat your acquaintances in all walks of life with due respect.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your possibilities for personal gain look good today, but your returns are likely to come only from areas in which you might have to work rather hard. Order now: the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic combinations, compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $1 for your Capricorn Astro-Graph predictions for 1983.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
Your leadership qualities are likely to be more evident than those of your peers today, so don't hesitate to take charge of situations where you see them floundering.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Once you get into the rhythm of things you are a very strong finisher today. This is a good time to conclude situations where you've left loose ends.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You could be rather fortunate today where your newest interest is concerned. Focus your energies on this area and proceed hopefully.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Give vent to your ambitious urges today. You can easily achieve the objective you set for yourself, especially if they relate to your material needs.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Have faith in your ideas and your way of doing things today, even if others fail to see their value. It's more likely that you're the one on target.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Your hunches regarding financial matters should be quite accurate today. Coupled with your logic, this could prove to be a profitable combination.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Partnerships or situations requiring a team effort could offer you special advantages today. Don't do alone what could be done better with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Regardless of what your tasks are, make an extra effort to perform them to the best of your ability. Good work could pay off in large dividends today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Don't fear to tackle several projects simultaneously today. The busier you are, the better you're likely to do. Keep your mind and hands active.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
If there's something you've been wanting to change which you feel will be of benefit to your family, act now. Don't postpone it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
If you have an idea of a plan about which you are doubtful, bounce it off an associate whose judgment you respect. He'll set you straight.

plays.

Oswald: "South's jump to three no-trump is the sort of better-skillet bidding that is frowned on by scientists, but used by lots of players. In any event, three no-trump is the only makable game contract."

Jim: "South is delighted with the diamond lead. His 10 top East's nine and a quick count shows that if he can acquire a total of three tricks in the black suits he will have his game. Which one should he attack?"

Oswald: "There is one danger. If East wins the black suit lead with the ace over an honor, a diamond return may crush South if the black suit breaks badly."

Jim: "South can guard against this danger. At trick two he leads a heart to dummy's ace and plays a low club. If East holds the ace and takes it right away, South is sure of three club tricks. As it is, West holds the ace. He can take it, but won't hurt declarer if he leads a diamond."

Oswald: "Note that this early play insures the contract against all contingencies. A sure thing is better than a good chance."

Chickens With Almonds was created by a cook who knows how to give a party and enjoy it. With advance preparation, the company entree makes a grand entrance into the dining room with a refreshed and lively hostess.

How To Be The Life Of The Party

"Ready When You Are" is a new cookbook that shows you how to cook and serve an elegant company dinner without servants and without spending the evening in the kitchen.

Author Elizabeth Schneider Colchie presents her philosophy of cooking that refreshingly shows you how to assemble a memorable meal meeting every criteria of the knowledgeable chef and still enjoy the luxury of dining with your guests completely at ease.

The dishes do require preparation time but since this is done ahead of time, nothing is left to the last minute but the end of the cooking process, which often simply is a matter of reheating. Menus are offered for each season complete to the last detail, featuring the best and freshest foods available in the market.

Chickens with Almonds demonstrates Ms. Colchie's talent with unexpected combinations of ingredients that create a highly sophisticated dish.

The chickens are split and spread flat in butterfly fashion and the skin is loosened and separated from the breast meat. A delicious, moist stuffing — a melange of bread, chicken livers and hearts, shallots and rosemary — is fragrant with a cup of finely chopped almonds and piquant with the rind of two Florida oranges.

The stuffing is tucked under the skin and the birds are roasted until barely done. Vermouth and fresh Florida orange juice combine to make a delicate sauce.

When party night arrives, the cooking is completed by roasting the chickens for forty minutes and topping them with one cup of the sauce. Served on a bed of saffron rice or watercress, Chickens with Almonds makes a grand entrance into the dining room with a refreshed and lively hostess.

CHICKENS WITH ALMONDS

- 2 chickens (3 pounds each)
- 2 large Florida oranges
- 2 large shallots
- 1 cup unblanched almonds
- 2 teaspoons dried rosemary
- 2 teaspoons coarse salt
- Hearts and livers from chickens
- 6 tablespoons butter, softened
- 2 slices bread, cut in cubes
- Salt
- Pepper
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/3rd cups sweet vermouth
- 1 cup Florida orange juice
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 4 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon green peppercorns (optional)
- Saffron rice

Set chickens on their breast. Cut along spine from tail to neck; remove backbone. Open out birds, skin side down. Press down firmly to break breastbone and ribs. Starting at the neck, separate skin from meat all over except at tip of the drumsticks and wings. Peel rind from oranges, avoiding white pith.

Boil rind for 2 minutes; drain, cool and dry. In a processor or electric blender combine orange rind, shallots, almonds, rosemary, salt, chicken hearts, livers, and butter. Blend until mixture is fairly smooth. Add bread and whirl just to blend.

Gently work half of the stuffing under the skin of each chicken to cover the flesh as evenly as possible. Use one hand to stuff, the other to distribute the stuffing from the outside. Sew any tears in skin. Set the birds, skin side up, in a buttered roasting pan. Pull the neck flaps over the opening and tuck the skin under the breast to seal in the stuffing. Fold wing tips under the birds. Roast in a 375 degree F. oven 30 minutes. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Reduce heat to 325 degrees F; roast 25 minutes longer, basting the birds with pan drippings several times until skin is brown but birds are not quite done. Transfer to baking-serving dish. At this point, chickens can be stored until the next day, if desired. Cool, cover and refrigerate.

Meanwhile, add water and vermouth to roasting pan; bring to a boil scraping up solids. Skim off excess fat. Combine orange and lemon juice with cornstarch. Add peppercorns. Stir into mixture in roasting pan; bring to a boil, stirring constantly.

Boil 1 minute. Season to taste. Cool, cover and refrigerate until ready to use. To serve, place baking dish with chickens in cold oven. Heat to 375 degrees F. Warm sauce in small pan. When chickens have heated 20 minutes, pour over 1 cup sauce, continue cooking and basting 20 minutes longer. Serve on saffron rice. Pass remaining sauce. Yield: 8 servings.

where shopping is a pleasure

Tris Speaker, the great American baseball player, was known as the "Gray Eagle" because of his gray hair and his speed in playing the outfield.

Elegant dessert is simple to make by using canned cherry pie filling.

Cherries Jubilee

Dazzling Dessert Easy To Flame

Dazzle your guests with Cherries Jubilee—flamed and served at the table. This dessert is always a dramatic and delectable finale to a special dinner. Its entertaining ways have generated "oohs and ahhs" for a hundred years, when it was first created by a French chef to celebrate his fiftieth birthday.

Unlike most French confections from that era of elegance and "excess", this recipe does not require elaborate, time-consuming preparations or a multitude of lavish ingredients. Simply with a can of sweet cherry pie filling and some kirsch—volla!—you can transform ordinary vanilla ice cream into party glamour. What a way to get lots of effect for a minimum of effort!

To ensure your flaming success, here are some tips that will add to your showmanship:

Use kirsch that's at least 80-proof. The flammability of a spirit is based on the amount of alcohol it contains. For instant ignition, briefly warm kirsch in the microwave oven or in a pan placed on a regular burner. Don't boil: it might ignite or evaporate the alcohol you need for flaming.

Transfer the warmed spirit into a long-handled ladle or pitcher and quickly pour kirsch over the cherries, without stirring. Ignite with a long fireplace match.

Turn out the lights for more glow-and-show. For lingering flames, soak sugar cubes in liqueur, dot them among the cherries, and ignite.

To make sure ice cream is frozen hard, spoon ice cream into individual serving dishes prior to dinner and keep in freezer until ready to serve.

In flaming desserts, the alcohol vanishes completely as it burns. Since only the flavor essence remains, those who do not care for alcohol may still enjoy this sauce. However, nonalcoholic flames can be created by soaking sugar cubes in lemon extract or flambe solution purchased commercially.

CHERRIES JUBILEE

- 1 can (11 oz.) cherry pie filling
- 1/4 cup kirsch
- vanilla ice cream

Heat sweet cherry pie filling in a chafing dish or fondue pot at the table or in a microwave oven (high setting for 3-4 minutes) or in a pan over a regular burner.

Warm kirsch either in microwave (15 seconds on high) or in a saucepan on the range.

Pour liqueur over hot cherries and ignite carefully. Stir while flaming, then spoon over ice cream.

Mediterranean Touch Adds New Adventure To Entree

The American love affair with Mediterranean food began with pasta. The pizza blitz came next, with ratatouille giving chase, making us all aficionados of the spicy goodness that identifies the dishes of these colorful, sunbathed countries.

The Mediterranean cook has special genius for making main dishes featuring fresh fruits and vegetables. When produce is at the peak of flavor, it is seasoned judiciously, cooked gently and presented with a showman's flair to make an elegant entree. These wholesome economical and delicious main course recipes with the Mediterranean touch add new adventure to the American dinner table.

Florida oranges are fresh in the market during the months ahead and add succulence and sparkling flavor when combined with vegetables and meat or poultry. They bring a pleasing contrast in texture, and the bonus of vitamin C as well.

Mediterranean Eggplant combines fresh Florida oranges with just-harvested eggplant to make a stunning dish that is easy on the food budget. The eggplant is stuffed with sweet Italian sausage and made pungent with garlic, onions and oregano.

MEDITERRANEAN EGGPLANT

- 2 large eggplant
- 1 pound sweet Italian sausage
- 2 cups chopped onion
- 2 cups chopped red pepper
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons dried leaf oregano, crumbled
- 4 Florida oranges, peeled, cubed
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cut eggplant in half lengthwise. Scoop out interior leaving 1/4-inch shell. Chop scooped-out portion and set aside. Remove sausage meat from casing. In large skillet cook sausage, breaking it up with a fork as it cooks. Add chopped eggplant, onion, red pepper, garlic and oregano. Cook, 5 minutes, stirring often, until vegetables are soft. Add oranges; mix well. Spoon mixture into eggplant shells. Place eggplant in shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake, uncovered, in a 350 degree F. oven 20 minutes or until cheese is lightly browned.

Yield: 4 servings.

Florida oranges and eggplant make a stunning dish that is easy on food budget.

Hearty 'Down Home' Favorites

The sight, scent, taste, or even the thought of certain foods can evoke pleasant memories of home and childhood. Although we didn't realize it as children, these "comfort foods" were often grandmother's or mother's way of stretching food dollars while still serving wonderfully hearty, satisfying fare. As we shop for the greatest value for our food dollars today, we would do well to consider some of these traditional "down home" favorites.

The money-saving basis of some of these treasured heritage dishes is rice and vegetables, used to extend economical smoked sausage for nutritious meals. Budget-conscious consumers recognize that the hearty full flavor of smoked sausage can be stretched to yield a greater number of satisfying servings than other meats, and busy cooks appreciate its fully-cooked convenience. Whether served for family meals or as company fare, the pleasing flavor and no-waste economy will be most welcome.

To insure that your taste travel down memory lane lives up to expectations, select a rice which cooks up into plump, firm and separate grains.

Bring a touch of Old World style to the table with Creamy Hungarian Style Sausage 'N Rice. This flavorful melange features the cook's choice of Eckrich Polska Kielbasa or Smoked Sausage, teamed with rice and crunchy red or green cabbage. Or, revisit our American heritage with Creole Sausage and Rice Skillet or Dell Salad — perfect for a light supper. Colorful Ratatouille Sausage With Pepper Rice is party or buffet perfect, yet is easy enough for weeknight meals.

RATATOUILLE SAUSAGE WITH PEPPER RICE

- 1 can (13-3/4 or 14-1/2 ounces) chicken broth
 - 1 cup rice
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 3/4 teaspoon thyme
 - 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 - 1 onion, sliced
 - 1 garlic clove, minced
 - 1 can (14-3/4 ounces) tomatoes
 - 1 small eggplant, cut into 1-inch cubes (about 1 pound)
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons basil
 - 1 pound Eckrich Smoked Sausage, cut into 1-inch pieces
 - 2 zucchinis, sliced
 - 1/2-inch thick
 - 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- Add enough water to chicken broth to make 2-1/2 cups liquid. Bring to boil. Stir in rice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, and 1 tablespoon of the butter. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. While rice is cooking, cook onion and garlic in remaining 1 tablespoon butter in 10-inch skillet until onion is tender but not brown. Coarsely chop and drain tomatoes, reserving liquid. Add tomatoes, reserved liquid, eggplant, basil, the remaining 1/2 teaspoon thyme and 1 teaspoon salt to onion-garlic mixture in skillet. Top with sausage. Cover and continue cooking over medium heat 10 minutes or until eggplant is tender. Remove rice from heat. Stir green pepper into rice. Cover and let stand until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Serve sausage mixture over rice. Makes 6 servings.

CREATIVE MENU IDEAS

Grill or broil smoked sausage in just 3 to 5 minutes. Brush with barbecue sauce and serve on crusty rolls with roasted peppers or grilled onions. Sliced smoked sausage and serve on crackers or party rye bread for quick and easy appetizers. It's fully cooked — no need to heat. Add sliced or diced smoked sausage to vegetable soup during the last hour of cooking to make it a meal-in-a-bowl.

CREOLE SAUSAGE AND RICE SKILLET

- 1 medium onion, cut into 1/4-inch wedges
 - 1 small green pepper, diced
 - 1/2 cup sliced celery
 - 1 garlic clove, minced
 - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 - 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon thyme, as desired
 - 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper, as desired
 - 1 cup rice
 - 1 pound Eckrich Smoked Sausage
 - 1/4 pound cooked shrimp
- Cook onion, green pepper, celery and garlic in butter in large skillet over medium heat until onion and green pepper are tender but not brown. Drain and coarsely chop tomatoes, reserving juice. Add enough water to juice to make 2-1/2 cups liquid. Add liquid to skillet. Bring to a boil. Stir in rice, salt, thyme, cayenne pepper and tomatoes. Add sausage. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Remove from heat and add shrimp. Cover and let stand until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

DELSALAD

- 2-1/2 cups water
 - 1 cup rice
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 pound Eckrich Smoked Sausage, cut into 1/4-inch pieces
 - 1/2 cup chopped red onion
 - 1/2 cup diced dill pickle
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 cup bottled Italian dressing
 - 1/2 pound Cheddar, Swiss or American cheese, cut into 1/4-inch cubes
 - 1 tomato, chopped
- Bring water to a boil. Add rice and salt. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Let stand covered until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Transfer to large bowl. Cover and chill. Add sausage, onion and pickle to rice. Blend mayonnaise and Italian dressing. Add to rice mixture; mix well. Chill. Just before serving, stir in cheese and tomato. Makes 6 servings.

CREAMY HUNGARIAN STYLE SAUSAGE 'N RICE

- 2-1/2 cups plus 2 tablespoons water
 - 1 cup rice
 - 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 pound Eckrich Polska Kielbasa or Smoked Sausage, cut into 1/4-inch pieces
 - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 - 1/2 medium head of cabbage, cut into 1/4-inch strips
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 - 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- Bring 2-1/2 cups water to a boil in medium saucepan. Stir in rice and 1 teaspoon of the salt. Cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Let stand covered until all water is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Cook sausage in butter in large skillet, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Remove from skillet. Add cabbage to skillet; cook, stirring often, 1 minute. Stir in sugar, paprika, the remaining 2 tablespoons water, and the sausage. Cover and cook until cabbage is crisp-tender, about 4 minutes. Stir in sour cream and rice; heat through but do not boil. Makes 6 servings.

Heritage dishes, Ratatouille Sausage With Pepper Rice, left, and Creole Sausage And Rice Skillet, are superbly delicious while stretching food dollars.

In Food Banks

Holiday Generosity Reflected

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Production at the nation's deeply troubled steel mills dwindled to 30 percent during Christmas, pushing work at union food banks to full tilt in a spirit of unprecedented holiday giving, food distributors say.

stock said. Now, he said, nine workers dole out 275,000 pounds of food to 220 local unions, churches and other groups.

"We had a lot of people who don't have jobs who would say, 'I can't help much, but take this couple of dollars or couple of cans. I want to do what I can,'" said Carolyn McClair, public relations manager for the station.

Births, Marriages And Divorces All Increase In 1981

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of marriages and divorces in this country continued to increase in 1981, preliminary government figures show.

An estimated 1,219,000 divorces were granted in 1981, the center said, the 19th consecutive increase and triple the national total recorded in 1962.

Girl Recovering After Transplant; Second In 4 Days

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Susan Petersen's parents say the second life-saving liver transplant in four days for their 19-month-old daughter is "a miracle" and the best Christmas present they could have asked for.

Social Security Will Not Do Job, Floridians Believe

Most Floridians don't think the Social Security system will be able to provide them with promised retirement benefits. And they are willing to make some sacrifices to get the system solvent.

Clark Recovers From Activities

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Barney Clark recovered today from Christmas festivities that included a Nativity play by the children of the surgeons who implanted his artificial heart and jokes about the appropriateness of the fake tree in his hospital room.

Reagan: We Will Not Abandon Afghanistans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan marked the third anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan by asking Americans to remember the struggle of Afghan people and pledging "we will not grow weary or abandon them."

"The American people do not want to see the suffering and deprivation of the Afghan people continue. But we will not grow weary or abandon them and their cause of freedom."

Microwave Magic

Treat Family To A Batch Of Fudge

Old-fashioned candy making can be done in your microwave. In fact, your microwave can simplify the cooking so much that old favorites are much easier to make.

Now that you have finished your gift-giving goodies, make this old-fashioned fudge for your family.

OLD FASHIONED FUDGE

- 2 cups sugar
- 5 Tablespoons cocoa
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1 Tablespoon corn syrup
- 3 Tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine sugar, cocoa and salt in a 3-quart mixing bowl. Stir in milk and syrup. Mix well. Add butter. Cover and microwave 4-100 percent power for 5 minutes. Microwave

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole Community College

uncovered 10-14 minutes. (Should form a soft ball when small amount is dropped in water.)

Cool without stirring to lukewarm. Add vanilla and nuts. Beat until thick and creamy, and starts to lose its shine and hold shape. Pour into a buttered loaf pan. Makes 1 pound.

This hot fruit compote can be a nice addition to your Christmas morning breakfast. Other fruits can also be used as well as those mentioned.

FRUIT COMPOTE

- 1 cup sliced pears
- 1 cup sliced peaches
- 1 cup cherries - dark sweet
- 1 cup pineapple chunks
- 1/4 cup water
- 3/4 cup brown sugar

Combine fruit and water in a 2-quart casserole. Cover Microwave 5-6 minutes. Stir several times. Stir in sugar. Recover fruits and let stand several minutes. Can be served hot or cold.

The more you use your microwave, the more you will find it can do for you. Take advantage of manufacturer's classes and sign up for a class to learn about new microwaving techniques and equipment. It's a good way to start off the new year. You may find that you could be using your microwave in many more ways than you are now. The first column of the new year will be about what's new in microwaving.

Good Eating Guide

Good news for snackers — especially during the holiday season. The belief that food consumption between meals is harmful is not basically true. This brings a sigh of relief from millions since between-meal snacks have become part of the American scene. It is estimated that sixty percent of the public consumes snacks between meals.

In an article in "Contemporary Nutrition" by Karen J. Morgan, Ph.D., Department of Human Nutrition, Foods and Food Systems Management, at the University of Missouri, it states that a survey established that 59 to 70 percent of the United States children and teenagers had at least one snack per day. Adults were apt to snack less often with 40 to 64 percent of the surveyed adults snacking once per day.

According to the Nationwide Food Consumption Survey, snacks made up 20 percent of the food energy for the one-a-day snackers. Snacks provided for 12 percent of the average protein intake, 18 percent of the fat intake and 23 percent of the day's intake carbohydrate. This information showed that snackers averaged 14 percent of their daily intake and 21 percent of their magnesium and calcium intake from the foods they consumed between meals.

The report further states that among teenagers, the most popular snacks were soft drinks, milk, bakery products, bread, milk desserts, salty snacks, meats and fruits.

A renowned nutritionist says that there is no such thing as "junk food." It is not one particular food that makes up junk food but an overall poor choice of foods that can result in a "junk diet," the nutritionist adds. Also, snacking per se is not a major factor of obesity. The majority of obese conditions result from eating more calories than are used up through physical activity.

Dr. Morgan concludes that foods eaten between meals cannot be evaluated in isolation. Snacks should be evaluated in relation to the total diet and to the nutrient needs of the snacker. Nutritionists are concerned that people eat the right amounts and combinations of foods to promote good health. However, individuals should learn not to feel guilty when they have a snack of a favorite food merely for the pleasure of it. The bottom line to the role of snacking in the American diet is that we learn how to eat in a rational way.
