Honoring our troops: Thomas' unit part of operation

Marine Corps Gunnery Sgt. John D. Thomas, son of Mary S. and James F. Thomas of Oviedo, is currently deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom.

He is assigned to the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit, based in Camp Lejeune, N.C. Thomas is one of more than 4,000 Pacific Fleet sailors and marines who deployed aboard the ships of the USS Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group.

The majority of marines and sailors in Thomas' unit have safely returned to the ships of the USS Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group from Mosul, Iraq, as Operation Iraqi Freedom continues to transition to humanitarian missions.

Thomas' unit is an expeditionary intervention force with the ability to rapidly organize for combat operations in virtually any environment. MEUs are composed of more than 2,000 personnel and are divided into an infantry battalion, aircraft squadron, support group and command element. With this combination, Thomas' unit supplies and sustains itself for quick mission accomplishment and for clearing the way for follow-on forces.

Thomas is a 1992 graduate of Godby High School of Tallahassee. He joined the Marine Corps in July 1992.

Caribbean services increase from Sanford

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — Officials with the Orlando Sanford International Airport celebrated Friday the inaugural flights to three destinations in the Caribbean.

The destinations — Aguadilla, Puerto Rico; Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic; and Punta Cana, Dominican Republic — are part of the airport's fast growing Caribbean market. By mid-summer, there will be 22 flights a week to Puerto Rico, said Ray Wise, vice president of aviation marketing at OSIA. "Pan Am is ramping up the San Juan service, and we expect to them to have 12 flights a week to that city," Wise said. "They'll have another four flights to Aguadilla." In addition, Wise noted that TransMeridian Airlines will provide six flights a week to San Juan beginning June 27.

"People are back flying again," Wise said. "We think this is going to be a good summer." Pan Am began flying to Puerto Rico two years ago, and company officials say the route is one of the airline's most successful destinations. After a five-week hiatus in January and February during which Pan Am operated no flights because of a substantial drop in customer demand, the airline has focused its expansion plans on the Caribbean and Latin America. Wise said Pan Am is exploring the possibility of a Sanford-Costa Rica route in the near future.

While the Caribbean routes have drawn most of the attention, Wise said the airport continues to serve a substantial British market and add more domestic destinations.

Just this month, the airport signed a 5-year contract extension with the United Kingdom's fourth largest leisure airline, Air

1,000 people expected to attend memorial dedication for Sanford Naval Air Station

By Michelle Jerla

SANFORD — The historical marker has been placed in the ground; and, now more than 1,000 people are expected to attend Friday's dedication of the Naval Air Station Sanford Memorial Park.

After more than three years, the Sanford Airport Memorial Committee has reached its objective — renovating an old RA-5C Vigilante aircraft and using it as the focal point in a park dedicated to the city's former naval station. On Friday, the new landmark will officially be unveiled to the community during a dedication ceremony featuring local politicians and officials, as well as Capt. Jerry Coffee, a Vietnam-era POW once stationed in Sanford. A flyover by F-18 Navy jets is also expected.

"What we have right now is 25 to 30 people who have put in a lot of time and work for this airplane and memorial," said Jack Dow, president of the Sanford Airport Memorial Committee. "This is a gift to the community to commemorate the relationship between the area, the naval station and now the airport."

Earlier this month, the Seminole County Historical Commission unveiled the historical marker,

Williams named Sanford's first African-American vice mayor

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford City Commissioner Velma H. Williams recently became the first African-American in the city's history to be appointed as vice mayor.

Williams, who was appointed to this office last month by Mayor Brady Lessard, replaces Commissioner Whitey Eckstein, who retired earlier this year. "She's got the experience needed and understands the community," said Lessard. "She will be a fine vice mayor."

Williams is also the only female member of the City Commission but says her fellow commissioners treat her in the highest regard and respect her opinion and her right to differ.

"It's an honor to get this type of vote of confidence," said Williams, a Sanford native. "I think it's a sign we are moving in the right direction and anything is possible. It really would have made a difference if it had been an election — it would have spoke volumes.

"Change is coming," she adds. "We're moving toward resolving the divide that has existed throughout Sanford. We're coming together in unity."

Williams is no stranger to ethnic struggles. During the civil rights movement in South Carolina, she participated in several sit-ins.

Computer program helps find missing children

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

SANFORD — New computer software is helping the city's police department track missing children.

LOCATER is a program to hasten the recovery of missing and abducted children by providing law enforcement agencies the technology to rapidly disseminate images and information, said Sanford Police Spokesperson Cleo Cohen. The software and computer equipment, including a color printer, scanner and three-years of technical service support and Internet service, was provided to the department by the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children through a U.S. Department of Justice grant.

"The program allows us to get the information to our officers and to other agencies in a timely manner," Cohen said. "We are now capable of making flyers if we need to, and we can scan pictures into the system and send them out to other agencies over the network."

The LOCATER system is relatively simple to use, said Investigative Aide Ron Nickolson. It's a matter of scanning a photograph, organizing and sending information via the Internet to other agencies and printing flyers to disperse within the department and community.

After the department receives a missing child report and obtains a photograph from a parent or legal guardian, information is entered into the National Crime Information Center's (NCIC) com-

Retirement celebration held for two Seminole teachers

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

A retirement celebration with a Hawaiian flair was recently held for Annie Hillery and Fannie Martin.

Hillery has served 21 years and Martin has served 31 years in the Seminole County school district. They have worked with students at Crooms, Midway, Rosenwald Center and the Hopper ESE Center.

Principal Kirby-Bentley and the faculty and staff of the Hopper Center extended greetings during the celebration. More than 50 co-workers, family and friends spoke words of love, encouragement and friendship on behalf of the two honorees.

Martin, nicknamed "Ms. Tidy Bowl," and Hillery were given words of encouragement and thanked for their "big heartedness" and leadership. They are known for their dedication to children and being pleasant. According to others, they are women who speak words of wisdom, are caring, and possess strong Christian values. They both said they loved their jobs and were considered rocks in times of need.

Sharing words about the two honorees during the celebration were some of their friends and co-workers, including Versie Coleston, Peggie Smith, Anthony and Bertha Brown, the Rev. Jimmie Blake, Ramona Hillery, Frances Oliver, Shirley Guy Williams, Annie Branch, Cleartha Hudson, Rose Casey, Ms. Hillery, Ms. Holcomb, Emmanuel Hillery, Patricia Harris, Ms. Hall, Melissa Harris and Rozland Redden. Martha D. McKinney blended her lovely singing voice and gave words of joy and love as she sang "I want to be more than a friend," and "To God Be the Glory." Also sharing through song was Catherine Gordon, who rendered along with the Rev. Jimmie Blake in the beautiful song "Jehovah God is more than enough."

Principal Kirby-Bentley presented the two honorees with a lovely clock engraved with each of their names and years of service. Each also received a money tree.

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Man carries torch for woman who's hot for another

DEAR ABBY: I am still madly in love with my ex-girlfriend, "Holly," but all she feels for me is friendship. We talk on the phone daily, and she confides in me about her "guy trouble." I should tell you, she dumped me for an older guy. He has strung her along for months, and according to what Holly says, she's afraid he's about to blow her off.

Dear Abby

Holly is in a lot of emotional pain right now. I'm trying my best to console her, but this situation tears me up. I'm so in love with her, I'd do anything to be with her — but she's made it clear she's got it bad for the other guy.

Should I continue trying to be Holly's friend and advise her how to "hold on" to this guy? Or should I hang on and hope that she'll see the light? I'd be grateful for any advice.

LOVESICK IN NEW ENGLAND

DEAR LOVESICK: If she's asking you for advice on how to hang onto another man, it's safe to conclude that your romance is over. Accept it, extricate yourself and move on. Unless you like having your molars drilled without anesthetic, to continue with Holly would be folly.

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter from the faithful wife whose husband called her by another woman's name in his sleep, and who claims that his boss "demands" that he drive a female co-worker to and from work, I had to write.

My husband called me "Stephanie" at the dinner table for four years. He accused me of stealing money from accounts I didn't even know existed or was not a signatory on. He abandoned me for months on end, locking doors and sneaking out of the house. He called me filthy names and told me I was hideous.

At the time, his physician said his behavior was normal.

Three years later, after a divorce, loss of home, friends, status, club memberships and financial assets, my husband is in assisted living — diagnosed with Alzheimer's and a rare bone cancer.

I miss certain aspects of our marriage. It is lonely being single. But I did not recognize, nor could I have known, what caused the disintegration of his personality.

ROBERTA IN PALM SPRINGS

DEAR ROBERTA: You have my sympathy, and so does your husband. I advise readers whose family members exhibit a sudden change in personality or behavior to notify their doctors so the person can be physically and neurologically evaluated. However, in your case the physician missed the warning signs.

Yes, being single can sometimes be lonely. But it is better than living with the abuse you described.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I always gave our two children money whenever they were in a tight spot. Now that I am a widow, money is tight, and I've lost most of my savings in the stock market.

The "children" are now approaching 50 and still ask me to bail them out. (I can hardly pay my own bills.) I know I must put a stop to this, Abby, so please help me find the right words.

PENNY IN SILVER LAKE, CALIF.

DEAR PENNY: Tell your children you don't want to be a "Hard-Hearted Hannah," but "You Can't Give Them Anything but Love." It's the truth — so stick by it. It's time for your "children" to change their tune and accept the fact that they are adults and should stand on their own two feet.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

Hinson named Employee of the Month

Interim City Manager Roger Dixon presents the city of Sanford Employee of the Month Award to Eileen Hinson, who works as a planner in the engineering and planning department. Hinson was nominated for the award by her supervisor Russ Gibson, who cited an unsolicited letter from a resident praising Hinson's work. "I met Ms. Hinson for the first time about two months ago when I came into the planning department to get guidance ..." wrote Joyce Jackson of Sanford. "Ms. Hinson was patient, kind, friendly, enthusiastic and extremely knowledgeable about her job. She made me feel very comfortable and therefore helped me with the situation that I was confronted with. I was totally confused when I first came to the planning department but after seeing her on at least two different occasions and talking with her on the phone several times, I have developed a wealth of knowledge. Ms. Hinson is a true professional. ... I do not believe that my experience with Ms. Hinson was an isolated incident. I truly believe that every customer that has come in contact with Ms. Hinson has been encouraged to pursue their utmost desires with their projects. The current and future customers of the city of Sanford should be afforded the same opportunity to interface with a professional that is committed to customer satisfaction and excellence. This letter is a symbol of thanks for her professionalism, dedication, thoughtfulness, caring attitude and compassion that she exhibited every time I interacted with her."

Lake Mary executive works to level playing field in technology industry

LAKE MARY — Billions of dollars worth of U.S. information technology work is flowing from American firms — and American consumers — to foreign IT firms at a cost to the U.S. economy of thousands of jobs and millions of dollars in tax revenues.

That's a triple-whammy for the U.S. economy, says Matt Moore, founder and chief executive officer of TEAM Information Services, one of Florida's largest and most active information technology firms.

"If an American firm sends a billion dollars worth of IT work to an Indian company, that takes a billion dollars out of the U.S. job market," said Moore, who serves as president of the National Association of Computer Consulting Businesses (NACCB), the nation's leading information technology trade association. "That's a billion dollars worth of income taxes the corporation would pay and a billion dollars worth of income taxes all those working American would have paid."

Moore said NACCB has formed an executive task force to lobby for changes. He has already met with congressmen and senators.

"Free trade is good, but we have to have a level playing field," said Moore. "An Indian company can own an American company, but an American company can't buy an Indian company. If it were just a matter of capitalist principles, that would be one thing, but when you count the business taxes American firms pay, personal income taxes their workers pay and the sorry shape of the U.S. economy today it's a sacrifice no one should be asked to make, yet we are making it every day."

National and personal security are two other important issues, Moore noted. "Data is being sent to offshore firms with no privacy safeguards whatsoever. Health care companies outsource information about patients and doctors, banks outsource financial information including your social security number, and we have entrusted important information networks to countries where anti-American is a prevalent attitude. These concerns are vitally important to all of us," he said.

Moore said he hopes to reach thousands of U.S. computer workers who have lost their jobs in recent years.

Moore said the NACCB task force will study American academic institutions and American corporations to learn how better to fulfill the need for IT work here in this country.

"As a nation, we'd be better off if we gave them the jobs at McDonald's and kept the high technology IT jobs for our own children," Moore said.

Forbes ranks Fidelity National No. 1 in sales growth for 2002

The parent company of Central Florida's title insurance market share leader ranked No. 1 in the country for Sales Growth last year by FORBES Magazine, one of the nation's most prestigious business publications.

Fidelity National Financial, Inc. (NYSE: FNF), which operates the nation's largest family of title insurance companies including the Maitland-based division of Fidelity National Title Insurance Company of New York (FNTIC) which has branch offices in Longwood and Casselberry as well as a satellite facility in Lake Mary, was the top-rated company for sales growth among the magazine's Platinum 400: America's Best Big Companies list published earlier this year.

The Santa Barbara, CA-based company registered highs in four key areas to earn the award: Profitability, Sales Growth, Earnings per Share, and Sales.

The company, which posted a record $4.625 billion in sales last year, showed a 40.2 percent average sales growth over the past five years - more than any other company in the Platinum 400 listings.

FNF also posted impressive five-year averages in Profitability (19.9 percent) and Earnings per share (16.8 percent).

FNTIC, which has 12 offices operating in a seven-county Central Florida market, helped contribute to Fidelity National Financial's record 2002 run, which was an 18 percent increase over 2001 revenues of $3.9 billion and a whopping 70 percent over 2000 revenues of $2.7 billion.

Over the past several years, FNF and its subsidiaries have been cited in a number of business and trade publications for industry excellence, including FORTUNE Magazine's Most Admired Companies list in 2001.

All title insurance entities under the FNF umbrella were firing on all cylinders last year as revenues jumped an impressive 18 percent. FNTIC title insurance partners include Chicago Title, Teor Title, Security Union, Alamo Title and International Title Solutions.

Besides Longwood and Casselberry, FNTIC also has Central Florida offices in downtown Orlando, Mount Dora, Winter Park, Maitland, MetroWest, Titusville, Merritt Island, Kissimmee, St. Cloud and New Smyrna Beach.

USDA alters citrus estimate for 2002-2003 season

The U.S. Department of Agriculture revised the orange crop forecast for the 2002-2003 season, increasing the orange estimate by 2 million boxes to 200 million boxes while reducing the grapefruit estimate by 1 million boxes.

Valencias increased by 2 million boxes to 88 million boxes, while Early and Midseason varieties stay at 112 million boxes. The increase in Valencias is largely attributed to larger-than-expected fruit sizes. This is the second increase in Valencias this season due to the size of fruit.

Tangelos and Temples remain the same at 2.35 million boxes and 1.3 million boxes respectively. However, Tangerines increased slightly by 200,000 boxes to total 5.4 million boxes. The increase reflects the fact that officials are continuing to see more fruit than originally predicted.

The grapefruit estimate was reduced by 1 million boxes to 99 million. Colored grapefruit were reduced 1.3 million boxes to 22.5 million boxes, while white grapefruit increased by 500,000 boxes to 16.5 million boxes.

The yield for frozen concentrated orange juice (FCOJ), was reduced to 1.53 gallons per 90-pound box of oranges. Lower-than-expected juice content for Valencia oranges accounts for the decrease in overall yield.

The Florida citrus industry has a $9.1 billion economic impact to the state and employs nearly 90,000 people, directly and indirectly. Florida Citrus Mutual, founded in 1948, is the state's largest citrus grower's organization with more than 11,000 members.

which is located in front of the renovated Vigilante. It tells park's visitors the story of the naval base and its ever-changing relationship with the community.

In November 1942, Naval Air Station Sanford was commissioned to meet the country's need for additional naval aviation training facilities. Originally planned for bomber training, within a year it converted to fighter plane training.

By the end of World War II, the U.S. Navy no longer needed the additional training facility. The airfield was decommissioned and turned over to the city. In 1947, the New York Giants constructed eight baseball fields at the station to use for their spring farm teams. Apartments, motels, a seminary and a Bible College were also located at the site.

At the start of the Korean War in the early 1950s, the air station was reactivated. In 1957, the Sanford station was one of the first to receive a squadron of A3D Skywarriors, a long-range jet bomber, which was replaced by the Vigilante in the 1960s.

Originally designed as a nuclear bomber, the Vigilante later was used for photographic reconnaissance missions. During the Vietnam War, Sanford was home to the families of many POWs and MIAs from Vigilante squadrons.

In 1968, Congress closed the Sanford base for the final time and returned the airport back to the city. The site eventually evolved into today's international airport, which serves about 1.5 million passengers each year.

Although it has been more than three decades since the last fighter pilot trained at the station, members of the community didn't forget about the long, and economically important, history the station maintained in the area. Three years ago, the Sanford Airport Memorial Committee formed with the objective of obtaining a historic U.S. Navy aircraft and erecting a monument that would serve as a reminder to the community of the airport's military history.

In 2001, the committee acquired the Vigilante from the National Museum of Naval Aviation in Pensacola. Since then, the committee has received more than $265,000 from the state and private donations to construct the park and refurbish the aircraft.

"At times, it has been a struggle," Dow said. "We've struggled with finding a location, we've struggled with the acquisition, we've even struggled with the installation. But, now we are ready to commemorate the relationship between the community and the air station. And, I think we've commemorated it in a really neat way."

The dedication ceremony is scheduled to begin 10 a.m. Friday at Memorial Park, located at the corner of Manquette Avenue and Red Cleveland Boulevard at the entrance of the Orlando Sanford International Airport. 2001.

"After reviewing our long history with the airport and passenger feedback on the facility, the decision to continue using Orlando Sanford as our Florida gateway into 2008 was easy," said Suzanne Wood, head of airport services for Air 2000. "We feel (Sanford) still represents the best value-for-money to the airline and tour operators; and provides our passengers with a smoother, faster airport experience".

Air 2000 typically operates service to Orlando Sanford from London, Manchester, Birmingham, and Glasgow using Boeing 767-300ER equipment.

Domestically, Wise said Southeast Airlines' flights to Allentown, Pa., and Newburgh, N.Y., are popular, and expects TransMeridian's non-stop service to Syracuse to also be popular when service begins in June.

"The industry has changed over the last two years," Wise said. "We have a lot of carriers that have shown interest in our airport. Some of them we have been talking with a long time. They are having to cut costs in this new environment, and we are a cost-efficient airport."

Airports Council International (ACI) ranked the Orlando Sanford International Airport (SFB) as the fastest growing North American airport in 2000 and 2001, among airports with one million or more annual passengers.

puter. Using the LOCATER program, the poster-creation software and templates guide Nickolson or any of the department's investigators through the process of generating a poster.

The posters can be printed on paper and used within the department, dispersed to the community or sent through the Internet to other agencies, Nickolson said. In addition to alerting law-enforcement agencies, users can quickly e-mail or fax posters to the media, as deemed appropriate.

The Sanford department also receives posters and information concerning missing children reported by other agencies. Nickolson updates the department's missing persons file daily with reports received from other cities, counties and states.

The LOCATER software application is not limited to missing children posters, Nickolson said. The program also includes templates for more than 100 different types of posters, including missing adults, wanted persons and crime alerts.

"We can even use it for line-ups in a crime scene investigation, and for stolen property investigations," Cohen said. "It allows us to get the information out there as quickly as possible."

Sanford Airport Memorial Committee President Jack Dow speaks during the dedication ceremony for the Naval Air Station Historical Marker Dedication.

Williams

"I have cigarette burns from those sit-ins," she said. "I've been in the struggle. If I could endure ... hat I did, this [being an African-American commissioner and vice mayor] is a piece of cake. Whatever happens to me here, I can handle it."

Williams was first elected as District 2 commissioner in 1996. Since that time, she has worked diligently to make Sanford a model city. Williams says, one step toward the city developing its full potential is the realization of the proposed conference center in downtown Sanford.

As a commissioner, Williams feels strongly about involving the community in the decision making process. Several items top her agenda, including designing a five-year plan for the city, finding the right person for the vacant city manager position and the city's employee morale.

Through the years, she has become known as the outspoken commissioner, but Williams says she has mellowed considerably since being elected in 1996.

"Some people see me as being outspoken," said Williams, who earned a doctoral degree in counseling and human systems from Florida State University. "I'm a Christian and I try to do the right thing. Through wisdom and experience, I have mellowed."

"I'm still the same commissioner, I just have mellowed strategies," she added.

One issue that faces Williams is criticism from residents in her district regarding ethnic issues.

"Sometimes people question the decisions I make because they don't think about the fact that you have to negotiate," she said. "It's give and take. You have to know when to hold 'em and when to fold 'em."

"I feel like I've accomplished a lot," she added. "But, sometimes I have to go with the majority — if I can't get a majority — because while I'm elected by the district, I make decisions that represent the entire city. A lot of people think that I represent a black community, but it goes far beyond that. I must make decisions that have city-wide effects."

As vice mayor, Williams will be responsible for organizing agendas and facilitating meetings in the absence of the mayor.

"She is a stickler for details when it comes to how meetings run," said Lessard. "She has an understanding that will serve her well as a commissioner and a vice mayor."

Although there has been speculation as to whether Williams will run for mayor in 2004, she says she doesn't believe so, but anything is possible.

"Right now I don't have aspirations to do that," said Williams, a retired educator who worked more than 18 years at Seminole Community College in Sanford. "I love what I'm doing, the people of Sanford and the city of Sanford."

USAR heads to Lakeland

Special to the Herald

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. — The USAR Hooters ProCup Series Southern Division returns to its "home track", USA International Speedway, this Saturday (May 31st) for the running of the Lucas Oil 250 presented by Advance Discount Auto Parts.

The race will be the second of three regular season visits for the touring series to the fast 3.4-mile track located in Lakeland.

Joe Gaita returns to the track where he scored his lone win in the Series. Gaita outdistanced Toby Porter and Steven Christian to score the win in February and looks to defend his win. Stacy Puryear finished fourth and Shane Huffman completed the top five in the season-opening event.

The track has hosted more USAR Hooters ProCup Series races than any other track on the schedule with Bobby Gill holding the record for most wins in the Series at the track with seven. The three-time Series champion also holds the record for most consecutive wins at the track with four.

Gill missed the season-opening race in February while recovering from surgery to repair a torn rotator cuff on his left shoulder.

Gill showed two races later at New Smyrna Speedway that he hadn't lost his touch winning the race in just his second race back from the career-threatening surgery. The Lucas Oil 250 will also be the first race of the year at the track for the 2002 USAR Hooters ProCup Series National Champion Jason Sarvis. Sarvis missed the opening race but is now back with RBR Enterprises and looks to pick up where he left off last year at the track.

Sarvis won two races at the track last year and collected his first-ever win in the Series at this event last year. Sarvis, along with his teammate Christian, look to be a formidable pair for this weekend.

In addition to the Lucas Oil 250 USAR Hooters ProCup Series race the Signal 12 Motorcycle Stunt Show will also be held Saturday afternoon prior to the start of the race.

For ticket information please contact USA International Speedway at 1-800-964-7223

YOAKAM TAKES FLORIDA MINI STOCK CHALLENGE WIN

BITHLO — After drenching rains the night before, the Orlando SpeedWorld track was ready for the Florida Mini Stock Challenge and the drivers were ready for the challenge.

Twenty eight Mini Stocks qualified with Robbie Yoakam of Herrando setting fast time of 15.218. But it was Jimmy Warram of Punta Gorda who set on the pole when the green was thrown.

Robbie Storer of Zephyrhills quickly took the point on the green followed by Darren Jackson, Lee Davis, Chris Hooker, and Chad Ashley. Hooker moved into fourth, with Ashley leaving Davis and Charlie Brown doing some great side-by-side action. Eventually Brown took fifth with Davis in sixth.

TAMPA — A trio of athletes made Seminole County proud as Special Olympics Florida held their 2003 State Equestrian Sports Championships in the Lykes Arena at the Bob Thomas Equestrian Center at the Florida State Fairgrounds in Tampa.

The championships were held May 16 and 17 with Joe Nasehi, Simone Moss and Mark Bridges representing the Seminole County C.H.E.E.R. Program.

While they were few in number, the charges under coach Elise Hulme of the Circle H Ranch in Sanford, made the assembled athletes and fans sit up and take notice.

Moss was the biggest winner, grabbing the Gold Medal as the State Champion in the Barrel Racing event.

Nasehi and Bridges also impressed as each won Silver Medals as State Runners-up. Nasehi, finished just behind Moss, claiming his medal in the Barrel Racing event, while Bridges was second in the Trails Class.

The trio had plenty of help in getting their mounts ready with Diane Petrie, Robin Lawson, Donna Ellis and Amber Mitchell serving the riders as volunteers.

Stetson lands NCAA berth

Special to the Herald

DELAND — For fourth consecutive year and for the 13th time in school history, the Stetson University baseball team has been selected to compete in the NCAA Tournament.

The Hatters (39-22) drew the fourth seed in the Atlanta Regional and will open up against top-seed and Atlantic Coast Conference Champion Georgia Tech (44-16) on Friday evening at 7 p.m.

"We knew going in that we were a bubble team, but we honestly believe that we deserved to be selected," Hatters head coach Pete Dunn said. "We are certainly happy to be in, and now it is up to us to take advantage of the opportunity that is there."

The Yellow Jackets are the No. 3 national seed and are ranked 10th this week in the Collegiate Baseball Top 30 Poll. "I don't know too much about Georgia Tech, but they must be pretty durable and pretty tough to win three games in one day to win the ACC Championship," Dunn said. "I know they were ranked No. 1 in some preseason polls and they play in one of the best baseball conferences in the country."

Also in the Atlanta Regional is No. 2 seed South Carolina (39-20) and No. 3 seed East Carolina (35-25-1). The Gamecocks and Pirates will play Friday at 3 p.m. to start the double-elimination regional.

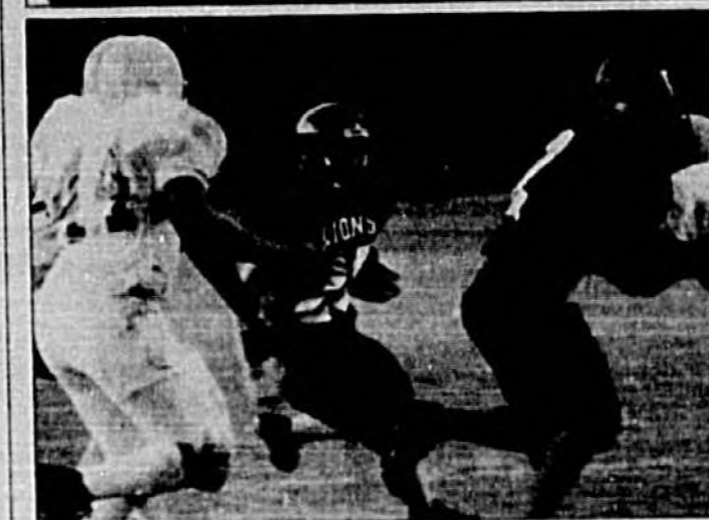

Stetson is just one of 23 teams to qualify for the NCAA Tournament in each of the last four years.

Football fans get sneak peek

The start of the 2003 High School Football season is still three months away, but local fans got a sneak peek when the Seminole County Football Spring Classic was held at Lake Brantley High School Friday. Among the highlights were Lake Mary's Cameron Bateman (No. 5, top left) looking for running room against Winter Springs, which got a good effort from new quarterback Brett Hodges (No. 8, top right); Lake Brantley's Connor Beverly (No. 51, middle left) putting a hit on a Lake Howell runner; an Oviedo runner (above) looking for room against Titusville; and Seminole's Travis Knight (No. 33, right) trying to break away from a pair of Lyman defenders.

Winter Springs' John Michael Howell hit a three-run home run to help lead a four-run third inning as the Seminole Community College baseball team defeated Southern Nevada, 7-6, Saturday at the JUCO World Series.

Raiders finish seventh

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

GRAND JUNCTION, CO. — The Seminole Community College baseball team made its first ever appearance in the NJCAA World Series a good one, edging past the Community College of Southern Nevada, 7-6, on Saturday.

Things did not go as well for coach Mike Nicholson's charges in the Alpine Bank JUCO World Series at Spizito Field after that, however, as they were pummeled by Grayson County Community College from Texas, 16-1 in five innings, on Monday and then fell 9-1 to Meridian Community College of Mississippi on Tuesday to be eliminated from further competition. Stats and particulars from Tuesday's game were not available at press time.

The Raiders can still be very proud, however, as they will finish the season with a 42-21 record and a seventh place finish in the nation. Not bad for a first trip to the big show.

The team is expected to return to Sanford late Thursday.

SCC got a remarkable pitching performance from ace Zac McCamie against the Henderson, Nevada-based Coyotes (50-10) on Saturday, giving up six runs on eight hits and throwing 121 pitches over seven innings despite pitching with a hip tendonitis.

McCamie struck out six and walked only one with the sore arm as he raised his record to 13-2 on the season.

Freshman closer Kyle DeYoung from St. Cloud came on to hurl two perfect innings, striking out one, to earn his 11th save of the season.

After a scoreless top of the first, Raiders leadoff man Ben Sprague got things going immediately as he tripled to left center on the first pitch he saw and scored the game's first run when Mike Hnytko grounded out to shortstop on a 1-2 pitch.

Southern Nevada came right back in the top of the second inning to take its only lead of the game.

Don Suttout led off with a walk and advanced to second on a Josh Bellinghoke grounder to short and moved over to third on an infield single by Calvin Beamon and scored the tying run on a C.J. Ebarb double down the right field line. Beamon scored the go-ahead run on a Mike Cruz squeeze bunt and Ebarb scored the third run of the inning on a Jason Ruiz single down the right field line.

 But SCC would not be denied and regained the lead for good in the bottom of the third inning. Sanford's Chris Krall led off with a triple to right center and scored on Sprague's ground out to third.
 Hnytko then doubled down the left field line before Donnie Burkhalter drew a walk, setting the stage for Winter Springs' John Michael Howell.
 The sophomore stepped to the plate and picked on the first pitch he saw for a home run to right field, and the Raiders were back on top, 5-3.
 But it was solo runs in the fourth and fifth innings that would spell the difference for the locals.
 Devon Williams led off the fourth inning with a single up the middle and advanced to second on a Matt Matheson sacrifice bunt before Oscar Malave' came on to pinch run.
 After a ground out, Sprague came through again, singling to left to plate Malave.
 SCC then turned to a familiar source to score what would prove to be the game winning run in the fifth inning.
 Burkhalter led off the inning and got ahead 2-1 before launching his 22nd homer of the season over the right center field fence.
 The Coyotes then made things interesting by scoring their final three runs in the sixth inning.
 Josh Brady led off the frame with homer to left center and Sutton followed with a single up the middle. After a wild pitch and a ground out, Sutton would score on a Beamon double to center field and Beamon would come home on an Ebarb single up the middle to close the gap to 7-6.
 But McCamie and DeYoung stood up to the challenge and kept their composure to retire the final nine Southern Nevada batters in front of 3,363 fans.

 Sprague paced a 10-hit SCC attack, going 2-for-4, including the triple, scored a run and drove in two.
 Hnytko also had a pair of hits, including a double, scoring a run and driving in one.
 Other contributors were Howell (home run, run, three RBI), Burkhalter (1-for-3, home run, two runs, RBI), Krall (triple, run), Williams, Dan Quartararo and Sean Greear (one single each) and Malave' (run scored).
 But Monday, the Raiders ran into a buzzsaw in Grayson County Community College, which had won its opener on Saturday, 12-2 in five innings, over Connors State Community College of Oklahoma.
 The Vikings (54-13) jumped on SCC starter David Timm for five runs, only three earned, and two home runs in the top of the first inning and the rout was on.
 The big lefthander from Georgia would last only one more inning, giving up three more runs on four hits, including two more home runs, and left having allowed eight runs, six earned, on nine hits.
 But he was not the only one to get hit hard by Grayson County, as the Texans scored seven runs on eight more hits in two innings against Trent Stokes.
 Brent Morse was the lone Raider to come through relatively unscathed, allowing one run on two hits in his one inning of work.
 All told, the Vikings had 19 hits and tied a tournament record with eight home runs.
 SCC was also limited to five hits on offense, with Greear's solo home run in the second inning being the lone Raiders score.
 Tyson Malik had a good game in his first appearance for SCC, going 2-for-2 with a double.
 Getting one single each were Hnytko and Burkhalter.
 Nolan Mast had a monster game for Grayson County, going 4-for-4 with a home run and a triple, scored three runs and drove in two.

McCamie got a lot of help from his batterymate, catcher Mike Hnytko (above), as he went 2-for-4 with a double, a run scored and an RBI against Southern Nevada and was hitting .429, 3-for-7, after the first two games.
