The Lamplighter by TOM DOYLE

It was a terrific midnight on Main Street Avenue when the true figure of a woman crossed the street and quizzically eyed the unlighted marquee of the Hitt Theater, pausing now and then to cast a furtive glance in all directions.

Mrs. P. M. Gingles was about to steel herself to witness the supreme horror show called "The Thing". The ads had been running but a few days when this unassuming lady decided that she had what it took to stay with the "Thing" till the bitter end, if this is what it had to be.

Meanwhile, unknown to anyone, The Lamplighter surreptitiously started around the corner of Second Street and Magnolia Avenue weathering material on what may be called in future history his most gruesome column, which will subsequently relate in fantastic detail, Mrs. Gingles' ordeal on a ordeal which was consummated by a stentorian sound neither animal or human—but more about that later.

Mrs. Gingles nervously entered, greeted by a stentorian, mysterious looking man who was the projection man. He stood a feet tall and had an intent look. He seemed somewhat reticent and his forbidding mien infused the atmosphere, giving it a musty, mildewed tang.

He showed the uneasy woman to her first row seat and proceeded hastily to the projection room. Encompassed in a window ledge, The Lamplighter saw all—it is from here that our story travels.

It began innocently enough as the title flashed on the screen and the credits hazily followed. Mrs. Gingles was settled comfortably in her seat and as we peeped in we thought we detected a "David May Care" look upon her face. But how short lived it was!

Something terrifying occurred which rocked her quickly out of her complacency. A monster, comparable to nothing I have ever seen before, arose from a sheet of ice and plodded methodically on his way to destruction.

This, then, was "The Thing". The unpeeped Mrs. Gingles, who had $25.00 to gain and her courage to lose, placed her left foot on the aisle, taking firm hold; she looked like a 10 miler before the starting shot is fired.

She cringed as the monster made his way into the screen creating the illusion of popping right out of the screen and hitting on her. There was no doubt in the house, surely something Mr. Bob Harris should have provided for.

Mrs. Gingles covered her eyes and trembled all over. We turned our gaze from Mrs. Gingles; not wishing to witness a horror spectacle that would make Poe's "Fall of The House of Usher" look like Grimm's Fairy Tale by comparison.

This was the crisis. Could she withstand the onward march of this bizarre, awe-inspiring creature from another world? I am happy to say in conclusion that Mrs. Gingles, aside from that stentorian sound which I previously mentioned, did sit through "The Thing". Her courage was magnificent and we doubt whether many of Sanford's ladies could have matched her dauntless performance.

The Doctors say a week of rest will see Mrs. Gingles her old, bouncing, vital self again. And what is of prime importance, she will be rid of the obsession that she is "The Thing".

HOLLYWOOD by BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 30—(AP)—Holiday paraphernalia: You hear it all over town—Hollywood is on the upbeat.

I don't mean that prosperity has returned to Glamorville; gloom is still clinging to the town like an early morning smog. But the trend in film subjects is definitely away from "downbeat" stories. That means that stories with tragic overtones of showing the sordid side of life are getting the go-by on film schedules.

"We are clearly and unshamedly going after upbeat stories that entertain rather than depress the audience," a studio boss told me. "The pictures that are selling in the current market are those which bear no problems."

This means that the future films will place the accent on music, comedy and adventure. As the old Hollywood saying goes: "Let Western Union carry the messages" . . .

Maybe you don't think that the top comedians aren't knocking themselves out to appear at their best in television. Take the example of Edger Bergen. He put so much time, effort and money into his last TV show that he figures he won't even show a profit on the deal. "In fact," he told me, "I think I lost $25."

Bergen has been putting his show on film and has found that the most expensive way of doing TV . . .

The rumbles in the Jack Benny household are confirmed by friends. But the arguments have nothing to do with their marital felicity, which is as calm as ever. Benny just wants to give up her acting career; Jack doesn't want her to.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Kay Phagan, Susan Phagan, Richard Phagan, Marion Barnhorn, Doyle Carlton, Mrs. J. H. Truluck, Mrs. J. A. Howard, Mrs. A. B. Peterson.

If Mary wins out, it will be television's loss. She looked beautiful on her TV debut with Benny this month. And her comedic touch would be sorely missed on the air show . . .

I note Cornel Wilde's smiling face beaming from the billboards with an endorsement of a certain whiskey. Once upon a time no star would dare appear in a whiskey ad. And the studios had strict rules against such endorsements. Ah, but this is a more broad-minded era, I guess. Besides, there are fewer stars under contract to the studios. Thus they can endorse anything they want, from beer to bustles . . .

Speaking of ads, I note George Sanders starring on the billboards for a certain brand of beer. I am still wondering: how did they ever get sardonic Sanders to smile so broadly . . .

Capsule Review: "The guy who came back" presents an arresting problem, but doesn't know how to solve it. It poses the question of what happens when a pro football star becomes too old to play the game. Most of the picture shows the attempt for the footballer (Paul Douglas) to find his future. He is helped by his wife (Joan Bennett) and kindred by his girl friend (Linda Darnell). Much of his quest is interesting stuff, aided by adult dialogue. But the film comes to a disappointing finish with the real problem unsolved.

Sanford Giants Meet Deland Red Hats In Doubleheader

Stackpole Gives Up Only Three Hits To Shutout Sanford; Callahan To Pitch

The Sanford Giants meet the Deland Red Hats here tonight at 8:30 P. M. in the second of a series of doubleheaders designed to eliminate Sunday games.

Bob Callahan is scheduled to hurl the opener with Al Neville going in the night cap. The Giants will be seeking revenge on Manager Frank Stader's crew who last night defeated them 4 to 1.

Stackpole allowed Sanford to hit three base blows as the Red Hats annexed their seventh straight win.

Deland batters climbed on Car Szejderki and Terry Porter for 10 hits with Kenny Brasecke and Bill Mostransky leading the attack.

Only one Giant reached third in the game and that because of an error. Fred Petty legged it to second base when Mostransky dropped his fly ball and took third on an infield out and died there.

Packers 9; Indis 2
LEFTHANDERS, May 30—(AP)—The Cocoa Indians announced the Cocoa Indians last night in the Venetian Gardens ball park, behind the seven-hit pitcher of Marty Hartline. The Packers backed him with 13 hits, including doubles by Hallentine and Shoemaker and a homer by Mickey Burnett.

The locals put the game on ice in the first inning with four runs and four hits, two walks, and three Cocoa errors. Manager Burnett along with newly-acquired Tony Brande led the Packers at the bat with three for five and two for three, respectively. Jack Wilks collected three for four, diving in both Cocoa runs.

NONATORS 20; ISOLA 6
DAYTONA BEACH, May 30—(AP)—The league leading Orlando Senators won a 6-3 Daytona Beach, 30 to 4 last night. Manager Ed Levy of the Senators led the 25-hit attack with six hits, including two doubles and his eleventh home run of the season.

Orlando's Bill Phillips Leads League With Lowest Earned Run Average

SILVER SPRINGS, May 30—(Special)—Respected veteran Bill Phillips of Orlando was the Class D Florida State League's leading pitcher in the field of earned runs allowed per game, according to official records released at league headquarters here today and including games played Sunday, May 27.

Phillips, in eight games and through 64 innings, has allowed only 17 runs for a fine 2.39 mark. He was topped by Walt Jasinski, rookie Deland hurler who had to mark his first professional hurled only one hit, a shut-out, strike.

Mike Dinkelowski, Orlando rookie, was leading in games won and lost with an 8.57 mark after winning six of seven starts, while Don Urquhart, limited service Gainesville hurler, had won 11 of 14 to lead in games won. Urquhart also had a low 2.61 earned runs per game average. Urquhart was the "work horse" of the league hurling staff, he

FSU Golfers Win 8 While Losing 3 In 1951 Season

TALLAHASSEE, May 30—(Special)—The Florida State University golf team completed its 1951 schedule with 8 wins, 3 defeats and a tie. The Seminole linksmen also finished first in a Pensacola invitational tournament, third in the Florida Intercollegiate and 7th in the Southern Intercollegiate.

Dick Montney, a senior from Detroit, Michigan, came up with the best average medal score for the season. Playing as the Seminoles' number one man in most of the matches, Montney averaged 73.5 strokes for 22 rounds of 18 holes each (including tournament play). He won 6 dual matches, lost 4, tied 1, and in doubles play had a 9-1 mark.

Eddie Johnson, a Tallahassee freshman, had a 73.9 average for 22 rounds of golf; won 9 matches while losing only two in individual competition and had an 8-1-2 doubles record. Senior Ted Hewitt, captain of the team, had a 74.4 average for the season (14 rounds), won five out of seven individual matches and six out of seven in doubles. Hewitt is also former DeSoto.

Dud Marzen, a junior from Mishawaka, Indiana, was also in the low seventies, with a 74.8 mark for 16 rounds. Harsee won 7 individual matches, lost 1, and had a 6-2 doubles record.

Other team marks include: Tom Cumble of Quincy, 78.2, 6-3-1 singles, 6-4 doubles. Tommy Brown of Tallahassee, 81.7, 1-1-1 singles, 1-6-1 doubles. Mike Paetz of Johnstown, Penna., 81.7, 2-0-1 singles, 1-1-1 doubles. Roscoe Harber, Tallahassee, 83.7, 1-3 singles, 0-3-1 doubles. Frank Hirt, Tallahassee, 85, 0-1 singles, 0-1 doubles.

Hewitt and Montney are the season.

G-Men 8; Aralena 1
GAINESVILLE, May 30—(AP)—Don Urquhart, pitching five and two-thirds of scoreless innings in relief, chalked up his twelfth victory of the season here last night as the Gainesville G-Men defeated Palatka, 8-1.

Urquhart, who in his last two complete games has pitched a two-hitter and a three-hitter, gave up only one hit, a harmless single in the eighth by Mike Kasaban.

Urquhart doubled in three of the five tallies.

having appeared in 19 tilts through Sunday. Naturally, he was tops in innings pitched with 107, but the veteran Walley Gaddis of Daytona, appearing in 14 games and through 103 innings, had Urquhart topped in net men faced with 409 in Urquhart's 409. Gaddis was leading in games started and finished with nine of his 14 appearances on the mound, while Urquhart had started and finished eight.

Rookies Jim Vickery and Lowell Gray of Cocoa were in a tie for games lost, each having dropped 10 of 12 decisions. Gray had given up the most runs, 87 and the most hits, 130, in 97 innings; had, with Ronnie Blanc of Leesburg, tossed the most "goopher" or home run pitches, 48; had allowed the most earned runs, 65 of 85 scored.

Vickery was leading in men walked with 75 while Jim Coppock of Daytona was tops in men fanned, 98. He fanned 17 in one tilt to lead in that field, too.

DETROIT, May 30—(AP)—Vic Wertz was the villain today as big Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians nearly pitched the first perfect no-hit, no-run game in the major leagues in 29 years.

Wertz, the first batter in the eight inning, blasted a home run into the upper right field stands. He was the only Detroit Tiger to reach base as the Indians won, 2-1.

Charlie Robertson of the Chicago White Sox pitched the last perfect game in the major leagues April 30, 1922. Today's crowd of 6,280 gasped in dismay as Wertz felled Lemon's bid. Lemon, winningest pitcher in the American League last year, had pitched a no-hit game here in Briggs Stadium only three years ago. Today, only one ball, besides Wertz' homer, had hit possibilities.

Lemon won his fourth game against five defeats with Al Rosen driving in both Cleveland runs. The big right-hander struck out seven men, five of them swinging.

Of the other 21 batters who faced him, 13 grounded out, six flied to the outfield and one lined to the infield.

The Indians mobbed Lemon on the infield grass when the game ended. One of the first to congratulate him was big Luke Easter who snared a line drive from the bat of Pat Mullin, that was the only other hard-hit ball.

The Indians' coach, Bob Callahan and Relief Pitcher Hal White for only six hits. Cain lost his fourth game against two wins.

Cleveland scored in the fourth inning when a Detroit double play attempt failed. With one out, Larry Doby tallied from third as Rosen beat the relay in first. In the eighth, Snuffy Britwain singled, Doby doubled him to third and Rosen drove him home with a long fly to center.

Detroit lost its eighth game in the last nine. The Tigers have yet to beat the Indians in four games this season.

Lemon, a native of Long Beach, Calif., won 23 and lost 11 last year, pitched a no-hitter here on June 30, 1948. He beat the Tigers, 3-0, with Dale Mitchell's running catch of a long fly saving the no-hitter.

only Seniors on the 1951 golf squad. The Seminole linksmen were coached by Bob Harrison.

Straight from the Horse's Mouth

Two mediocrities met in the ring tonight for what is billed as the heavyweight championship of the world. Joey Maxim, alias Giuseppe Antonin Beradelli, will fight Ezzard Charles, the great champion, in a bout which has excited nobly with the possible exception of Fainting Jake Mintz, Charles manager.

Charles won the National Boxing Association's version of the title in 1939 by defeating aging Jersey Joe Walcott in a listless 15 round decision. He followed up this battle of the century with a seventh round knockout of Gus Looney which was washed up light-heavyweight whose right to a title shot contested by everybody except the director of the New York Relief Department.

Risking nothing but loss the intrepid Charles put his title on the line for the second time against one Pat Valentine whom the creaky Joe Louis once knocked out with 16-ounce gloves. This sturdy buffalo—some called him a lamb—was cut down in the 8th by the champion who objected strenuously to the adjective cheese which was so often placed in front of his diadem.

On August 15, 1950 Charles laid his title on the line before a fairly respectable fighter—Freddie Beshore who had once beaten the chocolate-colored champion. Charles fought a good fight knocking out the durable Beshore in the 14th round.

Feeling his oats Charles took on the once formidable but now impotent ex-champ Joe Louis and measured the budding bomber in a fairly decisive 15-round win. Charles showed a healthy respect for the over-weight Louis and gave the fat, out-of-condition shell which had once been Louis a beating lesson without coming in range of a right hand which could still hurt when it landed. This fight gave Mintz's cautious battle uncommitted claim to the title.

Since that somewhat sad night Charles has knocked out Nick Basore, a third rater, and Lee Oma, a comedian, as well as outpointing Grandfather Walcott again.

Challenging the credit to the squared circle tonight will be another all-time great of the prize-ring—Joey Maxim who is billed as having the straightest nose in boxing. His detractors have been heard to whisper that the unblemished configuration of his proboscis is due to an all too evident detour for the rougher aspects of physical combat—a trail which could conceivably militate against the accuracy and rapidly that an admirer once compared it to the Maxim machine gun and the name stuck. The Maxim is an obsolete weapon and Joey's left may enter the same limbo after tonight's bout.

Maxim's greatest asset is unquestionably his manager, Jack Kearns. Kearns has managed two other champions—Jack Dempsey and Mickey Walker—and has an unusually ability to bring his charges through on top.

Referring to his tiger as another Dempsey the ebullient Jack was maybe extreme. Maxim was definitely taken on a different team of Duke Nalton and Chet Miller, both driving Novi cars that reputedly cost $150,000 each to develop and can generate 575 horsepower. They are owned by Lou Welch.

Although Maxim has fought only pushovers in the 18 months since his last title defense, it is revealing here that Kearns has not been inactive with his potential adept charge.

While Charles has shown a colorless inability to change his style which is essentially orthodox, Maxim has reportedly been working to develop the hook and right-hand punch which he has sorely needed.

Certainly both fighters will drop their usual defensive tactics in the bout and shoot for the knockout—Charles because he hungers for the affection of the bloodthirsty boxing aficionados and Maxim because he thinks it is his best chance of victory having lost three straight decisions.

On the basis of the above analysis and his consultation with the customary formulas developed on a secret basis which he has so far declined to reveal, Irubus Jones, The Herald forecaster, has picked Maxim to win by a knockout in the 10th, 11th or 12th round.

Clouds Threaten To Delay 500-Mile Indianapolis Race

By TED SMITH
INDIANAPOLIS, May 30—(AP)—The Midwest whooped it up today for the annual mixture of speed and carnival known as the Memorial Day 500-mile automobile race—but kept a worried eye on threatening clouds. A record is expected if weather conditions are perfect.

At first it looked like rain might curtail or even postpone tomorrow's speedway classic, but later forecasts sounded a hopeful note. The shower, as expected mostly to pass south of here. In event of a storm the race probably would be run Thursday.

The 33 drivers fretfully tuned up their low-hung, blunder-toned cars. A poll of 16 of them showed their average estimated speed for today's race was 125,040 miles an hour compared with the record of 121,327 set by Bill Holland in 1949. High gears was 128; low was 121,403.

Starts at 11 O'clock

The field is the fastest ever assembled. Its qualifying average was 133,570, compared with 131,045 last year. At stake are prizes worth $200,000. The race starts at 11 A. M. EST, and lasts about four hours.

The difference between winning and losing this 40-year-old supreme test of racing cars—perhaps the difference between life and death—can be a slippery spot on the pavement, a gust of wind, or a cracked engine rod. For these reasons favorites are hard to choose.

Strangely enough, the vast crowd that clogs all highways into Indianapolis does not bet, but if there were any odds they would favor the team of Duke Nalton and Chet Miller, both driving Novi cars that reputedly cost $150,000 each to develop and can generate 575 horsepower. They are owned by Lou Welch.

Ezzard Charles Meets Joey Maxim For Heavyweight Championship

CHICAGO, May 30—(AP)—Cincinnati's Ezzard Charles, willing if not pulverizing heavyweight champion, will defend his title against an old ring acquaintance, Light-Heavyweight Champion Joe Maxim of Cleveland, tomorrow night at the Cleveland Stadium.

Charles is 8 to 5 that Charles, 193, will repeat what he has done three times previously, prove a little better and more aggressive boxer for a decision over the 181-pound Maxim. Both have more style than sting in their punches.

This eighth title defense in 23 months by Charles will be pretty much a Memorial Day television show. The Stadium turnstiles don't figure to be whirled by more than 12,000 patrons contributing a gate of around $125,000. A repeat what he has done three times previously, prove a little better and more aggressive boxer for a decision over the 181-pound Maxim. Both have more style than sting in their punches.

For telecast purposes, the moon weigh-in will be held in a downtown department store auditorium. The 15-round bout, beginning shortly after 9 P. M. (EST) will be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Both warriors went into seclusion today in fine fettle after comparatively uneventful training efforts in which Maxim boxed a whopping total of 250 rounds. Joey's marathon sparring session is understandable. The 29-year-old Clevelander hasn't met an England's Freddie Mills 16 worthy foe since he knocked out months ago for the light-heavyweight crown.

Whereas, Charles, turning 30 next July, fought as recently as March 7 when he nipped the challenge of Jersey Joe Walcott at Detroit.

In their days of youthful inexperience, Charles took two 10-round decisions from Maxim in 1942. Bearing more on tomorrow night's encounter, they met again in 1949 in a 15-round at Cincinnati and Charles won a split decision.

Maxim's manager, Jack Kearns, who once handled ex-champion Jack Dempsey, still claims that Maxim whipped Charles at Cincinnati. "He certainly was ahead for 10 rounds and you can't tell me that one or two good later rounds by Charles made that much difference," Kearns snorts.

Some observers foresee an upset by the lighter man in this first meeting between champions of the light-heavy and heavyweight divisions since Georges Carpentier and Dempsey met for the big one 25 years ago.

They contend Charles had

Hope Dwindles For 62 Men Trapped In Easington Cave-In

EAHINGTON, Eng., May 30—All hope was abandoned today for 62 British coal miners buried 300 feet below ground yesterday by a violent explosion. The tool of the disaster, with the death of the 62, would reach 80, including one rescue worker who died in the attempt to save the entombed men.

EAHINGTON, England, May 30—Rescue squads burrowed through debris-choked tunnels today on the slim hopes that some of the 62 men buried by a violent mine explosion would still be found alive. Seventeen others are known dead.

The rescue work continued throughout the night and today after an early morning blast yesterday trapped 70 men 900 feet underground at Easington Colliery, 20 miles south of Newcastle.

Sixteen bodies have been recovered. One badly injured miner died in a hospital last night. One rescue worker died in the mine. The number of missing men was reduced when two miners were discovered safe at home.

"Hope is receding. It is not a ferocious hope, although it will be something in the nature of a miracle if any of our men now get out alive," a mine official told newsmen.

The rescue work went on throughout the night, while a small cluster of relatives gathered quietly in the glare of the spotlights at the pit head. Names of survivors, they were told, would be posted on the bulletin board there—but there were none this morning.

On the board was a message from King George VI.

"The queen and I," he said, "have learnt with deepest regret of the explosion at Easington Colliery and of the severe loss of life. We send our heartfelt given assurance of immediately taking steps to correct or improve certain moral conditions about which there has been considerable complaint from students and other citizens," the committee said. It did not go into details.

The report said the committee, "with the assistance of the Board of Control will attempt to determine a policy in coping with the evils of tenure as enforced in state institutions of higher learning by national college associations and various national organizations."

"Tenure" is the word used in educational circles for the system of guaranteeing professors and teachers against dismissal except for good cause, usually upon hearing of complaints against them.

"It is freely admitted by administrative heads and controlling bodies of state institutions and privately operated colleges that in order to stay on accredited lists the governing authorities are subjected to and must submit to dictation of these national groups who not only insist on, but demand the recognition of, the institutions of their pedagogic methods and their own definition of academic freedom in respect to any controls, restraint or restriction that a college may impose on a professor or instructor."

It has become apparent, the report said, that the school authorities responsible to the state have been in control of the academic field in our colleges but that the administrators have been giving way to influences beyond the control of the taxpayers who are footing the bill.

The committee said "there are many fine, qualified, patriotic and God-fearing people on the instructional and administrative staffs of our institutions, but the few who are out in such category have done damage in the shaping of the thinking of many students."

It said "there are attacks and agencies to our school systems of higher learning" and their beliefs "have convinced the committee that remedial measures will be necessary to correct this condition."

The committee cited testimony given to it two years ago by Harry R. Trussler, retired dean of the University of Florida law school, "as to the encroachment of Communism and other forms of radicalism into the academic structure" of the university.

It recalled that he quoted an instructor as saying that "Jesus Christ was a myth."

The committee also cited an article in a recent issue of Smoke Signals, Florida State University student magazine, reporting that in a poll of 200 students, "only 20 expressed a belief in life after death, 150 answered no and 18 had no opinion on the question of immortality."

The Flambeau, student bi-weekly newspaper, carried a letter today from the author of the Smoke Signals article, declaring the printers had mistakenly reversed the "yes" and "no" columns tabulating replies to the poll.

"Actually, only 20 percent of

Allied Advance

But others surrendered to an American column slogging three quarters of a mile through knee-deep mud.

In some sectors Allies were reported stalled by mud and Red.

Red resistance mounted steadily. The Communists apparently were determined to make United Nations forces pay heavily for any further advance into North Korea, AP correspondent Stan Carter reported from Eighth Army headquarters.

U. N. troops had lunged 20 miles north of the 38th Parallel border, cutting all motor escape routes from South Korea. But field dispatches said apparently most Reds already had escaped—or died trying to get out.

Despite the stiffening fight north of 38, there was growing evidence of widespread discontent in Communist ranks.

General Matthew B. Ridgway said 10,000 Reds have been captured since they began their ill-fated spring offensives Apr. 22. He added:

"Desertion has become a definite and serious problem for the Communists well back in their rear areas."

Ridgway, back from a two day visit to the sudden front, warned that Communist leaders would not compromise. And they still have power to strike again, he said, despite "a major, severe defeat" in their spring offensives. Five Chinese armies are still in Korea.

Rain-drenched U. N. troops had driven the Reds back to the starting point of their first spring offensive.

Field dispatches reported Communist forces apparently reached a holding stage as Allies threatened their staging bases in the Choswon-Kumhwa-Iwachon triangle.

Across the front on Memorial Day, morning field dispatches and communiques gave this picture from west to east:

West—South Korean troops across the Imjin River north of Seoul fought a Red battalion blocked Americans trying to fight their way into Yoncheon, six miles north of the parallel.

West-central—American troops advanced to the Hanan River north of Yonngyong. This put them about five miles north of 38. U. N. troops, headed toward Kumhwa on a nearby road, drove to a point high above the parallel, Carter reported.

Central—Large groups of Reds was agreed to, and Johnson was to deliver the written proposal to Wagner on Apr. 30—when Wagner was due in Winter Park from New York. Wagner did not return until the next day, however, and the paper was delivered then.

Haynes added that "the trustees in New York were unanimous in wanting to work out a plan by which Wagner could resign with honor and dignity."

The trustees at the New York meeting had also instructed George Johnson, their attorney, formally to inform Wagner not later than May 3 or 4 that his resignation with the college had been terminated if a settlement could not be reached by then.

Thomas Johnson said that he thought after attending a meeting of the board's executive committee that an agreement would be reached.

George Johnson said that Raymond Green, then president of the pro-Wagner committee, had said, however, that he felt the college should pay Wagner $60,000 in view of a resolution which had been passed in February saying that Wagner should be retained for five years.

Negotiations continued, Johnson said, with Chester Hedell of Jacksonville being called in to represent Wagner.

The attorney for the 11 trustees said that Wagner wanted to continue as president of Rollins until July on a leave-of-absence basis and he wanted the trustees to attend a special meeting called by the executive committee for May 15. The latter was objected to, however, because, Johnson said, the call for the meeting was not inclusive enough, including only a report by three college presidents called in to make a survey and a vote to rescind the action taken on Apr. 27.

Negotiations continued through Saturday, May 12, Johnson said, but no agreement was reached. Meanwhile, tension on the campus was staying away from classes until they had a decision from the trustees. The student newspaper, the Sandspur, had published a special issue attacking Wagner.

On May 13, Sunday, one more effort for a settlement, calling Hedell at Jacksonville asking him if Wagner would reconsider, Wagner didn't, Sunday night, Trustees H. George Carlson, Arthur Schultz and Mrs. Jeannette Genies McKean went to Wagner with the final offer, which was refused, Johnson said. The announcement of Wagner's dismissal was then made.

WINTER PARK, May 30—(Special)—Students of Rollins College were commended today for their patience and restraint throughout the trying ordeal of the Rollins controversy by Dean Marion van Buren Cleveland, Dean of Women.

"Although the strain of the long drawn out dispute has been justly severe and the tension at times terrific," Dean Cleveland declared, "there have been no acts of lawlessness or violence and in my opinion the students have conducted themselves with exemplary decorum."

Dean Cleveland particularly commended the students for their restraint following their bitter disappointment at Tallahassee when the House of Representatives refused to grant their petition to reconsider the Andrews' bill.

She also revealed that during the past two weeks the students have organized recruiting teams to visit high schools in Jacksonville, Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Daytona, Sanford, St. Petersburg and elsewhere throughout the state in an effort to sell the Rollins system of individualized education and the conference plan as conceived by the late Dr. Hamilton Holt to prospective students for next year.

Dean Cleveland said that several of the high school principals had commented on the poise, reasonableness, and excellent presentation of these students, and on their love for and loyalty to the College.

Sherman Testimony

have to be taken," Bridges said. U. N. forces are fighting with "one hand tied behind our back," by not following MacArthur's proposals for bombing Chinese supply bases in Manchuria.

Sherman replied that he believes "we are now doing the correct thing," and that the present policy "offers the best chance of achieving a local success and permitting us to terminate that particular fight, war, or whatever it is."

Sherman told the senators a blockade would hurt China.

A United Nations naval blockade, Sherman said, not only would cut Red China's fighting strength, but have an important psychological effect.

"It would demonstrate the effectiveness of sea power, a power, that Chinese Communists can do little to thwart."

And, the admiral declared, a UN blockade "would be highly effective in impeding preparations by China to invade Formosa."

"China," he said, "is not capable of taking countermeasures that could appreciably reduce the effectiveness of such a blockade."

However, Sherman said that from a political standpoint, a blockade by the United States alone "would set us apart from our allies and promote the feeling that the war with China is simply a United States war."

Thus far, the Chief of Naval Operations said, other U. N. members have refused to join in the naval blockade although they have given evidence they will help make an economic blockade much more effective than it has been in the past.

General Hutchison pointed out the responsibilities of the new National Guard in the postwar military establishment in order to provide a reserve component of the Army and Air Force, capable of expansion immediately to war strength.

C. L. Herbold, president of the Deland Kiwanis Club, invited the members of the local club to participate with the Deland and Winter Park Kiwanis Clubs in a picnic meeting at Sandland Springs in the near future.

President Joel Field asked members of the club to meet Friday morning at 11:16 o'clock near the downtown clock, to motor to Orlando for an inter-club meeting.

played very often.

Phillips complained the amusement machine tax had been selected in preference to a measure he sponsored to increase dog track taxes.

"I'm not peeved at the dog lobby but I think they should pay more to the State of Florida than they are paying," he declared.

Rep. Simpson of Jefferson said he understands the machine operators have no objection to the proposed tax.

Simpson read a letter from State Comptroller C. M. Gay in which he said the machine tax and another measure to broaden the state sales tax are needed to make ends meet under the new appropriations bill.

Gay estimated the State's unencumbered cash balance when the fiscal year ends at the end of next month will be $12,579,429. He predicted receipts for the biennium will be $261,048,775, making a total of $273,628,204, which is $10,550,000 below the newly authorized expenditures.

"Our estimate of receipts for the next two years is not optimistic now is it pessimistic," Gay said. "However, if business conditions remain as they are now, it is reasonable to expect that all the sources of revenue will show a greater increase than has been anticipated."

The student newspaper also reported today—and the FSU public relations office distributed it for release to newspapers—that another poll of 200 students showed only six who said they did not believe in a supreme being.

It reported only 25 said they didn't believe in some kind of life after death, 286 said they did and 10 had no opinions.

The committee cited testimony given to it two years ago by Harry R. Trussler, retired dean of the University of Florida law school, "as to the encroachment of Communism and other forms of radicalism into the academic structure" of the university.

It recalled that he quoted an instructor as saying that "Jesus Christ was a myth."

The committee also cited an article in a recent issue of Smoke Signals, Florida State University student magazine, reporting that in a poll of 200 students, "only 20 expressed a belief in life after death, 150 answered no and 18 had no opinion on the question of immortality."

The Flambeau, student bi-weekly newspaper, carried a letter today from the author of the Smoke Signals article, declaring the printers had mistakenly reversed the "yes" and "no" columns tabulating replies to the poll.

Senate Passes $10 Million Sales Levy

Measure Is Expected To Provide Funds For Expanded Budget Expenditures

TALLAHASSEE, May 31—(AP)—The Florida Senate today passed a revised sales tax bill estimated to produce $10,000,000 additional revenue to help pay for a record spending bill for the next two years. The vote was 27-10.

The Senate-passed sales tax broadening bill is designed to produce $8,000,000 more than the House version of the bill which was passed yesterday. The Senate took the House bill today and added to it a provision that all clothing be taxed. The House had exempted all clothing sales up to $10.

Senator Shands of Gainesville, chairman of the Senate Finance and Taxation committee, estimated the Sales Tax Revision measure passed by the Senate would be sufficient to meet the state needs.

The House bill provides for taxing adult theater tickets and luxury cooking more than 50 cents. It also would adopt the first six months of hotel and apartment rentals.

Shands read a letter from State Comptroller Clarence Gay that if the house had passed its sales tax bill and another pending measure to put a 3 percent tax on gross receipts for junk boxes and non-paying pinball machines $4,000,000 would have been collected.

That figure, together with expected revenue and an anticipated balance, the State would have $287,527,227 for the next two years, Gay added. But he said this would be $7,000,000 short of the general appropriation bill.

However, Gay's letter said he thought the State could operate on that money if business conditions remained the same.

Senators also wrote into the four-year machinery bill that the House bill that a $300 limit apply to shipments or collective purchases of machinery instead of individual machines as the House wanted.

Ervin's move to write into the bill a provision that the chain store tax be repealed failed after Senator King of Winter Haven withdrew the amendment. The Senate already has passed a separate bill to repeal the chain store levy.

Warren's Reason For Bookie Bill Veto Is Rapped

TALLAHASSEE, May 31—(AP)—The Florida House today voted 47 to 11 today to sustain Governor Fuller Warren's veto of a bill to prohibit publication of horse racing information useful to gamblers.

Ervin sponsored the bill with-out newspaper included, but the House added them to the ban by amendment.

He said it would have prevented publication of horse racing information useful to gamblers.

Rep. Volle Williams of Sanford, who sponsored the bill in the House, said he will attempt to override it. It will take a two-thirds vote of each branch of the Legislature.

Bloated Carcasses Of Dead Soldiers Mar Exotic Beauty Of Korean Spring

By TOM BRADSHAW
WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION, Korea, May 31—(AP)—Most of the days are sunny and pleasant now—the sort of weather that prompts the folks back home to take a drive in the country on a Sunday afternoon.

You can take a drive in Korea on a sunny Sunday afternoon, too—but you better have well padded hind quarters and a strong stomach. A jeep or truck jolting over a rutted dirt road plays havoc with the human anatomy. And the sights are not for the squeamish.

The Korean hills are almost beautiful—viewed from a distance. They are covered with the green of new spring growth. Here and there wild wisteria and forsythia blossoms provide a touch of color.

But those hills are ugly, pitted with foxholes, bunkers, trenches and shell craters. Areas are twisted or broken by artillery.

In the valleys rice paddies have been ripped and torn by the ebb and flow of war.

Allies Halted By Fierce Red Counterattack

II Chinese Divisions Block Road To Big Red Supply Depot; Inje-Hyon Road Cut

TOKYO, May 31—(AP)—Red troops fighting with renewed fury halted American advances today 13 miles from the Communist Korean strongholds of Chorwon and Kumhwa.

Other United Nations forces regained control of the 275 foot high Inje-Hyon Dam with comparative ease.

Across the 125 mile Korean front, Allied forces bogged through the mud for slow gains or fought off sharp attacks.

The stiffest fighting swirled against American spearheads on the Western and east-central fronts pointed at Chorwon and around Inje on the east-central sector.

Chinese units pitched a fantastic counterattack at dusk Wednesday against Americans in the hills around Yonchon, 13 miles southwest of Chorwon. In a night-long battle the Reds pushed the doughboys off the ridges and shoved them back 1000 yards.

At dawn Thursday the American leaped to the attack. By noon they had regained their positions on the road to Chorwon. Frontline officers estimated at least two Chinese divisions stood between the American and that Red stronghold, 60 miles north of Seoul.

Yonchon itself, said AP correspondent John Randolph, is a no-man's-land. Americans patrol it by day, Chinese by night.

The Chinese started their first spring offensive prematurely Apr. 22 to keep the Allies away from Chorwon. At that time U. N. forces were four miles away.

One of the announced objectives of the current Allied offensive is to force the Reds into another premature attack.

During such offensives Chinese have been cut down in the greatest numbers.

Thirteen miles east of Yonchon on a highway leading toward Hama, a Red advance stopped an American advance south of Chipo.

Chinese and North Koreans are sensitive to any approach to Chorwon and Kumhwa. These points have been their main axes of supply and supply centers for months.

But Allied troops found tough going even to the rear of these spearheads.

South Koreans had to fight to enlarge their crossings of the Inje River, southwest of the Yonchon action. Hereafter they had to come offensively against opposition in advances south.

The notes blamed lack of agreement on an agenda upon the Soviet insistence that the Big Four should discuss the North Atlantic alliance and the establishment of U. S. bases in Europe.

The Soviet Union contends that the Atlantic pact is a major cause of international tension. The West rejects this claim.

The new notes point out that the Western powers proposed on May 2 that there be three alternative agendas. One of these has become known as the "split agenda."

Europe To Get US Tactical Air Aid, Finletter Declares

MINNEAPOLIS, May 31—(AP)—Most of the U. S. Air Force's tactical units, now numbering more than 50 groups, will be available to the North Atlantic Treaty Defense Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter said today in an address prepared for delivery at a Chamber of Commerce meeting here, the Secretary of the Air Force also:

1. Expressed opposition to any idea of "fritting away" parts of the strategic bomber force in extension of the Korean war to China—a position also expressed by the Air Force Chief of Staff, General Hoyt Vandenberg, in his recent testimony to senators investigating General Douglas MacArthur's ouster.

2. Said that despite progress in building a long-range bomber force around the B-36 and still more types of international heavy bombers the U. S. must continue to have overseas bases for strategic attack with its medium bombers.

3. Said that the U. S. is making substantial advances in the field of guided missiles and other methods of improving our air defense system but U. S. air defense now and for the future insofar as we can predict with reasonable certainty, is incapable by itself of guaranteeing us immunity.

Sanford Automatic Laundry Is Bought By Orie Mathieux

Orie Mathieux recently purchased the Sanford Automatic Laundry at Second Street and Oak Avenue from W. C. Shelton, and has been operating the business for the past week.

Mr. Mathieux stated this morning that he will continue for awhile to work as production marketing administrator, with headquarters at the county agent's office, until a successor is appointed.

He has been engaged in the past 11 years, and four years ago moved here from Geneva with his family. He is a past president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau.

2 Chuluota Girls Hurt In Accident; Auto Overturns

Two Chuluota girls, pupils at the Oviedo High School, were injured yesterday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock four miles east of Oviedo on the Chuluota Road when a 1949 Ford Sedan went out of control when a rear tire blew out and turned over twice.

Norma Jean Hamill, 17, driver, was thrown from the automobile and suffered bruises and shock.

Harriet Rutherford, 16, had a fractured collarbone, bruises and possible internal injuries, said State Highway Patrolman F. D. Harrison, who investigated the accident.

The girls were taken in the Harrison ambulance to Fernand-Laughton Memorial Hospital where they received treatment from Dr. C. L. Park and Dr. Lowell of Orlando.

Miss Hamill is the daughter of Ed Hamill, chief inspection supervisor for the Florida State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission. At the time of the accident the girls were returning to Chuluota and were traveling at normal speed, said Patrolman Harrison.

Wildlife Federation Opposes Seining

The Florida Wildlife Federation today again went on record as being opposed to any breach in the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission's ruling prohibiting the seining, sale and shipping of fresh water fish.

Porter Lansing, president of the Federation, made the announcement following the publication of the findings of a scientific committee appointed by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission which advised opening the Gulf of Georgia for "one king-sized salmon and some sauger cod."

Nationalist Regime Is Regenerated By Enlightened Formosan Policies

(An island one-third the size of Kentucky is a big question mark in the debate over American policy in Asia. That island is Formosa and its leading citizen is Chiang Kai-Shek, one of the world's most controversial figures. His enemies say he leads a lost cause; his advocates argue he's a good bet to drive Communism from China—and to save American lives in Korea.)

(To top up the situation as it exists today, the AP called upon three veteran correspondents for a thorough inquiry on Formosa itself. Today Frank H. King and Spencer Moss give a picture of Formosa and how it got the way it is in a concluding article tomorrow King and Fred Hampson will deal with the military aspects—what Chiang can and cannot do.)

Whatever the answer to the riddle of Formosa, the lean Generalissimo has refused to be written off in the war against world Communism. In December, 1949, when Chiang fled to Formosa for his life, the future of Nationalist China seemed hopeless. But today few will dispute the possibility of a Nationalist comeback.

What brought about this change in the fortunes of Chiang? A Nationalist official put it this way: "Don't quote me, but Stalin and Mao Tse-Tung (the Chinese Communist leader) have been our best allies."

The Korean war, President Truman's assignment of the U. S. 7th fleet to neutralize Formosa, the Chinese Red intervention in Korea, and other international events have led to the return in Nationalist prospects. Chiang's Formosan stronghold now seems on firmer footing than it ever has been.

The U. S. financed Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) is spending $54,000,000 in Formosa in the current fiscal year. More is to go into military aid. But, monumental problems, (Continued On Page Three)

Jaycees Set Up Public Meeting On Zoning Bill

The Seminole County Jaycees today moved to hold a public meeting at 10 A. M. at the City Hall to discuss the sentiments of the people of Seminole County concerning the highway zoning bill introduced in the Senate by Senator L. P. Boyte. The results of the meeting are to be forwarded to Rep. Volle Williams and M. B. Smith.

The Jaycees refused to go on record as favoring the passage of the bill either with or without a referendum clause.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland urged all citizens of Seminole County to cooperate in the Jaycees' waste paper drive which is designated for the two-fold purpose of ridding the city of a fire hazard and to raise funds.

Mr. Cleveland, who was introduced by Gordon Bradley, said paper means fire, pointing out that the ink in newspapers and magazines is particularly combustible.

"Elimination of excess paper will be a big step in cutting down the danger of fire in the community," Chief Cleveland added.

"Many recent fires have been traced directly to spontaneous combustion in piles of paper," he pointed out.

Miss Donna Lou Harper, Rose Queen of the High School and Jaycee contestant in the Miss Florida contest, expressed her gratitude for the opportunity of making the trip offered by the Jaycees and promised that Miss Cleveland's drive was represented.

Gordon Bradley urged all members to participate in the waste paper drive which reaches a climax Sunday in a city and county wide collection.

C. Sweet Smith, state Jaycee president, last night installed Jaycee officers at a special ceremony at the Seminole County Club. Jayce Secretary Red Fay left announced.

FBI Agent Holds Special Training Session For Police

Members of the Police Department, the Sheriff's office and the State Highway Patrol met yesterday for a "special school" with Edward L. Dutton, Jr., special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Miami as instructor.

Police Chief Roy McIlhenny pointed out this morning that his men had been receiving instruction of this nature for the past four years and had greatly benefited from it in keeping abreast of the latest methods of combating crime.

Yesterday's lesson, from 1:00 to 5:00 P. M. was in regard to the arrest of hit-and-run drivers, and following classroom instruction, Mr. Dutton's men, with officers taking various roles in order to demonstrate a hypothetical case of hit-and-run.

Police Patrolman E. H. Patterson was assigned the role of the hit-and-run victim, who had been left "dazed and helpless" and "clumped over the wheel of his 'damaged automobile'."

To complicate matters, Deputy Sheriff Fred Hood, posing as an escaped convict from Bradford, "sole wrist watch" from the dazed victim, and Patrolman Young, taking the part of a bystander, "forced articles out of the car and the victim, Sheriff Ed Little and Mr. Dutton appeared as witnesses of the accident.

State Highway Patrolman R. D. Harrison outlined the case as a "mystery investigation" which included everything done by police in one case.

"Evidence" on the car included broken glass and a tag stolen off another car, and it was "proven" that the car had been stolen. Mr. Dutton used his own automobile for this purpose. All of the officers agreed that the program was very educational.

Pentagon Feared 3rd World War Might Begin In December, Navy Chief Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 31—(AP)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman said today Russia could call off the war in Korea at any time and may be inclined to do so as the United States becomes stronger.

Sherman, the Chief of Naval Operations, gave those views in response to questions at the Senate inquiry into the firing of General Douglas MacArthur.

He also testified:

1. In the early days of last December, the Pentagon felt that the Korean fighting might expand into a world war.

2. General J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff who was in Japan in Tokyo, messaged the Joint Chiefs of Staff on Dec. 4 that MacArthur "feels best solution would be to arrange armistice on best terms available as soon as possible."

3. Collins reported on his return to the Joint Chiefs of Staff on Dec. 7 that it would "represent essentially a surrender" if restrictions on his command were lifted.

4. An action against Red China, a naval blockade of China, and reinforcement of "all forces in Korea from Nationalist China."

The last was a reference to the Formosa-based forces of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Sherman's suggestion that Russia may be inclined to call off the war, as the United States grows stronger, came in an exchange with Senator Lodge (R-Mass.).

Lodge asked Sherman if he believed the Kremlin had "talked back" (Continued On Page Three)
