

Over Florida To Make Trip With Legislators Conference

ORLANDO, Fla., Feb. 21.—Senator D. Stuart Gilchrist, chairman of the Florida Legislature, announced today he will devote practically all of his time between now and the opening of the Legislature to these matters. He expects to leave about March 1 a tour of the State for the purpose of inspecting in person his duties in the Senate to ascertain the views upon matters of interest which will demand attention of the Legislature. When asked for an expression of his views as to what would be the most important matters before the Legislature, the senator said:

The usual fiscal policies of the Florida Legislature and Congress of the United States seem to have laws either on the books or in the process of enactment, covering every phase of human activity.

The people of Florida demand a right to expect the Legislature to exercise its powers in governmental affairs, but there seems to be a difference of opinion as to what constitutes economy.

Certainly it ought not to seem that any institution supported by the State, or any department of government, is to have its efficiency impaired, or that essential activities in step with the development and exhibition of the States resources should be curtailed.

There is another question of great importance and one which has not received the consideration it deserves. That is, that the responsibility for raising revenue should be entirely upon the Legislature, of which no department or institution head is a member. I have hoped—but with less confidence.

California Shows Three Necessities Following Crashes

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—(AP)—There are only three essential things to do after a motor accident, but so many people forget them that the California State Automobile Association has sent out a reminder to its members. They are:

- 1—Give or obtain aid for all injured persons.
- 2—Announce your identity to the driver of the other car and get his own name, address and license number.
- 3—If you are insured, do not concede liability or agree to pay or accept damages; that is up to the insurance company.

After these matters are taken care of the motorist may take the names of witnesses, report the matter to police and—if he likes—get into an argument.

Brazil has approximately 2226, 143,600 paper money currently in circulation.

Biggest American Ship Involved In Ship Collision

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21.—(AP)—The Italian steamer, Felice, and the American freighter, Edward L. Johnson, collided in a gale on the Columbia river today, the Felice striking up to her gunwale and the Johnson's bow striking the Italian's side, according to reports from the Coast Guard.

Port news after the crash the crew numbered 22 on the Italian and 25 on the Felice. The Italian crew was reported to be in good health.

Reports from the coast said at least half the crew of the Felice was taken off by the tug, Warrior. The Warrior was standing by.

The cause of the collision of the two ships was not immediately ascertained but may have been the work of a strong wind blowing from the west.

The Lashington was pictured in reports as grinding into the side of the Italian after the crash with her bow stove in.

The river was thought to be about 50 feet deep at the scene of the collision, which would explain the stability of the Felice.

The ship was a passenger carrier but government had been but her crew aboard.

More than a million copies of Shakespeare's works have been sold in the last few years in Soviet Russia.

The Soviet Union claims first place in world production of tractors. The Russians have built half a million tractors since production began in 1921.

A single plant in Russia turned out 41,225 tractors in 1925, considerably more than were produced in the whole United States.

CASTLE IN SPAIN

Byron The London Spectator says the wild development of the world is being duplicated and followed. The mad two in the sunset and to the Devil's Gallop.

I have seen stars—fallen from the Deer's Meadow—Only the mist racing—The Cock's and the Hen's shadow.

Over the Heron Loch I saw a gray wing beating; In frozen mud of Salop The sentinel bird waiting.

Shadow and substance mingle—The beating of unseen wings, The gallop haunted meadow.

Shadows' ghost is laid;—One with the dust of his wind-laid.

By the turbulence of blood In Fall's liquid voice And the voice of the Spanish children.

I have never seen living Spain; Shall only remember her death. ELIZABETH CLUER.

Mr. Justice Hush—Blush—The School Girl—headline, And so his face been red lately!

If the Supreme Court were all as bad as it is charged, it could have some of these politicians up for contempt of court.

Sometimes it is hard to tell whether glaring headlights, or drivers who are lit up too much, cause the most accidents.

They say they have got so many tourists down in Miami this winter that it is practically impossible to locate a native.

The Daytona Beach Sun Record says it is easy to see why there hasn't been any winter this winter. We played a double header last year.

The people of France and Italy are breaking their necks to see who can get into Spain first and be the first ones there to get their necks broke.

We see where The Herald's "Farm and Groves" section is going in for sex appeal. We expect an immediate increase in our circulation.

As we get it, the federal government has enough power to get an act of a depression, but needs some more power to keep us from getting too prosperous.

The annual edition of the Rollins College "animated magazine" will be presented Sunday, and some unusually good numbers have been announced for the program.

While Tennessee ponders a law to make newspaper editors tell the truth, Alabama sees a movement launched to compel politicians to keep the promises they made while candidates. Now we are getting somewhere.

A truck driver, and a heavily loaded truck, crossed rapidly at an intersection just in front of an oncoming school bus loaded with children. The bus driver slammed on his brakes and narrowly averted a collision although he had the right of way. The truck driver went merrily on his way. Little realizing probably that he might easily have been the cause of a serious accident, had that if he had, with the wheels present, he would have had a pretty little chance of escaping a long jail sentence.

A Matter Of States' Rights

The controversy over the Supreme Court has now reached the point where it is perfectly clear to everyone that the real issue is not whether there should be nine justices or fifteen, or whether a man of seventy has necessarily passed the age of usefulness, but whether the federal government should possess certain powers which it does not have, and which it never has had under our existing Constitution. Supporters of the Administration are no longer making any bones about it that the reason they want "new blood" on the Supreme Court is so that modern air-conditioned streamlined laws can be enacted by Congress without the danger of later being invalidated by the Supreme Court.

Since this is the issue, it is important that every citizen, particularly every citizen of Florida and of the South, consider what this new legislation is to be, if the Court is put in a straight-jacket, and whether we want the kind of laws that are going to be enacted. In view of the fact that much of the New Deal has already been approved by the Supreme Court and that much of it has already been in effect for four years without coming into any conflict whatever with the courts, it goes almost without saying that the proposal to pack the Supreme Court has nothing whatever to do with the reduction of the gold content of the dollar, the creation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Camps, the re-financing of home and farm mortgages, the organization of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Housing Administration, or the providing of relief and work to millions of our people through the FWA, the WPA and the FERA. These and many other of the New Deal policies have either already been declared constitutional or were never in any danger whatever of being in conflict with the Constitution.

Now if the government has the power to do all these things, and has done them, and in doing them has admittedly been responsible for lifting the country out of the depression, what power is it then that the government needs, or wants, now that the battle against the depression has been largely won? There were essentially but two New Deal laws vitally affecting the lives of the people, out of the hundreds actually enacted, which have been declared unconstitutional. They were the NRA, or the National Recovery Act of Blue Eagle fame, and the AAA, the Agricultural Adjustment Act, which established its reputation by raising the price of pork and white bacon, and by plowing under wheat and cotton.

It is the power exemplified by these two laws which the federal government does not possess and which it wants. It is the power to fix wages, regulate hours and working conditions, establish prices, and otherwise regulate and manage the business affairs of the country, as well as the power to govern similar conditions as they apply to farm operations, that the President is in reality demanding. This power, as our Constitution exists today, and as it has been interpreted by the Supreme Court for 150 years, the federal government does not possess. And it must be remembered that with respect to the NRA, the decision by the Supreme Court was unanimous, while seven out of nine justices decided against the AAA.

In the light of what has been said and written on the subject during the past week no one is so stupid as to believe that even though all the justices on the Supreme Court were a hundred years old, any movement would have been started to oust them if they had decided favorably on the NRA and the AAA, or even though every one of them were only thirty-five, some other plan would not have been invented to pack the court if that were necessary to provide government control over business and agriculture. In his Madison Square Garden speech the President declared that with respect to these issues, "we have just begun to fight".... only he promised to do it by "clarifying amendments" to the Constitution.

It may be that federal laws establishing minimum wages, maximum hours, fixing prices and providing for strict governmental control of farm operations, would be a good thing for some parts of the country, but it is by no means certain that they would be a good thing for the South, or for anybody living in the South, and they provide a problem which certainly deserves the most serious consideration of every thoughtful person who really has the interests of the South at heart. It is not an issue which can be swallowed whole out of blind faith to the Democratic party which was a great deal different at the time of the Civil War from what it is now.

If the federal government is going to enact laws regulating every detail of business and agriculture throughout the entire country, the rules likely to be arrived at will be those which are demanded by the most populous centers of the country. What might be very satisfactory in one part of the country, might prove disastrous in another. A minimum wage of 40 cents an hour in New York City would hardly be high enough to do anyone there any good at all, but in Sanford it would likely throw most employers, particularly if applied to farmers, into bankruptcy. A work week of thirty hours might be all right in certain over-populated sections of the country, but here it would be impossible to harvest our celery if negroes were allowed to work no longer than that.

Nor is it possible for the federal government to make one law for one part of the country and another law for another part of the country. There might be some slight differentials made as there were under the NRA, but essentially the law has to apply to everyone alike just as there must be one speed limit on the public highways. If the coal mine operators of Alabama have to pay inefficient negro workmen the same wages as the efficient white laborers in Pennsylvania receive and then ship their coal a thousand miles farther to their markets, how long would they remain in business? And if the textile factories of the South have to compete with the textile factories of New England, under the same federal regulations, can they do it? If these industries are destroyed, what will their employees do?

When it comes to deciding what hours and wages, and prices shall be, and whether a state like Pennsylvania or a section like New England shall be favored over a section like the South, we have our fears for the South. Politics being what it is, federal regulations are far more likely to hinge on vote-making possibilities than on the future industrial growth and development of a state like Alabama, North Carolina, or Florida. The same thing is likely to prove true when it comes to a decision respecting the citrus growers of California and Florida. California has twenty representatives in Congress; Florida has five. California has twenty-two votes in the Electoral College; Florida has seven.

We do not believe that the heavens will fall if President Roosevelt is given the power to revamp the Supreme Court; and we do not believe that as far as Florida is concerned any appreciable difference will be felt by most of us during the next three or four years, whether the federal government is given unlimited power over the economic lives of our citizens or not, but we are convinced that in the long run, after one or more other presidents and congresses have come and gone, and the more populous centers of the country have tightened their grip on the federal government, the South's historic position on States' rights will prove to have been a sensible one for all of us.

Only 16 Major Reversals In Court History
UNITED STATES NEWS

Congress has enacted 94,000 laws since 1870. The Supreme Court, in all of that time, has found only 73 of these laws—or parts of them—to be in conflict with the Constitution.

Out of those 73, barely 16 concerned acts of Congress that affected the everyday lives of citizens—57 were largely technical.

The legislative mill ground out an average of 170 laws in each year. The judicial appraisal disclosed an average of one piece of legislation in each two years that could not pass the constitutional test.

Yet today the courts of the country are under fire from the President. A national debate is opening over the future of the Supreme Court and the Constitution. One or the other is accused of standing in the path of progress.

Why the sudden burst of this problem into the national limelight?

A glance at the facts and figures may show.

That glance quickly discloses that during 144 years the Supreme Court found only 61 legislative acts of Congress or parts of them to be in conflict with the Constitution. But during the last four years the Court has found 12 to be in conflict—an average of three a year.

Even more important: out of 16 Supreme Court decisions that bore on economic and social problems, eight were decided in 144 years and eight were decided in the last two years.

Slavery, the right to tax income, child labor, the responsibility of employers for injury sustained by employees, the right of labor to organize, were involved during the years up to 1933.

Then, in a brief two years, came tests of the Federal Government power over wages and hours of work in industry, over production and marketing of farm products, over the relationship between debtors and creditors, over old-age pensions, over collective bargaining.

A clash occurred between the wishes of the President and the Congress and the interpretation of the Constitution by a majority of the Supreme Court justices.

The President and Congress wrote their plans into legislation; the Supreme Court held that the legislation could not stand.

Yet, study of Supreme Court decisions discloses, those clashes have occurred in the past and have been composed in one way or another, leaving the Court and the Constitution intact.

It was in 1857 when first the Court handed down a decision of major economic importance. That was the year of the Dred Scott decision holding that a slave was property and subject to the laws governing property in free as well as slave States. The Civil War and the 13th and 14th Amendments settled that issue.

Thirteen years later the Court decided that greenbacks printed during the Civil War were not legal tender for debts contracted prior to issuance of the greenback currency. That decision, however, was soon reversed when two new judges were appointed, changing a four-to-three decision against greenbacks to a five-to-four decision in favor.

Then 25 years elapsed before the first Federal income tax law was ruled out by a five-to-four decision. The 16th Amendment to the Constitution changed that.

After 33 more years the Supreme Court handed down two decisions affecting employer responsibility to working men. New laws since have been passed and approved.

Ten more years elapsed before the Court decided an issue with wide social implications when it held that Congress could not prevent shipment in interstate commerce of goods produced by children under 14 years of age. Four years after that the Court ruled that Congress could not put a special tax on manufacturers employing child labor.

This issue remains unsolved. So does the one raised by the Court in 1923 when it held that the Constitution did not permit Congress to establish minimum wages for women working in industry.

Those were the pre-New Deal decisions of the Supreme Court that touched off fireworks because of their effect on questions of concern to large numbers of individual citizens. Long periods found the judges out of the public eye.

All was changed with the coming of the Roosevelt Administration. For the first two years little

Edmund Lowe And Florence Rice In Ritz Mystery Film

Players from several notable bits of the recent past few weeks are assembled around Edmund Lowe in "Under Cover of Night," the picture in which he creates a new detective character for the screen in Christopher Cross, scientific sleuth, and which comes Friday to the Ritz Theater.

Among them are Dorothy Peterson, who played in both Dionne Quintuplets pictures; Henry Danzell, who played Verriette in Garbo's "Camille"; Nat Pendleton, the Sandow of "The Great Ziegfeld," and Henry Walker, the friar in "Romeo and Juliet."

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture presents a new character in a new form of detective story in which, instead of awaiting a surprise finish, the audience literally turns detective itself and follows the investigation step by step with the detective. Each spectator thus can dramatize himself in the detective's shoes, being provided with every clue he has.

The locale is a great university with mysterious killings among the faculty. The scientific sleuth takes a hand, solving the mystery from the tiny claw of a pet dog's toy ball.

Fantastic laboratory scenes, strange chases through the night, an amazing bit of detection in a Turkish bath, are among surprise elements in the plot.

Florence Rice plays the heroine and figures in the romantic part of the story with Dean Jagger, Theodore von Eltz, Sara Haden, Frank Reicher, Maria Shelton, Effie Tibury and Harry Davenport are also among the players.

Mrs. Rachel MacArthur of Edinburg, said to be Scotland's oldest woman, is 109. She underwent an appendectomy at 96 and has been in good health ever since.

Specimens of five hundred plant varieties were collected in the Barro Colorado state park by CCC enrollees working under supervision of federal wildlife technicians.

Orange County Bar Votes 54 To 8 V. Court Proposals

ORLANDO, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Orange county attorneys were nearly unanimous in their denunciation last night of President Roosevelt's proposed plan to "pack the Supreme Court" with judges who would do his bidding when members of the Orange County Bar Association passed a resolution so worded.

In the face of charges of "political issues" and "obviously a cut and dried meeting," attorneys at the meeting voted 54 to 8 for the adoption of the resolution as presented by Raymer Maguire.

The text of the resolution follows: Whereas, legislation has been proposed for enactment by the Congress of the United States, which has for its purpose an increase in the number of justices of the Supreme Court of the United States;

And whereas, the Orange County Bar Association is of the opinion that such legislation is inimical to the welfare of the United States, and that the independence of the Supreme Court of the United States should be maintained inviolate forever;

Be it resolved, therefore, by the Orange County Bar Association in regular meeting assembled that this association is unalterably opposed to any legislation increasing the number of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States;

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the secretary of the association to members of the Congress of the United States from the State of Florida.

U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye says:

"I enjoy the comfort a light smoke gives my throat"

"I have smoked Luckies off and on ever since my first term in the Senate 11 years ago, and I have always enjoyed their taste and the feeling of comfort and safety a light smoke gives my throat. I have done a great deal of public speaking, on the floor of the Senate, over the radio and at conferences. Necessarily this results in a strain on the voice. So naturally, in smoking, I have to think of my throat—and I have found that a light smoke is suitable to my throat."

Gerald P. Nye
HON. GERALD P. NYE
U. S. SENATOR FROM NORTH DAKOTA

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Nye's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

World Club Holds Meeting In Annex

The regular meeting of the World Club was held in the annex of the Methodist Church on Monday afternoon. A short business meeting preceded the afternoon's program.

At the social hour refreshments were served to the following members: the Misses Virginia Chapman, Mary Jean Harris, Jean Southland, Bally Kate Williams, Emily Anderson, Joyce Beale, Betty Burroughs, Laurelle Dutton and Billy Chapman, Walter Steels, Edward Muligan, Walter Anderson, Edward White, Frank Pickens, Spence Williams and Danny McCall.

Miss Margaret Davis To Sponsor Program

At 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Women's Club, through the Music Department, Miss Margaret Davis will sponsor an unusual and interesting program, centering around modern music.

The hostesses for the occasion are Mrs. E. M. Galloway and Mrs. Ralph Smith. There will be an out-of-town speaker and illustrative numbers will be given by three of Sanford's outstanding pianists.

The speaker will treat her subject from the amateur's viewpoint, and to those who would like to be able to appreciate the development of Twentieth Century music as lovers of music and not as deep students of it, the evening will be worthwhile.

The public is cordially invited.

Thomas Rogers, 78-year-old Baltimore, Ill., farmer, says he has a clock which hasn't missed a tick in 100 years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bezenah of Port Huron, Mich., who have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler of Lake Onor for the past two weeks left yesterday for their home.

Annual Luncheon In Held By Club

The Annual Luncheon of the Woman's Club was held at the club yesterday with Mrs. J. C. Bills, Mrs. W. M. Scott and Mrs. James Coates as hostesses.

The decorating committee composed of Mrs. S. D. Hightley, Mrs. W. M. Scott and Mrs. John Quirk chose the patriotic color scheme—red, white, and blue—and appropriate decorations for the commemoration of George Washington's Birthday. A large portrait of the first president was placed above the console table at the entrance of the club, and an artistic arrangement of red, white and blue flowers centered the table. Bowls and vases of red flowers were placed about the room. The American flag, with the blue velvet curtain forming an attractive background, was placed in the middle of the stage between two tall floor baskets of red geraniums. Red madonnas about twelve inches high formed a low hedge across the front of the stage. The luncheon tables were centered with miniature cherry trees and a small American flag adorned each plate. The bridge tables further carried out the George Washington motif.

High score prize, a vase, was awarded to Mrs. Harry Papworth. Mrs. F. Dempsey received the low score prize, a beaded evening bag, and Mrs. Nettie Epperson, winner of the Screeno prize was the recipient of a beaded evening bag.

Luncheon was served to the following guests and club members: Mrs. S. D. Hightley, Mrs. J. C. Bills, Mrs. James Coates, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. Richard Ten Eyck, Dr. Elizabeth Tracey, Mrs. B. F. Haines, Altamonte, Mrs. Ida Hoffman, Miss Claudine Hoffman, Mrs. Webber Haines, Mrs. Horne of Maitland, Mrs. Roy Hugh of Maitland, Mrs. B. E. Tolar, Mrs. E. Compton, Mrs. H. J. ## Seven Athletes Signed For 1937 Baseball Season

Materials for the completion of the clubhouse at Municipal Athletic Field arrived this morning and several crews of workmen were put to work immediately to complete the building before school opens.

Wright reported that only one thing remains to be done to whip the ballpark into excellent shape—paint the grandstand. He has suggested that baseball fans donate paint for the work.

Insurgents reported they had crushed a mass onslaught of Government forces on La Maranza, a chemical factory settlement, in the bullet-swept Jarama River sector. Heavy casualties were reported among Government troops.

Ten persons were reported killed and more than 70 wounded in the Vallecas District of Madrid alone as insurgent planes three times swooped down out of a moonlit sky.

In the Jarama River sector 17 foreign volunteers in the Government cause were reported slain when trucks in which they were riding drove directly into insurgent lines.

The President recommended that crop insurance be extended to wheat for the crop year 1938. Federal officials estimated $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 would be needed to set up the plan and establish adequate reserves and pay necessary costs.

Gordon Barnett Sets Forth Plans For Legislature

W. L. Christy, speaker of the House this session, was in Orlando yesterday and held a short conference with Mr. Barnett and other legislators of the section.

Another proposal which will be set forth by Mr. Barnett is the abolition of the poll tax, a movement which appears every legislative year but which never has had as much encouragement as is being evidenced in 1937.

The legislator also said he was highly interested in supporting any movement to keep down appropriations that will entail the assessment of additional taxes.

Mayor Declares Human Nature Is Worry For Cities

Topeka Official Lists Complaints From Kansas Citizens

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Mayor Dr. R. O. Hickok, mayor of Lakin, Kas., it's not business and taxes that worry the small town mayor most—it's the simple old human nature.

At a state convention of mayors Dr. Hickok gave a "breakdown" of his honor's daily troubles. Fifty per cent he laid on the mayor himself and his staff. The other 50 per cent he charged to the citizens.

Difficulties caused by citizens are analyzed as follows:

Desire to "get even" and to have some neighbor hauled over the coals by citizens who request "Don't mention my name"—15 per cent.

Desire to criticize and boss others and show "how wise I am"—15 per cent.

Quarrelsomeness, caused by crowding in towns and lack of "elbow room"—5 per cent.

Incidents arising from the fact that in a small town everyone thinks he or she knows all about everyone else—and wants to tell it—10 per cent.

Troubles coming from the desire to get "the lord mayor" in dutch—5 per cent.

Troubles laid to the officials themselves:

Ignorance of preceding officials and lawmakers—15 per cent.

Carelessness of officials—20 per cent.

Determination of councilmen to "bother the mayor" and cause trouble—5 per cent.

Neglect of officials from "sheer laziness"—2.5 per cent.

Dishonesty and graft—2.5 per cent.

Mistakes arising "from sheer human weakness"—5 per cent.

Quake Responsible For Natural Gas

HORNELL, N. Y., Feb. 12.—(AP)—A geological discovery which may explain the deep deposits of natural gas in this section is revealed by Walter Redmond, former principal of Greenwood High School, who says a prehistoric earthquake split the earth on a line between what now are the communities of Hornell, Canisteo and Greenwood.

The earthquake which caused the fracture would leave the region in ruins if it occurred in modern times, Redmond says.

Experiments at the Lubbock (Tex.) experiment station show that a ham or bacon packed in a crock will keep a year longer if covered with refined kerosene oil.

In the 26 years he has kept weather records at Waterloo, Ia., Mayor Ralph B. Slippy has noted temperatures ranging from 33 degrees below zero to 112 above.

FREEDOM REWARDS CONVICTS FOR FIGHTING FLOOD

Victory over "Old Man River's" flood water at Memphis, Tenn., had a double meaning for convicts from the Shelby county prison farm who worked the busy night to build the levee higher. Three days were stricken from the sentence of each one for every day spent on the levee. That included the expiration of terms for 110 and they were set free. A guard (left) is shown removing convicts from the top of some of the levees. (Associated Press Photo)

Mine Workers Ask 30-Hour Week And Increase In Wage

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers today demanded a 30-hour work week for 400,000 miners in the soft coal industry.

The Mine Union, opening negotiations with bituminous operators on terms for a new wage and hour scale agreement, also demanded for miners paid by the day and an increase of 25 cents per ton year and two weeks vacation with a wage increase of 50 cents a day for pick mining, an increase of 15 cents per ton for coal loaders and two cents a ton for cutters; a guarantee of 300 days work each year and two weeks vacation with full pay. Miners paid by the ton to receive 90 a day during vacations.

Forecasts Fate Again Predicted Date Of Death; Man

RECHWOOD, Tenn., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Alive but in poor health more than a year after the date he set for his funeral, 79-year-old John Burdette says an "amended victor" promises him life until 1940.

He has "sublimed faith" now that he will not die before then. Two years ago Burdette calmly announced: "I will die Sep. 20, 1935."

He said then that a "great light" and a "voice" in September of 1928 had told him he would "live 40 years."

Shortly before his birthday on Sept. 20, 1928, Burdette now explains, the "voice" was amended by another celestial promise of a longer life.

So sure was Burdette that he would die in 1935 that 16 years ago he made arrangements for his funeral.

Actress in Dress Of Seventeenth Century

PARIS, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Marie Bell, French actress, wears in her latest play a seventeenth century dress of stiff black velvet designed by Molyneux. The dress has a voluminous skirt, fastened with silver laces, and four pairs of silver tassels which dot the front of the pinched-in bodice. A cluster of purple violets accent the silver-lined black velvet muff she carries with it.

Soviet Russia is rebuilding its merchant fleet by salvaging ships scuttled or torpedoed during the World War and civil conflict. Fifty-three vessels have been raised and recon-ditioned.

Work has begun in Moscow on a stadium to seat 100,000 persons. The Russian Government appropriated 50,000,000 rubles for its construction.

$750,000 Grant For Atlantic Air Line Proposed

House Bill Provides 4 Trips A Week With British Co-operation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Establishment of trans-Atlantic air mail and passenger service to begin Nov. 1 on the basis of four round trips a week is provided for by an initial appropriation of $750,000 carried in the Treasury-Post Office appropriation bill reported to the House of Representatives recently.

The project, to be launched exactly 17 years after Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh made his pioneer solo flight to Paris, is the development of an agreement reached between the United States and Great Britain whereby the cost of the service are to be borne on a 50-50 basis.

Scientist Will Seek Claw-Winged Fowl

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Field museum of Chicago is sending Emmet R. Blake into British Guiana, South America, to get a habitat group of the boat-bird whose young, with claws on their wings, convince scientists they descend from reptilian ancestors living millions of years ago.

Scientists declare no other bird alive today illustrates this evolutionary trend. The boat-bird is a pheasant-like bird. Only the fledglings have the reptilian claws which they use with agility in climbing into and out of their nests. When danger threatens they dive headlong into the water beneath the nests and later clamor back unassisted. As they grow older they lose the claws.

Pigs Is Pigs, Says Man Who Profits

POTTER, Neb., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Pigs really mean something to Fred Reetz, who points to his pyramid of profits from one $50 hog.

A year ago Reetz bought a hog for $34 and recently sold it for $47.10. While he owned the hog, it raised 11 pigs which sold for $352.

The northern route is the shorter by more than 1,500 miles, but the safety factors are on the side of the southern route, and will be until more experience has been acquired in combating storms and ice in the high northern altitudes. Until such time, therefore, it is expected that most of the flying will be by the southern route.

AMELIA PLANS 'GUINEA PIG' FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

Hoping to find out "what happens to us human beings after hours and hours of flying and why," Amelia Earhart (left) is planning to assume the role of a "guinea pig" in an experimental flight around the world next month. Capt. Harry Manning, the ace captain of rescue fame, will accompany her part of the way as navigator. They are shown in New York mapping their route. (Associated Press Photo)

Third Dust Storm Swirls In Mid-West

QUYMON, Okla., Feb. 17.—(AP)—The third "black blizzard" in three days raged here today as dust-mashed farmers prepared to throw up protective bulwarks of hard clods on their plowlands.

Visibility slumped to virtually zero, street lights were turned on and automobile traffic even on Quymon streets was at a standstill.

At Beaver, west of here, the blushing north wind kicked up dust into clouds that reduced visibility to half a block.

Got Wrong Number But Right Party

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 18.—(AP)—It was the wrong number but the right party, so Bert Spear's telephone call went through without delay.

He called a lumber company and when the telephone was answered asked for a friend by name.

Spear talked several minutes before he discovered his friend was not at the lumber firm's office, but at another place.

He had called the wrong number, but his friend was at the wrong number too.

Antelope Stands Vigil Over Region

BLANCA, Colo., Feb. 18.—(AP)—A single antelope stands vigil on the hills of the San Luis valley country, perhaps the only survivor of thousands of these animals that formerly roamed this region.

Last year there were a pair of the fleet little animals but hunters and trappers reported that this winter only one remains.

Settlement of the valley and surrounding country was responsible for the extermination of the antelope herds.

Fisherman-Juror Makes Facts Known

LAMAR, Colo., Feb. 18.—(AP)—A jury was being selected for a murder trial and one of the veniremen disclosed he was a fisherman.

"The fishing clan is a pretty legal one," said the prosecuting attorney. "Would you believe a fisherman quicker than any other person?"

"I can't say that I would," replied the venireman. "In fact, some of them have been known to stretch the truth a bit."

Upton Sinclair, who campaigned unsuccessfully for the California governorship in 1931, says he is "out of politics" for the rest of his life.

Half of the nation's motor travel, or 100,000,000,000 car-miles a year, is over rural roads which extend for more than 3,000,000 miles, according to the American Road Builders' Association.

HELPFUL ADVICE TO ACNE SUFFERERS

For acne pimples affecting the outer or surface layer of the skin, here is advice that will help improve your complexion.

Every night at bedtime, wash your face thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Do not rub. Follow with a dash of cold water and dry thoroughly but gently.

Then apply Resinol Ointment to the affected skin and leave it on all night. Do this every night, and watch the improvement.

Local treatment is advised as a helpful aid in acne cases, and for more than 40 years the ingredients of Resinol have been found effective.

Resinol benefits by treating the irritated oil ducts, where most surface pimples start. In this way it aids healing of such pimples and also tends to check their recurrence.

'38 Supply Bill Exceeds Total Of '37 Expense

House Committee Reports Big Boost For Postoffice, Treasury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Carrying a total of $1,500,955,151, the annual supply bill for the Treasury and Post Office departments has been reported to the House of Representatives, recommending appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1 next amounting to $234,900,149 more than was made for the two departments in the current fiscal year.

The report of the House Appropriations Committee showed that the report of the Treasury Department there is recommended a total of $718,486,790, which is $253,915,377 more than the 1937 appropriations and $11,765,950 less than the budget estimates.

For this department there is an increase of $235,000,000 in the amount to be appropriated to the old-age reserve account of the social security act. Eliminating that item from the comparisons, the total recommended for the entire department is $1,084,623 less than the total of all other appropriations for 1937.

For the Post Office Department and postal service there is recommended a total of $782,400,361, which is $1,684,772 more than the 1937 appropriations and $3,275,117 less than the budget estimates.

Taking both departments together, the bill shows a recommended total of regular annual appropriations of $1,500,955,151, which is $234,900,149 more than the aggregate of the 1937 appropriations and $15,041,067 less than the budget estimates. Eliminating from the grand total the increase of $235,000,000 for the old-age reserve account, the bill is a whole is $99,931 less than the grand total of all the other 1937 appropriations for both departments, the report contended.

For the first time in a regular appropriation measure, the bill carries the fund for the old-age reserve account of the Social Security Act in the amount of $500,000,000. The initial appropriation of the old-age reserve, $265,000,000 for the current fiscal year, was carried in the deficiency act of the last Congress. In that connection the report filed today said:

"These annual appropriations represent the premiums necessary to provide the payments required under the title on a 3 per cent reserve basis. It is the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to invest such part of the appropriations credited to the account as may not be necessary to meet current withdrawals in interest-bearing obligations of the United States, or in obligations guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United States and yielding not less than 3 per cent."

"Pending the accumulation of data now being assembled by the Social Security Board as to the number of persons and their degrees of eligibility under the act, the Treasury Department does not have the data upon which to base accurate estimates of the future needs of the fund. Present estimates of appropriations are based upon information furnished at the time the legislation was considered and enacted by Congress. The wage-record data being accumulated by the Social Security Board will be available in time to enable the Treasury to predict more accurately for the 1939 budget."

Hearings before the House Appropriations Committee, made public recently, disclosed testimony of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, virtually acknowledging that "if the Social Security law stands it will, in the next seventeen years with the 'sinking fund and so forth about'

about $30,000,000,000 of the public debt."

And that is the reason, Secretary Morgenthau said, that the Treasury believes its immediate financing operations can be handled on comparatively short term issues. On the subject of the refunding in contemplation of the reserve, Mr. Morgenthau said:

"What will come about during the next four years will be comparatively small. The biggest part of the operating is behind us. For the next eighteen months there will be $2,900,000,000 exclusive of Treasury bills and $2,000,000,000 of Treasury bills or a little under $5,000,000,000. That is for eighteen months. We may have been handling, not counting Treasury bills, $8,000,000,000 a year. Therefore, the thing is very much reduced, and the debt is being evenly tapered over the next twenty-five years or from now to 1960. There is no particularly large sum coming due in any one year. Frankly, compared with what I felt last year, I feel very confident."

Major routine items in the bill included:

For the Treasury Department: Internal Revenue Bureau $87,708,923; an increase of $27,481,390; Federal Alcohol Administration $425,000, a reduction of $50,000; Narcotics Bureau $1,257,500 a reduction of $7,400; Coast Guard $25,448,846, a reduction of $87,888; Secret Service, $293,810, a reduction of $50,000, and the Public Health Service, $20,746,980, an increase of $695,905.

Office Building Without Windows Is Being Built

RACINE, Wis., Feb. 18.—(AP)—An office building without windowed walls is under construction here. It was designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, internationally known architect for S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc., wax makers.

Daylight will enter the office through circular shaped glass bands encircling the building—one at a six-foot level, the other at the angle formed by the wall and the roof—and through skylights. Artificial lighting will emanate from the same sources.

Because the only exterior openings will be chambered entrance doors, the building utilizes two "nostrils"—circular shafts running from the basement to the roof—through which the air-conditioning equipment will breathe in fresh air.

The main unit is a vast workroom, 130 by 210 feet. On a mezzanine gallery around the workroom are offices for department heads and junior executives. The chief officers will use a penthouse on top of the main office.

The building will cost more than $250,000.

"The trouble with most modern buildings is that they are not really modern," says Wright.

JOYFUL STRIKERS PARADE FROM GENERAL MOTORS PLANTS

Here's the start of a long parade that evacuated the three General Motors Corporation plants at Flint, Mich., at the end of the 44-day "sit-down" strike. Pushing their way through the crowd, the strikers formed a procession behind an American flag at Fisher Plant No. 1, paraded to Fisher Plant No. 2 where they were joined by hundreds of fellow "sit-downers," and then proceeded to Chevrolet Plant No. 4 to complete the evacuation. They left the plants in accordance with the strike settlement agreement. (Associated Press Photo)

PRESIDENT, CABINET ATTEND DINNER HONORING FARLEY

MORE BUFFALO WOMEN FIGHT OFF ATTACKERS

SEARCH FOR CONVICTS WIDENS

NEW YORK HIPPODROME

A pugilist listed as Jack Willis who later gave his real name as Earl Phillips, and Herb Brodie, manager of Heavyweight Jack Torrance, were arrested in New Orleans on charges of violating Louisiana boxing laws after Phillips walked out on a fight with Torrance. Phillips (left) told the state boxing commission he was ordered to put on a good show of boxing and then "throw the fight" to Torrance. Torrance (right) and Brodie are shown together during the hearing at which Brodie denied Phillips' testimony. Below, is a photostatic copy of a letter and the envelope containing it which boxing commissioners say they found in possession of Phillips. He testified he was given the instructions in a letter handed him on the train but quit the fight because he didn't want to "let down" the fans. (Associated Press Photos)

FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE GOES ON IN FLOOD ZONE

Miss Lane won their battle to hold the levees against the swirling currents of the Mississippi river, but the fight against epidemics and suffering goes on with increasing force in the flood areas. A nurse in the children's ward of an emergency hospital in Memphis, Tenn., is shown doing young refugees with medicine to fortify them against disease. (Associated Press Photo)

HOSTAGES FREED BY CONVICTS

These three hostages, seized by seven Caledonia prison farm convicts in North Carolina as they fled their cells, were released later unharmed near Pinehurst where the trail of the fleeing man was lost. Left to right: Walter M. Willard, 19-year-old civilian; Capt. I. D. Hinton and W. L. Roberts, steward at the farm. The escaped prisoners carried their hostages two hundred miles but the three men said they were treated well. A widespread hunt is on for the convicts. (Associated Press Photo)

TINY BABE BECOMES A MODERN CINDERELLA

A modern sort of Cinderella story finds Baby Marjorie Ann Maddox, 11 months old, transferred from the modest home of her struggling parents in Somerville, Mass., to the 25-room mansion of Miss Rosemond Hunt, millionaire spinster of Brookline, Mass., who has adopted the infant. And some day little Marjorie Ann will inherit the wealthy estate. Above are shown Mrs. Richard Maddox, the baby's mother, and her modest two-family home. (Associated Press Photos)

Sanford Basketeers Invade Tavares Tonight

Locals Strive For Second Win Over Tavares Tonight

Coach McLucas Is Fearful Of Letdown After Eustis Game

After their brilliant effort to lead the undefeated Eustis quint to its first setback of the season, the Celery Feds today turned their attention to their contest this evening with the Tavares basketeers whom the locals will battle at 8:30 o'clock on the Tavares High school floor.

In the last battle of the two teams which took place a month ago on the local court, the Sanfords registered a 32-23 victory, displaying an offense and defense that worked almost to perfection. In contrast, they grabbed a 9-0 lead in the first period, stretched the margin to 15-10 by half time and then led 18-12 at the start of the last period. From all indications, the Feds should come through easy or less easily in tonight's contest.

Coach Leonard McLucas, pleased with his progress showing against Eustis, is fearful of a letdown following the strain of the contest with the Panthers. Any inclination to take things easy, however, would, in all probability spell defeat for the Feds. Starting the same crew which played the entire contest Tuesday night, McLucas expects to snag another victory as Zachry and Morgan take the forward posts, Purdon goes in at center and Dal Ferguson and Les Phillips take up the guard duties.

The Tavares lineup will consist of the Newman brothers at the forward positions, Shiver at center and Padgett and McQuibb at guards unless a last minute change finds Boyd or N. Newman in the starting lineup. The Sanford B team which defeated the Tavares B squad, 19 to 7, here in their first meeting, is expected to check up another victory tonight in the preliminary game at Tavares, slated to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Tobacco Specialist E. Y. Floyd of North Carolina State College says a hundred square yards of bed, or a bed 10 yards long and 10 yards wide, will produce from 10,000 to 15,000 seedling tobacco plants.

Sanford Is Given Chance To Ballot On Court Change

Mark the ballot to be printed in tomorrow's issue of The Herald according to your view on the question, whether you favor the plan or are opposed to it. After you have marked the ballot, send or bring it to The Herald office.

Results of the balloting in this community will be printed daily, along with a compilation of national returns, representing opinion from coast to coast. As these results come in, you can compare your stand on this controversy with the views of your neighborhood, and of the nation at large. Printed with the ballots will be explanatory matter giving you a concise view of the Supreme Court as it exists today, and a review of the changes it has undergone since the birth of the nation. The long expected move to reform the Supreme Court is here at last. What does America think of it? NEA and The Herald are providing the machinery to measure the nation's feelings on this all-important question. The answer is up to YOU.

Race Of Champions Is Feature Event Tonight At Longwood Dog Track

Handicappers Favor Babe Tucker Hound By Very Slim Edge

The featured futurity race, the ninth on tonight's program at the Longwood track of the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club, will be a race of champions with such speedsters as Babe Tucker, Lizzie Tactician, Ann Hope, Lady Horsham, Speedy Event, Dirty Omen, Side Traffic and Miss Speedy.

While the handicappers scratch their heads in an attempt to choose a favorite, many of the track's followers will be giving the speedy Babe Tucker their backing while Ann Hope has caught the eye of others. Their post positions will probably be the main factor in the way the fast greyhounds finish in this ultra-special classic. The choice for the daily double lies with Disharine and Judas. Although many are counting on Sunday Morning and Bad Anice, a long shot combination, coming through.

Ship's Death Toll Mounts; Seventh Dies

Explosion Aboard Wyoming in Fight To Marine Gun Crew On 8-Inch Rifle

Powder Is Set Off In Breech

Battleship Used As Training Vessel On Pacific Coast

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The death toll of a gun explosion aboard the old United States ship Wyoming was raised to seven today when Sidney Kenney, Marine private, died from his injuries on the second hospital ship.

A thirty-pound powder charge of a five-inch shell went off in the breech of a six-inch gun on the demilitarized Wyoming during maneuvers yesterday.

The Wyoming was laying down a barrage to cover the evacuation of a landing party on the beach of San Clemente Island when the explosion sent fragments of steel and iron through the bow of the gun crew and against the bulkheads.

Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, tonight issued the following official list of dead and injured:

U.S. May Act To Get Steel For Warship

Wahli-Healy Act Is Cause For Industry Withholding Bids For Orders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today the Government would be forced to act soon to change steel needed in the construction of naval vessels.

The steel industry has failed to bid on a large part of orders placed by the Navy, Naval officers have attributed this to operation of the Wahli-Healy Act which sets up wage and hour standards for Government contractors.

At his press conference, the President said he did not know whether new legislation would be necessary.
