GREATEST YEAR IN HISTORY OF FLORIDA EDUCATION SCHOOLS WILL BE FILLED

ATTENDANCE AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS WILL BE QUARTER MILLION

COLLEGES FILLED

Regulations for Teachers Training Department in the High Schools

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 29.—Floridians are expecting the greatest year in the history of the state's educational system as final plans are ironed out for the opening bells which will begin to ring in many cities next week.

Estimates have been made that the attendance in the public schools of the state this year will run somewhere around the 250,000 mark, as compared with approximately 237,500 for the school year 1921-22, the last season for which total figures are available.

A corps of examiners are now engaged in grading examination papers of the thousand or more persons who were tested under the new system of examination by county superintendents as to their ability and qualifications for guiding the youth of the state in the search for an education. Ten thousand individual examination papers were turned in, but those in charge of the grading work hope to have the questions and answers properly marked in time for issuance of certificates so the successful candidates may return home or to their assignments and take up their duties.

The state school authorities have provided a new set of regulations for teacher-training departments in high schools this year. These rules, amended by the state board of education, and approved by that body on May 31, this year, require among other things that at least ten pupils will regularly attend the teacher-training department, each to be sixteen years of age, or over, and that they must have regularly and creditably have completed at least the tenth grade of a school with a standard not lower than the average tenth grade course of study of Florida.

FUEL CHIEF HAS PLEDGE OF SUPPORT

U. S. Administrator Wadleigh To Be Supported by Eleven Atlantic Seaboard States and Coal Carrying Roads.

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Eleven Atlantic seaboard states yesterday pledged themselves to do all in their power to aid Federal Fuel Administrator Wadleigh and coal-carrying roads to minimize the suffering that might follow in the wake of a protracted suspension of anthracite mining after September 1.

Four governors and representatives of other states, including the District of Columbia, voted to assist in whatever emergency measures Mr. Wadleigh might undertake. Parties to the agreement included representatives of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the American Railway Association, the United States Bureau of Mines, and the American Federation of Engineering Societies.

"The next thing on the program is to wait and see if there is to be a strike," said Mr. Wadleigh. "If the need arises we will start at once to put into operation our plan for maintaining rapid distribution of what anthracite is available and of sufficient bituminous, oil and other substitutes to keep people from suffering."

Mr. Wadleigh's plan as tacitly approved by the conferees proposed the establishment by each state of an emergency fuel distributing organization. The government would maintain a similar organization with staff men to work with the states "in distributing fuel, in securing the needed supplies from the producing fields, in obtaining the co-operation of railroads toward rapid and equitable transportation."

Two's company. Three's an argument.

Six People Drown When Car Jumps into Open Drawbridge

Gulliver Family and Mrs. Connor Perish at Charleston

(By The Associated Press) CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 29.—Six persons were drowned near Conway when their automobile plunged through an open draw bridge. They were Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Culliver and three children and Mrs. Marvin Connor, all of Conway. Marvin Connor escaped.

WINTER SEASON STARTS EARLY IN FLORIDA

Trains Will Start and Hotels Will Open

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 29.—A single track railroad on the East Coast of Florida handled more than 600,000 passengers in the 1923 tourist season, and this section of the state, looking forward to a heavier season in 1924, is in a fever of activity in preparation for it.

Heretofore, the largest hotel on the Florida east coast has not opened until the first of the year, to remain open for ninety days. Announcement is made that the winter train service will start December 15, however, and the hotel will open on that date, two weeks earlier than usual. The Florida Hotel Commission reports that contracts have been approved this year for hotels on the east coast which will cost seven million dollars, the buildings to be ready by the first of the year.

Growth of visitors to Palm Beach, one of the Florida winter resorts, is illustrated in the circumstance that one of its hotels which has a gross house count of 48,842 in 1922, had an increase of 7,000 in 1923, and another Palm Beach hotel increased the house count from 28,000 to 32,765.

It is estimated that $20 a day is the average hotel bill of the 88,607 persons who registered at two of the Palm Beach hotels during the 1923 winter season; this indicates that tourists paid more than one and three-quarter million dollars for accommodations in two local hotels alone.

A computation of the known expenses of retail establishments operating here for a season is the basis of an estimate that tourists at Palm Beach pay out more than two million dollars a season for sport clothes, post cards and souvenirs, refreshments, photographs, boat hire and similar articles and services. No one has undertaken to estimate how much money society women spend at the "shops" for fashionable wear.

Search Being Made for One-Armed Veteran Who Has Stolen Girl

And Made His Getaway And Probably Married Now.

(By The Associated Press) SPARK HILL, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Search is being made for George McDonald, one armed world war veteran taxi driver, who is charged by Mrs. Richard D. Post, hotel owner of having abducted her 14-year-old daughter, Anna May Post. Anne returned home yesterday after being absent a week. Mother of McDonald brought the girl home and said she had been visiting friends. After deciding to give up her mountain home and move to New Jersey, Mrs. Post found a note in her daughter's room saying she and McDonald planned to elope rather than be separated.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT HAS ENDED ALL CONFERENCES ON COAL STRIKE, WILL WORK OUT NEW PLANS

Will Now Draft Plan and Tell Operators and Men What He Thinks

(By The Associated Press) HARRISBURG, Aug. 29.—Sufficiently informed as to the issues of suspension of anthracite mining which has been ordered for September 1, Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania yesterday broke off the series of conferences which he has been conducting with operators' representatives and officials of the miners' union and went to work drafting a settlement suggestion of his own. Both groups of men, who have been separately closeted with him for prolonged intervals during the two days since he intervened to prevent a break, agreed to await the proposal he will make, but professed entire ignorance as to its terms.

"I have conferred with both sides and told them I hoped they would remain in Harrisburg tomorrow," the governor said in a brief announcement of his purposes, "within reach for consultation, and that I desire at the earliest possible moment—before tomorrow night, if I can manage it—to have ready a suggestion for settlement of the strike. Both sides have courteously acceded to my request."

Meanwhile, with barely 72 hours to elapse before the men abandon their working places, the operators and miners took a step in anticipation of the struggle, to provide for the employment of engineers, pump operators and maintenance men underground while the miners were idle. Unless this work goes on, the mines will flood and cave in, suffering perhaps irreparable damage, and in past anthracite strikes and suspensions the union and the mine operators have agreed to a truce, insofar as employment of this kind has been concerned. In the present controversy, the union

FLORIDA STRAWBERRY GROWERS GET QUICKER TRANSPORTATION TO THE MARKETS NEXT SEASON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Railroads serving the strawberry producing sections of North Carolina and Florida are making preparations to shorten the time of delivery of shipments to Washington, Philadelphia and New York under an agreement with the interstate commerce commission it was disclosed by the commission yesterday.

The agreement between the carriers and the commission resulted from complaints filed by strawberry shippers both in North Carolina and Florida, protesting against the slow movement of their product which during the last winter season was not delivered in New York until the fourth morning after shipment from North Carolina and the fifth morning after shipment from Florida producing points.

A rolling stone gathers no moss, but a man who keeps his nose too close to one does.

This condition, the commission said,

ROSSITER TELLS OF HIS TRIP TO THE CONVENTION

CAME BACK LOADED WITH BIGGER AND BETTER IDEAS FOR KIWANIS

Today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club was called to order by President Sharon and Dr. Brownlee invoked the Divine blessing on the deliberations of the body. While the attendance was not as large as usual, the enthusiasm and interest shown made up for the small showing of the members.

Forest Lake told of his work in securing a refund of money expended on the bridge across the St. Johns river at Osteen ferry, and of the work being done to secure the St. Johns river scenic highway, that will pass through Sanford, and asked for a big delegation to the meeting at Green Cove Springs September 13. His talk was listened to with deep interest.

Next on the program were Mr. and Mrs. Brockhahn, of the Milano Theatre, who entertained those present with vocal and instrumental selections, Mrs. Brockhahn favoring the club with a solo, while Mr. Brockhahn tickled the juries, and as an encore they responded with a duet. Later on the program the latter rendered that classical hymn "There's a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" with variations—lots of them. Both these young people are professional entertainers and Sanford is indeed fortunate that they have located here, as they are always ready to assist in making any local affair a success. Their efforts today were received with hearty applause.

Kent Rossiter told of his visit to Huntsville, Ala., as a delegate to the district convention. He gave a very interesting description of what he saw and heard, and held the close attention of his hearers. He also told of meeting a young lady stenographer whose name was Sanford, but after meeting Miss Sanford his description of places and events is very vague. He claims he attended a barbecue in the dining room and a dance on top of Lookout Mountain but absolutely refuses to tell of the whereabouts of Miss Sanford—after she wrote out his report. He admits his verbal report consisted of exactly two words: Sanford-Celesty, and why he should need a stenographer to make his written report is worrying some of the Kiwanians, especially Steel and Ball. But Kent was strictly sober today and appeared to have enjoyed his trip very much.

Ed. Lane has joined the union and is now wearing a clean new union suit, which was the attendance prize for this meeting.

WHITFIELD WON RACE IN MISSISSIPPI

Leads Bilbo by Over 16,000 Votes Today

(By The Associated Press) JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 29.—Tabulation by the Jackson News of 206,568 votes cast for governor yesterday's primary gave H. L. Whitfield a lead of 16,542 for governor over former Governor Bilbo.

Drug Peddler Seeks His Release On Habeas Corpus

Was Forced To Give Evidence Against Himself.

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Because a stomach pump was used to extract morphine he had swallowed when government agents arrested him as a drug peddler George Bennett is seeking his release on a habeas corpus. He charges that he was detained illegally and forced to give evidence against himself which is in violation of his constitutional rights.

It often looks as if talk is the best policy and honesty to cheap.

Union Musicians Will Go on Strike in New York City

Want From $90 to $119 Per Week for Jazzing

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Two thousand members of the Musicians' Mutual Protective Union voted to call a strike in the theatres of Greater New York next Monday unless the agreement over wage demand was reached. The union is seeking a weekly scale of from $90 to $119.

PRESIDENT MINERS UNION ON THE JOB

Arrives at Harrisburg to Receive Proposal of Governor Pinchot

(By The Associated Press) HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—John L. Lewis, president of the miners union arrived to receive proposal expected to be made tonight by Gov. Pinchot, to forestall threatened suspension of anthracite coal mining. Some of the governor's advisers said his proposal would include request for operators to abandon all but eight hour day, permit the union to install representatives in mines to collect union dues and thirty-day truce during which wage negotiations be resumed.

ORLANDO VOTES AGAINST CHANGE IN THE CHARTER

Turns Down Commission Manager Form of Government

The proposed new city charter was decisively defeated at the polls yesterday, the vote going almost four to one against it. The charter was favored by 97 citizens. It was repudiated by 706 voters and ten ballots were thrown out.

The result was not surprising even to those who had defended the charter because little effort was made to push its adoption. Members of the charter board made no effort to force ratification; they submitted the text and let it go at that, leaving the matter of approval or rejection to the people.

"The people of Orlando do not want a city manager." That is the way those who kept in close touch with the election and pre-election discussions viewed the result.

The vote was lighter than was expected, but it was evident early in the day that the election was not commanding as much interest as was expected. Fewer than 500 votes had been cast at noon and predictions were freely made that not less than a thousand ballots would be marked before the polls closed. The voting was steady but was at no time as rushed as the election judges had anticipated.

A new color is given the local political situation as a result of the charter's defeat, inasmuch as Mayor Duckworth had expected to resign as soon as a new city commission could be chosen. The mayor indicated several months ago that he wanted to quit and devote his time to his private business interests, but he was expecting an entire change in the municipal government and it is not known now whether he will give up his position or continue to serve until the expiration of his term.—Orlando Sentinel.

Birds of a feather knock together.

PRESIDENT ZAYAS IS BUSY CONFERRING WITH GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

OVER ACTIVITIES Of Veterans Who Have Gone Beyond the Legal Stage

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Postal Telegraph Company announced messages to Cuba would be subject to censorship until further notice. Western Union officials said they had no notice of censorship. It was learned that men visited cable office at Havana yesterday and scrutinized messages, but held none up.

HAVANA, Aug. 29.—President Zayas was busy yesterday conferring with government officials over the activities of the veterans which he said had now gone beyond the legal stage. He plans to take drastic measures if necessary to prevent their usurping against the government.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Although no American official can discuss the Cuban censorship the situation is believed by those outside of official circles in close touch with the Cuba situation that the step taken as a precaution against any possible serious political developments. The activities of the Cuban veteran organization which has been holding mass meetings in protest against the new railroad consolidation legislation and other government measures caused considerable anxiety among some officials in Havana. Whatever reports have been received by the American government, the situation is held in the strictest confidence. It is emphasized that this government had no connection with the censorship and that it was exercised at the Cuban end of the cable.

HAVANA, Aug. 29.—President Zayas made it known he would permit meeting of veterans scheduled for the day, but would not allow planned parade demonstration.

AUTO THEFT INSURANCE HAS BEEN REDUCED BY NEW STATE LAW

Hawkins Connelly of the A. P. Connelly & Sons Co., of this city says that the new state law that makes every auto owner register and get a certificate for one dollar is bearing fruit. It seems like a fool law on the face of it but the law is being put into effect in many other states and once it is in effect in every state in the union it will be impossible for a stolen car to be resold. In other words while a man could steal your car now even with the tag on it he could not sell it without showing his certificate and proving that the car was his property. The tag and certificate will not prevent a thief from getting away with your car but he could not sell it and if he cannot sell it he would hardly want to steal it. Hawkins says that the rate on autos has been reduced ten per cent since the new law went into effect.

Three Months Baby Found in the River Was Not McKenzie

Baby That Was Kidnaped Twelve Days Ago.

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The body of a three-months-old girl found in the Hudson river this morning was first thought to be Lillian McKenzie, kidnaped 12 days ago but the parents summoned hastily, said it was not their missing child. The body had no outstanding marks of identification.

ENVY
Time was a king of the older days,
Disturbed by his fraternal clan,
Sent ministers forth, both south and north,
In search of a happy man.
Go find me a man with his heart content,
Who maketh no wish for more;
Let the search be had till you find one glad,
One glad with his present store.

"You have wealth," said they to a woodman tanned,
"And so have your children three;
You are blessed, for that gift is best,"
"I would I were rich," said he.
"You have gold," they said to a man of wealth,
"You can buy what is ever sold."
"Yes," said he, "but I'd happier be
With the strength of the woodman bold."
Then they found them a man with a well-filled purse,
And sturdy and strong was he,
But he said with a sigh: "No child I have I,
But the woodman there has three."
They searched them high and they searched them low
And back to the king they went,
And they said: "No man in this royal clan
Sits down by his fire content."
"The woodman sighs for the rich man's gold,
And the rich man vows that he would give his wealth for the woodman's health,
Or even his children three.
"None thinketh himself by the good Lord blessed,
But counteth his neighbor glad,
And is sure that he would happier be
If the neighbor's joy he had."
"Oh, tell me, then," said the sorrowing king,
"You have traversed the world around,
Did you pass no door of rich or poor
Where envy was not found?"

There is none who knoweth life's joy complete,
For no God's blessings fall
That all are blessed as He deemeth best,
But none may have them all.
—Edgar A. Guest.

HONORS FOR FLORIDA WOMAN.
A Florida newspaper woman has been summoned to New York to assume the editorship of a magazine which although only some three or four years old is a signal success. The woman is Miss Ruth Rich, club editor of the Florida Times-Union, who has a wide grasp on women's affairs and activities throughout Florida. She is in close touch with the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Daughters of the American Revolution throughout Florida. Her sister, Mrs. James A. Craig, is state regent for the latter. But above all, Miss Rich has been president of the Florida Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, a position of influence and power which she has resigned in order to accept the call from New York, just as she has laid aside her newspaper work in this state to enter a larger field.
The magazine of which Miss Rich is to take charge is the Independent Woman, the official organ of the National Federation of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Miss Rich, through attendance at all the national conventions which have been held since the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs was formed in St. Louis several years ago, has gained the national viewpoint, and when Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, editor of the Independent Woman for the past two years or more decided to resign that work and enter another field, Miss Ruth Rich seemed the logical choice of the powers-that-be in the National Federation to fill the vacancy.—St. Augustine Record.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Several men were shot during a gang fight outside Essex Market court soon after seven members of notorious "kid dropper" gang had been discharged because of inability to connect them with the shooting last week. The court room was thrown into uproar and calls sent for police reserves and ambulances.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Members of gang surrounded a taxicab which was being used to carry away some discharged men. Chauffeur and some occupants of the cab were among those shot. Jack Kaplan, alias "Kid Dropper," leader of the gang was shot twice and died in a hospital. The gangsters were arrested last Thursday on suspicion of having acted in concert shooting William Wiese and Gussie Schwartz. At the hearing today the court room was heavily guarded and other precautions taken as a result of a tip that an attempt would be made to free the prisoners.

The Republicans of Ireland were winners in the Dail election. This should give the Republicans of this country some hope. Maybe this is a good year for Republicans—but next year, well, who knows?

Up in Virginia they seem to have a hard time proving a killing of a minister and all the facts so far point to a cold blooded killing. It also seems hardly fair to a minister to say that he either provoked a fight or tried to kill anyone.

A casualty company in Chicago has sued 22 other casualty companies for the grand sum of five millions. We hope this suit will not interfere with their collecting the money that they charge us for insurance or for the insurance they will pay in case we need them.

Our old friend Col. George Harvey sails for England in September. George is minister plenipotentiary and ambassador extraordinary representing America in England. If George wants our personal opinion of him we will say that he is another fathead even though he is a journalist.

Col. Haskell, head of American relief in Russia says that communism is dead in Russia. Thus another Utopian dream of the anarchists and red flag wavers is shattered. There is only one form of government that will survive the ages and that is the government of the people, by the people and for the people.

We want the editors of daily newspapers in Florida to know that the Associated Dailies members will meet in Sanford next week—Thursday, September 6th. There will be a real business meeting, no time lost but Sanford will entertain the pen pushers—you can bet on that. And all those that stay away will be black balled from the friendly list of Sanford.

DRINKING HAS BEEN DECLINING FOR YEARS.

Since there has been so much fuss and feathers about drinking on ships in the past few months it has occurred to us that drinking on ships is not the "lush days" that many land lubbers believe it is. In fact the drinking on ships has been confined to very few passengers in the past few years and they drink lightly as compared with the heavy drinkers afloat and those ashore. And this recalls to our mind that we had some experience in this line when we were on the White Star liners and other foreign ships where the drinking was supposed to be heavy. It was anything but heavy several years ago and is probably lessening now and we were reminded of it by a statement of an old friend, Tommy Smith, of the Adriatic in the following editorial in the Pensacola Journal:

"Drinking among passengers at sea has been steadily getting less and less for the last 20 years. T. D. Smith makes this comment. He's chief steward of the White Star liner Adriatic, and he has been 35 years in the North Atlantic service. The decline in drinking is a genuine movement, not because liquor costs have gone up, Smith believes. He says: 'Efficiency in business—with telephones, wireless, radio, taxicabs, electrical devices and the general demand for more speed—has destroyed the old idea of doing business in the forenoon and devoting the rest of the day and night to drinking.' That just about sums up the prohibition movement, in the last analysis. It came as a matter of efficiency, rather than of morals."

What a Wonderful Opportunity for a Good Leader

"Smith says that when he first went to sea the ships were so small and tossed so much in storms that 'only hardy individuals cared for the North Atlantic trip except in May, June and July, when there were prospects of fine weather.'

"He recalls that many of the old-time liner passengers were hardened toppers who could drink all day and most of the night without ever getting drunk.

"Their favorite breakfast, served at 11 in the morning, was deviled bones with champagne.

"The best whiskey in those days cost only 90 cents a quart, with gin 50 cents and lower. Beer was served at 6 cents a bottle. Maybe this explains the origin of the expression, 'good old days.'

"The old-time ocean passengers bought their hooch aboard ship, by the bottle. And at dinner time in the first-class dining saloon 30 years ago champagne was seen on every table.

"Liquor flowed freely at all hours of day and night. Many of us can recall when John Barleycorn was the silent partner of business on shore also, it being customary for a drummer to take a prospective customer out and throw a dozen rounds of drinks into him before inducing him to sign on the dotted line.

"People have been tapering away from liquor gradually but steadily in the last 20 years. Many have the notion that prohibition was 'put over' in a twinkling. They forget that, out of about 2500 counties in the United States, only 150 or even fewer still were wet when the prohibition amendment was adopted.

"Such drinking as still takes place is viewed through a magnifying glass. Smith, veteran seaman, says drinking aboard ship has been steadily declining for 20 years, but most landmen seem to have the notion that ocean travel resembles 'Ten Nights in a Barroom.'

ANOTHER CANDIDATE.

Another candidate for Governor! Hon. Charles D. Haines, of Altamonte Springs, has announced his candidacy. Mr. Haines tells the Orlando Sentinel that he reached this conclusion after conferences with political leaders in various parts of the state and after "numerous delegations had called at his estate to urge his candidacy." Mr. Haines says he would not consider entering the race but for the fact that he believes "there is a work to be done for Florida." Following his announcement in the Orlando Sentinel, he writes the Tribune that the following will be his platform:

If elected Governor of the state of Florida, I shall do my utmost to promote the welfare, happiness and prosperity of the people, the upbuilding of the state and the development of its resources. Mr. Haines is a former Representative in Congress from New York, serving in the Fifty-third Congress. He was offered a place in President Cleveland's Cabinet. He has several times been considered as a nominee for Vice-President. He has been a builder of railroads and a manufacturer. For 21 years he has lived in Florida, and has taken an active interest in the development of the state. He is now President of the ### Society of Pilgrims and of the American Patriots.

The entry of Mr. Haines into the race makes the list read Charles B. Parkhill, John W. Martin, Frank Jennings, Frank Clark, Sidney J. Catts, Charles D. Haines—six candidates, the same number as in the campaign of 1916, in which Catts was elected.

The Tribune is supporting Judge Parkhill and will continue to support him, regardless of the number or identity of the entries. The Tribune knows that Judge Parkhill ought to be elected and it believes he will be elected—also regardless of the number or identity of the entries.—Tampa Tribune.

AUTOS AND CHILDREN.

"Some day," said the careful woman driver, "I'm going to be arrested for assault and battery. Some day when a boy who thinks he is smart jumps out from behind a bush and yells at me, or when a couple of small boys get out on the pavement and dance around in front of my car, just to see how much trouble they can make, I am going to stop suddenly grab a boy and spank him hard, right there on the street. His parent will undoubtedly arrive and protest, and I will go right on spanking until the police arrive. I will go to jail if I have to, but just once before I die I am going to spank one of those miserable little wretches who flirt with death. They are the kind who rock the boat, the kind who dive in untried water, the kind who send off firecrackers behind other people's ears. I have children of my own and murder isn't my line. But spanking when necessary is, and I've got a good strong arm."

To the motorist of strongest nerves the yell of the boy behind the bush gives a jerk to the wheel that at the least is bad for tires, at worst threatens an upset. To maneuver between two small Indians daring you to run them down is neither an easy job nor one called for by any regulation.—Jacksonville Journal.

FARMERS PLANNING FOR BETTER PRICES.

Are you a bread eater? If so you should fill up to the limit this year, for the prospect is for higher prices next year. Long experience proves that while the price of bread is very slow to follow the wheat market downward, it follows upward when even it takes a turn in that direction with great celerity. If all reports are to be credited the farmers are laying their plans for an upward turn in the wheat market next year. They have tired of raising big crops and selling them below the cost of production. Dispatches from Chicago tell of drastic reduction of the wheat acreage next year, both in the winter and spring wheat belts. Kansas, one of the great wheat states, is planning to cut the acreage 50 per cent next year, while the spring wheat states of the northwest, Minnesota and the two Dakotas, will cut their acreage at least 20 per cent. Indiana will lop off 378,000 acres from the more than 2,000,000 planted last year, and Michigan will reduce to the extent of 15 per cent, and other states are expected to do the same. The wheat farmers are not likely to be caught next year with a 200,000,000 bushel surplus beyond all legitimate requirements.

The farmer has learned the old lesson of supply and demand; he realizes that the war is over; he knows that Russia is again in the field as a competitor; that the war torn countries are at last beginning to raise at least a part of their own bread, and that war-time prices are not likely to prevail again very soon. So he is doing what every thinking man should do under similar conditions, reducing his output until demand catches up with supply. There is no conspiracy about the movement. It is simply forced on the farmers, in the interest of their own preservation. Growing wheat to sell below the cost of production is not pleasing to the farmer, and as he finds himself unable to bring the cost of labor and necessary implements down to a parity with the price of wheat he does the next best thing and cuts down production until cost and price get nearer to an equality. He must get some profit from his labor and land, or he must get out of business. That is exactly what he is doing, and all that he is doing.—Tampa Times.

ALABAMA AND GEORGIA TO PLANT BLUEBERRIES.

The Okaloosa News-Journal of August 24, tells of four prospectors from Macon, Ga., in Crestview for the purpose of investigating the famous blue berry farm of M. A. Sapp, with the intention of buying several thousand plants, to be shipped to Georgia.

In the same issue of the News-Journal is an excerpt from the Foley Tribune, in which mention is made of the visit of a second delegation from Baldwin county, which visited the Crestview blueberry district.

The Tribune says: "Each one was so greatly impressed by what he saw that they did not hesitate to state that this industry can be made a big asset for South Baldwin county—even equalling that of the Satsuma."

"A letter has been received from Mr. Atwell in which he states that he got 500 quarts from 175, five year old trees, and that Mr. Sapp gathered 4,400 quarts off 280 trees eleven years old, receiving 25c per quart; this covered crop and sales up to August first.

"There has not been a crop failure in 35 years—not one penny spent for spraying or fertilizing. It is the writer's opinion that if the trees were fertilized and worked as we do, the Satsuma that the crop as well as the size of the berry could be greatly increased.

"Orders have already been placed for enough trees for planting about 60 acres; a drive for the planting of at least one hundred acres will be made during the coming winter. By growing enough for car load lots, shipments can be made a saving. According to government estimate, 300 pickers can gather enough for loading a car each day. There is a ready market North and East, awaiting all that Baldwin county can raise. For safety and quick returns on your money, where can you equal it?"

There can be little doubt but that Satsumas and blue berries are to become two of the most important crops grown in the South. For a number of years Baldwin county took the lead in the growing of a Satsumas, and West Florida has recently led in the cultivation of blueberries. Now it seems that these two are becoming friendly rivals for both of these crops. Competition is good for any business, farming included, and the brisker the movement in Alabama and Georgia, the more likely are the growers of this part of Florida to get busy, increase their acreage and meet the demand, which is far from being supplied.—Pensacola News.

"Better See if the Motor Needs Oil"

Get in the habit of saying this to your dealer whenever you stop for gasoline, water or air. Remember, that the only way you can tell whether or not your motor needs oil is; first, by the simple way of looking at the gauge, and second, by the expensive way of finding out too late that cylinders have been scored and bearings burned thru your forgetting to keep up the supply of oil.

Sufficient quantity, the right quality, the proper weight or grade of oil, and the replacing of oil after it has been worn out by six or seven hundred miles of running—these are the important things to watch; and, given proper attention, you can avoid the bother and expense of most motor troubles.

Be safe—be sure—and be satisfied by putting nothing in your crank case but

CABBAGE BLACK ROT

By H. S. Fawcett

The disease of cabbage, known as "black rot," which is due to the bacterium, Pseudomonas campestris, has for several years caused serious losses to the cabbage, cauliflower, and rutabaga crops of this state.

How to Prevent Black Rot Seed-Beds—The seed-beds should be prepared in fresh soil, in which no plants of the cabbage family (cabbage, rutabaga, cauliflowers, collards, turnips, radishes, kale, mustard, etc.) have been growing.

Seeds—The seeds should be treated before planting. Put them in a cloth sack and lower the sack for fifteen minutes into a solution of corrosive sublimate (one part to one thousand parts of water); then spread the seeds out to dry, not allowing the direct rays of the sun to fall upon them.

Planting Out—The plants should be set out, as far as possible, in ground that has not been planted in cabbage, or closely related plants during the previous season; and never in soil on which refuse plants related to the cabbage have been allowed to rot.

Fertilizing—The use of stable manure or compost should be avoided, since such manures are known to cause fields to remain infected by keeping the bacteria alive from one season to another.

Destroying Infected Plants—As soon as any plants show the disease, they should be taken out and destroyed at once. This is suggested because insects carry the disease from one plant to another, and it is probable that the wind also distributes it over the fields by blowing dust from infected plants to those that are still healthy.

Cleaning Tools—All tools and implements that have been used in infected soil should be sterilized by wiping them with a dilute solution of crude carbolic acid, before using them in newly planted soil.

Preparing for the Next Season—As soon as the next crop is marketed, all refuse cabbage plants and old stubs that remain in the field, should be completely destroyed, either by plowing under, or better, after removal from the field.

Rotation Crops—The cleared field should be planted to crab grass, beggarweed, or velvet beans. These crops are not subject to the black rot disease, and will keep the soil in good condition for the next year's crop of vegetables, as well as help to starve out the black rot bacteria in the soil.

condition for the next year's crop of vegetables, as well as help to starve out the black rot bacteria in the soil. The prevention of the disease, and its eradication from infected fields, depend upon the strict following out of these eight points.

It is said that cabbage black rot was very prevalent throughout the country last year, and that as a result, the seed purchased this year are likely to be infected with this disease. There was considerable loss in this district last year from this trouble.

LAKE MARY

Mr. Maston Witham who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. J. C. Brown for the past few weeks has returned to his home in St. Petersburg.

Mrs. W. S. Sewell of the Casino left Monday for a trip to New York and Boston. While in the north she will also visit her mother, Mrs. H. A. Phillips at her home at Salisbury Beach, Mass.

The square dance Friday night at the Casino was well attended many people coming a long distance.

Plans are under way for a number of houses to be built in the near future. Building goes steadily on and keeps the local sawmill busy.

Mr. Wilder and family have moved back to the hotel after spending a few weeks in the Noyes bungalow on Crystal Lake avenue.

The road to Sanford is in need of some care as there are several bad places caused by the recent heavy rains.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night it was voted to send a delegation to Sanford to attend the meeting of the Sanford Chamber on Wednesday evening to work for a good road for Lake Mary. It was also voted to establish and fit up a free tourist camp on North First street with free drinking water and electric lights to light the grounds.

The new Methodist church on Lake Mary avenue, is pushing work at a good rate, at present five men being at work.

The Casino has secured a new orchestra for this (Wednesday) evening's dance and a large crowd is looked for.

The local electric light plant is giving good service under the care of Morris Sjoblom and the street lights are a great help on dark nights although not especially needed at present while the moon is so bright.

Letters from the northerners who have homes here tell us that they are only waiting for cold weather to arrive so they can hurry back to Florida's wonderful climate. Many of them will remain with us next summer.

Klansman's Death to "Told Order More Firmly Together"

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—With the declaration by the Rev. Dr. W. J. Dempster that "this untimely death shall be as a bond to hold us more firmly together," the body of Thomas R. Abbott, klansman, slain at the rioting Saturday night at Carnegie, was lowered into a grave in a cemetery near McDonald today after a twenty mile drive from Athensburg by the funeral party composed of relatives and hundreds of klansmen including state and national representatives.

The klansmen were robed but were unmasked and after the funeral services at the grave removed their regalia and dispersed quietly. The Rev. Mr. Dempster and the Rev. J. I. Brown, who conducted the services, each wore white robes. More than 500 automobiles followed the hearse bearing the body of the slain klansman. Reaching the cemetery the procession completely circled the burial ground. An American flag was flying at half mast on the cemetery pole. Two lines of klansmen formed an aisle to the grave and through this the casket was borne, headed by two klansmen carrying the stars and stripes and the klans cross.

Meanwhile, authorities continued their investigation into the riot, taking into custody during the day two men who gave their names as Michael S. Hays and William Mencock, both of Carnegie. Authorities declared that a charge of inciting a riot was made against W. K. Flaherty, Joseph Joyce and George Kimmell, all of Carnegie and Patrick McDermott, Carnegie, undertaker, remained in the county jail awaiting the completion of the investigation.

Black Typhoid Fever Plays Havoc With Entire Family

Sioux City, Iowa, Family Is Threatened With Destruction. (By The Associated Press) SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29.—seemingly hemmed in by a corion of death generated by fatal ravages of black typhoid fever, the entire family of Henry Klewe, whose farm is six miles from here, is threatened with destruction. Since the advent of the disease little more than a month ago mother and father and eldest son died. Since then five remaining members were confined to their bed in a critical condition. The Herald delivered six times a week for 10c.

Milane Manager Makes Announcement

The management of the Milane Theatre announces that they will bring to their patronage the thirty-five splendid Metro productions for the 1923-24 season which will be released in the fall.

The decided feature of the fall releases is "Scaramouche," said by critics to be greater than "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," and which reveals the directing genius of Rex Ingram to phenomenal advantage. Metro has amassed its greatest dramatic talent for this spectacular photodrama and Alice Terry, Ramon Novarro, Lewis Stone and others who have won fame under the Metro banner will be found in "Scaramouche's" personnel.

Included in the stars appearing in this production are Jackie Coogan, screenland's wonder child; peppy Mae Murray, the dainty Viola Dana and the sober and hilarious Buster Keaton. Manager Brockbahn also says Fred Niblo, Reginald Barker and Alan Holubar have directed a number of big specials which will be presented by all-star casts.

The 1923-24 releases of the Metro Pictures corporation are the most ambitious ever attempted by a producing company and include the last word in cinema development. Direction and artistry have been blended with infinite care in these pictures and they have all the elements designed for the entertainment of the motion picture public in Sanford.

Jackie Coogan will be seen in "Long Live the King," "A Dog of Flanders" and a picture as yet unnamed. The "darling boy" of the films is said to surpass anything he previously has done and his work in these films stamps him as one of America's leading motion picture artists.

In the group of pictures presenting Mae Murray will be found "The French Doll," "Fashion Row" and "Mademoiselle Midnight." Viola Dana is most generous in her work and has ready for release five delightful features: "Roughed Lips," "The Social Code," "In Search of a Thrill," "Stormy Hearts" and "Love and Lies." Buster Keaton's roaring vehicles will be headed by "The Three Ages" while his other two productions have not yet been named. Laurette Taylor, remembered by all who saw her dainty delineation in

Biggest and Best Camp of Boy Scouts Now at Silver Lake

Eighty-three Boys Registered and Many Towns Are Represented

What is proving to be the biggest and best camp for Boy Scouts is now in full blast at Silver Lake.

There are 83 boys registered and nearly all towns where the Scouts are organized are represented.

The health of the boys and the morale of the camp could not be better.

There are no "Kiddie Kicks" about anything which is a good indication that the boys are receiving all the attention they expected and visitors have only words of praise for the way the camp is conducted and the orderly appearance of the boys and the camp grounds.

The camp is open to visitors from 5 to 9 p. m. and all are repaid by the insight they get of the working of everything and the unbounded enthusiasm shown by the boys in their work.

Before the end of the camp it is expected there will be taken about 200 tests for advancement in the different ranks and the merit badge examinations.

Each evening stunts are pulled off in what has now become the famous council ring around the camp fire.

Thursday evening will be devoted to special features with one big Indian number for the evening.

Friday night a court of honor will be held when the Scouts will be given their examinations for merit badges and will be conducted by the District Court of Honor.

This will be a specially interesting feature of the week's program to which the public is cordially invited.

New Crock Picture Has Many Thrills

Betty Compson and Richard Dix Featured in "The Woman With Four Faces"

One of the most thrilling dramas ever shown on the screen is "The Woman With Four Faces," featuring Betty Compson and Richard Dix, which will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week.

To bring to book a ring of dope traffickers, men of wealth and power, the district attorney resigns his job and gains the aid of a clever girl crook to open a safe which contains a paper incriminating these nefarious operators.

She tells him there is but one man who can do the trick, and he is in prison. An escape is effected by means of an airplane, but the crook, believing the district attorney is trying to win the girl's love, refuses to aid him.

Then they go after the paper by different tactics. It is the center of a mad struggle for its possession, and a series of climaxes are piled on top of one another ere the attorney secures the document and sends the guilty ones to prison.

In the end, the girl, reformed, wins the love of the district attorney.

Betty Compson as the girl, Richard Dix as the district attorney, and a cast of favorites in the other parts, make this a super-excellent mystery drama. The supporting company is quite capable.

PALS NOSE OUT THE BULLDOGS

PALATKA, Aug. 29.—Exceeding the high article of ball shown here Monday between state league and the semi-pro champions, the Orlando Bulldogs and Palatka Pals fought thru nine nerve racking innings to finish 3 to 2 with the Pals on the long end yesterday afternoon.

Camp, pitching for the Pals, had the better of Ferguson on the mound for the Bulldogs, the latter not threatening until the eighth, although Palatka had three on in the fourth but lacked the punch to push a run across.

Sensational fielding in every inning had the crowd continually on edge and Dominguez is again credited with the fielding feature of the game, although Peters, in a shoe-string catch, saved the game in an early inning. Hunter continued his batting streak with three singles out of four times up, as he hit Monday.

The Pals will play Orlando here today and with the two exhibitions on record it is predicted a record-breaking crowd will be on hand. Stores are being requested to close during the hours of the game today.

Hot weather kickers will be cold weather kickers in a few weeks.

Fewer babies are born in summer. We don't blame them.

Palatka Pals, who gave up the big end of the score to the Orlando State League Champions, came back yesterday and nosed out the champions by the score of 3 to 2.

Which shows that Orlando Bulldogs are not the only real baseball team in the state of Florida. Even if they are Bulldogs a bunch of Pals can get together and nose them out.

Bill Killefer, manager of the Chicago Cubs used his mouth a little too freely in Monday's game and yesterday was informed of his indefinite suspension. Bill still claims a big mouth by the way he managed his aggregation from the dugout yesterday.

Ancients are still good! Which was proven yesterday when the veteran Alexander held the World Champion Giants to five hits none of which were for extra bases.

Better dig old King Tut and put him on the mound. He might bring forth some surprises in baseball league as well as in science circles.

Senators, (all kinds) are always stirring up trouble—the Detroit Tigers were so sure of a slugging affair between them and the Senators when the aforesaid gentlemen woke up and slugged out three runs for a win, in the ninth when it looked as if all hope for them were gone.

Tomorrow afternoon in Apopka, one of the fastest games in the Lake-Orange League will be seen when the Apopkans engage the crack Umatilla crowd.

But to come down to our own "little village"—we can't have a baseball team—maybe—but we are sure of a good football team this year to represent Sanford and old S. H. S.

And do not forget that Friday night is the night for all candidates to report to Coach Wilkinson. Be at his office at seven-thirty.

Monday is the big day at Monroe—baseball games, horse shoe throwing—baby parades—everything.

The Seminole Athletic Club is going to put out a real sure muff football team this year. Roster will be announced later and there's some mighty good material on it.

It has been suggested that we call the football field Hood Field in honor of Mr. J. D. Hood, the owner—what sayosts the gang?

Luque Hurls Reds Nearer to the Giant Stronghold Yesterdy

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Luque held Boston to three hits yesterday, Cincinnati winning 4 to 1. It was Luque's twenty-first victory of the season. From the first inning until the ninth no Boston players reached first base.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Chicago Nationals with the veteran Alexander pitching spectacular ball, won their last game of the season in New York here yesterday, 4 to 1 and thereby reduced New York's lead to three games, as Cincinnati defeated Boston.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—St. Louis took the second game of the series from Philadelphia yesterday, 8 to 7. The Cardinals hammered Couch for fifteen safe hits for a total of 21 bases.

Dempsey Takes Rest to Recuperate from Cold

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Aug. 29.—Rather than risk the danger of further aggravation of his cold Dempsey cancelled his contemplated fishing trip yesterday and remained in his cottage on the shores of Saratoga lake to keep out of a cold, drizzling rain that was still falling when he crawled under the blankets for the night.

The champion's cold, while not serious, bothered him more yesterday than any time and is showing no signs of improving. Jerry Luvadis, his faithful little trainer, smeared his chest with liniment, and told the titleholder that he would be better in the morning. He plans to resume training on Thursday when some new punch catchers will be in camp to bolster up his sparring staff.

MILANE NEWS

"The Headless Horseman"

Long necked, pie-faced—and worse than that he saw the headless apparition coming toward him.

Expect you'd get scared too if you saw something without a head coming toward you.

If you haven't read the book come and see this picture—if you have read the book tell your friends how good it is and you bring them.

Remember if you want to see a real scary picture—one that will give you the real scare enough creeps—come and see the "Headless Horseman" tonight at the Milane Theatre.

Prices 10 and 20 cents. First show starts at 7:30—good music, good show, good screen, what more do you want?

Also a good Pathé comedy tonight.

Tomorrow night in addition to the regular picture will be shown the Kiwanis News—moving picture of Sanford—you can't afford to miss this show.

Remember—Friday night is country Store night and Monday night is amateur night.

But don't forget to see the show tonight. Especially you brave fellows who never are scared of anything—bet you'll pity old Icky Crane.

KILLEFER IS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—William Killefer, manager of the Chicago Nationals, yesterday was informed of his indefinite suspension by John A. Heydler, president of the National League.

Umpire Pfirman reported Killefer for using abusive language after Pfirman had given an adverse declaration against Chicago Monday.

Though under suspension, Killefer managed the Chicago team yesterday from a box near the visiting dugout.

GRIFFMEN TOO MUCH FOR TY AND COMPANY

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—In a game featured by heavy hitting Washington triumphed over Detroit yesterday, winning the game 10 to 9 by means of a ninth inning rally which netted three runs. "Goose" Gustin lifted one of Holloway's shoots over the right field bleachers for a home run, the hit being one of the longest seen at the park this season.

ONE DEAD, FRENCH 'BUS PLANE CRASH LONDON, Aug. 28.—A French passenger airplane crashed last night near Mudi-tone. One passenger was killed and the pilot and nine passengers were seriously injured.
