

EDUCATORS ADJOURNED AFTER MANY ADDRESSES INTERESTING REPORTS

William J. Bryan, Sears and Many Lesser Lights

IDEAL OF YOUTH

WAS PARAMOUNT IN BRYAN'S TALK AND HOW TO ENCOURAGE IT IN BOYS

ORLANDO, Dec. 30.—One of the greatest conventions ever held within the city of Orlando closed yesterday after three days of activity, and which for the past three days has brought nearly one thousand visitors here.

Yesterday marked the biggest day in the convention and was one long to be remembered by the throng of educators who attended.

It was learned during the morning hours that William Jennings Bryan, America's great Commoner, was the guest of Congressman Joe Soars at his home in Kissimmee and immediately an attempt was made to procure him for the afternoon. However, the large crowd that gathered to hear the addresses delivered at the morning session at the Baptist church by Dr. H. O. Enwall of the University of Florida and Prof. Ellwood Cubberly, were given a tremendous surprise that was audibly expressed in every corner of the auditorium and gallery, when Congressman Soars, after making a few remarks, suddenly and unexpectedly introduced America's silver-tongued orator.

And not a little was the surprise when Mr. Bryan himself stated that he had been present for sometime at the morning session and had enjoyed greatly the addresses given by Dr. Enwall and Prof. Cubberly and also Dean Salley of Tallahassee who spoke for a few moments in the early part of the session. Mr. Bryan had no particular subject to speak upon but brought out points of particular interest in the addresses made by the previous speakers and for about one hour held the large gathering with gripping interest.

Dr. Enwall who is Swedish by birth and undoubtedly among the most interesting educators to have come to America from that country, delivered one of the greatest messages to the Florida teachers of the entire convention. The greater part of his address was devoted to "the importance of fine ideals among the youth" and gave several illustrations how a great ideal backed with initiative and character can make of the poorest and most insignificant human individual a leader among men and crown his life with success. Most of all did Mr. Bryan dwell upon this subject taken by Dr. Enwall, and said that the human mind should not be regarded as a mechanical product but that it should be inspired from the inner man. An ideal from the heart is the inspiration that leads to success and this should be inculcated into the hearts and minds of the young generation as it grows to man and womanhood. "Mere intelligence," he said "is of little value without a motive power behind it," and said that it should be the purpose of the teachers of the country to send out pupils, mentally, spiritually and physically fit, instead of only intellectual machines.

Mr. Bryan did not favor compulsory military training and stated that the young man can receive wholesome physical training and culture other than that imbued with the destruction of humanity. Prof. Cubberly spoke upon "The Significance of Educational Measurements" from which several interesting points were stressed upon by Mr. Bryan during his speech. At eight o'clock yesterday morning a rural school breakfast took place at the club rooms of the Orlando Business and Professional Women's club which was attended by forty teachers. Several short addresses were given, making it an interesting feature of the convention.

Yesterday afternoon several sectional conferences were held in the high school building. Sections were classed in the following manner: Physical Education, Attendance Officers' Section, Home Economics, Foreign Languages, The History and social science section, The County Superintendent's section.

IMMORALITY IS INCREASING IN CHICAGO

GRAND JURY INDICTMENTS FOR WOMEN OWNERS OF MASSAGE PARLORS

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Grand Jury indictments of three women owners of massage parlors based on evidence of what State's Attorney Crowe terms gross and increasing secret immorality was announced today as beginning of a determined campaign to rid Chicago of scores of such establishments. Crowe revealed most pretentious of these massage parlors featured female attendants. There are hundreds of such places in the city he said. Some of them, of course, are legitimate and respectable principally those catering exclusively to women, but I can see nothing respectable about a place where girls bathe and massage men.

The attendance at the convention has been splendid, there being about eight hundred in actual attendance at general sessions. Nearly all teachers attending responded to the call for registration, more than 600 having registered. The money received from the registration went to pay the expenses of the convention. It was stated last night by R. L. Turner, secretary that the high school at Fort Meade, Polk county, was the banner school at this convention, its faculty having registered 100 per cent. There are twenty-four teachers in this school and these turned out en masse to the convention in Orlando.

The closing session of the convention took place last evening at the Baptist church and although a large number of teachers had left during the afternoon for their homes in the state the auditorium was crowded to the doors. The meeting was opened with the usual few minutes of community singing which was lead last night by S. Kendrick Guernsey, president of the Orlando Rotary Club, assisted by W. S. Branch at the piano. There were also two beautifully rendered piano selections given by Miss Zada B. Lee and two vocal solos by Mrs. Clara Bailey.

The committee on resolutions made its report and these were adopted after a few revisions.

The speakers of the evening included Miss Adelaide Baylor, who bro't an interesting message to the teachers on "Objectives of Home Economics Education in Vocational Schools and Classes." She showed the great importance of teaching girls and young women in the great vocation of home making, and stated that definite steps are being taken in every state at the present time to include home economics in their plan of studies.

Prof. Ellwood Cubberly, of Stanford University, California, delivered the last address of the convention and this was devoted entirely to "Established Principles of American Education." He told of the establishing of the fundamental principles of the educational school system in America, which proved an interesting bit of history and showed what tremendous progress America has made in this particular line in comparison to foreign countries. He said that the American schools stands for equality above all things, and whether rich or poor the individual who desires a successful career must begin from the bottom of the "Educational ladder" and climb upwards, sticking firmly to this ladder as long as he can hold on to the ropes. He told of the struggles America has had in establishing its school system, which is now being closely followed by many foreign lands, including China, Australia, Canada, and many other countries who are awakening to the fact that this great American plan of educating its youth is one of the greatest factors in its national life.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Brumley have again taken the Chuluota Inn at Chuluota and will open Sunday with a big turkey dinner at $1.00 per plate.

VET'S BUREAU TO TAKE CARE OF DISABLED

BIG TASK IS TO FIND EMPLOYMENT AFTER TRAINING RECEIVED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—It is the desire of President Harding and of himself that the "human touch" be considered in all matters having to do with disabled soldier rehabilitation, Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director of the Veterans' Bureau, declared in an address yesterday before a group of educators and scientists who met here at his invitation to discuss ways and means of "finding the best method of returning to society more than 100,000 men disabled in mind and body by the scourge of war." The conference which met under the direction of Dr. John H. Finley, of New York, will continue three days.

The great work and responsibility, Colonel Forbes said, was that of education and "we must see to it," he added, "that the finest stypes of institutions and the best service are rendered," the beneficiaries of the bureau. Continuing, he said:

"We are now using 5,000 schools throughout the country for training the ex-service men, and 7,000 institutions for placement training. We have approximately 101,000 men receiving vocational training and about 32,000 men awaiting assignment; 425,000 men have registered for vocational training.

"My greatest concern at the present is the method of placement training. I would state that 41 per cent of our entire ex-soldier population taking vocation training are in placement training in shops and manufacturing plants. I am informed that 6,000 of our beneficiaries have been rehabilitated, but I have failed to find 1,000 who are actually engaged in the employment which they selected, or was selected for them, as their vocational objective. The bureau reports 900 men qualified last month to return to gainful occupations. . . .

"We expect the peak of our hospitalization to be reached in 1925 when we will have hospitalized 32,000 men, the majority of which will be neuropsychiatric cases and tuberculosis cases. Our general medical and surgical cases will decrease, but in the mental and surgical cases will decrease, but in the mental and tuberculosis cases we must also provide a means of training or of education for these beneficiaries where practicable."

REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES JAN. 1

PASSENGER RATES WILL ALSO BE REDUCED MAKING BIG SAVING TO THE PUBLIC

On January 1, 1922, passengers and shippers will realize a very substantial reduction in the amount paid for freight and passenger transportation on account of the removal of the tax on transportation effective on that date.

Under the provisions of the new revenue law it is estimated that the elimination of this tax will result in a saving to passengers and shippers using the Atlantic Coast Line railroad of approximately $2,200,000 annually. This estimate covers a saving to passengers of $1,100,000 and to shippers of freight of $1,100,000 based on freight and passenger revenues for the current year.

Instructions have been issued to agents and others concerned providing that no tax on freight or passenger transportation furnished on or after January 1, 1922, will be charged. Tickets for transportation may be purchased at any time during the remainder of the present year without the payment of any tax provided the transportation service is not performed until 1922.

The assessing and collection of this transportation tax for the government has required each railroad to act as a government tax collector and to make a strict accounting for all the money collected and turned over to the government. No benefit whatsoever has accrued to the railroad companies from the collection of this tax.

MASSACHUSETTS MAN FALLS FOR AGE OLD GAME OF BUNCO

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 30.—Mayor Pulver last night sent to the department of justice a statement made to the police here by Henry A. Campbell, a winter visitor of Worcester, Mass., in which he said that he had lost $5,000 in a "wiretapping" deal.

Campbell met the confidence men on the train while enroute from Jacksonville to Lakeland, and was induced to invest in certain securities. Campbell returned to his home city to obtain money and from there was lured to San Antonio, Tex. He was about to leave for Los Angeles, Calif., on receipt of a telegram from the men, when he read about the killing of Roxie Brown, alleged confidence man, at Orlando. He became suspicious of his "friends" for the first time, he said, and returned to this city where he revealed the alleged swindle.

Local police believe investigation of the case may lead to clues towards the identity of the slayer of Roxie Brown.

MRS. TOLAR HOSTESS AT LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY

Beautiful in every detail was the bridge party given yesterday by Mrs. R. E. Tolar at the Woman's Club rooms, there being sixteen tables of players.

Quantities of southern smilax, holly, poinsettias and wreaths were used in artistic profusion in decorating the rooms. Wicker baskets and art vases filled with roses and poinsettias were effectively placed, while a wonderfully decorated and electric lighted Christmas tree and soft shaded floor lamp competed the perfect setting for this pretty party. On the card tables were dainty poinsettia cups filled with candies and the tally cards were also in keeping with the season.

Several interesting rubbers were played during the afternoon, and high score was made by Mrs. D. P. Drummond, who was awarded an exquisite bolster couch pillow. In cutting for the consolation Mrs. Fred Walsman received the prize, a wall basket.

Following the awarding of prizes delicious refreshments of chicken salad with thousand island dressing, bread and butter sandwiches, nut bread, olives, cheese balls in the shape of peaches and pears, coffee and crystallized grapefruit were served, the plates being decorated with twigs of holly.

Sanford has a real band.

Their concerts are being enjoyed by home people and visitors.

Aside from the real enjoyment of a home band it is also a great advertisement for the city of Sanford. We are for the band.

And in E. A. Ball the Sanford band has a leader who puts the "pop" into the members and into the community. He is a hustler in many ways and is putting much more into Sanford than he is taking out.

It is life and pep and encouragement and public spirit and the idea of keeping things moving here that will make them move. No one can sit in the sun all day and keep the town moving. It takes real work and constructive work to make a big city.

Orlando seems to be stirred up over a building code. The only code that is worrying Sanford is the code that means money. If Sanford had a million dollars there would be a million houses erected here. The city offers the best investment in the building line of any city in the state. Get in on the ground floor you investors. There is no code that will prevent your building nice homes, store rooms, etc. Come to our town and look us over. We have the goods.

Almost ready for New Year's resolutions. The greatest resolutions that could be framed for Sanford would be the resolve of every man and woman in Sanford to get together, work together and pull together in making Sanford the greatest inland city in Florida. We say inland but this city has water transportation and other good points that should put it in the front ranks of Florida cities. Let's go!

SAVING HABIT BECOMES A FASCINATION

That the habit of saving money is one of the most, if not the most, important of all human habits is the bold assertion of the editor of the Burlington (N. J.) Enterprise. He says that it is easy to start and that it soon becomes a fascination to the saver; it protects the home and the individual; it benefits the community and business; it helps make character; it gives a growing contentment to life; it builds respectability; it elevates and solidifies families; it makes for power and progress. No lesson, particularly at the moment when the resources of the world are largely impoverished, is more important to learn than the lesson of saving; saving not only money itself, but saving the various commodities which we use from day to day. It is often impossible for individuals or families to save steadily and all the time. Frequently people run into bad luck—loss of work, illness—which makes money saving impossible. But every normal man and woman does have the chance with reasonable regularity to lay by money for the future, and he who doesn't do it is foolish. He will pay for the neglect in bitterness of spirit a hundred times before he dies.

Men and women who invest their savings in treasury savings certificates or deposit their money in postal savings banks or savings banks are looking to the future. In case of an emergency, treasury certificates can be converted into cash substantially on demand. Postal savings, under the more liberal plans now being worked out by the postmaster general, may be withdrawn without advance notice.—Tampa Times.

WORK FOR EVERYBODY.

The war and its effects were bad on every country in the world and since the war the effects are more noticeable. One of the effects is apparent in the working conditions, as the big wages paid for all classes of labor during the war and after the war seemed to give the men the idea that they must not work for less, even if they starved to death. There are many idle men in the country and the majority of them are idle because they are looking for soft snaps. The country getting back to normal means that the man who works with his hands will not be able to get higher wages than the man who works with his brain—such a condition is foreign to all the rules of the game of life. Now with the reconstruction are noticed many men who will not take the jobs that they would have taken had not the exorbitant wages of war days spoiled them for many years to come. The Tampa Tribune has studied the situation in Tampa and the following editorial is timely:

"An old employer said to a member of this paper's staff yesterday: 'The trouble about our getting back to normal in this country is that our young white men now look on certain jobs as being 'negro work' and will not condescend to take them, contenting themselves with running from place to place in search of a white collar job, and complaining that there is no work for them.'

The Tribune recently spoke along that line, and cited instances of recent occurrence bearing out the truth of his theory. The idea that this is confined to Tampa only might be in the minds of some if it were not for the stories coming from other cities and towns, like the following from the St. Petersburg Times:

"Every business man in St. Petersburg just now is receiving applications from young men who have drifted in here from the North, and careful inquiry usually develops the fact that the young men want something easy and are not hunting a place where real work is required. It is surprising how many people think newspaper work is easy. Scores of young men and women have applied for places on the Independent this winter, and only a very few have been able to show any previous newspaper experience. Many of them want to write editorials or special 'columns' in the paper; none of them want to go out and do 'leg work,' hustling for news."

This old employer, when asked "When will we get back to normal then, in industrial activities, especially?" replied: "When these young white men have forgotten 'the leeks and the garlics and the onions of Egypt,' meaning the high pay for little work days of war industries."

The Tampa Electric company is now working a hundred men on the Bayshore line. Every man, except the bosses, is black. Two dollars and better, for an eight hour day is paid; and still we are hearing from men on the street that 'For every job open in Tampa, there are six applicants.'

"Are these white boys, strangers most of them from other states, come to Florida 'hunting work,' afraid of the shovel and the crowbar? Does two dollars a day to them when out of paying employment seem nothing when their fathers swung grain cradles from sun up to dark at two dollars a day in the long summer hours between the ripening of oats and the ripening of the wheat? Their fathers builded railroads at a dollar a day, ran saw mills at a dollar and a dollar and a half a day, and did all the other manual labor that the country needed then no more than it needs now. Will these boys, in preference to applying for aid at the Red Cross, or the Y. M. C. A., or sending back home for money, despite a little work when it will give the more than enough to to keep them until a better job can be found?

The best paying jobs are satisfactorily filled by men, most of whom "worked from the bottom up." It is unreasonable to think these are to be vacated for untried, inexperienced youth which will not start at the bottom and work up."

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Guyon and son, Jimmie, of Hampton Beach, N. H., arrived here last Thursday, making the trip by auto in ten days. They are housekeeping in their tent near Crystal Lake hotel at present.

Little Myrtle Braddock was presented with a beautiful Scotch collie puppy for Christmas, sent by an uncle from Palm Beach.

Lake Mary was visited by St. Nicholas himself on Saturday evening of last week, when a large Xmas tree and entertainment was held at the church. The tree itself presented a fine appearance when decorated with the many presents donated by different citizens of this community. The children were delighted when old Santa came on the scene and distributed the presents. There was also a good program, consisting of recitations and songs. After a few remarks, brief and to the point, by Mr. George Phillips, nearly everyone present adjourned to the hall, where a most delightful evening was spent in dancing and general merry-making. The party broke up at 12:00 o'clock, with everyone congenial and expressing wishes for many more of these enjoyable occasions.

The art of blacking shoes will never reach perfection until men discover what makes a bald head shine like that.

SANFORD HIGH PLAYS FIRST BASKETBALL GAME HERE TONIGHT

Game to Be Played in Remodeled Parish House, Which Now Has Large Seating Capacity

Sanford High School starts her basketball season here tonight, after many false alarms, with a double-header with Eustis. When the curtain raises, the supporters of Sanford High will be surprised with the quality of basketball both teams present.

The boys team is one of the fastest ever put out by Sanford High, not only fast but accurate passers and shooters. Some of last year's letter men are out for berths again this year including McLucas, McLaughlin, Stone and Moye; and with a wealth of new material championship prospects have brightened very much. It will take a mighty good team to defeat Sanford this year, also the boys have a more offensive state of mind than they did last year, as brought out by the Stetson game at DeLand where the Sanford boys started out and got an eight point lead before they could be stopped.

The girls team is still an inexperienced one, having mostly Sophs and Freshmen out trying for it; but in another year they will be out for the championship. Still the girls team is going to pull some surprises for the people of Sanford, so they had better come out to see the surprise when it comes.

There is to be a little side show when the Sanford High Cheer Squad starts performing. Cheering has not been in order up at the High School much before this year, but this year; well just wait and come up to the Parish House about 7:30 tonight and they will guarantee to give you your money's worth.

WHAT A BAPTIST PASTOR HAS TO SAY.

A. Lincoln Abercrombie, D. D., pastor First Baptist church, Tavares: "This is to certify that during the past week it has been my privilege to listen to the addresses given by the Rev. Lillian Britton Fulton, in the Union Congregational church here. These addresses, called "A Forum for Christian Psychology," presents the old Gospel from a new angle, bringing the rich feasts of God's word home to the heart with refreshing warmth and deep spirituality. Mrs. Fulton is being used of God in that greatly needed service, the bringing of Christian hearts that have grown cold back into warm, vital touch with the Master. Her messages are full of the Spirit's power. I heartily commend her to any church or organization which feels the need of spiritual awakening and rededication to the Lord Jesus Christ."

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Fair Friday and Saturday; somewhat colder Friday; warmer in north Saturday.

Good weather and it is bringing the people.

All this week has been active although it was the week after Christmas.

J. T. Blaine, of New York, is in the city visiting his sister Mrs. Phelps at her home on Palmetto avenue. Mr. Blaine has many friends in this city who are always glad to see him.

Turkey Dinner at the Chuluota Inn Sunday at 1 o'clock. $1.00 per plate.

O. P. Swope, of Oviedo, was in the city today enroute to Chicago where he was called on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Endor Curlett, of Geneva, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brumley, of St. Augustine, were in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wilhelm, of Portsmouth, Ohio, are the holiday guests of their aunt, Mrs. T. J. Secord, having motored from Portsmouth in their car. They made the trip in twelve days with stop-overs at intermediate points. They will tour the East Coast, visiting relatives at West Palm Beach before returning to Ohio. Mrs. Wilhelm will be remembered as a talented violinist who spent the winter here several years ago.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Getting down, getting down and the weather is made to order today as the prospects are good for cool weather for some time to come. We can stand some cold weather providing it does not get too cold. The American Legion is rejoicing over the fact that it will be cool tonight for the big dance. Cold weather puts the holiday spirit into folks and makes them feel like it is Christmas and New Years and every other good time combined to any nothing of the good effect on trade of all kinds. MOONLIGHT DANCE AT PAVILION UNDER AUSPICES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

While a commercial organization, as a rule, does not include social functions as a part of its activities, the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, thru its Tourist and Convention Committee will sponsor a dance which will be held Thursday, January 12th, at the new pavilion on the lake front.

This dance is for the purpose of raising the deficit incurred in the building of the pavilion. The amount allowed the committee in the budget was far short of the amount needed for the purpose and a dance was decided upon as being the quickest way of clearing up the indebtedness. The designation "Moonlight Dance" means that the date is contingent upon propitious weather as it was the sense of committee that a dance be held at the time of the month when there would be a full moon, would prove an innovation here. The committee has arranged to charge the nominal amount of ten cents per dance and has engaged a five-piece jazz orchestra for the occasion.

Hot dog and soft drink stands will accommodate the hungry and thirsty during intermission and Captain G. E. Atkinson will have his yacht Sanford at the dock to take out any sentimental young people who might have a desire to enjoy the scenic beauties of moonlit Lake Monroe.

Extensive publicity is being given this dance in adjacent towns and the Tourist and Convention committee not only expects to raise this amount but at the same time give enjoyment to a great many.

In the event that the evening of the 12th should prove stormy the dance will be held the following evening.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

As we enter into the twilight hour of the new year we are not unmindful of the business you have honored us with during the year of 1921, and we want to take this occasion to express to you our sincere appreciation of the business with which you have favored us and extend to you our best wishes and wonderful prosperity for the year of 1922.

Sincerely yours,
