Lake Monroe Jottings

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Well I declare, wasn't last Thursday just yesterday? Time is just going by too fast. Watch out boys and girls, school days will be here before you can almost say Jack Robinson. There are families still on vacation and some just coming home. The Charles Bakers and their children along with Frances Warren and son, Melvin, are camping out at Alexandria Springs. The Baker children were anxiously awaiting this trip for a long time. But they are having the time of their lives. * * * Congratulations to Edgar and Mary Ann Bruce on their brand new arrival, a cute little gal. * * * We want to extend our sympathy out to the family of Mr. H. Z. Dunn, who passed away last week. Mr. Dunn resided on Upsala Road. * * * Did you sign the petition for getting the West Side Fire Department started towards being a reality? The names were needed in order to get onto the November election ballot. I understand that a certain amount of names were needed and that the committee got them easily. Now the NEXT step? Your continued support and when there is a meeting date announced, BE THERE. George Bell, who is the president, told me that he has the promise now of a fire truck. That's grand. So by all means, do support this organization because it is working real hard to see that everyone out here in this district gets fire protection. * * * Mrs. Harry (Vallie) Wilson was in Bushnell last week to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. Jerry Chavous. She leaves behind her husband and two small children. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved family. * * * Sorry to hear that Charles Itabin is confined to the local hospital. Hurry out Charlie. * * * And glad to hear that Mrs. Freddie (Ann) Brehrens is now out of the hospital. * * * Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keller have returned home after a nice vacation spent in the mountains near Knoxville, Tenn. Uncle Lee just finished building a summer cabin up there. * * * Rich and Agnes Hans and son Ray have returned from a vacation which also took them to Knoxville and then on to Hammond, Ind. for a nice visit with Rich's family. * * * Rev. and Mrs. William Luttrell and family will arrive Saturday afternoon for a visit with us and other relatives. Bill is pastor of the Trufolgar Indiana Methodist Church where the family resides. His young son Mark will sing a solo Sunday morning in the local Nazarene Church. And I will have the pleasure of accompanying him. * * * The local men's softball league champions, Kingswood Builders, were our guests at a hamburger party at our home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Leroy (Frankie) Estridge assisted me in preparing for it. They boys won 27 of their 28 games. Last night they drove over to Eau Gallie to enter the state tournament. They are a wonderful group of boys. I sure hate to see the ball season end as I enjoy the games so much. * * * Our thought this week is Kind Words: If you hear a kind word spoken of some worthy soul you know, it may fill his heart with sunshine, if you only tell him so.

Mayors Ask Reapportioning Off Ballot

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Mayors Council on Fair Apportionment made its well-publicized move Tuesday and asked a circuit judge to remove the state's present apportionment plan from the November ballot.
St. Petersburg Mayor Herman Goldner filed the petition with Circuit Judge Hugh Taylor on grounds the U. S. Supreme Court had declared the 43-senator, 112-representative plan unconstitutional.

"By virtue of the Supreme Court's decision," Goldner said, "House joint resolution 5-X is unlawful and in violation of the 14th Amendment of the United States Constitution."
Taylor set Aug. 14 at 10 a.m. for a hearing on the petition. Last month, Miami attorney Richard Swann filed suit in federal district court in Miami to order the Legislature to reapportion itself "with all convenient speed" or let the court do it.

Gov. Farris Bryant told the mayors a few weeks ago that he would cooperate with them legally in a move to get the plan off the ballot, but he has said repeatedly that he does not think that now is the proper time for a special session on reapportionment.

Burns To Dine At White House

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Jacksonville Mayor Hayden Burns, Florida's Democratic nominee for governor, and Mrs. Burns will attend an official state dinner at the White House Thursday night.
President Johnson invited Burns to the function which will be held in honor of Secretary General of the United Nations U Thant. The White House said it is the first official visit of the Secretary General in the 10-year history of the United Nations and he will be honored as a head of state.

Burns said today it is his hope, while in Washington, to arrange a later conference on the subject of Interama, the proposed Inter American Trade and Cultural Center in Miami. The gubernatorial nominee recently obtained support for the project at the National Conference of Mayors.

Red Poverty
MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today accused Communist China of preaching poverty to justify the sacrifices needed for waging war.

Teachers Called To Conference

New teachers to the Seminole County school system are being asked to report Aug. 17 to the English Estates School for a briefing session prior to school opening.
The following day, Aug. 18, all teachers will report to their school for additional pre-school planning.
Then on Aug. 31 students will report to their classrooms for the first day of the fall semester.

U.S. Keeps Wary Eye On Red China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. forces in Southeast Asia, bolstered by a swift buildup of air power, kept a wary eye

Next time you feel like taking your scaplane for a ride pay heed to an announcement from the U. S. Corps of Engineers. They've served notice that provisions "governing the use and navigation of a seaplane restricted area in the St. Johns River is hereby revoked . . . The restricted area in question is near the U. S. Naval Air Station at Jacksonville.

The Kiwanis Magazine has won a top National School Bell Award for 1964. The Clock learned from Dr. John F. Darby, Sanford Kiwanis Club president. The award came for "distinguished continuous coverage of education during the year ended April 1 by a specialized audience magazine." Thus, the Kiwanis publication joins an elite group which includes "Changing Times," "Reader's Digest," "Life," "Look" and the three national broadcasting networks.

An estimated 300 physicians and nurses from five states and including Florida will meet Aug. 20-22 in Daytona Beach for the 14th annual postgraduate obstetric-pediatric seminar. The seminar is sponsored by state health departments from Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi. It's held yearly to discuss methods of improving medical care of babies and women before, during and after childbirth.

June contracts for future construction in Florida declined 26 per cent in June, compared with the previous June, word from the F. W. Dodge Company told us today. Still the figure is quite impressive—$142,963,000. The total for the first six months of the year is given as $1,123,082,000, a 21 per cent increase compared with 1963.

Gremlin Department: The Seminole All Star baseball picture which appeared in The Herald's sports page Wednesday failed to carry the identity of Art Lego, the manager. Howard Willoughby is not the manager, as reported, but is the team's scorekeeper, according to Jane Casselberry.

A reminder to farmers from Ernest Lundberg, assistant county agricultural agent: Many farmers and others in the agricultural field do not realize they are entitled to a gas tax refund on gasoline used on the farm for farming purposes. The term "farm" includes stock, dairy, poultry, bees, fruit, fur bearing animals, truck farms, plantations, ranches, nurseries, ranges, greenhouses or other similar structures used primarily for the raising of agricultural or horticultural commodities.

Lundberg advises any operation falling into one of these categories is eligible for the seven-cent per gallon tax refund. Actually, he adds, there are two refunds, a three cent per gallon federal tax refund and a four cent per gallon state refund. These must be applied for separately by the owner, tenant or operator of the farm. Refund forms are available at his office, he says.

on Communist China today lest it decide to back up its threats with aggression.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said it is "probable" that Red China will move combat aircraft into North Viet Nam because of the Navy's deadly raid on Communist torpedo boat nests.

But the Pentagon chief said there was no evidence at this time of any substantial movement of Red Chinese forces, either on land or in the air.

Top U. S. officials said the Navy's deadly reply to North Vietnamese attacks on U. S. destroyers in International waters, plus the prompt buildup of American power in the area, appeared to have answered its purpose for the time being.

There was a growing feeling in Washington that the "Battle of Tonkin Gulf" had entered the talking stage with the next moves probably to come on the diplomatic front. McNamara said his assumption that Communist China may move some of its air force into North Viet Nam was based on the fact that the North Vietnamese have no combat aircraft of their own.

"I assume they would make such a request, and it would be answered," he said.

Communist China has offered "moral support" to North Viet Nam, but McNamara, the State Department and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, have said there is no evidence at this time of any Chinese buildup along the North Vietnamese border.

Even so, Congress was ready to give President Johnson a resolution backing any action he may deem necessary to halt aggression in Southeast Asia or other troubled spots.

JC's Endorse Waterfront Project Following Public Discussion

By Dottie Austin City Editor
More than 100 persons gathered at the Civic Center Thursday to join the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees in hearing the proposal for a waterfront development program on Lake Monroe, as presented by a group of leading Sanford businessmen.

Following the meeting, the Jaycees Board of directors met and voted, and issued the following statement:

SANFORD-SEMINOLE JAYCEES yesterday staged a public forum on the proposed lakefront marina, drawing more than 100 persons to the Civic Center luncheon. Above, George Touhy of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, answers a question posed by a member of the audience following the formal presentation of the Jaycees and their guests at the town-meeting type program at the Civic Center was made up of the original proposers of the long-range, comprehensive plans to develop the Sanford waterfront into a "new image of Sanford," with marina facilities for all sizes of boats and yachts, enhanced by a motel-restaurant-yacht club complex.

PART OF THE CROWD which gathered at the Sanford Civic Center for briefings on the proposed lakefront marina is shown in this picture. More than 100 persons were on hand for the first public presentation and sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees. They listened with intense interest to the background plans and future schedule of events, should the City Commission react favorably to the project.

main speaker was George Touhy, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan who told his listeners that the long waterfront area is a distinctive geographical feature and sets the community apart.

John Kriker, executive director of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce told the audience that the St. John's-Indian River Canal is a "sure thing" and that with the cross-state barge canal, and the port authority, will put Sanford on the mainsteam of the nation's waterways.

"But regardless of the canal, this river is going to be full of boats. One out of every ten Florida families now own a boat," Kriker pointed out.

"We must take the initiative to develop our community now. If we don't have enough confidence in the future to do it ourselves, we certainly have no right to expect someone else to come in here and do it for us," Kriker emphasized.

Touhy and Kriker were joined by John Burton, IV, architect, who explained the drawings and pictorial renderings of the proposed waterfront development, and Howard Hodges, president of the Sanford Atlantic Bank who spoke on the financing aspects of the plan.

T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida State Bank, also one of the proposers of the plan could not be present because of a business commitment. Panel moderator was Jaycee Tommy Speer.

Longwood Council Hears Engineers

By Donna Estes
Representatives of the engineering firm of Leffler, Dietz and Clark explained before the Longwood City Council Thursday evening the necessity of having a feasibility study made on present and future requirements of the sewerage system of the city.

The firm pointed out that the population of Longwood had increased at a more rapid rate than that of the state as a whole and was continuing to increase at a slightly steeper rate than Orange County. The growth is about 12 per cent a year and projected figures into 1980 show that the area will double its population by that time, making it a necessity for the city to provide an adequate sewerage system.

Possibility of having the study made was taken under advisement.

L. L. Cox, representing property owners on Lake Wildmore, appeared to protest the request of a sewage treatment company to dump waste from a proposed coin laundry into Lake Evergreen.

Council assure Cox that permission has not, as yet, been granted to the company and that the objections registered would be taken into consideration in the matter.

In other business, a letter from Mrs. Sadie Proehl was read by Mayor A. R. Lormann offering to deed 25 feet of property to the city so that Redder Street could be extended from Oak Street west. Council agreed to accept the property and extend the street as soon as a warranty deed could be obtained.

Bids on chlorination equipment, as submitted by Wallace and Tiernan, Inc., and Fischer and Porter, Inc., were read in full and turned over to A. E. O'Neill and Associates, city engineers, for further study and recommendation.

Council voted to install 14 new street lights in Longdale if easements could be obtained on Longdale Avenue midway between Highland and Wayman Streets, Lormann Circle N. between Hunt Road and the curve of the Circle, Selma Road between Longdale Avenue and Logan Drive and Hamilton between Carlson Avenue and Logan Drive.

It was voted to purchase necessary tools from Sears Roebuck and Company for the maintenance department and for the new municipal warehouse.

After extensive discussion it was decided to purchase a 1965 Dodge police car from Seminole County Motors at Sanford.

Councilman Carl Lommier recommended that the city purchase a completely rebuilt tractor with all necessary accessories. The recommendation was tabled until further information could be obtained.

Property Takes A Beating In 2 Accidents

Two accidents six minutes apart caused heavy property damage Wednesday afternoon but no injuries.

City police said a truck driven by William H. Plumley of Ocoee and a car operated by Douglas L. Braswell of Route 1, Sanford, collided at the intersection of First Street and French Avenue. Braswell was charged with making an improper turn. The mishap occurred at 3 p.m.

Six minutes later cars driven by Joseph W. Heath of 314 Mellonville Ave. and Dennis J. Irwin of 116 Laurel Ave. collided at Park Drive and French Avenue. Irwin was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control.

15 Exceptions By Ruby Denied

DALLAS (UPI) — Judge Joe H. Brown refused today to approve any of 15 exceptions condemned Jack Ruby's lawyers had filed as the first step in appealing Ruby's death sentence for murdering Lee Harvey Oswald.

The defense lawyers 10 days ago filed 15 bills of exceptions. That is, 15 instances in which they claimed Judge Brown erred in his conduct of Ruby's murder trial last February and March.

The defense lawyers now have five days in which to file a "bystanders' bill," that is affidavits from persons who heard and saw the trial, saying that they think the defense exemptions are justified.

Eventually, the bills of exceptions, Judge Brown's refusal to accept the bills, the bystanders' bill and a transcript of the trial testimony will go down to the state Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin.

The court of criminal appeals, the highest in the state in criminal cases, is expected to hear Ruby's appeal in January or February.

The Bible Speaks

I am sure that many of you become weary of hearing people present their ideas of the way that would make life most worthwhile. Certainly we have a great abundance of reading material, we have opportunities galore of hearing speakers, and we have many other means of communicating one person's thoughts to another. Even though this is true we long for direction that is infallible and not merely an opinion. For this we must hear God speak to us through the Bible.

Today, I would like to share with you some of my favorite Bible portions. By them God speaks to me and He will to you if you will let Him.

Pentecostal Church To Have Bible School

The theme of the evening Vacation Bible School at First Pentecostal Church of Longwood to be held next week, 6:45 until 9 p. m., Monday through Saturday, will be "Ye Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make You Free."

Teachers and themes of the various departments will be: Mrs. M. L. McDaniel and Mrs. Ruby Brown, "The Life of Christ," beginners, four, five, and six year olds; Mrs. Fred McLeary, "Children Who Love God," primary, seven, eight, and nine year olds; Mrs. Janis Higginbotham and Mrs. Robert Adams, "Exist in the Army of God," juniors, 10, 11 and 12 year olds.

Mrs. Thomas Airey and Mrs. Frank Fenner, "Book of the Acts of the Apostles," teens; Rev. E. Ruth Grant, pastor and visiting teacher, "Growing in Christ: In Grace and Knowledge of the Truth," adults.

Rev. Grant will serve as superintendent and be assisted by Miss Sybil Grant who will be in charge of music and handicrafts.

All children and adults of the area, regardless of religious affiliation, are invited to attend.

Church Names New Ushers

New ushers at First Methodist Church of Sanford for the months of August, September and October were named this week in the church's newsletter, "The Methodist Messenger."

For the 8:30 a. m. services will be Kenneth Rodd, Russell Fobman, Art Beckwith and Ralph Stumpf, W. T. Henley, W. B. Nicholson, E. D. Kirchhoff and Robert Karns will serve at the 10:45 a. m. worship hour and Tom Best Jr. and Jerry Myers at the 7:30 evening worship.

Absentees include Milner Ryals, R. W. Sturdivant, Harold Appleby and Ashby Jones.

The Bible Speaks Of Itself: "...man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live." (Deuteronomy 8:3)

"The word is a lamp into my feet, and a light into my path." (Psalm 119:105)

"All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness." The Bible Speaks Of The Church:

"How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts!" (Psalm 84:1)

"...upon this rock I will build my Church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (Matthew 16:18)

"...Christ also loved the church, and gave Himself for it..." (Ephesians 5:25)

"And let us not hold aloof from our church meetings as some do." Phillips' Translation (Hebrews 10:25)

The Bible Speaks Of Faith: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding." (Proverbs 3:5)

"Trust in Him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before Him; God is a refuge for us." (Psalm 62:8)

"Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid; for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song; He also has become my salvation." (Isaiah 12:2)

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee. Trust ye in the Lord forever: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength." (Isaiah 26:3-4)

"And Jesus answering saith unto them, have faith in God." (Mark 11:22)

"Fight the good fight of faith..." (1 Timothy 6:12)

The Bible Speaks Of Dedication: "...Consecrate yourselves today to the Lord..." (Exodus 22:30)

"Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, 'Here am I, send me.'" (Isaiah 6:8)

"And he (Paul) trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" (Acts 9:6)

"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service." (Romans 12:1)

I could go on listing verses which mean much to me, and you could add many that I would miss, which emphasize the unfathomable riches of the treasure house of wisdom, direction, and inspiration that we find in the Bible. Let us use it and thereby hear God speak to us in words that leads us into the life that is radiant, beautiful, creative, joyous, and, most important of all, pleasing to Him.

Area Channel Adds Religious TV Program

TV viewers in the Sanford area have an opportunity to see a program which for three years has been voted the best in religious television. This program, which presents a startling challenge to Hollywood professionalists, is called "THE STORY," and can be seen each Sunday over WFTV, Channel 9, Orlando at 12 noon.

Under the direction and inspiration of Host Minister, Ford Philpot, "THE STORY" is both entertaining and thought provoking. Set design shows great imagination and the music is crisp and stimulating. The program provides that presentation of the Christian message can keep pace with modern times.

Format of "THE STORY" each week includes an informal interview between Dr. Philpot and a carefully chosen Christian layman or woman. Some of the nation's leading businessmen and athletes tell in a straight-from-the-shoulder manner how Christianity has influenced their lives.

Some of the featured personalities on "THE STORY" are Dale Evans, George Beverly Shea, Ethel Waters, Bill Jones (sponsor of the presidential prayer breakfast), Georgia Lee, Major Andy Miller (Salvation Army), and athletes Bobby Richardson, Buddy Dial, and Dave Wickorsham.

Not only does Ford Philpot produce this television program, "THE STORY," but he also has an evangelistic team with headquarters in Lexington, Ky. He conducts area-wide and city-wide crusades all across America. Members of his evangelistic team who are seen regularly on "THE STORY" are Howard Whitmore and Bob Gibbons.

In its fourth year, "THE STORY" is in demand all over the nation. It is presently showing over more than 30 stations, including Hawaii, and several Canadian stations. Unique in its field of Christian television, "THE STORY" is one answer to critics who feel that TV should present more cultural and educational programs.

Assembly At Daytona

The Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in North Central Florida will be held Aug. 14-16 at Peabody Auditorium in Daytona Beach.

Rush N. Blafford, local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses who will be attending the assembly, advises that a special educational feature of the meeting will be showing of the film, "Proclaiming Everlasting Good News Around the World."

Study sessions also will be conducted to show how instructions and points of counsel received at the Jacksonville convention can be better localized by practical use in the ministry.

Local assistance in pre-organization for the assembly is being given by R. Dotson of the field service department.

ADULTS, CHILDREN AND PETS, averaging at least 50 each day, were in attendance last week for Vacation Church School at Barnett Memorial Methodist Church in Enterprise. Mrs. Ralph Coulette, director, was assisted by Rev.

Wight Kirtley, Mrs. Dellhuntley, Mrs. Marian Bradlock, Mrs. Scull, Mrs. Echols, Miss Doris Faber, Mrs. F. Nutt and several of the older girls. Theme for the school was "Jesus: Learning about Him and from Him." (Cox Photo)

First Methodist Prepares For Youth Week

Young people of First Methodist Church of Sanford are completing plans for Youth Week, Aug. 16-22, to be held on the theme, "Thy Purpose for Thy World We Share."

Rev. Kenneth Jones of Winter Park will be devotional speaker and enrichment courses will include: The History of the Methodist Church, The Lives of the Disciples, Problems in Christian Citizenship and Finding Your Vocation.

Workshops are planned in the fields of recreation, drama, music and program planning which will be led by the older youth.

A Saturday outing and Gailan Service will climax the week which is being planned to include all youth of the church.

First Methodist Sets Conference On Parsonage

A special church conference and quarterly conference has been called for Sunday, Aug. 23, immediately following the 10:55 a. m. service, by First Methodist Church of Sanford.

Purpose of the meeting will be to authorize sale of the present parsonage in preparation for future construction of a new one.

All members of the church, 18 years old and older, will have a vote on the matter.

Family Month Contest Opens

Family Month at Lake Mary Church of the Nazarenes began last Sunday when JoAnn and Bill Lowdermilk set a total of eight points in the contest to determine which family during the month can bring the greatest number of visitors to church services.

This Sunday Marlin and Joy Steverson will be contending against the Lowdermilk score.

Casselberry Sunshine Circle Enjoys Party And Luncheon

By Jane Casselberry
Members of the Sunshine Circle of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church WSCS and their families were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard at their home on Lake Drive Tuesday for a swimming party and covered dish luncheon.

A brief business meeting was held after lunch with the vice chairman, Mrs. Marvin McClain, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Don McLeod, chairman.

Mrs. William Shook, program chairman, gave the devotional from the book, "Strictly Personal—What God is Really Like," by Eugenia Price. Mrs. Frank Messick gave the prayer.

A new member, Mrs. Charles Pierce, was introduced and the group applauded the fine work of Mrs. Howard as chairman during the past year.

Those attending included Rev. and Mrs. Delmas Copeland, and children Matt and Carrie Lynne; Mrs. McClain and children, Jackie and Marvin; Mrs. Shook and Patty, Jimmy Jay and Ricky; Mrs. Lorraine Casber, Mrs. Messick and daughters, Marilyn and Patricia; Mrs. Darius

MYF Groups To Sing In Choir

Methodist Youth Fellowship groups of First Methodist Church of Sanford will meet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday for separate discussion hours after which they will meet together at 7:30 p. m. to attend evening worship services and sing in the choir.

The Junior High MYF will conclude discussions on "Christianity and the Law" with the program, "It's Your Responsibility," to be led by Janice Doyle and Pam Matula.

Topic for the Senior High MYF's will be "Answer the Call" and will be led by Jerry Myers.

DeBary Couple's Son To Receive Degree At FSU

By Mrs. Frank White
Carl Vollrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vollrath of DeBary, will receive his doctor's degree in music from Florida State University this Saturday.

His master's degree is from Columbia and his bachelor's degree is from Stetson.

Born in New York City, he has composed music and presently is working on an opera, "The Children's Crusade." He was music consultant at two different schools in Miami and in 1953 joined the USAM Band at West Point for three years.

Vacation Church School Sets Closing Program For Today

Closing exercises and program for this week's Vacation Church School at Grace Methodist Church will be held at 7 p. m. today.

The primary department will present a short play, "I Was With Jesus" and juniors will portray living scenes depicting events in the life of Christ.

Immediately following the program, the church's Men's Club will be host to its third annual ice cream supper.

A total of 113 children were enrolled for this year's church school and an average daily attendance of 101 was recorded. Theme for the week was "Jesus, Learning About Him and From Him." In charge were Mrs. James L. Griffin, VCS director and Rev. John H. Hires Jr., pastor of the church.

Offerings will go to the special mission project of helping Rev. Ken Traxler, a native of Alachua, in his work of building a new mission in Brasilia, Brazil. The teaching staff consisted of: kindergartens, Mrs. Richard Hrease, superintendent; Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. William Rape, Mrs. Carl Gronquist, Mrs. Russell Kirtley.

Religion's Victory 'Only The Beginning'

Religion in America
By Louis Cassels
United Press International

A little more than 18 months ago, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders met in Chicago at the first interfaith conference of its kind in U. S. history and agreed to wage a joint crusade against racial discrimination.

Their first objective was the enactment of a strong federal civil rights law. That objective has now been achieved. Both Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., who was Senate floor manager for the civil rights bill, and Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who led the southern filibuster against it, have publicly stated that churches and synagogues played a decisive role in the legislative battle. It was perhaps the greatest concrete victory which organized religion has ever won on a social issue.

Ministers, rabbis, seminarians, laymen and women who lobbied for the civil rights act are now undergoing the kind of shock that combat infantrymen experience when they realize that beyond the hill which has just been bloodily won lies a whole range of higher and steeper hills which are still to be assaulted.

The riots in Harlem, Rochester, N. Y., and Jersey City, N. J., were grim reminders that Negroes feel hemmed in, imposed upon and discriminated against not only in the South, where the new law will have its principal impact, but also in northern communities which have taken a premature pride in their lack of overt racial barriers.

The lesson which churches and synagogues must learn from the violence in northern cities was spelled out last week by the most Rev. Charles H. Helmsing, Roman Catholic bishop of Kansas City, Mo.

In a pastoral letter to all parishes in his diocese, Bishop Helmsing said passage of the civil rights law "is a beginning, not an end." "It means not that we have ended prejudice, but that we have at last begun to be fully conscious of its presence and its effects in our society," he said. "The law will control some of the outward effects of prejudice. But we must go further. We must strike at the root."

Religion has a special responsibility in their area, he said, because "racial prejudice is basically a moral and spiritual problem." Some of it may be "unconscious" and unintentional, but much of it is "fully conscious and deliberate," and therefore sinful.

Ex-President Hoover To Be 90 Monday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson Thursday paid high tribute to former President Herbert Hoover and called on the nation to join in observing Hoover's 90th birthday Aug. 10.

Johnson's tribute was in a proclamation issued as he signed a joint resolution by the House and Senate providing for commemoration of the 31st President's birthday.

"It is appropriate that on the anniversary of the birth of this statesman and humanitarian we pause to express our gratitude for his dedicated service to our country and to the world," the proclamation said.

Two Qualify For Legislature Race

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Two candidates qualified Thursday for legislative posts in Levy and Pinellas counties and for judge of the 6th Circuit Court in Pasco and Pinellas counties.

Special primary elections to fill the vacancies in nomination and office will be held Sept. 8 and 22.

Those who qualified as legislative candidates were Democrat Ford Lincoln of Williamston and Republican Robert A. Halvorsen, of St. Petersburg. James T. Smith of St. Petersburg qualified as a candidate for the post of district judge.

UN To Invite Both Sides

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The 11 members of the United Nations Security Council reported agreement today to invite both North and South Viet Nam to participate in council debate on the Southeast Asia crisis.

There were indications, however, that North Viet Nam would turn down such an invitation, even though it stemmed from a Russian proposal. Sources close to the Communist bloc here said the North Vietnamese, who generally support Peking in the Sino-Soviet dispute, would refuse to attend any meeting at which South Viet Nam was present.

Neither Viet Nam is a member of the United Nations, but UN rules say non-members may be invited by the Security Council to participate in debates which concern them.

Bryant Rapped On Education

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate's Higher Education Committee delivered a scathing rebuke of Gov. Farris Bryant's policies in operating Florida's educational system and called for sweeping changes Thursday night.

State Sen. J. Emory (Red) Cross, long a powerful legislative voice in state education as chairman of the committee, said that Bryant operates the system "like a highly centralized factory, with all the power at the top."

Convict Held In Attack

STUART (UPI) — One of five convicts who overpowered a guard at Woodbine, Ga., to escape last week is being held in the Martin County Jail.

Hubert Coady, 33, was arrested Wednesday while walking on a highway near here, according to Sheriff Roy Baker. The sheriff said Coady was not armed and offered no resistance.

The escaped prisoner is being held pending the arrival of Georgia authorities to make arrangements for his return.

British Won't Send Armed Force

WHERE PLANES STRUCK — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara points to the target areas sought out in North Viet Nam in retaliatory raids following the attack on U. S. destroyers.

LONDON (UPI) — Great Britain stood ready today to help U.S. efforts to keep the Southeast Asian conflict from spreading.

But the government made it clear that, while it will back Washington diplomatically and in the United Nations, it plans no armed intervention.

High diplomatic sources noted that, under the Southeast Asian treaty the United States, having been subject to armed attack by North Viet Nam, has the right to ask for British military aid.

But they said such a request was most unlikely, because the United States is "more than capable of looking after itself."

They added that President Johnson ordered retaliatory action without informing Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home in advance.

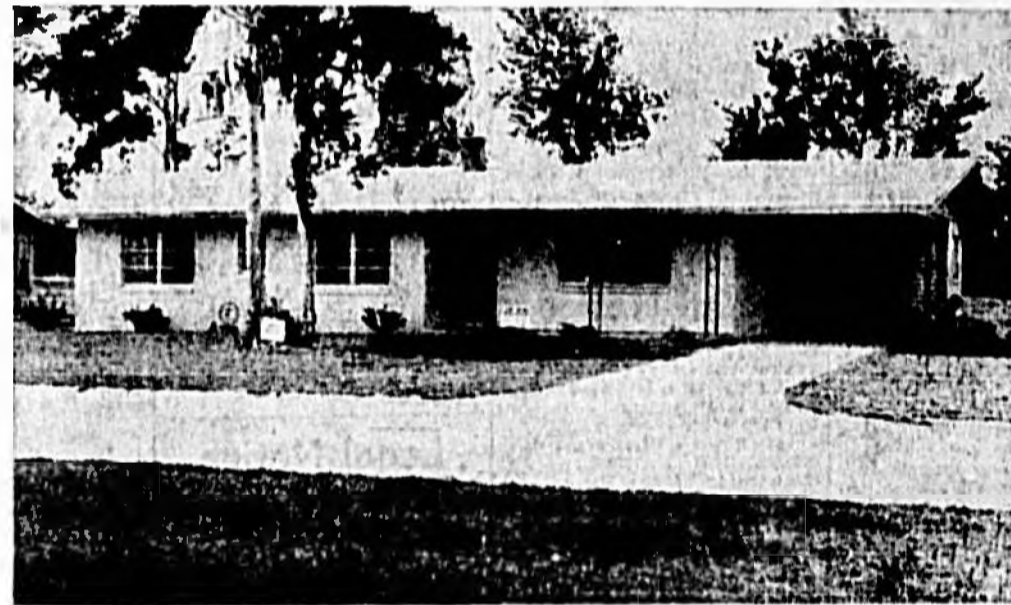

But there was no indication that Britain expects the crisis to escalate into war.

17 Killed By Terrorists

Bass Defeats Clement In Senate Race

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Rep. Ross Bass, a Deep South liberal who put his career on the line by voting for the civil rights bill, swept over Gov. Frank Clement Thursday in a Democratic primary upset to fill the Senate seat of the late Estes Kefauver.

It was the first time that Clement, once regarded as the "boy wonder" of Tennessee politics, had been defeated for public office.

Silver-haired Sen. Albert Gore, also regarded as a liberal, easily won re-election for a third term, defeating his nearest opponent, Nashville lawyer Sam Galaway, nearly 10 to 1.

In another upset, Shelby County Squire (member of the county government) George Grider, making his first bid for major elective office, claimed victory over Clifford Davis, Tennessee's senior U. S. representative.

With 183 of 188 precincts reported, Grider had 43,980 votes to 24,791 for Davis.

AF Planes Buzz Airliners, Soviets Charge

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union charged today that U. S. Air Force planes have been "buzzing" Soviet passenger and cargo ships in international waters around the world.

The official news agency Tass said a Soviet protest note to the U. S. Embassy called for due measures by the American government to stop the air actions which "can lead to serious consequences."

"The Soviet government has lodged a protest against the dangerous and provocative actions of the American Air Force, which impermissibly buzzes Soviet passenger and cargo ships in the international waters of different areas of the world," Tass said.

The protest note cited "numerous facts of impermissible actions of American war planes and ships against Soviet ships in the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, in the Mediterranean, Northern and other seas," said Tass.

Premier Warns Attack May Come Any Time

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Premier Nguyen Khanh today declared a full state of emergency throughout South Viet Nam with a warning that "we can be attacked at any moment."

Khanh's declaration followed the U. S. air raids on Communist North Viet Nam's torpedo boat bases on Wednesday, and U. S. reinforcement of air strength in South Viet Nam.

U. S. aircraft today strafed and bombed the jungle near Saigon in an attempt to scatter Communist Viet Cong guerrillas fighting off efforts to reach a U. S. Air Force B57 bomber which crashed Thursday.

B57's and F102 jet fighters have flown to South Viet Nam during the past two days to strengthen air defense.

One of the B57's enroute from Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines crashed Thursday only 10 miles east of Ben Hoa and 20 miles north of Saigon, in an area heavily infiltrated with guerrillas.

There was no sign that the two-man crew had survived the crash. A reconnaissance plane which flew over the area Thursday night was driven off by heavy Communist groundfire.

The deaths of two B57 crewmen, if confirmed, would raise to 266 the number of American servicemen to die in South Viet Nam since January, 1961. Of these, 160 have been killed in actual combat.

Membership Drive Set By Post 259

By Mrs. Frank White Plans and details to launch the 1964-65 membership drive for DeBary's Herbert D. Gibbs American Legion Post 259 were made at a recent meeting called by Dr. Luther Tarbell, first vice commander and membership chairman of the post.

Names of post members were allotted to committees who will call to collect the dues. Prizes will be given for 25 or more new memberships and for 10 up to 15 new ones. Membership cards will be ready by the post's first meeting of the new season to be held on Sept. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center.

Attending the planning session were Harry Lyons, Edward A. Patterson, William Brumbaugh, Fred Kammerer, Fred McLaren and Frank Ryan.

Work On Gap In Waterway Urged

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant urged work toward the "missing link" in Florida's intercoastal waterway on the Gulf of Mexico Thursday in a meeting with representatives of the state's two newest inland navigation districts.

Bryant told the Big Bend and Suwanee-Ancles navigation districts that it was their responsibility to implement the project, a 200 mile gap in the intercoastal Gulf system of canals.

"We must make adequate preparation for Florida's rapidly increasing population," Bryant said. "Waterways will encourage industries to move here."

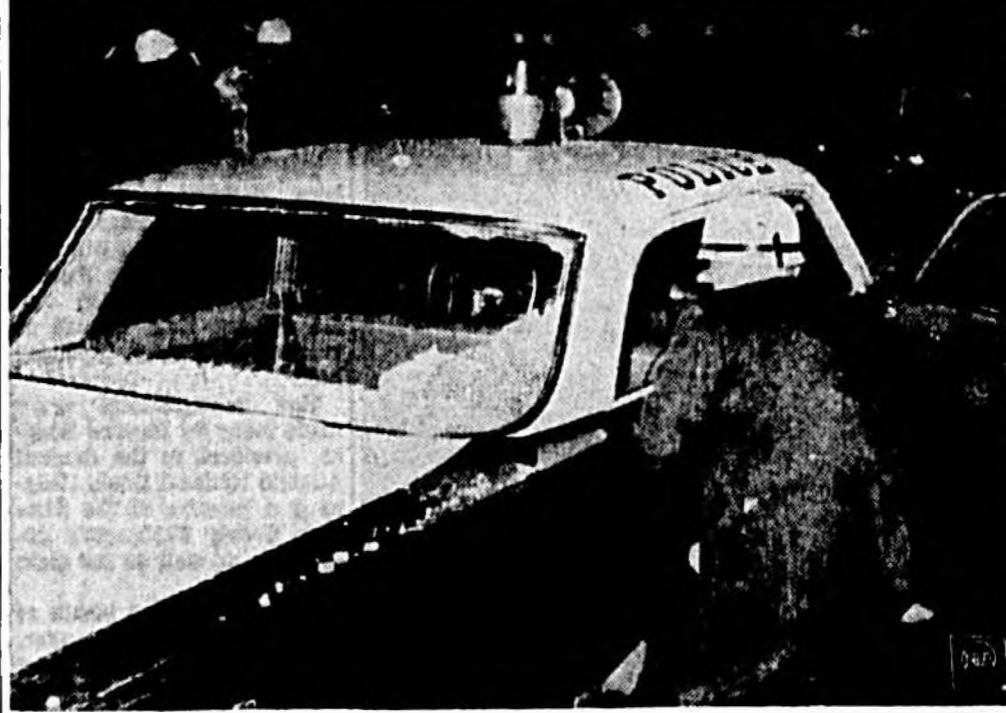

Church To Aid Orphanage

By Donna Estes The membership of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood is observing "Christmas in August" through sales of chocolate wafers with proceeds to benefit the The Children's Mansion in Tupelo, Miss.

The orphanage was founded by T. C. Montgomery during the winter of 1950-51 when, after meeting with church officials, he was encouraged to begin raising funds for such a home. Two buildings were completed and the first children accepted for residence in late 1953. To date, almost 100 children have called the Mansion "home" and more than 50 are in residence at this time.

Rev. E. Ruth Grant, pastor of the Longwood Church, three years ago assisted with arrangements for five children of this area to be cared for at the Mansion, all of whom still are there.

The wafers are available from any member of the church or youth departments.

Politicians Divided On Bomb Decision As Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic and Republican political leaders across the nation were divided today on whether President Johnson's decision to bomb North Viet Nam Navy bases was an issue in the campaign, although all indicated their support for the action.

A United Press International survey showed that most governors or state party chairmen felt that Johnson had no other choice except to order U.S. planes into action against the Communist PT ports after attacks on two U.S. destroyers.

Most Democrats indicated that Viet Nam would lose its place as the primary foreign policy issue for Republican candidates this fall. They said that most Americans considered the limited retaliatory attack necessary but prudent in the nuclear age.

While approving the attack, some Republican leaders said that it by no means would prevent them from questioning the U.S. role in South Viet Nam and throughout Southeast Asia between now and November.

Oregon Republican Chairman Elmo Smith, said the "general foreign situation" would have to be included in the campaign. "The kind of foreign policy that makes such a situation (Viet Nam) develop is a valid campaign issue," he said.

Smith, a former governor, said Johnson's action was "not particularly a strong one," and still left the United States in a position of waiting to see what the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese would do next. South Dakota Republican Chairman Leo Temney said U.S. Asian policy definitely would be an issue because "we are still losing American boys over there over something which we are not doing."

LBJ Sees 'New Morality' In World, Lessening War Danger

The Sanford Herald
Fri. Aug. 7, '64—Page 5

State Dinner Honors Thant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson, looking beyond the crisis in Southeast Asia, foresees the development of a "new and resolute morality" among mankind and less danger of major war.

Johnson made the forecast Thursday night at a state dinner honoring United Nations Secretary General Thant. The White House affair wound up a one-day state visit—the first ever by a UN secretary general—which saw the two world leaders discuss the current difficulties in Southeast Asia.

"There was no formal communique or joint statement on the business meeting between the President and Thant.

Instead, the two restricted their statements to remarks at the dinner. They steered away from specific discussion of the recent North Vietnamese attack on U. S. naval vessels and the retaliatory U. S. air strike.

Earlier in the day after a meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Thant said he did not see how the UN Security Council could be "usefully involved in any settlement" of the crisis at this time.

In the toasts they exchanged at the dinner, both Johnson and Thant concentrated on the overall condition of international relations and the necessity for strengthening the structure of the United Nations.

The President foresaw a steadily improving climate of peace despite the current troubles in the Far East.

"Wifful men may still design willful schemes for war," he said, "but they will meet today the strong and steadfast will of men everywhere who reject war as an acceptable instrument of national policy."

He added that in this century there had formed a new, resolute morality which rejected "both the immorality of war as well as the immorality of indifference and inaction toward all threats of war."

Barker Resigns As Delegate To Convention

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Richard D. Barker of Jacksonville resigned yesterday as a member of the Florida delegation to the Democratic National Convention because he said he could not support President Johnson.

Barker, chairman of the Duval County Democratic Executive Committee, resigned in a letter sent to Gov. Farris Bryant.

"For many years I have had considerable difficulty reconciling my membership in the Democratic Party — as far as national issues and candidates were concerned — with my own feelings and beliefs as a constitutional conservative American," Barker said.

While not mentioning Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, Barker left little doubt he would support the Arizona Republican.

"Until now, conservatives in this country have had little choice between the two parties — both have been controlled by the liberals," he said. "We do have a choice this year and I am going to support a man who will defend and protect the constitution of the United States, who will fight for our freedom and liberties and who will maintain the honor and integrity of this nation."

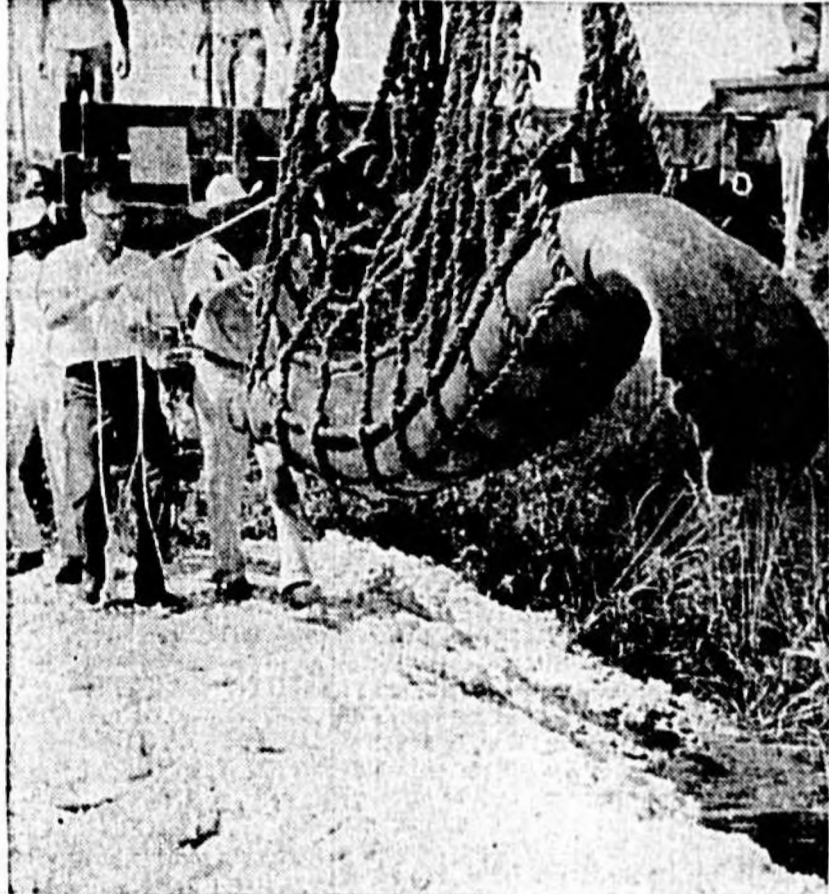

"It is my duty and privilege to support such a man and that is why I am not going to Atlantic City as a delegate for Johnson.

"In making this decision I am cognizant of my obligations to that portion of the Democratic Party to which I still profess a high degree of loyalty — to local and state candidates such as Mayor Haydon Burns and Senator Spessard Holland, and to you and a host of other fine Democrats who share with me a mutual concern about the future well-being of this country."

Mutual Problem

Florida's flood control canals are choked with weeds. Manatees eat nothing but weeds and are threatened with extinction. The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District has launched a three-year study to see if the problems don't have one simple solution—put manatees in the canals where, theoretically they will eat all the weeds and flourish. Five of the aquatic creatures, known as sea cows, were captured and put to work. The biggest was a female 11 feet, 4 inches long and weighing 2,170 pounds. Scientists will watch from the banks, hoping the manatees become fat and happy.

Older Business Areas Show Signs Of Comeback

Is business going to follow the same path as the home owner and desert the central city in favor of the suburbs? Although there has been a migration of business to the suburbs during the past 20 years, this trend is showing definite signs of reversal, according to Earl A. Tetting, CPM, Minneapolis.

Writing in the just-released July-August issue of the Journal of Property Management, Tetting declares "what seemingly would have been a wholesale exodus from downtown areas of those in search of cheaper rent and free parking has now shown definite signs of reversal. The Journal of Property Management is published bi-monthly by the Institute of Real Estate Management, an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The Institute awards the designation Certified Property Manager (CPM) to managers who are able to meet its standards of ethical and competent management service to the public.

Tetting, president of the Knutson Companies, discloses that a recent study made a 384 firms in Minneapolis which moved from downtown office quarters to outlying districts since 1947 revealed that approximately 23 per cent have returned to the downtown in the last four years.

He adds there are indications that there are also numerous other firms in the group which are sitting out their long-term leases and waiting to get back downtown as soon as possible.

"Historically," Mr. Tetting states, "the owners of downtown buildings were directly responsible for driving good tenants to the hinterlands. Lack of parking, rapid obsolescence of offices, lack of maintenance, slowness in remodeling to meet modern standards, all contributed to increasing the 'push to suburbia.'"

Now, in 1964, the picture has changed, he points out. New office buildings have been built, and are being built. Parking structures and parking lots are being created, and the fresh new look of trees, landscaping, and open vistas between buildings is coming of age.

Idle Drop Laid To Lower Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two of President Johnson's top advisers said today the dramatic decline in the nation's jobless rate below 5 per cent for the first time since 1960 shows that the $11.5 billion tax cut is beginning to do what it's supposed to do. Labor Secretary W. Willard

Wirtz, calling for renewed efforts to achieve full employment, also credited "consumers' business and labor confidence" for helping score the breakthrough.

Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisors said the decline in the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate to 4.9 per cent of the total U. S. labor force bears out administration forecasts, made early this year.

"It does show the tax cut is doing what is expected of it, that's pretty clear," Heller said.

Wirtz said the tax cut was a large contributory factor along with other legislation passed by Congress in recent years.

The Labor Department announced Thursday that unemployment dropped by 819,000, to 3,813,000 in July. The success was the seasonally adjusted rate for the better-than-usual improvement for mid-summer.

The number of jobs in the United States climbed last month by 452,000 to a record peak of 72,405,000. It was the first time in history that employment went over the 72 million mark.

Injection Of Race Issue In Debate Scored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Georgia Democrat Thursday criticized injection of the race issue into House debate on President Johnson's poverty bill as an "inflammatory" effort to "build prejudice where tolerance would be more constructive."

Rep. Phil Landrum, (D-Ga.), got a round of applause from both Northern and Southern Democrats when he said there was "no reason for further discussion" of segregation or integration in connection with benefits of the $962.5 million "war on poverty" measure.

Landrum replied to Rep. Charles E. Goodell, (R-N.Y.), who charged that a key states rights amendment to be offered by Landrum actually was a "segregationist" device that would permit Southern governors to veto programs designed "to help a particular type of people."

Landrum told the House that the 1964 civil rights law "is an accomplished fact" and that Southerners like himself who opposed it had to recognize that "we cannot choose what laws we will obey and what laws we will not obey."

"There is no reason for further discussion," he said. "To do so is only to fill the record with inflammatory material to build prejudice where tolerance would be more constructive."

Work Slated On 4th I-95 Job

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Road Department said Thursday that work will be started this week on the fourth of seven projects to construct Interstate 95 from State Road 514 to State Road 46 in Brevard County.

The $3,159,616 project will extend from Lake Washington Road east and northeast about 10 miles to State Road 503. The project calls for construction of multi-laned highway and a 137-foot bridge over Wickham Road.

Veteran Actor Hardwicke Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sir Cedric Hardwicke, 71-year-old veteran of the British and American stage and screen, died Thursday of a chronic respiratory disease.

From his earliest days, the actor longed to be a clown. In 1937, his ambition was fulfilled partially when he rode an elephant in what may well have been the biggest circus ever staged, the late Mike Todd's Madison Square Garden party to celebrate his movie, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Famed in scores of movies, theatrical and television productions for his suave, sophisticated, witty and scholarly portrayals, Sir Cedric maintained his composure although several times he nearly fell from the elephant.

Hardwicke was one of a handful of actors knighted by British royalty. He was proud and honored that the late King George V knighted him in 1934, but he also once conceded to a Hollywood writer that:

"Artistically the 'sir' has been a cross for me to bear."

Sir Cedric noted that the "sir" in front of his name was to blame for the endless rows as a stuffed shirt that were thrust upon him.

Rocky To Stump For Goldwater

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Young told newsmen after the two-hour meeting.

"That means he'll go out on the stump," Young added. The chairman noted that four years ago Rockefeller made 283 speeches for GOP presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon.

"And then he got hit over the head with charges he didn't support the ticket," Young said.

The powerful organization of county chairmen, long influential in the moderate and liberal wing of the party, also went on record as "vigorously" supporting the candidacy of Goldwater.

Rockefeller, as he has in the past, said the party was big enough to embrace all who believe in basic Republican principles, even though they differ on how best to implement them or translate them into political action.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has joined the Sen. Harry Goldwater-for-president campaign and indicated he may actively stump the nation for the GOP standardbearer.

Rockefeller, outspoken pro-convention political antagonist of the Arizona conservative was roundly applauded Thursday when he told powerful New York state Republican county chairmen he was supporting the national ticket of Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller, (R-N.Y.), for president and vice-president.

The governor also made a strong appeal for party unity during the closed door meeting.

"Sure, Rockefeller said he'd support the ticket," Republican state Chairman Fred A.

R. N. Wells To Retire

Wells, 54, announced his retirement Thursday. He has worked for the department 30 years, starting as a federal voucher clerk.

Holley Blasts Intangible Tax

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Charles R. Holley said today the state's "intangible tax is the primary reason why many new industries are afraid to locate in Florida."

"No amount of advertising will attract those industries until this discriminatory tax is repealed," Holley told the St. Petersburg Women's Club.

Holley also charged that phrases used by his Democratic opponent, Haydon Burns, regarding industrial development and tax improvements "are so vague they are completely meaningless and give no indication of any positive action the candidate would take if elected."

Harmon Clouts 39th Homer

By Curt Bleck
UPI Sports Writer

If American League managers continue to throw right-handed pitchers at Minnesota, Harmon Killebrew might go all the way.

A survey of Killebrew's major league leading total of 39 home runs shows that 30 have come at the expense of right-handed hurlers, supposedly the antidote to batters who work from the right side of the plate.

Hammerin' Harmon, who divides his blows equally, 20 on the road and 19 in his home stadium, poked No. 39 in Thursday's 6-5 Minnesota victory over Boston and boosted his batting average to .300, a charmed circle he has failed to attain as a major league regular. It gave him the league RBI leadership at 88, one more than Boston's Dick Stuart.

The inevitable comparison to home run champions Babe Ruth and Roger Maris places the killer nine games up on the Bambino's pace and 13 behind Maris' 1961 clip.

The 28-year-old slugger's specialty has been felt by every team at least once. Boston hurlers have been touched seven times, three from Jack Lamabe while the Cleveland staff has allowed only one.

Boston right fielder Lee Thomas overran Rich Rollins' fly ball in the seventh inning, allowing it to fall for a triple and scoring Zolo Versalles from first with the winning run in Thursday's game.

In the only other American League contest, New York stopped Kansas City 5-2, and Detroit beat Chicago 5-2.

Ralph Terry (5-4) won his third in a row with late inning relief help from Hal Ren-liff and home runs by Roger Maris (16) and Elston Howard (9). Rocky Colavito and Nelson Mathews clouted nondrivers for the A's.

Detroit scored twice in third and fifth innings as a .375 Mickey Lolich recorded his 11th triumph in 18 decisions. The White Sox collected 11 hits off three Tiger hurlers but stranded 13 men as Joel Horlen suffered his seventh setback against eight victories.

50-60 Entries Scheduled For Osceola Strip

Between 50 and 60 entries are expected at the Osceola Drag Strip Saturday night for the weekly races as officials prepare for a special Aug. 29-30 feature.

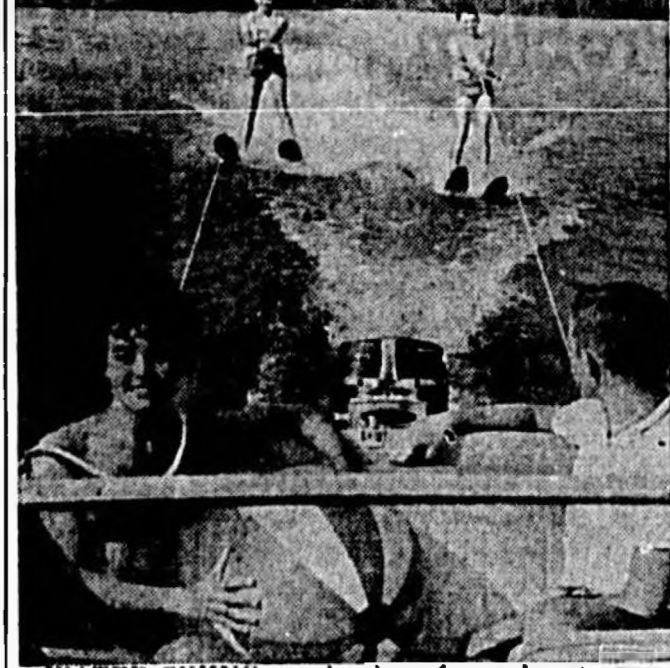

Tomorrow night the gates will open at 7, classification events are planned for 7:30 and eliminations will begin at about 10.

Sponsored by the Seminole Timing Association, the weekly contests draw well over 1,000 spectators to the strip located off Highway 46, east of Sanford and near Geneva.

Meanwhile, officials announced today that Huston Platt will give a special exhibition race Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 29 and 30.

Driving a Chevrolet, his best time to date is a 10.93 at 125 miles per hour in the quarter.

On the same weekend another big money event will be presented with top names from Florida and Georgia expected to participate. The club will also give away a $50 savings bond during the events.

St. Pete Pulls Nearer Tampa With 1-0 Win

By United Press International

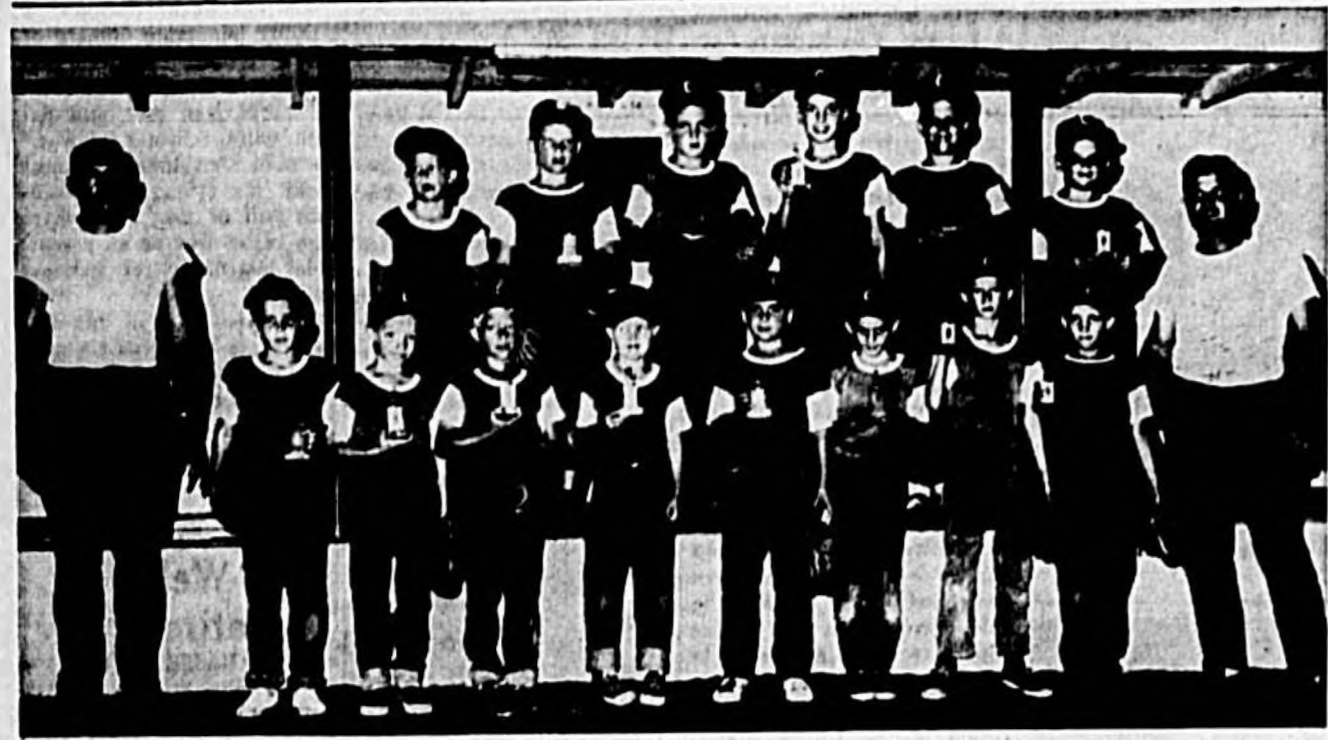

St. Petersburg moved to within two games of the top of the Florida State League heap Thursday night after shutting out Miami 1-0.

League-leading Tampa was rained out of a home game with Orlando. A double bill is scheduled for tonight.

The Saints scored their only run in the eighth when Chuck Goggin singled, moved with a wild pitch, then on an infield hit and scored on a passed ball.

In other league play Thursday night, Fort Lauderdale blanked Sarasota 3-0 and the Yankees picked out 10 hits in the nine innings.

Houston's Star Finally Tallies Victory No. 11

United Press International

A funny thing happened to Dick Farrell on the way to a 20-victory season.

When the muscular right-hander stopped the Cardinals 4-1 on June 14 for his 10th victory of the season against one setback it seemed only an injury could prevent him from becoming the first Houston pitcher to win 20 games in one season.

However, 10 unsuccessful starts and six defeats lay on the road to victory No. 11, which was finally achieved Thursday night, seven weeks later, at the expense of the league-leading Phillies, 2-1.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound fast-baller is now aiming to better his 14-13 mark of 1963.

Farrell blanked his former teammates on four hits for eight innings Thursday night before being lifted by Manager Harry Craft after West Covington's one-out double in the bottom of the ninth. Relief ace Hal Woodeshick faced only pinchhitter Gus Triandos, whose angle scored Covington with the Phils' only run.

Woodeshick was yanked in favor of Jim Owens, another ex-Phillie, who served up a game-ending double play ball to Tony Taylor, which made Farrell's record 11-7.

The loss decreased Philadelphia's lead to 1 1/2 games over idle San Francisco.

16-Water Skiing

By Bill McCormick
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Contrary to general belief, waterskiing is so easy it is for everyone in the boat, not just the spry youngsters. Active water skiers actually range in age from under 6 to over 60.

With modern power, skiing can be done from behind a wide variety of craft, even some houseboats. The ideal water skiing boat has speeds from 18 to 25 miles an hour. Below 18 miles an hour the inexperienced skier may have trouble getting up on plane.

Too small a boat, or a boat too large for its motor will not act properly towing a skier. Its stern will be pulled from side to side as the skier crosses back and forth behind it.

A 10-horsepower motor, on a light enough boat, will pull a child or small teen-ager. A novice skier may have trouble getting up because of comparatively slow acceleration in a 15-horsepower motor, but it can pull one adult.

Rigging for skiing is inexpensive and simple. Rings or hooks may be attached to the transom just to the sides of the motor cut-out (on an out-

Swimmer Ties State Record In WP Event

A Sanford swimmer tied a state 3-meter freestyle record Thursday night in Winter Park only to have another entry beat the mark and push her into second place.

Maureen Scott, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Scott of 437 Scott Ave., tied the freestyle record with 31.7 and then learned that Anne Wilson of Tampa had beaten the mark with a 31.2.

The girls were competing with entries from 30 teams from throughout the state in the AAUW Long Course State Meet in Winter Park.

Giant Manager Given Backing From Stoneham

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — All those rumors about Alvin Dark are just so much bilgewater, says the one man in the world who ought to know.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the San Francisco Giants, gave Dark a vote of confidence Thursday and announced that he had no intention of replacing the Giant manager.

For three unhappy days, Dark had been the subject of rampant rumor and speculation following a report by a New York sports-writer who quoted him as saying that Negro and Latin American players on his team lacked the intelligence of white players.

After release of the interview, Dark called a press conference in New York two days ago and said he had been "gravely misquoted" and that the writer had apologized to him.

The rumors that Dark would be fired continued, however, and Stoneham said Thursday that he felt compelled to clear them up.

"I want to take this occasion to deny all reports that a managerial change is contemplated," Stoneham said in a statement released here.

"We feel that the incident that grew out of Alvin's reported interview... has been exaggerated and distorted and that his reply to it has been generally accepted," Stoneham said.

Bears Picked To Capture College All Star Contest

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears, losers only once in six matches against the pick of collegiate football heroes, were favored today to rack up another win in tonight's 51st renewal of the College All-Star grid game.

The Bears, their morale jolted by the deaths of teammates Willie Gallimore and John Farrington in a training camp auto crash, had the added incentive of revenge to prod them toward another win.

The All-Stars won last year's game against the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers 20-17, and they also won the last time the Bears were in the game, in 1947 when Frank Leahy coached the collegians to a 16-0 decision.

This was added ammunition for Bears owner - Coach George Halas to give his helmets, and he reminded them frequently during training that "we can't afford to lose two in a row."

However, the Bears will be against a team which will equal them in size and speed, but not in experience, and Otto Graham, tutoring the All-Stars for the seventh straight year, believed that with luck his squad could win.

"We're not as big or as fast as we've been," he said, "and we've had more injuries than usual to hamper our efforts. But we have some fine football players, and I hope they'll be enough."

The game will be nationally televised and broadcast, but still will pull a sellout crowd of about 75,000, with local interest boosted by the appearance of the home town Bears.

Sanford Entries Notch Wins In Slo-Pitch Event

Sanford's two entries in the sub-district Slo Pitch Tournament in Eau Gallie entered the semifinals with victories posted in their last games.

Sanford All Stars defeated Puckett Motors of Orlando last night to the tune of 7 to 4, the stars' second win, having defeated Melbourne previously 16 to 1. The local aggregation plays the host team, Eau Gallie, tonight at 7:30 as the tourney continues.

Kingswood Builders hopes to continue its winning ways with a 9 p. m. clash with Cocoa tonight.

Harold Helms hurled the local nine to last night's win as Larry Helman and Roy Lik dominated the hitting department.

Elorde Wins Honor Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gabriel (Flash) Elorde of the Philippines was named "fighter of the month" today for the third time by The Ring magazine because of his impressive seventh defense of the world junior lightweight crown at Tokyo on July 27.

Elorde, 29, scored a technical knockout over Japan's Teruo Kosaka in the 12th round before 8,000. Elorde scaled exactly 130 pounds, the junior lightweight limit.

This time Elorde had stiff competition for fighter-of-the-month honors from former middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria.

Tiger impressively launched a comeback July 31 at Madison Square Garden by stopping "wopler" Jose Gonzalez of Puerto Rico in the sixth round.

Pro Football Returns To Birthplace

By Jim Alexander
CANTON, Ohio (UPI) — Professional football returns to its birthplace Saturday night when the modern edition of the legendary Canton Bulldogs makes its United Football League debut.

The pre-season exhibition game with the Toledo Tornadoes marks the first appearance of a pro league in Canton since 1928.

Many fans who attend the game at Central Catholic Stadium can remember the bloody Stark County rivalries with the Massillon Tigers which brought together such names as Jim Thorpe, Willie Heaton, Pop Sweet, Greasy Neale, Howard "Cub" Buck, Pete "Fats" Henry and Charlie Brickley representing the Bulldogs, and other top stars of the era, including the famed Notre Dame passing combination of Gus Dorais and Khule Rockne.

The first game between the Bulldogs and Tigers resulted from a challenge issued to Bill Day of Canton by his long time friend Eddie Stewart of Massillon.

The game, won by the Tigers 14-4, was played on the frozen turf of the Massillon mental hospital.

Extreme betting, a threatened libel suit by Bloody Wallace, first Bulldog coach, and several dismal performances wrote an end to the pro sport in Canton for about five years.

When the play for pay sport returned to the Canton scene in 1915 it brought with it the most famous of the fabled Carlisle Indians.

Jim Thorpe, who was the Babe Ruth of pro football, was as difficult to tackle as a ghost and many of the fans Saturday night still grimace at the thought of the big Indian's bone-crushing tackles.

According to facts compiled by the professional football Hall of Fame, located in Canton to honor the origin of the pro sport, the first professional league was launched in the humble setting of Day's auto agency in Canton.

Day, Joe Carr of Columbus, Frank Naid of Akron, Carl Stork of Dayton, and Leo Lyons of Rochester, N. Y., organized the American Football Association, which two years later was christened the National Football League.

"Peking" At Movieland

The Boxer Uprising in China is the backdrop for the feature film at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre next week as "55 Days at Peking" opens a three-day run starting Sunday.

The movie features Charlton Heston and Ava Gardner with David Niven. It runs through Tuesday night.

Sharing the billing is Walt Disney's true life adventure, "The Legend of Lobo" in color.

Wednesday and Thursday the Drive-In brings "Young Guns of Texas" in color and starring James Mitchum and Alan Ladd. Also to be screened is "Sweet Bird of Youth" with Paul Newman, also in color.

The week's program concludes with a triple horror show Friday and Saturday. On tap are "The Slime People," "The Crawling Hand" and "The Black Zoo."

CHARLTON HESTON (left), Ava Gardner and David Niven star in Samuel Bronston's multi-million dollar production of "55 Days at Peking," played against the backdrop of the Boxer Uprising in China. Heston portrays a United States Marine Corps major, Miss Gardner a glamorous Russian noblewoman and Niven a British diplomat.

'633 Squadron' At Ritz

Intensely dramatic moments, taken from actual events in World War II, appear to be the forte of Cecil F. Ford, producer of the Mirisch Corporation's "633 Squadron," in color by Deluxe and Panavision, opening at the Ritz Theater Sunday.

The exciting movie runs through next Wednesday. Ford earned a considerable reputation for himself as producer for "The Guns of Navarone," based on a true occurrence in the Mediterranean during the war, and also for "The Bridge on the River Kwai," which was built around a true incident.

In "633 Squadron," which co-stars Cliff Robertson and George Chakiris, the story deals with the actual raid upon a hidden Nazi stronghold in the rock-lined walls of a Norwegian fjord, which many believe to have turned the tide of battle in favor of the Allies by frustrating the reduction of England by rockets launched from similar secret sites.

Marie Perachy plays the heroine lead in "633 Squadron." Others in the cast are Harry Andrews and Donald Houston. Ford produced the film for Director Walter E. Grauman and Executive Producer Lewis J. Rachmil. The script is by James Clavell and Howard Koch.

4th Week's Run

"The Carpetbaggers" movie at the Seminole-Cinema Theatre is being held over for the fourth big week as the management bows to the wishes of the public to see and re-see this compelling movie. The film is based on a novel of the same name and is listed as "adult" entertainment.

Meanwhile, as a special courtesy to its customers the theater is offering for sale tickets to "A Hard Day's Night," starring the Beatles and which will premier Aug. 27 at the Parkwood Cinema. The tickets will go on sale Monday at the Seminole-Cinema until the performance starts and then will be sold at the Parkwood Cinema box office.

Highlights

TV Time critics preview coming television shows by attending rehearsals, watching screenings, studying scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their previews for today:

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. The Great Adventure. "The Night Riders." (Rerun). This story of abolitionist John Brown's stand at Harper's Ferry and his trial compares poorly with the movie version. Jack Klugman does a good job with his role of the zealot, but suffers in comparison to the splendid job Raymond Massey did in the movies. Ironically, the courtroom action is more interesting than the battle.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. International Showtime. "Circus from Holland." (Rerun). Exciting moments from Amsterdam's Althoff Circus feature Pio Nock, a high wire expert who performs with his son and daughter over a cage of lions. Other good features include International Magic Congress champion magician Ted Alton, a daring equestrian act, plus assorted jugglers and acrobats.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. "The Festival Fantasy" (rerun). An hour of festival hopping in Europe. Probably the zaniest segment concerns the Venice film festival, with intriguingly dressed pretty young starlets. You'll also be exposed to the incongruities of the Glyndebourne Opera Festival, the running of the bulls at Pamplona, and wild and strange racing at Paillo. Other visits include a Basle Day celebration, a medieval pageant and an Italian folk orgy.

8:30-9:30 p.m. ABC. Burke's Law. "Who Killed Marty Kelso?" (rerun). There is a plot tonight, something about a Hollywood murder, but just concentrate on the suspects and enjoy yourself. The suspects are headed by luscious Luciana Paluzzi, Diane McHain, Marie Wilson, ex-Miss America Mary Ann Mobley and Glynis Johns. If you like acting, there are also Herschel Bernardi, John Ericson and Don Taylor.

9:30-10 p.m. NBC. On Parade. This half hour collects several of the best, sure-fire bits used by Phil Ford and Mimi Hines on other television shows and in their nightclub routines. Don't look for fresh ground here, but if you like Mimi as a Japanese ballplayer or as a nutty housewife, here's a welcome chance to see them again.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Alfred Hitchcock Hour. "The

TV Time Previews

Evil of Adelaide Winters." (Rerun). In the title role, Kim Hunter effects an excellent characterization of an unscrupulous phony who fleeces grief-stricken people by claiming to put them in contact with dead loved ones. Good as her nervous accomplice is Gene Lyons; even better is John Larkin as a wealthy man. He seemingly is convinced she can put him in touch with his dead soldier son, and offers her a fabulous sum to concentrate on him. The story takes a chilling turn and she has good reason to wish she hadn't moved in the rich man's home.

10-11 p.m. NBC. The Jack Paar Show. (Color) (rerun). Guest Kate Smith sings "I've Got the World on a String" and "As Long as He Needs Me." Sam Levenson's comedy monologue discusses the "new look" in grandmas, teens and klans. About half the program is taken up with the films of Tahiti and Pitcairn Island. Paar took when he visited the South Pacific last summer. It's a little too late to plug the depressing Harlowe Harlowe movie, but Jack also supplies some information on the Bounty Mutiny and a new thought on what really happened to Fletcher Christian.

TABLE HOPPING

SATURDAY NIGHT is always "steak night" at the Trade Winds Cafeteria in the Seminole Plaza. You can have a nice big T-bone broiled just the way you like it for only a dollar. Can't beat that, can you? They serve dinner from 4:30 to 8 p.m. and of course there are all those other appetizing meats, vegetables, salads and mouth-watering desserts from which to choose.

One of the nicest places around to get away from it all, relax in a most delightful atmosphere and treat yourself to the best in food and drink, is Freddie's Steak House in Fern Park. In the background is the tinkling piano music of Vicky Blair, if you are dining in the light room, or sing-along tunes with Carol Pettijohn in the Lamplighter Lounge.

Having company this weekend? Take them to dine at Jim Spencer's where they can have their choice of delicious steaks or seafoods, crispy salads and several kinds of potatoes in unusual forms. Relax before dinner with something cool from the bar, or if you like, spend the whole day evening in the lounge, with your friends and your favorite cocktails.

Enjoy dancing. In this weather, you ask? Ah, but it's cool and dim in the Capti, and you can dance in air-conditioned comfort to the mellow tunes of the Jack Rossman Trio. Dining in sumptuous style, or just sitting in the lounge with your favorite beverages, it's all part of the friendly atmosphere at the Capti, that has won so many steady customers, and attracts new ones all the time. Luncheons, too — specials for businessmen and women in a hurry.

Jean and Rocco Moraglio welcome you to Jean's Spaghetti House in Orange City. They have been at this location for 10 years and have a long list of satisfied patrons.

Relax in cool comfort at George's Tavern. Enjoy your favorite beer or mixed drinks at the bar and then restock your home bar from the package store. There are special low prices by the case. Prices are reasonable, there's plenty of free parking, and the friendly atmosphere makes for a relaxing afternoon or evening. All your friends go there, so meet them at George's.

Deborah Trepanier, Lt.(Jg) F. W. Sherrill Repeat Vows

Deborah Bruce Trepanier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin F. Bruce of DeBary, and Lt. (Jg) Forrest William Sherrill Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. Forrest William Sherrill Sr. of Clover, S. C., were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, Aug. 1, at 11:30 a.m. in an impressive candlelight and double ring ceremony at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with Father Leroy Soper officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with glads and carnations. Tastefully arranged, Miss Beatrice Buck, church organist, played "March in B Flat" by Handel and "Rigaudon" by Campra.

The lovely bride repeated the vows in a French blue street length gown of peau de soie, appliqued with Chantilly lace, and accented at the neckline with seed pearls. Her matching veil of illusion fell from a tiny pill box accented with seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses centered with pale pink rosebuds and pink carnations.

Mrs. James F. Bell attended the bride as matron of honor, and was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a smart beige silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and carried a nosegay of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Lt. Cdr. Thomas P. Conroy served the groom as best man, and ushers were Lt. Cdr. James F. Bell and Lt. Charles E. McKenna.

The bride's mother chose an off white, floral design, creme puff dress with beige accessories, and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The groom's mother was attired in a shimmering blue cotton with white accessories and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

MRS. FORREST WILLIAM SHERRILL JR.

The Ostranders Return Following Enjoyable Trip

By Maryann Miles

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ostrander and children, Ricky and Cathy, of Jamison Drive in Bear Lake, have returned home after a delightful vacation.

The family motored to Miami to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Ostrander and then drove to Sanibel Islands for three days. They visited friends in the Everglades and enjoyed a trip deep in the glades. Later they were guests of friends in Tampa, and visited Six Gun Territory before stopping in Gainesville to visit Mrs. Ostrander's mother, Mrs. Pearl Wingenback.

Upon returning home, John Perkin of Tampa was Ricky's houseguest. The two boys were fishing and Ricky had the misfortune of getting a fish hook caught in his eye, and was hospitalized in Orlando, but the doctor assured his parents there would be no eye damage.

Ginderville VFD Postpones Meet Until September

The Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department has postponed the regular scheduled meeting from Monday, Aug. 10 to Sept. 14, at which time the meeting will be held at the Elder Springs Baptist Church.

Members are urged to note this schedule change and to make plans to attend the September meeting.

MAJOR AND MRS. HERSHEL CHAPMAN and their three sons, from the left, Bob, Charles and John Chapman, of Bear Lake, will move to Monroeville, Pa. in the near future, where Major Chapman will enter the University of Pittsburgh to study for his master's degree. The Chapmans live on Bonnie Drive in Bear Lake, where Mr. Chapman has been actively engaged in civic and social affairs while Major Chapman was in Korea serving as Chief Personnel Manager, and has recently returned. Bob, Charles and John have all been active in Boy Scouts.

Remnants Are Real Bargains When Used With Versatility

Some women can't resist a remnant. Others say: "I haunt the remnant counter hoping to find fabric that I cannot afford to buy from the bolt."

One reader writes: "When I see beautiful remnants I never know whether the amount of fabric is right for what I'd like to make. Can you tell me how to gauge the yardage when I don't have a pattern at hand to check?"

Here are some rule-of-thumb measures which will help you gauge yardage for a sheath, blouse or skirt.

If you have been using a sleeveless sheath pattern and know it is right for you, then gauge it this way:

For a size 8 to 14, hips not over 38 inches, then one length—yes, I said one length—plus five inches of 48-inch wide fabric. This will make you a sleeveless sheath.

If your hips are over 38, then buy one length plus five inches of 54-inch fabric.

Use the same gauge for a skirt—your finished skirt length plus five inches. This allows for shaping at the waistline and for a nice hem.

For a blouse ¾ yards of 44-inch or wider will make a simple straight sleeveless blouse for sizes 8 to 14.

If you want short or ¾ sleeves in a dress or blouse, buy ¾ to 1 ¼ yard more.

One woman says: "I buy every lovely percale, calico, or easy care fabric I see on remnant counters that are ¾ to 1 ¼ yards long. I make gift aprons for my friends. If I have extra fabric I make matching potholders. I even buy remnants of trimmings."

There are many sheaths with a seam down the center front and center back. Half the dress is print, the other plain. Of course, they are made of the same kind of fabric. Some believe such is slenderizing.

Often a short remnant can be found for a little jacket or bolero to wear with a sheath dress. This can prove a real bargain.

When buying remnants, buy what you need and can use. They can be real bargains, especially if you know how to adapt your pattern to your material and to use a facing if your length is short, or set in a piece at the waist six to eight inches deep—that makes a band around the waistline, which can so easily be divided with a narrow belt of the material of the sheath.

A large department store made a survey recently among its charge customers. They found many women who bought remnants did not always use them. They also found many had full dress lengths that had not been made up. The fabric appealed at the time, but the inspiration to make it did not last long.

So be wise, if you buy remnants, use them. There is fashion in fabric as in silhouette. Don't leave your fabric in the drawer or chest too long.

Make a simple dress, blouse or skirt from your remnants before your enthusiasm wanes.

Mrs. Hugh Whelchel Entertains With Bridal Luncheon Complimenting Miss Niki Ashby

MRS. HUGH (MARY) WHELCHER, left, recently entertained Miss Niki Ashby, bride-elect of Alex McKibbin at a bridal luncheon at Jim Spencer's Restaurant. With Mrs. Whelchel, from the left, are Mrs. Clifford McKibbin Jr., mother of Niki's fiance, Miss Ashby and her mother, Mrs. Martha Bishop Ashby.

Mrs. Hugh C. Whelchel was hostess recently at Jim Spencer's Restaurant to an elaborate bridal luncheon honoring Miss Niki Ashby, bride-elect of Alex McKibbin.

The bride-elect's table was centered with a lovely arrangement of pink carnations, chrysanthemums and tube roses accented by leatherleaf fern dusted white. The guests' table featured Pittsponum centering the entire length of the table.

Mrs. Whelchel presented the bride-elect with gifts of lingerie and received the presents in a chic white two piece pique ensemble. Niki was striking in a bold, brown, black and white print with the low cut fitted bodice trimmed in jet black. Mrs. Martha Bishop Ashby, mother of the honoree, chose a champagne beige silk shantung sheath, and Mrs. Clifford McKibbin Jr., mother of Niki's fiance, wore a cool, low cut pink pique sheath.

Others enjoying the delicious bridal luncheon of lobster salad, tomato aspic, assorted relishes and iced dessert were Mrs. James Crapps and daughter, Miss Anne Crapps, Mrs. Esther Ridge, Mrs. Kathryn Bishop, Miss Donna Ashby and Mrs. John Kader.

Miss Tamzene Ann Shay Engaged To Marry Lt.(Jg) David H. Dow

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Shay of Tampa announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Tamzene Ann Shay, to Lt. (Jg) David Harman (Sam) Dow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Dow of Sacramento, Calif.

The lovely bride-elect was born in Morehead, Ky., and was graduated from Morehead State College. For the past two years she has been a faculty member of Edgewater High School in Orlando.

Lt. Dow was born in Auburn, Calif., attended schools in Sacramento and was graduated from Stanford University. Prior to entering the navy in 1960, he served as a reporter on the San Diego Union. He is currently serving with the Reconnaissance Attack Wing One Staff, NAS, Sanford.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, Aug. 15, at 1 p.m. at the Sanford Naval Air Station Chapel.

Household Helpers

An ironing board cover fits snugly when put on while damp. It stays smooth and clean longer if dipped in a medium solution of starch before being stretched on the board.

Sift powdered sugar quickly and easily by brushing it through the sieve with a long-bristled pastry brush.

Attach a short curtain rod to the back of baby's high chair. Hang bib and damp washcloths on it.

Have a snagged sweater? Run a needle, threaded with a contrasting color, through the snag and knot securely. Then, pull thread and snagged yarn back through to the wrong side. Clip thread. Do no tear yarn.

One cup of vinegar added to one gallon of warm water cleans varnished wood beautifully. The gloss of the varnish is not impaired.

When making drop cookies, butter the bottom of a tumbler, dip it in granulated sugar, then use it to press cookies flat. The tumbler must be dipped into sugar for each cookie, and scraped and re-buttered occasionally.

Remove the shine from navy blue material by sponging it with undiluted vinegar. The shine disappears and so does the vinegar odor as the material dries.

Fashionettes

Most American males are all choked up — with the wrong-sized shirt collar, says Ron Postal, a film-and-designer. Postal said the collar should be loose enough for the wearer to insert his index finger easily inside the neck-band.

Down-To-Earth Tips Reviewed For Feet's Sake

Running about in naked footies, according to the Bureau, isn't too awful. Sometimes it's therapeutic for feet's sake. However, in the interests of accident prevention and good health, it's suggested that parents urge children to heed these rules.

—Don't let them go barefoot all day long. Shoes should be worn at least a part of the day for support.

—Have them walk only in sandy or grassy places. Gravel, creeks, ponds, streets, the woods nearby and public buildings hold down-to-earth dangers ranging from rusty nails to lurking germs.

—Have them wash their feet often, especially before putting on shoes or going to bed.

—Wear socks with shoes. The socks absorb perspiration and protect feet from the shoe lining.

—If injuries develop — scrapes, cuts, stubbed toes — don't rely on practicing medicine without a license. Take the child to a doctor.

World's Fair Ice Cooling Dessert

The New York World's Fair is studded with fine restaurants. One of our favorites is The American Restaurant in the Gas Pavilion.

George Lang, who supervises this exquisite dining room with walls of glass opening on to the dream world of the fair, is a supergourmet. His inspired interpretations of American regional dishes are the delight of sophisticated tastes. This Watermelon Ice is an example. Picture yourself seated beside ceiling-high glass windows, over a miniature lake with water flowers, sponging this cooling dessert. Like the idea?

WATERMELON ICE (8 servings)

1 quart watermelon pulp
½ cup sugar
½ cup orange juice
½ cup cherry
Red food coloring

Remove the seeds from watermelon pulp, and force the pulp through a fine sieve. Blend in sugar, orange juice, cherry and a few drops red food coloring, just enough to give the liquid a true watermelon tint. Stir in mixture until the sugar is completely dissolved, then pour the mixture into a deep ice cube tray. Set the tray in the freezer unit of the refrigerator with the control set at its coldest point, and let the mixture freeze to a mush. Remove the tray from the refrigerator and beat the mixture with a rotary beater until it is smooth. Return the tray to the refrigerator and continue the freezing, beating several times more, until the ice is of the proper consistency.

One of the most versatile fish, halibut, is temptingly flavorful when served with just butter and lemon.

Sea Vital To Man's Future

We hear a lot these days about the sea around us.

Not only is it the last great, and virtually unexplored, physical frontier that remains to challenge the energies of men. We are told that it is a vast repository of mineral wealth that will maintain the civilizations of the future long after land supplies are depleted.

It may be a distant day when minerals from the sea assume this role, and an even more distant time when men are forced by population pressures to take up living on or under the sea, as many predict will happen.

But already the increasing need for fresh water for industry and irrigation and everyday use is lending urgency to the development of economically feasible methods of extracting it from the sea.

And the harvesting of food from the sea, the mother of all life, is becoming a more important factor in the race between hunger and population growth.

We think of the sea as illimitable, just as men considered the New World four centuries ago. Like that exploited frontier, however, the sea is not inexhaustible, except perhaps in terms of water.

The best fishing banks are crowded with the boats of many nations. Iceland and England have been at odds over fishing rights and methods, as have the United States and Japan and Russia and other nations.

Even as the land is not uniformly productive, so it is with the world's oceans. Waters once teeming with fish have been known to become barren, whether through unexplained causes or through the actions of men. The economics of many peoples have risen and fallen with the changing fertility of the sea.

Hunting of the seal and whale, once wide open, has had to be regulated lest these creatures join the long list of animals—some of them sea animals—that have been driven to extinction by men.

But fishing of the sea is still largely a "catch as catch can" pursuit. One concerned party, Dr. Donovan R. Finn, a former fisheries official with the United Nations, has called for taking some of the effort now going into competitive exploitation of the sea and putting it into "a coordinated world-wide study of the sea and its living resources."

The United States and the Soviet Union are presently taking the first steps toward a co-operative investigation of desalting sea water.

Twelve nations, including the United States, are engaged in a two-year survey of the Indian Ocean with a view toward increasing the fish harvest so vital to the countries bordering it.

Perhaps these things can be the precedents for launching, not too far in the future, one of those world-wide scientific endeavors like the International Geophysical Year or the Year of the Quiet Sun—this one to be devoted to a broad-scale exploration of the sea and all its economic facets.

Such a "year of the sea" would range from a survey of its mineral wealth to the problems of fishing and atomic waste disposal, from discovering new sources of food to the working out of international codes to insure wise use of the sea's resources.

It's a vast and deep challenge, and a lot closer than the moon.

Bruce Blossat -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The removal of Leonid Brezhnev as president of the Soviet Union may be part of a cat-and-mouse game Khrushchev is playing to keep any of his lieutenants from taking his crown before he dies.

Kremlinologists here think Khrushchev is worried about the growing power of Nikolai Podgorny. Less than a year ago Podgorny was listed as the lowest ranking man on the ruling Presidium. Today he's ranked with Brezhnev as one of the two men most likely to succeed Khrushchev as top man in the Soviet Union.

Brezhnev has been in the news as the likely "crown prince." But Podgorny has quietly been consolidating his power where it counts. He's been slowly but carefully gathering the reins of patronage into his own hands.

Podgorny has been able to capture a goodly part of the patronage because the other members of the Presidium have been sick or busy with other critical tasks.

Brezhnev, as president, has had much of his time occupied with ceremonial jobs. He has had to greet endless numbers of visitors, make state visits. Anastas Mikoyan has

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Philip Hochstein was a pioneer innovator in this scientific "advice" column, for he wanted psychology made so practical that all readers could profit from it. And modern men also relish the vital sex differences below for they can prevent a firm's going bankrupt.

CASE T-441: Philip Hochstein is a main pillar in the great Newhouse newspaper empire.

Mrs. Crane and I visited him at Newark 25 years ago.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "we need to translate science into the layman's vocabulary so it can be used by everybody."

Mr. Hochstein was indirectly referring to the fact that in those days psychology was generally phrased in 5-syllable terms.

So I have stuck to simple words and even try to clinch each basic point with an actual office case.

Some "ivory tower" professors still try to belittle this column by saying:

"Dr. Crane uses 2-syllable words! And he thus oversimplifies our esoteric science."

But Dr. William James, America's pioneer psychologist, also employed simple words and documented his points with everyday cases.

"Human Relations" or practical psychology is the most popular elective course on our

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The disclosure this week that a television reporter played an important role during the 1962 Cuban missile crisis has put me in a delicate position.

The story broke right at a time when I was toying with the idea of revealing my own activities during the big showdown.

If I now tell all, no doubt I will be accused of trying to steal the spotlight from John Scall, the network newsmen who served as a go-between in the tense negotiations.

On the other hand, if I keep silent an account of my part in the confrontation may be divulged by other sources, possibly with a wrong interpretation.

Scall, who was pledged to secrecy, almost got scooped on his own story, and I wouldn't want that to happen to me. So, at the risk of sounding sour grapes, I have decided to release all the facts as I remember them.

First of all, I want to explain, mainly for the benefit of my neighbors, why I spent so much time sitting in my car with the radio on and the motor running.

There was considerable speculation at the time that I

Phil Newsom Says Hitler Era Recalled

LPI Foreign News Analyst

At approximately 12:40 p.m. on July 20, 1944, Claus Count Schenk von Stauffenberg, a German general staff colonel, excused himself from a briefing in Adolf Hitler's East Prussian "wolf's lair," ostensibly to make a telephone call.

At 12:42 the bomb which Von Stauffenberg had planted close to Hitler's knee exploded. It killed four persons but Hitler escaped with only an injury to his right hand.

It is an anniversary seldom recalled outside West Germany, and its significance is known to a surprising few even there.

Among Germans up to 20 years of age, a recent survey showed that only 16.7 per cent knew the special significance of July 20.

Two years after that attempt that failed, Winston Churchill paid special tribute in the British House of Commons to the German resistance movement.

"In Germany," he said, "there lived an opposition... which belongs to the noblest and greatest that has ever been produced in the political history of any people... we hope for the time in which this heroic chapter of German domestic history will find its just valuation."

On this anniversary 20 years after, West German President Heinrich Lübke called upon young Germans to "learn more about the devotion and the willingness to sacrifice themselves that marked the men and women who rose against Hitler."

Lübke's call reflected first a fear among responsible Germans that a dynamic German people, rich in material things, might succumb again to nationalism and the spiritual bankruptcy of another Hitler.

In the West Germany of today there is a continuing soul-searching as the Germans seek their individual responsibility for Hitlerism and ways to prevent its return.

There are those who regret the passage of the Hitler days. It shows occasionally in Germany's new army despite the fact that it was in the highest echelons of the army that these rose the determination to rid the nation of Hitler.

It shows in occasional, but strictly limited, outbursts of anti-Semitism.

And it shows also in isolated demands for the return of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland or the lost eastern territories.

But overriding these are the emotions of the young German who wondered aloud to this correspondent, "maybe we got rich too soon."

To The Editor

Editor, The Herald:

"Under the Clock" polls have indicated such overwhelming preference for BMG over LBJ which leads me to the following observations:

In an area which is happy to receive federal funds for education and impact area funds—you would support the man who opposes same.

You keep busy for years attempting to get federal funds and approval of cross state barge canal—you would support the man who opposes same.

You urge us to prepare for the boom of the space age emanating from the gateway to the moon—you would support the man who opposes same.

You encourage retirees to settle in your area—many of whom are dependent on social security checks—you would support the man who by making the system voluntary would wreck the system.

You regularly fight to retain the Naval Air Station and its federal money—but want none of the controls. In other words—you want to have your cake and eat it too.

A city of churches of which to be proud—and you turn around and endorse the candidate who advocates "The end justifies the means" contrary to all moral teachings!

No continue in your course, shut your eyes to the realities of today and the problems of today, and turn back the clock—even to 1950—and once again become the small sleepy city on the banks of the St. Johns while forward looking America continues to grow and progress—willing to meet and solve the issues of today! Tecumseh's First Shot Success

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The U. S. S. Tecumseh, the Navy's 21st missile frigate submarine, today scored a success on its first polaris A-3 rocket shot.

The 425-foot submarine, lying submerged about 30 miles off the Florida coast, launched the 2,800-mile range missile at 11:30 a. m. EST. About 15 minutes later, the rocket's test warhead hit its target area.

A NEW ROAD

"Let's find a new road!" That's a game we play often when we take a family ride.
 These little journeys of discovery have led us to some beautiful, serene sections of our community that we never would have seen if we'd stayed on the busy highway.
 At times, life itself can seem like a crowded, noisy highway. The years rush by... we promise ourselves that some day we'll take the time to look around us and try to understand where we are and why... but worldly interests tend to fill every minute to the brim. We wonder why the pleasures that we work so hard to obtain fail to bring us happiness... and we sense that life has a deeper meaning, if we could find it.
 The Church can guide you and your family to a new, wonderful road. Discover the warm fellowship, the renewed courage, the refreshing peace of mind that grow from membership in your neighborhood church.

Johnson Calls In Top Advisers; Last Raid Mistake, Turks Admit

Southeast Asia, Cyprus Crises Under Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson called Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other top advisers to the White House today for a discussion of the Cyprus crisis and the situation in Southeast Asia.

The President also scheduled a ceremony for later in the day to sign the resolution adopted at his request by the House and Senate which gives him full backing in steps he may take to resist Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy told newsmen that Johnson returned Sunday night from a two day trip to his Texas ranch spent this morning "going over various reports on the world situation."

Reedy said Johnson called the meeting with Rusk, McNamara and other senior advisers to discuss Southeast Asia, Cyprus and "other matters affecting the world situation."

Reedy said he did not know whether Johnson had received replies to the strong personal appeals he sent Sunday to Greek Turkish and Cypriot leaders for an end to fighting which could lead to mass bloodshed on Cyprus.

State Department officials said Johnson was in telephone consultation with his diplomatic aides early today on the Cyprus problem.

Johnson also scheduled a lunch meeting today with a group of business leaders—one of a series of such sessions he has had with delegations from various walks of life to discuss pending national issues.

BOB SHEDDEN

Marina Called 'Great Benefit' To Sanford

Bob Shedd, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, has called for a "carefully planned and executed" program to bring about the lakefront marina now being studied by the City Commission.

Shedd said such a project "would create a more favorable climate" toward business growth for all of Sanford and surrounding communities.

His statement follows: "A Sanford Marina certainly can be of great benefit to our community, if carefully planned and executed on a realistic basis. This would attract tourists, business investors and would create a more favorable climate toward the promotion of business growth in not only the downtown area but all of Sanford and surrounding communities."

"Development of this sort has been proven many times over in such cities as Fort Lauderdale and Miami and we can certainly make use of the experience gained in these and other communities having Marina facilities."

The regular meeting of the Sanford City Commission at 8 p. m. today in the City Hall will also be a public hearing for the condemnation of buildings at 701 and 703 W. Ninth St.

The commission will hear recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission on three subjects. There will be recommendations to amend the city ordinance to include dry cleaning and laundry uses in the retail commercial zones; to open E. 21th St. from Melville Ave. to Willow Ave.; to support and approve the lake front development plan.

Commissioners are expected to appoint an acting city manager, to take over when W. E. Knowles must be out of town; set up interview days for marine engineers on the lake front development plan; set up budget meetings; and sign a resolution authorizing the sale of bonds.

Patrolmen Roderick Hancock and Charles Fagan said the driver was treated by a private physician for a nose fracture prior to the arrest.

11 Killed
MIAMI (UPI) — Florida traffic accidents took 11 lives over the weekend including a Dade County smashup which put eight members of a family in the hospital.

Red Dogma Hit
VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI, in his first encyclical, condemned the "blind dogma" of communism today as "the most serious problem of our time."

Persecutions Hit
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., urged the Senate today to condemn officially the persecution of the Jews in Russia "even if it saves but one life."

Brenda Turns
MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Brenda plowed away from land into the northern Atlantic today and weathermen said the season's second such disturbance bore no threat to land.

First Prisoner
SAIGON (UPI) — Joseph L. Granger of Sumter, S.C., the first U.S. civilian official ever to fall into Communist hands in Viet Nam, was taken prisoner by Red guerrillas Sunday, it was reported today.

Hate Campaign
TOKYO (UPI) — Red China climaxed a weekend of massive hate-America demonstrations by proclaiming its rights to aid Communist North Viet Nam in any conflict with the United States, it was reported today.

Desegregation
JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Bishop R. O. Gerow Sunday announced plans for desegregation of Catholic schools throughout Mississippi in September. He urged church members to exhibit acceptance and cooperation.

'Bug' Bites Lucii
LA HONDA, Calif. (UPI) — Lucii Balines Johnson, the President's 17-year-old daughter, was "bitten by a 24-hour bug" and forced to curtail her activities Sunday during a San Francisco Bay area visit.

Rail Plan Offered
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A presidential emergency board has recommended negotiation of a job protection program for 160,000 railroad shop workers as part of its plan to settle their work rules dispute with major railroads.

35 Americans Are Evacuated
BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Thirty-five American evacuees, mostly the dependents of U. S. officials on Cyprus, arrived from the island today aboard a U. S. Air Force C140 cargo plane.

A U. S. Embassy statement said the plane had flown blood plasma to Cyprus at the request of the Cypriot government.

An embassy spokesman said the evacuees were expected to stay in Beirut and see how the situation develops. He said no further American evacuees were expected here at the moment.

924 Graduated
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State University presented 924 diplomas Saturday night.

Cyprus Accepts UN Appeal To End Hostilities

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — Turkish planes were reported to have raided Cyprus today for the fourth straight day despite agreement on a cease-fire.

Cyprus announced acceptance of a United Nations appeal for suspension of the hostilities that flared anew last week, and Turkey conditionally agreed to call off its air attacks.

But Cyprus reports said Turkish planes again hit the Greek Cypriot village of Polis this morning.

In London a spokesman for the Greek Cypriot high commission said the Turkish government had explained that the planes were part of a forward attack and had not been notified of the cease-fire.

In Ankara, the Turkish government acknowledged that its planes flew over Cyprus this morning but said they did not attack the Greek Cypriot positions.

Reports of casualties in Polis this morning were vague. The Cyprus news agency said 50 were killed and 50 wounded, but the Cypriot high commission in London said 10 civilians were wounded.

Diplomats worked feverishly to smooth out the Cyprus crisis that threatened a direct clash between Turkey and Greece, fellow members of the North Atlantic Alliance.

In the background of the threatened widening of the conflict was Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announced support of the Greek Cypriot position. Khrushchev told Greek Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios that "the sympathy of the people and of the government of the Soviet Union is on the side of the people of the Republic of Cyprus."

$88.50 Stolen From School
Theft of a sum of money from the vault room at Pinecrest School is being investigated by city police.

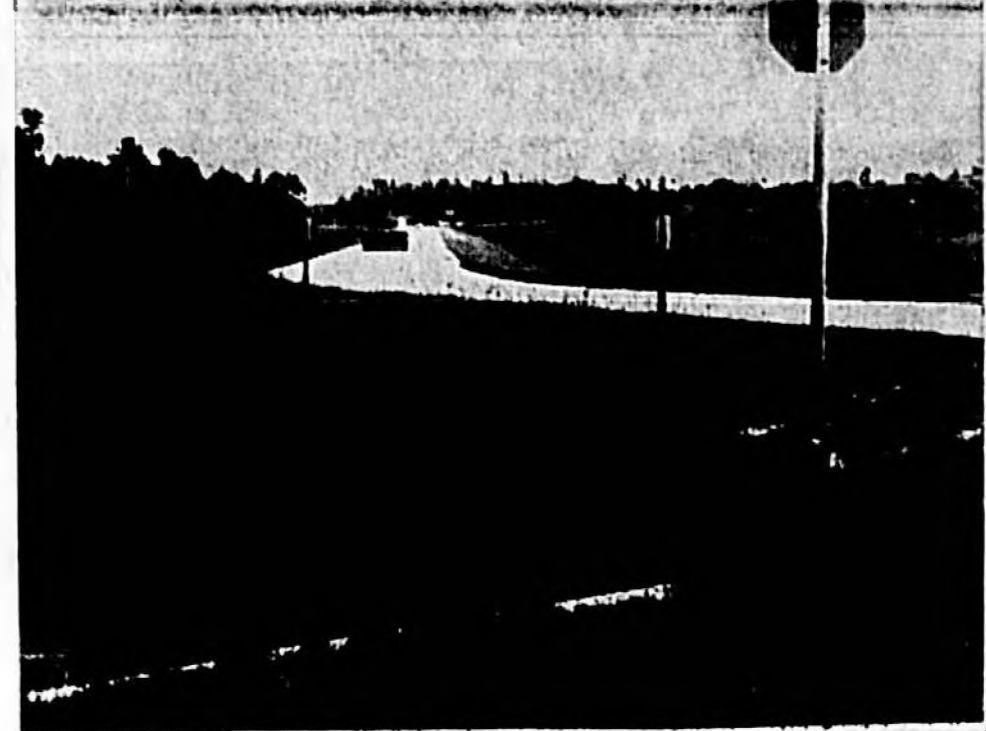

Authorities were told the burglary occurred sometime over the weekend and was discovered this morning. The thief forced a door on the southside of the building to get into an office.

Taken, police said, was $50 from a pencil box, $35 from a cash box, $3.50 from a stamp fund, an undetermined amount of money in library files and possibly other money.

An inventory was being taken today to determine if anything else is missing.

Board To Eye Subdivision
Plans for one new subdivision and an extension of another will be subject to action by the Board of County Commissioners during public hearings scheduled at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The board will be asked to approve plans for the new Robin Hill subdivision which is to be located on the west side of Palm Springs Drive, north of Pineview Street and south of North Street in the Sanlando area.

SEVERAL CRASHES have occurred at this spot off Interstate 4 as motorists, especially at night, fail to negotiate the left-hand turn and ram into the concrete culvert shown in the foreground. Despite the reflective markers, the drivers continue in a straight line with considerable crash-damage and some injuries. The site is the cutoff from Interstate 4 and onto W. First Street or Highway 46. At least four accidents have been recorded in this spot. (Herald Photo)

Red China Troop Moves Reported By Gen. Khanh

CAP ST. JACQUES, Viet Nam (UPI) — Prime Minister Gen. Nguyen Khanh said today he had "definite reports" of Communist Chinese troop movements in North Viet Nam.

Khanh at a news conference also reiterated that at least 15 fighter planes from Red China had moved into Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. But he said he was uncertain whether they were piloted by Chinese or Vietnamese.

Khanh was asked if he had actual reports of Communist troop movements in North Viet Nam.

"Not exactly on the 17th Parallel (the frontier with South Viet Nam), but let's say in North Viet Nam," he replied. He said the reports were from "intelligence" sources.

Asked how the Chinese Communists were moving, Khanh replied, "they move by any kind of route. They have railroads coming from Yunnan (a province in southwest China) to Hanoi."

He declined to estimate the number of Red Chinese troops he thought were involved.

There was no word, meantime, on the first U.S. civilian official ever to fall into Communist hands here, Joseph L. Granger of Sumter, N.C., was captured by Viet Cong guerrillas on Saturday.

VAH-11 Awarded Efficiency 'E' Twice In Row

The Atlantic Fleet Battle Efficiency "E" has been won for the second consecutive year by the Sanford Naval Air Station's Heavy Attack Squadron 11, the Navy reported today.

The fiscal 1964 winners were named in Norfolk by Vice Adm. Paul H. Ramsey, commander of the U. S. Naval Air Forces in the Atlantic Fleet.

News of the victory reached VAH-11 and its commanding officer, Cdr. Robert W. Kennedy, in the midst of Sixth Fleet exercises in the Mediterranean aboard the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

VAH-11 had recently returned from a similar Sixth Fleet deployment last year when its triumph was announced.

6th Fleet Carriers Heading For Cyprus

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — A powerful U. S. Sixth Fleet carrier task group steamed across the Mediterranean today under apparent emergency orders to stand by off Cyprus.

The aircraft carrier USS Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the guided-missile cruiser USS Boston, four destroyers and at least half a dozen other American warships left Naples at dusk Sunday.

The light cruiser USS Springfield, flagship of Rear Adm. William E. Ellis, sailed today with auxiliary vessels.

A Navy spokesman declined to state the task group's destination. But it was learned it was headed for Cyprus.

Shore patrols toured restaurants, bars and cinemas Sunday recalling sailors to their ships under emergency orders.

The Navy spokesman said Ellis spent Sunday with Adm. James S. Russell, supreme commander of Allied Forces in southern Europe. He said, "They have been keeping abreast of the Cyprus situation by radio-telephone."

The Sixth Fleet is a powerful force of 50 ships and 25,000 men. It normally includes the nuclear-powered USS Enterprise, largest warship in the world. But the Enterprise is on a round-the-world cruise with two other nuclear-powered ships, the Long Beach and the Bainbridge.

It was learned that some amphibious forces of the Sixth Fleet already were standing off Cyprus to remove the 450 American nationals on the island in case fighting broke out.

Boy Cyclist Hit By Auto

An eight-year-old boy, Richard Green of 113 Anderson Circle, escaped injury Sunday afternoon when his bicycle was struck by a car at 20th Street and Sanford Avenue.

Police identified the driver as Mrs. Ralph Cowan of 405 Plumosa Dr. They said the child drove the bike out of 20th Street into the path of the car.

Orlando Held In Slaying

EASTON, Md. (UPI)—A 60-year-old migratory laborer from Orlando was held today in the fatal shooting of another worker at a Maryland labor camp.

Maryland State Police at Easton said James Chestnut told them the victim, 28-year-old Theodore Stockton, also of Orlando, and three other men had been harassing him all day.

He said they tried to enter his shanty late Saturday night and he grabbed a gun and fired through the screen door, striking Stockton in the back and neck.

Vehicle Bids
The County Commission Tuesday will open bids on three pickup trucks, two compact sedans, one delivery type van truck and a flat body dump truck.

U. S. Weapons Policy Blasted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater accused the Johnson administration today of an "utter disregard for new weapons" which may lead to a cut of 90 per cent in the nation's atomic striking power over the next decade.

The Arizona senator, in a wide-ranging speech prepared for delivery before the National Association of Counties, said, "sometimes in the decade ahead, unless present plans are changed by the demands of an aroused public, America's deliverable nuclear capability may be cut by 90 per cent."

Goldwater said the administration had inherited "the mightiest arsenal for the defense of freedom ever created on earth," but that it was

Two Buildings Face City Ax

The regular meeting of the Sanford City Commission at 8 p. m. today in the City Hall will also be a public hearing for the condemnation of buildings at 701 and 703 W. Ninth St.

The commission will hear recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission on three subjects. There will be recommendations to amend the city ordinance to include dry cleaning and laundry uses in the retail commercial zones; to open E. 21th St. from Melville Ave. to Willow Ave.; to support and approve the lake front development plan.

Commissioners are expected to appoint an acting city manager, to take over when W. E. Knowles must be out of town; set up interview days

Woman Driver Held In Crash

A motorist identified by police as Mary Louise Marlar of 116 W. Second St. was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated Sunday night after her car struck a pole at Third Street and Oak Avenue.

Patrolmen Roderick Hancock and Charles Fagan said the driver was treated by a private physician for a nose fracture prior to the arrest.
