Student with knife busted

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - An anonymous tip led to the discovery of a knife on a Lake Brantley High School student Thursday. The knife was the first weapon retrieved through a new program designed to keep weapons out of schools by offering a $100 reward.

Spearheaded by Paul Galtman, a local businessman and a Lake Brantley parent, the program allows students to inform school authorities anonymously and receive a reward. Funded through contributions from businesses, the

Boys plead in recruitment case

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - Two teenage boys who had been charged with violating Florida's street gang recruitment law have pleaded no contest to other charges related to the case.

Thomas Bavastano, 16, and Jeremy Estep, 15, entered their pleas Thursday morning in Seminole County Juvenile Court. They pleaded no contest to one count each of attempted burglary, a third degree felony and battery, a first degree misdemeanor.

Making sure Seminole Audubon Society doesn't become extinct

By SHARI BRADIE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Roger and Janet Grimshaw want to make sure that the Seminole Audubon Society doesn't become extinct.

Strong leadership is always a rare commodity in volunteer organizations. Roger, who has accepted the position of president pro tem, takes over the helm after the club has been inactive and with out a leader for several months.

The husband-wife team from Sanford has been involved in the group for several years. In accepting the leadership role, Roger inherited all of the club's records, which includes minutes from meetings dating back to 1949. A noteworthy member of the club was renowned artist E.B. Stowe.

The Grimshaws are adamant about saving

Stadium update

Renovations could exceed $1 million

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium could be in for a major facelift to the tune of $1.1 million or more.

Last year the City Commission allocated more than $300,000 for renovations to the stadium, which had been in a state of disrepair for a number of years, according to Tom Farnsworth, the city's recreation director.

The department is asking the city for an additional $70,000 to hire a consultant to prepare a business plan and coordinate the renovation effort.

A business plan would also serve as a tool to procure outside

Now that's an Italian feast

Sandi Moore, left, and Audrey Buchanan, of the Lake Mary Woman's Club, are getting ready for the club's 10th Annual Italian Feast. The feast, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 8 from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. will be held at the Community Building in Lake Mary, 260 N. Country Club Rd. The cost is only $5 for adults, $3 for children 3 to 10 and free for children 2 and under. Proceeds go to the club's scholarship fund. There will also be a craft show and sale.

1997 Golden Age Games

As the Golden Age Games wind down to the final day Saturday, competition is as fierce and friendly as ever. Seniors from 55 to 90 plus converged on Sanford this week to compete in the 23rd annual event. For continuing coverage, see inside today.

It's time, epicures, to discover what Sanford tastes like

Local chefs add spice to holiday fund-raiser

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

Local restaurateurs will have the chance to show off their culinary talents during "A Taste of Sanford" Saturday from 4 to 7 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center.

"We're just going to go and serve what's most popular," said Ellen Schirmer, proprietor of The Willow Tree Restaurant in downtown Sanford.

Sponsored by Sanford Main Street, the event features the cuisine of area restaurants. For $10, guests may sample specialty dishes from the following restaurants: Bbee's Home Cooking, Willow Tree Cafe, Rowdy Rusty's Wings, Rose Cottage Tea Room, We Three Girls Gourmet Cafe, Mama Willie's Cafe, Papa John's Pizza, Angelo's Pizzeria, Gator Landing, Rib Ranch, The Tin Lizzie, Steak 'n Shake, Rivershore Romance, Wolfy's, Main Street Marketplace, Golden Lamb Restaurant, Marina Hotel and Conference Center, El Potro Mexican, So-bik's Subs and 3-D's Restaurant & Bakery.

Schirmer expects to be very busy Saturday morning, as she prepares her dishes the day they are served. "We're making chicken salad, which I serve on French bread. And I have my special Vatrushka," a cheesecake which Schirmer lovingly makes from scratch.

"We're throwing in a surprise, a wine tasting," Schirmer added.

Also at the event, there will be live jazz music and a cash bar. In addition, a judging panel will select favorite dishes from each establishment.

Proceeds will benefit Winter Fest '97, which will be held in historic downtown Sanford. For more information, call 322-5600.

"It's going very well," Main Street President Bob Parsell said Friday. "It's surprising how the word is spreading throughout Seminole County."

Parsell said that Main Street was pleased with the number and variety of restaurants who agreed to participate in this first-time event. "It looks like it's going to be a good event."

Bayou: Not bad, not good, but human

David Frazier

Screen Tests

Eve's Bayou (Three stars) probably would have worked better on the printed page than on film. Actress turned writer and, now, director Kasi Lemmons may have been better off letting someone else direct instead of her. Sure, she may have felt closer to the story than an outsider, but a more adept touch is needed here. It's not bad, but it is not what was expected either.

Lemmons' tells her story through the eyes of Eve Battiste (Jurnee Smollett), a passionate 10-year-old that absolutely hates to see those she loves hurt. Her older sister (Megan Good) thinks she is Daddy's favorite, but is confused on how best to serve him. She feels for her aunt (Debbi Morgan), a psychic who has the worst luck with men and she feels that she is a curse to any man she marries. Her mother (Lynn Whitefield) is confused about the status of the relationship with her husband (Samuel L. Jackson), a philandering local doctor. Even though she has a little brother (Jake Smollett), he is used for filler in the story. There is no easy solution for her family's problems and things may turn explosive instead of becoming better.

Lemmons' actors are what brings us closer to Eve's Bayou. A discovery has been made in Jurnee Smollett (Jack), whose performance is as touching as it is forceful. And Diabann Carroll (The Five Heartbeats) is colorful as an old voodoo woman living in the marshes of the Bayou. But the best is Samuel L. Jackson (187), who, in this supporting role, shows a man neither bad or good but human with the same human frailties afforded to any sinner on the Earth. Jackson's performance is his best so far this year.

Given that the film is set in the Bayou region, it doesn't feel like it is actually there. Lemmons' may have the accents, the culture and the locations but she doesn't have the intangible sense of the area. She wanted a Southern story, but this film could have easily taken place in a small Florida town, for instance, than the Bayou.

Lemmons' also does not have the ability to bring the force that is needed to this powerful material. It is a sad, feminist film about women trying to live and cope despite what is thrown at them. They are survivors; yet the potent drama it takes to bring that off is absent.

I was aware that Lemmons' intentions was to make a touching film about the Battiste women trying to remain strong and in control although confused and vulnerable. And she partially accomplishes that. Eve's Bayou had the potential of being one of the best films of the year. The ingredients were there but not the recipe to mix them.

Columbia Pictures in association with Dutch director Paul Verhoeven hope to a few million moviegoers for the new film Starship Troopers (Two and a half stars). The collaboration is deploying a heavy armament of special effects, sarcastic wit and a slaughterhouse of violence.

The fact that Troopers lacks in some fundamental rationa such as plot and characterization doesn't matter much. This film is Verhoeven grabbing you by the collar and slamming you hard to the concrete.

Verhoeven and screenwriter Ed Neumeier, adapting the novel by Robert A. Heinlein, team up again and present yet another version of distant future. By far, this duo did a better job in RoboCop. Here, your either are in awe of the special effects or crumpling your stomach in hopes of keeping lunch down due to all the graphic mutilations in the film.

Masons to video kids

The Sanford Lodge #82 F & AM will hold a child ID videotaping Saturday, Nov. 8 from 8 a.m. to noon at 212 N. Park Ave., Sanford.

The Masons are providing this community service at no cost to parents. Each parent will be given the original videotape of their child, to store in a safe place. In the event of an emergency, the tape can be given to law enforcement for the purposes of identifying a lost child.

At 8, Sheriff Don Eastinger and Sanford Police Chief Joe Dillard will be present at the event which will also include a fingerprinting unit from the Sanford Police Department. For more information, please call Larry Brooker at 322-2618.

'Wellness After 50' to be presented

Special to Herald

The Elder Affairs Commission invites all area seniors to participate in the first "Wellness After 50" Health Fair, an occasion planned to educate seniors on health maintenance issues.

"It is a known fact that the population over age 50 is growing at a much faster rate than other age groups," said Elder Affairs Commission member Dr. Ronald Malave, "hence the need to address health-related issues which affect our long term welfare."

The event is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Lake Mary community Center, 280 N. Country Club Rd.

In addition to exhibits, educational material and video tape presentations, there will be food, entertainment and door prizes.

The following corporate sponsors are scheduled to participate in this event: Bristol Myers, Eli Lilly & company, Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, Glaxo-Wellcome Pharmaceuticals, Oraron, Wyeth-Ayerst, Pharmacia-Upjohn, Orlando Regional Healthcare System, Florida Hospital, Columbia Medical Center, Staff Builders Home Care, Care One Home Health Care, HouseCall Home Health Care, Quality Life PHP Program, Florida Hospital PHP Program, Seminole YMCA, city of Lake Mary and Seminole community college.

Get Ready for a Great Day in the Country

BY DAVID FRAZIER Herald Staff Writer

OVIDO - There is one annual sign that Oviedo has not parted with its hometown image. The 24th annual Great Day in the Country arts and crafts festival is set for Saturday, Nov. 8, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the GFWC Oviedo Women's Club. The group which was founded in 1908 has been presenting Great Day in the Country to promote the arts and to fund many community organizations, charities and projects. Over 300 exhibitors are expected to compete for awards and ribbons, and sell their arts and crafts at the show.

Some of the highlights of this year's Great Day are: free admission, free parking, activities for the children, live entertainment, food and drinks, a student art fest, a country store, fresh vegetables, a bean soup mix, service organization exhibits, merchant display booths and cash awards and ribbons.

Great Day in the Country does give its proceeds to community recipients. Those that will receive monies are: scholarships, school bands, Canine Companions, Oviedo Police and Fire, NJROTC, Hacienda Girls Ranch, school media centers, Seminole County Library (East Branch), Back to Nature, Habitat for Humanity, Special Olympics, ROCK Camp, Seminole Humane Society and Memorial Building. Last year's fundraising event enabled $18,000 in donations to be fed back to the community. An estimated 40,000 people were in attendance at last year's event.

The site for Great Day in the Country is at Lawton Grove

Park and the Lawton Elementary School grounds in downtown Oviedo at the corner of State Road 426 and Lake Jessup Avenue. There will be free shuttle service to the event from Oviedo High School. For more information, call (407) 365-9420.

Weightlifters press on, proving strength, endurance win medals

By MARIA OREM
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - Competitors gave it their all at the weightlifting event Thursday at the Golden Age Games in Sanford.

"Come on, you can do it. Push, push," said the crowd, as they encouraged competitors during the two-hour event.

There were 14 weightlifters in four age categories, both men and women between the ages of 56 and 74, taking part in two events, the bench press and the curl. For the bench press, lifters were required to lift half their weight and do as many repetitions as they could. The curl weights were estimated at 25 percent of the lifters' weight.

Spotters watched while the lifters pushed themselves to the limit concentrating on the task at hand.

At age 56 and the youngest competitor, Sanford resident Ross Robert lifted his way to two gold medals. He will participate in track and field events on Saturday.

"This is great," Robert said, adding that he exercises regularly. "This event fosters fitness for seniors."

Robert could be heard giving advice periodically.

"If your arms lock up on you, you gotta rest a bit," he said.

Heaving weights, often yelling "just some more on," Harriet Boyd, 74, of Lake Mary walked away with one gold and one silver.

Boyd has participated in senior athletic events for the past 20 years and "will do it again next year if God lets me stay here."

Boyd said she has always been athletic.

"I played with the boys all my life and I always whipped 'em too," she said. "Jumping from trees as a kid helped me out."

Despite a mitral valve deficiency, Boyd said the exercise has kept her alive all these years.

With machine like precision, Steve Smith, 64, of Sanford earned two gold medals in his class. Smith performed 150 repetitions of the curling bar, and when it wasn't his turn to lift could often be heard yelling words of encouragement as he counted along with the other lifters.

"One more, you can do it," Smith said.

Closing her eyes as she reached 50 curls. Barbara Farnsworth offered the audience a smile when she reached her goal and the bar weights dropped off the curling bar. Farnsworth, who also took away a gold in the bench press, works out regularly at the gym in DeLand, which she co-owns with husband Tom Farnsworth, who serves as coordinator of the weight lifting event.

Also earning medals were See Weights, Page 3A

Sanford resident Ross Robert, 56, is the youngest competitor in the weightlifting contest. Robert took two Gold Medals, in bench press and curls, and will participate in track and field Saturday.

Seniors in the swim of things

By MARY ROWELL
Herald Correspondent

OVIDO Thursday, November 6 was the perfect Florida day for a swim which made it the perfect day for the swimming competition of the Golden Age Games. The swim meet was held at River Park in Oviedo. Competitors aged 55 and up raced for the gold. The oldest competitor, who didn't look a day over 80, was 91 year old Leonard Stone. Leonard competed in the 100 yard breaststroke, the 50 yard breaststroke, the 100 yard freestyle, the 50 yard freestyle

- and the 50 yard Backstroke. Ria Terhaar, who medaled in the cycling events earlier in the week, was busy collecting medals for her swimming. Ria originally from the Netherlands, loves the competition. The games work because of the numerous volunteers involved in it. For the swimming many of the volunteers came from the American Red Cross. The Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) has also provided a lot of volunteers.

Now Is The Time To Plan For Tomorrow

Bobby Brisson

While no one likes to think about his or her own mortality, the fact is, one day your loved ones may be at a loss to deal with all the final details.

That is why pre-planning and pre-arranging your funeral now can help lighten the load - both emotionally and financially - on your family later.

It's also the best way to help insure that your service is performed in strict accordance with your own wishes.

1997 Golden Age Games

Champ feels blessed at 80

By RUSS WHITE
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - His name tag reads Louie Aiello. His wife, Barbara, calls him, "Luigi." He's 80 years old. He lives in a retirement village at Lady Lake and likes to race-walk, shoot baskets and play table tennis.

Aiello's grateful to be so active. He survived the battles of World War II in New Guinea and he's survived two brain tumor surgeries in recent years. He has to carefully watch his blood/sugar count to avoid seizures.

Louie Aiello hasn't the time to complain, however. "Life's too much fun," he said. "I've been blessed to hang around for awhile."

On Tuesday, Aiello won a Gold Medal for basketball in the Golden Age Games. There isn't a race-walk event this year which meant a day off Wednesday, leaving Aiello well-rested for Thursday's table tennis.

He was one of the first to arrive at the Salvation Army Gymnasium around 8 a.m. That gave him some time to warm up and check out who his opponent would be.

Sadly, there was no one his age to challenge Aiello.

"I was hoping to see the fellow I played last year," he said. Or maybe another 80-year-old, but no one showed.

Bill Malczowski, the tournament coordinator from Fleet Reserve Association Branch 147, asked if Aiello would care to play in the 75-79 age group with the younger fellows. This meant a tough match with last year's gold medal winner Carmen Ricevuto from Lake Wales. Ricevuto, 75, won the match, 21-9, 21-13. He went on to win another gold medal.

Aiello also was awarded a table tennis gold medal - for being the only 80 year-old to come to play. Recently, he earned five gold medals (the hard way) in various events at the senior games in Kissimmee-St. Cloud. Three were in basketball, one in table tennis and the other in the race-walk.

"I'd like to see them get the race-walk back in the Golden Age competition," said Aiello, who has competed in Sanford the last 12 years. "The problem is that they haven't been able to find certified race-walk officials."

From the time he was a youngster in Portland, Ore., Aiello was into sports. He was one of seven children in the Aiello family. His dad, John, was a railroad laborer from Italy.

"I used to love to play baseball," Aiello said. "We had good teams in Portland. I played high school ball and American Legion. One of the guys who was with the Legion team was Johnny Peaky, who made it to the big leagues with the Boston Red Sox."

Aiello, who is 6-foot-2, played first base and third base, and had some semi-pro experience before going off to war in 1941.

He and Barbara Aiello have lived the last 13 years at The Villages of Lady Lake. There were 2,000 seniors there when the Aiellos arrived. Now, there are 18,000.

One of Aiello's table-tennis buddies in Lady Lake is Walter Crenweige, 58, a silver medal winner in the tough 55-59 men's group at the Golden Age Games.

"Louie's a fine gentleman and a wonderful player," Crenweige said. "We've had some nice matches in Lady Lake. We have quite a group who play three or four times a week."

"The game requires superb hand-eye coordination, and quickness that I don't have," Aiello said. "My legs are OK, strong from race-walking but I'm just not as quick as I would like to be."

Aiello was watching some of the younger players compete at the five tables inside the Salvation Army Gym when he was approached by Bill Malczowski. "I'm privileged to give you this Gold Medal," Malczowski told Aiello.

"Hope to see some fellows my age next year," Aiello said. "Tell them to come. Let's play."

"My Luigi, I'm proud of you," Barbara Aiello told her husband. "Look at those legs. They're made of iron."

"From the race walking," he said. "That keeps the legs strong."

IN BRIEF

House of Refuge activities

House of Refuge, 1001 Celery Ave., will have Prophet Richard Minus as speaker for the 11 a.m. service Sunday. Prophet Minus is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary.

A Praise Celebration will be hosted nightly from Nov. 26 to 28 with Apostle J.L. Cash. The service will be held at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

On Dec. 14 the public is invited to hear Dr. Elizabeth Hurston, author and minister. She is in demand in the U.S., Central America, the Caribbean Islands, Africa, South America and Europe. She will speak at the 11 a.m. service and again at 7 p.m.

For more information about events call Evangelist Dora Richardson at 324-4711.

Homecoming scheduled

Paula Wesleyan Church, 5050 Wayside Dr., will hold its homecoming on Sat., Nov. 8 from 1 to 3 and Sun., Nov. 9 at 11 a.m. A gospel jamboree will take place at 1:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend. Admission is free for the jamboree.

For more information call the church office at 322-6332.

Men's Bible Study

Each Monday at 7:30 p.m. Sanford Christian Church is conducting a Men's Bible Study. Presently the study is looking into the seven steps outlined in Promise Keepers. The study is open to all men in the area.

Call 322-0980 for more information. The church is located at 730 Upala Rd. in Sanford.

Save labels

Sanford Church of Christ, 1500 S. Park Ave., is working desperately to save Campbell soup, V-8 labels, Prego spaghetti, Pepperidge Farms, Viasic and Swanson labels to purchase a church van. Members are short on funds so this alternative method can help provide transportation for youth activities, those unable to drive, running errands and visiting other church functions.

Anyone wishing to help with this effort please send labels to the church office at the above address at the zip code 32771 or call the church office at 322-7781.

Jeannette Stiffey will also pick up labels from those desiring to contribute. Please contact her at 322-8234. One million labels are necessary so much help is needed to make this goal a reality.

Save Campbell labels

Members of Holy Cross Episcopal Church and the public are reminded to save Campbell soup product labels. These may be deposited in a container in the Parish House kitchen, left with the church secretary or mailed to the church office at 401 S. Magnolia Ave., Sanford, 32771.

New church signs

New church signs for Holy Cross Episcopal Church indicating the location of the church have been erected at the entrance to Sanford on North and South Highway 17-92 and East and West Highway 46. The purchase of these signs was made possible by an anonymous gift by one of the Holy Cross communicants.

Piano concert

Roderick Gorby, formerly the pianist at First Christian Church, will perform a solo piano recital on Sun., Nov. 9 at 4 p.m. This will be at the First Christian Church, 1607 Sanford Ave.

The program will include Bach's inventions, Mozart's Fantasy and Sonata in C Minor, K475,457 and two concert etudes by Liszt. Gorby is a junior music student at Rollins College with a piano major and is an accomplished musician.

The concert is free and the public is welcome to attend.

"ENORMO" presented

Wektva Assembly, 1675 Dixon Rd. (in the Mandarin Estates-subdivision), will host "ENORMO," which is an astronomical, humongous, enormous, multi-acre event. There will be a yard sale, bake sale, crafts, food, a children's carnival, petting zoo, pony rides, carwash, music and more.

Interim Health Care will be giving flu shots for 810 to anyone who needs immunization. The event will take place from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

For more information call the church office at 774-0777.

Church activities

Allen Chapel AME Church, 1203 Olive Ave., is offering free tutoring in reading and math skills for elementary students: Monday, Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 6:30 p.m., Wednesday from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Middle school students Monday, Tuesday, Thursday from 5 to 5:30 p.m. and Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Youth church activities for ages 13 to 18 meet the first and 4th Tuesdays of each month at 7 p.m. Parents attendance is required at all meetings. Youth services are held on the fourth Sunday of the month at 5 p.m.

For more information call the church office at 322-6864.

"True Christmas" event set

Experience the "True Christmas" event with Holy Cross Church, 760 Sun Dr., in Lake Mary on Friday, Dec. 5 and Sat., Dec. 6 from 5:30 to 8 p.m. as members recreate the City of Bethlehem as it was when Mary and Joseph walked through it's streets. The experience is completely authentic from the time you register with the tax collector to a meal of camel stew.

All for just $2 per person. You and your children can make crafts, play games from the period, and have the opportunity to dress in Bethlehem attire as you walk the streets.

A live Nativity will be presented at 7 and 8 p.m. on Sat., Dec. 6 only. Due to construction at the church, the event will be held at Lake Mary City Hall.

For more information call Chris Jennison at 333-0797.

Walk Through Bethlehem

You and your family can encounter the sights, sounds and customs of the very first journey back to the Bethlehem of 2000 years ago. First Baptist Church of Longwood presents "Walk Through Bethlehem," a dramatic outdoor re-creation of the town of Bethlehem and the renowned events and personalities that surrounded the birth of Jesus Christ. This live production features a cast of over 300, with Wise Men, shepherds, along with live animals and guided tours of the city.

The event will take place on Fri. and Sat., Dec. 5 and 6 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Sun., Dec. 7 from 2 to 9 p.m. and again Fri., Dec. 12 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Sat. Dec. 13 and Sun., Dec. 14 from 2 to 9 p.m.

Admission is free. The church is located at 801 State Road 434 in Longwood (1 block west of Hwy. 17092, 4 miles east of I-4, north of Orlando).

For more information call the church office at 339-3817.

Sharing Center, What's In a name

By SUSAN WENNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The Sanford Christian Sharing Center is now in its 21st year of service in Sanford and Seminole County. The "Sanford" in this name is of great importance.

The organization was founded in 1977 by Father L. Soper of Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Workers contend that "they make service decisions as they believe God intended, with their hearts and intuition."

Volunteers of the agency consider their mission to be to "provide food and clothing free to those that have a genuine need. No one is turned away on their first visit," according to Irene Brown, the Sharing Center's director.

Although occasional clients of the center have some income or are assisted by the government with such programs as SS, SSI, SFDC and Food Stamps, the center will "always" help first time clients yet encourage those to not depend totally on the organization's assistance. The Sharing Center comes into play by helping in an immediate crisis but not on a long term basis.

The Sanford Christian Sharing Center has been helping the needy for more than 20 years.

Clients come from North Seminole County, Lake Mary, Lake Monroe, Oviedo, Geneva and Osteen as well as the Sanford area. No one is turned away because of the location in which they live.

Speaking engagements can be scheduled for churches and any interested party by calling 323-2513 from 9 a.m. until noon or 322-9141 in the afternoons. The presentations are brief and informative and well-suited for worship services and sermons.

"Ten minutes is all it takes to tell the story of how and why God places the Sanford Christian Sharing Center in your community," said Brown. "We need your prayers and financial support and your help in getting the word to others."

Church spaghetti dinner a success

Grace United Methodist Church of Lake Mary recently held its Spaghetti dinner sponsored by the men of the church. Kit Carson, Herb Brown, Tommy Brow and Jim Gunsten all assisted with the luncheon which was deemed a success.

Is your spiritual life a bit "itchy?"

SANFORD - I recently read an article in a church bulletin that I received. The story was told of children discussing how their clothing was "itchy." A little starch had been added to give the wardrobe a crisper, polished look yet the discomfort outweighed the overall look.

The pastor spoke of how God sometimes puts us in uncomfortable situations. With much resistance, we find ourselves squirming around and spying other ways to settle into our way of life.

As the minister pointed out, God is "more interested in our character than our comfort." That's a hard lesson to learn at times when our circumstances are challenged, bank accounts dwindling, health is threatened and situations well surpass our level of feeling at ease.

Staff Writer

Paul said, in Phil. 4:11, "I have learned that whatsoever state I am in, therewith to be content." Talk about hard times. This man endured prison, sleep deprivation, starvation and a host of other things that you and I can barely comprehend, yet he was still able to praise God and count his blessings.

When the laundry is sky-high, the dishes are overflowing, the boss is a pain, the car is in the shop and everyone around you is begging for time and attention, can you still look on the sunny side? Are you able to keep your cool, say a prayer and be content in your present state?

Most of us would have to say a resounding "no. I can't take it anymore." Much of our days are spent in anxiety over what might happen. We worry about the past. We worry about the future.

The Bible tells us to "seek those things that are above" and all that we need will be added. God will not let us go hungry, naked or unsheltered. He will provide for our needs.

The body, the church, is supplied as a help to comfort and care for us too.

Let us be reminded that "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose." (Romans 8:28) Circumstances in our lives happen for a reason and He sees the big picture.

God never promised a rose garden. He didn't say times would be easy when we serve Him and He didn't demand that we be perfect. We are called to be faithful and persevere.

When our heart is just He sees beyond the imperfections and reminds us about contentment, perseverance and His love. He will never fail us.

Great turn-out for church craft sale

Sister resists taking sides with brother

DEAR ABBY: My youngest brother, Jim, and his wife, Mary, have been separated for a couple of years and plan to divorce. They have three children and I have four, all close in age.

About three weeks ago, my youngest son, Billy, said he missed his cousins and wanted to go to Aunt Mary's mobile home to visit them. I called my brother and asked how he felt about Billy's request.

A few days later, Billy saw his cousins in school, and they begged him to visit them. I then called Mary and she, too, invited us over. We had a very pleasant evening together.

The next morning, Jim arrived at my place and said, "I see that you chose Mary over me. I'm having a birthday party next weekend, and you and your kids are not invited. Furthermore, you can never come to my house again."

I replied, "OK, I'll be loyal to you! I won't see Mary again."

I discussed my brother's attitude with our parents. Dad said, "You should be loyal to your brother." Mom said, "It's about feelings."

Abby, maybe I shouldn't have gone to my estranged sister-in-law's home, but I don't think I was being disloyal to my brother. Do you think Jim was out of line? MINNEAPOLIS READER

DEAR READER: Your brother obviously is distraught at the breakup of his marriage, and yes, I would say that Jim was out of line.

It's sad enough that his children are losing their full-time father without losing their cousins as well.

DEAR READERS: A man went into a fortune-teller's shop and waited for a reading. The fortune-teller gazed into the crystal ball and said, "You will be poor and unhappy until you are 48 years old."

"Then what will happen?" asked the man.

The fortune-teller replied, "Then you'll get used to it."

New 'wonder peanut' beats olive oil

A new 'wonder peanut' being harvested for the first time in the United States this month beats olive oil in health benefits, says a University of Florida peanut breeder.

The SunOleic 97R peanut, developed by Daniel W. Gorbet, a University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences agronomy professor, not only surpasses olive oil in cholesterol-lowering properties, it offers growers better yields than the industry standard.

And if that isn't enough, it offers manufacturers and retailers a three to 15-fold increase in product shelf life, Gorbet says.

Don't enter into marriage in an underdog position

Dear Mary, I've been with my boyfriend for five years. We've talked about getting married for the last three years, but something always seems to get in the way of our making real plans, and going ahead with it.

When I started pushing him to move forward with our marriage plans, he decided he needed to get his house fixed up before we get married so we'll have a nice place to live.

It seems to me he's making a career out of fixing up his house. Really, it was OK before he even started fixing it up and now it seems like the list of projects doesn't end and that's what he wants to do.

Sometimes I think he doesn't really want to get married and is looking for excuses to keep from setting the date. I know we could really be happy together once we're married if he can just get past being so scared to take the big step.

It's to the point now where there is a lot of tension between us every time I mention

CONSUMER FOCUS

BARBARA HUGHES/GREGG

"Longer shelf life also gives the new peanut an edge in taste. In industry meetings, where many varieties of peanuts are handed out and tested by growers and manufacturers, this is the peanut everyone's eating. Not only does it taste good, it holds its flavor longer."

What gives the peanut its health-promoting qualities is its chemistry, Gorbet says. It has more than 80 percent oleic fatty acid—compared with about 50 percent in regular peanuts. Fatty acids are a major component in all oils, but it is the oleic form—found in large quantities in olive and canola oils—that scientists believe make them healthy.

"This peanut has even more oleic acid than olive or canola oils. Its health benefits, therefore, could potentially be better," he says.

Coronary heart disease is the leading cause of death for women over 40. Yet in 1995 University of Florida nutrition study, the new peanut's chemistry, in conjunction with a low-fat diet, was shown to help reduce coronary risk factors by lowering blood cholesterol levels in postmenopausal women.

the "bad" cholesterol. This year's SunOleic 97R crop will go to commercial growers in 1998, he says. The peanut should appear in products on grocer's shelves in 1998/99.

To provide enough seed for growers, this year's crop is being grown in five major peanut-producing states: Florida, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina, and Texas.

Gorbet has spent 27 years working on peanut breeding. He says SunOleic 97R is a significant development for both the peanut industry and the consumer because of its chemistry. "It is the direction that breeders will go with peanuts in the future," he says.

FOOTBALL FEVER

By JEFF BERLINICK
Herald Staff Writer

Game of the week:

Lyman (1-6, two weeks ago lost to Deland 20-17, 3OT) at Lake Howell (2-6, last week lost to Rutherford, 48-7), 7:30 p.m.

It's do or die for the Silver Hawks which are hosting their Homecoming tonight.

Last week, Lake Howell got trounced by the number one team in Class 5A after Rutherford made a 10-hour drive and had to spend the night after heavy rains canceled the originally scheduled starting time.

This week, Lake Howell takes on one of the best 1-6 teams anywhere in Lyman. The Greyhounds have lost three overtime games already this season including a heartbreaker against Deland two weeks ago. Lyman played the district champion Bulldogs to a 3-3 tie in regulation without all-around star Tarik McCall before losing in the third overtime. Lyman has been out of the race for several weeks but can really throw a wrench into Lake Howell's chances of returning to the playoffs with an upset.

Lake Howell features tough quarterback Jesse Hannon and a strong tandem of running backs. Kawika Mitchell was out of the lineup recently but is expected to play tonight as the Silver Hawks need to win to keep hopes alive.

A win over Lyman coupled with a Lake Brantley upset of Oviedo puts Lake Howell back into the thick of the district race but they have to do their part tonight.

Lake Brantley (3-5, last week lost to West Orange, 20-12) at Oviedo (5-3, last week lost to Seminole, 38-12), 7:30 p.m.

Oviedo has to win to stay in the catbird's seat for the second district playoff spot. A win sends them to Dr. Phillips (now, there's a real prize) in the first round of the playoffs.

For Lake Brantley, a win gives the Patriots a strong shot at a tie-breaker with Lake Howell in the mix.

Lake Brantley has been barely hanging on all season. The Patriots started off with two losses, started to play well, then got thumped by Lake Howell and West Orange last week. Part of the recent struggles have been due to injuries. Fullback Ryan Pagan missed the last two games and quarterback Brian Criawell is out for the season after suffering an ankle injury against the Silver Hawks.

Lake Brantley comes into this game with one less day to prepare since rains forced a postponement until Saturday last weekend for the West Orange game.

Oviedo has also managed to stay alive after a slow start. By beating Lake Howell earlier in the season, Oviedo moved into the second slot in the district race, but got trounced by Seminole last week.

Is Seminole that good or are the Lions that shaky? In tonight's game, Oviedo will have to come up with that answer. Both teams have spent the season finding ways to win when needed, but with Lake Brantley starting a quarterback - Regan Russell - and possibly without Pagan, the game is right there for Oviedo to take and spoil the Patriots' and Silver Hawks' title hopes.

Deland (8-1, last week beat Pine Ridge, 28-14) at Lake Mary (0-7, last week's game cancelled by weather), 7:30 p.m.

At least the Rams won't go 0-10. Last week's game against Jacksonville White was postponed due to the weather, so the Rams will play only a nine-game schedule.

Although the Rams' season has been a severe disappointment, tonight's game could be winnable. Deland has already clinched the district title and home field for the first round of the state playoffs, so for the Bulldogs, tonight's game is meaningless. Not so for Lake Mary which has a load of talent that has underachieved all season.

Last week's Homecoming game was called off so tonight will be as close as it gets to a Homecoming for the Rams.

It's the same story every week for Lake Mary. Quarterback Cory Cooper has been impressive and conservative all year. Tim Spivey is the county's most dangerous receiver and Robbie Randall is always a threat to go the distance.

On defense, Justin Wright and Cam Carter have been solid, but the rest of the unit has been getting torched. If Deland chooses to try some new options to rest its key players for the playoffs, look for the Rams to pull off an upset.

Seminole loses war

Tribe dominates game, but not the scoreboard

By JEFF BERLINICK
Herald Staff Writer

DAYTONA BEACH - Last night, the Seminole football team learned that the only numbers that matter are the ones on the scoreboard at the end of the game.

The 'Noles dominated the Mainland Buccaneers in every facet of the game at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium except the final score which went to the Bucs, 31-17.

The loss ended hopes for a district championship, but Seminole will still head for the playoffs as a result of its second place finish. The Tribe will travel to Merritt Island to take on the many-time state champion Mustangs, who were in the same district with Seminole a year ago.

Mainland is expected to host Occochee in the opening round of the playoffs.

Still, the loss was tough for Seminole after the way it played last night.

The offense was awesome as Tim Raines, Deon Howard and Joe Knight piled up tons of yardage and the offensive line manhandled the Mainland line.

On defense, the 'Noles didn't allow a first down until halfway through the third quarter, holding Mainland to three-and-out for over 30 minutes.

In other words, Mainland punted the ball on 25 percent of its plays from scrimmage until late in the third quarter.

Mistakes, however, killed Seminole's district hopes. Penalties and turnovers spelled the difference, not to mention some questionable offclating against both teams.

After holding Mainland to three plays, Seminole mounted its first of several time-consuming drives. Seminole took 13 plays to move to the Mainland eight before turning the ball over on a fumbled handoff.

It was the first of many Seminole mistakes. Four plays later, Seminole started again, this time at its own 42. With Raines running the option for the first time all season at quarterback and alternating with Garrett Goldsmith, Seminole capped off the drive with a 24-yard field goal from Jason Armstrong. Again, the Tribe missed a big opportunity, moving the ball to the four yard line and following with an apparent Knight touchdown plunge.

Special to the Herald

SANFORD - The Sanford Youth Football Association celebrated its 1997 Homecoming Day at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium last Saturday in grand fashion, winning four of five games.

The Junior Pee Wee's took the field first and started the off with a bang by winning 18-0 in a mini-game because Cocoa Beach did not have enough players (16) to play a full game.

Lavario Carey, filling in at wide receiver, caught a 20-yard pass from Mike McKinzie and ran another 60 for a touchdown to start the scoring for the Noles. Chris Smith, Marcus Kendrick and T.J. Evans also played well.

The Junior Pee Wee's finished the season on a seven-game winning streak and allowed only 12 points all year. But they will have to be satisfied with a trip to a bowl game as they were misinformed about their district standings and did not qualify for the playoffs.

The Mitey-Mites were next and they scored a big 35-0 victory over the Tigers. Anthony Anderson, Rodney Grant, Dez Johnson and Kevin Elliott all took part in the scoring frenzy.

The Pee Wee's then cruised to a 31-12 triumph. Kendrick Knight had several long touchdown runs, while Chris Castillo and Jordan Vaughn also scored for Sanford.

The Junior Midgets then doubled the score on Cocoa Beach 26-13. Julius Griffen sealed the win for the Noles with a 45-yard touchdown run in the closing minutes of the game.

The lone loss suffered by Sanford was the Midgets, who fell 22-6. Marquis Jones took a hard hit in the game and payed a visit to the hospital. He was treated and released with a deep bruise to his right thigh.

The SYFA would like to thank Mitey-Mite cheerleaders Christina Samartino, Kendra Brinson, Tiffany Wilson, Ariel Deboese, LaKeisha Deboese, Dymcaha Dye, Laeonda Bryant, Mary Medlock, Michelle Poindexter and Charlye Bruke for their outstanding performance all season long.

Kings and queens for the Noles were Anthony Anderson, Kendra Brinson, Cavese Richardson, Laeonda Martin, Chris Castillo, Tenal Jumpp, Julius Griffen, Virginia Raines, Justin McKinney and Stefani Bruke.
