LINDYS HAILED BY CROWDS IN NEMURA, JAPAN

Officials Scout Report Of Suspicious Overflight In Banned Area

TOKYO, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—High government officials apparently didn't take seriously the report today that suspicions of certain authorities had been aroused by the landings of Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh on waters in prohibited zones in the Kurile Islands.

High authorities pointed out that the matter quite naturally might have been discussed in some circles not long ago...

Meanwhile at Nemura, the Lindberghs are being acclaimed in a wild ovation after the completion of the leg between there and Poriavovsk. They raised many hands in greeting and hurried to their hotel but soon were forced to come to the balcony where Lindbergh expressed his thanks for the demonstration.

He told interviewers of the exciting flight they experienced during the 35 hours during which the plane was in flight from where it landed in the fog. The next and final leg to Tokyo will be made later.

They came here from Anahara, on Kuroshiro Island, 500 miles to the north, where they spent the night. They were unable to land here Sunday because of heavy fog. After a 300 mile flight from Shima, Iriomote Island, in the southern Kuriles, the Lindberghs plane circled the city Monday.

At 4:45 P. M. (2:55 A. M. E. S. T.) the Oishi radio station asked them if they were still flying over Nemura.

"Recent impossible," Anne Lindbergh, radio operator of the plane, answered. "Clouds and dense fog." Later she disclosed the plane had only an hour's gasoline left. The message was incomplete and it was believed the couple had turned northward.

There followed a long suspense during which the plane's radio was not heard.

Finally came the faint dispatch: "Descend, but don't know where we are," and at 5:56 P. M. (4:06 A. M. E. S. T.): "Stay overhead here. Will communicate Oishi at 6 A. M. Sunday (1 P. M. Sunday E. S. T.)."

Subsequently their landing place was identified as Lake Anahara.

The fliers hopped off from the lake at 7:33 A. M. Monday (5:43 P. M. Sunday, E. S. T.), completing in 28 minutes the flight to Nemura, where they stopped on the mill of Japan proper for the first time.

Their reception at Nemura was probably the most simple of any during the present flight. The postmaster, acting as host, showed the flying couple around the fish hatcheries, located here.

Later they did ample justice to the dinner of rice, fish, beer and apples, and returned to their plane to spend the night.

When the Lindberghs were sighted over Nemura this morning they were high in the sky. The people of the city, who had been awaiting the fliers for a week, rushed to the beach and watched the black monoplane gracefully to the surface of the bay.

A throng of about 200 people gathered to see the plane land. Lindbergh was presented with the 3-year-old daughter of the town's head man.

MANY DEALS ARE PENDING FOR U. S. SURPLUS WHEAT

China Will Probably Receive 15,000,000 Bushels In Storage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—Another big crop of surplus wheat may be removed from the Farm Board's bin before the week closes.

Several sales and trades are in prospect. One sale of at least 15,000,000 bushels, and possibly much more, probably will be negotiated successfully with China for use in feeding that country's starving flood victims.

A new compromise for dealing with the Southern cotton farmers' over-production problem has been suggested by the Farm Board members who are giving serious study to hundreds of plans which followed rejection of its suggestion of plowing under every third row as a means of reducing supplies and bolstering prices.

Members of Congress, grain and cotton merchants, farmers and disinterested citizens have offered their ideas on disposing of the board's more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,700,000 bales of cotton and giving relief.

The prime minister left a cabinet session to go to Buckingham Palace, and the cabinet adjourned immediately after he returned.

Leaders of the conservative and liberal parties including Stanley Baldwin, Neville Chamberlain and Sir Herbert Samuel, entered into a conference with the prime minister in Downing Street after the adjournment of the cabinet. It was 10 minutes after midnight when Baldwin and Chamberlain left the prime minister's office.

Reports that the prime minister encountered strong opposition within the cabinet in his economy proposals came last night with considerable weight of authority. Most informed commentators said they could find nothing inherently improbable in the suggestion that the prime minister is turning toward the notion of a national government, and that the subject was debated in his midnight conference with opposition party chiefs.

When the prime minister returned from his late visit with the king, it was reported a statement would be issued from Downing Street within a few minutes. At the opposition leaders had conferred with him, however, it was believed the prime minister had changed his mind about forming a coalition, and that no movement on the government side could be expected until the cabinet met at Downing Street on Tuesday.

RELIEF SENT TO FLOOD VICTIMS IN CHINESE DISTRICT

Many Thousands Are Faced With Death Unless Help Comes

HANKOW, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—Relief was rushed to the flooded Yangtze river valley yesterday, but with the knowledge that many more thousands will die before any measures can prove effective for the homeless, starving, and pestilence ridden millions.

Careful surveys reveal that at least 1000 persons are dying each day in the district which centers around Wuhsang, Hanyang and Hankow. Sixty thousand square miles of Hopes and Hunan provinces are covered by water from 20 to 30 feet deep. Seven million people are homeless and destitute in these provinces.

It was impossible to estimate the number of deaths, but there was little doubt they would reach 2,000,000 in Hopes and Hunan provinces before the floods abate any ravages of disease and famine.

The American Asiatic fleet, acting on orders from Washington, prepared to bring aid to the distressed areas, but was limited because gunboats were not fitted to convey large numbers of refugees nor to transport any great quantity of supplies.

Relief societies worked feverishly to stop the death toll, but the tremendous need for relief surpassed their capacities. Lack of organization and transportation for food available in other parts of the country made certain that no scheme for immediate relief was likely to be effective.

In Hankow the situation in native sections was appalling. Hundreds of thousands, destitute with their little homes covered by the swirling waters, were starving. As they succumbed to hunger or disease their bodies were thrown into the Yangtze together with dead dogs, donkeys, and horses. It was impossible to dispose of the bodies otherwise.

Some measure of relief was afforded today with announcement that the Food level appeared satisfactory. A survey party reported the Han river, one of the contributing factors to the Yangtze floods, was falling.

NATIVE AMERICAN ELEMENT HEADS CRIMINAL LISTS

Commission's Report Explodes Accepted Foreign Born Myth

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—The Wickersham commission yesterday denied what it called a popular supposition that the foreign born were responsible for a disproportionate share of the crimes committed in certain midwestern and other cities.

In a special study for the commission's report on crime and the foreign born, prepared by Miss Alda C. Bowler, social worker and formerly secretary to the Los Angeles chief of police, she concluded that in proportion to number, native born persons were more often involved in crime than those born abroad.

After special investigation in Detroit, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Buffalo and Cincinnati, she concluded:

"In these five cities, the foreign born are accused about one-half as often as the native white and about one-eighth as often as the negro. The foreign born are (Continued on Page Two)

Rumbley Reports Result Of Drive To Get Boy Scout Fund

H. M. Rumbley, prominent city grocer who recently volunteered to act as a committee member to secure the city and county in a drive for funds to further the work of all Sanford Boy Scouts, this morning announced that, after a series of small contributions by many local persons had reached a total of over $200 toward a goal of $1000.

Mr. Rumbley declared that he is meeting with success in his efforts to aid Scout work here, and that most persons have contributed without hesitation when they were informed to what purpose the funds will be used. He is hopeful of completing his campaign this week, but asks that any person wishing to make a contribution toward the campaign send it to him by check.

Local scout activities are confined to several troops, all of which are sponsored by civilians. At the present time, the troops are in arrears in state and national dues, as well as owing a small amount of money for materials used in repair work and other construction details. The $200 which Mr. Rumbley expects to raise will be used for wiping out all existing debts, and placing all the troops in a sound financial basis.

Orlando Evangelist Holds 1st Service

Evangelist F. C. Wills, of Orlando, began a series of revival meetings yesterday at the Faith Gospel Tabernacle, before a large audience.

His text for the afternoon meeting was from Matthew, 17:21, and was on the subject, "The Defeated Church." The text for the night sermon was taken from Isaiah, 21:7.

During his evening sermon Evangelist Wills declared "I am not here to found a church, in prayer, nor to oppose the local ministry, but to assist as far as possible, in the betterment of church conditions and the upbuilding of God's Kingdom."

The meetings are inter-denominational in character, and the public is invited to attend each of them.

FEDERAL AID MAY BE TENDERED IN DRIVE ON GUNMEN

Recent Child Slayings In Gotham Have Resulted In Activity

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(A.P.)—An allied war on gunmen, whose pursuits of crime has taken the lives of children as well as police men in a series of recent outbreaks, gained momentum today.

From the Kaplan camp of the President, federal aid was indicated for the extermination of the type of hoodlums whose seizure of a patrol Friday precipitated one of the fiercest running pistol fights New York ever has seen.

Among the six persons killed in the chase was the 17-year-old daughter of a city fireman. The fireman today appeared in court charged with having his eight-year-old child suffer from a bullet wound. The condition of most nearly a dozen others who were shot in the pursuit was encouraging.

The widow of the taxicab driver who piloted the two robbers on their fatal flight through miles of congested Upper Manhattan, was agonized because she cannot bury her husband in consecrated ground until his name is cleared; the father of one of the dead robbers would not claim his body because the youth had "disgraced the whole family."

The outbreak has caused police officials, spurred by the loss of the lives of two patrolmen, to press their drive against outlaw gangs. An appropriation of $100,000 will be sought with which to equip patrol cars with radio sets, so they may be directed to the scene of an outbreak immediately. It was half an hour before any of the cruising ubiquitous squad joined Friday's chase.

Meanwhile, a mass meeting in Central Park was arranged for today in protest against gang violence. The meeting, sponsored by the New York American, will be presided over by Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state.

During the last 19 months a total of four innocent bystanders have been killed and 39 wounded by stray bullets. Police Commissioner Maloney revealed today. All four killed were children.

From the bedside of a 13-year-old James Jordan, a wounded bystander came word that he has only a slight chance of living because a bullet is pressing close to his heart.

Lindberghs Pass Evening In Hut Upon Fox Farm

From Marston Bay the Lindberghs will go to Nemuro, and thence to Tokyo, as they had planned when they were forced down Wednesday after leaving Siberia.

Although nothing was said about it, or even hinted, to the famous pair, the Japanese aboard the steamer suspected the feminine half of "We" was a bit homesick.

Several policemen were in the building guarding payrolls of other concerns at the time, but so well executed was the robbery that none of them heard the disturbance.

The holdup men were believed to have been former employees. The New Jersey shooting occurred when police mistook two youths for robbers who had held up the New Jersey Telephone company and escaped with $1600.

The girl employee of the telephone company failed to identify them as the robbers, and one of them was released. The other was taken to a hospital for treatment.

'SCABBY' PHELL IS BEING GROOMED FOR TACKLE POST

Veteran Of 2 Seasons Getting Ready For Opening Of Season

By FRANK S. WRIGHT

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 22.— Clarence Phell, more popularly known as "Scabby", is one of the outstanding tackle prospects for the 1931 University of Florida football team.

A veteran of two seasons with the varsity, Phell should be valuable to Coach Bachman in filling the wide gap from tackle to tackle caused by the loss of seven dependables.

Down in the sunshine city of St. Petersburg, where he gained all-state and all-southern scholastic gridiron fame, Phell is getting ready for the approaching season.

Phell, in his two previous seasons, has hucked stern competition, but with the passing of "Muddy Waters and Carine Proctor, he has an opportunity to rise to the responsibility that falls heavily upon aspirants to line positions this fall.

In 1925, playing for the Green Devils of St. Petersburg, "Scabby" was chosen for all-state tackle. Utilized at three positions the following year he was not given all-star mention, but in 1927 he returned his career with selection not only on the all-state, but the all-southern pep team as well.

well career was in 1927 when he kicked the point after touchdown that beat Miami, 7 to 6.

On that day, Al Dodge, former Gator missed the extra kick, but to make the story complete, a short time later in the state championship game with Hillsborough, Phell missed three tries for field goals, and Carlos Proctor, another former Gator tackle, booted one through the bars after three misses to give the Tampanas a 2 to 0 state title victory.

Two older Phell brothers, Abe and Hops, preceded "Scabby" as captains of the St. Petersburg High team, and each enrolled in the University of Florida, but injuries prevented the older boys from playing with the Gators.

Now is "Scabby's" big chance to bring a colorful athletic career to a big climax. A sister, Bertha, held three state swimming records for several years.

Whatever the competition at tackle, the name of Phell will be in the thick of the fray this fall.

Chinese Flood Has Left Wake Filled With Dead, Misery

The inundation in Northern China had turned the countryside into a lake that stretched to the horizon. It would be several months, engineers said, before the water would recede and there was no hope of planting a winter crop.

A typical flood scene was that at Kweichow, an important center in Eastern Honan Province. A mud wall surrounds the town and the Associated Press Correspondent there reported this rampart had become the home of thousands of destitute. The hospital and mission and church buildings were crowded with refugees.

The Yellow River, like the Yangtze, flows through a fertile and densely populated area. It has been an engineering problem for centuries and progress has been slow. Once the river emptied into the Yellow Sea but it was diverted by Geological changes and now has no natural outlet. The water

An organization now attracting considerable attention in Miami is the Dade County Tax Relief Association...

"The spirit of the business group is neither antagonistic nor destructively critical, but rather that of helpfulness. It is hoped that the city commission will meet the offer of assistance in the spirit in which it is proffered."

"Miami should end the fiscal year with a surplus of $1,500,000. That would indicate the city's present financial situation is good. Were $1,000,000 of this surplus applied to tax reduction it would be possible to cut taxes in Miami proper more than 26 per cent."

"Business men who have given weeks of study to city operations say an added $250,000 can be saved without minimizing efficiency. If that is true, the city's surplus at the end of the year should be near $1,750,000."

"Although the financial affairs of the city are most needful of immediate attention, it is the hope of this newspaper that the business group, while its sleeves still are rolled up, will consider the operating expenses and tax levies of the county and the several school districts."

"There is much incentive in the thought expressed by Banker Korath that Miami and Dade county might well be the unit that points the road back to other tax and debt burdened communities the country over that are struggling for a solution that can only lie in strict business administration of public affairs."

LEHMANN'S NEW POST ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

The news that Karl Lehmann will assume the duties as secretary of the Seminole Co. C of C in the fall will be reviewed with considerable interest here.

Congratulations are extended, both to Seminole in acquiring the services of a man, whose ability has already been tested and proved in Orange, and to Mr. Lehmann, who thus enters a county of central Florida capable of real and lasting development.

Seminole Co. with its great agricultural resources and its water transportation facilities offers opportunity for a constructive plan of county development and promotion. The news that its county C of C has decided to unite in a forward looking program of development and publicity is good news throughout central Florida.

Seminole has in the past been one of the star exhibitors in the Central Florida Exposition. Under the leadership of Pres. H. M. Papworth, of the county C of C Seminole will doubtless play an even more conspicuous part in future expositions.

Friends of Mr. Lehmann will be glad to know that he has decided to remain in central Florida and in an adjoining county. Relations...

BUDGET OF DADE COUNTY IS RAISED OVER LAST YEAR

Figures Are Based On Anticipated Collection Of 80 Percent

MIAMI, Aug. 24.—The Dade county budget of $1,683,526.21 for 1934-35 will be $59,845.21 more than last year, a detailed account which has been completed by W. E. Norton, clerk, reveals.

The tax levy is for a total return of $1,216,250 as compared with $1,198,750 last year. The budget, however, is based on the anticipated collection of 80 per cent of the actual levy, or $973,000 as compared with $959,000 last year, an increase of $14,000. The difference in the amount to be collected and the total of the budget is made up in departmental accounts.

The commission recently adopted a package of $1,142, the same amount as was levied last year based on an assessment roll for 1934-35 of $65,900,000. The fiscal year for the county begins Oct. 1st.

The detailed statement divides the general fund of $725,000 as follows: 34-man police salaries and expenses including clerk and janitor, county commission, county attorney, county engineer, county auditor, county clerk, county recorder, county assessor, county collector, county auditor, county clerk, county recorder, county assessor, county collector.

The U. S. military reserve at West Point recently added 10,000 acres of land along the Hudson river to its large range.

Such communities as Kansas City, Indianapolis, Wichita, and Des Moines, with relatively high percentages of native white population, report distinctly high crime rates. A natural conclusion to be drawn from these figures, all factors being carefully considered, is that a high proportion of foreign born in the population does not necessarily affect the crime rate in an adverse direction, and that other factors are far more potent in the determinaup their highest rate in drunkenness. But even so, it is but slightly more than half of the native born.

After a study of data from nine cities, including in addition to those mentioned, Chicago, and Kansas City, she said:

"Here, as in the previous tabulations, the foreign born have a distinctly lower rate of arrest in proportion to numbers than the native white."

The foreign born rate approaches that of the native white most closely in arrests for aggravated assault.

Apparently in so far as police investigation has warranted a conclusion as to who bears the responsibility for robberies in these nine cities, the evidence has pointed to the native white almost four times as often as to the foreign born.

Responsibility for burglaries has been laid at the door of the native white about two and seven-tenths times as frequently as at that of the foreign born.

NATIONAL TOLD TO FORM NEW CABINET

Street during the evening was Sir Josiah Stamp, noted economist, who was accompanied by two companions who were believed to be financial experts. The noted economist did not leave until after midnight. It was generally assumed his visit had to do with taxation measures which the prime minister was believed to have incorporated in new proposals for the solution of the budget deficit of about $600,000,000.

Yesterday's hectic sessions began when King George returned to London hastily from a vacation in Scotland to lend his aid toward a solution of the difficulty. He began by calling a meeting of leaders of the three major parties at the palace to obtain their views.

After the conference with the king, Prime Minister MacDonald called the cabinet together at 7 P. M. in a meeting which was intended to formulate some sort of new plan on trimming the budget which would satisfy both the opposition and trades union leaders, and save the government.

The British public was developing a distinctly perceptible case of "jitters" over the continued conference in Downing Street.

Square this

with what you hear... what you read... what you believe

NOWADAYS you read and hear every kind of thing about cigarettes. But when you try to square some of it with your own common-sense and experience, a lot of it just doesn't "square"!

What smokers want to know about a cigarette is "Holy good is it?"

And when it comes to that, cigarettes are just as good and just as pure as the materials from which they're made.

In making Chesterfield, we use only riper, milder, sweeter-tasting tobaccos—the best that money can buy—and pure cigarette paper—the purest that can be made. Our chemists rigidly test for cleanliness and purity all materials used in the manufacture of Chesterfield. In our factories even the air is washed, and changed every 4 1/2 minutes.

Everything that goes into Chesterfield is the best that money can buy or that science knows about.

"Good... they've got to be good," we say about CHESTERFIELD—and we mean it! And that's something you can square with everything you've ever read, or heard—or know—about this good cigarette!

One of these ideas bore fruit last week when 25,000,000 bushels of wheat were bartered to Brazil for 1,050,000 bags of coffee. Chairman Stone said this exchange was only one of many which is being given serious consideration.

If the Chinese sale for 15,000,000 is consummated, the board will have parcelled out approximately 75,000,000 bushels from its store since last spring. In doing so it has incurred losses of several millions of dollars by selling at the current market price of around 50 cents a bushel wheat which was bought at stabilized prices of 75 cents and higher.

Traders have condemned an instance of the board's surplus which at its peak amounted to about 225,000,000 bushels. Disposal of 25,000,000 to Brazil and possible sale of 15,000,000 to China, however, have been disregarded in the trading, as the Chinese exchange, no opposition has developed to these deals because they will send wheat into areas not normally reached by regular American trade. Coffee merchants, however, have objected to the coffee barter which makes the farm board the largest prospective coffee bidder in the country.

Hundreds Pay Visit To German Plane, Do-X, In Miami Bay

One of the most notable things about it is the safety factors which have been provided.

The plane can fly and maneuver on eight engines. It has 12, each a separate unit in six tiers. The forward engines are for pulling power and the rear ones are angled to push. The propeller sweep is 21 feet above water. Six members of the crew and at least one officer are responsible for keeping the great engines in perfect trim.

In a large cockpit above the passengers' quarters is the control room. The pilots' quarters are immediately underneath the control room and immediately aft is the cabin for the navigation officer.

In this "narrowest" where the pilots and navigation officer live while under way, there is every sort of instrument for operation of the giant airplane. This is the school room for students of advanced science of navigation.

A full set of controls is arranged before the seat of each pilot, so one can relieve the other on long flights. Before each, directly in the line of flight, is a compass. In the instrument board are the various meters and indicators necessary for all types of flying.

Below the port seat are the hand wheels for the water rudder and the elevator. Below the starboard seat is the main switch-off. The shipboard stern also is controlled from here. Speaking tubes connect pilots, commander and engineers.

The question of why such an elaborate airplane should be constructed was answered by one of the officers. This type of ship will make it possible for large numbers of persons to make long over-water flights with a maximum of comfort and speed.

Whether or not the DO-X will be placed in regular trans-Atlantic traffic, or whether other large ships now under construction will be used on regular ocean lines is a matter none of the officers aboard would discuss.

MUCH ACTIVITY IS SEEN FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYED

Winter's Nearsness Is Cause of Increased Impetus To Efforts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(A.P.)—With cold weather only a few months away, highly diversified and widespread activity has developed in the realm of an employment relief.

President Hoover devoted the week-end to an intensive study of the problem with Walter S. Gifford, his new director of relief at the Chief Executive's Rapidan camp.

Governor Roosevelt was at work on a message on the subject to be delivered to a special session of the New York Legislature which will convene Tuesday.

In Detroit Senator Cuyler offered $1,000,000 for the assistance of the city's jobless with the provision that $500,000 be raised from other sources.

A conference at ... was held at ... to begin to day at Memphis, Tenn., on a call by Governor Murray, of Oklahoma. The program to be submitted by Murray has been announced and there was somewhat of a misunderstanding existing between the governor and the Memphis chamber of Commerce.

The United States Chamber of Commerce committee appointed to study relief was putting the finishing touches on its findings and its plan preparatory to submitting them to President Hoover by Sept. 1.

A committee for the National Electric Light Association was studying the possibilities of guaranteeing employment to public utility workers for a given time to remove the fear of dismissal.

Many Governors and state superintendents of education were fostering a "back to school movement" for unemployed falling within the school age. President Hoover's emergency committee for employment was encouraging the idea.

At Tarrytown, N. Y., new construction work aggregating a half million dollars and largely financed by John D. Rockefeller Jr., was provided to give employment to local workmen.

A foundation called "More Game Birds in America" photographed Secretary Hyde urging that the duck shooting season not be suspended as it would "throw thousands of men out of work" in sporting equipment manufacturing plants.

The American Red Cross announced the shipment of Fall gardening seed to tens of thousands of rural families to forestall a winter food shortage where the ground had struck.

The idea of a special session of Congress to deal with unemployment was dormant over the week-end but likely to spring up again, Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, and Senator Norris, of Nebraska, both urged such a course during the past week.

Gifford, who is president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, will establish his headquarters today in the Department of Commerce building, thereby beginning actual work on the problem four days after appointment.

DON'T be FOOLED by Tricky SALES TALK

DON'T be misled by challenges—guarantees—laboratory analyses—price comparisons—claims of 25% savings—made by distributors of special-brand tires.

A recent example of a grossly misleading and extravagant statement by a distributor of special-brand tires—"Mount one of our tires on one wheel of your car and a tire of any other make on the opposite wheel. If our tire does not give you equal service at a saving up to 25% in price, we will give you a new tire free."

This statement can be made for only one purpose—a desperate effort to gain your confidence and sell you a tire before you have had time to think about the ridiculousness of their challenge, which asks you to buy one of their tires and go to another store and buy a tire—have it mounted on the opposite wheel—then turn yourself into a tire tester!

Firestone don't ask you to run test cars for them—they have twenty-five test cars of their own, running day and night, on which they test Firestone Tires and other makes, including special-brand tires, and we have the proof of the safety, quality and extra values of Firestone Tires before you buy.

Drive in today—examine sections cut from Firestone Tires and special-brand mail-order tires—see for yourself the extra value under the tread which give you extra protection against punctures and blowouts—compare the construction and quality—don't be fooled by misleading advertisements. We will give you safer, more dependable tires at no greater cost.
