National Flag Code

Noting a number of instances during the past week in which the American flag has been improperly displayed in front of local stores, the thought has occurred to us that perhaps some of our business men, and probably many others among our citizens, were either not aware of, or had forgotten the following rules for displaying the American flag, as adopted by the National Flag Conference:

1. The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authorities. It should be displayed on holidays and special occasions.
2. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, i. e. the flag's own right, or when there is a line of other flags the flag of the United States may be in front or the center.
3. When displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the other flag.
4. When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the flag of the United States should be in the center or at the highest point.
5. When flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the national flag should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right.
6. When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be approximately equal in size.
7. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of building, the union of the flag should go clear to the head of the staff unless the flag is at half mast.
8. When the flag of the United States is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e. to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way.
9. When displayed over the middle of the street as between buildings, the flag of the United States should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east-and-west street or to the east in a north-and-south street.
10. When used on a speaker's platform, the flag should be displayed above and behind the speaker. It should never be used to cover the speaker's desk nor to drape over the front of the platform. If flown from a staff it should be on the speaker's right.
11. When used in unveiling a statue or monument, the flag should not be allowed to fall to the ground but should be carried aloft to wave out.
12. When flown at half staff, the flag is hoisted to the peak for an instant, and then lowered to the half staff position, but before lowering the flag for the day it is raised again to the peak. By "half staff" is meant hauling the flag down to one-half the distance between the top and the bottom of the staff. If local conditions require, divergence from this position is permissible. On Memorial Day the flag is at half mast, sunrise to noon, and full staff, noon to sunset.
13. Flags flown from fixed staffs are placed at the half staff to indicate mourning. When the flag is displayed on a small staff, as when carried in parade, mourning is indicated by attaching two streamers of black crepe to the spear head.
14. When used to cover a casket the flag should be placed so that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave nor allowed to touch the ground.
15. When the flag is displayed in the body of the church, it should be from a staff placed on the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag, or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. If in the chancel, or on the platform, the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right; other flags on his left.

Bonus Seen As Inflationary

The effect of immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus by means of the issuance of "baby bonds" will be almost as inflationary as if it were paid by greenbacks.

This is the conclusion reached by the nation's leading economists, not "Brain Trusters," but experts in their line, including Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton University, an outstanding international authority on monetary and fiscal policies, Dr. Nell Carothers, head of the school of business administration at Lehigh University, Dr. Ray Westerfield, professor of political economy at Yale University, Dr. F. Cyril James, professor of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania, and many similar authorities.

"The Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy," a statement prepared by these men reads, "has already issued a warning against the payment of the bonus by the issue of greenbacks, as that procedure would have a powerful inflationary result, and this plan has already been abandoned in favor of the issue of approximately $2,200,000,000 of government bonds. Under present conditions these would probably have to be absorbed by the banking system. This method of financing an unbalanced budget also is inflationary and, with the prospects of an increasing deficit, this latter means of paying the bonus might easily prove to be only slightly less inflationary than the issue of greenbacks."

"If it were politically feasible to levy additional taxes from which $2,200,000,000 could be collected within a few months, or if it were economically possible to sell a bond issue of this amount to those who have savings to invest without disturbing the bond market and badly affecting business, then the soldiers' bonus could be paid in cash without exercising an inflationary influence. However, both of these methods are clearly out of the question."

"If payment is made by means of bonds, it is possible that the total volume of money in circulation will be increased by a considerable absorption of these new bonds by investors upon the issue of a check paid of them. This would have the same effect as if the bonus were paid in cash, and this effect would be inflationary."

THE COMPASS

By ARTHUR BURNS

The New Deal in Mexico
 MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—"Mexico has gone Roosevelt or better," said an American resident in Mexico, "and it seems quite true."

The Revolutionary party is in power and its primary purpose is to improve the lot of the poor and the individual worker. It has its NRA, its AAA (though not thus designated) and something we do not have in the United States. We might term it a CRP—Church, Reduction Program.

Its NRA is practically the same as ours was; the chief difference being that it is constitutional in Mexico. It includes minimum wage, maximum hours, right of collective bargaining and abolishing of child labor. Like our NRA, these do not apply to agriculture.

The work week is 48 hours; the minimum wage 2 pesos per day—almost double that of 2 or 3 years ago. Contributions are made by the employer directly with the unions. Their members demand pay for Sundays, for 23 holidays, and time off for sickness and for manifestations (demonstrations). The age of youthful apprentices varies according to trades.

"Can the employer pay the increased wage and still make money?" I asked the American editor of El Universal. His answer was in the affirmative. A Mexico City merchant who had come here a dozen years ago from Denmark assured me there is no trouble to make profits if one knows how to get along with the people. The Secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce confirmed this.

Nevertheless, laborists resist to make the most of its newly acquired freedom and opportunities. There are strikes and manifestations galore—no communism, though perhaps some red propaganda.

On the whole, Mexico's NRA seems to be working pretty well. Its AAA (agrarian program) takes the form of breaking up large estates and dividing lands among individuals or groups. Limited federal funds are available for settling up the new landowner. We call it rehabilitation. Here bonds (of uncertain value) are issued for lands appropriated. How is this working out? Reports are conflicting. It is perhaps too soon to judge.

"The Church," said a prominent Mexican, "is a delicate subject—and so it is. But we have heard much in the United States about religious persecution. Our government has been urged to protest to the Mexican government. After visiting here I am convinced President Roosevelt has been wise in his refusal. It will not suffice to say that treatment of its citizens by another nation is none of our business. Otherwise there would have been no Spanish-American War—there would have been no protest against the treatment of Jews in Germany."

But to justify official criticism of the policy of another nation, it must be so flagrantly cruel or unjust as to offend the sensibilities of the civilized world. It seems that no such condition exists here now. The Mexican Government's policy in dealing with the church has been dictated more by economic than religious considerations.

Boondoggling Through
 NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

The President admittedly has his moments of reckless courage—rather too many of them for comfort—but when, seeking to make virtue of necessity, he sees the boondoggle by the horns as New York was an act of sheer bravado.

That word is enshrined in the hearts of the American people all right, but if even the charm of the Presidential radio voice can give it a vote-getting connotation, now, then we'll eat a dozen boondoggles every morning before breakfast. But, anyway, the President has said it. "It is a pretty good word. If we can boondoggle ourselves out of this depression"—The head man has summarized the whole policy himself, and now we know what has been happening since March 1933. We have been boondoggling ourselves out of the depression.

What more can opposition ask? We haven't been planning a way out; we haven't even been just spending a way out—both words suggestive of at least some purpose and effectiveness. We've been boondoggling. It is a pretty good word; it is certainly an appalling.

Jury Acquits Man In Death Of Daughters

MIAMI, Jan. 23.—(AP)—H. G. Denmark, 36-year-old Miami bakery salesman, was acquitted last night of charges of burning his two young daughters to death by a jury of 12 men after less than 40 minutes deliberation. Charged with first degree murder following deaths of his two oldest children, Dorothy, 15, and Frances, 11, Denmark pleaded innocent, claiming flames which fatally burned them as they slept in his home early one morning last August started accidentally from a cigarette. Jewel, 9, the salesman's third daughter, who recovered from her burns, tearfully defended her father in circuit court as she was called to testify for the state.

Weekly Censured For Publication Of False Article

A. P. Michael, engineer of Orlando, censured by the committee months ago to investigate the canal proposition, said that serious consideration was given the project as long ago as in 1923, "and the Liberty League was not even thought of then," he said. He declared that the desire of the Conservation Committee as well as some 30 official and civic groups in South Florida which sent petitions to Washington is for a comprehensive survey to determine if the canal would be injurious to the underground water resources, and "the position taken by this group six or seven months ago is the same today." He also referred to vague and indefinite reports of the engineers which, because of so many reservations contained in them, he said "are like a Mother Hubbard dress because they cover everything and touch nothing." Mr. Dornier then appointed George Wilmer, Charles Dunn and George Morgan, as members of the resolutions committee, and while they were preparing that document the group heard brief addresses by Ralph Chapman and Frank K. Anderson. Mr. Chapman told of being in Ocala a week ago and of the mayor of that city telling him that the people of Ocala are not especially interested in the canal. "The Ocala mayor told Mr. Chapman that interests in Beaumont, Texas, Birmingham, Alabama, and the Mississippi Valley are really behind the project. Mr. Chapman also voiced the opinion that Jacksonville was so strong for the canal at the beginning because it believed that work would start at the mouth of the St. Johns River and that Jacksonville would get deep water before work on the canal project was halted.

According to Mr. Anderson recent articles in the local weekly paper are "part of the campaign of vituperation the Conservation Committee has always met." He said that at first there was apprehension that the railroads were financing opposition to actual canal construction before comprehensive geological surveys were made, but "fortunately editors of some of the newspapers, including the editor of The Sanford Herald, forced a retraction of that statement." Then an "insidious attack" was made by a prominent citizen of Jacksonville who "discovered" that opposition to the canal came from Hoy Long's "share the wealth" organization. This Jacksonville man asserted that "two foreigners" were in Sanford representing the Long organization and fomenting opposition and that these "two foreigners" were John Meisch, Sr. and Gas Schmah. Next, proponents of the canal asserted that it was part of a scheme for national defense, but this was "investigated most thoroughly by the committee which received the answer from an official and authoritative source that the canal has no bearing on national defense." "If I were a member of this committee," Mr. Anderson declared, "I would suggest that a committee be appointed to call on the editor of the Seminole County Sentinel and demand that he divulge the who have affiliation with the Liberty League in any way. I want Hodgkins to tell us who we are exposed to, who comes into our coun-

Resolutions Deny Connection With Liberty League

The following are the resolutions censuring "the fly-by-night editor" of a local weekly paper passed by unanimous vote of the Seminole County Agricultural Association last night:

WHEREAS proponents of the Atlantic Gulf Ship Canal have repeatedly cast aspersions on the motives of the Central and South Florida Water Conservation Committee in the apparent hope of creating dissension, and WHEREAS the Committee has been accused by the Seminole County Sentinel of being the "vehicle" of the Liberty League and elements opposed to the general welfare, and WHEREAS the Seminole County Agricultural Association and the Central and South Florida Water Conservation Committee are non-political and have no intention of engaging in politics, and WHEREAS these organizations are not affiliated with any other organizations, and WHEREAS in addition to the articles appearing in the Seminole County Sentinel are assembly files and misleading, it is RESOLVED that the Seminole County Agricultural Association in special session deny the allegations made by this paper and expressed satisfaction with the progress made so far by the Central and South Florida Water Conservation Committee and affirm its confidence in the committee, and be it further RESOLVED that the president of this Association be authorized to use these resolutions and give them such publicity as he sees fit.

members of being "creatures" of the Liberty League, and then Mr. Dornier gave a brief history of the committee and Mr. Schmah, as treasurer of the group, gave a financial statement. Mr. Dornier said that the first meeting at which the canal was discussed was called by the Chamber of Commerce, and at the next meeting, which was held in the Court House on call of County Agent C. R. Dawson, a committee with F. N. Whitehurst as chairman was appointed. The finance committee headed by Mr. Schmah was appointed on Sept. 9. Mr. Schmah reported that the local committee had expended a total of $1,787 as contrasted with Jacksonville's propaganda fund of some $30,000. Of the amount $655 was paid out for advice and in traveling expenses, and $468 for advertising.

"We have not attacked the canal," Mr. Schmah said. "All we have asked is an even break. We have continually pleaded for a survey, and they tell us that they are investigating, putting down wells, to find out if the canal will hurt our water supply. But any time you start digging a canal in the middle and spend five million dollars with pick and shovel it is not for the purpose of making a survey." "As for the Liberty League, as far as I have not been able to find a man who knows anything about it." Grade crossing accidents increased in California in 1935.

ROOSEVELT VETOES BONUS MEASURE

(Continued from page 1) Street paid up prior to that date also would be deducted. The $40 bonds could not be transferred or assigned by the recipient and they would not be subject to attachment, levy, or seizure under any legal process.

Veterans could retain the bonds as investments and receive three percent simple interest yearly from June 15, 1936 to June 15, 1945, or until any date prior to June 15, 1945. No interest would be paid, however, should bonds be redeemed before June 15, 1937. Sponsors of the legislation have predicted that around $1,000,000,000 will be required immediately to take care of bond redemptions, although the William country is placed at $2,491,000,000. The federal bureau of plant industry reports that only one of 113 species of trees found in the region of the Great Plains exhibited unimpaired satisfactory stands over a period of years.

He said he made a "diligent search for Liberty Leaguers in this section and had finally located one, George Garner, a Republican residing in Orlando. The real inconsistency in this article by Hodgkins is that the DuPont interests, chief backers of the canal, are backers of the Liberty League," Mr. Anderson continued. "I don't believe that people here really take these articles in the Sentinel seriously. They were not prepared for home consumption but were sent to certain parties in Washington to build our reputation." Mr. Anderson said he can find nothing to indicate that President Roosevelt has a "Liberty League" of interest in the canal. "As shown by publications in 1927, '88 in 'Today' magazine edited by Raymond Moley, chief counsel of the President, of all month telling of the damage the canal may do to underground water resources. "Roy Pippin made the motion that since this fly-by-night editor has said all these things I think that in defense of the Democratic party we should send a copy of these resolutions to the Democratic National Convention." Roy Pippin seconded the motion and it was passed unanimously. At the beginning of the meeting Alex R. ### Where It Rest Of Ransom Money? Asks Hoffman

Only $14,000 Of The $20,000 Sum, Pidd Has Been Found

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 24.—(AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman, who granted Bruno Richard Hauptmann a 30-day reprieve to be interested in what happened to all of the $20,000 ransom money and to feel that failure to find all of it was one of the unsolved angles of the case. The chief executive believes that although the state contained most of the money went in Hauptmann's stock market speculations, only about $20,000 was actually traced. He believes that if the entire $20,000 was spent by Hauptmann, more should have turned up in the National Treasury and more than approximately $14,000 should have been traced to Hauptmann.

Despite denials by investigating agencies and many banks that the search for ransom bills has been discontinued, the governor was understood to have information such an order was given.

In a list of questions submitted to the governor was one asking whether he intended to question Dr. Condon about reported discrepancies in his testimony at the trial of Hauptmann and his "te'l all" articles in a weekly magazine. The governor replied he felt

11 Candidates Enter In Race For Governor

Half A Dozen Others Said To Feel Urge To Seek Position At June Primaries

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Eleven men have made formal announcement of their candidacy for governor in the Democratic primaries this year, and half a dozen others have been mentioned prominently as prospective candidates.

If all of them qualify by paying the $375 fee required, it will be a record field of candidates for the office.

Governor Dave Scholz is prohibited by the Constitution from seeking re-election for a successive term.

The field of candidates for governor is followed, in point of numbers, by five aspirants for the post of state superintendent of education.

Those who have made formal announcement for governor are Grady Burton of Wauchois, Stafford Caldwell of Miami, Jerry W. Carter of Tallahassee, Dan Chappell of Miami, Fred Cone of Lake City, Raymond B. Gaudier of Miami, W. C. Hodges of Tallahassee, Carl Maples of Wakulla, B. F. Pate of West Palm Beach, W. Raleigh Pateway of Tampa, and Peter Tomasello of Orlando.

Unlike the campaign four years ago when two former governors were candidates, there is no former governor in this year's list of Democratic aspirants.

Three men have announced their candidacy for state treasurer. They were W. V. Knott, the incumbent; Cyril Baldwin of Sebring, and Samuel W. Gessen of Bushnell.

So far, R. A. Gray, secretary of state, and Cary D. Landis, attorney general, are unopposed for re-nomination.

License Fee On Cars Must Be Paid State By Part Time School

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Motor Vehicle Commissioner H. F. Misset was told today by Attorney General Landis that state license fees should be collected from automobiles used by the Riverside Military Academy in its three-month school term at Hollywood, Fla.

Misset requested an opinion on the question, saying the academy, located at Gainesville, Ga., conducted a three-month period of school at Hollywood and brings into the state several motor vehicles used in the transportation of the students and for the transportation of freight and other goods, required in the general operation of the school.

Such vehicles, the attorney general answered, are subject to the state license requirements.

Roosevelt Sees Snow And Yarns For South

Baby Identity In Hauptmann Case Doubted

Criminologist Will Raise Question As Hoffman Asks Use Of A Lie Detector

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 25.—(AP)—Lieutenant Robert W. Hicks, Washington criminologist, announced today he would use the report of the Lindbergh family physician to challenge identification of the body believed to be the kidnapped Lindbergh baby.

Hicks, hired by the Magazine of American Astrology, skeptical that Bruno Richard Hauptmann killed the Lindbergh child, quoted from a report given on May 4, 1933 by Dr. Phillip Van Ingen eight days before the body was found. That report said: "Both little toes were slightly turned in and overlapped the next toe."

Hicks said this differed materially from a description of the feet given by physicians who examined the body after it was found.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman today invited prosecutors and defense counsel to agree to a lie detector test. Legality of such a move is uncertain. Some authorities said legislation would be needed to make results binding on the state and the defense. Others said a lie detector test might be classified as mental examination for which the law provides.

Both defense and prosecution lawyers will be present if a lie detector test is given to Bruno Richard Hauptmann in an attempt to learn the whole truth about the Lindbergh baby murder, Gov. Hoffman said.

The governor conferred Thursday with the lie detector and claims it is 100 per cent efficient in getting confessions from guilty persons.

No Danger From Frost Is Seen By Weather Man

LAKELAND, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Florida citrus and truck crops will not be damaged by temperatures in prospect for tonight and Sunday morning, the Weather Bureau here said today. Temperatures above 23 were forecast for the district.

The nation north of Florida still suffered from the worst cold waves of many years, with resulting deaths set at more than 150. With thermometers still registering below zero in many sections a new sub zero plunge was reported on its way from the Northwest. Lincoln, Neb., had 14 below zero with temperature dropping steadily. In Minnesota the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul had warmed up to 20 below zero, but snow and colder was predicted.

Sheriff Orders The Arrest On Monday Of Any Motorist Driving With 1935 License

Deputy sheriffs were today instructed by Sheriff J. F. McClelland to arrest on Monday any motorist found on the highways of Seminole County driving a vehicle with a 1935 license tag. His orders are to arrest such drivers, not simply to warn them to get the new 1936 plates.

"Arrest them all, I don't care who they may be, even the governor himself," declared Sheriff McClelland. "Don't make any exceptions, don't show any favoritism. Enforce the law strictly without fear or favor."

Enforcement in this County of the law providing that new license plates must be obtained before Jan. 15 was delayed by Sheriff McClelland until a ruling was received from Tallahassee as to whether license tags for the fall year must be placed on the old type school buses which must be discarded at the close of the school year. Information was received today that there is no provision for part-time licenses and that drivers of the old buses must obtain new plates good for the whole year even though they can operate the buses for only half of the year.

The sheriff said today that it had been the practice of some persons who owned more than one car to buy only one plate and to switch that plate back and forth taking it off a car left in the garage and placing it on the car in use that day. But such practice "won't go," he said. "Every car must have a 1936 license," he declared, "and it must bear such a license if it is to travel the roads of Seminole County."
