CLYDE BARROW SHOT TO DEATH IN LOUISIANA

Southwest's Fiercest
Outlaw Trapped In Sheriff's Ambush
With "Girl Friend"

SHREVEPORT, La., May 23.—(A.P.)—The eight year trail of murder and robbery of Clyde Barrow, the Southwest's "Number One outlaw" was ended today beside Bonnie Parker, his gun-woman companion in crime. In a hail of bullets from a Sheriff's posse 50 miles west of here near the town of Gibland.

Both were killed instantly before they could fire a shot, and their bodies and automobile were riddled with bullets.

They drove into the posse's ambush, arranged by Frank Hamer, former captain of Texas Rangers who had followed Barrow's trail relentlessly.

With a heavily armed posse hiding in brush along a paved highway, Barrow's car broke over the horizon racing at an 85 mile clip.

As the car approached, an officer yelled "Halt."

Barrow and the woman answered by reaching for their guns, and then were met by a fusillade from a dozen guns.

Bonnie Parker died with her head between her knees and a machine gun in her lap.

Barrow slumped behind the steering wheel with a revolver in his grip.

The automobile careened from the road, and smashed into an embankment.

Officers continued to fire until the car virtually was shot to pieces, and the bodies riddled.

The bodies were picked up this morning by Sheriff and three Texas Ranger hoodlums in Bonier Parish where Barrow was reported to have "hit the living."

They followed the bandit car to Bienville Parish where the rangers were joined by Sheriff Henderson Jordan and a staff of deputies. The officers got ahead of the car, and laid waiting until Barrow ran into the ambush.

Demand Made In House For Continued Survey Of NRA; Johnson Holds To All Codes

Nye Says Government Is Fostering Monopoly
With Little Man
In Death Struggle

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—Declarations that "under the NRA, monopolies and trusts have become more powerfully entrenched than ever before," sprang up on Capitol Hill yesterday with demands for further inquiry into the Recovery agency.

Meanwhile there came from the President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Henry L. Harrison, a statement that business men felt the Industrial Recovery Act has done much good, but there also was a "widespread fear that an act, based on the self-regulation of business with government approval of such regulations, might become an autocratic act, for the regimentation of business by the government."

Senator Nye (R., Md.), who originated the proposal for the Barrow board's study of the situation of little business under the codes, made the declaration that the government was fostering monopoly.

Representative Britten (R., Ill.), was author of the resolution calling for a special committee of five House members to investigate "every phase of the basis of the report (the Barrow report) just made public which exposes a condition that is in complete conflict with the desires of the President and his policies."

Should the investigation substantiate the findings of the board, the resolution flatly proposed the investigating committee recommend to the House proper legislation for immediate establishment of the National Recovery Administration.

Johnson declined to say just how the simplified procedure on service trades would be operated, pending the President's acceptance of the proposed policy, but it definitely will take off NRA the job of trying to enforce price provisions and similar arrangements in areas where large groups do not want to comply.

In the midst of all the controversy over the Barrow report the Administrator took one step further in the shake-down of his own organization by requesting his advisory boards for industry, labor and consumer to create a special committee of three advisers, which under the name of advisory council will pass on all codes and administrative orders and try to reach an agreement between the conflicting interests.

At the same time he abolished the compliance board and gave its "single snatching" duties to the compliance director.

Johnson asked that the advisory council of nine be prepared to sit constantly, without rotation of membership, for at least six months' period. The council will have 10 days to act on any code if it has nothing to report at the end of that time Johnson will act without its advice.

MINNEAPOLIS RIOTS FATAL TO BAR SALE FOR DEPUTY OF MUNITIONS

Martial Law Averted
By Truce That Ends
Bitter Battles In Produce Mart Area

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—Martial law was averted by a truce late yesterday after street fights between striking truckers and police had resulted in death of a special deputy.

Striking drivers and their employers agreed to a 24 hour cessation of hostilities as Governor Floyd B. Olson and Adjutant-General E. A. Walsh came to Minneapolis prepared to call out the National Guard to quell increasingly serious disorders.

Under the truce strike pickets will be withdrawn and no trucks moved. Negotiations to remove cause of the strike will be renewed with vigor.

Street fighting of the last few days was renewed yesterday with unusual fury. Strikers were incensed at use of special police in attempts to move produce trucks.

The City Produce Market, which is also the site of most of the whole-sale houses, again was the battleground. Hundreds of special police patrolled the district. Pickets stung into the area.

Loading of a truck at the Bertram Fruit Company touched off the most serious riot. A sudden rush of pickets, armed with clubs and stones, centered the special police before it.

With fists and clubs swinging the two parties surged down an incline. Police dropped their clubs and ran. When the flurry was over, 30 were discovered to be injured.

Fifty-five other persons lay on the pavement injured. Thirty were policemen. And dozens took away the wounded. Many pickets refused to be helped, lying in street.

Roosevelt Said To Control Political Destiny Of U. S.; His New Deal Termed Futile

Ed Howe Sees President As Dictator
Surrounded By 49
Men, Women Aides

ATLANTA, May 23.—(A.P.)—The New Deal is a "reactionary movement" and was tried and found to be a "miserable failure" over 200 years ago, Gux W. Dyer of Nashville, editor of The Southern Agriculturist, said here last night.

Speaking before the Southern States Industrial Council, an organization composed of manufacturers of this section, Dyer said the Constitution forbade the government from exercising any control in the field of competitive private business. He added that the Constitution protects private property against governmental invasion as well as prohibiting the imposition of controls.

"An effort is being made to pull us all through the same knot hole, and it can't be done," W. D. Anderson of Macon, president of the field Manufacturing Company, told the group. The manufacturer said he favored high wages and was against the reduction of the wage scale in Southern industry.

The problem of securing wage differentials in order to aid the South was the main theme of the one-day session of the council and John K. Edgerton of Lebanon, Tenn., its president, said that factors of individual productivity are determined by climate, racial differences, opportunities for training and different degrees of mechanization in manufacturing processes were "almost wholly disregarded" in the formulation of the codes.

He said the codes were written by the South's competitors and that their enforcement is almost entirely in the hands of the competitors.

He warned that workers from the North and East would invade this section unless the differential is recognized.

"The only defense made of this revolution is that it is demanded by an emergency," Dyer said in his speech last night. "The conclusion from this reasoning is that constitutional rights may be claimed by American citizens only when the country is entirely free from emergency."

DILLINGERS GIRL, DOCTOR FOUND GUILTY

Jury Convicts Them
For Hiding Thug;
Each Fined $1000.
Given Jail Sentences

ST. PAUL, May 23.—(A.P.)—Evelyn Frechette, sweetheart of the desperado, John Dillinger, and Dr. Clayton May, Minneapolis physician who treated his gunshot wounds, today were convicted by a Federal Court jury of conspiracy to harbor the Indiana outlaw.

Miss Augusta Salt, a co-defendant, was acquitted.

Federal Judge Gunnar Noppe sentenced to two years in the Women's Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., and fined $1,000.

Both were granted a week's stay of sentence.

Miss Salt was released and taken from the courtroom by friends.

Attorneys for both Dr. May and Miss Frechette announced they would appeal to the Circuit Court.

Pair Plead Guilty Of Attempt At Kidnaping

NEW YORK, May 23.—(A.P.)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith came back to official public life in characteristic fashion yesterday, taking swift steps to tackle the revision of the city's antiquated charter.

Within two hours after Governor Herbert H. Lehmann signed the bill creating the revision commission and naming Smith as chairman, the former governor and Democratic presidential nominee in 1928 called a meeting for Friday.

Smith, long an advocate of charter reform that would simplify the city's complicated governmental machinery, is expected to preside over the organization and to outline his views briefly.

Church Merger Plan Being Bitterly Fought

CLEVELAND, May 23.—(A.P.)—A vigorous attack by a group in the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. was being organized last night against the acceptance by the general assembly this week of the pending merger plan with the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

Led by the Rev. J. Greenham Machen, of Philadelphia, and other fundamentalists, the opponents, though unopposed to a merger, say the present plan is unacceptable.

While so-called "removalists" among the assembly delegates to leave the merger will be accepted when submitted Friday, the Machen group has dug five lines of trenches from each of which it tends to render stout resistance.

Ex-Convict Quizzed In Robles Case But Refuses To Answer

TUCUMSON, May 23.—(A.P.)—A legal participant in the nation's largest mail train robbery was questioned by authorities today concerning the kidnaping of Jax Hobbes, six-year-old boy.

The suspect, Joe Newton, refused to make any statements regarding the kidnaping in which a $15,000 ransom was not paid, or the robbery of the Mofford, Okla., bank, a charge on which he was arrested last night.

Officers said Newton had been under surveillance several days during which time he had made nocturnal visits over a fence in the Sonora, Mexico locality in which an intensive search was conducted for the Robles child before she was found.

With his three brothers, Department of Justice records showed, Newton served a federal prison sentence for participation in the $200,000 train mail robbery at Bonded, Ill., in 1924. Information which Jax gave officers about his abduction led to the surveillance of Newton.

Jaxon Murders Wife, Tries To Slay Self

JACKSONVILLE, May 23.—(A.P.)—Mrs. Mildred Moore Baggarly, 21-year-old mother of three children, was shot and her husband, Jax Baggarly, 33, employed on the shore line of his father in law, is at a hospital in a critical condition today. Authorities said Baggarly shot his wife and attempted to take his own life.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the tragedy, reported Baggarly as saying he killed his wife Monday, then turned a shotgun on himself, trying to square his conscience before the police. He was under guard at the hospital and attendants said his condition was grave.

The shooting took place at the dairy farm of L. A. Moore, father of Mrs. Baggarly, where the Baggarlys had been living. Officers said Baggarly, who came here several years ago from Sumner, Ga., told them family troubles caused the quarrel which led to the shooting.

Navy Plane Races To Aid Stricken American Explorer

BALBOA, C. Z., May 23.—(A.P.)—A Navy plane left here today in a dramatic race to save the life of William Albert Robinson, noted explorer, critically ill of acute appendicitis in his little honeymoon ketch far out in the Pacific near the Galapagos Islands.

Carrying a surgeon, Lieut. Com. Hollis Hutchinson and his plane followed closely a destroyer which was dispatched to the scene earlier today. Robinson, a family name, sailed upon which once was the haunt of pirates, is more than 900 miles from the Canal Zone.

The race with death was ordered after Robinson's socially prominent Chicago bride, Florence Crane Robinson had flagged a fishing trawler, and had its skipper radio the Naval Station here that her husband was stricken Sunday with acute appendicitis.

The destroyer left before it could last night to carry reserve fuel for the plane.

Robinson became ill while aboard a small boat on which he and his wife are spending a honeymoon, and his condition is reported as critical.

Kidnap Charges Face 4 South Carolinians

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 23.—(A.P.)—Sheriff U. B. Smith yesterday said he planned to prefer kidnap charges against four men held in connection with alleged abduction of John M. Gregory, young Greenville man.

Gregory told officers the four men and a woman, mistook him for a gambler who held up a dice game at a gambling house near here last week and took several hundred dollars. He was released seven hours later, he said, after being beaten and mistreated.

The four alleged abductors were taken into custody for questioning at Columbia Monday night.

Florida Power And Light Earnings Off

NEW YORK, May 23.—(A.P.)—Florida Power and Light Co. reports net income for the 13 months ended Apr. 3 amounted to $182,971 after charges, compared with $229,797 in the 12 months ended Apr. 30 last year.

Carolina Power & Light Co. had net income of $1,158,171 in the 13 months ended Apr. 30 contrasted with net income of $737,277 in the previous 12 month period ending Apr. 30, 1933.

Miamians Hail End Of Record Rain Falls

MIAMI, May 23.—(A.P.)—Miamians hailed with delight yesterday the first day of sunshine interrupted by rain for the past 11 consecutive days.

But the weather man predicted scattered thunderstorms within the next 24 hours. At the end of that time, a low pressure area moving over Florida from the Gulf should have cleared the Atlantic.

Richard W. Gray, government meteorologist, said 12.68 inches of rain has fallen with the past 11 days, an excess for May of 8.63 inches and for the year to date of 14.78 inches.

"If we don't have another day or two from now until the middle of August," Gray said, "we'll just about normal in our total rain fall for the year."

Stetson Grads Not To Know Name Of Prexy

DELAND, May 23.—That the naming of a president for John B. Stetson University here to succeed Dr. Lincoln Hulley, who died several months ago, will not take place in time for commencement exercises this year, May 29, appeared certain yesterday.

A meeting of the board of trustees, it was pointed out, cannot be called without 10 days notice. Since no call has been issued, it is impossible for the board to act prior to the termination of the current school year.

Wonder what Admiral Byrd, sitting down there at the South Pole, thinks of this NRA controversy?

The Democratic primary is almost upon us and no one has convinced us yet whether it's "pull the lever" or "politics are."

What, with this drought in the Middle West burning up wheat fields, and with a great fire destroying cattle in the Chicago stockyards, it begins to look as if there are more ways than one of curtailing production.

Mrs. Roosevelt wants to have a survey made to determine what can be done for the young people just graduating from high schools and colleges.

Were the prodigal son on earth today he would have his right thumb in the side of some highway and would ride home on the cushions.

It's all right for us to send men to Congress to make our laws which tell us how to run our business, how long we can work and how much we can charge.

We have always said that the public meetings of some of our great statesmen should be taken with a grain of salt.

On Tuesday evening the Literary League of the High School entertained a large audience most delightfully with a charming little two-act comedy.

When Sanford gets to be a city of 250,000 persons, parks and playgrounds along this water front would be an incomparable feature of attractiveness.

Indications point very strongly toward a preference by FERA officials for beautification programs in the carrying out of their relief work in the future.

It is held by this school of thought that business men should be encouraged to go into business, that investors should be encouraged to lend to new enterprises.

No Capital Investments

The Literary Digest in a recent issue reveals very clearly what is wrong with employment in this country and where the unemployment actually exists.

So it is throughout the country as a whole. The so-called durable goods industries are flat.

The durable goods industries are those represented primarily by the mining of coal and iron, the manufacture of steel, glass, and aluminum.

The other class of industries is known as the consumers' goods industries. These are the industries which actually make the things which people use.

Now the Literary Digest finds that the consumers' industries are employing almost as many people as ever.

In the durable goods industries, however, the employment percentages indicate serious trouble.

Numerous reasons are advanced for this dearth of employment in these heavy industries.

It is held by this school of thought that business men should be encouraged to go into business, that investors should be encouraged to lend to new enterprises.

The Beautification Program

Indications point very strongly toward a preference by FERA officials for beautification programs in the carrying out of their relief work in the future.

According to Julius F. Stone, state administrator of the FERA, the new plan will include "the cleaning up and landscaping of waste areas."

It is further pointed out, however, that operations on large estates or in conjunction with real estate ventures will be barred.

Particularly in the improvement and beautification of public parks, it seems to us, there is a world of opportunity here in Sanford.

When Sanford gets to be a city of 250,000 persons, parks and playgrounds along this water front would be an incomparable feature of attractiveness.

Nye Says Government Fostering Monopoly With Little Attention In Death Struggle

"Some of us," the senator said, "looked on the NRA as an institution that was going to stand against industry a better change for the future."

Just what has been done is of course debatable, but I say that under the NRA monopolies and trusts have become entrenched more powerfully than ever before.

The Chamber of Commerce president's remarks were made in an address on "What Business is Thinking" at Brooklyn before the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

Harrison said that "most of us will concede that the major difficulties with which trade and industry are concerned are the outgrowth of mismanagement and overzealous competition which, in the long run, benefits nobody."

Roosevelt must hear the roar of an ungrateful, an un-understanding mob and he must stand firm in his soul that most of the American people think he has.

Same Team Which Beat Vero Monday Will Start Against Cocoa Indians On Thursday

Manager Rive, having perceived the few glaring mistakes of the opening tilt, has spent the past three days pointing out those mistakes to his players. This afternoon he was sending them through a final workout, and from all indications reported from Municipal Park, he has his infield working smoothly as a fielding unit, and all of his players appear to have found the range at bat.

Only one change is to be made in the line-up for tomorrow's tilt. Manager Rive will send Lee Mansfield, right-hander, to the mound against the Indians. Lefty Joe Sparkman and Lefty Roy Sutton of Osteen will be kept in the bull-pen, ready to take over Mansfield's hurdling duties if he falters.

That of previous clubs, the consensus of almost all fans is that the team will be able to hold its own against any club playing in the league. The tilt starts at 3:30 o'clock.

Manager Rive, Club President, Otto Caldwell, and Club Secretary Earl Varn have been complimented time and time again since Sunday afternoon by the fans many of whom went to the game to cheer only to come away cheering.

While the 1934 club does not compare in all departments with Beach in a battle for last place. The official score of the Kissimmee-Cocoa game of last Sunday reveals that while Cocoa won, 11 to 3, it earned only one of its 11 runs. Kissimmee made 12 errors back of Loper and Murphy, and Cocoa made 10 runs off Loper, none of which was earned runs. That's a record, even in semi-pro baseball, and it indicates that the Cocoa nine isn't as strong as it is reputed to be.

Next Sunday the Feds will drive down to Vero Beach for a first game in that city, while the Cocoa nine will be playing at Kissimmee.

Starting line-up here tomorrow: Cocoa: Howard, lf; Harrell, 2b; Crum, rf; Wright, p; Edge, cf; Ruben, ss; Prine, 3b; Headley, 1b; Silsby, cf.

Sanford: Smith, ss; P. Mansfield, lf; Abbott, c; Owens, cf; Britt, rf; Evans, 2b; Kelly, 3b; Rines, 1b; L. Mansfield, p.

Seminoles Take 2nd Game Of Lions Club Junior Ball Series

The eighth annual Lions Club Junior Baseball League series became dead-locked at the end of the second game when the Seminole, league leaders at the end of the season, scored a 7 to 5 victory over the Giants in a contest played at Grammar School park yesterday afternoon.

Stenstrom of the Giant team was touched for 10 hits, while his mates could get only seven off Tillis who started on Monday afternoon. The batting of Cunningham, Meriwether and Epps of the Seminole largely accounted for the victory, while Dyson was the only consistently good batter on the Giant team. Epps, Cunningham and Tillis hit doubles, while Meriwether had two triples and Dyson had one.

The third game of the series is to be played next Friday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock. Eddie Bender will officiate as umpire behind the

Insnall Case Argued By Federal Lawyers

CHICAGO, May 23.—(AP)—Whether extradited or shanghaied from abroad, Samuel Insnall now is in the jurisdiction of the federal court and should be tried on charges that cropped out of the ruins of his industrial empire, federal attorneys argued yesterday.

The prosecutors conceded "for the purpose of argument" that the former power prince might have been snatched away from Istanbul, but filed a demurrer to the defense contention that the famous prisoner virtually was kidnaped from a Greek vessel in free waters and that the federal court lacked proper authority over him.

The government also handed up a motion to sustain the demurrer on the grounds that Insnall is subject to the indictments charging mail fraud and bankruptcy law violations regardless of the methods employed to bring him back from Turkey.

HELD FOR HOMICIDE PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—(AP) Clifford Keane of Valle Falls, R. I., a freshman at a Philadelphia college, was held without bail yesterday on a charge of homicide in the death of Daniel Quinn, 19, in a fight which police said occurred after two college students "crashed" a schoolboy's party.

SEVERE HAIL STORM BAINBRIDGE, Ga., May 23.—(AP) A heavy hail storm described as the worst in the history of this section, visited Decatur county yesterday. A number of persons were injured when windows were shattered by the hail.

FLORIDA SCHOOL BOYS LEARNING ABOUT FARMING

2000 Students Expect To Follow Plow As Result Of Training

TALLAHASSEE, May 23.—(AP)—Approximately 2,000 Florida high school boys are looking to the future by learning about farming. They are members of the Florida Association of Future Farmers of America. They are part of a national organization which has a membership of 80,000 boys from 14 to 21 years of age. It is endorsed and partially financed by the federal government.

Each day in 60 high schools scattered over the state from Escambia to Dade county these Future Farmers are studying agricultural subjects under teachers of vocational education.

J. F. Williams, Jr., state supervisor of agricultural education, is state advisor for the Florida Future Farmers. He described their training today as "dirt" instruction, which not only prepared the boys for farming, but provided useful work and sometimes a monetary return.

He gave these examples of the work the boys have accomplished: State Forester Harry Lee Baker praised the members of the Sopchoppy chapter for protecting 7,000 acres of forest lands in that area last year. The work included building telephone lines and plowing firebreaks.

The Laurel Hill chapter in Okaloosa county has constructed a co-operative canning plant which it owns and operates. The boys can the farmers' fruit and vegetables on a percentage basis, selling their percentage to pay the plant's expenses.

As a group project the Royal Palm chapter at Redlands produced, loaded and shipped a carload of Irish potatoes, and received a premium of 10 cents on each bushel.

One Future Farmer has built a 4,000 egg electric incubator as a result of his instruction, and is operating it as a commercial hatchery, charging so much per egg.

Florida's Future Farmers also are co-operating with the State Forest Service by growing pine seedlings and transplanting them on cutover and marginal lands. This year they furnished seeds and

Minneapolis Area Blocked By Solid Wall Of Policemen

MINNEAPOLIS, May 23.—(AP)—The Minneapolis market district resembled a war sector today as a solid wall of police, armed with riot guns blocked 2500 striking truckmen and spectators intent on halting all truck transportation.

Police patrolled the district in military order, marching in squads. Only one man has ever been killed by a motor vehicle in the town.

No motor vehicle has ever been stolen in Pickens. C. L. Cureton, now serving his sixth term as mayor at $7, is credited with preserving the peace in one official capacity or another since he was police chief at 10.

The town, incidentally, claims the highest altitude of any incorporated municipality in South Carolina.

Carolina Town Never Has Had A Murder

PICKENS, S. C., May 23.—(AP)—"This town is up in the air," real-estate agents here say, but not about anything of a violent nature.

Annually the chapter which sets up the best objectives and has the highest percentage of accomplishment, receives a cash award of $100. In a national achievement contest this year the Homestead chapter won first place in the Southern region and placed fourth in the United States.

The Future Farmer chapters can only be organized in a high school where there is a vocational education teacher, part of whose salary is paid from federal funds under the Smith-Hughes or National Vocational Education Act. The teacher acts as advisor to the chapter.

The Florida Future Farmers received their state charter in 1917 and their national charter in 1920. Approximately 300 chapters officers and delegates will attend the organization's sixth annual state convention at Gainesville June 4-6. Governor Sholtz has accepted an invitation to deliver the principal address at the banquet which will

Officers of the state organization are: President, Jacques Walker of Plant City; vice president, Ralph Thomas of LaCross, secretary, John Benkerik of Sanford; treasurer, Allan Horse of Homestead; and reporter, B. F. Lanier, of Aucilla. Members of the executive committee are Jack Fletcher of Redlands, Tremmel Dicks of Mason City, and Louis Faedke of Gonzalez.

JERSEY CITY IS TERMED MODEL AMERICAN CITY

Mayor Hague Reveals Secret Of Efficient Handling Of Affairs

NEW YORK CITY, May 23.—In an era of political reform it has remained for one of the most intensely organized machines in the country to demonstrate what really efficient government can be, according to Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, Democratic state leader of New Jersey, in an interview in Liberty Magazine.

Mayor Hague in answering the proposition "Why Reformers Fail" declares that "the politician gets his power from the people. The successful leader must be both a statesman and politician. He cannot permanently maintain himself without organization. He may be able to smash the machine with the aid of the people. But tremendous reforms cannot be imposed; they take time, and before the reformer has time to build up an organization which can carry out his ideas, his term of office is over. Such a feat will be the fate of most reformers who now crow so confidently from their municipal fence."

Told that in the minds of most people a political machine is associated with civic corruption, Mayor Hague declared that this was not true at all. "Whether a machine is corrupt or not depends largely upon its leadership," he went on. "In Jersey City nothing happens of which I am not apprised. If the police close their eyes to crime some district leader or one of his colleagues conveys the facts to me. Our clergy admit that Jersey City is the cleanest city in the state."

In the shadow of Manhattan's skyscrapers, the nerve center of a nation's crime as well as its business, Jersey City has the lowest crime report of any city its size in the country, according to Department of Justice Records. And in explaining this Mayor Hague covers a subject of unusual interest at this time and one in which his activities are very little known.

Reviewing it, Mayor Hague talks in terms surprisingly similar to those of Bernard Macfadden, publisher and philanthropist, whose recently launched Physical Culture Youth Movement is just getting under way.

Crime, Mayor Hague insists, should be stopped in the kindergarten and in the school. "We deal with juvenile offenders," he said, "through a Special Service Bureau under the direct supervision of the Assistant Superintendent of Schools, who has under him in this bureau a specially trained staff to deal with this all-important problem. No publicity is attached to the work of this bureau."

"When a complaint against a youngster is made, we investigate, call the child's parents, and scrutinize his environment. If anything is wrong in the child's home, we try to straighten it out. If anything is wrong in school, we have a talk with the teacher. We don't permit the teacher to pass the buck to the principal. We don't permit the principal to pass the buck to the truancy officer. We don't permit the truancy officer to pass the buck to the courts."

"I maintain that it is more important to correct the boys and girls before they reach a penal institution than it is to try and reform them after serving a term for a miscellaneous prank which labels them as social outcasts."

Furious Fighting Raging On Sections Of Bolivian Front

ASUNCION, Paraguay, May 23.—(AP)—Furious fighting raged today along scattered sections of the Chaco front as Bolivian forces maneuvered in an attempt to draw the Paraguayan army into a premature offensive upon Fort Bolivian.

Advance of the Paraguayan fighting to the north was reported but the minister of defense in Asuncion indicated that the Paraguayan command was not ready to launch its general advance.

Delay in opening the offensive against the fort which is Bolivia's most important stronghold indicated that General Jose Estigarribia is taking fully into consideration the dangers that await his troops in what probably will be the decisive battle of the Gran Chaco warfare. Paraguay has 40,000 men concentrated along a 25 mile front. Bolivia has 15,000 in and before the fort.

BOYNTON'S DEBT PROBLEM FACES EARLY SOLUTION

Beach Residents Want To Help Wipe Out Burden Of Boom Day

(Editor's Note: Another of a series on Florida communities, prepared by The Miami Herald and released to Florida papers.)

TOWN OF BOYNTON

M I A M I, May 23.—For the privilege of having their playground and ocean-side estates removed from the jurisdiction of the town of Boynton, the citizens of Boynton Beach are willing to assume half of the Boynton debt. As a further step in this arrangement, Boynton Beach voters, 12 of them, voted Apr. 25 to adopt a refunding plan extending that half or nearly $200,000, to 1969, or 35 years hence.

So if legal snafus do not develop to prevent this refinancing, the way will be cleared for Boynton itself to take up again its own refunding, on a different basis. One plan was voted down recently. The passage of the national municipal bankruptcy bill may help in this instance to bring the security holders together on some basis that Boynton can meet.

Until the Boynton Beach elections, it began to look as though the services of the best lawyer in Philadelphia might not be sufficient to entangle Boynton's affairs. It owned nearly $1,200,000, of which $223,370 alone was for a judgment held by the White Construction Company for improvements. The balance consisted of bonds, many in default since 1929; interest in default interest on the defaulted bonds and a whole collection of miscellaneous debt.

Taxes were levied to pay for these debts, but collections fell off below 20 percent last year and the outlook was not very promising for taking in enough cash to pay necessary wages and bills, to say nothing of the patient bondholders. In Boynton, as in many other cities and towns, it seemed that the property holders finally got so weary of paying in 1931 and 1932 that they quit almost in a body.

Boynton today has almost enough unpaid taxes and liens to wipe out her funded debt, if she could collect. With her wealthier offspring cutting her debts in half, the town could assume a solvent condition on even the 1931 scale of tax collections, if the people are so minded. But that they are not yet ready to get down to cases was revealed when the refunding of the Boynton debt was rejected.

Of course Boynton laid out on the boom pattern, with an area of nine square miles for 1,000 people a town on a city's frame. Its present bonds paid for 25 miles of water mains to serve this scattered population, and 13 miles of streets it cannot even maintain. Fully, Boynton Beach took away the lake and ocean front area, the choicest part of a resort town's land, so Boynton must rely now upon growing on the strength of the great nursery business around that part of the coast, and on the tourists who find its winter facilities adequate, with access to the ocean all they require.

With some better form of refunding, and a tightening up of collections, Boynton need not fear the future. Without those it must continue to languish and sicken with a financial anemia that not even the famed ultra-violet rays of Florida sunshine can cure. The ultra-red on the town's books would offset it too much.

Georgian Accidentally Killed By City Judge

THOMASVILLE, Ga., May 23.—(AP)—Oscar Groover, 55, government land appraiser and widely known resident of Thomasville, was killed here yesterday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun, as he sat in an automobile on a downtown street.

Reports to Chief of Police J. M. Hancock said Groover was seated in the car and that his friend and former business associate, Judge Roscoe Luke, former judge of the Georgia Court of Appeals and now judge of the city court here, was entering the machine.

As Judge Luke picked up a double barrel, hammerless shotgun from the floor of the machine to place it on the rear seat, eyewitnesses told Hancock, the trigger of the weapon caught, causing it to discharge. Groover was struck in the head and died before an ambulance arrived.

Police Seek Brutal Attackers Of Young Couple In Virginia

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 22.—(AP)—Only a few incoherent words, uttered by a youth in semi-conscious condition, guided officers today in seeking the identity of assailants who brutally attacked and left unconscious in an old Confederate trench, Milton Brown, 21, and his young girl companion, Fannie Kurz.

Physicians said there is little hope for the recovery of either. "Don't hit me again, you've already killed—" the youth muttered once as he appeared to gain a semblance of consciousness.

They were found yesterday afternoon, both suffering from compound fractures of the skull. There were signs of a struggle around where the young people lay, about 150 yards from their parked automobile. No motive was uncovered.

Mooney Denied Plea Of Habeas Corpus

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—(AP)—Federal Judge St. Sure denied yesterday a plea of Thomas Mooney for a writ of habeas corpus to release him from San Quentin prison, where he is serving a life sentence for conviction in the 1926 Preparedness Day bombing here.

"It therefore appears," Judge St. Sure said in setting forth his opinion, "that under the law in case such as is presented here by the petitioner that the proper procedure to be followed in gaining consideration of a federal court by petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the highest court of the state, and if it is denied there, to seek a writ of certiorari in the United States supreme court for review of the judgment of the state court."

Kidnapings Keep Up Despite Unusually Successful Work Of Local, State, U.S., Police

NEW YORK, May 22.—(A.P.)—Despite an unusually successful record of arrests and convictions of kidnapers, the stealing of human beings for ransoms continued today to present the most serious challenge to American police.

The results of police work in most "snatch" cases of the last two years has put many abductors and bad men behind bars, yet they have not appeared to serve appreciably as deterrents to this form of crime.

The cycle of kidnapings which has kept police and federal agents particularly active dates from the abduction of the Lindbergh baby Mar. 1, 1932. That crime, ending in murder, resulted in the payment of a $50,000 ransom to persons unknown and the spending of hundreds of thousands of dollars by police agencies. The crime remains today unsolved.

Another child—little June Hobbs of Tucson, Ariz.—was in the hands of kidnapers recently.

The most recent kidnaping was that of the wealthy William Getch, a broker. Abducted from his home near Los Angeles, he was unharmed.

The government and various local governments have plenty of good stars to mark their work on other cases, however.

In the kidnaping of Charles Westlicher, II, of Denver, who was held captive three weeks, Verno Kenney (among others) was finally seized and charged, with the crime. He committed suicide.

The kidnapings of Jerome Factor, 18 months ago in Chicago and his father, John (Jake the Barber) Factor nearly three months later, have been solved and the kidnapers in the latter case—the Stansous Touhy gang of Chicago—sent to prison for long terms.

The kidnaping of John J. O'Connell of Albany, N. Y., which had political ramifications owing to the prominence in New York state politics of the youth's uncles, is closed, with Manny Stirew serving time for the crime.

The abductions of August Luear of Alton, Ill.; of little Peggy McMath at Harwichport, Mass., and Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, all are scored as victories for the law, with the kidnapers in each case captured, contacted and sentenced.

The kidnap-murder of young Brooks Hart at San Jose, Cal., had national reaction when his murderers were taken from jail and hanged.

If any city could be said to have suffered most from the kidnaping scourge it is St. Paul, with three major kidnapings—Edward Bremer, Haskell Bohn and William Gunn. Kansas City is another community which had more than its share, with two nationally known abductions—those of Mrs. Bill Quinlan Donnelly (now the wife of former Senator Reed of Missouri), and Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager. Kidnapers were caught, tried and sentenced in both cases. One kidnaper was sentenced to death in the McElroy case.

Among the child kidnapings, the case of James De Jute of Niles, Mo., was of special public interest, because it occurred the day after the Lindbergh baby was stolen. No kidnapers have been sent to prison for life in the case. In every case including those of the Robles baby and Getch, the role of the victim has been established. In nearly all cases he was finally freed.

A theater seating 80 people and built inside a giant dummy automobile will be exhibited at this year's Chicago fair by a well-known auto manufacturer.

INTEREST RATES ON FARM LOANS HAVE BEEN CUT

Production Credit Association Heads Order Reduction

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 22.—A further reduction on interest charges to farmers of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, borrowing through production credit associations is made possible by the announcement of J. E. Cagle, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia that effective May 16, its rediscout rate had been reduced from 2 1/2 to 2 percent.

This is the lowest rate in the history of the bank, Mr. Cagle stated and is made possible by the confidence of the investing public in the debentures of the intermediate credit bank system, new issues of which were heavily over-subscribed in a few hours after they were offered on the New York market.

This makes the second reduction in rediscout rate of the bank in two months, the rate having been lowered on Mar. 16 from 3 to 2 1/2 percent.

The reduction in the rediscout rates, Ernest Graham, president of the Product Credit Corporation of Columbia, said would reduce the rate of interest charged to farmers borrowing through the production credit associations from 5 1/2 to 5 percent. The new low interest rate is applicable only to loans made after May 15.

"The money which the production credit associations are securing for the farmers of this section," said Mr. Graham, "is not coming from the government but is coming from private investors who are buying the debentures of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia. These debentures are secured by collateral and notes of farmers who own the loans, and the capital stock of their production credit association."

"Already it is being demonstrated that farmers who desire money for production credit purposes can secure same very cheaply if they will conduct their businesses on a sound basis. By protecting their paper they will be assured of cheap production money in the future."

An average of $150,000 per day is now being loaned to farmers' production credit associations in the four states of the third

Delinquent Tax Sales To Be Held On July 2

TALLAHASSEE, May 22.—(A.P.)—Comptroller Lee said Monday he would not approve any further extension in the time for delinquent tax sales, now set for the first Monday in July.

Tax collectors will be called upon to advertise their delinquent tax lists during June and prepare for the sales on schedule.

A postponement of one month previously was granted by the comptroller and Governor Sholtz upon the plea of some tax collectors they could not prepare their delinquent lists in time for sales the first Monday in June. They said added work caused by the

Record Attendance Established For Scout Honor Court

All records for attendance at a Boy Scout Court of Honor in any outlying town in this County were broken when more than 100 persons, 82 of them members of various Boy Scout troops, gathered in the Chulbush school house to participate in the Court's activities.

Sixty-nine merit badges, a record number, were awarded to 27 or 28 Scouts. In addition, eight Scouts were advanced to Second Class, six to First Class, two to Star Rank, and two to Life Rank. Steve Johnson, youth who has been this County's most active Scout for the past six years, was advanced to Eagle Rank, highest of all Scout ratings. He is the only Eagle Scout in the county.

As chairman of Seminole County Scout Council, Arthur Haines presented M. S. Wagner of Chulbush, the 1934 champion Scout leader.

Judge J. D. Sharrow, the presiding officer of the Court, presented each of the members of the Old Scout troop which has just been organized at Chulbush. He also gave a talk on "Scouting."

Others who sat on the Court were: Scout Commissioner J. M. Brown, III, of Orlando; Mr. Ernest, Rev. Martin J. Ryan, S. D. High, and Messrs. R. F. Montague, W. M. Zachry, R. A. Howell, and M. S. Wagner.

Each bill made it physically impossible to prepare the lists for advertising during May.

N. R. A. 'BOLDEST OF USURPATION,' U. S. JUDGE SAYS

Louisville Jurist Defends Ban Against Coal Authority

LOUISVILLE, May 22.—(AP) Judge Charles J. Dawson, of the federal district court who recently granted a temporary injunction to restrain prosecution of thirty-four Western Kentucky coal operators under the National Recovery Act, handed down a written opinion, declaring the N. R. A. as applied to local affairs was "the boldest kind of usurpation."

$4.00 decreed by the N. R. A. code, enjoined the District Attorney from initiating any prosecution to enforce code penalties.

In support of his order Judge Dawson's opinion said that no constitutional justification for attempted regulation of local affairs could be found. "It is the boldest kind of usurpation," it stated, "dared by the authorities and tolerated by the public only because of the bewilderment of the people, in the present emergency. Every person at all familiar with the Constitution and our scheme of government under it knows that no such power exists and its mere academic assertion would be amusing, but its determined exercise is tragic."

Discussing the Recovery Act the opinion said:

"Apparently none of the activities of man are acknowledged as beyond its reach. If the existence of such a power in the national government be admitted, it means the end of constitutional government in this country, under which individual effort and initiative have been fostered and encouraged and the people generally have enjoyed a degree of liberty of person and security of property unknown to the rest of the world."

"I know of no higher duty of the national courts," he continued, "the judges of which are sworn to support and defend the Constitution of the United States, than to strike down such unwarranted invasion of the reserved powers of the states and the rights of the people."

Even conceding Congress the power to act, Judge Dawson said, the law would be unconstitutional delegation of that power to the President as it sets up no standards to guide him in carrying out the legislative will and policy.

The opinion held that to hold the code binding because the operators had consented to the old code would be not unlike treating the unresisting march of the condemned criminal to the gallows as his consent to his own execution. Judge Dawson cited supreme court decisions which, he said, held that mining coal was not commerce and the fact that it was mined for use in the operation of trains in interstate commerce did not bring

Agnes Scott Girls Don't Worry About Ban On Cigarettes

DECATUR, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—Rigid rules against smoking on the Agnes Scott College campus are no bother at all to 60 percent of the college's 400 girl students—they don't smoke anyway. Only 30 girls in the student body puff cigarettes as a regular habit.

These statistics were revealed by a student government association questionnaire circulated after the recent agitation of a group of students to be allowed to smoke on the campus. Dr. J. R. McCain, president of the college, a Presbyterian institution, at the time said girls who could not attend school without smoking could seek other colleges to continue their work.

Miss Mary McDonald, president of the student association, in revealing the figures said the compilation was not made until every student had answered the questions. The questionnaire showed that 129 girls smoke now at the college, but only 30 smoke regularly. Seventy-seven percent of the girls said their parents would not approve any change in the present rules which do not allow girls to smoke anywhere or at any time at the school.

Miss McDonald said: "Since we have found that the majority of girls do not find the present rules burdensome, we feel sure that all will now co-operate in upholding the ideals of our college."

The town was moved to provide a more central location from which to carry on logging operations.

Edgar Lee Masters Gives Account Of Historic Fire Which Swept Chicago In '71

(Account of the Famous Fire of 1871, as told by Edgar Lee Masters in "The Tale of Chicago" and reprinted in the April number of the Reader's Digest.)

Chicago in 1871 presented a splendid appearance. But outside of a few of its 59,800 buildings, the town for the most part was flimsily built of combustible pine. The imposing marble fronts of some of the houses were only thin veneers. The towers of Gothic churches sometimes toppled over, being made of tin. Pine and gully were used to form Corinthian columns. With huge piles of lumber and coal stacked both sides of the Union River, with the acres of frame buildings and miles of wooden sidewalks, Chicago was a continuous threat of fire.

Moreover, the rainfall of that summer was less than 10 percent of the average for Chicago, and for long months the hot southern winds had swept over the city from the prairies. The waterworks and fire departments were inadequate as the city grew in population, then, to the great city of October 4 and 5; but it was preceded on the seventh by a fire which struck conservatism into the hearts of Chicagoans. A fire that destroyed nearly four city blocks.

On the day after, at 8:35 on the night of October eighth, the first of the great "L" fires. In the Nearby was the federal building which had $2,000,000 in coin and paper in its vaults. This was melted or whiffed away in ashes as the building crumbled to the ground. Large new hotels, never yet occupied, were consumed after being toppled over by the might of the hurricane. The Potter Palmer building, occupied by Marshall Field and for which he was paying the incredible rental of $52,000 a year, was transformed to gas and smoke and ashes. Hotels like the nine-story Palmer House and the seven-story Sherman House were filled with guests and some of them on emerging into the panic-stricken streets lost their lives as they hurried along, dragging with them baggage and possessions after them. Around them was the thunder of falling walls. And then the gas works exploded with the detonation of an awakened volcano. Beside these terrible sounds the noise of the crowds and of women screaming dwindled to a mere murmur.

Michigan Avenue with jammed with drays loaded with people trying to escape from the city. The sidewalks were crowded with men, women and children, all carrying articles of furniture or personal belongings. Horses neighed and ran loose. Dogs raced this way and that, howling their terror. Great rats left their holes under the sidewalks, kicked and stamped upon by the hurrying crowds. And flocks of pigeons, that for so long had tramped the cupola of the court house, rose gracefully into the air and circled the doomed city amid the sparks, their wings turned to gold by the mounting glare.

The fire crossed easily to the north side. It lapped up the warehouses along the river; it took McCormick's repair works; it fluted among the jugging of ships in the river and they sank in flames to the surface of the water. The north side residents stampeded to the sand of the lake, to the prairies at the west, and to the cemeteries where, amid the glowing headstones of the dead, they watched their city vanish.

At this time there was an ocean of flame over the whole city. Great rag-shaped masses of fire, looking like cooped balloons, soared here and there spreading the contagion. Long billows of fire submerged whole squares of brick and stone buildings as waves ran over little hills of sand; when they subsided there was nothing left but ashes. Down went into fragments like soap bubbles; marble walls curled up and fell like ignited sheets of cardboard. Finally, back on the square, the courthouse capitulated. Its great bell, which had been ringing since the tragedy, fell with a reverberating last knell to the basement, and the fire played about the precious records of old Fort Dearborn and the first village.

They crowded upon benches and high walks. The sidewalks were propped on rotten piles of planks, and fell beneath the weight of human beings covering upon them. People struggled over furniture as they hurried here and there in a panic of fear. The air was full of curses, shouts and prayers. Saloons were broken open and despoiled. Men in the spell of whisky, haggard, collarless and blackened with smoke, glided through the masses, picking pockets. They broke the windows of stores, hindered and rifled the shelves and tills. Wagons piled with silks were driven off by thieves who had looted Field's store. Dead men were found with their pockets full of gold rings, buttons and jewels which they had stolen in vain. Prostitutes, with wide hollow eyes and faces made more evil by the shifting glow of the flames, moved about laughing, raving and shouting. On the South Side the fugitives from death huddled in the icy water of the lake with sparks and brands falling about them. Women shrieked as they were knocked down by robbers to take small bundles of clothing. Those who had means to escape by a hack were preyed upon without mercy, $10 being the smallest journey.

The firemen, many of them exhausted from the day before, fought desperately, but the task was too much for human flesh. Brands driven by the gale struck houses of brick, which ignited as if they were tinder. The streets were as light as noon, where thousands stood appalled at the grandeur of the scene, and stared transfixed at what was at once terrible and beautiful. In the Randolph Street neighborhood, a liquid hell swept along until an oil establishment took fire, when the flames shot up mountain-high and glared down upon the river. With this explosion the walls of the Nevada Hotel fell in without a sound, as if they were the structure of a dream, so great was the din by comparison. At the same time the Gasden City House, one of the marvels of the city, spluttered like a box of matches, while its iron columns melted as if they were grease. Now there was a surging panic toward the Randolph Street bridge, and wagons, drays and carriages all crowded upon it, amid collisions and break-downs, and unearthly shouts.

At any rate, the story started and it has become the accepted

Steel Companies Will Not Recognize Unions

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 23. —(AP)—Officials of three large steel companies here announced Monday that they will not recognize the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Plate Workers.

"Recognition," said a statement issued by the Republic Steel Corporation, "would mean a closed shop and to this the company is unalterably opposed."

Similar replies were given Amalgamated delegates at local offices of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and Carnegie Steel Company.

"We are willing to bargain with any group of our employees as such," the Republic statement continued. "We will not, however, recognize any outside organization attempting to bargain with us for all our employees."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"MORTALS AND IMMORTALS" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 20.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord: Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord. For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited. Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is" (Jer. 17:5-7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage: "The Christian Science text-book, 'Science and Health with Key, to the Scriptures,' by Mary Baker Eddy: 'Mortals are the counterfeits of Immortals. They are the children of the wicked one, or the one evil, which declares man begins in dust or as a material embryo. . . . Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man. Mortals are not fallen children of God. They never had a perfect state of being, which may subsequently be regained. They were, from the beginning of mortal history, conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity'" (p. 476).
