Seminole High Will Now Have Only One Homecoming Queen

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

Only one homecoming queen will grace the court of beautiful girls at Seminole High School for the 1981-82 year.

In 1973, administrators at the high school decided to establish two homecoming queens, one black and one white. It was a time of racial unrest at the recently integrated school, and students were "questioning black versus white representation," recalled Seminole Principal Wayne Epps.

"We passed this problem years ago," Epps said, referring to racial disturbances at the school.

"We don't want to promote the fact that we have whites and blacks; we have students here," Epps said.

Epps is in his first year as principal of Seminole High. He was assistant principal for nine years at the school before accepting its top administrative position. He graduated from Seminole in 1963.

When senior students at Seminole meet for their assembly on Tuesday, they will nominate eight girls for the homecoming court. Each student will vote for three girls, Epps said.

Only senior girls at Seminole High are elected to the homecoming court. Each senior student will be able to vote for three girls, Epps said.

Approximately 68 percent of the school's students are white. Epps said he knows of no other high school that elected both a black and a white homecoming queen.

"No other election in the school is done that way," Epps said. As an example, he said students do not elect a black and a white student government president.

Most students agree with Epps' decision, according to Stephanie Baker, Seminole High's student government president. Miss Baker is black.

"When I first heard about it, I was really upset," she said. "It was just something we had done ever since I can remember," she added. Miss Baker said she heard from Seminole High students, however, and realized they only wanted one homecoming queen.

Last year the predominantly black Afro-American United Club decided to endorse the idea of a single homecoming queen. Representatives from Afro-American United got together with representatives from other student clubs as the "Interclub Council" and decided to endorse a single queen, Miss Baker said.

"The Interclub Council" went to the school administration and said they wanted only one homecoming queen," she said.

"They felt the school could handle it without any major problems."

Miss Baker said one reason members of the Interclub Council think only one homecoming queen is necessary focuses on the racial makeup of student leaders.

"The heads of clubs and student government are both black and white," Miss Baker said. As an example, she said the student government president and vice president are both black, but the president of the senior class is white.

"Kids should be treated as kids," Epps said. "Saying you (a student) get to do this because of what color you are is not right. It (having two homecoming queens) was the only thing in the school which wasn't consistent."

Seminole High's 1981-82 homecoming queen will be crowned Nov. 20, when the varsity football team challenges Spruce Creek.

Woman In Traction After Look At X-Rays

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

Vera Hayes, the Sanford woman whom emergency personnel sought Thursday morning to warn not to move her neck suddenly, is in traction today at Orlando Regional Medical Center.

She is listed in fair condition today, according to hospital spokesman Helen Galloway.

Ms. Hayes, 47, was injured in an automobile collision late Wednesday in Orlando. She was taken to Orlando Regional Medical Center, where she was treated for a cut on the forehead, X-rayed and released. The emergency-room physician on duty who examined X-rays of her neck and spine found nothing wrong.

But in the morning, when the X-rays were examined by a neurologist, a call went out to bring Ms. Hayes back to the hospital. The neurologist suspected she might have a cracked vertebra, a potentially life-threatening situation if she were to move her neck suddenly.

Hospital public-relations director Ed Davis said it is routine for a neurologist — an expert who specializes in reading X-rays — to go over emergency-room X-rays in the morning. He said the emergency-room physician would not necessarily have noticed the cracked vertebra.

"A fractured vertebra is very hard to spot except by the trained eye," he said. From her hospital bed, where she said she can't move her head at all, Ms. Hayes said she can't understand why the hospital emergency personnel sent her home that night.

"I was in terrible pain," she said. "I couldn't stoop over without terrible pain in the back of my head and neck."

On top of that, she said she was "woozy" from the loss of blood from the cut on her forehead or from shock of the accident.

After Orlando Regional personnel called Sanford police in an effort to locate Ms. Hayes Thursday morning, the Seminole County Public Safety Department and Herndon Ambulance Service personnel got involved in the search.

A county dispatcher told emergency crews to find Ms. Hayes and immobilize her neck "very carefully" because she was in danger.

Asked this morning if she had been told she was in a life-threatening situation, Ms. Hayes said, "I got that impression."

"They said I had a fractured vertebra and thought I should get back to the hospital right away," she said.

The Herndon crew first looked for Ms.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

There will be plenty of music, showmanship and fireworks to please crowds at the seventh annual Seminole County High School Band Festival, to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Lyman High School stadium on County Road 427, Longwood.

With the addition of the new Lake Mary High School Band this year there will be more bands participating than ever. Hosted by the Bishop Moore High School Band, the event also will include performances by the Lyman, Seminole, Lake Brantley, Lake Howell and Oviedo high school bands.

The festival is sponsored by the Sanford Optimist Club and the Evening Herald. Joe Derrico, Bishop Moore's bandmaster, will be in charge of the program as host.

Each school will have 10 minutes to perform individual numbers. A massed band of more than 1,000 young musicians will perform "The Star-Spangled Banner" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" in conjunction with the fireworks display to open the program and will also close it.

Butler is the festival chairman, and Dale Coppick is program chairman.

Ticket proceeds go to the bands for uniforms, music and instruments. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Crime Lab May Go To Lake Mary

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The proposed new $4 million Central Florida Crime Laboratory may be built in Seminole County after all.

The Lake Mary City Council on Thursday night unanimously agreed to offer the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) a lease at $1 per year of two acres of its 10-acre tract on Rinehart Road.

The lease is contingent on a ruling favorable to the city in a circuit court hearing scheduled for early December on a lawsuit filed by developer-entrepreneur Jeno Paulucci, who is seeking a court order to require Lake Mary to resell him the 10-acre parcel for $50,300—the original sale price in April 1979.

Paulucci says he sold the city the land specifically as a site for a new City Hall. The city has since purchased the former Chamber of Commerce building on N. Country Club Road as a City Hall. The city says it made no formal agreement designating the tract for city-complex use only.

Claude Truby, manager of the Sanford Crime Laboratory, which is to be replaced by the new facility, said today the Lake Mary site has been the favorite all along. He said he will notify his superiors at the FDLE of the new offer from Lake Mary. "We'll look into it immediately," he said.

Truby and the FDLE have been trying to acquire a site and complete plans for the new facility prior to the opening of the legislative session on Jan. 18. Although funding for the new crime lab has been promised by the Legislature, the appropriation for the facility is to be formally committed during the 1982 session. Truby has said the best site for the facility is one located near Interstate 4. Other sites which have been offered are not near I-4.

In other business at Thursday night's Lake Mary City Council meeting, City Attorney Gary Massey was instructed by the council to draft an ordinance amending the city charter to change the city election time from December to November.

Councilman Gene McDonald said a November election time to conform to state and federal election times would be better.

McDonald also made a motion, approved by the council, to instruct City Manager Phil Kulbes to develop street and drainage improvement plans for the city by Dec. 3.

The council also approved the appointments by Mayor Walter Sorenson of: Joe Leibert to the Board of Adjustment, replacing Bob Stoddard, who resigned to seek a seat on the city council in the Dec. 8 city election; Fredric Stanley, to replace resigned Virginia Mercer on the Planning and Zoning Commission; Pat Thompson, chairman, and Virginia Nelson, Albert Hall, Ursula West and Betty Lindmeier on the election board; and City Clerk Connie Major, Councilmen Kenneth King and Richard Fess, and Sorenson on the canvassing board.

A proposal by Donald McIntosh Associates to develop the first phase of Lake Mary Woods into single-family homes on property bounded by U.S. Highway 17-92, County Road 427 and East Street was rejected by the council. The first phase plan called for development of the portion of the tract near East Street first.

Fess objected, saying persons who bought homes in the first phase would be using East Street, the entrance road to Seminole Community College, for access. Fess said the road already has a high traffic volume and is scheduled to be improved. During the construction of improvements, traffic problems will worsen, he said.

The manager of the crime lab said the Lake Mary site has been the favorite all along.

Fess said that if the CR 427 phase of the development were done first the new residents "would be conditioned to using CR 427."

In addition, King stated his concerns about drainage problems on the site. Councilmen Ray Fox and Vic Olvera voted in favor of the development.

The council also rejected a request from six city residents to vacate and abandon Sixth Street from Lake Mary Boulevard north through to Wilbur Avenue. City Engineer Paul Porter, in a 1978 study, recommended that the city not abandon the street. The usual practice when a city abandons a street is for property owners on both sides of the right-of-way to acquire the property automatically.

At Lake Mary Council Meeting

Criticism On Sewer Plant

A two-page list of deficiencies at the Forest sewer plant, the ownership of which the city of Lake Mary assumed little more than a month ago, brought a furious response from City Councilman Vic Olvera at Thursday night's council meeting.

Olvera, directing remarks to City Manager Phil Kulbes, demanded the council be informed on a monthly basis about the plant's operation and expenses. "I voted to acquire the Forest sewer plant with reservations," Olvera said, adding he was told the plant was guaranteed for a year.

"Why is the city paying for repairs? Why didn't we know something was wrong before we acquired it?" he asked.

Kulbes responded that the guarantee does not include the lines, only the plant's design.

Olvera's remarks came after the council received from city Public Works Superintendent Jim Orioles a two-page typewritten list of deficiencies at the plant, located in the Forest mobile home park off Lake Mary Boulevard.

The deficiencies noted in the report include: cracks in the plant structure, allowing effluent seepage; a recurring problem with collector lines clogging with roots, and two breakdowns in the last week in the electrical timing system with the plant's aerators.

Orioles' report noted that the sewer plant operator and electrician suggested the city have "standby" power, adding the plant "will die and the lift station will back up" if power is off for lengthy periods of time.

Orioles also noted that the plant has no emergency generator and urged the council to acquire one.

Mayor Walter Sorenson said he will contact the two cities to see if Lake Mary could borrow a generator.

Orioles estimated the city could acquire a generator for $5,000. The council voted to establish a sinking fund from revenues of the sewer system for the future purchase of a generator.

"I don't like what's happening out there," Olvera said. He asked Kulbes to prepare guidelines for the council on exactly what the plant's one-year guarantee entails and what the savings and loan institution will and will not pay for under the guarantee.

"I'll contact Sanford and Casselberry to see if we can strike a deal to use a generator of theirs if they don't need it, as an interim solution," Sorenson said.

Finally: Ambrose — By 3 Votes

It's official. Ray Ambrose has been elected mayor of Altamonte Springs. The city's election canvassing board Thursday evening certified Ambrose's victory.

The board after recounting ballots found that incumbent Mayor Hugh Harling had two more votes than originally recorded. The certified results gave Ambrose 886 tallies to Harling's 883, giving Ambrose a three-vote margin of victory out of 1,772 votes cast.

Three of the ballots were spoiled and rejected.

The members of the canvassing board were Pat Chisamore, Burton Miller, Marcella Hanson, and City Commissioners Lee Constantine and Bob Reis.

Ambrose said today he was not surprised at the final outcome giving him the win. "I had a lot of confidence in (Seminole Election Supervisor) Carl Bruce's count. Every single time the election votes were counted, I came out ahead. I also had confidence in the canvassing board," he said.

Ambrose is to officially assume office Nov. 17. He was elected to a three-year term. His salary is $4,800.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Nuclear-Armed Soviet Sub Is Released By Sweden

KARLSKRONA, Sweden (UPI) — Swedish boats escorted a Soviet submarine apparently equipped with nuclear torpedoes into international waters today, ending a diplomatic crisis that began 11 days ago when the suspected spy vessel ran aground in a secret military zone.

"The submarine passed the sea border and is heading towards Soviet vessels about 4 miles away," Cmdr. Gunner Rasmussen of the Karlskrona naval base said.

Hurricane Katrina Hits Cuba

United Press International

Hurricane Katrina hit populous central Cuba with 75-mph winds and heavy rains today, stirring up 10-foot waves and forcing the evacuation of almost 73,000 people and thousands of cattle.

The seventh storm of the hurricane season boasted only minimal hurricane winds after weakening slightly Thursday night, but picked up forward speed as it swept ashore just southwest of Camaguey, Cuba.

Canada Cuts Colonial Ties

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau broke a 54-year impasse to create a new constitution, winning support from all provinces except Quebec for a document that will sever Canada's last colonial tie with Britain.

"I recall that it was in 1787 that the fathers of your country gathered in Philadelphia and finished writing the constitution of the United States of America," Trudeau said Thursday night in New York hours after the historic agreement. "In Canada, we did it this morning."

British-Irish Summit Set

LONDON (UPI) — The leaders of Britain and Ireland called a summit meeting today in London amid reports they might establish a joint council that could help end 12 years of sectarian bloodshed in Northern Ireland.

Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Irish Prime Minister Garret FitzGerald, along with key government ministers and officials, planned a full day of talks at the British leader's No. 10 Downing St. office.

Budget Meeting Topic For GOP And Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional budget writers are hoping President Reagan will end a "fierce debate" in the administration by deciding whether he will support large tax increases to balance the federal budget.

House and Senate Republican leaders planned to meet with Reagan today and hoped for a decision that would end their budget struggle and allow them to move ahead with a job that should have been finished months ago.

Both Right In Contradiction?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attempting to settle an outright contradiction in nuclear strategy between Secretary of State Alexander Haig and Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger, the administration declared both men correct—but did not say what the doctrine actually is.

The issue arose when Haig, testifying Wednesday before the Senate Foreign Relations committee, unexpectedly interjected an answer in which he said that NATO doctrine included plans for a "demonstration shot" nuclear explosion to show the Western alliance meant business in any possible confrontation with the Soviet Union.

Preston Sentenced To Electric Chair

Convicted murderer Robert Anthony Preston Jr. was sentenced this morning to die in the electric chair for the 1978 knife slaying of Altamonte convenience-store clerk Earline Walker.

Preston also received a sentence of 15 years for robbery and life imprisonment for kidnaping in connection with the same incident.

Preston looked down at his shackled feet in circuit court in Sanford just before the sentence was to be pronounced, but showed no other emotion as Circuit Court Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. said he must die for his crime.

After listening about two and a half hours to arguments concerning aggravating and mitigating circumstances, Davis said he concluded there were no mitigating circumstances that would make him overturn the jury's 7-5 recommendation that the death penalty be applied.

"I wish my task were easier, but it is not an easy task," Davis said. "There were several aggravating circumstances, however," he said before pronouncing sentence.

Ms. Walker was abducted and mutilated before she was killed.

"May God have mercy on your soul," the judge added afterward.

Preston will have an automatic right of appeal. On his behalf, defense attorney A.J. "Sonny" Kutsche asked that Preston be allowed a contact visit with his mother.

GUSTAFSON SUES SANFORD

A lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of Sanford's zoning-ordinance definition of conditional uses and its commercial general category has been filed in circuit court at Sanford.

Lake Mary Has Un-Homecoming

There really wasn't a Homecoming game at Lake Mary High School Thursday. And there was no Homecoming Court.

But there was a Home-Staying event. We don't have an alumni," explained Lake Mary social studies teacher Desta Horner. "So we had a Home-Staying game and a Home-Staying court."

Lake Mary High School opened for the first time this fall with only 9th and 10th graders.

Sophomore Michelle Swartz was voted Home-Staying Queen and sophomore Ned Klobjornson was voted Home-Staying King.

Ned didn't get to walk down the red carpet in a tux with Michelle on his arm, however, because he was in his football uniform.

In fact, all five sophomores nominated for Home-Staying King were on the football team and unavailable to escort the ladies — the five girls nominated for Queen.

But they did the next best thing, Ms. Horner said. The fathers of the boys nominated stood in for their sons and accompanied the girls.

At half-time in the Home-Staying game, a red carpet was rolled out to the center of the field and each nominee for queen walked out on the arm of the father of a nominee for king, Ms. Horner said.

In addition, six nominees for Home-Staying prince and six nominees for princess from the 9th grade class walked down the carpet.

Named Home-Staying Princess was Vanessa Rhody. Scott Underwood was named Prince.

Lake Mary High School Principal Don Reynolds gave a bouquet of red roses to Vanessa and shook Scott's hand.

Everyone then braced for the announcement of the girl to be Queen.

"Michelle dissolved immediately into cries and oohs and aahs," Ms. Horner said.

Reynolds then placed a tiara on her head, a red velvet cape around her shoulders and gave her a bouquet of a dozen red roses.

Ned's father got to wear his gold crown.

Michelle hugged the four girls who would make up her court and gave each a red rose.

With the King and Queen named the schools alma mater was played and a gold convertible Rolls Royce drove up to the edge of the red carpet and drove the reigning beauty and her royal stand-in around the field.

Approximately 2,200 attended the event. The biggest crowd of the season, Ms. Horner said.

Before the game in which the 1-lyman High School JV Greyhounds beat the Lake Mary Rams 23-12, there was a pre-game show with bands from Rock Lake and Lakeview Middle Schools joining the Lake Mary band in producing some rousing patriotic music culminating in the Star Spangled Banner. The court nominees rode around the field in a convertible and there was a brief fireworks display. — DIANE PETRYK

The lawsuit, to be heard by Circuit Judge Robert McGregor, was filed by Dale Gustafson, who asked the Sanford City Commission for a conditional use permit to sell beer and wine at the restaurant he has built on S. French Avenue near 13th Street. The City Commission denied the request after hearing lengthy objections from members of the First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church.

The suit asks the court to reverse the commission's decision and to issue the permit and stop Sanford from interfering with Gustafson's application for a state liquor license.

The commission at the time of denial said city law requires businesses selling alcoholic beverages to be at least 500 feet apart and George's Tavern is nearer than the 500-foot limitation. Gustafson's lawyer, Jack Bridges, contended city regulations do not define how to measure distances between businesses that sell alcoholic beverages, and that by using different methods of measurement the distance between the two ranges from 404 to 752 feet.

At approximately 6:40 p.m. Thursday burglars entered Cynthia Keitt's home at 802 Pine Ave., Sanford, by unknown means, according to Sanford Police Department reports. Ms. Keitt told police she did not know how the thief or thieves gained entry into her house and police could find no signs of forced entry. Stereo equipment, a bedspread and rug valued at $435 were taken from the premises.

CAMERAS STOLEN

Sometime between 8 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Thursday someone removed the screen from a back bedroom window and broke the glass to gain entry to Karen Almond's house at 316 Hidden Lake Drive, Sanford.

According to Sanford Police Department reports, the burglar removed $860 in property, including two cameras from a bedroom dresser and stereo equipment from the living room.

CLASS RINGS MISSING

Between 8 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Thursday burglars removed the rear window of Kaye Berry's home at 304 Laurel Court, Sanford, and stole two class rings.

The rings, belonging to Mrs. Berry and her husband, were valued at approximately $225. One ring was silver with the initials "KLB" on the inside. Mrs. Berry's husband's ring was gold, according to police reports.

Ronald T. Lee, 29, of 107 Wheatland Court, Longwood, died Thursday night after the truck he was driving collided with a car driven by Donald E. Counts, 30, of Orlando, on State Road 528A, Orlando, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

Lee was dead at the scene. Counts was taken to Orlando Regional Medical Center and admitted, the FHP reported. The Lee truck and the Counts vehicle were both totaled in the accident. An FHP spokesman said charges are pending further investigation.

Brink's Suspect Freed Of Charges

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charges against a female black militant in the bloody Brink's heist were dropped because an auto mechanic's receipt proved she was in New Orleans at the time.

Cynthia Boston, 33, minister of information for the radical Republic of New Afrika, was freed from jail Thursday. She left without talking to reporters but scheduled a news conference today to discuss her arrest.

Ms. Boston was arrested Oct. 27 at a remote Mississippi farmhouse by nearly 200 FBI agents. Agents are still hunting for her common-law husband, William Johnson, accused of being one of the gunmen who tried to rob a Brink's armored van Oct. 20.

Two police officers and a security guard were killed in the bungled $1.6 million holdup and a subsequent chase in Nanuet and Nyack.

A federal complaint filed in Manhattan Thursday linked Marilyn Jean Buck, the only white member of the B.I.A., to the robbery, accusing her of aiding four of the suspects charged with the robbery and killings.

She is the seventh suspect in last month's robbery, which authorities say was the work of a new coalition of black and white radical groups who hoped to finance future terrorist operations.

FBI agents had claimed Ms. Boston was one of four people who cleaned out a Mount Vernon, N.Y., "safe house" the day after the aborted heist but they were unable to substantiate the charge.

"I knew something terrible was wrong (at the emergency room Wednesday)," Ms. Hayes said. "I was in great pain. I could hardly move my head, but they said I could go."

Ms. Galloway said this morning Ms. Hayes will be in traction for several days and then will be fitted with a vest-type brace that she will need to wear for several weeks.

Ms. Hayes said that could have been George Speer, who employs her as housekeeper for his mother.

Shuttle Workers Are Aiming For Blastoff Wednesday

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Space shuttle technicians worked around the clock today seeking the cause of the dirty oil problem in the hydraulic system engines that delayed the Columbia's launch until at least next Wednesday.

The "recovery plan" to get the winged spaceship back on track for its second test flight was aimed toward the start of an abbreviated countdown Monday night. If successful, blastoff would be at 7:30 a.m. EST Wednesday — a week late.

Spending Cut Has Skeptics

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Senate Appropriations Chairman Jack Gordon has vowed to cut state spending in the upcoming fiscal year, but some agency heads aren't taking him seriously.

Gordon sent out a memo telling agency heads to plan on getting no more money for the 1982-83 fiscal year than they got for the current fiscal year because of federal funding cuts and a slowdown in the Florida economy keeping tax revenues from growing as much as usual.

Court OKs Secret Hearings

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court has ruled unanimously that court proceedings can be held in secret without violating the federal or state constitutions in order to protect the lives of potential police informants in narcotics cases.

In their 5-0 ruling, the justices upheld a provision of the state's 1979 landmark drug trafficking that allows closed-door court hearings when judges consider motions to reduce the sentences of drug dealers who are cooperating with authorities.

Garnishing Wages Permitted

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The state Supreme Court has ruled that Florida law permits the garnishing of the salary of the head of a family to enforce periodic payments of child support or alimony.

But, the court said in a companion case ruled on Thursday, the law does not allow the attaching of wages in cases where the debt has been reduced to a final money judgment.

Home Building In Depression

MIAMI (UPI) — Officials within the state's homebuilding industry are calling the current slump a full scale depression — the worst in a quarter of a century.

"Some people say it's a recession, but I think it's a depression — and I'm serious about that," Stuart Feder, president of Lazarus Communities, said Thursday.

Brooke Shields Asks Halt In Use Of Nude Photos

NEW YORK (UPI) — Teen-age model and film star Brooke Shields sobbed on the witness stand while telling a Manhattan court that the man who photographed her nude at the age of 10 "wanted to use me."

The 16-year-old high school junior testified Thursday and was to appear again today in state Supreme Court in a bid to halt the future distribution of the photographs, which show her nude in a bath tub.

Miss Shields and her mother Terri contend the pictures were to be used for only one purpose — in a collection of photographs entitled "Sugar and Spice" published by Playboy Press.

The young actress maintains that future commercial use of the pictures, taken in 1975 by photographer Garry Gross, would irreparably harm her career and hurt her image as "role model" for teens. But Gross maintains banning them would infringe on his livelihood.

During Thursday's hearing, Miss Shields heard Gross' attorney describe her image as a "Lolita," "vamp" and "femme fatale."

"The fantasy of an infant's sexual proclivities bordering on nymphomania has been Brooke's fashion and celluloid battering ram," attorney A. Richard Golub said in a statement.

Miss Shields' attorney, on the other hand, described her as a wholesome young woman and high school cheerleader who has given her time to numerous charities and health campaigns.

"I know what I really am," Miss Shields said. "I don't consider myself a sex symbol." Golub asked her if she liked Gross, the photographer.

"I used to like him very much," she said. "When did you stop liking him?" Golub said. "When I realized he wanted to use me."

Miss Shields then put her hand to her eyes and started weeping.

A court officer gave her a tissue and Miss Shields composed herself within three minutes.

Justice Edward Greenfield is to decide whether or not to issue a permanent injunction blocking future use of the photographs.

Miss Shields and her mother also are suing Gross for $1 million for breach of contract. That case will be presented to a jury.

Besides the nude session with Gross, Miss Shields said she appeared nude when she was 10 years old for "two to three seconds" in the movie "Pretty Baby" as well as naked from the waist up in a book by photographer Francesco Scavullo.

She said that after "Pretty Baby," her contract called for stand-ins in all nude scenes.

VETS HOLD BLOOD DRIVE

Pat Musselwhite, a licensed practical nurse, takes a blood donation from Thomas Lewis, a retired Marine sergeant major, as the veterans organizations of Seminole County prepared to kick off their Blood Donor Week next week. Residents can make donations from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at the Central Florida Blood Bank on E. Second St., Sanford.

Lyman High Slates Homecoming Activities

Lyman High School Homecoming activities will begin with a skit night on Wednesday at 7 p.m. and culminate Saturday night with the Homecoming Dance to be held at Wymore Grove Clubhouse Altamonte Springs from 8 p.m. to midnight.

Highlight of the festivities will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen during the halftime of the Homecoming game Friday night when Lyman's Greyhounds face Spruce Creek at 8 p.m.

Vying for the Homecoming crown will be seniors Kim Loudermilk, Diddo, Wilmoth, Ellie Rock, Lisa Hetfield and Lisa Lorenz and Junior Jane Ristline.

On Thursday there will be a Powder Puff Football Game with Junior and Senior girls taking to the field. During the half-time there will be a float competition among the various classes and school organizations. Following the game, there will be a bonfire prep rally.

In ancient Rome, snails were raised on ranches. They were fed with spicy soups to season them for the table.

About The CIA's Delicate Condition

The Reagan administration has tried three times to draft a new executive order placing acceptable limitations on the powers of the Central Intelligence Agency. Both the White House and Congressional watchdog committees agree that an order signed by former President Carter in 1978 was too restrictive.

The first draft from the new administration was rejected on Capitol Hill on grounds it went too far in relaxing the Carter restrictions. The second draft was criticized because it did not go far enough.

A third draft now in circulation is continuing to draw fire in Congress, but it may represent the only hope of striking a compromise between the twin dangers of placing the CIA under too loose a rein and not giving it enough leeway to do its job.

The main sticking point is defining the circumstances when the CIA could conduct covert activities within the United States. This is how the agency got into trouble in the 1960s and 1970s.

The White House insists that its latest order will not violate the historic division of responsibilities between the CIA and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Under the 1947 law creating the CIA, it conducts intelligence activities abroad in support of U.S. foreign policy. The FBI is responsible for internal security, including the surveillance of foreign agents in the United States.

The problem is that a foreign intelligence operation within the purview of the CIA can lead back to the United States. Under the present rules the CIA, in that event, would have to abandon the operation or turn it over to the FBI even if it had nothing to do with internal security. If that circumstance arose under the proposed new order, the CIA could continue its surveillance of a foreign agent in this country, but in a "restricted" fashion and only in "full coordination" with the FBI.

The important test is that a CIA operation within the United States could have nothing to do with an internal problem or domestic politics. It would be justified only if it is "in support of a national foreign policy objective abroad," which remains consistent with the 1947 law.

Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan and other critics in Congress are complaining that the new order would open the way for "domestic spying" by the CIA, and would pose a threat to the civil liberties of American citizens. The order, however, retains the current limitation on the CIA's powers to conduct electronic surveillance or physical searches in the United States.

Mr. Moynihan thinks the administration is showing a "lack of sensitivity" to fears that the CIA could be turned into a "covert political instrument" of the executive branch of government. That is a legitimate worry, and history tells us that agencies equipped to conduct surveillance and covert operations can indeed abuse their power.

The other side of the coin is that an intelligence agency can be reduced to impotence if fear of such abuse dominates the ground rules under which it must operate. The Carter restrictions went too far in that direction. The proposed new order is not a blank check for "domestic spying" but a reasonable attempt to restore an important degree of flexibility to the CIA.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I know it may sound crazy, but, someday, I'd like to see a game."

The Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation will present its 5th Annual Arts and Crafts Festival and Sale in Old Longwood, County Road 427, November 21, 22, 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. both days.

The purpose of the Festival is to promote local artists and craftsmen, to create an awareness of the historical background of Central Florida, and to encourage people to explore the area in which they live.

The activities center around the Bradlee-McIntyre House, 130 West Warren St., an 1865 Victorian structure rescued by the Society from destruction, and moved from Altamonte Springs in 1972 to its present location.

An Antique Doll Collection will be the feature attraction in the Bradlee-McIntyre House, and guided tours will be conducted.

For additional information call Richard N. Venable, Publicity Chairman, 894-9718.

The League of Women Voters of Florida has targeted the following legislative priorities for action in the next session of the Florida legislature, according to the Seminole County LWV Chapter.

Equal Rights Amendment — The League of Women Voters is determined to continue to work to achieve ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. The League is committed to a firm stand in achieving equal rights for all citizens.

Reapportionment — The following are LWV positions on the apportionment issue: single member districts; compactly shaped, contiguous districts of equal population which also respect jurisdictional lines; apportionment that is accomplished on a non-partisan basis, without regard to incumbency; small and workable houses.

Education Funding — The League continues its position of supporting increased funding for education to move Florida into the top quartile, nationally.

Juvenile Justice — The League supports adequate funding of a wider variety of alternative services for delinquent and dependent children and their families.

Water Quality and Quantity — The League has strongly supported Chapter 373, the Florida Water Resources Act, and maintains vigilant support of this legislation. The League opposes any relaxation of water quality standards in the face of federal budget cuts and therefore, endorses the following: state funding to replace federal funding cuts of the Waste Water Construction Grants Program; and state funding to replace federal funding cuts in order to insure adequate numbers of inspectors for landfill sites and to provide positions in the Department of Environmental Regulation to address water quality issues associated with storm waters.

ROBERT WALTERS Strike Ready To Be Settled

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis and his boss, President Reagan, have ignored a unique opportunity to halt a tawdry dispute that has unnecessarily disgraced both the government and its principal adversary.

By acting with dignity and distinction, Lewis probably could have resolved the controversy that erupted when members of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization walked off their jobs in early August.

The logical occasion for ending that strike on terms acceptable to both union and federal officials was the announcement of the decision of the Federal Labor Relations Authority of decertify PATCO as the principal bargaining agent for the nation's air traffic controllers.

Lewis could have responded to that ruling with a policy statement along these lines: "We knew we were legally and morally right when we dismissed the PATCO members who refused to work, in violation of their oath to the public that they would never strike."

"We demonstrated our determination and ability to enforce that decision by terminating those strikers from government service and initiating legal action against them and their union."

"Our judgment and our actions now have been fully vindicated by an independent, quasi-judicial federal agency which thoroughly reviewed the matter and decided in our favor on all of the crucial issues involved."

"Our position has been thoroughly justified, but there is no reason to be vindictive in this matter. We will now proceed to examine each striker's situation on a case-by-case basis, with the objective of rehiring those who are willing to abide by our rules and work on our terms."

"The public deserves restoration of a full complement of controllers as promptly as possible to maintain the integrity and safety of our air transportation system."

Instead, Lewis chose the occasion to perpetuate the confrontation with the strikers by declaring flatly "they will not be brought back," then recounting how he summarily rejected a recent request for a "secret meeting" made by PATCO President Robert E. Poli.

"There is no way we were going to try to negotiate," said Lewis. "I never had any intention of reopening the negotiations with Mr. Poli and I never will."

Lewis intransigence was matched by Poli's belligerence. After accusing the government of attempting "to crush a labor union, to vanquish us as criminals," the PATCO president insisted that "we were right then and we are right now."

The union was wrong in encouraging its members to break an inviolate no-strike pledge, but the government's over-zealous crusade against PATCO is well on its way to becoming a vendetta — and the real losers are millions of people who aren't even involved in the dispute.

JACK ANDERSON

Reagan Not Displeased With Haig?

WASHINGTON — The column that was scheduled to appear Tuesday in this space reached the White House in advance and stimulated some urgent telephone calls from President Reagan and Secretary of State Haig. The story behind the column is more intriguing, therefore, than the original report.

I had written that Alexander Haig was top man on the president's "disappointment list" and that he "reportedly has one foot on a banana peel." I had cited incidents that allegedly had caused the president to lose confidence in Haig's judgment.

Haig was so disturbed over the column that he called twice to discuss it. He said it was obviously the handiwork of a top White House aide, who has been running a guerrilla campaign against him for nine months.

The campaign to discredit him, said Haig, also involved persons high in the Central Intelligence Agency and the Senate. "This damages my ability to carry out the president's foreign policy," he declared. He called it "sabotage of the president" by some of his own people. "It is just mind boggling," said Haig.

Later, the president telephoned to say the column was wrong. "I am very pleased with DON GRAFF Are We Ready For War?

Talk about tough! The Reagan administration has addressed the problem of illegal immigration in detail and its response stops just short of a declaration of war.

It proposes: — To empower the president to declare an "immigration emergency" should he determine that American beaches are about to be hit by sudden waves of uninvited aliens, as, for convenient example, has occurred several times in the case of Cubans during the past two decades.

— To expand the federal government's authority to detain suspected unauthorized aliens.

— To make the attorney general's word virtually law in immigration cases, eliminating hearings by special judges and restricting appeal to and review by the courts.

— To close ports that may be functioning as departure and delivery points for an unauthorized boatlift, as did Key West in 1980's Cuban exodus.

To stop, board and conceivably seize U.S. or foreign flag ships on the high seas that might be ferrying illegals to American waters.

There's more, but that should be more than enough to give you the rough idea. And to raise some basic questions: Is this a war we really want to take on? And are we prepared to do so?

How about that last item? Is this nation ready for the confrontations with the rest of the world's maritime nations — most of them our allies — that carrying out a unilateral abrogation of the freedom of the seas would inevitably produce?

And if so, with what? The facilities and personnel of the Immigration Service are already overtaxed, a major reason for the situation in which we now find ourselves of having effectively "lost control of our borders," as a preliminary study put it earlier this year.

The administration's partial answer to that is with the armed forces — "any component of the Department of Defense" could be pressed into service in stop, search and seize operations. That approach could be just about guaranteed to make the nations whose ships were boarded look upon the incidents as virtual acts of war. And on the subject of war, it raises another question as to whether this would be the wisest use of American military power that in the administration's own evaluation is in danger of losing its ability to respond to the Soviet and sundry other threats.

There is no question that the immigration problem is a serious one that demands attention. Illegal aliens now resident in the United States are estimated to number from 4 million to as many as 12 million. Nobody knows for sure because there is no way of counting them. And more are arriving steadily.

The volume of illegal border crossings is believed to at least equal the annual number of legal immigrants — 800,000. For those determined to enter the United States, the thousands of miles of thinly patrolled borders and seacoast are for all practical purposes wide open.

SCIENCE WORLD Shuttle Flights Secrecy

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Science Editor

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The space shuttle's military connection is going to change the way some things are done at the Kennedy Space Center.

Many of the satellites and experimental equipment the reusable rocket plane hauls into orbit in the future will be secret Defense Department payloads. Some are expected to be spy satellites, some will be missile attack warning spacecraft and others will test experimental space defense systems.

That means the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which operates the space shuttle, will no longer be able to run a completely open space program. Secrecy will be imposed on some operations for the first time in more than a decade.

"It's going to make us have to do things different and be more cautious in certain areas," said Richard Smith, the director of the NASA's Kennedy Space Center.

The first Air Force payload, a classified experiment which will remain in the shuttle's cargo hold, is scheduled to fly on the shuttle's fourth test flight next spring.

The spacecraft already is modifying a "firing room" in the shuttle launch control center for military missions. The control room's electronic systems are being changed so the information they process will be available only to personnel with the proper security clearance.

Similar steps have been taken at the mission control center at NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston.

The Department of Defense payloads will be ready for flight in Air Force facilities at the Cape which already are secure and will be loaded aboard the shuttle on the launch, thus reducing the need for special security precautions in the shuttle's checkout hangar and assembly building.

When the shuttle is flying a military payload, NASA will be able to say very little about the mission. There even was consideration at one time of withholding the shuttle launch date from the public and trying to launch the massive space machine in secret.

An example of Air Force secrecy was the launch early Saturday morning of a secret satellite on a big Titan 3C rocket. The launch was not announced ahead of time and even though there were large numbers of reporters in the area to cover the flight of the Columbia, they were not aware of the military launch.

The Air Force afterwards would only confirm that a Titan 3C had been launched, saying merely that the launching was successful.

Sources in Washington say proposals to try to hide a space shuttle launching at the Cape were rejected as impractical and excessive.

"I think we'll still be able to announce launch dates and have people in to see them (launchings)," Smith said in an interview while the shuttle Columbia was being readied for its second test flight.

But Smith said the fact that some missions will be classified is going to make it difficult for NASA officials when they discuss shuttle operations with news media.

"If we're flying a non-DOD payload, there are no inhibitions about talking about various things," he said. "And on a DOD payload there will be."

"That creates an interesting dilemma for all of us. If I can talk to you about something on one flight and not the next, that's going to make us awfully cautious so we don't trip up."

"I think it will cause people to be much more inhibited in talking period, even though it's a non-classified payload."

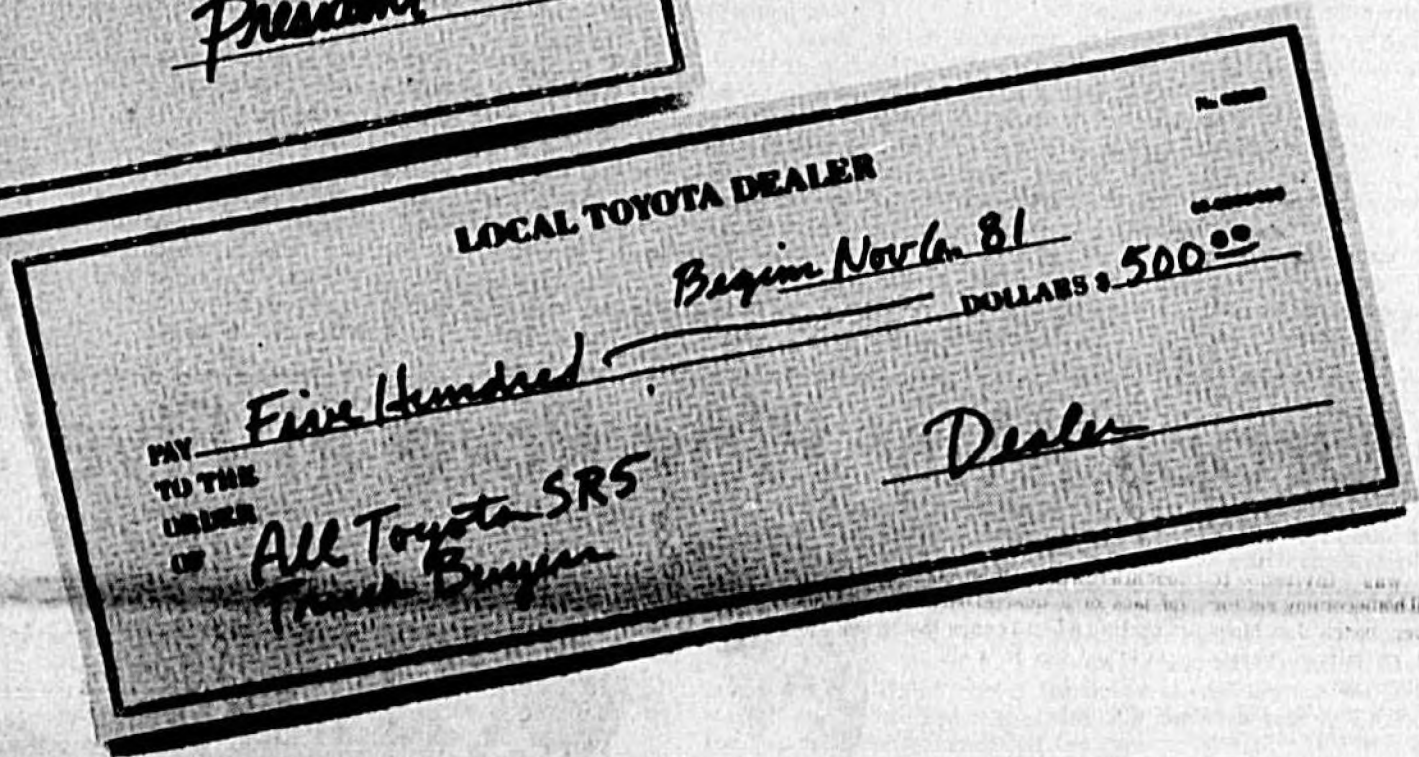

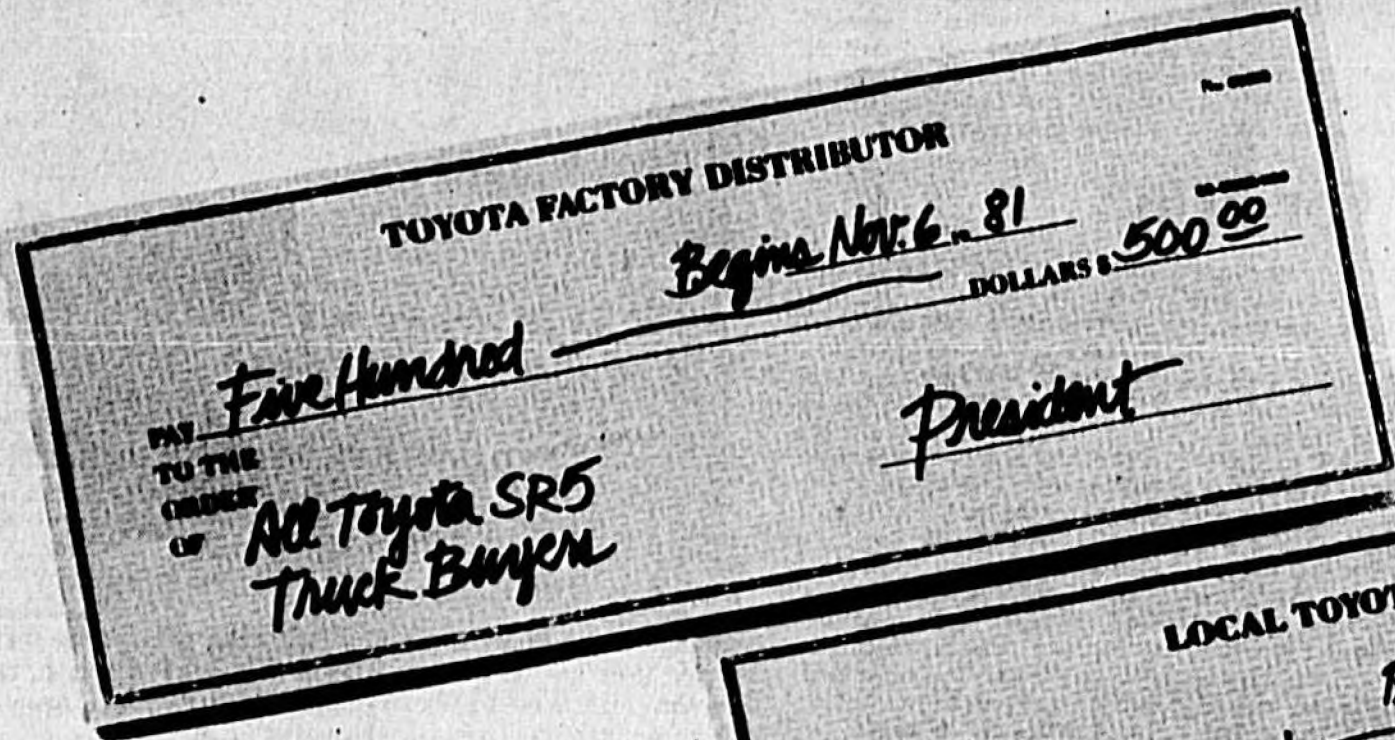

tests, apparently. Five years ago, the Army replaced its old reliable "military occupational specialty" tests with something called the "Skill Qualification Test."

The new system appealed to the bureaucrats who thought complex tests and statistics could prove our soldiers to be smarter than they really are. The test scores didn't rise, but the costs of testing have soared.

More than 1,300 military people have been assigned to administer the tests, and several hundred high-level civilian positions were added to the payroll. According to a confidential Army memorandum, the testing required 40 million — yes, million — pieces of paper for intelligence specialists alone, one of the most obscure military specialties. The new system costs $10 million a year, and counting salaries.

Ironically, it turns out that the soldiers are better off if they don't take the tests at all. In one case, a test was so poorly designed that not a single soldier passed, although several were competent, well-educated specialists. Soldiers who had been counsel were promoted ahead of the top scorers who took the test.

The JV Lyman Greyhounds spoiled Lake Mary's homecoming Thursday night, as they handily defeated the Rams 23-12.

This game also marked the end of the first junior varsity football season for Lake Mary, which finished with a break even 4-4 record. Lyman did especially well this season, finishing at 6-0.

For Lyman, freshman quarterback Greg McGaughy was the sensational player of the night, gaining a game-high 172 yards rushing in only 13 carries, including an 84-yard touchdown run. Lake Mary signal-caller Kyle Frakes, while not picking up any running yards, showed his remarkable accuracy and poise, hitting nine out of 14 passes for 170 yards, and only one interception.

Things went wrong from the very beginning for the Rams, as kick return specialist Paul Cash, of Lyman, took Jeff Hopkins' game-opening kick off 81 yards for a TD. David Abernathy's kick was low, and subsequently blocked, giving Lyman the early 6-0 lead. Lake Mary's first drive typified the Rams problems, as they reached the Lyman 20 yard line, then fumbled the ball away, after Frakes dropped back to pass and dropped the ball. This time, the turnover only temporarily interrupted the drive, as the 'Hounds gave the ball right back, when Ram Brent Blackely picked up a loose ball after a bad snap.

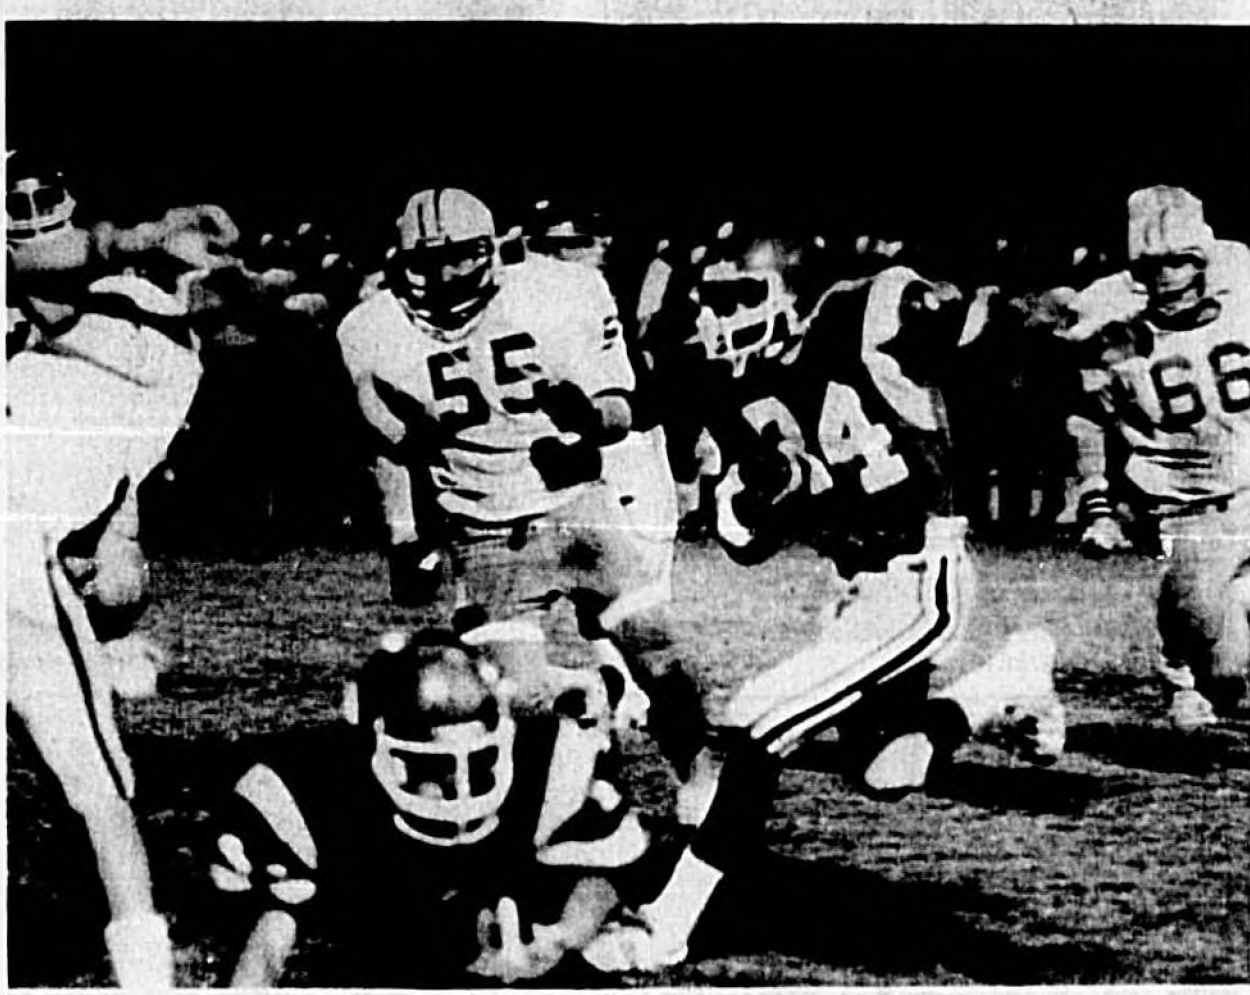

With the ball at the 32 of Lyman, the Rams got their offense moving again, and they didn't stop until Frakes hit Hopkins with a soft pass from five yards out. Hopkins missed the point, however, and the scope was deadlocked, 6-6.

This score must have given the 'Hounds special momentum, particularly McGaughy. Taking his team from his own 36, he drove them all the way in for another TD, including a 28-yard dash by himself. Running back Phil Germano was the one to push the ball across the goal line, on a 6-yard plunge. McGaughy took care of the two-point conversion, almost walking into the end zone from three yards out, making the score 14-6.

Lake Mary retaliated on the next series, starting at its 45 yard line. A key pass from Frakes to Reginald Anderson, which traveled 20 yards, helped get the ball to the six of Lyman. The next score came when Frakes took the ball into the end zone himself, as part of an option play. His throw for the conversion was a little short and the score was 14-12, the closest the score would be until the second half.

Close to the end of the first half, Lyman was forced to punt. Jody Foster nailed a good kick, 42 yards, which pinned the Rams at their own 5. A 15-yard Lyman infraction, and a 64-yard strike from Frakes to Anderson, gave Lake Mary a good chance to get themselves ahead before the end of the second quarter. But another fumble killed the drive. Anthony Meriweather picked up the ball, stopping the Ram drive.

Most of McGaughy's high rushing total was due to the success of their running of the sweep against Lake Mary. "Our offensive line was good. They controlled the line of scrimmage from the second quarter on," remarked a pleased Lyman coach Jim Markham. He also said, "That McGaughy is a good kid, and he has a lot of ability. Germano also ran very hard tonight."

Lake Mary's Reginald Anderson scoots by Lyman's Mark Schofield (55) for a gain in Thursday night's junior varsity clash. The Greyhounds cashed in on a 23-12 decision to finish the year 6-0 while Lake Mary closed out at 4-4.

On the other side, Lake Mary's usual leading rusher Grey Shatto picked up 111 yards in 16 carries, but was not as effective as McGaughy.

As the second half began, a trend was set. Lyman was to hold Lake Mary scoreless for the rest of the game, while cushioning its margin for the Greyhounds sixth victory. They stopped another Ram drive on the Greyhound 24 by forcing another fumble.

With only 1:58 left to play in the third quarter, McGaughy, on some good blocks on another sweep, took off up the left sideline, 84 yards for a third 'Hound TD. He got away from Hopkins first, then proceeded to out run Mark Chasey to the end zone. A conversion run was smothered, and the score was upped to 20-12, Lyman.

By the beginning of the fourth period, the Rams appeared to have lost the spirit that kept them alive and scoring in the first half. They were much more easily stopped, while Lyman continued to thrive.

The final score came when Abernathy was called upon to try a 26-yard field goal. With only 1:26 left in the game, he put the ball through the uprights to secure the win. The game finally ended in the middle of a fake pass play, when Shatto was supposed to find a receiver for any yardage possible.

"We had a real good attitude," commented Lake Mary coach Roger Beathard. "We had to bring people from Lake Brantley, Seminole, and other schools and we formed a good team. We still have a long way to go, though." In addition, he said, "we're happy with a 4-4 record, we're very satisfied."

Lyman 14 0 0 3-23
Lake Mary 6 0 0 8-12

Scoring — Lyman Cash, 81-yard kick off return (kick failed); Lake Mary Hopkins, 3-yard pass from Frakes (kick failed); Lyman Germano, 5-yard run (McGaughy run), Lake Mary Frakes, 6-yard run (pass inc.), Lyman McGaughy, 84-yard run (run failed), Lyman Abernathy, 26-yard field goal.

Lions Get No Respect

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

When someone invites you to a football homecoming, you usually accept whole heartedly and eagerly anticipate its coming.

When Oviedo was invited to Groveland's football homecoming set for this Friday, however, coach Joe Montgomery was not exactly throwing bouquets at the Greenbacks.

"That's the fourth homecoming game we've been invited to this year," fumed Montgomery Wednesday night. "And you better believe we make the players aware of it."

Homecoming invitations are extended to teams you figure you can beat, because, every team wants to win its homecoming game. That's what has Monty so hot.

"It's an insult to our ability and an insult to our program," continued Montgomery. "And, an insult to our coaching staff."

And tonight at 8, Montgomery and his Lions hope to insult the Greenbacks by lighting up of the visitor's side of the scoreboard and dancing on the Groveland heads.

Groveland is 1-4. The Greenbacks defeated South Sumter the third game of the year, 21-7. "It was the only time they had less than five turnovers," assessed Montgomery. "That's why they're not winning."

Coach Steve Brown's squad has lost four in a row since then, but it hasn't been for lack of a quarterback. James Carmichael is a 6-foot-3 senior that weighs 190 pounds and can do it all.

"If you stop him (Carmichael), you beat Groveland," said Montgomery. "He's it. They have beaten themselves most of the time with turnovers, though."

If turnovers are available, the Lions have the "Wright man" for the job. Linebacker Carl Wright recovered two fumbles and intercepted two passes in Oviedo victory over Eustis last week, 31-11.

The superlative performance by Wright earned him not only the Winter Springs Bertonia Player of the Week, but the Burger King Player of the Week, too.

The Lions have one district game remaining with lowly Blahup Moore. A win there, however, would not assure Oviedo of a district championship. The Lions are 3-1 and tied with St. Cloud. Osceola must beat St. Cloud the final game of the year for the Black and

Tuscawilla-Jackson Heights Collide On Gridiron Saturday Highlighting SYSA Play

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Something's gotta give. At least it will in the Pee Wee Division this Saturday when understated powerhouse Jackson Heights and the Tuskawilla Warriors collide on the Seminole Youth Sports Association gridiron at Sylvan Lake Park off State Road 46.

Heights holds the Pee Wee lead by a scant half game over the Hurricanes with a 4-0 record. They blanked Rock Lake Green, 12-0, last Saturday, while 5-0 Tuskawilla was idle.

Coach Wes Childers Lakeview Dolphins, nevertheless, can't be counted out either. The Dolphins creamed Rock Lake Red, 18-4, Lakeview is 5-0.

The Dolphins awesome defense turned in its fifth consecutive shutout. Terrance Carr with seven tackles led the charge, while Eric Williams and Dwayne Menefee collected six splces. Jerod Jones and Arthur Bradford each nailed five enemy ball carriers.

Quarterback Carr also had a big hand in the offense. The talented signal caller marched the Dolphins 73 yards in just seven plays on the opening drive of the game for a TD.

Carr ran in the score and then added another touchdown jump in the second period. He totaled 126 yards on 10 carries.

Jones, Lakeview's flashy halfback, ran for 88 yards in 11 carries and one TD in the fourth quarter to ice the game with four minutes to play. The Lakeview defense nailed the Reds punter on the three yard line to set up the score.

"The offensive line did a great job up front," commented Childers. "In the third quarter, their defense was tough, but when we tackled the punter it turned things around."

Along with the Pee Wee Division, the Mitey Mite Division also has two unbeaten teams. Eastbrook and Forest City are currently riding high with 6-0 marks.

Forest City was idle last Saturday which allowed the Eastbrook Colts to beat up on the South Seminole Cardinals, 26-0, to move into a tie for the top spot.

After a scoreless first period, the Colts broke loose for two second-period scores. Locks rambled five yards for the first TD, then squirted three yards for the second. Chris Westberry hauled in a pass for the extra point on the second score.

Westberry was in on the action in the third period too. Quarterback Brian Macness fired a 41-yard pass to Westberry for a 19-0 bulge. Chad Ferdon added a touchdown in the final quarter on a three-yard jump. Kyle Mason ran for the PAT for the final 26-0 rout.

Defensively, Ken Spearman blocked two punts and Macness had five tackles.

In other Mitey Mite action, Sabal Point shut out the Jackson Heights, 13-0.

John Bixby ran 49 yards for a touchdown in the second period and Michael Neundorf added the PAT. In the third period, Adam Bert raced 23 yards for the clinching score. The point after was blocked.

Bixby led the rushers with 57 yards on two carries. Bert had 40 yards on three attempts. Defensively, David Swain had 10 tackles, Karl Kaufman had seven, while Bert concluded an all-around performance with eight stops and one fumble recovery. Bixby intercepted a pass.

In the final Mitey Mite encounter, English Estates' Rod Roux and Anthony Allen followed the strong blocking of Andy Meyers, Lee Wallace and Scott Byrty to a 13-0 conquest of the Altamonte Springs Patriots.

Holmes Heavy Favorite

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Veteran trainer Eddie Futch, who will be in Larry Holmes' corner Friday night when he defends his World Boxing Council heavyweight title against eighth-ranked Renaldo Snipes, is like the reliable second mate on a fishing trip.

He always knows where the fish are and what bait to use.

"Larry will get to him," said Futch, who has been in the corner of many champions, including Joe Frazier, Ken Norton and Alexis Arguello. "He's got too many tools, too much skill for him. He's (Snipes) never seen anybody like him. If Larry gets him on the hook, he won't let him off it."

Futch said Holmes' fight plan will depend on how the undefeated Snipes (23-0) comes out.

"Snipes are important," Futch said. "You can't tell what a challenger will do, especially a guy at the stage of his career. We'll find out where he's coming from first of all. Let's see what he's gonna do."

Holmes and Snipes were scheduled to weigh-in today at 11:30 a.m. EST.

It's no secret that Holmes took on Snipes as a bonus for his multi-million dollar March fight with hard-punching No. 1 contender Gerry Cooney. Cooney will also have a bonus fight, in December against former heavyweight contender Joe Bugner.

Friday night's nationally televised fight, which will be staged in the Civic Arena, will be Holmes' third title defense.

"I really can't say," said Snipes when asked how he planned to fight Holmes, the owner of a powerful left jab.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Saturday, November 7, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY November 7, 1981 This year, you could be luckier than usual in enterprises that are imaginative or creative. Your best opportunities will come from things you originated. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're capable of handling efficiently most conditions you will encounter today. The one area where you may reveal a weakness is the management of your resources. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth date. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Friends are likely to go out of their way and do things for you that they won't do for others. Feelings could be hurt if you brag about this. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Accept friends today for what they are, with all their little flaws, and they'll treat you the same. If you probe for their faults, expect similar treatment. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Major achievements are possible today, provided your goals are realistic. Excursions into the realm of dreams and wishes may not work out too well. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Schedule important assignments early in the day when your chances for success are excellent. Your luck is apt to lessen a bit if you let too much time slip by. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your hunches regarding material things are on target today, but your perception as to why others are motivated to act as they do could be erroneous. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This should be a fun day, provided you don't get involved with friends who like intrigue. Pals with devious aims spell trouble. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There are specific responsibilities to attend to today and you know what they are. Don't let another way you from the call of duty. CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're a good manager and delegator today, but there's a chance you may set a poor example where performing the actual work is concerned. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The drive you have to make things better for those you love is admirable, but be careful you don't try to change them in your image. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Once you decide to do something today, pursue the course your decision dictates. Being indecisive or wishy-washy could be your greatest handicap. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions look encouraging today for things relating to personal gain. However, uncharacteristically, you may not be too willing to share what you get.

Skipped Beat Not Unusual

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am a 73-year-old male. I'm relatively active during spring, summer and fall taking care of my lawn, shrubs and garden. I'm 5 feet 2, and weigh 140 pounds. I have maintained that weight for the past 15 years. I have not smoked for the past 20 years. Lately I have developed an irregular heartbeat. At times it skips a beat and at other times it has a quick but weak beat. The doctor examined me and gave me an electrocardiogram. He merely said it was OK and not to worry, that an irregular heartbeat is not unusual. Could you enlighten me further on this matter? DEAR READER—You were right to have an examination and your doctor was right in saying that it is not uncommon. Such flip-flops and skipped beats often occur in people who have no heart disease at all. In other instances they are caused by coronary artery disease and other problems. The only way to judge their significance is through an examination. We all probably have an occasional skipped beat, one that occurs early. But we don't notice them. Almost all the astronauts had an occasional skipped beat and we knew it because we had records on them for hours and hours and even days. I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-12, Heart Irregularities, Skipped Beats, Tachycardias, to give you more information. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. There are things which will even increase them in normal people. Cigarette smoking is one. Most heart specialists suggest people troubled with these should not smoke and should stop all coffee, tea and colas. I know you don't smoke but you might want to stop coffee and tea if you use them. People who are active, particularly athletes who run or jog every day, sometimes gradually develop a low potassium level. That may contribute to the problem. A glass of orange juice a day usually takes care of that. Since you work a lot perhaps you should be sure to get some good fruit every day. Finally, if the skipped beats bother you too much your doctor can give you some medicines to control them. DEAR DR. LAMB—My daughter, who is in her late 20s, recently was diagnosed as having cat scratch fever. The only symptoms were swollen lymph glands in the groin and acute tenderness in that area. This started nearly three months ago and, though improved, she still has the problem. She has taken antibiotics for two months. How long does the disease last? I had never heard of it before. DEAR READER—There are probably at least 2,000 cases of cat scratch fever each year in the United States. It is believed to be transmitted by cats in 80 percent of the cases, either through a scratch, saliva or contact. It is not transmitted from person to person and the cat itself is healthy. The disease is as you have seen in your daughter. There may be a mild fever of less than two weeks and a mild flu-like reaction, but the swollen lymph glands may persist for months. The agent that causes it is not known but it is presumed to be a virus. Since it is not caused by a bacteria, antibiotics are useless. Your daughter will recover spontaneously.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH and Dealer: South. Includes card counts and opening lead.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag Seven no trump is a pretty good contract with the North-South cards. All declarer requires is a 3-2 diamond break and even if diamonds don't break there is a slight extra chance. If the man with four diamonds is the only player who can stop clubs he will be squeezed. Diamonds don't break and the squeeze isn't there so that bid seven no trump was down one for a bad move. Even in the Life Masters' Pairs only a quarter of the field reached seven and most of those in seven were in spades. The bidding in the box is instructive. South's club opening on a three card suit is normal in standard American. He is too strong for one no trump and too weak for two. After that start the bidding could proceed in any number of ways, but we like that shown in the box. South won the spade with his eight and led the deuce to dummy's 10. Then he stopped to see the best way to guard against a 4-1 diamond break. He cashed dummy's ace of clubs and his three hearts while discarding two clubs from dummy. Then he ruffed his last low club with the ace of trumps and drew trumps and claimed. The club ruff had been his 18th winner. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Couple Travels Through 16 States On Mini Vacation

Hank and Jean Heath, 20 year residents of Geneva returned home Friday after a two week vacation that took them through 16 states with over 3,000 miles registered on their car.

The Heaths' trip was cut short by one week, however, when Jean slipped in the bathtub, breaking a bone in her chest. She was treated by the chief-of-staff at the hospital in Sadalia, Mo., where they were visiting Hank's cousin, Margaret Lindstrom. Mrs. Heath said she anticipated a "six week recovery time" before the break is completely healed.

Hank Heath, owner of Heath and Associates Land Surveyors, Inc., in Oviedo, had planned the trip he and his wife were to take for quite some time.

Lou Childers

Geneva Correspondent

Before the injury, they were able to attend the wedding of Tish Curtis, daughter of their lifelong friend, Letitia Shrank of Brevard, N.C. The wedding was held in Tyler, Texas, the new home for Tish and her husband, C.T. Tarver.

Besides the Texas wedding, the Heaths visited his sister in Orange, Va., and other relatives in Indiana and Oklahoma.

Homemakers club president Henrietta Edwards reports that our Geneva ladies have prepared some fantastic Christmas tree ornaments, pot holders, and little wooden clowns for sale at the Holiday Showcase Wednesday. About 20 women from the Geneva club attended the showcase.

The next monthly meeting for Homemakers in Geneva will be held Nov. 11 at the community hall starting at 10 a.m. Those planning to attend are reminded to bring a sack lunch.

Mrs. Edwards said a follow-up discussion on last month's school-drum presentation is on the agenda for this month's meeting, and the club's regular visit to the nursing home on Mellonville will be Nov. 12. The ladies plan a fun time for the nursing home folks that includes bingo games and refreshments.

A new policy at the Geneva Elementary School this year makes a big deal out of birthdays.

Principal Mrs. Nancy McNamara likes to give each child individual attention and the best idea she came up with is announcing the birthday of each child on the intercom and presenting each birthday child with a small "gift" — a pencil engraved with the school name.

November birthdays to be celebrated at the elementary school are: Jimmy Chaudoin, Stephanie Schrader, Foster

Just a reminder to parents of school aged children — there was no school today due to the teacher workday, and there will be no school Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

If you are looking for something special to do with your children on days such as these, why not consider a trip to the Central Florida Zoo. I was surprised to learn that for our family of six, it is more economical to purchase a year's membership card for $15 than to pay full admission price for one visit.

The membership card is good for one year from date of purchase, and may be obtained by simply requesting it from the attendant at the gate. You may use the card as many times in the one year period as you wish.

On the last teacher workday, our family enjoyed the wonderful picnic facilities available at the entrance of the zoo, including the covered tables and barbeque grills.

Gardening

Keep Lawn Green With Ryegrass

Florida is one of the few places in the country where it is possible to grow green grass year-round. However, to do this we must use a special winter lawn grass. This is because our permanent lawn grasses fade and begin to lose their color in late fall.

This is a period when homeowners begin to call me in reference to their lawn turning brown. However, this is a normal occurrence. By the time the first good frost occurs, most lawns are completely brown.

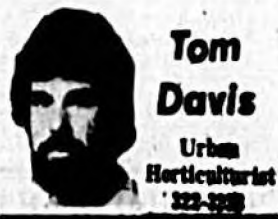

So, to keep the lawn green, we have to "over-seed" it. "Over-seeding" is simply the use of a temporary grass which is seeded into the permanent lawn.

Establishing a winter rye grass lawn is fairly simple. The best time to do it is after the permanent lawn has been browned off by frost. Late in the fall when temperatures are cooler, you'll have less trouble with plant diseases. In our area, this would be mid-late November.

Several cool-season grasses can be used for over-seeding, but the best for our area is ryegrass. Now this can be obtained in several varieties. Common ryegrass has many names, including Italian, American, Oregon, Imported, Domestic, Native and Annual Rye.

Start by mowing the permanent lawn extra close and raking up all debris. Remove as much of the dead brown grass as possible.

Next, spread the seed. You'll need between 5 and 15 pounds of seed per thousand square feet. Make sure the seed is fresh and weed-free. You can apply your seed with a fertilizer spreader. To get the most uniform stand of grass, divide the seed into two applications. Sow half the seed at right angles to your original path, then go back over the area and sow the rest of it. After you spread the seed, rake the lawn lightly to help the seed get through the grass and make contact with the soil.

Tom Davis

Urban Horticulturist

Watering is your next step and probably the most important. The newly-seeded lawn needs a light watering once or twice a day until the seeds germinate. Keep the seeds moist, but be careful not to overwater! You should never water to the point of puddles. Once the grass is established, water as needed.

The negative points about establishing a ryegrass lawn is that you'll have to mow, water, fertilize and look out for pest problems all winter long.

Ryegrass should be fertilized about once per month with a complete fertilizer such as 6-6-6 or 16-4-8. You'll still need to mow about once per week.

If you should run into any disease problems, either call our office or contact your garden center operator for the recommended control procedures.

Garden Club Sets 'Holiday Tables'

The Garden Club of Sanford Florida, Inc. has had all seven circles working toward, "Holiday Tables and Silver Tea," to be held at the Garden Club on Thursday, Nov. 19 from 1 to 3 p.m. and Friday, Nov. 20 from 10 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Carnelia, Hibiscus, Magnolia and Rose Circles will use a Christmas theme while Central, Jacaranda, and Mimosa will use Thanksgiving ideas.

Each circle will make a tablecloth or place mats and floral arrangements for "Holiday Dinner" theme. These tablecloths and floral arrangements will be available after judging for purchase and viewing by the general public.

There will also be a "Holiday Breakfast" and "Tiny Tables for the Holidays" to be done in either Thanksgiving or Christmas themes. Items will be for sale also from these two categories.

Mimosa Circle had Mrs. Gerald Behrens show slides from her extensive Alaskan trip.

Hibiscus Circle had a program by Sharon Driskill of Geneva on "How to Make Corsages" using fresh or artificial flowers. Sharon made all the arrangements used at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Karkkers 50th wedding anniversary last June.

Magnolia Circle had programs by Jean Norris on Orchids and Day Lilies and by Lucille Campbell on Roses.

Jacaranda Circle had a program by Mrs. Gordon (Jennie) Brinson on starting young plants.

Girl Scouts Promotion Wins Good Image Award

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Doris Bacon-Elsa of Sanford, in only her first year as public relations director for the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., has won for her organization the 1981 Golden Image Award for a non-profit institutional program.

Mrs. Bacon-Elsa received the award from the Florida Public Relations Association of which the Citrus Council is a member for her Girl Scout Summer Program promotional campaign.

However, she was not present at the recent FPRA board meeting to accept the attractive award as she was in Houston, Texas, attending the national convention of the Association of Girl Scout Executive Staff. Accepting for her was Barbara Fingerman of the Citrus Council staff.

Included in promotional package submitted for the contest was a set of slides used in presenting the Girl Scout camping program with a separate script for adults and girls. The slide show she prepared was presented in each Girl Scout unit. Also included in her entry were the publicity releases prepared for the media and brochures and postcards featuring a photo made by Mrs. Bacon-Elsa of two Scouts hiking in the woods.

Though new to the public relations field, Mrs. Bacon-Elsa had plenty of experience in Girl Scouting and understanding of the camping program. Field director in the Citrus Council for six years, for the two previous summers she was camp director at the Riverpoint Program Center on Merritt Island and program director at Mah-kah-wee Program Center in Chuluota.

reach more Girl Scouts and non-Scouts and encourage their participation in the program.

The objective was to create a summer promotional package that would increase girl enrollment at summer resident camp, promote an image which would have a positive impact on the community, reinforce awareness of the summer program through a direct personal mailing to each girl member, she said.

The promotional campaign resulted in a 72 percent increase in girl enrollment at resident camp in 1981 over 1980.

Try Telling Child Facts, Not Fiction

DEAR ABBY: How does one explain "Daddy" to a 3-year-old child who has never known her father and in all probability never will?

She's a bright, perceptive, warm, loving child, and although she has never actually asked, "Where is my daddy?" the time is near when we must explain this to her.

We are her grandparents and are raising her. Her mother (our eldest — age 23) is unable to provide a stable home for her at this time due to an alcohol-drug problem that she is attempting to resolve through counseling and A.A. (She is also gay.)

Our grandchild talks to her mother on the phone once a week and sees her about once a month. Her "daddy" is a man our daughter knew casually and never married. He doesn't know about the child and our daughter doesn't want him to know. She says she never wants to see him again, doesn't know where he is and probably couldn't locate him if she tried.

Abby, we love this child dearly, but need to know what to tell her. (Can you suggest any explanation that would be appropriate for a 3-year-old?)

MISSOURI GRANDPARENTS

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: Stick to the truth, as cruel as it may seem, inasmuch as the child's father doesn't know she exists, simply tell her that you don't know where her father is. (None of this, "Daddy is far away and is coming back one day.") Do not say that he is "dead," because he may surface one day.

As the child grows older she can be told that her parents were not married. It will be easier for her in the long run if she grows up knowing the facts. She may feel cheated, but she will never feel deceived.

DEAR ABBY: I suppose this will sound like a dumb (or made up) letter coming from a 23-year-old married woman, but it is a very real problem, and if I asked other people they would think I was crazy.

I'm happily married to a very sweet guy (he's 27) who I thought I knew well, but I got the surprise of my life on our honeymoon. This 6-footer is afraid of the dark! When he goes to sleep at night, he has to have a light on in the bathroom with the door half-open so he won't be in total darkness! Abby, I can't sleep with the room half-lighted, but he can't sleep if it's dark.

Don't suggest separate bedrooms, I enjoy cuddling and falling asleep in his arms. Can you, or any of your readers, come up with a solution? Don't use my right name. He'd never live it down.

SLEEPY-TIME GAL

DEAR SLEEPY: You have two choices: Eye shades for you, or behavior modification for him. The latter will mean some sessions with a therapist who will try to condition your man to tolerate darkness slowly by degrees.

DEAR ABBY. Is it correct to be addressed "Mary Jones" (not my real name) now that I am a widow? I do not know if etiquette has changed, but it has really upset me! I want to be addressed as "Mrs. Richard Jones," but how can I tactfully let my friends, lawyer, banks, etc., know this without offending them?

I think it is a shame for people to drop the "Mrs." After all, I was a very happy "Mrs." for 40 years, so why do friends and other people immediately address my mail to "Mary Jones"? I am not a divorcee, and I do not want to forget that I was ever married. And I also dislike being addressed as "Mrs. Mary Jones." Please print your answer, as I am sure there are lots of people who need to learn this.

MRS. RICHARD JONES

Dear Abby

DEAR MRS. JONES: You are Mrs. Richard Jones as long as you live — unless you marry again. And please do not hesitate to correct those who address you incorrectly.

DEAR ABBY: In the last five years or so, most couples whom I have married have asked that I omit that portion of the service that asks if anyone present objects to the marriage that is about to take place. However, before each ceremony, I ask the bride and groom separately if they are sure they want to go through with the wedding. A number of times one or the other has said "No," the ceremony has been canceled with church filled and the reception waiting.

REV. W. LEE TRUMAN, FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, WHITTIER, CALIF.

DEAR MR. TRUMAN: With the church filled and reception waiting! Although it beats going through with the marriage, one can imagine the humiliation, heartache and headaches of all parties concerned — not to mention the outrageous expense.

Your experience makes a strong case for insisting that all couples have premarital counseling, which nearly all churches, synagogues and temples now offer.

Getting Married?

Engagement and wedding forms are available at the Herald office to announce these events. The forms may be accompanied by professional black and white photographs if a picture is desired with the announcement. Wedding forms and pictures must be submitted within two weeks of the wedding.

At Last, A Cure For The Lead-Footed Driver

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI) — Richard Schulman wants to help drivers who suffer from chronic lead foot overcome what he considers a behavior problem.

Schulman, a doctoral student in psychology, has invented a device that makes it harder to push down an accelerator when traveling over the speed limit — making the driver exert more energy to drive at 60 mph than he does at 55 mph.

"You are coaxed down gradually," said Schulman, who is nearing completion of graduate study at Western Michigan University. "You find you don't want to speed very long. It allows for necessary or emergency speeds but it does away with frivolous speeding."

When a simple vacuum-operated canister is connected to the accelerator linkage of any vehicle, pedal pressure gradually increases as the driver exceeds 55 mph and gradually decreases as he or she drops back to 55 mph.

"Speeding is a behavior problem. Some may say why make it hard to speed, or punish the driver by making it difficult?," Schulman asks. "But if you want to talk about punishment, when you are driving now and see red lights behind you, your heart pounds, your mouth gets dry and you get butterflies in the stomach."

"You can weigh it any way you want, but it is a much harsher means of punishment than this."

A native of Akron, Ohio, Schulman has been working on the deaccelerator for four years. It was patented in June and the first prototype was developed just this month with engineering and financial assistance from various departments at WMU, he said.

IN THE SERVICE

WADE A. MUSE

Private First Class Wade Alan Muse, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Andrew Muse of Lake Mary, recently returned home on 10 days leave from Parris Island, S.C. after completing 11 weeks of recruit training.

During training, Muse received formal instruction in first aid, physical fitness, marksmanship, close combat techniques, Marine Corps history, customs and courtesies, and nuclear, biological and chemical warfare.

Following Muse's leave he will report to MATSG 90, Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn. for formal instruction in the basic aircraft mechanics.

There he will be instructed in flight line operations — flight inspections, refueling, directing taxiing aircraft and operating aircraft ground support equipment.

Muse is a 1981 graduate of Seminole High School.

THERESE A. MCELROY

Terese A. McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McElroy of 3 Lampille Court, Casselberry, has received a two-year U.S. Air Force ROTC scholarship.

The cadet was selected for the scholarship on the basis of comprehensive tests, high school scholastic achievement and extracurricular activities.

The scholarship covers full tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees and pays a monthly subsistence allowance.

Upon graduation and completion of the ROTC program, the cadet will be commissioned an Air Force second lieutenant.

McElroy is a student at the University of Central Florida, Orlando.

GILBERT H. PFRIFER

Airman Gilbert H. Pfeiffer, son of Jack M. Pfeiffer of Sanford, and Ann Pfeiffer of 315 Sixth St., Cherryville, N.C., has graduated from the U.S. Air Force fabrication and parachute specialist course at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Graduates of the course studied the operation of sewing machines to fabricate and repair aircraft clothing and personal parachutes, and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Pfeiffer will now serve at Cannon Air Force Base, N.M., with the 77th Component Repair Squadron. He is a 1980 graduate of Cherryville Senior High School.

JAMES P. DUANE

James P. Duane, son of the late James B. Duane and Mrs. Diania P. Tobler of 1822 North Walnut Road, Las Vegas, Nev., has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps.

Duane will depart December 9 for 11 weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. Upon completion of recruit training, Duane will be home for a 10-day leave before going on for further technical training in a formal Marine Corps school.

Prior to enlisting, Duane worked for Orlando Seminole Jet Aial.

TROY S. MAYNARD

Airman Troy S. Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Maynard of 1479 B Ash Circle, Casselberry, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft repair mechanic course at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Graduates of the course learned how to repair and inspect aircraft emergency ejection and egress systems, and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Maynard will now serve at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho, with the 36th Component Repair Squadron.

JEANENNE L. KRON-JAEGER

Jeanenne Louise Kronjaeger, daughter of Eugene Earl Kronjaeger Jr., of 829 Alderman Road, Jacksonville, and Mrs. Marcia Kay Fuller of 133 Bedford Court, Sanford, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps.

Kronjaeger departed October 31 for 8 weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. Upon completion of training, Kronjaeger will be home for a 10-day leave before going on for further technical training in a formal Marine Corps school. Kronjaeger enlisted for three years with a guaranteed assignment in Administration.

Prior to enlisting, Kronjaeger worked for Rush Hampton, Longwood, and is a 1978 graduate of Terry Parker High School, Jacksonville.

BRYAN W. KURCH

Army Pvt. Bryan W. Kurch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Foglesong of 740 Florida Blvd., Altamonte Springs, has completed a unit and organization supply specialist course at the U.S. Army Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va.

Students were trained in the Army supply system, unit and organization supply, fitting of clothing, packaging and storing of supplies, and organizational maintenance of small arms.

HAROLD B. EDWARDS

Pvt. Harold B. Edwards, son of David S. Edwards Jr. of 206 Brighton Way, Casselberry, and Edith L. Edwards of 805 Park Ave., Sanford, has completed a Vulcan crewman course under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at the U.S. Army Defense School, Fort Bliss, Texas.

During their training, students learned all phases of the firing and tracking systems of this air defense system.

The Vulcan is a 20mm automatic six-barrel gun mounted on a self-propelled armored personnel carrier and is designed primarily for anti-aircraft defense.

OSUT combines basic training and advanced individual training.

Edwards is a 1979 graduate of Seminole High School.

FREDRICK R. GRISWOLD

Airman Fredrick R. Griswold, son of retired Air Force Senior Master Sgt. Frederick B. Griswold of 490 Lowndes Square, Casselberry, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airman who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

He is a 1979 graduate of Lake Howell High School, Casselberry.

ANTHONY RAMSEY

Anthony Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ramsey of 104 Ridgewood Court, Longwood, has enlisted in the United States Marine Corps.

Ramsey will depart January 3 for 11 weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C. Upon completion of recruit training, Ramsey will be home for a 10-day leave before going on for further technical training in a formal Marine Corps school.

Ramsey enlisted for three years and is a 1981 graduate of Seminole Community College Adult High School.

The Intracoastal Waterway of North Carolina had its beginning with a survey of the Great Dismal Swamp by George Washington in 1783.

How can a Watt-Wise home save you up to 25% on your electric bill?

When you're choosing a new home, make sure you choose a Watt-Wise home with a combination of features that meet FPL's energy-saving standards. They're easily included in the construction of any new home and over a period of years can save you substantially more than they cost. Exactly how much Watt-Wise Living™ saves will depend on your lifestyle and conservation efforts. Watt-Wise homes have cost-saving features like extra ceiling and wall insulation, solar or heat-recovery units for water heating, a higher-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump. Power savers like fluorescent lighting and a microwave oven, and thermally efficient windows and doors with glass areas planned to minimize heat build-up. Ask one of the builders below how Watt-Wise Living can save you more than it costs.

She'd Rather Be Riding

10-Year-Old Is Horseback Enthusiast

10-year-old Kathy Davis of Longwood practices with her horse Brandy prior to what was to be their second horse show. But a day before the competition Brandy got a splinter in her hoof and couldn't compete.

Even at age 10, Kathy Davis of Longwood knows horseback riding is a superlative leisure time activity.

Every day she finishes her homework by 4 p.m. and leaves home with her mother to travel 15 miles to the stables where she boards her horse Brandy. Once there, Kathy rides Brandy, bathes her, checks her hooves and brushes her down.

Kathy's brother Billy and sister Laura also have their own horses. Weekends the entire Davis family spends time with their horses.

What makes riding and taking care of horses such an attraction?

"A horse is a friend," explained Kathy's riding instructor Carol Conoway. "There are times when there is trouble in your life, when you talk to your horse. I've gone walking with my horse in the woods, I've sung to my horse, I've cried to my horse. A horse you can tell anything to, and it never talks back. A horse just listens."

Kathy has a real love for Brandy, Carol said. Although Brandy is an unregistered combination quarterhorse and Morgan mare and Kathy will need a registered horse if she wants to continue competing in shows, Kathy will never get rid of Brandy, she said.

Carol said a horse and rider must have personalities that blend well together, otherwise a rider will try to accomplish things with a horse and be frustrated because the horse will resist.

Kathy thought she and Brandy were an accomplished pair and ready to enter their second Dusty Boots Horse Show sponsored by the Wilco Sales Arena west of Sanford. They had trotted away with first prize in their first show there.

But the day before the Oct. 18 competition a splinter pierced Brandy's hoof during an exercise session. Brandy limped home and Kathy was heartbroken.

Until a friend offered to loan her a horse so she could compete anyway.

Kathy was unsure of the idea. Could she compete successfully with a horse much less familiar to her?

She decided to give it a try. Kathy would enter the ring the next day in a classy riding outfit with her light brown hair tucked under a cowboy hat and a confident smile hiding her nervousness.

Read about Kathy's experience riding borrowed Baby Jane Sarah at the Dusty Boots Horse Show in the Herald's Ourselves section Sunday, Nov. 15.

'Summer' On PBS: Another Wharton Tale

The second 90-minute drama in the Edith Wharton trilogy is an adaptation of Mrs. Wharton's novel "Summer," airing on "Great Performances," Monday, over PBS. (Local times may vary; check listings.)

The telecast stars Diane Lane as Charity Royall, John Cullum as Lawyer Royall and Michael Ontkean as Lucius Harney.

Set in the New England village of North Dormer, "Summer" — written in a candid graphic style more familiar today than in the Wharton era — is the story of a teen-age girl's first passionate involvement with a young man and its unusual consequences.

Charity Royall, the 17 year-old adoptive daughter of Lawyer Royall and his just-deceased wife, Vinnie, leaves adolescence behind and becomes a mature woman within the short span of summer in the early 1900s.

Charity's first emotional jolt is the discovery that the widowed Royall, who has loved her as a child, now desires her as his wife. Then, working in the town's tiny library, she meets a handsome young man, Lucius Harney, who is visiting his aunt. Mutually attracted, Charity and Lucius develop a friendly relationship which shortly results in a clandestine love affair.

At the end of his stay, Lucius leaves with a promise to return and marry Charity. She soon learns, however, that he is betrothed to a young lady in nearby Nettleton and, almost simultaneously, Charity realizes that she is pregnant. The bewildered girl first considers an abortion, then reconciles herself to having the baby and caring for it herself.

Meantime, Lawyer Royall, keenly aware of Charity's predicament and concerned for her well-being, continues his proposals of marriage. Touched by his tenderness, Charity's attitude toward Royall softens but she refuses him, blurring out her shameful secret. Royall explains that he has known it for some time, that nothing matters but her happiness, they will keep the child and life together will be whatever Charity wishes.

Grateful and suddenly secure, Charity agrees and off they go to be wed in the Nettleton courthouse because, as Royall puts, "This is the last time I'll be getting married and I want to do it up right. I want us to stay in a big hotel and listen to some chamber music and eat in some grand restaurants."

BOMBER SAILS

Vincent Gardenia stars in Part II of "The Flight of Noah's Ark," the story of a B-29 bomber that sails to sea, on "Walt Disney," to air Saturday on CBS.

Harrison... For Ladies Only

GREGORY HARRISON

Gregory Harrison's new role is that of a young, aspiring actor who arrives in New York and fails to find work in show business until a friend introduces him to the world of male exotic dancing.

"For Ladies Only," will air Monday, on NBC. Patricia Davis, Dinah Manoff, Louise Lasser, Lee Grant and Marc Singer also star.

Harrison stars as John Phillips, the biggest "star" at the University of Iowa, who quickly learns that it's not easy to make people take notice in New York — his college credentials notwithstanding.

When he meets casting assistant Sandy Green (Miss Davis), he gains a sympathetic and helpful friend — whose romantic designs fail to catch his attention. Increasingly depressed at his failure to find work as an actor, he finds solace in an affair with Mary Louise (Miss Manoff), a kooky aspiring actress who becomes his regular partner in an acting workshop.

But Julie Hasn't Suffered

Most Stars Chilly On Nudity

DEAR DICK: This might interest the Moral Majority. In light of the new movie "S.O.B.," with Julie Andrews, I was wondering what percentage of actresses have bared their breasts, in movies and live theater. Partial nudity, full nudity; either trying to become, during, or after becoming an actress. GREG TATTIN, Vancouver, Wash.

Statistics in this area are scarce, so I can't give you a percentage. My guess is that by far the majority of actresses have never done nude scenes. Even such sexpots as Raquel Welch and Ann-Margret have not, as far as I can remember, gone totally nude. As for "partial nudity," you see that on any beach on any summer Sunday. As for Julie, I've seen her recently and she looks healthy as always — I don't think she has been struck down from on high for that nude scene.

DEAR DICK: Is James Garner married? My sister says he is and I say he isn't. Who's right? ELIZABETH CLARK, Mesa, Ariz.

Garner and his wife, Lois, were married in 1956, so he's been married for a good while now.

DEAR DICK: Will you please settle a disagreement? Was Cathy Lee Crosby Bing Crosby's wife? I say she wasn't. Am I wrong? L. WARNER, Kalamazoo, Mich.

No, you're right. Bing's widow, when she was an actress, was named Kathryn Grant.

DEAR DICK: About 16 years ago, I saw a movie called "Miami and Meschewitz." What actor played the male lead? Has the movie ever been shown on TV? M.R. Miami.

Seymour Cassel co-starred in that movie, opposite Gene Rowlands. Yes, it has been seen on television.

DEAR DICK: For years I have wondered how, when an actor "dies" on screen, his corpse is made so death-apparing. On close-up there is no pulse or breathing. Is it the actor or a very expensive model of him? JIM ANDERSON, Santa Paula, Calif.

It's the actor, very still and very quiet. He holds his breath and, of course, the camera doesn't stay on him for more than 30 or 40 seconds at a time. You wouldn't really see a pulse, unless you had a microscopic lens, so it's really not a very difficult trick.

Ask Dick Kleiner

By DICK KLEINER

DEAR DICK: I would like to know if Bob Ralston, the Lawrence Welk piano player, is Mr. Welk's son. I say no, but a friend says yes. F.G. VACCARELLA, Hacienda Heights, Calif.

You win. Ralston is not related to Welk.

DEAR DICK: I heard that it was in the paper that Norma Zimmer, Lawrence Welk's "champagne lady," had died. But I haven't been able to get any confirmation. Is it true? HARRIET S. NEKLAUS, New Windsor, N.Y.

No. But apparently the confusion — I've received lots of letters about the supposed death of Miss Zimmer — comes from the real death of an earlier champagne lady, Alice Lon.

DEAR DICK: Your answer to Julie Thomas of Nooks, Me., did not correctly present the riddle about a white bear walking by the room with a southern exposure. The riddle is: A man built a house with four southern exposures, and a bear walked by the house. What color was the bear? The answer: The bear has to be white because the only place where a house could have all southern exposures would be at the North Pole. LOREM GARRISON, San Diego.

Young Poets

These poems are by Seminole County students kindergarten through 12th grade. They resulted from the Florida Poetry in the Schools program taught by poet Bob Winhoff of Oviedo and Evelyne Mantz of DeLand. Pupils are provided with a general theme, but are not told what they should write.

THE THUNDER
The thunder is mean
As a lion's roar.
The thunder is loud
As cymbals clanging together.
It gets mad and angry,
And it makes me mad!
It says, "Get up,
Look out the window,
And look at me."
It makes me scared.
It makes me mad.
It makes me shy and not very brave at all.

'Grease' Comes To TV

John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John star in "Grease," one of the most popular musical films ever, which will make its first appearance on Television on Sunday, on ABC.

Children's Special To Star 'Ricky'

Singer Rick Nelson stars in "A Tale of Four Wishes," a combined live-action-and-animation presentation in "The CBS Library" series of children's specials, to air Sunday, Nov. 8. Nelson plays Skeeter, a gentle, soft-spoken storyteller who helps a perplexed 13-year-old girl learn the secrets of making wishes come true.

"Jane Wishing" is one part of the children's special "A Tale of Four Wishes," to air on "The CBS Library" series Sunday on CBS.

Nelson has already earned a place in recording history. His more than 100 records have sold more than 50 million copies to date, some of them making the coveted "Gold" category. His newest album is "Playing to Win."

It was an actor, of course, that Nelson began his career. In 1949, when he was 7, he and his brother, David, joined their parents' radio show, "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet." He continued in the subsequent television version and, during succeeding years, America watched him grow up on the tube.

"I'm an age gauge for a lot of people," Nelson says, "but I also play in a lot of places where most of the audience is too young to remember the show. They know I was in it, but they can't name it."

Viet Vet Recalls The War

"Frank: A Vietnam Veteran," a documentary about one soldier's experiences in Vietnam and subsequent 10-year struggle to readjust to life stateside, is the focus of a one-hour special on PBS, Wednesday. (Local times may vary; check listings.)

Now a social worker living in Boston, Frank recounts both the horrors of war and the thrill of combat as a twice-wounded, oft-decorated U.S. Navy sniper. And he discusses the personal problems that began the night he arrived home in this country — a bleak return with no bands playing, no flags flying.

Frank's story continues through bouts with alcohol, drugs, a divorce, recurrent nightmares and occasional violent impulses. Remembering combat, Frank tells his interviewer, "I had no idea what anybody was shooting at, but I was shooting, too... I was very powerful. Everywhere I went, I had a weapon..."

Alistair Cooke's Intimate Approach

A Modest Man With A Masterpiece

NEW YORK (NEA) — Even though Alistair Cooke has been living here for more than 40 years he remains our image of the model English gentleman — witty, civilized, impeccably tailored.

Off-camera, his appearance and manner do nothing to belie that image. He is decked out in a dapper green tweed suit with pocket hankie and suspenders. His white hair is perfectly combed. He lights his cigarette with both grace and precision. At age 72, Alistair Cooke is, and always will be, a Cambridge man.

As any fan of the PBS series, "Masterpiece Theatre" knows, Cooke has been that show's host and tour guide throughout its 10-year run — offering breezy profiles, essays and history lessons. He describes his function as that of a head-waiter. He indicates what the menu has to offer but imposes no personal judgment about the competence of the chef.

Cooke has assembled those introductory remarks, revised them a bit and put them between hard covers. "A Decade of Masterpiece Theatre Masterpieces," his lavishly illustrated volume, is sure to be found on civilized coffee tables everywhere in the coming weeks.

Here is a chance for fans to relive their favorite, from "I, Claudius" to "Upstairs, Downstairs." Here is also a chance for Cooke to, in his own way, comment on the competency of the chef. His personal favorite? "I'd say 'Upstairs, Downstairs,' he replies. "It was a brilliant thing. It had great insight and was immensely entertaining at the same time."

Ironically, the book arrives just as "Masterpiece Theatre" is airing its very first non-British production: "A Town Like Alice," the fine six-part adaptation of Nevil Shute's novel that was produced by Australia's booming film and television community. Cooke is delighted with the series, and with the progress the Australians are making.

Cooke credits the surge to the fact that talented Australians are staying home now. "Before," he explains, "if they had talent they automatically migrated to London. They're not doing that anymore. The Australian government took a terrific interest in the arts

Alistair Cooke: "All I'm trying to do is talk to friends in a living room. Intimacy is of the essence in television. I mean to be casual."

with massive subsidies."

Britain, particularly its BBC, has been the backbone of "Masterpiece Theatre" through the years. That is changing. Fewer BBC series are being produced now and, come 1983, PBS will lose its BBC rights to cable. The impact is already being felt: No BBC productions are slated for this season's "Masterpiece Theatre" lineup.

In retrospect, says Cooke, "We were lucky to be able to mine the BBC drama department in its heyday. This enabled us to tap an enormous range of talent. People constantly have asked me through the years why we must import the shows, why American television can't produce them.

"The main reason is that here we don't have the inventory of hundreds and hundreds of actors and actresses with repertory training that England has. Here we tend to create a performer out of the girl next door. She does one play on Broadway, gets noticed and is immediately shipped out to Hollywood, where she remains the girl next door for the rest of her career.

"In England, versatility is innate in the training and system. A lovely young actress of 28 has already put in 10 years in repertory at Birmingham or the Old Vic. There they learn to play both servants and generals. I vividly remember the small performances in 'Masterpiece Theatre.' I never forget that dandruff professor who is only on screen for 10 minutes."

Cooke also says American television won't commit large sums to a series of limited appeal. "You must say from the start that this program is going to have at best a large small audience, and accept that. You must also pick your man to do it and not interfere with him." He is skeptical. He speaks from personal experience. Before there was "Masterpiece Theatre," there was "Omnibus," which he hosted from 1952 to 1959. TV historians consider it the finest cultural program in commercial network history.

With suitable modesty Cooke downplays his own presence as a contributing factor to the success of either series. "All I'm trying to do," he says, "is talk to friends in a living room. Intimacy is of the essence in television. I mean to be casual."

His intimate approach is helped immensely by his uncanny memory. He can totally memorize a "Masterpiece Theatre" intro in 10 minutes. "Simply a mental exercise," he says.

"And that way I never have to use a teleprompter. With the teleprompter you don't look the audience in the eye — you look over their right shoulder."
