"But if Americans have not lost their common sense and balance of judgment entirely, they will stop following sweet singers and smooth talkers some day and sit down calmly and reason out a few things for themselves."
"What made their country great? Was it Communism, Socialism, Despotism? Or was it sound democracy? What made their country rich—and it is rich now today, the richest country on God's blessed earth? Was it merely theory and demagogic oratory or just plain, practical industry?"

"We bewail the depression period. Well, we have been through on great war in which we needlessly wasted money. We have been through a period of needless speculation in which we squandered our money. Our troubles are largely of our own creation, and we Americans are not the kind of people who 'can dish it out but cannot take it,' are we?"

"We have been in wars and depressions before, and we have come through them handsomely by the exercise of courage and common sense—by precepts of sound democracy and encouragement of stable industry. We have always known enough to build business. Let us know that much now."
"We have always known enough to develop and diversify our industry. We have always known that protection of American industry meant the maintenance of the American standard of living. Why not know that much now?"
"We have always known that active and expansive industries meant ample and liberal employment. We have always known that selection to Washington.

Before growers and six shippers would form the board under the agreement being considered in the preliminary conference in session here.

Any shipper or group of shippers handling not less than one-sixth of the total volume of fruit shipped during the preceding season would apply to the secretary of agriculture for designation as an elective body. Such designation given, each shipper or group included in the elective body could name one member to the Control Committee.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Local weather yesterday: High 88, low 73, rainfall .20 of an inch.

County Agent C. R. DAWSON announced this morning that several local growers are planning to go to Jacksonville next Monday to attend a mule and cow sale which promises many bargains.

Senator J. J. Parrish, of Titusville, one of this section's larger citrus growers, is in Washington in conference with several other state citrus industry leaders on the proposed 1934-35 marketing agreement. He is expected to return to his home next Monday.

R. W. Pearman, Jr., former secretary of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, is now southeastern Florida field adjuster of the NRA. It is revealed in an announcement that he is moving his headquarters to Room 315 in the Miami postoffice building. The Pearman family removed to that city some (Continued On Page Four)

Opportunity to become a charter member of Sanford Junior Antlers lodge will end during next Wednesday night's meeting, scheduled to be held at the Elks Hall starting at 7:30 o'clock.

This decision was reached at a well attended meeting last Wednesday night after four men had been accepted for charter membership, bringing the total so far recruited to 19.

Plans also were completed for the initiation of the 19, and all other members in a special ceremony on the night of Sept. 19. DeLand Junior Antlers Lodge has been invited to send a degree team to install local officers and initiate all members.

Decision also was reached Wednesday night to hold a "stag" picnic at San Lando Springs next Monday night, and all members were urged to look for more new members, and bring them to this affair.

Exalted Antler Hollis Phillips named Walter Pusey as chairman of the standing Publicity Committee and O. P. Herndon, Jr., and Billy Thompson as members of a standing Entertainment Committee.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Kansas City physicians were baffled yesterday at the case of a 26-year-old woman who once a day weeps tears of blood.

Usually in the evening, Mrs. Eula Santa Maria, a patient in the general hospital, sheds the tears. The application of ice packs and medicine stops the flow, about ten cubic centimeters each time, but it occurs again the following day.

Use of ethylene gas for loosening walnut hulls from the kernel will save growers this year about $250,000 usually lost through damage to the kernel.

NEAL MYERS, white and shaken, denied to jury that he killed Beauty Queen.

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Neal Myers, white and shaken, told the jury trying him on a murder charge today that he had nothing to do with the death of Marian Mills, 19-year-old University of Oklahoma beauty queen he is accused of killing.

In halting sentences as his mother, Mrs. P. B. Myers, sobbed bitterly 15 feet in front of him, the University pharmacy student denied the state contention that he saw an instrument or saw the grid table medicine, or that he ever wanted her to prevent motherhood.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

Questionable Amendments

Though Florida citizens are being called upon to make a number of radical changes in their State Constitution at the November election, it is hardly likely that many voters understand what these changes will entail. It is also fairly plain that no one, not even those honorable men who drew the amendments, are fully aware of all their implications.

The Homestead Exemption Amendment, for instance, is so poorly worded and attempts to do such an unusual thing, that no one really seems to know what the results of the Amendment, if it carries, will be. Will the taxes of the home owner really be reduced? Or will he still have to pay the debt service levy and will the debt service levy be increased because of the removal of the operating levy? Will other forms of taxes necessarily be levied to provide for operating expenses, or will these expenses be reduced?

No less puzzling and uncertain is the proposed amendment allowing the legislature to re-organize the judicial circuits of the state, a power which it has always had anyway. This amendment was designed presumably in the interest of economy, but according to those who have given it considerable study, it is very doubtful whether any real economy will result. In the following editorial comment, the Bradenton Herald attempts to figure out just how many judges we will have if the amendment carries:

There are seven counties with a population of 50,000, the number required for one circuit. If a circuit is established in each, this will leave only eight circuits for the remaining 59 counties. In many circuits there will be so many counties and such distances to travel in order to reach a judge, that proper attention to cases presented will be impracticable if not impossible. This, too, will make the cost of litigation so high, that in many instances the small litigant, such as a lienor for labor and demands for alimony, will be deprived of the opportunity to have his demand adjudicated.

If smaller counties are placed in circuits with the larger ones, the litigant in the smaller county will probably be in the same situation and the work in the large county will be disrupted by reason of the absence of court officials while holding terms in the smaller county. For instance, if Monroe county be placed in a circuit with Dade or Lee.

The rule of 50,000 to each circuit is relaxed by providing additional circuit judges so long as the total number shall not exceed one judge for every 50,000 inhabitants "or major fraction thereof." Should this be construed to mean that if a circuit has exactly 50,000 population, it would be entitled to one judge, while if the population were 51,000 it could have two, as 25,000 would be a major portion of 50,000, it would be possible to have six judges in Duval, six in Dade and Monroe, two in Escambia, six in Hillsborough, two in Palm Beach, two in Pinellas, two in Polk. Should it be construed to provide for one judge for each 50,000 in a circuit and an additional judge for a population of 75,001 then it would be possible to have 15 regular judges (for 750,000 population) and 28 special judges for the remaining population (715,011), an increase of six.

In commenting on the Bradenton newspaper's editorial, the St. Petersburg Independent also expresses some doubt as to the wisdom of the judicial amendment. "Apparently it is as vague as the Homestead Amendment," says the Independent. "The voter will not be very clear in either case as to what he is voting for. The judicial amendment, further, is not self-enacting. The legislature may or may not choose to follow the instructions of the voters in November."

The discovery of screw worm infestations in Florida and the danger of their destructive spread have aroused considerable interest in man's war against the parasite pests which affect our domestic animals. In recent years the increased concentration of these animals, together with the improved means of communication between various parts of the world, has created a condition which science is finding it difficult to combat.

The growing airplane traffic between North and South America is regarded by Dr. Maurice G. Hall, of the United States Department of Agriculture, as a continued source of new tropical parasitic infections for American domestic animals unless more rigid quarantine measures are enforced. In some instances, points out Dr. Hall, man is losing his battle with parasites because research has failed to discover any effective means of controlling them. But in many cases research is far ahead of practice. Because of the spread of pests over the world, he believes that eventually some means of both national and international control must be developed.

A few large-scale campaigns against parasites have shown that extermination of livestock pests results in annual savings that equal or exceed the total cost of the campaigns. The attack on the cattle tick in the southern part of the United States is the most familiar example.

Another trouble in the efforts to eradicate parasite pests, says Dr. Hall, is that men do not effectively exterminate the pest. They dispose of surplus parasites but usually leave enough so that by the following year the supply is about as usual.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. W. D. Holden was the gracious hostess to the members of the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon at the Sanford Hotel. These meetings have a peculiar interest, drawing together in social intercourse members of the club, while working together for a common purpose. The meeting on Tuesday was a discussion on the subject of "The Woman's Club and the Community." It is expected that every member of the club will attend on Wednesday next.

Representative Whelan, of Jacksonville, has introduced a bill to amend the constitution of Florida to provide for the construction of a St. Johns River canal. Such a canal would mean a great deal to the people of the state.

TRAVEL NOTES

By EUGAN H. WIGHT

Strange it is, how broad the prairie and difficulties of the eastern gale to the westward. For years I have been an impossible venture because of the Cody or Shoshone mountains marveled road split off the top of a precipice. It came on this summer, however, that it was to be traversed, so very early in August morning we set forth to find what might be the best route. There was no danger, no difficulty, but quite the most glorious part of a whole summer trip. The road was really called a "passing" and many and varied had been the narrow trails through the mountains over steep.

The Shoshone River forms a magnificent lake beside the road with the dam-taller than the Chrysler Building in New York, thrown across a narrow place between the cliffs. This gives irrigation to many thousand acres of land and as it lies blue and shimmering it is beautiful beyond words. Wyoming, Try Wyoming! It sounds well and in its irrigated districts and in the Yellowstone it is not hard to try Wyoming, otherwise my reaction to it is exactly the way I felt about South Dakota, even though its people declare it is the only place to live.

It was deserts—plenty of them—and most desolate, as we realized once we crossed one hundred miles of treeless, houseless, birdless scrubbrush. There are oases, however, and we remember happily a dinner at a dude ranch and a night at Elsinore where water was abundant and flowers bloomed. The Yellowstone itself is a land of magic and utterly varied in its exhibitions of lake, canyon, geysers, and streams. As always, people interest me more than scenery, so my most vivid thoughts are of the rangers so smart and well set up, the college boys and girls of shining faces, who do the mental as well as the clerical work of the five great camps as smilingly as though it were all one grand task.

Then us—we—the-American-people—whom the parks are set aside for our forever playgrounds. The visitors this year, we were told, were 100 percent in numbers more than in 1933, and surely they came in by thousands, every afternoon, at each of the five centers, and we could see thousands more in tent camps all along the roads.

I sat for some hours one afternoon in a common room at Canyon, and looked and listened while a line passed slowly by the registration clerk who assigned cabins as fast as she could talk. Every body was sunburned and dusty and gay. Some young girls were in pants, the in frocks, and some fat ladies were in pants who should have been in frocks.

It was only rarely that one saw a shabby car, even those packed to the limit with bedding and cooking utensils. There were fishing outfits in plenty, for fishing is free in the Yellowstone, but not a gun for firearms are strictly taboo. Every evening there is a bear lecture at the feeding grounds, and a fine show of black and grizzly bears and their cunning cub babies.

When we were at Canyon in 1931 the black bears were such a nuisance among the cabins that they almost fall over them as they snoozed about cars and houses Saturday reposing on a cake of ice were several large sea bass caught by the crowd of Sanford fishermen at Ponce Park recently. The men were: Dr. Puleston, Walter Hand, D. L. Thrasher and several other Sanford fishermen.

Mrs. R. J. Holly and children and Miss Margaret Roberts have returned from Hendersonville, N. C. where they spent several weeks very pleasantly in the mountains and return home greatly benefited by the trip. Miss Nellie Elder returned home last Thursday after a pleasant visit of a week or two at Coronado.

The board of county commissioners are in session today and have some very important matters to come before them. The following members are present: L. P. Higgins, J. T. McLean, J. F. Clark, and C. W. Estabinger.

Large Crowd Sees Monday Night Card Of Boxing Outfit

Another large crowd was present on Monday night to witness a series of nine boxing bouts staged at McCall's old feed store on Myrtle Avenue at Fourth Street under the auspices of the Seminoles Boys' Athletic Association. Results of the bouts are as follows: Webber Wilborn won from Allen

A SERMON ON SINCLAIR

By TARA TARR

Leading Democratic newspapers all over the country have been almost a unit in their repudiation of Upton Sinclair and his Utopian schemes to "end poverty in California." Denying that he is properly to be regarded as a Democrat, they uniformly stress the danger involved in the possible election of an extreme Socialist who might use his great state as a laboratory for fatal experiments in finance and economics.

Latest to add its comment along these lines is William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper publisher whose home is in San Simeon, California, and who is the owner of many large interests there. Mr. Hearst has never been regarded as a Democrat. On the contrary, he has been denounced in Tory quarters at times as extremely radical. But recently he has been identified with the Democratic leadership in his home state. Besides warmly espousing the candidacy of John Garner for vice president, he helped materially to nominate and elect William McAdoo to the Senate on the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Hearst's views, witnessed from Bad Nauheim, Germany, by the New York Times by its correspondent, appear in today's news columns. They hit straight from the shoulder. He regards Sinclair as a dreamer and theorist, and experimenter whose efforts in tinkering over the world have always failed, and a kind of Pied Piper whose sweet singing and fine but vain promises misled a lot of unthinking folk.

But Mr. Hearst goes further than mere criticism of Sinclair. He uses the incident as a text to say what he thinks is wrong in this country. He believes a good many of the American people are inclined to play with fire like children and will not be satisfied until they "burn the house down or at least make the bed uncomfortable." He wants to see a return to the principles of government which have made the country great and will make it greater if followed again. He would encourage rather than continue to hamstring business and industry, and he would have government

MISS ROBERTA STAHL WEDS LEWIS C. SMITH

Attracting the interest of a wide circle of friends is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stahl of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Roberta Frances Stahl, to Lewis Carlton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hayward Smith of this city. The ceremony was performed on Sunday, Sept. 2, by Miss Casandra Schultz at her home in the Langley Apartments.

Mrs. Stahl has made Sanford her home for the past five years, coming here with her parents from California. She was graduated from Seminole High School in 1931 and was a member of the H. Y. Club. Last year she attended Stetson University at Deland where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta social society and was elected journal correspondent for the society.

Mr. Smith has been living in Sanford for 10 years and attended Seminole High School. He and his bride returned yesterday from a short motor trip to points in Central Florida and are living temporarily with her parents at their home in San Lanta.

Mexico is making a concerted effort to attract tourists and work is being rushed on the Pan American highway which eventually will run from Maine to lower South America.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Adams and daughters, Olyve Ann and Ada, returned today from Daytona Beach where they have been spending the past several weeks.

Miss Roberta Stahl Weds Lewis C. Smith

Attracting the interest of a wide circle of friends is the announcement made today by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stahl of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Roberta Frances Stahl, to Lewis Carlton Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Hayward Smith of this city. The ceremony was performed on Sunday, Sept. 2, by Miss Casandra Schultz at her home in the Langley Apartments.

Mrs. Stahl has made Sanford her home for the past five years, coming here with her parents from California. She was graduated from Seminole High School in 1931 and was a member of the H. Y. Club. Last year she attended Stetson University at Deland where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta social society and was elected journal correspondent for the society.

Mr. Smith has been living in Sanford for 10 years and attended Seminole High School. He and his bride returned yesterday from a short motor trip to points in Central Florida and are living temporarily with her parents at their home in San Lanta.

McLucas Takes Dismal View Of New Football Season As Material Fails To Inspire

Prospects facing Coach Leonard McLucas with his Seminole High School football schedule for 1934 are the most dismal of any since the first of the school back in 1920.

This statement was attributed to Coach McLucas this morning after three days of training in which he has directed about 50 boys, most of them 120 and 125 pounders, through setting-up and other preliminary exercises.

Practically an entire first team was lost by graduation this spring, and only four of the 1933 "regulars" are back.

The remainder of the boys are the second, third and fourth stringers of last year, a handful just up from Junior High, and one or two new-comers.

"This is the first year that I haven't had at least one man who weighs 165 pounds or over," Coach McLucas said in surveying what he has, what he expects, and what might be the result of the season's play.

Stating that he must build a team around Jack Hughes, Olive Miller and Leslie Harnage as backs and Ralph Pearson as linemen, Coach McLucas said that unless more boys come out, and larger boys, his team will be composed of misfits, when compared with teams which included men like Melton Ware, Woodrow Rice, George Moyer, Murray Kanner, and Randall Slaughter.

He doesn't deny that some of his hopefuls lack the courage and determination, but present day football, even in Central Florida high school circles, requires weight as well as courage, and the prospects, therefore, are unusually thin.

Three of the nearly 50 men now training practice "services" weigh about 160 pounds. There are about 100 150 pounders, and all the rest are slender, inexperienced boys who are just anxious to play football for Coach McLucas.

Some of the newcomers are Elwin Riqures, Jack Pearson, Charles Beldin, Billy Wilkinson, Ralph Monger, Harold Duker, Tom Wansley, Speck Cochran, Bob Williams, and Theo. Williams.

However, Coach McLucas will spare no time nor effort in developing what he has and trying to fit it into shape to meet a most exacting schedule. Practice sessions are to be held every afternoon except Saturday and Sunday starting at 3:30 o'clock.

The season's schedule is as follows:

AUSTRIA'S SPARE CHANGE USED UP ON REVOLUTIONS

Recovery, Therefore, Held By Many As Faintest Of Hope

VIENNA, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Two revolutions within six months have absorbed all the spare change in Austria. Moreover, they have brought seriously the revenues of the state and the income of individuals, so that recovery seems to many Austrians to be a vain hope. When the smoke of February's revolution cleared away 1500 Socialists were dead, and the government had a stack of bills totaling $20,000,000. The revolution in July, touched off with the assassination of Chancellor Dollfus, cost almost as much as the first revolt.

To meet these expenditures, large for a tiny country, the government levied a special "security tax" on the people. Many were unable to pay.

The country's financial resources are so low that the government now is seeking a new foreign loan through the League of Nations. At the same time it seeks, through the League, to induce foreign powers to cut interest rates on loans already contracted.

The government has been unable to pay its employees on the first of the month. A little is being paid them now in three installments each month.

Foreign trade has dwindled to the vanishing point. Tourist traffic, formerly one of the most productive sources of revenue, has virtually ceased. While apparently it is perfectly safe for American and other foreign visitors to come to Austria, tourists are apprehensive. So they pass up one of the most beautiful and interesting countries of Europe, and business here languishes.

Railroad trains entering Austria are almost empty. When an Associated Press correspondent traveled from Berlin to Vienna he was the only passenger in a big steel coach, which had accommodations for 60.

The present disturbed political situation, and tariff walls, isolate Austria more and more. Austrians are not permitted to travel into Germany except by special authorization. Germans are not allowed to enter Austria unless they pay a tax of 1,000 marks.

Unemployment in Austria is increasing steadily. The streets of Vienna are filled with the workless, many begging. There are as many women and children as men among the beggars. Thousands cannot pay rent, to say nothing of taxes, and retail shops are going into bankruptcy every day. Rent for many stores and apartments have been cut in half in two years, yet vacancies increase.

The people, for the most part, are shabbily dressed. For most of them life is a constant struggle. Their attitude is one of utter despair, for they profess to see no future for their country. Consequently many are ready to embrace Nazism.

The jails are so crowded with members of the outlawed socialist regime in Vienna and with persons involved in the recent Nazi "putsch" that it has been necessary to convert factories, gymnasiums and warehouses into prisons. The maintenance of these thousands of prisoners entail heavy expense.

Concentration camps have relieved the pressure on established jails. In Carinthia so many Nazi workers and sympathizers were arrested that there is a serious shortage of laborers to harvest the crops.

The government of a nation so thoroughly discouraged, divided and hopeless is being attempted by youthful Chancellor von Schuschnigg. He has started with vigorous policies, and a strong determination to maintain the independence

ST. JOSEPH WAS FLORIDA'S FIRST BOOM TIME CITY

West Florida Settlement Was Largest State Town In 1838

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Florida's first boom town was St. Joseph, records in the state library here show. The French founded a settlement there in early Spanish days but they abandoned it. State Librarian W. T. Cash says. About 1833 a town was started on the former settlement spot and by 1838 it had become one of the largest, if not the largest, city in Florida.

It has long since disappeared. Nothing now remains but a monument marking the site of Florida's first constitutional convention. Storms and disease wiped out the city after it had ground in the commercial world of Florida's early days.

Trade rivalry with Apalachicola—a flourishing port not far east of St. Joseph—brought Florida and Georgia business men into St. Joseph in 1831. Within a year they built Florida's first steam railroad, running from St. Joseph to Lake Wimico which connects with the Apalachicola River.

"For a few years," Cash says, "the town flourished like a green bay tree and by 1838 was probably the largest place in Florida."

The state librarian has an old letter which tells of the housing problem in St. Joseph during the boom.

of Austria. The world is watching while he tries to stand against the tide of Nazism.

the heyday of its prosperity. It quotes from a letter written by Rafael J. Moses who was for several years secretary of the St. Joseph Railroad Company. "The town went down, the railroad failed and I bought for $37.50 the house and lot that a few years before I had offered $600 a year rental for."

For SWEETENING YOUR SOIL

use KAL-CITE A POTASH-CALCIUM MIXTURE

Use KAL-Cite to correct and improve soil conditions in your vegetable fields and citrus groves. It is safe, dependable and economical. At this season, vegetable lands are being prepared for fall and winter crops. Hardwood Ashes are commonly used for soil improvement. KAL-CITE is a much superior product to use for this purpose. It is a hardwood ash base mixture built up with selected forms of calcium and potash in which are included added sources of the less common elements that have proved by recent experience to be so effective as soil amendments. It contains twice as much lime and potash as does hardwood ashes and is applied on that basis.

Use COPPER KAL-CITE to correct ammoniation and die-back in citrus trees. COPPER KAL-CITE is KAL-CITE to which Copper Sulphate has been added. It is an excellent tonic for both the soil and the tree. Use a brand of IDEAL FERTILIZERS for outstanding and dependable results in growing your vegetable crops.

UNIONS AWAIT TEST OF THEIR STRIKE ORDER

Gorman Says Walkout Will Continue In Face Of Story That Mills Will Re-Open

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(A.P.)—Francis J. Gorman, Chairman of the Textile Strike Committee, took cognizance today of reports that many mills would re-open next week with the statement that, "We welcome the test on Monday." Emerging from a second conference with President Roosevelt's Board of Inquiry, Gorman said the strike would continue.

He explained a previous declaration that the Union would accept no arbitration proposals until all mills are closed as a desire "to have our negotiations in an atmosphere of peace."

Decisions were to be made today on a possible extension of the textile walkout to all miscellaneous divisions in the industry not yet affected by general order. All the power of organized labor in America was thrown last night on the side of striking mill workers.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor ordered heads of all national and international labor unions to meet with him here next week to discuss means of making the strike 100 percent effective.

At the same time, strike leaders called upon President Roosevelt to "forbid use of war materials" in the walkout and to "discourage use of the national guard for civil police duty."

In a telegram to the President, Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the textile strike committee, charged militiamen in South and North Carolina were being used simply as "strikebreaking organizations."

"Mobilization of armed forces at this time is provocative and needless," Gorman wired.

KING GEORGE IS NAMED IN SENATE PROBE

Ruler Pictured As Competitor Of U. S. In Armament Markets Of Leading Nations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—King George V. of England, and the United States War Department were portrayed before the Senate armaments committee yesterday as competing salesmen in the armaments marts of the world. There were marks of amazement from a little group of spectators when the committee was told that England's ruler, in 1932, personally intervened in an attempt to stop the sale of guns to Poland by a New York firm.

The War Department it was testified previously, had actively aided the Driggs Ordnance Engineering Company of New York in its efforts to sell the Polish government weapons that deal death. Testimony portraying the English king as an armament salesman almost overshadowed other startling developments uncovered during the day's rapid-fire hearing, the last until Monday. Among them were:

Photographs showing Turkish officials aboard the U. S. S. Raleigh in 1929 to inspect armaments made by the Driggs Company, an exhibition termed by Chairman Nye, Republican, North Dakota, of the committee as "use of the United States Navy as a salesman's sample case."

Evidence that Lieut. Comdr. James H. Strong, since resigned, while on active duty with the Navy had helped Columbia prepare plans for defending its ports against possible Peruvian attacks.

Evidence that the American Armament Corporation of New York maintained a brokerage account for Strong while he was acting as a naval advisor to the Colombian government in 1933.

LAWRENCE HURLS NEW CHARGE AT TVA METHODS

Writer Says Authority Forced Firm Out Of Business Unfairly

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—David Lawrence, newspaper writer, accused the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Public Works Administration of "forcing a private company out of business virtually at the point of a gun" in the acquiring of properties of the Tennessee Public Service Company in and near Knoxville, Tenn.

Lawrence replied to a statement issued Monday night by the Tennessee Valley Authority in taking issue with an article in The United States News in which he contended the Tennessee Valley Authority had dealt unfairly in acquiring the properties.

U. S. PLANS AID FOR 16,000,000 DURING WINTER

Drive Also Launched To Cut "Chiselers" From Relief Rolls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The federal administration last night mapped plans for the winter feeding of nearly 16,000,000 needy while a drive was launched to erase "chiselers" from federal relief rolls.

Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins said he "was prepared to take whatever steps were necessary to insure adequate winter relief" but he made it plain the government would not compete with private business in the program.

Simultaneously, he announced $16,994,308 in new grants for September relief to 20 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

"Relief costs, because of increased prices, have jumped nearly 20 percent during the past year," Hopkins said. "The federal government must guard its funds carefully in the future."

He said there were 3,830,000 families on relief rolls during July. These drew $132,000,000 in public funds from all sources, two thirds coming from the federal government. From all sources, the estimated cost of relief per family during June was $25, Hopkins said.

The administrator asserted he had given "no consideration" yet to prospects for reviving the Civil Works Administration to alleviate winter unemployment.

At the same time, Hopkins asserted that he felt cannery contracting with the government to can beef for relief purpose from cattle purchased in the drought areas were entitled to a legitimate profit.

The government, he said, will (Continued On Page 4)

DEBT FUNDING BILL TO PASS SAYS ROBINEAU

Dade Legislator Sees Revised Measure As Meeting Okey Of Its Opponents

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 8.—The Governor's debt refunding bill that gave the 1933 Legislature its most colorful battles will be back before the next session in a form that may be acceptable to all opposing groups, Representative S. P. Robineau, of Dade county, predicted here.

Instead of giving the state control over cities and counties that default on their debt, Robineau believes, the measure will create a fact finding commission to determine how much each taxing unit can afford to pay and what to do about the bondholders should be willing to accept.

This board change will meet the objections of the Florida League of Municipalities and others who fought the first debt funding bill, said Robineau, who was in St. Petersburg to address organized workers on Labor Day. In discussing his strong belief the bill should be adopted, Robineau said it would be to the advantage of cities to back it.

"You can't take a man's life just because he is in debt," the representative said. "You can't mortgage his body and soul to pay an obligation you can't throw him into jail for being broke. You can't deny him the privilege of going to court declaring himself a bankrupt and starting life anew."

"A city is entitled to the same privilege. It should be permitted to divide what it has among the creditors and start again."

Robineau hit at the bond refunding agreements entered into by most cities of Florida, including his home town of Miami, Clearwater, where negotiations are about concluded, and St. Petersburg, where a program was adopted almost a year ago.

The Dade representative, who led a bitter fight for the Governor's refunding plan in the 1933 session, confessed constantly recurring reports that a compromise debt (Continued On Page Five)

Lightning Strikes Morro Castle Off New Jersey Coast

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

Local weather yesterday: High 81 low 74 rainfall .27 of an inch.

The tides at the beaches tonight and tomorrow: High tide tonight at 8:06 o'clock; High tides Sunday at 8:40 A. M. and 9:03 P. M.; low tides at 2:20 A. M. and 2:35 P. M.

City Commissioner V. A. Speer left here late yesterday by bus for Hendersonville, N. C., where he was to meet his father this morning, and continue on to New York for the annual Speer and Sons buying trip. The Speers will return in about three weeks.

Neil Smith, local furniture dealer, spent nearly all of yesterday morning trying to find out whether a small, vicious appearing snake which he caught at Silver Lake Thursday with the assistance of friends, was a coral snake or what. He finally took County Agent C. R. Haseman's word that it was a coral snake. The reptile is now in the zoo collection.

Checks totaling $5,198.04 were placed into the hands of 1487 white and colored men and women around the county today by FERA workers, it was announced at the City Hall. The sum is over $1,000 greater than that paid out last week, and 80 new relief clients were added to the rolls during the week.

Officials of the Sanford Ovoid Truck Growers, Inc., as well as many farmers this morning had occasion to comment on the appearance of a crate of New York celery sent to the firm by its sales manager, J. C. Hutchison, now on a "celebrity" deal in and around New York, N. Y. The celery packed in a New York crate which is two inches wider than the Florida crate, had the appearance of having been grown in Florida muck land. It was tall and straight and very firm, and the crate held 26 stalks. Mr. Hutchison expects to return here about Nov. 15. It was stated, as will Holy Laine, Sanford man who is assisting Mr. Hutchison. (Continued On Page Four)

Madge Tells Carol To Go Back To His Wife

VIENNA, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Rumania's famed "red-headed woman" last night was reported ready to retire from the spotlight. Diplomatic quarters here heard Miss Madge Lupescu, titian-haired beauty for whom Prince Carol once forswore his throne, was urging Carol to seek reconciliation with Princess Helen, his former wife.

King Carol's friend, the reports said, recommended the reconciliation as the best way to silence growing criticism of Carol.

Crew Claims That All Of 318 Passengers Would Have Lived By Obeying Orders

SPRING LAKE, Sept. 8.—(A.P.)—Hours after fire broke out on the luxurious coast-wise liner, Morro Castle early today, 251 of the vessel's 568 passengers and crew were unaccounted for.

The 200 or more passengers who met their death aboard the flaming ship, eight miles at sea died because of their refusal to enter life boats, members of the crew of the vessel said today.

Twenty-five of the members of the crew, interviewed separately, told "practically the same story."

It was a tale of horror, of men and women frenzied by raging flames and a thick pall of smoke resisting all attempts of sailors to get them into life boats and to safety.

Estimates of the loss of life ran as high as 300.

Scores of passengers spending their last night aboard before the end of a week's holiday, were trapped below deck as flames, breaking south in the heavy in the forward part of the superstructure only a bulkhead.

One hundred and eighty-two were reported rescued, either by other liners, or put ashore in life boats.

Lightning struck an oil tank on the vessel at 3:00 A. M. and almost immediately flames enveloped much of the liner returning to New York from an eight day cruise to Havana.

Captain Robert Wilmont, master of the vessel, had died at sea only a few hours before the tragedy, of a heart attack, and First Officer W. F. Warma was in command at the time.

Civic Pride Causes Striking Painters To Reverse Selves

Civic pride has inspired the 16 FERA painters and laborers who quit their jobs on the City Hall last Wednesday to agree upon a return to their jobs next Monday, it was announced this morning.

An FERA official stated that "Satisfactory financial arrangements have been made with the men and as far as we know all 16 of them will return to work Monday. They will finish the job of painting the exterior of the building. It will probably require 40 hours time."

It was stated that the men had decided that as citizens they owed a certain debt to their community, and, rather than leave the exterior of the building half painted, they agreed to return to work.

The men "struck" on Wednesday noon complaining that while the wage of 60 cents an hour for a 40 hour week was satisfactory, they were not able to care for their families on the 60 and 63 a week apportioned them under the new system of payment.

Trammell Secretary Sees Busy Winter

Joe Ferris, formerly editor of the Apopka Chief and now secretary to Senator Park Trammell, was a visitor in Sanford yesterday, and in company with R. L. Glenn, visited many old friends in the city.

Mr. Ferris says that the prospects for the coming season are brighter than they ever have been. Having just returned from Washington he states his thorough conviction that Florida will enjoy an unprecedented tourist season next winter, and he anticipates an excellent demand for Florida fruits and vegetables in northern markets.

"The Southeast particularly," Mr. Ferris declared, "has been the beneficiary of the recovery program everywhere 'one goes through these southern states there is an air of activity and revived confidence.'"

Fort Myers Growers Ship First Citrus To Northern Markets, Netting $2.50 Box

FORT MYERS, Sept. 8.—Consumers up North will get their first taste of Lee county's new crop of golden grapefruit today and several citrus growers are counting the approximate $2.50 net per box which they received from Fort Myers. The fruit, first shipped out of Florida, rolled on Labor Day, two cars from the Lee County Packing Company and one car from the George Kingston plant.

Mr. Kingston who shipped his fruit to the chain store trade in Chicago said that it would bring between $4.50 and $5 per box including packing charges. This fruit

Roosevelt Against Price Fixing In NRA

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt feels price fixing is questionable as running afoul of the anti-trust laws, it was brought out yesterday at his regular press conference.

He said he regards the principles of collective bargaining for labor and abolition of child labor definite parts of the permanent NRA which he is studying for submission to the next Congress.

Roosevelt disclosed he was giving daily thought to the future of the NRA and expected it to evolve by a step by step stage of experimentation.

LOCAL JEWS TO OBSERVE ROSH HASHANA FETE

In services which are scheduled to start at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow night at the Jewish Community Center on Magnolia Avenue, the congregation of the Reform Jewish church will officially begin the observance of Rosh Hashana, the New Year festival.

Julius Dinglefield, will conduct the services, assisted by A. Jacobson of Orlando.

A second service will be held at the Community Center beginning at 9:00 o'clock Monday morning while all stores owned in this city by members of the congregation will be closed all day Monday.

The greatest holiday in the Jewish religion is the day of Atonement and services in commemoration of this event will begin at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday night, and again at 9:00 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Dinglefield as president of the local congregation, extends a cordial welcome to all out of town Jews whose presence is sought for all of the services.

Italians Told To Be Ready For Anything

TARANTO, Italy, Sept. 8.—(AP)—After telling the Italian people to "be ready for any eventuality," Premier Mussolini let it be known last night that he will hurry back to Rome for a conference of generals and divisionary commanders of the entire Italian army.

"Our people must be ready for any event," Il Duce told 50,000 Italians packed into the public square here. "If we should be obliged to take the field, I will be at your head."

Miami Constable To Be Tried For Murder

MIAMI, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Riley Herndon, 29, former deputy constable, was indicted yesterday for first degree murder in the slaying here May 19 of John Charles, 26, member of a prominent Miami family.

The grand jury charge Herndon killed Charles and wounded his bride of a week, the former Ellis May Scott, by raking their bed with gunfire from an automatic shotgun. Mrs. Charles, although seriously wounded, recovered.

State's "Average Family" Grocery Needs For Year Varies From $238 To $283

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 8.—(AP)—Florida's "average family" annual grocery bill ranges from $238.31 to $283.24—a difference of high cost of living in the state's emergency relief sectors, the state FERA has learned.

At Miami, where the daily grocery list adds up to the annual sum of $283.24 for the average family's table consumption, H. C. L. is $10.28 a year higher than for the state average which, the relief agency's survey shows, is $256.84.

An average family at Gainesville, in region three, could purchase the same edibles for $238.31. The survey showed—a variation of

Hitler Says God Is Directing N a z i s

NUERNBERG, Germany, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The corporate and agrarian of national socialism's army last night heard Adolf Hitler tell them "God save our mission to perform."

"We are but instruments in the hands of providence," Der Fuehrer said solemnly while the sacred ranks of 200,000 Nazi "go" men political organization leaders listened.

A spring sun threw its last light over the great Zeppelin field and white searchlights flared up to pierce the slowly rising mists while the leader was speaking.

"Be models to all Germans," he admonished the party's "little men."
