Spencer And Part
Tie For Second Place With 143 Net

FLORIDA, Feb. 9.—H. T. Allen, DeLand professional, and W. G. Windsor, his amateur partner, were the winners in the pro-amateur tournament yesterday at the Orlando Country Club, turning in a net score of 120 to lead the 36-hole event.

The place carried with it a purse of $50 for the professional and the winning team and worth of golf merchandise for the amateur. Allen, who has been steadily improving in the last two years, started the good work on the first hole of the morning round with a 2. His second hole came 9, and his third on the 14, but having slipped a over par occasionally he was the morning round with seven with par.

Windsor, his amateur partner, had his share of birdies all through the round, but on the fourth, ninth, tenth and 15th holes. His morning card was a 25.

Dunn, fresh from the tournament at Augustine, where he had an excellent account of himself as a professional partner, gave the best exhibition of consistent playing, but that he was playing as well as he was playing, the only team so rated, turned in a split for second place.

Tom Carney and James Carney, each team turning in a card of 143.

Second and third place money was split between these teams, gave the professional a purse of $25 and $5 worth of golf balls to the amateur.

The morning round, Dunn had par one stroke on each side, and birdies on the sixth and seventh par on the rest, in the afternoon Ayton collected a par on every hole to the fourteenth.

Went one under, slipped over par on the next hole, offset it with another birdie on the short seventeenth, to finish with another par and a total of 70 for the round.

Sixteen of the professionals who entered in a sweepstakes contest, the winners of which were decided by the scores in the professional competition, Ayton added to his morning round of 70 a place first in this event with 72.

Allen was second with 77 and 74 for a total of 140, and Bob Carney came in for third place with two consistent rounds of 75 and 74 giving him a total of 149.

Schuyler Golden and Earl "Bonnie" Elliott, two Orlando youths, who have recently broken into competitive play, both gave good accounts of themselves, keeping with their more experienced partners, and opponents except on a few instances took the ability of the hard-hitting professionals.

Fishermen Are
Ice Floe In Lake

A mile of slush ice, then across a mile and a half of open water to the floe on which the men were trapped. Then another struggle to shore with a small group of fishermen.

Again and again that struggle repeated during the early part of the night. No large boat could make the trip, and only a small one could be brought ashore at a time. But they had been found and saved.

There were 19 men and one 8-year-old boy in the group on the floe, including the boy, who was caught ashore in the first boat.

The first rescue trip occupied about five hours and cost $1,000. A second trip, which was made another night of storm through ice and darkness, cost $2,000. Finally, rescue was made on the boats at 11 o'clock.

The men were landed five miles from shore, about 15 miles from DeLand. They found that the floe was surrounded by a narrow strip of water.

They were rescued by a small boat which was sent out by the DeLand fishing club.

KENTUCKY LEADS DIXIE CAGE LOOP
WITH 5 VICTORIES

Laurels For Week's Play Is Handed To Tennessee, However

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Kentucky lead the Southern Conference cage race Saturday night with five victories, but the laurels for the week's play go to Tennessee and Virginia for eliminating Alabama and Maryland from the unbeaten group.

After six successive defeats by short margins, the Volunteers came back to give Alabama, the defending champion, its first loop beating in two years, 26 to 24.

Both teams registered nine field goals but the Vols slipped in two more foul shots than the Crimson.

Gus Tebell's Virginia Cavaliers were too fast for Maryland and won 34 to 31, but the Old Liners thumped Washington and Lee the next night 28 to 17, while Virginia lost two in a row to Duke, 31 to 43, and North Carolina, 24 to 28.

Of the three teams starting the week with perfect records, Kentucky was the only one able to maintain the pace. The Lexington Wildcats downed Washington and Lee, 23 to 18 in their single game. Kentucky has its real test this week with Georgia Tech and Georgia ahead.

Georgia set the victory mark for the period with four wins. The Bulldogs, who have 12 triumphs against a lone defeat, beat Clemson, 31 to 21, South Carolina, 37 to 21, and Florida twice, 58 to 23 and 53 to 32. The last game found the Alligators leading 24 to 12 at the half but Georgia cut loose with a last half barrage which was enough to win.

Vanderbilt beat Sewanee 52 to 22, and Georgia Tech, 45 to 22, while Sewanee also lost a close contest to Alabama, 25 to 31. In addition to its victory over Virginia, North Carolina beat V. P. I., 30 to 24, and V. M. I., 42 to 18, but lost a "Big Five" State game to North Carolina State 20 to 23. North Carolina State bested Duke, 26 to 25.

Auburn improved its rating by trouncing Tulane twice, 43 to 42, and 51 to 35, while V. M. I. won its first conference game of the year from V. P. I. last night, 31 to 30.

In non-conference contests, Loyola of Baltimore beat Washington and Lee led 54 to 32, Duke downed Davidson, 27 to 18, V. M.

I. beat Richmond, 53 to 29, Vanderbilt turned back Louisville, 32 to 23, and Tennessee lost an inter-sectional fray with the college of the City of Detroit, 31 to 30.

Louisiana State dropped two games to Southwestern Louisiana, 26 to 40, and 29 to 34, but whipped Mississippi State Teachers College, 45 to 37. Furman beat South Carolina, 21 to 20.

Stribling And Mickey

Program Planned

MIAMI, Feb. 9.—Miami, the Winter sports center of America, and of the whole known world for that matter, planned a "grand" carnival, a culmination of the various activities that center in the Southern Florida resort city every Winter.

Frankly, Miami wants people to visit her beaches, patronize her stores, play her golf courses and have a lot of fun doing all these things. And the best way to get more people into Miami is to add high class attractions to the natural climatic advantages of the city.

It remained for Pa Stribling, known throughout the sports world as manager and daddy of Young Stribling, the heavyweight boxer, to start the ball rolling for Miami's big sports carnival. No sooner had Pa signed for Young Stribling to fight Max Schmelling for the heavyweight champion-

Butler Comes Off
By Navy Secretary

"expressing regret" and his "long record of brilliant service" the court-martial would be abandoned.

Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, navy judge advocate general, said Secretary Adams' letter automatically relieves Butler of arrest. When the charges were filed, Butler was ordered to place himself at the disposal of the navy. He has all the other navy fan could demand. And it is booked in the Miami Madison Square Garden Stadium February 24. There isn't another outdoor arena in America so ideal for open-air flights as in a stadium.

Miami couldn't ask for a finer attraction, nor could visitors be offered more action and color in one evening. Railroads too, are ready to help, all of them offering a one fare plus 25 cents rate for a round trip between Feb. 22 and Feb. 24.

And he is adding his final touch to please everybody, has set prices within the reach of everybody. He has 50,000 seats in the stadium ranging in price from $1 to $5.

Two world's champions and a young World War for the price of an ordinary theatrical production.

The court-martial was to have opened in Philadelphia on Feb. 10. The specific charges against Butler were that he had been made public through counsel for Butler, when formally presented with the charges, described them as "nonsense."

The general was alleged to have referred to Mussolini as a "hit-and-run driver" in recounting an automobile ride a friend was supposed to have taken with the premier.

Pioneer Mussolini, through the Italian embassy in Washington, immediately filed a protest with the State Department. The protest was reported as having been highly incensed. General Butler was called upon for an explanation. He wrote a letter to Secretary Adams, and the formal apology by his government followed.

Butler's letter to Secretary Adams read as follows:
"In connection with the decision of the department to try me by general court-martial it is requested that considerations be given to the following:—

The Casper Carnival

Another pirate krewe, after the fashion of Captain Kidd and his cohorts, have descended in these unwholesome days of pirotechnics and machine guns, upon Tampa and here to turn it by storm. A highly modern era is turned back through the misty pages of history to the Elizabethan days. Barges and wind-jammers bring them in. Green and purple coats. Turbans and pointed hats, bloomers, boots and spurs. Barbed-eyes and black mustaches. Cutlasses and blunderbusses, even muzzle-loading pistols. Such a host of gaily caparisoned corsairs captured Tampa yesterday.

They are gay days, these Casper Carnival. Great parades wind through the city streets, composed of gorgeous floats and spectacles, punctuated not infrequently with lively bands and jolly pirates. Beautiful girls, in no Elizabethan garb, add luster, charm, spontaneity, and not a little sex appeal, to the festivities. Noise-makers, fire-crackers, toy balloons, peanuts, pop corn and cracker-jacks are there too in adequate abundance, to do their part. Everyone is having a good time. There are no spectators. Everyone is a part of the occasion. Everyone has a song and dance for the show.

Cares and sorrows are forgotten. Business, banks, and bank failures are for once thrust vicariously into the limbo of forgotten ages. Fortunes, frittered away in empty dreams and brainless speculation, no longer grow with grinding iron their former owners. Drizzling returns, or struggling business enterprises, huddled up the week before, are in the trouble zone of fun, frolic and street dancing. High taxes, corrupt politics, crime waves, are but slight of hand in the exhilarating sails on the masts of the pirate ships. Personal animosities and factional prejudices are banished in the sales which fall from a thousand pipes of peace.

A Bill For The Home And Child

Ruth Bryan Owen's proposal to establish a federal department of the home and child has been the object of much praise and some condemnation both within this state and without. But this is a subject which is very close to the heart of Mrs. Owen, and one to which she has given a very great amount of thought and study. Those who criticize the plan are probably not so well equipped to discuss it as she is. Those who favor it, do so largely because they believe in Mrs. Owen, or because they love their home and children.

"Mrs. Owen's bill," says the Tallahassee Democrat, "calls for the establishment of an executive department to be known as the Department of Home and Child. The chief officer of the department is to be appointed by the president and will rank with other members of the cabinet. Among the purposes of the department are included the promotion of education, home and family life, research work in regard to infancy and pre-natal care, health and hygiene, training in to employment and recreation of children, a study of housing problems and cooperation with the various official agencies in the several states. Suggested bureaus which have been doing part of such work would be organized under one head.

"Mrs. Owen states she believes the mothers of the country will stand by her in support of this bill. We believe that the fathers of the country also may be counted upon to support the bill. Mrs. Owen has been wife, mother and grandmother. Her entire life has been spent in some sort of association with American youth. She has had the widest experience with organizations having to do with education, vocational training, home life and children's activities. She knows her subject forward and backward.

"The author of the bill has just won a great victory for Florida when the public lands committee gave approval to her plan for the establishment of a national park in the Everglades. This is a great service for the state. Her Home and Child bill is a great service for all humanity, and we venture to say, is closest to her heart."

MARION IS ONE of the banner hog raising counties of the South. The Ocala Banner says a record breaking quantity of hogs, most of them sired No. 1's were brought at the Martin and Taylor stockyards, recently. The sale represented $2,000 pounds on the hoof and it required three cars to load them for shipment. Of this number, 282 hogs weighed 43,200 pounds and were graded as No. 1's. McMichael and Taylor contributed the largest individual quantity, with 25 hogs weighing 6,655 pounds. They brought six and a fourth cents a pound. Only once before have three cars been loaded in one day in the Martin and Taylor stockyards, the Banner says.—Times-Union.

THE SILENT

By [Name]

The silence and death of the night were broken by the sound of the door opening. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

What this would have meant to the man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

Another thing also is certain. The night that had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

There is a story in the first German writer to mention the incident of the night. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

Under the title "The Silent Night" the man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

In other words, the man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come. The man who had been waiting for the night to come, had now come.

GARDEN CLUB OF SANFORD HOLDS ITS ANNUAL ELECTION OF OFFICERS

In a setting resembling an outdoor garden living room, the annual luncheon, business meeting and election of officers of the Garden Club of Sanford was held Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the Woman's Club on Oak Avenue with Mrs. M. S. Wiggins as general chairman of the affair and Mrs. Endor Curlett presiding. Mrs. Endor Curlett was re-elected president of the club; Mrs. W. L. Watson was chosen vice president; Mrs. S. O. Chase Jr., secretary and treasurer; Mrs. A. W. Epps, chairman of Rose Circle; Mrs. H. Wayne Rucker, chairman of Azalea Circle; Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain, chairman of Central Circle; and Mrs. Hugh Whelchel, Director Gardeners' Circle.

Luncheon was served impromptu after the arrival of the guests from long banquet tables by the Misses Pauline Stoudenmire, Christine Stoudenmire, Marjorie Forrest, Louise Hickson, Jean Martin Laney, Mary Maxwell, Mary Hurt, Mary Dighton, Billie Wight, Juanita Smith, Frances Wilson, Frances Pearson and Camille Dear, who were all dressed in long old-fashioned patterned colored gowns worn with small bouquets of flowers in their hair. The guests were shown to their places by Mrs. Roland S. Read, Mrs. R. M. Warren and Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain.

At the speakers' table were seated: Mrs. Edwin H. Riggs, of Winter Park, president of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs; Miss Mary S. Compton, of Orlando; corresponding secretary of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs; Mrs. W. A. Whitman, of Orlando, director of the Western District of the Florida Federation; Mrs. Endor Curlett, president of the Sanford Garden Club and vice-president of the Federation; Mrs. Henry Wight, past president of the Sanford Garden Club and director of the Central District of the Federation; Mrs. William Blackman; Mrs. Corbett; Mrs. J. C. Gibbs; and Mrs. Fred Wilson, recording secretary.

During the luncheon speeches were made by all the ladies at the speakers' table. Mrs. A. M. Phillips, accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Deas, rendered several vocal numbers.

Decorations for the occasion were considered one of the most novel and beautiful arrangements ever made at the club house. The long luncheon tables were centered with miniature pergolas, bird houses, rustic pools, informal gardens, archways and bowls of sweet peas, harkspur and gladioli. The place cards were fastened to bouquets of old-fashioned flowers. The stage was made to represent an outdoor living room with its two garden seats covered with vines and white trellises adorned with calendulas and flame vines.

The reception hall was outlined with walks of narcissi, calendulas and fern, while the archway at the entrance to the large banquet room was outlined with white trellises entwined with bigonia venusta and aparagus falcatus. The walls of the rooms were banked with a profusion of myrtle.

Among those present were: Mrs. Endor Curlett, Mrs. Edwin H. Riggs, of Winter Park, Mrs. Mary S. Compton, of Orlando, Mrs. W. A. Whitman, Mrs. Henry Wight, Mrs. William Blackman, Mrs. Corbett, Mrs. J. C. Gibbs, Mrs. Fred H. Wilson, Mrs. G. W. Brown, Mrs. Ira Davis, Mrs. I. P. Barron, Mrs. Monroe E. Hutcheon, Mrs. S. E. Jones, Mrs. H. Wayne Rucker, Mrs. E. H. Laney, Mrs. C. W. Stokes, Mrs. A. W. ## Officers Elected To P.T.A. County Council

At the meeting of the County Council of Florida, Parent-Teacher Association, held at Lyman School on Thursday with Mrs. Emma G. Lyman, presiding, the following officers for the coming year were installed: Mrs. W. L. Morgan, president; Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, vice-president; Mrs. J. A. Wilson, of Chuluota, secretary; Mrs. Robert True, of Lake Mary, treasurer; and Miss Love Turner, publicity chairman.

Reports from the various schools in the county were read by the representatives of the different P. T. A. organizations. Mrs. Eldon Jacobs gave a splendid report on the "Summer Round Up" and named the chairman of each P. T. A. to see that this work is carried on.

Mrs. A. G. Wagner, of Chuluota, urged the chairman of High School P. T. A.'s to encourage students to enter the Narcotic Essay Contest which is sponsored by the Florida branch of P. T. A. and open until Feb. 28. The subject of the essay is, "Facts a High School Boy or Girl Should Know about Narcotics." A gold medal will be awarded by the state to both junior and senior students and many local prizes will be offered.

Reports were given by the chairman of mental, physical and social hygiene committees. After the business session luncheon was served by the members of the Lyman P. T. A.

"Little Caesar" is a portrait of a gangster's state of mind, according to Mervyn LeRoy, who directed the Vitaphone version of W. R. Burnett's famous novel for First National Pictures. "Little Caesar" will be at the Milano Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

LeRoy became greatly interested in gangsters and in prison psychology some time ago when he spent several weeks in research preparatory to filming "Numbered Men."

Assisted by Capt. Clem Peoples, of the Los Angeles Sheriff's Office, LeRoy studied prison conditions, and made several trips to San Quentin penitentiary with Peoples when the latter was taking sentenced gangsters to be incarcerated there.

"Gangland is organized just like big business," says LeRoy. "It has its own code of business ethics, its ruthless competition, it is ruled by the strongest wills, the best brains, and the best students of human nature."

"The curious thing about the gangster's state of mind is his willingness to kill, and think no

ANY ITEMS IN CITY AFFAIRS ARE SETTLED

 of $200 or more is at hand will apply. It is on account of the four judgments recently rendered in Federal Court. The judgments against the City cover approximately $300,000 in interest on bonds, and interest on the $300,000 amount to $200,000.

After a discussion, the Commissioners decided, subject to the advice of Cary D. Landis, associate City counsel, who was not present at the meeting, that they would agree to turn over to the bondholders' Protective Committee, all sums in excess of $25,000 provided the money would be applied to the principal amount of the four judgments.

The only other form which the Commissioners tentatively withheld was the bondholders' certificate of Mr. Landis, was the last item offered. Since the bonds included in the judgment are owned by many holders, the bondholders' attorneys wish to issue to the bondholder involved, who wishes to sell his share of the judgment credit certificates which are to be used to pay delinquent taxes. The Commissioners were hesitant in committing themselves upon that point, and for the time being refused to do so.

Other terms which the Commissioners agreed upon included: sending a financial statement of the City to the bondholders and members of the committee each month; and turning over to the bondholders a copy of the City's list of bondholders, in exchange for which the bond attorneys will turn over to the city a list of bondholders whom they represent.

Since last night's meeting was the first held this month, all vouchers in payment of operating expenses for January and sundry small bills held over from last year, almost 60 in number, had to be signed. The Commission, at the request of Commissioner Lehman, began a new method of disposing of such obligations. Heretofore, all City bills have been paid on the approval of City Clerk Lamson who had authority to handle all minor details. Because a strict measure of economy must be enforced for some time, all City bills will now be read to the Commission before being approved and voucher created thereon. Mr. Lamson's authority to make purchases or to close minor details was not lessened by the decision.

Following the reading of all bills which were to be paid, the Commission undertook the disposition of other matters. A committee of three Commissioners, appointed to investigate details surrounding the request of officials of the Sanford Gas Co., that they be permitted to close their Sanford gas-producing plant and pipe gas to this City from Orlando, reported that they wished further time to consider the matter and said that a report will be submitted at the next meeting.

The Commissioners briefly discussed the wisdom of raising the minimum water rate from $1.25 to $1.50, but no action was taken pending the collection of further information. Bills will be asked for the publication of delinquent tax rolls, at the suggestion of Commissioner Lefler, who was of the opinion that while the finances of the City at this time do not warrant the publication, the good which would be derived from publication, rather than posting at the City Hall, is worthy of further consideration.

Insurance on the Mayfair Hotel, New City property, was reduced to $40,000, instead of the $50,000 which was authorized some weeks ago. Hospital bills amounting to $25,000 for charity patients, were ordered paid, but the hospital authorities are to be notified that any further charity care must be authorized by the City Commission. There is a certain amount of charity work which must be done by the City, but we must make every effort to see that only the best charity cases are handled, said Mayor T. L. Dennis in that connection.

A resolution from the law firm of G. J. L. Dennis and Associates, dated February 10, 1934, covering expenses in connection with the City's financial affairs, was approved for payment. The resolution provided for the payment of expenses incurred by J. E. L. Dennis, City Counsel, who was authorized to act as City Counsel in the absence of the City Counsel, and for the payment of expenses incurred by J. E. L. Dennis, City Counsel, who was authorized to act as City Counsel in the absence of the City Counsel.

ford will be allowed the use of several articles of furniture not being used by the City, providing the County Commissioners make written application. City Attorney Fred R. Wilson reported that the County Commissioners had voted against paying for the recording of deeds for eight of ways along the proposed lake shore boulevard, but the City Commissioners ordered Mr. Wilson to again say that payment be authorized by the County heads.

Payment was authorized of a note of slightly more than $1,000 held by the Central Foundry Co. for labor and materials furnished the City. After reading several letters of recommendation and hearing individual expressions as to the present condition of the City Water supply, the Commissioners voted to purchase the amortizer which has been in use for the past two months as an aid in shifting city water of the objectionable odor and taste which was peculiarly offensive during the latter months of 1933. The purchase price is $400.

A statement from the New York City law firm of Hornblower, Miller and Garrison, associate counsel for the City in Chase National Bank matters, was read but no action was taken. It was in the amount of $11,725.25. Robert A. Cobb was appointed as a bond trustee to fill the post recently released by Frank L. Woodruff. A resolution approving the release of Walter L. Cooper from the surety bond fixed for the proper performance of his duties as a bond trustee was approved. At the same time the Commissioners approved the surety bonds of T. L. Dumax and C. A. Byrd as Commissioners.

W. M. Tarpley, an out-of-town resident who is interested in the purchase of the water plant, was notified that the City did not contemplate the sale of the plant at any time in the near future. City Clerk Lamson asked that the Commission approve his account

NAVY REVEALS CHARGES THAT BUTLER FACED

 General Butler would have been tried next Monday in Philadelphia. He was charged with public attacks picturing Premier Mussolini of Italy as a hit-and-run driver who had not stopped after killing a child.

In the list of formal charges against the spectacular marine general was one of "conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline." One of the specifications asserted Butler's Philadelphia remarks "were of a nature so give offense to the government of Italy, to bring the prime minister of a friendly government into contempt and disrepute, and to embarrass the government of the United States in its foreign relations."

Butler, which consists of the fully catapacted; suffered throbbing headaches, and no medicine I took would give me lasting relief. "Sargon helped me so quickly I could hardly realize it. It completely relieved my terrible stomach disorders, and other troubles. Sargon Pills gave me lasting relief from constipation and I feel like a new woman. I'll praise Sargon as long as I live."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Annie Hatton, 749 N. W. 29th St., Miami. Sold by Laney's Drug Store—Adv.

 Butler also had been called, but would not disclose his name.

Blaine said further testimony would be received pending to show an attempt to prevent presentation of the lease to a second grand jury. The committee chairman has indicated an attempt was made to block the second jury inquiry for fear it would "blow up" the presidential campaign in 1924, then in progress.

John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general under New Postmaster General Clegg, was called into his office and told him to execute the lease "and do it today," although Bartlett who was away at the time was known to oppose it. Bartlett's name was signed to the lease.

Blaine has announced that Postmaster General Brown also will be called before the committee. Hearings will be held almost daily beginning today until the end of the session, the chairman said. Facts in connection with more than 400 leases will be placed in the record.

ADOPTION OF DROUIN LOAN PACT URGED

 Senator Robinson reached the Capitol just in time to give a threatened outburst of the compromise agreement resulting from the double Democratic ranks at the administration of funds intended by Secretary Hyde as expressed in his letter of Saturday.

"As to our conversation this morning," wrote President Hoover to Senator Robinson, "I am glad to confirm that once the proposed additional funds for relief money was suggested for the purpose of real aid to the distressed credit situation in the drought area, and that at the administration of the secretary of agriculture assures me he has no other intention and that he will interpret fairly and sympathetically."

Senator George (D. Ga.), interposed in the debate before the funds for flood relief in the Southeastern States had been "fairly and sympathetically" administered.

Leaders were confident of adoption of the agreement last night. The compromise is expected to go a long way toward making unnecessary an extra session. However, opponents were ready to take the floor and a vote is not expected until Wednesday.

New Demand To Pass Naval Bill Urged On House

 most serious Senate objection. Britten said the strong Senate opposition had crumbled and that it would pass that branch.

As reported by the appropriations committee, the supply bill reflects a sharp reduction in construction, personnel and ships of the fleet.

The proposed outlay is $3,451,000 below budget estimates. But $28,530,000 is allowed for new construction on the 10,000-ton eight-inch gun cruisers under the London naval treaty as compared to $19,965,000 this year.

Besides allowing for the withdrawal of four battleships, three under the London naval treaty, the bill cuts down the number of submarines, destroyers and old cruisers to effect economy and follow out the administration's plan for reorganizing the fleet. Naval enlisted personnel was slashed from 84,500 to 70,700 while the Marine Corps force was reduced from 18,000 to 17,400.

The committee disregarded Secretary Adams' request for more commissioned officers and recommended a decrease in Naval Academy classes along with drastic limitation of demands of naval aviation on line officers.

At the same time a reduction of four to three midshipmen appointments for each member of Congress and a limit of 549 line officers were recommended.

 that Potter was slain in real life against further testimony in Cleveland's notorious playground scandal which already has sent two prominent men to the penitentiary.

"Another theory was that Potter knew too much about a set of other money-making racket and was killed by gangsters who were afraid of him."

Potter himself had faced trial three times in the playground case but each time was acquitted. He had even scheduled for trial again yesterday on a charge of perjury in previous testimony.

Former Councilman Lesten G. Schooley and his son, Lesten, Jr., are still in the penitentiary for their part in the playgrounds deal. Lesten, Jr., was to have gone on parole from the State Board of Clemency postponed the action until June, because of the Potter killing.

The former councilman had been dead nearly five days before his body was found.

An unidentified man who gave his name as "M. J. Marcus" had rented the rooms, and a blonde young woman had been seen there shortly before Potter was killed, police investigation revealed.

There was no evidence, however, that Potter had known either "Marcus" or the woman. Detectives expressed the view that the man and woman had lured the former councilman there and had professional killers fire the fatal shots.

Potter had been a member of the city council 10 years but was defeated in the last election after the playground scandals was exposed. He was one of the city's most prominent officials.

Police believed that the former councilman recently had been in financial difficulties.

Buyers of fire insurance indirectly but actually contribute a vast sum—approximately $30,000,000 annually—through taxes, most of which are of a special nature, additional to the regular taxes borne by insurance companies in common with other lines of industry.

The original purpose of special taxes upon insurance was to maintain state revenues, but such supervision was but a formality of each dollar. The balance goes into the general funds of the state.

These special taxes and the taxes upon property which insurance companies pay in common with all other owners of property are factors in the cost of fire insurance.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States says:

"Special State Taxes now levied on Policyholders through the medium of special taxes, not only increase the source of general revenue but also tend to be added to the cost of fire insurance which will eventually result in higher rates of insurance to the policyholder."
