India Faces Refugee Problem

By ANDREW TORCHIA
Associated Press Writer

CALCUTTA (AP) — India won the war but the refugee problem that drove Indira Gandhi to it may be with her for a long time.

Indian officials say that within a month or two at most, nearly all the 8.5 million Hindu and Moslem Bengalis who fled from the Pakistan army will be back home in the Bangla Desh nation India fought to create.

"The 'I'll go the way they come-or less," said an administrator in the Ministry of Rehabilitation. Road or rail transportation would be impossible to arrange for so many, he said. Foreign observers are not so sure. Millions of refugees are homeless and tired of living in camps. But many who arrived six months ago starving and grateful for any help now are setting conditions for leaving in droves.

"I don't go back on my own," one said. "I go on the government transport. If we go on foot, we will die." Said Dwarbar Sen, 55, a farm worker who walked into India with his wife and two children last July. "Our home has been demolished and our fields torn up. There must be some provision for us when we get back."

"Send me back home as soon as possible," said Mrs. Tribhan Sen, 66, who came with her 75-year-old husband, three children and seven grandchildren. "But how can I walk? Coming here we managed to suffer through. But how can I walk back?"

One American relief agency official in Calcutta thinks as many as half the refugees—nearly five million people—will stay in India.

"India is a Hindu nation and most of the refugees were Hindus living in a Moslem country," he said. "Most of them were poor agricultural workers. They are in debt to money lenders. Why would they want to go back? If they refuse to go, what can India do—order them out as a punishment?"

A Calcutta newspaper quoted Tajuddin Ahmad, the Bangla Desh prime minister, as rejecting any aid offers from the United States and other countries which he said opposed Bangla Desh independence. Indian officials say any returning refugees also will have trouble proving they owned their land since many people have destroyed the property records.

Legal Data Mouldering To Nothing

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Americans each year thrill to the sight of the nation's sacred documents — the Constitution and Declaration of Independence which are proudly and carefully maintained in the National Archives.

What they don't see are the thousands upon thousands of legal records, many dating to colonial times, that by neglecting and disintegrating in the dusty basements of courthouses throughout the country.

According to the American Society for Legal History and officials at the National Archives, these documents will be useless in 10 to 15 years—unless something is done to preserve them.

The society, headed by University of Pennsylvania law professor George L. Haskins, is in the midst of a drive to preserve and reorganize these documents through a proposed federal preservation act.

"Federal legislation is needed," Haskins says. "In many ways, the preservation of these records is a national crisis."

Santa Claus Tops Ebenezer Scrooge

By CARL C. CRAFT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country's choice, Santa Claus, won the Christmas war in Congress today as Capitol Hill "one giant lobbying" surged beyond its $1,000 goal to meet in a happy holiday for thousands.

Rep. Carl Albert (D., Mont.) won the battle for the formal announcement of his victory over Ebenezer Scrooge. He said in a prepared statement: "I only hope the 'I' will be able to keep the Christmas spirit alive, as Capitol Hill all year long."

Last-minute activities in the North Pole office kept the prominent lawmaker away from the trials of a three-week campaign conducted among Capitol Hill workers by the Congressional Staff Club, said chief of staff, associate counsel of the House Agriculture Committee.

In Casselberry Controversy Chief Clears Officer Of Charge

By DONNA ESTES

CASSELBERRY — Police Chief George Karcher today said his investigation of charges by a person arrested early Monday by a police brutality revealed nothing to indicate that the officer exerted force other than that required under the circumstances.

Karcher added, however, his investigation is continuing and information he has gathered to this point has been furnished to a representative of the state attorney's office.

The chief said that during the early morning hours Monday, Patrolman Herbert Johnson began pursuing two miles within the city limits a vehicle which appeared to be speeding. Operator of the automobile was later identified as Robert Burns, of Oviedo.

Johnson began pursuit as Burns was proceeding east on SR 436 at the intersection of Lake Howell Road. Karcher said the hot pursuit, which continued for approximately 10 miles before the driver was apprehended, was started by Johnson at 1:32 a.m., was under circumstances required to keep the individual in view at all times.

The chief continued that Johnson never lost visual contact with the other vehicle and on several occasions attempted to pull the car over but the driver did not respond.

Karcher said Burns' operating the vehicle in and out of heavy traffic in dangerous fashion obviously necessitated a timed pursuit and a call to Oviedo Police Chief Ken P. Triplett and Sgt. Ronnie Miller and Deputy Sheriff Elijah Faulkner (standing left to right) observe as Deputy Sheriff Charles Werner checks the bare feet of Robert Donald Bowen, 33, of Orlando, for glass fragments from the broken door of the (Oviedo) drug store which was broken into early this morning. # Girl Faces Charge: Hitting Teacher

School Board action against a teenage student charged with striking a teacher was delayed Tuesday afternoon pending Juvenile Court decision on a criminal charge against the girl involved. Stuart Culpepper had moved to expel the girl from Seminole High School but later withdrew his motion when Supt. John Angel said the case is in Juvenile Court.

The matter was brought up after the board had officially expelled for the rest of the year three other students, one each from Seminole High, Lakeview Middle and Sanford Middle Schools, for alleged misconduct.

The latter three already had received the maximum three suspensions from class this year and, according to school policy, the students faced automatic expulsion on the next misconduct incident.

In discussing the teacher-striking incident, alleged to have occurred when a teacher tried to separate two fighting students, Supt. Angel said an investigation should be completed before any action by the board.

Jack Redding, Seminole High principal, stated he signed a complaint against the teenage girl after the incident and the matter was being handled by Juvenile Court. He said the accused had no prior misconduct record and received a 10-day suspension from school. That suspension was up nearly a week ago and the girl returned to classes Friday before the start of the Christmas holidays.

Board Chairman A. F. Keith said he would like to have a recommendation from the school principal regarding the striking incident. Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, viewed the case may be in court but added the board has the right to expel students.

After the discussion, Culpepper withdrew his motion awaiting the court verdict in the case.

Newcomers Promise Changes McClanahan, Morris Victorious

By BILL SCOTT

Two political novices were elected to Sanford voters in Tuesday's municipal election run-offs that saw the defeat of six-year City Commissioner veteran W. Vincent Roberts and the overwhelming of political newcomer Rev. John Connelly.

Incumbent Roberts lost a close, hard fought election to A. A. McClanahan, Connelly was defeated soundly by John Morris.

With 35 absentee ballots to be counted at noon today, unofficial returns from Tuesday balloting gave McClanahan 1,064 votes to Roberts' 988 for the group I victory. Morris at the same time doubled the vote on Connelly by polling 1,463 votes to the minister's 780.

The new commissioners will take office Jan. 3 in a City Commission reorganizational meeting. Organizational Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. estimated would hold average rent increases in 1972 to 3 or 3 1/2 per cent.

The announcement came only hours after business members of the Pay Board issued a blanket challenge of all scheduled pay raises that exceed 7 per cent, saying such higher raises in doubt.

Reflecting on the face, Morris said Rev. Connelly's mistake was the minister's statement on the tax issue. Morris estimated 30 per cent of the city's Negroes supported him and added, "I am gratified and will represent the black community."

Connelly took the defeat in a gracious manner and pointed out that under the present city wide election system, no black man can be elected to the city office. "Therefore," he said, "we will be seeking to change the present system by legislation to district election." He added.

He said a large registration drive would begin immediately to obtain more Negro voters, thus helping insure the victory in December 1972 of Rev. Joseph Smith as mayor of Sanford.

Dr. Roberts today issued the following statement regarding his loss: "I have no regrets. My candidacy was based on an offer of service to my community. My campaign was based on honesty and truthfulness. I sincerely thank all those who supported my effort."

Two Held In Burglary

By LARRY NEELY

Two Oviedo men were arrested early this morning by Oviedo police and sheriff's deputies in connection with the 1:20 a.m. breaking and entering of the Oviedo drug store. The arrests and crime scene search was spiced by the arrest of an Oviedo man for possession of marijuana.

The breaking and entering was observed and reported to the Oviedo police. Patrolman Keller Fore responded within seconds and stopped David Edward Ross, 30, of Oviedo, when he ran from the store. The other suspect, Robert Donald Bowen, 33, of Orlando, was captured nearby by Deputy Sheriff Elijah Faulkner who came to the store and Constable Chester Boyd. Bowen was hiding in tall weeds not far from the (Oviedo) drug store at the time of his capture.

The third arrest came when Richard C. Millard, 23, Oviedo, drove up to the scene at 2:30 a.m. looking for a place to purchase cigarettes. Sheriff's Detective Rex Parker ordered Millard detained. Parker later searched Millard's car and discovered small quantities of what is alleged to be marijuana. Parker subsequently arrested Millard's arrest. At the time of the arrest, Parker and Millard, 20, of Oviedo, were identified by the arrest at the right time.

Police and sheriff's deputies recovered a pillow case and a tire iron dropped by Ross when he was captured by Fore. Authorities theorized the tire iron was used to break the glass in the front door where Bowen and Ross allegedly entered and left the store. The contents of the pillow case were identified by Jack Deper, owner of the drug store, as being amphetamines from a storage cabinet in his store. Parker said the wholesale value of the drugs is a minimum of $300.

All three of the arrested men were lodged in the county jail in lieu of bond. Millard is charged with possession of marijuana and bond was set at $2,500. Bowen is charged with breaking and entering with the intent to commit a felony and his bond has been set at $2,500. Bowen is entering his bond is also set at $2,500.

Straight talk from FPL about a rate increase

Marshall McDonald, President of FPL

Asking for a rate increase is a new experience for us at FPL. In all our 46 years, we've never done it before.

We don't like doing it now. But we must. There's no alternative if we are to meet our responsibility to continue supplying you with adequate, reliable electric service.

And we owe you a factual explanation of why, since you pay the bills.

First, we pay bills too. Big bills. Bills for equipment, supplies, taxes. And bills in the form of salaries for our employees.

And our bills, like yours, keep getting bigger. In just the one year from September 1970 to September 1971, our operating and maintenance expenses increased 23 percent.

You might ask if our revenues didn't go up, too. Yes, our revenues did rise during that same year. But only about two-thirds as much as expenses.

This rise—so much smaller than our costs—to a great extent comes from the many new customers we serve.

And this leads to another challenge: building the facilities necessary to provide reliable service for all of our customers.

As the nation's fastest-growing electric utility, in the nation's fastest-growing major state (more than 3,500 new residents each week), we're in the middle of a construction program that stretches the imagination. Construction under way or planned for the next five years will cost at least $1,550,000,000. And that isn't a typographical error; that's over $1-1/2 BILLION—as much as we've invested in our entire 46-year history. It averages close to one million dollars a day, every day for the five years.

Naturally, we must pay for the construction long before we even begin to charge for the electricity it will deliver. This means we must borrow.

And the cost of borrowing—like the cost of construction—has zoomed in the last decade. Once we could borrow at about 4 percent interest. Lately it's been around 8 percent, even as high as 8-1/8 percent. This amounts to $8,125,000 annually on a $100 million loan.

You might ask why we must borrow? Why we can't pay for construction out of present income? Good question. And the simple answer: not enough income.

While we're spending about $300 million a year for construction, last year our Net Income was $59 million. Part of that was "plowed back" into operations. But it falls far short of what is needed if we're to deliver the kind of service you want and need.

The lines cost more. The equipment costs more. And the men get paid more.

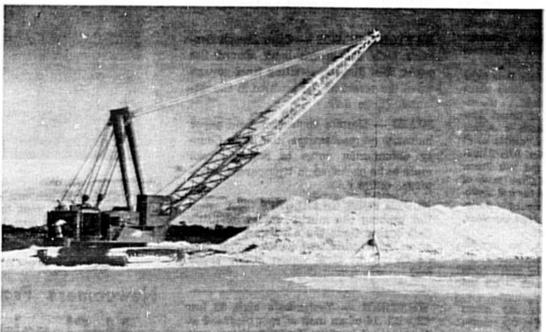

Construction proceeds on new Hutchinson Island Plant. Price tag: over $200 million.

There's another money matter you'll be interested in: the cost of FPL's efforts to protect the environment we all live in.

We certainly share today's great concern for the environment. But doing something about it costs money.

One example: the cost of cooling the water used in our plants before we return it to the rivers and bays of Florida. The cooling canal system required for our Turkey Point Plant on Biscayne Bay will add some $30 million to construction costs. Other cooling systems will raise the cost of our Hutchinson Island Plant about $8 million, and our Sanford generating station about $3 million.

Cooling the water will protect Biscayne Bay and Card Sound, cost an extra $30 million.

Ever-higher operating cost, inflated construction costs, high interest rates and costly environmental protection: these are some of the chief reasons why FPL finds it necessary—after 46 years of lowering rates—to ask for an increase.

We are asking for an overall increase of about 15 percent. Whether or not the increase will be granted is up to Florida's Public Service Commission, to whom we shall present facts and figures like those you've just read.

We don't like asking for an increase. But we wanted you to know the reasons why this is necessary.

If you have any questions, please write and let us know. We'll be glad to answer you.

After all, we're a public utility. And we take our public responsibility very seriously.

Householders Get Break As Askew OKs Tax Act

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Reubin Askew today announced the signing of the $125 million corporate profits tax bill and two measures repealing the 4 per cent sales tax on household utilities and apartment rentals.

"I'm happy we could achieve in our first year the major thrust of our campaign last year," Askew told a news conference.

The corporate profits tax was authorized by voters by a 70 per cent margin on a referendum ballot Nov. 2, and implemented at a recent 11-day special session of the Legislature. The 5 per cent tax on corporate incomes over $5,000 goes into effect Jan. 1.

The two sales tax repeal bills—representing some $43 million in tax relief to utility consumers and apartment renters—takes effect March 1.

Askew said he signed the three bills on Tuesday—apparently with little ceremony. He also told the news conference the "absolutely" intends to stick to an earlier commitment to name a black to the Board of Regents—but hasn't decided on a name yet.

The governor has announced he will replace Regent Elizabeth A. Kovachevich of St. Petersburg, a Republican, whose term expires at the end of this year. Askew said the new regent would not come from a county where there was currently a regent.

About the special session at which the corporate tax and two sales tax repeal bills were implemented, Askew said, "The battles we log we'll have to fight another day."

Askew denied reports meanwhile that he had vetoed Gov. Tom Adams' intention to buy an airplane from Department of Commerce funds. The decision not to buy the plane, said Askew, was Adams' own.

Altamonte's City Hall, Center

High Costs Hit New Building

By MARION BETHEA

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City Council was in a quandary yesterday relative to the course of action to initiate with the awarding of the contract for the new city center.

The matter of financing of the city center and city hall was "solved and solved," said Architect Robert Webb told Council that escalating costs made immediate action advisable. Mayor Lawrence Swafford said bids for the civic center were high. He continued that negotiations had been initiated with the bank for a loan of $525,000 but that nothing has been finalized.

He said he could not conceive how the contract could be let by the target date of Jan. 7. In addition, he said, the ordinance for the two structures has not been prepared. There are to include both the city hall and civic center in one ordinance.

Mayor Swafford asked Webb for a "questionnaire" of the costs of the city hall, to which the answer was "$410,000." This reply elicited the statement from Swafford, "It goes up every week." Councilman Thomas Hadloff concurred, with the remark that the figure is $100,000 over the initial estimate.

Webb outlined the estimated costs for the two edifices, saying the city hall will be $310,000 and the civic center $220,000. Low bid submitted for the latter was $224,400, and with "financing of $2,276 for an emergency generator and $1,420 for insulation," the cost was designated to a round figure of $230,000.

Council, after quotation of these figures, considered the possibility of requesting a loan in the amount of $600,000, over a 10-year period. The annual payments would run $60,000, 100,000. However, Swafford did not envision this raising any financial difficulty, since the point is being funded through the utility tax. Swafford said Council had budgeted $80,000 in this area, and the tax had returned $50,000 to the city coffers from May through September. He anticipated a $100,000 return next year.

Continuing with the bright financial picture, Swafford said application was made Tuesday for over 500 apartment units, and he expects that in the first nine months of 1972 some 500 homes and 700 apartment units will be built.

Action on the contract award was deferred until Swafford confers with bank officials, giving a report to Council at next week's meeting. Therefore, he said, it did not appear the contract could be let before the Jan. 7 deadline.

The mayor asked Webb if an extension was possible. Webb couched a note of pessimism that should the contract have to be re-bid, "They'll crucify you." He suggested the city send the low bidder a letter of intent.

Mayor Swafford said he

Traffic Control Law Approved By Oviedo

By LIZ MATHEUX

OVIDO — Several ordinances were adopted by City Council, including one on annexation approving the referendum election on Dec. 7.

Ordinance 226 was voted at the first reading also relative to annexing property to the city and will be read again at the Jan. 3 meeting.

Ordinance 227 relative to adopting Florida Uniform Traffic Control Law as the traffic control law of the City of Oviedo. It will become effective Jan. 1.

A public hearing was set by the Council for Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. relative to the partitioning of the present memorial building city hall to gain additional needed office space.

Justice of the Peace Charles Walls appeared before the Council requesting office space in city hall, if available. Walls was recently appointed by Gov. Reubin Askew. Council agreed to look into the matter.

Walls explained his duties and said he did not have a pressing schedule but as his agenda increased he would have to set aside a definite date for holding court.

A motion was adopted to complete the purchase of a Massey Ferguson tractor with a mowersweeper attachment at the stipulated amount of $4,995. Council noted that "No bicycle riding" signs have been installed on city sidewalks.

Oviedo city hall will close Dec. 24-25 and again on Dec. 31-Jan. 3 for the holidays. The Council will convene on Jan. 3 at 7:30 p.m. as scheduled.

Referendum On Judicial Reform Merits Top Spot

Unless something quite out of the ordinary takes place the matter of reform of the Florida judicial machinery, now possible with the submission to the voters of a constitutional referendum for that purpose on March 14th, will again be submerged by an obvious, hot political issue.

For it is on March 14th that the history-making presidential primary will take place. Already the drums can be heard which will crescendo into a thunderous roar as the presidential hopefuls reach full voice.

If the past is any portent, then it will take a great deal of purposeful, vigorous, informative debate with equally prominent display in the mass media to get this issue of a new Article 5 in the state constitution, its due.

Only a quick glance back to the fiery debates which took place as the intense drive by Gov. Reubin

Askey for the corporate profits tax, the controversy between the public interest and the private interests, resulted in the special session of the state legislature passing such a law (spurred by the 70 per cent approval of the states' voters) is enough to show this hazard.

For it was the same special session which decided to allow the voters to act on the proposed reform of the judiciary. Yet this issue was overshadowed then by the corporate profits tax issue.

Now the danger is that the presidential primaries will do the same thing before March 14th. Yet the importance to the people of Florida of this move to change the judicial machinery is of much more real importance. For the antiquated system of dispensing justice in this Sunshine State must be changed.

We do not presume to be any authority on this proposal insofar as the technique of the change into a two-tier court system is concerned and what its practical assets and liabilities would be.

Yet we are thoroughly persuaded that the concern over the present judicial system — federal and state — as shown by the remarks of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger of the U.S. Supreme Court and echoed by lesser judicial luminaries is deep.

Discussion of the proposed changes in the Florida constitution needs to be undertaken at once. This is an issue which has no calendar or temporary limits. Indeed, this very fact, may have crippled its progress.

Yet its goals are obvious. Judicial reform is essential so that equal and benefit application of justice will be provided. Uniformity in courts is essential. Centralized administrative machinery must be created.

Governor Askey has shown his support for judicial reform in making this referendum a prime purpose of the special legislative session. Within the legislature its champions have worked hard and long. This is no new issue for them.

There is no disputing that the present system, with overlapping courts and cumbersome procedures, slows up trials and has handed to the sitting judges court calendars which, in many instances, are absurdly overloaded.

It is also a very real probability that an updating and modernizing of the courts would help local governments in their monumental budget struggles. Governor Askey thinks that there could be as much as $6.2 million a year saved for the local treasuries.

Among the judiciary there are many judges who are well aware of the limitations imposed by the present system. They are, quite properly, equally sure that changes must be made with judicial restraint. So do we.

Arrogance Vetoes

Seidman has a president stood on firmer ground in using his veto power than when President Nixon refused to accept the bill extending the Office of Economic Opportunity for another two years.

This veto is not a blow against anti-poverty programs, as the President's critics were quick to suggest, but a blow against the arrogance of a federal bureaucracy.

The Child Development Act alone, which is part of the OEO bill, justifies the veto. This program, largely the creature of social theorists within the OEO, patently is an unwarranted and dangerous invasion of personal and family responsibility for child-rearing.

It is no less significant, however, that President Nixon is insisting in his veto message that Congress make the Office of Economic Opportunity itself something other than a self-perpetuating conglomerate of social programs which have had varying degrees of success.

While the OEO has played some promising new ground in closing the gap in opportunity for racial and ethnic minorities in our society, it is time for its successful programs to be assigned to other federal agencies while those of unproven value remain the subject of experiment and evaluation within the OEO. The bill sent to the White House made it impossible to take this logical step.

If Congress wants to renew its commitment to a "war on poverty," it must rid the OEO bill of these objectionable features.

Leslie Nielsen's Remembering

By DON FREEMAN
Capley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — Leslie Nielsen, as highly respected as any actor around, remembers the first and possibly the best advice he ever received about acting. The tip came from his father, who was, for 25 years until his retirement, a constable in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"I was about 16 years old and about to do my first part in a school play," Nielsen says. "My dad said to me, 'Son, just remember, don't say 'that is.' Say 'that's.' Be natural.'"

Nielsen, over the years, has clearly followed that invaluable lesson in his durable career, which includes the lead in the "Bracken's World" series, the lead in "The Protectors" segments of "The Bold Ones" and a number of series guest-starring roles. This season he is also the narrating voice on the National Geographic specials.

Nielsen is a Canadian, born in Regina, Sask., and raised mainly around Edmonton, Alta., where his father was stationed with the Mounties.

"Occasionally, Nielsen likes to muse about the differences between the Canadian and American national character. And when he does, stray bits and pieces of his old Canadian accent find their way into his speech.

"It seems, whenever I go back to Canada, that after five minutes I'll find myself in a conversation that's deeply introspective and philosophical," Nielsen observed. "It'll be talking about the history of self. Now my theory is that this trait has something to do with the country's size and lack of population. Canada is bigger than the states and yet it only has 22 million people. The winters are long and hard.

"In the beginning, Canadians were faced with several facts of existence — few neighbors, a severe climate and a kind of isolation. Eventually, in this situation, it becomes a part of the national character to come to grips with who you are, with your own vulnerabilities; you begin to deal more philosophically with alternatives and judgments.

"Isolation breeds a need for conversation and for people. You become quick to talk and quick to laugh. Maybe the times have changed now, but one fact about living in the small Canadian prairie towns is that people never locked their doors. And they never locked their doors emotionally, either."

Pennsylvania's attorney general has ruled that beauty parlors cannot refuse service to male customers who want their hair cut or styled at such emporia.

We can't predict the response to the ruling, but at least it clears the way for curious husbands to get an inside look at the establishments which they have been supporting for years. — Columbia (S.C.) State

Union Spending Foes Acting

By RAY McHUGH
Capley News Service

WASHINGTON — Opponents of union spending in political campaigns have turned to the federal courts, citing a landmark civil rights decision.

Defeated in a House bid to limit organized labor's support of candidates and force full disclosure of such activities, the National Right to Work Committee, through its legal defense foundation, is backing a group of California workers who are asking the court to block tax exemptions for unions who use compulsory dues for political purposes.

The committee has launched a new bid in Congress seeking a national ban on compulsory union membership. A bill was introduced last month in the House by Rep. Sam Steiger, R-Ariz. Steiner states currently have right-to-work laws.

The plaintiffs in the district court suit are members of the International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO and the United Auto Workers. They claim that membership in the union is a condition of employment. The workers include McDonough-Douglas Corp. and North American Rockwell.

A supporting 1970 case affidavit prepared by Dr. Sylvester Petro, professor of law at New York University, alleges the IAM and UAW use compulsory dues for partisan political purposes.

"In a large degree," Petro says, "the funds supporting organized labor's political activities trace ultimately to the dues paid by union members, most of them under compulsory-unionism contracts; and those funds are committed to partisan political purposes without regard to the normally conflicting political sentiments, loyalties and wishes prevailing among union members."

On the platform overlooking the audience sat some of educational measurement's leading personalities, the dons of the "all of the above," "some of the above," note of the above" multiple-choice world they created. The papers fell into a predictable pattern as befitting a conference of measurement.

Lengthy sections quoted other papers and books and paraphrased the papers, books and ideas of others. An attempt to get to the main point was made at about page nine of the average 13-page paper. Measurement was not going well in the "do not guess, fold or mutilate" universe of multivariate analysis. They promised a better tomorrow.

Audience's Patience Tested

Nearly 700 people sat all day listening to speaker after speaker read what are known to education as scholarly papers.

There was little animation in the varied faces of those experts in educational research and measurement whose decisions frequently mean education life or death and future financial success and social status to thousands of pupils.

Christmas Is For Grownups, Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions. Millions of adults this week will tell each other, "Well, after all, Christmas is for the children." They will say this in a tone implying that all the celebration, the confusion and excitement of the yuletide have no part in an ordered grownup world.

But most of them are unconscious hypocrites. They are secretly pleased by the warm emotionalism of the season, because adults never outgrow the need for love. Christmas is for grownups, too.

Outside of a red-haired girl with green eyes, the kind that stir romantic interest in most men is a black-haired girl with blue eyes. The interest of men in blondes is highly overrated. (Editor's note: Boyle is more of an authority on girls than women, and his views on the latter do not necessarily reflect or coincide with those of the management of the season, because adults never outgrow the need for love. Christmas is for grownups, too.)

Found In Deep Spring

Ancient Skull Uncovered

NORTH PORT CHARLOTTE, Fla. (AP) — A scientist probing the murky waters of Little Salt Spring has found the 5,200-year-old skull of an Indian child that contains what may be fragments of a human brain.

Carl Clausen, the state's marine archaeologist, said Tuesday that the skull was found last month at the 20-foot level in the 210-foot-deep spring 30 miles south of Sarasota on Florida's southwest coast.

"Remarkable, sensational and almost unbelievable," said Clausen after he and Dr. Harold "Kelly" Brooks, a University of Florida geologist, found the skull embedded in the sediment on an underwater ledge.

"It was really shaken and surprised and surprised. It was either a preserved brain, a crust of mineral formation that covered pieces of the brain or a wild growth that looked like the brain," Clausen said.

Brooks is now in Antarctica on a research project, but his wife said in Gainesville that she was present when the skull was found and that her geologist husband did not share Clausen's enthusiasm for the preserved brain theory.

She said Brooks believed it was too early to determine if the material inside the skull was a preserved brain or was simply mineral matter.

Clausen said Carbon 14 dating tests by a Japanese laboratory had determined the skull was 5,200 years old, plus or minus 200 years. The skull is that of a young girl, he added.

The material that looks like brain matter is in several pieces and appears to be about one-third intact, he said.

Clausen is the leader of a diving team which has been probing the area in search of remains and artifacts of the Indian peoples who lived in the region for thousands of years. Diving has been postponed during the Christmas holidays, but Clausen said an eight-foot fence has been erected around the spring and a 24-hour guard has been posted to keep other divers and vandals out of the area.

In 1959, Col. William Royal, a veteran Venice diver, found a skull containing what appeared to be brain matter in nearby Warm Mineral Springs.

Wrapping Of Meat Attacked

MIAMI (AP) — Despite opposition from paper industry representatives, the Dade County Commission Tuesday voted to require fresh meat to be packaged in transparent wrappings.

The new law, which takes effect in six months, was sponsored by the commission's only housewife member, Joyce Goldberg. Six male commissioners joined her in the 7-1 vote, with Commissioner Ben Shepard opposing the measure.

Commissioner Hardy Matheson abstained from voting, explaining he wanted to avoid a conflict of interest because of his ownership of shares in a firm which manufactures clear plastic meat packaging trays.

Nearly all Dade County stores now use paper trays on the underside of meat packages. The new law will require clear plastic trays or clear wrappings on all sides of the meat.

Jeanne Rodfish, a Daytona Beach research firm operator who represents paperboard manufacturers, said a survey she made last April turned up 15 cases of "deceptive" paper board packaging in 267 purchases of packaged meat.

But he purchased in clear plastic packages in other cities proved to have just as much fat and bone on the underside, she said.

Sea Captain Gets His Final Wish

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Capt. Joseph Serzan's body lies in his bunk aboard the yacht Miss Flieger today, awaiting the final voyage when the $60,000 vessel is towed into international waters of the Atlantic ocean and scattered.

Serzan, 62, died in a hospital here Monday after more than 40 years as a captain for the prominent Flieger family.

For the past 18 years he had commanded the Miss Flieger, a graceful 40-foot luxury motor yacht owned by Mrs. Flieger Matthews, granddaughter of Florida railroad tycoon Henry M. Flieger.

Mrs. Matthews said Serzan was "more than an employee" and that she had "many pictures of the boat and many memories" of trips along America's east coast with Serzan as her helmsman.

The captain lived on the boat and had often said he wanted to be buried at sea, Mrs. Matthews said, but she never told him or anyone else that she meant to honor his wish by sending his command to the bottom with him.

Tuesday, trucks loaded with rocks rolled up to the Miss Flieger's berth as workers balanced her heavily to make sure her end was swift.

To discourage the curious and potential salvagers, Mrs. Matthews said, the title and piece of the sinking have been kept secret.

She said a Roman Catholic priest would be aboard when the yacht is towed into the Atlantic.

"After a short funeral service, she said, the sea-cocks of the Miss Flieger would be opened and Serzan and his yacht would disappear beneath the waves that were his home for many years.

Scheduled Salary Raises Over 7% Questioned

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected action by the five business members of the Pay Board has called into question virtually all scheduled pay raises that exceed 7 per cent.

Shuts before midnight Tuesday they issued a state-ment automatically challenging any future raises over 7 per cent in contracts that began before the wage freeze started last Aug. 15.

The statement was issued by Virgil Day, a General Electric Co. vice president, on behalf of himself and the other four business members.

Challenged raises in old contracts can be rolled back if a majority of the 15-member Pay Board public-business board finds them to be "unreasonably inconsistent" with the board's general guideline that new agreements can't contain raises more than 5.5 per cent a year except in special circumstances.

The business members' move appeared aimed particularly at the construction industry, where scheduled raises for the coming year far exceed the 6.1 per cent average that the Bureau of Labor Statistics says prevails for 1972 raises in all labor pacts.

The statement challenges "all contracts and pay practice commitments made prior to Aug. 15, 1971 . . ."

No mention is made of whether agreements made during the Aug. 15-Nov. 14 wage freeze will also be challenged.

Previously, new raises in agreements reached before Nov. 14 were subject to automatic Pay Board review only if they cover 1,000 or more persons.

One labor number of the board immediately questioned whether business members could issue such a blanket challenge. He said he thinks contracts must be challenged individually or not at all.

The surprise move by the business members was announced after a marathon session in which the dissenting board put off for a second time a decision on whether to approve 13 per cent raises in new service labor agreements affecting, directly or indirectly, some 300,000 production workers nationwide.

The board also ruled without a formal vote that it had in fact approved back pay covering the wage freeze part of an Oct. 1 pay raise for the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen.

Board staff members had questioned whether the board intended to do up Dec. 3 when cleared the first part of a 42-month agreement.

Jaxon Held In Robbery

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A 33-year-old Jacksonville man was held in lieu of $150,000 bond today in connection with the robbery at Cecil Field Naval Air Station — now a $100,000 bank heist in which handoffs rigged a explosive booty trap in the bank case.

FBI agents said while searching for two handoffs who escaped in a similar auto after breaking into a University of Maryland chemistry building.

Don Jaxon, a 33-year-old in cash were found in Ferguson's car, officers said. A 21-year-old Trenton, N. J. woman, Donna Ann Miller, was also in the car, police said. She was held on $100,000 bond on possession of stolen property charges in connection with the Naval base robberies. Both were in a Baltimore, Md., jail.

FBI agents in Jacksonville said Ferguson was wanted in the Barrett Street National Bank, also at Cecil Field.

FBI agents said Ferguson, a native of Trenton, N. J., and a former Navy enlisted man, participated in the heist of the army in which 182 rifles and pistols were stolen.

Robbers overpowered five security guards with knives and shot them up while making off with the weapons cache.

Sheriff's deputies in Augusta, Ga., arrested Ferguson and two other men on charges of possession of stolen weapons traced to the army theft.

Some of the guns were recovered near Augusta while others were found under a building in Sanford, Fla.

FBI agents said Ferguson jumped bond July 28, 1971, and while a fugitive, joined two other men who entered the Navy base bank Oct. 18.

'The Bear Is Back' In Alabama

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — A visitor to this hothouse of Dixie football gets the message quickly—bearing out from red automobile bumper stickers and placards in drug store windows: "The Bear Is Back!"

Back from where? It's back from mere football respectability to national title contention again for Paul W. "Bear" Bryant, the tough whip hand of the Alabama Crimson Tide and the man with the most victories of all active college football coaches.

There were whispers that the master might be passing the old experienced three straight league seasons, starting in 1968, the 17-10 in the season opener. Then it went on to sweep past 10 other foes, climaxing the season with a 21-7 triumph over Auburn and its Heisman Trophy winner, Pat Sullivan.

Observers noted distinguishing marks other than the Whitehouse in the revived Alabama season. The first was small, quick men—a Bryant trademark—the 1971 squad was Auburn and its Heisman Trophy winner, Pat Sullivan.

Another outstanding performance was turned in by Bonnie Link with three straight scores of 258 for a 474 total as Link Construction took three points from Soak's sandwich shop while giving up one point.

East-West Practice

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The players in the 47th Shrine East-West football game will begin practice Thursday if the professional scouts let them.

"The scouts are allowed to measure and weigh them Thursday. They aren't allowed to time them," Francis Powers, professional director of the all-star game, explained at Tuesday's press luncheon.

And All American fullback Ed Marinaro, after breaking NCAA rushing records with Cornell of the Ivy League, will be running against a defense dominated by Pacific-8 players in the Dec. 31 game at Candlestick Park.

The players made the annual visit to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children here to see some of the players from smaller schools, like tackle Lionel Antier of Southern Illinois and center John Hill of Lehigh, playing with the top-flight talent in the East-West game.

Other All American fullbacks Ed Marinaro, after breaking NCAA rushing records with Cornell of the Ivy League, will be running against a defense dominated by Pacific-8 players in the Dec. 31 game at Candlestick Park.

Seminole Printers

The Envelopes are currently in the top spot with 28 wins, while the Typewriters are threatening with 20 wins. The Business Cards with 32 wins and the Posters with 21 wins are both still in the running for the league title. This league bowls each Tuesday morning at the Jet Lanes in Sanford.

Late Toyota

A pair of bowlers rolled 600 plus series in last week's action in the Late Toyota League. Chuck Baker recorded a 167, 255, 185, 607 for the B-Sens and Jack Rogers of the Flat Tires posted a 222, 181, 200, 603 series.

Rogers led his team to a 4-0 sweep over the Gascaps who were paced by Hunter Anderson with a 225, 156, 262, 643.

The B-Sens took four points from the Four Hoods. Roger Larsen with a 162, 158, 191, 511 and Marge Augustus with a 154, 181, 232, 446 were tops for the losers.

All four bowlers for the Radiators rolled 400 plus series, but they still lost by a wide margin. They were led by the Celicas who were led by Skip Senkark with a 180, 162, 158, 540.

Other high bowlers for the Radiators were John Callis (16, 140, 214, 504) and Sue Williams (156, 142, 152, 450). Milt Fricker paced the Radiators with a 151, 148, 175, 474 while Mimi Beutache recorded a 127, 140, 168, 435. Georgia Coyne rolled three games of 141 for a 423 and Wayne Crompton rounded out the scoring with a 128, 162, 114, 404.

In other high series Johnny Jaco had a 180, 150, 188, 518; Bob Houtour scored a 181, 189, 160, 530; Jim Brown rolled a 142, 186, 176, 507; Marvin Wright scored a 218, 180, 142, 540; Dick Spencer had a 160, 172, 182, 514; and Lee Lee finished with a 156, 160, 188, 510.

Generation Gap

First you make a strike and then you select a Christmas present. This was the method of gift exchange in the Generation Gap League this week. In addition the bowlers munched on a refreshment table loaded down with goodies.

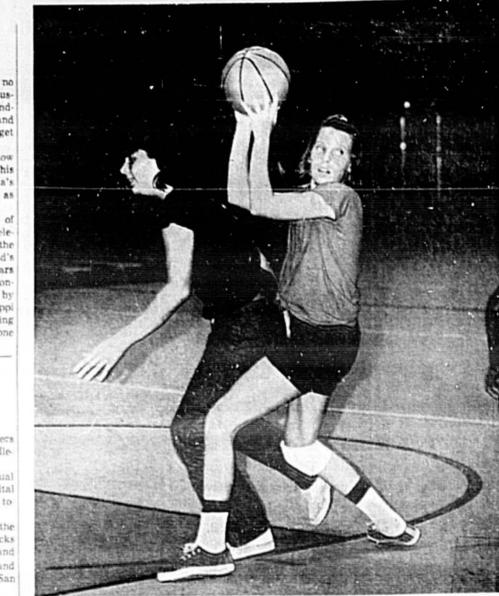

Carolyn Street and Phyllis Walsh led Mid-Florida Dodge to score three wins over the league leading Miller's Barber Shop team.

Cora Marcotte's 191-489 and Alice Homan's 174-486 netted a clean sweep for Spence over Able Rent-A!

Judy LeCroy, posting a 190-396, spurred Florida Covey while team to three wins in their match with the Care-O-Sell Pet Palace. Joan Nordquist, hitting a 180-486, helped Stephenson Chemicals nab three points from Fausta.

Bobbie Betallic, firing a 171-490, led Betallic Painting to four wins against the Brown Owl Ceramic. Jo Latta won a big help as Florida Covey Blue team scored four points over the Southern Louvers.

Doris Bacon spared the 5-8-30; Nancy Van Dusen 5-10; and Kay Thomson the 4-5-7. The 2-7 fell for Mable Adams and Tonya Rowland. Frankie Baskin converted the 3-8 and Cathy Sheppard the 8-9. Clara Boyd toppled the 2-6 while Sharon Baily and Anita Weaver made the 4-5. Alice Homan, Joan Nordquist, and Anita Weaver chalked in the Holiday birds.

CATHY GRIFFITH of the Royals has the ball but is on the way to a collision with Meg Newman of the Lakers during Sanford Recreation League play last night at the Lakewood Middle School gym. The Royals won 31-19. In other action, the league-leading Rockets took the lead in the first in the final 39 seconds and topped the Celtics 25-23.

Unbelievable LA Lakers Are Still Going Strong

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No team in the modern history of professional sports has won more games in a row than the National Basketball Association's Los Angeles Lakers. They have hung up their season.

Elsewhere in the NBA Tuesday night, Chicago blitzed Detroit 127-92. Phoenix defeated Philadelphia 124-110. Houston took Portland 122-119 and New York whipped Golden State 113-87.

The Lakers' 26 victories in a row matches the mark established by baseball's New York Giants in 1916. The team is 32-3 for the season and has not lost since Oct. 31. LA was the first team in NBA history to go through an entire month—November—without a loss. Now they're hoping to make it two months.

LA trailed 53-45 at halftime against the Braves and Buffalo Coach Johnny McCarthy said, "We had the game in our hands."

But the Lakers outscored Buffalo 43-22 in the third period to take control. "We got impatient in the third quarter," McCarthy said.

McKenzie and Sidney Wicks had 24 each for Portland. Walt Frazier and Dick Barnett combined for 43 points to lead the Knicks past the Warriors.

McCarthy said, "We gave them a chance to run. You've got to be deliberate, make your shots and stop their running."

"We didn't do a lot right in the first half," admitted Gaudin, who had 12 points in the third period and 20 for the game. Chamberlain's 13 and 31 by West paced the LA attack.

Rookie Randy Smith had 26 and Walt Hazzard 24 for Buffalo Braves, but it wasn't as easy as the score makes it sound.

Los Angeles had to come from behind after trailing the Braves by as much as 15 points. Jerry West and Walt Chamberlain combined for 40 second-half points to key the Lakers rally.

Questioning Of Integrity Upsets Baltimore Officials

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts are upset about published reports concerning their upset loss to the New England Patriots.

After the Patriots won 21-17 on Sunday, some sources suggested the Colts may have lost because they wanted to meet rival Cleveland in the first round of the National Football League playoffs.

An official statement issued Tuesday, Baltimore General Manager Don Klosterman said the stories had permitted the "integrity of the Colts and of pro football in general to be questioned through innuendo and distortion."

"The idea that the world champions would give less than a full effort in order to gain a supposed advantage in playoff competition is repugnant to every one associated with the Colts, a team widely known as one of character," Klosterman said.

The loss, the statement pointed out, cost Baltimore a possible home field advantage in the American Football Conference title and prevented "numerous Colt players and coaches from receiving bonus payments which had been promised them contractually if Baltimore had won the Eastern Division title."

Baltimore led the AFC East by one-half game prior to Sunday but dropped behind Miami when the Dolphins beat Green Bay while the Colts were losing to New England.

As a result, Miami and Kansas City's Western Division winners, each with a 10-3-1 record, will meet in the first round Saturday. The Colts, 10-4, will play Cleveland's Central Division winners, 9-5, on Sunday. Had Miami lost last Sunday, the Colts would have soundly up playing the Colts anyway.

Had the Colts won the division title and the first game of the playoffs, the AFC championship game on Jan. 2 could have been played in Baltimore. "There is no advantage in playing the Browns and to think otherwise is ludicrous."

"The irresponsible matterings" of the statement said, "a disservice to the New England team which played a fine game and deserves an untarnished victory over an extra defeated team of the caliber of Miami and Oakland."

BOBBY HOWFIELD, left, of the New York Jets and Tom Fritsch of the Dallas Cowboys are two of the soccer-style place-kickers who have earned spots on National Football League teams.

Virginia Holiday Fun; Undefeated And Ranked

By BERT ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Sports Writer

Yes, Virginia, the Cavaliers will enjoy Christmas.

"People are going to ask how we're doing and it's going to be fun telling them we're 7-0 and ranked 18th in the country," said high-scoring Harry Park after leading Virginia Tech to an 83-28 rout over Richmond Tuesday night in the Roanoke Basketball Classic.

Leading only 28-20 with 3:40 remaining in the first half, the Cavaliers were told by Coach Bill Gibson to forget patency and run. "I wanted them to run," said Gibson.

The Cavaliers ran... running away from the Spiders by outscoring them 31-3 during one stretch of the second half.

Elvin Hayes, peared in 21 points, while Scott McCardish had 19 points and 12 rebounds. Virginia Military won the second game in the Roanoke Classic, edging Virginia Tech 57-56.

Virginia Tech, the nation's No. 2 team, stretched its home court winning streak to 41, downing Minnesota 55-29 behind Bob Lacey's 22 points.

Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman said the Gophers were intimidated by Marquette's 6-foot-11 Jim Chones.

Long Beach State, rated sixth, whipped UC-Riverside 96-28 behind 6-foot-11 Nate Stephens' 24 points and 29 rebounds. The victory was the Bears' sixth in seven outings. Sam Cash kept Riverside in contention with 24 points.

DAYTONA BEACH — Prince Paul von Metternich, the President of the Automobile Club of Germany, has been named to serve as the Grand Marshal for the 1972 Daytona Continental at Daytona International Speedway.

Prince Metternich has a leading in the 1950s and early 60s. He was a successful competitor in European sports car racing.

The opening ceremony for 1972's Speed Weeks is set for Wednesday, Feb. 2, and the action moves into high gear Saturday, Feb. 5, when the international Formula Vee competitors fight it out for the coveted Brno Trophy. A 150-mile road race that's set for a midnight start Saturday will feature GT and Grand American-type cars over the 3.81-mile road track circuit.

Sunday's Daytona Continental begins at 10 a.m. Feb. 6, and the checkered flag will fall at 4 p.m.

Speed Weeks will feature a number of stock car races for the rest of the month, winding up Sunday afternoon, Feb. 20, with the famed Daytona 500, the most important race in the world and the most important in the world and the most important in the world.

Viking Style

Minnesota Viking coach Bud Grimes compares his team's style to that of a counter puncher. "A counter puncher doesn't waste in and throw his right hand all the time. He stays in there and when the opening comes, takes advantage of the opponent's mistakes that way. We've been involved in a lot of decisions, although we don't have many knockouts."

North Orlando Drainage Canal Will Be Fenced

By MARION BETHA
NORTH ORLANDO — Resolutions have been passed in the matter of fencing of a drainage canal which runs along Third Street, bordering eight homes.

At a meeting of the Village Council on Monday, the Village Attorney Thomas Freeman, outlined that the fence be of chain link, four feet in height. A bid was submitted by S & S Fence Company in the amount of $306.

Hurt told Council that he will purchase a combination lock for the maintenance area, giving the combination only to authorized personnel.

Mayor Granville Brown told Council that he had interviewed only one applicant for the position of assistant building inspector, the applicant being Edward Ferguson.

Rowell remarked that the expansion of the city indicated the need for an assistant inspector.

Rowell said that Herbert Byers had also applied for the position, and Byers proceeded to give Council a resume noting that he has been in construction business for 35 years and is presently employed at the Orlando Navy Base.

Byers said that he understood the job would be on a part-time basis until there was a full time opening, and was then given an application.

In other action, Council accepted the streets and drainage of North Orlando Townsite, Fourth Addition, Unit 3. The streets are approved by City Engineer B. C. Cookin as meeting the city's standards.

City Councilman Charles Kelley questioned whether the city was accepting the streets early and why the village could not wait until the last house is finished.

Mayor Brown said that the developer had posted a $15,000 maintenance bond for one year and the action was not unimpeached.

White House Staff Reflects On A Very 'Significant' Year

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House looked back over 1971 today and pointed to its new China policy, the continued winding down of the Vietnam war and the movement toward international economic reforms as its major foreign policy achievements during the year.

In releasing a year-end review on the status of administration policy, White House aide Herbert Klein said 1971 was a highly significant year. He said that the number of American troops in Vietnam was less than a third of what it was when he took office, while the number of American killed in action had been cut from almost 300 per week to less than 10 and he was able to announce on Nov. 12 that the American offensive ground combat role had ended.

This indicated, Klein said, "that the great success of Vietnamization was a hallmark of the year 1971." Because of these achievements, the statement went on, "There now exists reasonable expectation that President Nixon's one irreducible objective is nearing attainment, namely that the South Vietnamese will be able to determine their own political future."

In Vietnam, the statement said, "The President was carrying out his pledge to end the American involvement in a way that would contribute to a larger and a lasting peace." By year's end, he had cut the number of American troops in Vietnam to less than a third of what it was when he took office, while the number of American killed in action had been cut from almost 300 per week to less than 10 and he was able to announce on Nov. 12 that the American offensive ground combat role had ended.

There were, however, no judgments by MacGregor and Klein in a briefing with reporters that 1971 saw some goals unattained in foreign policy, even some losses. But by and large, the accent as it was positive.

There was nothing said concerning Nixon's problems in Laos and Cambodia, nor of U.S. disputes with Chile and Cuba. And, against the seven paragraphs devoted to China policy only two were written about U.S. European relations and Nixon's position.

Brantley High Contract Let At $2.2 Million

School Board Tuesday awarded the contract to construct Lake Brantley High School to Dick Holland Construction of Orlando, low bidder. Holland's bid to construct the 1,600-capacity grade 9-12 facility was $2,208,568, some $41,317 below the amount estimated by Architect Englen Kelleys for the structure. There were five contractors bidding on the job. The second lowest bid was $2,344,000 by Rhinehold Construction Company.

Carpenters Win Salary Increase

Area carpenters have been granted a pay raise, retroactive to last Oct. 1, it was learned here today. William Speigel, business manager for Carpenters Local Union No. 2176, with headquarters at South Palmetto Avenue, said he had been notified by the union's Washington (D. C.) national headquarters that the carpenters had been granted a 25-cent per hour increase by President Nixon's Pay Board.

WINNING DOLLS are admired by Mrs. Sheila Roberts, a judge in the annual contest, and little Beth Lyons. The dolls have been dressed by various organizations and individuals for the Salvation Army for distribution to needy children at Christmas. Winners are (left to right) third, Dottie Hunt, of First Presbyterian Church; second Mrs. Cecil Shepard, 2108 Cordova Drive, and first, Ruth Lee, of Holy Cross Episcopal.

400 Acres Annexed By Altamonte

By MARION BETHA
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — In the waning moments of the old year, the municipality is extending its jurisdiction to 400 acres Tuesday.

PICKLED PEACH SLICES
Made ahead and good to have on hand.
2 cans (each 1 pound, 13 ounces) yellow cling peach slices
1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1 tablespoon whole allspice
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 cinnamon stick, about 2 inches long
Drain the syrup from 1 can of the peaches. To the syrup add the sugar, vinegar, allspice, cloves and cinnamon; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Increase heat and bring to a boil; boil for 5 minutes. Drain the syrup from the other can of peaches; use syrup some other way and tuck all the peach slices into a shallow container; pour the boiling hot syrup and spices over the peaches. Cover tightly and refrigerate overnight. Serve with a sliced onion or drain peaches before offering. Makes 12 to 16 servings. If you keep peaches overnight, remove spices because they darken the fruit.

In a 1-quart saucepan turn the tomato juice, bay leaf, onion, salt and cayenne, bring to a boil; boil gently for 5 minutes; remove bay leaf and onion. Add the softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Stir in celery and lemon juice. Pour into 5 one-half cup individual molds or custard cups; chill until set. Loosen edges with a small metal spatula; dip in hot water; slip out mold. Garnish with lettuce and, if desired, serve with mayonnaise. Makes 5 servings.

For a delicious holiday liver sausage spread, heat one 3-ounce package cream cheese with 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1/4 ounce package liver sausage; add 1 envelope cream cheese sour milk, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and 1 small can (2 1/2 cup) evaporated milk, beating until blended. Chill before serving. Spread on crackers. Makes about 2 cups.

Pig's Oink Only Part Not Used

In Florida's Gadsden County, the pig plays a unique role in feeding Gadsden citizens. The mascot of Gadsden's population its rural atmosphere and agricultural foundation make the pig an important to the local diet as Arnold the Pig's role on Green Acres. Most Gadsdenites have space in their backyards to raise a pig. And for a minimal investment the fact-finders can have this pig raised.

Mrs. Gregory Gregory, Agricultural Extension Service home economist, observes that "It's easy to see me in Gadsden have really learned to use everything but the snout of the pig."

Mrs. Gregory says she and her sister, Mrs. Mary Gregory, meeting and often demonstrating in various homes how to cook pork. She says she is trying to break the custom of the "crock pot" meals and the reliance on "white meat."

In Gadsden, many working mothers find it more convenient to cook, say, fatback and cold back greens for dinner. The fatback is the white meat referred to by Mrs. Gregory - simply fat.

Taking stock in the Gadsden pantry, Mrs. Gregory finds numerous fruits and vegetables are grown in the country and that it is possible that most people can grow some of the surplus commodities issued during the slow farm labor periods. Mrs. Gregory's cooks include many of these ingredients in the menus that depart from the one-pot meal, white meat dishes, and her cooks offer tasty and delicious meals.

For the folks in Gadsden County, this is routine country eating. To others, this is fresh meat and fresh vegetable luxury eating. Take your choice, but the fact remains that the recipes developed by Mrs. Gregory and her cooks offer tasty and delicious meals.

To make these foods available the year round, Mrs. Gregory operates a canning center where anybody can come to cook, can and get help while doing it. Cans and canning machines are available to assure that Gadsden pantries can be filled with the year's most convenient home cooked meals.

Perhaps the adventurous cook can start with this traditional Gadsden dish.

Julian Bond Set For Voter Drive

By BILL SCOTT

Julian Bond, nationally recognized black leader and representative in the Georgia General Assembly, will arrive in Sanford Jan. 4 to help organize a voter registration drive among the city's Negro neighborhoods. This was disclosed by Rev. J. Edward Connelly, Sanford minister, who was defeated Tuesday in his quest for a seat on the City Commission.

Bond is being mentioned as a possible vice-presidential nominee on the Democratic national ticket, depending on who receives the presidential nomination at the party convention.

Rev. Connelly announced Tuesday night, just after election returns gave John Morris the Commission seat by a 700-vote margin, that a drive will be launched to register 5,000 black voters immediately. This will serve as a nucleus in efforts to elect Sanford minister Rev. Joseph Smith to the Sanford majority post in 1972, Rev. Connelly added. Rev. Smith already has declared himself a candidate for the spot, which will be open in a year.

Rev. Connelly said under the present Sanford election system, by which candidates run city-wide, it is impossible to elect a black candidate to office and he envisioned the changing of the city procedure by legislation to require commission candidates run in individual districts, with the mayor running on a city-wide basis.

Cheryl Wright Wins 2nd

HOHOSANSA SPRINGS — Cheryl Dunham of W. E. Cherry Elementary School in Orange Park was selected as grand prize winner in a recent Hohosansa Springs coloring contest. Second prize went to Cheryl Wright of South Side School in Sanford, and third prize to Laurie Holmes of Lanarster School in Orlando.

The contest was open to all kindergartners and 1st graders in Florida with a winner chosen from each participating school.

Hopewell was charged with possession and control of a central nervous stimulant in an Aug. 15, 1970, incident at Park Avenue and Second Street in which he was in possession of an amphetamine.

Larry McNeely, who pleaded guilty on July 9 to petty larceny, was adjudicated guilty and sentenced to six months in county jail. In possibly a gesture of the jubileed season the sentence is to commence on Dec. 28. Upon serving 60 days of the sentence, McNeely will be placed on two-year probation.

McNeely was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, grand larceny, when on March 22, he broke into a building in Altamonte Springs owned by Robert Hattaway.

Anthony Jackson, who entered a guilty plea on July 9 to attempted breaking and entering of an auto, was placed on 24-month probation by the court and ordered to make restitution of $29 as well as paying $200 court costs.

Jackson was charged with breaking and entering a vehicle with intent to commit a crime on Jan. 18 when, in the vicinity of Lyman High School, he broke into an auto which was the property of Robert Morris Jr., with the intent to commit petit larceny.

Statewide Tree Killing Is Probed

Destruction In Central Florida Blamed On Billboard Companies

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—More than 1,500 trees have been deliberately killed because they blocked the view of billboards on Interstate highways in nine counties, the Department of Transportation has reported.

Thousands of other trees have been killed, usually at night by unknown vandals, because they covered other billboards, the St. Petersburg Times reported today.

The department filed a test case Dec. 2 in Orange County Circuit Court charging County National Advertising Co. Inc. was involved in the destruction of 188 Australian slash pines standing before the firm's billboards on the Florida Turnpike south of Orlando.

The suit seeks $11,000 in compensatory and punitive damages from the subsidiary of Munnich Mining and Manufacturing Co. Inc. which produces the reflective material used on billboards.

The department's report said that National owned a number of the billboards where trees were killed.

Other firms identified as billboard owners were Davidson-Goklard Inc. of Lakeland and Winter Haven, Dimensional Display Corp. of Daytona Beach, White Advertising Sign Co. of Jacksonville, Fla., Melvick Signs of Daytona Beach, Hulme of Ocala, and Harry Moody of Ocala.

The report said the trees were cut men with axes and chain saws, poisoned with herbicides or salt or killed by driving copper nails into them. The copper apparently causes a fatal chemical reaction within the tree.

The $38 million cost of removing billboards in Florida is to be financed by the federal government out of public funds.

The dead trees were found along Interstate 75 and 95 and the Florida Turnpike in a nine-county area of central Florida.

AND WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE, LITTLE GIRL? Santa Claus, you look as though you had a hard day, says Diane Richards. Actually this Santa's name is Clyde and he belongs to Dr. and Mrs. John Zacco of Casselberry. The St. Bernard was assisted on his visit to Casselberry Elementary School by Arthur Zacco. ## Driver Questions Bus Pay Resolved

A county school bus driver appeared before the School Board to request pay for the time above the four hours per day average work load but was told that bus drivers are not paid by the hour but for the job.

Richard L. Gardner, a new employee, said he was putting in an average of five hours and 22 minutes a day but understood drivers are paid on a four-hour work day. Gardner said his work time had since been cut back to four hours but indicated he had not been paid for what he called "overtime."

Hugh Carlton, school auxiliary services director, said the four-hour day was just a figure arrived at in a study but said there was nothing to indicate all drivers would work that amount of time. Carlton said Seminole pays the highest wage to school bus drivers in the Central Florida area but it was possible that a salary increase would be sought at the start of next budget year. Carlton estimated that 20 percent of the drivers are working more than four hours daily.

A. P. Keeth, board chairman, reminded Gardner that at the present time "we are unable to dip into our contingencies to make up back pay" but he indicated a study would be made of the situation and a reasonable schedule arranged to resolve the problem.

Both A. P. Hise Jr. and Stu Calippepp, board members, indicated drivers should be paid on a time basis rather than for the job and Hise stated, "some equitation seems to be indicated."

In another matter, Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, advised that two special acts of the Legislature will be required to allow voters on March 14 to vote their preference for either appointive or elective county school superintendent and making the election money expected in the Spring after the state has tabulated the county schools average daily attendance above what was figured before school start-up.

Costs of these projects have been estimated at $11,500 for the water system and $43,000 for the sewer hookup.

Cleveland announced that arrangements had been completed with Marvin W. Greenstein to take over duties as administrative assistant to the airport manager.

Greenstein is a retired U. S. Navy commander and was former commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Air Facility at Kent, England, program director.

Airport's Utilities To Join City's

Sanford Airport Authority at a Wednesday meeting approved lease of a 4,000-square-foot building and 22,000 feet of ramp space to a research and development firm associated with the problem of oil spills and other ecological and environmental disturbances.

The lease at a rate of $200 a month for the building and three cents a square foot annually for the ramp space went to International Flight Research Corporation, a subsidiary of Petro-Ex Corporation with headquarters at Cape Canaveral.

J. C. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, stated that International Flight Research will provide flight test functions, test planning, evaluation and reporting of the systems required by the Petro-Ex Corporation.

Cleveland reported the company is staffed with some of the most experienced and technically required flight test people within the industry.

Another lease approved by the Authority was a portion of Building 8, former Navy mess hall, to Four D Sales, Inc., for $175 per month. The 7,500-square foot facility will be used for storage and fabrication of plastic pipe and associated fittings.

The Authority indicated approval of a letter of agreement for engineering services by Clark, Deitz and Associates in order that the firm may proceed with plans, specification and bids for hooking the airport's water and sewer systems into city lines.

Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has authorized the sale of airport's telephone and electric services to private firms with the money derived to be used to defray costs of connecting the airport's sewer and water lines with City of Sanford.

Costs of these projects have been estimated at $11,500 for the water system and $43,000 for the sewer hookup.

Cleveland announced that arrangements had been completed with Marvin W. Greenstein to take over duties as administrative assistant to the airport manager.

Greenstein is a retired U. S. Navy commander and was former commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Air Facility at Kent, England, program director.

Schools Said Out Of Funds

Walter Teague, assistant school superintendent for finance, has warned the School Board not to spend any more money until additional funds are available in the board's contingency account.

Teague advised the board, after it voted to spend $500 for data processing of student residence printout of all school enrollments in grades 1-11, that the contingency fund is depleted and requested the board "to turn down everything else" until more money is obtained.

Jean Bryant, board member, said that the board had $200,000 in a contingencies account at the start of the budget year in July but had spent it on various items, including hiring additional teachers at Teague Middle School to handle its overflowing enrollment.

She said money was spent for vocational buildings at Lyman High and Oviedo High Schools, which cost far more than they had first been estimated.

One bright lining on the horizon that will bring additional state funds into the school's coffers is the re-evaluation money expected in the Spring after the state has tabulated the county schools average daily attendance above what was figured before school start-up.

There is no present estimate on just how much that will be since it will be based on the attendance figures between September and February, which is still to come.

Board therefore will have to curtail its spending until the treasury has been replenished.

Possessor Of Drug Ordered To Prison

Gabriel Jones, who pleaded guilty on Aug. 2 to possession of a narcotic drug, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge Vol Williams Jr. to three years at a state prison.

Jones was charged with sale and possession of a narcotic drug. The charge stemmed from a March 11 incident at the Royal Castle restaurant on U.S. 192 in which he was found in possession of cocaine. The state dropped the sale charge.

James Hoper, who entered a guilty plea on May 10 to possession of habit forming, toxic and harmful drugs, was placed on two-year probation by Judge Williams and fined $200 costs.

Hoper had been charged with possession and control of a central nervous stimulant in an Aug. 15, 1970, incident at Park Avenue and Second Street in which he was in possession of an amphetamine.

Larry McNeely, who pleaded guilty on July 9 to petty larceny, was adjudicated guilty and sentenced to six months in county jail. In possibly a gesture of the jubileed season the sentence is to commence on Dec. 28. Upon serving 60 days of the sentence, McNeely will be placed on two-year probation.
