Matt Anderson Emerges Victorious in Post Season Gridiron Games

Sanford, Jan. 8.—Tennessee's Matt Anderson emerged as the star of the post-season gridiron games, leading his team to a 17-0 victory over Oklahoma yesterday in the Orange Bowl.

Anderson, a 182-pound quarter-back, directed the nation's No. 1 eleven to a well-earned victory.

Ably supporting O'Brien's devastating aerial attack was a powerful display of ball carrying by Fullback Connie Sparks and Halfback Johnny Hall, behind what was probably the biggest and best line the Southwest had produced.

O'Brien's support on the catching end by Don Looney, Earl Clark and Dorward Horner, stood out in the attack that saw the Frogs, trailing at the half 6-7 and on the short end of a score for the first time in 11 consecutive games, come back to win handily.

VOLE, TENNESSEE RIGHT HALF, is shown as he ran eight yards for Tennessee's first touchdown in the Orange Bowl game at Miami yesterday. The Vols emerged victorious over the previously undefeated Oklahoma Sooners by a score of 17 to 0.

Anderson's rough-and-tumble play, with frequent fumbles and punts, and the occasional error, they could not be held in that kind of a game.

Anderson's first goal was scored in the first quarter, when he ran eight yards for Tennessee's first touchdown.

Anderson's second goal was scored in the second quarter, when he ran eight yards for Tennessee's second touchdown.

Anderson's third goal was scored in the third quarter, when he ran eight yards for Tennessee's third touchdown.

Anderson's fourth goal was scored in the fourth quarter, when he ran eight yards for Tennessee's fourth touchdown.

when it climaxed a 68-yard drive midway of the first quarter with a touchdown by Tom Pace, who skirted his right end on a lateral from Ray Davis.

With one minute of play remaining in the period, Ray Peterson, flashy Ole back, intercepted Finlay MacGillivray's aerial on Utah's 40-yard line and raced to a second score. Captain Barney McGarry kicked both extra points.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 3.—The South ran into another Gettysburg yesterday as Northern College All-Stars won a hard fought, 7 to 0 victory over a similar Dixie team in a contest billed as a rivalry renewal of Blue and Gray rivalry.

Held within a stone's throw of the Alabama capital, where the Confederacy was born almost 78 years ago, the game, again like Gettysburg, was full of "might have been."

Approximately 8,000 saw the football classic played for charity. Some 60,000 fans jamming Kezar Stadium to capacity, sat under leaden skies and intermittent drizzles of rain throughout one of the most thrilling games in the 13 years history of the series.

A half back from Texas, Billy Patterson of Baylor University and a home bred of the Golden State, a Jim Coughlan of Santa Clara, led the Western Collegians to the most one-sided triumph since 1926.

DALLAS, Texas, Jan. 3.—Power overcame razzle-dazzle in the sun-drenched Cotton Bowl yesterday as St. Mary's Gallopers defeated Texas Tech, 20-12.

In the final 11 minutes, however, an incredible Tech aerial drive almost closed the gap and threw 42,000 partisan Texans into a high fever.

Delicious and smothering under a 20-0 deficit, the Texans bounced back with a shower of long, short, screen and lateral passes that nettled two touchdowns and came uncomfortably close to the one needed. One of their many aerial boomerangs, however, and that was St. Mary's victory margin—a 23-yard touchdown sprint with an intercepted pass.

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 3.—Utah's football juggernaut rolled over the University of New Mexico, 36 to 0, in yesterday's Sun Bowl gridiron classic before a capacity crowd of 15,500.

Heralded in pre-game forecasts as 24 to 1 better than even-money favorites, the Armstrong's white-clad warriors took in the unaccustomed heat in stride and kept New Mexico's Lobos on their heels for most of the game.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

Selections for the bowl games did not turn out so hot.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION—Leave the predicting to the experts.

A new year has begun and again the initial feature sport will be basketball. Diamond ball will soon follow and then comes the baseball season. Football will immediately follow and then where are you? . . . Starting over again in 1940.

Basketball should be in the spotlight this year since the Feds again have a good chance to win the Northeast Florida Conference title, that is if they can stop the strong quintet that will represent Daytona Beach this season. The Huccos will, no doubt, be the strongest team in the loop.

Diamond ball is expected to return with a bang to Sanford and there should be a number of good exhibitions after the city league gets started. A league will probably be organized in the near future to get the season underway.

March will find the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association coming here to hold their Spring training activities and the regular Florida State League season will follow shortly.

Tobacco was originally the name for a tube through which West Indian natives inhaled smoke, the plant itself being known as cohoba.

J. W. Jarrell Must Serve Sentence For Conducting Lottery

Conviction Of "Cuba" Operator Affirmed In Decision Of State High Court

Unanimous Ruling Made By Justices

Defendant Must Pay Prosecution Costs And Serve 1 Year

The Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the conviction and one year sentence of Joseph W. Jarrell for violating the state anti-lottery law in Seminole County.

Jarrell was charged with selling "cuba" lottery tickets and conducting drawings.

He appealed on the conviction the charges against him were indefinite and therefore did not establish an offense against the state law.

The Jarrell decision covered only technical questions of law and upheld the sufficiency of the indictment as being valid and plain enough to give the defendant notice of a charge against him.

The justices unanimously upheld the conviction and sentence passed a year ago by Circuit Judge Milton B. Smith. Following a long trial which was featured by a veritable parade of witnesses Jarrell was sentenced on Dec. 30, 1937 to pay all costs of prosecution and serve one year in jail.

An appellate board of $2,000 was set up by Judge Smith when the state attorney for the defendant failed to show the intentions of appealing the conviction.

Included by the same grand jury as Jarrell were Hinson Kinlaw, a well-known lieutenant of Jarrell, and Louis Mitchell, alleged "Cuba" operator who later moved out of the state. Kinlaw is at liberty under a bond of $1,500 and Mitchell has a bond of $2,500 posted.

Evidence presented at the trial of Jarrell showed that he had 40 salesmen working for him in the game of "Cuba" in Seminole County. One salesman testified that he had between 75 and 100 customers and that his weekly earnings were between $75 and $100.

Jarrell's total weekly sales in the county were estimated by state witnesses as between $4,000 and $5,000 weekly. Jarrell was said to have been one of at least 10 operators in the county. His trial and conviction followed an extensive investigation by the grand jury which indicted him on five counts for violation of the state anti-lottery laws.

Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Smith, who presented the case for the state, was in Miami today and could not be reached for information regarding possible prosecution of the two others who were at liberty under indictments of the possibility of indictments against other alleged operators in the county.

Jarrell's conviction marked the first time in the history of Seminole County that anyone has ever been convicted of violating the state anti-lottery law. In the past, the state put many witnesses on the stand to prove Jarrell operated "Cuba" in the county and the state was made on the basis of a number drawn in the Cuban Grand National Lottery.

The jury that convicted Jarrell was composed of J. A. Brown, J. D. Perry, Karl Dell, G. E. Parker, W. H. Beck and M. W. Taylor.

Trailer Camp Site Lease Is Signed By City

Construction Of Modern Tourist Camp To Begin Immediately By W. L. Cooper

Fascists Win In Japanese Cabinet Re-organization

Spanish Insurgents Claim Large Gains In Barcelona Drive

A modern tourist trailer and cabin camp on Sanford's lake front became nearer a reality last night when Mayor Edward Higgins, acting under the authority granted him at the meeting of the Commission a week ago, signed a five year lease to the plot of ground on the east side of Cloud Branch to Walter L. Cooper, local realtor to use for this purpose.

All negotiations with the City Commission were carried on by S. D. Higleyman who, until the signing of the lease yesterday by Mr. Cooper, declined to reveal the name of his client.

According to the terms of the lease, a community center, a filling station, toilet and bath, and a laundry will be constructed on the property immediately in accordance with the specifications of the State Board of Health.

However, the plans call for the construction of a number of attractive cabins, and a dock for small boats and it was understood that work on these will get underway this year.

The City has agreed to clean off and grade the proposed site, and Superintendent of Parks James Mowbray has a large crew at work today clearing away the debris. The City will also furnish a sufficient number of sewer tiles for the entrance and will pipe water to the center of the ground. The amount of the City's expenditures, however, cannot exceed $400.

The lease provides for annual rental of $100 for five years with the privilege of renewing the contract for another five year period with an annual rental of $250.

Work on the buildings, it was understood, will begin as soon as the property has been cleared and graded by the City. For failure to comply with the terms of the lease, the City retains the right to take over the property in which case all buildings automatically become the property of the City.

Frank Murphy Has Been In Politics For Over 10 Years

DETROIT, Jan. 4.—(AP)—This red-haired Frank Murphy, who is the successor to Attorney General Cummings, had been in politics in Michigan some 10 years before his name became known nationally.

His rise to prominence seems to date from the time he attracted the attention of Franklin D. Roosevelt when Roosevelt was governor of New York and Murphy was mayor of Detroit.

In the turbulent days of 1930, 1931, 1932, Murphy was trying to whitewash Detroit's $40,000,000 debt. He was reorganizing Detroit's social service, instituting several reforms similar to those to be set up later under social security by President Roosevelt.

Auto plants were shutting down, banks were closing, relief rolls were growing. Murphy called on Washington to help care of the unemployed, he insisted, was a national problem.

Coleman Declines To Serve As Mayor As Commissioners Meet For Re-Organization

Edwards Higgins Was Unanimously Re-elected Mayor of the City of Sanford for the Third Consecutive Year at a Re-organization Meeting of the City Commissioners Last Night

Edwards Higgins was unanimously re-elected mayor of the City of Sanford for the third consecutive year at a re-organization meeting of the City Commissioners last night which saw two new Commissioners, James G. Tut and George Hollins, take the oath of office.

Mr. Higgins was nominated for mayor by Commissioner Walter S. Coleman who previously had declined to accept the nomination for the post made by George Hollins. The second to Mr. Higgins' nomination for mayor was made by Commissioner Tut.

In declining the nomination, Mr. Coleman declared that he had rather serve the City from the sidelines and that because of his business activities he would not be able to devote the required time to the position.

Mr. Hollins and Mr. Tut, who were also nominated for the position, declined to accept for similar reasons.

Commissioner M. J. Loder was appointed temporary chairman and called for the nomination of Mr. Higgins, who took the seat held by Commissioner A. W. Lee, and Mr. Tut, who took the seat of Commissioner W. R. Dupper, had taken the oath of office.

Mr. Lee, in retiring as a member of the Commission, stated that it had been a pleasure to serve in the board and extend the best of wishes to the members of the new board in their work during the coming year.

The first official action of the reorganized Commission was to approve the resignation of WPA postmaster the warden and relaying of mail on Tenth Street between Ninth and Tenth Streets. City Engineer Fred T. Williams estimated that the work would cost the City approximately $45 as his share, however, was paid and W. R. Hollard, at Alameda station, who was elected chairman earlier in the meeting, had his hold in favor of the change.

Mr. Tut also introduced a motion to declare vacant the position of County road supervisor, (Continued on Page Three)

Action Is Taken After 3 To 2 Vote Of Commissioners

AFTER a three to two vote, the position of County warden, now held by Edwin Stock, was declared vacant and Paul Biggers was re-instated by the County Commissioners following the re-organization of the Board at the City Hall yesterday.

The motion to declare vacant the position of County warden was made by E. E. Patten and the second was read by O. J. Pope. The three Commissioners took office today. The vote on the motion, however, was held until W. R. Hollard, at Alameda station, who was elected chairman earlier in the meeting, had his hold in favor of the change.

Willard Ayres Is Speaker At Meet Of Junior Chamber

Willard Ayres, representing the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Brooklyn Institute of Washington, was the guest speaker last night at the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce held in the Vesper Hotel.

Mr. Ayres spoke on the Brooklyn Institute organization and its purposes. He said that it is gathered from all portions of the country and furnished to speakers representing the institute.

These speakers address the various civic clubs and schools in their respective districts, according to Mr. Ayres.

A discussion was held in regard to a letter received by President J. E. Rowland, Jr., from Earl Murray, chairman of the Azalea Festival Committee of the Palatka Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Palatka group is sponsoring a beauty pageant in conjunction with the Florida Spring conference to be held in that city on Feb. 25 and 26 and is asking approximately 25 clubs to send girls to represent the respective cities in the state.

The local group decided to send a local delegate to be chosen within several days.

President Rowland also said that the club will distribute letters to be displayed in all local grocery and drug stores in connection with the Florida Orange Month to assist the Florida citrus industry.

Matter pertinent to the industry were discussed by members of the Seminole County Citrus Growers, Inc., at a meeting in the Allamonte, Springs Community House (Continued on Page Eight)

President Summons Nation To Arm Against Aggressors

OLD BOARD RETIRES

Preparedness Economically, Socially, And With Military Force Asked By FDR

Continuation Of Spending Urged

Government Re-Organization, Rail Aid Laws To Be Sought

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt summoned the nation today to arm—economically, socially and with military force—to meet a world challenge of dictatorial aggression.

Before both Houses of Congress, the Chief Executive solemnly asserted "A war which threatened to envelop the world has been averted but it has become increasingly clear that peace is not assured."

To meet the challenge Mr. Roosevelt laid down a program of action both foreign and domestic for meeting the troubles of the world "as one people."

To achieve domestic stability the President urged continued efforts to bolster the national income through federal spending; limited a revision of the Labor Relations Act by urging peace in labor's strife and between capital and labor; asked perfection of the farm program; suggested tax re-adjustments with possible increases; recommended a general polishing of New Deal laws; and added two new enactments, governmental re-organization and aid for railroads.

To meet "international lawlessness" abroad, the President projected a program of re-arming the country against any attack together with internal organization of key industries.

Simultaneously he suggested the possibility of some far-reaching non-military action against the aggressor nations and a revision of the present neutrality law.

While he did not specifically mention an economic boycott or a "moral quarantine" the President said, "There are many methods, short of war but sterner and more effective than mere words of bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people. At the very least, we can and should avoid any action or any lack of action which will encourage, assist, or build up an aggressor."

"We have learned that when we deliberately try to legislate neutrality, our neutrality laws may operate unevenly and unfairly—may actually give aid to an aggressor and deny it to the victim. The instinct of self-preservation should warn us that we ought not to let that happen any more."

The present neutrality law makes an embargo on munitions shipments mandatory whenever the President finds that a foreign war exists. Mr. Roosevelt did not mention the Munich Pact resulting in the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia when he said peace was not assured.

Stephens Mentioned As Court Candidate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Reports that Harold M. Stephens now has the inside track for appointment to the Supreme Court circulated in informed Congressional circles yesterday.

Stephens, a member of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, was born in Nebraska and formerly practiced law in Utah. President Roosevelt appointed him as Assistant Attorney General in 1933 and elevated him to the Court of Appeals in 1935. He is 52.

McCall Receives News Of Court's Decision Calmly

"There's Nothing I Can Say" Is Comment Of Kidnaper

SAFORD, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall received calmly today the news that the State Supreme Court had turned down his appeal from a death sentence for the kidnaping of Little James Boyle Cash.

"Well, there's nothing I can say," he told E. E. Chapman, superintendent of the State Prison who went to McCall's cell in death row to tell him of the court's decision that he had been convicted and sentenced legally.

Franklin P. McCall, the number one man who killed Little James Boyle Cash in a $10,000 ransom scheme at Princeton, had his Supreme Court appeal yesterday from the death sentence he received in the crime.

Six justices unanimously voted there were no extenuating circumstances that would entitle McCall to mercy.

They also agreed there was no violation of his constitutional rights when Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson accepted McCall's admission of guilt and sentenced him to the electric chair. The judge did not put in a jury to hear evidence.

McCall had told the court he would change his mind and plead innocent after he first pleaded guilty but he did not change.

"The only reasonable and logical conclusion" the court said through Justice Buford, "is the defendant, fully realizing his guilt, believed that he would have a better chance to escape death by submitting that evidence to a jury, but he would have to submit the evidence to a jury of 12 men chosen from the body of the county, and that he deliberately and advisedly exercised that choice."

Florida law allows a defendant to waive his right to trial by jury and submit his case directly to the judge. McCall did that, and the court said it was no violation of the constitutional right of trial by jury.

PRAYER FOR THE YEAR'S BEGINNING

We felt our way, a year ago, Toward what no wisdom could foresee.

Who will be the Richard Whitney or the Donald Coster of 1939?

We see where over a hundred Germans are facing treason trials.

If Hitler and Mussolini want to fight, it's too bad arrangements could not be made for them to fight each other.

The upswing in business this year is characterized as a "fall upswing".

Now that Congress is again in session we can confidently expect our taxes to be decreased.

Frank Murphy, the new Attorney General, according to the "Times Tribune," made a "constructive" record in state administration as governor of Michigan.

Fifty thousand income tax investigations are to be commenced in Florida at once.

Senator Pittman says that the United States should ostracize Japan. Perhaps it should.

A few of the things which Sanford should adopt as part of its program for 1939 include the completion of Fort Mellon Park.

Seeing The Light

An indication that Senator Pepper has at last seen the light and is about to abandon his role as a hundred percent New Dealer is gained from a recent interview given out by Florida's junior senator in which he apparently questions the wisdom and effectiveness of the Administration's farm program and suggests that perhaps some alternative method might prove a better way of dealing with the nation's agricultural problem.

To be opposed to legislation that has anything to do with the curtailment or limiting of crops is to be against the slaughter of little pigs—such as took place in 1933 and '34 to raise the price of white bacon.

"My theory is," Senator Pepper explains, "that all the able-bodied men and women of America who want to work should be given an opportunity to work, if necessary, by public works, and if that is done and other adjustments are made which are both practical and feasible, there will be a consuming power and a producing power which will solve the agricultural problem without the objectionable—and maybe un-American—effort to tell the farmer what he should grow and where he shall plant it."

Now we are getting somewhere. That has been our theory ever since the New Dealers started paying the farmers to destroy their crops. Their idea seemed to be that because the United States produced more food than could be sold at the prices the people could afford to pay, the solution of the problem was to destroy the food.

As a matter of fact, government statistics will show that if all the wheat which has been plowed under, and if all the little pigs which were prematurely killed, had been allowed to reach the market, and then had been distributed equally and fairly among all the people of the United States, none of them would have had enough to eat, according to the balanced diets of the Bureau of Public Health.

It is exactly as Senator Pepper says, if Congress and the Administration will devote their energies to putting the unemployed back to work at decent paying jobs and give business and industry a chance to earn an honest dollar, they won't have to worry about over-production or what to do with America's farm surplus. The people will eat it.

Presidential Successors

As President Roosevelt enters the last half of his second term, considerable speculation continues as to whether he will seek a third term in office.

Even this much appears doubtful at the present moment as he would probably encounter the opposition of Vice President Garner and the conservative wing of the Democratic party with any candidate he might select.

"Madison succeeded in naming Madison, his secretary of state, who was elected and served two terms, the independent continues.

"Monroe tried to secure the nomination of Secretary of War Crawford, but failed. His failure, however, may have been due to the fact that Crawford suffered a paralytic stroke a short time before. (He ran a had third, and Secretary of State John Quincy Adams was nominated and elected.)

"Jackson succeeded in naming Vice-President Van Buren, who was elected, but served only one term because of the hard times that came after his election.

ATTEMPT AT PERPETUAL MOTION

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK by PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—One significant development at the Lima conference not formally recorded was the breakdown of the rival "orbit" one led by the United States and the other by Argentina.

Ever since the first of the Pan-Americanist's camp to grant any two rival blocs, how they made any true measure of unity. Thus the evidence stands: these blocs had broken down but considered themselves important by officials behind the scenes.

Two conditions impeded the bloc through the first 30 or more years of the Pan-American conference series. First was the natural rivalry between Argentina and the United States for an commercial and political leadership.

Modifications were made to meet the Argentine position but the new alignment indicated that early distrust of Yankee imperialism had faded.

Consumer Goods Industries Step Up Activities

NEW YORK, (AP) Jan. 4.—The nation's consumer goods industries stepped up activity in the final half of 1938, and textile mills, shoe factories, food products plants and producing units in other key lines were operating at close to the year's best levels as 1939 approached.

The volume of retail sales, a measure of consumer buying, for 1938 was believed to be about 7 percent below the level of 1937.

Continuance of current prices in the initial 1939 quarter was forecast. However, some manufacturers, especially in apparel fields, held an eventual rise likely due principally to increased labor costs under wages and hours law regulations.

The retail textile industry was held destined to start the new year in a much more favorable position than at the beginning of 1938. Inventories were in fairly good shape, with demand for goods fair, raw materials costs were low. Cotton mill activity near the year-end was brisk, sufficient to cover demand for seasonal factors, was close to the best level of the year.

Operations in the woolen industry at the year-end were brisk. In the men's wear division, sufficient orders were on hand to maintain current activity for at least another month, and a strong tendency was noted in the women's wear and auto fabric divisions.

Shoe production for 1938 was put at only 6 to 7 per cent under the 412,000,000 pairs manufactured in 1937.

Hosiery mills rolled along at close to capacity during the final half of 1938, and it was only in the final weeks of December that tapering of production was begun so that manufacturer would not outrun consumption.

Marked pick-up in apparel and shoe manufacture when recovery set in at mid-year was attributed to head-to-tooth buying policies aimed for months. Retail establishments had been keeping stocks of goods low, and when consumer buying began rising with industrial recovery, orders went through to wholesalers for merchandise, specifying quick delivery.

Volume of food products sold during the full year is believed to have run ahead of 1937 in many lines, particularly packaged foods, but because of lower prices, dollar volume may have slid a little behind 1937 figures.

Gasoline consumption held close to record levels, even though the public bought fewer new cars. Purchases of household supplies as a whole did not come up to 1937. Hardware, but were rates of working machinery, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and other table-top appliances.

Lost French Colony Is A Reminder

By NORMAN E. COLLINS

We talk so much about rapid communications in our modern world that we often forget about the lonely, isolated spots where men live completely cut off from their fellows and where human survival is a precarious thing.

So this little story about the lost French colony on St. Paul's Island, which sounds like something from the old sailing-ship days, is a good reminder that we have not yet either conquered nature nor annihilated space.

Some 40 or 50 French fishermen went to St. Paul's to catch lobsters. St. Paul's is about as remote a place as there is on the globe; an utterly barren, rocky little island far down in the south Pacific on the rim of the Antarctic ice shelf. It has no resources whatever except the lobsters which inhabit its foreshore. A worse place for people to run short of food and fuel could hardly be imagined.

That seems to be what happened to these French fishermen. They did have one of the modern world's space-killing gadgets—a radio; so they were able to send back word of their plight, and a ship sailed to their rescue at once. But somehow the thought of this little band of people marooned on the black rocks down in the "region of eternal storm, ice and loneliness, stays with you and sends a bit of a shiver down your spine.

For this world is not quite as safely regimented and controlled a place as we usually assume. In our modern society we may never feel in contact with the elemental perils of danger, hunger and cold; but we are just lucky, and it is dangerous for us to forget that human life exists on this planet on the same terms it always did—as a constant struggle against an environment that is forever hostile.

This earth would give up its hold on us through space quite as readily if it had no freight of human life at all. It spun that way for some scores of millions of years, if the scientists are to be believed, and it may do so again. Our tenure here is not so solid or so permanent that we can afford to take any chances.

And that is why the present tendency toward war, destruction and general conflict between races, nations and groups is such an ominous thing. This tendency may very easily destroy the great fabric of our civilization; and we do that only at our dire peril.

For the machinery by which we hold off these natural, elemental threats to our earthly existence is extremely complicated, and like most complicated things it is very delicate. We could smash it beyond repair if we got too brash and fifth with our bombing planes, our blockade and our all-around tactics for destruction; and if we do, all of us may find ourselves up against precisely the sort of thing the colonists on St. Paul's Island are up against—only we would not have any place to send radio messages.

The mere job of making the earth habitable, and of ensuring that the natural elements of our existence are extremely complicated, and like most complicated things it is very delicate. We could smash it beyond repair if we got too brash and fifth with our bombing planes, our blockade and our all-around tactics for destruction; and if we do, all of us may find ourselves up against precisely the sort of thing the colonists on St. Paul's Island are up against—only we would not have any place to send radio messages.

Mules May Be Smart But Are Decreasing

DENVER, Jan. 3.—The population of Colorado's "mule-trail" country is dropping at the rate of about 1,000 a year.

Records of the planning commission disclosed the decrease had occurred each year since 1930 when the census showed there were 2,000 "mule ears" employed at industrial plants.

Coal miners claim the mule is the "smartest" equine on four feet. They cite many examples of intelligence to support the claim. Among them is the assertion that many miles will count the number of couplings that rattle as he takes the slack from a train of cars and if there is one more far than there should be the mule won't move.

For each pound of fuel consumed in freight service, the railroads in the first nine months of 1938 hauled 4.5 tons of equipment and freight one mile, the highest average on record for any corresponding period.

Household Hints
Use this test for deep-fat frying of onions: When a piece of bread browns in one minute, add the onions and cook them about one and one-half minutes.

Pep up regular-boiled dressing with horseradish, chili sauce and catsup and serve with baked or broiled fish. They go well together and are especially appetizing in cold weather.

A buffet meal, when well planned, is a delightful way to entertain. But do have places for the guests to sit down and eat in comfort. Arrange tables about the room; balancing a plate on the knee is all out of date.

To make silver and glassware shine, dry them directly out of hot sudsy water. This treatment also helps to retard tarnishing of silver, which takes place more quickly in winter time when the furnace is on.

For something new and different spread baked ham with a half-cup of molasses and bake thirty minutes in moderate oven. This gives a delicious flavor and a brown top. You can include a teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves for a spicy touch.

For a hurry-up dessert, split deep cake in halves, cover with small portions of fresh or canned fruit or berries, and diced marshmallows mixed with brown sugar. Dot with butter and bake or broil for minutes.

Date muffins, small ones, or very bunny popovers are just the right partners for salads. With plenty of hot coffee and a light dessert you have a bridge foursome luncheon ready in a short time. Very filling too for winter time.

To clean marble, cover it with a paste made by mixing two tablespoons of soap and powdered pumice and some cold water. When the spread paste has dried, rub it off with a cloth and wash the marble with soap and water. Repeat if stain is hard to remove.

Ice cream treats make appetizing surprise desserts for luncheon. Bake rich pastry dough in either deep pans. When ready to serve drop the pastry cases with stiff fruit sauce and then cover it generously with vanilla ice cream. Add a pinch of chopped candied ginger mixed with toasted pecans.

Felix Frankfurter Named To Supreme Court By Roosevelt

Educator Nominated To Vacancy Created By Death Of Benjamin Cardozo

Appointment Is President's 3rd

New Justice Not Expected To Change Tribunal's Lineup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Felix Frankfurter of Massachusetts, a professor at the Harvard Law School, was named today by President Roosevelt to the vacancy created by the death last July of Benjamin J. Cardozo of New York.

His appointment, the third made to the court by Roosevelt since the President took office, was not expected to change the liberal-conservative lineup of justices of the Supreme Court.

Frankfurter is considered a liberal and supported many New Deal measures appealed to the court.

Among the nominations today was that of Chester DeLoach for U. S. Marshal for the southern district of Florida.

Born in Vienna Nov. 16, 1882, of Jewish parents descended from a family of rabbis, Frankfurter received his early education in New York public schools and College of the City of New York.

In 1906 he earned Harvard law degree, returning to New York in 1908 with its highest honors.

He followed a principle in which he believed, by entering public service two months later, becoming assistant U. S. attorney in New York under Col. Henry L. Stimson, who later was secretary of state.

Although considered "radical" by many persons — especially when he expressed his belief (Continued on Page Three)

Two Backers In "Cuba" Racket Reported Quit

High Court Decision, Police Raids Check Organized Gambling

Following the ruling of the Supreme Court affirming the conviction and one-year sentence of Joseph W. Jarrell for conducting a lottery in this county and the continued efforts of the Police Department to stamp out organized gambling in this city, at least two "Cuba" backers have quit, a Herald reporter learned from reliable sources today.

Characterizing the constant vigil of the Police Department as a threat to their illegitimate profits, the backers were said to have abandoned the numbers racket before they were caught and forced to serve prison sentences for their activities.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, whose department co-operated in securing the evidence for the conviction of Jarrell, heralded the Supreme Court decision as a big factor in stamping out organized gambling in this city.

Although sale of the tickets has been conducted more "under cover" since the city-wide raid several weeks ago, Chief Williams said that the department will not cease its vigil against the racket, the continued operation of which brought criticism to the police department from the Grand Jury.

Law enforcement officers indicated that other sellers and the buyers may be prosecuted in the future if the operation of the racket continues. Chief Williams stated that he now has a list of practically all the sellers in Sanford and that these will be under the constant watch of the law enforcement officers. He said he obtained the list through "grape vine".

Assistant State's Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle who prosecuted the Jarrell case in the Circuit Court and argued the case before the Supreme Court recently, returned to his office today after a New Year holiday in Miami but declined to make any comment on the high court ruling other than that he was "glad" of the decision and that it was only what he had expected. He expressed the opinion that any effort to obtain a rehearing of the case would only postpone the commencement of his prison term a few days.

He also declined to say definitely whether the grand jury which asked for more stringent enforcement of the gambling laws will be called into action in an effort to secure indictments against other alleged "big shots" in the "Cuba" racket in this county who are violating the state's anti-lottery laws, and validity of which has been upheld by Supreme Court decision.

Mr. Boyle pointed out that the minimum penalty for punishment of the tickets, which includes the buyer, sale of tickets or conducting a lottery is a fine of $500 and a minimum term of one year in prison while the maximum penalty provided by the state's anti-lottery statute is a fine of $5,000 and 10 years in prison or both.

Chief of Police Williams yesterday caught a negro, Henry Davis in the act of making a sale of a lottery ticket to a negro woman. After the man was taken to the station, Williams took the tickets, and Davis was charged with a charge of gambling.

Davis was one of those caught by Chief Williams in a raid last week and he said that he had planned to turn the tickets over to State's Attorney Boyle for prosecution.

Music Group Will Re-Open Concert Membership Drive

The Columbia Concerts Corporation has assured the appearance in Sanford of three of the most prominent artists if the Seminole County Music Association can successfully complete its membership campaign, members of the local music group announced today.

The tentative schedule calls for a concert by Lisa Parnova, well-known dancer with her accompanist and dancing partners, here on Jan. 14th; Mildred Dilling, harpist, on Mar. 8 and Elizabeth W. W. on April 12. These concerts are assured if the membership is as large as for last year, it was pointed out.

Members of the music association stated that because so many persons expressed hope that the membership campaign for the concert series be extended the music association, with the permission of the Columbia Concerts Corporation, will re-open the campaign for two days only, next Monday and Tuesday headquarters will be in the Episcopal Parish House on Fourth Street and Magnolia Avenue. During these days, Mrs. J. L. Ingley, secretary, will gladly furnish information and application blanks. She will be on duty Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 P. M., also Monday morning and Tuesday afternoon.

The membership tickets costing $3 for adults and $1.50 for children is the only admission charge for the concert. This ticket will also admit members to all concerts not only in Sanford but, through the reciprocal agreement, to concerts in St. Augustine, Winter Haven, Clearwater, Sarasota and Gainesville, making possible attendance to 18 concerts with the ticket.

Totalitarian Storms Evoked By FDR's Talk

Dictator Nations Accuse President Of Deserving Historic Isolation Policy

Anti-Democratic ideas rolled higher in Spain and Japan today as President Roosevelt's FBI preparations against "aggressor governments" evoked totalitarian storms in Germany and Italy.

A new cabinet was installed in Tokyo. The reactionary 73-year-old Baron Kichiro Hirano became premier, succeeding Prince Fumimaro Konoye at the head of a highly authoritarian new government.

Boys less than 18 years old were called to the defense of the government in Spain as Insurgent Generalissimo Franco's army advanced to little more than 60 miles from Barcelona, the government capital and seat of its resistance.

Insurgents said Artesa, 65 miles northwest of Barcelona, had fallen before Franco's army. Further south they reported new advances menacing Borja Blanca, the anchor of the government's fortified line.

Barcelona bulletins studied Britain and France found encouragement in the President's hints in changes in American neutrality legislation and what they regarded as a veiled threat of boycotting aggressor nations.

The German and Italian press accused him of playing domestic politics and deserting the historic policy isolation.

France was troubled with new strikes and lockout threats in a dispute between coal producers and miners.

Belated reports to Shanghai disclosed Chinese and Japanese forces had been locked in bitter fighting for days along the Hunan-Hupeh Province border.

FDR Proposes Vast Outlay For Defense, Continued Deficit

Multi-Billion Dollar Budget Would Run Up Federal Debt To New All Time High

Funds Sought To Continue Relief

Approximately Nine Billion Asked For Federal Spending

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A multi-billion dollar budget, proposing vast outlays for national defense and continued deficit spending, was submitted to Congress today by President Roosevelt.

It would run the federal debt total up to $44,658,000 in 1940—an all-time record.

The budget, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1939 and ending July 1, 1940, calls for $8,996,000,000 of federal spending. The President's fiscal aide estimated it would cause an additional deficit of $3,292,343,000, running up a federal debt close to the $45,000,000 limit set by Congress.

Major items include $1,699,000,000 for national defense, $268,158,851 for agriculture and at least $1,500,000,000 for work relief during the 12 months beginning next July.

The President said he would send an exact figure on work relief in a special message to Congress. Another message, sent to Congress in a day of feverish activity, proposed an $875,000,000 special appropriation to supplement the $1,125,000,000 already provided for WPA this year.

The special fund is designed to run the WPA from February 1 this year through June. In proposing it, the Chief Executive recommended strict legislation imposing penalties for "improper political practices" in relief.

The budget message, accompanied by voluminous supporting documents, was drafted out by leading checks in contrast to the President's own dramatic appearance (Continued on Page Three)

The committee also unanimously approved the appointment of Fred R. Wilson as national councillor for the Seminole Chamber to have direct contact with the United States Chamber in matters of national interest. The appointment was made by President Benjamin F. Haines, who presided over the meeting. The office of national councillor was held by Mr. Haines until his election as president.

Mrs. Powell Reveals Seminole Has Many Children In Jacksonville Home

Seminole County has sent 148 children to the Children's Home Society of Jacksonville since its organization, and 15 children during the past year, according to Mrs. Nancy Powell, a special field representative of the home, who is in Sanford today calling on various members of the sponsoring committee of which Randall Chase is chairman.

Forty-four of the Seminole County children sent to the orphan home have been placed in adoption in carefully selected foster homes throughout the county. Mrs. Powell stated, adding that a meeting of the new sponsoring committee is expected to be called in the near future.

"It is the purpose of the Home Society in organizing these sponsoring committees," Mrs. Powell said, "to have a group of interested, understanding men and women, informed as to the work and purposes of the Society who will give publicity to the work, that the Society has done and is doing in the field of child care and adoption."

Karl Lehmann Is Speaker At Lunch Of Kiwanis Club

President Caswell, Other Officers Take Over Duties

Discussing the month, the appointments and the resolutions of the Kiwanis International, Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Kiwanis International Committee on Publicity, was the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday which was featured by the installation of officers who will serve during the coming year.

Pointing out that Kiwanis has grown from a small beginning to one of the largest civic organizations in existence, Mr. Lehmann told the members that Kiwanis can grow only through the service of its members.

He declared that the cheapest thing a member can give to the club is money, and added that in order to achieve the goals which have been set for the club, each member must contribute time and effort.

Prior to his address, the prominent Lake County Chamber secretary installed the officers of (Continued on Page Two)

Dill Authorizes Work On Golf Course Project

WPA Officials State Crews To Begin Improvement Monday

Work was authorized today by State Administrator R. J. Dill on an $8965 WPA project for reconditioning of the Municipal golf course at the Sanford County Club, according to an Associated Press Dispatch from Jacksonville.

The project provides chiefly for the reconditioning of the nine holes of the course which are not being used for play but considerable work is also provided for the improvement of the nine holes now being used for play.

The filing of this project by the City Commission followed some agitation on the part of local golfing enthusiasts who later were granted a request by the Commission to send out City crews to clear off the nine holes which has not been in use since the days of the "boom".

City crews, under the supervision of Parks Superintendent James Moughton, have done considerable work already on the course and WPA workers will continue the work where the City crews left off last week.

WPA officials stated today that the project which will employ 20 workers for six months will probably be begun next Monday. The officials stated that workers on this project will be taken off other projects which are nearing completion and that the authorization of this project will not permit any increase in the WPA rolls.

The allocation of the WPA for this work is $8,760.

School Code To Be Discussed By Education Heads

County Superintendent T. W. Laxton and other school officials and principals of Seminole County schools, as well as Parent-Teacher Association leaders and others interested in education, have been asked by State Superintendent C. M. English to participate in a district conference of school administrators at Orlando, Jan. 11.

The meeting session of the conference, beginning at 10:00 a.m., will be devoted to a discussion of the new school code for Florida. The proposed code has been in preparation for two years and is now being drafted in final form for presentation to the legislature by the legislature of 1937. Florida has never had a codification of school laws, and educators have pointed to this as one of the state's greatest educational needs in bringing educational practices up to date.

Other topics, which will be discussed in the afternoon session of the conference, include the new Florida program for improvement of instruction, library needs, a state-wide testing program, the small class problem, remedial reading in junior high school, physical education plans, and new courses of study and new textbooks.

Preliminary Plans For Seminole Fair Exhibit Are Made

Preliminary plans were made for the annual Seminole County display at the Central Florida Exposition at the first meeting of the Exhibit Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce held in the Chamber building yesterday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock. Dates of the exposition are Feb. 27-Mar. 4.

For several years Seminole County's display has been considered one of the most outstanding at the Central Florida Exposition. Chamber officials pointed out, and plans for this year indicate that past records will be broken.

Chairman C. R. Dawson presided over the meeting and appointed the following special committee to work out an arrangement for exhibiting various products: Ralph Bagwell, Gladys Kendall and R. N. Nipper.

The Seminole County display will occupy the same amount of space as last year; it will be a 60 foot, spread-in-one-of-the-new-buildings on the Exposition grounds. Main entries to be included in the set-up are vegetables, fruits, home-canned goods, meats, fruits other than citrus, industrial products and shrubs and flowers.

According to a new ruling of the Exposition management, no judging will be made of county displays nor will premiums in any form be awarded. Each participating county is allowed the privilege of exhibiting first class exhibits in any manner it sees fit, and it is no longer necessary to comply with stringent rules as to styles, containers, and other restrictions as heretofore.
