NAVY OFFICER SERVICE OF POLYONA

Service Superior Is In Spectacular Encounter With Honolulu Police Officer

SANFORD, Fla., May 7. (A.P.)—A husky naval officer clashed in a spectacular encounter with Honolulu police yesterday as the latter boarded the liner Malo in a last minute attempt to serve a subpoena on Mrs. Thelma Mable before she and her party sailed for San Francisco.

The violent meeting occurred a few minutes before sailing time and just after Mrs. Mable had been put aboard the ship through a riot in which a navy submarine tender was used.

Thinking about the ship, the policeman encountered the barrier of gold bars in a hot corner, the deck down for a few minutes it looked as though a riot would erupt. It was not, however, and Mrs. Mable's party said the police had failed to serve the subpoena.

The police had sought formally to serve Mrs. Mable with notice regarding her appearance as prosecutor in the trial of the four defendants who were held for retrial because of criminally attacking her last September.

In the attack that led to the subpoena and slaying Jan. 31 of Joseph Kabanaw, young doctor, for which Mrs. Mable's husband, Lt. Thomas H. Mable, was sentenced, Mrs. Granville Ferguson, and two other sailors were convicted of assisting the doctor.

At the Malo slipped out of the harbor to the strains of "Aloha," Mrs. Mable was safely aboard with her husband, her mother and Oswald Darrow, attorney for the defense in the Kabanaw case, she smiled, but her eyes were wet with tears.

Carload Of Flour Is Expected This Week For Charity

With the arrival of a carload of flour to be distributed by the local chapter of the American Red Cross to many destitute families in this section, expected early this week, Red Cross officials today announced that all organizations having a share of poverty which may be relieved by the issuance of flour, should send in names of those in need as soon as possible.

Miss Ailes expressed her appreciation and that of the local chapter for the flour which has already been received from the following organizations: American Legion Auxiliary, First Baptist Church, West Church at Ocala, Methodist Church at Ocala, Ocala Branch of the Y. W. C. A., and the Ocala Branch of the Y. W. C. A.

It is expected that the flour will be distributed in the county just as soon as it arrives. Organizations may send lists of names to Mr. E. C. Olson, 217.

American Consulate In Japan Is Bombed

WASHINGTON, May 7. (A.P.)—The American consulate at Nagasaki, Japan, was bombed today, Harry Hitchcock, consul there, notified the State Department. The consulate was set off by a bomb of crude manufacture thrown at the office entrance presumably from a passing automobile. The fire was extinguished before serious damage was done, Hitchcock apparently attached no political significance to the incident. He said an investigation was started.

PRESIDENT CALLS GROUP TO WORK ON ECONOMY BILL

Balanced Budget Demanded By Hoover By Use Of Savings

WASHINGTON, May 9. (A.P.)—President Hoover summoned to the White House last night Republican members of the Senate Appropriations committee and Secretary Mills to formulate an economy program to supplement that passed by the House.

The President is anxious to revive the economy bill which was shown of many of its earlier provisions in the House.

One of the proposals up for discussion was to put the economy bill ahead of the pending revenues measures in the Senate.

A balanced budget is demanded by the administration and the revenue measure must be accompanied by approximately $300,000,000 in savings to reach that goal.

It was the second successive night that the President has summoned the Senate Republican leaders to a special conference.

On Wednesday, Saturday night and again last night, Hoover is urging a non-partisan consideration of the tax and economy measure.

Secretary Mills was asked as he entered if last night's meeting was a complement to Saturday night's and replied in the affirmative.

Among those who attended were Senators Hale, of Maine; Keyes, of New Hampshire, Oddie, of Nevada, Steiner, of Oregon, and Dickinson, of Iowa.

ADLERS ASTAIRE WEDS

BAKERWELL, Eng., May 9. (A.P.)—Adelle Astaire, stage favorite on both sides of the Atlantic, became a member of one of England's most notable families today when she married Lord Charles Cavendish. Her engagement was announced in October.

Gang Of Thieves Operating In Four Counties Believed To Be Broken Up

Sheriff J. F. McClelland reports that as a result of several weeks of vigilance on the part of the sheriff's offices of Seminole, Lake, Orange and Volusia counties, one of the most disturbing and successful ring of thieves ever to operate in this section has been broken up, and its leaders jailed.

Since early in February a number of petty robberies of stores and homes has been occupying the attention of county police in each of the four counties, with every indication pointing to professionalism.

Cases seemed to lead to the vicinity of the "Big Horn" in Lake county, according to Sheriff McClelland, with the result that the action was carefully watched, particularly after the robbery of the Morris and Lawton stores at Ovido some weeks ago.

Two weeks ago, Waverosa police arrested a man named Alcorn Robinson who attempted to dispose of articles which had been taken from the Morris and Lawton stores.

REVENUE BILL IS REPORTED BY SENATE TODAY

Meanwhile Appropriations Committee Starts Work Upon Vital Economy Bill

WASHINGTON, May 9. (A.P.)—After refusing to reopen the veto section of the billion-dollar revenue measure, the Senate Finance Committee reported it today. Bi-partisan determination to press it through is evident. Meanwhile the Senate Appropriations Committee started work on the vital supply and economy bills determined to bring about a savings of more than $300,000,000 which is necessary to make the new tax bill balance the 1933 budget.

Edward McGrady, speaking for the American Federation of Labor, warned the Senate Manufacturing Committee there is danger of revolt unless the federal government takes action to relieve unemployment.

Money in circulation Apr. 30 was increased five million compared with Mar. 31 but the total money in the country decreased $68,000,000 the Treasury reported.

The charge that President Hoover had yielded to the common temptation to play politics at a time when one, be he Democrat or Republican, should seek personal political advantage was made yesterday by Representative McDuffie, of Alabama, House Democratic whip.

McDuffie made the charge in a statement through his office, while Senator Stratton, of New Mexico, in another through the Democratic National committee, said Hoover's statement of last Thursday and Friday were efforts to "raise a straw man on the subject." (Continued On Page Three)

Big Barn Burned By Fire Saturday Night

One of the largest barns on Boardwalk Avenue, that owned by A. D. Shoemaker, well-known grower, was completely destroyed by fire of an unknown source Saturday night at about 9:00 o'clock.

Negro persons living in a nearby tenement house which was also destroyed, succeeded in removing several animals from the barn, but were unable to save farming implements, and an automobile belonging to the tenant. The property is partly covered by insurance.

C. OF C. MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Board of Governors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in the offices at the City Hall tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock, according to Karl Lehmann, secretary, who asked a large attendance at the May meeting.

Program For Farmers Day, Including Many Events, Is Released By Chairman

Preliminary program for Farmers Day, Thursday May 19, has been released by the general chairman of several committees working to make the day a success, and from all indications, there will be enough activities to draw the crowd of 15,000 persons that is anticipated.

Farmers Day is staged by the Seminole County Agriculture Club for the purpose of bringing out the people of this county for a day of amusement, education, and fellowship. This year marks the second annual observance of the event.

The opening feature of the day's activities will be a parade of floats and decorated cars which will move at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. Two bands, the Sanford Elks Band and the Florida Commerce Methodist Orphanage Band of Benson Springs will be in the line of march, together with other musical units.

At the conclusion of the parade, there will be three sectional meetings held in the court house and the City Hall where well-informed and practical men will discuss subjects of interest to all farmers and growers.

At the Court House there will be a citrus meeting, where Dr. J. E. Turlington, director of farm economics, University of Florida, Gainesville, will talk on "Reducing Citrus Costs," and E. F. DeBuck, extension citrus pathologist of Gainesville, will talk on "New Methods in Citrus Culture." C. F. Hall, Tavares, Lake county agriculture agent, will also speak.

At the City Hall, Dr. Wilton Newell, director of the state experiment station at Gainesville, will speak on the "Need of Agriculture Experiment Work," at a truck crop and live stock meeting. M. R. Ensign, horticulturist, will speak on "Comparison of Shipping Containers," and Dr. A. L. Shealy, head of the Annual Husbandry Department at the University, will (Continued On Page Three)

WICKERSHAM IS FOR REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR ISSUE

Months Of Study And Observation Impel Jurist In Decision

WASHINGTON, May 9. (A.P.)—Out of two years of study with the Wickersham commission and a subsequent 16 months of personal observation, George W. Wickersham feels "more strongly than ever" that a national referendum on prohibition is needed.

The 73-year-old former chairman of the prohibition commission has dropped the silence that enveloped him during the arduous and often troubled work of the commission.

In an interview, he spoke yesterday of his referendum views, and of the prohibition views of his members, which he expressed during the commission's discussed joint dry law enforcement study.

Wickersham feels that the prohibition investigation wrongly overshadowed the great volume of commission's labors but that this other work now is advancing in due course to fruition in betterment of the nation's handling of criminals.

As to a referendum, he expressed a belief a vote on an amendment to the Eighteenth Amendment through state conventions would do great good in providing a needed crystallization (Continued On Page Two)

Fons A. Hathaway Will Give Address In Sanford Tonight

Fons A. Hathaway, of Jacksonville, former chairman of the State Road Department and a candidate for governor, will deliver his first Sanford campaign address at the Court House tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

He arrived in Sanford late this afternoon from Orlando where he was heard in a radio address at noon, and where he will speak tomorrow night Wednesday night at Daytona Beach; Thursday night at Gainesville; Friday night at Jacksonville, and Saturday at Lake City and Live Oak.

He has recently completed a tour of the East Coast as far as Lake Worth, Belle Glade and inland at Okeechobee, and next week he will visit West Palm Beach and Miami and adjoining cities.

Mr. Hathaway is said to have declared that his old friends are standing firm, a fact which, with the addition of new support, gives him reason to believe that he will be one of the two high men in the second primary.

He declares that the race is generally conceded to be between the two ex-governors and himself, and "with this fact established, it is natural that the opposition to the two ex-governors will rally to the support of the candidate who is in the best position to defeat them."

MRS. WOODRUM DIES
Mrs. Anna Woodrum died this afternoon at 11:15 o'clock at her residence, 111 West Third Street. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. at the Miller-Decker-Pearson home.

BRUENING SAYS DEBT QUESTION IS BIG MENACE

States Germany Can't Meet Reparations And Warns "World Can't Wait Longer"

BERLIN, May 9. (A.P.)—Chancellor Heinrich Brüning emphatically served notice yesterday that Germany "cannot pay reparations," and predicted the European financial conference at Lausanne a month hence would lead the way either to world recovery or world collapse.

Addressing German provincial correspondents on the government's foreign policy, the chancellor criticized the statement of the world for "lacking courage" and warned that "the people of the world won't wait any longer."

"The Lausanne conference," the head of the German cabinet declared, "will either be the road sign pointing the way to a new life or a milestone leading to collapse."

"There must be an end at last to our sacrifices. The world must realize we simply cannot pay reparations."

"The Lausanne results will determine what fate is in store for Germany and the whole world—whether the world will continue to sink into misery or finally land on solid ground on which alone an epoch of reconstruction can be started."

"The eyes of all good-will men are on Lausanne in a spirit of hope and yearning, impatience and demand."

He said world statesmen lacked courage to tell their people the facts and warned their aid may be too late if delayed.

"Don't they realize that the demon-like spirits of negation and destruction are gaining ground?" he asked. "We can not wait longer because the people of the world won't wait longer. We need not a multiplicity of conferences but of deeds."

The chancellor then took up his own attitude in dealing with the representatives of foreign powers.

"I realize clearly that I can obtain the maximum for Germany only in the same time I can prove that Germany's aims coincide with the enlightened self-interest of the world."

"The tragedy of the Versailles treaty lies in the fact that some nations thought they could secure for themselves all good fortune, while all misfortune was to be left to the defeated."

"This false and unnatural conception of peace has been proven completely wrong by post-war events. Unless there can be a change the world will ever be pushed deeper into the horrible misery known as the economic crisis and unemployment."

The chancellor referred to Germany's neighbors as bristling with armaments.

He mentioned as a hopeful sign the disappearance of a spirit of hatred toward Germany, which he said German's encountered for years after the conclusion of the war.

Fall Will Be Freed From Prison Today

SANTA FE, May 9. (A.P.)—Warden Ed Swopes announced he would release Albert Fall from the state prison this afternoon. He said he would accept the amended commitment order sent from the District of Columbia Supreme Court making it possible to free the former secretary of interior without the collection of a hundred thousand-dollar fine. With time off for good behavior Fall completed his year and a day sentence for alleged acceptance of a hundred thousand-dollar bribe from E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, during the Harding administration for leasing naval oil reserves.

RECORD BALLOT OF QUALIFIERS IS SET FOR PRIMARY

Complete List Of Candidates Is Believed Before Secretary

TALLAHASSEE, May 9. (A.P.)—With the time for state candidates to qualify for races in the June primaries expiring at midnight last night, those already formally qualified will make up one of the longest ballots in Florida's history.

Attorney General Cary D. Landis has advised Secretary of State R. A. Gray to qualify any candidate whose application was mailed before the deadline, but Gray said last night he believed the list was complete.

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and William H. Murray of Oklahoma and L. J. Chasse, Milwaukee, Wis., filed for participation in Florida's first Democratic presidential preferential primary in years. Fourteen convention votes are at stake although delegates to convention will not necessarily be bound by results of the preferential vote.

There will be no contest over the election of United States senator, Duncan U. Fletcher, of Jacksonville, being unopposed for re-election, but four candidates seek election to Congress from the state at large and there are contests in three of the state's four congressional districts.

John T. Alsop, Jr., Lester W. Jennings, W. J. Bears and W. D. Bell qualified to run for Congress from the state at large, an additional place in Congress which Florida gained as a result of 1930 census.

In the first congressional district Rep. Herbert J. Drane of Lakeland is opposed by Sumter L. Lowry, Tampa, and J. Hardin Peterson, Lakeland, Rep. R. A. Green, Starke, is unopposed in the second district.

TARDIEU WILL RESIGN AFTER POLL DEFEAT

Successor Of Premier To Be Herriot, Radical Socialist Head; Defeat Is Decisive

PARIS, May 9. (A.P.)—Defeated by a decisive margin in yesterday's parliamentary election Premier Andre Tardieu will resign tomorrow with the request that his successor be chosen immediately. His resignation will be presented as soon as Parliament elects a new president to succeed Paul Doumer.

At 1:30 A. M. with virtually all the seats accounted for, including results from the first election last Sunday, the opposition parties had gained control of the chamber.

Eduard Herriot, leader of the Radical Socialists, appeared to be the dominant figure as his group rodyd up a total of 151 seats, representing a gain of 42.

The Socialists of Leon Blum had 129 seats, a gain of 18, and the Republican Socialists, also a left group, had 89. The Communists got nine seats and dissident Communists obtained 12.

With the Radical Socialists wary of the formation of a government in cooperation with the Socialists, there were indications that an effort would be made to form a government of the left center, with some such figure as former Premier Paul Painleve as premier.

The Communists benefited by the swing to the left, gaining seats, although the dissidents, who are not affiliated with the Moscow headquarters, made a better showing than the Moscow branch. A Communist political newspaper, L'Humanite, who was leaving its term, was edited from Doumer.

The election was quiet except at Orah, Algeria, where rioters fired revolvers outside an election hall and killed an official. A number was hurt at Bordeaux, where several thousand Socialists, parading in celebration of their success, collided with a conservative group.

Jean Deschanel, son of former President Paul Deschanel, was elected to the chamber.

With 599 out of 615 seats reported in the election of a new chamber of deputies the party standings, including the first ballot a week ago, were as follows:

- Radical Socialists, 151.
- Socialists, 129.
- Communists, 9.
- Dissident Communists, 12.
- Republican Socialists, 89.
- Independent Radicals, 67.
- Left Republicans, 56.
- Democratic Republicans, 70.
- Popular Democrats, 16.
- Independents, 23.
- Unattached, 6.
- Independent Republicans, 6.
- Total, 599.

FEDS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER INDIANS SUNDAY

Win Over Cocoa Will Put Nine in Favorable Light Over Loop

By PETER SCHAAL.

Thoroughly angered by their defeat at the hands of the Deland Reds Thursday afternoon, a defeat they admit is chargeable to no one but themselves, Manager Joe Barnes' Celeryfeds tonight are primed and cocked, ready to essay the role of Jack-The-Giant-Killer when they engage in conflict with the league-leading Cocoa Indians in that city, tomorrow afternoon.

The Indians have always proved a thorn in the side of the Reds, that is, they were last year. They hold a 13 to 4 victory over the Reds this year, a victory that Manager Barnes says will not be duplicated again this season. Early Joiner, who was nicked for 10 hits by the Reds in that game, is supposed to do the chanking for Cocoa tomorrow, and unless my guess is wrong, Early is in for a beating.

One of the main reasons he won't fare as well as before is that the Reds will present a team that is 10 times as good as the one that visited Cocoa two weeks ago. Manager Barnes will have the same nine that has been together for the past three games, including Jack Reed, Bob Pittman, and all the rest, and he's going to hand Tom Phillips to the mound.

Tom, you know, is the veteran who whipped New Smyrna 7 to 6 some days ago, and for those infield errors last Thursday, would have easily whipped Deland. He handles a bat with the rest of them, and says he is willing to pitch every game. Of course, that's they with Barnes, but Buddy Lake and Cal Dennis need to work some time, so Manager Barnes is going to let Tom work tomorrow, and save Buddy for the Daytona Islanders here next Thursday.

Tonight your Reds are still leading the league at bat, having gathered 62 hits in 216 tries, for an average of .292, with Cocoa second, with an average of .261. The Reds lead in stolen bases, and have a pair of batters, Barnes and Harrison, hitting in the big line. They are one of the sensations of the league, and are respected in every quarter, even at Cocoa. Fans

SANFORD GIRLS DEFEAT ORLANDO AT DIAMOND BALL

Stage Hectic Battle Resulting In 24 To 18 Win For Victors

By E. H. CULLUM.

The Celso-Seminole Laundry Girls diamond ball team turned the tables on the Blackwood Cleaners team of Orlando on the Lake Shore Diamond Friday night in one of the most hectic battles ever staged on the local grounds, the final score being Sanford, 24, Orlando 18.

The Orlando girls got an early lead, putting over five runs in the first inning, three in the second, three in the third and one in the fourth, while the Sanford team was collecting ten during the same period. With the score standing 12 to 10 against them, the Sanford team staged a rally in the fifth, and when the inning was over had brought its total up to 17. Orlando came right back in the sixth and seventh innings, tying the score into a hard knot, 17 all, at the end of the seventh. In the eighth inning the Sanford girls again got busy at the bat, adding 7 more runs in this frame, bringing their grand total up to 24. As Orlando could put over only one run during the 8th and 9th, the game ended 24 to 18 in Sanford's favor.

Ethel Gates was on the mound for Sanford and pitched 7 1/3 innings, yielding up 13 hits for 17 runs. Lizzie Duncan finished the game and during the 1-2-3 innings she was in the box she yielded up one hit and one run. As the score was tied when Lizzie went into the box she is credited with the win. Lizzie also played a good game at second base, and got three hits out of six trips to the plate, a single and two triples. Zelida Varn got two hits out of five, a double, and a single.

Dot Powell recovered her batting eye last night, batting 1000 per cent, getting six hits out of six times up—three doubles, a homer and two singles. Ethel Gates also came through with three hits, a single, a double and a home run. Adel Rines also went into the select class for hitting, securing three singles out of five trips to the plate.

Pay your poll tax and get right with the world.

Do your part for better government by voting for Cary Hardee.

We need to be taught to save up for a rainy day and now most of us are praying for rain.

A Missouri editor prefers a new to a saxophone, because in addition to making the same noise, the new gives milk.—St. Joseph News-Press.

Reports out in West Florida are being circulated to the effect that there is a Martin boom on in Sanford. Well, maybe so. But boy, what a Martin collapse there will be on June 7!

In times like these Doyle Carlton or any other public official has just about as much chance of getting credit for anything good he does as we have of being president of these little old United States.

Time was when President Hoover was saying "Prosperity is just around the corner," now his right hand man, Andrew Mellon, admits "None of us has any means of knowing when or how we shall emerge from the valley of depression." An honest confession is good for the soul.

John Garner with ninety votes in the Democratic convention now has a chance for the nomination, the first time a real Southerner has had such a chance in many years.

Duval county is bigger than Dade and Dade is bigger than Hillsborough, but when it comes to registrations, Hillsborough beats them all.

The country likes the vigorous manner in which President Hoover is demanding from Congress that it reduce expenditures and balance the budget.

The Orlando Sentinel suggests that the Democrats nominate Roosevelt for president and Coolidge for vice president.

Martin Tax Reduction

To those who have painful reason to remember that taxes have steadily increased ever since the administration of Cary Hardee, the statement of Claude Ogilvie at Chuluota last Thursday that John Martin reduced taxation while he was governor of Florida came as somewhat of a surprise.

However, reducing taxes and reducing millage are two different things entirely. To the uninformed in things political, what Mr. Ogilvie said reflected great credit on the Martin administration.

It is hardly necessary for us to point out that a decrease in millage, if it is accompanied by a proportionate increase in assessed valuations, is of no particular benefit to the taxpayer.

When Gov. Martin became governor in 1925, he immediately reduced the state millage by one quarter of a mill, a fraction so small as hardly to be noticed by the taxpayer.

During the four years of Martin's administration the millage fluctuated from 10.1-2 to 7.1-2 in 1927 to 9 in 1928. From the time Martin went into office to the time when he went out there was an actual reduction in millage of 1.1-2 mills and to this extent only does he deserve credit.

In this connection it is well to bear in mind that Governor Martin did not confine his tax increases alone to the ad valorem tax on real estate but also increased the gasoline tax, a tax which most vitally affects the average citizen of this state.

So bad was the financial condition of the state when he went out of office in 1929, that Governor Carlton, as one of his first acts in office, was forced to increase the millage from 9 to 14 1-2, resulting in a 48 percent increase in the general tax levy.

From immediately before Martin went into office until immediately after he went out of office Seminole County's ad valorem tax payments to the state were practically doubled.

See This Film

Seldom has there been seen in Sanford a "movie" which painted a more graphic picture of public corruption and which wrote more indelibly upon the minds of those who saw it the delineation of the vile and brutal methods employed in certain courts of our larger cities in the pursuance of nefarious schemes of graft.

We sometimes hear criticism of the producers for making films which have shady moral plots, which work against the good of the public character, but here is one film which gives a lesson which should be of incalculable value in showing the citizens of the country to what depths of corruption some courts have sunk and in making them realize the necessity of keeping our judicial bodies on a high plane.

This particular picture, "Night Court," now playing at the Millane Theater, reveals the machinations of a corrupt judge in all its naked ugliness. Occupying a judicial bench which provided many avenues to extract tribute from the criminal element of the city, the film shows how he reaped a fat harvest from crooks and at the same time, how he cloaked his activities in demonstrative manifestations of respectability.

As an instance of this, at the very session of court in which the judge was railroaded an innocent mother to jail upon a framed charge of prostitution, he arranged to have an old woman brought before him upon a charge of loitering in front of a restaurant.

Of course the outcome of all his dirty work was as it always is. He was eventually found out and sent to prison through the relentless efforts of the cleaner element of the city, but not until he had committed every conceivable crooked deal and crime, and always with an alibi.

Here is a film which should not be missed, for it teaches a public lesson that every citizen should take to heart and consider well. It is an illuminating commentary on the extent with which graft can undermine our courts and should be a stimulus to the citizens for keeping their judicial bodies above reproach.

Wickersham For Referendum On Liquor Issue

He made entirely clear, as he did his portion of the commission's prohibition report, that such a means of sounding out public opinion should be divorced from politics.

Although he had no opportunity to poll the recent views of other members of the commission, Wickersham said, he knew that several were of similar opinion concerning the public expression on prohibition.

He was asked concerning discussion of the summary of the commission's prohibition report. Opponents of the dry law complained widely at the time that although a majority of the members in their individual reports contended the dry law had missed its mark and should be changed in some fashion, the conclusion of the entire report said:

"The commission is opposed to repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

Here is his answer: "Six of the members felt in varying degrees that prohibition was not a success in its form at that time."

Four of felt that it was not being enforced properly, but that sufficient opportunity had not been given to judge it a failure.

"One member (Newton D. Baker), felt that the whole question should be remitted at once to the states. All were opposed to return of the saloon."

"The summary represented the best view we could obtain from the conflicting opinions."

"A majority agreed that if the amendment was revised it should be made to read that Congress shall have power to regulate or prohibit the manufacture and transportation within the United States."

Wickersham feels now as he did 16 months ago that the commission's dry law investigating was

Out of the door, but surrounded the commission through its prohibition study," he said, "is coming a realization that it really did an immense amount of work outside of prohibition. Not that there is less interest now in prohibition."

"In my travels over the country I find more and more being discussed crime in its relation to social conditions. Letters are coming to me in larger and larger number asking about other phases of the commission's study."

"I am told that some of the printings of various of the reports have become exhausted."

Wickersham has been presiding here at a meeting of the American Law Institute. The gathering, arranged by the largest number of members of the historic commission since it disbanded.

Present in the same hotel at one time or another were Wickersham, Baker, mentioned for the Democratic presidential nomination; Dean Roscoe Pound, of Harvard University; Monte Lemann, New Orleans lawyer who declined to sign the prohibition report; and Frank J. Loesch, of Chicago.

NAVY OFFICER STOPS SERVICE OF SUBPOENA

Dewey Mookini, policeman, was on the spot with the subpoena in his hand. He started to read it to Mrs. Massie.

"I shall report you to your superior officer," Wortman stormed.

"You assaulted me," Mookini retorted.

Wortman thrust Mookini back against the wall while Mrs. Massie reached her station and slipped inside. Mrs. Fortescue followed her.

"Mookini thrust past Wortman, pushed open the door and sought to read the subpoena again."

"The door was slammed in his face. Then Mrs. Fortescue, her eyes blazing, opened the door and came out."

"Will someone go for Mr. Dewey," she asked.

Wortman and Mookini, stood outside the doorway, each accusing the other of taking the offensive.

"Don't you ever lay your hands on me again," Wortman said. "You can't give me orders," Mookini shot back.

"Say sir, when you speak to me!" thundered Wortman.

"Yes, sir, I am entitled to some respect," Mookini said sarcastically.

Massie, who had walked up, meanwhile, was calm. He seemed to have a quieting effect on his superior officer and on Mookini.

"Now that's the fine way to look at it," Mookini said, while Wortman grinned.

President Calls Group To Work On Economy Bill

Behind the compromise tax program to speed its enactment.
The plan is a bold one and unique in Senate procedure. It is to seek adoption of the whole complex tax schedule embodied in the compromise program as a unit.
The tariff items are excluded from this plan. They will be voted upon separately. But what is desired is one vote on the whole tax schedule, income rates, excise rates and all.
Of course, individual amendments will be offered and will be voted upon separately. However, a dominant agreement for the whole tax schedule is hoped for to forestall individual raids.
Night sessions of the Senate are planned and a drive to put the all-important revenue raising bill through that body in a week or 10 days is in the making.
The finance committee meets today to go over the revised bill and it will make a report of the legislation to the Senate immediately.

"The impartial observer and many of the President's own followers cannot understand why such a message was not sent to Congress with his budget estimates in December," McDuffie said "or least with a non-partisan program to save $200,000,000 was presented to the House. Such a message then might have been of great assistance to the President's hind-sight."
"It also happens that the President's statement came quietly after the news was flashed from his home state of California, that more Democrats registered and voted in the primary elections there than ever before in history."

"Could it be that the President's message was designed with the view of discrediting Speaker Garner and the Democratic House?" If so, the country will recall that the slight Democratic majority in the House has cooperated with the Chief Executive in every major proposal for relief of a sorely stricken nation.
"The speaker went so far as to take the floor, an unusual action, and secured a unanimous pledge from the entire membership of the House to balance the nation's budget."
In his statement, Senator Bratton said it should not be forgotten that the treasury deficit was created during the Hoover administration and that "Mr. Hoover took no steps either to increase government revenues or to decrease government expenditures through the present condition of federal finances."
Assenting the President made only "casual suggestions" for economy when Congress convened in December, Bratton said the Democrats immediately sought to bring about reduction in governmental expenditures, and those efforts found little response in any executive department.

He charged the cabinet members opposed the Hoover administration. The Senate on Monday approved the President's budget.

Lecture On Indians To Be Given Daily

Authoritative lectures on the Seminole Indians, their history and customs will be heard at the Seminole Indian Village on the lakefront four times daily at 3:00 o'clock, it was announced today at the offices of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.
The speaker will be W. Stanley Hanson, of Fort Myers, who brought the Indians from the Everglades, and of whom it is said is "The Seminoles' Best Friend." Mr. Hanson has lived with and near the Seminole Indians for the past 20 years or more, and is said to have the confidence and respect of the nearly 600 Seminoles left in this state.
The back-yard of his Fort Myers home contains small buildings which practically every Indian coming to that city from the Everglades, uses during his stay, attesting to the confidence this race of people have in him.
Mr. Hanson will lecture and answer questions daily at 3:00 o'clock, 4:00 o'clock, 5:00 o'clock, and 7:30 o'clock. He invites visitors to the Village to ask him any questions relating to the Seminoles and their way of living.
During the past week, electric lights have been installed in the enclosure containing the Indians' huts, as well as in the huts themselves, and the Village is now open from noon until 9:00 o'clock daily. The Indians will be in Sanford three more weeks, it was announced.
Visitors at the exhibit Friday included more than 100 school children and their parents and teachers from the Grand Avenue School at Orlando. States represented yesterday were: Indiana, New York, New Hampshire, Texas, while Florida cities other than Sanford were DeLand, Orlando, and Benson Springs.

Plea Made For United Methodist Churches

ATLANTIC CITY, May 9. (A.P.)—A plea for united American Methodism with the "North or South" came today from the Methodist Church, South, Bishop Moore, of San Francisco, general superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the Pacific Coast, voiced the appeal.
"Whatever differences of the days gone by, they are now infinitesimal and should be buried in oblivion," Moore said. The bishop whose plea was enthusiastically received declared Southern Methodism is still steadfast against the "light traffic" and would remain united if need be to fight any political party encouraging violation of the Eighteenth Amendment.
