Capital City Army Boosted Ten Thousand

Youths Tramp Back To Barracks For Defense Of Madrid In Spain's War

Strong Insurgent Attack Expected Rebels In New Try For Advancement Near Guadalajara

MADRID, Mar. 10.—(AP) Between 10,000 and 12,000 newly mobilized youths are tramped today to join the defense of the capital threatened by a strong mechanized insurgent army from the northeast. The withdrawal of Government forces to more strategic positions along the Guadalajara-Zaragoza Highway, above Guadalajara, was announced after reports that the offensive had been halted 60 miles northeast of Madrid.

(Advice to insurgent headquarters at Avila said Gen. Franco's Guadalajara columns swept forward 12 miles along the road to Madrid and were within 17 miles of the provincial capital or 40 miles from Madrid.

Insurgent forces—characterized here as "Italians and Spanish" troops—apparently made a new effort to advance on Guadalajara or over toward Brihuega. Government commanders said withdrawals along the North-eastern highway were hampered by a two and one-half-mile retreat by insurgents in the Posobloco sector.

Seminole School Is Beautified By Local FFA Chapter

Approximately 250 plans for the project were furnished by the FFA nurseries here, he said. Chapter members directed and outlined the work which was done voluntarily by students of Lake Mary. Mr. Johnson said the FFA provided 10 concrete benches which were placed on the school campus. Plans are now under way for rough grading of the front yard for the planting of a lawn, Mr. Johnson announced.

The complete part of the program included planting of shrubs and trees on the front and on both sides, according to the FFA advisor.

Cummings Issues Plea To Support Roosevelt's Plan

Public Health Program Urged By Safety Head

Intelligent Interest In Accidents May Halt Death Rate

Recommendation for a larger expenditure on a public health program in Seminole County were made last night by Michael Klay, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in an address before the monthly meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors in session at the Longwood Library. He declared the "unnecessary deaths" from motor accidents, declaring that 100,000 persons—representing a city ten times the size of Sanford—were killed each year in automobile smash-ups and other types of accidents, many of which could be prevented. "Noteworthy progress in public health programs in the United States," Mr. Klay said, has made it possible to show a steady gain in the control of smallpox, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria and other contagious diseases. "It is estimated that expectation of life at birth in the United States in 1800 was only 30 years," he said. "A child born today has a life expectancy of about 61 years."

U. S. Attorney-General Asks Injection Of 'New Blood' Into Nation's Judiciary

Noted Audience Hears Address Asserts America Not Faced With Constitutional Crisis

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(AP) — Attorney-general Cummings pleaded today for the adoption of President Roosevelt's court bill as a means of injecting "new blood" into the judiciary to avoid the "tortured construction" of the Constitution. He made his plea before the Senate Judiciary Committee at the start of hearings on the chief Executive's court reorganization proposals. "The proposed increase in the number of judges is not for the purpose of enslaving the judiciary, nor for the purpose of making it an adjunct of the executive," he said. "Its purpose is to rejuvenate judicial machinery, speed justice and give the courts men of a fresh outlook who will refrain from infringing upon the powers of Congress." Most of the 600 seats in the Senate caucus room were filled by a distinguished audience, many whom heard President Roosevelt last night attribute to the Supreme Court an improper exercise of "super-legislative powers." In a statement he worked on all night, Cummings said: "The Constitution was not intended to be a code of law but was meant to be a general framework in which each generation might work out its problems in an orderly fashion. Many people have been misled into believing that the Constitution is a static, unchangeable document. We are facing not a constitutional but a judicial crisis."

Commissioner DuPre reported that a full-time man had been employed to constantly groom the grounds. The committee is composed of Mrs. Claude Herndon, Miss Leslie Caldwell, Mrs. Sandy Anderson, Mrs. H. H. Herren, Mrs. Marjorie Bran, Mrs. R. E. Enright, Mrs. E. St. Beckey, Mrs. Frank Melich, Mrs. W. H. Timmiff, Mrs. M. Minerick and Mrs. R. B. Wight.

Permit Is Issued For Gas Station On Outer Park Avenue

A $4,000 building permit, for the construction of a filling station on the northwest corner of Park Avenue at Thirteenth Street, was issued today at City Hall. The permit was obtained by Garland W. Spencer, local attorney, who carried on for eight months a successful campaign to open outer Park Avenue to business ventures. Mr. Spencer said this morning that he had not completed plans for beginning construction of the station, although he indicated work would begin sometime in the near future. The building planned is to be of Old English type, a radical departure from the ordinary gasoline station.

Plant Cover Crop, Says Farm Agent; No One Obligated

County Agent C. B. Dawson was distributing bulletins to all Seminole farmers and growers today urging the planting of a legume cover crop as a part of the 1937 Federal Soil Conservation program. He explained that the legume family has the faculty to remove nitrogen from the air and add organic matter to the soil. In the same bulletin, Mr. Dawson set forth that those who "own or rent a farm are eligible to file a work sheet for cover crop payments which are to be made under the 1937 conservation plan." Filing a work sheet, he said, does not obligate the farmer in any way, and is merely a case of getting a payment for performing certain practices on the farm or grove.

WHEN TROUBLE COMES: No one far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.—Psalm 124: 11.

Richmond Lattimore.

He, hum! Another automobile strike. Oh, well, that'll help to keep down the highway accidents.

And now someone has brought out the fact that Premier Mussolini is a vegetarian. And all the time we supposed he lived off lion steaks.

People are funny. Some of us Floridians are worried for fear another boom is coming, and some of us are afraid it won't.

And all these people who for years have sung the praises of our great Constitution, before D. A. R. organizations, Woman's Clubs, at high school exercises, and public gatherings of all kinds, on Constitution Day, what do they think of the Supreme Court controversy?

All these foreigners running over here lately talking about "defense loans," "trade concessions," and whatnot, leads one to believe they are getting worried about something that is going to happen in Europe.

It is estimated that next year there will be three times as many travellers coming to Florida as came this winter. And by that time Spartan too will have a place for them to stop.

That was quite a shock they had out in California Munday morning. Evidently, they had just heard about the President's Supreme Court proposal.

Some people are preaching what a terrible thing it would be for this country to make any money out of another European war, and others are thinking what an awful thing it would be for the war to take place and us not to make anything out of it.

The straw poll conducted by the Orlando Reporter-Star in Orlando shows sentiment there nearly nine to one against picking the Supreme Court. Sentiment throughout the country as a whole, as determined by the national poll of which the Reporter-Star's poll was a part, showed sentiment two to one against the change.

It is unfortunate that the State of New York through its daily almost representation in the Legislature, rejected the proposed Child Labor Amendment, making it extremely doubtful whether this amendment can ever be enacted. If there is any place in the world where the power of the federal government should be increased, it is in the field of child labor particularly with reference to the elimination of work by extremely young children in factories or other places where the environment is not healthful.

But the defeat of the Child Labor Amendment in the State of New York cannot be blamed on the Republicans, "economic royalists," or other friends of privilege. The Democratic controlled lower house went wide open over the broad powers which the amendment would give to the federal government over the control and regulation of every person under 18 years of age and when the vote was taken, 41 Democrats broke with their colleagues to defeat the amendment 102 to 42.

There isn't a shadow of a doubt that the tendency toward dictatorship in this country was a vast contributing influence in causing many New York Democrats to vote against this measure. Many and more Democrats are viewing with alarm the efforts of the federal government to arrogate to itself powers formerly held by the states, and the efforts of the executive branches of the government to usurp powers not only of the states but also of the congressional and judicial branches of the federal government.

As one of the New York assemblymen is quoted as saying: "This amendment gives to some future Congress the authority to pass legislation supervising the activities of our children. Why we don't even know whether there will be a Congress." And as another one said: "No one can tell what will happen if Congress is given this power." The President's efforts to gain control of the Supreme Court also figured in the debates on the Child Labor Amendment.

No sound argument has ever been advanced against legislation prohibiting the labor of children in industry, but it has been argued that this particular amendment, which would give Congress the power to "regulate, and prohibit" the labor of all persons under 18 years of age, could be used by the federal government as authorization for complete dictatorial powers over the religious, educational, moral and physical training and development of the youth of this country.

The desperate efforts of the government to assume control of the economic lives of all its citizens has lent such credence to the charge that Washington bureaucrats are seeking to regiment American children that many of those who are strongly opposed to child labor have actually turned against the Child Labor Amendment. It is regrettable, but none the less true.

Preventing Accidents

More than a hundred thousand persons met death last year by accidents, and not all of these accidents were the results of automobile mishaps. In fact only about one-third of all the accident victims last year died from automobile accidents. Industrial accidents, accidents in the homes and on the farms, transportation accidents, all took their toll.

According to the National Safety Council some 59,000 persons died as a result of accidents which occurred in what is presumably the safest place in the world, their homes. That is actually more than died from accidents on the highways. It is more than twice as many as died in factories and workshops. The reason the home is such a dangerous place is because nobody thinks it is—people are careless there.

Fire is the greatest hazard to the American home. The National Fire Protection Association says that at least one home is attacked by fire every two minutes throughout the entire year in this country. During 1935 there were over 260,000 American homes destroyed, or partly destroyed, by fires which did nearly $100,000,000 worth of damage, and caused nearly eight thousand deaths.

Rules for avoiding accidents in the homes are given by the National Safety Council as follows:

- 1—Provide stairways, especially cellar stairs, with hand-rails.
- 2—Be sure that electric switches are properly placed, so that dry, non-conductive footing is assured and walking in darkened room unnecessary.
- 3—Fasten all rugs on stairways securely.
- 4—Don't wax floors highly. It makes them too slippery.
- 5—Don't permit water to remain in cellar near electric outlet. To do so invites short circuits, possibly fatal shocks.

Rules for eliminating fires in homes including the following:

- 1—Don't smoke in bed.
- 2—Never start fires with kerosene.
- 3—Don't allow paper rubbish to accumulate in cellar, especially near stove or furnace, or in garage.
- 4—Provide your fireplace with heavy screen.
- 5—Beware of home dry cleaning.
- 6—Use fire-retardant materials where practicable, especially where no additional expense is involved, as in roofing. Combustible roofs have caused great percentage of home fires. Fire-retardant roofing materials, such as asphalt shingles and tiles, resist fire.

Unions Decide To Organize Citrus Men

LAKELAND, Mar. 10.—(AP)—The Florida State Federation of Labor laid plans Tuesday for the organization of all citrus workers in the state.

Delegates designated the incoming executive board as the agency to carry out a program for rounding the fruit employes into the union fold.

Unofficially, the convention voted down a resolution seeking compromise with labor unions now under suspension from the American Federation of Labor.

The federation reiterated its demands for legislative support of the child labor amendment and the 36-hour work week, and voted unanimously to support President Roosevelt's court plan here today.

The convention also voted to urge Senator Andrews of Florida to pack the president's plan. Committee reports opposing the poll tax and creation of a civil service board for Florida were adopted, along with a protest against payment of lower than union wages on FWA projects.

Dr. Burton R. Morley, professor of economics of the University of Alabama, says the minimum number of workers to be protected by unemployment compensation in Alabama is 216,000.

Under the patronage of King Gustaf V more than 100 chess players from 25 countries will meet in Stockholm this summer in an international chess congress, the seventh ever held.

A member of the Indiana House of Representatives, Republican Leader Van Meter, today expressed his doubts about President Roosevelt's court plan, as reported in newspaper columns.

"The President says the Supreme Court must be crowded. This is a damned lie," Van Meter said.

"You see, Mr. Roosevelt, you want us to use the word—'crowd'—to describe the Supreme Court. I know, but will you mean for me that you know more than you do, but still you simply want to use the word. If you're going to remain in public life, or to be regarded in the world, you must learn the vocabulary of the lobby. Yes, I understand the simple meaning of words as you use them. Purdue Seeking Development Of Hardest Wheat

Professors Believe Goal Within Reach; Make 14,000 Tests

By PAUL D. S. SHOEMAKER (Associated Press Farm Editor) PURDUE, Ind., Mar. 10.—(AP)—

Seeking to develop an exceptionally hardy breed of soft winter wheat, agronomists at Purdue university believe that after "creating" 14,000 different strains their goal is "within grasp."

Dr. G. H. Cutler, assistant chief of agronomy, settled back in his office chair and described the painstaking efforts to breed a strain which will withstand the sudden winter temperature changes of Indiana and similar areas. The wheat is desired by millers specializing in pastry and cake flour.

Dr. Cutler withheld announcement of when seed of the new strain would be available for farm planting, but experiments, he said, have progressed to where success is assured.

Need for a soft winter wheat which would withstand winter weather became evident at when a 15-year average indicated that one acre in every 11 planted was lost through winter killing. Often this represented the difference between profit and loss to the grower.

Cross breeding was started under the direction of Dr. Cutler in 1920. It was a laborious undertaking, involving not only careful culture, but an elaborate catalogue record of each strain, 10,000 of which already have been discarded.

Dr. Cutler realized he had a job before him. To wait for seasonal weather changes for the experiments after crossing would take months, he had a university green house at his disposal, where spring, summer and winter weather could be simulated. He needed to produce near-zero and sub-zero temperatures to which small wheat plants could be subjected.

For this purpose a "winter weather" refrigerator was constructed inside the green house. With this he and Dr. W. W. Worzella were able to carry on their experiments irrespective of the weather outside.

As of young wheat plants in shallow wooden trays, each having a... different strain, went into the "winter weather." Those able to withstand the "freeze" of perhaps three below zero for 24 hours won tags entitling them to grow to maturity and produce seed for possible future crossing. Less hardy plants went into the discard.

One strain might show exceptional resistance to cold but poor yield. Another might have a fine yield but a tendency to fall over in wind after heading. A cross of these two would be made and so on. Next came field tests under natural growing conditions.

The wheat plant is self-pollinating, and crossing of strains is a comparatively simple operation. A short time before the pistils are ready to shed pollen they are removed from the flowers on a plant to be crossed. The flowers then are covered with a small paper sack. When the pollen from the other side of the cross is ready, it is removed and placed in the shallow wooden trays, each having a...

Buddy Blankenship of Middletown, O., and Edwin "Swede" Martin, of Long Island, N. Y., are the outfielders who will be attached with the Celery City organization this summer.

A number of other youths may be signed up within the near future should they continue to show improvement as they have done during the opening week of the school.

WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING

Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and is especially suited to tender skin. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.

Doctors recommend an oily ointment because it penetrates the outer layers of the skin more effectively. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For over 40 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing.

Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 2, Baltimore, Md.

Highway Safety

By Lewis Wright

"Stop, Look, Listen!" the road sign reads. How often have we heard this familiar admonition expressed by those who are profoundly concerned in our freedom from the dangers constantly lurking on the highways. What is Safety? Safety is the consideration and observance of the rules which are placed before us that we may keep our lives free from harm.

A great number of accidents occur on the highways. Careless or reckless driving invites accidents even when highways and cars are in perfect condition. Nobody knows but as drivers have dependent a machine can be upon the man who runs it. Everything possible has been done to make cars operate as they should regardless of the driver's skill. However, cars can not do a thing except under human control. The driver's ability in the operation of his automobile gives him his desired satisfaction and service out of his car which he expects. The safety of our streets and highways is also dependent on the skill and expertise of the driver behind the wheel.

We are likely to fall into habits of driving that do not measure up to what we really know is right. We should take care in passing cars, especially those which are approaching from an opposite direction. Still most of us have at one time or another attempted to pass a car and wondered if we could safely pass. We should never pass the car in front of us unless we are absolutely certain that there is sufficient passing space and that approaching traffic is not close.

One of the precautions which we must take is that of turning corners and curves. When rounding a curve, we should slow down to a minimum speed for the curve or the force of momentum will overcome the friction of the road and result in the car turning over.

In driving at night we may overdrive our headlights, better our cars speed faster than the point at which we can stop them safely within a limited distance. We do tend to drive slower at night, but we gradually begin increasing our speed until it places us in a good position for a lot of trouble. Although headlights are very bright at night, we can expect to have as good a visibility at night as in the daytime. We should always keep on the watch for pedestrians and vehicles which might suddenly come out of the night. The Federal Highway Commission estimates the number of fatal traffic deaths in 1937 at 2,100. With the suburbs, it is more than 4,000,000.

Crystal Mowry Uses Barntop To Learn Flying; Now Holds World's Records
Miamia, Fla., Mar. 1.—Crystal Mowry, holder of four world air records for women, entered flying by way of the barntop on her father's Colorado farm.

Leaping off the low barn roof with home-made wings that safely carry her, Mowry or her parents, she was a plane for the first time in 1911, and had her first ride with Pilot Eddie Stinson in 1921.

From then on the problem was how to finance flying lessons. Her family would not back her, so she moved to Miami and she found the solution—parachute jumping.

When Crystal asked her father in 1924 to let her "take out" her flying lessons, they laughed. "But how do we know you won't back out on us at the last minute?" they asked when she proposed. "Will you promise not to show us you will jump when the people say to you?" "Yes," she answered. That was the first of about 10 jumps—jumps that sometimes crashed her, but which led her to learning to fly a plane.

'Sea Devils' Meets FLOWER SHOW Fans' Demand For SLATED HERE Thrills, Adventure IN MID-MARCH

More than ever before, action and dramatic pictures are in demand by the film-going public. To satisfy this demand Hollywood is turning out a larger percentage of action pictures.

The latest contender for thrill films is "Sea Devils," a gripping story of the Coast Guard at sea and ashore. Gammed with action, it includes two daring rescues at sea and the demolition of a huge iceberg in the North Atlantic ocean.

The picture was made with the full cooperation of the U. S. Coast Guard authorities, and many of the scenes were filmed aboard one of the finest cutters in the service, the 20-foot turbo-electric "Essex," which is the largest and most powerful cutter in the U. S. Coast Guard fleet.

Another Question About CARDUI

MOTHERS RECOMMEND IT
"Why do so many MOTHERS recommend Cardui to their daughters?"
"Isn't it natural that any good mother should tell her daughters about Cardui if she had been benefited by his medicine? It is impressive that so many women report having taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers. Cardui has been found to benefit women when weakened by malnutrition (poor nourishment) and it helps to relieve much discomfort at monthly periods. Thousands of women testify Cardui helped them. Of course, it does not help you, consult a physician."

Is there anything in the claims of superiority we make in behalf of our Gas? If there is, you lose by not learning the truth for yourself. All we can do is remind you that pure is a Gas that does more, and saves more for those who use it. It will do the same for you.
