THE SANFORD FORUM

“Superior” Nations

In Tokyo a Foreign Office official is quoted as saying that any increase in the size of the United States Navy would be regarded in Japan as an “unfriendly act.”

As we get it, two of the totalitarian nations, Japan on one side of us, and Germany on the other, are already telling us how to run our government.

The warning in both instances is accompanied by the threat of force. As has been the case with the totalitarian governments from their very beginning in their dealings with other nations, they must have their own way, even in internal affairs of others, or else.

This little outburst on the part of Japan and Germany with regard to the size of our Navy and our foreign trade is unimportant in itself, and certainly is not any immediate cause for excitement on our part.

They may never want to go to war against this country, they may certainly never want to send an army across the ocean against our shores, but for that matter they don't want a war with Britain and France.

They probably don't want any territory which belongs to the United States, but it is not inconceivable that they would want our South American trade.

And it might even be that Germany and Japan would like to have some of the surplus products of our fields and factories on their own terms.

Great Britain has long been an active competitor of the United States in the markets of the world.

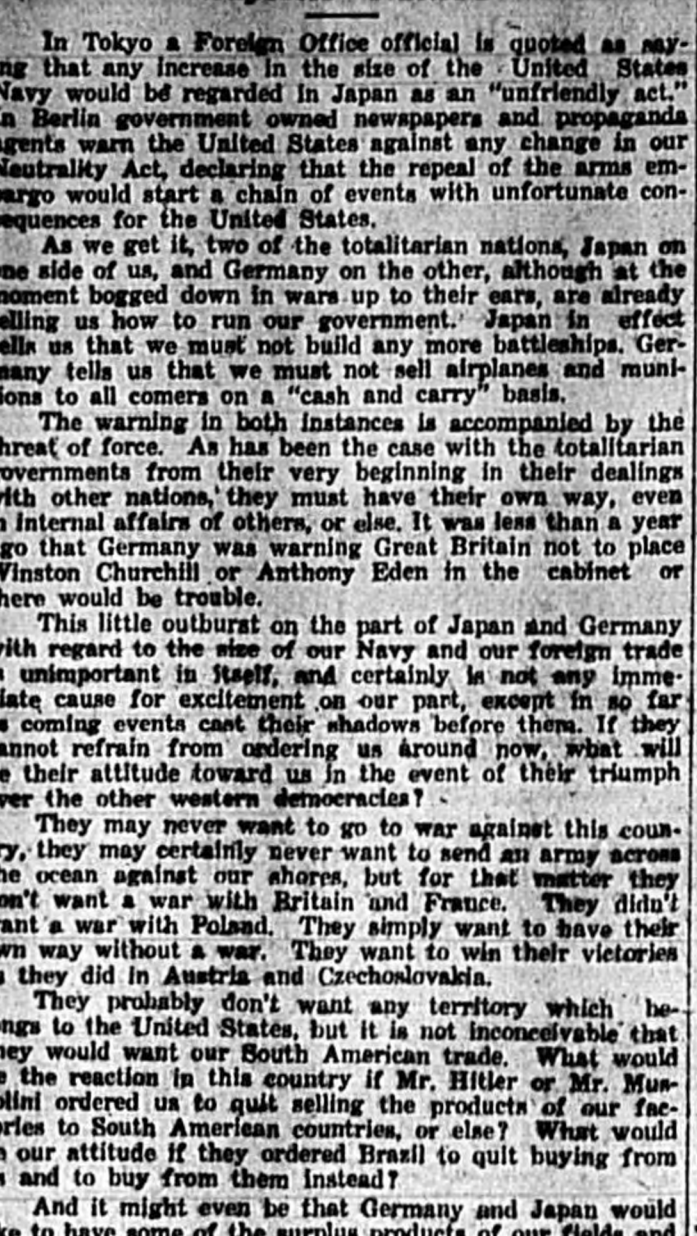

They take what they want because they are “superior.”

Free Publicity

“We are only too glad to back up worthy projects, but if a project is conducted for a profit or if an admission charge is made, we feel that we should have some compensation for our part in publicizing it.”

“The necessity for insisting that paid advertising accompany ‘free’ publicity is obvious. If your grocery store manager were to give away his stock of goods just because you asked him to, he would soon be entirely out of business.”

WONDER WHERE WE'D BE IF LAFAYETTE HAD HAD A MONROE DOCTRINE

Mr. Borah is one of the very few who have any sentiment toward the Neutrality Act. He called it “the law a whole nation approved.”

“We have a Monroe Doctrine,” he said. “It is too bad that band of cut-throats is stealing John's cattle, burning his home, and killing his sons, but it isn't my affair.”

“I think it would be real sweet if someone would make a martyr of Fritz Kuhn. Mr. Hitler and his young Frankenstein could make a song about him. The rest of the Nazi could enjoy the song even if Mr. Kuhn couldn't. I'd like to give the first dime for his monument and write his epitaph.”

EMPLOYERS TO GET QUESTIONNAIRE ON WORKERS INSURANCE

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 21. —Harold C. Wall, chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, announced today that all employers whose insurance under the Workmen's Compensation Act has been cancelled or expired are being mailed a questionnaire to establish their status under the law.

“The commission has instructed Director Robert W. Davis of the Workmen's Compensation Division to investigate the present status of some 4,000 employers who were previously covered by the Act,” Wall stated.

“It is in the interests of every employer in the State of Florida to know the status of his workers under the Workmen's Compensation Act,” Wall said.

“Any liable employer who rejects or elects not to operate under the Workmen's Compensation Act by giving proper notice to the commission as provided under the law may not in any suit brought against him by an employee to recover damages for injury or death, defend such suit on the grounds that the liability was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee, but that the employee assumed the risk of his employment, nor that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow employee.”

Velvet Is Rage Of Season For Evening Gowns

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—When you go looking for your first Fall formal, whether you are sub-debutante or her mother, you will find that the stores are ready for you, with velvets. This, according to Paris forecasts and American designers, is due to be the greatest velvet season in years. The molded flowing lines of the current styles, the feeling for draped effects, the Elizabethan and Edwardian influences in evening modes, the vogue for luxury—all of these have called out an array of finery in so many styles that the choice is pleasantly bewildering.

Several entirely different ideas and silhouettes are rivals for favor in velvet formal at present. Perhaps the most interesting is the dinner or evening suit, combining a short fitted jacket with a formal gown in matching fabric. This makes a most versatile costume that will suit triumphantly through from 6 o'clock on to far into the night, answering equally well for informal restaurant dining, the theater, and for dancing and supper parties later.

The gowns are generally very simple in line, with straps, decolletage, draped-and-fitted bodices, slim waist and swirling floor-length skirt sometimes stiffened at the hem for extra sweep. The jacket may be tailored, with slits at the lapsels and in buttons down the front, or cut with flaring peplum in bustle effect below a tiny fitted waistline. The peplum line accents the back fullness of many of the gowns.

Elizabethan robe de style is equally favored for dinner and evening gowns. Perhaps the most dramatic versions are the regal dinner gowns with long sleeves, fitted from elbow to wrist and puffed high at the shoulders, accented with staid up collars of stiffened white lace that outline deep V necklines, the V line repeated in the cut of the fitted bodice above a billowing skirt. Little frills of lace at the waist, similar to seed pearl and rhinestone embroidery on the lace and hoops at the sides of the skirts are features frequently noted in the picturesque gowns of this type, in both women's and misses' lines.

Girls with pretty shoulders and arms will revel in the evening gowns of Elizabethan inspiration, which repeat the tiny-waist-bouffant-skirt treatment of the dinner gowns but use off-shoulder neck lines, sometimes with tiny puffed sleeves, and mark the decolletage with ermine, brilliant embroidery, or fine lace.

Draped and hooded styles, following the early-season bustle excitement, are heralded by high style savants as the coming fashion. Whether or not many American women will accept a silhouette that focuses attention on the top of the chest—that is giving New York designers considerable pause at present. Up to now the idea has generally proceeded only as far as slim-front skirts with various degrees of bustle treatment at the back, most of them modified considerably since they came over from Paris, all be-ribboned and lace-trimmed, for the sake of the very practical consideration that after all women do sit down in taxis on the way to their most gala parties.

Study Of Meat Before Buying It Will Aid In Preparing Roasts

MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE This year's Fall bride will find it a little more difficult to run her household than most Fall brides of recent years have. For the food market news we read in the wake of the war indicates higher prices; that's sad news for home budgets, and especially budgets for new homes.

Beef is still priced about where it was this time last year, so we'll start with that.

Be sure the lean part is bright red in color, looks glossy, is fine-grained and is elastic to the touch. The fat should be creamy white and distributed throughout the meat, for flavor.

As soon as the meat reaches your kitchen, discard the wrapping, lay it flat in a shallow dish and store it in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

At cooking time, wipe the meat quickly with a damp cloth. Never soak meats in water (except certain cuts with an excess of salt) or buying boneless steak allow about a quarter of a pound to a person; in cuts that have bones, allow half a pound to a person for roasts and stews, one pound usually is ample for three.

Oven roasts require a 300-350 degree temperature. Fifteen minutes a pound is enough for rare; 25 minutes for "medium," 35 for "well done." Start your timing after the roast has been seared. Steaks about an inch thick require 8-12 minutes of cooking (after searing) for "rare," 12-15 minutes for "medium," 15-18 minutes for "well-done." Increase accordingly for thicker steaks.

Workers Hired By Thousands In War Boom

Nation-Wide Survey Shows Industries Expanding Work

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Workers have been called back to factories, shops and mines by ten of thousands in a war-time acceleration of business recovery in the United States, a nationwide survey by The Associated Press discloses.

Heavy backlogs of unfilled orders in steel, shipbuilding, aircraft manufacture, textiles and other industries indicated the possibility that many more thousands might be restored to pay rolls from furloughs and relief lists, business observers said.

From Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Atlanta, Youngstown and other business centers the report pictured a marked back to work, sped by the sudden current of war-buying unleashed two weeks ago on the British-French declaration of war.

Observers agreed that the war conditions appeared to have lent impetus to the recovery trend in evidence several months before the outbreak of hostilities.

Analysis of just how important the war spur has been was obscured in part by the coincidence of the conflict's start with the usual seasonal upturn in business in the United States following Labor Day. But business men said it was apparent a real dent was being made in the some 10,000,000 unemployed.

Counting out any further business stimulus which might be derived from changes in the neutrality act and diversion of foreign commerce from warring countries to the United States, analysts noted that the autumn upswing has taken off from these solid foundations:

1. Estimates of $1,000,000,000 or more in unfilled orders in shipbuilding and aircraft manufacturing industries, where armament and merchant marine business was booming months before Germany invaded Poland.

2. A huge accumulation of orders for forward delivery in textiles rated by some trade sources the largest since the World War I boom years, pictured a marked back to history, derived in part from what trade reports called a "rebound" wave of buying on the war news.

3. The highest level of residential building since 1929, supplemented by evidence of a moderate increase in expenditures for factory and office construction and the prospect that these may increase as available capacity is used.

4. Hastening of capital outlay for utility and rail equipment, both considered large reservoirs of deferred demand.

5. Stimulating in mining, notably iron ore and coal, to meet larger industrial needs and the urge to accumulate stocks as protection against possible war-time prices.

6. An earlier-than-usual production season on 1940 automobiles, felt widely in allied fields.

Citrus Industry To Get Publicity From Colored Film

LAVARES, Sept. 21.—Two Florida speakers with the colored motion picture "Florida's Golden Harvest" are being sent north this fall by the Florida Speakers Bureau, and more than 75 engagements have been made for them in Pennsylvania during October, according to an announcement here today by Karl Lehmann, Secretary of the Bureau.

This film shows many Florida scenic and beauty spots, with interesting views of the Seminole in the Everglades, sponge fishing at Tarpon Springs, deep sea fishing and the Florida Citrus Commission. E. A. DeVore, located in Baltimore, is the only public showing of the sea fishing, etc., while half of the film is devoted to telling the story of the Florida orange from the planting of the seedling

Florida Building Reaches $7,000,000 Total For August

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 21.—Forty Florida municipalities reported a combined building construction total of approximately $7,000,000 last month to give the State a gain of almost $2,000,000 over August, 1938, according to a compilation released today by the research department of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

Wildcats Took Beating Last Year From Skewes/Greyhounds

LONGWOOD, Sept. 21 — Five lettermen and a handful of green rookies will constitute Coach O. H. "Dick" Skewes' Greyhound lineup when he sends his team into action at Winter Park tomorrow afternoon. The game, a Central Florida Conference battle, will be the first game of the year for both teams.

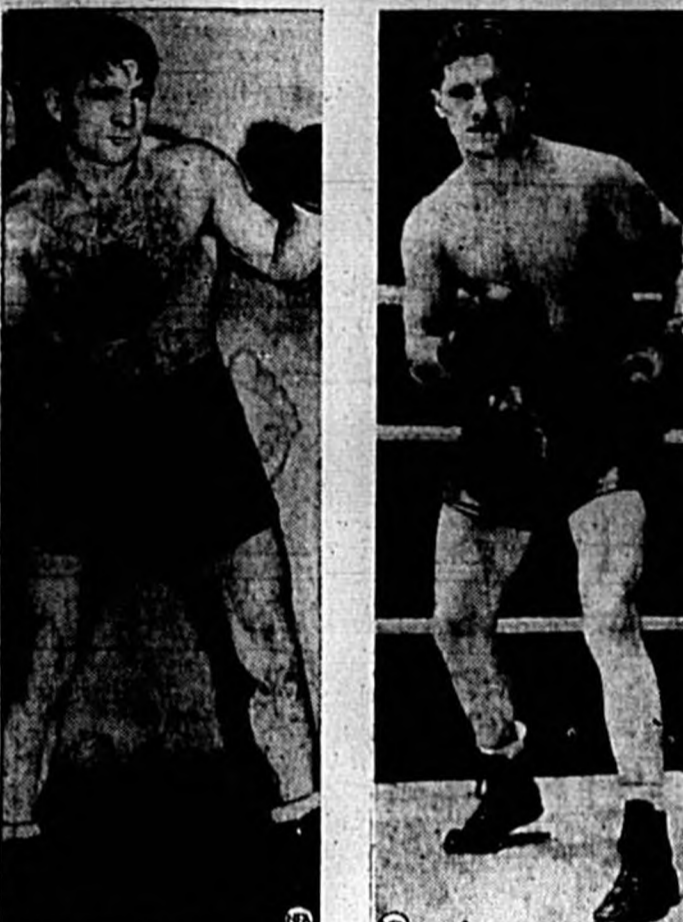

Skewes frankly admits that he had to do a little "recruiting" to get a team together this year, although the recruiting was perfectly legal and aboveboard. Four squad members were obtained by talking boys into coming to school at Longwood, instead of Sanford. Skewes was within his rights, for the Sanford school is out of the Longwood school district and the transfer was approved by Lafayette Golden, secretary of the State Athletic Association.

Skewes has another problem, this time one of religious creed. Because four important squad members are Seventh Day Adventists, the game scheduled for Saturday night must be moved up to Friday night to avoid conflict with the Sabbath of the boys.

The Greyhound mentor is none too optimistic over tomorrow's game for Jim Mobley's Wildcats will remember the upset 9-6 licking they took last year. Skewes will miss Perry Enteninger, his star fullback who transferred to Orlando High this year.

Wallace Smith, 165, the man Skewes had groomed to replace Enteninger was missing from yesterday's practice out with an injured leg. Whether he will be ready in time for action is problematical.

That is the way his first team lines up at present: Forward, 140; LE; Van Horn, 155, LT; Robert

Joe Louis Cuts Bob Pastor Down In Eleventh Round After Tough Battle

By SID FEDER
BRIGGS STADIUM, DETROIT, Sept. 21 (AP)—Alfons just about all of the fire and fury that has chopped down his most recent opponents mercifully, but still packing dynamite in his fists, Joe Louis knocked out Bob Pastor in 11 rounds last night to retain his world's heavyweight championship.

But he was no longer the Brown Bomber, the dusky destroyer who dynamited Max Schmeling, John Henry Lewis and Tony Galento so completely.

He had Pastor on the floor four times in the first round from right hand punches, and again in the second the former New York University footballer was on the floor of another knockdown. Two occasions Bob was badly hurt. Yet each time the knockout spark was lacking. Joe was slow to take advantage of the opportunities secured after the knockdowns.

He rose to his feet at the count of four, but couldn't go any farther. There he huddled two legs hanging and blood dripping from a cut over his left eye, as Referee Sam Hennessy counted the full 10 over him, finishing at the 38 second mark of the round to give Louis the eighth success since he took it from Old Jim Braddock in 1937.

In his dressing room later Pastor said he "didn't see the punch coming."

"My eye was full of blood," he explained, "and I was blinded. The punch paralyzed me and I don't know anything until I heard the referee count nine."

Bob climbed on the "bicycle" again this time, just as he backed pedaled in his first fight with Louis in '37, but last night he came forward time after time to throw short lefts to the face and to land once or twice with a right hand.

With this bout past, Louis looks forward to a return match with Tony Galento, who gave him a lot of trouble for three rounds last June. This fight is scheduled for next summer. Promoter Mike Jacobs indicated he may give Pastor another crack at the champion.

CHALKING 'EM UP

With CHARLIE CHALKER

As usual the National League pennant race has developed into a dog fight. This is always true. Never does the American League battle rate the name "dog fight." It is a case of a runaway nine out of ten times in the younger circuit but in the National there is always a hot scramble for the bit of bunting called a "pennant."

The Reds are having a tough struggle to prove their right to the loop championship. Yesterday they were but 2 1/2 games ahead of the flying Cardinals. A couple of bad days for the Reds and a couple of good ones for the Cards and the entire complexion of things may be changed.

The only surprising thing about Joe Louis' victory over Bob Pastor was that Joe couldn't catch up with Bob until the eleventh round. And that wasn't very surprising. One thing you can say for Bob is that he moves almost as fast backward as Joe does forward.

Press dispatches emanating from Gainesville indicate that the Gators haven't been looking so fine in practice the past few days. And with their first game at the season slated with Stetson Saturday night they'd better be in trim unless they want a repetition of last year's 10 to 14.

Roosevelt Says Un-

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Twenty leading Democratic senators voted unanimously today in favor of limiting legislation at the special session to neutrality.

A joint meeting of the Democratic steering and policy committees, headed by Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky, adopted a resolution stating that "legislation at this extraordinary session of Congress should be limited to the purposes for which the President called it."

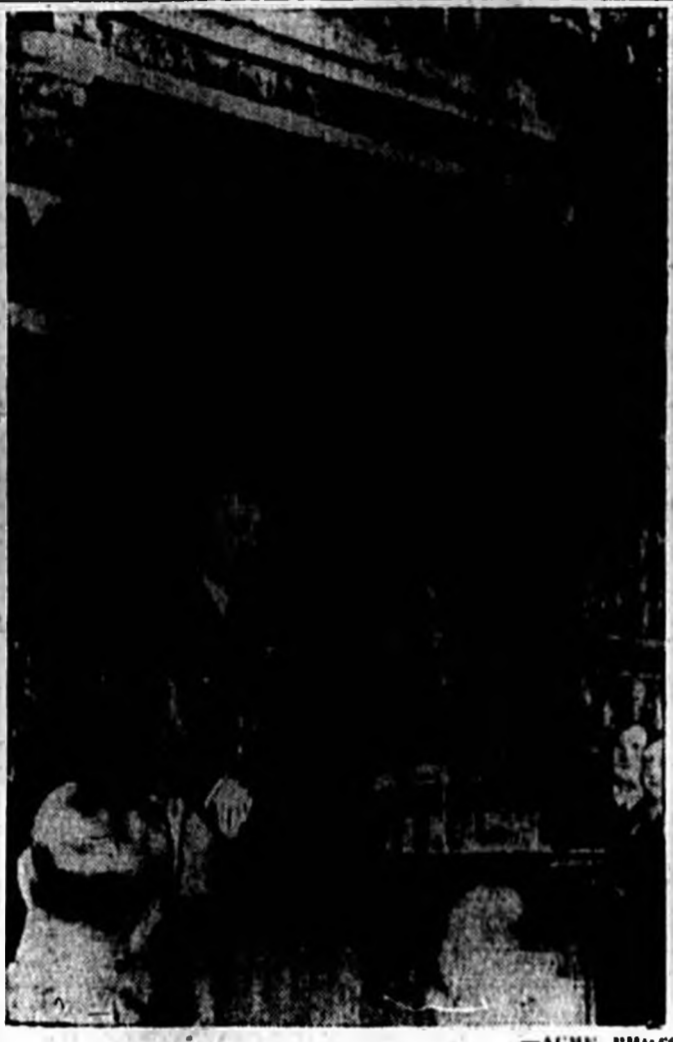

Barkley said the meeting was "very harmonious," and added there has been no discussion of the merits of various neutrality proposals, including Roosevelt's recommendation that the existing arms embargo be repealed.

The President said today he received a huge stack of telegrams about his neutrality address yesterday.

"A tabulation," said Secretary Farley, showed that with the exception probably of eight or ten, all members of the Democratic Caucus received a huge stack of telegrams about his neutrality address yesterday.

Holler said that the outlook for the fair is optimistic and predicted an early return of the nation to normalcy after several years of depression.

Mr. Holler stated that Canadian agents attending the party, expressed concern over the "war clauses" which must be written into all policies sold in Canada while a state of war exists. He pointed out, however, that these clauses would be inserted in the U. S. policies until a state of war is declared to exist in this nation.

No detailed plans for the Shrine centennial were made at last night's meeting, but President Weinstein said that plans have already been made for the attendance of the Shrine band of the Morocco Temple in Jacksonville as well as the uniformed bodies of that temple, comprising a delegation of approximately 75.
