Resident Warns Against Water

Casselberry resident Mrs. Mabel Griffin appeared before the Board of Aldermen Monday night, read a water service contract from the Casselberry Utilities Co. and warned the overflow audience against drinking the water.

Mrs. Griffin, who said that she was hospitalized seven years ago from drinking the water, advised that county analyses of its contents were not adequate and that a group of residents of the town are paying for a thorough examination and analysis.

She reported that recently the water was so thick at her neighbor's house it stopped up the kitchen sink and that a sample jar taken at the time now is frothing with chemical action.

Company officials at a recent meeting stated that they were just as concerned over the water conditions as the residents were and that an engineering survey was being made to see what is needed to correct the situation.

A raise in water rates asks some months ago by the company and under consideration since by the board officials, Monday night was requested dismissed by Alderman Paul Bates, new chairman of the board.

According to Paula, in order to vote or qualify in this first election over to be held in the village, residents must be of legal age, must have lived in the state for at least one year and in North Orlando for at least six months.

No qualifying fees will be charged, the mayor announced. Those seeking the posts may qualify through petition bearing the names of at least 10 registered voters. Qualifying dates were set from Feb. 16 through Feb. 28 between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. at the Village Hall.

Mayor registration was set for the same location and for the same hours from Feb. 1 through Feb. 28 and from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. on Feb. 16 through Feb. 28.

Auto Tags To Be On Sale In DeBary

DeBary residents may purchase their 1962 automobile license plates at the DeBary Chamber of Commerce office on Jan. 18.

The office, located next door to the post office in DeBary Plaza, will sell the tags between the hours of 9 a. m. and noon.

Civic Group To Form Committee For Registering Village Voters

By Mona Grinstead
The North Orlando Civic Assn. Monday night appointed Henry Ward to head a "watchdog committee" for getting people to register in order to vote in the March elections when two members of the council will be elected.

It was suggested that the association also be responsible for handling night registrations for the convenience of working residents.

Ward, who suggested that the group sell auto safety belts as a money raising project, also was appointed to investigate details of sponsoring such a sale and report at the February meeting. A treasury total of $31.03 now stands in the funds according to a report from Dave Tilson, treasurer, who also advised that $1.22 of the sum remains from the annual Christmas party.

Mrs. Mary Rowell, representing the North Orlando Garden Club Beautification Committee, approached the Civic Assn. for help in selling fertilizer during the month of March. The club and association will split the profits from the door to door sale when the men will help by driving and delivering and the women will sell.

She also advised that the Beautification Month of April will be sponsored by the club and the association.

In view of the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riddley which was read by President Woody Anderson, Mrs. Mona Grinstead was appointed as acting secretary to replace Mrs. Riddley until elections can be conducted.

Tilson, who was appointed historian for the group asked that members contribute any news clippings or pictures they might have saved since the association has been organized.

It was decided to wait until the North Orlando Co. Sales Office is moved from its location on North Orlando Blvd. before making any further plans for its renovation as a civic building for the community.

The matter of police protection in the village was discussed with Tilson reporting that he has offered his services, his time, his gas and his automobile as a volunteer to Mayor Frank Fasula and that others have done the same without any results.

Leeper, arts; Mrs. Dee Anderson, home management; Mrs. Ed Fitzgerald, foods; Mrs. Ray Wright, clothing; Mrs. Charles Lamb, health and Mrs. Wilbur Nolon, safety.

DeBary Legion Completes Drive For Members

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBary Herbert D. Gibb American Legion Post has completed one of its most successful membership drives according to Fred McLaren, first vice commander.

Workers were divided into four competing teams with the Air Corps headed by G. Fred Smith, past commander; The Marines headed by Edward Patterson, the Army by Nicholas Kahoe and the Navy by Thomas Lawton.

At the close of the January meeting the scores showed 130 renewals, 23 new members, nine transfers and four applications in process.

Commander William Brumbaugh has announced that the 100 per cent quota of 129 members was reached ten days before the drive deadline with team scores showing 116 for the Air Corps, 34 for the Marines, 17 for the Army and four for the Navy.

Individual scores showed 93 for Smith, 22 for Patterson, 12 for Alfred Newell, 12 for Past Commander Fred Kammerer, 10 for Harry Lyons, nine for P. L. Walston, six for Thomas Lawton, five for Nicholas Kahoe and two for Earl Walker.

First honors go to Smith who not only led his team to first place but also had the highest individual score. Awards will be presented at the "Legion Birthday" meeting scheduled for March 1.

Wayfarers Install Officers

By Mrs. Adam Muller
New officers of the DeBary Wayfarers were installed at a 2 p. m. meeting of the group on Monday at the Community Center by Rudolph Tiedemann as the presiding official.

Taking office were Howard Paine, president; Clarence C. Shaffer, vice president; Frank Stone, recording secretary; Howard Y. Middleton, financial secretary and John H. W. Geerts, treasurer.

Paine, elected for his second term, appointed Robert Henderson as his liaison officer. Three year directors will be Frank M. Stone and Harry F. Rose and district representatives will be Stone, George W. Nichol, three; Ralph Witherell, four; Glenn Smith, five; W. Earl Brumbaugh, six; Joseph W. Rieger, seven which is Orange City and William W. Hogue for the DeLand district.

Carlson Named Board Chairman In Longwood

R. C. Carlson, except for his own vote was unanimously re-elected chairman of the Longwood City Council at the first meeting of the new board last Thursday night.

In accepting the job, Carlson expressed his appreciation, thanked the council members for their vote of confidence and touched briefly on the fact that Longwood always had operated with a spirit of cooperation, harmony and dignity which he said "seems to be a rare occurrence these days."

Voting Powers To Bring Legal Opinion

A written legal opinion was requested by the Casselberry Board of Aldermen Monday night after the question came up on voting powers of the board officials concerning any issue which involves them in any capacity other than as an elected officer of the town.

The matter first came under discussion when the appointment of Cliff Overman as the town's building inspector came to a split vote after the name of Don Clark had been submitted for the job by Alderman John Lady.

Overman and George Howard, newly installed members, approved the appointment while Lady and Mrs. Hope Bennett voted for Clark.

Although the original recommendation of the new mayor, Carl Stoddard, was approved by the decision of Chairman Paul Bates, Overman's vote on the matter in which he was directly involved was questioned by Ed Lunn from the audience.

Later in the meeting the same question resulted when a letter, written by Lunn, after the December meeting, questioned Bates' participation in deciding on what the Fire Dept.'s boat equipment should be titled. Lunn pointed out that in addition to serving as alderman, Bates also is the town's fire chief and therefore should have refrained from voting on the issue.

Attorney Kenneth McIntosh when consulted, advised that in view of the question's prevalence during just the one meeting a survey and written legal opinion perhaps was in order.

VFU Women To Meet Today

The South Seminole VFW Auxiliary Post #307 will meet today at 8 p. m. at the Women's Club on Overbrook Dr. in Casselberry.

President Irene March advises the members that 1962 dues are overdue. The Auxiliary helped make Christmas a little brighter for four families with gifts of toys, groceries and clothing. This project was in charge of Mrs. Lois Howard, chairman of community service and Mrs. March.

The annual gift of money was sent to the Lake City Veterans' Hospital to be used for the Christmas Party. Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and Mrs. Ralph Tilson made a trip to Lake City just before Christmas to take the veterans candy, cookies, clothing, fruit, lap robes, scuffles and many other items supplied by the Post and Auxiliary.

Varied Agenda Meets Longwood Council

The Winter Park Telephone Co. agreed to give separate lines to Longwood City departments after the City Council publicly protested the telephone service last month. The City Hall will be put on a two party line and the fire and police departments will be allowed to keep the present line according to Mayor A. R. Lormann who made the report at last week's council meeting.

However, Longwood now is circulating a petition protesting service given to business houses which share lines with residential listings.

Councilman John Reams brought the matter before the board pointing out that service on his line sometimes is tied up for hours whereas if businesses were grouped together conversations probably never would run more than five minutes at a time.

In other business of the meeting the council ordered street lights to be placed at the intersections of Reams Ave. and Longdale and at Hamilton Ave. just north of Carlson in the Longdale First Addition. The lighting committee also was authorized to see what could be done about relocating the light at Marvin and E. Lake.

Action on new water rate schedules was delayed until the attorney prepares an ordinance; a "Dead End" street sign was okayed for the corner of East Ave. and Lynn Dr.; paving was accepted on certain portions of Longdale Ave. and Selma Ave. in Longdale and the purchase was okayed for two water hydrants from R. D. Wood at a cost of $112.45 each.

It was reported that Attorney Webber Haines has been authorized to start proceedings for collecting delinquent taxes and that he will be instructed to file liens against residents who have not paid their Church St. paving assessments.

According to Council Chairman R. C. Carlson only an estimated 60 per cent of 1961 taxes have been collected.

Owner Terms Area 'Blight To County'

The town of Casselberry through technicalities and restrictions of commercially zoned property along Hwy. 17-92 Wednesday lost its chance of getting the first taxi business to locate in South Seminole County.

Gene Cherry of Miami who sought to open the business in conjunction with a small used car lot said "I consider the area in question to be a blight to Seminole County. Under no circumstances would I bring my family to reside in the town."

"In an attempt to offer a public service to the town of Casselberry, I have encountered opposition that would appear to be improper and illegal. Is this the picture the citizens of Casselberry would like to have their public officials offer to prospective businessmen and residents?"

Cherry appeared before the Casselberry Board of Aldermen at a meeting Monday night seeking a zoning variance in order that the business might include its own repair shop. He explained that if the variance met with approval, he would buy the G. W. Dillon property which is located on the highway across from the Casselberry Community Methodist Church.

Although advised by Attorney Kenneth McIntosh that his appeal should first have been made to the town's zoning board, the aldermen did not rule Cherry out of order and also allowed legal counsel for an adjoining property owner to state his client's objections.

Cherry, after the second warning from the attorney, thanked the board and reminded that there already is a "parrot shop and an antique shop located along the street and if that is the kind of businesses you want along this fast growing and busy highway, then I'd better forget the whole thing."

Cherry said Wednesday that on Tuesday evening he took the matter to E. H. Zibell who was appointed chairman of the zoning board Monday night by the new mayor, Carl Stoddard. He said that Zibell advised him that he knew nothing of the appointment and would not accept the chairmanship.

Cherry said he then went to the mayor and was advised that E. J. Mower would serve as chairman of the zoning and that when he went to Mower, the request already had been turned down, signed, sealed and ready for delivery. When questioned, Mower admitted that he was not familiar with the property, its restrictions or the nature of the variance request, Cherry said.

Zibell confirmed his refusal to accept the zoning board job to a Herald reporter Wednesday morning however, within an hour, he telephoned and reworded his statement to say that "he would hold off until the next board meeting."

Support Needed

The Lockhart Volunteer Fire Dept. which services much of Seminole County running through the Bear Lake area to SR 436 is in urgent need of support from the residents it aids in time of emergency.

In order to complete the fire station and add needed equipment, the firemen have asked a $5 fee per residence . . . a small price to pay for so great a protection.

The men now are in the process of adding a roof to the station and in order to add to funds for the project they are planning to present a play, "The Womanless Wedding," on Jan. 19 and Jan. 20 at the Lockhart Chamber of Commerce Building. The all-male cast will be taken from the ranks of both the Volunteers and the local Lions Club and only nominal charges will be asked from adults and children.

Plan now to attend and support a worthy cause . . . you.

Members Needed; Evans Tells C Of C

By Frances Wester
A strong organization is needed to get things accomplished. Frank Evans told those attending the January meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night as he stressed the need for a membership drive at this time.

The people of the community must pull together to accomplish any purpose and we must get more members if we are to be a true representative of this community, Evans said. He spoke of past work of the organization and continued by pointing out several new fields of endeavor which could be undertaken by the group for the benefit of the entire area.

Harry Smith proposed that each present member appoint himself a committee of one to get another membership instead of leaving the task to a committee, at the February meeting, at the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thompkinson were welcomed back to the community and to the C of C by Case. Thompkinson, a former president of the Lake Mary organization, served in the post for three years.

AARP Field Director Speaks At Meeting Of DeBary Chapter

David Jeffreys, director of field operations for the American Assn. of Retired Persons, was guest speaker at a meeting Monday morning of the association's DeBary Chapter.

Meeting in the Community Center, the DeBary group heard Jeffreys' report on activities at a national level. He advised that AARP groups now are operating at a capacity scale and that a committee on a national level are working with the American Medical Assn., the Federation of Women's Clubs, the CIO and with the Government through Welfare, Social Security, Treasury and Food and Drug Administration departments.

Jeffreys reported that recently it was brought out in Washington, D. C., that a number of aged citizens are being subjected to quacks and that the AARP intends to make an investigation into deals being offered by these unprincipled persons. The labor situation also is under consideration since many of the association members would like part time work, the official said.

He advised that the AARP has regular lobbyists working closely with Government who keep tabs on all bills pertaining to the aged on national and state levels.

He reported that the association has Norman Mason as consultant for housing for the senior citizens and that it now has the full-time services of Miss Pat Mower as director of public relations.

Jeffreys introduced Mrs. Julia S. Dyke of St. Petersburg who is field representative for the State of Florida and will operate Hospitality House in St. Petersburg.

Announcement was made of the Feb. 23 closing date for applications under the AARP insurance plan, Seymour Zelnick will speak to the DeBary group on the plan at a meeting in the Community Center at 10 a. m., Feb. 17.

BROKEN VOWS

A Vow
Is A Serious Thing

Our promise and your performance reveal the quality of your soul.

A promise will make a friend but performance will keep him. Are you keeping your marriage vows, your vows to your church or synagogue? When you make vows to God, do you keep them or do you go AWOL on Him? "When thou shalt vow a vow unto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slack to pay it, for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee." Faithful performance of good vows strengthens character, honors God and makes a better citizen.

Cross Makes Difference

Perhaps more people realize, during the time of war, what the Cross means than at any other time. In any time of crisis we are forced to rely on someone larger than ourselves and are not ashamed to admit it.

In the early part of World War II an incident happened that illustrates this in a very emphatic way.

A unit of the American Army was quartered in an English castle however, they were not living a plush life by any means. The castle was extremely old and was in a state of disrepair that would prevent it from being useful for ordinary human occupancy. It did help immensely in housing the army unit, with its great halls and other large areas of covered space.

Within the castle there was a small chapel as was the custom of its day of habitation. The chapel was much better preserved than the remainder of the castle and when it was cleaned it was found to be an exquisite example of architecture. It contained beautiful mosaics, jewel-like stained glass windows, and an altar of white marble which was trimmed in gold. Strangely enough, two golden candle sticks were still there, however, no cross was to be seen. Certainly one could not imagine such a setting of worship without a cross. The place was attractive to the men as a place of beauty but this was about all.

South Seminole Officials Meet

The first annual stockholders meeting of the South Seminole Bank was held at that institution's new facilities in Fern Park. A. G. Bush, chairman of the bank's Board of Directors, presided at the meeting which was attended by almost 100 stockholders. In presenting the report of operations for the bank's first six months, Bush revealed that year-end deposits of the bank totaled $3,007,034.79, with total resources at over three and one-half million dollars. He further stated that this represents 2,392 individual savings and checking accounts, or an average of 397 new accounts per month since the bank opened for business on June 26, 1961.

The staff of the South Seminole Bank has been increased from five to 11 since opening day in order to handle this volume of business. Special appreciation was expressed to the bank's active employees for their loyalty and tireless effort in bringing efficient banking to the South Seminole area during this period of rapid growth and business development. Several stockholders were equally strong in their praise, according to comments made throughout the meeting.

Blood Bank Schedules Visit At Church

The Holy Name Society of Altamonte's St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 7 a. m. Sunday Mass.

Also on Sunday the Blood Bank Unit will be on the church grounds following each mass to receive blood donations. Members of the Women's Guild will provide refreshments for nourishment of all those giving blood.

Lake Mary Youths Plan For Retreat

Plans for the Young Peoples Retreat to be held at Lake Placid in February were introduced and discussed by Rev. John W. Pilley at the meeting of the Westminster Fellowship group at the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary, Sunday night.

Craft Club Gives Gifts To Officers

Former officers of Chuloc's Hobby Craft Club received gifts of appreciation from the members during the January meeting held at the Lake Catharine Inn.

A full attendance was present for the installation of officers and following luncheon. New members accepted were Sophi Kosti and Evelyn Muehle.

Kampus Klub To Sponsor Evening Concert

By Shirley Wentworth

A concert featuring Rosa Rosazza, baritone, and John Carter, pianist will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday in the auditorium of Forest Lake Academy.

Sponsored by the Kampus Ladies Klub with a nominal admission charge, the concert is open to all residents of the area wishing to hear the fine voice of this young American baritone.

Rosazza has been hailed both in America and in Europe as one of the finest singers of this generation. A major portion of his musical education in America was received at Westminster Choir College where he was baritone soloist of the famed Westminster Choir for three years.

He was the first American singer to be granted a Fulbright Award for the study of French repertoire. In 1950 he made his debut in Paris and drew excellent press notices. Everywhere he has appeared, he has received wide acclaim.

Rosazza and Carter this year are celebrating 10 years of performing together as a concert ensemble. Both are professors of music at Rollins College.

Mrs. Grace Duval Dies At Oviedo

Mrs. Grace E. Duval, 91, died at her home in Oviedo at 2:30 a. m. Thursday. She was born in Pawpaw, Mich., Aug. 15, 1870 and had made her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Malcolm in Oviedo for the past 35 years.

Mrs. Duval was a member of the Oviedo Methodist Church. Survivors are the one daughter, Mrs. Malcolm; one son, H. F. Duval, Clearwater, and one brother, C. F. Guernsey, Milton.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. today at Brison Funeral Home, with the Rev. Ben Blackburn of Oviedo officiating.

Mrs. Lida Stall Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Lida Hill Stall, a resident of 305 Park Ave. in Sanford, died early Thursday morning at Seminole Memorial Hospital following a short illness.

A native of Erie, Ill., she had lived here for the past 21 years, was a member of the First Baptist Church of Sanford and of the Wesleyan Bible Class of the church.

She is survived by a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Caroline G. Hill of Bethlehem, Pa.; two grandchildren, Robert L. Hill of Heliertown, Pa., and Mrs. Ellen Hill Jones of Van Nuys, Calif.; and six great grandchildren.

P-TA Meeting Postponed At Lyman

The Lyman Parent-Teacher Assn. has postponed its meeting originally scheduled for next Tuesday night due to the basketball game and dedication of the new gymnasium to be held at that time.

Church Meet

The Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church of Lake Mary will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. next Thursday. All members are urged to attend and the Royal Ambassadors also are invited.

Castro Refugee Leaves 'Future' To Flee Reds

A man who prefers to work as an assistant laboratory technician instead of being president of the University of Havana lives in Sanford today.

Dr. Jose Osirio, former dean of the college of agriculture of the University of Havana and former director of the museum of zoology and entomology, which he founded in 1934, now works as assistant to Dr. J. F. Darby, plant pathologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station.

After the Communist government of Fidel Castro took over, Osirio was offered the job as president of the university but he only wanted to get himself and his family out of the country, so he proscribed for many months, finally obtaining a permit to leave Cuba for study in the U. S. The Osirio family fled, leaving behind them their four bedroom home, automobile, furnishings and possessions and an orange grove, all of which they owned, which were immediately confiscated by the government.

In Havana, Dr. Osirio taught general and economic entomology and pathology as well as micro-biology. When he first came to this country he obtained a job with a chemical company, but it later went out of business.

Dr. Darby had met Dr. Osirio at a plant pathologist meeting in Miami, and knowing of his situation, when a job opened here he wrote and offered him the position, which Dr. Osirio accepted.

During the Christmas holidays, Dr. Osirio, his wife and their four children moved to Sanford. Being without possessions of any kind, they found that private Sanford citizens were willing to share of what they had, and a generous supply of furniture, household equipment and supplies soon was accumulated, to provide the Osirio family with all they might need for the home which was found for them.

The Osirio children, who are now enrolled in Sanford schools, say that they prefer school here to Miami, where they had to spend all their class time, translating for the English speaking teacher and the Spanish speaking children. The Osirio children speak English fluently, except for four year old Virginia. The other children are 10 year old Mike, 14 year old Jose Jr. and 16 year old Victoria.

All of them are happy to be in Florida and say that they like this country very much, and will make their home here. Dr. Osirio wished his children to be raised in this country, he says.

Lake Mary To Get CD Course

The second Personal Survival Course for residents of the Lake Mary area has been announced. Classes will open at 7 p. m. on Feb. 6 at the Lake Mary Elementary School with Tom Richey serving as instructor.

According to Seminole County Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr., registration for this class will go back to the old limit of 25 persons. Word has been received from the state that additional funds are being made available for this county and the local CD office has asked for 10 classes which will bring the county's total to number 27, Peterson said.

Registration for the Lake Mary classes may be made by calling the school at FA 2-5218 or the CD office at FA 2-6189. Organizations or groups wishing to sponsor a course may arrange it through the defense office.

White Attends Services For Brother

L. E. White of Sanford has returned home from Pelham, Ga. where he attended the funeral of his brother, Cecil White, who died Saturday in Lakeland. Mr. White was well-known and had many friends in Sanford.

White is survived by another brother, Roy Lee of Winter Haven, a sister, Mrs. J. D. Stephens of Pelham, a daughter, Mrs. Jim Rich of Jacksonville and two grandchildren.

the Jaycees what would happen here, Osirio said that the first thing was being constantly watched, spied on, listened to, never knowing who were the Communists.

The university, formerly made up of over 20,000 students, now has only 2,000 students, and only operates part-time, Dr. Osirio stated.

He said that he did not accept positions offered to him in Costa Rica and Colombia, because these countries have already been infiltrated by the communists and will soon have revolutions of their own.

Asked what the U. S. could do to influence South America, Osirio said that the U. S. should use much more propaganda in South America. He also has a hope that one day a free university for Latin American students will be established, where they can be trained, educated, taught in democracy, to return to their own countries and provide democratic leadership.

DR. JOSE OSIRIO, former dean of the college of agriculture at the University of Havana, is shown here as he was welcomed to the meeting of the Sanford Jaycees, by President Garnett White. He is accompanied by Dr. J. F. Darby of the Central Florida Experiment Station. From left are Dr. Darby, Dr. Osirio and White. (Herald Photo)

Dr. Joe Tolle, superintendent of the DeLand Methodist District, will be guest speaker at Grace Methodist Church for Sunday evening services.

Lyman Students Attend Clinic

By Jane Casselberry
Representing Lyman High School at the All-State Florida Music Education Clinic held last weekend in Miami were Mrs. Dorothea Benson, director, and Darlene Shea, Dawn Barnes, Gloria Lovell, George Lewis and Lemmie Hoover of the Vocal Dept. and Michael Fisher, bandmaster, and Johnny Wagner of the Lyman Band.

Dawn, Darlene, Gloria and Lemmie sang with the 600 voice concert chorus made up of students from all parts of the state and George sang in the 185 member sightreading chorus. John played the saxophone in the sightreading band.

While attending the clinic, the group stayed at the Miami Colonial Hotel. The Lyman High School Choralaires now are in rehearsals for their forthcoming musical comedy production, "Mr. Crane from Sleepy Hollow." This program, a modern musical version of the story of Ichabod Crane and the Legend of Sleepy Hollow, is scheduled for Feb. 17.

Civic Group Is Planning Fire Service

Tentative plans were begun for a Volunteer Fire Dept. at Monday night's meeting of the Forest City Civic Assn., according to Allen Forward, president of the group.

Forward said that the matter will come under further discussion at the next meeting on Feb. 5 and urged that all members and representatives from all districts try to attend. Meetings of the association are held at 8 p. m. each month in the Forest City Baptist Church.

United Citizens Set Meeting

The United Citizens of Casselberry will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Bill and Isabel Taylor at 1437 Lakeshore Dr. Plans for the coming year will be discussed during the business and social event.

Parents Asked To Watch Youths Until Playground Is Completed

By Mona Grinstead
Mayor Frank Fasula announced at Tuesday night's North Orlando Village Council meeting that parents would be responsible for all children in the recreation area until it is completed and Bill Donofrio, volunteer director, takes over.

It was reported that benches in the area already have had to be repaired and one resident advised that pre-teen youngsters have been climbing the basketball standards, the wire guard in back of the tennis court and walking the roof of the shuffleboard court.

Fasula suggested that perhaps the North Orlando Civic Assn. might like to "keep an eye" on the area until it is completed as one of the association's projects to aid the community. Stewart Helmsly suggested that sawdust instead of grass be put in the fenced in area for the pre-school children.

The mayor also advised that owners of the North Orlando Shopping Center on North Orlando Blvd. have reported that the business will be ready to open within four to six weeks.

A representative of the North Orlando Home Demonstration Club informed those present that all women of the county have been invited to attend an open meeting sponsored by the HD County Council when the program will be on Social Security. The meeting will be held at the HD Center, 401 E. 25th St. in Sanford beginning at 10:30 a. m. next Thursday and those attending will be invited to remain for a covered dish luncheon followed by an afternoon program.

The club spokesman also advised that the next meeting of the village group would be held on Jan. 25 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of President Mrs. Beverly Kreeck with State Representative Gordon Frederick as guest speaker. Mrs. Kreeck has stated that so long as the club meetings are held at her home, children will be welcomed to attend with their mothers.

Recognition will be given families with the largest number of generations represented, those with 100 per cent attendance and the largest single family present.

During the past week Ebenezer members have been placing emphasis on daily prayer for peace using as their text, "Prayer, Our Strength," from the weekly issue of "The Upper Room."

This week, also, at the 6:30 p. m. Sunday meeting of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, parents have been invited to join in devotions, discussions, recreation and refreshment and to hear the guest speaker, Dr. Zuniga, a dentist who recently escaped from Cuba.

On Thursday of next week a combined meeting of the Commissions on Education and Evangelism has been scheduled at the home of R. J. Turner for 7:30 p. m.

Resigned To Utopia

Occasionally we in the United States get a chance to put in a little truer perspective the bright claims Moscow makes about living in Communist Russia.

A young diplomat, speaking privately and unofficially to a small group in Washington, offered a realistic antidote to the well-circulated Red propaganda contention that "people in Russia are happy" under a regime that allegedly is lifting their living standards.

In the diplomat's view, the attitude of the Soviet man in the street is generally one of grumpy resignation.

"Most average Russians struck me as devoted to scrounging what they could for themselves.

"They fret and complain constantly, and since they can't criticize the Communist system, they criticize each other."

Many say quite openly to some foreigners, though not so readily to Americans, that they are not very enthusiastic about the system they've got, that it's just there and they have to put up with it.

This man also gained the sharp impression that Russians of college age are far less wedded than some of their elders to the old, rigid, Communist theories and practices.

The dedicated ones, he says, still are those in official life, in the age brackets perhaps 45 to 55.

These observations, evidently widely shared by foreigners who travel the streets of drab Soviet cities with a clear eye and alert ear, are possible signs of hope for the long pull in East-West relations.

But strict caution has to govern. We can have no assurance that the somewhat more flexible young Russians of today will not be the rigid masters of tomorrow.

And, the diplomat was careful to note, Soviet citizens' disgruntlement over their lot under Communism is one thing. Their patriotic, national feelings are another. Most ordinary folk, he says, appear to accept the version of history which pictures Russia as the constant goal of Western military plotting.

Still, the portrait of dingy cities and fussy, grumbling citizens presents pointed contrast with Moscow's flashy propaganda colors — colors which too often seem to catch the eye of uncritical foreigners, including some romantic liberals in Western Europe and elsewhere.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

JASE L-411: Percy M., aged 12, is a problem child.

"Dr. Crane," his mother began, "Percy gets into fights almost incessantly."

"Twice last week his teacher sent him to the principal's office."

"And though he promises me to be good, he just can't seem to stay out of a fight more than a day or two. Is he destined to be a juvenile delinquent? And what made him this way?"

Foolish Mamma

Percy's mother made him a fighter! How?

By foisting a sissy name on this boy. For in modern America, a number of very masculine names of the past, have now acquired a feminine connotation.

"Percy" is one of these.

Boys abhor anything that even vaguely suggests girlishness.

That's why they pride themselves on rough, tough monikers like "Spikie" or "Butch" or even "Fatsie."

So will you fond mamma PLEASE have a heart when you christen your sons and look far ahead.

Try to anticipate the social effect of the name you are choosing for your son.

Imagine the humiliation and dismay of a boy who is named "Vivian."

Even the same-sounding male-female paired names are embarrassing, such as Marlon-Marian. Many a boy named Marlon is thus nicknamed "Mary."

So he fights and quickly tries to acquire a nickname like "Butch."

You young mothers don't need to take a course in psychology to guess why even a superb baseball star like Nelson Fox, constantly keeps a big cud of chewing tobacco in one cheek.

For he has been nicknamed "Nellie." A generation ago, the tough, swaggering type of athlete chewed tobacco, so you can see why any youngster who wishes to offset a sissy moniker may do likewise.

Indeed, boys with feminine names or nicknames, will often start smoking very early. And they adopt cigars or pipes, in addition to cigarettes.

They may also boast about drinking beer before they are in Junior High, and also try to carry a whiskey flask to a high school party.

For they are so worried about their own name that they lose normal perspective.

Tomboy Dangers

Also, beware of naming girls so their nicknames are boyish.

This means you should remember that Patricia will be called "Pat." Many girls nowadays are also called "Billie" and "Tommy."

This often causes a complex in the girl. She may try to identify herself more fully with the male sex because she thus bears a masculine nickname.

However, girls don't mind as much being masculinized as boys do at being stultified.

Fay Henle's

Your Pocketbook

Here's the recipe for the new young executive.

Ability is the most important ingredient. It counts more heavily than social background.

Education is a must. Over 75 per cent of today's corporate executives attended college and almost 20 per cent have had postgraduate training. In a recent screening for executive talent, reports "Challenge," the magazine of economic affairs published by New York University, the man with a master's degree rated nine to one better than the man with but a bachelor's.

The new management man will be judged by what his followers do. This means to hit the top rung of the executive ladder he will have to be a leader. Because he will be confronted with more "complex technical and commercial problems than ever before, he won't be able to do all the work himself. . . He must build a 'team of tigers.'"

This new executive is not expected, according to Georges Odome, director of the Bureau of Industrial Relations at the University of Michigan and author of the article, to have a "defensible executive personality but he will make things happen."

What kind of things? His will be the responsibility, as it has always been, to decide how to increase sales, develop new products, cut costs, improve quality.

For the first time in at least the past 30 years, business is not looking to a specialist, but seeking instead a "generalist." Adaptability and flexibility are the needed traits; this man will face problems that go beyond any specialty.

The creative thinker is sought—the man who can analyze situations and classify problems identifying the proper course of action for others.

What will be wanted will be the organizer. The pitch will be on management teams, task forces. The growing numbers of people involved in a company will call for organizational talent, the sort that can delegate responsibility. For the lone executive at the top, it is predicted, the job will be too complex.

Business is looking for profits and growth; the executive who can produce these must be geared toward getting results and accepting responsibility. And, says the article this man must "operate within a value system," meaning a code of ethics.

The United States has about 440 federal hospitals.

"A GREAT FUTURE LIES IN THE CONGO"

Phil Newsom Says . . .

West Hopeful On Berlin

UPI Foreign News Analyst

Word from the West German capital of Bonn suggests that both Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan believe the cards soon will be on the table in the Berlin crisis.

In the British view, at least, there is some cautious optimism that exploratory talks conducted in Moscow by U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson have shown a slight hope that a basis for negotiations can be found.

As in negotiations preceding the abortive Paris summit meeting in 1959, Macmillan has emerged as the chief go-between for Adenauer, President Charles de Gaulle of France and President Kennedy.

Paralleling events of 1959 also has been the fact that among the four, Macmillan is the most anxious for the East-West talks, and De Gaulle the most unwilling.

An added, and unfortunate factor, has been DeGaulle's growing coolness toward the Kennedy administration.

He has been highly critical of U. S. policy in the Congo and his representative at the recent conference of NATO foreign ministers, Maurice Couve de Murville, did his best to prevent NATO endorsement of the exploratory talks in Moscow.

DeGaulle's refusal to integrate French divisions returning from Algeria into NATO and his insistence upon his own nuclear program are taken as evidence of his distrust of U. S. determination to stand firm against Communist pressures in Western Europe.

As a signatory of the four-power agreement on Germany after World War II, France remains in a position to veto any agreement reached without his approval.

Adding to the uncertainty are the conditions inside the Soviet Union whose pressures might force Nikita Khrushchev to a disastrous climax in Berlin or, conceivably, could lead to a more conciliatory mood.

The pressure for drastic action might come from a necessity to prove to the Red Chinese that his policy of coexistence is not a policy of weakness.

Possibly tending toward a more conciliatory mood would be other factors. One might be a desire to ease the military strain on the Soviet economy in order to pay more attention to Africa and the under-developed nations.

Another might be that, with the establishment of the Berlin wall and the halt to the outflow of East German manpower, the East Germans might now be in a position to rebuild their economy, easing further the strain on the Soviet budget.

Dick West Says:

Electing Good Exercise

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If I were political adviser to Rep. Charles A. Halleck, I would recommend that he introduce a bill to shorten the alphabet.

His passage could help him make a better showing the next time the House of Representatives meets to elect a speaker.

Such an election was held Wednesday and Halleck, one of the two candidates, showed a lot of what is known in equestrian circles as "early foot."

Throughout the "A's" and during part of the "B's" the Indiana Republican pretty well held his own against Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, the Democratic entry.

This was because the first 50 names on the alphabetical list of House members are equally divided between Democrats and Republicans. House members traditionally vote the party line in electing a speaker. Since everyone knew that the Democrats had numerical superiority, I think it can fairly be said that this election was a bit short on suspense.

By the time the roll call clerk reached the congressmen whose names start with "D," Halleck was already out of the running. Whoever invented the English language made the alphabet too long for him.

Unless the GOP increases its head count in the next congressional election, Halleck might consider moving to Greece, which has a shorter alphabet.

The final tally showed that 248 Democrats voted for McCormack and 166 Republicans voted for Halleck. The two candidates both answered "present" when their names were called.

There being nobody in the race named "present," the assumption is that they were too loyal to their parties to vote for each other, and too modest to vote for themselves.

Although everyone knew in advance what the outcome would be, House members did their best to make an occasion out of it.

They stood and applauded when McCormack was nominated, when his victory was announced, when he was escorted to the rostrum, when he was introduced as the new speaker, when he made his acceptance speech and when he was sworn in.

This not only served as a tribute to McCormack but gave members who had been loafing around during the adjournment period a chance to get a little exercise.

The new speaker told his colleagues he deemed it an honor to have been chosen to preside over "the greatest deliberative body in the world."

He thereby annexed for the House a title that long had been applied to the Senate.

I'm not sure what that means, but if this Congress has two greatest deliberative bodies it will still be in session next Christmas.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The lowly soybean, an unknown to most city slickers, is becoming the glamour crop of U. S. agriculture. It is also a subject of interest to big business as well as to government planners intent on saving the world.

Production of soybeans in this country has shown a larger annual average growth since the end of World War II than any other industry. This is the finding of National Industrial Conference Board of New York. It comes as a surprise to practically everyone and it is important.

The average annual growth rate for all U. S. industry since 1948 is 2.6 per cent. The soybean industry nearly tripled that with a growth rate of 7.6 per cent.

Right behind it are the aluminum industry with 7.5 per cent, life insurance in force 6.7 per cent, synthetic fibers 6.3 per cent, natural gas and electric energy production 5.6 per cent.

Soybeans are now America's fourth largest cash crop behind corn, wheat and cotton. Just ahead of tobacco, the United States now produces nearly 60 per cent of the world soybean supply and furnishes nearly 74 per cent of all soybean exports. It is a billion-dollar crop, with every indication of growth.

There is a long range potential that soybeans might revolutionize American agriculture for the better.

As new uses and expanded markets are developed, an increase in soybean acreage and a decrease of corn, wheat and cotton acreage would reduce surpluses of the last three. This could cut government billion-dollar price support, storage and surplus disposal subsidies, saving the taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars.

There is no government program to make these shifts in American farm production. But the importance of soybeans is recognized. Last year Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman raised the soybean support price from $1.85 to $2 a bushel. This may have helped increase U. S. production by 88 million bushels. But the new high support price was never above the average market price of $2.15, so no surpluses piled up.

Soybeans are in short supply. There is a carry over of only 65 million bushels, less than 10 per cent of last year's 693 million bushel crop, or only a month's reserve.

Economist Louis H. Bean has recently completed two big soybean studies for Department of Agriculture, Joint Congressional Economic Committee and Food for Peace agency. They have an important impact for all U. S. foreign aid recipients and UN programs in the developing countries.

World population is expected to increase from three billion today to four billion in the early 1970s.

Statistician Bean therefore calculates that in the present decade there will be a world shortage of calories equal to over a billion bushels of wheat, a shortage of animal proteins in terms of about two million tons of dry milk, and of fats in terms of three million tons of vegetable oils.

"Soybeans as a protein source outrank in volume all the other oil seeds," writes Bean. "For the same protein efficiency, 100 pounds of wheat flour can be replaced by 40 pounds of wheat flour and 5 pounds of soy flour with a reduction in protein costs of over 50 per cent."

"As a result of technological advances not generally known, beverages for child feeding, nutritionally the equivalent of cow's milk, can now be made from cottonseed flour, particularly soybean flour, and a completely adequate protein supply can be obtained from vegetables."

That sums up the soybean potential about as succinctly as it can be stated. The problem, of course, is to educate more consumers on the use of soybean products, but this is being worked on.

There is a Soybean Council with headquarters in Waterloo, Iowa, promoting new uses. General Mills and other food processors have soy products on the market. Department of Agriculture's research laboratories in Peoria, Ill., have developed a number of new soy foods.

The most recent is a soybean gel that can be served hot as a liquid soup, or chilled for a whipped or molded salad or jelled soup.

Fishing Boat Sinks In Gulf

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The Coast Guard today reported severe cold and heavy sea conditions in the Gulf of Mexico led to the sinking of a Texas fishing boat and numerous other distress calls.

The weather and sub-freezing temperatures also diminished hope for the lives of two seamen, overboard and missing in separate marine accidents.

Small craft warnings flew along the entire Gulf Coast for north winds 25 to 40 miles an hour.

The new Gramkow Funeral Home on Onora Road is completed and open for service and a grand opening will be held Sunday afternoon from 2 to 10 p. m.

The strikingly modernistic styling of the building has a slightly oriental look with its uniquely styled roof line, which has six peaks, made of pre-formed panels.

A combination of concrete block and rich wood paneling has been used throughout with the wood used also for framing of irregular-shaped window panes in the floor-to-ceiling windows in several rooms.

The lobby of the funeral home is graciously furnished with comfortable couch and chair for visitors and the office is on the left upon entering.

The large, quiet chapel, set apart by attractive molded wood screens will seat 34 as it stands, but can be extended to seat as many as 180 persons if necessary. The chapel can be decorated and prepared for any kind of religious services, and is made quiet and peaceful by the wall-to-wall carpet which covers and extends all the way to the front door.

The entire building is completely heated and air-conditioned for the maximum comfort of those who have need of the services of the funeral home, and an intercom system also brings recorded music from a hidden tape recorder and record player.

Construction of the newest and most modern funeral home in Sanford was done by the Shoemaker Construction Co., with the striking architectural design the creation of F. Wade Tye.

The wiring and fixtures materials were supplied and work done by Sanford Electric and the plumbing work and fixtures by Wall Plumbing and Heating.

Aluminum awning windows from the HarCar Aluminum Products Co. are used in many rooms with glass and glazing by the McRaney Paint and Glass Co.

The Imperial Decorators did the painting and Hubby Spears did the tile work in the new building. The carpet and installation was done by the House of Floors in Fern Park and the lathing and plastering by Carl Lommler of Longwood.

Leffler Speaks To HD Club

Sixteen member and guests of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club attended Tuesday's luncheon meeting when Sanford Attorney Kenneth Leffler was the guest speaker.

Leffler spoke on "Property Rights, Wills and Deeds." Following his talk, a question and answer period was conducted with participation from the audience.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. John Kahir and Mrs. Emma Seibert.

Largest raindrops measure about one-quarter-inch in diameter; larger ones break up as they fall.

A. K. (KAY) SHOEMAKER JR., Shoemaker Construction Co. was the builder and general contractor of the new funeral home. Shoemaker is also building a new home for the Gramkow's adjacent to the site. (Herald Photo)

CPO Wives Club Installs New Officers At First Luncheon Meeting Of Year

Members of the CPO Wives Club met at the Tiki House Restaurant for the installation luncheon meeting.

The tables were artistically decorated with candles, leis and other appropriate arrangements. The newly elected officers each received a white chrysanthemum corsage.

A centerpiece of yellow and white chrysanthemums, white gladioli, lavender iris and purple delphinium decorated the officers' table.

Mrs. Rex King, retiring president, thanked members for their co-operation and relinquished the gavel to Mrs. William G. Sowell. The new president pledged her support as president and asked for continued co-operation from the group.

Mrs. I. Kent and Mrs. M. O'Donnell were welcomed as new members.

Other officers serving with Mrs. Sowell are Mrs. Roy J. Morris, vice president; Mrs. William R. Marsh, secretary, and Mrs. Wade Snyder, treasurer.

Mrs. King received a sterling silver, engraved, cigar box as a gift from the club and Mrs. F. J. Murray won the floral centerpiece as the door prize.

Assisting Mrs. Marvin Rohlfis on the arrangement committee were Mrs. Sowell and Mrs. J. Edwardson.

MRS. WILLIAM SOWELL, center, receives the gavel from Mrs. Rex King, retiring president of the CPO Wives Club, at the installation luncheon meeting. Other officers pictured are Mrs. R. J. Morris, vice president and seated from left are Mrs. Wade Snyder, treasurer and Mrs. William R. Marsh, secretary. (Herald Photo)

Stokes - Abney Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Stokes of Lake Mary are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Inell, to A/2c Palo Abney, Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Palo Abney of Tennessee.

The marriage was performed by Rev. Claude Thomas in Nahunta, Ga., Jan. 4.

Miss Stokes attended Seminole High School and Mr. Abney attended Southern High in Detroit, Mich. He is now a member of the Air Force, stationed in Anchorage, Alaska. He just completed Barber College on Dec. 10.

Mrs. Abney plans to remain in Lake Mary with her parents until Mr. Abney completes his tour in Alaska in July.

Garden Club Sponsoring Party, Tuesday

Final plans have been completed for the dessert-card party, Tuesday evening, at the Civic Center.

Tables will be provided but guests are requested to bring their own cards. Dessert will be served at 8 p.m.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting the chairman, Mrs. Richard Gleason or any member of the Garden Club.

JUNIOR MEMBERS of the Seminole Unit 30 Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary are shown being initiated by the unit commander, Mrs. Valton Williams. Front row, Mary Lou Williams, Judie Mansfield, Patricia Kennedy and Janet Mansfield. Back row, Belinda Jones, Retha Kennedy and Mrs. Williams. This is a new group being formed and daughters under 16 years of age of chapter and units members are eligible.

Mrs. Gunter Hostess To Cleaners Class

Mrs. A. L. Gunter and her group were hostesses last Tuesday for the meeting of the Cleaners Class of the First Baptist Church, which was held at the Gunter home on Palmetto Avenue.

Mrs. Ella Ellis presided over the business session and the devotion, taken from Billy Graham's book on happiness, was presented by Mrs. R. A. Williams.

Following the business session Mrs. Joe Wright conducted an amusing game with Mrs. V. C. Messenger winning the prize. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to the following:

Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. D. K. McNab, Mrs. Valerie Echols, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Messenger, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Thelma Steele, Mrs. J. P. Whitaker, Jr., Mrs. M. D. Bumgarner, Miss Lorene Franklin and Mrs. Gunter.

A card was signed by each member present and sent to the teacher, Mrs. Fred Myers, who was unable to attend because of an asthma attack.

Former Resident Of Sanford Visits Fortners

Recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Fortner was Mrs. Fortner's sister, Miss Pauline Bellamy, of Washington, D. C. Friends of Miss Bellamy will be interested to learn that she recently received a superior performance award of $300 from the Department of Interior, Bureau of Mines, where she is employed.

Miss Bellamy, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Millard Bellamy, is a former resident of Sanford.

MISS JEAN MERRILL, of New York City, has returned home after a two week visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merrill, 21 Azalea Drive, DeBary. Miss Merrill, a former editor of the Literary Cavalcade, an educational scholastic magazine, has made two trips to Europe the past few years. On one she traveled through nine countries laying out travel routes for young people who make European tours. She also spent one year in India on a Fulbright scholarship. At present she is writing children's books and to date has 11 to her credit. (Cox Photo)

Candidates Guests At VAH-3 Coffee

The VAH-3 Officers Wives monthly coffee was held early this month in order to introduce the four candidates for the All Wives presidential election to the members.

Hostesses, Mrs. Edward Fritch, Mrs. John Brumaker, Mrs. Ira Hughes and Mrs. Robert Lorenz served coffee and a wonderful assortment of Danish pastries to those present.

Mrs. Silas Johnson welcomed out of town guests, Mrs. Frieda O'Hara and Mrs. A. Brodie.

She then introduced each candidate for the Officers Wives, Mrs. John Barlow, Mrs. H. E. McCumber, Mrs. Pat Murphy, and Mrs. Norma Schneider. Mrs. Johnson encouraged the wives to attend the election coffee and vote for the candidate of their choice.

Mrs. Richard Cleveland, Central Committee representative, told of the coming bake sale planned Tuesday at the Food Fair and the NAS Exchange. She asked the co-operation of the group and stated that the proceeds will be used to re-decorate the dispensary.

Others attending the coffee were Mrs. Lou Musgrove, Mrs. John Newborough, Mrs. Ray Spradlin, Mrs. H. G. Hatch, Mrs. D. C. Hamilton, Mrs. A. J. Blaha, Mrs. C. D. Schoonover, Mrs. R. J. Leonard, Mrs. James A. de Ganahl, Mrs. Ralph Seacat, Mrs. E. C. Tallman, Mrs. N. H. Settle, Mrs. Hugh O'Hara, Mrs. Joe McInvalle, Mrs. Charles Kaufman.

Mrs. Patrick Cullen, Mrs. W. M. Mallesowal, Mrs. Stephen Oliver, Mrs. B. D. Weber, Mrs. James R. Conroy, Mrs. John W. Charlton, and Mrs. Charles Guthrie, Mrs. L.

B. Lampman, Mrs. Henry DeMent, Mrs. James Fairly, Mrs. Harold King, Mrs. Bea Guest, Mrs. John Touchton, Mrs. Frank Braasom, and Mrs. John Bailey.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fleischer of Elberton, Ga., announce the birth of an 8 lb. 2 oz. son, Dec. 23, in Elberton.

This is the couple's first child and they have chosen the name, John Gregory, for the new arrival.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Fleischer, Plumosa Drive, Sanford. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ambrosini of Elberton.

Bakeless Sale Held By DeBary BPW

The DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club held the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the office of Dr. George Frison Sr. in DeBary.

Mrs. Jo Peck presided at the business session when it was voted to hold a bakeless cake sale, with proceeds to be used for the Chinese Nursing Home.

Members planning to attend the quarterly dinner meeting of District 4, this Sunday at the Civic Center in Palatka, are asked to make reservations this week.

Guest speaker will be Margaret Linkous of Jacksonville. Cars will meet at 9 a.m. in front of the DeBary Restaurant.

Wesleyan Service Guild Will Observe Guild Month, Jan. 21

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Smith on Seminole Blvd. with Mrs. J. F. Riser and Miss Ethel Riser as co-hostesses.

During the business session it was decided to observe "Guild Month" on Jan. 21 by having the members attend the 10:35 a.m. service at First Methodist Church in a group. Members will meet at the Park Avenue entrance of the Church and sit together during the service. Following this, all who are able will adjourn to a local restaurant for lunch.

Mrs. Walter Carter, chairman, gave a report of the Christmas project. The members were delighted with her report, and the way their Christmas donations were used.

Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker presented the devotion on the theme "Be still and know that I am God." Mrs. Boyd Gaines was in charge of the program and talked on Life's Extras, by Archibald Ruddle.

THE RO-BAR STORY

ACCLAIMED WORLDWIDE FOR ITS MERIT

WHAT IT IS —

The Ro-Bar formula, after many years of clinical testing and research, was first placed on the market in Holland in 1949. Because of its outstanding results it has won world-wide acclaim from millions of stomach sufferers for its merit. This amazing formula is made from a European prescription and is used for gastric acidity, ulcer-like stomach acid pains and is designed to return a stomach sufferer to normal diet in an unusually short time.

Ro-Bar tablets are not candy mints, fizzy saltzars, or pretty liquids. They are tablets with exclusive therapeutic ingredients, like a doctor's prescription, designed to give you long, lasting relief from burning ulcer-like pains, indigestion, gas, sour and nervous stomach.

RO-BAR GUARANTEES —

1. Ulcer-like stomach acid pains fade away with a rapid return to normal diet.

YOU TOO CAN GET WONDERFUL COMFORT WITH RO-BAR TABLETS.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I like a boy who doesn't have a very good background. He didn't make his background, he got it from his relatives. My parents don't want me to go around with him because of this reason. I think it is very unfair. I like him a lot and want your advice on this subject. He is 19 and I am 17.

DEAR BROWN EYES: Hardy trees have been known to grow in poor soil. Time and performance will show whether this young man can rise above his "bad background." Respect the wishes of your parents, however. If your boy has the stuff and can prove it, your parents might reconsider.

DEAR ABBY: My wife passed away about a year and a half ago, after a happy marriage of 42 years. Our children are married, well-to-do and live thousands of miles away. I own a nice little home, am retired (I am 70) and am the world's worst cook and housekeeper. I recently became acquainted with a 66-year-old widow I've known for years. She's good-natured, jolly and a fine cook and housekeeper. My children were home over the holidays and I spoke to them about my making a new life with this woman. They were horrified and said if I married her they could no longer consider this their old home as I would be desecrating their mother's memory. They loved their mother (I did, too) but she is gone forever and I need companionship. What am I to do?

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: Your children are being selfish. Marry the jolly little widow and if your children turn their backs on you (which I doubt they will for long) you'll at least have relieved the loneliness of your later years — something they, too, may have to face some day.

DEAR ABBY: There is a mother in our town who has figured out a perfect formula for getting her daughter dates. The mother phones the Army base and asks the chaplain to send over two lonesome soldiers who have a free evening and no place to go. She gives the boys good meals, puts them up IN HER HOME if they have week-end passes, and even lets them use the family car. The daughter invites a girl friend over to entertain the other one. These girls could never get dates otherwise. We think this is a very cheap and trashy way to operate. What do you think?
NOT SO DUMB

DEAR NOT: I see nothing "cheap and trashy" about it. In fact, I think it's a very practical "formula."

Are things rugged? For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 2365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and don't forget a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

JERRY LEWIS stars in "The Errand Boy" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Lewis Film Coming To Ritz

Utilizing his own seemingly endless supply of energy and talent, Jerry Lewis once again not only stars in but also directs his new Paramount comedy, "The Errand Boy," a hilarious spoof of the mad, unpredictable world of Hollywood, which arrives Sunday at the Ritz Theater.

In unfolding his fun-filled spoof of movietown's traditions and its people, the King of Hollywood Jesters explores every nook of a major studio, creating organized confusion on a scale which has to be seen to be believed.

"The Errand Boy" follows a moviemaking pattern which already has borne spectacular dividends for Lewis. He has long been a firm believer in making pictures for "fun and entertainment only" (to quote him) and maintains he'll never make one that doesn't contain liberal portions of laughs and happenings. And his previous successes obviously prove that the public agrees with his policy.

JAMES SHIGETA and Carroll Baker in a scene from "Bridge To The Sun" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

'Bridge To The Sun' Due

"Bridge to the Sun" unfolds not only a tremendously moving love story but also the gripping drama of an American girl and her Japanese husband whose courage and tenacity are put to a heartbreaking test in the throes of war comes to the Movieland Sunday.

Starring Carroll Baker and the Hawaiian-born Niels actor, James Shigeta, the Cite Films Production, released by Metro-Goldwyn-Myer, is based on the highly-praised autobiography by Gwen Terasaki, the Tennessee girl who met and fell in love with the young Japanese diplomat, Hidenari ("Terry") Terasaki, married him and went to live with him in Japan after the outbreak of World War II.

The other feature on the program is "David and Goliath." Both films will play through Tuesday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, "It Started in Naples" and "Babette Goes to War" will play.

Starting Saturday will be "Exodus," with the co-feature "34-Hour Alert."

A letter from New Orleans reads: "The game was duplicate. I won the opening diamond lead with my ace and played three rounds of trumps. Then I played dummy's ace and king of clubs in the hope that I would drop a doubleton queen. Instead, West showed out on the second club lead and I only made four odd. Everyone else made an overtrick and my partner criticized my play severely. Should I have played safe for five odd by leading a low club toward my jack after taking dummy's ace?"

The answer to his question is that his play of the ace and king of clubs was correct. It would gain a trick for him if either opponent trick for him with the actual club break. However, I must join with North in criticizing South's dummy play.

He should have made five odd in spite of the bad club break. All he had to do was to continue clubs after the suit failed to break. East would take his queen and lead a diamond to West. West would lead a third diamond and South would ruff.

Now South, to make his five odd, would play out his last trump and discard down to ace-nine of spades and a small club in dummy. East would either have to check his last club or unguard the queen-jack of spades and South would make his over-trick anyway.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

By the way, whatever became of the old-fashioned New Year's resolutions? They seem to have gone completely out of style.

Maybe they got lost in the shuffle when self-improvement became big business.

Back in the old days we used to take stock once a year and make a list of homemade resolutions designed to make us a little better in the year ahead.

But now self-improvement is a year-round business and it is no longer a strictly do-it-yourself affair. We read books on how to improve our personalities, how to improve our health, how to get rich quick in the stock market, how to be more glamorous, how to live longer, how to be happy—and so on and so on.

And when we aren't reading books we are going to lectures and taking courses.

Trying to improve ourselves has become a year-round task—with everybody getting into the act to spur us on.

So a new year no longer is the spur to doing better than it once was.

Nowadays we are working on ourselves just as hard in July as we used to work in January, before our resolve to make ourselves over could fall by the wayside.

Whether we get better results with the new year-round routine than we got with the once-a-year drive, I don't know. Probably it ends up just about the same.

But, anyway, it seems like a logical explanation of why making New Year's resolutions isn't the big deal it used to be. Self-improvement has become year-round instead of seasonal.

TV Key Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) International Showtime: "Circus D'Hilar." Host Don Ameche takes a second look at Paris' famous (and the world's oldest) permanent circus. Highlights of tonight's show are "The Petroffs," a trio of horizontal-bar artists whose grace and skill make the price of the show reasonable; a trio of elderly elephants whose routine includes an imitation of the Charlie Chaplin walk; "Ma Ho Pin," a daring Japanese acrobat who walks up a 140-foot tightrope to the top of the tent, then slides all the way down hanging on by her teeth. Other acts include the inevitable trained chimps, dip-doodle cyrillets, magicians, midgets and clowns.

Governor Asks For 'Political Freedom Union'

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called Thursday night on the United States to join a political "union of freedom" with other Western nations to win the cold war.

"I think we have got to not only think in terms of the military defense but in positive political terms of gathering strength through groupings of nations, free nations," he said.

Rockefeller, a contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, made his proposal on a nationwide TV interview. It was the climax to a busy political day that included a news conference and a speech before a Connecticut GOP fund raising dinner—one of a series of speeches he has scheduled in seven states in the next six months.

The governor said on TV the United States "very definitely" should join the European Common Market or be closely associated with it.

"We have got to realize that the Soviet Union itself is moving forward with a great deal of speed in the economic development area, and they can penetrate by using economic means—dumping of raw materials, dumping of manufactured products to disrupt the whole free world's economy," he said.

Asked how the West could get on the initiative to win the cold war, Rockefeller said:

"It has got to be done through the creation of political structures that are larger than the nations or states.

"We have got to be able to think beyond national borders in terms of how do we create structures, political structures, within which free enterprise, the free flow of money, goods, movement of people can take place with stability, with law and order."

The United Nations, he said, has failed in this direction.

"There again the Communist world has done everything it could through the veto... to block, to disrupt, to delay the whole concept of democratic action by free nations. Therefore we have in my opinion left a choice of organizing freedom in a frame work which will permit our type of society to operate," Rockefeller said.

Sandpaper TV Ad Grates On Nerves

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—A great deal of nodding and tongue clucking has been taking place over the Federal Trade Commission's recent ruling against camera trickery in television commercials.

To review the case briefly, the commission ruled that when a shaving cream company sets out to show how well its lather works on sandpaper, it ought to use real sandpaper.

In the commission's view, the use of a piece of plexiglass which has been covered with sand just isn't cricket.

Reaction to the order has been divided, some cheering the commission for promoting honesty in advertising and others deploring the action as amounting to governmental pettifoggery.

A person's feelings in the matter depend, I suppose, on the extent to which he is personally involved. For instance, I was affected very little because I rarely have occasion to shave a piece of sandpaper.

On the infrequent times when I do shave a piece of sandpaper, I generally use an electric razor. Thus I am not concerned with the question of what lather works best.

However, I can understand how people who shave sandpaper regularly might feel they had been misled by the commercial. It just goes to show that there are always at least two ways of looking at any given issue.

Whatever the merits of the FTC's ruling, I would like to see it tested in some other cases, if for no other reason than to satisfy my own curiosity.

Take that toothpaste commercial where someone drives a golf ball at the announcer, who then informs us that he is protected by an "invisible shield."

Operation Paint Set For Orlando

Operation Palette, a collection of paintings and drawings showing scenes from World War II, the Korean Conflict, and a coverage of major peacetime naval operations, will be on exhibit in the near future. The exhibit will be in Orlando from Feb. 11-17.

Operation Palette will afford the people the opportunity of joining with the more than 40 million people who have already seen the collection of combat and operational paintings and drawings. The complete collection is valued at several million dollars.

The location of the exhibit will be announced at a later time.

THE SPORTING SCENE

Capacity crowds are already predicted for the Seminole High gymnasium on Jan. 20 when the Senior High faculty meets the Junior High faculty in a March of Dimes benefit game at 7:30.

The Junior High faculty has already spent several afternoons in practice for the big event. Players are Ralph Mays, Dan Felham, Owen McCarron, Ted Barker, Hugh Carlton, Tod Hunt, and Ed Becker.

Seminole senior high players for the big faculty clash include Tom Richey, Carlton Henley, Jim Martin, Ira Hindman, Don Reynolds, John Colbert, Jim Pigott, and (we hope) Jim McCoy.

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

The size of the new Oviedo High football field will be in the shape of a square—600 feet by 600 feet. Expenses for lighting the field will be cut down by providing lights only on one side of the field and utilizing individual switches so that not all the lights need be on at one time.

Happened to be out at Seminole High School Thursday and saw Sanford's star quarterback on the 1938 Celery Fed team shooting a few baskets in the gym. One of the more athletically-minded Sanford physicians, Dr. John Morgan frequently spends afternoons off from the office watching the boys practice and, occasionally, dropping a few in himself.

With so many of the City Recreation teams dropping out because of the fees, maybe Sanford could use a team made up of doctors. Anyway, if one did start, you could lay odds that Dr. Morgan would make first string.

With City Recreation Basketball for the Men's League well under way with Wednesday's openers, Sanford's Jimmy Gracey once again returns to the sports spotlight. Gracey scored 27 points to take top scorer honors for the night.

Gracey was the top-dog for the Wilson-Maler team as they won over Perfection Daries 60-48. In the second game, the Florida State Bank players whipped the VAH-7 team 61-48.

Rumor has it that Seminole High Coach Jim McCoy might not be in the lineup for the Sanford Faculty game next week. Can't imagine why though, because we hear that Coach McCoy was a top-notch cager a few years back... Go ahead and play Coach. Remember, it's for a good cause.

New gym bleachers at Seminole High School were installed at a cost to the County of $7,587 reported Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee. The new bleachers are in two-section units of 20 and eight feet in length, providing a total seating capacity of 1620.

The Oviedo High gym has also had new gym bleachers installed by the County. Work on the installation should be completed this week with a finishing coat of varnish. The Oviedo bleachers are the permanent type and work was done by county workers.

Seminoles Play Winter Park On Road Tonight

Coach Bud Laver's Seminoles take their (5-2) record for the season up against Coach Bob MacHardy's wild and woolly Winter Park Wildcats tonight at 8 p.m. as the Seminoles make the trip over to Winter Park for what is expected to be one of the roughest Orange Belt Conference battles of the season for the Sanford players.

Before the rash outbreak of flu in Sanford and other Seminole County schools, the Seminoles had a decided edge on the Winter Park team. Weakened to an undetermined degree by illness, performance of the Sanford team is expected to be below par.

Because of this, tonight's cage activity could turn out to be anybody's ball game.

Heading for their eighth game of the season, the Seminoles have had bad luck with two losses, both in conference competition. If tonight's game should go into Sanford's winning column, the Seminoles would come out with a conference record of (2-2).

Last year the Wildcats had an overall cage record of (12-14) and in the conference, a record of (6-8). Top man in experience for Winter Park is Gary Houmes, a six-foot-one senior who has lettered the past two years.

VAH-7 Wives Pace Navy Loop

In the Holier Motor Navy Wives League this week, VAH-7 Enlisted Men's Wives are in first place, with the Navy wives Club number 211 in second place position.

High game of 209 was rolled by Dorothy Holbrook. Betty Allen rolled a 186-517 series. Verna Volton rolled a 173-488 series.

Still in 1st

Sanford Herald remains in first place in the T League this week with the standings unchanged. Wicbold's Camera Shop is in second place with Sinko's Tavern in third place. Fourth place is Karn's Insurance. Thriftway is in fifth place with Nationwide Insurance in sixth.

SOKC Tri-City Match Set Tonight

The two greyhounds representing the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club will have the advantage of breaking from inside boxes in the Tri-City match race which is the tenth event on an 11-race program at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight.

Oswald Bros' Inaugural winner, O.B.'s D.D.T., will leave from the one hole while P. C. & E. J. Alderson's Tuffy O'Leary has drawn the two box.

As for the invading stars Doc Jim from Jacksonville has the four box, Hunza from Tampa the five box, Velvet Sis from Jacksonville the seven box and Tampa's pride, Big Spread, the eight box.

It is a six-dog race and the first time in track history that three elites have been represented locally in a single contest. The race tonight is the second in a series of three. The first Tri-City match was held at Tampa last Saturday when Velvet Sis, Big Spread and Doc Jim finished in that order.

Velvet Sis goes to the post tonight as an 8 to 5 favorite on the morning line. She is the 1961 national champion and last year won two of the country's richest purses. Schooling here Wednesday night she turned in the fastest clocking, a sixzing 31.25 seconds. Velvet Sis' running mate, Doc Jim won the recent Jacksonville Inaugural.

Both Big Spread and Hunza have been starting at Tampa and have very similar records. In 20 starts Big Spread was a quinella factor 12 times, six times with wins. In 23 starts Hunza has also been a quinella factor 12 times, six times with wins.

As for the two S.O.K.C. greyhounds, both Tuffy O'Leary and O. B.'s D.D.T. have had six Grade A starts and each has triumphed three times. Tuffy also placed once.

RESULTS

Table of race results for 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th races, listing names and times.

Oviedo Plays Lyman Tonight In Homecoming

Coach Paul Mikier's Oviedo Lions play Homecoming hosts to Walt Drurus' Lyman Greyhounds tonight at 8 p.m. in the Oviedo gymnasium for a battle between the two Seminole County teams that sees the visiting Greyhounds as the favored team.

Oviedo has nine basketball games behind them for the season compared to the three games that Lyman has played. Lyman's Greyhounds suffered their first loss of the season Tuesday to the Ocoee cagers.

Homecoming is the big event for the Oviedo team tonight as it is the first in the school's history. A crowning of the homecoming queen is scheduled to take place just prior to the game.

The Oviedo team will select one of the three following girls to become their first homecoming queen to reign over the game and dance after the game: Linda Harris, Joanie Ridenour and Sandy Mays.

New High Team Series Set

Lovely Lady Beauty Salon set the new high team series as they won four points from Stenstrom Realty, Lake Monroe Harbor climbed back into first place as they split the points with Shoemaker Construction 2-2. The CPO Wives and Grapevine Nursery also split their points. W.S.F.R. won three points from Stoveland Drive-In Theater.

Top Pro Gridders Set For Bowl Sunday

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Two football squads with the world's best players—according to their coaches—clash Sunday in the 12th annual Pro Bowl at Memorial Coliseum.

Both East coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants and West coach Norm Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings say—in violation of tradition—they've got easy jobs because of their material.

There is a special incentive for the players to win—each member of the winning squad gets $800 which is $200 more than the losers get.

The West is rated a 6 1/2 point favorite. All-stars from the National Football League's Western Conference have a 7-4 edge over the Easterners.

Sherman said he'd like to have any number of the East squad players on his own New York team which won the Eastern Conference title.

"These are the best football players in the world," said Sherman, the NFL coach of the year. "There's not much to coaching when you have the men I've been exposed to this week."

Van Brocklin, a rookie head coach like Sherman, expressed similar sentiments. "All you have to do with these guys," he said, "is roll the ball out there. Give them the terminology, that's all. They've got the execution. Their techniques are perfect."

Brown said he talked to Peppi-Cole's special market supervisor, Harvey Russell—the man whom Brown is attached to in the organization—but no decisions will be made until the football stars get back to his home in Cleveland. However, in Cleveland, coach Paul Brown of the Browns said he expects the former Syracuse University star to be with the team next fall.

2 Indonesian Boats Sunk In 'Invasion' Try

HOLLAND, Dutch New Guinea (UPI)—The Dutch navy said it sank two Indonesian motor boats and sent a third fleeing in a naval battle off the south coast of Dutch New Guinea today in what a Dutch official said appeared to have been an unsuccessful invasion attempt.

The Defense Ministry in The Hague said Dutch naval units had no choice but to open fire. It said the Indonesian vessels were heading for the New Guinea coast and ignored a Dutch challenge.

The Dutch aircraft carrier Karel Doorman left Rotterdam today for what was described as a training cruise to the Netherlands possessions in the Caribbean. Accompanied by two destroyers and two submarines, the big carrier will spend three months in the Caribbean on a "show-the-flag" mission.

Indonesia has claimed that the Karel Doorman actually is headed for the New Guinea area. But a Dutch spokesman in The Hague denied that the Caribbean trip was a screen for a New Guinea assignment.

Holland currently has two 2,400-ton frigates, the Eversten and the Kortenaar, and a 2,200-ton submarine, the Utrecht, in New Guinea waters.

These are backed up by Firefly jet fighters and about a dozen Neptune fighter bombers.

Capt. Elbers said in announcing the sea battle: "It looks as if we frustrated an Indonesian invasion attempt."

"Our radar carried both by ships and an aircraft picked up blips which seemed to indicate that a large number of Indonesian warships were on their way to the coast."

"We fired at what turned out to be a motor torpedo boat. Fire broke out on board and it sank."

"A second vessel of the same type was sunk shortly afterwards. A third motor torpedo boat was seen fleeing with the rest of the invasion fleet."

TWO PERSONS were injured in this two car collision on French Ave. and 22nd St. Saturday night. Injured were Joseph Horn and Jack Froelich. Horn suffered a fractured right leg while Froelich received a fractured jaw and cuts and bruises. Police said the Horn car collided with a vehicle operated by Chester Wilson of Daytona Beach. Horn was charged with reckless driving. Froelich was a passenger in the Horn car. (Herald Photo)

Jump In Citrus Prices Expected

LAKELAND (UPI)—Florida Citrus Mutual promised to advise growers this week about reasonable on-tree prices to ask for their fruit, expected to jump sharply in value following the sharp freeze in Texas.

Last week's freeze in the Rio Grande Valley was expected to kill virtually all the fruit still left on the trees there. It was expected to prove a boon to Florida grapefruit prices, which have been less than desired through the season so far.
