NEW YORK (AP)—Twelve prominent Americans, poor boys in their youth who won fame and fortune through hard work and determination—will receive 1966 Horatio Alger Awards here next month in ceremonies at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Edward J. Duha, president of the non-profit Horatio Alger Awards Committee of the American Schools & Colleges Association, said that the 12 award winners whose names will be announced Monday, May 23, by Dr. Norman Vincent Pease.

The names of the award winners from the "79th" to the "91st" anniversary of the National Horatio Alger awards of yesterday. Winners are selected annually by ballot of 5,000 readers in 100 cities and universities throughout the country.

Winners in previous years included former U. S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Hoover, the late Bernard M. Baruch, World War I Ace Eddie Rickenbacker, General David S. Sayers, General Hines, Dr. Ralph Bunche and Jesse Pasteel, of Stanford, Pa.

The 1966 winners include George W. Jenkins, Lakeland, Fla., president of the 150th Annual Public Spectacular, Inc., chairman who operated a general store while still attending high school.

PUBLIX OFFICIAL READING SERVICE
William M. Hollis, of Lakeland, has been installed as grand master of the grand lodge of Florida, Free and Accepted Masons.

Hollis, vice president and director of Public Super Markets, Inc., was born in Bunn, Va., in 1906. Raised and educated in Georgia, Hollis moved to Florida in 1928 to start his career in the food retailing field.

Commerce involved activities in the food industry, Hollis is extremely active in many other business, professional and fraternal affairs. For example, he has been a city commissioner of Lakeland. He has been the mayor of Lakeland. He served many years on the Polk County School Board of Trustees—and served a term as chairman of the board.

Hollis is an active member of the board of directors of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Lakeland, and Board of Directors of Blue Board of Florida, and the Board of Directors of the Florida Retail Federation.

Freedom Story Wins Pulitzer

TAMPA (UPI)—A belief that an innocent man was in prison and untiring investigative reporting earned the Pulitzer Prize award for special local reporting Monday for Tampa Tribune Reporter John Frasca.

"It's fantastic," Frasca said in the Tribune newspaper as word of the honor was received. "I pretended it (his series) wasn't even up for consideration."

Frasca was honored for his investigation and reporting of two armed robberies at the small Central Florida community of Mulberry a year ago.

He found similarities in the second robbery with occurrences during the first, although a Sanford man had been sentenced to 10 years in prison for the first robbery. Frasca interviewed Robert Lamar Watson in the state prison camp where he was serving time for the first robbery and became convinced he was innocent.

"I began to believe him when he asked me where I had been at 11 p.m.," Frasca said. "I told him I was watching television and my wife was with me. But then he told me that wouldn't hold up in court because it hadn't happened."

"He was angry and sick," Frasca said. "He didn't seem like a man trying to give a reporter some false information to get out of a jam." Frasca's investigation proved Watson had been in Sanford, nearly 100 miles from Mulberry, the night of the robbery and he then checked long in the night to drive to Mulberry and found Watson could not have made the distance in time to commit the robbery.

As a result of his investigation and reporting, Frasca called the article "a much deserved tribute to an American newspaper man who spotted a wrong and set it right."

"We of the Tribune are proud of John Frasca and all of his co-workers who backed him up," Coxy said. "All of us are delighted with this recognition of an outstanding Tampa Tribune reporter," said Tribune managing editor Harold Tyler.

Durand said that after the stories began appearing "I thought about getting it over in 1964."

Durand has been placed on 30 days probation. The two police officers, Dale Kelley and former chief Horace Whitehorse, V. T., today in the search for Florida-bound pilot Frank Hira.

Planes were sent to the area following a report that area reconnaissance aircraft were spotted over the lake earlier.

The report said the aircraft was sighted over the area at the time Hira normally would have flown over the area on his record-setting run to Tallahassee, Fla.

Aircraft from the U. S. Air Force, Royal Canadian Air Force and Civil Air Patrol and private planes were taking part in the search, hampered by high winds and turbulence.

Pilots speculated that if Hira had run into similar trouble with his heavy fuel load, he may have gotten into trouble in that area.

Hira, 39, of Seldovia, Alaska, was last heard from when he reported in at Saag, Y. T. The search had been concentrated along a 22-mile strip between Saag and Whitehorse. Hira had hoped to set a world record for flying the longest distance non-stop in a straight line. He had expected to cover the 2,309 miles in about 40 hours.

Low Vote, Count Seen In Today's Primaries

United Press International Florida voters, with a last-minute campaign to push them, chose from three major gubernatorial candidates for a host of contests for lesser of those today in what promised to be a dramatic first primary balloting.

The three major Democratic candidates for governor — incumbent Haydon Burns, Robert King High of Miami and William J. Bennett of Jacksonville — said they would vote early and then try to spread up some last-minute voters.

Early voters in the next two weeks will close the election.

The weatherman predicted breezy and mostly clear conditions for parts of North Florida and partly cloudy elsewhere.

The voter turnout was predicted to be high over the state. Pollsters expect 60 to 70 percent of the registered voters to show up at the polls. In all, about 1.5 million voters will vote in the election.

Hours later.

Election officials predicted a decision would be made in the first primary. The vote was expected to be close, but the margin was expected to be wide.

In Duval County, most people in the state, the ballot contained the names of more than 200 candidates in 60 races. Poll officials were confident that the voters would vote in all 60 races.

The voters were expected to vote in all 60 races. The voters were expected to vote in all 60 races.

Bipartisan Coalition Death Knell Sounded By Johnson Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Position to Javits' motion. "I don't believe the voters will back Javits' motion."

President Johnson's proposal for a national fair housing law appeared today to have soundings for the death knell for the bipartisan coalition which pushed through the historic civil rights measures of 1964 and 1965.

The two Republicans seeking the nomination to oppose the Democratic winner in November are Claude Kirk of Jacksonville and Richard M. Daley of Miami.

Also on the ballot were contests for 11 seats in Congress, three on the Public Service Commission, 11 legislative seats and a number of circuit judgeships. There also were local contests for school board seats and other such posts.

Burns, who ran on the record of his 14 months in office, was favored by most prognosticators to run first in the balloting for governor. It was a toss-up between High and Kelly in the balloting on the runoff. High defeated Kelly by only 2,000 votes in the first primary in 1964.

The big three would open their campaigns Monday with each forecasting victory.

Governor Burns insured three capitol center office buildings to make a final pitch to state workers before heading for Jacksonville to set his ballot this morning. He said he figured that "anyone who is going to vote already has made up his mind."

High spent his last full day of campaigning in Miami, putting in some of the time on a backdrop that visited shop-plug centers. He claimed he would be the first primary leader by a narrow margin and then link Burns in the runoff.

Kelly flew in and out of 13 cities in a two-engine jet. He argued at each stop that Burns had said the counties could share part of the load of increased teacher pay—and that this would raise property taxes.

Alabama Negroes' Vote Eyed

United Press International The political test by primary began today in six states. But it was Alabama Negroes, with historic voting power at their command, who held national attention.

Democrats and Republicans were watching the Negroes, many of whom were registered to vote at any time in 1966. They were voting on Gov. George C. Wallace's bid to retain power.

The party leaders were also watching voting in Florida, Indiana, Ohio, New Mexico, and Oklahoma for signs of voter feeling on Vietnam and the steadily declining cost of living, both on GOP issues for November.

The six primaries will culminate Nov. 8 in the election of all 48 members of the House of Representatives, 35 U.S. senators and 25 governors.

Wallace's wife, Lurleen, was the candidate on the ballot in the Alabama Democratic primary. But her campaign led to a double defeat. She also won "let George do it" She is running against two men.

A record turnout of 800,000 voters was expected for the Alabama race. Segregationist Wallace ran his wide when he was unable to overcome a constitutional ban against his running again.

Pollsters and professional politicians believed Mrs. Wallace would top the primary vote of many who had voted in November. If she does become governor, she would be the third woman in U.S. history to do so.

The first two were Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, Wyoming, and Mrs. Miriam M. Ferguson of Texas, both elected in November, 1924.

Negroes went to the Alabama polls with registrations swelled to more than 235,000, a 100 percent increase since 1965 Voting Rights Act in 1965, 104,000 in 1965.

Negroes represented some 17.2 per cent of the eligible voters. While white registrations rose at a record high of 1,175,122.

U. S. Tells Of Shelling Viet Cong In Cambodia

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States acknowledged for the first time today that U. S. forces fired into the territory of Cambodia as they fought Communist forces in the border areas.

The development, certain to be regarded in Communist quarters as another escalation of the Vietnam war, came as a military spokesman reported unusually heavy Communist air raids against North Vietnam. Some targets were two and five miles from the border.

American forces, expecting a major Viet Cong offensive with attacks on the South Vietnamese side of the border, sent B-52 bombers from Guam against Communist supply and storage areas near the Cambodian frontier while ground forces struck out at spray caches.

'Limited War' Will Continue In Vietnam, McNamara Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Johnson administration is sticking to its determination to pursue a "limited war" in Vietnam, despite heavy pressure from both "hawks" and "doves."

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara made that point today when he ruled out a "total war" against the Communists, but he said they were getting back to the rate of the first three months of this year.

The Pentagon chief said that the United States would continue its gradual buildup of military strength to meet the risk it entailed at this time.

David Johnston, 34, and John Hoare, 29, plan to leave next month from Cape Cod in an attempt to make the crossing by oar.

They hope to break a record set in 1926 by two Americans who rowed across the Atlantic in 85 days.

The 22nd annual competition will start in the city of London, where the two men will alternate shifts at the oars on their trip, each taking a 12-hour tour and then being relieved by the other.

THREE SAILORS OF RVNA-5, land-based at Sanford Naval Air Station, were advanced in rank by their skipper, Cdr. D. E. Desorplis, in ceremonies aboard the USS America in the Mediterranean. The men and their new rates are V. A. Ahne, AQBS; M. F. Bayne, AQB3, and G. G. Bacheler, PFS.

Army Reserves Get Warning

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army is warning Reservists who fail to show up for weekly drills that they can be deemed to be absent, called to active duty or even drafted.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Reed ordered the new enforcement procedures to apply to two types of members of the Army National Guard and the Army Reserve.

A man who has had no active duty for 10 months training on four days and then has gone into a Reserve unit is obligated to attend regular drills. If he does not, he will be considered "absent" and called to active duty for 48 days.

The other type of Reservist is the man who has not yet had active duty. He is supposed to train with his unit until the Army has room to give him his four to 10 weeks training. If he reports to his unit, he'll be reported to his

Senators Probing duPont Estate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate banking committee today heard charges that labor-invested proposed legislation to break up the huge Alfred I. duPont estate in Florida.

Witnesses for the estate said railway unions inspired the "quintillion" House-passed measure as a blow against the duPont Railroad after losing a strike in 1963.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.), committee chairman, repeatedly stated that duPont does not pay full taxes and controls politics in Florida.

Much of the testimony against duPont has been directed in past hearings at Edward Ball, of Jacksonville, leading trustee of the estate. Mills quoted one charge as stating "anarchy exists in Florida because the estate of Mr. Ball is above the law."

Ball, himself, came to the hearing with a 50-page prepared statement that he read to the committee.

In all, four duPont witnesses had prepared statements totaling 121 pages—a volume that Robertson repeatedly commented on. He said duPont was being given more time than any other interest.

The other witnesses was Ray M. Gilskey, board chairman of the Florida National Bank.

Drifting Sands Will Be Probed By Engineers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A dry drop of water and a tiny grain of sand make the mighty sand and build the mighty land, they say.

But what is happening to the sand?

The study will concentrate on finding out what happens to sand drifting along Florida's east coast. The results may help engineers find new ways to stop and repair beach erosion.

The Florida cabinet put up $75,570 to help the University of Florida's engineering school finance the sand tracing program.

The engineering school's coastal engineering laboratory has been puzzled for years about the littoral drift of the coast. The drift is moving parallel to the beach front.

To find out what happens in the sand in its journey down the east coast, researchers will mix fluorescent dyes with sand samples and check their movement.

The emphasis will be on the action of sand when crossing the beach from the ocean to the beach. The study area will include beaches from one mile north of the Palm Beach inlet to a point one mile south of the Lake Worth inlet; and from one mile north to one mile south of the Hillsborough inlet in Broward County.

An area on Jupiter Island also will be included in the study.

The Judge Has A Point

Whether or not to publish the names of juveniles involved in crimes is generally a matter of policy with individual newspapers. Some have a matter of law, they state, forbidding publication of any name, whether or not the child is habitually delinquent or a serious offender in law.

In Florida it is up to the judge of the juvenile court whether or not the names will be released to the press.

Newspapers themselves are divided on the issue. Some publish all names under all circumstances, some publish names if the offense is serious, still others withhold juvenile names under all conditions, even if a felony is involved.

However, we are inclined to agree with District Judge Lester H. Lohr of Holmes County. Judge Lohr has taken an emphatic stand on the publication of juvenile names.

A number of the judge's points were included in a National Publisher article early last year:

1. The heavy burden of crime and fear of punishment and fear of publicity.
2. Discipline begins in the high chair and in the electric chair.
3. Ninety-seven per cent of the juveniles today are no good.
4. Juveniles in the juvenile courts are not the same as those of any generation — the three per cent that are — are worse.
5. Juveniles in the juvenile courts indicate the class and does not pinpoint the individual.
6. Open public hearings with the parents present in full discussion coverage gets results.
7. If a youth is old enough and tough enough to commit a crime, wrest a church or schoolhouse, hold up a service station, smash a woman's purse or beat up an old man, he is old enough and tough enough to have a public trial with his parents in the front row — and with full newspaper coverage.
8. It is outrageous, in so many places, to find the law suddenly eroding before the hoodlum youngsters and going to absurd lengths to stay on the right side of the law.
9. Experience shows the quickest way to break up a gang is a public hearing, naming names and the names of parents where it belongs — on the juvenile and his parents.

Kind Word For Crossword

Who was Poe's Gyn's mother? Who was Susan of Palmyra from 807 to 878 A.D.? What is the name of the all-worm of Assam? You don't know? Then get with it, brother—but fast! For these are simple, basic facts any crossword puzzle fan should know and must have at his pencil tip.

But you're not a crossword puzzle fan? You're NOT? What are you, some kind of a nut? Or merely unsocial?

For crossword puzzling is an IN thing in the United States these days. Let a newspaper go to press without one and see what happens! More than 20 million adults, Americans—and no one knows how many kids—are crossword addicts. And don't try to induce them to kick the habit. They're hooked and they love it.

Why? Well, for one thing, it's relaxing. It's a handy escape hatch from the headaches and problems we battle every day.

Thought For Today

But all things should be done decently and in order.—1 Cor. 14:40.

A well-ordered life is like climbing a tower; the view halfway up is better than the view from the base, and it steadily becomes finer as the horizon expands.—William Lyon Phelps, American educator.

Political Notebook

The Soviet Union must be ready to meet the United States (Soviet) attack. It can't afford to forge the advantage this surprise would give.

One leading Soviet strategist says: "The first massive nuclear attack can be great in great measure to determine the whole subsequent course of the war and lead to such losses in the year and among the nations that the country will be put in an exceedingly difficult position."

"Surprise can, in almost an instant, disorganize and paralyze the enemy force, obliging them to operate in uncoordinated and chaotic fashion, and even to cease resistance."

TROUGH SOVIET MILITARY WRITERS are not uninterested in the merits of pre-emptive nuclear attacks, the documents seem to be in the minority. They are linked with Stalin and his "errors."

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Martha's worry is often shared by you mothers, so study this one with care. Dr. Crane's "Worry" about 100 cases. For many of the individuals and the recommendations of our medical strategy we urge you to have Fever! Fever is your city's number one, so get busy! CARE 5-08: Martha P. aged 34, is a young mother. "Dr. Crane," she writes, "I'm flushed and feel feverish. For I always was afraid of fever."

"It terrifies me lest the baby be born with it. I am alarmed even if my husband's temperature goes above 98.5 degrees."

"How can I bring their fever down to normal? I'm not afraid of fever! I'm grateful for it! Fever is your ally, not your enemy, when you are sick! Don't let your doctor give you this simple medical fact so they try to stave off the elevated temperature and bring it down."

That's not wise. For God Almighty constructed our human bodies so that we would usually get feverish when hostile germs invade us. And, Dr. Crane, Martha protested, incredulously, "how can fever be a help?"

Well, when a body temperature starts rising above the normal 98.6 degree, your white blood corpuscles begin to multiply faster.

And they are the enemies of infection.

For the white corpuscles actually may gobble up the germs and digest them, much as your stomach digests food.

But another germicidal element also occurs during fever. It is called pyrexin. It slows down the rate of reproduction.

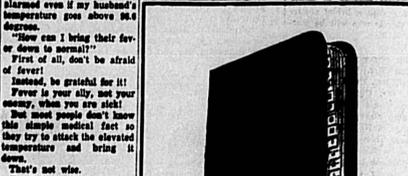

Fever thus increases your friends (white corpuscles) but restricts the enemy forces.

So fever is actually a great boon to human beings, as well as to warm blooded animals.

"But, Dr. Crane," Martha writes, "don't the TV ads for aspirin and similar drugs urge us to use them to reduce fever?"

Yes, they do, but that's a medical mistake.

You can always reduce the body's temperature by use of alcohol rubs or sponge baths or ice packs or drugs, like aspirin, which dilate the blood vessels in the skin and thus bring more blood to the surface.

Local Talent Makes Initial Bow Friday

By Dale Austin

Hidden talents of 10 local people, several of them Navy personnel, will be revealed Friday and Saturday evenings when the curtain rises on the first production of the Roundtable, new little theater group.

Starting in "The Male Animal," a contemporary comedy, by James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, are Joanne Paulk, local housewife, as Ellen Turner, and James Worell, A.C.L.U. aide, as Fred Turner.

The third member of the "general triangle," Joe Ferguson, former boy friend and ex-football hero, will be portrayed by Ronald Lee, U.S. Air Force, as Fred Turner.

When the curtain goes up at 8 p.m. on the stage of the Roundtable, the audience will see a student who plays the part of Patricia, Ellen's younger sister. She has an affair with the younger men as Ellen does with the older ones.

Patricia's two admirers, Michael Barnes and Wally Myers are played by Jerome McCarty and Norman Preston, respectively, both Navy men. The part of Dean Frederick Damon, head of the English department of the college campus on which the play takes place will be played by a retired Navy officer, Jim Talmadge. Viola Kaster will take the part of his wife.

April 23 was the deadline for signing up for the qualification tests scheduled for May 14, May 21 and June 3 at 1200 locations in the 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, and the District of Columbia.

About one million students had applied by the deadline, which fell on a Saturday. But additional thousands failed to sign up until the last moment—and then found their local draft boards closed that day.

Selective Service officials said that a fourth test would be given in the latter part of June for those who, "for some reason," were unable to take the exam previously. Details will be announced about the test within the next two weeks.

College Students Get Second Shot At Draft Test

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Selective Service is going to give another chance to those college students who missed signing up for the tests which might keep them out of the draft.

Foreign News Commentary Singapore - A Prize

By Phil Newman

When Singapore split from the Federation of Malaya to become an independent, smallest republic, a wave of apprehension swept Washington, London and Canberra. The fears were not only for the future of Malaya—formed only two years before from the states of Sabah and Sarawak and the former Federation of Malaya—but for the whole of Southeast Asia.

In doubt was the big British base on Singapore from which Britain carried out its defense of Malaya against "confrontation" by the Indonesian President Sukarno.

Australia, already uneasy over Sukarno's close ties with Peking, saw the Communist threat advanced about Singapore as a sign of a new world war friendly ties with Indonesia.

For the Americans in South Vietnam there arose the possibility that their efforts there could be undermined.

A Communist conquest of Singapore and Indonesia also would endanger the Philippines.

The world's fifth largest port, Singapore once was one of the glamorous cities of the Orient, of opium dens and beach polo. Today it is a city of tall buildings, shopping centers and a hard working population of nearly two million. Even girls' magazines are frowned upon.

Expanded Rent Subsidies Sent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress may be asked to expand the controversial rent subsidy program to help families too well off for public housing but too poor for private accommodations.

Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the new department of Housing and Urban Development, told UPI there is a very strong possibility and probability that the administration would ask Congress to extend rent aid to lower middle income families.

Longwood Churchwomen Plan Sale

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church, Longwood, will have a rummage sale Friday and Saturday of this week at the parish house on Church Street.

Hours will be from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. Saturday. There will be a "nearby new" section of clothing as well as many other items offered for sale.

Chairman of the project is Mrs. Thomas Hinson, Assistant to the warden. Other workers will be Mrs. George Nichols, Mrs. Maude Pupper, Mrs. Donald Ridlon, Mrs. William Crowder, Mrs. Charles Pattenack, Mrs. George Shales, Mrs. R. B. Randall, Mrs. Frank Elliott, Mrs. Whitney Elliott, Mrs. Robert Connolly, Mrs. Robert Morgan, Mrs. F. Bowser, Mrs. Ralph Stevens, and Mrs. Hal Cornell.

To Visit Russia

MOSCOW (UPI)—King Savang Vatthana of Laos and his entourage will visit the Soviet Union sometime late this month, the Soviet news agency Tass announced.

Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the new department of Housing and Urban Development, told UPI there is a very strong possibility and probability that the administration would ask Congress to extend rent aid to lower middle income families.

College Construction Has $3 Billion Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Imports: The House passed legislation to continue the free duty allowed servicemen and other government employees on their household goods from overseas posts. The present temporary law is scheduled to expire June 30. The bill, passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate, would continue the free duty provision permanently. The Defense Department and other government agencies have stated that the free duty on household effects has been an important morale factor and inducement for overseas service.

The House also failed to recognize Johnson's request for reduction of federal financing for the National Defense Education Act, with an eye to turning the funding over to private lenders.

The House education and labor committee recommended that the House pass a bill to accept the committee's response to objections of college officials and bank officials to the $100 million for loan in 1966-67, and $150 million in the following year.

Other congressional news: Tributes: Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) led the Senate in tribute to Sen. Pat McNamara, who died Saturday in Bethesda Naval Hospital. The words, "without guile" were spoken repeatedly as senators of both parties stood to attest that they had lost one of their most valued, beloved colleagues. Hart recalled McNamara's aversion to public acclaim, an aversion so great that he refused to attend White House ceremonies when his own bills were signed into law.

Rickover: Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover told House members that the Defense Department resistance to building nuclear powered ships was reminiscent of the difficulties the Navy had in the late 1940s in getting out of the water. Rickover said that the Navy had advanced in turning down Navy requests for automatic fuelled vessels. According to congressmen who attended the closed session of the armed services committee, Rickover contended that the Navy should be allowed to take full advantage of nuclear technology.

Visit With LBJ In His Hill Country

By Sam Crews
NEW YORK (AP) — The NBC camera crew, executive producer Fred Freed and producer Len Giovannitti, had been waiting in Austin, Tex., for three days when the word came. "Today's the day."

So they headed for President Lyndon B. Johnson's ranch and began filming "The Hill Country: Lyndon Johnson's Texas," set for NBC-TV Monday.

"This is probably the most serious show ever seen on television," Freed said. "It all happened so fast that all our elaborate plans for a complicated rigging of cameras and sound equipment on the President's ranch had to be forgotten. We started a camera on the car and that was it."

"The President took off with Ray Behner, our reporter, in the front seat, and I followed with the second man in a second car. Jerry Gold, the sound man, said I'm getting ignition noises. Well, you don't tell the President of the United States to get out of the car and start over."

"When he is talking, if the wind blows, the wind blows; if a peacock crows, a peacock crows. But I thought we had better remedy the situation, so I started honking the horn and the Secret Service men got excited. But the President pulled over, we explained to him and we strapped the sound man on the back of his car with the cameraman. At one point in the filming ("Mostly the President would see something and it would remind him of a memory or a piece of history"), the car drove past a large herd of deer. Johnson was concerned that the cameraman get the deer on film.

"He kept asking, 'Are you getting the deer?' and the cameraman, being jittery along on the back of the car at an angle where couldn't get the deer, said, 'Mr. President, I'm lucky to be hanging

GOP Chairman Sued In Handling Of Party Funds

TAMPA (UPI) — The treasurer of Florida's state Republican executive committee filed a Circuit Court suit to bar GOP Chairman Tom Fallick from spending state party funds.

Mrs. Helene Merris, of Sarasota, who is also a national GOP committeewoman, called in her suit for an accounting of party funds, a declaratory decree and the injunction.

She said the suit was brought with the "consent and approval of the majority of the (state) committee" and alleged that Fallick has deposited funds in state banks other than those approved by the GOP committee.

Her petition alleged that Fallick, now treasurer of the GOP in Tampa, received a $10,000 check from the Secretary of State's office March 22, and did not deposit it in the DeSoto Bank of Arcadia, which she said was where Florida Republican funds are to be deposited.

Tourist Influx Hike Seen In Next Winter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A record 17 million tourists will visit Florida next winter, Latin American ambassadors and other guests were told at the annual Florida dinner.

Hugh P. Gibson, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, told the 800 delegates honoring the state's congressional delegation that the number of tourists expected would total one million more than this past winter.

"Florida's winter travel news this year can only be described as fantastic," he said.

But Rep. Charles Bennett (D-Fla.) told the gathering that his state needs changes in five directions to make it a better place to live.

"Florida ranks 26th among the 50 states in money spent on public education but we are ninth in population and the fastest growing large state percentage-wise while contributing 875 per cent student than the national average," Bennett said.

In addition to spending more for education, Bennett said that citizens should concentrate more on beautifying the state.

Swedish Ship Greeted In N. Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Swedish American Line's new passenger ship, the sleek, 60-foot Kungsholm, steamed into New York harbor to end its maiden voyage.

The liner was greeted by four salutes fired from the tip of Manhattan by a cannon recovered from a Swedish warship that sank off Stockholm 330 years ago. Fireboats also shot plumes of water into the air to welcome the twin-stacked liner and her 300 passengers.

The Kungsholm made the Atlantic crossing from Göteborg, Sweden, in eight days. More than 700 passengers are booked for the return voyage which starts Thursday.

DAM BREAKS SOFIA, Bulgaria (UPI) —

Swim Classes Set For Adults

For adults only: Do you know how to swim? If not, or if you'd like to learn to swim better, attend the adult swimming classes now being conducted at the Municipal Pool, Fort Mellon Park on East First Street by the Red Cross.

Classes begin at 9:30 a.m. for beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates and are held on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday for three weeks.

"With so many lakes and rivers as we have here and as much as we are around water, every adult should know how to swim, for his own protection and that of his children," said Mrs. Muriel Scott, who will instruct the classes.

College Prof Gets U. S. Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Myron Bies, former head of the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies (FICSUS), was named a special assistant to Harris Bryant, director of the Federal Office of Emergency Planning.

Bies, who headed FICSUS during Bryant's administration as governor, will head the National Defense Executive Reserve Program and will study new fields of application for OEP computers, Bryant said.

Bies will leave as assistant dean of academic affairs at Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, to work for the OEP.

Luci Planning 'U. S. Wedding' At Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A dozen attendants will precede Luci Johnson down the aisle when she weds Patrick J. Nugent Aug. 6 in ceremonies held at the White House.

Luci's older sister, Lynda, will be her maid of honor. Mrs. James Ray, of Hale County, Tex., will be matron of honor.

The list of 10 bridesmaids made public by the White House over the weekend is liberally sprinkled with teenagers, mostly old friends from Texas, though Luci has protested the label of "teen-aged bride."

She will be 19 on her wedding day. Pat will be 23.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary, said about 1,000 invitations will be mailed out for the wedding at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, the nation's largest Roman Catholic church and the seventh largest church in the world.

President and Mrs. Johnson were having trouble keeping the wedding down to the "close and family friends" size. There were questions, too, whether the White House will be big enough for the indoor reception the Johnsons plan after the ceremonies.

Luci has made it clear she wants a "national wedding."

But Washington consultants describe the size of the bridal party, which will include 11 sisters, or groomsmen as "sensational."

The President, who prefers business suits on most public occasions — even at his own inauguration, might be expected to show up at his daughter's wedding in morning coat and striped trousers.

The best man will be the bridegroom's father, Jerry P. Nugent, of Waxahatchee, Ill. He will be standing in for Pat's brother, Marine Lt. Gerald Nugent Jr., 27, who is serving in Viet Nam. Lieutenant Nugent's wife, Phyllis, will be a bridesmaid.

Students Win Over Cowboys

STEAMBOAT SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — A police magistrate dismissed disturbance charges against six Yampa Valley College students, including the son of television performer Steve Allen.

Brian Allen, 18, and the other youths were charged with disturbance in a March 23 fight with four area cowboys. The incident occurred in a Steamboat Springs tavern.

The cowboys were found guilty of disturbance and fined $25 each.

Party Elections Before Courts

MIAMI (UPI) — A federal court hearing will be held here at 10 a.m. Thursday on a suit challenging the method of electing members to the Florida Democratic and Republican executive committees.

The suit, filed by Marcus Kyle, Dade County GOP chairman, challenges as unfair and invalid the present law requiring that one party committeeman and committeewoman be elected from each of the state's 67 counties.

Kyle said that this puts control of the party in the rural, less populous counties, which outnumber urban counties.

Stolen Check Brings Charge

Charles Alfred Williams, 30, of Rural Route 2, was arrested after allegedly attempting to cash an altered stolen check at the Trailways Bus Station.

The check reportedly was stolen from T. V. Brown's Amoco Station, 118 South Sanford Avenue, and made payable to Goodyear. The check was altered to be payable to "Charles Oliver."

In city jail, Williams is also being held for federal authorities for the theft and cashing of government checks. The authorities also have a "hold" on him for forgery and check theft.

College Libraries Receive Grants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced it has awarded nearly $800,000 for two college libraries in Florida under the higher education act.

A grant of $422,111 was given to Palm Beach Junior College in Lake Worth and another of $364,377 to the new University of West Florida in Pensacola.

There has been much ado about a man appearing in Tuesday's clock in regard to Mrs. Jackie Coak, a school board candidate.

Mrs. Joanne Park, one of Mrs. Coak's supporters, set up a table in the Pleasant Shopping Center parking lot to publicize the candidacy of Mrs. Coak.

Mrs. Park had the trailer moved after objections, allegedly made by supporters of Dr. John Darby (Mrs. Coak's opponent), were brought to the attention of merchants in the shopping center.

There was no "election" by public. The trailer did not violate any laws.

Was it any day in Jacksonville one of our favorite people?

Sand Lake Road Will Be Shifted

Sand Lake Road will be put on the county's right of way but the shift from the present alignment will be "where it will hurt the least people."

That was the decision Tuesday of the Board of County Commissioners after reviewing survey maps and listening to arguments in connection with the proposed realignment of the road.

The board authorized the county engineer and road superintendent to prepare plans to build a stabilized clay road on what the county deems to be its legal right of way.

The road will be 30 feet wide in a 60-foot right of way.

Property owners who will be affected by the realignment will receive notification "well in advance" of any change in the road, the board decided.

County Engineer William McDaniel indicated that he would be a few months before the work could start.

Women Voters League Coffee Set Friday

A coffee for prospective members of the League of Women Voters of Seminole County is scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Sheila Roberts on East Seminole Boulevard.

The League is a non-partisan organization with membership open to all women citizens of voting age. The group works on government issues which arise out of the needs of the community, state and nation.

Mrs. James Bilderbeck, recently chosen chairman, announced a nominating committee, a by-laws committee and a budget committee will be named at Friday's meeting.

All women of the county are invited to attend to learn how the league functions and how interested women can become active members.

'Cyclist Hurt'

Chester Cherry, of 3018 French Avenue, is in "good" condition today at Memorial Hospital after suffering injuries Tuesday when he was riding down a hill on his motor scooter. He was riding and a car collided in the 600 block of West 31st Street.

Mrs. Thelma B. Harper, 708 1/2 West First Street, was charged with careless and negligent driving following the accident.

PROTECT SAIGON (UPI) - Saigon's 5,000 workers called today for a citywide strike Thursday to protest the recent military assassination of one of their leaders.

Ed Ball, duPont, Speaks Up

Ed Ball, who is the leading trustee of the Florida estate of the late Alfred I. duPont, said his objection was not to legislation to break up the huge duPont estate.

The Senate committee has been considering a proposal to remove an exemption from the 1964 Bank Holding Company Act which would force duPont to sell either its 20 banks or its industrial properties.

Also testifying was Sen. Spencer Holland (D-Fla.), who led the bill through the Senate. He said the bill would force duPont to sell either its 20 banks or its industrial properties.

Ground Rules Of Demo Meet Are Explained

Mrs. J. D. Morrison, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic executive committee, in an interview with the Sanford Herald today, explained the reasons why candidates for the state executive committee were not permitted to speak at Saturday night's rally at Seminole High School.

Mrs. Morrison advised costs of the rallies were delayed by a percentage of qualifying fees paid by the local candidates which is returned to the county committee to "further the cause."

Candidates "laid down the ground rules," she said, "and they were to be followed by all candidates for the state executive committee."

She said that local candidates (for county commission and school board), since their money was being used for the rallies, would be the speakers and that those not on the May 11 ballot would be introduced by the county committee. Candidates had not supported the rallies financially, but were permitted to speak in public interest.

"Robert Petree and Kathleen Reynolds, candidates for the state executive committee, were members of the campaign committee," Mrs. Morrison explained.

Sharp Advice Seen For LBJ

The Johnson administration was likely to get some sharp advice today from labor and business groups as they met in Washington to discuss the economy.

The committee's seven labor members were known to be ready to advise against the administration's wage-price "guidelines."

Delegates to the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce were expected to approve a proposed policy declaration warning against "protectionist" curbs on foreign investments aimed at ending the deficit in the U.S. balance of payments.

Meanwhile, President Johnson's advisory committee on labor-management policy was due to begin two days of talks.

They are designed to give the President new ideas on keeping the economy on an even keel in the face of rising prices and other inflationary pressures.

EDWARD AFB, Calif. (UPI) - Every bit the inventor himself, great-grandfather was the contemporary Robert Fulton has come up with a system for rescuing downed pilots using such diverse things as a four-engine airplane, a nylon net and a helium-filled balloon.

Three airmen were "fished" to a low-flying transport in the first manned tests of the Fulton Company "Rescue System," developed by the descendant of the steam boat inventor.

It is scheduled to become operational in June and the Air Force conducted successful tests in a simulated rescue mission.

Sanford Man Tops 3 Others

McDonald won the Democratic nomination with 2,515 votes in the county's 33 precincts to lead runner-up Scott Kelly, who tallied 3,116. Robert King High, who finished second in Lake County, polled only 1,411 votes in Seminole. Sam Four had 123.

The incumbent governor polled 2,888 votes in the county's 33 precincts to lead runner-up Scott Kelly, who tallied 3,116. Robert King High, who finished second in Lake County, polled only 1,411 votes in Seminole. Sam Four had 123.

Parker, Gary In Runoff

Political newcomer Robert E. (Bob) Parker of Goldenrod emerged the No. 1 man by a substantial margin in the county commission (District 3) race over three other opponents Tuesday.

However, Parker's lead was not enough to avoid a runoff with Lee Gary of Orlando, who finished second in a close race with Jack F. Syme.

Parker, a citrus grower and former caretaker, polled 1,888 votes to Gary's 1,888. Syme was third with 1,888 votes and Robert A. Cameron fourth with 798.

Parker credited some of his success in the Tuesday primary to getting out and knocking the people.

"However, I didn't do it all by personal campaigning," he said. "I have some very good friends who did a lot of work for me."

"The county commission candidate said he would not indulge in personalities," Parker said.

Parker carried 30 out of the county's 33 precincts.

Evans, Bales, Dr. Darby For School Board

School Board incumbents John Evans of Orlando, and Donald Bales, of Sanford, won Democratic renomination against fledgling political opponents Horace Smith and John Horner Tuesday, but Bales will face Republican Charles B. Beals in the November election.

Dr. John Darby, plant pathologist with the Florida Experiment Station, upset State Rep. Jackie Coak, 3,766 to 2,471, to win the third Democratic bid for the School Board.

Darby also faces Republican opposition in November from candidate Mrs. Jean Bryant. Only about 6,000 of the 2,410 Democratic voters marked a ballot in favor of any candidate in the School Board race.

Action Board Meets Thursday

Special meeting of the membership of Seminole Community Action, Inc. has been called by the board of directors for 8 p.m. Thursday at the Civic Center.

Purpose of the meeting will be the approval or rejection of amendments to the by-laws and amendments to the articles of incorporation as proposed by the board of directors.

The group will also elect four additional directors to serve until the next annual meeting.
