MASTER OF ART OF GRAFTING

Representative Burleson of Texas Describes the Operations of the King of Them All.

"No, I won't give you a cent. You are a grifter, and a smooth one, but you don't get me." Following this declaration just outside the national Democratic headquarters...

Hard to Find.

"You talk as if every man was his own collar button."

Perfectly Natural Inquiry.

"Next thing I knew he hit his father with an axe, the old man chased him for miles, firing at him with a blunderbuss all the while."

From Personal Experience.

"Hello, dearie, are you on your way to take your lesson?" "Yeth, ma'am."

Matter of Mentality.

"Do you think fishing is a congenial recreation for really brainy men?" "Undoubtedly. It takes a pretty smart person to think up any new stories to tell when he gets home."

Not at the Present Price.

"Uncle Jared—Yes, out in the country we go to bed with the chickens."

When.

"When a doctor's bill is smaller than it was expected to be the man who gets it begins to feel that there is some joy in living after all."

Quite Probable.

"If the Lord hadn't made the little apples there might not have been the delicious apple sauce.—Manchester Union."

Generally.

"Generally people pay a good deal more for experience than it turns out to be worth to them."

Things That Will Count. Health, necessity and success will eventually regulate foolishness.—Dr. Push.

Stick to the One Thing. There's no chance for you unless you spend all your time in the company of one job.

Daily Thought

All true wisdom is contained in these two words—wait and hope.—Dumas.

Fine.

A good impulse is a good thing, but the disposition to act upon it is even finer.

Celery and Lettuce

The Kind That Brings The Money

It's those big bunches of crisp, tender celery the people want—and will pay big prices for. And fresh, healthy lettuce leaves that make the rest of the dinner look good—They are the ones the housewives look for.

Armour Top Dressers

Celery Grower and Lettuce Special are especially prepared to make this kind of lettuce and celery. Both brands have plenty of the quick-acting ammonia that makes the plants large and tender...

CELERY BRINGING PRICE

Quality Is Said to Be Finest in Year.

OFFERING TWO DOLLARS CRATE

Sanford Growers Willing to Sell at Price and Are Taking Offers

This is the season that means money to the celery growers again. The freeze in California has stunted the growth of the celery there and will delay shipments for some time, thus giving the Florida celery full sway. The crop this year is said to be of the finest quality and much earlier than last season and the grower will have enough early stuff to guarantee him the price. As proof of this the market has been brisk and two dollars per crate has been offered, although several growers sold for $1.50 and were willing to let go at that price and take no chances. In all there is about 400 acres in celery here and if the good price is maintained there will be plenty of money in circulation in the early spring. Most of the growers are getting off the early crop to make room for the spring crops of early vegetables and are content to start the early celery market at a fair price in order to keep the market firm during the remainder of the season. There is said to be very little celery in the state this year. Sanford's nearest competitor, Manatee county, only having in about one hundred acres and with the California crop being out of the market the Sanford growers should have no trouble in maintaining an average price of $1.50 per crate or better, this price of course being f. o. b. Sanford.

SOAKED BLIND TIGER

Judge Warlow Gives Old Offender A Good Dose

Prince Goodwin, colored, tried in the Criminal Court on the charge of selling whiskey, was found guilty and was sentenced to eighteen months in the state penitentiary. Goodwin was tried twice on this same charge, the first having resulted in a mistrial. At the last Legislature a law was passed making it a penitentiary offence for selling liquor, where the person is found guilty on the second arraignment, and the penalty may be fixed for any length of time up to five years. Goodwin's case came under the ban of the new law, hence his sentence to state prison. His first offence came in 1910, in the same court, when he was given six months on the country roads. It is not generally known that the whiskey vender stands a fair chance of serving time in the penitentiary, and this fact, which is brought out in Goodwin's case, will no doubt have a tendency to deter many from engaging in the disputable practice in the future. Heretofore it has been a fine or time on the road.

This case came up yesterday afternoon, when Judge Warlow made good the first victim from Orlando under the new law. Willie Brown, tried on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, was found guilty and sentenced to six months in the county jail.

The well driving machine and wagon are still in the river. The ferry will be closed until the 22nd inst., after that date the ferry will be in good order for the public.

HANGED NEGRO FIEND

But It Was Done According to Law

OCALA JUSTICE IS SPEEDY

Other News and Views Around the State Gathered by Wires and Tapes

J. J. Johnson, the negro man who was tried and convicted of an heinous crime last week was hanged in the court yard of the Ocala jail at 11:02 o'clock Wednesday morning. His neck was broken by the fall and in eleven minutes after the trap was sprung he was pronounced dead. The condemned man was accompanied to the scaffold by his two spiritual advisors, Rev. Gary and Rev. Bradley, colored, who had previously held prayers in his cell. Deputies Bigance and Smith escorted him to the scaffold and Sheriff Galloway sprung the trap. At the scaffold, Rev. Duke, colored, made a short prayer and the negro Johnson made a short prayer. He neither denied nor confessed his crime at the end but said he had made his peace with God and left the world with ill feelings toward none. A large crowd of idlers, curious minded and others gathered around the jail to witness the execution.

A new railroad is to be built from Tampa direct to St. Petersburg, entering the Pinellas peninsula just at the head of Old Tampa Bay and running west to Clear Water, thence south to St. Petersburg; also north to Tarpon Springs and Port Richey. The new company, the Tampa and Gulf Coast Railroad Company, has a capital of $250,000.

The contract has been awarded for the erection of the handsome and elegant new Elks' club house in Tampa. The building will be six stories in height and work will be started on it very soon and completed by midsummer. The structure will cost $35,000 and will be one of the handsomest Elks' homes in the south.

FLORIDA GARDENS CO.

Board of Directors Hold An Important Meeting

FIRST CROPS BEING HARVESTED

Officers Are Well Pleased With Good Showing and Want More Land Cleared

A meeting of the board of directors of the Florida Gardens, Inc., was held last Wednesday, to consider matters of importance connected with that corporation. The board consists of nine members and those attending were: Albert Meyer, Detroit, Mich.; Franklin G. Evans, Kelton, Pa.; James L. Giles and W. R. O'Neal of Orlando, and J. N. Whitner, S. O. Chase, H. H. Chappell and J. O. Packard of Sanford.

This company has only just begun to harvest their present crops and so far have gotten good prices for their products. They have 70 acres of lettuce, 20 acres of celery, 5 acres of beets and are planting 10 acres of peppers, 10 acres of egg plant, 20 acres of cucumbers and 50 acres of tomatoes and will follow these present crops with various other spring and summer crops.

The corporation has a large acreage of Sanford land and discussed the advisability of securing sufficient additional capital to improve a considerable acreage each season. To those who are acquainted, the list of names above given on the directorate is sufficient guarantee of the success of this project, for every one of these men are of the very highest class and each successful in his own line.

The success of Florida Gardens, Inc., means a great deal to Sanford and the entire situation here. Each plan is to be carried out as rapidly as possible on a large

FOR COUNTY DIVISION

Imperial Theatre Will Donate Receipts of Wednesday's Performance

Manager Karnatz with his usual generosity has decided to assist the County Division Committee by donating the receipts of the performance next Wednesday night. There will be special vaudeville feature and a special reel, Monte Cristo, one of the best programs given this season. The admission will be twenty cents, which will include the two reels of Monte Cristo, special vaudeville act and an address by Secretary Bates of the Commercial Club on the issue of County Division.

The evening will be devoted to fun and amusement and every one who wishes to spend a pleasant evening and also assist the county division committee should be at the Imperial Theatre next Wednesday night. The proceeds go to the Division Committee.

The $100,000 ice plant of the Lakeland Ice & Refrigerator Co., of which Messrs. O. M. Eaton and E. H. Youngs are the owners, opened yesterday for the first time, the first day's output being 136,000 pounds or 68 tons. The mammoth building is architecturally handsome and the plant is one of the largest in Florida. It is equipped with the finest machinery obtainable and has a capacity of 75 tons per day.—Lakeland Telegram.

That Presbyterian Bible class over in Miami taught by Mr. Bryan ought to, and doubtless will, become such a popular Sunday feature that the appreciative citizens of that city will cease to complain of the rigid enforcement of the Sunday blue laws. Mr. Bryan is said to be especially impressive and convincing in his treatment of the deep and solemn problems of religion.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY

Sanford Will Have New Year Book in February

W. S. Neville, who is arranging the new city directory for Sanford was in the city several days of this week finishing up the collection of data and other matters. Mr. Neville will have the directory printed at the Herald office and expects to get out the work some time in February. The new directory will contain a fund of valuable information aside from the regular directory features and promises to be a guide for names and addresses and business firms in the city and county.

Yachting Party

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gray of Rackdale, Tennessee, accompanied by Mrs. Sanders and two children, from Florence, Ala., arrived in the city several days ago from Palatka, on Mr. Gray's yacht, which had been sent from Norfolk to take the party on board at Palatka, where they were visiting relatives, having traveled to Florida by rail. Mr. Gray is a prominent manufacturer of iron ore in Rackdale. He is a relative of Mrs. W. T. Johns. He visited Sanford last winter. The party enjoyed a pleasant ride about the city viewing the suburban homes, the fine farms in the famous celery delta and also on their arrival, and expressed themselves as very much pleased with Sanford and vicinity. Mrs. Gray and party are enjoying a fishing trip to Lake Harney this week. It is Mr. Gray's intention to cruise on the St. Johns river several months.

THE ORANGE COUNTY FAIR

Meeting in February Will Be a Record Breaker

SPECIAL ATTENTION ON STOCK

Sanford Expects to Have Fine Exhibit at the Biggest Fair on Earth

The great Orange county fair will be held in Orlando February 18 to 22 inclusive and will follow out the usual plan of giving the people of South Florida one of the greatest exhibitions of farm products, live stock, fancy work and culinary arts that has ever before been attempted. The Orange county fair has held two very successful meetings and the 1913 meeting will be better than the former two. As the county improves the variety and products of the soil continue to improve and in this county where there is such a good variety of Florida products to be obtained. Sanford expects to follow the usual custom of sending a creditable exhibit and the Commercial Club will take up the matter at the next meeting. We have a number of people in this section who are raising fine poultry, hogs and cattle, and they expect to have them on exhibition. Celery never looked better than this season and in February will be in prime condition, as will lettuce and other crops.

Sanford also has some speedy horses that should pull down some of the money in the trotting, pacing and running races.

The Orange county fair has been aided and assisted in the past through Sanford's efforts and we should still lend our efforts toward making better the enterprise already begun. Sanford should have a bigger and better exhibit at Orlando this year than ever before.

Two of the principal features at the fair this year and two on which much work has been expended are the live stock exhibits and the department for colored people.

Orange county has a better grade of live stock than any county in the state and Orange county also has a large proportion of thrifty colored people who are anxious to show the products of their skill in arts and products and in both of these departments the patrons of the fair this year will receive a great surprise.

In addition to the agricultural features there will be plenty of amusements, sports, etc. A well known aviator will make daily flights in an aeroplane and there will be something doing every day.

Exercise For The Voice

Myron W. Whitney, the American basso, has hit upon a splendid method for keeping the voice in good condition during the summer months when he is not actively engaged in concert work, and feeling sure his novel plan will meet with the approval of both professionals and students, he divulges the secret.

The first requisite is secure somewhere in the Southland, a pair of thoroughly domesticated mules, trained from infancy under the capable tutorage of a "plantation darkey," who has taught them to faithfully obey one shrill whistle for all manouvers—to go ahead, turn right or left, back up or stop, they invariably obey the latter more willingly than the other signals. Next secure a small acreage of untilled soil, as much secluded as possible, and meeting with the city ordinance of being at least two hundred feet from a school house or church; the reason for this will explain itself as you progress with the exercise. The next move is to securely fasten the mules to an "Oliyer 40" and then vow unto yourself that you will expose to the smiling sun this unbroken sod. Next firmly grasp the plow handles, one in each hand, then pucker your mouth for the go-ahead whistle. If the mules do not immediately respond, renew the whistle, at the same time shying a cobble stone or clod at the Northeast ear of the off mule. This invariably has the desired effect and brings about the first noticeable exercise. As you will gradually feel a strengthening of the diaphragm as it frequently comes in contact with the cross-rungs of the plow handles. Your involuntary expressions, which should be limited to English adjectives, perfect your enunciation, and the rapidity with which you separate from them greatly strengthens the throat muscles and larynx. After a few days of this continued exercise a feeling of security and absence of stage fright is brought about by continuous dodging of the four hind feet of the mules and you gradually gain a feeling of self possession that enables you to face the most discriminating and critical audience.

Resolutions of Respect

In the case of O. C. Wike, who failed to put in his appearance, the Judge ordered his bond of $150 to be estreated.

Roscoe Dawson, charged with vagrancy, the case was nolle prossed.

Prince Grant, an old charge of selling whiskey, got his case nolle prossed, as no evidence was adduced.

Hamp Harris was fined $250 and costs or one year on the county roads for aggravated assault in Sanford, on the person of Jim Bailey. Harris, who comes from O'Brien, in Volusia county, while in Sanford last fall, became involved in a difficulty with Bailey while in an intoxicated condition, and used his gun. Harris is quite an old man, being about 70 years in quite an old man, being about sixty-five or seventy years old. The difficulty came about in a dispute over some whiskey.

Chester Wofford plead guilty to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was given a $100 fine or six months on the roads.

Had Fingers Snatched

Harold Halliday, a fourteen year old boy of Markham had the misfortune to get his left hand caught in a gasoline engine, Sunday. His step-father, Mr. Ross, rushed him to the office of Dr. Robson and it was deemed necessary to amputate the forefinger at the second joint.

Cloakroom for Church.

Nothing is more unpleasant than the atmosphere of a church on a wet Sunday, when dripping umbrellas and odoriferous waterproofs make the air heavy, moist, and pronouncedly oppressive. The remedy is fairly obvious, but one seldom hears of its application. A London minister with a keen eye for the comfort of his flock, however, has just established a cloakroom in the vestibule of his church, where damp coats and umbrellas can be left in charge of an attendant, who hands the visitor a brass check with a number corresponding to that on the receptacle where the articles are kept. At first the worshippers viewed the innovation with suspicion. Their attitude toward it, however, changed when the minister found himself able to announce, with a touch of humor, that "cloaks and umbrellas can now be left with safety."

War on the Hatpin.

The hatpin question received serious attention in Munich after several people had been injured by protruding points. One of the measures adopted by the street car authorities makes it safe to travel in them, no matter how many long hatpins at dangerous angles it may contain. The company warns its patrons against the perilous article of woman's dress and asks that wearers of "protruding, sharp points" be reported to the conductor. When this is done, he does not order the pins removed, but addressing the wearer politely, he says, "Allow me, please," and proceeds to attach an ornamental guard to the offensive point. "Women don't object to the decoration, and if any should do so, they will be asked to remove the pins," says a Munich letter.

Gold Lions of Peking.

Fronting the imperial palace at Peking are two gold lions of enormous size which, if we are to believe the mandarins, are of solid gold and have been there since time immemorial. When the combined armies of England and France advanced on Peking in 1860 the Chinese painted these statues gray in order to make the Europeans believe that they were of bronze, and therefore to insure against their being melted. Later, during the Japanese war, these lions disappeared for a time but at the conclusion of peace they reappeared in their original position. The value of these relics is said to be incalculable, and they are in native eyes a symbol of the unity of the empire.—Harper's Week

Editor Triplett of the Kissimmee Gazette, has announced his first retirement to the farm. The first of every year, Triplett tires of the tripod and hies to the peaceful countryside. He stays long enough to get fat and "sassy" and then resumes newspaper pursuits. Triplett is fortunate in having the farm to retire to and the job to return to when he feels like it. —Tampa Tribune.

Marcy B. Darnell, editor of the Key West Citizen expects to make application for the postoffice of his city at the proper time. Mr. Darnell is a staunch Democrat, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, a member of the Florida legislature and an editor of rare ability and should have no trouble in receiving this slight recognition of his services. The newspaper men of Florida will always obtain precedence over contestants for Federal offices and we congratulate Bro. Darnell in advance.

Sanford should have a good exhibit at the Orange county fair. This will be our last chance to exhibit as part of Orange county and we ought to place a fine exhibit at Orlando and help the fair as much as possible. County division has nothing to do with the fair and Sanford has always taken a keen interest in the fair and the same interest should be manifested as formerly. Sanford and Orlando should meet at the Orange county fair as friends and neighbors and on the same footing as in the days of yore and this, our banner year for celery should see our great vegetable industry displayed at the fair and we should take as much pride and interest in the county fair as ever. The county is not divided now and even if it was Harney county could make an exhibit at Orlando.

THE ORANGE IS BURSTING

Some of our erstwhile and well meaning friends who do not favor county division are making a claim that a division of the Orange would leave both parts in bad condition financially. Let us look more closely into the question.

The new county of Harney would have over two million dollars in taxable values. Orange county will have almost double that amount. We will let the reader delve into the cost of maintaining the counties and see whether either county would be bankrupt.

As a matter of fact, old Orange is just bursting with opulence and business. At one of the meetings of the county commissioners before the matter of division was broached the question of building an addition to the courthouse was planned and the Orlando Elks made the county a proposition to trade the Elks home for the county property now occupied by the jail. The plea of the county officials was that the business of Orange county had reached such proportions that the present quarters were entirely inadequate to properly attend to the same. Since division has arisen the officials have been strangely silent on the subject of a new addition—an addition that was supposed to represent about $100,000 worth of improvements to the present county building. At another meeting of the county commissioners the tax assessor was allowed an assistant to be paid by the county a straight salary of $500.00. This assistant was required because the business of Orange county had grown to such large proportions that the tax assessor could not handle the job.

The Herald will not attempt to question the validity of this act. We will leave it to Bro. Schuman of the Orlando Sentinel, who is a lawyer, as to whether it is legal to pay a salary in a state where the free system is in operation. We are not concerned with the act of the county officials of Orange county. We will have a new county in May.

The Herald is only trying to prove that our zealous friends in the south end, who are trying to prove that either Harney county or Orange county will suffer by a change, are badly mistaken. We are only trying to prove that Orange county has grown out of all proportion and that we are doing Orange county a real favor in taking part of this big business off her shoulders. We are trying to prove by figures, that not only will Harney county be rich enough and prosperous enough to set up housekeeping for herself but we will leave Mother Orange plenty in the old home to fight the wolf from the door after our departure. Orange county has money in the treasury. Orange county has no bonded indebtedness. Orange county is bursting with money and business, and Orange county can stand division better than any other county in the state.

Orange county wants an addition to the present courthouse. We want to save them that trouble and expense by taking part of the business from the dear old lady's shoulders. Orange county officials are overworked. We want to relieve them by taking our part of the business in a branch store.

FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS

An action taken by the Florida Educational Association, which gives promise of a long step forward in the school interests of the state was a resolution to memorialize the next Legislature, asking that an amendment to the constitution be submitted to the people, making women eligible for the office of school superintendent.

The resolution was offered by Dr. J. L. Kelly, the new president of the association and one of the state's most able leaders in educational work. He pre- luded the introduction of the resolution by a short address, in which he said:

"We all recognize that fundamental changes are demanded in our educational system. In our several judgments we are bound to disagree as to the most immediate and most vital of these changes. I am persuaded that we are handicapped in reaching a solution of the problem of supervision because we hold too strongly to the traditional idea of the incapacity of women to discharge the duties of this department of educational work.

"Women are admitted—in fact, they are urged to attend our educational councils, on an equality with men. They are a very essential part of our educational government. Now, if we admit them into all our councils, accept their judgments, and translate their ideas into laws and regulations, do we not concede their ability to attack intelligently and efficiently the problems of administration? It occurs to me in this case: Here are two forces, each arrayed under the same banner, fighting for the same cause, armed with the same implements, using the same tactics and strategies, bearing the same burdens, offering the same trials, enduring the same hardships, winning equal laurels in the field, brought before battlements wherein lie greater rewards and honors. At this juncture one of the masculine forces, by an ancient custom, blocks the progress of the other. If education promotes a spirit of honesty and progress, then is it not time that we show this fact concretely?

"Let us break down the barriers and in the true spirit of honesty and progress place the honors in reach of the one most deserving to have them. In conformity to this view, and as an expression of my sincerity in the justice of the claims I set forth, I offer the following resolutions and earnestly move their adoption."

The association heartily endorsed the resolutions and adopted them; thus speaking for the class of people most able to judge as to the measure's wisdom and justice, namely—the men and women daily occupied in teaching the boys and girls of Florida.

It is even possible that legislation will be occupied that will take school affairs entirely out of politics and "ring" methods, and that the administration of the public school system in all its parts will be in the hands some day of trained educators.

KNOCK THE KNOCKERS

Every day there are new people coming to Sanford who meet with the knocker and before anyone is aware of their presence in the city said knocker has induced the new prospector to leave the city or tried his best to induce him to leave. Every city, every town, every community have these knockers and the matter of the Sanford knocker has been brought up time and again in the Commercial Club and various reasons assigned for the killing off of this traducer of Sanford and vicinity. Now that the many tourists and home seekers are coming to the state the knocker is getting very active again and the only way to kill this menace to progress is to use his own weapons and knock the knocker. Very few of these knockers are in business. Very few of them have time to attend to their own business because they are too busy using the hammer but The Herald has found one or two here who are in business and strange to say one of them came to Sanford years ago with nothing and has accumulated a fortune here in business in the city and in raising vegetables and yet this person sings a song of discontent to every stranger within our gates. We have his number and we purpose to put him on the black list. We will tell him that if any more lies of woe emanate from his place that the business men of Sanford will take his case in hand and will at least keep him from doing any more business in this city and in time he will be compelled to move on. He will be compelled to sell his business, sell his farms, sell all of the property that he has accumulated in a few years in the city that he is knocking and Sanford will be well rid of him.

If any more of his hard luck stories emanate from his part of the city the editor of the Herald will bring the gentleman's name before the Commercial Club and he will be waited upon by a committee from that organization. He is not a member of that organization and is not a member of any organization that will tend to make the city more prosperous or will assist progress in any manner after he is informed of the club's action we will take active measures to put the gentleman on the black list and will follow out his plan of knocking. We will joyfully borrow some hammers and knock the aforesaid gentleman, knock his business, knock his sales, knock his enterprises and put him on the blink proper and when the business men of Sanford are through with him the spider will be weaving webs on his place of business and he will be social and business pariah. He will be an outcast, a derelict with every man's hand against him and then he can take a train out of the city and Sanford will know him no more. Will the knockers please take notice.

Every stranger that comes to the city and is approached with the tale of woe from these knockers will make us an affidavit and we will compile the knocker's list and then use our hammers.

MERE MATTER OF SENTIMENT

There are a few older citizens of Orange county who hate to think of a split in the county. They have been here twenty-five, thirty or forty years, and as a matter of sentiment refuse to listen to the idea of separation. Many of them are of the opinion that the county is not large enough to cut in two or that we have too few inhabitants when the statistics show that the new county of Harney will have as large a population as seventeen other counties in Florida now have and it is safe to assert that the new county is increasing in population as fast or faster than two-thirds of the counties of Florida. They also think that our resources will not permit of division when the figures will demonstrate that no county in the state is in as good shape financially as Orange county and that the counties of Orange and Harney would divide the resources and each be placed upon the same solid foundation as formerly the whole county stood.

The officers obtain their salaries by the fee system which means that the officers in both counties would have to work for their salaries and would get nothing in the way of pensions. The present officers would of course have their present fees cut in the ratio of the amount of taxable property cut out of Orange and the loss of population would cut the court officer's fees correspondingly.

It is utter folly for any anti-divisionist to circulate the story about the people in the new county being forced to pay double fees when the county is divided. The tax payers of Harney will not be called upon to pay any more taxes than they are paying now. The only extra expense of the new county would be the opening of the new county books and records and the necessary office furniture for the new county officials. We will not need a new court house for years to come and there are several suitable buildings that can be used for court purposes in Sanford should this city be chosen for the county seat.

One could grow and die for weeks enumerating the good points that will accrue from a division of the county and the position can only fall back on the cut and dried argument of the anguish caused by separation and the attendant expenses of two counties. A mere matter of sentiment sums up the argument of the few anti-divisionist. They have been so accustomed to Orlando as the county seat that the idea of another court house seems preposterous. Just the idea of divorce from Orlando starts the tears rolling and the matter seems beyond understanding.

But even sentiment is giving way before the light of solid reasoning and the idea of two counties where formerly there was but one is growing stronger every day.

Health in Hearty Laugh. A famous doctor once said: "Encourage your child to be merry and to laugh aloud; a good, hearty laugh expands the chest and makes the blood bound merrily along. Command me in a good laugh—not to a child."

It is not only do your child good, but will be a benefit to all who hear and be an important means of driving the blues away from a dwelling. Merriment is catching and spreads in a remarkable manner, few being able to resist the contagion. A hearty laugh is delightful harmony; indeed, it is the best of all music.

BIG MONEY IN CUCUMBERS

Very few Florida Truckers realize the big money that can be made out of Cucumbers when they are planted, worked and fertilized as they should be. One of the best varieties to plant is the Davis Perfect. This is a very long, handsome fruited variety; when wrapped and packed in tomato crates, sells along side of the hot-house stock. 600 crates per acre is not an unusual crop of Cucumbers when planted on irrigated land.

C. H. KENNERLY

has several thousand pounds of extra select Cucumber Seed, all varieties, on hand, ready to supply to the Florida growers who wish to plant crop. Get busy now and put in an acre or two; you will never regret it.

... NOTICE ... TO HORSE AND MULE OWNERS

Have you tried Dr. Semple's Hoof Ointment? A Prevention and Cure for Hard, Dry and Brittle Hoof. Every Farmer, Liveryman and Turpentine Operator or anyone owning Horses or Mules should not be without this Valuable Remedy.

QUART FIFTY CENTS

The cause of numerous diseases and disagreeable habits heretofore ascribed as "constitutional" have been traced to the teeth. Turning head sideways in eating, frothing at the mouth in harness, blindness caused from wolf teeth, loss of flesh, weak eyes and cribbing are always due to diseased and irregular teeth. Rough edges and sharp corners of the teeth lacerate the mouth and produce nervousness and irritability. Uneven, elongated molars and incisors prevent the proper mastication of the food, producing indigestion and general debility. Decayed molars cause necrosis of the bone, abscesses, nasal gleet, fistula of the jaw, etc.

In the care of horses and mules probably no one point is more neglected by the ordinary horseman than the care of the teeth.

Again, when the teeth become so deranged that the animal cannot properly masticate its food, what it eats does not do it as much good as it should, because when the food is not properly ground it cannot be properly digested, and when it cannot be properly digested more or less of it passes off as waste material.

If your Horse, Mule or any other Animal is Afflicted in any way, you may not know the cause. Consult

Ingenious French Fraud.

Fraud is practiced in many forms in France; but it is news that snails are receiving the attention of the tricksters. It seems that snail frauds have become so serious that a society has been formed to stop it. It is called the "Syndicate of the Preparer and Dealers of Snails in France." As a comestible the snail has an enormous clientele. Snails are sold by millions. But the consumers are not quite certain of the origin of the snails they eat. The fraud consists of putting the snails called the "Little Greys" into the empty shells of Burgundy snails, which are of superior quality.

True Charity in Denmark.

The Danish postmaster general has devised an ingenious method of providing money for the education of the blind. A copper coin, a luck-penny, is to be made in the royal mint, and is to be sold to the parents of every new-born child who has the gift of sight by the nurse attending the mother. Parents are to pay whatever sum they think fit for the luck-penny, which is worth only a halfpenny and bears the device, "The child seeing the light for the first time presents a tribute to the child who will never see."

Books the True Levelers.

Books are the true levelers. They give to all who will faithfully use them the society, the spiritual presence of the best and greatest of our race. No matter how poor I am, no matter though the prosperous of my own time will not enter my obscure dwelling, if the sacred writers will enter and take up their abode under my roof . . . I shall not pine for want of intellectual companionship and I may become a cultivated man, though excluded from what is called the best society in the place where I live.—Channing.

GRAFT IN KEY WEST

Stall Fed Policeman Turns Up A Near Becker Case IN Florida

Key West, Jan. 15.—Chief of Police John Cates and Captain of Police Rafael Renosa were suspended here today by Mayor J. N. Fogarty, after they had refused to resign. The action was taken as the result of disclosures made in an investigation of the police department, members of which, it is alleged, have been receiving graft from illegal resorts, and been allowing gambling.

Mayor Fogarty instituted the probe of the police department as a result of statements made to him last Saturday night by Richard Lloyd, also a member of the department. Lloyd, according to the mayor, said that he had accepted graft in the guise of a watchman from banks, business houses, coffee shops and gambling houses and that the same thing was being done by other members of the police force.

The patrol man asserted that the police officials kept him out of the business section.

"If I am allowed one half hour off my beat, I will produce results in the way of gambling," Lloyd asserted according to the mayor. Consent was given by Mayor Fogarty and a raid followed, the reputed gamblers and evidence collected being brought to the mayor's office. The investigation was then ordered.

Ohio River On Rampage

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 15.—With a stage of 49.5, and still rising, the Ohio river is hourly flooding territory and forcing farmers to flee from their homes to the city. The low places in Evansville are submerged. Skiffs and launches distributed food and fuel to water-bound homes today. Provisions are being distributed from the city hall.

Fear of flooding in sections where the houses have been abandoned has caused the police to patrol the district in boats.

At New Albany 1,000 persons are homeless, but the city is to care for them, refusing aid offered by the Red Cross Society.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 15.—A steady rain here all day caused the slowly receding Ohio to come to a standstill tonight, and reports of a general rain throughout the southern part of the state led to predictions that another rise is inevitable. River men are of the opinion that if the rain stops by tomorrow the rise will not exceed the crest reached last night—62.2 feet.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 15.—The crest of the flood passed the falls of the Ohio river here early today, and at 10 o'clock the gauge showed a fall of .2 foot. For about 12 hours the river was at a standstill at 39.5, its maximum depth. The local weather bureau predicted the rate of fall would be slow for several days, because of the great volume of water below here.

Parcel Post Flourishing

Washington, Jan. 15.—Six million packages were handled by the parcel post during the first seven days of the operation of the system, according to figures compiled today by the postoffice department.

The figures were compiled from reports received by Postmaster General Hitchcock, from 1,594 out of the 1,650 postoffices having city delivery service—and estimates made from the scattering reports of the remaining postoffices of the country. The returns show that during the first seven days, 4,628,824 packages were handled in the city delivery offices which have submitted reports. Of this number 107,561 packages were insured. As all of the offices were closed on New Year's Day and Sunday, the reports cover substantially only five days.

Wednesday Club

The Wednesday Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. George H. Fernald Wednesday afternoon, with a fine attendance of the club members and one visitor present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. G. L. Maris, after which the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. S. O. Chase.

The program for the afternoon was then taken up.

Mrs. G. B. Waldron read an article giving an interesting and comprehensive study of the "Scout Law," setting forth the principles of noble manhood which the fine training is intended to inculcate, in the moral, mental and physical being of the boy scouts.

"How Shall We Teach the Child Obedience?" This question was answered by Mrs. L. R. Phillips, in an exceedingly interesting and instructive study, which contained many timely and wise suggestions, coupled with excellent advice.

Some helpful suggestions on "How Shall We Teach the Child the Value of Money?" was given by Mrs. A. D. Key, who also reviewed several interesting plans for the instruction of any one present in need of advice on the subject.

The discussion, "How Shall We Teach Honesty?" was opened by Mrs. M. H. Bowler.

Each of the above mentioned subjects elicited a number of interesting remarks from the members of the club, also many entertaining personal and home incidents were related by the ladies joining in the general discussions which followed each paper.

Several changes in the program for Wednesday next were announced by the president, after which the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place next week.

Missionary Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church held their regular business meeting Tuesday afternoon in the church. The president of the society, Mrs. H. H. Chappell, presided over the meeting and conducted the devotional exercises.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. C. H. Smith, the president gave an interesting resume of her incumbency as president of the society for the past three years, and the work accomplished by the society during the past year. She then called for the yearly report of the treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Abernathy, which was very gratifying in its financial showing.

The report of the first vice president, Mrs. L. R. Phillips, who has charge of the Junior Epworth League, was very fine indeed, and certainly satisfactory.

The third vice president, Mrs. H. V. Perry made a splendid report of the work done by the Reading Circle and the number of meetings held during the past year.

Mrs. M. A. Miot, fourth vice president in charge of the Social Service Department made a fine statement of the successful work accomplished in the various channels of that department. Concluding her report, Mrs. Miot announced her various committees for the year, specifying their various branches of usefulness in the missionary work.

Several other matters of business were transacted, after which Mrs. Perry announced that the Reading Circle would meet at the home of Mrs. L. R. Phillips Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 21st. The meeting then adjourned.

Cameo Bridge Club

Mrs. C. M. Vorce was hostess of the Cameo Bridge Club Tuesday morning.

Two tables of bridge were played. The cameo brooch prize will be worn for the present by Mrs. A. P. Connelly, who made the highest score.

Mrs. Vorce's guests were Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. T. A. Neal.

Joke That's Too Obscure for Him.—"I'm getting old, and my head isn't working just right," confessed the Old Dodger. "Here, in the paper, is a joke copied from Life—a dainty, glittering bit of humor warranted not to soil the most delicate fabric—and to save my soul I can't see the point. It is supposed to be a conversation between two week-end guests. One says: 'Would you ask our hostess to lend me a motor?' And the other replies: 'Good heavens, no!'—Just like that—'Good heavens, no!' I'd as soon ask her for a piece of string! Now, I know that is funny; it must be, being it's from Life. But, although I have read it forwards and backwards, close to and at arm's length, burping if I can see what the nub is. Beyond doubt, I am getting old and senile, and should now be taken out in the woods and shot."—Kansas City Star.

Cause and Effect Were Similar.

Emma sent her plate back three times to be filled with turkey, and was helped bountifully each time. Finally, she was observed to look resentfully at the unfinished portion of her dinner. "What's the trouble, Emma?" asked Uncle John. "You're mournful." "That's just the trouble," said Emma. "I am more'n full." "Then she wondered why all the others laughed.—Youth's Companion.

Nominations Are Still Open in Herald's Great Voting Contest Now Is Splendid Time to Enter

FILL OUT COUPON AND SEND IN AT ONCE

Save the Ballot Good for Fifty Votes—The Candidates Need Them—Pay Up For Your Paper and Vote for Them

There are very few people who have no desire for a player piano. It is something that every mother wishes for her daughter to have—it is something that every mother appreciates and enjoys. Knowing these facts, The Herald selected the Stultz Bros. player piano for its first prize to be given away in its circulation contest, and a hearty response with which the announcement was met justified the belief that no more suitable gift could have been chosen.

Interest has really grown with each day since the contest was announced. The contest is getting under way; in better shape and with more speed than the Herald had hoped for, and it feels satisfied with the enterprise it has launched.

Nominations are still open. There are lots of small towns and neighborhoods that are the homes of popular and wide awake young ladies who could make a winning race with ease if they only entered with determination to win. A great many of these will not enter, but others will, and it is these last named that The Herald invites to act, and act promptly.

As collections and renewals count for as many votes as new subscribers, they should not be overlooked. Candidates should see all subscribers and request them to pay up and vote for them. There is no canvassing allowed in The Herald office. If the subscribers are not solicited and promises given before they come in to "pay up" the votes are lost.

Candidates should see each and every one of them and ask for their votes; ask them to help you win by casting their votes for you; by saving the ballot good for fifty votes that appear in every issue of The Herald because you positively cannot win without more votes than your nearest competitor.

If you are reading this with a feeling that it applies to some one else, consider for a moment how it fits yourself. Perhaps you are the very person qualified above all others to win the $750 player piano. Do not let it pass you by with indifference, or some other similar complaint, have never considered your chance seriously. You may be losing this player piano because you have not considered capabilities and chances with the seriousness they deserve.

Just make up your mind to come in and see the contest editor today. His name is Loop. Think of loop the loop and you won't forget it. Let him furnish you with a subscription book and suggestion that will be beneficial to you. That is the busiest thing he has to do; help you in every way consistent with the rules of the contest. He helps one as much as another. He absolutely plays no favorites and allows no gambling or lottery methods of any kind.

Important Rules

No subscription will be counted as new if it is simply changed from one member of the family or household to another.

In case of a tie the value of the prize will be divided.

Any question that may arise among the contestants will be determined by the contest editor and his decision will be absolute and final.

The right is reserved to reject the name of a candidate for cause; also to alter any general rules and regulations of the contest should the occasion demand.

A committee of unimpeachable business or professional men will be chosen at the close of the contest to count the votes.

Commencing Tuesday Jan. 21, no candidate will be allowed to cast for publication more SUBSCRIPTION votes than 5,000 ahead of the leader in the previous score. If you are 35,000 behind the leader, you can cast 40,000.

All ballots good for fifty votes will be counted and published as fast as they are turned in to the contest editor.

Votes to be counted and published in Tuesday's paper must be handed to the contest editor not later than Monday noon. Votes to be counted and published in Friday's paper must be handed to the contest editor not later than Thursday noon.

The special ballot good for ten thousand votes appears today and you should not fail to take advantage of this grand offer.

General Rules and Conditions Any lady, married or single, residing in Sanford or its territory, may become a candidate. It is not necessary to become a subscriber to The Herald in order to enter. Just fill out and send in the nomination blank printed elsewhere in this issue. A nomination counts for 5,000 votes.

Payments on all subscriptions will earn votes according to the following schedule—Renewals and back subscriptions count the same as new subscriptions:

STILL LOVES SANFORD

And Believes Our Fair City To Be The Greatest Ever

The following letter from our former citizen and booster, W. T. Field, written to Mr. F. Robinson is worthy of reproduction:

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 13, 1913.

Mr. M. F. Robinson:

I wrote Stator before Christmas and told him to extend to you and Mrs. Robinson my sincere greetings of the season, and that I hoped you would both live to see many, many more Happy New Years.

What inspired me more than anything to write this letter to you, was not only to congratulate you on your judgment in selecting Sanford as your permanent home, but to express to you my views after seeing the larger part of the state.

In the first place, I have always held that Sanford was the best located city in the state to make a tourist city. I still back up that statement stronger than ever.

With Sanford situated as she is on the beautiful Lake Monroe and St. Johns river, with her beautiful drives in all directions, with the advantage of having the sea breezes without the insects, with the advantage of driving over in an automobile in the morning, spend the day at the Beach and return the same day, she is certainly entitled to be called Lucky Sanford.

I thought when I read in the paper that they had convicted thirty-three dynamiters to serve in a U. S. prison what a pity it was that a bunch of them had not struck Sanford a few years ago. Not to hurt anybody nor to destroy any property, but just to explode a lot of dynamite to wake the people up to see what GREAT POSSIBILITIES there is in store for her, but I cannot help but think she is like the grizzly bear while he is lying dormant, and when she does wake up there will be something doing.

St. Petersburg to me as a tourist town is a joke. All I was able to see there was a shallow bay and the same sun that shines at Sanford, with city lots selling at $5,000 that can be duplicated at Sanford for $500. Why? Why wont Sanford wake up? Cut the farming proposition, and get after the REAL MONEY and the only way to spell real money in the state of Florida is Tourist.

You and every Sanford man knows (and every real estate man in the state of Florida) that it is the best farming section in the state. With her river navigation to regulate her freight rates, the up to date farmer home seeker will find it out and will get there sooner or later.

The tourist wants to see the city and doesn't know it. All Sanford has talked about and all she has advertised is CELERY, CELERY, and CELERY. I cannot help but think of the little story in the second reader, where the boy was minding the sheep. The first time he called wolf they all ran out to help him, but found no wolf. He fooled them so many times, that when the wolf did come he had no help. They have been fooled so many times on celery, so now when she wants the money (tourist) they haven't got them. If she would just spend one-tenth the amount of money to advertise for tourists that she has for celery, you would not only have two or three large hotels and a sea wall all along your water front, but you would have a white way on Commercial, First, Oak, Park, Magnolia and Palmetto streets, and Fort Reed would be in the centre of your city.

I hope I haven't tired you with a little burst of my enthusiasm, but when I get to talking Sanford I don't know when to stop, and I do think I know something about a tourist town, having lived in Augusta, Ga., for 23 years, and knew her before she ever had a tourist stop in the city, up to now where she is acknowledged to be the greatest tourist city in the south, and next to Los Angeles I guess in the United States.

NET WEIGHT PURE FOOD

All Food Must Be True to Name and Be Full Weight

Commissioner of Agriculture W. R. McRae has sent out to all parties interested in the state, the following notice relative to the going into effect of the Florida Pure Food and Drug Act, on the first day of February, about two weeks from this date:

To wholesale and retail dealers, manufacturers and consumers of food products, canned goods and all foods sold in packages. The time limit allowed to dispose of goods legally on hand August 3, 1911, not in accordance with the Pure Food Law that became effective August 3, 1911, will expire February 1, 1913, see circular number 2, of June 19, 1912.

All merchants, wholesale and retail dealers, manufacturers and consumers are hereby notified that on and after February 1, 1913, all packages of food must have the net weight or measure of its contents correctly stated in terms of weight or measure "conspicuously, legibly and correctly on the outside of the package."

Also, that all goods containing any of the following substances, such as formaldehyde, salicylic acid, salicylates, boric acid, or borates, benzoic acid, or benzoates, or flohrides, or if it contains any artificial sweetener such as saccharin, dulcin or glucin, cannot be legally sold in the state of Florida.

Inspectors are instructed to report to this office all cases of misbranding in which the net weight or measure is omitted from the label and to forward samples of suspected adulterated food or goods containing chemical preservatives or artificial sweetening to this office.

The public is hereby notified that inspectors have no discretion in the enforcement of the law and regulations.

W. R. McRAE, Commissioner of Agriculture. R. E. ROSE, State Chemist.

NATIONAL HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE

First Branch in Florida Will Be Organized in Orlando

A branch of the National Housewives League is to be organized in Orlando. It will be recalled that it was the activity of this organization that recently forced down the price of eggs in Philadelphia.

It seems that Florida is practically the only state in the Union where the organization has not gained foothold, and it is understood to be the desire of the national president, Mrs. Julian Heath, to get this state into line. And it is likely that Orlando will be the first city of the state to organize a branch society.

Mrs. Warlow is interested in the plan to secure an organization here. It is the aim of the League to incorporate a vast membership, so as to wield the utmost influence.

The members pledge themselves to patronize only those stores where goods are sold bearing the pure food labels. And only to patronize cleanly stores, and those who treat their employes fairly, and so forth.

Where the organization is strong, merchants who do not live up to the standard required of them by the League are virtually boycotted. So that the club the League wields for betterment of trading conditions is very powerful.

In addition to keeping tab on the stores the League, if organized here will put forth its endeavors to secure an open market for the city, where producers may sell to the consumers direct.

The Minstrels.

Yes, that popular, laughing, fun-making, strictly all new feature attraction, J. A. Coburn's Greater Minstrels is coming with an all new company, the latest songs, the newest music, the cleanest comedy and the best entertainers he has ever carried. Everybody knows Manager Coburn, everybody has seen his big rollicking laughing show, his merry comedians, his excellent singers, and you know it's Good, Clean, musical, enjoyable and always returns bigger, better, and with new people and new features. Last season...

CHAS. GANO—Principal Comedian with Coburn's Minstrels

son Mr. Charles Gano as the star comedian was featured as a clever performer. He was found to be the BEST that had ever appeared with this popular company. Thousands laughed at his doll remarks, his songs, his fun, and his sketches. His latest efforts "Progressive Political Oratory," and "Managerial Difficulties" are a scream, one long laugh. He is ably seconded by "Necodemus Glynn," another new face, a new comedian with the company, but a doll, quaint, laughable, negro character artist, whose efforts will attest his capable qualities as a laugh getter. The singing, and the singers are better than ever, new voices, new faces, the latest and best in music and song. Don't forget the date, Jan. 20, at The Imperial Theatre.

Be Happy!

Happy the girl, or woman, who has never suffered from any of the diseases of womanhood! Or, if she has been a sufferer, happy is she if she has learned of the wonderful benefits of Cardul, the woman's tonic!

Cardul is a gentle, tonic remedy, for women's ailments. It is a natural medicine—safe, harmless, purely vegetable. It has been in successful use for more than 50 years. It has cured thousands. It should do the same for you.

TAKE CARDUL The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Mary Neely, of Denver, Tenn., says, "I think there is no tonic on earth, as good as Cardul. I used it with the very best results. I had backache and nearly everything a woman could suffer with, until I took Cardul. Now, I feel better than I have for two years. I shall always recommend Cardul to other suffering women. I can't praise it too highly. As a medicine for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardul is safe and reliable. Try it, today."

THAT CALIFORNIA FREEZE

Described By California Paper in Graphic Tale

COLD ENOUGH TO HAVE SKATING

Fruits Frozen and Vegetables Ruined Report Says Celery was Frozen Stiff

Graphically depicting the terrible freeze which visited southern California the first of last week, the Los Angeles Express in a four page news story, containing dispatches from every section of the state, in its issue of Jan. 6th gives the startling details of the visit of a real northern winter in a supposedly tropical climate. The main picture on the front page is a picture of a man and woman examining with interest the formation of an icicle two inches in thickness at a leaky fire hydrant. The fountain in the Plaza of San Diego was reported frozen over with ice half an inch thick, said to be the only time ice formed in that city in 64 years. At Oxnard the boys skated on a frozen irrigation dam. Temperatures of sixteen and eighteen degrees were reported from many of the surrounding districts.

Across the top of the page the temperatures of Los Angeles and the principal cities of the United States at 7 a. m. are given, showing that the mercury at Chicago was but five degrees lower than that at Los Angeles. In flaming seven-column headlines the facts that "Freezing weather causes serious damage, citrus crops nipped, vegetable growers hard hit" is announced.

What must have taken the heart out of the California growers was another black headline which stated that "Cold weather to continue, another frost is on its way."

The "lead" of the story which is printed in black faced type, tells the story from the Los Angeles point of view as follows:

The Los Angeles Account

"The damage to the citrus industry of California by the cold wave, which has enveloped the entire Pacific coast, along with the more rigid conditions generally over the United States is serious.

"Reports from Riverside, Pomona, Ontario, Santa Barbara, Redlands, Alhambra and Corona are to the effect that oranges and lemons have been frozen on the trees in many localities. Growers also fear the trees have been damaged to considerable extent.

"The vegetable growers also report a heavy loss. The more tender varieties, such as peas and beans, it is feared, have been almost totally destroyed in the fields. Celery growers say that crop has been seriously damaged and that much of it was found frozen this morning."

Other headlines which tell the main points of the story are:

"Water freezes in garden hose as frequent attacks small place in home."

"Cold weather delays P. E. service to the north."

"Vegetables in field are damaged by cold."

"Mercury down to 18; icicles freeze at Bakersfield."

"Three-foot icicle; cold-weather sight in Pasadena."

"Weather at Harbor is described worst known to San Pedro."

"Oxnard boys skate on irrigation dam; citrus men fearful."

"Great damage done to oranges and lemons, says Santa Barbara."

"Serious damage feared in groves at Glendale."

"Long Beach residents wear old car caps brought from east."

"Ontario citrus men in all-night fight on 29 temperature."

"Fountain at San Diego is frozen over."

"Southland in grip of cold; fruit hit."

"Million mudgo pots fight frost invasion of entire southland."

"Fruit exchange receives reports of heavy loss."

Officers of the fruit growers exchange admitted, said the story, that oranges were found frozen solid on the trees. Icicles an inch long were said to have formed on the leaves of trees where the irrigation plants were kept working in the effort to keep away the frost. A dispatch from Redlands stated that the

THROUGH FLORIDA HIGHWAYS

Well Known Magazine Gives Benefits of Florida Good Roads

In special correspondence in this week's issue from Tampa some suggestions are made as to the importance of the building of a good road connecting Jacksonville and the West Coast at Tampa. The cost as reported would be exceedingly small in proportion to the good to be accomplished; but while the state and the counties between Jacksonville and Tampa are considering such a proposition as this attention should also be given on the East Coast of Florida to a through road connecting Jacksonville and Miami. These are fairly good roads and Tampa and between Jacksonville and Miami, but their value is largely destroyed by the fact that they are not connected up.

While Florida is studying the proposition for a network of great highways throughout the state, these two propositions are worthy of immediate attention by the counties through which these roads would run. It is reasonably safe to say that if there were two first class motor roads, one from Jacksonville to Miami and one from Jacksonville to the West Coast, there would be almost an unbroken line of automobiles to be seen on these roads during the entire winter.

New England, with its splendid roads and its fine summer climate, draws tens of thousands of motorists, who annually leave in that section many millions of dollars. Indeed it has been carefully estimated by railroad men that the tourist business yields to New England an annual crop of $60,000,000. This is probably a conservative estimate. Moreover, it is increasing more rapidly probably than any other crop in the country.

New England does not appeal to the motorist for a summer trip so strongly as Florida would appeal to the motorist for a winter trip if two main highways, well constructed, existed in Florida, one down the East Coast and one to the West Coast.

The tourist business to Florida is capable of increasing in amount to a considerable extent by active work on the part of the people and the railroads to easily quadruple the tourist travel to that state, as great as it now is. The most powerful factor in accomplishing this would be good roads. There ought to be good roads all over Florida connecting up every county seat, but in the meantime two main highways such as suggested would be worth annually many millions of dollars to the whole state. On these roads a motorist would scarcely ever be out of sight of another automobile, for Florida is pre-eminently the predestined great winter tourist point and play ground and health invigorating region for the people of the whole North Atlantic and eastern section of the country and of much of the west. The sooner the business men and the counties and the state officials take up this work the sooner will the state reap this rich harvest. The drainage of the Everglades is a great piece of work fraught with great possibilities for the wealth of the state, but the drainage of the Everglades is of small importance to Florida as compared with the results that would follow the building of these two first class highways.—Manufacturers' Record.

Jones Found Guilty

After being absent from the court room five or ten minutes, just long enough to vote and write out their verdict, the jury in the Jones assault to murder case at Tampa found a verdict of guilty of assault with intent to commit murder in the second degree. This means that the jury believed Jones intended to kill Maud Nichols, his sister-in-law, but, on account of his alleged drunken condition, did not believe his mental state to have been such as to make premeditation possible. The maximum penalty which can be given Jones for his crime is twenty years, or he would have been sentenced to life imprisonment under such a verdict in case Maud Nichols had died as the result of the assault.—Tampa Tribune.

hopes of orange growers for a good income from the crop this year went glimmering Sunday night when the temperature fell below freezing and remained there all night. Celery was frozen stiff in the fields, and all other vegetables wiped out.

MORE PAVED STREETS

Ninth Street Will Be Paved to Union Station

SANFORD LEADS IN PAVING

This City Has More Brick Streets Than Any Interior Florida City

Sanford will be the banner city of interior Florida in the matter of brick paved streets and in a few months will have over four miles of brick paved streets, most of them broad avenues.

The city council held a special meeting last Saturday afternoon and made a contract with the Chattanooga Clay Co. to furnish enough brick to pave all of Ninth street from Park avenue to the new union station, and also to finish out Oak avenue from Sixth street to Tenth street.

The new streets in that portion of Sanford are now becoming popular thoroughfares since the opening of the fine new union station and one of the drawbacks to that portion of the city has been miserable streets. The city council has been waiting to close a contract at the very best prices and terms and the brick company, through their representative, Mr. Harvey, made a very close price on the wide paving block, the same to be laid by the city which is a great saving in the cost.

The flat brick cover much more surface, and it is thought that the city will save about one-third of the cost of the former paving by close buying and laying the brick by local talent.

The paving will connect with other brick streets and will greatly enhance the property in that part of Sanford, as well as give the city a much better appearance to the visitors who are obliged to come into the city by rail.

The bricks will be shipped at once and the paving will start about February first and be finished before the tourist travel is over for this season.

SANFORD CELERY STARTS

That Which Made Sanford Famous Again in Flower

NEWSPAPERS PREDICT PROFITS

Sanford Growers Should Not Start Stuff at Exorbitant Prices

"They're off." Last Friday started the race in the Celery Delta, and from now on Sanford growers will be busier than the proverbial paper hanger. True, growers here have been busy since early November, and a large number of cars of lettuce have gone to various markets, but the crop that made Sanford famous, its bread winner, to be exact, has now started. The first solid carload to leave the state was shipped on Monday, selling 1.0 c., and going to St. Louis. This car was of good quality, packed in eight inch crates. Tuesday several more cars were loaded. There will be a number of cars moved daily the remainder of the month.

During February the main movement will be on, and taking everything into consideration, the good quality of the Florida stock this season, and the fact that California growers of this community have unfortunately suffered severely from the freeze of last week, it now seems that Sanford is due for a prosperous season. The markets of the west and middle west are calling for stock, and indications are that eastern cities will soon be ready to also take their supply. Advice from Western New York indicate that the celery crop there has practically all been destroyed, with the exceptions of several hundred cars in storage, which is reported to be keeping poorly.

Growers and distributors here are very optimistic regarding the situation, some predicting that last year's high prices will be reached, but the more conservative element are contending that $2 or $2.25 will undoubtedly rule until the demand has been firmly established, after which there should be a considerable increase.

NOTHING SMALL ABOUT SMITH

Purchased a Building to Provide Place For Division Meeting

There is nothing small about B. G. Smith, the genial conductor of the Sanford-Oviedo Cannonball Special. In order to provide a meeting place for the county divisionists at Oviedo last Friday night B. G. that morning bought a two story building at the intersection of the two principal streets of Oviedo and when the special train arrived the front porch of the storefront was ready for the speakers. This step on B. G.'s part not only demonstrated his public spirit and progressive idea, but also showed good business judgment and his abounding faith in his home town of Oviedo, which is growing every day and will soon be the second city in the new county of Harney. All honor to B. G. Smith. When he goes in for anything he starts with all sails set and no obstacles prevent him from gaining his point. His heart is the biggest part of his anatomy and he and his loving helpmate are of the salt of the earth.

Wagner Is Successful

Some important changes in the management of the Arthur E. Donegan Real Estate have been made this week. D. G. Wagner is the new manager announced, succeeding Horace Woodall, who has associated himself as city salesman for the South Florida Lumber Co.

Mr. Wagner is well known to the public in central Florida. He was connected with the Atlantic Coast Line for some twenty-five years, holding an important executive office at Sanford. He came to Kissimmee last spring, identifying himself with the insurance department of the Donegan Real Estate Agency. Mr. Wagner has become a prominent man in the county. The insurance business has grown rapidly and presages a broadening that means added help in the near future. The New York Life, which is represented by the local agency, took occasion to compliment Mr. Wagner in a recent issue of their trade paper, and the large amount of insurance written by the Kissimmee agent.—Kissimmee Journal.

Lent Begins February Fifth

Lent, that day made effective by the hunch for giving up luxuries indulged in by the people of the world, occurs February fifth, which is two or three weeks earlier than it usually commences.

Heretofore the last week or two before the beginning of Lent has been utilized in social gaiety for the carrying out of special gaiety before the forty days of the Lenten season shut off all but the commonest and quietest of social activity. This year the bright riot of New York will be scarcely completed before the ominous figure of the Lenten season will be near.

Reception to Pastor

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a reception for the members of the church and congregation and friends of the church at the residence of F. L. Woodruff, corner of Oak avenue and Sixth street Thursday evening from eight to eleven.

The reception is for the purpose of meeting the new pastor, Rev. E. D. Brownlee.

Has Fine Cabbage

R. H. Muirhead brought a head of cabbage to The Herald office yesterday that will weigh 12 pounds and is a solid head. He states that he has some larger ones at home and The Herald will give a six months' subscription to the one grower who brings in the largest head in the next four weeks.

Is It a Fact?

There is a persistent rumor that the Swann pasture has been sold to parties who contemplate building a tourist hotel at once. If the report is true the purchasers certainly have a fine prospect for success.

The Clearwater News tells that the Dundee Bank is now organized with a capital stock of $20,000. A committee from the directors has been appointed to select a location and make plans for the erection of a bank building.

From five to ten cars of fruit are being shipped from Winter Haven and Florence Villa daily. A large quantity of tangerines are being shipped from these two places.

AN IMMENSE GATHERING

Oviedo the Scene of Great Outpouring of Divisionists

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR CROWD

Merchants Close Their Stores and Oviedo Was Filled With Enthusiasts

Last Friday was a gala occasion for the citizens of Oviedo and Sanford, that day being designated as the get-together occasion for the people of that section to discuss the question of county division.

Sanford never does anything by halves and when the report was spread that Sanford would visit Oviedo a special train was chartered, the baggage car was converted into a diner with hot coffee and sandwiches on tap and three coaches filled with enthusiasts, supplemented by the Sanford Military Band with a full complement of members.

The County Division Special left the old depot promptly on time and arrived at Oviedo about one hour late. Headed by the band the crowd marched to the porch of one of the stores where chairs had been provided by the committee for the ladies and speakers, and the orators of the day lost no time in getting down to business.

Hon. D. L. Thrasher led off, giving facts and figures on the two counties in his usual impressive manner and was followed by T. K. Bates, who gave the crowd a bunch of pyrotechnics interspersed with solid facts and figures, compiled from authentic sources and indisputable. There were several Orlando journalists from Orlando in the audience, among them being Editor James of the Reporter-Star and Josiah Ferris of the Sentinel, and to them Bates directed his shafts of wit and wisdom in a way that brought smiles even to the face of the newspaper men.

The meeting then adjourned for lunch and the Orlando visitors were taken to the dining car and regaled on coffee and sandwiches. Among them were editors Ferris and James, Mrs. Ferris, L. G. Starbuck and Joseph Jones. They could not stay for the night meeting and left at once for home.

The balance of the immense crowd sought refreshments and about thirty of them with the members of the Sanford band accepted an invitation of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Smith to partake of a Dutch lunch, where the good things to eat and liquid refreshments interspersed with band music made a lively and greatly enjoyed intermission. The Smith home was thrown open to the ladies during the afternoon and evening, and the warm welcome and charming hospitality of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. B. F. Jones will ever be remembered by the people of Sanford.

The night meeting was called to order by Chairman E. A. Douglass at 7 o'clock and W. R. Healy of Longwood was the first speaker, and in his usual vigorous style and convincing manner drove home some truths to the thinking people of Oviedo and vicinity. Mr. Healy's heart is in the movement and having been a resident of Orange county for the past seventeen years he has the subject well in hand and his remarks were given closest attention.

Other speakers followed in quick succession, each address being punctuated by good music from the band, the boys being greatly strengthened by the lunch blew themselves to the limit and never missed a note or an opportunity to tot.

Major Powers, Mayor Spencer, D. L. Thrasher, Rev. J. D. Langley, J. T. McLain of Geneva, C. R. Walker, S. Runge, R. J. Holly, R. P. Forster, E. A. Douglass and B. G. Smith, together with several others, made good addresses, and T. K. Bates again mounted the platform and closed the meeting by another touch of Irish wit and humor. The meeting was a most successful one from every viewpoint and many converts to the cause of county division were made. Many of them had not given the subject serious attention and the idea of 150 business men coming to Oviedo for an afternoon to talk about the division caused the anti-divisionists to give the speakers the closest attention and to ponder well the facts and figures that
