Latin Touch To Be Emphasized In Play Clothes

New Fashions Largely Inspired By Visits To South America

By ADELAIDE KERN
NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—(AP)—You can be a Latin from Manhattan in your play clothes this summer if you like.

North America's quickened interest in her neighbors south of the border has resulted in a lot of smart play and evening clothes with a strong Mexican and South American slant. They were largely inspired by visits to those countries, made in New York and may point the way to one of the summer's most colorful fashion trends.

Some spectator sports and casual evening clothes are made of gay plaid and block-checked ginghams. The block checks were inspired by some of the vivid skirts worn by the Brazilian chanteuse, Carmen Miranda, and their colors were taken from the painted robes on statues of angels in a seventeenth-century church, tropical birds' plumage and flower motifs—all in Brazil. There also are some plain round-necked blouses designed to be worn with long dinner skirts and the heady turbans and splashy seed costume jewelry that Miranda made famous.

But the mass of the South American influence on North American clothes stems from the ideas brought back from a trip to Mexico and South America by Truman Bailey (artist, author and photographer), and developed by a group of New York clothes manufacturers.

Here are beach, spectator sports and informal evening clothes made of plain and printed cottons and spun rayons gay as Spanish fiestas. There is a lot of Latin-American influence in the patterns of the prints. They're inspired by prehistoric Peruvian fabrics, hand-weavings from Guatemala, Mexican matador insignias, and Incan sculptures and pottery. Some more are splashed with ropes and lariats, cactus plants or with ears of yellow corn.

Their colors include a rich deep "South American red" that's sometimes paired with an intense sun yellow; a muted rose inspired by the Andean desert; a rust stemming from Incan pottery; a reddish brown from Peruvian rock and a deep rich blue.

The clothes are all put together with big bright straw sombreros (worn on the back of the head with spectator sports clothes), crownless turbans of bright cotton or mesh (worn with beach and sport togs), gay pouch cotton bags, lariat and raffia belts. They are fastened with buttons, buckles and clips or plastics or straw in the shape of sombreros, matador insignias, ears of corn and the "animalitos" that march across native handwork. And they are worn with colorful costume jewelry—necklaces of South American fruit pits tipped with glittering sequins or of painted marbles tied with thick bright cord.

Chief evidence of the Latin-American influence on play clothes appears in prints, colors and accents rather than in the line of the costumes themselves. (It's no mantilla-over-the-head rose-in-the-teeth affair.) In design, the clothes generally conform to the modern mode with a little Latin-American slant appearing in something like a bo-lero.

However, there's a bright red rose or two to be seen, worn on the head, right over a side or center part with bathing suits, beach togs and informal dinner clothes. Its unexpected, colorful and smart in effect.

Here are a few of the things which are done: Blue sports skirt, yellow blouse, embroidered in blue motifs from an Incan pottery, topped by a big blue sombrero. Casual dinner costume combining a white shirt-bouse, a cactus printed skirt and sequins strewn jewelry. Slacks and shirt of sombrero-printed crepe worn with a wrap-around turban of South American red mesh.

Privileges Wanted By Park Recliners

PEARISBURG, Va., Mar. 21.—(AP)—In a spirit of levity preceding an election, eight citizens presented a petition to the Giles County Board of Supervisors requesting that the authorities "provide pads to cover the gnarled roots of the shade trees on the courthouse lawn," where the citizenry seeks shade in summer, and also to "provide pillows, with freshly laundered pillow cases, for those weary citizens who at times are unable to sit erect and must needs recline at full length."

U.S. Treasurer Warns Against Farm Bill Hike

Morgenthau Declares Additional Farm Expenditures Cannot Be Paid In Cash

Senate Okey Is Expected Today

Income Tax Collections Are Up 31 Percent Over '39

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau took the position, in a letter to Senator Byrd today that the additional farm expenditures approved by the Senate could not be financed from the Treasury's cash working balance.

Several senators have contended the money in the fund safely might be used to cover the extra-budgetary expenditures.

On the Senate floor, the $22,000,000 farm bill was delayed by a struggle over sugar benefits, but leaders still were confident the measure would be approved this afternoon.

The House was in recess, but there were these developments: The House committee investigating the labor board released a confidential report prepared by Board officials last Fall, which spoke of "ineffective" administration of the Board's work.

Congressmen studied a state breakdown of the 1939 tax collections which showed that in the first 80 days of March, the national average was 31 percent above that corresponding period in 1939.

Tag Day For Blind Planned By Lions Club

A Tag Day for the blind, sponsored by the Lions Club, will be held tomorrow, Maxwell Stewart, chairman of the drive, announced today.

An annual affair with the civic organization for the past 10 years, the proceeds of the tag sales are expended entirely in Seminole County for testing eyes, and correction of defective vision with glasses or operation.

Many have been provided with walking canes which are white with red tips and are nationally recognized as canes used by blind persons. In addition eight talking books have been furnished during the past year and three seasons in Brazil have been given.

The tags will be distributed by students from the Grammar School and Junior High School classes and their parents. The sale will be held in May, County Clerk O. P. Harston announced today.

With the end drawing near, three candidates yesterday paid the required fees and took the oath of Candidate at the office of County Clerk O. P. Harston.

They were George W. Gray, candidate for Seminole County sheriff; Walter A. Smith, candidate for the Legislature in Group Two, and E. E. Brady, candidate for the Legislature in Group One.

Saturday Is Final Day For Candidates To Pay Their Fees

Tomorrow, Saturday, Mar. 23, is the last day in which candidates can qualify to run for Democratic nomination in the primaries to be held in May, County Clerk O. P. Harston announced today.

With the end drawing near, three candidates yesterday paid the required fees and took the oath of Candidate at the office of County Clerk O. P. Harston.

They were George W. Gray, candidate for Seminole County sheriff; Walter A. Smith, candidate for the Legislature in Group Two, and E. E. Brady, candidate for the Legislature in Group One.

Bankruptcy Law Is Extended Two Years

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The House Judiciary Committee yesterday approved a bill by Rep. Pat Cannon, extending for two years the municipal bankruptcy law which expires on June 30.

The committee amended the bill to make it applicable not only to municipalities but also to counties. It wrote in a provision against a fiscal agent serving in a bankruptcy case as representative of both the debtor municipalities and their creditors.

It is understood that there are no municipalities in Florida.

James Cromwell Is Rebuked By Secretary Hull

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—James Cromwell, fledgling U. S. minister to Canada and husband of the "world's richest girl," was publicly rebuked by Secretary of State Hull last night for a strong anti-German, pro-ally speech.

Hull dispatched a telegram to Cromwell saying the speech he made at Toronto Tuesday violated standing instructions and was likely to "disturb the relations between this and other governments." The secretary asked the minister not to do it again, and he did, stronger measures would be taken.

Cromwell, husband of the former Doris Duke, tobacco heiress, was at his New Jersey home, but Hull sent him a telegram to the American legation at Ottawa, the minister's official residence.

A temper of congressional criticism and demands for the "neutral" minister's recall had followed the speech, which was an emphatic condemnation of the Nazis and an expression of desire for Allied victory as a boon to the world. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, added his voice to the protests yesterday, saying that his views were expressed by a Phillips professor, Andover, Mass., professor, who wrote: "Some pressure must be brought to bear to recall the minister, or Washington authorities must disavow his remarks."

The letter was presented to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the form of a petition from the Harvard university chapter of the American Independence League.

Hull's telegram to the young diplomat, who has been at his post only two months, said: "Public discussion of controversial policies of other governments, particularly with governments engaged in war, without the prior knowledge and permission of this government, is not in accord with such standing instructions."

Hull sent his telegram after receiving this afternoon an official text of Cromwell's address and examining it.

Whitehair Opens Governor's Race In Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH—Mar. 22.—A heavy rain and a stiff wind which swept across the coast of Florida last night failed to dim the ardor of 3500 admirers who braved the weather to hear Francis P. Whitehair of Deland open his formal gubernatorial speaking campaign with an insistent demand that "something be done to better Florida's social and economic conditions."

A meeting originally scheduled for the new bandshell on Daytona's boardwalk was hurriedly transferred to the municipal auditorium when the elements acted up late in the afternoon. The rain did not stop motorcade of banner-bedecked cars from all over Florida's schools.

"Florida's government is weak and lags far behind the progress made by private industry in our state during the past few years," Whitehair said. "Something must be done and it will be done when I become your governor."

The Deland man said, "Governor Whitehair will go into the Governor's office free from political and financial encumbrances and willing to fight the fight of all Florida for a business-like and economical administration of 'tax payers."

He pointed out that he had lived a life of hard work and I am proud to have made my own way through school and college and in the business world. I feel my experiences have equipped me to be a Governor of whom all Florida will be proud.

"One man cannot give us the unity Florida needs, however. All of us working in harmony cannot accomplish what needs to be accomplished in four years but we can make steady and we will begin with those things that are needed most."

Mr. Lawton was born in this county and was educated in the public schools of Florida. He graduated from Rollins College and did post-graduate work at Andover Theological Seminary at Andover, Mass., and completed a professional course at the University of Georgia.

He was elected over a field of three other candidates to the office he now holds in 1916 and was re-elected in 1920, 1924, 1928, and 1932. He was successful in winning re-election over his opposition.

Reconsideration Of Insurance For Citrus Reported

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The budget bureau was reported by Senator Pepper to have approved and then agreed yesterday to reconsider his proposal that a crop insurance program be inaugurated for the citrus industry.

Pepper said he had contacted bureau officials this morning and at his request they had consented to "re-examine the whole question in the light of information compiled by the Agricultural Department."

"Am hopeful," he added, "that the hope that will come to the same conclusion as the department, which is that enough data is now available to justify putting a program into effect for the 1941-42 crop season."

Pepper said the Agriculture Department's favorable attitude had been made known to the Senate Agriculture Committee, but what he reported conveyed the added information that the proposal was "not in accord with the program of the President."

The Senator said he thought the disapproving position of the budget was due to a "misunderstanding."

Joe A. Youngblood, State NYA Leader, Talks At Meeting

Joe A. Youngblood, state director of the NYA, last night addressed a group of persons at the Court House explaining the work that the NYA is doing, and leading a round-table discussion on the problems of youth and how they can be met.

Also present and taking part in the discussion was C. E. Campbell, district supervisor of NYA.

Mr. Youngblood arrived in Sanford about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon aboard a sea plane from Ft. Dora, and was welcomed by a delegation composed of various city and county officials. The Sanford Outboard Motorboat Association had a boat on hand to assist Mr. Youngblood and Capt. R. E. Fogg, of the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the pilot, to land.

Among the subjects brought up for discussion at the meeting last night were work training programs, including aviation mechanics and medicine. Instructive films were shown on various NYA projects training given to youths on this program.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says LaGuardia Good No. 2 Man

NEW YORK, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in answering a barrage of questions by correspondents of foreign newspapers in the country, declared yesterday that Mayor LaGuardia "could do almost anything good if elected vice-president."

She did not amplify the comment about LaGuardia, but once in some political circles as a possible running mate for Secretary of State Hull. But in other answers she declared that "not under any circumstances" would she accept a presidential nomination herself, and that "it would be going a little too far to draw the inference that Sumner Welles was sent to Europe to build him up as a presidential candidate."

She turned aside the inevitable third term question.

"Do you intend to travel as much the next four years as you do now?" she was asked.

"I never know in any year how much I will travel," she replied.

She was principal speaker at the luncheon of the association of foreign correspondents but instead of a formal address her remarks took the form of answers to written questions submitted by the luncheon guests. The questions covered a wide range of subjects—from politics to the personal life of her eldest son, Jimmy.

Asked if she had kept in communication with Queen Elizabeth since last year's visit of the British ruler, she said she wrote once to the queen and "received messages twice from her."

When asked to explain "the apparent contradiction between the prevalent isolationist attitude in the United States and the pro-war 'top-litter' attitude in America," she replied: "I don't know, and if I did, it wouldn't be very wise to talk about it."

Minimum salary for California teachers is $1,320 a year.

Co-Operation Among Citrus Growers For Remedial Measures Is Urged

Using the citrus growers' Co-Operation Among Citrus Growers' plan, citrus growers are urged to join together in remedial measures for the ill of the citrus industry.

President Fred Forward of the Seminole County Citrus Growers' Inc., today briefly outlined the work of this and the statewide growers' organization and called upon this county's producers of citrus who have not already done so to join this organization for a concerted fight for corrective measures.

In a letter to The Sanford Herald, Mr. Forward pointed out that the growth of the Florida Citrus Growers, Inc., during its 18 months of existence has been vigorous and its accomplishments are such that it has compelled every phase of the citrus industry throughout the state to consider the organization in changes of policy or regulation.

"During its quiet rise to prominence there have been mistakes made but as President Lou Kramer of the State organization says, 'Why do they put crosses on every pond?'" (The general citrus growers' conference has been constructive progress to its ultimate goal of marketing citrus in a regulated volume and establishing a northern and country-wide confidence in Florida's number one product.

"There are so many unmet needs of the Florida citrus growers, Inc., coming from various sources. Growers who live in the bygone days of the five to ten million box crop would apply the old cart day methods to the 20,000,000 box industry, and unless the organization can market this volume of fruit under the overcast methods, they are subjected to this criticism.

"Other growers are so schooled that co-operation means Citrus Exchange, and every move made is interpreted by these growers to mean that in an underhand way the officers are selling the minor operations into the Florida Citrus Exchange. This is absurd," he said.

"The growers' program for a coordinated, cooperative central organization is being continued on page 6."

Salvation Army Progress Reported Committee Named In Rehearsals For On Advance Gifts Kiwanis Minstrel

An advance gift committee for the Salvation Army's annual drive for funds was announced today by Mrs. Maxwell Stewart.

The committee will meet at campaign headquarters next Tuesday at 4:30 in the afternoon at which time its work will be outlined, Mrs. Stewart said.

The following compose the committee: Mrs. E. P. Seyville, Walter Cooper, S. O. Shubel, A. J. Peterson, Fred R. Wilson, George Rollins, J. W. Hall, M. G. McNair, J. L. Ingley, Randall Chase, H. H. Coleman, E. V. Turner.

Two special committees headed by Julius Dingfelder and A. D. Smalley are doing splendid work, Mrs. Stewart stated.

The county district committee chairman named thus far are: Hildard Costberry, Fern Park; Howard Lyman, Altamonte Springs; Mayor George Bridge, Jr., Longwood; and the Rev. J. A. Logan, Geneva.

A meeting was to be held today for the vice-chairmen for further discussion of the plans for the campaign.

Captain R. E. Rose stated in answer to the question "does any officer or individual benefit from any of the property holdings of the Salvation Army?" that all officers are granted a fixed allowance for living expenses, depending upon his ability to raise sufficient funds to care for Salvation Army obligations first. Then if there is a sufficient balance, he might draw the fixed allowance. No matter how much money may be contributed these allowances are not increased, he explained.

"Nobody can afford to miss this excellent performance," Manager Charles Morrison, of the Ritz Theatre said in connection with the Kiwanis Minstrel show which is scheduled for Mar. 28 at 9:15 P. M.

Rehearsals are now well along with important comedy parts being taken by local citizens with sets directed at many local persons. Every member of the Kiwanis Club will have a part, Mr. Morrison, who is directing the show, pointed out, in addition the feature events will be presented by the Male Glee Club of Stetson University.

Director Morrison has had considerable experience in building amateur performances in all parts of the state. His latest show was a musical sponsored by the Deland Kiwanis Club which netted $400 for the underprivileged child fund of that club.

The entire proceeds of this show are to go to the underprivileged child fund of the local club. These funds make possible school lunches for underprivileged children throughout the year, milk, fresh fruits and vegetables for the WPA Nursery school and an annual Christmas party for the children of the nursery school.

The underprivileged child fund of the club also includes numerous minor operations, dental work and providing of glasses. Professional services for this work are provided by doctors and dentists who are Kiwanis members and do the work free of charge. Every 75-cents raised for this work accomplishes $7.50 in results because all of the services required are donated, E. C. Harper, chairman of the underprivileged child fund declared.

New French Prime Minister Holds Insecure Position; Calls Cabinet Meet

British Submarine Sinks Nazi Ship

U. S. Newspaper Men Are Shown Scene Of English Air Raid

By Associated Press
Paul Reynaud won a one-vote majority of confidence in French Chamber of Deputies today and immediately announced a cabinet meeting to determine whether he would drop the reins of government he has held only one day.

It was said in Corridors that the new premier was determined to remain in power unless his seven Radical-Socialist ministers resigned, a step they were reported to be considering elsewhere in Europe. Good Friday calm was broken by a fresh burst of activity in the sea war. First the torpedoing of a German merchantman by a British submarine, disclosed when the Admiralty announced the Nazi freighter Norddeinheim was sunk eight miles off the Danish coast. Almost simultaneously came word of the sinking of two Danish vessels, presumably by submarine action. These sinkings raised to six the number of Danish merchantmen sunk by German U-boats in the last two days.

Reynaud before the confidence vote was taken, promised an aggressive policy in the conflict with Germany.

American newspaper correspondents' eyes to the German title of Sylt for inspection action. They saw seemed to bear out the Nazi contention that the British air raid did little damage of military importance.

The British Admiralty reported 11 British neutral ships had been sunk or damaged by German action in the last three days. Acting rapidly to suit the demand for a complete national union government to take in all parties from right to left.

The new cabinet has 22 ministers—three more than the Daladier government which resigned yesterday, and two powerful rightist groups are not cooperating.

Much of the parliamentary force that brought on the fall of the Daladier government was for a small, widely cabinet.

A possible step to this demand was Reynaud's creation within the cabinet of a "war committee" made up of himself, Camille Chautemps, who retains the vice-premier position he held in the previous cabinet; ex-Premier Daladier, (Continued on page 8)

"It is something they need to know," concludes the Titusville Star.

Return Senator Andrews

Senator Andrews' home town newspaper, the Orlando Sentinel, pays him a fine tribute on the eve of his departure for a campaign tour of Florida which brought him first to Sanford, thence to every other section and community of the State. Advocating Senator Andrews' return to the Senate, the Sentinel refers to him as follows: "Altho Senator Charles O. Andrews is properly credited with many praiseworthy official acts as Senator from Florida, we think his claim to have 'kept the faith' is the most important."

"One of the discouraging features of public officials is that they often forget their constituents and their pledges and fail to keep faith with those whom they represent. "No man in public life could have a more distinguished tribute than for men everywhere to say: 'He keeps the faith.'"

"That is not an epitaph, but a living rule of conduct for a living man. "It matters not what is written on a tombstone, for the man under it can no longer serve his fellow-man."

"But it does matter what people, voters, may say and think about a living man representing them in government. "Senator Andrews finds it easy to come back and face the same people who sent him to Washington and to ask them to return him, not on the basis of what he promises to do, but on the basis of what he has done in fulfillment of promises previously made."

"The Morning Sentinel advocates his return on his record, which we believe proves that he keeps the faith. "What more can people ask of any man who represents them in the halls of Congress?"

Spring Fever

Spring fever? There ain't no such animal! At least that is what Dr. Hobart A. Reimann, professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical College says.

"It's all a myth—a state of mind," he insists. "When the weather gets warm, people begin to think of going fishing and going on vacations. But they can't because they have to keep working. So they feel against the restraint and become restless. That's all Spring fever is."

Well, maybe so, but that's not what our grandmothers used to think when they gave us great quantities of sulphur and molasses, and whether it was in the mind or not, the sulphur and molasses always proved a remarkable cure for whatever ailed us.

That tired listless feeling was banished overnight by grandmother's generous doses. Nowadays, however, folks accomplish the same result just by going fishing.

"The feeling you describe as Spring fever," another doctor declares, "is probably due to the fact that the body has become accustomed to cold weather all Winter and too suddenly is called upon to make adjustments to warm weather. Probably the nerves controlling the blood vessels don't make the adjustment without upsetting you a bit."

Evidently it's a kind of thawing out process that naturally comes in the Spring. But now that it has been definitely established that Spring fever is just another ancient shibboleth, all in the mind, as it were, perhaps we also have an explanation for another peculiarity of mankind, best summed up by the poet who said, "In Spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of what the girls have been thinking about all winter."

"WHAT WOULD you do, Jim, if you suddenly saw the whole German cavalry coming straight at you?" an officer asked a Negro soldier at the front during the last war.

"What would I do, boss? Why, I sure would spread the news through France."—Woodrow Wilson, quoted by W. Orton Tewson in An Attic Salt-Shaker.

FARMER JED was sitting on his porch steps, moodily regarding the ravages of a cloudburst. A neighbor pulled up in a wagon. "Say, Jed," he yelled, "your hogs was all washed down the creek and they're all dead."

"How about Flaherty's hogs?" asked the farmer. "They're gone too." "And Larson's?" "All washed away." "Huh!" exclaimed the farmer, cheering up. "Tain't as bad as I thought."

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

WILL ROGERS—It is not necessary to point out even to the most humble citizens the great loss to America in the death of Will Rogers. Some of his witty remarks are still tickling the funny bone of the American people and a good many of them carry a wallop. Here are two of these of his best. "Coolidge had the best idea on this farm relief. He went out and spoke to the farmers one time in Minneapolis. He said, 'Farmers, you are in a hole. I can't help you out, but I will get in with you. He did. That made it fine, so the farmers were satisfied as long as Coolidge was going to get in with them.' "Farmers, get out your sense of humor"—Will was speaking at the end of the roaring twenties—Congress is meeting to relieve you against next week." The best story is reserved for the last. Most everyone has heard it at one time or another, but no matter; it still is the best. Will was to meet Mr. Coolidge for the first time at the White House. A friend warned he couldn't get a laugh out of the President in the first two minutes. Will said twenty seconds. He was introduced, shook hands with the President, and appeared covered with confusion. "Mighty pleased to meet you," he said, "but I didn't quite catch the name." "Yea, Mr. Coolidge," laughed. And about 150,000,000 people laughed with him.

WE THOUGHT SO—The Republican Party some time ago appointed about 200 members of a committee to be presided over by Dr. Charles Frank to work out a platform for the Party in 1940. The committee was to report to the Party in Washington. The committee was to report to the Party in Washington. The committee was to report to the Party in Washington.

That it doesn't advise the Republicans to propose repeal of any essential part of the New Deal. Social Security, TVA, bank deposit insurance, Wagner Labor Relations Act, the relief act, the reciprocal trade agreements policy, the national defense plants—all of these would stay with us if Dr. Frank had his way, but they would be modified. As he sees it, they would be improved. We have thought this is what would happen. Looks like the Republican Party may be compelled to out-Horrod Horrod.

QUIT FORESTS PRODUCING—Quite often we hear people say that for the Federal Government to purchase forest land to take them away from the taxing units of the State. This may be true but in a good many instances the revenue from these forest lands may be actually more to the State than the taxes on the lands would be. I have had a letter from the Forest Service recently pointing out that the State of Florida is to receive spent on roads and trails within its share of the revenue from the National Forests for the year ending June 30, 1939, in addition to about $15,000 to be spent on roads and trails within the National Forests. I would also like to point out that the Federal Government has spent in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, $675,000 in our State. The day may soon arrive in Florida when the lands covered by the National Forests will pay more revenue to the State of Florida than they would ever pay had they been subject to taxation. This is a very important fact. It is a very important fact. It is a very important fact.

THE CONGRESSIONAL AX

introduced this session of Congress. There is nothing we can do now. The proper procedure is to file a petition for the discharge of the Ways and Means Committee and the Rules Committee, which we cannot do until the bill has been in the hopper thirty-seven legislative days—not calendar day. The bill has not been in there thirty-seven days and will not have been until somewhere around March 20th. As soon as that time has run we will file a petition and we believe that we will come very near getting it on the floor of the House again this year.

NOT UNUSUAL. Recently while visiting the House Restaurant in the Capitol someone suggested to me that I see the family. I inquired "What family?" and they informed me that some Congressman had a family from his District up here in which there were fourteen children. I looked the family over and they were splendid looking young people but a family of that size is no novelty to me. There were twelve in my own family. I have a brother now with twelve and had an uncle with twenty children in his family. I could put this family to shame.

Patrick, Texaco dealer, has really a pair working for him, Carl and Hoyt, fine boys, and are having plenty of business. Karl Nordgren of Burrup Seed Company called on Mr. J. Lehman Wednesday, sold a ticket too, guess that is why the trip out there.

Mabel (Pinkie) is really planning on big things for this Easter holiday. Well, hope all her plans work out. C. C. (Uncle Mose) Watson is really staying away from the gals this year, afraid they might slip up on him and propose to him or something. Marvin Mason and Duke Rumpie from Statesville, N. C. made their regular trip to the market. Marvin was all SMILES, on account of he and his gal in High Point have made up, and things look rather serious for Marvin. Clyde Maxwell from Spartanburg, S. C. made a flying trip this week, guess his wife is after him now all the time about getting home on time. Bud Richards, Chase and Company's market man is plenty busy. Bud is really putting out the produce this year, and works plenty hard, all day and night. R. B. (Bob) Bates is spending a few days in Miami and surrounding country. Willis (FATSTUFF) Spier is buying for Southern Fruit in Savannah, Ga. Always smiling and in the best of humor.

University Men Favor President For Third Term

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 22—If campus opinion in the University of Florida is any indication of general public opinion, President Roosevelt is favored for a third term by slightly more than half of the nation's citizenry.

A campus-wide poll reaching 226 of the university's 3300 students, with more than two thousand ballots returned, brought this disclosure as part of an attempt at an accurate cross-section of opinion on national and campus questions.

Fifty-eight percent of those voting in the poll stated that they favored the President as the nation's leader for four more years, but a different picture was presented when class votes were considered separately. Of the freshmen, 64 percent are for a third term; of the sophomores, 56 percent support Roosevelt; of the juniors and seniors, 61 percent favor four more years of the New Deal; but 67 percent of the law college students participating in the poll were opposed to a third term.

Law students also favored a conservative Democrat for the next president in almost the same proportion that they voted against a third term. The majority of the student body, however, favors a new dealer; a few students have republican inclinations.

In the event of the United States' entrance into war, conscription of capital as well as man power would be the proper action, say 76 percent of those questioned, and the present neutrality plan of cash and carry is also favored by most of the students. 91 percent to be exact.

The largest votes were cast on campus questions, where 92 percent voted in favor of keeping the boycott of off-campus eating places not meeting the requirements of the student labor code.

James Cromwell Is Rebuked By Secretary Hull

The secretary of state has now examined the text of the address made at Toronto on March 19 by the American minister to Canada, Mr. James H. Cromwell.

"Secretary Hull found the address contravened standing instructions to American diplomatic officers, as public discussion of retrogressive policies of other governments, particularly with government engaged in war, without the prior knowledge and permission of the government, is not in accord with such instructions. Such public statements by our diplomatic representatives are likely to disturb the relations between this and other governments."

"Secretary Hull telegraphed his views to Mr. Cromwell and has asked that in the future he observe the standing instructions. Although Cromwell was at New Jersey home last night, his plane after his Toronto address, the telegram was sent to the American legation at Ottawa, the official address of the new minister.

Hull announced Wednesday he had requested the American legation at Ottawa and also Cromwell to send him the text of the speech as soon as practicable. The text which Hull received late this afternoon came from the legation at Ottawa. Nothing has been received from Cromwell.

The tenor of Hull's telegram was such as to lead officials to believe that more drastic action would be taken if Cromwell were to make another speech in similar vein.

James Cromwell Is Rebuked By Secretary Hull

The secretary of state has now examined the text of the address made at Toronto on March 19 by the American minister to Canada, Mr. James H. Cromwell.

"Secretary Hull found the address contravened standing instructions to American diplomatic officers, as public discussion of retrogressive policies of other governments, particularly with government engaged in war, without the prior knowledge and permission of the government, is not in accord with such instructions. Such public statements by our diplomatic representatives are likely to disturb the relations between this and other governments."

"Secretary Hull telegraphed his views to Mr. Cromwell and has asked that in the future he observe the standing instructions. Although Cromwell was at New Jersey home last night, his plane after his Toronto address, the telegram was sent to the American legation at Ottawa, the official address of the new minister.

Hull announced Wednesday he had requested the American legation at Ottawa and also Cromwell to send him the text of the speech as soon as practicable. The text which Hull received late this afternoon came from the legation at Ottawa. Nothing has been received from Cromwell.

The tenor of Hull's telegram was such as to lead officials to believe that more drastic action would be taken if Cromwell were to make another speech in similar vein.

University Men Favor President For Third Term

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 22—If campus opinion in the University of Florida is any indication of general public opinion, President Roosevelt is favored for a third term by slightly more than half of the nation's citizenry.

A campus-wide poll reaching 226 of the university's 3300 students, with more than two thousand ballots returned, brought this disclosure as part of an attempt at an accurate cross-section of opinion on national and campus questions.

Fifty-eight percent of those voting in the poll stated that they favored the President as the nation's leader for four more years, but a different picture was presented when class votes were considered separately. Of the freshmen, 64 percent are for a third term; of the sophomores, 56 percent support Roosevelt; of the juniors and seniors, 61 percent favor four more years of the New Deal; but 67 percent of the law college students participating in the poll were opposed to a third term.

Law students also favored a conservative Democrat for the next president in almost the same proportion that they voted against a third term. The majority of the student body, however, favors a new dealer; a few students have republican inclinations.

In the event of the United States' entrance into war, conscription of capital as well as man power would be the proper action, say 76 percent of those questioned, and the present neutrality plan of cash and carry is also favored by most of the students. 91 percent to be exact.

The largest votes were cast on campus questions, where 92 percent voted in favor of keeping the boycott of off-campus eating places not meeting the requirements of the student labor code.

At Arms was not beaten there. She was withdrawn because of an ailment. That malady cured now, the Cole speedster is in top form for tonight's big event. Lady At Arms will go to the post along with Bunny Tuleter, Cracker Lad, Merry Ida, Fore-runner, Chick Outlet, Jappy and Grand Sis for the ninth race, a futurity sprint.

Thomas E. Dewey Boasts Of Fine Home Background

Public Career Hasn't Thrown Family Life Out of Equilibrium

By JACK STINNETT
NEW YORK, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Harmony brought Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey together and although nine of their 12 years of married life have been spent in the limelight, their private life still is an almost perfect interpretation of that old American classic, "Home, Sweet Home."

It's a quiet now, of course, since Tommy, Jr., (age 7) and Johnny (age 4) have made their bows. In recent weeks, Papa Dewey has been striving, with one hand, to get the Republican bandwagon to play "Dewey is Our Leader," while continuing to drum gangsters and racketeers out of New York with the other. But that hasn't thrown the family harmony off-key.

Probably most of the present record is due to the efforts of Mrs. Dewey, a small, quiet, attractive woman in her middle thirties who chucked overboard a promising singing career which already had established her as a musical comedy prima donna to become Mrs. Thomas Edmond Dewey, wife of a hopeful but unknown young lawyer.

Mrs. Dewey, under the stage name Frances Hoyt, was prima donna of the road company of George White's "Scandals" and was cast in the same role in the John Murray Anderson show which opened the Paramount Theater in New York and toured the Paramount circuit. The Deweys met in Chicago. Frances Eileen Hutt, already known and lauded as a mezzo-soprano and musician in her native Sherman, Texas, and in Sapulpa, Okla., where she lived for some years, had gone to Chicago as secretary and star pupil of voice-teacher Percy Rector Stephens. There, also, had gone Tom Dewey, the Owosso, Mich., youth, whose interest in notes musical rather than legal won him a scholarship from the University of Michigan to study with Stephens.

During the summer of 1923, Dewey accepted an invitation from a Chicago lawyer named Held to enter the latter's office and begin reading in the law. By the end of the summer, young Dewey had definitely decided in favor of the bar.

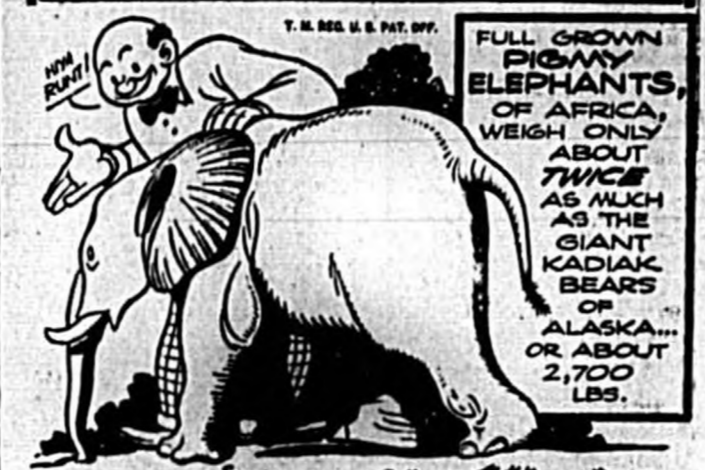

Five years later, in 1928, the Deweys were married. Dewey then was practicing civil law in a New York downtown office. His income was modest. So was the small Manhattan apartment in which the couple set up housekeeping. Mrs. Dewey did all her own work. Even now, though the family income no longer needs such careful budgeting, Mrs. Dewey devotes all of the time she is not with her husband in household duties, marketing and caring for the two children.

The Deweys' social activity formerly consisted of attending concerts and the theater, and dining with friends in recent years. Dewey's double-barreled activities in politics and prosecution has made this impossible.

Recent attendance at the premiere of the movie, "Pinocchio," was the first time, says Mrs. Dewey, that she and her husband had been able to devote an evening to their own recreation in months.

The Deweys live now in a large but not ostentatious apartment on Fifth Avenue, selected so that the boys might have the run of Central Park across the street. Tommy, this year, was started in private school, chosen because of its emphasis on handicraft. The Deweys believe firmly an important part of a child's education is in learning to use his hands. For years now, Mrs. Dewey's extra-household duties have consisted of reading and briefing magazine and newspaper articles and books for her husband. She also helps him with his speeches, times them, often makes suggestions which are adopted. A grand piano in the corner of a spacious living room goes untouched for days and weeks now. And vocal harmonizing is almost a thing of the past.

Dewey's plunge into the national political arena has brought his wife and family into the picture. Frankly, Mrs. Dewey doesn't care for it. Not at all ungracious in her dealings with the press, Mrs. Dewey refuses to make any declarations concerning matters national or international.

"That's Tom business," she says simply. "Whatever public actions he holds will, I'm sure, demand sacrifices, and I am, as I have always been, prepared to meet them. But I don't feel that it would require my making public pronouncements on every matter under the sun."

Although Dewey has received many threatening letters and his prosecution of racketeers and gangsters has been considered dangerous by many, the family has never had a guard.

Mrs. Dewey explains it is a simple statement of faith which her husband shares with her that no harm comes to those who do their duty in fighting the forces of evil.

For relaxation and "getting away from it all," the Deweys have, for several years, rented a farm near Pawling, N. Y. Last Fall they bought the place and stocked it with a herd of cows.

ited marketing agency has been a goal for which they have been working for years. The writer heard it 20 years ago, not by that lengthy title but in principal. The idea came into fruition a few years ago with the clearing houses set up. Though these ideas were abortive, we have been forced to this program again as a remedy for the industry.

"Co-operation must come in handling Florida's citrus crop, a co-operative system in which the grower has confidence. One of which the grower will become a part and assist in making and observing restrictions which must be composed to regulate the industry and bring about a condition by organization and reasonable application of good business practices that will make the citrus industry Florida's biggest asset."

"It is embarrassing to have to apologize for the ungainly clumsiness of regulations which do not regulate; safeguards which do not protect; and paradoxical attacks which are immune to remedial measures now employed. The citrus industry has a great future. We can meet any competition and beat it. We can produce the best citrus in the world and do it at a lower cost than heretofore, thanks to the work of the experimental stations and the county agents who have assisted in developing and adopting new methods of producing better citrus at lower cost."

"We are working more co-operatively in producing and in advertising and in protective measures. Why not in marketing and distribution? Why leave these problems solely to the shipper? The packing house is the result of the grove and not the cause. The grove is the starting point in any co-operative program. This is the problem in which the Citrus Growers Inc. can assist. Every grower should pay his dues and get at least two more members and do it now or the opportunity will be lost and we will blame everybody but ourselves," the letter said in conclusion.

The inner cabinet would meet several times a week. The most mystifying development was a decision by Daladier's Radical Socialist party, which has seven ministers in the new cabinet, to hold its attitude in reserve action by the Reynaud government.

In other words, the party which the previous night had issued a statement saying Daladier had its confidence more now than ever is not ready to pledge its unqualified vote to the government that supplanted Daladier's.

Reynaud and his cabinet will hold their first formal ministerial council with President Lebrun today and appear before the chamber in the afternoon.

The atmosphere is expected to be clarified and the new combination will learn publicly how it stands.

LONDON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—German undersea raiders, mines and bombing planes have taken 56 lives, including that of a woman passenger, since an intensive campaign against merchant shipping began Tuesday, it was disclosed early yesterday.

They have sunk six ships, five of them neutral, in each case with Mrs. Dewey is busy now supervising the remodeling of the old colonial farmhouse and in furnishing it from scratch.

The months they spent there convinced both Tommy, Jr., and Johnny that they have discovered their life ambitions.

Tommy, asked if he planned to be a lawyer when he grew up, said: "No, a farmer. I'm going to raise cows, cats, hay and manure."

Ickes Says None Of Candidates Can Control Delegates

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—While the White House maintained silence on Postmaster General Farley's active candidacy for the presidency, Secretary Ickes, a down-the-line third term advocate, said yesterday no candidate now in the running could control enough delegates to capture the Democratic nomination.

Ickes mentioned Farley, Vice President Garner and Paul V. McNutt, the social security administrator. Asked at a press conference whether the Democratic convention might draft the President, Ickes replied:

"You might want a girl to marry you, but that is no assurance she would have you. Ickes said Farley 'is a fine man' and that every citizen had the right to announce for president. 'Jim can be depended on to do the right thing,' he added.

He declared a recent visit to California had demonstrated to him that the state was 'overwhelmingly for a third term.' Stephen T. Early, President Roosevelt's press secretary, told reporters there was 'no reaction' at the White House to Farley's statement that 'my name will be presented to the Democratic convention and that's that.'

Meanwhile, Vice President Garner made out an affidavit formally endorsing a slate of 48 delegates running for him in California's May 7 Democratic primary.

Garner swore that he was "a loss of life, according to British accounts. German claims to the sinking of nine warships and merchant vessels in a British convoy off Scapa Flow Wednesday were ridiculed by the British admiral. Four ships and a warship in the convoy were merely damaged, it was claimed.

The British accounts indicated that submarines were more efficient than German bombers, especially since the British have equipped their Hurricanes and Spitfires with cannon to penetrate and destroy the self-sealing gas tanks with which Heinkel bombers are equipped.

The Danish motorship Alger, 1654 tons, was torpedoed without warning and sank in three minutes today, drowning four members of its crew and a woman passenger. Twenty others jumped overboard and clambered into a lifeboat in which they drifted 10 hours before landing at a north British port.

House Approval Of Increases To Farm Bill Is Expected

Desire To Win Farm Vote Is Believed Stronger Than Fear Of New Taxation Senate Approval Given Huge Sum Billion Dollar Bill Found $203,000,000 Above Estimates

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Even economy advocates today predicted the House would accept at least part of the increases made by the Senate in the billion dollar farm bill it approved last night.

There was widespread feeling in both chambers, as they moved for Easter, that the desire to win the farm vote would prove stronger than the fear of new taxes which influenced the House to hold the farm appropriation to $714,000,000 earlier in this session.

The expanded bill, which the Senate passed without a record vote, now goes back to the House for action on the increases. Leaders expect the measure will be sent early next week to a joint congressional committee for adjustment of differences.

The Senate passed the big $714,000,000 farm appropriation bill—$93,000,000 above the budget estimates—yesterday in the face of a warning from Secretary Morgenthau that it should not cost the increase to the Treasury's cash balance.

That balance, Morgenthau said to Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, will run "about as low as it has ever run in the history of the country."

Administration leaders in the Senate had agreed in a conference with Byrd as to whether the Senate's increases could be financed in that way with Byrd finally writing to the treasury bureau for information on the possibility of a continuing deficit.

Presenting Morgenthau's letter, he referred to the figures it contained, and said it would not be "evident that it would not cost the increase to the Treasury's cash balance."

Final action on the measure came at the close of a day spent mostly in a debate over sugar—whether sugar planters should receive their benefits as usual, and whether a $10,000 limit should be placed upon sugar benefit payments to any one planter.

Senator Ellender, Democrat, Louisiana, brought up the first point with a demand that the Senate check out as usual. He lost 23 to 21, Byrd, arguing that some benefit payments had been "exorbitant and excessive."

Asked for the elimination, first suggesting $200 and then changing the maximum to $10,000, his proposal lost 48 to 21. Later, he tried for a $50,000 limitation and was beaten, 87 to 57.

MacFadden Pays Qualifying Fee For Senate Post

Publisher Is Antagonistic Toward New Deal Policies

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Bernard MacFadden, magazine publisher and physical culturist, qualified today as a Democratic United States senatorial candidate as the deadline for qualifications neared.

MacFadden, announced last night that he would be a candidate in the May primaries for nomination as United States senator from Florida.

MacFadden, antagonistic to most new deal policies, said that he would campaign for the post now held by Senator Andrews on a platform of "America for Americans."

He advocated mainly "every effort" to keep the United States out of the European war, a "radical change" in the reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba which he claimed was unfair to Florida sugar producers, and a bid to suppress all "isms" in this country.

Homestead Owners Are Urged To File Exemption Blanks

Sanford and Seminole County homesteaders have only seven days remaining in which they may file applications for homestead exemption for the ensuing year, City and County tax assessors warned today, urging that those who have not already done so file their applications at once.

There are approximately 500 in the county who have not filed their applications and nearly the same number in the city who will not be entitled to exemption from half of next year's taxes unless they file their applications on or before Apr. 1, it was pointed out.

At the office of the County Assessor Sanford, Monday, those who made applications for exemption last year must only sign their names and return the application blanks which have been placed in a yellow envelope and sent to all home owners who have not made application.

Any person who is entitled to homestead exemption and did not file an application for the year 1939, may apply at the office of the Assessor immediately.

British Search Delays Welles In Return Home

Vessel Thoroughly Searched For Nazi Economic Expert

ABOARD S. S. CONTE DI SAVOIA, At Sea, Mar. 23.—(AP)—A top to bottom search of the Italian liner by British control officers at Gibraltar yesterday delayed the ship at anchor for nearly 13 hours.

The search for the search for the Nazi financial wizard that every one of the ship's 1,120 passengers with the exception of Welles and his party was compelled to line up for questioning by British control officers who said they were looking for "someone with a fake passport."

Later, after the ship finally sailed, it was revealed they had been looking for Schacht, rumored to be aboard since the ship sailed from Genoa on Wednesday noon.

The American under-secretary of state, who lunched with Schacht in Berlin after seeing Adolf Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, remained in his suite working on his report to the President while the search was in progress.

The British officers searched empty cabins, a dozen British sailors even tore the covers from the liner's life-boats to make sure no one was concealed in them.

Passengers, particularly Americans, grumbled at the delay. This was the longest period Conte di Savoia had been held by the British and the first time the control officers questioned all of the passengers.

At the British control station at Gibraltar were at least 45 merchant ships, including two American vessels. Some were awaiting inspection. Others were awaiting departure of an armed convoy for the British Isles.

The close search of the ship at first started a report that the British were looking for a "German spy."

Cold Easter Is Predicted For Most Of Nation

Only Far West And Deep South Escape Unseasonably Frigid Temperatures

By Associated Press Heavy snow, and polar temperatures hurried upward from the Gulf of Mexico gave prospective Easter paraders a cold shoulder with forecasts of unseasonably frigid conditions all over the country tomorrow except in the deep south and the far West.

The threat of an Easter snow hung over the East and Midwest, and zero weather was expected to envelope the northern tier of states from North Dakota to Maine.

Today, in Maine, with temperatures ranging upward from a low of 15 to 20 inch snow blanket represented the heaviest fall in the belt that included all New England, most states westward to Michigan, and scattered areas in West Virginia, the Ohio valley and Missouri.

Lower temperatures accompanied the pre-Easter snow. Moorhead, Minn., had 17 inches below and it was 3 below at Minneapolis.

Subzero readings were reported unofficially in the Adirondacks. While the South's Easter weather is expected to be balmy in comparison with other sections, observers said the temperatures will be perhaps 8 degrees below normal for this time of year.

70-Ton Bomber Is Soon To Be Acquired By United States Army

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The army announced yesterday it soon will acquire from the Douglas Aircraft corporation the world's largest plane, a 70-ton juggernaut capable of making a round-trip, non-stop trans-Atlantic flight while carrying 23 tons of bombs.

The huge ship will be double the size of the famous super flying fortresses, currently the army's biggest bombers, which weigh only 35 tons each.

It is being built under conditions of strictest secrecy, the army said, adding it was plans for the ship which were stolen last year but recovered promptly by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The airplane, the army said, "represents a further step toward fighting for the fields and was solving the question of the best combination of size, speed, range, weight and carrying ability, in view of the latest requirements for bombardment airplanes."

To carry a crew of 10, the ship will have heated cabins and sleeping quarters, and will be equipped with four engines developing 6000 horsepower.

Some doubt exists concerning the ship's prospective speed. The announcement said only that it will go "over 200 miles an hour," but most observers felt the craft's actual speed limits must be considerably in excess of that figure.

Easter Brings No Lull As Diplomats Work Feverishly

Production Area To Be Discussed At Conferences

Wage Law Clause Will Be Aired At Three Meetings Next Week

Open conferences for the discussion of effects of the "area of production" exemptions under the Fair Labor Standards Act will be held in Jacksonville, Orlando and Tampa next week, according to information received today from William W. Wallis, senior inspector of the Wage and Hour division in Florida.

The meetings are called pursuant to instructions of Administrator Col. Phillip B. Fleming and will be held for the purpose of gathering data pertaining to agricultural and "area of production" exemptions under the act.

The "area of production" definition of the wage and hour law has caused considerable discussion among the citrus and vegetable growers and packers of this county and it is expected that they will have representatives attending at least one of these conferences.

Dr. James G. Johnson, supervising inspector in charge of the Florida-Georgia Regional office, will preside over the sessions. The Jacksonville conference will be held on Tuesday, Mar. 26 in room 310 of the Post Office building. The Orlando meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Mar. 27, while the Tampa meeting is set for Friday, Mar. 29. The place and hour of the latter two meetings will be announced later.

The conferences are for information and to discuss the "area of production" definition as applied to the farmer, packer or processor and employee, the notice said.

Dr. Johnson said that the conferences are requested to advise Mr. Wallis at 225 Post Office Building in Jacksonville.

Many Appeals Are Received By Post, Capt. Rose Says

In reminding the public that the Salvation Army annual drive for funds begins April 3, Capt. R. E. Rose, head of the local post, said today that various appeals reach the Army headquarters and in that list of appeals are "broken-hearted" wives, strayed sons penniless, jobless, human wrecks due to disease, poverty, and conditions not reflective upon the multiplicity of demands upon the organization.

Capt. Rose quoted General Evangeline Booth, former head of the Salvation Army, who is now retired, as saying: "While there is hunger, while there are unchurched people, and a lost soul, while there is sorrow and heart-ache and while there is one single phase of human suffering we march on."

Capt. Rose said that he has found that many do not fully understand what the Salvation Army is, therefore, he gave the following explanation: The Salvation Army is a world wide service organization, religious and charitable, founded 75 years ago, which gives material, mental and moral aid to humanity. The work is conducted in 98 countries and colonies in the world, and in every case the work is financed by that community in which the Salvation Army is working."

Rumors Say Molotov To Visit Berlin In Move To Prepare Extension Of Axis

Undercurrents of the British-German sea struggle, French government uncertainty, and diplomatic maneuvers connected with the Balkans marked the surface calm of Europe on Easter Eve.

Following up Monday's Brenner Pass conference of Hitler and Mussolini, from which Germany is reported to expect an extension of the axis to Moscow, an early visit of Russian Premier Molotov to Berlin was being rumored.

Mysterious activities during the holiday week-end in Berlin were interpreted in some quarters as indicating preparations were being made for Molotov's reception.

Italy, meanwhile, became the focus of attention in Berlin, where arrival in Rome for a conference with Mussolini was inked with German plans for economic expansion in southeastern Europe.
