Necktie Exchange Suggests Swapping Of Christmas Gifts

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
A bright fellow thought up and now is making a nice living with a necktie exchange. He figured and rightly, that most figured and rightly, that most males never receive ties of a design—or lack thereof—they would pick if making their own selections.

He also figured that for every necktie, however horrendous, there is a person somewhere who will consider it to be beautiful and suitable. Most people, of course, won't go to the trouble of exchanging a single necktie, but will quietly hang it on a rack in the closet where it will molder, untouched and unworn, until it wears away of its own weight or until a son reaches an age to be interested in something besides one-cut and Hoppy.

With this necktie exchange—where whole batches of gift ties can be swapped for other, more appealing latches—it becomes ultimately possible for all neckties to be worn and it also makes people happier.

I see no reason why the principle cannot be applied on a larger scale, perhaps, in the establishment of a national Christmas Gift Exchange. Christmas is a time when it is absolutely necessary to find some gift of certain specifications, such as cost, size, etc., for a predetermined number of persons. Frequently the donor is not the recipient; more often the privy to the whims or needs of donor hasn't time to do more than snatch a handy gift item from a counter in the frenzy of last-minute shopping. The result, whatever the cause, is the annual presentation of a large number of unsuitable and inappropriate Christmas gifts.

Few of us dare stomp back to the store of origin to return Christmas gifts unless the size is obviously wrong, and then the polite thing is merely to exchange the item for one of the proper size. There's always the danger of offending the giver, and after all it's the spirit of the giving which is supposed to count.

Most of the time we take a large assortment of useless Christmas gifts, note on a list the far more useful items for thank-you notes, and then store them quietly in the northernmost reaches of attic or cellar. There they remain until the home is sold, or the occupants move. At that time, the articles are usually placed in a large metal receptacle which in turn is placed at the curb for final disposal.

If someone would set up such an exchange, I would be one of the first patrons. My own attic is a treasure-trove of Christmas gifts from past years which have never been removed from their original boxes.

I have, for instance, some 25 key containers, made of leather, plastic and other pliable materials which have been accumulating for years. None has been used; few bear my name or initials. Several have flashlight attachments, carrying longdead batteries, and many carry accessories like coin purses of transparent compartments designed for carrying licenses and pictures of loved ones. I have also a baker's dozen cigarette cases—all designed to carry four cigarettes short of a pack. One is magnificently inscribed with the arms of Great Britain in color, another is almost sterling silver and several are accompanied by matching compacts and lipsticks of strange hue. There are also six cigarette lighters which probably would work for an understanding master or mistress, although they didn't for me.

I have several pounds of hand-knitted socks, all in various and dinner napkins, a basket-basket of hand-crocheted tea-cosies, pot-holders and antimacassars. I have four pink satin handkerchief cases with built-in sachet bags and two interesting wooden appliances (given hopefully by the male of the house) designed to hold light laundry in the cellar and keep stockings and such from the shower curtain rod in the bathroom. Never used.

These are just a few items, picked at random. I haven't even mentioned the combination Swiss thermometer and music box that arrived busted or some 100 other items of like character. Our television set was NOT a Christmas gift. I would be interested in acquiring on the best bargaining basis

Americans Borrow Christmas Customs

AP Newsfeatures
Americans, although of many nationalities, are completely in unison about Christmas customs in the United States.

We adopt the symbol of Santa Claus from Holland, the Christmas tree from Germany, Christmas (shoes) and stockings from Belgium and Christmas cards and "Merry Christmas" greetings from England. America has contributed the turkey dinner and the poinsettia as a decoration.

All over the world Christmas bells peal forth the birth of Christ and the activity is the great holy picture carried in the hearts of the faithful on Christmas morning.

Many of our customs are of English origin, and in England these old traditional customs still are observed. In olden days English manor houses were open to all and tables were laden with air-locks of beef, mince pies and foaming ale. Today, although our menu is varied, we still leave our homes and hearts open during the Yuletide.

The English Yule log and the huge candles which were lighted to shed a glow on the merriment in olden days is part of our American celebration. The English was-sail bowl which was filled with hot mulled ale, in which was mixed strained honey with grated nutmeg on top strated the vogue of the brimming punch bowl to be found in many American homes on Christmas day.

Headquarters City Is Sought For New Allied Armed Force

Supreme Commander Will Tour Europe In January On Inspection Of Sites

PARIS, Dec. 26 (AP)— Recruiting of personnel already has started for General Dwight D. Eisenhower's international army headquarters, although it still has no home.

It was learned today that secretaries were being hired. At least some of them got their jobs on their ability to speak German, French and English fluently.

An American planning staff is making surveys of a number of possible locations. A military informant said "the final decision will be made by General Eisenhower himself."

Mentioned as strong possibilities are Versailles, historic suburb of Paris where Eisenhower maintained his Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force (SHAEP) during World War II, and Fontainebleau, the present headquarters of the five-nation Western Union Military Alliance commanded by Field Marshal Lord Montgomery.

Eisenhower is scheduled to tour Europe in January, inspecting headquarters sites and conferring with military men of the 12 Atlantic pact nations which contribute to his command.

A spokesman said today that London still is a possibility for the headquarters, although most authorities preferred to have the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE) established on continental Europe "for psychological reasons."

At the recent Atlantic Pact Conference in Brussels some diplomats said they would urge Eisenhower to pick his headquarters "as far east as possible," possibly at Strasbourg.

It was pointed out that space and housing accommodations would be a prime factor in Eisenhower's selection of a headquarters town, because the headquarters would be a large staff.

Officers and men from each of the 12 nations will be at each other's headquarters.

Negroes Arrested By City Police On Charge of Murder

Leona Banks, 22-year-old negro, is being held in City Jail on a charge of murder pending a hearing into the circumstances regarding the fatal shooting of her husband, Willie Banks, last night at 6:30 o'clock at his home at 805 East Eighth Street.

Announcer Hears Of Killing Of Father

James W. Fields, sports announcer of Station WTRF, received word yesterday morning while unwrapping Christmas gifts at his home in Lake Mary, Fla., that his father, James R. Fields, game warden, had been shot and killed in a state game preserve.

Mr. Fields, 56, was killed when he went into the woods to check on a bear in a preserve near Blountstown to catch a man he suspected of illegal hunting.

Broward Larkins, a Liberty County fisherman, was today bound over to a Gadsden County coroner's jury and was charged with the shot gun slaying.

Woman Is Injured In Three Car Collision

Canada Holiday negroes, received injuries to the neck and chest following a three vehicle collision on Century Avenue at 6:30 o'clock Saturday night, it was reported today by State Highway Patrolman R. D. Harrison.

Two automobiles and a parked truck were damaged to a total estimate of $200. The truck, parked on the road, half on and half off, was hit by a 1940 Buick sedan driven by Wilbur Bellamy, husband of the injured woman.

The Buick crashed into the truck when the brakes applied causing it to surge into the path of an oncoming 1950 Mercury driven by George Hudson. The accident took place near the L. A. Bramley home.

Robert Lee McGill, driver of the truck, was arrested by Patrolman Harrison on a charge of improper parking and was held over to Sheriff P. A. Mera.

ONE MILLION IN RECEIPTS
Receipts at the Sanford Post Office totaled $1,000,000 for the year 1950 as of P. M. today, Postmaster Joel F. Wainwright announced today.

Former Ziegfeld Follies Girl Is Found Strangled

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—A woman, described by her husband as former Ziegfeld Follies actress Yvonne Hughes, was found strangled today in a Manhattan hotel where she had lived for a year.

The woman, identified as Evelyn Hughes McDonald, was found on the floor of a room at the Ashland hotel near the one she had occupied with her husband, John. A strip of cloth was lashed tightly about her throat and a scarf thrust into her mouth.

The fully-clothed body of the brunette woman, about 60 years old, was discovered by a maid. It lay sprawled on the floor of a room which indicated it had been used for a beer drinking party last night, police said.

Police quoted McDonald as a taxi cab driver, as saying he had been living with the woman about 11 years in a common law marriage. He said that in her earlier years she appeared in several Ziegfeld shows under the name of Yvonne Hughes. Her last appearances were in "Rio Rita" and "Rosalie".

Police said that the room in which the body was found was rented Sunday to a man who registered as Birge Nordkrat.

They quoted McDonald as saying he picked up the man as a fare and brought him to the Ashland when the stranger asked to be taken to a hotel.

The cab driver said he saw his fare again yesterday and arranged to drive him to Brooklyn today. But when he knocked at the man's room early this morning he got no answer.

SOBER CHRISTMAS

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26 (AP)—Police magistrate John F. Fiorucci didn't pass out his usual Christmas gifts in court this year.

In former years, he understood, out punishment. But not a single one of the cases of those who had too much Yule alcoholic spirit and sent them home without punishment, at not a single person was arrested in downtown Pittsburgh for drunkenness this year.

Roman Catholics Asked By Pope To Increase Prayers For Peace

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 26 (AP)—Roman Catholics throughout the world today will be expected to increase their prayers, particularly prayers for peace of the world—to gain the benefits of the extension of Holy Year.

The Papal bull extending Holy Year through 1951 for the world's Catholics, was signed by Pope Pius XII yesterday, Christmas Day, after the closing of the 1950 "Anno Santo." The bull, entitled "The Assumption Sacrament," was published today by L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper.

As the 50th Year of the church ended in many ways it was the greatest jubilee in the history of the church—the Pope issued a trying period which would be devoted largely to his continued crusade for peace. Called the "Pope of Peace," the Pontiff has seen little of it since he succeeded St. Peter's throne March 8, 1950. The "Rainbow of Peace" for which he and millions of pilgrims to Rome prayed throughout 1950 failed to materialize and instead, the Pope warned in his Christmas message, mankind faces a darkening which reaches to the end (Continued on Page Two)

Allied Forces Dig In As New Chinese Red Offensive Looms; Ridgway Takes Over In Korea

Tenth Corps Lands At Pusan Perimeter And Is Attached To 8th Army Command

TOKYO, Dec. 26 (AP)—General MacArthur said today withdrawal of the Allied U. S. 10th Corps from its Hwangsan beachhead completed a re-buffing of his forces as required by Red China's entry into the Korean war.

The re-buffing is reported to have placed the 105,000 men of the reorganized 10th Corps under a single unified command of the U. S. Eighth Army.

The 10th Corps formerly had been initially a separate army in Northeastern Korea, there was limited liaison between it and the Eighth Army in northwest Korea.

MacArthur said the 10th Corps had made a "junction" with the Eighth, but did not elaborate. Lt. General Matthew B. Ridgway, World War II Airborne Division commander, arrived in Korea from the Pentagon via Tokyo to assume command of the Eighth.

Ridgway succeeded Lt. General Walton H. Walker, who was killed Saturday in a jeep accident near the front. Under Ridgway will be Maj. General Edward M. Almond, 10th Corps commander and formerly MacArthur's chief of staff.

Inclusion of the 10th Corps means the Eighth Army now has three corps—the First, Ninth and Tenth.

Almond reached yesterday his troops had landed in the Pusan-Pohang area of southeast Korea.

MacArthur, in a special communique as United Nations military commander, said the U. S. had been blessed with "a great ally" and the war and only Korea by Red China's "unprovoked" intervention.

However, he added, the Allies' offensive in November and the subsequent retreat before the Chinese had exposed "a great political and military decision of enormous scope."

U. S. forces in Korea probably were saved from total destruction by a Chinese force "of political intelligence."

There was no substantial information of Chinese intent, he said. He noted that the Chinese had been given assurances that (Continued on Page 2)

Walter E. Orton, 74, Died Yesterday A. M.

Walter E. Orton, 74, died suddenly at his home at 201 East Eighth Street early yesterday morning. He was born in Pownal, Vt., May 12, 1876 and had lived here for the past two years.

A retired electrical engineer, he was also a member of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. He was retired in 1946 from General Electric Company in Schenectady, N. Y.

Survivors include the widow and one son Donald W. Orton, Cleveland, Ohio. Funeral arrangements, Mrs. Orton will be announced later.

Lowering War Clouds Overshadow Celebration Of Birth Of Christ

Christians throughout a war-menaced world observed Christmas yesterday with a fervent hope for peace—or at least survival—in the year to come.

The Red clouds swirling out of ravaged Korea cast their shadows over yuletide celebrations in freedom-loving lands the world over.

The worried solemnity of this year's celebration of the birth of Christ was reflected in religious services, in the messages of church and state leaders and in gatherings about the family hearth.

In many homes the customary rejoicing was muted by the knowledge that sons, husbands or fathers—fallen before the advancing Communist host in Korea—would never return.

For others, however, there was a measure of cheer in the announcement that more than 100,000 men fighting with the U. S. forces had been brought out successfully Christmas Eve from a Red trap in northeast Korea.

President Truman voiced the general feeling in a brief state-

Military Leaders Fear Letdown In War Preparations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP)—Top military leaders hope that the worst the nation will face for a time is a period of high international tension instead of major war.

They are worried that popular support may wane for a prolonged state of belligerent mobilization.

Those are among the basic reasons for the defense department's present program of only partial mobilization.

But there are Congress members, recalling the ill-prepared American military setup when the Korean war erupted, who questioned whether the Defense Department's policy goes far enough.

Defense Secretary George A. Marshall, who has served both as a statesman and a soldier, says that "we are confident of the ability of our people to meet any crisis that may befall us."

"How long will the American public carry themselves through this tension, making the necessary contributions and sacrifices to maintain what we feel is a just and a proper action?"

He noted that opposition recently at a Pentagon conference to a representative association of the American public—a group of leaders from industry, labor, finance and religion—was "very healthy."

"We must not fall off our own weight, with the burden of the public to a prolonged tension, into another catastrophic state of great distress, which is the present state of the world would be terrible."

Marshall said it would be "incredibly naive" to believe the American public could sustain the mobilization following the loss of world leadership by the United States.

So, the problem, as the Pentagon sees it, is to strike a balance somewhere between mobilization and the inadequate preparation that existed before Korea.

Marshall says it should be an "enduring" system of national defense, "a flexible system of defense." (Continued on Page 2)

Services Held Today For Mrs. A. M. Barber

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for Mrs. Arle May Barber, 76, who died at her home in Altamonte Springs yesterday after an illness of two years. The Rev. A. G. McInnis officiated and burial was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Barber was born in Stone Mountain, Ga., Apr. 24, 1874 and had lived in Altamonte Springs for 25 years. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Frostproof and the widow of the late Foster Bates Barber.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. L. N. Hanzell and Mrs. Eugene Douglas of Altamonte Springs; and Mrs. Cecil Wilson, New York; one son, Raymond Barber, Palm Beach; one sister, Mrs. William Howard, Marietta, Ga.; five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Stalin Peace Prize Committee Appointed In Propaganda Move

MOSCOW, Dec. 26 (AP)—The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet announced today the appointment of a 12-man committee to award the first annual international Stalin Peace Prizes "for strengthening the peace among peoples."

The announcement did not say when the committee, made up of three Russians and delegates from nine other nations including China, would meet to choose their candidates for the 100,000-ruble ($25,000 at Russian evaluation) prize.

(The Stalin Peace Prize was set up by decree of the Presidium on the Soviet prime minister's 70th birthday last year. At that time it was declared the 1950 prize would be awarded on Stalin's 71st birthday Dec. 21. But on that day, no mention was made of the prize, no possible candidates had been

Elks Club Stages Annual Children's Christmas Party

More than 200 children who might have had empty stockings at Christmas time gathered for a joyous party Saturday afternoon on the front lawn of the Elks Lodge and received many toys and gifts from Santa Claus and the Elks.

It was perhaps the biggest party of its kind that the organization has staged here, and was conducted in an efficient and orderly manner. There was a huge decorated tree on the lawn and under it a long table, bespiced high with presents.

Assisting Santa Claus in passing out the presents was a committee of Elks.

The children were called by name to receive the presents. Each received a big bag of oranges, apples, nuts and candy and at least two toys. Youngsters gained big credit at the bounty provided for them and nearly stamped Santa Claus, many trying to get on his lap at one time. Santa had a voice like that of Al Skinner.

The Elks called more than 3000 of their recent tithes toward this project and toward aid for the Harry Anna Home for Crippled Children at Dunedin. Al Corbett, excused ruler of the local Lodge, stated that more than 70 crippled children up in average age of 12 years. Another section and large table is planned in the spring, he declared.

Among the gifts Saturday were fruits donated by Harold Kautner and more than 70 dresses for little girls presented by Florida Fashion.

Robert Sharrock was chairman in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Al Skinner, Leo Butner, Morris Motes, Harry Koenig, Joe Menendez, Peter Muker, Richard Packard, Joe Samuels, John Fitzpatrick, Ralph Wright and Earl Higdon.

Gifts included toys from the American Legion, Shriner's and other organizations.

Several more Santa Claus uniforms in the area and were given to the Rev. J. E. Fields, Jack Morrison and Harry Fields. (Continued on Page 2)

Murlon Hayes Dies After Auto Accident

Murlon Hayes, 71, died at 3:00 A. M. yesterday at Richmond, Ga., as a result of an automobile accident which occurred near Richmond on Sunday. Mrs. Hayes was killed instantly. He formerly lived in Sanford where he was born Jan. 17, 1879.

Mr. Hayes was a resident of Columbus, Ga., where he was manager of Butler Shoe Store there.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hayes of Sanford; three brothers, Lance Hayes, (Rustville, La.); Robert Hayes of Shreveport, La. and Ted Hayes of New Orleans; three aunts, Mrs. Grover David, Mrs. R. H. Hill, Mrs. C. E. Gustavson, all of Sanford; one uncle, J. D. Driggers; and grandmother, Mrs. P. J. Driggers, of Sanford.

Funeral services will be held at Erickson Funeral Home at 10:30 A. M. tomorrow with the Rev. J. E. McKinley officiating and burial will be made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Cold Snap Slashes On Christmas Day

Snow piled up across the north, over half of the nation today and some eastern points shivered in the coldest weather of the season.

Subzero cold hit several localities along the northern tier of states, while chilly readings were taken as far south as Texas. Snow whitened New York City three years to the day after a record 25.8 inch fall tied the metropolitan area in snow. The weather bureau estimated the fall night means four inches by the time it stopped.

Chicago awakened to knee-deep drifts and found more snow falling. Fall ranged from four to seven inches in other areas of the snow belt that spread from Montana and the Dakotas to the eastern seaboard.

MANNILA, Dec. 26 (AP)—Maj. General Claire Chennault, World War II Commander of the U. S. 14th Air Force, says the Philippines are in immediate danger of being engulfed by the Communists.

Enroute to Formosa, here he heads the China Air Transport Line. Chennault told reporters he is convinced the Philippines are included in the Red timetable of invasion.

Communist Patrols Probe At US Lines; Red Leader Warns UN Troops To Leave

TOKYO, Dec. 26 (AP)—South Korea and Chinese Communist troops tonight tangled in a fierce battle just south of the 34th Parallel and 26 air miles north of Seoul, the embattled South Korean capital. Seoul itself was being rapidly emptied by citizens fleeing the gathering storm of combat. The clash between Reds and Republic of Korea troops was fought in the Korangpo area, 10 miles east of Karsong, transportation center on the route from Pyongyang to Seoul. Republic of Korea (ROK) force headquarters described the action as "fierce" and also announced that Red patrols were probing with United Nations forces all along the ROK-held section of the front lines. The U. S. Eighth Army, guarding the western end of the U. S. defense positions, also reported Communist patrols ending south of the Parallel. The Communists were attempting to determine UN positions.

It was perhaps the biggest party of its kind that the organization has staged here, and was conducted in an efficient and orderly manner. There was a huge decorated tree on the lawn and under it a long table, bespiced high with presents.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

of a year ahead. The creator planned countless ages ahead. We are a part of his plan. Let us play our part. Whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.—Mt. 5:2.

The Chinese evidently got a good laugh over the UN cease fire order in Korea.

Secretary Acheson has "categorically rejected" former President Hoover's foreign policy proposals as "catastrophic." And that's that.

Congratulations to Adam Hat Stores, Inc. Drew Pearson's radio sponsor, which has recently announced that his contract will be allowed to lapse when it expires in February.

School Superintendent Bailey says Florida's public schools will need $125,000,000 for the next two years, and that future requirements will continue to "grow and grow and grow".

The Naval Air Technical Training Command center at the Jacksonville Naval Air station is being reactivated as of Jan. 8, it was announced last week.

The United States has suffered some heavy casualties in this Korean experiment. In total figures they have run almost as high as in World War I.

Strangely enough, another who agrees with Herbert Hoover is Joe Kennedy, who never used to agree with Hoover on anything.

Winston Churchill, with whom we generally find ourselves in full agreement, does not want American hands tied on use of the atomic bomb.

There have been far greater conquests in the past than all those of Hitler and Hirohito. And ALL conquests of the past have suddenly crumbled, come to naught, and are forgotten.

Government Dream

A grand plan for making over the nation's capital city has been disclosed. Drawn by a National Capital Park and Planning Commission, the plan envisions a thirty-year program of dispersal, rebuilding and new construction.

There are several reasons for the plan to disperse the government establishment. First mentioned these days is the greater safety with respect to air attack; the present high concentration would make Washington a most tempting target for any enemy.

These are good aims, and the Commission does a needed job in working out a plan to attain them. The rest of the Commission's vision, however, is startling for the taxpayer. It foresees a population of two million for the national capital by 1980, about twice the present population.

New York's Best Mayor

The best mayor any American city ever had is the sweeping distinction often bestowed on the late Fiorello H. La Guardia, for twelve years mayor of New York City.

One reason for his high standard of achievement was that party loyalties sat lightly on him. Originally a Republican, he supported the New Deal.

Possibly his greatest feat was in restoring popular confidence in the city government, badly shattered after sixteen years of Tammany. People rich and poor believed in him, and followed him down the path of good citizenship.

Youth And Security

"Adult leadership of this country can offer you no security in a world that is insecure." In these frank terms Warren R. Austin addressed the nation's young people in a recent speech before a group of their representatives in New York.

Urging them to fight cynicism and materialism, Austin went on to say that this is a spiritual task and involves active affiliation with religious organizations.

That in the past our young people have led over-sheltered lives and have matured late is a charge which has been frequently heard. This is true, it is definitely time for a change.

Too Late To Classify

As we approach a new year with the outlook dark and hope of world peace a distant one, it becomes more and more difficult to retain faith and face the future with courage.

It is a time when we all should pause and reflect. Casting about to find words of encouragement I came upon a document of profound faith written in the darkest hours of World War II by the late Dr. Brown Landone of Winter Park.

It is entitled "Have Faith, Conquests Are Defeats." As you read it, think back to the dark hours of Dunkirk, Pearl Harbor and Bataan.

Yes, Austria is taken, Czechoslovakia subdued, Poland conquered. Norway is occupied, Holland and Belgium overrun, France enslaved.

There have been far greater conquests in the past than all those of Hitler and Hirohito. And ALL conquests of the past have suddenly crumbled, come to naught, and are forgotten.

Conqueror is a synonym for failure. The conqueror of the conqueror is the conqueror of the conqueror.

APPEAL FOR THE TEACHER

My New York By MEL HEIMER. NEW YORK - I give you today a man of 16 cylinders, no more, no less. His name is Kenneth Slamon; he is a chief yeoman in the United States Navy.

As it developed, the $3,175 that was his share didn't have to go even partly for brew. Watching the TV show was a gent named Fred Linder, who is president of the brewery founded by the late Colonel Jake Ruppert, who once owned the Yankees.

The whole thing gave me a warm and comfortable feeling, and in a way spurred the gastric juices of ambition to flow. I am working toward getting on one of those shows, and then, when I have won the jackpot, announcing demurely that I am going to spend all my winnings on a lifetime supply of champagne.

THE BEST WRITING THAT HAS CROSSED THIS DESK in months comes from a little magazine called Shadow. It appears to be published once monthly and on the masthead is the small reminder that the "opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the Administration."

THE PICTURE OF DAYBREAK in the country, say: the first small beams as gray comes into the eastern sky, the call of a rooster, shrill and challenging, and the immediate and far-ranging reply from the dusk around; the web of tree limbs darkly traced against the growing lightness; the distant bark of a dog, sharp and clear in the still gray silence; the palling transience of the cold, clean air, and then, as a kitchen door, the sharp crack of an ax on wood, the myriad sounds of a world waking to another day.

Roman Catholics

The 1950 Jubilee drew 4,000,000 Catholics to Rome to gain the Holy Year's spiritual benefits. To achieve those benefits in 1951, the Papal Bull said, Catholics throughout the world must say more prayers and must especially invoke the intercession of the Virgin Mary.

When a Catholic is offering the prayers to gain the spiritual benefits, he must recite five times the "Our Father," the "Hail Mary" and the "Glory be to the Father" plus one of each of the intentions of the Pope. In addition the "credo" must be recited.

In 1950's Holy Year, the recitation three times of the "Our Father," the "Hail Mary" and the "Glory be to the Father" and "Credo" along with prayers for the Pope's intentions, were required. Otherwise, rules for achieving the 1951 indulgence—pardon from temporal punishment due for sin—are similar to those followed in Rome. Catholics seeking the benefits will be required to visit designated churches. As during 1950, the indulgence may be acquired as the requirement for it are fulfilled.

The Papal Bull expressed hope that the ardor shown here in 1950 would be repeated throughout the world in 1951. It urged prayers for the church's needs for suffering, persecution, for the spiritual and moral welfare of the family and the ultimate triumph of the Catholic Church.

The Pontiff's last act of the Jubilee was the signing yesterday of a Papal Bull extending the Holy Year to the whole world for all of 1951, giving all Catholics a chance to gain spiritual advantages for which some 4,000,000 pilgrims traveled to Rome.

Catholics fulfilling throughout the year requirements for the 1950 Holy Year indulgence will pray for the Jubilee intentions set forth by the Pontiff's a general and universal return to Christ, social justice and aid for the needy faith in and defense of the church.

It is a related problem, which the Pope will stress during 1951, the social reform and need of equitable distribution of the world's goods.

In the more than 5,000 general audiences he held during the Holy Year, the Pontiff nearly always mentioned the need for improved social conditions for the masses.

There had been general fear that the burden of the Holy Year would be the social reform and need of equitable distribution of the world's goods.

Education Specialist Declares Children Mimic Adults Actions

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Educational Writer

The chances are your children don't do what you say, but do as you do.

The reason is simple says Dr. A. Wellesley Fosbury, a research associate at the Horace Mann, Lincoln Institute of Teachers College, Columbia University. Says he:

"If a child is disrespectful and rude to his parents, the parents should look within themselves to see what it is that they do, that their child is reflecting. It is necessary to realize that adults tend to judge themselves by their own intentions; that children and other people judge adults not by what they do but by what they do."

"The way your child behaves toward you is likely to be a faithful reflection of the way he thinks you behave toward him. To change the way he behaves toward you, you must change your way of behaving toward him."

(a) Adults must look at what they do rather than what they mean to do. (b) They must try to see what they do through their children's eyes. (c) They must realize that as adults they often misjudge the children's intent (just as the children misjudge the adult's intent) by seeing a child's behavior insensitively."

Continuing, Dr. Fosbury says, "It is very important, then, for parents to remember that children imitate what they do, not what they mean to do. And if parents want more from their children more than mere servility, they will seek ways to look at this problem frankly and objectively with the children."

Dr. Fosbury, who is director of a project cooperatively sponsored by the Springfield, Missouri, schools and the Institute, is now in the process of getting the answers to such problems as the social attitudes and values which operate in the lives of children, how they can be studied in the average home and school, and what parents and teachers can do to change these values and attitudes in one way or another.

It is necessary, he says, for parents to have the proper social attitudes. It is necessary first to understand the attitudes they now have. To do this, it is necessary to know the many people have attitudes toward

Weary Masses Of Beaten Korean War Refugees Stream Southward

By WILLIAM BARNARD

SEOUL (AP)—How many can finish the journey? That's the question an American asks as he watches the thousands of refugees streaming southward from the apprehensive Korean capital.

The question does not apply to the lucky ones, those who cling in swarms to railroad flatcars or huddle in silent mounds of humanity on the backs of jolting trucks.

But what of the great majority—pitiful families on foot, pulling their little cars or lugging their belongings on their backs over level mountain roads in zero weather?

In their faces you find nothing... nothing... neither hope nor despair. In their eyes there is no pain. There are no complaints.

In flight from the forces of Communism, these people trudge steadily across frozen snowy fields, avoiding the heavily traveled roads whenever possible.

You never see a child cry or smile or laugh. You never hear any chatter or conversation among families. You wonder if perhaps things were different far back up the road. You wonder if this bitter trek has finally squeezed from these stricken people every last bit of feeling except a blind determination to keep going.

There is no rest by day, not even for food. Never do you see a family taking time out for a breather. Weary children are allowed occasional rides on the cartloads already piled high with bundles. Babies are strapped to the backs of their mothers. But for the adults from down to dusk there is no rest at all.

By night the refugees vanish. The frozen fields and snow-capped peaks are vague in moonlight but of these people there is no sign. Most, you are told, sleep in deserted huts in the rapidly emptying villages of this area.

But by night the roads pound with the marching feet of thousands of South Korean "volunteers," mostly boys in their teens. In the stretch of a single mile of road south of Seoul, a newspaperman passed an estimated 10,000 such recruits.

The refugees are ill-clothed for bitter temperatures. They wear many layers of tattered cotton garments and some have canvas shoes. Some have no shoes at all.

An amazing thing is the stamina of the elderly men and women among these fleeing people. Even they carry heavy loads or pull carts. But in a shallow cave at a roadside was one very old man. He sat in the cave, his bundle of possessions beside him, and stared out at those who passed by. For him, was this the end of the journey?

Pope Pius XII underlined his Christmas plea for peace by extending Holy Year indulgence throughout the Catholic world in 1951. He called for a year of prayer, penance and peace.

The Pontiff, who closed the Holy Year celebration in ceremonies at midnight Monday at Vatican City, thus gave all Catholics a chance to gain spiritual advantages for which some 1,000,000 pilgrims traveled to Rome in the past year.

In Communist-ruled Warsaw, Poland's premiere Archbishop Stefan Wyszyński issued a poignant pastoral letter and urged church-going Catholics to be devoted first to God and not to party or worldly things.

Western Europe, fearful that it might be the scene of the next act of the 1949-50 armistice, closed the year's observance.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer stressed peace in the primary and secondary national schools, when some 100,000 school children gathered and pressed their hearts for the defense of the values of life against a threatening attack.

Plans Announced For Miss Brock's Wedding

Final plans are being announced today for the marriage of Miss Betty Jo Brock, daughter of Mrs. Nancy Brock and the late Alva Brock to Gerald David Lassing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lassing, of this city.

The wedding will take place Friday night at the First Methodist Church at 8:00 o'clock with Rev. J. E. McKinley officiating and Dr. J. R. Hood assisting.

The bride will be given away by her brother, Pete and Al Brock, Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger, Jr., the bride's sister, will serve as matron of honor and Miss Daphne Connelly will act as maid of honor.

Miss Jean Saver and Miss Margaret Dingler, both of this city and Miss Charlotte Oldham of Orlando will serve as bridesmaids. Bill (Shoemaker) will serve as Mr. Lassing's best man, Sonny Raborn, San Diego, Calif., LARRY Lassing, Douglas Lassing, Robert and Gene (Dunbar) Vaughn will act as best and groomsmen, James Terwilliger, nephew of the bride, will be ring bearer.

Misses will be furnished by Bob Connelly, Albert and Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger.

The reception is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger at 249 Hawthorne Ave.

Ring Magazine's "Fighter Of Year" Title Awarded To Ezzard Charles

NEW YORK, Dec. 26—(AP)—Heavyweight champ Ezzard Charles, welterweight king Ray Robinson and bantamweight titlist Vic Toweel of South Africa today were named for Ring Magazine's outstanding awards.

Charles was picked as the "Fighter of the Year," by Nat Fleischer, editor of boxing's bible, Sugar Ray was honored with a special citation as "best all-around fighter in any division," Toweel, who dethroned Manuel Ortiz, was selected for the "Progress of the Year" trophy.

Rex Leary, the sturdy, young Lewiston, Utah, heavyweight who upset Jersey Joe Walcott, was runner-up to Toweel in the "Progress of the Year" contest.

Fleischer, in a copyright article in the February issue of Ring, wrote that he placed Robinson second to Charles "because the sum total of his influence on the boxing situation was not equal to that represented by Charles' surprisingly easy success against Joe Louis."

The editor cited Charles' meritorious work and sincerity in pointing out liberal elements outside the ring were important factors.

In his annual ratings, Fleischer named Louis as the No. 1 contender despite a "mildness" shown against Argentine's Cesar Brien. Behind Louis he picked Lee Savold as No. 2 and Joey Maxim, the light heavyweight champion, as No. 3.

All eight champions are recognized as tops in their divisions by Fleischer. In some years, Ring has listed the champion behind outstanding contenders, especially in the title bout.

After analyzing boxing's ups and downs, Fleischer advocated the "elimination of all hoodlums and their influence; more intelligent and more liberal matchmaking; encouragement of younger boxers and more intelligent and realistic evaluation of the hazards of television."

Despite his death following a knockout loss to Percy Bennett, Al (Bonny Boy) West was ranked sixth among the lights.

"He had a good record during 1950 and well deserved his ranking," said Fleischer.

The ratings: Heavyweights: Champion—Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati.

Joe Louis, Detroit; 2. Lee Savold, Paterson, N. J.; 3. Lee Maxim, Cleveland; 4. Leo Oms, Detroit; 5. Bob Baker, Pittsburgh; 6. Clarence Henry, Los Angeles; 7. Ben Lacey, Louisville, Ky.; 8. ### Gator Bowl Game Marks 50 Years Since Great Fire

Big Blaze Destroyed 46 Acres Leaving Town A Charred Ash

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 26—(Special)—Kickoff time at the Gator Bowl game Jan. 1 between Washington and Lee University and the University of Wyoming will have a double meaning.

It will not only kick off a football game. It will kick off a series of events celebrating Jacksonville's fifty years of progress since it was devastated by fire on May 3, 1901.

Throughout the Winter and Spring there will be golf, baseball and other sporting events, including colorful aquatic races. The climactic feature will be a historical spectacle in the Gator Bowl the week after Easter, March 26-31.

There will be 1,500 people in the pageant, with the script prepared by Dr. Frank G. Slaughter, physician and author of several historical fiction books. The pageant will begin with the landing of Jean Ribault and his French Huguenots near the site of Jacksonville in 1562—which was 59 years before Pilegrims landed.

During the week of the pageant there will be parades, dances and other colorful events designed to entertain home folks and attract visitors.

In the 50 years since Jacksonville was knocked out by fire it has come a long way. At the time of the fire, the city was a bustling 28,420. It was a big tourist center and had a booming naval store industry.

The fire, starting in a meat factory, was the worst ever suffered by a Southern city. It swept the entire business district, most of the residential district and most of the waterfront—burning 466 acres, destroying 2,368 buildings.

Rebuilding started quickly, and aid came from all over the United States—money, food, clothing.

In the collapse of Florida's fabulous boom in the Twenties, Jacksonville topped the 100,000 mark by 1930. In spite of the gripping depression of the Thirties, the city exceeded 170,000 in 1940. The population went over 200,000.

The city is inviting people from all over the country to pay a visit at the time of the celebration. Former residents are being invited to help make it an "old home week," and among former residents are such celebrities as Judy Canova, Wanda Hendrix, Dorothy Shay, Connie Haines and Kitty Curran.

A 124 page book, with 369 pictures and without advertising, has been published to mark the city's "Golden Year." It is entitled "The Jacksonville Story."

For more than a year plans have been shaped up by the 50 Years of Progress Association, headed by Fred H. Kent. Now the city is preparing to roll out the carpet, which will be ready for visitors to the Jan. 1 Gator Bowl game.

Washington & Lee Loses Key Man To Acute Appendicitis

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 26—(AP)—Washington & Lee's star tight end, Mike Michaels, was lost for the Gator Bowl tilt against Wyoming today after an attack of appendicitis.

The "Big Train" of the Generals' split-a movement and one of the nation's toughest line-backers had been ill for a week but refused medical attention for fear of being removed from the squad.

But over the weekend it became evident the nation's tenth highest scorer couldn't go on and he was operated on Sunday.

He swore all about him in secrecy until he was able to telephone his parents in Swyersville, Pa.

"I don't want to call them until Christmas night after they've had some fun," he said.

The 115-pounder made the team and his attendants promise no publicity on the operation until today.

Captain George Barlev said the loss to the Southern Conference champions would require sweeping changes in his plans.

Michalski scored 89 points during the season, gained 715 yards rushing and was never stopped at the line of scrimmage short of a yard.

Selected from a group of 102 Florida beauties, these lovelies, sponsored by J. E. "Doc" Webb, of St. Petersburg, owner of Webb City and originator of the Festival of States, will make their first appearance at the Princess of the Festival Contest in connection with the Festival of States, January 16, 1951. They are, (left to right) Barbara Bodes, Marie McGill, Mary Dwight, Mary Ester Bartlett, Marjorie Fuller, Barbara Lawton, Dorothy McAlpine and June Moran.

Victorious Brown Coach May Resign For College Post

CLEVELAND, Dec. 26—(AP)—Professional football's new champion, the Cleveland Browns, are going to "keep on building and winning," owner Arthur B. (Mickey) McElrath promised today.

Furthermore, he assured a reporter, the Browns' coach in 1951 still will be Paul Brown, despite persistent talk that Paul might be interested in going back to college football.

Still stated over the Browns' last 20-second 30 to 28 defeat of the Los Angeles Rams for the championship of the National Football League, McElrath said today.

"I'm not thinking of anything but having him with us next year," McElrath said he wants "to stay on top and see 50,000 to 60,000 fans showing up at the Lakefront Stadium next year, instead of the fair to poor turnouts of the past."

"I still think this will be the best year football city in the country," he added.

Brown himself has not talked as positively as McElrath about staying on, even though he is working on a contract with five years to go.

Brown leaves today for San Francisco, where he will watch the East-West all-star game Saturday, then goes to Los Angeles to coach the American Conference team in the first Pro Bowl game Jan. 14.

People close to the team say Brown definitely will talk to representatives of the University of Southern California while he is in Los Angeles.

That's only one of three coaching big clubs believed interested in Brown.

The others are Ohio State and Minnesota. Brown's friends say Ohio State still has the most appeal. He coached a national champion there.

For each member of the Browns, the Sunday victory meant $1,113. Each team received $864.48.

Defensive Contest Forecast Between Tennessee, Texas

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 26—(AP)—Tennessee's football team arrives here late this afternoon and that, more or less, will officially open "Cotton Bowl" week.

Sideline attractions to the New Year's Day football game began at noon when a high school basketball tournament started.

A bowling tournament, college basketball tournament, and a casting tournament are other sports attractions due to be unveiled this week.

Texas, Tennessee's foe in the big show, won't arrive until Friday morning.

General Bob Neyland, Tennessee's coach, hasn't announced whether any of the Vols' workouts at the city high school stadium will be open to the public.

Captain Blair Cherry of Texas also hasn't said whether the Longhorns' drills here Friday and Saturday will be public or private.

Texas, which dropped its only game this season to Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl stadium, is a local favorite to knock off the Vols. Both teams have lost just one game.

Both Texas and Tennessee boast terrific defenses, and general opinion is that this Cotton Bowl game is going to be a defensive battle.

Sugar Bowl Tilt Pits Oklahomans Against Country

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26—(AP)—It really won't be Oklahoma against Kentucky in the Sugar Bowl—Oklahoma battling the United States.

Kentucky, you see, has been forced to search beyond its own state's boundaries to procure quality football talent capable of sending the Wildcats to two straight major bowl games.

Oklahoma is almost in direct contrast. Of the 48 men coming to the New Year's Day classic here for the Sooner, 35 are natives of Oklahoma, nine hail from neighboring Texas, and one from Michigan.

Fifty-three men are listed on the Kentucky roster, but only 14 are natives of the Bluegrass country.

And that's one of the reasons Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant has had difficulty in building Kentucky into a major power. Less than 100 high schools played football in the Bluegrass state when Bryant arrived there early in 1946.

The Wildcat roster now reads like a Senate roll call list—Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Connecticut and Arkansas.

Bryant could not possibly start a team in the Sugar Bowl entirely void of Kentuckians.

Oklahoma is essentially a home state squad, something unusual among major college powers these days.

Every man except one on Coach Bud Wilkinson's starting eleven is an Oklahoman graduating from an Oklahoman high school.

Both Oklahoma and Kentucky are scheduled to arrive in the New Orleans area today to complete final touches for the Jan. 1 meeting—Oklahoma at Kessler Air Force Base near Biloxi, Miss.; and Kentucky at Baton Rouge, La.

Alabama has appeared in all four major bowl games—the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange. Max Bennett, for many seasons a star player in the American Hockey League, coaches the Crimson Tide.

Oklahoma appeared in both the 1902 and 1918 Rose Bowl games and won both by the same score, 6-0.

During the 1948 season, Stan Drayton led the Crimson Tide to a 10-0 record.

Alabama's record in the 1949 season was 10-0.

The Crimson Tide's record in the 1950 season was 10-0.

Alabama's record in the 1951 season was 10-0.

Alabama's record in the 1952 season was 10-0.

Alabama's record in the 1953 season was 10-0.

Alabama's record in the 1954 season was 10-0.

Alabama's record in the 1955 season was 10-0.

Sports Roundup By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26—(AP)—Unless this holiday week brings definite signs of more interest and these may be some sudden decisions to reorganize next winter's basketball programs. For instance, the Utah team came here last week on a three-game tour, looking for the big payoff from the garden game against St. John's.

But the Tuesday crowd was only about 7,200 and the Utes were lucky if they carried away more than their $7,000 guarantee. Since the tour cost at least $5,000, they can hardly return unless they can get one of the profitable Saturday night spots.

For the same reason, Hank Iba took his Oklahoma A and M team to the west coast rather than play an early-week game in New York. Of course, it isn't just basketball that's being hit.

Leo Seltzer, the Roller Derby boss, says he noted a drop in attendance at all sports throughout the country as soon as bad news began to come in from Korea. "It's the uncertainty that causes it," says Leo. "People began staying at home to listen to radio that hadn't been turned on for a year."

Pop Art Poppa Harry Markson isn't a guy to have an inflated idea of his importance as a managing director of the International Boxing Club. But if he was, his 11-year-old son would have deflated it the other day.

Harry was invited to appear on a television show originating from a local nightclub. Evidently he telephoned his wife to have the machine warmed up and ready for a view of the old man.

She complied, and about 30 seconds after Markson's face appeared on the screen the youngster switched to another station.

"I can see dad at home any time," he explained. "But I can only see Captain Video on television."

One-Minute Sports Parade Visiting basketball coaches are loud in their praise of the tall Iowa State basketball team.

Vadal Peterson says they should be ranked right behind Kentucky and UCLA's Johnny Wooden rates them a letter than Bradley.

Ward Coffey, the old football great, coached his Green Bay Central Catholic High School team to an undefeated season this year—without the W.L. formation.

Jimmy Dykes' explanation of one of the athletic difficulties last season: "We couldn't switch our outfielders around to play the hitter because the pitchers didn't know where they were throwing."

Florida's K. R. Williams, who had three straight girls, last winter while serving as "defense man" for the pro tennis team has had one so far this season. But it happened in the same place and under the same conditions as one of the previous crack-ups.

Cleanse The Coff Michigan State's boxing team, Jan. 5, has three of last season's NCAA winners—Hank Ames, Chuck Taylor and Rocky Mark.

Chicago's "Red" Cowles, Ray Dornier's left-hand man in the National Baseball Congress, may be the first to lose in the big sport's baseball competition. His name was on the list of the 100 best players in the world.

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 26—(AP)—Punched with triumph and money, Sugar Ray Robinson stepped back into the United States today after a European tour that netted him five victories and $45,000 in only one month.

The world welterweight champion pulled off his last European opponent here last night with a fifth round knockout. The victim was Hans Stets, former German middleweight champion. It was a non-title match scheduled for 10 rounds.

The American Negro knocked Stets down seven times before finally putting him away with one-two punches after 30 seconds of the fifth round.

At Chicago on Feb. 14, Robinson will make a bid for a second world crown in a 15-round title bout with middleweight king Jack LaMotta. After that, according to Robinson's manager, George Gainford, Sugar Ray is considering going to Australia to fight Australia's triple champion, Dave Banda.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26—(AP)—Highlight of Christmas Day at the Stanford campus training camp of the West team for the Shrine East-West charity football game wasn't the daily drill or even the arrival of Santa Claus.

It was an arrival of a different kind. Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist star who has been assigned full-back duties in the game Saturday, was notified that his wife had given birth to a seven-pound, four-ounce boy in Dallas.

Rote beamed "It's the finest Christmas present anybody could have."

Andy Phillip, one of the National Basketball Association's most successful warriors of the National Basketball League, was the coach of the team that won the title in Dallas.

There may be a double drill today, then slugs the rest of the week.

California's Bears scattered to their homes for the holiday, but they returned today at Arrowhead ready to play the Rams.

All 11 teams returned to Arrowhead today for the start of the season.

Undefeated Bradley And Indiana Tangle In Week's Top Court Fray

CHICAGO, Dec. 26—(AP)—Three Western Conference teams enter holiday basketball tournaments this week in final tussles for the big ten title struggle, but most of the spotlight shifts to the Indiana-Bradley tangle of unbeaten Giants tomorrow night.

Upholding Big Ten prestige more than any other team thus far has been Indiana. The Hoosiers won the annual four-team meet at Butler Saturday night with a 64-56 decision over Notre Dame to stretch their undefeated mark through six games.

Indiana must face Bradley on the Hoosiers' home court—a tough assignment. The Peoria, Ill., outfit has won all its nine starts, eight of them being at home, and has averaged 84.4 points per game. The Braves employed 10 players Saturday in frolicking over previously unbeaten Duke, 93-54.

After Bradley the Hoosiers invade Drake De Moines Friday then pull up for their Big Ten opener at Ohio State Jan. 6.

The Big Ten race officially starts Monday with Illinois going to Wisconsin. Michigan is at Purdue Tuesday, then all teams open fire on the following Saturday, Jan. 6.

In other games last Saturday Purdue downed Butler, 65-59. Iowa wrecked UCLA, 80-63. Minnesota topped Oklahoma 49-42, and Ohio State shoved St. Louis from the unbeaten ranks, 65-55.

Big Ten teams now are hitting .611 against outside opposition with 33 victories against 21 losses.

Only other undefeated conference club in addition to Indiana is Michigan State. Illinois and Minnesota each has one loss while Northwestern, Ohio State and Iowa each has two.

Michigan State, owning three wins, is host to a four-team meet Friday and Saturday. The Spartans face Penn State opening night while Ohio State tangles with Princeton. They change foes Saturday.

A doubleheader program is at Marquette Thursday. Northwestern clashes with the Northwesters while Iowa takes on Illinois at Chicago on the same bill.

Minnesota enters the rugged holiday tourney at Kansas City, playing Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. Its first foe is Colorado.

The remainder of the week's schedule includes: Wednesday—Michigan at Penn; Thursday—DePaul at Illinois; San Jose State at Wisconsin; Friday—Butler at Illinois, Bradley at Sugar Bowl meet; Saturday—Pitt at Iowa, Western Reserve at Michigan, Wake Forest at North Carolina; Bradley at Sugar Bowl.

The 1950 University of Arizona freshman football team averaged 50 points per game to its opponents' 67.

Army defensive back Hal Shultz says studying is his hobby, and he ranks third scholastically in his class.

Cy Young hurled 21 consecutive hitless innings in 1904.

The 1950 University of Arizona baseball team had a squad letting average of .328.

Ex-Cavalry Officers Say Korea Is Terrific Terrain For Horse Troops

WITH THE U. S. EIGHTH ARMY, Korea—(AP)—Many former foot and spur officers feel Korea would be a good theater for the American Army to make a test revival of horse cavalry.

The Army sadly gave up its four-legged cavalry, famous for its Civil War and frontier Indian campaigns, after adverse reports from frontline commanders in the second World War. They said they could find no use for the faithful animal in the modern battlefields of Europe.

So the hooves lost out to the tank treads. But some officers believe old hobbies still have place on the battlefields of Asia. They think there is still a potential military use here for the combat kinship and love and discipline that exist between man and horse, trained animals working together.

"This is beautiful terrain for horse cavalry," said Maj. William Cochran, Jr., a mining engineer from Joplin, Mo. "They can raise a lot of hell.

"The Chinese have used horse cavalry units well here because of the nature of the land, the rugged hills and the poor roads. They had an advantage in certain conditions over infantry and tanks. I think we could do the same thing with them—if we had them.

In a retarded land such as Korea the cavalry horse serves both as a combat personnel vehicle and a supply vehicle. It can carry a soldier into battle or bring up to him the food and water and ammunition he needs if he is out in a defensive position in isolated country.

And it can do this over narrow trails that defy tracked treads or wheels. In this respect Maj. Cochran put in a plug for a product of his own home state. The Missouri mule, which had a distinguished record in the first World War.

"It is still true that a mule can annoy a man more than he can annoy a mule," Cochran said. "And it can carry a soldier safely over mountain paths a man wouldn't want to risk going across on his own feet."

But he sees the chief virtues of horse cavalry outfits here as their ability to stage surprise ambushes and the speed with which they sometimes have over both horse and armor in making smash hit-and-run raids in force.

The views of Cochran, an intelligence officer in the Seventh Cavalry Regiment, once led by General Custer, are shared by other competent soldiers over here who have had to deal with Mongol troops sweeping forward along the Asiatic plains. And naturally these views thrill the hearts of all the old retired cavalrymen.

Naturally they like to feel that the military branch they gave their lives to still hasn't been outmoded altogether by metal monsters that never puzzle the hand that feeds them.

It is at least an even bet that if there is a great war yet to be fought in Asia by American troops the hooves of a reborn American horse cavalry will thunder across the plains and echo in the mountains.

Cold Snap
A cold snap extending from southeastern Minnesota and northwestern Iowa eastward into northern Indiana and southern Michigan, has caused much trouble for transportation workers and motorists but fun for kids who found sleds, toboggans, skis and skates under their Christmas trees.

Update New York had the coldest weather of the season with a reading of 23 degrees below, the lowest there this season.

Jacksonville gateway to the winter resort land, had 37 above, while Miami reported 86. It was 30 during last night at Annapolis, Tex., and 32 at El Paso, Tex.

Storm warnings were posted on Lake Michigan. There were high winds and frequent snow squalls. Cold waves were forecast for Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma and Kansas and all north central states.

Other parts of the country enjoyed fair weather. A reading of 5 at Phoenix, Ariz., yesterday tied the previous high marks on Christmas day in 1919 and 1933.

Police Receive Award

Two Sanford policemen, Herman Harriett, left and S. B. Spence, right, are shown receiving a $100 award from Fred Stein, operator of the Sanford Jewelry and Luggage Co. The award is for the arrest of a Negro charged with robbing the store of more than $1,500 worth of jewelry and merchandise and the recovery of the loot. The award was presented at the home of a aunt on French Avenue.

Korean War

Korea was awaiting an imminent Communist offensive.

Chinese and Korean Reds, supplies and artillery were massed all along the front. Their patrols jabbed at numerous points along a 120-mile front stretching three-fourths of the way across Korea. They are awaiting only the signal to strike in force.

AP correspondent Stan Swinton reported Ridgway had been given command of all troops in Korea. This included the U. S. 10th Corps, 105,000 strong.

The 10th Corps' evacuation was completed Sunday from Hungnam, 130 miles deep in North Korea, and most of the troops already were in the old southeast Korea beachhead around Pusan and Pohang ports.

The Red military leader, Chu Teh, warned U. N. troops to get out of Korea, the United States to pull its military forces out of Formosa, and demanded a seat for Red China in the United Nations.

The first Communist blow was expected to fall somewhere along the 38th Parallel in western or central Korea where the Communist troops are massed in strength.

Chu, in a Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo by Kyodo News Agency, did not say what Red China would do if the non-Communist Republic of Korea refused to leave.

But the Chinese and Red Korean masses, numbering all along the 38th border to South Korea made his language clear.

General MacArthur said a Communist offensive was expected momentarily.

Participating in the Korean war by Chinese people volunteer results from the inalienable right of aggression by American imperialists, Chu said.

"The Chinese people have time and again expressed their desire for a settlement of the Korean war but the imperialists stubbornly rejected a peaceful settlement.

"We insist that all foreign troops must swiftly withdraw from Korea and that the domestic affairs of Korea must be by Koreans themselves.

"The peoples' (Communist) Republic of China must have their legitimate seat in the United Nations."

U. S. aggressive forces must withdraw from Taiwan (Formosa), Chu's remarks were made during a swiftly changing Korean scene.

Once again Communists controlled all of North Korea, that half of the country north of 38. This was the dividing line set up by the United States and Russia for occupation after the defeat of Japan in World War II.

Allied troops completed Sunday the evacuation of their last stronghold in North Korea, at the port Hungnam.

The U. S. Navy evacuated 100,000 American, South Korean, British and Pacific Rim troops and nearly 100,000 non-Communist North Korean civilians.

The port town, Kowon, was left deserted. An Army engineer estimated it would take six to eight months for the Communists to make it usable again.

MacArthur said the U. S. 10th Corps' evacuation from Hungnam had been completed by 10:30 p. m.

Communist Party Opens Convention; Leader Is In Jail

NEW YORK, Dec. 26—(AP)—The Communist Party of the United States opens its 15th Biennial National Convention here tonight with public rallies in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn.

The National Committee and Party leaders from various parts of the country will begin working sessions tomorrow behind closed doors at an unannounced location.

Gus Hall, national secretary of the party, probably will be the highest-ranking Communist at the meeting. Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the organization, is in jail. National Chairman William Z. Foster is ill.

Wallace and Dennis were among the 11 party leaders who were convicted of conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government. Their co-defendants also are expected to attend the convention.

Foster was indicted but not tried because of his illness. When the party meeting was held in Madison Square Garden and Henry A. Wallace was endorsed as the Party's presidential candidate.

But this year, Wallace and many former followers are on the opposite side of the political fence, and the Communists will be lucky to fill the three small, separate halls they have rented for tonight.

ISRAELI ARMY LAKE SUCCESS, Dec. 26—(AP)—I. L. Kagan, press officer of the Israeli delegation to the United Nations, said today that Egyptian reports of Israeli troops massing south and east of Bethlehem are "malicious propaganda."

An Egyptian foreign ministry undersecretary has supported a Cairo newspaper report that 40,000 Israeli troops had been massed. Jerusalem reports said Israeli army officers denied the Egyptian charges. U. N. observers who accompanied diplomats to Christmas services in Bethlehem—traveling between white lines that mark a minefield between Israel and Jordan—said they saw no evidence of Israeli troop maneuvers.

Defense Delay

PARIS, Dec. 26—(AP)—Communists teamed with Conservatives today in the National Assembly and won a delay in the debate on France's rearmament.

The cabinet of Premier Rene Pleven agreed reluctantly to delay the debate until tomorrow, although Pleven told the assembly it already had been delayed too long.

Crack Train Derailed In Crash With Freight

LINEVILLE, Ia., Dec. 26—(AP)—The Lake Angeles-bound "Imperial" crack Rock Island Railroad passenger train, plowed into the rear end of a stalled freight train in this Iowa-Missouri border town today. Five persons were hospitalized with injuries and 25 others suffered minor cuts.

The two-unit diesel locomotive of the speeding "Imperial" was hurled from the track by the impact. It caught fire but its severely injured engineer and fireman were removed and taken to a hospital. A mail clerk and two women passengers on the "Imperial" were hospitalized with lesser injuries.

The empty cabooses and six cars of the freight train, piled up baggage and mail cars on the "Imperial" left the rails but the 10 coaches were not damaged and were rerouted to Kansas City over another road.

Military

Marshall has warned in recent testimony to congressional committees against repeating what happened before when the public wearied of big armies.

He pointed to August, 1941, when he says that while all Europe was under the Nazis, the U. S. saved the army from complete, utter, entire disintegration by one vote in Congress. This was apparently a reference to the vote on continuing the draft.

He recalled, too, that when he was Secretary of State and was being pressed to "give the Russians a hotly" army strength in the United States consisted of one and one-third divisions. That, he observed, "is quite a proposition when you deal with somebody with over 200," the overall number of Russian divisions.

The school of thought in Congress which questions the sufficiency of present defense preparations was expressed by Senator Robert A. Taft, Appropriations Committee member, while Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews was testifying recently.

Robertson barked back to the time when former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson and General Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was recommending cutting down the strength of the Air Force, Navy and Marines during the economy movement.

Robertson said he asked them for "assurance that what you are providing in this budget is going to be enough to protect us," and got that assurance.

"It was not six or eight months later until the war started in Korea that we knew we did not have it," Robertson observed. "And we know we do not have it."

"And on the question of how quick are we going to get it, and are you gentlemen and the Air Force and the Army, going to recommend to us what you honestly think we should have as quickly as we can get it or are you slaving away from the economy standpoint and the impact upon the people, conditions like Secretary Johnson was last year?"

But it seems that no one, outside the Kremlin, knows whether a major war is imminent.

Nehru Places Faith In Compromise To Bring World Peace

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 26—(AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today the struggle between Communism and Democracy will be decided, not on the field of battle, but by proving to the people which ideology yields the best results.

Speaking before the Indian Chemical Manufacturers' Association, Nehru declared that in the final analysis the people must discard both Communism and Democracy for some "intermediate" or other method.

He said the people must stop thinking in terms of slogans and approach the question realistically.

"The Prime Minister said that in the United States 'the free enterprise' nature of Capitalism is changing and today one worker out of every five works for the government."

As for Russia, he said, the Soviet leaders are interpreting Marxism as they see fit and "I am quite certain Marx himself would be astonished if he saw the various interpretations of his doctrine."

Referring to conditions in India, Nehru said private enterprise here "might be clever in making money, but just not wise enough."

He added that the ultimate test lies, not in accumulation of a private fortune, but in raising the standards of the people.

Nehru appealed to Indians in Australia to think realistically and not enter into academic discussions of the relative values of socialism and private enterprise.

"Let us sit down and consider," he said, "here is the job to be done for India. We want so much food, clothing, housing, education and health. Let us set about thinking how best we can get them, produce them and distribute them properly."

Alcoholic Haze Lifts As Christmas Passes

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 26—(AP)—An alcoholic haze over Los Angeles cleared today, the morning after three days of Christmas celebrations.

Veteran police officials said they had never seen anything like the holiday binge in the metropolitan area. It occurred despite days of pre-Christmas warnings and double law enforcement crews trying to keep the holidays safe and sober.

The drab hangover is a record of 11 traffic deaths, 262 persons hospitalized, 1,004 accidents, a grand total of 1,223 arrests for drunkenness.

Officials blamed official parties, beginning Friday afternoon and continuing into the night, for much of the unbridled drinking, but noted that more than two-thirds of the arrests for drunkenness were in the first 24 hours of the holiday.

They were at least 1,004 accidents, more than 600 persons were treated at hospitals and an uncounted additional number were given first aid.

3 Students Perish In Airplane Crash

HOPE, Ark., Dec. 26—(AP)—Three University of Oklahoma students perished when a single-engine airplane exploded and crashed in a field eight miles south of here.

The victims were identified as Fred Jones, Jr., of Oklahoma City; Roy M. Allen, 26, Guthrie, Okla.; and E. D. Johnson, 22, Amarillo, Tex.

Arkansas State Police Sgt. Milton Mosier said the bodies were mangled almost beyond recognition.

Sergeant Mosier said it first was believed a fourth person was killed in the crash but this later was discarded.

Roxie Henry, a Negro farm woman, said the plane hit a fog bank, circled the field near state Highway 29, exploded and burst into flames. She said the burning wreckage of the plane, a two-seater Beanchcraft, littered a wide area.

The students left Oklahoma City first today en route to Miami. They also were to fly to New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl game Jan. 1.

Sergeant Mosier said cause of the explosion was not known. He said Civil Aeronautics officials had been advised of the crash.
