Carnival Slated Saturday By Athletic Assn.

By Jane Casselberry

Exciting attractions for all ages will be featured at the fabulous carnival being sponsored Saturday from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. at the South Seminole Junior High School in Casselberry by the Athletic Association.

There will be dancing in the cafeteria in the afternoon, 2-4 p. m., with music by the "Lazy Rhythm Boys" and starting at 8 p. m. with music by "The Black Knights."

A spaghetti supper will be served in the cafeteria 5-7 p. m. with special reduced rates for students. During the supper many useful articles will be sold in auction from the stage. A nine inch completely portable television, battery or electric, will be given away.

A go cart track will be set up for cars being supplied by Bob Smart of North Orlando.

Refreshments of hot dogs, hamburgers, popcorn, snow cones, cotton candy, and soft drinks will be served during the day with equipment being loaned by the Seminole Little League.

Booths will be set up along the bus loading ramp in front of the building. Some of the activities will include a splatter paint booth, sponge throw (with coaches as targets), basketball throw, baseball throw, muscle mallet, fortune teller, fish pond, country store, penny toss, and cake walk. Students with a sharp pitching arm will even have the opportunity to dunk their principal, John Angel, in a tank of water.

The South Seminole Band will be playing on the back of a truck around the Casselberry area Saturday between 8 and 10 a. m. to advertise the event.

Lamar Cockrell, athletic association president, hopes to net enough from the carnival to get a good start toward the ambitious $5,000 goal which the booster group has set for this year.

With money raised the association hopes to expand the present athletic program to interest more students. Some of the proposed projects include paving all purpose courts and building track and golf practice areas.

ART DEPARTMENT teachers Mrs. Frances Bowden and Mrs. Jane Ford show some of the 200 posters made by students to publicize the South Seminole Junior High School Athletic Association Carnival scheduled Saturday to Mrs. C. L. Cooper, publicity chairman for the event.

Fire Prevention Week Observed

Southside School observed Fire Prevention Week with a special program and a fire drill. The children got out of the school building in record time when the drill was held.

Robert White and Charles Bose, from the Sanford Fire Department, presented a film entitled, "Know Your Fire Hazards." Representing the city were Mayor M. L. Raborn Jr. and City Commissioner Joe Baker, who spoke to the children on the importance of fire prevention.

Fire marshals at the school are Susan Gallagher, Neva Patterson, Leon Swain and Ricky Smith. Mrs. Winona Newman, sixth grade teacher, was sponsor of the program. gram.

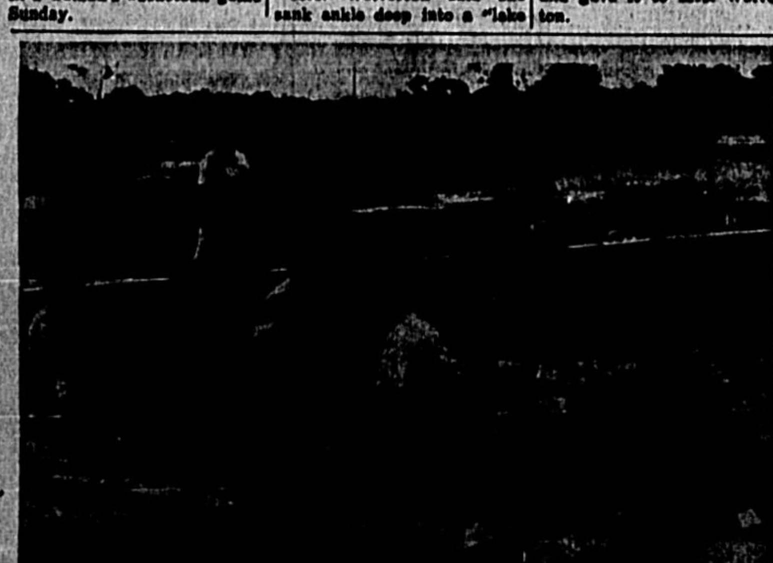
Lake Of Asphalt Claims Shoes

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Mrs. William W. Wolverton walked into Tarrant County commissioners office and demanded $10 — to pay for her shoes and nylon stockings.

Mrs. Wolverton said she sank ankle deep into a "lake of asphalt" in a street. She said she had to leave her shoes stuck in the tar.

Commissioners Rusco Minto and Dirk Lewis said they had no legal obligation but each took a $5 bill from his wallet and gave it to Mrs. Wolverton.



SOMETHING NEW for younger students at the Seventh-Day Adventist Forest Lake Church School are large sandboxes made from donated prefab concrete window sills. Supervising play is Mrs. J. D. Miller, wife of the school principal, who reports the children find much enjoyment with the new recreation period attraction. (Herald Photo)

Beach Party

Seventeen members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Barnett Memorial Methodist Church, Enterprise, recently enjoyed a picnic and vesper service at New Smyrna Beach. The group was accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Denslow and all were back home in time for evening worship at the church.

Osteen Civic Group Elects New Officers

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder

Nick Pfeifauf, president of the Osteen Civic Association, presided at the October meeting when officers for the coming year were elected.

The nominating committee, consisting of Edward Pell, Mrs. James Wallin and Charles Giblin, presented the following slate of officers which was elected: W. C. Beckham, president; Mrs. Hazel Gilhuly, vice president; Norman Miller, treasurer. A secretary will be elected at the next meeting.

The organization elected to accept a loan from First Federal Savings and Loan of Sanford to finance construction of a Civic Building on the land donated by the late Mrs. Rose Doyle.

Fire Chief Albert Stone talked on Fire Prevention in the home and explained what the newly organized Volunteer Fire Department had accomplished.

Eugene Karowitz, co-ordinator of Civil Defense, told of the need to fill ten more positions in order to qualify as an active unit.

Chairman elected were Joe Masters, assistant CDC; Charles Giblin, substitute CDC; Irving Veino Jr., warning and communications; Edward Pell, welfare; James Wallin, RADEF; Mrs. P. T. Piety, medical; Albert Stone, fire; Mrs. Albert Pell, public information and administration, Rev. Josh Long and Rev. Arthur Beatty, religion, and Ronald Veino, police.

Conservation Week Scheduled Oct. 24

Oct. 24-30 has been proclaimed Florida Conservation Week, and this year the week-long observance will be conducted in Fort Myers. The first Florida Conservation Week observance was held last year in Sanford.

In signing the proclamation, Gov. Haydon Burns pointed out "the conservation, protection and development of our natural resources will bring unbounded benefit to the people of Florida by opening new avenues of recreation, sportsmanship, hunting and fishing and other multiple public uses."

He went on to say, "The fulfillment of the programs of the several state agencies for the protection of our natural resources is necessarily dependent upon the complete understanding, vigorous support and cooperation by the people of the state."

The week's activities will include field trips, panel discussions, exhibits and luncheon meetings.

Among the speakers will be Florida Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth and Dr. Robert Ingle, director of research and assistant director of the Florida Board of Conservation.

Named to the advisory committee for the observance is A. B. Peterson Jr., president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

The activity is being sponsored by the Fort Myers-Lee County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the planning department of the Florida Development Commission. The Southwest Florida Conservation Clearinghouse will act as host.

County Schools Could 'Lose' $100,000 Grant

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Cabinet, hoping to eliminate some paper shuffling, has pledged $7.9 million for additional school building this fiscal year in 53 counties.

SEMINOLE MATCHES ONLY $76,000

Seminole County's share of the state money is $156,400.

However, county schools will be able to claim only $76,000 of this amount this year as the county must put up matching funds in an equal amount . . . dollar for dollar.

Seminole County does not have the money available now.

Walter Teague, school finance director said today that the unclaimed funds would be "deposited to our credit, so that we may claim them next year if we get the millage increase we have asked for from the voters on Nov. 2."

If the funds are claimed next year it would give Seminole County a total of $372,000 in capital outlay funds for construction of new school buildings or additions to old ones.

Despite the increase, it is expected that more than $8 million in school construction funds will be needed in the county over the next five years, which will undoubtedly necessitate the floating of a bond issue next year.

A state survey team is expected to be in Seminole County this month to work out a five-year plan for new school construction Tentative plans by local officials include new junior high schools in Sanford and Oviedo and a new school in Longwood, plus six or seven new elementary schools over the next five-year period.

An increase in school tax of 2.25 mills, requested of voters in the Nov. 2 election, will go primarily to increases in the salaries of teachers and other school personnel, increased maintenance costs, instructional materials, library books and other equipment.

Seminole County is lagging behind 64 of the other 67 counties in money spent per pupil, averaging only $309 against a state average of $372 per year.

Moslems Wreck Communist Hq.

JAKARTA (UPI)—A mob of 2,000 screaming Moslems today wrecked the headquarters of the Communist-run Indonesian Youth Front.

The organization is sponsored by the government of President Sukarno.

Army and police forces made no attempt to stop the attack.

When it appeared that the demonstration was getting out of hand, troops from Sukarno's palace guard approached with fixed bayonets and the crowd dispersed.

But before leaving, the Moslems stormed into the long, one-story building, smashed all windows and furniture, and threw all posters, signs and documents found inside into a huge bonfire in the front yard.

The Youth Front headquarters is just down the street from Sukarno's Jakarta palace.

1-2 Space Assault Set For Thursday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The United States plans a one-two scientific assault on space Thursday by launching three satellites less than two hours apart from its East and West Coast rocket centers.

A sleek Thor-Agena booster at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., is scheduled to shoot an insect-like craft named "Ogo" toward orbit during a one-hour and seven-minute period starting at 9:07 a.m. (EDT).

Then, at 11 a.m. (EDT) a triple-barrelled Air Force Titan-3C super rocket is set to blast toward space from Cape Kennedy carrying two satellites.

Ogo, short for Orbiting Geophysical Observatory, and one of the big Titan's payloads are loaded with instruments to tell man more about space around earth. The second satellite aboard the Titan is a 44-inch sighting sphere for ground radar systems.

The main purpose of the Titan-3C flight is to further test the mighty rocket that is scheduled to begin lofting manned orbiting laboratories for the Defense Department in 1968.

It will be the second of 12 flight tests for the super Titan —the most powerful rocket in America's stable of space launchers. The initial Titan-3C scored a brilliant success June 18 by orbiting a 21,000-pound dummy satellite with near-perfect precision.

Besides demonstrating its ability to place single vessels in orbit, the Titan-3C's versatile third stage will attempt a record series of 10 starts and stops in space. Accomplishment of such a feat would show that the rocket has the maneuverability a military booster needs.

Ogo, second in a series of seven complex flying observatories, is expected to soar into an orbit ranging from 207 to 575 miles high to study radiation near earth, cosmic radio noise, the earth's magnetic field and other near-earth phenomena.

Casselberry Site Valued At $150,000

By Jane Casselberry

A 100-acre site valued at $150,000 may be donated gratis to the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction for the Seminole Junior College.

School Board, in meeting Tuesday evening, passed unanimously a resolution authorizing Supt. R. T. Milwee to formally request the Dew Drop Pool site in Casselberry for the college site.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard Casselberry, of Casselberry, and Allan Goldberg and Associates of Miami, who previously indicated they will give the property for the college "upon formal requests" from the School Board.

This action terminates a week of unofficial negotiations by School Board member James Birkenmeyer and the land owners.

The rolling wooded tract includes a clear lake and was originally offered as a site at $1,500 an acre. The joint gift will mean a savings to the taxpayers of $150,000.

Location of the land is east of Crystal Bowl Lake and and South Seminole Elementary and Junior High Schools.

The generous "no strings attached" gift also will include access roads to the property. The site is conveniently located and can be easily reached from Highway 17-92, SR 436, Red Bug Road or Seminole Boulevard.

City water and sewerage are available to the college.

The board is also in the process of choosing a president for the institution, which is scheduled to open for classes in temporary quarters in September, 1966.

It is anticipated that buildings to be erected on the site will be ready for the fall of 1967.

GIs Catch Up To Fleeing Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — Hundreds of U. S. infantryman today caught up with the rear guard of an estimated 2,000 Communist troops fleeing the Soui La Tinh Valley.

The 1st Cavalry Division forces were inflicting heavy casualties on the Reds, a U. S. spokesman said.

The Americans, backed up by Vietnamese government marines, engaged the Viet Cong at the north end of the eight-mile valley 280 miles northeast of Saigon. The action came after four fruitless days of sweeping the region in the Central Highlands in the biggest U. S.-Vietnamese combat operation of the war.

DEW DROP POOL, a small lake surrounded by 100 acres of wooded land, may be the site of the new Seminole Junior College. Hibbard Casselberry and Allan Goldberg, owners of the Casselberry site, indicated they will donate the land for the school on the "formal request" of the Seminole County School Board. 'Fine Boy' Sought In Rape Of Scout

NORTH MASSAPEQUA, N. Y. (UPI) — A 20-year-old college student described by neighbors as "a fine boy" was sought today for the kidnap-rape of an 11-year-old Girl Scout from New Jersey.

The federal district court at Newark, N. J., issued a warrant for Walter Robert Mott of North Massapequa, a student at Nassau Community College in Garden City.

The FBI obtained the warrant after witnesses placed Mott near the Fair Lawn (N. J.) elementary school from which the girl was kidnaped Monday.

Other witnesses said they saw him near where she escaped from her abductor in Massapequa, on the south shore of Long Island, after a five-hour ride of terror.

Later, Nassau County Chief of Detectives Edward Curran, said the victim, an honor student at the school, identified a photograph of Mott as the man who attacked her.

Mott slipped through a police dragnet Tuesday on Long Island.

Authorities said he met his aunt near the Nassau-Suffolk County border. He refused her plea to surrender, but she convinced him to see a priest, police said. The priest also failed to talk him into surrendering and Mott fled on foot.

The girl told police she went to the basement washroom in her school while classes were still in session about 2:30 p.m. While she was in the washroom, a man dressed in black grabbed her, threatened to kill her if she yelled and forced her to a green automobile.

He blindfolded her, tied her hands with a neck tie, gagged her and tied her feet with the bandana from the Girl Scout uniform she was wearing.

Then he drove away. Her grandfather is a crossing guard at the school but, ironically, he was off duty Monday. She said he drove to a wooded area, stopped the car and raped her. This happened several times, she said.

Five hours later, she managed to free her feet and when he stopped and left the car, she fled to a nearby house. The girl kicked at the door with her bare feet until Angelo Marchetta, the resident, answered.

Marchetta called police and the girl was taken to a hospital where doctors confirmed the sexual attacks. She was released from the hospital and went home to Fair Lawn with her parents Tuesday.

Mott is the oldest of nine children. A neighbor described him as "a fine boy who never got into trouble as far as I know."

Telephone Cable To Make Way For Marina Complex

Sothern Bell Telephone Company has applied to the U.S. Corps of Engineers for a permit to move a submarine telephone cable in Lake Monroe.

Shifting the cable is necessary for the construction of the proposed riverfront marina-motel complex on the lakefront in Sanford.

The telephone cable now extends from the foot of Sanford Avenue northerly across the waterway to Enterprise in Volusia County.

It is now proposed to abandon the southerly 2,466 feet of the cable at Sanford Avenue and relocate this section of the line. The new relocated telephone cable would be laid loosely on the bottom of the lake and would extend northeasterly about 2,450 feet from the foot of Myrtle Avenue to connect with the present cable.

Application plans for this work are in the office of the district engineer Corps of Engineers, Jacksonville.

Col. R. P. Tabb, district engineer, said any protests or comments regarding the application under consideration should be submitted to his office by Nov. 1.

49 GIs Killed In Week's Action

SAIGON (UPI)—Forty-nine American soldiers were killed in action last week in the Viet Nam war, U. S. officials disclosed today. It was one of the highest tolls to date.

In addition, 113 Americans were wounded in action and four others officially listed as missing or captured.

The Vietnamese government lost 174 soldiers killed in action, 550 wounded and 15 missing or captured during the same period, while the Communists lost 584 killed and 84 captured.

Student Admits Slaying Girl, 19

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A 23-year-old student in the manpower training program pleaded guilty today to the Oct. 1 murder of a teen-age St. Augustine girl.

Milton Lawson Luke entered the plea to the first degree murder charge at an arraignment before County Judge John Connell. He was taken to the Alachua County jail to await action by the grand jury and, if indicted, would have an opportunity to change his plea.

Luke is accused of killing Kathryn Elizabeth Oliveres, 19, who was stabbed to death in a restroom of the second floor of the College Inn, across the street from the University of Florida campus.

Miss Oliveres was in Gainesville at the time visiting her brother, who was a student at the university.

Mystery Surrounds Fire In Old Home

By Barry Lawes

An aura of mystery pervades the air surrounding the stately, yet ghost-like house, mingled with the rancid smell of smoke.

The old, weathered McAlexander home on the corner of French Avenue and 11th Street — condemned by the city but still standing out of the family's filial devotion to the matriarch who ruled there so many years—now has known is last days. Some unknown person has seen to that.

Late Tuesday evening, either with carelessness or intent, an intruder set afire the rambling, two-story frame home, built 57 years ago by the loving hand of J. E. McAlexander.

The house has been closed for some time now, visited only occasionally by Mrs. May McAlexander, who tenderly reared her family within its walls. The house has been closed, but not unused, it now appears.

For when Sanford firemen arrived Tuesday evening to battle the flames which had engulfed the upstairs rear of the structure, evidence abounded that someone had been making themselves at home. Uneaten food and dirty dishes littered a table in the rear kitchen. A front room sofa bore evidence of someone sleeping there. A large footprint marred its coverlet.

In another room of the house a broken window, with blood spots beneath it, gave mute evidence someone had forced entry into the house.

Upstairs the fire raged, but precision work by city firemen, under the direction of Fire Chief George Harriett, contained the blaze within three rooms at the rear of the house.

But it was these rooms in which had been stored Mrs. McAlexander's personal belongings—clothes, family pictures, sewing machine—items which for so long had been a part of her life.

Here, too, deepens the mystery of who was in the house and how the fire began.

In one bed was a covered dummy, arranged to look as if someone were sleeping. In another room stood a floor lamp, draped with a bathrobe and topped by a flowered woman's hat, an apparent effort to make it appear someone was in the home.

The origin of the fire is undetermined, but Harriett said there is a strong suspicion of arson. An intensive investigation is now underway.

But, meantime, the house, in all likelihood, has seen its last days. The wrecker's hammer is all that remains to complete its destruction.

Refugees Reach Freedom Port

KEY WEST (UPI)—Dozens of refugees from Communist Cuba braved the storm-tossed Florida Straits in small boats today and arrived at this "freedom port."

Many of the Cubans were fearful Premier Fidel Castro would change his mind on the "open door" policy he instituted last week, permitting malcontents to leave the island 90 miles from Key West.

Fall Carnival Slated Oct. 23 At Bear Lake

By Maryann Miles

Bear Lake Elementary School Parent-Teachers Association will sponsor a Fall Carnival on the school grounds from 3 until 9 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 23.

A highlight of the day for the youngsters will be the 6 p.m. costume parade with prizes going for the prettiest, most original, and funniest, in three groups, pre - school grades 1-3, and grades 4-6.

Any parent wishing to help with the carnival in any way is asked to contact homeroom chairmen, Mrs. Sara Bilderbeck for grades 1-3, or Mrs. Allen Smith, grades 4-6.

Booths planned are apple bobbing, cake walk, fish pond, ring toss, makeup, bean bag, fortune telling, basketball toss, milk bottle pitch, pull string, grab bag, darts, horse shoes, haunted house, sky ride, gold hole in one, and toss pie plates through hoops. Foods to be served include hamburgers, donuts, pizza, apple cider, soft drinks, and cotton candy.

First aid station will be set up and manned by members of Boy Scout Troop 230.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lashley, PTA ways and means chairmen, are in charge of overall planning.

Junior Hostess Welcomes Gobs To Sanford USO

One of the most important places in town to enlisted men of the Sanford Naval Air Station is the USO, located at 400 East First Street.

One of the most important facilities of the USO is the presence of the junior hostesses.

What is a junior hostess?

We received the answer from Mrs. Mary Washburn, executive director of the USO.

"Being a junior hostess is one of the most pleasant and intriguing ways for a young girl to spend an evening. She goes to the USO as an affiliate member of the Junior Hostess group.

"There she will feel right at home in the club for it is this young woman whose presence adds the feeling of 'belonging' when a strange young enlisted man hears her gracious welcome.

"She will learn how to feel at home with the newcomer as well as with those who are regular visitors to the USO. She can perk a pot of coffee, teach canasta, learn a new game or a new dance step and if it is an evening when Sarah Priest is there, she may perhaps learn how to play the piano or the guitar and, in turn, help several young men to learn.

"The parents of this young woman know that during the time she is helping the USO she is lessening the burden and widening the scope of hospitality, not only for the USO, but for her home town. The young enlisted man looks to the USO for a community contact. Through it he learns to know his adopted home town, when he is sent here for duty.

"This young woman receives supervision of the club director and is with the help of the junior hostesses, between 18 and 30 and the senior hostesses, who are older, that the director is able to let the young men of the Sanford Naval Air Station know that Sanford cares about them.

"The hostesses share the responsibility and help to make the men's stay of duty here meaningful, because common interests exist since hometown folks in Sanford are not much different than the hometown folks from whom they have been separated. It is all a matter of getting acquainted.

"Memories mean more when friendly warmth and concern are present. It is the people in the cities or town holding out the Christian hand of welcome and kindly concern that make a stranger less strange and who, through the USO, are privileged to learn to know these fine young men," Mrs. Washburn concluded.

Hours at the USO are Thursday and Friday from 4 p. m. to 11 p. m. and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 11 p. m.

Mrs. Washburn invites any girl in Seminole County to join the USO junior hostess group and stated that she would be happy to furnish transportation.

Choristers Slate Concert Tuesday

Seminole High School Choristers will present a "Concert In Miniature" at the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, under the direction of Mrs. Jennifer Kelley, music director.

Hobbies Shown By Civic League At Longwood

By Donna Estes

A variety of hobbies of the members were displayed at the first meeting of the season of the Longwood Civic League in the Civic League Building on Church Street.

Included among articles arranged on the hobby table, which was covered with a white lace cloth, were a cream pitcher collection, relics from the great Chicago fire, baskets and fans made of pine needles, delicate paintings, a lovely handmade table cloth, handmade crystal items, nun dolls and handmade rosaries.

The luncheon table was decorated and centered with arrangements of bronze and yellow mums and fern.

Members and guests were served homemade cookies, ice cream, ice tea, and coffee, by the hostesses, Mrs. Eleanor Hughes, Mrs. Jennie Fox, Mrs. C. E. Stewart, Mrs. E. C. Dunning, Mrs. Hallie LaVigne, Mrs. S. L. Tupper, and Mrs. R. C. Carlson.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Hughes, president, two new members, Mrs. Mark Bullock and Mrs. Ota Martin, were introduced and guests welcomed were Mrs. Agnes Webber, Mrs. Evelyn Spittle, Mrs. Ethel Quelland, Mrs. Sara Morgan, and Mrs. Ray Isbell.

A tribute was given in memory of the late Mrs. Adeline Bistline, a charter member of the league. Leading the tribute was Mrs. Mary Hartley who used white, pink, and red roses to symbolize Mrs. Bistline's life of faith, goodness, and charity.

The pledge and collect were read and a devotional given by Mrs. Carlson.

Following the meeting, floral arrangements were taken to homes of ill members, Mrs. B. R. Gray and Mrs. James Odell.

The gourde is the monetary unit of Haiti. Official value of the coin is 20 cents in United States currency.

100 Youths Live At Boys Ranch, Hobby Relates

By Jane Casselberry

Sheriff J. L. Hobby presented a film on the Florida Sheriffs Association Boys Ranch at Live Oak at a meeting of the South Seminole Optimist Club at the Lookout Restaurant in Fern Park.

He was introduced by Michael Hamlin, program chairman, and assisted by Deputy Wesley Place.

Hobby told the Optimists that there are presently 100 boys living at the ranch, which has one of the finest herds of cattle in the state. The boys attend public school and are encouraged to continue their education after high school graduation, either in college or trade school.

Buildings and equipment at the ranch were donated by organizations and individuals. Recently pajamas for the boys were donated by Sanford Manufacturing Company.

Six members of the South Seminole club attended a meeting of its sponsoring organization, the North Orlando Optimist Club, Sept. 28 at which State Governor Dan Ford presented the Honor Club Award and Distinguished President Award to the North Orlando group.

President H. J. Mello announced that the club would be participating in Optimist International's "Respect for the Law" Program.

C. L. Cooper announced that the club's softball team would meet North Orlando at Audubon Park for a slow-pitch game.

Card Party

DeBary Choristers will sponsor a dessert card party at 1 p.m., Oct. 29, at the DeBary Mansion House. Those attending will be expected to bring their own playing cards. Prizes will be awarded. Tickets are available from any member or the director, Mrs. Laura Platt Brown.

Testing Of Eyes Is Explained To S. Seminole CTP

By Jane Casselberry

Dr. Daniel Ritz, Winter Park, spoke on the problems of children's eyes and demonstrated new types of machines for testing at the regular meeting of the Council of Teachers and Parents at South Seminole School.

He told the capacity audience that parents make all sorts of preparations to make sure their children are prepared for school and neglect one of the most important scholastic assets he has—his vision.

He emphasized the importance of early eye testing for children as many serious disorders may be prevented if detected soon enough and treated. Visual problems often cause behavior problems and difficulty in learning in school.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. William Eggers, president, the appropriation of $300 for the purchase of library books was approved. Profits derived from the Book Fair to be held Oct. 26 through Nov. 2 will be used for the purchase of necessary library books and equipment.

Mrs. Mary McIntosh, membership chairman, announced that the CTP now has 400 members. She presented blue ribbon awards to teachers in rooms having 100 per cent CTP membership. They were Mrs. Annell Clark, Mrs. Danda Jones, Mrs. Othel Sullivan, Miss Evelyn Schrader, Mrs. Martha Davis, Mrs. Edna Bean, Mrs. Marjorie Stone, and Mrs. Caroline Miller.

Mrs. Bobbie Brown, safety chairman, presented plaques and passes to the Seminole Cinema to winners in the Bike Rodeo held Oct. 2.

A rummage sale will be held to raise funds for the CTP projects Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22 and 23, at the former Handyman Store in Casselberry. Hours are 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., Friday and 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturday. Mrs. J. Van Eepoel is chairman.

Room count was won by Mrs. Eloise Hall's room for grades 4, 5 and 6 and Mrs. Wanda Jones' room for grades 1, 2 and 3.

Refreshments of cookies, punch, and coffee were served following the meeting by the sixth grade mothers. The serving table was beautifully decorated in the Autumn motiff featuring fall leaves, a pumpkin and sheaf of wheat.

GOP Women Plan Luncheon October 21

An open invitation has been extended to Sanford and Seminole County women who would like to attend the luncheon being sponsored by the Sanford Republican Women's Club Oct. 21 at the Trophy Lounge banquet room.

"Membership in the club is open to all women interested in the furthering of the aims of the club," said Mrs. R. T. Cowan, president.

Object and aims of the club are to promote and inform voters through political education; to increase the effectiveness of women in the cause of good government through active political participation; to facilitate cooperation among Republican women's clubs; to foster loyalty to the Republican party and promote its ideals; to support objectives and policies of the Republican National Committee and work for the election of its nominees.

Persons wishing to attend the luncheon are asked to call Mrs. Cowan or Mrs. O. G. Bryant, vice president and program chairman, for reservations.

Other officers include Mrs. Russell Hammond, recording secretary; Mrs. D. M. Ladd, corresponding secretary and Mrs. A. B. Huntley, treasurer. Mrs. Olan Boutwell is publicity chairman.

CD Institute By FSU Slated Here Oct. 29

Florida State University will conduct an institute for emergency preparedness in Sanford Oct. 29 at 1:30 p.m. at the Civic Center.

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners and the Florida Civil Defense agency will be co-sponsor of the program.

Herbert Johnson, Seminole County civil defense director, said approximately 125 civic leaders have been invited to attend the institute.

The program, designed especially for Seminole County, is designed to acquaint officials and community leaders with the latest aspects of protection against nuclear and natural disasters. Twenty similar programs will be held throughout the state.

"With nuclear weapons in the possession of a number of countries, the need for every level of government to be fully informed on the latest state and national defense planning is vital," John E. Champion, of FSU, said.

Canal District Slates Vote, Budget Meet

Annual meeting of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District will be held in Sanford at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Lois Black, appointed by Gov. Haydon Burns to represent Orange County on the district board of directors, is expected to be officially seated.

Mrs. Black takes the place of Ransom Downes, vice chairman, who failed to be reappointed. Downes was an appointee of Gov. Farris Bryant.

The canal district will elect officers, adopt a budget and hear a progress report on the proposed canal.

John Krider of Sanford is chairman of the district, S. O. Shinholser Jr. of New Smyrna Beach is secretary and R. C. Brady of Titusville is treasurer.

The other member of the five-man board is John Brumley of Sanford. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. is attorney for the district.

Lyndon Receives 'Get Well' Card

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UPI) — Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan sent his "warm personal regards" to President Johnson and "very best wishes for a speedy recovery" from his gall bladder operation.

A government spokesman said Ayub was concerned about the President and sent him a message saying "I hope it will not be long before you are restored to full and vigorous health and are able to resume the responsibilities of your high office."

Death Sentence For Slayer Of 3

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (UPI) — Venson Eugene Williams, a dour faced federal convict, must die in the electric chair for the murders of three policemen, who were manacled with their own handcuffs and shot 14 times.

A jury needed only 57 minutes to find the 34-year-old Williams guilty witout a recommendation of mercy, forcing a mandatory sentence of death.

Impatient Cubans Flock To U. S.

KEY WEST (UPI) — Impatient refugees from Communist Cuba struck out across the stormy Florida Straits in small boats Tuesday and Coast Guard cutters, like mother hens, took many of them aboard for safer passage.

Eighty-one refugees were reported to have left Tuesday from Camarioca, Cuba, the debarkation point for Premier Fidel Castro's new "open door" policy of letting discontented Cubans leave the island.

Other departures on the refugee route to Key West were halted, at least temporarily, Tuesday night because of the bad weather in the Straits. The Topeka, scheduled to carry 10 refugees, was one of the small craft held up.

Six other boats were reported in the harbor at Camarioca waiting for refugees to arrive and for the weather to improve.

The Coast Guard cutter Cape Darby intercepted three small boats in the windswept, six-to-eight-foot waves and took 39 refugees aboard while a patrol cruiser escorted the boats here.

Two more cutters, carrying 72 exiles, were due in this morning, the Coast Guard said.

UPI newsman Carl Warner arrived in Camarioca Tuesday night, the first American correspondent to enter Cuba since Castro announced on Sept. 28 that all Cubans who wanted to leave could do so.

"This sleepy fishing village on Cuba's west coast is being transformed into a staging area where hundreds of Cubans are awaiting removal to Key West," Warner reported.

The American captain of one of the boats which arrived in Camarioca Monday to pick up exiles said there were "well over 300 people" awaiting transportation.

Capt. Jack Zata of Miami said the Camarioca debarkation point consisted of 12 large buildings and a number of smaller ones, all prefabricated and "all built within the last month."

Rebel Leader Reported Held

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI)— Radio Jakarta today reported the arrest of Lt. Col. Untung, the palace guard officer whose leftist rebels assassinated six Indonesian army generals in a coup attempt against President Sukarno.

Anti-Communist Indonesians demanded Untung's death.

A broadcast from the Indonesian capital said Untung and two cohorts were captured by army troops and civilian vigilantes at Tegal, a seaport in central Java about 250 miles east of Jakarta.

A Beacon Beckons Dragsters Into Seminole Boondocks

By Paul Brookshire

A searchlight stabs into the night beckoning hundreds of automobiles to an isolated rendezvous with roaring engines.

Long lines of cars crawl down old State Road 15 toward the beacon where the thunder of the motor is gospel to hot car lovers.

It's enough to make the shad shudder in nearby Lake Harney.

Cars line up two abreast on the narrow approach road, their red taillights blinking on and off for a quarter of a mile.

Automobiles from Brevard, Lake, Volusia, Osceola, Orange, Duval and many other counties carry hordes of fans to where the action is.

It's Saturday night at Osceola Drag Strip and more than 2,000 persons are battling to get into position to see the hottest cars around match engine power and gear shifting.

Drag races at Osceola, sponsored by the Seminole Timing Association, attract more than 50,000 fans a year. It is one of the biggest sports drawing cards in the county. Probably only dog racing and jai-alai can top it.

Jack Chrisman was the drawing card recently as the road to Geneva and Lake Harney was streaming with out-of-county automobiles.

Chrisman's special Comet, capable of speeds up to 170 miles an hour, had rear tires so big they would make all others look like bicycle tires. You could eat off the nitro-burning engine it was so clean.

Chrisman's Comet didn't go very fast on its first run — only 150 miles per hour! On the second shot down the old airstrip, he hit speeds up to 169 miles per hour. He had to "pop a chute" to stop the hurtling automobile before it disappeared into the night.

The smell of burning rubber, nitro and alcohol spread over the awed crowd.

Chrisman picked up a reported $1,000 for his appearance — which included three trips down the lane.

While his show was tops, the drag efforts of two Volkswagens brought the most response from the crowd. The two bugs wiggled and wobbled down the runway to the delight of the racing fans.

"Super Grape," "Better 'n Nuthin," "Va-Room Valiant," and "Dynamic Dodge" brought more serious comments from the crowd of car lovers.

Fans lined the fences and perched on top of autos for a quarter of a mile or more down the runway — lighted by two gigantic beams from searchlights.

A concession stand did a good business in selling sweat shirts with such slogans as "STP," "Go, Go Chevy," "Moon Equipped," and other popular phrases with the drag set.

Big races at Osceola sometimes bring out 3,000 or more fans and during a weekend doubleheader — 5,000 or more see the races.

Seminole Timing Association, a Sanford group, runs a taut race. The crowds are unusually orderly. And they are not limited to men and boys. There are many girls at the races as well. And sometimes, even girl drivers.

So, if you're wondering where the action is on Saturday night it's probably down in the boondocks of northeast Seminole County.

Desperate Twins Call On 'Mudcat'

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI) — Jim Mudcat Grant, nursing a slight cold and the waning World Series hopes of the Minneapolis Twins, faced southpaw Claude Osteen in the sixth game today knowing the Los Angeles Dodgers could wrap it all up by nightfall.

Grant, the Twins' right-handed 21-game winner, was going with only two days rest and the oddsmakers were going with the invading Dodgers who are off-the-board favorites to win their fourth world championship since 1955.

"We're in good shape and we're optimistic about our chances," said Dodger Manager Walt Alston, who saw his club lose the first two series games here and then snap back to take the next three in Los Angeles.

"They talk a lot about momentum and if there is such a thing, it'll be working for us," he added.

A capacity crowd of 48,700 was expected to watch the 30-year-old Grant square off against the 26-year-old Osteen in an effort to even the series for the Twins.

Neither Grant, who won the opening series contest for the Twins and lost the fourth one, nor Minnesota Manager Sam Mele were conceding the Dodgers a thing.

"We've been in big games before this season," said Grant. "The only difference about today's game is we can't afford to lose. My arm is all right although I do have a cold and have been taking some medication for it. That shouldn't bother my pitching, though."

Mele gave the Twins what he called "a pep talk" behind closed doors after Tuesday's workout and came out of the meeting convinced they could bounce back.

"We showed we can beat the Dodgers here and I think we can do it again," said Mele. "We're a long way from being beaten yet."

In the frail-looking but fastballing Osteen, the Twins will be up against a shrewd little lefty whom they have never been able to beat.

He won five in a row over the Twins without a loss to them while he was with the Washington Senators, and made it six straight by limiting them to five hits in a 4-0 triumph in the third game of the series.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski

As of this writing, we have at least two names onto the winner's sheet of the finals in the Mustang Tournament at Leesburg.

A salute to Jim McGowan and Jerry Wisdom for their excellent shooting in this event.

As you probably know, the first place prize was a 1966 Mustang, valued at approximately $2,600. My only reason in mentioning this to you is that Mr. McGowan had himself pretty well established as the "driver" of this car due to his high 718 series, including handicap.

McGowan was in the lead all through the tournament, right up to the last and final squad on Sunday night, at 10:30 p.m. And then, right in his own backyard, Leesburg's Jim Towne nudged McGowan "out of the driver's seat" by tossing a 727 series.

How does that grab you? From approximately $2,600 down to probably $50!

Oh well, time has a habit of helping you to forget little unpleasantries like this, Jim.

As an example, why doncha get in on the Maryland Fried Chicken-Annual Thanksgiving Classic?

It's underway right now here at the lanes and has the design of being appealing to all types of bowlers—those with high and lower averages.

Tournament Manager Rick Skelly has been beating the bushes trying to stimulate interest in this popular format. From early indications, I think we'll have more than any of the other earlier "Fire Cracker" versions of this type of eliminations.

The "A" Division for those with averages of 170 and over has four entries to date. And you know what? The highest set from this quartet (some of the best Sanford bowlers, I might add) is a 827.

The top sixteen qualifiers in each division will get their way paid into the finals, plus take a shot at the minimum $50.00 first place guarantee.

This afternoon at 3:30 we'll be working with Norman Leach, coach and instructor of Seminole High School, in the formation of the Fall Seminole High School Intramural Bowling League.

If you'd like to be placed onto a team, make it a point to be here for the meeting and the election of officers for the coming season.

Speaking of elections, all hail our new slate for the Saturday - morning Junior Bowling League. Incidentally, this league is in no way affected with the Seminole High School League.

The President will be Don Nicholas; Dennis Stewart will be our "Veep"; office of Secretary was voted to Kevin Spolski; watching the loot as our Treasurer will be Billy (Tiny) Martin. A sparkle of laughter greeted the difficult Sgt-at-Arms job which went to one of the smallest members of the entire league, seven-year-old Johnny Spolski (all forty pounds of him, nothing wet)!

A word of warning to all league members . . . watch out for the Mighty Mite!

The Junior and Bantam League members who have won themselves a personalized bowling shirt are Billy Callan, Frank Patterson, Harold Johnson, Patsy Terry, Scott Roche, Don Nicholas, Kevin Spolski and Ann Tournoux.

We have weekly winners in each division and once you're a winner, you may not win another shirt for that season in order that we may eventually have shirts for all of the league members.

A tremendous team effort from the Monday night Navy Intramural Bowling League, especially so from the Rinky Dinks (must be those way-out shirts, they wear).

The five of 'em collaborated on nothing but strikes to bowl a 1016 scratch series made up of games: Mick 208, Dixon 218, Fitzpatrick 244, Williams 181 and Hudson 165. Good shootin', gents.

Lots of shuffling around going on for the top spot in the Wednesday Hi Nooner's League.

Two weeks ago it was Stenstrom Realty and then last week it fell to Behrens Tractor Repairs.

This week you'll find the name of Art Brown's Pest Control leading the heap and not too surprisingly, either. You see it was this same team which met the former league leaders and dumped them out of the number one spot with decisive matches of four and zero and three and one, respectively.

So, while you're on the top, reap the rewards, girls, however short-lived they may be. Congratulations to Bev Meeks, Amy Henson, Rose Patrick and Dot Button.

The Thursday A.M. Haag Chrysler - Plymouth Handicap League of women bowlers had good scores recorded with Mardell Gonterman 156/427; Bobbie McNab 171/470; Marge Miller 151/426 and Evelyn Wagner had a score of 189/495.

It happened in one of the leagues causing some concern; so, if it happens in yours you'll know what to do.

Remember, whenever any part of the automatic pinsetter comes in contact with the pin, either with the table or the sweep bar, and knocks it down, that is NOT legal pinfall. That particular pin, plus however many more pins it in turn toppled, must be re-set. If a pin is deflected off the side-board and knocks over any pins, this is to be counted as legal pinfall.

The Businessmen's League had all of the winner's take three points from the losers in last week's play. All of the "smilers" were Rex Liquors, WTRR, Pinecrest Liggett Rexall, Therm-O-Tane, Oldham's Dealers.

High series and games in the league play went to steady shooting Buel Carmen's 554/196, 195 and 193 with Ralph Unger winning high game—216.

City League had some "fluke" hits by a character by the name of Split-ski—237, 222, 192/652 series. Other "goodies" were tossed by Rich (Slingshot) Murphy 236/576, Gerry Fox 202/565 and Harry Pentecost 205/565; Ray Robinson 221.

Gators Picked By 20, Georgia By 3½

Texas Seen Underdog

NEW YORK (UPI) — Texas and Arkansas, the nation's second and third ranked teams, meet this Saturday at Fayetteville, Ark., with the home team favored by one slim point in a game that may determine the national championship.

However, before either can hope to ascend to the top spot, Nebraska's powerful Cornhuskers will have to be dealt with. Coach Bob Devaney's high scoring eleven figures to get a little more than a workout this Saturday and is listed a 27 point favorite over Kansas State.

Texas and Arkansas are both unbeaten this year and the Razorbacks who are favored Saturday by one slim point, currently own the nation's longest win streak—16 games.

Fourth ranked Michigan State is rated 6½ points better than Ohio State in a head-on collision of Big Ten members.

The oddsmakers have made all other "rated" teams favorites this weekend.

Fifth-rated Georgia is 3½ over Florida State. Purdue, tied for the No. 6 spot in the ratings with Southern California, is 6 over Michigan while USC is 13 over Stanford.

Eighth-ranked Notre Dame does not play this weekend. Mississippi State, ranked ninth, is considered an "out" choice over Memphis State, meaning no odds are listed, and Florida, No. 10, is a 20-point pick over North Carolina State.

The odds on this weekend's other major games:

East: Navy 6 over Pittsburg, Army 18½ over Rutgers, Syracuse 4 over Penn State, Dartmouth 14 over Brown, Yale 5 over Columbia, Princeton 12 over Colgate, Cornell 2 over Harvard.

South: West Virginia 7 over Virginia, Georgia Tech 2 over Auburn, Duke 8 over Clemson, Miami (Fla.) 7 over Houston, South Carolina 4 over Wake Forest, LSU 7 over Kentucky, Mississippi 14 over Tulane, Vanderbilt 7 over Virginia Tech, North Carolina 2 over Maryland.

Midwest: Northwestern 7 over Wisconsin, Illinois 10 over Indiana, Missouri 8 over UCLA, Iowa 2 over Minnesota.

Southwest: Oklahoma 13 over Kansas, SMU 5½ over Rice, Texas Tech 7 over Oklahoma State, Texas Christian 3 over Texas A&M.

West: Oregon 17 over Air Force, Colorado 13 over Iowa State, California 3 over Washington.

NFL: Philadelphia 3½ over New York, Baltimore 12 over Washington, St. Louis 12 over Pittsburgh, Cleveland 10 over Dallas, Green Bay 9 over Detroit, Minnesota 7 over Chicago, San Francisco vs. Los Angeles, even money.

AFL: Oakland 3 over New York, San Diego 11 over Boston, Kansas City 4 over Buffalo, Denver 3 over Houston.

Coach Says FSU To Bounce Back

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Coach Bill Peterson said Tuesday his battered Seminoles "don't look good" in practice, but he said the Florida State gridders would "keep their heads up and bounce back."

The Seminoles spent most of Tuesday working out against Georgia formations in preparation for Saturday night's clash with the tough Bulldogs.

Riders Named

NEW YORK (UPI)—Veteran riders Jim Elder and Tom Gayford have been named to represent Canada along with two other unnamed riders in the jumping events at the 82nd National Horse Show to be held at Madison Square Garden, Oct. 26-Nov. 2.

Pass, Punt, Kick Contest Slated

For the fifth straight year, the Sanford Recreation Department will coordinate the Ford Motor Company's Pass, Punt and Kick contest for young boys.

This year's contest will be held Saturday morning at the Fort Mellon Park softball diamond and the Goldsboro Baseball Field, beginning at 9 a.m. City Recreation Director Jim Jernigan has urged all youngsters between the from 8 through 13 to register at either the Civic Center or Castle Brewer Center by 5:30 p.m. this Friday.

Some $500 in prizes, such as jackets, football helmets, and trophies will be donated by the local Strickland-Morrison Ford dealers to the winners.

Lions' Halfback Has 55 Points, 561 Yards

Mikler Nearly Triples Statistic Lead

By Sam Stanley
Herald Sports Editor

With the football season not yet halfway over Oviedo's Billy Mikler has one Seminole County individual title just about wrapped up and another pretty well cinched.

The Lion's outstanding breakaway halfback rambled for 270 yards last week against Tavares and scored four touchdowns. He now has a total of 561 yards on the ground in four games and has scored 55 points on nine touchdowns and one conversion. He lacks but six yards of having three times as many yards as his nearest competitors—Seminole's Sonny Messer and Crooms' Perlmon Brinson who are tied for second in rushing with 189 yards each.

Brinson is Mikler's nearest competitor in scoring with 20 points on three touchdowns and two extra points.

Brinson is also making a run at overcoming pass catching leader Mike Gray of Seminole. Gray, who didn't catch a pass last week, still has 11 receptions good for 144 yards. Brinson snagged four last week, giving him nine for 154 yards on the season.

Although completing only one pass in Seminole's big win over Edgewater, quarterback Frank Whigham retained his passing yardage lead. He's now picked up 345 yards in the air on 20 completions out of 42 passes. James (Shot) Gunn of Crooms is second with 256 yards on 22 of 36 passes.

Oviedo has scored the most points, 85 to Seminole's 81, but the Seminoles have been the stingiest, yielding only 14 points in four games. Thanks to Mikler's fine performance Oviedo leads in yards rushing with 748, but Sanford is tops in passing yardage with 395 and total offense with 1,112.

In compiling a 3-0-1 mark the Seminoles have also picked up the most first downs (60), intercepted more passes (four) and caused the opposition to punt the most times (16).

THIS WAS ALMOST A TOUCHDOWN for Seminole High last Friday night in the Orlando Tangerine Bowl against Edgewater. Snagging the ball is halfback Bernie Barbour (22), but referees ruled that Barbour was out of the end zone before he had possession of the ball. Making defensive attempt is Edgewater's Chris Conlon. Pass was thrown by Frank Whigham from the 19 yard line. (Herald Photo)

Florida's Victories Over LSU, Ole Miss Have Calmed Wolves

By David M. Moffit
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI) — The wolves have stopped howling at the door of Florida football Coach Ray Graves — for the time being anyway.

Florida fans are a fickle breed. As long as the Gators are winning, they're true blue. But let the Gators lose one unexpectedly and then listen to them howl.

"We've quieted them down for this week at least after those back-to-back wins over Louisiana State and Ole Miss," Graves reported cheerfully by telephone from his office in Gainesville, Fla.

"But they were ready to give up on us after that upset by Mississippi State."

Florida came into the 1965 campaign with the pre-season ranking of one of the top teams in the South. The Gators opened with a 24-14 victory at Northwestern, lost to 9th-ranked Mississippi State 18-13 (we outplayed them all the way," Graves insisted), then beat 16th ranked LSU 14-7 and Mississippi 17-0.

Thus the Gators find themselves through the toughest end of their schedule with a 3-1 record and No. 10 national ranking. It is the opinion here and in many other quarters that both the record and the ranking will improve.

Graves, long-time assistant to Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech, spoiled Gator fans his first season (1960) as Florida head coach when his team posted an 8-2 record and beat Baylor in the Gator Bowl.

Florida hadn't done that well in 30 years and unfortunately hasn't done as well since. The fans weren't interested in excuses, they wanted victories.

Last year, the Gators won their first four but never fully recovered after dropping a 17-14 heartbreaker to national champion Alabama. And it was really considered inexcusable when they lost to up-state rival Florida State.

"We're moving now," Graves said. "The way we manhandled Ole Miss has given our boys the confidence they've needed to have that really fine season we think they're capable of.

"This is a tough league and any team has the ability to knock off another with a few breaks. But we think we can have a really fine record if we get only our share of those breaks."

Graves has gone to a pro-type offense this season, throwing the ball 25 or 30 times a game compared to half that many in the past.

"We made the change because of (Steve) Spurrier and lots of fine receivers," Graves said. Spurrier is a strapping junior quarterback who has been breaking records left and right at Florida. He was Southeastern Conference back of the week after he passed and ran for 245 yards and two touchdowns against Mississippi.

"We've got the sort of offense and team to run it that the fans really enjoy," Graves said.

"Now, all we have to do to keep them happy is to keep on winning."

Crooms JVs Open Tonight

By Bob Thomas Jr.

The Crooms High Junior Varsity travels to Ocala tonight to take on the Baby Wild Bulls of Howard High.

Coach Al Cottrell has been carrying his boys through some vigorous workouts the last few weeks. He has been ably assisted by Joe Fair, who is the assistant line coach for the varsity.

Yesterday the Baby Panthers tapered off by running plays, passing, kicking etc. Coach Cottrell is most pleased about his kicking game. John Hill, who will most likely handle the kickoff, was booming some long ones.

There are a number of boys who have shown that they can catch the ball. To mention one is: Leo Elisy—This boy seems to have good hands. He made some fine catches.

The probable starting lineup for tonight is: Clifford Pringle, LE; Johnny Tanner, LT; Louis Montgomery, LG; Thead Brooks, C; Granville Eubanks, RG; H. Howard, RT; Leo Elisy, LE; Thomas Demps, QB; Frank Gunn, LH; Arthur Barkley, RH; George Gordon, FB.

Art Exhibition Scheduled For Concert Opener

Jose Molina and his Spanish dancers will open the Mutual Concert Series season Oct. 25 at Seminole High School auditorium.

In connection with the opening night festivities, a "membership art exhibit" has been enlarged this year to accommodate many newcomers.

Mrs. S. N. Eldredge, chairman, is being assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hodgins and Col. J. O. Gregory in formulating plans for the show.

Mrs. Eldredge announced any member of the association who would like to enter the exhibit should contact her at 111 Highland Court. She also revealed that in order to allow patrons ample time to view the paintings, the Lake Mary Woman's Club will serve refreshments during intermission and after the curtain falls.

Many familiar artists in the area are scheduled to show, along with a number of budding painters who have never before exhibited. Among the "old-timers" are Georgia Ball, Terry Shattuck, Beth Gregory, Miss Hodgins, Donica Brown, Charlotte Donahoe, Elizabeth Shinholser, Bets Ryan and Jane Davidson.

Newcomers to the display include Mildred Babcock, Rosemond Chapman, Fern Eldredge, E. B. Stowe, Jo Moloney, Mrs. Edward Kelsey, Mary Anne Williams, Joy Robinson, TeDe Holton, Chris Lovelace, Rose Woodall, Kathy Tooke, Demaris Farrel, Virginia Fulton, Shirley Youngblade and Connie Brown.

VARIOUS TECHNIQUES of painting are discussed by three artists who will show for the first time Oct. 25 at the second annual Membership Art Exhibit which is scheduled in connection with opening night of the Mutual Concert Association series. First time exhibitors include, from left, Mrs. Edward Kelsey of Altamonte Springs, Mrs. Robert Farrell and Mrs. A. W. Woodall.

Knitting Class To Organize

Organizational meeting of a knitting class, with Mrs. V. G. Hasty as instructor, will be held at 9:30 a.m Monday at the Seminole County Agricultural Center.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, county extension home economics agent, invites all interested women to attend. Classes will be continued on a weekly schedule.

Parents Urged To Join PTA

By Jane Casselberry

The Parent Teachers Association of South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry is sending home membership envelopes with the students to the parents, starting with the seventh grades and continuing with eighth and ninth in successive weeks.

Those who have not yet joined the PTA may enclose membership dues of fifty cents per person and send back to the schol with their child. Membership cards will be mailed to the parents joining in this manner.

Tuesday, Nov. 9, will be the next regular meeting of the organization.

Local Support

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—R. Sargent Shriver said the government's anti - poverty program, which he heads, will not work without local support.

"Unless you're on the job locally," Shriver told the Illinois Labor Convention, "some of the money will be wasted."

Buick Offers 53 New '66 Models

A 1966 lineup of 53 new models — highlighted by a new Wildcat Gran Sport option, new body styling for Specials and Skylarks, and for the first time a Skylark four-door hardtop sedan — was introduced today for Buick Motor Division.

The emphasis in 1966 has been placed on safety, styling and performance, and in announcing the new Buicks, Robert L. Kessler, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, cited a number of safety features which will be standard equipment on all 1966 cars.

"We believe that good performance and maximum safety are two automotive characteristics that go together," Kessler said, "and we have emphasized both in our 1966 line."

Safety items that will be standard equipment on all Buicks include padded instrument panels, outside rear view mirror, windshield washer and dual speed wipers, padded sun-visors, backup lights, shatter-proof inside rear view mirrors, brushed-finish windshield wiper arms for reduction of glare and both front and rear seat belts.

Nearly all of these items were available either as optional or standard equipment in 1965.

The 1966 models feature new body styling, and new power plants.

Throughout the entire line riding comfort and road noise have been reduced by such refinements as revised frames, new rubber bushings, new body mountings, new spring rates and shock valving.

Transmission refinements have been made for smoother operation.

Frames, axles, suspension systems and other factors controlling the ride and handling qualities have been improved.

Buick's Gran Sport options have been expanded with the addition of two Wildcat Gran Sport models — a two-door hardtop and convertible. Three Skylark Gran Sports and the Riviera Gran Sport complete this group of Buicks.

With the exception of the Riviera, body sizes in all other Buicks remain the same in 1966. Wheelbase range from 115 inches in the Special to 126 inches in the Wildcat and Electra.

Throughout the line, Buick's distinguishing feature in 1966 is a lower and wider look which has been achieved through reshaped grilles and in contours of the body sheet metal.

Specials and Skylarks have entirely new bodies, and introduce a new style in roof treatment for two-door coupes which is a unique fast back roof with a recessed back window. Four door models also have a new roof line.

Such eye appealing touches as ventiports, body moldings, emblems, name plates and wheel discs have been designed to blend into the new body styling.

Buick's famous V-6 engine, which has improved performance through the use of a two-barrel carburetor, is the standard power plant on Special and Skylark models.

A new 340 cubic inch engine has been developed for the 1966 LeSabre and Sport Wagon models. This new power plant, with a 10.25 to 1 compression ratio, is available as an option on Specials and Skylarks.

The Special-Skylark series chassis has been revised with changes in the frame, front suspension and ride calibration that provide a quieter, more controlled ride with better stability. The rear tread has been increased to 59 inches.

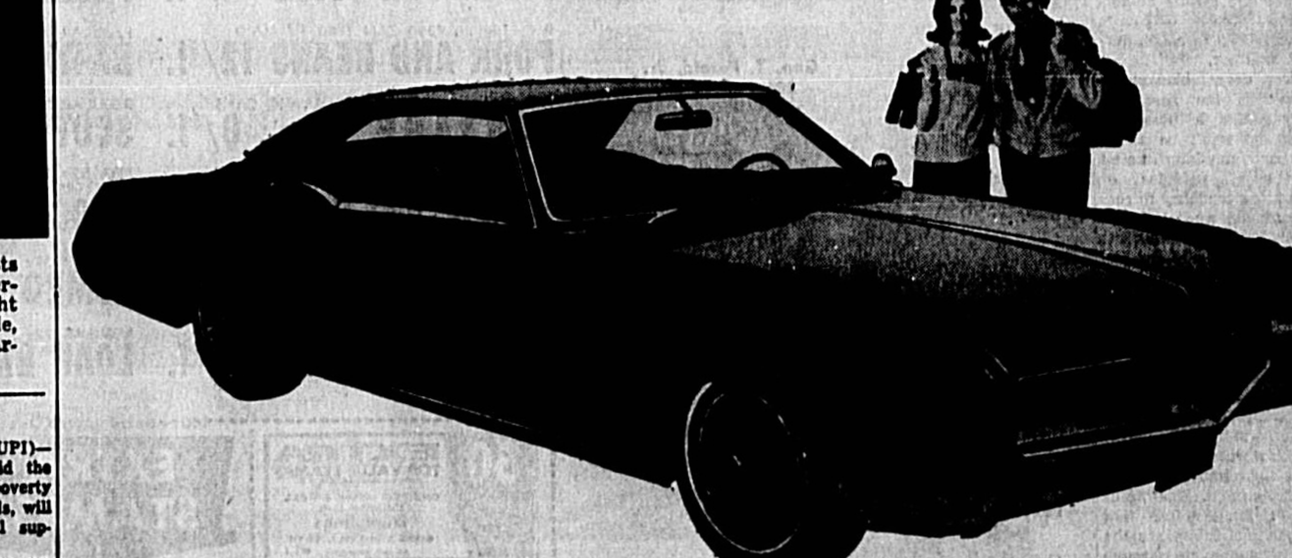
Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.



You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. Le Sabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.

At 11:30 a.m. the technical committee will meet and review a sketch plan for future development in Orange and Seminole Counties, and take up the next steps in the Orlando urban area transportation study.

Weeds Blessing . . For The Fish

There's no dispute, weeds are a problem. They can foul lures, ruin casts and generally do everything in their power to mess up a pleasant afternoon of fishing.

Despite universal condemnation, moss, lilies and other forms of aquatic vegetation are really blessings in disguise, vow the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards . . . particularly to a fish during hot weather.

A nice, dense blanket of "bonnets" is the best sunburn protection a bass can get. And he won't be alone. Just about anything that swims, hops, wriggles or swarms has a tendancy to congregate around weed beds.

So Ol' Mr. Bass has just about all he needs—comfort and shade, plus an abundance of food within easy reach.

If he's going to be caught, it's going to occur right on his own home grounds.

Instead of warily avoiding such entanglements or skirting the fringes, fish the weed beds deliberately.

Snap on a weedless lure and chuck it right into the middle of the whole mess. Floating or shallow running plugs that float when motionless are the easiest to manipulate through the growth.

Let the lure rest when it hits the surface . . . perhaps up to a minute. Then twitch ever so slightly. Twitch again, only this time a little stronger. If nothing happens, begin retrieving—then it might!

Should the plug land on top of a lily pad, leave it there for a bit. Nudge it gently, pause, and lightly flick it off. Get set for an explosion of water, weeds and a whopper!

Weeds are a problem, but mostly to the fish that must cope with weed-wise fishermen.

Now, are weeds good or bad?

Luster of marble statues derives from light that penetrates the stone and which is reflected by crystals within.

Ike, 75 Thursday, Hits 'Let Washington Do It' Attitude

Editor's Note: Thursday is the 75th birthday of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. On the eve of this milestone in his life, Eisenhower gives an interview with UPI White House Reporter Merriman Smith.

By Merriman Smith

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) —Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the eve of his 75th birthday, feels American society is threatened by so-called easy money, the temptation to let Washington do it," and, for that matter, long hair-dos affected by so many young men.

The long hair displayed in some younger male circles, he says, is really symptomatic of something much deeper — a dimunition of self-respect, individually and nationally.

These and other opinions on current affairs were expressed by the five-star general and former chief executive in an interview with United Press International.

Thursday Eisenhower will celebrate one of his most active birthdays in recent years, marked by publication of his second post - White House book, "Waging Peace."

This is a massive work of 741 pages covering his latter years in the White House, including his problems with Cuba, Hungary, Viet Nam and such world leaders as former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

• • •

Actually publication date for Eisenhower was somewhat of an anti-climax. He had been talking about the book almost daily for several weeks, taping television shows, granting interviews and all the while maintaining a speaking schedule away from his Pennsylvania home and working on still another book.

His capacity for work seems, if anything to have increased in retirement. And physically, it agrees with him. He looks slimmer than when he left office in 1961. His stance is trim and erect, that of a man 30 years his junior.

And he still has that electric smile, a trademark for many years that evoked roaring cheers from New Delhi to New York.

A UPI photographer, snapping pictures informally throughout the interview, cracked down on one particularly broad Eisenhower grin and said softly, "Man, he still has it."

• • •

Eisenhower "still has it" in many other ways. While he was never any great shakes as a professional politician, there are Republicans today who believe he still is the best the party has to offer when it comes to commanding public attention.

"Like it nor," he was told, "you're still head of the Republican Party in the minds of millions of Americans."

He thought this was "unfortunate." While he likes to be consulted on the course of his party, he thinks that public attention should be focused on Republicans who are on their way up.

Eisenhower concedes readily that there seems to be a current shortage of GOP presidential timber for 1968, but he thinks the Republicans should and will get moving to encourage the emergence of young, talented and dedicated leaders.

"When we find one party becoming too dominant for too long, then the whole institution of government is damaged," he said.

"I like to think of the Republican Party as the common sense party," he added.

This was his introduction for some rather strongly expressed feelings about those who in complacency and overacceptance of the status quo, try to pretend that there are no real social problems in America; that since they, themselves are sitting pretty, they shy away from challenging real threats to their security.

"I think these people are stupid," he said almost glumly.

He is particularly distressed by those who for all their discontent, believe in letting Washington handle all problems with federal money, power, moral and social leadership. He thinks there is a greater need for leadership on the state, local and individual levels.

He believes federal subsidies have been overdone, particularly in agriculture where he would cut farm price supports sharply, to where price in the market place is a more determining factor than it is today.

He was energetic in his discussion of so-called "easy money" and the threat it holds to the nation's economic structure.

The former president expressed the belief that with bank credit expanding rapidly and prices, particularly wholesale prices, rising, the country was in a stage of state of inflation which could become quite serious, damage the dollar abroad and lead eventually to some form of domestic economic controls.

He said that with the long prosperity which the country was enjoying along with easy money, tremendous federal expenditures, increasing public dependence on Washington and the continued imbalance of foreign payments, the economy was coming into a period of trouble.

What to do about it? His feeling was that reversal of a trend is well nigh impossible, but with proper policies at the top, it could be arrested before the point of severe national difficulty.

And this brought him around again to the need for more vibrant leadership in the GOP with an eye to 1968 and 1972.

He is reluctant to place his hand on the shoulder of any prospect at this point.

Ask him to name some possibilities? This quite obviously makes him a trifle uncomfortable, but for sake of the interview he was willing to throw in a few names of those he considers among the more attractive Republicans today —Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon was the first name that came to mind, then Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

ROBERT H. Roy, of Fall River, Mass., assigned to RVAH-6, has shipped over for another four years in the Navy.

Little Left Of Little Car

NORTH ANDOVER, Mass. (UPI)— A week ago Benson Williams of Holbrook reported his Volkswagen stolen. Today police found some of it.

Missing from the car were the gas tank, hood cover, doors, fenders, dashboard instruments, spare tire, seats, seat belts, roof light, steering wheel, headlights, radio, glove comparment, license plates and the engine.

And the thief had replaced the four new tires with four old ones.

Escapee Returns 'Home' In Style

VACAVILLE, Calif. (UPI) When Roger F. Kelly called William C. Keating Jr., and said he was "tired and hungry and wanted to come home," Keating told him to take a cab and he would foot the bill.

Kenny, an escapee from the state medical facility, did as he was told.

Keating, superintendent of the prison facility, paid the $25 Sacramento- to- Vacaville fare.

Kelly had escaped in the superintendent's official car.

Angler 'Fishes' For Bank's $$$

RAWLINS, Wyo. (UPI) — Someone went fishing for money at a Rawlins bank but he didn't catch anything.

Police said the would-be thief used a rig consisting of four fishing lines attached to a plastic bag.

The bag, weighted by rock "sinkers," was dropped into the bank's night depository box.

A patrolman found it before it could be tested.

Miss Linda Stapler And S.C. Zoeller United In Impressive Church Rites

Miss Linda Marie Stapler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stapler, of Sanford, and Stephen Clarke Zoeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Clarke Zoeller, of Washington, Ind., were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, Oct. 9, at 10 a.m. at the Church of The Nativity, Lake Mary.

Father Solana officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony before the altar accented with baskets of white glads and potted palms.

Mrs. Polly Shields, organist, played appropriate nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline edged in seed pearls and the tapered lace sleeves formed Calla points at her wrists. Self covered buttons extended down the back and the voluminous skirt featured rows of lace and net ruffles terminating in a sweeping chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion fell from a princess tiara of seed pearls and she carried a lavish cascade of white rosebuds.

Miss Susan Callahan of Indiatlantic, attended her cousin as maid of honor. Her waltz length gown was of blue velvet designed with a portrait neckline and full skirt. White flowers formed her forward headpiece and she carried a cascade of yellow fugi chrysanthemums.

MRS. STEPHEN CLARKE ZOELLER

Attending the bride as bridesmaid was Miss Judy Sargeant, whose gown and flowers were identical to the maid of honor.

James Cross and Larry Cross of Cocoa, cousins of the groom, served as best man and usher respectively.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stapler chose a blue lace ensemble with beige accessories and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Zoeller, mother of the groom, was attired in a Kelly green sheath trimmed in satin, complemented with Morracor accessories and a red rose corsage.

Immediately following the wedding the Parish Hall was the site for the reception. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. J. E. Pickens, Mrs. J. G. Govocek, Mrs. Hal Colbert and Mrs. Leonard Jones. Miss Sandy Crosby kept the bride's book.

For her going away outfit the bride wore a blue two-piece suit with beige accessories and the detachable rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Sarasota and south Florida, the newlyweds will reside at 6401 North Atlantic Avenue, Apt. F-5, Cape Canaveral.

Homemakers Club Plans Events For Holiday Season

The Sanford Homemakers Club held its monthly meeting Oct. 7 at the County Agricultural Building.

A very interesting and informative program on "Eight Ways to Cut your Doctor Bill" was presented. The importance of having a glaucoma check-up, especially for those over 35, eye examination and a physical was also stressed.

Mrs. L. E. Leeper displayed Christmas ideas and announced work shops Nov. 1 and 29 at 9 a.m. in the County Agriculture Building.

Miss Ellalee Kirchhoff, Miss Eva Hunt and Mrs. Meta Starke volunteered to assist with the work of the Seminole County Fair to be held at the American Legion Home.

A Christmas party is in the making. Reservations are being taken. Call the president, Mrs. E. J. Peeples, 322-7031, if you plan to attend.

Members present were the Mmes. J. N. Azzarello, Edna Brinson, Ella Bidesoe, R. T. Hunt, E. J. Peeples, Bertha Rhodes, Clyde Stinson, W. D. Simpson, Meta Starke, E. R. Wood, Paul Marion and Miss Eva Hunt.

Visitors welcomed were Mrs. C. E. Wade and Mrs. Allene Gaines.

Altamonte Springs Personals

By Julia Bartes

Jimmy Simunek celebrated his 11th birthday Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simunek, and brother, Jack, by attending the movie, "Sound of Music," and dinner out.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lee Tinsley returned to their home on Hattaway Drive, Altamonte Springs, after a month's visit to the northern states.

Their first stop was in Maple Heights, Ohio, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Cobb, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

From Ohio they motored to Fort Wayne, Ind., and were guests of Mr. Tinsley's sister, Mrs. C. G. Venderley. They all enjoyed a family get-together and dinner at the home of their nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Venderley. Mrs. Ronald Venderley honored her aunt, Mrs. Tinsley, at a coffee with 15 ladies attending.

Mrs. C. G. Venderley joined the Tinsleys and they were off to Chicago, Ill., where they visited another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Cornell. Here they enjoyed a birthday dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Timothy A. Cornell's young daughter.

In Louisville, Ky., birthplace of Mrs. Tinsley, they visited a nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hawkins, and family and Walter Hawkins, brother of Mrs. Tinsley. While in Kentucky, they were guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. George Hans.

They enjoyed all their visits but are glad to be back.

Sharon Redman Honored On Birthday

By Mrs. John Leone

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Redman and a bevy of hosts and hostesses honored Miss Sharon Redman with a "Sweet Sixteen Birthday Party," Saturday night at the Fire Recreation Hall. Music was by the "Wrong Numbers Combo" of Mt. Dora.

The auditorium was decorated in pink and white with the buffet table overlaid with a white cloth, centered with a floral arrangement and flanked by two huge punch bowls and trays of tid-bits and dips.

On a side table the guests put their birthday gifts. Three large birthday cakes were on another table, flanked by twin pink candles in low holders entwined with tiny rose buds.

Friends of Sharon serving as hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brenner, Mr. and Mrs. John Coppen and Mr. and Mrs. J. Shawkey.

Sharon wore a rosebud corsage and a white frock accented with gold embroidery.

The young people danced until 11 p.m. and the young ladies were very pretty in their party dresses.

QUICK-N-EASY

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you feel an urge to update the living room, and without drastic or permanent redecorating, consider stretch slipcovers, home economists suggest.

These combine the fit of custom covers with the immediate availability of ready-mades. They are safely washable in warm soap or detergent suds, and are moderate in price — especially in relation to time saved and negligible upkeep costs. Wrinkles disappear when the covers are stretched over the furniture, so no ironing is ever needed.

DeBary Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Dungan of First Street celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Baegler, of Virginia Beach, Va. Oldsmobile Presents 'Toronado'

Oldsmobile is introducing for 1966 a completely restyled line of F-85s, longer-looking, lower-looking 88s and 98s, and the long-awaited Toronado, the first truly unique American automobile in many years, it was announced today by H. N. Metzel, Oldsmobile's general manager and a vice president of General Motors.

"The Toronado," he said, "is progressive in its engineering concept and design. Its styling is like that of no other car on the road today, its floor is flat for extra interior room and full six-passenger comfort, its driving traction and handling characteristics are outstanding, and it is powered by front wheel drive."

Metzel, addressing 200 news editors and writers attending Oldsmobile's 1966 National Press Preview at the GM Proving Ground, said he expects the Toronado to set new standards for the industry in styling, handling, and roadability. He also predicted it will dramatically strengthen Oldsmobile's world-wide reputation for being first with major engineering advancements.

The 1966 Oldsmobile will be introduced by dealers in their showrooms Thursday, October 14. In addition to the Toronado, the public will see other models being introduced for the first time. They include the Cutlass Supreme, a new F-85 four-door hardtop sedan; and a convertible in the Delta 88 series.

"Mechanically," Metzel said, "all 1966 Oldsmobiles, including the F-85s, Vista-Cruisers, Jetstar, Dynamic and Delta 88s and the 98s, have undergone significant changes to improve ride and handling, performance, comfort and safety.

Safety improvements are numerous. They include, as standard equipment on all 1966 Oldsmobiles, front and rear seat belts, backup lamps, outside rear view mirror, two-speed windshield wipers with washers, padded sun visors, and glare reducing surfaces on windshield wiper arms and blades, and on instrument panels.

"On the new instrument panels of F-85 models, controls and knobs are recessed. On the Toronado's 'cockpit type' instrument panel all controls, gauges and instruments are clustered for driver convenience and accessibility," he added.

"The Toronado," Metzel said, "is offered in one body style, a six-passenger hardtop coupe. It is also available in a deluxe version. It is a car designed for those who want the unconventional, the newest, in whatever product they buy.

"It has become the custom of American designers," he continued, "to borrow from from the European to provide sporty flair and modern appearance. American originals have been few and far between.

"But this year," Metzel said, "Oldsmobile designers have created in the Toronado, an American Original, one which well could be imitated in Europe."

In discussing the technical aspects of the new car, he said that Oldsmobile engineers have been eminently successful in combining all driving components of this car into an integrated unit under the hood. The power train design, through which torque is supplied to the front wheels, is ingenious.

Metzel explained that the specially modified 385 h.p. 425 cubic-inch Toronado engine is mounted slightly to the right of center. The transmission's torque converter is attached conventionally to the rear of the engine.

The remaining section of the Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission is mounted along the left side of the engine, facing forward. A quiet operating link chain transfers power from the converter to the transmission gear box. Bolted to the gear box is a planetary differential which feeds torque through the two axle shafts to the front wheels.

The Toronado frame is a perimeter "stub" frame, which supports the drive components and front suspension, terminating with a rear cross bar that supports forward eyes of the rear springs. The rear eyes of the springs are mounted to the underbody.

He said the new adjustable front torsion bar suspension system, and single leaf springs at the rear, augmented by sets of vertical and horizontal shock absorbers, were designed solely for the new automobile.

"The Toronado's unique suspension system, and the carefully studied placement of the drive components over the front wheels," he continued, "contribute to its road-hugging ability, its powerful, noiseless, vibration-free performance, and virtual freedom from the effects of cross winds on the open highway. Driving traction on snow or ice is matchless."

He said the design of the Toronado permitted Oldsmobile engineers to accomplish another long-sought objective. The floor is flat, allowing greatly increased interior roominess and a new kind of comfort for six passengers in a convenient sized car with the smart appearance of a coupe body.

The Toronado is built on a 119-inch wheelbase. It is 211 inches in overall length and 52.8 inches in height.

"The Toronado's 15-inch wheel spiders," Metzel said, "are pierced with functional openings for air cooling of the cast brake drum fins. Tire size is 8.85 x 15."

He listed other features of the Toronado including a draft-free ventilating system which eliminates the need for corner vent windows, vacuum operated headlamp retractors, optional headrests, wide doors for easy entrance and exit, and a rear-seat door opener lever on the deluxe model. New "Strato-seats" in bench or bucket styles feature thin, comfortably contoured backrests.

The Toronado is available in any one of 15 exterior colors, 5 of which are new and exclusive to this car.

The Oldsmobile 88's and 98's for 1966 have been redesigned to give them a longer and lower look. Styling is more distinctive for each series, and includes completely new front and rear end appearance. Rectangular headlamp housings, and new grilles add to the impression of width.

The Starfire coupe has undergone even more extensive exterior changes to give it extra flair and distinction. New "Strato" bucket seats are standard, with the full width "Strato" bench seat optional.

Significant improvements in instrument panels, interior trims, fabrics and appointments add to the beauty and comfort of all full-size Oldsmobiles.

In the F-85 lineup, interiors too are completely restyled for 1966. Basic styling of the new F-85 gives these cars a smoother, longer, younger look, with more emphasis on the Oldsmobile product family appearance.

"For the first time," Metzel said, "we are offering a four-door hardtop in the F-85 series, available as a deluxe, or a Cutlass Supreme. The Cutlass Supreme tops the F-85 line. With its optional vinyl roof and extra-luxurious interior, it may well become one of the top young-family prestige cars."

He also revealed newly distinctive styling features of the high-performance 4-4-2 which include a specific grille and tail lamps, recessed front fender scoop, plain hood and deck lid and specially designed rear ornamentation.

"For those who want even better performance," Metzel continued, "we are continuing to offer Oldsmobile's 330-cubic-inch Jetfire Rocket on F-85 and Jetstar 88 models. The 330, and all other Oldsmobile V-8 engines, are equipped with a new heat valve for longer life and improved durability, a new sealed, higher capacity fuel pump, and a new rocker arm mechanism for improved durability."

U. S. Justice 'Locked Up' At LBJ Operation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart knows what it is like to be in the right place at the wrong time. Especially when the place is the hospital where President Johnson is undergoing an operation.

Stewart was in Bethesda Naval Hospital for a checkup last Friday when Johnson was having his gall bladder removed.

Clad in pajamas and bathrobe, the jurist stepped off an elevator and was confronted by a burly gentleman charged with safeguarding the President.

Addressing the justice as "Mac," the guard announced that there would be no traffic in the corridors until Johnson was wheeled back to his suite from the operating room.

Stewart told the guard who he was, which prompted the guard to address him as "sir." It also prompted him to lock the justice up.

Stewart was escorted down the hall to a laboratory where he had been heading in the first place. He stepped inside. The guard slammed shut the door, and locked it.

Inside the room was a WAVE technician, who looked as suspiciously at the justice as the guard had moments earlier and took a blood sample.

With the door still locked, the justice picked up a newspaper and read it for an hour until he could get out.

Bake Sale

The Womans Missionary Society of First Southern Methodist Church will sponsor a bake sale near Publix Market in Sanford Plaza beginning at 1 p.m Friday. Proceeds will go to the building fund for the new church now under construction at 2460 Sanford Avenue.

Noel P. Hamilton Named Police Lt.

Police Lt. William T. Randall, suspended last month by the Casselberry mayor and City council, has resigned from the police department and left the state.

This was revealed in a letter from Police Chief Gus Sawyer to Mayor L. E. Woodhams. In his letter, Sawyer reported he had talked with Randall, who said he saw no chance of ever resuming his duties with the police department and, therefore, was leaving the state. The city council constituted this as a verbal resignation and accepted it.

Randall was suspended after it was brought to light he had previously been involved in passage of worthless checks. The suspension was made to allow him to "clear his previous record."

Council then approved Mayor Woodhams' recommendation that Sgt. Noel P. Hamilton be promoted to the rank of lieutenant to fill the vacancy. The promotion is effective until the end of the year.

In other action, council approved a $20 monthly salary hike for the police department, setting new salaries at $360 for chief, $340 for lieutenant, $320 for sergeant and $280 for patrolmen.

The wage increase was granted to bring salaries up to a level competitive with other police departments in the area.

Mechanic Slays Friend, Shoots Wife, Suicides

LAKE WALES (UPI) — An enraged mechanic killed a woman companion, critically wounded his estranged wife, then committed suicide, sheriff's deputies said Tuesday.

Deputies said Billy Lee Cosson, 34, and Martha Skinner, 45, drove to nearby Lake Easy and were joined there by Casson's wife, Dorothy, and their six-year-old daughter.

The three adults became embroiled in a violent argument, police said, and Casson shot and killed the Skinner woman and critically wounded his wife.

Deputies said Cosson then drove his daughter to the home of a local doctor, returned to the lake and killed himself. Mrs. Cosson was taken to the Lakeland General Hospital in critical condition. All were from Lake Wales.

Thomas Jefferson was the first president of the United States to be inaugurated in Washington.

Goldsboro School, along with other schools of Seminole County, will observe "National School Lunch Week" from Oct. 10-16.

Seminole County has 23 school lunch rooms, and Goldsboro Elementary has its sight set on heading the list in the participation thereof. "One-hundred per cent participation is our goal," said Mrs. Vivian Walden, who is lunch room manager at Goldsboro.

The Goldsboro family extends a cordial invitation to all parents and friends to come out and eat with their children.

The need for a "better fed" youth program was brought to light by Selective Service Board in the draft of World War II. It was reported that one-third of the men rejected for physical unfitness were turned down because of difficulties traceable directly or indirectly to nutritional deficiencies. As a result of this investigation, Congress passed the National School Lunch Act in 1946. In 1962, the late president John F. Kennedy proclaimed the first annual National School Lunch Week.

Appointment of Rudolph Scott as principal of the adult evening high school is announced by E. S. Douglass, director of vocational, technical and adult education.

Scott is a resident of Sanford and a graduate of Barber-Scotia College, Concord, N. C.

Adult classes meet at Crooms High School from 7 to 10 p. m. Monday through Thursday each week.

The instructors are Walter Curry, Willie Smith, Earl Minot, Mrs. Annie Hagen, Mrs. Katie Sandifer, Miss Katheryn Thornton, Miss Emma Fuller and Leroy Brown Jr.

• • •

Pfc. Rivers Thornton has returned from Viet Nam where he completed a tour of duty. Thornton is a graduate of CHS.

• • •

A1/c Kenneth V. Scott is spending a two-week furlough visiting relatives and friends. He is stationed at Plattsburg Air Force Base, Plattsburgh, N. Y. An alumni of Crooms High School he has been in years. service for approximately two years.

Peruse Labels On All Goods —Home Agent

By Mrs. John Leone

The importance of reading labels on all new purchases was stressed by Mrs. Edna Eby, Volusia County home economics agent, for members of the DeBary Extension Homemakers Club at their opening meeting of the season in the DeBary Community Center.

"County, state and federal agencies offer you protection in all consumer goods by making sure everything that goes into the making of any article is plainly stated, giving correct content," she pointed out.

"Watch for these tags on your bedding, pillows, or anything that contains a filler," the members were cautioned.

Reporting that all remnants must be labeled, wool materials must state if new or reused, and if a combination is used with other fabrics, and that furs must be listed as to skin or pelt used, she stressed, "Your best bet is to buy from a merchant you know is trustworthy . . . he always will welcome your business and you will be protected by his sound judgment."

In other highlights of the afternoon business session, Mrs. Chester Rearick, president, asked for ideas on the coming programs which will include "Plants and Shrubs Around Your Home" at next month's meeting, and, later, "Which Weigh, Ladies," "Table Settings for the Holidays," and "New Ideas on Christmas Decorations."

Mrs. Rearick also presided at the morning workshop session when Mrs. Donald Drach instructed members in making many lovely and useful articles.

Sandwich luncheon and social period was enjoyed during the noon hour.

We All Want New Industry ..... But Let's Not Forget The Old Ones

The people who produce The Herald are your friends, neighbors and customers.

They are engaged in a unique business. The newspaper probably is the only manufacturing concern which creates — and sells — its own product every day.

We at The Herald like to think we are a community service and a public utility along with the fact that we are a manufacturing concern — an industry — in a growing city and county.

In fact, we believe we are the second oldest industry in Seminole County. The Herald has been publishing since 1908 — five years before Seminole gained its independence from Orange County.

It's an old business, but our employes help keep it young with fresh ideas and outstanding production ability.

The Sanford Herald, like all businesses, depends upon local support. We are thankful for your support in the past and we will need it even more in the future as we go into a major expansion program.

The payroll and services of The Herald now amount to more than $300,000 a year — virtually all of which goes back into the economy of the community.

We have one of the county's largest payrolls. More than 100 people are engaged in producing and selling The Herald — 40 are fulltime employes.

They are charged with the responsibility of getting the news to you that is timely, accurate and readable. They do different jobs in various departments but the end result is to produce a good newspaper.

Seventeen correspondents from all communities in Seminole County collect news and photograph events of interest to all of us.

Circulation of The Herald is speeded by 47 carriers — street and mail boys. They alone aid their incomes by about $45,000 a year.

The columns of our newspaper carry news, advertising, comments and entertainment. The Herald promotes civic and humanitarian projects. It gives information, advice and guidance through its columns and through its departments.

As we have said before, we don't believe we have ever failed to lend our support to a worthwhile community project.

We believe it is our responsibility to be concerned about the future of our city, county, state and nation. The same responsibility that is yours as an individual citizen.

A newspaper is many dedicated people and The Herald is no exception. Many of our employes work day and night — anywhere, anytime when the emergency arises.

When a fire breaks out in the middle of the night, when a fatal crash occurs on the Interstate, when a boat is lost on the lake. They are there.

We thought National Newspaper Week would be a good time to tell you that we consider it a privilege to serve you. We hope we are doing a good job. We're not looking for praise — but we would appreciate suggestions to improve our service.

After all, our sole purpose for being in business is to serve and please you.

Foreign News Commentary

Soviet Review

By K. C. Thaler

LONDON (UPI) — The planned Communist party congress scheduled for this spring probably will be held in March.

Reliable sources also say the party's 23rd congress in Moscow will deal with the ideological state of the Communist world in the post-Khrushchev era. It also will take up the economic and political structure of the Soviet Union as well as Soviet leadership and the state of the world Communist movement, the sources say.

The Sino-Soviet conflict, it was reported, will figure prominently in the discussions, along with the future of the concept of peaceful co-existence with the West.

A decision in principle to call a new full-dress Soviet party congress was taken by the party's Central Committee which just ended a three-day meeting in Moscow with decisions on major industrial reforms.

Their key target is to provide industry with great incentives to cater for real consumer and investment needs, instead of aiming at the mere fulfillment of fictitious quotas, laid down by central authorities and often divorced from reality.

The Supreme Soviet is to meet Friday to approve the Central Committee's plans.

But the major ideology decisions have been reserved for the projected party congress which may involve also problems of the Kremlin political and party leadership, the sources said.

The great issue to be tackled is the rift in the Communist camp and the relationship with China which has been going from bad to worse and has been virtually paralyzing the Kremlin's freedom of action.

Peking has made considerable inroads into Moscow's influence in the Communist world and in the battle for leadership of the unaligned nations in Africa, Asia and Latin America, though not as much as is claimed by the Mao Tse-Tung regime.

Efforts to find some accommodation with Peking by the successors of ousted Premier Nikita Khrushchev have failed. Peking has lately been attacking them savagely for following an imperialist course in collusion with alleged United States aggression.

Lately there have been suggestions from among the pro-Soviet Communists that the time can no longer be put off when a clear-cut decision must be taken for Moscow and Peking to part publicly because the continued feud is seriously undetermining the entire international Communist movement.

Another important issue to be tackled is the future relationship within the Soviet bloc where the growing trend toward greater independence is necessitating a reorganization of the Warsaw Pact alignment.

The party congress it was hinted also may provide the occasion for possible shifts within the Soviet leadership which have not taken place during the current Central Committee meeting.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Florida's State Superintendent of Public Instruction is changed by the Constitution and by Florida law with providing the leadership for the development and improvement of education in our state. It is to the State Superintendent that the people look for direction and guidance in making decisions about education. And it is to education that we look for the solutions to many of the problems of our time. The responsibility is both awesome and challenging.

As I enter into my new duties, I look forward to and earnestly solicit your cooperation and assistance, to continue the fine teamwork and cooperatve effort which has existed over the years between the press of Florida and the teaching profession, and under which our state has made so much progress. An informed public is the first requirement in obtaining a quality education program.

In the months ahead, I hope to have the opportunity to visit with you personally, to discuss with you some of my aims and hopes for education. My office will always remain open—there are no secrets in education—and I hope that you feel free to call on me at any time. My staff and I are at your service.

Business Brief

— A quarterly dividend of five cents per share on the income series of B. C. Morton Fund, Inc. has been declared by the board of directors of the $17.4 million mutual fund.

This was made known here today by Henry C. Echelberger, Sanford's resident manager of the B. C. Morton Organization, national distributers for the Boston-based investment company.

According to the regional sales manager, the new dividend is applicable to B. C. Morton Fund's third quarter and is payable Oct. 29 to Income Series shareowners of record Sept. 30. It will raise to 15 cents per share the amount paid out from investment income in 1965 — equal to last year's total for the first three quarters.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Nora is quite right in saying that obesity is a great "killer." For it seems to predispose fat folks to diabetes, cancer, and heart attacks as well as strokes of apoplexy and other evidences of high blood pressure. So slenderize, both for your increased health as well as romantic allure. Use the booklet below!

CASE X-427: Nora B., aged 37, asks some challenging questions.

"Dr Crane," she began, "I am 30 pounds overweight.

"And I understand that fat people are far more likely to develop diabetes, as well as cancer and heart attacks.

"So I'd like to lose at least 25 pounds, not only for my health's sake but also to become more alluring to my husband.

"For he is growing rather unromantic and actually stodgy!

"But I notice that he shows great interest in slender girls, so I simply MUST lose weight!

"So how can I do it with the least struggle?"

Though we may take 20 years to add our extra poundage, we usually want a fast weight loss.

Otherwise, we lose incentive and throw in the sponge.

So in cool weather, use my dehydration diet whereby you women limit your calories to 800 per day and men to 1,200.

But the main secret for killing your hunger and also making a fast weight loss of 10 pounds within 10 days, is to limit your fluid intake!

So restrict all liquids to just one full glass (eight ounces) the first day.

Move up to two glasses the second day and then go on to three full glasses each day through the 10th day.

You should then be down at least 10 pounds at the end of your 10th day.

And this quick loss is very inflating to our ego, even though we realize part of it is water loss.

On the 11th day you can shift to a milder diet plan where you wives move up to 1,200 calories per day and your husbands to 1,600.

Remember, when fat is dissolved from your body, it changes into carbon dioxide and water.

You exhale the carbon dioxide in your lungs but can use the water for the body's needs.

One pound of fat thus gives you two glasses of water which you manufacture internally!

A camel's hump is not water but is fat.

But during long journeys across the desert sands, the camel burns up the fat and may then produce 10 to 12 gallons of water internally!

"Dr. Crane," Nora asked, "what about these total fasting experiments?"

Well, they do show rapid weight loss. But 65 per cent is due to the fact your muscles dissolve and become weaker.

So you should not penalize your muscles but that excess blubber when you diet.

Thus, I personally dislike the use of drugs to take off surplus weight.

For the drugs usually penalize your faithful heart. And it isn't your heart but your stomach which is the culprit.

"Dr. Crane, what about exercise vs. dieting?" Nora added.

Well, exercise takes off weight, true enough, but also generates more hunger.

You can walk a mile at a fast clip and lose only 100 calories, which you restore by just one slice of buttered toast!

So it is more sensible to cut down on your food intake!

Send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Get your Ladies' Aid to join in a group dieting plan, and then give your church the $2.50 per pound which you save on groceries!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The Lighter Side

By Dick West
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anyone who still believes that diamonds are a girl's best friend and that man's best friend is the dog belongs at the foot of the class.

By now it should be apparent to both sexes that everybody's best friend is the trash collector.

Any lingering doubts on that point could easily be dispelled by statistics cited at a recent conference here on the problem of what to do about the nation's mounting mass of waste material.

It was brought out that this country is now producing enough trash every day to fill a freight train more than 10 miles long. The daily amount of rubbish that is discarded averages out to 5 pounds per person. And some of us aren't contributing our share.

I, for instance, am inclined to let the stuff pile up in the attic.

Anyway, the refuse problem has become rather staggering and is rapidly getting worse. The trouble is that nobody has come up with a satisfactory means of disposing of the trash once it is collected.

If you burn it, you get air pollution. If you dump it in the river, you get water pollution.

The conferees were told that in the San Francisco area alone enough refuse will be thrown away by the year 2000 to cover a 50-square mile area to a height of 20 feet. That suggests one possible solution.

Maybe the trash could be used to build a new mountain range, preferably in Kansas or some other place with a level terrain. That would enable the flatlanders to go skiing and enjoy alpine sports.

As you know, the United States fared poorly in the last winter Olympic games, one reason being that in many areas of this country there is not any place to practice.

The highest peak in the rubbish range could be named Mt. Trashmore, and on it we could carve the heads of some of our former vice presidents. Which would help bring in tourists.

Unless something is done, our entire economy will be jeopardized. As one of the speakers at the conference pointed out, "the more people buy, the more they will have to throw away."

If the trend continues, we will eventually be throwing away more than we buy.

Before long your brother-in-law and other wheeler-dealers with connections in the right places will be coming up to you and saying, "I can get rid of it for you wholesale."

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

History Repeats Self

History is repeating itself, as usual, and the Democratic party is favored again with a gracious First Lady, who also is a first class politician and a controversial public figure.

Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson is in the pattern of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. There have been in the past 50 years, nine first ladies three of whom became controversial in terms of national politics. These three were the second Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Johnson. Each achieved her own enemies, notably Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roosevelt, both of them inspired some of their fellow citizens to an unreasoning hatred.

President Wilson's collapse and illness cast his wife into the pit of controversy. During the long months of Woodrow Wilson's illness the idea spread that decisions from the sick room and other exercise of power represented, in fact, the decisions and acts of Mrs. Wilson abetted by the President's faithful secretary, the late Joseph P. Tumulty. There was bitter partisan protest against what was suspected to be a usurpation of power and some of the principals in this dispute took their anger with them long years afterward to their graves.

Eleanor Roosevelt had in full measure the capacity to arouse the passions of anger and hatered. But in fuller measure she possessed the capacity to arouse repect and affection. What Eleanor Roosevelt and Lady Bird Johnson have most in common are a feeling for people, a liking for crowds and a sure instinct for political action. To a lesser degree Mrs. Johnson possesses some of Eleanor Roosevelt's capacity to arouse anger, respect and affection. Gracious ladies, both:

Lady Bird's capacity to arouse anger is coming now to public attention. And it must be reported that this is a situation scarcely of her doing. Eleanor Roosevel made her own enemies and delighted in them. She was a political activist who deeply offended the political adversaries of the Roosevelts. She was unquenchable, a woman in perpetual motion, forever calling on her own shrewd political instincts to rescue even FDR, himself, from entrapments. She may have been the best politician of her generation.

Lady Bird may in time come to be LBJ's greatest political asset. Meantime, Lady Bird must be prepared to take her lumps and to like 'em. A sturdy woman, she should do all right at that. Already, Mrs. Johnson is accepting speaking engagements that would have been impossible for other first ladies from the warmly smiling Grace Coolidge to the warmly beautiful Jacqueline Kennedy. First Lady Jackie Kennedy did not like politics nor, perhaps, people in crowds. She is the arty type, more involved in White House furnishings than in the possibility of Republican tenants.

No unkind word ever was said of Jackie as of Edith Bolling Wilson, Eleanor Roosevelt and, now, of Lady Bird Johnson. Mrs. Johnson is being charged in Congress with all the ills of the highway beautification bill. One of these ills was LBJ's abrupt pressure to compel a House committee to report Lady Bird's bill for action. Some legislators complained of unwarranted White House pressure in behalf of Legislation that had no claim on emergency status.

There was partisan belief that LBJ put the pressure on because Lady Bird needed enactment of the highway beautification bill as a background for some of her own special political projects. So it was that Lady Bird became controversial.

There is resentment, too, in the Senate. Lady Bird's bill as drafted and imposed by her husband's orders is despised by helpless conservatives. They call it an arrogant and inexcusable invasion of state authority.

"Big sister knows best," cracked one angry senator.

But, of course, Lady Bird didn't draft the bill nor is she precisely responsible for its details or for LBJ's heavy handed power play in demanding congressional action. But Lady Bird gets the blame for that all the same.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Late last month the Communist party called 80 selected Red youths in from all over the United States for a secret training school.

The sessions were held at Camp Midvale, at Ringwood, N.J., about 35 miles from New York City. Students were hand picked as potential future leaders of the senior Communist party.

The meetings were so secret that the two weeks they were there the students were prohibited from communicating with the outside world. No phone calls were permitted, incoming or outgoing. Students were not allowed to send letters from the camp. As an added security measure, students used only their first names for the two weeks.

During the sessions, several leaders of the W.E.B. Du Bois (youth) Clubs of America were inducted into full membership in the Communist party.

Instructors at the school included top Reds. Communist party general secretary Gus Hall, vice-chairman Henry Winston and Claude Lightfoot, chief party theoretician Herbert Aptheker, national youth director Michael Zagarell, national education secretary Hyman Lumer, national committee member Helen Winter and veteran party officials James Jackson, Jacob Stachel, Betty Gannett and George Meyers were among the teachers.

Most students attending the school have now been sent to key cities to begin twin recruiting drives for the Communist party and for the Du Bois Clubs. Young people working on these drives are paid $30 a week.

The main thrust of this organizational drive centers in key Midwest cities—St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

The secret school included instruction in Lenin's works on the necessity of and the methods of achieving the violent overthrow of non-Communist governments by force.

Other courses dealt with the Communist theory of "peaceful coexistence" and how it is a form of the class struggle between Communists.

Course titles included "The fight for peace and against imperialist aggression in Viet Nam;" "The struggle of Negroes in the United States for equality;" "The class struggle and the trade union movement;" "The revolutionary significance of the civil rights movement;" and "The struggle for economic welfare."

Required reading included several chapters in the Soviet Communist text "Fundamentals of Marxism-Leninism."

The Communist youth were told to use every opportunity to work into the civil rights movement.

They were told to co-operate with all student drives against the United States in Viet Nam including drives which urge young men to refuse military service in Southeast Asia.

They were instructed to work through them as fronts rather than openly as Reds.

All this adds up to one thing. The Communist problem is not the size of the Red organization. The problem rather is that with preparation, a handful of Communist-trained young people can sometimes push a non-Red youth group into acts which suit Communist aims.

Elisha Graves Otis, employed as a mechanic in a bedstead factory, designed and installed the first elevator equipped with an automatic safety device to prevent it from falling. He sold the first machine in 1853. Orders were few until, at Crystal Palace in New York City, he demonstrated his elevator by riding the platform high in the air and then ordering the rope cut.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently my husband and I went on a vacation and on our last night we found a well-kept motel. We rented a room and my husband told the motel clerk (who was also the owner) that we were very tired and hoped to get a good night's rest. We were assured we would.

At 5 A.M. we were practically thrown from our beds by terrific noises. We looked out the window and not ten feet away were bulldozers and heavy equipment at work. My husband was angry, went to the motel owner and demanded half his money back as we had had only half a night's rest. The motel owner refused to listen to him and walked away. My husband then became so furious that he stuffed a bath towel down the toilet just to get even. I became angry with him and still am. Was my husband within his rights to do what he did, or am I . . .

TOO CRITICAL?

DEAR CRITICAL: If the motel owner knew that the road outside your window would be under construction at 5 A.M., he is a crook. If he didn't know, but refused to listen to your husband, he is only a fool. But speaking of immaturity-in-action, your husband takes the teething ring!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Some of my women friends work in a large office. To celebrate their "anniversaries" with the company each year, the boss takes them out to lunch, but he takes them out only one at a time. He says this is so he can get to know them better. The boss is a married man. Don't you think his wife has a legitimate complaint?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If she thinks she has, let her take it up with her husband. I doubt if a once-a-year luncheon justifies a complaint. On the other hand, once a year might be enough.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I spent six weeks at summer camp and liked it a lot. One afternoon I was down by the lake watching the kids swim, but I didn't go in myself because I was going to be in a skit that night and I didn't want to get my hair wet. I had all my clothes on, and my wrist watch, too, when this one kid picked me up and threw me in the lake! I took my watch to the repair shop and was told it would cost me $9 to get it fixed. Should I send the bill to the kid who threw me in?

THROWN IN

DEAR THROWN: If you think it will do some good, by all means, do. But a clown who'd throw a girl in the lake, clothes and all, isn't likely to pay it. Try his father.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TOO OLD TO BE USEFUL": Is that so? Michelangelo painted the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel (on his back, on a scaffold) when he was nearly 90. Paderewski played magnificant piano at 79. John Wesley preached daily at 88. Alfred Lord Tennyson published "Crossing the Bar" at 80. Booth Tarkington wrote 16 novels after 60. (He was almost totally blind.) Benjamin Franklin went to France to serve his country at 72, and wrote his autobiography when he was over 80. And don't forget Grandma Moses!

Jim starts today by saying:

"I had the pleasure of playing with your old partner, Dave Bruce, in California this spring. He was still a great player and his sudden death last month represented the first death among your old team, the Four Aces, which won every major tournament including the first World's Championship and dominated bridge from 1933 until you broke up the team by entering military service the day after Pearl Harbor."

Oswald: "Dave was the first great bidder. He possessed a flair for analyzing what his partner was up to and coming up with the best final decision. Dave was given No. 1 ranking when the Life Master category was established in 1936. I was No. 2. We were partners on the Four Horsemen, the great bridge team that preceded the Four Aces. Hal Sims, who captained the Four Horsemen, had a rule against bidding grand slams, but Dave and I decided not to follow the rule any time we were certain of seven. Today's hand is perhaps the first grand slam ever bid in an important team match. Dave was South and it was before the days of Blackwood. West's interference bid crowded us, but Dave was able to reason from bidding that I had to have the right cards for a cinch grand slam in clubs."

Jim: "It doesn't look as if it were hard to play. I assume Dave ruffed a spade high at trick two, led a trump to his hand, ruffed another spade high, drew trumps and claimed his contract."

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

If the teen-ager in your family is reluctant to bring friends home, it could be for any one of a number of reasons. You might just check this list to see if any of the possible reasons listed could apply to you or your home.

One. You aren't as hospitable to your teen-ager's friends as to your own.

Two. You are overly critical of your son's or daughter's friends. You look for faults in manners and dress and point them out to your own teen-ager.

Three. You treat your teen-ager and his friends as though they were still children, just at the time when they are most anxious to be treated with more respect.

Four. There is no place in your house where your teen-ager and his friends can talk without an adult listening in.

Five. Your teen-ager never knows whether he will bring his friends into a peaceful house, or one where an unpleasant scene is going on.

Six. You are so untidy your teen-ager could be ashamed of the way you look.

Seven. You "take over" your son's or daughter's friends when they do visit, trying to act as though you are the same age instead of being what you are—a parent of a teen-ager.

Eight. You don't hesitate to nag at your teen-ager in front of his friends.

Nine. There is never anything in the refrigerator for your teen-ager to offer his friends.

Ten. You would really rather have your own teen-ager and his friends almost anywhere than at your house. (If so, they are sure to sense it.) If that is the case, you can forget this whole column.

You don't really want to be bothered with teen-agers.

Odds Favor Dodgers 4-1

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers were made overwhelming 4-1 favorites Tuesday to beat the Minnesota Twins in the World Series.

However, odds-makers in Las Vegas said they no longer were accepting bets on the Dodgers.

The odds-makers made the National League champion Dodgers 11-10 choices to wrap up the series in the sixth game scheduled for Wednesday at Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Bowling Banned

The game of bowling, a popular sport in England and Canada, was once banned by English monarchs, who felt it distracted able bodied men from the practice of archery, according to the National Geographic Magazine.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

"I am invited to a party given by my matron of honor at my wedding thirty years ago. I would like to wear my bridal grown (it still fits me). My neighbor says it is unsuitable and that I would look silly. I would like your opinion.—Mrs. J."

It's wonderful that you have kept your bridal gown! Of course wear it, and how nice that it still fits. Why not ask your friend to wear her "matron of honor" gown if she still has it. This would be wonderful, and be sure to have pictures taken at the party.

"Suddenly I want to change my hair color. It is drab gray and I cordially hate it. I am sixty and my husband says it's O. K., but he thinks me silly. I have fair skin and blue eyes, a bit faded, of course. What color should I have if I get the courage? —Kate."

Shakespear said, "Screw your courage to the sticking point" and so say I! Choose a soft silvery blonde tone or have a really good hairdresser use two shades and "frost your hair. Lovely. You will feel so happy at having done what you wanted to do. It's a good feeling.

"I am forty-five and have to attend many evening parties with my husband. Please tell me, should one always wear long gloves and how long? I wear formal evening dress, as does my husband. We are semi-professional singers.—E."

Long gloves with a formal gown are a "must." At the elbow, or above is correct, but there is a fashion for short gloves. I do not find them flattering but they are worn. As a semi - professional entertainer you should have long gloves to give a dramatic appearance.

'Around World' Lunches Slated At S. Seminole

By Jane Casselberry

This week is National School Lunch Week, a week set aside to acquaint parents and students with their cafeteria, the nutritious meals served there, and the trained staff.

At South Seminole Elementary, the cafeteria staff has planned a theme of "Around the World with School Lunch" and menus from various countries scheduled include Australia, Monday; United States of America, Tuesday; Spain, Wednesday, Italy, Thursday, and Japan, Friday. Students of upper grades have made poster maps of the different countries to be visited.

Parents are being urged to allow their children to buy their lunch during the week if at all possible. Every school with an average participation of 90 per cent will receive a certificate of award from the State Department of Education.

MENUS this week at South Seminole School cafeteria will be on the theme, "Around the World with School Lunch." Mrs. Lucille Babbit, lunchroom manager (right) and Mrs. Betty Schardien hold map of country featured Tuesday.

SHORT LIVES

It is estimated that life expectancy in Greece, Rome, Egypt and the Eastern Mediterranean region in the year 1 A.D. did not exceed 30 years.

Sinkhole Appears Near Lake Mary

The latest sinkhole of any size to appear in Seminole County, discovered Monday near Lake Mary, has apparently stabilized and is being filled in by the county road department.

The hole was discovered in Lake Emma Road, running between Lake Mary and Longwood, when William J. Holtsclaw drove into it in his car early Monday morning.

It is estimated that there are about 1,800 thunderstorms raging in the world at any given moment.

Word Power: What Happens To 'e'?

By The Reading Laboratory, Inc.
Written for NEA Special Services

When suffixes begin with vowels
Silent e grabs crying towels
When suffixes start other ways
Then silent e — make sure it stays.

The preceding column dealt with the most puzzling area in spelling. Now that you have completed it, you probably wonder what all the fuss was about. The same should be true of the next question in spelling which seems to have disturbed a lot of people. Once more: learn that verse above, and your troubles are over.

Today's question is: When do we keep the final silent e in a word when a suffix is added? Before we say anything else, let us become clear on what is silent e and what is a suffix.

Silent e is e that is not pronounced, such as the final e in receive. What is a suffix? A suffix is simply what is added to the end of a word (add ly to nice for nicely), whereas a prefix is what is added in front of a word (antecedent).

Back to the question: When do we drop the final silent e before a suffix, and when do we keep the final silent e?

When suffixes begin with vowels
Silent e grabs crying towels.

The final silent e disappears when the suffix begins with a vowel (a, e, i, o, u, y). The word sense ends in final silent e add the suffix ible. We get sensible.

Add the suffix ing to change, and the final silent e disappears in changing. Take the word rogue and add ish, and you have roguish. Desire becomes desirous, value becomes valuable, and sponge becomes spongy. Where did all the final silent e's go? The rhyme tells us.

Let's see what the rest of the rule says:

When suffixes start other ways
Then silent e—make sure it stays.

"When suffixes start other ways" means simply "When suffixes start with consonants," obviously. The consonants are all the letters except a, e, i, o, u, y.

So we take a word which ends in final silent e: care. Now we add a suffix which begins with a consonant: ful. What do we do? We read the ditty.

So now we have careful. Now take entire, and add ly. The suffix, ly, begins with a consonant, so "silent e—make sure it stays." Now take the word face and add the suffix less. The first thing you ask yourself is, "With what does the suffix start? Vowel or consonant?" This suffix, less, begins with a consonant, so we go back to the rhyme once more.

When suffixes start other ways,
Then final e—make sure it stays.

What, therefore, explains all the noise about final silent e?

(NEXT: Keep e to Save Soft g)

Skindiver, 17, Drowns In Lake

Frank Hopko, 17, of Edgewater, drowned Sunday afternoon while SCUBA diving in Lake Gale on the edge of Deltona, it was learned today.

His body was quickly recovered and he was rushed to Seminole Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Continued efforts of resuscitation were made from the time the body was recovered until it reached the hospital.

There's a little bug in every Karmann Ghia.

Underneath it all, this fancy hunk of car is still a Volkswagen.

It's got Volkswagen's 4-speed synchromesh transmission. And the Volkswagen's chassis and torsion bar suspension.

The big wheels that rack up 40,000 and more miles on a set of tires are all VW.

And so is the air-cooled engine that can't boil over in the summer or freeze up in the winter.

30 miles on a gallon of regular and no oil between changes are practically s.o.p. on the Karmann Ghia.

Not to mention the remarkable Volkswagen traction. The inexpensive and easy-to-come-by parts. The low insurance. The reasonably priced, reliable service.

You can't see the "bug" part of a Karmann Ghia because it's traveling incognito in a sporty, Italian-designed body.

So you can drive a Karmann Ghia and most people won't even know it's got a bug in it.

But you will.

World's Biggest Building To Shelter Moon Rocket

The Sanford Herald
Page 4A — Oct 13, 1965

SEMINOLE COUNTY FAIR
NOV. 1-6, 1965

MERRITT ISLAND (UPI) — The world's biggest building is being equipped with one of the world's largest air conditioners to protect the U.S. manned moon rocket from the humid and salty Atlantic air while it is being assembled.

The structure is the NASA Kennedy Space Center's $100 million Vehicle Assembly Building, which towers 52 stories over the sand flats at Merritt Island on Florida's East Coast.

Set for completion in early 1966, the VAB will house the 36-story Apollo-Saturn V moon rocket during assembly.

The heart of the air-conditioning system, big enough to cool off 4,000 homes, is a 10,000-ton water chilling plant. Designed by engineers of Borg-Warner Corporation's York Division, the plant uses enough refrigerant to supply all the refrigerators in Salt Lake City.

For the VAB, contractors, under direction of the Canaveral District, U.S. Army Engineers, are installing five miles of pipe to circulate the chilled water to scores of air handling units.

The complexities of assembling the Apollo-Saturn, require a controlled environment, said Ralph Case, of New York, chief of the mechanical section of Urbahn - Roberts - Seelye-Moran, the joint name of the four architectural and engineering firms which designed the VAB.

"The work platforms that will extend out from the inside walls of the VAB and encircle the rocket will have sensitive assembly and testing equipment," Case said. "There will be 'clean rooms' where precision parts such as valves will be checked. There also will be banks of computers in the launch control center that must be kept cool. And, there's the comfort of the scientists and engineers.

"All this requires a relative humidity of 50 per cent, which means a greater dehumidification job than in New York or Chicago, for example, because of Florida's higher humidity."

From all angles, the VAB is huge. It covers 7.5 acres and, in volume, will be the largest building in the world, with more than 129 million cubic feet. The Pentagon has 77 million and the Great Pyramid of Cheops, the world's heftiest structure for 45 centuries, has 96 million.

The VAB will be 716 feet long, 515 feet wide and 526 feet high, making it the tallest building south of the Washington Monument, which is just 30 feet taller.

When the 36-story Apollo-Saturn V is ready for its three-mile trip to the landing pad, it will be hauled vertically through doors 456 feet high.

Still Solves Water Shortage

A simple solar still that will yield sufficient water to assure survival in the desert can be made by anyone from a sheet of plastic about six and a half feet square and a piece of aluminum foil.

A yield of one and a half quarts a day of potable water was obtained from one such survival still, two scientists reported in Science 149:877, 1965.

Ray D. Jackson and C. H. M. van Bavel of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Water Conservation Laboratory, Tempe, Ariz., developed the simple device. It uses the sun's energy to distill water from the soil or from plants, especially cactus.

The still is basically a half globe, three feet in diameter and a foot and a half deep, scooped out of desert sand and covered with a sheet of plastic. A stone in the center keeps the plastic in a conical shape.

The sun's heat evaporates moisture from the soil which then condenses onto the underside of the cooler sheet, where it runs down to the center of the cone and drips into a container made of aluminum foil or some other waterproof material. The center of the hole should be dug out an additional eight inches or so to make room for the container, which should hold from two to four quarts.

Cut-up cactus, or some vegetable matter can be placed in the still to increase the moisture available for condensation.

A piece of plastic tubing about five feet long can be used to suck the water from the container without disturbing the still.

Vatican Scores Conversion Of Religious Items For Homes

The Sanford Herald
Oct. 13, 1965 — Page 5A

ROME (UPI) — The practice of many Italian artisans and antique dealers of converting pulpits into bars and silver communion plates into ashtrays has drawn the wrath of a Vatican spokesman.

The practice stems from the desire of wealthy Italians to furnish and decorate their homes with ancient furniture and objects of art.

Ancient furniture obviously is limited in quantity and to make up for the increased demand artisans, antique dealers and others have been turning to church to find the "raw materials."

Writing in Osservatore della Domenica, weekly supplement of the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano, Monsignor Benvenuto Matteucci, a well-known Vatican prelate and author, condemned the increased spoliation of churches with the sometimes naive cooperation of parish priests, especially in rural areas.

The countryside, a traditional hunting ground for antiquities scouts, has little more to offer in the way of ancient, authentic furniture. But the churches in some regions still have a rich patrimony of objects and art pieces. The priests in general don't have too great a sense of artistic values and sometimes, pressed by the need to repair their old churches, they become easy prey of such operators.

What artisans and antique dealers can do with a piece of church furniture, such as a pulpit or a wooden altar fence, is incredible. Pulpits become bars, ostensories become lamps or frames, altar structures become libraries, silver communion plates become ashtrays.

Monsignor Matteucci's view, which certainly reflects the view of the Catholic hierarchy, is that objects that have been used for the service of God cannot be used for the earthy purposes to which they are generally converted.

Msgr. Matteucci termed the practice "disloyalty towards the religious tradition of the country," practical atheism" and "barbaric customs painted with civilization."

Some time ago the Vatican attempted to stop the spoliation of old churches. It sent a strong circular letter to all parish priests reminding them it was their duty to preserve the artistic patrimony of the churches they administer.

Results were both positive and negative. The positive consisted in the increased difficulty of finding a receptive priest to a countryside village. The negative is that thefts in the churches have greatly increased.

Valuable paintings and small art objects frequently are stolen from an isolated church. Police recently discovered about 16 ancient paintings in a cave on the Alban hills, south of Rome. They had been lifted from various churches in the area.

The pontifical commission for Sacred Art has requested all parish priests to put into effect all available measures to prevent thefts.

Covenant Church Schedules Bible Conference

Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, Sanford, will begin an Evangelistic Bible Conference at Sunday's 9 a.m. worship service with Rev. Henry S. Schum, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Swannanoa, N. C., as leader.

Rev. Schum is noted throughout the denomination for his success in leading such special services and he is much in demand in his synod.

Conference meetings will be continued in 7:30 p.m. services, Sunday through Thursday, and special 7 a.m. meetings are planned Monday through Thursday in half hour sessions for all junior and senior high youth.

If necessary, transportation will be provided to school for the young people, insuring their arrival before opening time.

Robert H. Mero will be in charge of the music and Mrs. Val Robbins will be organist.

Invitation to the public is extended by Rev. Thomas H. Makin, minister of Church of the Covenant.

Driver Picks Wrong 'Victim'

Lloyd Ray St. John, 36, of Casselberry, was charged early Sunday after his automobile struck a parked Florida Highway Patrol car.

Tpr. Jerry Hawthorne was parked in the patrol cruiser at the intersection of Hwy. 17-92 and Division Street in Fern Park when the accident occurred.

St. John was charged with DWI by investigating trooper Cpl. J. J. Maxwell, newly assigned to Sanford.

Jax Expressway Tops Collections

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Jacksonville expressway collected the highest amount in tolls during September, the state Road Department said.

Of the $[illegible] in tolls collected in September, the Mathews bridge on the expressway collected $[illegible].

Miami's Airport expressway had the most traffic, a total of 1.5 million vehicles.

Highlights

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. Along with guest stars Benny Goodman and singer Caterina Valente, Danny takes us on a tour through the 1920's, the depression and the swing and radio era of the 1940s. In the main skit Danny plays a brilliant law prospect who has taken to drink in the depression days. Benny swings with his clarinet to "Poor Butterfly" and "The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise." Miss Valente's songs are "I hear Music" and "Hindustan," and she does popular nursery rhymes to a Bossanova beat while playing the guitar. a rocking show.

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS Lost In Space. "The Hungry Sea." A whole hour spent battling for survival as the Robinson party has to contend with earthquakes, freezing temperatures and extreme heat and a churning sea. And when Smith actually tries to help, no one believes him. Lots of imagination and some of the conversations with the robot are quite funny. The kids should enjoy this.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "The Awakening." (Color) Thomas Wolfe said "you can't go home again," but he wasn't counting on TV at the time. In this 90-minute Western, Betsy (Roberta Shore) comes home and promptly gets herself very involved emotionally with a young man with deep problems. Glenn Corbett plays the young man, but it's John Doucette's performance as a tough mine boss that steals the show.

8:30-9 p.m. CBS. Beverly Hillbillies. "Possum Day." Beverly Hills is so backward, the Clampetts feel they're going to have to go home so Granny can run for the title of Possum Queen, which Ladybird had last year, Ladybird Hacklemeyer, that is. Mrs. Drysdale couldn't be happier at the prospect of losing her neighbors, but the good banker panics to the point of desperation and makes a rash promise he quickly regrets. Standard for the series.

9-9:30 p.m. CBS. Green Acres. "My Husband The Rooster Renter." Talk about excitement! You won't believe all that happens in this half hour. The Douglasses get the roof fixed, install the telephone, put in plumbing, buy an electric generator and even rent a rooster who refuses to crow. Pat Buttram's Haney remains the most interesting character.

9-10 p.m. NBC Bob Hope Presents. "Kicks." (Color) This seems to have been created for the purpose of introducing newcomer Melodie Johnson as one of today's madcap, insensitive moderns, a gal who does everything for "kicks." But it's Mickey Rooney (who seems to excel on TV when the script calls for him to have financial problems involving horses) who gallops off with the show. The melodrama is alternately irritating and interesting.

9-10 p.m. ABC. The Big Valley. "The Odyssey of Jubal Tanner." (Color) an hour of philosophy debating the rights of the individual vs. the rights of society in a downbeat western yarn distinguished primarily by Arthur O'Connell's fine performance as a pathetic old man who returns to the valley just in time to interfere with the community's plans to build a dam.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. Dick Van Dyke Show. "Me Rise At My Wedding." A flashback story showing Rob's courtship of Laura and his critical problem when Laura was elected camp "Bivouac Baby" and became the prize date for a night for a lucky enlisted man, who turns into a deadly rival. Van Williams is O.K as the new suitor, but with most of the regulars absent, the show is well below par, though still worth catching.

10-11 p.m. NBC. I Spy. "Dragon's Teeth." (Color) No show that gives Laya Raki a chance to move around can be devoid of interest, at least to men, and the luscious Miss Raki is very much in evidence here. In other ways this episode is like an updated takeoff on the Adventures of Fu Manchu, Western agents vs. the Oriental peril. Stars Robert Culp and Bill Cosby are still OK and the hour is interesting, but the series has yet to find the spark it needs to become a major hit.

10-11 P.M. ABC. Amos Burke, Secret Agent. "The Man With The Power." After Burke goes to the trouble of smuggling a scientist and his new invention from behind the Iron Curtain, the man is kidnapped in Vienna and turns up rigged as a human bomb trigger, capable of destroying the entire city if a two-million-dollar ransom isn't paid in 28 hours. Thomas Gomez and John Abbott, a couple of old pro sinister actors help a lot.

Gasoline Taxes Dip In Seminole

Gasoline tax collections took a sizable dip in Seminole County in September.

Taxes collected on 1.2 million gallons sold in Seminole amounted to $97,[illegible]. This is a decline of about $12,000 from September, 1964.

Sales and tax collections for September this year were above August however, when the total was $96,121.

Sales tax collections, however, showed a [illegible] per cent increase during September.

The revenue collected on the state sales tax last month amounted to $97,[illegible], compared to $[illegible] for September, 1964. The September figure also was higher than August when sales taxes collected amounted to $[illegible].

Seminole County will receive $[illegible] as its two-cent share of the gasoline gallonage tax.

Armenians were the first people to set up a Christian state. They have been Christians since A.D. 301.

13,000-Year-Old Human Skull Discovered By Americans

CAIRO (UPI)—An American expedition has unearthed part of the skull of a human who lived about 13,000 years ago in southern Egypt.

Dr. Charles A. Reed, director of the Yale University Prehistoric Expedition to Nubia, said he believed this was the oldest human remain ever discovered in Egypt.

The frontal bone was found by expedition member Dr. Martin Baumhoff of the University of California in 1963 near Kom Ombo, the resettlement area for nearly 50,000 Nubians whose ancestral land will be flooded by the backwaters of the Aswan High Dam.

The find represents part of the forehead with the complete upper curve of the right eye socket and much of the upper curve of the left eye socket. Reed said the thick bone and heavy ridges indicate it belonged to "a very rugged male."

The bone and a few associated fragments were the only human remains found by the 19-member expedition, sponsored by Yale University's Peabody museum of Natural History, in about 13 months of field work spread over three winter seasons. But the group has discovered hundreds of tons of stone and animal bone tools dating back 60,000 to 70,000 years.

The expedition has completed its field work, which cost about 165,000 dollars. Reed said it has brought back to Cairo only about five tons of the more interesting finds. A U.A.R. committee of experts has decided which are to remain here and which are to be taken home by the expedition.

The expedition first came to Egypt in September 1962 under the UNECO program for saving Nubian antiquities.

After working the Kom Ombo area, it scoured the eastern bank of the Nile from the Sudanese border to the High Dam and also part of the western bank in central Nubia. It purchased a houseboat which served as a floating laboratory and dormitory for expedition members. The boat, named "Hathor" after an ancient Egyptian goddess, was given to the U.A.R. Antiquities Department after the group completed its work.

Reed said the expedition was concerned almost entirely with Paleolithic (old stone age) relics. Its finds included crudely chipped stone handaxes believed to be 60,000 or 70,000 years old, more refined blades an scrapers reflecting progress in craftsmanship and culture, and 15,000 - year - old "microliths" which are very small stone tools in geometric shapes believed to have been used together in groups to make composite tools.

In a small valley leading down to the Nile from the Red Sea hills, Dr. Reed said the expedition found about 20 "fish spears" made of animal bone in a deposit accummulated where people had probably camped to fish. One of the spears was nearly intact and it represented a 15-centimeter-long slightly curved bone tool with one edge barbed for effective holding of a speared fish.

The spears, Reed said, were the first discovery of the kind in Nubia. He said it was difficult to date them at presents but the likeliest guess was 6,000 to 8,000 years ago.

Lake Mary Boy Wins Highest Scouting Honor

By Frances Wester

Gary Omey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Omey of Lake Mary and a member of Boy Scout Troop 242, was presented with the highest honorary medal award and certificate that is given by the National Court of Honor in a special ceremony at the last meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

The award was presented by C. D. Caldwell, chief executive of the Central Boy Scout Council. This medal is given to scouts who save or attempt to save a life, which endeavor shows heroism, resourcefulness, and skill. Omey saved the life of Mike Dougherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dougherty Jr. of Lake Mary, when he rescued him from drowning in a lake on March 28 of this year.

Caldwell said that this is the first time this award has been given in this council, and it is only the second time that it has been given in his 30 years of scouting service.

Mrs. Omey was called to pin the award on her son, and Mike was introduced. Scoutmaster Roy Howell Jr. was congratulated for his excellent leadership of this troop.

Randall Chase, president of the Central Florida Boy Scout Council, presented a certificate to the Lake Mary Chamber and commended the leadership that has made the troop what it 's today. All members were thrilled with the recognition that took place and proud to be sponsors of such a fine group of boys. The Chamber has been sponsoring this troop for approximately eight years. Chase has had two of his own sons in the troop, and is an active member of the Chamber.

Bill Ennis, a scout dignitary from Atlanta, Ga., was also present for the ceremony. Troy Ray spoke in behalf of the United Fund which contributes to the Boy Scouts, and congratulated the troop.

Business accomplished after the program included passing of a motion to erect more road signs coming into Lake Mary, also to repaint the street signs, and a committee was formed to work for public cooperation in getting an interchange on Interstate 4.

A discussion was held on the House Numbering Project, and also on the possibility of establishing a Youth Center in Lake Mary if there is enough interest shown by parents and adults. For more information contact Mrs. Vola Sloan.

It was announced that the county will continue preliminary work on Lake Mary Boulevard next week.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were furnished and served by Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. Harry E. Sandusky, and Mrs. Elmer C. Tyning.

Horoscope Forecast

Thursday, October 14, 1965

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An adverse day and evening in which most everyone is restless, discontented and desirous of making unwise moves as well as criticizing others — and not kindly. Get out of this atmosphere by being with sunny personalities, reading good literature and thinking about happy, cheerful subjects.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day fraught with worry if you don't count your change, look where you're going, think before you speak, etc. Be ahead of the game. Show courtesy to others, put on the soft pedal.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take care you do not invest unwisely because you may be a little strapped for ready cash at this time and gamble what little you have. Collect from those who are just stringing you along. Then have fun — inexpensively, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Letting off steam with those around you will only result in further misunderstanding, so tone down. Think and act in a practical fashion. Get abode more orderly, appearance improved.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Getting nervous or feeling others are against you because you are not as successful as you want to be, is not thinking positively. Get hold of yourself. Get busy — work.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Gentility is best with chums who are under pressure and have no time for your problems or worries right now. Be charming and help them instead. Then this becomes a good day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If higher-ups are in irate mood, realize that the pressures are great upon him, or her. Keep calm, loyal. Obey all laws pertaining to you. Add, not detract from prestige you now enjoy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't think that distant places and persons are best for you now, since your success can come right at home. Others may be envious of you as it is. Get busy or you lose out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Relying on your intuition alone is not wise today or in the evening, so be sure to test it against your good judgment. Regular advisor has own worries. Go it alone pretty much.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Keep busy at own affairs now, since associates are easily disturbed at this time with little provocation. Show feeling for others. Be kind, show that you have wisdom.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Better carry through with duties before you — recreation can wait a far better time. Co-workers are very co-operative. Show that you have patience and courtesy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Choose between accomplishing and having a bit of fun at big expense — then you know what to do. Best at interims of work. Put finest talents to work wisely.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take this opportunity to get rid of whatever is obsolete, out-of-fashion. Get your life running very smoothly. Ally yourself with persons of means and character and all is fine.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be literally born dissatisfied with everything, and this fine quality can make of your progeny a great fighter for good and justice in the world. Heroism and courage are strong in this chart. The mind is brilliant, too, and for that reason a wonderful education is necessary that will fit him, or her, for doing great and important work. Anything connected with politics, the law, medicine, etc. are exceptionally fine here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Seminole Solons Join Road Fight

Army Reserve Call Doubled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The organized reserve is being called upon to furnish more than twice as many men as originally anticipated for the "selected" reserve force brought to combat readiness for possible duty in Viet Nam.

The Pentagon released a complete list of the 976 Army reserve and National Guard units that will be included in the 150 000-man force.

The list identified units in each of the 50 states that will be used to support the three 15,000-man infantry divisions and six 4,000-man brigades that had been announced earlier as the core of the force. It showed 119,000 troops from the National Guard and 31,000 from the Army reserves.

When Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara originally announced the plan last Sept. 30 he said that it would consist of 130,000 National Guardsmen and 15,000 men from the organized reserves.

The secretary's original announcement said the force would be subject to "possible active duty and possible commitment to combat" as part of the over-all military build-up to meet the increased effort in South Viet Nam.

Toward this end, the units involved will be upgraded to their full authorized troop strengths instead of the usual 70 to 80 per cent for reserve units. They will receive more equipment and weapons to meet the increase.

Members of the units will have to attend 72 instead of the normal 48 drill periods each year, with much of the extra training expected to be provided in expanded week-end drills. The stepup in training will start next month.

The heavier training demands are expected to create some conflicts with the reservists' full time jobs and other obligations.

Pentagon officials met this week with state adjutant generals and National Guard commanders to discuss this and other problems that are likely to arise.

The increase in training is designed to enable the selected force to be capable of going into combat within eight weeks of being called to active duty, should they be needed.

It will take some time, however, before the units involved will be expected to attain this level of readiness.

While stressing that no decision has been made whether the force will eventually be called to active duty, McNamara has said he hopes it can be ready for use by the end of next June.

AROUND THE CLOCK

Students planning on going to the Seminole-Boone game at the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, should remember that tickets will be available at the school Friday for 75 cents each, half the $1.50 cost if bought at the gate. They also are urged to join the motorcade to the Tangerine Bowl which leaves the school at 6:30 p.m., escorted by members of the sheriff's department. This has turned into the biggest game of the year, and an extra large Sanford rooting section is expected.

Duval Schools Running Into $$$ Troubles

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Duval School Board warned the county's troubled schools may be closed in April because of a proposed $8 million cut in the school board's budget.

The school board also said it would suspend school bus service Monday, eliminate night football games and discontinue salary supplements to coaches and band leaders to save money for educational needs.

The resolution followed a tentative budget of $42.7 million adopted by the County Budget Commission. This was $8 million less than the school board's "minimum budget."

The board said that it will "operate schools only so long as it has the money with which to do so, and when the money is gone the schools will be closed."

Board member Harry Kincaid predicted unless the $8 million is restored, "the wheels of county education will grind to a halt in April."

Last year, the county's 15 public high schools were disaccredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, primarily on the grounds of insufficient school financing.

Dr. Vincent McGuire, chairman of the association's Florida accrediting committee, said the budget cut would keep the Duval high schools from being reaccredited.

"I predict a general exodus of education from Duval," McGuire said. "I wonder when the people of Duval County will do something about this octopus of personal greed, educational indifference and political chicanery."

Indian Summer Rules In Spots

United Press International

Indian summer ruled over most of the nation today although temperatures fell to the freezing mark in parts of Michigan and New England. A new tropical storm was born in the Atlantic.

The mercury soared to 100 degrees in the California desert Wednesday and climbed into the 70s as far north as the Dakotas. A repeat performance was on tap for today.

The weather bureau said a slight cold front moving eastward across the Dakotas may bring light showers to Minnesota later today, but the rain was not expected to deter the final game of the World Series at Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Surgery Sapped LBJ's Strength

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is not regaining his strength after surgery as rapidly as had been expected but his over-all recovery is "coming along fine," White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers reported today.

The Chief Executive spent a somewhat restless night at Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from his gall bladder and kidney stone operation.

As a result of having slept intermittently during the night, Johnson slept later than usual today, awakening about 9 a.m. (EDT).

THIS SIGN graphically illustrates why drivers are currently saving money at many service stations in the area. Jimmy Green points out notification that gasolines prices are lower, in case drivers were not aware. Price cutting began in the area about three days ago, and price of regular gasoline today was as low as 25.9 cents per gallon at some stations. Price war extends as far south as Orlando. Space Shot Lags

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Missilemen fell at least three hours behind today in an attempt to shoot the new Titan-3C military space launcher into orbit with two satellites and then have it perform a record string of space acrobatics.

The countdown on the powerful rocket was delayed about two hours in the mid-morning with dragging launch preparations. The Air Force said the earliest launch time was about 2 p.m. (EDT).

Project officers also said heavy clouds blanketing the spaceport threatened to delay the shot. The Air Force needs some camera coverage of the launch.

Earlier today, the Federal Space Agency shot an insect-like scientific satellite named "Ogo" into orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. The Soviet Union also was busy on the space front today. It said it had launched its second communications satellite.

The triple-barreled rocket, key to the U.S. soldier-in-space effort, was being readied for its second and toughest test flight. It was fueled and primed for launch Wednesday night.

The two satellites perched on the nose of the 124-foot booster are its first useful payloads.

One is loaded with sensors and imitation human tissue to measure the radiation hazards future astronauts may face. The other is a 44-inch radar sighting sphere.

Its two "bonus" payloads are miniatures compared to the 25,000-pound trailer-sized Man - Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) the Titan 3C is scheduled to start lofting in 1968.

The super Titan's main objectives today were to first reach orbit and then shoot the two satellites into their own separate orbital paths.

A series of seven more starts and stops was added to the mission to determine the full capabilitiy of the rocket's "switch engine" third stage.

The rocket was programmed to tackle the unprecedented string of maneuvers three hours after launch.

UF Donations Top $13,000; 40% Of Goal

Campaign division chairmen of the United Fund drive reported increased contributions today that boosted donations to date of over $13,643, or nearly 40 per cent of the goal of $35,000.

A real fish (red snapper) was hooked on the fishing line of Lee Moore, campaign chairman, by Bert Hollingsworth, campaign treasurer at the report breakfast held at the USO lounge this morning.

A bronze plaque, signifying the appreciation of the community was presented to President Troy Ray Jr., 1964 campaign chairman, in recognition of his leadership.

Moore praised the Winter Park Telephone Company for its co-operation with the Seminole County United Fund, in not only turning over collections from employes who live in Seminole County, but for contributing matching funds from the company for a total of $643.

Elena No Threat Through Friday

MIAMI (UPI) — A weather reconnaissance plane centered weak tropical storm Elena far east of Miami in the Atlantic today.

The storm was moving northwest and presented no threat to land through Friday, the Weather Bureau said.

Elena packed highest winds of 50 miles per hour and squalls with gale-force winds extend out 300 miles in the northern semi-circle.

To Join Unit

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) —Pvt. Winstel R. Belton, 26, who went on a hunger strike to keep from going to Viet Nam, today was under orders to rejoin his old outfit, the 1st Cavalry Division, now fighting in the Vietnamese Central Highlands.

Cleveland, Davis Plan Bond Talks

By Paul Brookshire

Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Rep. S. Joseph Davis Jr., Seminole County's two legislators, have joined the fight to push Gov. Haydon Burns' $300 million road bond program over in the Nov. 2 election.

Cleveland and Davis will attend a meeting of legislators in Gainesville Saturday to organize forces. Forty-four representatives and 24 senators have banded together to support the program.

Both Seminole legislators voted for the road bond program when it was approved by the Legislature last spring.

They expect to be participating in debates and making speeches for the road bonds in the two remaining weeks before election.

"There is urgent need for four-laning to move traffic in the state," Senator Cleveland said today. "Also there is the need for the program for safety reasons.

"I favor this program because it will be at no cost to the taxpayer and there will be no increase in taxes," Cleveland continued.

"If the road bond program is not approved there is a possibility of increase in the gasoline tax in the foreseeable future," the Seminole senator said.

Representative Davis said he is supporting road bonds because it will be good for the state of Florida even though there is no direct benefit to Seminole County.

"I only wish the bond program could have been bigger and provided more money for more roads," Davis said.

"A four-lane system is a necessity," Davis declared. "There is the safety factor and the need for getting more roads in a shorter period of time."

Davis said he believed the $300 million road bond issue probably would make more money available for primary road construction, as well.

The legislative majority in Tallahassee is being organized into a group of bond supporters by Sen. Verle Pope, of St. Augustine, Senate president pro tem, and House speaker-designate George Stone.

Sen. John McCarty, of Fort Pierce, and Rep. Ray Mattox, of Winter Haven, will debate the $300 million road bond issue in Sanford Tuesday night.

McCarty is an outspoken opponent of the program being advanced by Gov. Haydon Burns. Mattox is a supporter of the measure.

The debate, expected to be one of the best in a series now under way around the state, is being sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Women's Club. Assisting them is the Democratic Association of Seminole County and the Seminole County Young Democrats.

The McCarty-Mattox debate will be held at 8 p. m. at the Police Benevolent Association building on the lakefront.

BOOTH SMASHED

A hit-and-run driver reportedly demolished a 'phone booth at the intersection of [illegible] Street and Olive Avenue. Witnesses said the car hit the booth, then drove off. Damage to the 'phone booth was estimated at [illegible].

Now Dean At Palatka

Dr. Earl S. Weldon, 36, dean of instruction at St. Johns River Junior College in Palatka, this afternoon was named president of Seminole County Junior College.

Appointment was made during the regular monthly meeting of the Seminole County School Board.

Selection of Dr. Weldon to lead the new college was based on recommendations from a committee of leading Seminole County citizens appointed by Gov. Haydon Burns to serve in an advisory capacity.

The school board also officially dubbed the new school "Seminole County Junior College."

Mason Wharton, chairman of the schoolboard, this afternoon said, "The board met with Dr. Weldon Tuesday night and is well pleased with him. We feel we are very fortunate to have a man of his calibre here."

The new president is a native of Gainesville and received his degrees in education from the University of Florida. He has taught physical education at Lake City, been coach and English instructor, and later principal, at Fort White High School in Columbia County.

Dr. Weldon—whose new job carries an annual salary of $15,000—has served as a consultant with the adult education division of the Florida Department of Education.

A Korean War Army veteran, Dr. Weldon is married and the father of three children. He is a Methodist.

The new president will assume his duties in January and will immediately set up administrative offices. Planning of the curriculum and interviewing of prospective faculty members will begin at that time.

Seminole County Junior College expects to begin classes in temporary quarters in September of next year. It has been suggested—and the Bernarr Macfadden Foundation in New York is agreeable—the new college be temporarily housed in the Sanford Naval Academy property on Mellonville Avenue.

No definite site for the new two - year state - supported school yet has been selected, although there are six locations throughout the county under consideration.

Heading the list, however, is a 100-acre site in Casselberry, valued at $150,000, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hibbard Casselberry, and Allan Goldberg and Associates of Miami, who have indicated they will give the property for the college "upon formal request" of the school board. The request was presented Wednesday.

Indians Don War Paint And Fight

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — A band of angry Indians, insisting on perpetual rights to fish the bountiful salmon streams off Puget Sound, as their ancestors did, fought a pitched battle Wednesday with state game agents trying to enforce a ban on net fishing.

In their second uprising in a week, the Indians battled the state agents with sticks, rocks and fists. They charged the wardens used brass knuckles and leather straps and roughed up women and children.

The tribesmen claim their fishing rights are guaranteed by a 110-year-old treaty with the U.S government. A number of Indians earn their living fishing the rivers for salmon and steelhead trout. They contend the state regulations would deprive them of their livelihood.

State game wardens said they would continue to enforce a court injunction prohibiting the Indians from fishing with nets in the Nisqually river.

About 50 Indians — men, women and children — battled with two dozen law officers on the banks of the river about 10 miles east of here, near where the river flows into the sound.

Six Indians were arrested on charges of interfering with an officer. All were later released on $100 bond each. Two newsmen were roughed up during the melee.

The Indians announced their "fish-in" in advance. They said it was staged to protest against what they consider illegal restrictions on their commercial fishing activities.

It was the second Indian uprising in less than a week. Between 40 and 50 Indians fought a pre-dawn battle with state agents Saturday.

The feud between the Indians and the state has been simmering for years. But the two fights were the only recorded violence.

The Indians claim the treaty of Medicine Creek, signed 110 years ago by their ancestors and the U.S. government, guaranteed them a right to fish any way they please in any waters their ancestors fished.

The State departments of game and fisheries are willing to concede the Indians unlimited fishing rights on reservations. But the agencies contend the Indians must obey the same conservation laws as other citizens when they leave the reservation.
