Andrew Carraway Elected Mayor For His Second Term

City Discusses But Puts Off Action On Proposed Construction Of Stadium

Andrew Carraway was reelected mayor of Sanford last night by unanimous vote of the City Commission, which soon afterward was engaged in a lively discussion as to whether or not to pledge an estimated $75,000 of cigarette tax money, representing the first year's receipts toward construction of a $165,000 baseball-football stadium to replace what Joel Field termed a "horse and buggy grand stand."

After hearing Karlisle Housholder, representing the Sanford Stadium Authority, and J. M. Moughton, architect, outline plans for the stadium and after hearing a number of arguments for and two arguments against use of the cigarette tax money for this purpose, the Commission, at the suggestion of Randall Chase, decided to give the matter further study and again take up the proposal next Monday night.

About 25 citizens were present, including James Q. Hallway, commander of the Sanford Post 82 of the American Legion, a proponent of the stadium, who referred to the present stand facilities as a "white elephant."

"There are a lot of beams and columns of the present grandstand which are apparently rotten all the way through, and the stadium are in very poor shape," declared City Manager Clifford McKibbin in revealing the findings of a recent inspection by City Building Inspector John Gillon.

Opposition to the proposal to use the cigarette money for the stadium was voiced by Sam Martins, executive of Florida Fashions, Inc. "I would favor seeing the stadium as a mark of progress," he declared, but added McKibbin questioned the wisdom of using the cigarette money for this purpose when streets and sewers are in need of improvement, and suggested that the Commission make a survey in this respect. Alvin Odham challenged a statement by Karlisle Housholder that the new stadium could cost $110,000.

Citrus Controls Eased To Allow Bigger Shipments

LAKELAND, Jan. 4. — (AP) — The federal control committee has loosened citrus controls slightly to allow more fruit to take advantage of current good prices.

Fresh oranges were bringing $7 to $8.25 a box f.o.b. (freight) for shipping on the packhouse market. Cannons were paying $2.25 a box delivered, which means about $1.80 for the growers above production costs, an extremely high return.

The marketing agreement (control) committee yesterday recommended to the U. S. Department of Agriculture that shippers be allowed to resume moving the citrus crop to the northern markets after the holiday season ended.

While the recommendation applies only to interstate shipments to fresh fruit markets, the price for this fruit also is affected by the boom in cannery orange prices.

The latest increase in cannery prices is credited to the fact that concentrate plants are beginning to make purchases in volume.

The control committee continued present language regulations for another week, despite strong pleas to release small sizes there, too.

Temple oranges restrictions now effective were continued for the rest of the season. This fruit must be No. 2 Bussel grade or better, but there is no size regulation.

Grandfruit regulations for the rest of the season were set at the last meeting.

Passenger Service Cut Ordered By ICC

Railroads Using Coal To Cut Service 1-3 To Guard Supply; Lewis Sees 'Unrest'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today ordered a general one-third cut in railroad passenger service on lines using coal as fuel. The reduction is effective at 11:59 P. M. local time Sunday, January 8.

The order applies to all coal lines having 25 or less days supply of fuel coal for their passenger services "and not having available a sufficient supply."

The ICC said the action was made necessary by the dwindling supplies of coal due to the recent disturbances and curtailments in the coal mining industry.

It was the second time in recent cut such action as a result of the curtailments that the ICC has taken to curtail passenger service. The first such action was taken last night by the Commission when it ordered a one-third cut in passenger service on lines using coal as fuel.

The order was drawn to remain in effect for two months. It will automatically expire at midnight, March 8, unless the ICC itself takes further action.

The Association of American Railroads said from 30 to 40 railroads which operate in short coal and the same services provided as of Dec. 1, 1949.

The order was drawn to remain in effect for two months. It will automatically expire at midnight, March 8, unless the ICC itself takes further action.

John L. Lewis said there is "grave unrest" among the coal miners. He said the miners' desire to work for the operators would make contracts.

The Post-Dispatch telephoned Lewis at a hotel in Springfield, Ill., checked out of the hotel and the DMV office at Springfield said he probably left town.

Lewis said the situation in Illinois was "very bad."

World-Telegram Acquires NY Sun; Unions Blamed

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. — (AP) — The New York World-Telegram today purchased the New York Sun. Both are afternoon papers.

Beginning tomorrow the combined newspaper will be known as "The World-Telegram and Sun." It was announced by Roy W. Howard, president and editor of the World-Telegram, and Thomas W. Dewart, president and publisher of the Sun.

The Sun's outstanding features will be circulated in the World-Telegram. In a statement Dewart blamed union demands as a reason for the sale.

The merger leaves Manhattan with five morning and three afternoon newspapers—the Compass, Daily News, Herald Tribune, Mirror and Times in the morning field, and the Journal-American, New York Post Home News and the World-Telegram and Sun in the evening field.

Howard's statement said: "The Sun Printing and Publishing Association became the owners of the Sun in 1922. It was purchased by Frank A. Munsey. At his death in 1928, William T. Dewart became president. Dewart purchased the Sun and other Munsey interests for $25,000,000 in 1928. Thomas Dewart made today's announcement for the Sun. It is his son."

The World-Telegram was founded in 1928 as a replacement for the World-Telegram and Sun. It was founded by Joseph P. Kamp.

Dewey Flays Federal Taxes, Truman Policies

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 4. (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey flayed federal income taxes today as a tool of a "Frankenstein" government and charged President Truman's tax and fiscal policies were eating away many states' sovereignty.

In his eighth annual message to the legislature, Dewey said New York is proving "there is a voluntary road to health security."

Dewey offered no hint as to whether he would seek a third term as Governor or return to private life next Dec. 11. He renounced last week Vice Presidential aspirations.

Dewey told the legislature that New York's federal tax bill had soared from $1,300,000,000 in 1941 to $4,000,000,000 today.

He asserted: "This is a very effective way for the federal government to curtail the sovereignty of a state and deprive it of the finances with which to meet its own essential needs."

Phrasemaker Warren Originated 'Frontier Frugality', 'State Shack'

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 4. — (AP) — Fuller Warren the phrasemaker turned out a lot of headline winners during his first year as Governor of Florida.

Remember "frontier frugality," "pine tree prosperity," "hooded hoodlums," the "lethal lobby" and the "state shack?"

His flair for alliteration and short, punchy sentences helped push his statements and ideas boldly forward to catch the fancy of towns and legislators.

Warren warned: "When the legislature in special session levied what he called a limited sales tax, the Governor said it had ended for probably a long time to come the 'tax turmoil' that has plagued Florida for years."

He sponsored as his No. 1 bill the "cattle-fencing act to rule highway hogs and car-wrecking cows" off the main roads of Florida.

He calls his passage one of the major achievements of his administration so far.

All his statements weren't that alliterative, but they seldom lacked color. Here are some that made news and kept the first year of the Warren administration.

In his inaugural address, he stated his campaign pledge that "you won't have to use anybody to see if you can see me," but he couldn't resist ad libbing into his prepared text a comment that "it will help if you voted right." He quickly labored to add it as a joke.

A month later he said the press (Continued on page 2)

President Eliminates Inflation Control Program In 1950 Speech

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP) — There were some differences between President Truman's state of the union message today and the one he delivered before the first session of the 81st Congress a year ago.

For one thing, there was no new demand for increased military training, although the President called for "a strong and efficient national defense organization," and termed "continuation of selective defense plans."

Socialized Medicine

Seeing a lesson to the United States in the results of British socialized medicine to date, Harold E. Stassen, in an exclusive article in the January Reader's Digest, warns against the adoption of a similar system in this country...

Mr. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, bases his article on his recently completed study of the British health program, now in effect for 18 months...

How this works out in practice, to the detriment of former high standards of medical care, was expressed by one British physician: "The people who exaggerate their aches, or who are hypochondriacs and imagine they are ill, continually clog our offices and take our time by constantly asking for unneeded service..."

Before the National Health Act, this doctor added, he could keep abreast with latest medical developments, had time to advise school officials on preventive and sanitary measures, and to discuss with specialists new problems in disease and new advances in drugs and treatment...

Citing the "tragic effect" on preventive medicine, Stassen says, "Public health work and measures for the prevention of disease have been retarded and even abandoned..."

Britain's huge bill for medical care, now about four percent of the entire national income, is reflected in the heaviest tax program of any major nation, Stassen says...

Olympic Skating Champion Wins Sullivan Award

Tennis Playing Doris Hart Of Jacksonville Places 5th

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Richard T. (Dick) Button, first American ever to win an Olympic figure skating championship, has been voted the prized James E. Sullivan Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the outstanding U. S. amateur athlete.

In winning the A.A.U.'s foremost award for 1949, the 19-year-old Harvard sophomore from Englewood, N. J., set another precedent. No other winter sports athlete ever had won the trophy before.

The trophy has been presented annually since 1930 to the "amateur athlete who, by performance, example and good influence, did most to advance the cause of good sportsmanship during the year."

The graceful, brown-haired youngster captured the Olympic title at St. Moritz, Switzerland, last February, in a brilliant exhibition in freestyle skating. He is the current world's champion and holds every major title for which he is eligible.

Runner-up was Joseph Verdure of Philadelphia. Verdure, crack all-around swimmer and winner of the breaststroke crown at the 1948 London Olympic games, was third in last year's poll which was won by Bob Mathias, Olympic decathlon titlist from Tulare, Calif. James Fuchs, Yale's shotput great, finished third. The Chicago lucky third the 16-pound iron ball 58 feet, 3 27/64 inches in Oslo last summer for a world record.

The other placings were:

Fourth — Fred Witt, FBI man who represents the New York A. C. the nation's top distance runner.

Fifth — Doris Hart, Jacksonville, Fla., tennis star and West man cup player.

Sixth — Barbara Jensen, San Francisco, basketball and medalist swimmer, high individual center in the 1949 women's national indoor and outdoor championship meets.

Seventh — Allen Stark, Hingham, Mass., former Yale swimmer who won the 1948 Olympic backstroke title and established several world records in his specialty last year.

Eighth — nationwide panel of sports authorities, in a final vote on the seven outstanding amateurs.

Bronko Nagurski, Football's Top Line-Buster, Still Sports Minded

By ALIC KAVLIK AP Newsfeatures INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn.—Bronko Nagurski

Those words are as magic to him, his home town as they are everywhere else.

Bronko, a living legend in football, is a long-time resident of this bustling community on the Canadian border.

Between wrestling appearances, work on his 100 acre farm, and handling and feeding excursions, Nagurski is a busy man.

Mr. Football lives in a comfortable home on Runny Lake. He's been many years since he wore crested shoes, but his interest in the sport is still high. And he looks fit enough to be wearing No. 3 to the Chicago Bears again.

The Nag broke in with the Bears in 1930 after leaving the University of Minnesota. By that time Red Grange had lost some of the lightning speed that brought him national fame, Nagurski says, but the redhead developed into a terrific defensive unit, especially on passes.

In Nagurski's opinion, Dutch Clark, former Colorado University star and later a professional player and coach, was one of the most deceptive runners he ever met.

Bill Hewitt, end, and Link Lynn, tackle, were two Chicago Bear teammates who Bronko really respected.

"When I backed up the line behind those two guys, I got few tackles," Bronko says. "Once in awhile they'd let a man through just to keep me on my toes."

Two men who Nagurski found hardest to get by were Cal Hubbard and Mike Michalske, tackle and guard, respectively, for the Green Bay Packers. Hubbard is now an American League baseball umpire.

Bronko thinks Cliff Battles, Washington Redskins halfback, was one of the greatest end runners in the game. He gave Nagurski many bad afternoons on wide sweeps.

Nagurski lists Carl Brumbaugh of the Chicago Bears as one of the smartest quarterbacks the pro game has seen.

"Brumbaugh had an uncanny

'Bob' Kurlander Is New Tennis Pro At Mayfair Inn

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Robert "Bob" Kurlander, 24, one of the 30 top ranking tennis pros of the country, arrived here yesterday after six weeks of practice at Daytona Beach to assume his new duties as pro at the Mayfair Inn.

In addition to tennis instruction, he will operate a shop at the inn with tennis equipment and clothing. During the summer season he serves as pro of the Mountain Ridge Country Club, West Caldwell, N. J. His home is at Nutley, N. J.

He revealed that he started playing tennis at the age of eight. In 1942 he ranked eight and in 1943 sixth in amateur play in the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association. Later in 1943 he entered the Army Air Corps, and combined study as a pilot with tennis instruction in camps such as Newport Field, Ala. and Brooks Field, Texas. Emerging from army duty in 1945 he played golf for awhile, won a few trophies, and then turned to tennis again, winning the northern New Jersey championship. Shortly after that he turned pro.

The Mayfair courts with their concrete surface are exceptionally good for improving the play. Kurlander said that in California where so many tennis champions are developed courts are mostly of concrete surface.

Some exciting events are in prospect at the Mayfair Court as Mr. Kurlander intends, he said, to invite some outstanding amateurs and pros to compete. During his recent stay in Daytona he played quite a bit with Eddie Campbell, former Rutgers coach, he said.

CCNY Quintet Breaks St. Johns Win Streak, 54-52

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—CCNY knocked highly-rated St. Johns' from the unbeaten ranks as the North Carolina State club, 69-54, with Sammy Ranzino dropping in 22 points. The quintet snapped the St. Johns' streak at 12 straight, 64-52. CCNY made a point for the first time in the game.

City College snapped the St. Johns' streak, at 12 straight, 64-52. North Carolina State drubbed St. Johns, 69-54, with Sammy Ranzino dropping in 22 points. The Wolfpack now has a 9-1 record. Washington State edged Oregon State, 42-38 in a Pacific Coast Conference game. Kansas State (9-3) wallopped Utah State, 70-46 without defeat over Western Reserve, 81-35.

Aggrone raised its all-winning streak to nine against Arizona State of Tempe, 67-65. Charles Cooper sank two goals in the final two minutes to pull the game out. Wyoming (13-4) needed an overtime to whip Colorado A & M, 41-32. Columbia won its second game in two nights over Oregon, 46-35.

Oklahoma City U., winners of the Oklahoma City tourney, dropped Tulsa, 48-39. The victors now have 11 wins and two losses. Dayton (13-1) defeated Maryland, 68-49. West Virginia (8-3) outpointed Geneva, 68-65. Siena of Loudonville, N. Y., took care of Denver, 67-58. The New Yorkers' 13-game winning streak is the longest among the major and near-major leagues.

William and Mary won over Wake Forest, 69-54, and Manhattan defeated George Washington, 68-64.

Major games today include Kentucky at Mississippi State, Duquesne at Oklahoma A & M, Detroit at St. Louis, Holy Cross vs. Harvard and Brigham Young at Loyola of Chicago.

SEES TIGHT RACE

CHICAGO—(AP)—Defending Big Ten basketball champion Illinois is tough again, thinks Coach Harry Combes of the Illini. "We have a good, strong, well-balanced team," says Combes. "Our success in defending the title will depend on our ability to win the close ones, especially on the road. There has been little loss of strength among leaders of 1949, while teams that did not have success last season are better. I look for a tight race."

DEFEAT WORSE THAN JAIL

DALLAS, Jan. 4.—(AP)—"I guess you North Carolina people had enough trouble at the Cotton Bowl game," Judge Joe M. Hill told two Tar Heel boosters charged with being drunk.

So he suspended sentence and let them go home yesterday for sober reflection on Rice Institute's 27-13 shattering of North Carolina in the football classic.

Chattahoochee Field Trials Run 7 Opening Braces

EUPAULA, Ala., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Plenty of birds and perfect weather fashioned the third of the seventh renewal of the Chattahoochee Valley Field Trial Association meet at the Wycoff and Crosscreek Plantation near here.

Tom Devans, secretary of the Association, said more covays were discovered yesterday than in any other trials held by the group since its start. More than 15 covays were flushed by the large gallery which accompanied the dogs and their handlers.

Only seven braces, a total of 14 dogs, were run off yesterday. This left 11 braces yet to be run in the open all age stakes. It is hoped that the stake will be completed Thursday. The open derby is slated to be run off after the completion of the open all-ages.

In Tuesday's running, the first brace saw Dr. Clydes Mack, handled by Ches Harris, and Dr. Sams Marlanna, handled by Ray Shenk, fall to make a find. Tip Top Bob, handled by Herman Smith, and Tip Top Joe, handled by T. L. Brown, also had little bird work. Tip Top Bob was picked up midway in the race because of sickness.

In the third brace, Galaway Bay, handled by Dick Dodd, and Chesneur, handled by Mack McGrady, shared the finding of five or six covays. Both dogs handled well; each backed up his partner.

Nether Agrappa, handled by John Gates, and Satilla Sam, handled by Bill Eichings, had a find, but Doctors Stylish Tim, handled by Shanks, made two finds. His running mate, Spunky Creek Doctor, handled by Herman Smith, had no luck at all. Anonymous, handled by Etchings, and Myokan, handled by Tom Lunsford, also failed to make a discovery. Ariel Titan Girl, handled by Herman Smith, and Beau handled by Ed McFarrior, made one each.

North Carolina Gets Biggest Slice Of Bowl Money, $126,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—North Carolina lost the game but took home the fattest wad of cash of all from Monday's bowl football game.

On the other hand, Ohio State, which won the day's greatest thriller before the largest crowd in the richest and oldest of the post-season fixtures, barely made expenses—if at all.

The Tar Heels, beaten 27-13 by Rice in the Cotton Bowl, were handed a check for $125,961.94, all for themselves.

Ohio's Buckeyes, victors over California, 17-14, on Jimmy Hargue's last gasp field goal in the Rose Bowl, figure to collect a mere $30,000. The losers will net about $80,000.

There are just a couple of the quirks that popped up in carving the $2,000,000 bowl malon.

The non-profit Cotton Bowl announced gross receipts of $357,412.80 which resulted in the lucrative checks to the principals.

Rice's Owls received $125,961.95, just as North Carolina, but had to kick back 25 per cent of it to the Southeastern Conference. This left the Owls $94,463.95.

Rose Bowl auditors still are in the process of counting the change from the Pasadena classic but expect at least $400,000 from tickets, concessions commitments and so forth.

From this, each of the conference inolved—the Pacific Coast and Big Ten—stands to get $105,000.

It's in the division of these spoils that Ohio State comes out with the starkest end of the purse or any team that played in the major bowls.

The Big Ten takes the money and carries it up 11 ways, two of the shares going to the competing institution. Another share—one eleventh, that is—goes to the commissioner's office.

One share goes to each of the other members of the Conference. The Sugar Bowl also is working on its books but is counting on a gross of around $400,000. The competing teams, Oklahoma and Louisiana State, would receive about $120,000 each.

The Sooners, who triumphed 131-70-0, must donate $27,000 of its take to the Big Seven Conference, leaving them $93,000 if the $120,000 estimate holds up.

LSU can keep the major portion of its check. It has to fork over only a nominal sum to the Southeastern Conference.

The Orange Bowl simplifies matters by guaranteeing the participants a flat $75,000 each. In this case it goes to Santa Clara and Kentucky. The gross was around $325,000.

Maryland and Missouri were guaranteed $45,000 each from the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville. Other bowls paid off far less handomely.

Out of this money, however, must come team expenses. Oklahoma figured the traveling, camp maintenance, entertainment and so forth this year ran close to $50,000.

It's reported Northwestern lost money in journeying out to Pasadena a year ago to beat California in the Rose Bowl.

But things may get better all around. The NCAA bowl committees has recommended that the bowls be required to pay competing schools at least 50 per cent of the gross receipts.

This is a matter that will come up at the NCAA meeting here later this month.

New Two-Minute Rule Version Brings Cheers

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—A new version of the two-minute rule in college basketball was tried at Madison Square Garden for the first time last night, and it was greeted with unanimous approval.

Even Coach Frank McGuire of St. John's, which lost its first game of the season, 64-62, to City College, was satisfied with the change.

Naturally, Coach Nat Holman of the winning Beavers was delighted.

"It speeds up the game," both agreed.

The crowd of more than 18,000 apparently agreed with the mentors. The spectators cheered themselves hoarse in the final two minutes although only one point, and that in the final second, was scored.

Under the national rule, a team fouled in the last two minutes gets a free throw then takes the ball out of bounds.

Local version provides that following all free throws in the final two minutes, opponents named by team captains jump at the foul line.

World Leaders List Gains, Losses In Better World Understanding

By Associated Press

Chiang Kai-Shek believes a Pacific pact is imperative to promote the cause of peace in 1950. Marshal Tito says aggressors must be shown they can't win. Two United Nations leaders say atomic agreements should be this year's first objectives.

These are among the highlights of answers received by the Associated Press in a symposium on the following questions:

1. What in your opinion constitutes the chief gain, or loss, of the year of better world understanding in 1949?

2. What do you believe would contribute most to world peace and security in 1950?

3. What would contribute most to world economic recovery and stability?

Several answering the questions expressed the view that President Truman's policy was a plan to help underdeveloped areas—would be an important factor toward world economic stability.

Tito, Yugoslav leader who has become one of Moscow's chief targets, sent a one-sentence response: "The peace of the world can be preserved only if all peace-loving powers make it clear to all would-be aggressors that they can count on no better fate than that of the aggressors of World War II."

Chiang Kai-Shek, leader of the Chinese Nationalists, said: "World peace and security should be based upon freedom for mankind, racial equality, freedom from discrimination and freedom from aggression. This is imperative to conclude immediately a Pacific counter pact to the Atlantic Pact. Only by doing so can the spread of world domination instigated by the Communist international be called to a halt."

"No contribution to world economic recovery and stability in 1950 can be greater than a united and determined effort on the part of democratic countries to shatter the 'Iron Curtain' extended by international Communism into wide areas of Asia, and keep the door of Asia open and free."

Two other Nations leaders, Brig. General Carlos P. Romulo and Trygve Lie, declared that progress toward agreements in the field of atomic energy would be the most important contribution 1950 could bring to peace.

Romulo, president of the U. N. Assembly, added: "The implementation of President Truman's point four and the United Nations technical assistance program would contribute most to world economic recovery and stability."

A similar recommendation, along with a line of thought from Lie, U. N. secretary general, he called for "full participation by all nations in the United Nations technical assistance scheme, and the gradual expansion of the former president of the U. N. assembly, Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, said regional defensive and economic arrangements can be of great importance but that the primary burden of all peoples lies in support of the U. N.

In Germany, high commissioner John J. McCloy saw a loss through Communist rule but a gain in Atlantic Pact unity. He called for "removal of the iron curtains of the world" and liberalizing of trade. Dr. Franz Blücher, vice

Chiang Attempts To Revive Failing Formosa Defense

TAIPEH, Formosa, Jan. 4.—(AP) Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek returned from a holiday vacation today faced with the pressing problem of saving Formosa and Hainan Islands from the Reds.

Back from nearly two weeks at the Formosa Sun and Moon Lake, Chiang was expected to plunge into an important conference immediately. Most pressing problem facing him is reorganization and unification of the command of Nationalist forces on Formosa and Hainan—the two main Chinese islands still in Nationalist hands.

The situation on Hainan Island was reported grave in the face of imminent Communist onslaught from Luchow Peninsula. A food and ammunition shortage there, plus diversification in the command of Hainan, are believed to be the southern islands' main weaknesses.

Hong Kong dispatches said Nationalist planes were dropping pamphlets on Red guerrillas on Hainan in the hope of persuading them to surrender. The pamphlets promised the guerrillas they would be treated well. Guerrillas hold much of the big south China island.

Communist irregulars on Hainan have become increasingly active as Red armies on nearby Luchow Peninsula complete their invasion preparations.

Nationalist Premier Yen Hsi-shan said there are 20,000 Communist guerrillas on Hainan. Other figures have ranged to twice that number.

Yen predicted the Reds will try to invade Formosa after completing their attack on Hainan.

Communist dispatches in Hong Kong claim Red guerrillas have destroyed five companies of Nationalist troops in raids recently.

Official Central News agency dispatches said Hainan based planes continued sorties against Red targets on the mainland. Attacks were made on Luchow Peninsula Communists and the former French concession of Kwangchow, a seaport in Kwangtung Province.

Nationalist planes also reportedly bombed Kunming, southern U. S. base in south China during the war with Japan, the Kunming raid was reportedly made on New Year's Day with bombers trying vainly to hit the home of Premier Yunnan governor Lai Han.

Severe fighting was reported southeast of Kunming where government troops driving on the Yunnan capital have met

Opposing a two-percent gross receipts tax during the regular session of the legislature, he said "I am bound not only by my campaign pledges, but by the conviction of my head and heart to veto a general sales tax, or even a general sales tax disguised as something else."

Announcing in September he would sign the limited sales tax bill, he said its conditions were "so stated that we can be certain that almost 99 percent of the average family's income will be free of any tax whatever."

In the early months of his administration, particularly, Warren repeatedly called for economy.

Illinois, where some 11,500 miners went on strike yesterday. "Is the same as the situation throughout the country? The operators will not permit the workers to share in the increase in the price of coal."

"They've raised the price of coal, as everybody knows," Lewis told the newspaper. "But there has been no increase in the cost of production. The miners are aware of this. And this has led to grave unrest among the miners."

The operators are holding the country up.

Asked for the reason behind the Illinois coal strike, Lewis replied: "The Illinois question is the same as the national. These little local manifestations have little bearing on the situation. That's all I care to say at this time. Thank you."

No official reason was given by the UMW for the walkouts in Illinois.

Hugh White, head of the UMW in Illinois, conferred with Lewis yesterday and then announced the three-day work week would be resumed by Illinois UMW miners next Monday.

and suggested further study before taking action on the project. Householder revealed that after considering two types of construction, steel or concrete, the latter was chosen as the best. The conclusion that the steel type of construction was favored for the project, sealing a total of 4,365 persons. Drawing and charts of the proposed stadium were shown by Elton J. Moughton, architect.

The Rev. A. G. McInnis told of the similar situation that faced his former home city of Weycross, Ga. where one old stadium was about to collapse, and of how through the co-operation of the city and county a $380,000 stadium was built. Sanford, he declared, is on the verge of great growth and I don't know of anything that will boost the growth of Sanford more than adequate recreation facilities.

Joel Field representing the American Legion told of plans to donate more than $700 reserved by the Post for a memorial plaque at the stadium in memory of those who lost their lives in the world wars. The Legion would like to support the stadium project as a living memorial," he declared, and pointed out that district tournaments of the Legion Junior Baseball League could be held at the stadium. "Remember the present horse and buggy grand stand," he urged.

John Kelder, city commissioner, pointed out that the stadium should not be considered as something done for today, but for a 10 year period at least, and recommended the use of the cigarette tax money as a basis of enabling the Stadium Authority to get ahead with plans for financing the project. "I am for good streets and sewerage too," he stated, and told of plans for this on which he had been working for the past month.

H. H. Colson of the Florida Power and Light Co. stated that he had attended the recent meeting of the Stadium Authority and had made the suggestion that the city cigarette tax money be earmarked as a starting point for financing the project.

Mayor Carraway pointed out that the city is not unaware of the need for more sewers and better streets, and if new water lines. He suggested to the Commission that action on the cigarette tax proposal to finance the stadium be delayed until Monday night, and the commissioners agreed.

John Stenstrom, WTRR sports announcer, termed the building of the stadium the first step toward bringing about other needed improvements.

will play a leading role in the future of our country.

Against that estimate of the long future Mr. Truman outlined for Congress what he plans to do and what he wants Congress to do in foreign affairs in the months immediately ahead.

He showed reticence in the bipartisan foreign policy, saying: "Both of our great political parties are committed to working together—and I am sure they will believe this end (world peace)."

He made clear that he was proposing nothing essentially new but rather the development of the specific programs for peace which we have already begun."

"We shall continue to give our wholehearted support to the United Nations. We believe that this organization can ultimately provide the framework of international law and morality without which mankind cannot survive."

"Where the world remains ununited, and as long as our own security and the security of the free world require, we will maintain a strong and well-balanced defense organization. The selective service is an essential part of our defense plans, and it must be continued."

"Under the principles of the United Nations charter, we must continue to share in the common defense of free nations against aggression. At the last session, this Congress (which approved the Atlantic Pact and European Armies) laid the basis for this joint effort. We must now put into effect the common defense plans that are being worked out."

"We shall continue our efforts for world economic recovery. As an immediate means to this end we must continue our program of the European Recovery Program x x x. If we were to stop economic aid to Europe, it would be a disaster. It is a challenge to our efficiency and stability of our economic system; it is a challenge to our willingness to work with other peoples for world peace and world prosperity."

"If we are to meet the challenge, I believe that our country, at this crucial point in world history, will meet this challenge successfully. I believe that, if we stand with the other free nations of the world, we shall gain the full benefits of the American way of life to millions who do not now enjoy them, and prevent the spread of Communism."

poverty and misery now prevail. Without such improvement the recovery of Europe and the future of our own economy will not be secure. I urge that the Congress adopt the legislation now before it to provide for increasing the flow of technical assistance and capital investment to underdeveloped regions."

"Our democratic ideals, as well as our own best interests, require that we do our fair share in providing homes for the unfortunate victims of war and tyranny. x x x I urge the prompt enactment by the Congress of the legislation now before it to extend and broaden the existing displaced persons law and remove its discriminatory features."

"It is more essential now than ever, he said, "if the ideas of freedom and representative government are to prevail in these areas and particularly in the Far East, that their people experience, in their own lives, the benefits of scientific and economic advances."

"This program will require the movement of large amounts of capital from the industrial nations, and particularly from the United States, to productive use in the underdeveloped areas of the world."

"Recent world events make prompt action imperative."

"The danger today, the President told Congress, is that people seeking freedom and a better life 'may be corrupted and betrayed by the false promises of Communism.'"

"This challenge to us is more than a military challenge," he declared. "It is a challenge to the honesty of our professions, to the democratic faith, to the challenge to the efficiency and stability of our economic system; it is a challenge to our willingness to work with other peoples for world peace and world prosperity."

County Commission Urges Hearing On Telephone Service

Drive Is Launched To Get Dial System; McClelland Named Chairman Of Board

The Board of County Commissioners this morning passed a resolution requesting the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission to hold a hearing here at the earliest possible date to hear complaints for the purpose of requiring the Southern Bell Telephone Co. to improve its service and to install dial telephones.

The action followed the request for such a hearing by a delegation from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, headed by Edward Higgins, manager, to remedy what he termed poor and inefficient telephone service.

Other members of the Chamber of Commerce who protested the telephone service and advocated a hearing were G. W. Spencer and Andrew Sline.

James F. McClelland was named as chairman of the County Commission this morning to succeed H. B. Pope who asked to be excused from further duty in this respect. Mr. McClelland has been on the Commission for five years, and from 1928 to 1935 served as sheriff of Seminole County. He has lived here since 1896.

Mr. Higgins pointed out that the Telephone Company has maintained an antiquated switchboard and operator type of system since its inception and still maintains it.

"At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, called for the purpose of securing an explanation from the officials of the Company why said service continued to be inefficient, incompetent and irreparable of handling local and long distance traffic requirements of the City and County, it was flatly stated by an official of the Company that it had no intention of converting said antiquated switchboard to a dial system," Mr. Higgins asserted.

He quoted telephone officials as previously stating that as dial telephones are available, the system would be converted.

Mr. Higgins cited the growth of many marketing, brokerage, packing and shipping agencies in the City and County, and a heavy toll exacted upon local long distance facilities of the Telephone Company.

"Winter traffic overloads the equipment of the Company," he stated, "causing unnecessary and unneeded delays in the service rendered in not only long distance, but also local calls, resulting in loss to the local calls."

Orlando Company Indicted By U. S. Under Trust Laws

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Justice Department today announced the indictment of several members of the company on charges of attempting to monopolize telephone services in nine southern states.

The indictment, the department said, was returned by a federal grand jury at Mason, Ga., naming the Atlantic Telephone Company of Atlanta, Ga., six of its affiliates and two of its major officers.

Attorney General McGrath announced simultaneously that he is filing a civil anti-trust action against the same defendants, asking the court to restrain the company from a continuation of the charged violations of the anti-trust laws, and to restore competitive conditions.

Other charges in the indictment include the failure to preserve records of telephone calls and other information in violation of the anti-trust laws, and to restore competitive conditions.

The indictment said that the defendants, in violation of the anti-trust laws, conspired to restrain trade and competition in the telephone business in the nine southern states.

Bryant Praises Hoover Report At Jaycee Meet

Non Partisan Report Is Held As Biggest Thing In 150 Years

Rep. Ferris Bryant of Ocala, who was voted the outstanding young man in the recent legislative session, told the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce today that the most important work produced in government during the past 150 years is the non-partisan Hoover Commission Report advocating the re-organization of the federal government.

Pointing out that the Jaycees are promoting the adoption of the report, Mr. Bryant said, "The Jaycees have taken on this project because no one else has the courage and energy to do the job. Young men are the only ones who can see such things through to the ultimate objective of economy in government can be achieved. It is a process of stepping on someone's toes until the cost of government is finally reduced."

Mr. Bryant was introduced by Alvin Odham as one of the outstanding young men of Florida at a luncheon at the Yacht Club presided over by John Sanckler. John Kader was introduced to the club as a new member, and a resolution asking for a hearing to be held in the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission on the installation of a dial telephone system in Sanford was read by U. W. Spencer who asked, "The matter was referred to the board of directors' meeting tonight."

There are now about 2,000,000 employees in the federal government, Mr. Bryant said. The Hoover Commission report advocates a reduction of government employees for the first time in its history.

Mr. Bryant said the government should pay for itself by selling surplus property and by a tax on income from trusts and estates.

"I feel the present legislation should be given an opportunity to operate before we launch a new program. I don't think sentiment of congress is much different now than it was last fall."

Mr. Bryant's proposal would use federal funds to pay direct subsidies to farmers and thereby make some foods cheaper for consumers.

Bobby Marrs, 18, Is Painfully Hurt In Road Accident

Bobby Marrs, 18, of Lake Monroe, suffered two breaks in his right arm and a broken left leg when the motorcycle on which he was riding with James T. McDaniel, 17, of Sanford, collided at 7:30 o'clock last night on West First Street with a 1941 Chevrolet driven by Miss Alida Gertz of 800 Park Avenue.

Dr. C. L. Park, who attended Bobby Marrs, ordered him sent to Orange General Hospital, Orlando. His condition this morning is satisfactory, reported State Highway Patrolman J. H. Barrett, James McDaniel, driver of the motorcycle, was sent to the hospital at 11:30 p.m. after a Memorial Hospital last night after treatment.

Miss Gertz, a nurse at the local hospital, is charged with violating the traffic laws which allow her to drive only in the daytime, said Deputy Sheriff Charlie Scott. She was not reported to have been injured, nor was Miss Dorothy Barrett, another nurse at the hospital, who was driving with her at the time of the accident.

According to Patrolman Barrett, Miss Gertz was driving her car on West First Street, when the motorcycle motorcycle collided with the car.

California, South Damaged By Severe Freezing Weather

Winter's elements dealt damaging blows over wide areas from southern California into Dixieland today.

A blast of sub-freezing weather further endangered the multi-million dollar citrus and vegetable crops in southern California.

Scores of families were made homeless by floods in parts of Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

Bitter cold continued over most of the Midwest. The Arctic belt extended from Montana into Iowa as well as in some parts of the Rocky Mountain region.

A cold front, along with rain, sleet and some snow spread from the Midwest eastward to the Appalachians. Temperatures tumbled from abnormal marks to below freezing over most of the Ohio Valley and southward to below Memphis in the Mississippi Valley.

It looked like the onset of the unseasonable mild weather for the middle and north Atlantic states. But no severe weather appeared in prospect for the Gulf states, Florida and the South Atlantic states.

Rain and sleet over the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys created hazardous driving conditions. The heaviest weather was reported to extend over much of Pennsylvania and West Virginia and western Maryland by tonight or Friday.

The sub-freezing weather caused "considerable" damage to crops in the middle and south Atlantic states. Early surveys indicated that citrus losses would not compare to the losses, amounting to millions of dollars, suffered last January by a record freeze.

Heavy, steady rain and sleet caused heavy damage to tomatoes, with total loss in some areas. Grapefruit and tomatoes were hauled in the Imperial Valley.

Volunteer National Guardsmen and the Red Cross rushed supplies and food to flooded areas in central and southern Illinois. Schools in some communities were closed.

In Indianapolis, Gov. Henry F. Schricker alerted the National Guard for possible service as major floods over the full length of the Wabash and White Rivers were predicted by weather bureau officials.

Heavy rains over the past several days have sent the rivers and creeks in Indiana and Illinois over their banks.

The mercury dropped to a low of near zero in northwestern Arkansas as the cold air mass spread into the South. Temperatures fell from 20 to 40 degrees from their high marks yesterday. The cold with rain and sleet and some snow, extended from Arkansas and Kentucky into Tennessee, northern Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. Ice blanketed Arkansas from west to east. Two brothers were drowned in the icy Spring River near Walnut Ridge, Ark.

North and part of central Texas suffered in sub-freezing readings. Freezing rain fell over many areas, including Lufkin, Bryan, Waco, Temple and Austin.

The weather bureau reported a rain belt from central New York state southwestward through Tennessee and the lower Mississippi Valley and the freezing rain sleet or snow in an area one to 200 miles wide from central Ohio southwestward to southern Arkansas.

Masked Youth Beats, Robs Own Father

YORK, Pa., Jan. 5—(AP)—An 18-year-old youth was held today on charges of attacking and robbing his own father, 71-year-old George Minsnow, workman at a York manufacturing plant.

Police Chief Ralph Shultz said the aged man identified his son, William as one of two masked youths who slugged him and tied him up as he sabotaged the plant Tuesday night.

Shultz identified the other youth held as Clayton Krait, 17. Krait was detained on suspicion of York County juvenile authorities.

Shultz said the youths admitted they made off with $200 and some keys from the workman's pockets after falling to open the safe.

Young Minsnow was held for a hearing Monday before justice of the peace Lewis Berry on charges of breaking and entering, robbery and assault.

Greek Regime Collapses As Cabinet Quits

Pre-Election Dispute Brings Walkout Of Top Officials Who Directed Civil War

ATHENS, Jan. 5—(AP)—Greece's coalition government, which presided over the rout of the Communist guerrilla rebellion, collapsed today in a pre-election dispute between Papoulis (Royalist) and Liberal cabinet ministers. Premier Alexander Dromades sent his cabinet's resignation to King Paul.

At the same time Dromades announced to reporters that Alexander Papoulis, Greece's greatest living military hero, has resigned as commander of the nation's armed forces.

There have been persistent reports that Generalissimo Papoulis, leader of the final successful drive against the Communist, was about to enter the political arena and perhaps seek the premiership. The 57-year-old Generalissimo is the top favorite of those Greeks who are looking for a "strong man."

Dromades sent in the resignation after second deputy premier Sophocles Venizelos led 10 other Liberal Party ministers out of the government.

Venizelos said on resigning he was opposed to the general election now scheduled for April, he speeded up. He said voting should be held sooner to prevent the "terrible consequences the country could be exposed to from an unduly long pre-electoral campaign."

Venizelos also criticized first deputy premier Constantinos Tsilalidis, and of the Papulist Party, for a political speaking tour he was making in southern Greece. The tour, Venizelos charged, violated an agreement to postpone opening of the pre-electoral campaign.

"A prolonged pre-electoral campaign," Venizelos said, "would inevitably result in the state machinery being debilitated and rehabilitation halted."

The Liberal-Papulist coalition cabinet headed by Dromades had been in the government since July. Its membership was chiefly the same as the lineup the late Premier Demostheas Sophoulis headed and led to his death in late June.

Meanwhile, the government of the United States of Indonesia entered its second phase today. The federal cabinet took authority over the rich islands from the Netherlands.

Committee chairman Mohammad Yamin formally made the transfer of power to U. S. Lt. Seymour M. Hays, Jr. at a brief ceremony. A provisional constitution of the U. S. I. and arranged the election of the president in which

9 Crew Members Of Blockade Runner Quitted

HONG KONG, Jan. 5—(AP)—The Indonesian Line ship Flying Arrow will sail for Red Shanghai tomorrow without nine members of her 43 man crew.

A. F. Patton Company, Hong Kong agents for the line, said nine crewmen signed off the vessel to avoid the trip through the Chinese Nationalist blockade to the Communist port. Approaches to the port have been mined by Nationalists.

The seaman's action followed a U. S. State Department notice that they could sign off the ship if they did not wish to risk the trip.

Truman Declares Hands Off Policy In Formosa Affair

Postal Receipts Exceed $579,000 During Past Year

Sanford Post Office Is Seen As Fastest Growing In U. S.

The Sanford Post Office had receipts of $579,807.08 last year, or over 40 percent more than in the previous year. Postmaster Joe Field revealed today, indicating that this Post Office, which was the fastest growing post office in the United States in 1948, is still in that class.

"The extension of service and increase in personnel which have been effected during the past year," Mr. Field said, "show the continued and rapid increase in the growth and population of Sanford and its immediate vicinity. The tremendous increase in receipts is caused entirely by the increased business and shipment of Sanford's and Florida's large mail order house, Florida Fashions."

"The Sanford Post Office has the record," Mr. Field said, "of paying most post office money orders than any post office in the Florida with the exception of Jacksonville which receives over $100 for all paid money orders from 2nd, 3rd, and 4th class post offices in the state. Even so, during one month in 1949 we surpassed Jacksonville."

Establishment of a mounted route carrying mail to about 1,000 more families in Sanford was the main accomplishment of the local post office during 1949. Mr. Field added, "The route was established in the Gold-bera area with an average of about three to four houses per family, who have never had delivery of mail services before."

Other accomplishments of the Post Office have been the installation of five letter collectors, twice combination letter and parcel boxes and five new Janes boxes placed in various locations within the city delivery area. City delivery mail service developed on Leeward and was extended to the new building. Service was extended to 10 miles by Vanasse Street and Rural Route gave mail service to the residents between Wilson's Corner and Lake Monroe where a considerable number of new homes have been built and families clustered.

The Post Office has become an excellent Mr. Field reported, that it is now possible to keep up check-in and files in the recreation room and date new regular check-in cards and two separate check-in cards during 1949. A contract station known as Fellowship Front Station was established at the Municipal Airport with one check-in charge. During the Christmas season the Post Office had a record number of letters and parcels.

Holtzelaw Installed As Head Of Masons

James P. Holtzelaw was installed as Master of Sanford Lodge No. 62, F. and A. M. at its meeting Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple. He succeeded F. Hasky Wright.

Mr. Holtzelaw is manager of the local Coon-Cohn plant, is married, has one daughter, and lives at 1915 Elm Avenue.

Other officers installed were Henry C. Moore, senior warden; Viki Jones, junior warden; A. R. Lyles, chaplain; A. F. Ramsey, senior steward; Douglas Stinson, junior steward; L. T. POWER PROJECT SLATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—(AP)—President Truman said today he is working on a program to provide the whole country with public power wherever it is feasible.

The President told a news conference that he is anxious to develop the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

But he will never agree to develop the power project as a separate program, he emphasized. He said he wants the whole country to get the benefit of the St. Lawrence project.

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy to occasionally cloudy and continued mild through Friday. Isolated light showers along East Coast. Moderate southerly wind over north portion and moderate southeast winds over south portion.

Coal Owners Ask Court Injunction Against Miners

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5—(AP)—Coal operators filed in Federal court today a request for a full injunction against the coal miners' union, claiming that the union's actions would seriously harm the coal industry.

The coal groups filing charges today included those from Illinois, West Virginia, and Kentucky. The operators want Robert Denham, general counsel for the group, to compel him to bargain for a new contract and to end the present 100-day lockout. A three-day work week.

The operators turned to Denham after failing to get the White House to order an injunction against the Taft-Hartley Act.

President Truman indicated at a news conference today that he is studying the situation.

He had no comment on a reported appeal from St. Louis urging him to use his full authority to bring about full operation of the mines.

The appeal, a reporter said, was made by a St. Louis citizens fuel committee and the St. Louis retail coal dealers' association.

The President said he had not seen the message. He said it probably was sent to the press, and not to him. He said if he got it and it was entitled to an answer, he would answer it.

The President has steadfastly declined to view the limited production as a national emergency warranting the use of his injunction power under the Taft-Hartley Act.
