

Repeal Is Assured Although Carolina States Remain Dry

Wet Majority in Utah Decision Issue Since 30 States Now Have Banned Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—A disillusioned country has turned away from national prohibition as a solution of the age-old liquor problem and within 28 or 29 days that problem will be back upon the states.

With an irresistible impact of ballots, yesterday's elections again showed that the hope and confidence with which the Eighteenth Amendment was put into force almost 14 years ago was transformed by the events of the passing years into something far different.

Although the unanimous succession of states favoring the ratification of repeal was broken by the opposition of North and South Carolina, the margins in favor of repeal were in the North and Westward, in Ohio, Pennsylvania and finally Utah.

North Carolina went more than two to one against, while South Carolina's majority was less than 2000 votes.

Pennsylvania rolled up more than a five to one majority for repeal.

Ohio followed by a two to one advantage, and Utah was somewhat less than two to one with half of the precincts reported.

Kentucky counts its ballots today. If Kentucky votes repeal, Dec. 5 will be the repeal finale. If it votes "dry," Dec. 11 will signal the formal approval of repeal—the difference being in the holding of state conventions.

First scattered reports today showed 224 votes for repeal and 416 votes against repeal in the first Kentucky returns. The state started its count at 10:00 o'clock.

Elk Officers From Nearby Cities Will Attend Local Meet

Officers of Elk Lodges at New Smyrna, Daytona Beach, DeLand, and Euclid will come to Sanford Friday night for the dual purpose of paying a courtesy visit to Sanford Lodge No. 1241, and returning their part in a huge Armistice Day initiation which will be staged in DeLand as part of a nationwide ceremony on Saturday night.

Caplan Hale, immediate past district deputy grand exalted ruler, will lead the New Smyrna delegation; exalted ruler Thomas Tamm, heads the Daytona Beach officers; exalted ruler Walter Hawkins heads the DeLand group, while four or five Euclid lodges of officers will represent that city.

This group together with Exalted Ruler G. W. Spruener, and Leading Knight F. C. McMahon of the local lodge, will meet at 7:30 o'clock to hold a final rehearsal. They will handle the initiation of approximately 80 persons, most of them from Sanford, at DeLand Saturday night.

The regular local Elks meeting will start at 8:00 o'clock, to be followed by a turkey dinner and other refreshments. Howard Overlin, secretary of Sanford lodge, wishes the attendance of every Elk at the Friday meeting, he said today.

PROUD OF GANGSTERS

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Three boys in their teens, alleged to have stolen more than 100 automobiles and participated in 23 robberies, yesterday proudly exhibited the names of racketeers and gangsters which were tattooed on their arms as they were being paraded.

12 ARE KILLED DURING HECTIC HAVANA FIGHT

Revolt Continued For Over Six Hours As Protest Against Grau Government

HAVANA, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Twelve persons were known killed today in a revolt against the Grau government which apparently was put down after six and one-half hours of fighting, including an unsuccessful attack on the palace.

Thirty-three persons are wounded, a majority of them soldiers, as a spectacular movement was beaten back by the loyal army and then it degenerated into sporadic fusillades which threw up town Havana into a panic.

Crowds which poured, gestulating and shouting, into the streets when an apparent Grau victory became known, had fled terror-stricken during the attack against the palace during which hundreds of shots were fired.

The ABC lined with army units in the revolt. More than 200 rebels were arrested. The revolting troops were led by Guillermo Martelli, a former aviation captain.

The capital appeared more concerned over increasing labor troubles and over an incident at the Pan American Airways docks Monday, where eye-witnesses claimed Juan Antonio Roldan Padilla, a Cuban student leader, had waved his hands disdainfully on an American flag.

American residents here were indignant and many Cubans criticized the youth's act.

A full report of the matter was in the hands of the state department at Washington and it was learned American authorities here considered the matter "one of importance."

Terrorism and labor strife continued in the capital as well as in some parts in the interior and two bomb explosions in the town of Cardenas.

Hardie Praised By Miamian As Hearing Begins

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Dan Hardie, assuming his title for reinstatement as Duval County sheriff, called upon Dr. Ralph Green, Jacksonville mental specialist, to testify before Governor Sholtz today that Hardie was of "Sound body and mind."

The testimony was in answer to a charge of incompetency "by reason of lack of sound judgment and mental stability" under which Hardie was suspended.

Dan Hardie yesterday opened his fight for reinstatement as sheriff of Duval county with a complete denial of charges on which he was suspended that 17 by Governor Sholtz, The White House at Washington, Al Capone, Harry S. Truman, threats and attempted extortion from wealthy business men were mentioned by witnesses in the sheriff's behalf as they gave him credit for cleaning up the lawless element in Miami.

Hardie was charged with neglect and insubordination and lack of ability. He said the charges were "merely a conclusion" and not based on sworn evidence or testimony.

Motions to quash on grounds of insufficiency were made by his attorneys, Hiram and Caldwell, but Governor Sholtz, sitting as judge and jury, did not rule upon them before actual testimony of witnesses was started. Hardie sat at the opposite end of the table from the Governor.

N. B. T. Roney, former owner and operator of the fashionable Roney Plaza hotel at Miami Beach, said "police conditions in Miami Beach made it intolerable to operate a hotel there" before Hardie became sheriff.

"By 'police conditions' I mean the heads of the police departments not the individual members," he added to his statement which was not substantiated.

He said that under the sheriff who suspended Hardie there were (Continued On Page Three)

LaGuardia Elected Mayor Of New York As Tammany Falls

Powerful Machine Wrecked As Fusion Candidate Is Given 250,000 Plurality

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—The Tammany dynasty in New York City has fallen—its power in yesterday's elections which gave Fiorello LaGuardia the majority by a 250,000 vote plurality, and crushed the Farley-endorsed candidacy of Joseph V. McKee.

Never in the recent political history of Tammany Hall has the wreckage of a city-wide machine been so complete.

Mayor John P. O'Brien failed to carry even one of the five boroughs, and he finished third in a three-cornered race.

Outstanding in the election was the failure of John H. McCooey, Democratic boss of Brooklyn, to carry his own election district; the overwhelming defeat of Ferdinand Pecora, nationally known Senate Banking Committee investigator and McKee candidate for New York County district attorney; the blow to the prestige of Postmaster-General Farley, who endorsed McKee.

First fights, sluggings and other scattered violence spotted the Nation's largest city yesterday as more than 2,000,000 voters determined whether Tammany Hall would control municipal government for four more years.

As clackjack squibs worked in some lower East Side districts with almost the precision of the voting machines, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Fusion nominee for mayor, tore a badge from the coat of a Tammany worker in a scuffle in a voting place.

From district ward hustlers in the top of the ticket the Fusion spread Robert Minor, communal candidate for mayor, was tossed into the street by thugs, and William M. Chisholm, LaGuardia's campaign manager, was arrested for striking an election official.

The greatest peace time army in the city's history—19,000 policemen and 1700 deputy sergeants—fought to preserve order from the time the polls opened at 6 A. M. Their greatest task was in the lower East Side and in Harlem, where street fighting was heavy throughout the day.

Despite the disorders 70 percent of the 2,324,607 registered voters had pulled machine levers by 7:30 P. M., a record early vote.

At one point Fusion backers telephoned Chief Inspector John O'Brien and threatened to appeal to Gov. Herbert H. Lehman for aid unless the police squelched the disturbances more rapidly.

LaGuardia's forces claimed they were absorbing the bulk of the physical beatings administered by flying squadrons of strong-arm men as Tammany Hall—fighting its greatest battle since it was overthrown by John Purdy Mitchell in 1914—sought to send Mayor John P. O'Brien back to the City Hall.

Tammany chieftains denied they were responsible for the rioting. A report was received, that in brief had been passed through a window of an office of Joseph V. McKee, independent Democratic candidate.

Chase Mellen, Jr., Manhattan Republican chairman, telegraphed Police Commissioner Bolan that "conditions in the Second Avenue" (Continued On Page Three)

GOTHAM'S MAYOR HAS HAD CAREER OF INCONGRUITY

Fiery Italian Has Lent Aid To Conflicting Causes—All His Life

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia was reared under the stern discipline of army life and then sought the office of mayor of New York on a promise of "no bossism."

Independent, quick-tempered and quick-witted, the swarthy, heavy-jawed fusion leader is the kind of man who voted for war as a representative in Congress and offered his life for the cause of volunteering his service.

Then he began preaching a brotherhood of men.

He was liberal when conservatism was the vogue—a man when prohibition was popular he warned America of economic disasters in the days of plenty.

"Jimmie" Walker swamped Republican LaGuardia in the mayoral race in 1929, but he came thundering back this year under the fusion banner.

LaGuardia was born in New York City in 1882. His parents were born in Italy. He was just a youngster when his father's handiwork—moved to what is (Continued On Page Two)

County Board Establishes Fourteenth Voting Precinct At Town Of Fern Park

Fern Park, one of Seminole County's fastest growing communities, has been recognized by the Board of County Commissioners as being entitled to classification in the list of voting precincts in the county.

A highlight of the regular Commissioners' meeting of yesterday came when, with the presentation of a petition signed by 32 residents who represent 42 voters in Fern Park, the Commissioners declared that a voting precinct should be established at once, to be known as Precinct 14.

Residents of that community have been casting their ballots either at Longwood or Altamonte since those towns are close to the town limits of Fern Park.

The meeting also produced a long, but headlocked discussion between the County Commissioners and City Commissioners W. A. Loffler, B. G. Shinkins, and H. J. Lehman. The county judges and his use by city prisoners was the topic, and the outcome found the matter tabled for a further meeting.

CHOKECHERRY TIME

When the Chokecherries hang in burgundy clusters, And the field is a purple sky of asters...

The trouble with some people is that every time opportunity knocks, they get knocked out.

NRA has increased the income of wage earners by six percent, according to William G. Mason of the American Federation of Labor.

General Johnson says the NRA holds no threat to the freedom of the press, that there will be no censorship in this administration.

When Italo Balbo made his sensational flight from Italy to Chicago last summer, there was much suggestion raised that Premier Mussolini would not be long after kissing the hero of the flight upon both cheeks.

"Economic Security"

"Economic security" is a phrase which in recent years has lost much of its former meaning. "Economic security" used to mean a little something laid aside in a savings account...

The other day, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, addressing a group of high school girls in Chicago, called attention to the importance of "economic security."

The editor of the Miami Herald comments that he once heard that same good advice sitting on his mother's knee. "We read it in the moral lessons of childhood stories years ago," he writes...

The thing which everyone should be concerned with today is how can we make "economic security" secure. How can the thrifty person who deprives himself of certain luxuries or necessities today so that he may be better provided for tomorrow...

History shows that every depression is preceded by a boom, and also that the bigger the boom the longer the depression. It would seem, then, that the way to prevent depressions is to prevent booms.

But who is he that would be satisfied with this half way point? Who is he who would say when real estate reached a price of $500 a front foot, "That is high enough. I will take no more even though it is offered to me?"

"Economic security?" What does it mean? How can it be attained? How can it be maintained? Is anyone ever satisfied with security? Or does he want more?

The Next Flight

Aviation development continues apace despite all obstacles. That day seems to be fast approaching when some pilot will bemoan the fact that no new and daring feats remain to be accomplished.

"Thus it is within the realm of possibility," says the Christian Science Monitor, "that the world may witness a race between the two pilots, with another possibility of added starters, not in a contest involving simultaneous take-offs from a designated point, but a race to see which shall be first to get into the air."

"It is obvious that the aspirants must refuel in the air, a process proved entirely practical. Wiley Post also proved that it is possible for the lone flier, with a robot 'handling the stick,' to snatch brief rest. So these proposals must be looked upon as adventure, but not, as Mr. Goebel would imply, 'the only big adventure left in the aviation field.'"

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

The Misses Mayne and Barbara McLain were the guests of Mrs. M. E. Dooley at her home in Geneva Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Johnson, Miss Johnson, and E. A. Wright of Orlando were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Carlet.

First primary election under the commission government charter adopted in Orlando during August resulted Tuesday in a preference being shown Frank Sperry for mayor. In the race, Sperry polled 51% votes, while his only opponent, James L. Gilis, drew 49%.

As was expected, the movement of oranges and grapefruit has been slower this week. Weather conditions have been ideal and the fruit is maturing rapidly. Up to last night, about 900 cars had passed postways during the week. This is a very fair movement and prices have been fairly well maintained on ordinary fruit.

Gotham's Mayor Has Had Career Of Incongruity

At 20 he was a diplomat. His government sent him to the consular staff at Budapest and in 1904 he was appointed consul at Vienna, his mother's birthplace.

Two years later he quit the job, returned here and worked with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and studied law at New York University.

His first venture in politics was his appointment in 1916 to a deputy attorney generalship. He was a Republican and the political tamps were watching him even then, predicting big things for him when he got his growth.

But LaGuardia wouldn't wait. He announced for Congress that year from the Democratic twelfth. Even the Republicans were skeptical. LaGuardia was just a huckling then and had cast his lot against the sturdy lanes of an entrenched Democracy.

He won. Dramatic personal appeals brought him votes. Shrewd, a practical altruist, LaGuardia went to Congress and backed Woodrow Wilson to the limit, kicking over his party traces.

He took a course in aviation and when Wilson asked Congress to declare war, LaGuardia cast his vote and then hurried to France and flew a bombing plane.

Home again, a reform movement swept him into office as president of the board of aldermen. In 1921 he began a political duel with the city comptroller and kept his personality before the people.

Returning to Congress, he stayed in the news in 1924 by staying off the beaten path. He attacked the tenets of his own party, created the K. Kluy Klan and made beer on the outskirts of New York.

In 1925, his political stock reached its lowest point, after Walker smashed him to bits in campaign. In 1932 he was defeated for reelection to Congress.

LaGuardia believed the time had come when the city should be run by the people. He had a plan for it. He called it "The City of Tomorrow."

FORD IS AGAIN UNDER ATTACK OF NRA CHIEF

"The charge," he declared, "happened to come from a man who, entrenched in what he regards as an impregnable economic power, has exercised the most ruthless dictatorship of our time."

"In time and in way he has assumed to be a law unto himself and I have to have been associated with both assumptions. In both settings and having been elected to tell people where they get off such defiance to industry and opinion."

Pointing out the NRA has nothing directly to do with farm relief, Johnson said this and other government relief agencies are moving fast. Refusing to criticize of slowness where industry is concerned, Johnson said "That the President cannot wait a second and turn a condition created by many years of governmental neglect into easy prosperity in a year."

"But what can you do if you are doing nothing? Instead of making back harder by misunderstanding, you continue to give him your praise and your support, he will look this gladly farm disaster."

"There is now here in the South a situation and in tobacco when the price is less than 10 cents a pound. The situation is not satisfactory, but someone must do something about it."

Johnson, reviewing what has been done to alleviate the situation, said that the government has not done enough. He said that the government has not done enough to protect what decent business men do from the racketeering of unscrupulous minorities. We do not want to see the government do anything when applied to Al Capone, but these gentlemen do not like to see it applied to what a Senate committee has disclosed about certain New York fiduciaries. Why the truth is, in the light of these developments, Al Capone was a poor innocent Sicilian piker."

Further in the day in an address before the St. Paul business and civic leaders, Johnson had also stated the Mid West to give the administrative farm relief program a chance to function.

Daytona Beach Paid All Past Due Interest

DAYTONA BEACH, Nov. 8.—The City of Daytona Beach has completed payment of all bond interest due to and including April 1, 1933, by depositing the sum of $14,736 to the credit of bond holders with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Coupons payable last February, March and April will be redeemed upon presentation of the certificates of ownership.

Payment of these interest items means that a tentative agreement between the city and the Daytona Beach Bondholders' Association providing for a 2 percent reduction of interest rate on all bonds against the city for a period of five years, can become effective when and if the agreement is satisfied by the holders of 75 percent of outstanding bonds.

Another condition controlling the effectiveness of the agreement was that the city should keep operating expenditures down to $21,000 per month, and this pledge has been kept.

"There has been no power granted that could not be recalled by law. If this is a dictatorship it is a dictatorship by the people of the United States through their representation in Congress assembled."

"The government has got to get in to protect what decent business men do from the racketeering of unscrupulous minorities. We do not want to see the government do anything when applied to Al Capone, but these gentlemen do not like to see it applied to what a Senate committee has disclosed about certain New York fiduciaries. AMERICA ENTERS FINANCE FIELD LONG IN FORCE

Mechanics of New Gold Buying Policy Are Explained Clearly

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The United States is pouring its millions into the market for foreign exchange, comprising a field of finance that has been in existence in some form since goods produced in one country began to be sold in another.

It has served a dual purpose in simplifying international payments and reducing rapidly the bookkeeping what otherwise would have necessitated a stack and have done hundreds of millions of dollars in the hands of banks, merchants and international banks.

Normally it means that when an American exports goods to London, a London merchant sends $1,000 worth of his goods to a merchant in New York. The New Yorker pays for the goods in dollars, the London merchant in pounds. The bank then claims the English pounds and the New York banker sends some amount of dollars to the London banker.

However, this system has its own risks and losses of dollars and pounds also could be a result of the ownership and the exchange rates. So the export of New York sends the dollar to the London banker, the London banker takes the dollar and sends the pound to the London banker.

OVIBDO

One of the largest congregations in many years met at the Ovid Methodist Church, Sunday, Nov. 5, to celebrate Homecoming Day. This was the second such gathering of the kind, the other one was held last year.

The pastor, Dr. W. J. Carpenter, preached a sermon in the morning, touching on the supreme value of the Home and also of the Church. "Civilization was started in the family at the very beginning," he said. "The Home safeguards the nation. The Church is the best protector of the Home and is invaluable in building a common life."

Being also Sunday school Anniversary Day, Mr. Carpenter emphasized the supreme need of cultivating the spirit of peace. "This spirit is more needed than a model banking system or a recovery program of a nation, to both," he said.

In the afternoon "Misses' Day" was held. The church has been a member of the Methodist Church for over seventy-six years, conducted an old time "Love Feast."

At night the young women of the Missionary Society gave a dialogue, "Building and Living in a Church Home," which was introduced by Miss Elmer Wainwright and Mrs. W. H. Young.

Dinner was served at the church and it was abundant and enjoyed. Mrs. W. F. Taylor was in charge of this part of the program.

TITLE WINNERS TO BE DECIDED THIS SATURDAY

Important Contests To Feature Armistice Day Slate In U. S.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Two of the country's nine major football championships may be decided this week but the rest will have to await developments of Nov. 18 or later.

With a full month yet to go before some of the final returns are in, the championship races looked about like this today:

Big Six—Nebraska can clinch the title beyond dispute by beating Kansas this week.

Missouri Valley—Drake will win the crown if the Ball Dugout Oklahoma A. & M. If the champion Aggies beat Drake and Oregon, they'll finish with a perfect conference record of two victories, no defeats.

East—Army, Princeton and Duquesne, the sole remaining undefeated and untied teams with the first two conceded the best chance of winning up that way.

Big Ten—The elimination of Illinois left only Michigan, Purdue, and, at the outside, Minnesota, to carry on. Minnesota's tussle with Michigan may be decisive.

Southwest—Texas and Arkansas the only undefeated teams, meet Friday, Nov. 24.

Pacific—Oregon, Oregon State and Southern California still in the running but the first two clash this week.

Southeastern—Georgia, the only unbeaten and untied team, looks best but Alabama, Louisiana State, Mississippi and Vanderbilt, all undefeated but tied, can step in if the Georgians falter.

Southern—Duke, South Carolina, North Carolina and Washington & Lee survive.

Rocky Mountain—Utah leads with Denver and the Colorado Aggies a step behind.

This week's schedule is devoted almost entirely to sectional warfare with only four major inter-sectional tests on the card. The principal features of the week, by sections, follow:

East—Duquesne's unbeaten record may go by the boards in the battle with the Pitt Panthers but Princeton looks too strong for Dartmouth and Army should continue its sweep at Harvard's expense. Georgia's invasion of New Haven to meet the Yale Bulldogs tops an inter-sectional program marked otherwise by Ohio State's trip East to play Penn. Carnegie Tech's tangle with Michigan State at East Lansing and West Virginia's contest with Wisconsin at Madison. Fordham, its Rose Bowl ropes ruined by St. Mary's meets New York university. Other leading pairings send Navy against Columbia, Villanova against Boston colleges, Syracuse against Brown and Rutgers against Lafayette.

Big Ten—Tested by Illinois Michigan may find Iowa just about as tough in the most important duel of a conference slate that also sends Northwestern against Illinois and Chicago against Indiana. Purdue will travel to South Bend to see whether it's possible for a Notre Dame team to lose four games in succession.

Big Six—The Nebraska-Kansas game tops the program by common consent. Iowa State plays Kansas State and Oklahoma meets Missouri.

Pacific Coast—Southern California's struggle is the outstanding feature although the Oregon-Oregon State match may carry more championship significance.

South—Mississippi's Southeastern title hopes will be tested by Tennessee but Vanderbilt should continue in the running at Sewanee's expense. Florida and Georgia Tech, Tulane and Mississippi State square off in other conference tests while Alabama and Kentucky are facing Southern conference foes in Virginia Poly and Virginia Military respectively. Within the Southern conference itself, Duke should continue its winning streak at Maryland's expense and South Carolina looks superior to North Carolina State. Washington & Lee, another contender, stacks up against Virginia midwest with seven representatives led all other sectors in the number of undefeated and untied teams, followed by the south with six, the east with five and the far west with one.

The list, as compiled by The Associated Press, follows: (Three games or more).

Rollins Among Nations Undefeated Teams

Another wide sweep of the scepter of defeat had topped 11 teams off the undefeated and untied list today and left only 19 eleven through the country still still able to boast perfect records.

GATORS PREPARE TO ENTER TECH TILT ON OFFENSE

Team Has Made Superb Defensive Stand In Past Few Contests

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 3.—For the past two weeks the University of Florida has played superb defensive football, and the press heralded far and wide the Gators' "magnificent stands" against both Tennessee and Georgia. But now comes a different story. These "Fighting Gators" who have so richly earned their special football distinction, want to do some fighting in the direction of the other fellow's goal line, instead of right on top of their own, and special stress will be placed on offense this week as the Florida team prepares for its sixth gridiron encounter of the season which brings two traditional teams to Grant Field—Florida and Georgia Tech.

This Tech football team, tutored by one of the wise veterans of Southern football, undertook a murderous schedule in 1933, and consequently do not stand today as an unbeaten team, in fact they have lost three times.

Coaches Stanley, Clemons, and Bwyer have gone into a number of careful huddles since the game with Georgia at Jacksonville, and there is no mistaking their purpose this week. They are going to Atlanta to play an Armistice Day game with Ga. Tech, yes, but they are ready to declare an armistice on this superb defensive football, except in times of need, and will send the scoreboard attendants into action to record points for Florida.

Just how the Gators will accomplish this point-getting is the big problem. It does not look as if Jack (Sonny Boy) Henderson will perform before his Atlanta admirers, for his leg injury is still Fulton superior today, yesterday dismissed a robbery indictment against Pryor Hooch, 17-year-old farm youth, who is on probation for participation in the kidnaping of John K. Otter, Atlanta bank president.

Seminole High Gets Ready For Coming Tilt With Orlando

With the annual Orlando-Sanford football game only three days away, Coach Leonard McLucas this afternoon concentrated his efforts at teaching his Seminole High School eleven some new tricks that are aimed at insuring a smashing victory over their ancient rivals.

At the same time, the talk of the local football world continued to revolve around the sensational performance turned in here last Friday by Claude Kelly, third string halfback, against Ocala.

In one game, his first game of football Kelly advanced from a scrub position to practically the leading position as Coach McLucas' best defensive and offensive ball carrier. No finer debut ever has been made by a Sanford player as far back as any fan can recall, and no better tribute could be paid him than Coach McLucas' announcement that he will be a starter against Orlando Saturday.

When Kelly wasn't weaving his way in and around the Ocala line until he was pulled down, after many times in Atlanta as a dashing fullback. He'll be a guard in Atlanta this fall and his number will have grown to "52."

The Florida squad, augmented by many fans, entrains Friday night.

DOLLAR SENT TO LOW LEVEL BY LATE MOVE

Administration Boosts Domestic Price Of Gold To High Mark: Stocks In Response

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—The Administration watched its gold operations climb the dollar into a record low level today and then it added another dime to the price it will pay for the metal when it is newly mined in the United States. The new price is $35.15 an ounce.

London dispatches told of an overnight drop of four and three eighths cents in the exchange value of the dollar as against the pound.

Meanwhile, the price of gold in London was reduced but a change in the dollar-pound relationship meant an increase in this quotation when it is converted into dollars. Yesterday's domestic figure was 69 cents above the London figure while today's was 82 cents.

Stocks and principal commodities advanced briskly for a time in yesterday's markets, as the dollar dropped to new low levels since abandonment of the gold standard.

Many shares pushed up $1 to more than $5 as vigorous buying suddenly appeared late in the day. Cotton, helped by a government crop estimate a little smaller than anticipated, gained $1.60 to $1.90 a bale, and wheat futures at Chicago closed with advances of 1 7/8 to 2 5/8 cents a bushel.

Formal Opening Of New Piggly-Wiggly Set For Tomorrow

The formal opening of the new Winn-Lovett Piggly-Wiggly store at Magnolia Avenue and First Street in the former Atlantic Bank building is scheduled for tomorrow morning at 7:00 o'clock. It was announced today by store officials who will be in attendance to greet old and new customers all day.

The store, said to be the largest and finest of its kind in Central Florida, is now only in location. Actually it is store No. 55 that has been moved from its old location in the Match Building just across the street to newly renovated quarters.

Margie Gubert remains as store manager, with Miss Grace Morgan as cashier, and Ray King in charge of a modern, enlarged meat department. P. M. Vickery and Ray Harrison are among the local persons employed at the store.

In announcing the opening day sale, P. E. Trice, of Orlando, Central Florida district manager declared that Piggly-Wiggly interests have been in the area for some time and that the store is a mark of appreciation for the help and increasingly valuable patronage.

Roosevelt Calls Aides To Meet With Him To Set Up System

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Sighting the certainty of prohibition repeal, federal officials yesterday hurried the formulation of plans for dealing with national phases of the liquor control after Dec. 5 when the 18th Amendment expires.

Moving promptly behind the quick approval given by the necessary 36 states to the 21st amendment, which repeals prohibition, President Roosevelt called his aides to meet with him Friday to devise a program which would include recommendations to Congress.

Bunch Vegetables May Be Shipped By Freight In Future

Freight shipment of bunch vegetables from this county into an adjacent East of the Mississippi river, long prohibited by railroad tariff rules and regulations, has been made possible through efforts of the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers Inc., and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. It was learned here today.

Under the terms of an amendment to Spaulding's Citrus-Fruit-Strawberry-Vegetable tariff, ICC Item 216-2, it is now possible to ship bunches of beets, carrots, and turnips when mixed with vegetables and citrus fruits moving into Southeastern territory, or when mixed with vegetables moving into other territory East of the Mississippi. The amendment went into effect on Oct. 23.

Local growers were balked in their attempt to ship bunched vegetables from here last year when carriers refused to handle the vegetables in that manner because there was no rating allowing such shipments. In some instances last year, cars that had been loaded had to be unloaded at a loss to the shipper.

LAGUARDIA HAS HOPES OF CITY FREE OF GRAFT

Promises To Continue Fight On Tammany; Model Government Will Be Established

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Mayor-elect Fiorello H. LaGuardia, riding the crest of a political revolution, last night declared he would continue to battle Tammany Hall's "narrowness and plunder."

Thrust into the city hall by an aroused electorate amid rioting and disorder, LaGuardia, fusion's fighting champion, promised an administration for the next four years that he would set a national model.

"It will be my effort to give to New York City a civic administration so efficient and free from graft, sinuosity and wastefulness as to set a new model for every city in the nation," he said.

Smiling, appearing fresh despite the ordeal of election day, LaGuardia asserted there would be no disorder when another election day comes around.

"The next election and the elections of the next four years are going to be nice, quiet and orderly so that little children will be able to skip rope outside of polling places," said LaGuardia, pounding his powerful fist on his desk.

The idea is for the government to guarantee the principal and also certain market dividends which will be paid regardless of the company's condition. The government will operate through an industrial reconstruction institute similar to the American Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

JOHNSON TAKES FIGHT FOR NRA TO FARM BELT

Lone Heckler Silenced By Administrator As He Asks For Better Plan For Recovery

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—General Hugh S. Johnson, Industrial Recovery administrator, invaded the home of the Midwest farm strike last night to appeal again for support of the NRA and AAA as "the one possible way out of this depression" and to affirm that Recovery program benefits were already on the way to the farmer.

The first general made his address before 4,000 persons in Shrine auditorium. There were bursts of applause as he finished. For the most part, however, the audience listened without demonstration.

One heckler who attempted to interrupt was silenced when the general asked sharply: "What better plan than Franklin Roosevelt's plan can you think of?"

Motorcade Carries Good-Will Message To Many Residents

That hundreds of residents of the western half of this county have been made well aware that there is to be a special all-day NRA festival in this city next Thursday is an opinion stated this afternoon by one of the members of the party of nearly 60 Sanford merchants who set out early this morning on a good-will motorcade.

Twenty-one automobiles were in the line when the tour left the City Hall at 9:00 o'clock but the total had approached 50 cars before the noon-day stop at SanLando Springs for luncheon.

Stops were made at the school houses in Lake Monroe, Paola, Lake Mary, and Longwood, and at Foye's Packing House in Forest City. Good-will talks were made, representing the motorcade, by H. M. Papworth, E. E. Brady, Linton F. Allen, Judge J. G. Sharon, and Mrs. R. L. Dean. Principals of the various schools, and Robert Overstreet, owner of SanLando Springs, made responses to the talks.

At each school, the children offered songs as their part of the welcome to the Sanford group, after which souvenirs in the form of pencils, rulers, memo pads, yardsticks, pie pans, and other mediums of advertising were distributed.

Miss Bjorst Tells Kiwanis Club About Safety Movement

The penalty for violation of safety rules often means death or permanent injury, warned Miss Edris Bjorst, Sanford Gas Co. official as she delivered an address on "Safety" before Sanford Kiwanians who were meeting in weekly session at the Montezuma Hotel yesterday.

Miss Bjorst stressed the cost of any measure of safety as being worth more than the possible loss of a life, and she said that thousands of American manufacturers and employees are learning this lesson daily.

RAILROAD BRIDGE IS DESTROYED IN STRIKE SECTION

Farmers Credited As Being Responsible For Latest Action

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Further destruction of property is reported in the farm strike area as another railroad bridge, the third since the war for higher prices started, was destroyed by fire early today.

The bridge was the property of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Pacific Railroad, located a mile south of Portsmouth. Sheriff George Jensen said he found evidence of incendiary and he blamed it on farm strikers.

Early today a stream of trucks was pouring into the Sioux City markets in the heart of the area where most of the disturbances of the last few days have occurred. Scouts on the roads reported picket lines obliterated or considerably diminished.

One incident was reported late yesterday when a farmer with a load of hogs was turned back on the main highway but slipped through a blockade by a side road, and unloaded his produce at a Sioux City warehouse.

Sheriff W. H. Tice of Woodbury county reported that the necessity for state troops had apparently been dispensed. Even Governor Herring's suggestion that state officers deputize an army of citizens to keep the roads clear received little consideration and packers and dairymen were expecting swelled receipts over yesterday's low mark.

The figures reported were as follows: Oct. 20, 1932, 210,605 crates in storage; Oct. 21, 1932, 347,144 crates in storage; Oct. 23, 1931, 474,380 crates in storage.

It was reported at the Court House by County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jinkins this week. The state received $496.84 of this sum, while $1792.37 went into county coffers. The remainder was divided among the various district accounts.

The opening of the Fall farm season has brought about a sizable reduction in the number of families whose names have been carried on the relief rolls at the Seminole County Welfare Board office during the past few months. It was reported today by Mrs. Helen T. Morse, county welfare work director.

Where on Oct. 1, a total of 907 families were on work relief, that in, was given food, clothing and money in return for various types of work accomplished, only 613 families were on such relief on Nov. 1, and there is every indication that by next Monday this list will have been reduced to 525 families.

Bombardment Of City To Begin At 3:00 O'clock This Afternoon, Leaders Warn

HAVANA, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Leaders of the ABC, a radical and secret revolutionary society, broadcast a warning today that they intended to sack all American property in Havana and provoke an intervention by the United States if their two-day battle for control of the government is undecided by 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

At the same time they warned the public to stay off the streets as they intended to fly airplanes over the city and bomb the palace of the president at that hour. They also specified the hour as the moment for the dynamiting of all vehicles found on the streets.

Meanwhile, the artillery bombardment of a fort occupied by 2,000 rebels increased in intensity, and the rebels answered with machine gun and rifle fire. Only one shell strayed and killed a woman on a porch a mile away. The defenders of Alamo Fort also answered and shelled the rebel line.

The artillery went into action at 5 o'clock today as local organized soldiers attacked the former old Alamo Fort where more than 2,000 rebels continued to hold the government.

The bombardment was provided by captured rifle fire from the fort which was replied to by soldiers in the army of Colonel Fulgencio Batista.

Rebels had smuggled arms into Alamo, consolidating their positions on the second day of fighting. The strong position of the fortress overlooking the capital city led military experts to believe that a sanguinary battle is in prospect.

Consolidation in Alamo was accomplished before dawn, when the rebels fled from Dragones and Flamenco fortresses after Batista's men had threatened to bombard those strongholds from the land and sea.

Loyal troops moved into the abandoned forts amid wild scenes of looting by the populace. The dead stood at least at 85 and nearly 800 are injured from the day old battling.

Meanwhile the government still contended it had the situation in hand in the interior of the country although reliable information from the provinces is impossible because of disrupted communication facilities. Rebels said that rebellion is under way in Matanzas, Camaguey, and Oriente provinces.

The rebellion started at Ciego de Avila by an air plane flight of Guillermo Martell, a former rebel captain. After loyal troops had routed the rebellious aviators, some three hundreds of rebels barricaded themselves at the tenth police station.

They too, were quelled after heavy fighting that took a large toll of casualties.

The rebellious aviators fled only after several hours of fighting with machine guns and rifles and a two-submarine command.
