

Flourides Save Teeth

This article is published as a public service by The Sanford Herald in cooperation with the Seminole County Dental Society. Returns coming in on some of the most thorough-going studies in dental history are giving evidence to show that your children's teeth can be partially "armor-plated" against decay with fluorine.

Fluorine is a chemical related to chlorine, universally used in purification of water. It is the new super-weapon in the war on tooth decay.

Studies on fluorine's effectiveness have been made in communities where the drinking supply has naturally contained fluorides and in communities where it has been purposely added in the amount of one part to one million parts of water, less than the proverbial drop in a bucket.

These studies show that children drinking this water from birth to their early teens have from one-third to two-thirds less decay, lower dentist bills and a better chance of keeping their teeth to old age.

In Grand Rapids, Mich., for example, a reduction in dental decay of more than 61 per cent among six-year-old children was noted in five years.

Loviston, Idaho, reported a 58 per cent reduction in dental decay in seven-year-olds three years after fluoridation of water began.

In areas where water is not so fluoridated, dentists are applying fluorides directly to the teeth of children. A series of five applications are given two to seven days apart usually at ages three, seven, 10 and 13 so that all teeth are treated soon after they come in. As much as a 40 per cent reduction in dental decay has been noted.

The story of fluorides and decay is a stirring tribute to re-supply the teeth of children and less decay than normal. This was traced to fluorides in the drinking water.

One of fluoridation of community water supplies is only due to 14 cents a person per year, depending on the type of fluoride compound used, the amount of fluoride already in the water, the size of the community and the per capita use of water.

One observer saw a house won bid its young 1.317 times in 18 years.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I interrupted my Korean GI schooling to return to active military service. I expect to be in uniform more than a year. Will I be allowed to resume my education after I get out, even though my cut-off date for starting GI training will have passed?

A. Yes. Veterans who suspend Korean GI training for more than 12 months, because of military service, will be permitted to continue training after their discharge. Ordinarily, a veteran who suspends for more than 12 months must prove to VA that the suspension was due to reasons beyond his control.

Q. I entered the armed forces under the '45 Reserve Forces Act. Will I be covered by the Servicemen's Indemnity while I am in service?

A. Yes. You will be automatically covered against death in service for $10,000. This free indemnity will continue for 30 days after you are released from service.

Q. Does the Public Law 19 training program for disabled World War II veterans end for all veterans on July 25, 1957 or are there exceptions?

A. There are certain exceptions. Veterans will be allowed up to an additional four years to complete their training, if they were unable to start in time because of their disability; if they were late in establishing service-connection; or if they were late in obtaining a corrected discharge that would make them eligible.

Q. Can a veteran receive GI training under the Korean GI Bill while he is in uniform?

A. Under the law, he may not receive Korean GI Bill training while in uniform, even though he might meet all the qualifications as to discharge and length and time of service.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits should write the VA office at 43 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

PUBLIC LAND TO BE AUCTIONED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve tracts of public land in Florida, totaling 600 acres with appraised value of $18,490, will be sold at auction here June 21.

The Interior Department said the tracts are located in Madison, Suwannee, Levy, Sumter, Volusia, St. Johns, Brevard, and Clay counties.

Most of the land is described as typical "flat woodland." One 40-acre tract appraised at $2,400 is on Merritt Island. Another tract, 30 acres valued at $1,300, adjoins the Suwannee River.

In 140 years, the American Bible Society has distributed nearly half a billion volumes of scripture.

Betty Hutton Is Making Comeback

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Betty Hutton is making her first picture in four years, and others should do as well on their film returns.

During her heyday at Paramount, the blonde bombshell did two or three pictures a year on a flat salary of $3,000 a week. Now she's costarring with Dana Andrews in "Spring Reunion" at $100,000 plus 20 per cent of the gross. The salary alone comes to around $20,000 a week.

"Not bad for a comeback!" she laughed between takes. "It's a different Betty you see these days. No more the frantic confessions, the tension on the set. She's smooth, easy-going and sure of herself."

"For one thing, I know what I'm doing," she explained. "We had two weeks of rehearsals with Dana, the director, Bob Fosse, and with the camera crew. We went over the scenes thoroughly so we come to work knowing what we're going to shoot."

"That means," she added at Paramount, "I'd come to the studio and walk right into some guy's arms. After four or five love scenes, I'd say to him, 'By the way, my name's Betty Hutton.'"

There's another reason for the change in Betty's attitude. She has a different approach to her work. "This time I'm going for the money," she said frankly. "Nuts to art; I've had my share of that."

She said that her husband Alan Livingston, former Capitol Records biggie and now a top man with NBC, convinced her to change. This came after her much-publicized retirement.

"You can't quit this way," he told her. "You think you've been happy. You'll never be happy until you realize you aren't. Try it again, but this time go for commercial success. Then you can quit after two or three years and be contented."

That's her present plan. She wants to work hard for a few years, then quit for good. She intends to keep active in films, TV, night clubs and rodeos.

GOLDFISH BANNED

BARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — In Connecticut you can be fined up to $100 and jailed for as much as 30 days for liberating goldfish in inland waters without written permission from the state board of fisheries and game. The highly reproductive goldfish has a habit of stirring up the bottoms of ponds and creating conditions under which more desirable fish species cannot survive, the board says.

DUMMY FOR COLLEGE

BROKEN BOW, Okla. (AP) — James Wallis, 17, a high school junior is helping to "earn" college expenses with a ventriloquist's dummy.

James and his dummy have performed at nearly 100 banquets, benefit shows and other events. In addition to his act with the dummy, Wallis impersonates a half-dozen major singers.

CIGARETTE PRODUCTION

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Richmond cigarette factories produced 110,128,000 cigarettes in 1955 for the third highest total in the city's history. It was the 18th straight year Richmond factories avg turned out more than a hundred billion cigarettes.

THE BRONZE STATUE of a horse in foreground fairly comes alive with a "what goes on here" expression as planes fly overhead during a military parade in Rome. The sight occurred as part of the tenth anniversary celebration of Italy's becoming a republic. More than 100 tanks and planes and 8,000 men took part. (International)

Grace Didn't See 1st Wedding Gift

MONTE CARLO, (AP) — Grace never saw the necklace and Monaco's National Council is beginning to wish it hadn't either. When the royal couple returned from their honeymoon cruise last week, the first jeweler demanded the rest of his money.

Negotiations are now in progress. The Monaco's want to be sure they get their $34,000 back, and meanwhile the disputed necklace lies in the safe of Council head Paul Noghes.

An irate Paris jeweler insists the Monaco government owes him $73,000 more for the string of diamonds and rubies and he wants the money now.

It seems that when the engagement of Prince Rainier III and Grace Kelly was announced, the delighted council dispatched a representative to Paris to pick out a necklace suitable for a royal wedding gift.

The agent chose one priced at $7 million francs $107,000. He paid down $34,000 and told the jeweler to wrap it up.

When the councilmen saw the necklace, they complained it was worth only half the price. So they bought another one — valued at $35,000 — and gave that to Grace.

Show Must Go On

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Lawrence Anderson's act went over big for 1,500 spectators at the Jimmy Lynch Thrill Show yesterday, but for the pain-racked clown it was a tragedy.

Anderson, of Chicago, misjudged the timing of a giant firecracker, and it exploded in his left hand. His hand was blown off.

But his grease-paint smile hid his tortured face and the crowd howled with laughter as he waved an arm smeared with red that only he knew was not ketchup.

The crowd thought it was all part of the act. The clown went to an ambulance nearby, and attendants whisked him to a hospital. Physicians said his condition was not serious.

Canada's province of Ontario contains 412,882 square miles. Australia has about 131 million sheep.

A Tribute To... Our Merchants!

Storekeepers, we think, are entirely too modest. They serve you and your family faithfully every day. Yet how often do you remember their importance in your life? The merchant is a business man. He must carry a heavy investment. He must own his building or pay rent for it. There are clerks and sales people to pay. And a constantly-changing display of food or merchandise of some kind. The merchant must always make you think that "the customer is always right." Which isn't always true. So remember the trials and tribulations of your grocer, cleaner, department store merchant, appliance dealer, et cetera. And give them the fairness they deserve!

that another prospect had been reported and nationally known manufacturer of electronic components and at that time there were 30 communities being considered and that the field had been narrowed down to six and Seminole County is still being considered.

A survey had been made by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. It was reported by the Industrial Committee, for a local manufacturer to assist him in setting up retail outlets throughout the state.

Bales made an additional report that steps had been taken in attempting to secure the natural gas headquarters for this area.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Forrest Breckenridge advised the directors that an article had been written by the chamber staff for the Kiplinger Business Reports in the hopes that it would be used by them.

A showing of the Sanford film, Breckenridge reported, has been scheduled by WDBO-TV for July with a definite date to be announced later.

Appreciation was also expressed to the Sanford Lions Club for the ad they placed in the Lions Club International Convention program booklet. The Chamber of Commerce staff helped in designing the ad and inquiries are being handled by the chamber staff with several already received. The booklet was distributed to every member of the Lions Club throughout the world.

President George Touhy reported on the Coffee Club and the presentation of a certificate to Captain Robert W. Jackson, ENAS Commanding Officer.

Frank Evans of Lake Mary advised the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce directors that there is a possibility of locating an Old Soldiers Home, to be constructed by the Spanish American War Veterans, in either Orange, Seminole, or Lake Counties if the land is contributed. The chamber authorized and adopted a resolution supporting this action.

It was also suggested at last night's meeting that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Road Committee look into the promotion of some plan for a road into the Ocoola Area from Sanford to tie in with the Navy's program of expansion.

The new board of directors, meeting immediately following the election of officers, discussed plans for the coming year. Senator Douglas Brantley suggested that an active group work closely with the local Naval Air Station in order to assist in any way they could.

It was also suggested to the new board of directors, that the Chamber of Commerce send the Industrial Committee to Tallahassee for a special meeting with the officials of the Florida State Development Commission in order to acquaint them with the position of the Seminole County Area and to solicit their cooperation and assistance in industrial development.

Manager Breckenridge urged all directors to keep various committee chairmen and the Chamber of Commerce informed of any new rumors or developments about which they may receive some word. He explained, "Only in this way can the chamber keep abreast of new plans and take committee action early enough to be effective."

PLANS ABANDONED FOR CENTER

DELAY BECAUSE OF — Warren Grimes, Ohio manufacturer, said today he had abandoned plans for a quarter million dollar research center at Lake Ida.
Grimes, whose company manufactures airplane lights, said he planned to construct the facility where top-flight retired and semi-retired engineers and professional personnel could be assigned development projects, on which they would work at their leisure.
Grimes said the refusal of short sighted people to accept a strip which would cost them nothing in taxes made the Lake Ida site less attractive to him.

Operation Could Prevent Damage Before It Occurs

CHICAGO, Ill.—An operation that aids ailing hearts could be used to prevent serious heart damage before it occurs, a heart specialist said Wednesday.

Some 1,200 persons with sick hearts have had this surgery, said Dr. Bernard Brofman, Mount Sinai Hospital, Cleveland. He called it safe and effective for a majority of patients who have had coronary attacks.

It should no longer be considered a "last resort" step after other treatments have failed, he said. "Ideally, it should be performed before any significant muscle damage has occurred," he told the American Medical Assn.

The operation is one method of helping people whose arteries bringing life nourishing blood to the heart muscle have become plugged.

It involves dusting asbestos powder over the surface of the heart to stimulate an increase of blood flow, and carrying out other steps. It was developed by Dr. Claude Beck of Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

Ninety per cent of 183 persons operated since 1931 have been freed from all or most pain, and 90 per cent have returned to full or part-time work, including some doing heavy labor, Dr. Brofman said. None among the last 50 patients succumbed to the surgery, even though a fourth were in bad condition.

Dr. Brofman proposed it could help some persons, suffering from the artery plugging, before they get into serious trouble.

Most persons dying of coronary artery still actually have enough heart muscle left to keep the heart beating if enough of the muscle could be kept nourished, he said. In only 20 per cent does the life pump fail because of extensive destruction of heart muscle tissues.

In many patients, deaths might be prevented by surgery, done early enough, he said.

DOCKET CUT

TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—The Florida Supreme Court reported yesterday it cut down slightly on its big backlog of pending cases during the January term which ended Monday.

Court Clerk Guyte McCord said the January term began with 670 cases on the docket.
The new court term opened yesterday with 636 cases. Of these 144 were under consideration and 370 have been set for oral argument. During the January term, the court disposed of 315 cases.

Psychiatrist May Help If Fatigue Persists

By HERMAN H. DUNBAR, M.D.

FATIGUE tired all the time, even when you haven't worked especially hard? Then perhaps you may need the services of a psychiatrist as well as a physician.
Intensive psychotherapy frequently is called for in cases where the fatigue is out of proportion to the amount of physical and mental labor the patient has performed.

Emotional Basis
Such cases, which are not all uncommon, generally have an emotional basis. Gynecologists and obstetricians report that symptoms are frequently encountered in their patients. Internists say as many as 50 per cent of their patients voice the complaint.

Many of these cases probably can be traced to childhood when a well-meaning mother strongly emphasized the need for rest.

Sources of Energy
Of course, rest and food are important sources of energy. But no matter how much food or rest you get, it doesn't enable your body to store up a reservoir of energy.

Some persons unconsciously use this need-for-rest idea as an excuse for doing poor work or not achieving much.
If you are one of them, let's see what you can do about it.

Differences Between Two Political Parties Should Not Cause Bitterness

Let's this summer, when the major party conventions are over, the political kettle will really come to a boil. Leaders of both parties will speak out to point up the differences between the Republicans and Democrats. Promises will be made and charges and counter charges will buzz like angry bees.

For the most part, energetic rivalry of this sort is necessary and even wholesome. We have a two-party system, and that system will remain healthy only as long as both sides make vigorous efforts to win.

It is inevitable that strong differences of opinion will from time to time result in frayed tempers. But it is well to remember that when the election is over we are going to have to function as a united country. Differences between the two parties do not have to result in bitterness that will linger after the votes have been counted and the issues have been decided.

Politicians should be certain that in their zeal to win votes they do not create obstacles to harmony which cannot be easily surmounted. Voters can make it plain that they will not approve of gutter tactics from either side.

Adlai Stevenson, in a note to Dwight D. Eisenhower on the night that the latter won the presidency in 1952, said: "We vote as many—we pray as one."

Those are eloquent words, worthy of being remembered by both parties in the months ahead.

Slow Down!

Why the big hurry when you drive? Where have you started with such haste that a few moments lost to drive like you want to stay alive would hold you up too long?

Speed and impatience combine to make one of the worst menaces on Florida Highways today. Driver attitude is at the worst stage in highway history and a combination of all three, driver attitude, impatience and speed cause hundreds of unnecessary deaths in our state every year.

The Florida Highway Patrol has set aside the month of June as appeal month; an appeal to your better judgment. The judgment which causes you to want to stay alive and do as you please—both at the same time—while on the highways.

The patrol also appeals to you to slow down from that breakneck pace and arrive alive!

You're speeding whenever you're driving faster than you ought to—for the condition of the road, your car, yourself and the weather. But some people never think of conditions when they drive. They operate in a kind of vacuum, obsessed with the thought of getting wherever they're going in the shortest possible time. It's part of the "in-a-hurry" complex that's characteristic of our age.

The person who is securely in the grip of this complex is unable to unwind or relax. He hurries through his meals . . . dashes from place to place . . . crams his life full of unimportant activity and lives in a constant state of nervous agitation. When he drives, he's impatient, jittery, over-anxious—one of the worst menaces on the highway.

But there are varying degrees of the malady. And every driver should check his driving behavior to make sure he's not developing any of the symptoms.

Are you restless and impatient behind the wheel . . . likely to be discourteous to pedestrians and other drivers? Do you fuss and fume every time you must stop for a red light, a train, a pedestrian crossing or a traffic tie-up? Do you find yourself inclined to pass other drivers for no reason than just the desire to get ahead of them? Are you overly time-conscious, always figuring how you can save a minute here and there in traffic? These are a few of the symptoms.

If you find it hard to get a straight answer from yourself on these questions, you might try observing your passengers for some hint as to your driving rating.

If they're tense and nervous . . . grab onto the seat or the door . . . press down with both feet to apply their own brakes . . . frequently offer advice or warning . . . it's a pretty safe bet that you're not exactly a calm, cool and collected driver.

You're a potential funeral.

AMATEUR HOUR IN THE ANCHORS AWAY DEPARTMENT

Party Is Switching Its Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—The leaders of the American Communist party at a secret meeting in March, decided to differ with the Russian leadership from time to time—but never on basic issues.

The information comes from a source which cannot be named but is completely reliable. The decision does not mean any break between Moscow and the U. S. party leaders who for years have slavishly followed every twist in the Moscow line.

Far from it. It is simply a switch in tactics intended to make the American party look less like a Russian stooge and to try to gain some influence and tolerance in the United States.

But last week's startling editorial in the party newspaper, the Daily Worker, sharply criticizing the new Russian leaders cannot be assumed to reflect the party's new tactics.

It is an educated guess—and that phrase is used carefully—that John Gates, Daily Worker editor, has already been secretly condemned by the party leaders for going much further than they liked or intended.

The March meeting followed the February attack made in Moscow on the dead Stalin by Communist party boss Khrushchev. He talked to the party's 20th Congress and said his remarks should not be leaked to the public.

But they were leaked. Last week the State Department made public a 25,000-word version of Khrushchev's speech.

Khrushchev suggested Communists around the world switch tactics and try to create popular fronts with Socialists and others in order to take over "peacefully when and where they can."

He specifically said, however, that revolution still would be necessary in those countries which refused overthrow without violence.

It is also an educated guess that the U. S. Communist party received—before its March meeting and after Khrushchev's talk—instructions from the Kremlin on what line to follow in order to gain more power here.

The same reliable source which provided the information about the secret March meeting said Eugene Dennis, the party's secretary and real leader, laid down the new line at the meeting.

He quoted Dennis that it would have been smarter if through the years the American Communists had not always gone along—in public—at least with everything Moscow said or did. As an example, Dennis is said to have cited the party's complete endorsement of the 1930 Hitler-Stalin pact which not only shocked Americans in general but so disillusioned many Communists that they got out of the party in droves.

Dennis reportedly said it would have been smarter if the party had straddled the fence on the Hitler-Stalin agreement. Dennis, 51, was one of the 19 top Communist leaders found guilty in 1950 of conspiracy to teach overthrow of the government. He was given five years in jail.

Editor Gates' editorial in the Daily Worker last week criticized Khrushchev, in denunciation of Stalin, for not mentioning Stalin's attacks on the Jews. It raised questions about the role played by Khrushchev and the other new Russian leaders in Stalin's 1953 time.

Gates, 43, was one of the 11 Communists convicted with Dennis. He, too, drew five years. It is possible the party may try to find some way of repudiating Gates' editorial, even to saying it does not represent the party's views.

In short, the American Communist leaders want to give the appearance, but not too strongly, of being their own men. They know the being considered Russian stooges stands in the way of any progress they hope to make.

DETROIT—Two-toned cars may be the glamor girls of the automobile industry but this year it's the broad based trucks that have been bringing home the sales and the profits.

But of late, even the trucks, like so many other things in the economy, have begun to show a split personality.

Light weight trucks have turned soft, industry spokesmen here say. They report a drop in purchasing by farmers, one of their big customers. Farmers hope for a sales pickup in the fall as farmers move harvest to market.

Heavy duty trucks, on the other hand, are still barreling right down the highway. And the new multi-billion dollar highway system now in the works doesn't cloud their forward vision in the least. Backlogs of orders are high. Truck builders think the times are right for more of the heavy truck sales volume.

They cite: The many new plants built on the outskirts of cities or along the throughways; the plants being dispersed into semi-rural or previously non-industrial areas; the rush to the suburbs from the cities, meaning a rash of shopping centers and branch stores to be served; and changes in a number of state laws to permit bigger trucks and trailer units to speed the highways.

Heavy duty truck builders point out that for some time their gains have outpaced the truck market as a whole. The independent truck makers have worked this field hard. The big auto companies are now bringing out new designs to fight for more of the heavy truck sales volume.

Robert F. Black, chairman of White Motor, a heavy truck builder, finds business much better than last year. He believes "the healthy demand for the heavy duty trucks will be sustained for some time."

John L. McCaffrey, chairman of International Harvester, says in Chicago, "Our backlog of motor truck orders shows no signs of diminishing." White Motor forecasts a healthy gain in output of heavy duty trucks.

Trailer makers are right in more crowded all the time!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Herman Morris Appreciation Night wished to express its thanks to the City Commission for the use of the Memorial stadium, the County Commission for providing a cleanup crew, the American Legion for the use of the Fair Building, and the many hundreds of people who contributed both time and money to make this event a great success.

The three-mile limit to a nation's control of the seas which was set above was determined by the distance an 18th century cannon could shoot.

There, too, Roy Fruhauf, president of Fruhauf Trailer, is even more confident in his predictions than are the truck builders. He says his sales should show a 70 per cent gain this year.

Those roads are going to get more crowded all the time! So

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, be at peace with all men. Romans 12:18—They stoned Paul and beat him with rods and drove him from their cities, but he loved them anyway; and strove for peace to the end.

IBSH CORN FIELD
AMERS' Iowa (U-Java's) 1953 Corn Yield Test averaged 85.7 bushels per acre for all the plots harvested, a current summary of the data indicates. This is five bushels higher than the average of the 15 years of hybrid corn testing. Four of the 15 districts in the state averaged more than 100 bushels an acre. The tests are designed to compare various hybrids grown in Iowa.
