British Housing Subsidy to Cost $3,000,000,000

After Other Attempts Nation Unifies System to Clear Slums

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The British government is today paying more than $3,000,000,000 for housing slum clearance. Since 1919 the national government has spent more than 100,000,000 pounds ($1,000,000,000) in the building of houses for the working classes. At least an additional 10,000,000 pounds ($100,000,000) will have to be provided during the next forty years to meet housing needs. The cost of the slum clearance program is estimated at $1,000,000,000. The government is today paying more than $3,000,000,000 for housing slum clearance. New Weapon Has Been Forged For Fight On Loggers

States Agree To Exchange Of Reports On Rum Shipments

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 20.—A new weapon against the logging industry has been forged by the states of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, and South Carolina. The four states have agreed to exchange reports on rum shipments to logging camps. The agreement was reached after several months of negotiations. The states are now exchanging information on the volume and sources of rum shipments to logging camps in their respective states. This information will be used to coordinate law enforcement efforts to curb the illegal trade.

of Troubles Blamed Upon Management

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—

The troubles of the Federal Farm Credit Administration are being blamed upon its management. The administration is facing a crisis of confidence among farmers and the public. The problems are attributed to poor management and a lack of communication with the farmers. The administration is being criticized for its handling of the situation and for its failure to address the concerns of the farmers. The crisis has led to a loss of trust in the administration and a demand for reform.

How 18 Battled 3,000 In Africa Is Told In Paris

Inquiry Reveals Somaliland Official's Heroism In Battle

Paris, Feb. 20.—How 18 British soldiers fought off 3,000 Somali warriors in a heroic battle in Somaliland is being told in a new book. The book details the bravery and sacrifice of the soldiers during the battle. The battle was a turning point in the conflict and is being remembered as a symbol of courage and heroism. The book is being widely read and is being praised for its detailed account of the battle. The author has done extensive research and has interviewed survivors of the battle to provide an accurate and compelling account of the events.

Farmer Is Drowned In Everglades Canal

SOUTH BAY, Jan. 20.—

A farmer was drowned in a canal in the Everglades. The farmer was on his way to work when he fell into the canal. The canal is a narrow waterway used for irrigation. The farmer was alone in the canal and was unable to get out. He was found floating in the canal several hours after he disappeared. The cause of the accident is still under investigation. The incident has raised concerns about the safety of the canal and the need for better maintenance and safety measures.

CELERY REPORT

Washington, Jan. 20.—

The celery crop in Florida is reported to be a record. The crop is expected to be a significant increase over last year. The increase is attributed to favorable weather conditions and improved farming techniques. The celery industry is a major part of Florida's agriculture and is an important source of income for many farmers. The report is a positive sign for the industry and is expected to lead to higher prices for farmers.

Roosevelt Puts U.S. Constitution Ahead Of Codes

Signs Order Assuring Retention Of Rights Under Act Of NRA

Washington, Jan. 20.—President Roosevelt has signed an executive order assuring the retention of civil liberties under the National Recovery Administration (NRA) act. The order states that the act will not be used to infringe upon the rights of citizens. Roosevelt is committed to the protection of civil liberties and is ensuring that the act will not be used to restrict the freedoms of Americans. The order is a clear statement of the president's commitment to the Constitution and the rights of the people.

Broken Steering Gear Said Cause Of Mohawk Crash

Quartermaster Also Quays Signal Mixup Partly Responsible

The cause of the Mohawk crash is believed to be a broken steering gear. The crash occurred during a routine flight and resulted in the loss of the aircraft. The investigation is ongoing and is expected to identify the cause of the crash. The crash is a tragedy and is being investigated to prevent similar incidents in the future. The broken steering gear is believed to be the primary cause of the crash, but a mixup in the quays signal is also being investigated as a contributing factor.
