Heat On To Rid Area Of Drug Dealers, Hookers

By Tom Giordano
Herald Managing Editor

An effort is afoot in Sanford to clean up what some merchants say is an appalling situation involving prostitutes and drug dealers openly doing business along Sanford Avenue between Third and Fourth streets.

One city commissioner who heard about the merchants' complaints and decided to take a firsthand look at the problem said he was openly propositioned by a prostitute "who all but dragged me into the car."

Some of the merchants who are complaining to city police and city commissioners are asking for anonymity for fear of repercussions. Mayor Lee P. Moore, a city commissioner and currently the commission's police liaison officer, confirmed the problem exists.

"I was contacted a week or so ago and went down to see for myself. After I saw what I did, I spoke with Chief (Ben) Butler who assured me his department is well aware of what's going on and that police are doing all they can to bring the matter under control. I intend to monitor the situation over the next few weeks to see what happens. It seems to me there should be a stepped up patrol in that section."

Here's what some merchants say is going on, usually from early evening on, and mostly Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights:

- Huge numbers of young men and women gather along the streets and openly drink alcoholic beverages.

- Scores of cars park in the merchants' parking lots and the occupants drink alcoholic beverages, smoke marijuana openly and sell cocaine. Some of the cars' occupants sit on the cars' hoods and fenders and create an atmosphere that frightens potential customers, causing the merchants to close an hour or two earlier than they would otherwise.

- Several prostitutes walk the streets or sit in cars soliciting clients who walk past or drive by in their cars.

One merchant estimated there are some 25 prostitutes operating in that section of the city, some of them coming from "as far away as New York because it's such a lucrative market." He said their customers come from all over Seminole and Volusia counties.

Chief Butler vehemently disputes the merchants' claims and says it's more like "two prostitutes, and we arrested one of them a few days ago."

Chief Butler also said the entire matter appears to be blown out of proportion, and that it seems to boil down to one or two merchants who object to neighborhood people who patronize a local beer and wine garden.

"We've got this situation under control. Who knows more about what's going on over there than us (police)?" Butler said.

Chief Butler insisted that his men are working as well as they can to control the situation, but he also

Democrats To Conduct Campaign Workshops

Eight state and local Democratic officials will conduct workshops on political campaigning and related matters during "Open the Door in '84" sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee. The campaign seminar will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the National Guard Armory in Sanford.

Presidential candidates will also be represented at the seminar. Representing U.S. Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, will be state Sen. Bob Crawford, Lakeland, while former Gov. Reubin Askew will be represented by past state Rep. Dick Batchelor of Orlando. Former Vice President Walter Mondale and Sen. Ernest Hollings will have representatives to speak on their behalf as well.

Registered voters and potential voters from not only Seminole, but also Orange, Volusia, Brevard, Osceola, Lake, Flagler and Putnam counties are invited to attend. A $15 fee is being charged to cover the cost of a continental breakfast and catered luncheon.

Dorothy Glisson, state elections supervisor, will conduct a workshop on Florida's election laws assisted by Sandy Goard, Seminole County elections supervisor; Katherine S. Odham, who holds the same position in Volusia County and Donna Bryant of Osceola County.

Other workshops include: Political ethics in '84 conducted by Gerald Korman, attorney and member of the local committee; Positive side of public service, state Sen. Edgar M. Dunn Jr. of Volusia County; "What is the function of government?" by Seminole Clerk of the Circuit Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. and G. Troy Ray Jr., county tax collector; Get out the vote by Mary Jo Stansfield, administrative assistant to U.S. Rep. Bill Chappell, D-Daytona Beach Shores, and state committeewoman from Volusia County; "How to work a campaign," by former state Rep. Robert Hattaway; Business and government by Hoyte Coleman, special services director of Valencia Community College; and precinct development by Dr. Wayne Bailey, dean of political science, Stetson University, and state committeeman from Volusia County and national committee member.

Dr. David Vickers of the University of Central Florida is master of ceremonies for the event while Dr. Victor Suarez is coordinator.

An honor guard from the National Guard Company B, second battalion, 124th Infantry will present the colors, and music will be provided by the Orlando Sun Sound Trio.

An objective of the seminar and workshops, according to party chairman Marvin Meltzer, is to "allow political persons to achieve their full potential as patriots, informed voters and American citizens." — Donna Estes Lovebug remains splattered over the surface of this car will permanently damage the paint unless removed soon. The bugs, which travel in pairs (inset), are plaguing motorists during daylight hours.

Lovebugs Late, But Pesky As Ever

Lovebugs, those pesky, passionate pests, have arrived en masse in Seminole County and are the worst they have been in two years, says county agricultural agent Frank Jasa.

Usually seen in April and May and during four to five week periods in late August and early September, they are a bit late this year for their fall visit.

Mating takes place almost immediately after emergence of the females. Adult females live only 2 to 3 days, Jasa said.

The adult lovebugs are harmless and do not sting or bite. Their flights are restricted to daylight hours and temperatures above 68 degrees. At night they rest on low growing vegetation.

But the insects are a considerable nuisance to motorists. They congregate in almost unbelievable numbers along the highways, splattering windshields and the grills of automobiles and trucks and clogging radiator fins.

They also get into refrigeration equipment on trucks causing them to malfunction and the fatty tissues cause pitting of vehicles' finishes if not removed within a few days.

Jasa recommends the following things to lessen the problem facing motorists:

- By traveling at night, motorists can avoid the bugs. Lovebugs do not become active until about 10 a.m.

- Traveling at slower speeds will reduce the number of bugs that will be splattered.

- A large screen placed in the front of the grill will keep the radiator fins from clogging and will protect the finish on the front of the car. If a large screen is not used in front of the grill, at least place a small screen behind the grill in front of the radiator, Jasa says.

- Wash splattered bugs off the car as soon as possible. Lovebugs are more easily removed and the chance of damaging the car's finish is lessened if the car has been waxed recently. When the remains are left on an unwaxed car for several days, the finish will often be permanently damaged.

Jasa said soaking for several minutes with water aids in their removal. When lovebugs are numerous some motorists have found it effective to spread a light film of baby oil or an anti-stick compound used in cooking over the front of the hood, above the windshield and on the grill and bumper. This makes removal a simple task. — Donna Estes

Budget

Final OK For $64.7 Million Plan Expected

By Micheal Beha
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioner Sandra Glenn and the county staff may be holding their collective breath tonight when it comes time to vote on the county's proposed $64.7 million budget for fiscal 1988-89.

The final public hearing on the spending plan for the coming fiscal year which begins Oct. 1 will be held at 7 p.m. in the courthouse. Following the public hearing, commissioners are scheduled to give final approval to the budget.

The budget was given tentative approval at a hearing two weeks ago by a 3-2 vote with Commissioners Robert G. "Bud" Feather and Bill Kirchhoff casting the dissenting votes.

Unless something unexpected happens, Mrs. Glenn said, the budget will be passed in its present form.

"I never anticipate anything. We had a 3-2 vote last time, that's not as good as a 5-0 vote," she said.

Feather has opposed the county's plans for renovating the old Seminole Memorial Hospital into offices for county employees. He feels the $1.2 million county officials expect to spend on renovations and an additional $1.3 million budgeted for renovations to the courthouse are much too high.

Kirchhoff said his no vote at the first hearing was the result of dissatisfaction over the commission's plan to borrow more than $1.4 million from a county trust fund to finance the renovations. He said there's no guarantee the money will be repaid even though an initial payment of $593,000 is included in this year's budget.

Neither Feather nor Kirchhoff could be reached for comment today.

But Mrs. Glenn said she doesn't think either one will try to force major changes in the budget at tonight's hearing.

She and County Administrator T. Duncan Rose said no meetings have been held on potential budget changes since the first public hearing.

"I don't anticipate any changes," Rose said. "I don't know of any staff changes."

The spending plan includes $19.9 million in property taxes, a 1.3 percent increase from this year. The budget also has a slightly lower tax rate than last year but because of reappraisals, most property owners will be paying higher taxes anyway.

The proposed countywide tax rate is $4.26 per $1,000 of appraised value. Last year's tax rate was $4.44 per $1,000 of value. Also proposed for residents of the unincorporated areas is a $5363 tax rate on roads and a $1.80 tax rate for fire service.

PSC To Weigh Port-Utility Dispute

The state Public Service Commission will meet in Tallahassee 1:30 p.m. Wednesday to discuss proposed water and sewer rates for Lake Monroe Utility Corp. Representatives of the utility and the Port of Sanford have been asked to attend.

The PSC has tentatively approved rate hikes of about 300 percent for the utility's water and sewer customers. Those rates, which would raise the average monthly commercial water bill to $92.96 from the current $22.50. The average monthly sewer bill would increase to $173.96 from the current $46.31.

But those rate hikes have been protested by Dennis Dolgner, executive director of the Seminole County Port Authority, who claims they will have an adverse impact on future development of the Port's industrial complex west of Sanford.

Trailer Opposition Fails To Materialize

Expected opposition to mobile home use in the Osceola Road area did not materialize at Monday night's Seminole County Board of Adjustment meeting.

The board approved special exceptions permitting four permanent mobile homes and five were granted permits for varying periods up to 10 years.

Geri Small, who has urged county officials to stop granting special exceptions for more trailers in the Osceola Road area until code violations by existing mobile homes are cleaned up, was hospitalized and not able to attend the hearings. But she reaffirmed today her opposition to all nine special exceptions.

Her earlier letter of protest, which complained of "tobacco road" development in the area, was officially noted as an objection to only the application of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Lundy to place a mobile home on property adjacent to hers.

The Board of Adjustment granted the Lundy request for a special exception by a 3-2 vote, with Mike Hattaway and Dr. J.W. Hickman casting the dissenting votes. Hattaway and Hickman said they did not believe that mobile home should be allowed beside two permanent homes.

Ginny Markley, a land management official working with the board said efforts are now under way to remove "several mobile homes which appear to have been moved illegally on tracts off of Osceola Road, near the St. Johns River."

Seminole County has no areas zoned for permanent mobile home living. Special exceptions are granted by the board for a number of years to encourage eventual construction of conventional houses.

But at least one board member sees problems with the way the county requires residents in some areas to come before the Board of Adjustment again in a number of years for a renewal of their permit.

"Why can't we just zone that area (near Osceola Road) for mobile homes?" said Hickman.

Two of the homes granted special exceptions are owned by Gregory Mobile Homes of Sanford and owner Bob Gregory said many of today's homes are indistinguishable from conventional homes once they are placed on the site.

Board Chairman Roger Perra, who voted for eight out of the nine permits, warned colleagues on the board their action may cloud the interpretation of county zoning laws.

"Thirty years from now when your children say what the hell went wrong with the county you can say you served on the Board of Adjustment," he said.

Victim In Critical Condition

Police Probe Car-Motorcycle Wreck

By Charles Cobb
Herald Staff Writer

A 21-year-old Sanford man remained in critical condition today after suffering severe injuries when his motorcycle was struck by a car in Longwood at about 2 a.m. Saturday.

Timothy L. Tasker, of Route 3, Box 498-A, was northbound on U.S. Highway 17-92 and had either stopped or was slowing down as he approached the traffic light at the intersection of State Road 434, said Longwood police Patrolman Steve Falk.

Tasker's motorcycle was hit in the rear by a northbound 1973 Pontiac and rescue workers found his body lying on the highway 115 feet from the point of impact, Falk said.

Falk said an investigation of the accident is continuing.

The driver of the Pontiac was identified as William P. Dwyer, 21, of 103 Garrison St., Sanford.

Tasker was transported to Florida Hospital in Orlando by Herndon ambulance and was listed in critical condition in the hospital's intensive care unit today, suffering from head injuries.

Tasker is the dairy manager of the Winn Dixie supermarket, 419 East First St., Sanford and lives with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Luther Tasker in a

...he was 'a friend to everybody. A good man. It's such a shame.'

mobile home off County Road 427 south of Sanford.

Tasker was planning to get married in December and his fiancée was following Tasker's motorcycle in her car and witnessed the accident, said Greg Holt, an assistant manager at the Winn Dixie.

Holt said Tasker had been visiting his fiancée, who lives in Longwood, and was en route to his home in Sanford at the time of the accident.

Holt described Tasker as a "good friend, who was always happy-go-lucky. Nobody could always count on Tim for anything."

Another friend of Tasker's, Danny Martin of Sanford, said Tasker is "a friend to everybody, a good man. He worked hard. It's such a shame."

Because Tasker is in very critical condition, Longwood Police Chief Greg Manning said today the department is treating the incident as a vehicular homicide.

Anytime there's a suspicion of drunk driving where the victim may die, the case has to be investigated from that point of view, he said.

NATION IN BRIEF

Panel Ready To Scuttle Nuclear Freeze Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Republican-controlled Senate Foreign Relations Committee is ready to scuttle a nuclear weapons freeze resolution and call instead for a mutual U.S.-Soviet limit on the overall destructive capacity of nuclear arsenals, sources said.

The committee of nine Republicans and eight Democrats had been scheduled for weeks to take up the long-awaited freeze resolution today. But instead it is looking at a new proposal, called a "double build-down."

The double build-down formula calls for retiring two warheads for each new warhead deployed by the United States and the Soviet Union.

The double build-down would limit the overall destructive capacity of the U.S. and Soviet nuclear arsenals by requiring each side to reduce two "units" of overall destructive capacity for each new "unit" of nuclear power deployed.

10 Hurt In Prison Riot

ONLY, Tenn. (UP)— Guards firing shots in the air broke up a clash between 300 black and white inmates who fought with homemade knives, stormed a commissary and set numerous fires Monday night, injuring 10 men at an overcrowded state prison.

Corrections Department spokesman Dick Baumbach said the 4½-hour rampage at Turney Correctional Institute began with a fight between a black and white inmate and "it just spread."

All 175 guards at Turney — bolstered by extra guards from Memphis Correctional Center and two prisons in Nashville — brought the inmates under control about 11:30 p.m. CDT, officials said. The disorders broke out about 7 p.m.

He said the skirmish — Tennessee's second prison uprising in just over two months — involved about 300 inmates at Turney, built to house 570 inmates but now crowded with 936 medium and maximum security prisoners.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: The mountain West had a preview of winter with a snowstorm that dumped as much as 17 inches in Montana while the East Coast had a heat wave rerun that shattered high temperature records. Thunderstorms along the Gulf Coast created floodwaters that swept two boys to their deaths in Texas. Light snow — sometimes accompanied by freezing rain — continued into the morning hours today across Montana, the Dakotas, eastern Wyoming and Colorado and western Nebraska. The summer snow pushed the temperature as low as 29 degrees in Helena and Billings, Mont. The National Weather Service urged stockmen to guard young livestock against the storm, and farmers were warned to cover or harvest crops vulnerable to frost. With summer still on the calendar until Friday, an Eastern heat wave sent thousands to the beaches and shattered high temperature records, one of them a century old. But snow blanketed Montana, reaching a depth of 17 inches at Wye, with depths of 4 to 10 inches common across the state. Mountain storms knocked out power in some parts of the state, the weight of snow toppled trees, and 14 inches piled up at Showdown, a ski resort south of Great Falls. Temperature drops of 20 degrees were common as the storm moved in Monday. In Fort Collins, Colo., cold Canadian winds pushed the temperature down 23 degrees in 35 minutes. Storms that dumped up to 7 inches of rain on Texas continued today but lightened as they moved into Louisiana. Floodwaters killed two in Houston as one boy fell into a ditch and another was swept into a bayou.

Housing Starts Hit A 4½-Year High

WASHINGTON (UPI)— New housing construction jumped 8.4 percent in August to reach the highest level in more than 4½ years, a reassuring indication the economic recovery is still healthy, the government says.

The Commerce Department said Monday housing starts were running at an annual rate of 1.94 million units in August, the highest level since December 1978.

The figures were welcomed by the White House, especially since most leading analysts had expected a tapering off. "This is encouraging news that the recovery continues on course," deputy press secretary Peter Roussel said.

"The slight increase of mortgage rates during the summer months hasn't dampened the housing market as we might have expected," said James Wooten, president of the Mortgage Bankers Association. "This is good news for housing and good news for the economy in general."

Housing industry lobbyists have been warning Capitol Hill that the continuing high levels of mortgage interest rates could hurt builders and buyers as well as the entire economy later this year.

"It is rather surprising," economist Michael Sumichrast said of the August increase, speaking for the National Association of Home Builders. Seattle developer Harry Pryde, president of the association, echoed the sentiment.

Both men credited a heavy schedule of state mortgage subsidy bonds, which lower interest rates substantially for buyers. There were 22 such bond issues in August benefiting single-family home construction, nearly twice the July number, Sumichrast said.

In some states, tax-exempt bonds raised enough money to lower the mortgage rate for some buyers to 10.3 percent, far less than the going rate of from 13.5 percent to 14 percent without the subsidy.

Congress could let the tax exemption expire at the end of the year, prompting many states to issue the bonds before the deadline. However, overwhelming majorities in both the House and Senate have endorsed a renewal of the mortgage subsidy program.

Industry groups last week won a qualified Reagan administration endorsement of new legislation that would provide tax credits for up to half the interest that first-time home buyers must pay, only if it replaced existing authority to issue bonds.

Starts of single family houses jumped 10.8 percent in August to an annual rate of 1.14 million units a year.

Although housing starts nationwide jumped dramatically in August, building permits were down 6.5 percent, an indication that high interest rates may hinder further gains. If so, scenes like this in Sanford's Hidden Lakes subdivision may become less common.

Overall housing starts were running 85 percent ahead of a year earlier.

The rate of construction for new single family houses was 74.4 percent ahead of August 1982. Multifamily building construction was 102.5 percent ahead of August last year.

The only sign that builders were reacting to high interest rates showed up in building permits, down 6.5 percent in August, the department said.

"As you can see the permits are way down, so that tell you what the future is going to look like," Sumichrast said.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige gave a similar view, saying the "drop in building permits ... may be an early signal that high mortgage rates are an obstacle to further gains."

Gas Station Attendant, 61, Assaulted, Robbed

Police are searching today for two men who assaulted a 61-year-old Sanford gas station attendant during a strong arm robbery Monday afternoon.

Edward A. Greb told Sanford police that two men entered the Fina gas station, 1111 W. 1st St., at 2:15 p.m., grabbed him and slammed him to the floor. The men took $55 from the cash register and fled.

Greb was not harmed, police said.

BIG HAUL
 A burglar took $11,245 worth of jewelry and cash from a Longwood man's home between 10 a.m. on Sept. 12 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Earnie T. Baumelster, 35, of 1233 Lake Lucerne St., said entry was gained by breaking out a living room window.

He told Seminole County sheriff's deputies the thief took most of the property from his master bedroom. He said the room was ransacked and most of the drawers were opened.

He said $4,000 in cash was removed from a glove that was hanging in the bedroom closet and most of the jewelry was taken from an unlocked safe in the closet.

...Drug Dealers, Hookers Irk Downtown Merchants

admitted there isn't much that can be done about it unless police see someone committing a crime.

"It's just a partying place for neighborhood people, and it's no bigger a deal than anywhere else. Look at Orange Blossom Trail. Have they been able to stop it there?" Butler said.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles is also aware of the problem: "I heard about it recently, but I understand local police and some state agency is working on it to get it under control. It's certainly not going unnoticed."

Chief Butler said his men patrol the area regularly and heighten that patrol on Friday and Saturday nights. "But you just can't go over and arrest people for standing around or sitting around. They have to commit a crime. I know some of the merchants are complaining about cars parking in their parking lots and people standing around or sitting around, but I can't throw those people out of there. We can't violate people's rights because other people don't want them around the area."

Chief Butler also likened the problem to what apparently occurs on Orange Blossom Trail in Orlando from time to time: "The prostitutes are fly-by-nights. They work the area for awhile, then they're gone. As far as the stores in this area are concerned, I think they stay open normal hours. The people don't generally go around there until ten o'clock or later. But my men are always working that area. We've made several cases over there. But like I said, someone's got to be committing a crime, or creating a disturbance or breaking some law. You can't just run them off."

Another city commissioner, Edward A. "Ned" Yancey, said merchants have talked to him about the problem and he also decided to take a firsthand look.

"I took a ride down there last Friday between ten and ten-thirty at night and I have to agree, there is a problem. But how to solve it is the question. I saw the merchants' parking lots almost filled with cars and a lot of young people, black and white, walking around, getting into and out of the cars. I also saw a large number of people standing along the entire sidewalk and, while I saw no crime being committed, there certainly appears to be circumstantial evidence that something's going on."

"I also know the merchants are afraid to call police because they fear retaliation. I love Sanford, and we have to recognize that Sanford Avenue is a highly-travelled road to the civic center and the lakefront. People are reluctant to drive through that area at certain times, and that's not helping the downtown area at all. Then there are the merchants within a block or two who have spent thousands of dollars remodeling their businesses to upgrade the area, and we have this abscess right in the middle of it. It just isn't right."

Yancey said he also is convinced the merchants have a valid complaint and that there is prostitution and drug-dealing going on in that area of the city.

One specific effort aimed at curbing the problem is a proposed ordinance making it illegal to be on public property with an open container of beer or other alcoholic beverage. When the law is passed, city commissioners say, it will give police the authority to arrest persons standing on a sidewalk with an open container of beer or wine. At present, the law requires police see such persons drinking from the container before they can arrest them.

Although the problem in that section of Sanford has not been discussed specifically by the city commission, according to Yancey, "We're waiting for something concrete before bringing it up officially. I also understand a state agency may be involved in looking into the matter."

The state agency, according to one commissioner, may be the Division of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco. What commissioners and some merchants believe is a solution to the problem is to have the beer and wine garden owners held responsible for people who might buy beer or wine there and take it into the streets to drink. One merchant said pulling the tavern's license may solve the problem.

But that's not so easy to accomplish, according to Walt Davis, attached to the enforcement division with the DABT. Davis said if a tavern owner is acting responsibly and reasonably to serve his beer and wine for consumption on premises, but some of the patrons walk out of the building with their drinks, it would be extremely difficult to pull the tavern's license. Davis said that's where local police and local ordinances designed to assist law enforcement in controlling it outside the tavern come in.

"What I'd like to see is these businesses (taverns in the area) become respectable places, rather than close them down. I don't want to run anyone out of business," Yancey said.

Anti-Nicaraguan Rebels Forming A United Front

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI) — Representatives of four rebel groups are holding a secret meeting "somewhere in Central America" in a bid to form a united front to overthrow the leftist government in Nicaragua, a rebel leader said.

Steadman Fagoth Muller, leader of the Indian Misuras rebel army, Monday said the four rebel groups trying to oust the Sandinista regime were holding discussions but he would not disclose the meeting place.

If the Misuras, the Nicaraguan Democratic Force, Democratic Revolutionary Alliance and a fourth splinter opposition group do form a fighting alliance, the Sandinista's would confront a unified rebel front for the first time.

Poles Hoarding Food

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Poles, struggling with their worst economic crisis since World War II, are hoarding basic foodstuffs to offset 30-40 percent hikes in food prices this winter, a top Communist Party official said.

The official PAP news agency said party official Manfred Gorywoda, meeting with financial experts Monday at Central Committee headquarters in Warsaw, appealed for the apparent panic buying to stop.

A new round of food price rises, which in the past have sparked rioting and political upheaval, has been expected for some time.

Graham Wants Ideas For Vietnam Memorial

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham wants Floridians with ideas for a state memorial to Vietnam war veterans to get in touch with the Florida Commission of Veterans' Affairs.

Approved by the Legislature this year, the memorial will bear the names of the estimated 2,000 Florida residents who died in the war or are missing. It will be located near the Capitol.

Graham said people interested in offering designs have until Oct. 15 to register with the commission. Deadline for the design entries is Nov. 11. The competition is open to Florida residents who are U.S. citizens.

Competition information is available from the commission by telephone at (904) 487-1533 or by mail at Suite 350, Lewis State Bank Building, Tallahassee, Fla., 32301.

U.S. Warships Give Direct Support To Lebanese

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Lebanon's government feared a fresh offensive against its army today despite U.S. naval shelling that helped repulse assaults by Syrian-backed Druze Moslem militiamen.

An F-14 Tomcat fighter from the nuclear-powered carrier USS Eisenhower buzzed Beirut and the Shouf mountains early today but a government source said it was on a reconnaissance run and not a threatened bombing mission to support the Lebanese army.

"There may be another offensive because Syrians and Palestinians are bringing reinforcements and especially ammunition," the source said.

Government troops Monday pushed back a major Syrian-backed offensive on Souk el Gharb, the Shouf village 8 miles southeast of Beirut that controls the only routes into the capital.

A government statement said the army repulsed three successive attacks by 3:35 p.m. following a four-hour barrage by two U.S. Navy gunships, fighting for the first time in direct support of the Lebanese army.

It said the naval firepower helped its troops "inflict heavy losses" on the Druze Moslem attackers who demand a greater share of power in the central government and control of the Shouf.

But the shelling marked a sharp escalation from the initial U.S. policy of going into action only when artillery was directed at Marine peacekeepers.

Rebel control over Souk el Gharb would put their artillery within range of greater Beirut and the Marine contingent of the multinational peace-keeping force.

In Damascus, a statement by the Progressive Socialist Party of Druze leader Walid Jumblatt suggested the naval barrage deprived its forces of success in Souk el Gharb. It said Druze troops were surrounding the village, while an earlier communique claimed militiamen had entered it.

The Druze claimed they shot down one of the Lebanese air force's three remaining Hawker Hunter jet fighters, which attacked Syrian artillery emplacements Monday in northern Lebanon in the second direct Lebanese-Syrian clash in 24 hours.

The Lebanese government said the plane, downed in the Shouf, was an old Bulldog reconnaissance aircraft.

There also was fighting in the northern port of Tripoli, 42 miles north of Beirut, between rival Palestine Liberation Organization factions following the weekend arrival of PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat, state-run Beirut radio reported.

Arafat has yet to officially commit his troops to fight alongside Druze militiamen in the Shouf, although PLO dissidents say they already joined the battles against the Lebanese government.

In trying to head off another uprising in Beirut by Shiite Moslem militiamen, the government announced an unprecedented 24-hour curfew in Shiite neighborhoods in south Beirut.

The ships that opened fire with their 5-inch guns, the guided-missile cruiser USS Virginia and destroyer USS John Rodgers, are among 14 U.S. warships off the Lebanese coast. The World War II battleship USS New Jersey, which has 16-inch guns, is due off the coast Friday.

France, which contributes the largest contingent to the four-nation peace-keeping force in Beirut, criticized the U.S. bombardments. Foreign Minister Claude Cheysson said it was "not the best way to resolve the conflict."

Florida's College-Bound About Average

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's Scholastic Aptitude Test scores aren't as bad as they look, Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington says.

Florida's SAT scores were the 42nd worst in the country, according to a report released in New York over the weekend, but Turlington said Monday the performance of state students actually was about average.

He also noted that the number of students making excellent scores on the SAT increased, moving the state toward one of its "upper quartile" goals supposed to be met by 1985.

The state's scores on both the SAT and American College Testing Program (ACT) exams were up slightly in math, but down in English and other verbal skills, indicating serious problems in Florida schools, he said. He noted, however, that verbal scores were down nationally as well.

Florida high school seniors, on the average, scored 423 out of a possible 800 on the verbal portion of the SAT exam, and 464 out of a possible 800 on the mathematics portion.

This placed the state 42nd in the country, a dismal showing. But Turlington insists that Florida's showing is not as bad as it looks.

Many states rely more on the ACT exam than the SAT, while in Florida, two-thirds of the high school seniors planning to go to college take the SAT. The average score is going to be deceptively high when a small number of students takes the SAT.

A more accurate state-by-state comparison would be to consider SAT and ACT scores. If this is done, Florida comes out about average.

"We are not in the bottom 10," he said. "We are right about the middle ... We ought not to be willing to settle for the middle."

One of the "upper quartile" goals established by Turlington, Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet three years ago was to have at least 2,222 students scoring 700 or better on both sections of the SAT, and equivalent, outstanding scores on the ACT test by 1985.

The weekend SAT report and earlier ACT report showed 1,458 Florida students achieving the designated outstanding scores, compared to 1,186 for the previous year.

There continues to be improvement, the commissioner said, although he is not sure the growth will be enough for the goal to be met. He has said in the past he felt that the goal might be met on the verbal portion, but he was not sure about the math portion.

He thinks the new graduation requirements, including rigid math and English standards, adopted by the Legislature earlier this year, will cause SAT and ACT scores to go up.

Pesticide EDB More Dangerous To Children

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The pesticide ethylene dibromide (EDB), found in some Florida drinking wells, is more dangerous to children than adults, a state health official says.

Dr. Stephen King, state public health officer, said Monday people whose drinking water has been found contaminated by EDB should switch to alternative water sources, especially if they have young children.

"The EDB levels we have found in drinking water are known to significantly increase the probability of cancer," he said. "In the case of adults, development of cancer may require a number of years of exposure. However, this period may be much shorter for fetuses and our young children."

He urged expectant mothers and families with young children to switch to other drinking water sources immediately if their wells are found contaminated.

Used for decades to control nematodes attacking citrus and other crops, EDB has thus far been found in wells in areas of six counties. They are Jackson, Marion, Lake, Orange, Polk and Highlands.

Well testing also is being conducted in Hillsborough, Osceola and Seminole counties but officials said no positive readings have been confirmed yet.

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner placed a temporary ban on EDB as a soil fumigant Friday pending a decision by the federal government on what the dangerous levels are.

Search Yields Beeps From Jet's Black Box

United Press International

American and Soviet ships searched the Sea of Japan today for a Korean airliner's debris amid reports U.S. crews heard beeps from the flight recorder that could show what happened before a Soviet warplane shot down the jumbo jet.

A Japanese patrol boat spotted 20 ships, including at least two American vessels, near tiny Moncon Island but high winds, strong currents and poor visibility hampered their search.

"Most of the ships were just drifting or maneuvering to keep their position," Masayoshi Kato of Japan's Maritime Safety Agency told reporters at Wakkana.

In today's editions, The Washington Post said American crews in the northern Sea of Japan have heard electronic beeps emitted by the "black box" housing the South Korean jetliner's flight recorder.

The recorder contains the in-flight conversations of the pilot and crew aboard Korean Air Lines Flight 007 and could indicate why the Boeing 747, shot down Sept. 1 with 269 people aboard, strayed hundreds of miles off course into Soviet airspace.

Medicare Cutting Hospital Costs

What's the cost of an operation for an elderly or disabled Medicare patient? Hospitals used to decide that question. But their way of charging Medicare nearly sank the program.

The hospitals were supposed to recover only the cost of treating various ailments or injuries. Yet, Medicare was asked to pay charges that varied widely from one hospital to another, sometimes by more than $2,000 for the same medical procedure.

The Regan administration, in response to a congressional mandate, is moving on a strategy to bring order to this costly chaos.

Officials have announced new basic Medicare reimbursement rates to go into effect later this year, which will standardize the amount the program pays for 467 diagnosed ailments.

The plan is long overdue and appears to be flexible enough.

It takes into account regional differences in the cost of living and pays higher rates for more complicated surgery.

If it works as designed, the system should reward the most efficient, economically run hospitals. If their charge is lower than Medicare's standardized rate, they'll be allowed to pocket the difference.

The hospitals with the highest charges would be forced to eat more of the cost, at least in theory. Unless authorized by federal law, they won't be able to pass on the balance to the Medicare patient.

However, hospital administrators already are threatening to shift costs that Medicare won't pay to other, privately insured patients. They would drive up insurance premiums, they say.

Maybe so. But private employers are trying to block these cost shifts by looking for cheaper group insurance plans and by contracting for health care.

The Medicare cost-cutting plan deserves a try. Medicare, which paid $3 billion to hospitals in 1967, is expected to shell out $38.5 billion this year. And as our population ages, the number of Medicare-eligible patients will soar, increasingly taxing the program.

The effects of the standardized rates should be evaluated in a year or so. We need to know whether the new Medicare rates affect the quality of hospital care and result in true economy.

Fixed rates aren't a panacea, but they are a step in the cost-control direction.

Your Yuk's Showing

No kidding, a group of psychologists has come up with a Sense of Humor Inventory of 40 jokes representing 10 categories of humor. It doesn't show whether you have a "good" or "bad" sense of humor, but it's supposed to tell something about your personality.

Take this story, for example: A man falling from a cliff grabs hold of a root and hanging in midair, looks heavenward and cries, "Is anyone out there?" A voice responds: "Yes, my son, let go and I will bear thee up." After a pause, the man says: "Anyone else?"

If you like that type of "philosophical" humor, the researchers say, you're impulsive, enthusiastic, cheerful, expressive and alert. If you like social satire ("Military intelligence is a contradiction in terms."), you're apt to be jealous, dogmatic, tyrannical and irritable. If you get a real yuk out of ethnic jokes, you're a tough-minded realist. You are "unsentimental, cynical" and you "reject illusions."

If you like sex jokes (Man to woman, while pouring her a drink: "Say when." Woman: "Right after this drink."), then you're impulsive and unsophisticated. If you don't like "sick" jokes, you're probably sober, introspective and full of cares. But if you like nonsense jokes ("What does a grape say when stepped on? Nothing — just a little whine."), then your personality is more self-assured than apprehensive.

Well, you get the idea. But isn't the whole thing a little frightening? How are you supposed to know that the fellow reciting jokes at the next cocktail party isn't really testing your personality? If you laugh at the wrong kind of joke, you risk being pigeonholed as dogmatic or unsophisticated. But if you don't laugh at the right jokes, you're apt to be viewed as too apprehensive or introspective. Everyone will have a practice laughing and keeping a straight face on cue.

It's high time we all start taking our humor more seriously.

BERRY'S WORLD

"The Soviet military leaders create fear and loathing the old-fashioned way — THEY EARN IT."

By Diane Petryk

When the soft drink machine at work goes awry, you give it a swift kick, tell yourself you weren't thirsty anyway and chalk the change loss up to experience. Or you call maintenance. You realize mechanical gizmos are always going to malfunction.

But what happens if it's an auto-teller? What can you do if your Tillie-the-Teller is feeling peckish and eats your access card? You can kick it, but other than that you may be helpless.

Dan Brunk, an Altamonte Springs furniture store manager, tells this chilling tale:

Late one night he went to his Atlantic Bank auto teller, put in his card and sent a transaction request. Nothing happened. No transaction, no access card either.

He waited and waited but the card did not come back and nothing he could do would make it come back.

Immediately he had vision of losing the money involved in the transaction — or worse, the snafu wiping out his account. He looked for a number to call in the event of such a calamity, but there was none.

"I about panicked," he said.

Then a woman approached the auto teller and he advised her the machine had just permanently swallowed his card, was evidently malfunctioning and maybe she ought not try it.

"She went right ahead and popped her card in anyway," Dan said.

"And guess what? It worked fine for her."

But then he felt worse.

What if the darn machine had performed his transaction on her account? He politely demanded to see the woman's transaction slip. She obliged.

Whew, he thought, at least it didn't give her my money!

After spending a restless night, Dan said he called Atlantic Bank officials. His local branch said they could do nothing. The main office manager said not to worry, he'd have the card returned to his branch by courier.

Later, when he called his branch to see if the card had arrived, he was told it would be impossible to get it back because when the auto teller gets voracious in the manner described it shreds the access card.

"That main office manager was new. I found out later," Dan said.

He was subsequently told his card was probably dirty.

"And the auto-teller reads that as someone trying to tamper with the machine, they told me," he said.

In any case, the bank promised to promptly provide him with a new access card.

But Dan said the experience, this August, has left him thinking twice about the auto-teller habit. He said he doesn't have enough confidence in machines to believe that a transaction couldn't get miscredited, misdirected or otherwise fouled up.

But, anyway, he won't have to make any hasty decisions. He's now been told not to expect his new card before October.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Some Empty Gestures

NEW YORK (NEA) — One recent morning I found myself on NBC television's "Today" show, debating whether the shooting down of that Korean airliner demonstrated anything new about the usefulness of the United Nations. My adversary was William vanden Heuvel, who was a deputy U.S. ambassador to the United Nations back in the Carter administration.

In some ways the most interesting part of our discussion took place while we were waiting to go on the air. Vanden Heuvel said it looked like Glenn for the Democratic nomination, but then went on to volunteer that right now "Reagan is unbeatable." Still, he argued, anything can happen in a year: "Look at Henry Jackson." Then the young lady beckoned us onto the set, we shook hands with Bryant Gumbel, and the red light flashed on atop the big TV camera.

First Gumbel showed us some footage of U.S. Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick guiding the Security Council through that blood-chilling recording of the Soviet pilot's voice announcing the destruction of the airliner. Bill vanden Heuvel then declared that, if the American people needed a further graphic demonstration of the tremendous usefulness of the United Nations, that day's events in the Security Council surely provided it.

I replied that it was indeed great theater, but I begged leave to wonder whether even that kind of melodrama was worth the nearly $1 billion — one thousand million dollars — that American taxpayers are forced to pay over every year to this pretentious but meaningless organization. I pointed out that the United Nations has been controlled for 20 years by a coalition of communist and Third World nations inveterately hostile to the cause of freedom, and expressed doubt that even the Security Council, let alone the General Assembly, could be persuaded to condemn the Soviet Union for this latest act of barbarism.

To all this vanden Heuvel took vigorous exception, winding up with a declaration that the great majority of U.N. delegates have "profound respect" for the United States, its representatives and its views — an assertion so hilariously false that I took care to label it "baloney" just before the red light went out.

A few days further along, it appears that I have won the debate about what the United Nations would do (i.e., substantially nothing) hands down. Do you think the United States was able to persuade its 14 fellow members of the Security Council to "condemn" this vicious and deadly attack on a civilian airliner? Don't be silly — we didn't even try. Neither left-leaning Guyana and Malta, nor our irascible playmates in Peking, nor Robert Mugabe's Zimbabwe, nor even those alleged friends of ours Pakistan and Jordan, would consent to such a thing.

JACK ANDERSON

Downing Of Flight 007 No Surprise

WASHINGTON — Locked in government files is some startling information that deepens the mystery of ill-fated Flight 007 — the South Korean passenger plane that was blasted out of the skies by the Soviets.

My associates Dale Van Atta and Michael Binsteln have had access to secret and top-secret CIA, State Department and Defense Intelligence Agency material that provides important information on the incident. Here are the highlights:

— The Russians routinely try to lure U.S. military and intelligence aircraft into Soviet airspace so they can "legally" shoot them down. This is done by a jamming technique called "meaconning," which confuses pilots trying to follow radio signals from the ground.

The Soviets frequently scramble the navigational signals along their borders, and several planes have been shot at after being "meaconned" into Soviet skies. The technique is so widely used that pilots who fly near Soviet borders are issued navigational maps with special warnings. They are told that they can't trust radio signals along the borders and "would be fired on" if they strayed over Soviet territory.

— Though President Reagan insisted from the beginning that the Soviets knew they were firing at a civilian airliner, the State Department doubted this at first. A highly confidential memo of Sept. 2 says that the State Department's special task force was "convinced the Soviets were sure they were firing on an American military plane."

— The State Department, in a secret cable to Seoul the day after the tragedy, said it didn't believe the presence of ferently anti-communist Rep. Larry McDonald, D-Ga., on the doomed flight had inspired the shoot-down. The CIA reported that the Soviets could easily have intercepted telex communications indicating that other tempting targets might have been on the KAL flight, including Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.

But the State Department cable to Seoul said: "We have no...repeat...no evidence that the presence of Rep. McDonald aboard KAL 007 for the planned travel of Sen. Helms and others aboard that flight) was a factor in the Soviet attack on the aircraft."

— The Soviets may have had an agent among the crew of the KAL airliner that strayed deep into the U.S.S.R. in 1978. It was fired at and forced down near Murmansk. The Korean co-pilot, S.D. Cha explained at the time that the crew somehow became disoriented while flying. Their instruments indicated they were in a safe flight path outside Soviet airspace. A top-secret CIA report suggests that a Soviet agent in the crew may have been involved in the disorientation.

— An unreported attempt to shoot down without warning an unarmed Japanese P2-V reconnaissance plane on April 2, 1976, in the same area where KAL Flight 007 went down "reflects the traditional Soviet determination to protect their borders and air space against intrusions, whether real or perceived," declares a CIA report classified "Secret Spoke."

So it came as no surprise to the U.S. intelligence community when the Soviets sent a missile hurtling at a civilian airliner packed with 269 helpless passengers.

JULIAN BOND

What Makes Jesse Go?

Those Democrats worried about the Rev. Jesse Jackson's almost certain entry into the 1984 presidential race have been trying to dissuade him in the wrong way.

Front-runner Walter Mondale has tried to convince Jackson that the financial and organizational hurdles on the way to the White House are immense — too great for an underfunded late starter. Mondale's black supporters have tried to chase Jackson away from the starting line with a series of opinion polls that show that each vote that Jackson would get in next year's primaries would come from Mondale's totals.

They quote a Gallup poll showing a 50 percent decrease in black votes for the former vice president if Jackson runs, and suggest that Jackson's only role would be as spoiler of Mondale's chances.

Mondale's losses translate into John Glenn's gains, the argument goes. Every percentage point Mondale slides downward in the popular polls becomes a point upward for the No. 2 contender — replacing Mondale's standard liberalism with Glenn's cautious moderation as the standard Democrats will bear in '84.

But the "hurt Mondale-help Glenn" argument carries little weight with Jackson's most passionate supporters. They believe their candidate's attractiveness lies precisely in his promise to end almost a half century of dependence by black voters on the fortunes and good graces of white candidates.

Jackson's supporters are likely to see less difference between Glenn and Mondale than between their man and the rest of the field. To them, it's Jackson versus all others, and they hope to portray their man as a shining knight in a contest with moral midgets.

Jackson's partisans also argue that his mere presence in the race will stimulate blacks to register in large numbers, and that he'll raise issues no other candidate will mention.

That's where the Democrats have a chance to persuade the charismatic, self-styled "country preacher" to stick to the pulpit.

If Walter Mondale, John Glenn, Reubin Askew, Ernest Hollings, Gary Hart, Alan Cranston and just-announced George McGovern will only address Jackson's issues, there will be no need for him to run.

Unfortunately, there's little danger of that happening.

For example, New York's Democrats have scheduled a series of issue forums to expose the candidates to the state's Democratic voters. That exposure is important to candidates and voters alike. The Empire State delegation will be the second largest at next year's convention. The candidate who carries New York stands a good chance of winning the nomination as well.

At each forum the candidates will be asked to give their views on five issues: the national economy, the revitalization of the Northeast, the environment, women's rights and arms control.

Alternative To Bypass

By Lidia Wasowicz
UPI Science Writer

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — As 400 heart specialists watched, a cardiologist snaked a plastic tube through a man's circulatory system to a spot near his heart, where a blockage of fatty material had created conditions ideal for a heart attack.

With a mere puff of air into a tiny balloon, the fatty accumulation was wiped out.

There was no need for coronary bypass surgery, the more dangerous, more costly and more traditional resort in such cases. The patient, A. Schmalzer, looked forward to getting back to the golf course in a couple of days.

"I felt better than going to the dentist," said Schmalzer, of Nequon, Wis.

The cardiologist, Dr. John B. Simpson, said the procedure would be just as effective for one-third of coronary artery disease sufferers, some 200,000 of whom undergo bypass operations each year.

Percutaneous transluminal coronary angioplasty, as the procedure is known, was first performed on a human by Simpson's teacher, Dr. Andreas Gruntzig, in Zurich, Switzerland, in 1977.

At the time, Simpson said in an interview, "We thought about 5 percent of bypass surgery candidates would benefit."

"With improved instruments and refined techniques, I feel PTCA can now help 35 percent, and there are others who place the number at 50 to 60 percent."

Simpson has performed 400 such procedures since 1978 with an 85 percent to 90 percent success rate.

Cardiac physicians, nurses and technicians came from around the world to Sequoia Hospital for the four days of lectures and to watch him and his colleagues demonstrate the technique.

Silver-haired Schmalzer was wheeled into the hospital's catheterization laboratory, kidding with the nurses and technicians about "going under the wire instead of under the knife."

He had an injection of local anesthetic to prevent pain from the

Thompson, Curtin Step Into Limelight With Grade A Efforts

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

For a pair of Seminole County defensive backs, Friday night was their chance to get into the limelight.

In 1982, their teams, Seminole High and Lake Mary High, suffered through miserable seasons, so the two didn't get much praise. After Friday though, those two players will be remembered for a long time to come for the grade A contributions they made to their teams' victories.

The first of the two is Seminole's Deron Thompson. The junior secondary man made four game-saving tackles as the Tribe snapped a 12-game losing streak with a 7-0 victory over Southwest Miami at Seminole High. The first game-saver came late in the second quarter when Miami quarterback Zal Valladares unloaded a bomb to Jesus Regalado who caught the ball at the Seminole 40 and had nothing but turf between him and the end zone. However, Thompson got the angle on Regalado and caught him at the Seminole 20. Regalado tried to cut back across the field, but slipped and fell at the Seminole 12 and the Tribe's 7-0 lead was still intact.

That turned out to be the play of the game, as the 'Noles offense played ball control most of the second half while the defense didn't let Southwest Miami get anything going.

The second of the two, Lake Mary's Tim Curtin had what was perhaps the best defensive game of the young season and he even contributed to the offense as the Rams opened the season with a 15-14 victory over DeLand's Bulldogs at DeLand. Curtin intercepted a pair of passes, recovered a fumble and kicked a game-winning 24-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

Curtin's first interception came late in the first quarter

as he picked off a third-down pass by DeLand quarterback Ferrol Gordon to kill a Bulldog scoring drive. "I saw that one coming," Curtin said after the Rams' victory.

The junior defensive back provided what turned out to be the game-winning points in the fourth quarter as he nailed a 24-yard field goal with 8:02 left to play. Curtin came back to seal the victory for the Rams as he picked off his second pass of the night with 6:43 remaining in the game. Lake Mary went on to run the clock down to 2:08 before giving the ball back to DeLand.

Friday night will be a memorable one for both Curtin and Thompson, and it will also be a special night for Seminole and Lake Mary. Friday night, the two teams combined for more victories than they did in the entire 1982 season. Seminole was 0-10 in '82 while Lake Mary was 1-9.

The triumphant night is just what the Seminole and Lake Mary football programs needed. For Seminole, it erases all thoughts that the Tribe doesn't know how to hold a lead and doesn't have a winning attitude. For Lake Mary, the victory will put the Rams on the map in 4A competition and in the Five Star Conference.

Both Lake Mary and Seminole hope they can keep the momentum going into this week, the first of intense inter-county play. Seminole hosts the unbeaten, 2-0, Lake Howell Silver Hawks while the Rams travel to Lake Brantley to battle the 1-1 Patriots who dropped a 17-6 decision to Lyman on Saturday.

WIGWAM WHISPERS — Bryan Debose and Keith Brown were the Sanford Optimist Club Players of the Week for the Tribe. Debose, a fleshy defensive tackle, won for the second time while Brown, an offensive tackle, got his first luncheon invitation. The Optimists gather at noon every Tuesday at Western Sizzlin in Sanford to honor the players from Seminole and Lake Mary. Defensive back Tim Curtin picked up the offensive award for the Rams while guard Ed Ades was the offensive winner for coach Harry Nelson's Rams.

For the 'Noles, running back Cliff Campbell and punter Rob Cohen each picked up a Savage award for their play on the special teams. Campbell has several good hits while Cohen punted twice for 43 yards. Debose, Tracy Holloman and Kelvin "Special K" Robinson were the Headhunters for their work on defense. Jo Jo McCloud, Campbell and Brown were the Hatchmen for their offensive showings.

"Keith Brown did an excellent job," said Seminole coach Jerry Posey. "He sealed off the middle and got down field for some good blocks." Brown, a 5-11, 165-pound senior, was moved to the swing tackle spot to allow Ed Rinkavage to concentrate on defense.

Debose, meanwhile, continued to pester the opposition's backfield. The spunky 5-6, 166-pounder had seven tackles, two assists, one sack and a fumble recovery to lead the team. William Wynn had five tackles and two assists while Deron Thompson made five solos and Robinson had four. Brian Brooks had an interception and Brian Cash had a fumble recovery.

GREAT SCOTT — Former Lake Howell standout Chuck Scott pulled in the game-winning pass as Vanderbilt beat Iowa State in the closing seconds. Scott, a junior with his eye on the All-SEC team, had seven catches for 99 yards. It was his second productive week. He had five grabs in a loss to Maryland two weeks ago.

Apopka Jumps To 8th

Apopka's Rod Brewer threw for 183 yards and one touchdown Friday as the Blue Devils hammered Daytona Beach Mainland. The showing immediately got the poll takers attention as Apopka jumped into the number eight position for the 4A rankings. The poll is compiled by Ocala Star Banner sports writer Vince Murray. Lake Howell, a member of the Honorable Mention category last week, fell out after a narrow 17-14 win over Spruce Creek.

Lake Howell 'Whiz Kids' Set The Pace In County

The Lady Silver Hawks of Lake Howell High may come to be known as the "Whiz Kids" of prep cross country. With a team that features three freshmen, a sophomore and a junior in the top five, the young Lady Hawks have dominated the early going of the '83 season.

Lake Howell won the Greyhound Opener the first week, then came back to take the Edgewater Invitational this past Thursday. While taking the first two meets of the season, all five of Lake Howell's top runners rank among the top 16 in the Seminole County Girls Honor Roll. Sophomore Angie Smith has the team's top time of 13:50.3, which is the fourth best time in the county. Behind Lucas is freshman Lisa Semack (13:04.7, fifth in the county), junior Lynn Lucas (13:12.1, sixth in the county), freshman Martha Fonseca (13:17, seventh in the county) and freshman Mary Fonseca (13:22, ninth in the county).

Lyman ranks as the top boys team in the county with second and fifth place finishes in the first two meets and Lake Mary is second with a pair of fourth places. Lake Howell's Ken Chessman took over the individual top time with a 13:55.1 at the Edgewater Invitational on a last Trinity Prep course.

Tribe Opens Season Against Evans

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Although it may take a while for the Seminole High swimming program to become a contender, Tribe coach Donalyn Knight believes she has a solid foundation to build from. The Seminole girls has the edge in experience with four of its top performers from last year returning, including three seniors. On the other hand, the boys team has only one returning senior, an outstanding junior and a lot of newcomers.

"We have a lot of young, untested talent on both teams," Knight said. "They have been working as hard as possible in practice (sometimes two a day) and have become very dedicated."

The Tribe opens the '83 season on Wednesday as it hosts Orlando Evans at the Sanford Bath & Tennis Club. The meet is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. Season tickets for all Seminole home meets are still available. The cost is $5 and Seminole will use the money to buy new lane lines. Tickets can be purchased from Knight or any team member.

The top performer to watch on the boys team is junior Chuck Burgess. As a sophomore, Burgess was the Five Star Conference champion in the 100 backstroke and he finished 12th in the 4A State Championships in the same event.

The only returning senior on the team is Tim Dycus who specializes in the breaststroke. John Dubois, a sophomore, is the only other returnee to the boys team.

Diving will be one of the Tribe's strongest events in '83 with three promising prospects paving the way. They include, senior Brian Sparrow, junior Andy Ellmore and freshman Chuck Hayes.

Newcomers for Seminole who will be counted on to contribute include junior Chris Megill, sophomores Stewart Thornton and Mike Horner and freshmen Michael Butt and Gerald Colazzo.

Prep Swimming

"We're in somewhat of a rebuilding year," Knight said. "We're continuing to build the program and I'm looking forward to an exciting year for both teams."

The Seminole girls team has a lot more experience than the boys with three returning seniors leading the way. However, the Lady Tribe lost two of its top people from a year ago. Lisa Polgar and Bridgette Deere, to graduation. Polgar was the first four-year swimmer in Seminole High history.

The returning seniors include Suzy Porter, Alison McCall and Lis Pryor, three of the Tribe's most talented performers in '82. Also returning after a successful sophomore year is Dana Ray. Knight also said that newcomers Shawna Cole (sophomore) and Stacy Juinto (junior) also have experience and will play important roles in '83.

"The top four returnees and the two newcomers give us a good nucleus to work with," Knight said. "The girls are stronger as a team than the boys."

The girls team will also have depth in the diving department with Pryor and seniors Patty Ellmore and Jennifer Cowley all looking promising in pre-season practice.

Other newcomers to the team include seniors Lisa Cooper and Carol Picotte. Junior Tracy Reed and freshmen Kristy Keeling and Chris Sparrow. Although Picotte is a newcomer this year, she does have experience, as she was on the team two years ago.

Lake Mary's Rams have already opened the '83 season as the boys finished second and the girls fourth in a quadrangular meet last Wednesday at the Shardin Aquatic Club in Longwood.

Juniors Scott Wise and Sheri Clayton got off to impressive starts as they set two school records apiece. Wise had three first places (including his relay) and set Lake Mary records in the 100 butterfly at 55:86 and the 100 backstroke with a time of 1:00:32. Clayton set a new mark in the 500 freestyle at 5:27.41 and the 100 butterfly at 1:04.23.

The Rams get back into action on Wednesday in a dual meet at New Smyrna Beach.

Other notable performers in the season opener included Brian Cook, Todd Stebbins and Trey Siebold who teamed up with Wise to win the 200 medley relay with a clocking of 1:51.44. Tim Orange broke a school record in the 40 freestyle with a time of 25.54. Richard Kurtz, Mike Montovani, Scott Bowers and Kyle Kilger also contributed to the Rams' second place finish.

Providing depth for the boys team are Jeff Anderson, Joe Filippelli, Mark Kraner, William Large, Steve Rose and Todd Raborn.

For the girls, Clayton, Sherry Purkerson, Teresa Prince and Amy Maher teamed up for a first place in the 200 medley relay with a new school record of 2:04.79. Maher also picked up second place finishes in the 50 and 100 freestyle while Purkerson was second in the 100 breaststroke.

Also expected to contribute for the Lady Rams in '83 are Kandi Kilger, Kelly McKel, Stacy Marley, Shelly Orange, Claire Pittman, Susan Trullit, Tammy Weber, Tina Cole, Jennifer Hamilton and Diane Holloway.

Raiders Unravel Dolphins, 27-14

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — NFL teams use multi-million dollar computers to probe and analyze opponents' weaknesses. Coaches watch films until their bloodshot eyes look like road maps.

David Woodley could have saved them a lot of trouble.

"The Raiders have a great defense," the Miami

Pro Football

quarterback said. "You can't run against them and you can't pass against them. That doesn't leave too much else."

Sure it does. There's always the kicking game. The Dolphins got in position for one field goal attempt when it mattered. And Uwe von Schamann shanked it.

And that was that. Tackle Greg Townsend recovered a fumble and rambled 66 yards for a touchdown, climaxing a brilliant Los Angeles defensive performance that powered the Raiders to a 27-14 victory over the Dolphins in Monday night's nationally televised game.

"They kicked us around all night," said Miami coach Don Simula. "That's about as thoroughly as you can get beat. They did whatever they wanted to do. It was pretty much like that all night."

The starting Raider defensive unit didn't allow a point as Miami scored twice in the final 2:29 against a collection of second- and third-string defenders, averting their first shutout since last Dec. 12 against New England in the famous snowplog incident in which a tractor cleared a path for kicker John Smith as the Patriots won 3-0.

The victory was the 20th for the Raiders in Monday night games against two losses and one tie, by far the best Monday night record in the NFL. Los Angeles is now 3-0 and joined the Dallas Cowboys as the only undefeated team this season. Miami, which ranks second with 15 Monday night victories, fell to 2-1 on the season.

Los Angeles put the game away with 1:12 remaining in the third period, boosting its lead to 20-0 on Townsend's touchdown. Woodley was crushed by linebacker Rod Martin and coughed up the ball. Townsend, a 240-pound rookie from Texas Christian, scooped up the ball along the right sideline and followed a wall of blockers down the middle of the field.

Martin got up after jarring the ball loose from Woodley and made the final key block on Townsend's run, clearing the way for the big tackle who ran the ball into the endzone for a 66-yard TD romp.

"All I could see was the goal post in front of me," Townsend said. "When I picked up the ball, there was nothing but black jerseys around and I knew I was going all the way."

Martin said he wasn't satisfied merely stripping Woodley of the ball.

"After I knocked it out of his, I saw Townsend pick it up," Martin said. "I decided I was going to get my butt downfield and throw a block."

Los Angeles coach Tom Flores said he couldn't explain his team's remarkable Monday night record. "I just wish we could get the commissioner to let us play all our games on Monday night," he said.

Not very likely. With NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Raider owner Al Davis as compatible as tight shoes and long hikes, the Raiders might play their games at 4 o'clock on Wednesday mornings.

But the zany Raider defense would probably cope just fine with that.

"They say offense sells tickets and defense wins championships," said Flores. "and that's basically true. How much excitement is there in seeing someone knock the hell out of a ball carrier? For a violent person it might be exciting, but for the average guy it's not."

No one ever accused Los Angeles fans of being average guys. More than 57,000 of them cheered their lungs out until midway through the final quarter. Then it was time to go home.

The Raiders jumped to a 13-0 lead in the first half on a 2-yard TD run by Frank Hawkins and a 14-yard scoring pass from Jim Plunkett to Todd Christensen. Townsend's fumble recovery and return made it 20-0 and Greg Pruitt's 5-yard TD burst made it 27-0 before Flores sent in the reserves.

The Dolphins, with Dan Marino in for Woodley, scored two TDs in the final 2:29, the first on a 6-yard Marino to Joe Rose pass and the second on a 2-yard pass from Marino to Mark Duper with 20 seconds left in the game.

In And Around Longwood

Historic Preservation Lectures Set

The Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation, is presenting three lectures on "Historic Longwood" at the Bradlee-McIntyre House on Warren Avenue, off SR 427, in Longwood.

These meetings will be held to acquaint all newcomers to the area of the historic significance of Longwood, as well as to refresh the memories of area history buffs. Refreshments will be served. Those interested are cordially invited.

The lectures will be held on Tuesdays at 7:30, beginning tonight, when Betty McLeod and Dottie Pearson will talk about the moving and restoration of the house. On Oct. 4, Ted Bislone will speak about the history of Longwood, and on Oct. 18, Maxine McGrath will review interesting events of the past 50 years.

The Longwood/Lake Mary Lioness Club is announcing two special projects coming up in October. According to Lois Workman, the Lioness regional director at large, the club will celebrate World Service Day on Oct. 6, and hold their annual Health Fair on Oct. 22.

In celebration of World Service Day, club members work together to find and assist a community function that is in special need, then set out to meet that need.

On Oct. 6, club members are planning to make a special visit out to the "Russell Home" in Orlando. Mrs. Russell, who runs the home, provides care, and housing for over 30 mentally retarded and handicapped children every day. According to Lois, many of these children go to school each day and are in desperate need of clothing. The home is always needing food, paper and cleaning products.

Club members have faithfully been collecting and saving items of clothing, household goods, and food coupons of which they will prepare a special "care package" to be donated to the home.

Karen Warner

Anyone wanting to find out more about the home, or wishing to make financial or material donations may do so by contacting Lois Workman at 831-2740 during the day. Lois said that the Longwood/Lake Mary Lioness Club will make monthly visits to the Russell home.

Secondly, coming up on Oct. 22, the Lioness District 35-0, will host its annual "Health Fair," to be held at the Orlando State Lions Building, Lake Ellenor Drive, Orlando, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"This should be the best health fair we've ever had" said Lois. In years past, the fair offered only one or two health services, but this year's fair will have a wide range of services free to the public.

A few of the health services available this year are free blood pressure checks, eye screening, diabetes testing, films dealing with drug awareness, and the Blood Mobile will be there to accept blood, which will be deposited into the Lions/Lioness Blood Bank.

The Lioness Club wishes to thank those who made donations to the recent Flea Market sale, and for making it a success. The club raised over $150 from the sale.

The Sabal Point Woman's Club will meet this month on Sept. 27, instead of on the regularly scheduled day. Club members have planned a relaxing evening of amusement, fun and games. They will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Sabal Point Elementary School. The club normally meets the third Tuesday of the month.

The Rotary Club of Longwood had an "eye opening" type of meeting recently. Following the early morning breakfast, guest speaker Carol Kaig, from the Right to Life Program, presented an "eye opening" film covering the chilling effects of abortion, the murdering of unborn babies, from a medical, physical and moral point of view. According to a source, a few of the men were a bit "grey" around the gills by the time the meeting was over.

Twenty-five members from the Longwood/Lake Mary Lions and Lioness Clubs have just returned from a trip to Lake Wales. According to Gyle Workman, regional deputy district governor at large and club treasurer, 25 club members had a wonderful time at the Florida Lions Camp in Lake Wales. Lions and Lionesses from all over the state came out to help raise funds for the camp, which is used all year to provide outdoor recreation for area blind, handicapped or disabled people. The camp includes a petting zoo for youngsters that may have never even petted a goat, horse or rabbit before. During the summer months the camp is used exclusively for crippled and blind children who would otherwise never have a chance to go to camp, according to Workman. The camp, used by many different clubs and organizations, held a barbeque to raise operation funds. During the afternoon, groundbreaking for a new infirmary took place.

Coming up in October, the Lions Club members will again be selling candy to raise funds to provide area school children with glasses.

On Oct. 14, 15, 21, and 22, the Lions will be selling Halloween candy for $1.50 per bag.

The Longwood/Lake Mary Lions Club meets every first and third Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. at the Quality Inn. Anyone interested in learning more about the workings of the Lions Club, may attend one of the meetings.

Reader: If It Works, Don't Fix It

DEAR ABBY: You are very perceptive, and your responses show a wonderful understanding of the human condition. However, your response to "Doing Nicely Without," the lady who had no interest in sex but had a good marriage anyway and wondered why, was unfair in my opinion.

Your response, "Maybe he gives at the office," was without sex. She didn't say she denied him, only that she's not interested. If she participates out of love, while not physically inspired, what greater act of love can there be? And to place even a shadow of suspicion where none existed is unkind.

While the lady may not know what she's missing, my advice would be, "If it works, don't fix it."

Please, Abby, don't let one wet noodle outweigh the many bouquets you deserve for the great work you do.

TRUDY HUNT
DEAR TRUDY: Thanks, I needed that. Regrettably I assessed that letter as a put-on, and I responded in kind, which came off as very un-kind to many irate readers who took it seriously. Men culpa. Mea maxima culpa!

Asian Cleaners Offers Personalized Service

Twenty years experience and personalized service while you wait is offered by Asian Cleaners at 3846 Orlando Ave., Sanford, at the Village Market Place shopping center.
 Owner-operator of the shop is Hoa McAfee, who worked in her parents' dry cleaning shop in South Vietnam as a young girl before emigrating to the United States. At her parents' shop laundry was done for U.S. Army personnel stationed in South Vietnam.
 Mrs. McAfee owned and operated six other similar dry cleaning establishments in Central Florida before opening Asian Cleaners in Sanford more than a year ago at the shopping center at U.S. 17-92 and Lake Mary Boulevard.
 All the cleaning and pressing is done on the premises.
 Other services available include suede and leather cleaning, laundry, alterations and dress making. The shop provides drapery cleaning service and upholstery of pillows. Special cleaning whether it be dry-cleaning or laundering is provided for fancy bedspreads.

Ziebart Manager Craig Pendarvis applies rustproofing.

Let Ziebart Protect Your Car Against Rust

With the money one must put into purchasing an automobile, truck or van today, rust protection has become a necessity to protect that investment.

Rustproofing the panels, doors, tailgates, pillars, the chassis and the underside areas and providing protection for the vehicle's paint job is essential in Florida because of the humidity and the salt in the air.

Protection of the fabric upholstery is also a most. The foremost firm in the world to provide these protections is Ziebart. In business more than a quarter of a century, it has 1,200 dealerships world-wide, 800 of them in the United States and one in Sanford, at 605 W. 27th Street.

Wayne Smith and Ken Barnes, who opened the Ziebart dealership in Sanford in March, said surprisingly the areas on vehicles where rust is apt to strike are different from vehicle to vehicle, year to year. Annually Ziebart engineers confer with the engineers of various manufacturers to determine where specific rust prone areas are so they can be given special attention.

Shop manager at the Sanford Ziebart dealership is Craig Pendarvis, who has received the specialized training required in the company's operations.

He's backed by complete technical information on where a vehicle requires rust protection and how to reach even the most inaccessible areas with Ziebart spray tools. He uses the exclusive Ziebart penetrating sealant that seeps and flows into every crease and corner, even penetrating welded seams, which are susceptible to rust.

Ziebart stands behind its rust protection for as long as one owns his new car. Smith and Barnes also note that this guarantee can be passed on to a buyer. Guaranteed rust-proofing can also be provided for used cars.

With the fine fabrics and carpeting now featured in today's new cars, the need for fabric protection is readily apparent especially when children and pets are occasional passengers. Zeegard fabric protector assures lasting protection from spills and stains. Professionally applied at the Ziebart dealership, the superior stain repellent actually penetrates the fabric to put an invisible shield around every fabric strand. Yet soft fibers remain soft and comfortable.

Even deep-pile shag carpeting is fully protected. The Zeegard fabric protector increases the normal life of most fabrics by increasing the abrasion resistance of the fabric, said Smith and Barnes.

Not only does Ziebart do its rustproofing work for owners of private vehicles but also for pest control firms, pool suppliers and fertilizer manufacturers which haul corrosive materials in their autos and trucks. It does work for various governmental units and exceeds all military specifications and standards. Smith and Barnes said.

The Ziebart tools and processes are all patented, they said.

The Sanford dealership of Ziebart is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 8 until noon. The work can be done in one day's time and persons wishing the service may call 323-9601 for an appointment.

Lackluster Gold Should Shine Again

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gold, after trading in the $400-$450 range for six months, now seems certain to go lower — some say to $300 — but many analysts believe that will pave the way for a solid advance in the months ahead.

In 1975, when for the first time since 1933 it became legal for Americans to own gold, it was selling around $160 a troy ounce. On Jan. 21, 1980 the precious metal hit a record $875. It dropped back to around $300 in June of 1982.

Anthony Sorrentino, precious metals analyst at Standard & Poor's Corp., now looks for gold to drop below the $400 mark as "speculators who purchased the precious metal in anticipation of higher inflation grow impatient and liquidate their holdings."

Sorrentino, writing in S&P's Industry Surveys, said factors that normally would have rallied gold prices to the sky — recent declines in interest rates and the shooting down of a Korean airliner by the Russians — had a negligible impact on prices.

"The lack of reaction indicates a weakness in the gold market," the analyst said. "Thus, the path of least resistance would appear to be downward."

If the key support level of $400 an ounce is decisively broken — chartists would sell at the Feb. 28 low of $395-$396 an ounce — gold may plunge to $320 and could even test the $300 cyclical bottom, Sorrentino said.

On the New York Commodity Exchange, where charts are widely followed, the major trading month for gold futures is the December contract. It has the most players and thus the greatest potential for volatility, a dealer said.

No Symptoms? Let Gallstones Alone

DEAR DR. LAMB — I recently became diabetic. While in the hospital I underwent extensive tests and X-rays. They discovered that I had a stone in my gallbladder. My doctor wants me to have surgery to remove my gallbladder to, as he put it, prevent the stone from moving.

I am a man of 70 and have always been in excellent health and have worked hard all my life. The doctor said my body is in excellent shape but he is serious about the surgery.

My question is should I have this surgery? I have never had any pain or discomfort from this condition. I have a feeling I should let well enough alone.

DEAR READER — Of course I do not know the exact location of your stone but unless it is now causing obstruction I would seriously question the necessity of having surgery. Why? Because recent studies have changed the earlier opinions about the need to do surgery for gallstones. Older studies would have supported your doctor's view.

But a recent study published in Gastroenterology, volume 80, page 1161, 1981 reports that among people like you who have never had any symptoms, only 10 percent will develop symptoms within five years, 15 percent in 10 years and 18 percent in 15 years.

The thrust of the study is that you need not operate on a silent gallstone. I have included the scientific reference because this is a relatively new change in what patients are advised. And, as the study indicates, if you happen to be one of those who do develop symptoms, you can be evaluated for surgery at that time. In the study only 2.5 percent developed acute gallbladder attacks or pancreatitis, so your chances of developing a problem that might require surgery are rather small. I have discussed this change in recommendations in The Health Letter 20-6. Your Gallbladder: Stones and Attacks, which I am sending you.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My 35-year-old son suddenly developed multiple sclerosis. After many tests his doctors have told him he has chronic progressive multiple sclerosis. Are there different types of this? Is there no hope for him? I am so worried. I would appreciate any advice or information you can give.

DEAR READER — I wish it were possible to be of more help. We really don't know what causes multiple sclerosis. It causes a patchy loss of the sheath that encases nerve fibers, affecting nerve function at random. The current best opinion is that a virus infection triggers off an abnormal immune response in people who inherit a susceptibility to such a reaction.

I don't want to encourage false hopes but a study of the effects of new treatment (ACTH with cyclophosphamide) provided some encouraging results in patients with the progressive multiple sclerosis (for doctors who want a reference, New England Journal of Medicine, Jan. 27, 1983). In 16 of 20 cases the patients had stabilized or improved after one year of study.

Yes, there are different degrees of severity of multiple sclerosis. Many cases that occur early in life have a good outlook. As many as 80 percent have no significant disability 10 years later.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY SEPTEMBER 21, 1983
Ventures or enterprises which you tackle on your own should work out successfully for you this coming year. Don't bring partners into the act unless it's absolutely necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do nothing today which could offend persons whose support you now need to advance your present interests. Make allies, not antagonists. Virgo predictions for the year ahead are now ready. Romance, career, luck, earnings, travel and much more are discussed. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be sensible regarding good health habits today. Practice moderation. If there are things you shouldn't eat or drink, leave them alone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Avoid groups or cliques that contain individuals who make you feel uncomfortable. They may be even more irritating today, so stick to true pals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If the outside world doesn't treat you as kindly as it should today, don't bring your grievances home and take them out on innocent bystanders.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Everybody makes mistakes, and there's a possibility you might do so today. However, if you try to cover them up, it will cause complications.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be budget-conscious today and limit your spending to your immediate needs. Going into debt for something you can't presently afford isn't a good move.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Use your best judgment in critical situations today. Where you see the odds stacked against you, back off until you can marshal more force.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Beware of temptations today to press yourself beyond your capabilities. Seek assistance for projects which require more know-how than you possess.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Try not to conduct your affairs today in ways which could put you in opposition to the majority. Being out on a limb all alone won't be fun.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Strive to do your best today, but don't attach unreasonable importance to being No. 1. In some instances, second place isn't that bad.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Unless you have respect for the ideas and opinions of others today they, in turn, will have little regard for yours. Give credit where credit is due.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be doubly careful in your financial and commercial dealings today. Acting without thinking will create deficits instead of profits.

breaks 3-3, he is home. An opponent holding four cards in both of them is automatically squeezed. Or is he?

South wins the diamond and leads a club toward dummy. East takes his ace and leads back a diamond. (He can also let dummy hold the first club and then take the second.)

Either way, South simply cashes his black suit winners. West has to chuck a red card on the last spade. Chucking a heart establishes South's fourth heart; chucking a diamond establishes dummy's fourth diamond.

Now let's look at super defense. West follows with his deuce to the first club to show an odd number. East lets the first club hold and, if he is a wide-awake expert, lets the second club hold also. South can't lead a third club or East will get two quick club tricks. South cashes his 11 tricks. The twelfth must come from his fourth heart or dummy's fourth diamond. If either suit
