They would now be elected by the people, not to succeed themselves, which he thought would solve many problems. A question and answer period followed Rep. Sweeney's talk.

Governors Scolded For Lack Of Action

MIAMI BEACH (UP)—Gov. Harold W. Handley of Indiana scolded his fellow governors today for reverting to "talk rather than action" in trying to reclaim state powers from the federal government. His complaint was directed at one resolution adopted by the 80th annual governors' conference at its wrap-up session Wednesday. The resolution dealt with the project set up a year ago at President Eisenhower's request. A committee of governors worked with the administration to develop a program for the federal government to turn over some of its functions to the states. The first recommendations called for increased state responsibility for such programs as day-care, relief, and clearance, vocational education and pollution control.

Handley Disappointed
The conference approved of the project but suggested that proposals for vocational education and pollution control be softened. Handley said he was much disappointed and that the conference should have gone along the way with its committee. "After one year's consideration and study of this joint commission," he said, "all we have accomplished has been a watered-down resolution, now a statement, that is entirely meaningless. Now once again, we are in the mere area of talk rather than action." LeRoy Collins of Florida today pledged himself to do "my very best to do a real job," as newly elected chairman of the national governors conference.

6-Year-Old Darts Into Path Of Car; Injuries Minor

A six year old boy narrowly escaped being crushed to death yesterday afternoon when he darted from between two parked automobiles and into the path of an oncoming car.

The accident occurred on East First Street about 20 feet west of Magnolia Ave. shortly after 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Denis Lamb, 6-year-old grandson of Mrs. Irene Stafford, 408 French Ave., had walked from Southside school and during a heavy rain attempted to cross First St. when struck by the automobile traveling east. Donald N. Drach, 35, of 88 Community Drive in DeBary, told a Sanford Herald reporter yesterday "I'm thankful that I was driving slow."

The founder was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital where it was determined that his injuries were minor. He received an abrasion on his shoulder and a few bruises.

Sergeant Ben Butler, Sanford Police Department's investigating officer, said "the accident was unavoidable." However, Sergeant Butler pointed out "the child could have easily been killed as he darted out into traffic during the rain."

121 SHS Seniors Will Get Diplomas May 30

The 1957-58 Seminole High School year will climax when 121 seniors receive their diplomas Friday night, May 30, at 8 p. m. "There's been a lot of academic talent in this year's graduating class," Seminole High School Principal Andrew J. Bracken said this morning. "They are outstanding students who have worked hard to obtain scholarships both in academic and athletic areas," he said.

Bracken paid tribute to the year's graduating seniors as he praised them for being "high spirited and active—accomplishing a lot." The Seminole High School Principal said "they have made contributions to the city and the county and can look to them for leadership and to those going to college, making outstanding records." Final examinations for the seniors will be taken today and tomorrow.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday night, May 25, by the Rev. David S. Carnell. Others taking part in the program to be held at the Seminole High School auditorium will be the Rev. Joe Courson, the Rev. Perry L. Stone, and Chaplain William C. Fuller. The Seminole High School Band will play the processional, with a choir singing selected anthems, and for the recessional. Class Day will be held at Seminole High School next Wednesday beginning at 8 a. m. It is at this event awards are presented: Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, the D.A.R. award; Mrs. D. D. Caldwell, the UDC award; Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, the Colonial Daughters of America award; M. L. Raborn Jr., the Junior Chamber of Commerce award.

Also awards will be presented by Miss Edna Chittenden, Miss Olive Reese, Whittle, Miss Barbara Hahn, Bandmaster Ernest Cowley, and Principal Andrew J. Bracken. The Class of 1953 will be represented by Theodore Wade. The Class Prophecy will be made by Barbara Mitchell and John Harley; the Class Will will be read by Deloris Bailey and Bill Hernandez; Jack Bigsby, U.S. class vice president will speak; Wally Hays will present the Senior Key to Juniors with Clifford McKibbin accepting.

At the graduation ceremony on May 30 Howard McNulty will present the Valedictorian award; Myron A. Heck the Salutatorian award; Tom McDonald will present the Jaycee Leadership Award; and Gordon Frederick will deliver the American Legion's Citizenship award.

Seminole High School Principal Bracken will award the diplomas at the graduation ceremony. Bracken, pointing to the success and achievements of the 1958 graduating class, said "A large part can be attributed to the faculty which taught advanced courses in math, science and English; and the guidance they've received through the teachers who sponsored the various school organizations."

Unidentified Fly Striking Cattle In This Area

A strange fly which strikes at cattle has been found in this area.

Earl Higginbotham, owner of the "Billy H" ranch near Lake Monroe, caught about 25 of the green and yellow flies to determine what they are and how they can be attacked.

Higginbotham said this morning that these flies are "more detrimental and seem to affect cattle more than the large horsefly."

Strange thing about these flies, said Higginbotham, is that they strike just before dark and will attack the cattle all over their bodies. "They are blood suckers," he said, "and are so thick they can't be beat off."

The flies are similar in shape to a horse fly but have green bodies with tinges of yellow and transparent wings. Also they have a soft body unlike a horsefly. "They are prevalent all over this area," Higginbotham said this morning. And, he commented, they are just about driving the cattle crazy.

Summing up the damage the strange fly will do, he said "They'll do more harm in the one hour before dark when they strike than the good all food the cattle will eat in a day will do."

Higginbotham took samples of the fly to Dr. John Wilson, at the Central Florida Experiment Station, in an effort to identify them. "There's no trouble getting samples," he said, "for they can be raked off an animal by the hand."

Cubs, All-Stars Play Friday Nite

An exciting game will be played Friday at Memorial Stadium under the lights between the Cubs and the All-Stars. The game starts at 7:30. Admission is free.

Trophies will be awarded during the evening. The All-Stars will be comprised of the most valuable players from other teams in the league. The Cubs won 10 and lost 6 during the season.

Funeral Home is in charge.

Kiwians Go Around The World With Organ Music

Members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club were entertained yesterday, at their noon luncheon meeting, with a program called "Around The World With Music."

Glenn Nelson, Hammond Chord organist, played musical selections from countries around the world in a program narrated by Paul Hein-ohn.

Demonstrating the versatility of the chord organ, Nelson adapted songs of various countries to instruments most well known from that area.

There were musical imitations of trumpets, violins, banjos, huge theatre organs, and even the bagpipe of Scotland.

As musical numbers denoting various areas of the world were played, Kiwanians responded enthusiastically, but none so great as when Nelson played "Way Down South In Dixie." The organist received a standing ovation.

The musician and narrator were representatives of Cooper and Gregory Music Co.

Hill Grankow was program chairman for the meeting.

Living Costs Hit New High In April

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Labor Department reported today that record-high food prices pushed living costs to a new all-time peak in April.

The department said substantial price increases for fruits, vegetables, meats, poultry and fish sent the index up two-tenths of a per cent last month.

The April index rose to 123.5 of average 1947-49 prices. This was 2.3 per cent higher than a year ago.

There was some good news for housewives, however. Labor Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said the big increases are over and over—all living costs were "peaking out."

Some Prices Decline
The department said some foods—bananas, green beans, tomatoes and onions—declined sharply in May.

Clague said prices may creep up further during the summer but that August is the most logical month for a drop.

The government's cost-of-living index has gone up in 18 of the past 20 months. It was unchanged in the other two months. It last showed a decline in August 1956.

About 500,000 workers will get wage increases as a result of pay-scalation clauses in labor contracts. About 250,000 workers in farm implements, auto and auto parts firms will receive two cents an hour. Another 180,000 will get boosts of three cents an hour.

Clague said some prices declined in April. New car prices fell seven-tenths of a per cent. Gasoline prices dropped more than 1 per cent to the lowest level in 18 months.

Rent, Electricity Up
Food prices were 5.9 per cent above the level a year ago. Rents, gas and electricity and house furnishings pushed up housing costs. Higher interest rates on GI mortgages made some ownership more expensive despite a decline in fuel prices.

Higher doctor fees, hospital rates and prescription prices sent medical care up .3 per cent.

The bureau reported that buying power of the average factory worker's earnings declined 4 per cent over the year. The drop was attributed to a shorter work week and higher prices.

The average take-home pay earnings after federal taxes—for a factory worker with three dependents—was $13.67 in March. This was about a half dollar lower than the preceding month. Some reduction is usual at this time of the year.

HELP WANTED
According to a recent survey, U. S. mental hospitals need twice as many doctors; three times as many social workers; four times as many psychologists and five times as many nurses.

Unfaithful Wife Hits Husband's Car; Mate Killed

HIDDEGTON, N. J. (UP)—A teen-age wife was speeding home to dress for a date with an older man when her car smashed into one driven by her husband, killing him and injuring her, police said Wednesday.

Mrs. Vera Wright, 19, told state police from a hospital bed she and her husband Lester, 19, had quarreled over who was to drive the family car home minutes before the fatal "one-in-a-million" collision.

She said the argument took place at a gas station owned by Walter Robinson, 56, whom she had been dating constantly for the past year with her husband's knowledge.

Mrs. Wright said her husband drove away and she borrowed Robinson's car to follow him home, where she planned to dress for a 9 p. m. date with Robinson.

Police said the two cars, traveling by different routes, collided at an intersection 16 miles away. Wright died instantly. His wife, who was going about 65 miles an hour, was thrown through the windshield and seriously injured.

Airman Commended For Saving Pilot, Jet

On May 1, 1958, Robert E. Stone, Airman, U. S. Navy, went on his first flight in a two-seated jet aircraft.

The pilot took off from the U. S. Naval Air Station at Sanford and climbed to 25,000 feet. At this point the pilot lost consciousness from lack of oxygen and allowed the jet to enter a steep dive.

Even though Stone had never before flown any aircraft, he successfully recovered from this dive and controlled the aircraft for 15 minutes before the pilot regained consciousness.

The pilot safely landed the jet a few minutes later.

Airman Stone, whose home is Columbia, Pa., has been a member of Fleet Aircraft Service Squadron Fifty One for the past two years.

"His shipmates are proud of Stone's timely action and unselfish decision to stay with the aircraft in order to save the pilot's life," it was reported today.

The airman was awarded a commendation for devotion to duty in preventing the certain death of a Naval Aviator and the destruction of a Naval aircraft, by Commander H. A. Pahl, Commanding Officer of Fleet Aircraft Squadron 51.

Plane Crashes Into Sea During Show For Governors

MIAMI (UP)—A flaming jet plane crashed into the sea Wednesday as the nation's governors looked on from the giant aircraft carrier Forrestal during a demonstration on their behalf.

But the pilot parachuted into the ocean and was returned uninjured to the ship by a rescue helicopter.

The observers saw a long plume of flame begin pouring from the F117 Tiger's tail immediately after it was catapulted from the carrier's flight deck.

The pilot, Lt. (jg) Lane Hubbard, 35, of Agary, W. Va., tried unsuccessfully to extinguish the fire and pulled his ejection handle. He parachuted into the ocean from about 2,500 feet and the Navy fighter plunged into the water astern of the ship.

Only seven of the nation's governors, who wound up the 80th annual governors' conference at Miami Beach Wednesday, came to the carrier to watch the demonstration. The straggling jets continued bombing runs and strafing.

Labor Law Enables Youths To Work, Go To School

TALLAHASSEE—A total of 209 Seminole County children under 18 obtained work permits in 1957, reports James T. Voeelle, State Industrial Commission chairman.

Statewide, 33,051 youth work permits were issued, a gain of 3,215 over 1956. Of the total, 78% were issued to youth in school and 22% to those not attending school. In Seminole County permits were issued to 794 boys and 75 girls.

The work permits are issued in each county by the superintendent of public instruction. All children under 18 who work must have work permits except those in domestic service, farm work, and street trades.

Voeelle stressed the importance of schooling. "Every year more employers are demanding a high school education as one of the qualifications for a job," Voeelle said. "For that reason we try in every way to encourage young people to complete high school."

He said the Child Labor Law is designed so that youths who do work while in school can do so without detracting from their studies or endangering their health.

Voeelle said, "This law was not intended to deprive youth of job opportunities for valuable work experience or income need. In fact, the Industrial Commission urges employers to consider young people for part-time jobs after school or in vacation periods. They are potentially good workers and working is frequently the most valuable and effective use of their free time."

J. Douglas Hopkins, Jr., Chief of Field Services of the Workmen's Compensation Division, who administers the Child Labor Law, said a major emphasis is on the education of young people and employers on the requirements of the law.

Hopkins said minors under 16 can work between 6:30 A. M. and 8 P. M. for a total of three hours a day when school is scheduled for the following day and eight hours on days when there is no school. They can work six days or 40 hours a week. Minors 14 and 15 can work until 10 P. M. Under the law, all minors under 18 are entitled to a rest period of at least 30 minutes after five consecutive hours of work.

By WEN FREEDMAN
FLORIDA PRESS AGENT — 34 Senator George Smathers over declines not to run for re-election, he won't have any trouble getting a job as a publicity man. If you want to read a sample of his work, get a copy of the May issue of "Retirement Life." His article, "Florida Beckons Senior Citizens" is excellent. It would do credit to any of Florida's hundreds of professional Chamber of Commerce writers. His appeal is direct and pointed. He doesn't talk in generalities. He begins with an actual case history of one "Ann N" who came to Florida to retire when she was 65.

 The Senator tells her story. "Crippled with arthritis, she walked feebly, with the aid of two canes. She had been a building superintendent in New York City in her robust and even declining years. At her daughter's and son-in-law's insistence, Ann was persuaded to go to the palmy peninsula . . . for her last years.

Now, 30 years later, Ann walks, dances, goes out on thrice-weekly junkets with the Three Score and Ten Club. She tossed those canes away after her first winter in Miami.
 The Senator was careful to follow the motto of the experienced public relations man: "One picture is worth 10,000 words." He illustrates his article with 21 typical Florida pictures. Nothing new here. The ones we have seen for years—Bok Tower, orange groves, fishing, boating, shuffleboard, two of Miami Beach, one of Daytona Beach, the University, St. Augustine, and a couple of industrial plants. Still, what more could you ask? That's Florida.

 In accepted public relations style, Smathers changes his pace to become poetic. He writes: "Television takes you to Florida frequently. You've seen pictures of stunner palaces, bathing beauties, orange trees, palms stretching their fronds into a placid moon.

 He speaks to the average man who doesn't want to quit work forever, but who is looking for a slower pace. He tells about a "Mr. Tom H." The Senator says, "Tom H. moved to the middle of Florida several years ago. He was going to sit in the sun, fish some and rest, for the first time in 65 years. If you were to walk up to Tom now and ask him how he likes retirement in Lakeland, he'd snort and say, 'Retire? Heck, I began living when I came down here.' Tom, like so many of his fellow senior citizens, found the sun and breezes, the warm, soft climate so stimulating, he just couldn't sit around.

 He went out and got a part-time job with an airplane parts plant. Time for fishing and boating? He has plenty of that. And a feeling of accomplishment, to boot."
 Smathers cites the famous testimonial of Thomas Edison. "The late Thomas A. Edison could shed some light on this subject. He built a home in Fort Myers, on the southwest coast of Florida, and lived there for nearly half a century before his death in 1931. The famed inventor said his place was 'as near Heaven as I ever want to be.'"

 "Retirement Life" is the official publication of the National Association of Retired Civil Employees. Thousands of these folks already have made their homes in Florida, and we predict that after reading Smathers' inviting article, many more will join their friends in our state.

 We have a suggestion to make to Senator Smathers. You're pretty good as a press agent. You would be doing a great service to Florida if you would speed up your efforts. Get busy. Do more of it. Thanks.

Herlong Report

Our questionnaire this year brought the greatest response ever, and naturally I am pleased to find that so many of our people in the 13th Congressional District take such a keen interest in their government and what it is doing.
 The job of tabulating the answers to the 13 questions has just been completed, and this is the way you voted on the various issues:

1. Do you favor experimental television? 85.5 per cent, No; 14.5 percent, Yes.
2. Do you favor a tax cut to stimulate our sagging economy? 85.5 per cent, Yes; 14.5 per cent, No.
3. In case you don't favor a tax cut would you prefer a Federal public works program? Most of the answers were "no" which means that quite a few people don't want a tax cut or a public works program. There were quite a number, however, who favored both a tax cut and a public works program.
4. Do you favor renewal of the reciprocal trade agreements program? 75.4 per cent, Yes; 24.6 per cent, No.
5. Do you favor the complete elimination of our foreign aid program? 57.8 per cent, No; 42.2 per cent, Yes. Many of those who voted "yes" would like to see the cost of the program greatly reduced. This is exactly what the House did last week.
6. Do you favor a national "right to work" law? 80.8 per cent, Yes; 19.2 per cent, No.
7. Do you favor reducing Federal non-defense spending, even if it means eliminating some present Federal services? 81.6 per cent, Yes; 18.4 per cent, No.

 Do you favor giving Federal scholarships to boys and girls who want to be educated as scientists and engineers? 85.8 per cent, Yes; 14.2 per cent, No.
 8. In the alternative, would you prefer a tax credit of up to $500 a year for tuition, paid to an accredited college? 88.1 per cent, Yes; 11.9 per cent, No.
 9. Do you favor increased defense spending at this time? 77.4 per cent, Yes; 22.6 per cent, No.
 10. Do you favor an increase in the annuities of retired Federal employees? 80.8 per cent, Yes; 19.2 per cent, No. This legislation, as you know, has passed both the House and Senate and is now in conference as the bills were different. These increased payments would come from the funds already in existence, and would not cost the taxpayers anything.
 11. Do you favor increasing the Social Security tax at this time so that more benefits can be paid? 50.4 per cent, Yes; 49.6 per cent, No.
 It is interesting to tabulate these results and see just how you think. One thing these polls do prove is that it is impossible to find any single issue where the people of any district are unanimous, so you can see that it is absolutely impossible for any Member of Congress to please everyone on any given issue. The best I can do is what I have been doing all along: try to find out in every way possible what the majority of you want. With this information and with the knowledge of the various issues that I am able to obtain here as a background, I just use my best judgement in arriving at a conclusion as to how I shall vote.

Although not officially created as a county till 1915 from Palm Beach and Dade counties, Broward is rich in Florida history. One of the first Seminole Indian reservations is located in the county where archaeologists have uncovered many ruins of historic value. According to Indian legends, New River, running through the center of Fort Lauderdale, sprang from the earth overnight. Today, Broward is one of the country's fastest growing counties. Named for State Governor N. B. Broward (1866-1915) the county's main source of revenue is the tourist industry.

In progressive Broward County, and throughout Florida, the United States Brewers Foundation works consistently to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of the people of Florida, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Florida State Police, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing "self-regulation" program.

Someone tells us why Linda Cannon has suddenly developed an interest for clothespins. Linda, did you know that last Wednesday night we had something to do with it?

Terry Christensen! What have you been up to now? Balloons, huh! Can't you ever be good?

No one on this side of the newspaper will ever tell what happened to A. S. and C. B. at Rock Springs! Seems as though they left something very close over there.

Billy A., but you can't guess who likes you. Hint: initials are H. B. Second guesses don't count! Last year about this time all of the girls were bleaching their hair, but it seems the boys were started the lead this year. Some of our only some-of you guys look great.

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller

We all enjoyed the Glee Club's excellent performance the other night. The A-Squad was wonderful, and the B-or Freshman-or ninth grade-gee club put on another of its few performances. We in the Freshman Glee Club regretted the fact that we appeared so few times this year, for the plan was for us to sing for Chapel at least a few times this year. Oh well, I guess there's always something to look forward to.

Eleanor Jean Sykes had a delightful birthday party last Friday night. Diane Baty and I were the first to come, and so we amused each other by singing at the piano while Eleanor played "Love." Later in the evening, most everybody went into the living room to watch "King Kong" (Yes, Diane, Niki, and Judy, it is spelled K-O-N-G) on television. Diane was worried about whether or not to cry when King Kong fell off the Empire State Building. Even I, with my hard heart, was sad. John Mann, however, wasn't. I have a sneaky suspicion that he was glad. Oh well, the heroine escaped the clutches of Kong, so everything turned out all right.

John Ott lost his senior key the other day right before Civics. We all felt sorry for him, except Nancy Thomas, who laughed. Speaking of Civics, the other day in our model Senate, we tried to impeach Mr. Pigott. Alas, the attempt failed, for perjured evidence was found to have been used. Really, Nancy didn't laugh when John lost his key, but she is so high on Cloud Nine because a certain you-know-who is coming home, it wouldn't have made any difference.

Well, it's eleven o'clock, and I have to leave this at the paper by now. I'll never make it. And now, as Loretta Young says, "See you next week!"

Thanks For The Memories

By Angelle Compas

I suppose I'd need more than a column to bid adieu to all the wonderful people I've known at Seminole High School. I couldn't possibly begin to express my gratitude—even if I were to use short, concise words—which I won't.

Our senior class president, Watly Pope, was so right in promising us that this would be the best year at SHS. From my standpoint as editor of your weekly page, it certainly has been the greatest. I couldn't place the credit on anybody in particular, but I do believe that our principal, Mr. Bracken, deserves more than a good-sized laurel wreath. He certainly has been right there with us all the time—if you know what I mean.

Surely we couldn't have demanded more from our sports teams. They've broken more than one school record this successful year, and their success is clearly indicative of greater years in the future. Those cheerleaders (God created all men equal, but He sure made girls different) were absolutely terrific, and the majorettes and Pep Club girls have been more active than at any other time.

We may point with pride to the shiny brass on the new band uniforms, paid for thanks to the wonderful cooperation of Mr. Cowley and his team of fine musicians.

Behind all that beautiful singing at the Glee Club Operetta and Spring Concert was a well-organized troupe of fine performers trained by the inimitable Miss Whittle.

We should praise, too, the non-sensical antics of Pat Donahoe, Richard Phagan, and all the other persons that brought a touch of humor to our chapel programs. That includes two such wonderful persons as Coach Layer and Coach Pigott.

The chemistry classes—and Mr. Hickson—should all be proud that such a small percentage of experiments backfired. Yet, we still hope that they'd give up experiments with hydrogen sulfide.

Several dances this year go on the already numerous list of successes of the Student Council, the Glee Club, and the Key Club—and of course the Junior Club.

Our usual appreciation goes to Miss Selma Williams and Mrs. Fort and her office staff for reaching the peak of efficiency.

Then, of course, all of us are very grateful to Miss Chittenden and her Library Council of assistants for their help when we get lost in the library—and that isn't so difficult to do—and for Miss Chittenden's selections of new books that are always—or almost always—so very appealing.

next presented with the whole third period (all girls) glass club in the background with pink, yellow, and white flowers, the colors of roses.

Janet Glenn was choreographer and she did a lovely job. Many other numbers were presented and they were all exceptionally good. The program was ended with the "Alma Mater." We all hope that our guests were as pleased with the performance as we who put it on were. Thank you.

SHS Students Could Have Danced All Nite

By Kathy Carlos

Many of us could have danced all night at the May Day Ball to the delightful music of Sidney Vihlen and his orchestra, and within such beautiful surroundings as the new Civic Center where it was held. It makes such a difference to us to have a nice place like that, and we're very appreciative to the people of Sanford for it.

After the many, many students and guests arrived, the evening was begun in a royal style, with the crowning of the May King and Queen. Of course, everyone knows that our Queen was lovely Peggy Jane Lundquist (who wore an elegant white gown created by her favorite designer, her mother, Bill Tyre was an excellent King, although his attire wasn't quite as elegant as Peggy's. The court, very distinguished indeed, was Nancy Richards and Teddy Walker, Dolores Jones and Pat Donahoe (senior class), Susan Waters and Wally Phillips, David Stanley and Helen Price (junior class), Marilyn McDanel and Ray Lundquist (sophomore class), Judy Ludwig and Mike Roberts (freshman class). The court and guests were then entertained.

First, Deanna from the Deanna School of Dance displayed a most enjoyable interpretative dance. Next Henry Russel and his Debonairs sang two numbers for us.

The Court left the ballroom and the dancing was begun. I've never seen so many beautiful formal and so many people having a wonderful time. The May Day Ball of 1958 will always be a memorable occasion for all of us.

Glee Club Spring Concert Success

By Kathy Carlos

I don't believe it, I just don't believe it! Our spring concert actually turned out to be a success after all of the torment and aggravation all of us put Miss Whittle through last week. I don't know whether it was because of spring or the fact there are only a couple of weeks of school left that we cut up so much during rehearsal for the spring concert, but we were all on the rampage.

The freshman class club opened the program with four excellent selections, the first being very appropriate, "It's a Grand Night for Singing" (and it really was). Johnny (Blondie) Barley next sang "Old Man River" from Showboat, and it couldn't have been better.

A couple of numbers later Shirley Morgan sang "One Alone" from The Desert Song. Shirley seems to sound just a little bit better every time she sings. (Besides, someone special was sitting front-row-center.) Everyone sat motionless as Teddy Walker crooned "Some Enchanted Evening" from South Pacific. (We may have a future celebrity in our midst.) Linda Anderson sang "Ball of Fire" from the same Broadway musical, and a lot of comments have gone around school about what a nice job she did on it. A duet by Kay Ivey and Livel Risher of "Moonlight and Roses" was

Chamber Of Commerce Invaluable To The American Way Of Life

This is Chamber of Commerce Week! And to France goes the honor of originating the idea that was the forerunner of the present day Chamber of Commerce. In 1800, the merchants guilds organized to protect and foster their trade interests, and formed the first "chambre de commerce". The idea soon spread to other cities of France, thence to England and Ireland, and eventually to the new country of America.

The first chamber of commerce in the United States was organized in New York in 1788. Five years later, in 1793, the Charleston, South Carolina, Chamber of Commerce began a long, illustrious record of achievement.

The early American chambers of commerce, like those of Europe, were business organizations concerned exclusively with trade and commerce. Gradually their activities widened to include civic improvement. The Cleveland, Ohio, chamber is generally recognized as one of the first modern chambers in the sense that it was both a commercial and civic organization.

One Step Leads To Others

Despite all the pressure in our society to concentrate on material things — more money, more of everything money will buy — it is not uncommon to find men and women who sincerely desire to interest themselves in the world of mind and spirit. They want to know more about the social and political issues of the day, and about the dazzling edifice of science; they want to be better informed about the ideas that centuries of reflection have distilled as our cultural heritage.

But they don't know how to go about learning more. Many are overwhelmed by the extent of their ignorance. It seems to them that acquiring even a basic understanding of the complex forces at work in today's world, and gaining even a basic grasp of the main cultural streams that invigorate society, is a hopeless task. They simply do not know where to begin.

The situation faced by any householder, especially in the spring, provides a helpful analogy. He looks about and sees dozens of things that need doing. The yard must be raked and put in good shape, the wall-to-wall carpeting needs to be secured in a couple of places, screens must be removed, repainted and replaced, or the kitchen ought to be painted, the front walk needs patching, the garage or carport needs cleaning, and so cial and civic organization. About seventy years ago the first state chamber of commerce was organized in Ohio. Thirty states have since followed this pioneer's example. In 1912 the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was born. Today its membership numbers over 2,100 local and state chambers and trade associations.

Chambers of Commerce, like all growing institutions, have made mistakes. In their zeal to effect great changes they have not always acted wisely. They have forgotten that induced change is foolish unless it is qualitative and directional. They have at times rejoiced in spectacular growth at the sacrifice of economic stability.

However, regardless of past misplaced emphasis, chambers of commerce are today invaluable, and complimentary to the American way of life. Their trial-and-error youth is over, and each year they grow stronger in number and sounder in organization and operation.

on. He doesn't know where to begin, either. But he starts with something and goes on, doing one thing at a time, until the work load is manageable again.

So we say to those who want to read more, to understand more, but don't know where to begin: Begin anywhere. One book suggests another; one fragment of knowledge leads to others related to it. The fine old idea of taking one step at a time applies here. And each step taken will show the way to others ahead.

Crime Is Crime Says Journal

The FBI reports that last year juveniles under 18 accounted for an astounding 47.3 per cent of all the people arrested for such major crimes as murder, robbery, aggravated assault, and so on.

This grim bit of information caused the Wall Street Journal to inquire into the possible causes behind the soaring juvenile crime rate. One, it believes, lies in the increased assumption by the state of the responsibility for children and the consequent lessening of parental responsibility—that is "the schools now undertake to teach things that ought to be taught at home." And the emphasis on the progressive theory of education has undoubtedly undermined self-discipline and respect for authority.

The Journal also points to another far-reaching change in our society. "Somewhere we have allowed the age of a criminal to slip the balance that a hideous crime by a person old enough to vote becomes the bewildered act of an unfortunate child if he is young enough to fit within the juvenile laws. Can it be that this attitude of softness is itself an invitation to juvenile crime?"

Society, in self-defense if for no other reason, will have to realize that crime is crime, no matter what the age of the offender, and act accordingly. To quote the Journal again, there will be small chance of improvement in this intolerable situation "... until youngsters are held more responsible for their crimes and until parents again become more responsible for their youngsters."

Letters To The Editor

The Editor, The Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida.

Dear Sir: On behalf of the staff of Seminole Memorial Hospital and the Women's Auxiliary, I wish to take this opportunity to express our deep appreciation for the splendid cooperation in providing the excellent news coverage during our National Hospital Week.

Sincerely yours, Harry M. Weir, Administrator, Seminole Memorial Hospital

SEE OWN SON MARIOTT, H. G.—When William P. Cain's son waved at him Tuesday, Cain waved right back and kept on driving.

Cain also paid a 10 dollar fine after police detected him for driving through a school zone and ignoring the stop signal waved by a school patrol boy—Cain's son.

Farwell gifts were presented Mrs. W. J. Hartley, who has been most faithful in her duties as a member of Lyman Society for many years, and active in P.T.A. Mrs. Hartley retires at the close of school. Mr. E. S. Douglas also received a farewell gift from the P.T.A. Mr. Douglas leaves the principalship of Lyman School to head the Vocational Education Department of Seminole County, in Sanford.

Other retiring officers are: Mrs. Horace Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Dave Moul, secretary and Homer Sewell, treasurer.

Lyman School P-TA Installs 1958-59 Officers

Mrs. David McCoy was installed as president of Lyman School P.T.A. to serve for the 1958-59 school year. In a simple but impressive installation ceremony Mrs. W. J. Hartley, past president and retiring faculty member, charged with their responsibilities as officers, Mrs. Joseph Pavalechek, vice president; Mrs. Thomas Reeves, secretary and B. H. Ferrali, treasurer.

Pointing to the completion of three projects undertaken at the beginning of this school year, Mrs. Lena Shaw, outgoing president, called attention to the newly furnished Clinic Room. Mrs. Jim Birkenmeyer headed the Clinic Room Committee. Under her direction P.T.A. members work in the Clinic Room each day, helping care for the scratches and bumps sustained by a group of over 1000 rambunctious youngsters. Two coats, complete with linens, bandages, adhesive tape, oral thermometers, etc. are provided through P.T.A. efforts. Transportation home for these and use to the elementary grades, for the second project of the year.

Project three was caring for the plants, grass and shrubs already planted on the school grounds, and adding to these where possible. Mrs. Flora Van Pelt served as beautification chairman. Under her supervision mothers from practically every class in school took a turn at pruning, fertilizing, watering or setting out additional shrubbery. The lovely appearance of the Lyman School yards bespeak the effort of these ladies.

A door-prize has been awarded some lucky parent at each P.T.A. meeting this year. Mrs. Janice Caselberry was in charge of this activity.

Rewards of $2.50 was given the home-room having the largest percentage of parents each meeting. One prize was given to the High School and one to the Elementary grades each month. Mr. Dabbe, elementary principal, had charge of the "math" department to assure the percentages each time.

The annual Halloween Carnival was the only money making project. Every class in school aids in the Carnival effort. Each room sponsored a booth. Wally Kruehn served as general chairman of the Carnival. Jim Birkenmeyer had charge of booth planning; W. O. Moon took charge of purchasing, while Leo Voskan supervised the building. Many people aided these tasks.

Delegates have attended the Short Course, in Gainesville, all the Council meetings and the three Study Courses held during the year. One study course was held at Lyman School, the other two in Sanford. Lyman P.T.A. was very well represented at the Convention held in Orlando.

Farwell gifts were presented Mrs. W. J. Hartley, who has been most faithful in her duties as a member of Lyman Society for many years, and active in P.T.A. Mrs. Hartley retires at the close of school. Mr. E. S. Douglas also received a farewell gift from the P.T.A. Mr. Douglas leaves the

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES R. MCGRATH
United Press Staff Correspondent
Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India has given Yugoslav President Tito an important assist in his latest dispute with the Russian Communists.

Addressing a convention of his Indian Congress Party, Nehru said Moscow's threat to read Tito out of the world Communist movement constituted interference by a foreign country in Yugoslav domestic affairs.

Nehru also referred sarcastically to the way in which Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-tung had sneered their liberalization movement when members of their parties showed a dangerous tendency to do some independent thinking.

Nehru recalled that Mao, in his short-lived invitation to Chinese Reds and non-Reds to criticize the party, said: "Let a hundred flowers bloom and a hundred opinions flourish."

Now, Nehru said, "all the flowers have become weeds to be pulled out."

His denunciation of the party's support for Tito's policy of independent Communism came at the moment when Tito was studying the ultimatum in which the central committee of the Russian Communist Party threatened him with dire penalties unless he took the party line.

Belgrade dispatches say Nehru's statement made a profound impression there.

It was a welcome counter to the determined campaign which the Russian Communists have been waging against Tito, as part of which they have required Communists in both Red-ruled and free countries to denounce him.

It is reported that Tito is now drafting his reply to the Moscow ultimatum and that it will be sent to Moscow in a few days in the name of the central committee of the Yugoslav party.

When Nehru's Independence Advice says the reply will urge the Russians to agree that disputes among Communists should be argued out in a friendly way. But the reply will leave Khrushchev and his colleagues in no doubt that Tito intends to maintain his independence whatever the cost may be.

"Neutralist" Nehru's criticism of the Russian and Chinese Reds was aimed also at the Indian Communist Party.

Nehru said the Indian Reds sent a message of good will to Tito last month during a congress of the party.

the Yugoslav Communist Party. But when Moscow opened up its own attack on him, the Indian Reds sent him another message, quite contradictory, criticizing his independence.

Nehru's criticism of the Russian and Chinese Communists, as well as his own, may have been inspired by the fact that his Congress Party, dominant over India since it attained its independence, is being ground to various opposition groups including the Communist Party.

How To Maximize Your Blood Pressure

Imagine a garden hose when watering the lawn and you will note the stream of water becomes smaller but gathers force. The smaller the diameter of the hose, the greater the force of the water. The arteries of the body are like smaller hoses, for they are required to carry the blood from the heart to each heart-beat, because at the moment more blood is being pumped. If, through internal deposit, the arteries become thinner or constricted, the blood is forced into the arteries under severe pressure which causes strain and ultimate damage to the heart.

When the arteries and all the grooves clear, the heart more actively is strained by the constant high-speed pressure, and the vessels are rigid. They cannot expand. The reverse of this is low blood pressure which produces lassitude, weakness, and a tendency to tire easily, and may cause nervous exhaustion. Symptoms of high blood pressure are headache, dizziness, and "ringing in the ears."

Those who suspect their doctor of shirking his duty or of giving you a false diagnosis, should get a second opinion. Blood pressure will be normalised by his treatment. One must eat balanced meals with moderation, avoid highly seasoned foods, alcohol, coffee, and tea. And, above all, one must live at an even pace, without any emotional strain and worry if he wishes to avoid disastrous results.

Conning The News

AND BAILING IT UP
Today I ran into Mrs. Throckmorton at the supermarket. I hadn't seen her for ages. In fact, not since last winter. It had been one of those blither, blustery days and we met, heads ducked against the wind, at the corner of First and Park of all places. I was struggling to keep down a ballooning skirt, and Mrs. T. was fighting a losing battle against a number of small parcels hugged to her sides with her elbows. We gasped out the usual amenities of women who have not seen each other for a few weeks, and basking in the near hurricane that was whipping the lake to a froth hurried on over to the drugstore for something hot. It was a relief, I remember, to get out of the cold.

After a few very enjoyable snips at the yankee weather, Mrs. Throckmorton and I had settled down for a good long chat, and I learned that she was just before giving a party. (Mrs. T. is from Charleston.) She went on to explain that this was a different kind of party. "I've been reading about those bring-your-own-steak parties," she had said, "but this one will be a take-something-home-with-you party."

I was all agog. "Tell me more," I said.

Well, it seemed that all her life Mrs. Throckmorton had been one of those creatures who could not bear to throw anything away. "It has made moving very complicated," she admitted, "and finally Darwin (Mr. Throckmorton, for there is a Mr. Throckmorton) put his foot down. 'Either that — goes, or I go,' was the vulgar way he put it."

Mrs. T. had begged off for a few days and then suddenly came up with this wonderful idea for a take-home-party . . . with all the guests departing with something in the back of the car.

Now it was four months since and the wind whistling around the this party talk and the hot tea corner of First and Park, and here we were digging out dented can minus labels from a reduced-for-quick-sale basket, and the air conditioning was on.

"I'm just bursting to hear of the take-something-home-with-you party you told me about last January," I said after our preliminary chit-chat was over. Tell me, who got what?"

"Oh, that!" said Mrs. T. tightly clutching a hashed-in can that was bound to be a surprise come dinner time. "I must tell you what happened. I came home late one Saturday afternoon from taking all five children to the barber shop, and found that Darwin had borrowed a truck and hauled every last one of my treasures to the city dump. I tell you, I was heart broken."

This was indeed sad news. Here I had been counting on the take-something-home-with-you party for Ginny's column. I must have looked disheartened, for Mrs. Throckmorton came over and laid a plump, comforting hand on my arm. "Don't take it so hard. I'll have my party some day. I'm saving for it now and already have stashed away dozens of those little wrappers the Herald comes in on rainy days. Besides, I'm planning another kind of party."

I immediately brightened. "Do tell me about it!"

"Well, it's going to be a terrifically big one . . . such an enormous one, in fact, that I'm hiring the Civic Center . . . I'll pay the air-conditioning charge out of the legacy Granfather Throckmorton left me. And the place will be simply rocking with food. It will be EVERYWHERE. Dips with potato chip and open faced sandwiches and teeny biscuits and baked ham and fried chicken and hamburgers and hot dogs and potato salad and baked beans and cole slaw and pickles and coffee and cakes."

"Wow! Sounds simply wonderful for indignation. By the way, I called over my shoulder, beating my way up to the cashier, 'who's coming to your party?'"

Mrs. Throckmorton was scooping up a tin that she hoped was sardines. "Oh, my party is for ALL the people who have been giving parties to all the graduates this year."

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Vernon Laffey Gomez, a great pitcher with the New York Yankees through the '30's and into the '40's, had a ready answer when somebody once asked him why he quit pitching. "I had to," he grinned. "Johnny Murphy's arm gave out."

Sanford Boy Gets Varsity Letter

John Van Ryn
By UNITED PRESS
John Van Ryn, a stylish tennis player out of Philadelphia, ranked among the nation's top 10 eight times between 1927-37 and was considered one of the great doubles players of his day. Twice, with Wilmer Allison in 1921 and 1922, he won the U. S. championship and broke even in four Davis Cup doubles matches, scoring both his victories in losing causes against France. Van Ryn's best singles ranking was No. 4 in 1931 when he was hailed as a player "without a major weakness" though with no great strength to make him a U. S. champion.

U. S. Athletes Hold 27 Records

NEW YORK (AP)—A flurry of seven world track and field marks recorded in the past 12 days has failed to disturb the United States leadership in the sport, a United Press survey revealed today. A total of 27 world sinder path records are presently held by American athletes, while Russia, the nearest contender, carries 37. Despite the fact these two countries were involved in six of the seven new records, the U. S. still lead, 27-18, when and if the new records are officially accepted.

THE CARD OF THANKS
Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent such tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and good wishes of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot be mailed.

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE
It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preservation of recollections. An Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes
That startle the heart,
What memory plays an old tune
On the heart."

Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

THE RATE:
Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

PARIS (UP)—The Algerian army rebels called on the French nation today to overthrow the Fourth Republic and crown Gen. Charles de Gaulle as premier.

The challenge from the army generals and their revolutionary "committees of public safety" for all of Algeria was one of the most defiant challenges ever flung at a French government.

It came shortly after defiant generals, Moslems and French colonialists met in a government building in Algiers and publicly proclaimed their all-Algerian committee.

Premier Pierre Fulmida will be set up in a government building in Algiers and publicly proclaimed their all-Algerian committee.

Florida Jaycee President-elect Uriel "Bunky" Blount, challenged members of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce to a greater service to the community.

He pointed out, in his address yesterday, at the local Jaycee luncheon meeting that "It is necessary for the young men, to serve their community, to determine if you have the schools and necessary facilities."

Blount emphasized "As we build great cities to the betterment of man we must build a better man and this organization is only the proving ground."

Pointing in attendance at meetings, he said "If we come for the purpose of a good dinner, for appearance, that our businesses be enhanced, then you are wrong."

However, he told the Jaycees "If you have come for comradeship, for civic service, and your obligation to the community, then you have reached your goal."

"I covet for this community the greatest growth in the organization's history," Blount said as he concluded "only by participation will you reach your goal and receive the most."

Proceeding the address by President-elect Blount, Mrs. Nancy Brock, of the Southside Primary School teaching staff, was named "Teacher of the Year."

'Conditioning' Touhy's Subject At OHS Athletic Banquet

OVIEDO—George Touhy, executive vice president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Sanford, was the principal speaker at the Oviedo High School athletic banquet last night.

Touhy spoke on "Conditioning" and said his subject was divided into three parts, personal, individual, and team.

"Things must be done in some particular way if you are going to excel in that particular sport, whether it be basketball, baseball, or what," he pointed out.

He said that each individual must put forth his best efforts at all times and then he compared a person's learning to do a job right with learning to play basketball or baseball right.

Touhy pointed out two good points to remember in conditioning himself or herself to be a good player: "Have I conducted myself in the right way" and the "Habit of Workaholic." The latter is the most important, he said, for it is important in becoming a good athlete, a good student, as well as a good citizen.

"On a job you will learn that what you do may have an effect on the fellow next to you. If you do your job well you will find it makes your work easier. And it is the same with your team," he said.

Following the address, Melanie Jackson, captain of the girl's basketball team, presented a gift to Coach Marguerite Partin.

Girls receiving letters for basketball include Melanie Jackson, Mary Ann Blayton, Ann DeHasso, Karen Boatright, Pat Jackson, Julie Fleming, Sandra Bellhorn, Carl Fabry, captain of the basketball team, was named "the most valuable to the team in sportsmanship, playing ability and cooperation with his teammates, coach and basketball officials."
