

$100,000 Damage Done By Fire At Lake Worth Dock

19 Boats Are Burned Following An Explosion In 1 Of Craft

LANTANA, Sept. 15. (AP)—Fire did an estimated $100,000 damage to the Lake Worth Marine Ways here today. Fire Chief C. E. Brause, who set the damage figure, said 19 boats of the cabin cruiser type were destroyed.

The fire—second of the night at the boatyard—followed a terrific explosion in one of the boats and quickly spread to other craft, Brause said. All of the boats were out of water and beneath a metal shed.

Brause said the Lake Worth Fire Department and the Lantana Volunteer Fire Department answered a call to the yards about 11 P.M. and found the hull of one fishing cruiser afloat. The fire was put out and firemen remained on the scene until 1 A.M.

He said at 1:17 A.M. there was a second call. The fire, he said, had followed an explosion in a craft four boats away. The blast spread quickly as it touched the hull and at times the flames reached 75 feet into the air. The heat was intense and firemen were hampered in fighting the blaze.

Among the 19 boats destroyed were two new Ciss Craft cruisers. A similar fire causing $200,000 damage hit the yards July 31, 1947. The origin was never discovered.

The boat yards are owned by Emil C. Friend and located on the boundary between Lake Worth and Lantana, and extend from the Dixie Highway to Lake Worth.

 conclusive study of the genetic effects of exposure to radiation.

He said current knowledge "boils down to a generalization that exposure of mammals, plant or animal population, fish or wildlife, to radiations may result in lower vitality and a somewhat reduced rate of reproduction and also in alterations in their physical form or function."

Higgins said the use of radiations, both as sources of radiation for experimental study and as tracers of the most intimate details of chemical and biological reactions, provide a new, powerful research tool.

He added he would like to have the research in these questions, among others:

- Can the unknown factor—factor X—necessary for the growth of fish be identified and synthesized in order to free the nation's hatcheries from their dependence on river fish diets?
- Can a radioactive isotope be used to mark Pacific tuna by injections, for studies of migration of fish? Can such tracer technique be applied to studies of red-tide organisms off Florida, or to help solve problems of feeding, fattening or conditioning shellfish?
- Is there a short-lived radioactive which could kill rodents without danger to eggs or livestock or people? "I guess there isn't but I'd like to know," Higgins said.
- Can the mysteries of migration or the size of populations of waterfowl be investigated by use of radioisotopes?

Higgins said plans are in progress for studies in these fields.

"The commission is continuing studies, begun in the early days of the Manhattan project, on fish in the Columbia River," he said. "Studies of cold-water fish will soon start at Cornell University and the service's Cortland, N. Y., experimental station."

Tension Mounts

 oil companies continued in San Francisco and Los Angeles. There were no indications of early settlement of the wage dispute.

In San Francisco, the Army went ahead with plans to move military cargo which has piled up during the 14-day work stoppage by 28,000 longshoremen at Pacific Coast ports. Foodstuffs were reported jamming freight terminals all along the coast.

Workers signing up to join the Army were termed strikebreakers by Harry Bridges, CIO longshoremen's union leader. He said he would ask unions in all foreign ports to refuse to handle "scab" ships.

The Army said it needed 250 men at San Francisco and started to hire men after shipping employees refused to load or sail as they had to deal with what they termed Communist party line leadership. Bridges has refused to sign a non-Communist affidavit under the Taft-Hartley Act. Chief issues in the dispute are wages and interpretation of the hiring bill. Some 150 vessels are idle.

Developments took a turn for the worse in the trucking strike in New York City and Mayor William O'Dwyer named a special mediator to clear up the "chaotic" conditions in the industry's labor relations.

About 4,500 members of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Local 807, still are on strike. But 4,900 are back at work after the union signed contracts with 727 individual trucking concerns which agreed to the 17 1/2 cents an hour wage increase.

New York City's second largest local, 292, boosted its wage demands to 25 cents an hour and about 3,800 of its 4,500 members quit work without a strike call. Thus, about 8,300 truckers are idle, as the "big five" employer associations continued their offer to hike wages 15 cents an hour.

More disruption in the movement of food and freight in the metropolitan area was reported. Milk supplies for schools and stores were imperiled after Local 807 withdrew an emergency agreement to deliver fiber milk containers.

The union said the American Can Company, makers of the cans, has refused to pay the 17 1/2 cent wage boost. Drivers for the company's plants in Brooklyn and Jersey City, N. J., quit work yesterday. A milk dealer spokesman said city schools would get no milk after tomorrow and stores would get only 40 per cent of normal supplies.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—(AP)—A strike crowd of 4,500 rushed the National Aviation Offices in central Paris today and injured 96 policemen in rioting.

An estimated 2,500 of the crowd were workers of the nationalized aviation industry, denouncing recent layoffs of workers from the government payroll. Another 2,000 strikers from the nationalized airlines had joined them.

They threw paving stones and lice, who fought back with night guards and fists. About 2,000 Paris police arrested thousands of mobile forces for two hours, subdued the Boulevard Haussmann. The riot and then was renewed.

Members of the Communist-led General Federation of Labor at the same time organized a demonstration at Bullauecourt to demand a minimum monthly wage of 13,500 francs. (AP)

Bar's students will be housed in barracks No. 6 and 7, according to C. A. Maddy of the Fellowship Foundation, and the buildings will be under management of the Rev. Dr. John Pernel of Dayton, Ohio, and Col. L. Fox of Blackbird, Va. The untried trainees will eat at before at the Fellowship Mess Hall.

At the new ball field site next to Municipal Park on Mellonville Avenue, the field is being leveled by a bulldozer and efforts will be made to have this completed within 30 days in order that it may have plenty of time to settle, said Commissioner John Krider, who has charge of this project. Quite a bit of brush has not yet been cleared and considerable grading has yet to be done.

The diamond proper will be set back 150 feet from Mellonville Avenue to allow for plenty of parking space and for stands, said Mr. Krider. It is hoped that two small buildings, now located near the Synthetic Trainer building at Municipal Airport may be moved to the new diamond near to the present club house, and used as a club house, placing them adjacent to a concrete shower unit, said Mr. Krider.

When the new diamonds are completed, Mellonville Avenue should become one of the most famous baseball streets in America as it will have 14 diamonds adjoining or a short distance from it.

 said that she had organized a number of health clubs among the nurses and at present is working on the organization of a club to be composed of members who have successfully overcome the disease of tuberculosis. It will be known as the "Come Back Club."

Following her talk, Mrs. Kircher rendered several selections on the accordion and the group joined in singing a number of songs. Mrs. J. C. Mitchell introduced two speakers.

Mrs. Colena Witholt, president of the Daytona Beach Pilot Club, was a guest and spoke briefly on the activities of her club and of the success of the International convention held there in June. Miss Ruth Hale, a teacher in Southside Primary School, also was a guest.

The dinner was given by the "Greens", losers in an attendance contest, for the "Golds", who were the winners. Mrs. Janie Shoemaker was chairman on arrangements for the dinner and Mrs. John L. Galloway had charge of the program. A gift was presented to Mrs. Mitchell who recently received her degree from Stetson University. There were 23 members present at the meeting.

 an important victory for backers of President Truman when it elected from the meeting and from the party's leadership all members opposing Mr. Truman's candidacy for the presidency.

A number of candidates for governor also were chosen in yesterday's primaries.

Massachusetts Republicans renominated Governor Robert F. Bradford. Democratic candidate Paul A. Dever was unopposed—practically. Although Maurice J. Toben quit the race to accept appointment as President Truman's secretary of labor, his name was on the ballot. Toben pulled more votes than Bradford's Republican opponent.

Former Rep. Sherman Adams ousted the Republican gubernatorial nomination in New Hampshire—where the Republican nominee has won election for the past 25 years. His Democratic opponent, Herbert W. Hill, Dartmouth College professor.

In Vermont where Republicans are even more certain of November victory, Governor Ernest W. Gibson pulled away from Lieut. Governor E. Emerson in one of the closest gubernatorial nomination contests in years.

Governor Luther Youngdahl of Minnesota also built up a lead for Republican nomination, over State Auditor Stafford King. The Democratic ballot split seemed certain for Charles L. Halsted, who held a two to one margin over his nearest opponent.

Michigan Democrats handed a slim lead to G. Mennen Williams, a Socialist running with CIO backing, over two opponents; Victor E. Bucknell, supported by the AFL, Teamsters Union, and Industrialist Bennett J. Abbott, Republican Governor Kim Sigler, although unopposed for renomination, garnered a heavy "taken" vote.

Washington's Democratic governor Mon C. Wallgren, good friend of President Truman, seemed sure of renomination, while former Governor Arthur H. Langille was the choice of the GOP voters in the same state.

Both candidates for governor of Colorado—Democrat Lee Knous, who is the incumbent, and Republican David A. Harill—were unopposed.

 members India's invasion of Hyderabad was "an act of aggression." The wartime foreign secretary said the invasion was a "flagrant and inexcusable" breach by India of her agreement with the princely state.

"If the U.N. acts quickly and acts with authority it will not only do a considerable service to its own reputation but will perhaps save a vast area of the world's surface from untold suffering and human misery," Eden said.

The U.N. Security Council is due to take up the Hyderabad situation tomorrow in Paris.

Eden said Communist uprisings in Malaya, Burma and Siam are "all in pattern."

"It is our objective to overthrow law and order throughout southeast Asia which, Lenin, I think, once called the back door of capitalist and imperialist power."

Bevin dealt briefly with Hyderabad. He said he regretted that in "these new dominions this warlike spirit has developed."

U. S. Sends Planes

 former British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden said that international affairs appeared to be going from "bad to worse."

After a moment's hesitation, Marshall said he would content himself with the observation that he had not had any period of 10 days and would welcome any encouragement.

He replied with a quick no comment however, when asked whether he meant that all the negotiations of the past 10 days have failed to impact the world situation.

Marshall said the State Department has received a report from American Ambassador W. B. Smith on yesterday's meeting. He declined to say whether there would be further East-West talks in Moscow about Berlin as reported in press dispatches from the Russian capital and from London. Marshall will leave for Paris next Sunday.

Marshall said the United States is deeply concerned over the fighting between Indian and Hyderabad troops.

Marshall said his department is keeping close tab on the invasion of Hyderabad by Indian troops.

He said the U.S. is disturbed by the resort to arms to settle differences instead of continuing peaceful negotiations.

 set as the date of the next meeting at which nominations will be completed and officers elected. H. H. Coleman was appointed as chairman of the nominating committee, and W. V. Biting, C. L. Redding, R. L. Dean and Jack Hall as members.

Manager Higgins reported that he is carefully following the progress of the ware-house and terminal project for which an RFC loan is being sought. More than 200,000 strip maps showing the routes of the St. Johns River Trail will soon be available for distribution, he said.

He stated that he is working with S. A. Allen, former Ft. Myers Transit Co. operator, in the hope of having local bus service in this area. A passenger speed boat accommodating eight passengers for trips on the St. Johns River will be here this winter, said Mr. Higgins, and he revealed that he is trying to interest a larger boat line in bringing a sight seeing boat here.

On motion of Jack Ratigan, seconded by D. H. Crumley, Mr. Higgins was directed to write Mayor R. A. Williams, expressing regret at the latter's resignation as mayor of Sanford, and expressing appreciation for the things he has done for Sanford during his term.

E. G. Kilpatrick presided. Directors present were: O. P. Herndon, Andrew Carrayay, G. A. Speer, George Stine, W. G. Kilbee, C. L. Redding, Jack Ratigan, F. W. Talbot, Al Lee, Leonard Casselberry, W. A. Morrison, H. H. Coleman, John Hoy, B. H. Crumley, John Bramley, George Tuohy, Forrest Gatchel and J. L. Ingley. R. S. Bradford of Altamonte Springs was a visitor.

Mr. Bradford stated that Altamonte Springs wishes to cooperate with the group and be represented on the Board. He was assured that members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at Altamonte Springs will be appointed to the Board.

 efforts to engender prejudice and legal political discrimination." Old line Democrats and States Rights Democrats joined in drafting the measure and urging its enactment.

Final action by the House came suddenly, and with little debate after the representatives voted 56 to 24 against a motion by Rep. Morrow of Palm Beach to take away the Progressive Party standing vote into a bill by the Senate yesterday.

House passage of the measure virtually assured completion of the Legislature's job of clarifying a confused ballot system and adjournment of the special session in its second day.

Before returning to consideration of the Senate bill, the House rejected by voice vote a substitute proposal by Reps. Latta and Gatter of Dade.

It would have created a ballot similar to the one finally approved but by a different method and without giving Wallace and Thurmond ballot standing by legislative act. They would have been able to get on the ballot by furnishing 500 names on a petition, though.

FOR PRICE SUPPORT

 Agriculture price support programs were vigorously supported here today by H. D. Clayton, director of the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Florida. In a report to a meeting of the agricultural division of the State Chamber of Commerce.

Clayton warned of the danger of congressional interference with the farm price support program and declared that radio commentators and news columnists were presenting a distorted picture of the farm price situation.

"But I am waiting on a telephone call from Mr. Hitchcock and I should know more about it after talking with him," Mekras added.

Chances For Long Life In U. S. Are Best In Midwest

NEW YORK—(AP)—The chances for long life in the United States are best in the Midwest, a study of death rates show. "The best record for longevity in our country is found in the West North Central states—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska, and Kansas," says the Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. There the average length of life (expectation of life at birth) in 1939-41 was 65.23 years for white males, and 69.22 years for white females. These life expectancies are three to four years longer than the least favorable record. The Mountain States include Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah. The high death rate among the large Spanish-speaking population of Arizona and New Mexico is mainly responsible for this difference between the two geographical areas. At the age of 45, men and women of the West North Central States still can look forward to the longest life. The expectation then is 27.56 more years of life for men, and 30.23 for women. At 45, the lowest expectation of life is in the highly industrialized northeast, the Bulletin finds. In the Middle Atlantic States of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, men of 45 can expect, on the average, only 21.74 more years, and women 28.32 years. The best record in preventing infant mortality was shown on the Pacific Coast. In the Mountain States area, the infant mortality rate was fully 50 per cent higher. "The variation in mortality and longevity from one area to another undoubtedly arises out of a variety of factors—difference in the general standard of living, degree of industrialization, density of population, adequacy and availability of medical and hospital facilities, climate, etcetera. An intensified effort to reduce the toll of premature death in the less favored areas would tend to equalize the mortality throughout the country at the level of the best areas."

For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these illa. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs in find cures, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronon in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank his waters and bathed to be forever young.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral" says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiencies. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. POLES WATCH GRAIN
WARSAW, Poland—Poland's ministry of agriculture is set out to stop racketeering in grain prices. The country has a bumper crop this year which may triple the 4,000,000 tons of wheat, rye and barley produced in 1947.

The ministry, recognizing that peasants may go in for hiking prices or fall into the hands of speculators, announced "all racketeering in grain will be prosecuted and most severely punished." A citizen's militia of about 100,000 men and a special commission to fight abuses and speculation have been instructed to keep a close check on the sale prices of all grains. If the prices are higher than the government has fixed, the seller faces a stiff fine and jail sentence.

BRANCHED WHEAT
MOSCOW—Not all the plant breeders of the Soviet Union are formally trained scientists working in plant breeding stations. Some are just plain farmers. For instance, Vasilii Ivanovich Kujchenko in 1938 got for himself four seeds of a weed which was actually a branched type of wheat bearing grain on more than one stalk. On his collective farm in the Stavropol area, he worked year after year selecting only the best and most fruitful plants.

Now he regularly receives letters from other collective farmers asking him for samples. "Branched wheat" is one of the subjects of intense research by Soviet agronomists at experiment stations throughout the country.

WANTS NO CHASERS
PHINCETON, Ky.—This city recently published a warning to automobile drivers who have been violating an ordinance which forbids chasing the fire truck to fires. And "if this doesn't accomplish the purpose, the ordinance will be strictly enforced and offenders arrested and fined," Police Chief Roy Houser said. The ordinance provides a $10 to $25

Marshall Plan Report

Critics of the European Recovery Program may find a ripe bit of material in the recent progress report, which shows that the biggest single share of aid under the program thus far has gone to France. And that nation is in a greater state of internal turmoil, seems farther from stability, than any other unoccupied nation in Europe.

On the other hand, it is equally easy to surmise that without the financial assistance France has received through the Economic Co-Operation Administration its government might by this time have collapsed completely. At the beginning of this year, when the aid program was under debate, it was said that the liberal government of France was in such precarious position that Communists might seize control at any moment. Subsequent events have shown how narrow was the margin by which a Communist coup has thus far been prevented. Financial assistance may well have provided that margin.

The progress report shows that for the program as a whole most of the money thus far spent has bought wheat and wheat flour, coal and petroleum, and cotton. Food, warmth and clothing, basic elements of living which more fortunate peoples take for granted, continue to occupy the first attention of many parts of Europe. Until that ceases to be true the wisdom of aid with a generous hand can hardly be questioned.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The faculty of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's efforts at appeasing Adolf Hitler and so achieving "peace in our time" proved a fact which wasn't realized even by Chamberlain at the beginning of the negotiations at Berchtesgaden over the Fuehrer's demands on Czechoslovakia.

This was that Hitler already had evil designs for large-scale conquest, far exceeding anything which little Czechoslovakia afforded. It was only recently that this was made known to us by Dr. Erich Kordt who at the time of the negotiations was chief of the German foreign office representative and now is a professor in the University of Munich.

During a chat at AP headquarters in New York Dr. Kordt told me it was Hitler's brutal dealing with Chamberlain at Godesberg which tipped the Nazi chief's hand to his executives. At that moment the Fuehrer wanted not a settlement but a "little war" to enhance his prestige, and so planned an assault on Czechoslovakia. The "big war" would come later.

Chamberlain followed the historic policy at Berchtesgaden by heading off the prime minister took back to England Hitler's daring and savage demand that he be allowed to annex the Czechoslovakian Sudetenland inhabited by German speakers. This was the momentous meeting between Chamberlain and French Premier Edouard Daladier in London on Sept. 19—momentous because the trend of world destiny rested in the hands of two men. Wishfully thinking Hitler bowed to the idea of placating Hitler.

His decision apparently was to drop all resistance to part, or all, of the dictator's demands on Czechoslovakia. They hoped to get in return a General European settlement. In any event, two great European democracies finally decided, after much heart-searching, against fighting to preserve the unity of Czechoslovakia as then constituted. The little republic was to be sold down the river in the supposed interests of peace.

On Sept. 21 the Czechoslovak government, feeling deserted and alone, announced acceptance of the Anglo-French plans for meeting Hitler's demands. Thousands of Czechoslovakians gathered in the streets of their capital with tears streaming down their faces listened to the government's broadcast telling that the nation had lost its lone fight—that the territorial sacrifice was the price of peace in Europe.

That it came about that Sept. 22 Chamberlain flew to Godesberg on the Rhine to try to buy European Peace at Czechoslovakia's expense. A week earlier he left for Berchtesgaden great throngs had cheered him as the savior of peace. Setting out for Godesberg they rose up like one person in the crowd gathered in front of his Downing Street residence, several clapped hands, but nobody cheered.

I shall never forget the reception staged for Chamberlain by Hitler at the Godesberg airport. The dictator turned out a detachment of his famous death's head guardsmen—a grim looking lot in their black uniforms and ferocious insignia. As the prime minister descended from the plane the guards goose-stepped toward him, their heavy, hobnailed boots crashing on the concrete runway with the inevitability of armed might.

It was truly a chilling exhibition and I have no doubt that Hitler deliberately arranged this display of brute force to frighten Chamberlain. I've often thought that probably the Fuehrer succeeded.

The battle between Hitler and Chamberlain was bitter, and the Nazi chief hit but spat in the prime minister's face.

The conference was faced with the fact that while Czechoslovakia had bowed to the Anglo-French plan, she had sworn to resist armed invasion and had mobilized her troops. Hitler's final decree demanded (1) cancellation of the Czechoslovak mobilization order, and (2) permission for German troops of the Sudeten free corps to march into the border land already sacrificed to the Reich by the Anglo-French plan.

The conference was close to a rupture when a harassed Chamberlain finally salvaged it with a midnight promise to put new pressure on Prague to meet Hitler's demands. The prime minister demanded no mass violence against Czechoslovakia. As the weary and haggard old man returned to his mountain-top hotel at end of this scene he had this tiny but significant message for the press: "I cannot say it is hopeless."

With that Chamberlain went home to London to urge Europe to accept and so keep Europe's great armies from being unleashed. Hitler had made it known that he would brook no delay. He demanded occupation of Sudetenland by Oct. 1.

As the Godesberg conference wound up, guerrilla warfare was sweeping through Sudetenland.

12 Men Rescued From Stricken Ship In Atlantic

Fate Of 30 Others Aboard Not Known By Coast Guard

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Thirty-eight crew members of an abandoned British freighter were rescued today by two ships in the hurricane-lashed North Atlantic, but four others were lost.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (AP)—Twelve seamen were rescued today in a hurricane-tossed North Atlantic from a stricken British freighter but the fate of 30 others who abandoned the ship was not immediately known.

Abandonment of the 7,266-ton New York-bound freighter Leicester was reported to Coast Guard headquarters here by relayed message from the American rescue ship Cecil N. Bean. Its position was about 400 miles south-west of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

New Faces To Be Among Faculty At Stetson For 1918

DELAND, Sept. 16 (Special)—Several new faces will be among the Stetson University faculty when classes begin on Sept. 27, President J. Ollie Edwards said today.

Dr. J. Ray Cobby, who recently resigned as president of Missouri Valley College, will head the department of economics. Dr. Cobby has had a wealth of experience in banking and in the solution of banking problems. He holds degrees from University of Missouri, University of Chicago and Columbia University.

William Howard McCammon, Jr., of Fort Worth, Texas, will be director of religious activities, succeeding William K. Begg, who now is pastor of the Large Baptist Church, Knoxville, Tenn., received his A.B. at University of Tennessee and holds a master of religious education degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary where he is working on his doctor's.

John Edwin Jones, who has just received his master's degree in history at University of North Carolina, will be assistant professor in history. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Johns, of Arcadia, Fla. Mr. Johns, superintendent of the Florida Baptist Children's Home there, was awarded an honorary degree by Stetson at the August commencement.

George Lovell Jenkins, instructor in physics at University of North Carolina, will teach physics at Stetson this year. A native of Blkeley, Ky., he holds degrees from Berea College, Kentucky and from North Carolina.

Miss Ann Richardson, an honor graduate of the women's college of the University of North Carolina, will teach rhythm classes and individual sports.

The Rev. George A. Zutter, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Ormond Beach, Florida, will teach English in addition to his church duties.

A Phi Beta Kappa he holds degrees from Hobart College, New York, Columbia University, General Theological Seminary and Harvard. He has taught at Hobart and Western Reserve. He was assistant dean at Adelbert College.

Freshmen and new students will report Sept. 21 for freshman Orientation Week. At the same time upperclassmen will register. Those registering after September 25 will be charged a later registration fee. Classes will start Sept. 27.

An extensive program of preparedness for the new term is underway on the Stetson Campus. A building has been moved from the Navy base campus to the downtown campus for the Business School. Elizabeth Hall is receiving a face lifting in the form of new plaster and paint as well as new tile floor. The chapel has been completely redecorated. Science Hall has undergone repairs and has received a generous share of paint. A new room has been constructed for the student newspaper and other student journals.

Mrs. Mary Holmes Phillips, of the Period Shop, Augusta, Ga., widely known interior decorator and former Stetson student, has just completed a survey of parlors in all girls dormitories with the idea of adding color and period of our basic confidence, if the old-headedness, the fairness and the hard common sense of the American people as a whole, and of the overwhelming majority of the press and radio."

Also, Lillenthal said, the Atomic Energy Commission has been working on another answer that will "ferret out the relatively few unreliable and disloyal individuals, without at the same time subjecting decent, conscientious and utterly loyal citizens to unwarranted fears and terrible injuries."

Of today's situation, Lillenthal said:

"The fact can be simply stated: it is the increasing unwillingness of specially qualified (and sadly needed) scientists, engineers and management experts to engage in work for the government of the United States."

"I recognize that for a long time there has been a reluctance to enter government service, for a variety of reasons which have been discussed many times."

"But that service has now been taken on an extra, an added unattractiveness, an added disability: the risk of undesired injury to a man's good name, his professional standing and his peace of mind through an anonymous vilification, through attacks from what may be petty or prejudiced or malevolent sources."

Lillenthal did not identify these sources nor detail the nature of the asserted attacks.

The luncheon at which he spoke was arranged to present the George Westinghouse science writing awards.

pieces to make the quarters more home-like. Tradition will not be disturbed.

The old stands in Hulley Field have been removed and many other changes have been made. Several more are in the immediate offing.

Lack of adequate housing has curtailed the enrollment this year, according to Director of Men's Dormitories C. H. Johnson. With additional students several hundred more housing, several hundred additional students could be enrolled. The enrollment is expected to be 1,600, according to Registrar Barbara Rowe. This is approximately 300 less than last year.

Pakistan Leader

The question uppermost in the minds of outside observers is whether the possibilities that India and Pakistan may entangle themselves in a war become greater or less with the death of Mahomed Ali Jinnah. The Hyderabad situation heightens the pertinency of the question.

If there are now more fears of war it is not because Jinnah was a peace-loving man. He and the late Mahomed K. Gandhi were close friends and in their youths of like mind, but they divided politically and ideologically over the issue of Gandhi's policy of non-violence, with which Jinnah disagreed vehemently.

Rather there may be greater danger of war now because Jinnah's hand was strong. As leader of the Moslem League and governor-general of Pakistan, he was able to lead the Moslems into war, or to hold them back from war if he wished. The hatred between Moslem and Hindu, which Jinnah helped to kindle, were shown to be deep and strong in the violence which followed the partition of India. Those hatreds now have brought the two peoples to such a point that, if strong leadership be lacking on one side or the other, a spontaneous war could break out.

Peace for India in the immediate future may depend largely on whether or not Jinnah's successor is a man able to bend the Moslems in that direction.

American Plan Dented

A good old American institution has been taking some hard blows lately. This is the American plan for hotels, whereas meals are included with the price of the room. The high cost of food has seriously dented this custom. The Minnesota tourist director says that high food prices have virtually ruined the American plan hotels in his state. Vacationers cannot afford them, and have been turning to cook-your-own-meal cabins.

A San Francisco travel agency truly says, "A man with a couple of children can't and won't pay for rooms and meals. He'll let the little women do the cooking in a cabin or cottage."

Eating is still necessary, but high prices are making it more and more unpopular.

One-Party Government

President Truman prepares for a far-ranging and energetic campaign not only in the faces of public opinion polls which show him trailing his Republican rival but in the face of a drastic Southern revolt. Governor Thurmond and his running mate, Governor Wright, representing the reaction against the President's civil-rights program, are now counting on forty-five of the 127 electoral votes in states ordinarily considered the "solid South"; their total in the end may well be more. The magnitude of the revolt was stressed last week when the Democratic State Committee in Louisiana voted to place Governor Thurmond at the head of the regular Democratic ticket, thus making it necessary for Truman votes to be written in.

The Democratic National Committee has reacted strongly against this new defection. It is one thing to have the State Rightists qualified to appear under their own name on the ticket, as at present in Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina and Texas; but it is a different and far more serious thing when they win control of the Democratic organization, substituting their own candidates for those nominated by the party's national convention. Students of political history have recalled that in 1912 Theodore Roosevelt, having split his party, saw his name placed in the Republican column of the regular organization, leaving Taft nowhere on the ballot. But whatever the precedent, the tactic is open to question; and the Democratic leaders complain with justification that the voters are being deprived of their right to vote for the party's regular candidates.

That complaint would be the more effective, however, if the South had not been for so long a one-party region. Those who are admitting today that the Democratic emblem at the head of the ballot in the South exercises a well-nigh irresistible fascination for the voter are the same who have been benefiting from this situation election after election. The truth is that a one-party system is not healthy, whether it benefits Mr. Truman, Mr. Thurmond or anybody else. The present tactics of the States Rightists will serve a useful purpose if they remind us all of this fact and if, more concretely, they help give to the Republican party a real opportunity to make its way into what has hitherto been for it a barren ground. Such an opportunity is opening up as a result of the split in Democratic ranks, and it is being vigorously taken advantage of by the national committee. The Republicans are now waging in the South an unprecedented publicity campaign and are preparing to assign leading Republicans to speak in each state for the Dewey-Warren ticket. The votes gathered by the party in November may thus mark the beginning of the end in what has long been an anomaly in a country believing in two-party government.

Gold Denies Union Is Dominated By Reds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (AP)—Ben Gold, president of the CIO Fur and Leather Workers' Union said today his union is not dominated by the Communist party.

Gold, himself a member of the Communist party's national executive committee, told a House labor subcommittee:

"The Communist party doesn't dominate and my union is not dominated by any party."

Further, Gold said, "Nobody in our union would agitate such a Fascist theory" as aiming at overthrow of the United States government by force.

As for himself, Gold said "I am opposed to the use of force to overthrow a democratically-elected government."

Gold proudly told the Congressional committee today he has been a Communist for more than 25 years.

"My political affiliation is a matter of public knowledge," he shouted. "I never have denied it and I never will."

or port of Giurgiu, or indeed in any locality in the vicinity of Giurgiu.

"The facts regarding the detention of the members of the American legation by the Romanian authorities," Schoenfeld said "are as follows:

"The legion members in question proceeded on Sept. 6 in a properly documented legation automobile from Bucharest to Giurgiu. They were stopped by the police in Giurgiu and were retained incommunicado for some 17 hours.

"During that time they were repeatedly refused permission to telephone the American Legation in Bucharest.

"For 18 hours no member of the group was allowed food or water. They were subjected to other considerable discomforts, to intermittent interrogation and to despicable artifices apparently designed to extract, supposedly, incriminating evidence." They were not released until shortly before noon on the following day.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—Since you are a Giant fan and the Giants play their home games at the Polo Grounds, you are not in need of an abacus to count the times you have watched a ballgame in Yankee stadium.

This is a big, ungainly brute of an amphitheater and you never enter it but you remember the first time you were a kid sitting back of first base with your brother and around the middle of the game Babe Ruth got up and hit a home run into the right field bleachers.

It was his 30th in the year that he hit the 60, and you got the idea, the way a lot of kids did, that he could hit one any time he wanted. The last time you saw him was the afternoon they honored him up here at the stadium.

Bobo Ruth The crowd had just finished bowing Happy Chandler savagely, and radio announcer Mel Allen, a little flustered, had asked the Babe to step out onto the field. He came out in the warm sun at home plate and made a little speech in the gravelly, wasted voice and everybody stood and didn't say anything.

It would have been nicer to remember the Babe hitting one into the seats or thumbing his nose at the enemy's dugout, but as they say in the radio scrips, that's the way it was and that's the way it had to be.

NOW YOU WERE SITTING in the stadium again. You were nearly straight behind home plate, in the mezzanine, and as you looked off across the field you saw that the bleachers looked like a mule camp. The sun worshippers had their shirts off and their trousers rolled up.

Up and behind them the subway trains rolled along, and still further beyond were Bronx apartment houses, glaring and staggily unreal in the intense summer heat.

Along first base the shadow of the stadium edged forward just enough so the visitors' first baseman could stay out of the sun, especially if a left-handed pull hitter was at bat.

In the dark green stands wherein you sat, there was no breath of air. When the game had begun, the crowd had cheered every pitch, but with a few innings gone, it had fallen silent and torpid.

Going to the ball game is escapism at its best. The headlines in the papers are dark and brooding, but in the stadium a ballplayer lounges on the dugout steps, a woman behind you tells her son gravely that Yogi Berra can hit to all fields and—bravo!—you discover three peanuts in one shell.

One of the visitors hits a high fly to center and Joe DiMaggio goes after it lazily, punches his glove once or twice and makes the catch effortlessly. Shea, fat and wild, labors earnestly on the pitching hill and when he lays a fast one in right through the center it is hit on the big hop to Stuffy Atkins. He throws to Phil Rizzuto, who crosses second base with split-second timing and Bres sidearm to Tommy Henrich at first for the double play.

These things happen three, four times a game and then they turn up in the tosseaux in the morning papers and are forgotten—but while you watch, it is a thing of exquisite beauty, a study in symmetry, that is over in a moment but hangs in your memory as they throw the ball around the infield and get ready to work over the next hitter.

OUT IN CENTER FIELD is the big scoreboard. You note that Philadelphia is losing by three runs, and you remember the time you flew there to see a ball game and you got into your hotel room about noon and lay down on the bed for a catnap, only to awaken at midnight.

You note that the Washington game hasn't yet begun, and that reminds you of a Sunday morning sitting on the lawn of the Wardman Park reading the funny papers. The Chicago score reminds you of a bar named Kitty Davis, cool and dark in the summer night.

Hyderabad Yields To India Following War of 100 Hours

Moslem Nizam Leader Of State Orders Cease Fire Effective At 5:00 P. M.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—(AP)—The cease-fire order will have no immediate effect on the Security Council's interest in the Indian invasion of Hyderabad an authoritative U. N. source said today.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW DELHI, Sept. 17. (AP)—The Hyderabad government radio broadcast today that the princely state has yielded in its 100-hour war with the Dominion of India. The Moslem Nizam, ruler of the state, ordered a cease fire effective at 5 P. M. (6:30 A. M., EST) and accepted the resignation of his government. He informed India he will form a new government tomorrow.

Mir Laik Ali, the Nizam's premier, announced this in the Hyderabad broadcast. The broadcast was in the Urdu language and in English. It was picked up by the Indian government radio at Nagpur. The government awaited a full text before reaching a decision, a spokesman said.

Unofficial reports reaching here from Poona, Madras and Nagpur said Indian troops already had marched into Hyderabad City, the capital, and Secunderabad, a military cantonment six miles north of the capital, without opposition. Official confirmation was awaited here at General headquarters. India declared at the outset she was marching into Hyderabad to put down a state of anarchy. The Indian commander, Lieut. General Maharajah Shri Rajen—(Continued on Page Two)

Non-Operators' Rail Wage Talks Have Collapsed

Discussions Continue Between Operators And Owners

EAST MOLINE, Ill., Sept. 17.—(AP)—The city police fought with CIO strike pickets today at the two gates of the East Moline works of the International Harvester Company. At least four persons were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. The fighting developed from threats of the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers' local to shut "tight" the big farm machinery works where a strike has been in progress for nine weeks.

Chicago, Sept. 17. (AP)—Wage and hour negotiations between the nation's railroads and 1,000,000 non-operating workers collapsed today. Negotiations with representatives of five operating unions of 300,000 workers are continuing, a carrier spokesman said.

No progress has been made on the non-operating demands, a management source reported, since meetings of committees for employers and workers began here on Sept. 8. Daniel P. Louis, Chicago, chairman of the Western Conference Committee and spokesman for the carriers, said:

"The demands of the unions are too extreme, time permitting, to warrant any prospect of settlement through collective bargaining. We will have to let this matter take its course under the Railway Labor Act."

Demands of the 16 unions of non-operating workers are:

- A five-day, 40 hour week with 48 hours pay.
- A wage increase of 25 cents an hour.
- Pay at one and one-half times the daily rate for Saturday work.
- Double time pay for Sundays and holidays.
- A minimum of eight hours pay on Sundays and holidays.
