County Officials May Sue; Sunshine Charges Dropped

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Clear of all grand jury charges, relieved county officials today threatened to file a lawsuit and called for an investigation of State Attorney Judge Wallace H. Hall yesterday dismissed sunshine law violation charges against County Commission Chairman Michael Hattaway, Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski and County Attorney Thomas Freeman.

Hall's dismissal ended charges against the trio and represented the third straight setback for Herring's office.

In a related development, the Pratt Committee — an organization of Democrats set up to combat Herring — called for a special investigator from the governor's office to "look into the misuse and abuse of the state attorney's office on political indictments."

"We're also requesting that they look into the financial aspects of his Herring's office in view of the fact that Herring has spent $200,000 of taxpayer money investigating public officials — misdemeanor charges," said Pratt Committee Chairman Tom Pratt.

Pratt also said he is asking to appear before the grand jury to present facts and findings about the state attorney's office dropped up by his committee.

Last week circuit judges threw out a felony charge against Freeman and an election law violation charge against Pratt.

As Freeman charged "points" on the part of the Republican state attorney, Kwiatkowski said there is an "excellent possibility" the three Democrats will file a lawsuit against Herring as a result of the grand jury probe. Freeman, also, asked for a grand jury investigation of Herring's operations.

Herring was "Tallahassee and unavailable for comment."

Kwiatkowski called the charges "just another attack by an incompetent state attorney." The commission said Herring's charges consisted of "biased information and half truths."

Both Kwiatkowski and Hattaway said they were "relieved" to be out from under intense pressure generated by indictments issued by the jury on Dec. 16.

Kwiatkowski's attorney, Newman Brock, said the public should know that Herring's office, in the past, has filed charges against 21 public officials.

"Conservatively speaking, that represents about 55 counts," Brock said.

None of the officials were brought to trial, Brock said.

"The people ought to know that it's blatant and speaks for itself," he added.

"I feel relieved about the whole thing," Hattaway said. Hattaway asked on behalf of his family he would like to "publicly thank" all those persons who stuck by him during the probe.

On advice of his attorney, Hattaway declined to comment on specifics of the case. But set forth exact dates when the Sunshine Law was violated and that charges were to vacate or even prepare a defense.

"Jack's only purpose in life is to hang public officials. He has already been chastised by the courts for his Gestapo-like tactics," Kwiatkowski said.

"When you let somebody like that run loose, anything is liable to happen. A good example is Fulenwider's getting a waitress in his car and telling her to talk into a tape recorder," he said.

Kwiatkowski referred to an incident involving Mrs. Mary Grover, an Altamonte Springs waitress. Fulenwider reportedly taped statements by her under oath in a car at the restaurant parking lot on Nov. 22.

"You might do that in Nazi Germany, but not in America," Kwiatkowski said.

Attorneys for the trio argued tape recorded statements played for the grand jury were inadmissible and a violation of state law regarding grand juries. Also, the defense claimed indictments failed to set forth exact dates when the Sunshine Law was violated and that charges were to vacate or even prepare a defense.

The grand jury charged Freeman, Kwiatkowski and Hattaway with violating the sunshine law by meeting secretly between May 1 and Oct. 30, 1975 to discuss the county's plan to purchase a $17,000 clay pit site near Markham Woods Road and for discussion centering on the hiring of Freeman as county attorney.

Spaziano Murder Trial Continues

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Both the roommate of Laura Lynn Harberis and the roommate's boyfriend testified today that a man on trial for first-degree murder in Miss Harberis' death came to an Orlando apartment in July 1973 asking for Miss Harberis.

Beverly Pink and Jack Harberis said she was frightened and asked Mallen to tell the person "it was too late and to go away."

Mallen said Miss Harberis didn't want the jealous door opened and he talked to the person, without opening the door, saying, "Please go away."

Mallen said he could see a silhouette of a man with bushy hair that appeared to be wearing a blue denim jacket. He said the man "muttered some obscenities and banged down the steps" from the apartment.

Testifying about the mid-July meeting of Spaziano, Mallen pointed out the defendant in a courtroom as the man he saw face-to-face at the apartment door.

Both Fink and Mallen said Spaziano claimed to be a traveling cook who'd met Miss Harberis in Orlando's Eola Park. They said Miss Harberis wasn't at home at the time.

Miss Fink said she remembers that Spaziano had his black hair pulled back in a ponytail and that he had thick sideburns but no beard.

"Mostly I remember his eyes," she said. "They were noticeable because they're large and dark."

Maitland Marine president Ralph DiLasio, 42, and his 17-year-old son Tony, identified by prosecutor Claude Van Hook as former friends of Spaziano, were waiting at noon to be called as state witnesses in the Spaziano murder trial.

Mallen Jr. said the man was the defendant, Joseph "Crazy Joe" Spaziano. Miss Harberis, 18, disappeared on Aug. 5, 1973 and her decomposed body was found on Aug. 22, 1973 at an illegal trash dumping area off SR-41 at Altamonte Springs.

Miss Fink, who worked with Miss Harberis at Orange Memorial Hospital, and shared the apartment with her, and Harberis said she was frightened and asked Mallen to tell the person "it was too late and to go away."

Heat Pump Efficiency Questioned By Board

By SCOTT ABRAHAMS
Herald Correspondent

Discussion about various Seminole County school construction projects — both proposed and completed — occupied much of the time during Wednesday's four-hour Seminole County School Board meeting.

Brought into question by the board, approval of architect's plans for Pincrest and Bear Lake Elementary school additions, was the efficiency of the proposed heating systems for the two buildings.

DainWood, Derryberry and Pavelchak, architects in Casselberry, proposed a heat pump system be used for the buildings. Board members questioned the efficiency of the system over strip heating systems.

Final plans for Teague and Taskawilla Middle schools were approved, subject to a change in the lighting system.

Board members also discussed the "punch list" — the final touch-up procedure contractors are required to complete before the final 10 per cent of construction money can be paid.

Vice-chairman Pat Telson reported several problems in the one-year-old addition at Jackson Heights Middle School in Oviedo. The contractor apparently failed to provide proper hinges on fire doors and failed to insure welding joints against rust on a covered walkway.

The board agreed the county needed to "get tough" on the matter of punch lists in general and placed the item on next week's agenda.

Members also rejected a bid to buy a van to be used for office equipment repair. The bid required the board to purchase the van under a state contract. Members directed purchasing agent Don Coleman to resubmit the bid to local dealers.

In other action, the board examined a proposed policy for determining where courtesy busing would be granted. Employing a point system based on traffic counts, speed limits, age of children and other factors, the proposal was referred to an ad hoc committee on courtesy busing for further suggestions and input.

Terrorist Suspect Sought

BARTOW (AP) — Police are hunting for a fifth person allegedly involved in a gang linked to 16 brutal attacks in seven Central Florida counties. Law enforcement officers said Wednesday that the person, who they did not publicly identify, was wanted for questioning in the case. An official said investigators had talked with the man twice Tuesday as they were arresting four other persons but let him go.

Meanwhile Wednesday, three of the four persons arrested in the case appeared before Polk County Judge Ed Threadgill on charges of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property. The offense is punishable by a maximum of five years in jail and $5,000 fine.

The three were identified as Morris Thomas, 27; his wife Lattie Mae, 25; and Luis Martin, 19, all of Bartow.

The fourth, 15-year-old Cody Martin of Bartow, identified as Lee Martin's brother, went before juvenile authorities and was ordered held without bond.

Thomas, on parole for armed robbery when arrested Tuesday, was also charged with possession of an automatic weapon that investigators say he believed was used in a DeLand murder last month.

Threadgill ordered Thomas held without bond and referred to lower $50,000 bonds set for Mrs. Thomas and Luis Martin. The stolen property charge involves confiscated weapons which police said were stolen in armed burglaries in Polk and Highlands counties.

A ski-masked gang of terrorists has been blamed by police for 16 brutal attacks in seven counties since last April, including as many as three murders and at least five rapes.

The Thomases and Martin told Threadgill they couldn't afford to hire attorneys. They were granted court-appointed ones.

Robin Roberts Elected To Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Robin Roberts, former pitching ace of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been elected to baseball's Hall of Fame, The Associated Press learned today.

It was not immediately known if any other players received the necessary 75 per cent vote from ballots cast by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The announcement of those elected was to be made at a news conference later in the day.

Roberts, a right-hander, won 286 games in 19 major league seasons. He fell nine votes short of the requirement in last year's voting.

He and Bob Lemon, another standout pitcher from the 1950's, had been considered the leading candidates to be elected this time.

Local Organizations Want Time To Study City Hall Site

By AUDIE MURPHY
Herald Staff Writer

Representatives of three Sanford organizations met Wednesday and resolved to ask the city commission for time to study the issue of where to locate a new city hall.

At the noon luncheon at the Holiday Inn, which was sponsored by the Bankers' Committee of the Greater Sanford Area Chamber of Commerce, a resolution to ask city commissioners to delay final action on locating the city hall until the commission's first meeting in March, in order that the issue can be studied, and possible alternative sites can be evaluated, passed unanimously.

In September, the city commission voted to locate the new city hall at the city-owned site at French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard.

Attending the meeting Wednesday were representatives of the Greater Sanford Area Chamber of Commerce, the Downtown Business Association (DBA) and the Downtown Development Corporation (DDC).

Howard Hodges, chairman of the Bankers' Committee, led off the meeting by reminding those present that the committee had recommended the new city hall be located at a site in the Downtown area.

"There are many definitions of 'Downtown,'" Hodges said, "but we were thinking of Downtown in relation to the downtown area and other facilities."

He emphasized that, as far as his group was concerned, Downtown means the Central Business District. He added that, in his opinion, locating the city hall in the Central Business District would draw people Downtown, and help the merchants in that area.

"My purpose in calling this meeting was to have representation by these groups of Sanford at the meeting, advised that those going before the commission be specific in their requests.

"Don't go down there and say 'don't do anything until we can get people together and come up with a recommendation,'" Moore said.

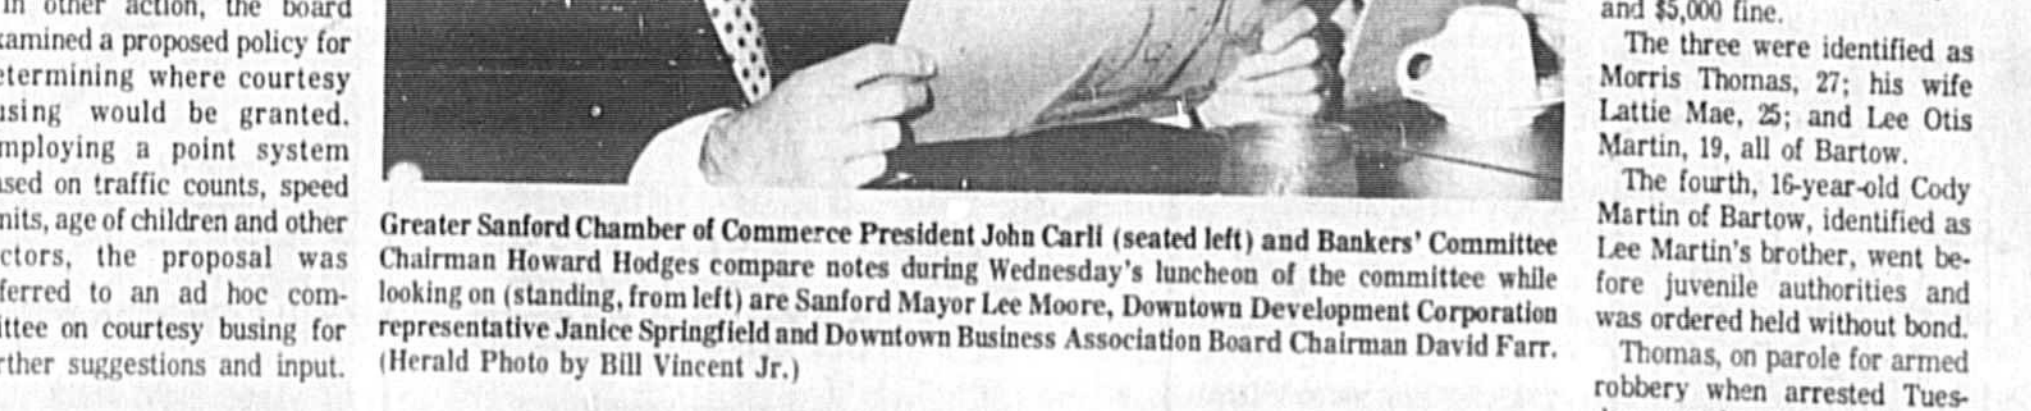

In answer to a question by banker John Mercer, which asked where the groups were going to obtain the needed information, DDC board chairman Miss Sara Jacobson said the DDC would like to "house a committee from the three groups to provide information, and perhaps to suggest an alternative site."

At this point Mayor Lee Moore, who represented the City of Sanford at the meeting, advised that those going before the commission be specific in their requests.

"Don't go down there and say 'don't do anything until we can get people together and come up with a recommendation,'" Moore said.

In answer to a question by banker John Mercer, which asked where the groups were going to obtain the needed information, DDC board chairman Miss Sara Jacobson said the DDC would like to "house a committee from the three groups to provide information, and perhaps to suggest an alternative site."

After the motion to approach the city commission at the January 28 meeting passed unanimously, John Carl, president of the Greater Sanford Area Chamber of Commerce, remarked that perhaps the city should buy the new courthouse, and the county could use the proceeds of the sale to build a new courthouse in Longwood.

NATION IN BRIEF

Democrats To Review, Expand On Ford's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are warning Congress' new budget machinery to review and most likely expand on President Ford's $20.2-billion spending proposal for the year beginning next Oct. 1.

The budget Ford submitted Wednesday calls for increased defense spending, higher Social Security taxes and reductions in some welfare programs, along with an additional $10 billion cut in income taxes. His proposal ran immediately into a chorus of criticism from the Democrats, who control Congress.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, delivering the Democrats' response to Ford's State of the Union address, said Wednesday that Congress would agree with the need for a balanced budget, but not until the economy regains its health. Until then, he said, the economy needs the stimulus of increased government spending to ensure recovery.

Muskie noted that Ford's proposals suggested a minimal government involvement in creating new jobs and said the Ford plans would doom America to unemployment of 7 per cent for the rest of the decade.

Israel Support Promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George Wallace says he'll make a strong commitment to Israel in an important part of his foreign policy if he is nominated and elected president.

Wallace also told a Jewish group Wednesday night he would do "whatever necessary" in an effort to convince the Soviet Union to relax its emigration policies for Russian Jews — including possibly making it a condition for continued detente with the Soviets.

Meanwhile, former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford said he will hold a news conference Friday to make an announcement of "national significance." There was one report he may be dropping out of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Fire Sweeps San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Wind-whipped flames spiraled across about 2,000 acres of tinder-dry brush above this seaside resort, burning at least 21 expensive homes and approaching, at one point, the home of ex-President Richard M. Nixon.

At least 12 persons were injured and hundreds fled their homes Wednesday as the fire spread from its starting point at the Marine Corps base at Camp Pendleton right up to their back porches, firemen said. Fire damage to homes was estimated at more than $1 million, blaze had encircled, but they wouldn't predict how long it would take to control the fire.

Anti-Abortion Rally Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The third anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court decision legalizing abortion is being marked by a Washington rally and intensive lobbying in support of a constitutional amendment that would ban abortion.

Sponsors of a third annual "March for Life" planned to converge on Washington today to appeal to the administration and Congress to end legal abortions. Leaders expected thousands to participate.

Planned activities included White House picketing, a rally on the Ellipse in front of the Washington Monument and a march down Pennsylvania Avenue for a rally on the Capitol steps.

Robbins To Race Again

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music singer Marty Robbins will be back in his race driver's seat again this year, in a 1974 Dodge on the NASCAR Grand National circuit.

Robbins, 50, vowed last summer that he was giving up stock-car racing for good following three grinding crashes.

"A fellow could get killed out there," he said at the time. Wednesday, he said he had changed his mind.

Baby Sitter Sues City

ALTA MONTÉ SPRING — City officials have been served with legal papers notifying them that Mrs. John Bechtold of 523 Applegate Ave., Spring Oaks, is challenging the constitutionality of the city's zoning ordinance.

Specifically being challenged is the section confining use of homes in the highest residential zoning classification to single families.

Mayor Norman Floyd said that the city is going to counter enjoin Mrs. Bechtold to stop her from operating a baby-sitting service in her home until the suit is settled in the Seminole County Circuit Court. Mrs. Bechtold is represented by attorney Gerald Rutzberg.

The city commission authorized City Attorney Joseph Davis to defend the city in the court action.

The city had warned Mrs. Bechtold to stop her baby-sitting service, saying it violated city law, or a warrant would be issued for her arrest.

In other business, the commission received an application from Safety-Cab of Winter Park asking for a "certificate of convenience" to continue operating within the city bounds. The certificate is required by city law as a prerequisite of operating a cab company in the city.

City Hall Discussion Set By DBA

The Downtown Business Association (DBA) of Sanford will hold a general membership meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Building.

The Downtown location of the new City Hall will be a chief item of discussion, according to David Farr, a DBA director. Farr urged all DBA members to attend the meeting.

State Funding Key To Education Center

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Whether a newly proposed nature center for school children gets off the drawing board and into existence at Big Tree Park East depends on the state legislature, School Supt. William P. Laver said today.

Laver said local school officials anticipate a reduction in state funds for fiscal 1976-77. He said it will be up to the school system's budget committee to decide whether or not to include the new environmental education program in next year's budget.

The budget committee contacts hearings in April and May.

Meanwhile, Laver said Mrs. Bettie Palmer, project coordinator for the nature center, is scheduled to appear before the school board Wednesday to explain details of the project.

Mrs. Palmer last week won approval from the Seminole County Commission to locate the center at Big Tree.

But then Central Florida Zoo

officials offered a zoo-owned site. Mrs. Palmer said Wednesday she prefers the Big Tree site over the 100 acres offered by Central Florida Zoological Society President John Sobik.

Laver said the final site selection will be up to the school board. But Laver said he will advise the board not to include the center in the school system's budget committee to decide whether or not to include the new environmental education program in next year's budget.

The budget committee contacts hearings in April and May.

Meanwhile, Laver said Mrs. Bettie Palmer, project coordinator for the nature center, is scheduled to appear before the school board Wednesday to explain details of the project.

Mrs. Palmer last week won approval from the Seminole County Commission to locate the center at Big Tree.

But then Central Florida Zoo

acres. Sobik's offer is for 100 acres.

— The Big Tree site is "completely natural" and has less swamp land than the zoo site.

— Anticipated projects would need more space and a less unshaded area than the zoo site.

— The zoo area is too well lighted for astronomical studies.

— The Big Tree site has more large stands of virgin timber which can be used in projects.

In a letter to Mrs. Palmer, Sobik said he does not "understand why it is necessary to develop the Big Tree Park East for such a study since the Central Florida Zoological Society has already spent in excess of $50,000 on some 100 acres of wooded property, left as natural as possible, adjoining Lake Monroe for just such a purpose."

Mrs. Palmer says she finds no problem with the zoo. "We use the zoo," she said.

She pointed out the fact that school officials have scheduled 3,000 children to tour the zoo this year.

Suitable roads already are in existence at the Big Tree site, she said. Mrs. Palmer also pointed out the site itself — the great outdoors — will be the classroom.

Her concept at present is to establish a center where children could be taken to explore the wonders of the natural environment. Future plans, however, envision an elaborate structure similar to million-dollar facilities that have been built in other areas of the country.

Money for the more elaborate type structure would come from the federal government or from private donations, officials say. In fact, Mrs. Palmer and her colleagues have proposed establishment of a nature board.

Such a board, officials say, would qualify to seek federal grants. Other centers have been constructed through the use of private donations and grant money.

Though Mrs. Palmer has received permission from the county commission to locate a timetables and other details of the nature center.

And, Laver said he doesn't envision reappearing before county commissioners until school officials have nailed down the exact amount of state funding due here in 1977-78.

The school system will provide instructional personnel for the center, according to Laver.

Suspended Police Chief Called By Grand Jury

ORLANDO (AP) — James Longo, suspended Hallandale police chief, has been subpoenaed to appear Friday before a state grand jury probing connections between gambling and organized crime. It will be his third appearance.

Special Prosecutor Gene Whitworth of Gainesville said Longo would be asked the same questions as were asked during the previous appearances. Longo was indicted on perjury charges after each appearance.

Longo was accused of lying about his association with reputed Broward County crime figure Anthony Accardo. A September indictment was dismissed for lack of evidence and a November indictment was thrown out on a legal technicality.

Exile Denies Bombings

MIAMI (AP) — A Cuban exile charged with six bombings here denies the accusation and vows he will not leave the plush home he's visiting in the Dominican Republic to return to Miami and face the charges. The Miami Herald reported today.

"I do not know why they accused me of these bombings. So they are trying to make my life impossible," the Herald reported Tuesday that Otero was named in a secret, sealed indictment handed down by a Miami grand jury. He is charged with the bombings of six government buildings, including the offices of the FBI, on Dec. 3, the newspaper said.

Jail Threat Removed

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — The threat of jail terms apparently has been removed for two television newscasters who refused to identify a confidential news source to a grand jury.

Asst. State Atty. Aaron Bowden filed a motion late Wednesday to dismiss an order requiring news director Ernest Mastrianni and reporter Marlene Schneider of WJXT to show cause why they shouldn't be cited for contempt.

Bowden said the witness had come to authorities and probably will testify before the grand jury investigating the fatal shooting of a man by a policeman Dec. 12.

Discipline Problem Cited

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Public schools are facing a crisis of confidence because of a lack of student discipline, the executive director of a state association of school boards says.

"We are in trouble with our public schools around the country. We don't have the support we once had," Don Magruder, executive director of the Florida School Boards Association, said Wednesday.

Magruder told a seminar on education and the law that in six of the past seven years, a Gallup poll of parents has listed lack of discipline as the greatest problem facing schools.

Posse Captures Two

PALM CITY (AP) — A sheriff's posse of 50 deputies, aided by helicopters and dogs, has arrested two men who allegedly held two deputies hostage for a brief time, officials say.

Michael Omar Zilgen, 31, of Miami, and John Dodge, 26, also believed to be from Miami, offered little resistance when they were arrested after a 15-hour search, Martin County sheriff's deputies said.

The two, charged with assault and attempted kidnapping, were held without bond.

Orlando Faces Life Term

NORTH TONAWANDA, N.Y. (AP) — A 21-year-old Orlando man faces a mandatory life sentence following his conviction Wednesday on a charge of selling cocaine.

Frank "Cool Breeze" Mitchell was found guilty by a state Supreme Court jury following a two-day trial before Justice Sebastian J. Belonio. He was accused of selling the drug to two Niagara County sheriff's Department undercover agents Aug. 13, 1975.

The judge set sentencing for Feb. 11.

Court Rules For Developer

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The City of Hollywood must let a developer build a 6,000-unit apartment complex because it city treated him unfairly in a lengthy zoning dispute, the Florida Supreme Court says.

Florida Unemployment Rate Still 13 Per Cent

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The number of unemployed persons in Florida declined 10,700 in December but the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate remained at 13 per cent, the Commerce Department said today.

Most of the hiring during December was in retail stores, normal for Christmas shopping periods, Asst. Secretary of Commerce C. Bette Wimbish said.

The number of unemployed workers decreased from 406,100 in November to 395,400 in December while the total number of jobs increased by 41,300, the department said in a news release.

Seasonal adjustments are made in the unemployment rate to account for normal shifts in hiring and workers available, such as stores adding Christmas rush workers and high school graduates entering the job market in June.

November's unemployment rate had been announced as 12.5 per cent but was revised during December as additional information was received, the department said.

The raw unemployment rate was 12.1 per cent in November and 11.7 per cent in December.

Murpheys Visit Hollywood Star

Evlyn Murphey with son, Jerry, and grandson, Scott McIntosh, flew to Beverly Hills, Calif. for a family reunion with Evlyn's daughter, Marsha and her husband, "the" Neil Diamond, and their son, Jesse. They were joined in California by Evlyn's other daughter, Martha, and her husband, Lt. Col. Robert M. McIntosh, defense attaché at the U.S. Embassy in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, together with Scott's two brothers, Brian and Doug. The McIntosh family also brought a native governor to the Star with them, Conello, who had never been out of her country before.

One of the highlights of the trip was their attendance at the Rose Bowl game. It was especially important, as three generations of Evlyn's family attended Ohio State University; her father had been a Horticulture Department director at the University for 30 years and Mrs. B. Lee Field, Mrs. Woods' and Evlyn, her daughters and Gary and Linda Viano, now in California, formerly of Third Street, also attended the Rose Bowl game with the Murpheys.

Jane Woods of Sixth Street had the pleasure of a visit from her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold of Oviedo. After a delicious dinner, the new officers for 1974 also joined the family at that time.

Clara Lee Lyons of Third Court has just returned from Humble, Texas, a suburb of Houston. While there she visited with her daughter and son-in-law, Rebecca and Wayne Rogers and their children. Clara Lee underwent a successful operation in Texas. Now she can happily wear a shoe on a foot that has refused anything but a bedroom slipper since last summer.

Chuluota still is receiving guests from Michigan, the latest of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Judson from Flint. He is the nephew of Marie Utter of Second Street.

The Chuluota Retired Club's January meeting was held at the Town House Restaurant in Oviedo. After a delicious dinner, the new officers for 1974 will again be held at the Community Fire House.

The Chuluota Firemen will hold a barbecue at the Fire Hall on Jan. 24, from 5 to 7 p.m. This is always a successful and fun event.

Women Choose Own Dress Code

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Prefer Skirts" who wants to determine dress for all the women in the world:

Thanks to you and your kind, Buddy, 100 million American women are learning the following things: Any woman not physically handicapped is strong enough to open a door and move a chair. Waitresses should be paid a living wage by their employers and not have to depend on the generosity of the customer as if waitresses were performing dogs rewarded with bits of food.

We are also learning that all the "gentlemen courtesies" that extend when you are in the mood are not worth a 60 percent pay differential, and that when we earn our own money with our own labor, we can pay our own bills and maintain our self-respect as adult human beings (commonly known as "feeling like a man").

And meditate on this for a little while, pal: One hundred million American women get up and dressed every single day without giving one second's thought to how much you feel

Keep Hash, Tuna On Pantry Shelf

By NANCY BOOTH
Herald Correspondent
(Second In A Series)

A handy item to have in reserve on the pantry shelf is canned corn beef hash. A one pound can will serve no more than two good appetites. If you add other items, you may be able to stretch the meal to four servings from a single can.

For breakfast, try heating a can of hash in a skillet. While it is heating, poach several eggs. Lay the eggs on top of the hash and serve. This makes a different and economical change from bacon and eggs.

You may enjoy trying this dish, which is just a little fancier. Mix together two one-pound cans of hash, four tablespoons 'nill sauce, four tablespoons grated onion and one teaspoon dry mustard. Arrange the hash in small individual baking dishes or in one large flat casserole. Make indentations in the center into which you can put an egg. Dot the hash with margarine or butter and bake in a 350 degree oven for 20 minutes. Then break an egg or two into each corned beef patty and return to the oven just long enough for the egg to set-about five minutes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and paprika, and serve with thin sliced onions, tomatoes with french dressing, and hot corn bread made from a mix. This dinner will serve up to 10 persons.

Canned tuna is another item that is handy to have around. We are all familiar with tuna casserole, tuna salad and creamed tuna, but here is a recipe you might wish to try that is just a little bit different.

How Long Can You Store Frozen Foods?

Estimates are that frozen foods will last up to a year if stored consistently at 0 degrees F. According to the booklet "Frozen Food Facts, a general rule is that as temperature increases, the life of frozen foods is decreased. Remember, 15 degrees F. or plus 20 degrees your appliance isn't necessarily F. and you'll want to use these foods within a few days. Remember that some frozen foods begin to thaw in temperature range, even though the package feels hard.

If you store frozen foods in the "frozen food compartment" of a conventional one-door refrigerator, the thermometer will likely register plus 10 degrees F. or plus 15 degrees F. and you'll want to plan to use and replace these foods within a period of several weeks.

If you put frozen foods in the well-insulated freezer compartment of a two-door combination refrigerator-freezer, the thermometer should indicate an air temperature of 0 degrees F. (or lower) to plus 8 degrees F. then you can count on fresh-eating qualities over several months.

If you add frozen foods to a separate household freezer, whether chest or upright, the thermometer should maintain a reading of 0 degrees F. or lower, which will permit you to enjoy a wide variety of frozen up to one year. Extensive studies have revealed that food stored at 0 degrees F. retains its vitamin content, color, taste, and texture. These guidelines are useful but they are no substitute for knowing the exact temperature of your particular unit. So take a few minutes, follow these simple steps, and then purchase and store frozen foods with confidence.

MODEST IN HAWAII

Not only did I lie to my friends about my age, I also lied to my doctor, which has been costing me money.

You see, I recently went into a hospital and didn't want to admit my real age, so I didn't use my Social Security Medicare card, and I had to pay for everything myself. (The same with my doctor bill.)

On Income Taxes

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the fourth in a series of five articles entitled "You and Your Income Taxes." The articles are written to help taxpayers prepare their 1975 tax returns.

By G. DAVID WALLACE Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — When Americans retire or hit 65, they become a distinct class of citizens as far as the Internal Revenue Service is concerned, qualifying for special tax breaks.

The net effect of the various benefits is to raise the income limits below which taxpayers 65 or older need not file a return. For a single person 65 or over, an income of $3,100 or over is necessary before filing becomes mandatory. The limit is $4,150 for a married couple where one spouse is 65 or older and $4,900 for a married couple with both spouses 65 or older.

By comparison, the filing limits for taxpayers under 65 are $2,350 for single persons and $3,400 for married couples filing jointly.

One of the reasons for the higher cutoffs is an additional personal exemption of $750 provided for taxpayers who are over 65. Thus, the individual personal exemption for an over-65 taxpayer actually amounts to $1,500, compared to the flat $750 for taxpayers under 65.

But there's a new wrinkle in the personal exemption system this year. Over-65 taxpayers will be able to claim, in addition to the $1,500 normal exemption deduction, the same $30 personal exemption tax credit to which every other taxpayer is entitled. The over-65 taxpayer will not get, however, an equivalent $30 credit for being over 65.

People over 65 are eligible for a special retirement income credit if they receive income from pensions, annuities, certain rents or dividends and interest. The credit, which amounts to a dollar-for-dollar June reduction in tax bills, can amount to $229 for a single person and $457 for a married couple.

To be eligible, you must have earned $600 or more in each of any ten years prior to the year covered by the tax return.

The actual plan can escape taxes entirely for up to three years after retirement. The reason is that wage earners pay taxes on their pension contributions as the money is laid aside, so the IRS figures the first money paid out of the fund after retirement represents those contributions.

Thus the employer's contribution as they are paid out, are tax-free, up to a maximum of three years.

Another tax break available to people over 65 is the right to exclude from taxes a portion of any gain on the sale of their personal residence. Again, the formula is complicated.

Over-65 benefits apply full for the year in which your 65th birthday occurs, even if Jan. 1 of the succeeding year. In other words, the IRS considers you to be 65 on the day before your birthday.

Finally, Social Security payments are wholly exempt from taxes. And that includes the $50 special payment mailed to Social Security and other federal retirement recipients as an anti-inflationary measure last June.

Thomas Paine Had Influence

EDITOR'S NOTE — Two hundred years ago this week, Thomas Paine stepped into history with the publication of "Common Sense."

By DON MCLEOD Associated Press Writer Everybody knows someone like Thomas Paine, the great theorist and persuader of the American Revolution. He was one of those fellows with the maddening habit of being right when he had no right to be.

Paine was an absolute flop at just about everything he tried except arguing cracker-barrel philosophy, and then he was superlative.

He came from poor parents. His education was meager. He was lazy in school and in business.

Yet he became one of the leading men in an age of great men with the publication of "Common Sense" 200 years ago this week. Even John Adams, who thoroughly disliked Paine, conceded, "I know not whether any man in the world has had more influence on the inhabitants of America for the last 30 years than Tom Paine."

Paine was a man of his times, and of ours. His central belief was that the system had to be right for anything else to be right. And the people are the best guardians of their own interests.

"I consider freedom as personal property," he said. "It is dangerous in the hands of the poor for ignorance, it is at least equally dangerous in the hands of the rich from infidelity."

Good government and good life could rest only on fairness to all.

Faber's Assistance Keys Raiders, 99-86

One thing you gotta love about that Seminole Community College basketball team — it is always there with a hand.

While Reggie McDonald and Terry Jameson did a large portion of the scoring Wednesday night in the Raiders' 99-86 victory over Central Florida, it was Randy Faber who stood as the true unsung hero of the night.

Faber was credited with 14 assists, a figure good enough to give the former Boone High star the school record. Faber had 10 points additionally.

The victory was the 15th in 12 games for Seminole, which picked up ground in the Division 2 race. The Raiders are 4-1 in Division 2, an all-important category when determining state tournament berth.

Wednesday night's game was decided early. Seminole led at intermission, 56-36, and even though Central Florida made a strong bid for a comeback in the second half, Seminole's discipline denied the try.

"They don't quit," said Seminole coach Joe Sterling of his foe. "Our boys did a good job. Randy was getting the ball to the open man, and Reggie and Terry were hitting pretty good."

Sterling should also have been proud of his defense, with a couple exceptions in the second half when Central Florida picked up the slack and sliced the gap to a more respectable margin.

Interestingly, Central Florida won the battle of the boards, 45-39, but some clutch grabs by Bob Jacobs helped offset the charge by the Raiders.

Jacobs wound up with 12 points. Chip Noe was the other Raider in double figures, he with 11.

Seminole was seeking victory No. 16 in a 2 p.m. encounter today against Eckert Junior varsity.
