Focus tonight: Controversial local murder

By Joana Hughes
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Kimberly Soubielle has come a long way since her days as a topless dancer who killed her husband, but not as far as she had hoped.

Gov. Lawton Chiles did not grant the full pardon that would have removed another obstacle from her path to becoming a lawyer.

National attention will be focused on the Soubielle case during an edition of Public Eye With Bryant Gumbel featuring interviews with the Seminole County state attorney, the prosecutor and a victim's advocate. The show will air tonight at 9 p.m. on CBS Channel 9.

Since her early release from prison in 1992, Soubielle has graduated from Florida State University Law School. She had hoped to practice law in the State of Florida. A full pardon would have restored her civil rights, ended her probation and allowed her to apply to the Florida Bar.

Soubielle's civil rights were partially restored, though she is still not allowed to carry a weapon, and she remains on probation. Her dream of being a lawyer will have to wait.

Soubielle was convicted of the 1987 murder of her husband, Pierre and sentenced to 15 years in prison and 15 years of probation. She had served 6 years when she was granted clemency in 1992. Soubielle was the first woman in Florida to receive clemency based on the Battered Spouse Syndrome defense.

State Attorney Norm Wolfinger, Prosecutor Steve Plotnick and Victim's Advocate Linda Kuhn have fought all of Soubielle's attempts to lessen her sentence. They have characterized Soubielle as a "master manipulator".

Lake Mary to work on gateway park design, budget

By Nick Pflaum
HERALD STAFF WRITER

LAKE MARY - The Lake Mary City Commission will hold a special work session Thursday afternoon to review the design of the proposed Gateway Park. The park would be part of the National Scenic Trail project.

Much of the planning has been under way since late February, as the result of meetings held by a newly formed Park Design Committee and Ken Reeves, a landscape architect for Conklin Porter & Homes, Engineers.

Gateway Park is to be located at the northeast corner of the intersection of Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard, immediately adjacent to the Forest community. It consists of 2.04 acres of land.

"We own that triangle of land," explained Parks and Recreation Director John Holland, "and as it's part of the National Scenic Trail, it would be a logical location for a top notch city park with picnic tables, benches and other park features."

A number of steps must be taken before actual work could begin toward construction of the new city park. One of the most important would be approval of a suggested $430,000 to pay for such incidents as $130,000 for restrooms and vendor space, a $3,000 flag pole, $15,000 for an extension to the wall between the park and the Forest, and $60,000 for paved parking.

In addition to approval of the financing from the city, applications would be required in order to obtain permits to develop the park. These include site plan approval from the city, right-of-way approval from Seminole County, an environmental resources permit from the St. Johns River Water Management District, a wastewater collection system permit exemption from the Florida Department of Environmental

Persistent pastor delivers prayers, petitions against nude dancing

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The Rev. Mark George set up a pulpit at the County Services Building on Tuesday. His sermon was on nudity.

He was joined by a small following who provided occasional "amens" as George spoke of the evils of nude dancing clubs and a county commission that allows these lurid places to operate.

Stacked to the side of George's makeshift pulpit were 10 boxes containing more than 10,500 signatures from county residents who want to ban total nudity at adult clubs. They suggest the dancers at least wear a French-cut bikini.

County Commissioner Grant Maloy and Liberty Counsel attorney Rick Nelson shared the pulpit with George and accompanied him in a prayer circle and delivery of the signatures

Mayor to county: Show us the money to buy City Hall

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Good neighbor, we'll cut you a deal but we're not about to "give away" City Hall was the firm message Sanford Mayor Larry Dale told Seminole County officials who are trying to solve a critical courthouse problem.

Dale says the county's appraisal of the 5 acres of land and City Hall building of $3.4 million is not a fair market price. The property is worth almost twice that, and Dale doesn't want to short change the citizens of the city.

The county is considering several options to solve its

Sanford may receive funds for additional reclaimed water lines

By Nick Pflaum
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The St. Johns River Water Management District (SJRWMD) will hold a regulatory meeting on June 9 with items to be voted upon carried over to a meeting on June 10. Scheduled on the agenda are two items pertaining to reclaimed water proposals. If approved, they would grant a total of $108,000 to the City of Sanford.

Listed under approval of contracts is consideration of $50,000 for a reclaimed water transmission line and $58,000 for the extension of reclaimed water lines.

Sanford's Project Director Bill Marcous said they are cost-share proposals and outlined them separately as follows:

* Anthony Drive Project - to extend reclaimed water service in the Groveview Subdivision. The extension calls for the city to design and construct a 6-inch reclaimed water line from the 14-inch reclaimed water line leading to Seminole Community College. It would loop on Anthony Drive and portions of Sir Lawrence Drive and connect again on the 14-inch reclaimed water line.

* 11th Street Project - to extend reclaimed water service to the Historic District. These extensions call for the city to design and construct 4 and 6-inch reclaimed water lines from Oak Avenue, along 11th Street and down parts of Park, Magnolia and Palmetto avenues.

The request for the SJRWMD funds are listed as part of a grouping of 11 contracts dealing with reclaimed water lines which would total $465,780 in matching funds.

Other proposals scheduled for discussion and/or consideration by the SJRWMD at next week's meeting include consideration of a joint agreement between the Springs Homeowners Association, Sanlando Utilities and Seminole County, to fund replacement of the water and wastewater utility crossing the Wekiva River near the Springs development.

The consent agenda includes a request from the Sanford Airport Authority to modify previously issued permits relative to construction of a general runway and aircraft hangar, and a request from Dave Brewer Homes, Inc. to modify a previously issued permit associated with construction of the Brewer Office Warehouse.

The SJRWMD meeting will begin at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on June 9, and at 9 a.m. on June 10 at the district headquarters, SR-100 West, Palatka.

6 teens awarded cars in sheriff's good student incentive program

By Nick Pflaum
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Seminole County has 6 happy teen-agers these days. They were the recipients of Seminole County Sheriff Don Eskinger's student incentive awards. Each has been given an automobile, free of charge.

When the program was first instigated by the sheriff 3 years ago, vehicles given to the students were those confiscated by the sheriff's department as the result of mostly in drug related cases. "But we found this wasn't the best approach," said Lt. Jack Cash. "Many of these cars had to be repaired and damaged so the criminal element wouldn't see a student with their car, and some of them were in such bad condition they required a great deal of repair."

Cash said they weren't the type of vehicles

Sheriff Eskinger wanted to place our teen-agers in.

Now, the confiscated vehicles are sold, and with the proceeds from those, plus additional funding from the Law Enforcement Trust Fund and cooperation of local car dealerships, six relatively new vehicles in good condition are obtained each year.

"It's an excellent partnership with the dealers," Cash added.

He also noted that this was the first time in the 4 give-aways that all 6 of the selected students were females.

One student was selected from each of the high schools in the county after meeting several criteria designating them as successful students.

"This is an outstanding opportunity to reward these students for their efforts," Eskinger said. Please See Cars, Page 3A

Burning ban lifted

Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford has lifted the ban on open burning authorizations statewide. The decision to allow a limited amount of open burning is based on improvements in atmospheric weather conditions and the lifting of the air pollution advisory by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection.

The department's Division of Forestry will handle the issuance of a number of burning permits in areas where local forestry managers believe there will be a minimum threat.

The lack of rainfall has created a number of problems in the state. Crawford said a total of 1,600 wildfires have burned 18,000 acres throughout the state already this year, and he believes a serious control over open burning must be maintained, through individual permitting however, rather than a complete ban.

"It is not often that we get to showcase the students who work hard and do the right thing during their high school career. It also gives us a change to recognize our valued partnership with the school district."

Selected from the schools were Jennifer Prentice of Lake Brantley High School, Yarely Sierra of Lake Howell High School, Jordan Kelgren of Lake Mary High School, Joane V. Mapas of Lyman High School, Kristen Lundquist of Seminole High School and Margaret Mahon of Oviedo High School.

Many of the students had their parents on hand as they took turns drawing for a number to determine who would have first choice of the 6 vehicles.

Cash said several officers were observing the drawing and commenting on which car they thought would be selected first. "There was a red Thunderbird that all of us said we would prefer," he said, "but then we thought it was probably only 'man talk', and the girls would probably pick one of the later model cars which would be more practical. "We were wrong," Cash said. "Jennifer Prentice got first choice, and she immediately took the Thunderbird."

to the office of the Supervisor of Elections.

It is the hope and prayer of the Seminole County Citizens for Decency to have the county commissioners ban totally nude dancing by adopting a public-nudity ban that mirrors a St. John's County law. Nelson said Liberty Counsel would defend Seminole's law free of charge.

If the Seminole Commission refused to adopt the public-nudity ban, the issue would be addressed on a November referendum. This is the purpose of the group's petition drive. If 9,400 of these signatures are from registered voters, they will have succeeded.

There is no indication that the 3 commissioners who voted against a total nudity ban have any desire to change their vote. Two said Tuesday that they consider the Citizens For Decency group to be politically motivated. "We have the toughest adult entertainment code in the state," Commission Chairman Randy Morris said.

George, a pastor at Community Methodist in Casselberry, disagrees and considers the door-to-door, church-to-church petition drive proves how many people want more restrictions. "Even Orange County and its disgraceful Orange Blossom Trail at least requires minimal cover-up," George said.

"Let us decide," he said Tuesday. "Let the citizens decide what is best. Let's tell people that this is no longer 'the place to go' for nude dancing. That this isn't the 'place to see it all.'"

Nelson said that Liberty Counsel would "be there 100 percent and no one would have to pay" if the county enacted a public nudity law. As he spoke about how degrading and demeaning it was for women to work at strip clubs, Nelson heard several more "amens."

"We want to take back the community," Maloy said. "My hope is the county commission now will listen. If this is rejected again, only half the battle is over."

Maloy said that he expects the adult entertainment industry will spend "big bucks" to battle the adoption of a public nudity law. They bought ads a year ago in the Orlando Sentinel to warn people they would get arrested in their back yards for wearing a bikini. This is not true. I'm sure they will do all they can to see we don't succeed."

What would happen if the voters ended up deciding on the issue? George said he believes the majority would vote for a public nudity law. Come November he will know for sure.

crowded courthouse dilemma. Buying Sanford City Hall is a strong possibility in at least 2 of the options - one that is short term and another that is long term. This (the immediate City Hall option) gets us in sooner," County Commissioner Win Adams said at a work session on Tuesday. "To wait 5 years would be foolish."

Commission Chairman Randy Morris said buying City Hall and converting it into office space for the Clerk of the Court staff would be a viable plan that Adams also supports and would be supported, too, by Commissioner Daryl McLain who was not at Tuesday's work session. Morris predicted a majority vote next Tuesday. "We've been at this game for the 1990s - it's time to decide," he said.

"We're going to do all we can to help the county," Dale said. "But they have to realize: how valuable this property is. They believe they have a good deal on the SunTrust property at $8.50 a square foot. If we sold for what they appraise our property - waterfront property at that - it will be at $3 a square foot. That is not fair to our constituents. It doesn't make economic sense." The city, of course, would need a new City Hall facility.

Pleasing everyone won't be easy. Everyone in the county's judicial system is pressed for space. The judges are uneasy, the State Attorney's Office is uneasy, the Juvenile Justice officials are uneasy, the Public Defender's Office is uneasy and the Clerk of the Courts is uneasy. "Anything you do will help," Clerk of the Court Maryanne Morse said.

Seminole-Brevard State Attorney Norm Wolfinger, who is in a downtown building, said that he worked in trailers for 8 years in Brevard County. "That was better than what we have now," he said. "There were no rats or mildew."

Chief Judge John Dean Mosley, Jr., said that the judicial branch believes the courthouse not only needed to be adequate and secure but be a building that "yields to civic pride." He said the Courthouse Annex built in 1961 as a jail, is functionally obsolete and should be demolished.

The various options to expand the courthouse will cost from $21 million in the short term to $47 million long term. These costs were estimated by Keith Reeves, president of the Architect Design Group, a Winter Park firm that did a detailed study for the county. While realizing the need for the expanded facilities, the commissioners do not want to raise taxes or fees to get the money.

Deputy Manager Cindy Coto said that there is $10 million available at best. "We've got a huge responsibility here and we have to get something done," Morris said. He strongly believes the most cost efficient and time efficient plan is to buy Sanford City Hall and convert it for county use. Any other plan would take 5 years or more.

Though Soubielle claimed that her husband had been abusive to her and forced her to work as a dancer and a prostitute, prosecutors presented evidence during the trial that contradicted her allegations.

A co-worker of Soubielle's testified that she had kept her dancing a secret from her husband and family. A male friend testified that he was unaware of any abuse and had never seen any marks or other physical evidence even though he had seen her unclothed. The jury did not believe Soubielle's battered spouse defense.

Kuhn, who has worked for more than 20 years as a victim's advocate, found herself in opposition to the Florida Coalition Against Domestic Violence in the Soubielle case. Kuhn has a reputation for being an outspoken supporter of domestic violence victims.

"If there had been evidence of the abuse I'd be screaming from the rooftops," said Kuhn. "For justice to work we have to speak out when it is not justice."

Wolfinger, Plotnick and Kuhn believe the real victim in this case was Pierre Soubielle. They support the jury's findings and are concerned that cases like this could jeopardize legitimate cases of battered spouse syndrome.

Protection (FDEP), a drinking water distribution system permit exemption also from the FDEP, and possibly a traffic engineer study.

Although there is some wetlands at the site, engineers have proposed the possibility of a boardwalk crossing those areas, as well as tree protection barriers and erosion control fencing in the wetland areas.

Discussion of the proposal is the lone item on the agenda for the work session. It had been previously suggested that Sanford Mayor Larry Dale address the commission on the design plans for the Orlando-Sanford Airport, but Dale reportedly has a conflict and will be unable to attend.

The work session will begin at 5:30 p.m. in the commission chambers of Lake Mary City Hall.

At 7 p.m., or as soon as possible following the work session, the commission will meet for the regular city commission meeting. As of earlier this week, the following items are listed on the agenda:

- Opening ceremonies.
- Special presentation (none scheduled)
- Citizen participation
- Report from city manager (see below)

• Reports from mayor, commissioners and city attorney

• Consideration - request for one year extension for conditional use approval for Lake Mary Health Care Center, Parcel 3J, North Point.

• Consideration - request for site plan with variances for the construction of an office building on Lake Mary Boulevard at Crystal Drive.

• Consideration - request for city participation in spraying East Crystal Lake.

• Ordinance 877 - 1st reading - extending TCI's franchise agreement.

As of earlier this week, the following items were listed for consideration in the city manager's report:

Editorial & Opinion

EDITORIAL

Are you being served?

Perhaps you noticed this during last month's shopping for a Mother's Day gift. You may also find it during normal shopping for the upcoming Father's Day. It's often difficult to locate certain items in some large department and discount stores.

One would think with all the clerks in the larger stores that a customer seeking a specific item would be able to find one who could give directions. Yet there are stores, (no need to name them, you know the ones), where a clerk seeing an approaching customer, turns around and heads the other way.

Why can't we have specific clerks walking the aisles with the sole purpose of helping those who may look lost or unsure of where they should go?

Some shoppers who may be browsing or "just looking" may not want a clerk to come up asking, "May I help you?" But many times, if you want help, you often have to wander through the store until someone approaches and asks that question.

Retail stores naturally, are in business to make money. One of the best ways to do this is on repeat customers. Ask practically anyone. People who don't feel they are treated well in a particular store simply won't go back again. Thereby reducing the business to earn less profit.

It is a pleasure to shop in a few stores in the Sanford and Lake Mary area where clerks are cordial and always willing to help. They are so well trained that they can tell you the location of practically anything you may ask for, regardless of the department or floor you may be on. You can identify these stores because they are doing a good business. Their parking lots are full, and shoppers appear pleasant.

But find a relatively empty parking lot, or people exiting from a store with frowns on their faces and empty hands, and you will know what is apparently going on inside.

When a well-known store suddenly goes out of business and people wonder why, this is often one of the reasons. They simply didn't earn an expected profit. They didn't have the customer numbers. They didn't strive to make people feel comfortable while they shopped.

There is a British comedy on public television entitled "Are You Being Served?" If you ever see the program, and notice the way the clerks treat customers, you'll know exactly what we mean. Thank goodness that isn't a store in this area.

Can we expect an improvement? Probably not in the immediate future. But we urge store managers to give this some consideration. People love to shop, but stores must, in return, show they care about the people.

You don't get it, Mr. Mayor

"Much of the confusion and opposition stems from some downright lies," Mayor Larry Dale is quoted as saying in a May 28 Seminole Herald article. Lies indeed. Clearly there have been a number of those during the past 5 months as opposition to commercial development of Fort Mellon Park has grown.

Let's briefly examine one of the biggest. The mayor continues, in forum after forum, asserting that he has taken the proposal "to the people" on numerous occasions and received nearly unanimous support on every occasion. The groups the mayor refers to as "the people" are: the Main Street board of directors, the Waterfront Steering Committee, the Historic Trust, the Community Redevelopment Agency, the Downtown Business Association and the Chamber of Commerce. These boards and committees, since a number of people are members of more than one and some members are not Sanford residents, probably comprise less than 100 citizens of Sanford. Several of these groups also endorsed the concept of a hotel/conference center and not necessarily its location in Fort Mellon Park. At a meeting early in February at the Marina Hotel's Lakeside Room, the mayor heard overwhelming opposition to locating this project in Fort Mellon Park from a like number of citizens who are not on any of these boards and committees. He has since chosen to ignore or downplay this public outcry. He has never asked to meet with The Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park. At a city commission meeting May 11 a number of citizens stepped forward to voice their support of preserving the park. The Sanford Historical Society has not taken an official position supporting that of the Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park. You don't get it, Mr. Mayor.

"We're not selling any of this land—we're leasing it," continues the mayor. Certainly this is not a lie. However, consider the facts. Assume that you own a 20-acre piece of property with a beautiful lakefront location where your family and friends have gathered for over 60 years. Assume further that you lease this land for 51-99 years to a company from out of town which builds large buildings on all but about 6 acres. Since the character of your property has been substantially changed and you really can't do what you want with it for the rest of your lifetime and part or all of your children's lifetimes, would you really consider this property to still be yours?

Guest Column

Doug and Debra Grosselless

"We're not destroying the park—we're enhancing it." You just don't get it, Mr. Mayor. This is simply a matter of opinion. To a developer putting concrete on anything currently without it is "enhancing it." To others, such as The Society, enhancing Fort Mellon Park would be to repair the sadly neglected tennis courts, turn at least one ballfield into the town's showcase little league venue, rebuild the city bandshell and, lushly landscape what could be one of the premier city parks in the nation.

County Commissioner Daryl McLain added to political misconception when he stated, "They're worried about losing a ballfield or a park. The fact is nothing is going to be lost and a whole lot gained" (Seminole Herald, May 24). You don't get it either, Mr. McLain. What may be gained could be gained with the development placed at an alternate site. What will be lost literally is the ability to use this land solely as a park, which it has been for over 60 years. What will really be lost is the spirit or, as Lynda Stefani put it, the "soul" of Sanford. The park itself is already drawing economic progress to Sanford, Fort Mellon Park, and the fact that Sanford is still a small town, have been the critical factors in drawing new residents, including us, who have bought and renovated many of our glorious historic homes while bringing their economic support to downtown businesses.

In short, Mr. Mayor, stop ignoring the fact that your "overwhelming support" comes from a very small number of Sanford residents who happen to be members of the boards and committees you chose to visit. Recognize that there are 35,000 of us who call Sanford home, not 100 or less. Recognize also that The Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park supports the location of a hotel/conference center in Sanford. The continuing rhetoric indicating we are against progress must stop. The only thing about this project we oppose is its location on all or any part of Fort Mellon Park.

Pirates' Babe Ruth reign ends

By Amanda D. Cohe
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

SANFORD - Sweat beaded on the brows of the Moose Lodge-Pirates and the Nobles Construction-White Sox as they met at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium on Tuesday evening in the semifinals of the Sanford Recreation Department Babe Ruth Baseball League City Championship Series.

As the temperature of the approaching evening cooled slightly, the temperature on the field rose, especially on the Pirates, as the White Sox defeated their rivals in five innings, 15-1.

Things then went from bad to worse for the four-time defending City Champions were ousted from the Series, 8-7 in eight-innings, by the Rotary Club-Athletics in the Loser's Bracket finals.

The White Sox and Athletics will now meet in the Best-of-Three City Championship Series Finals starting on Thursday. Games one and two (on Friday) will start at 6 p.m. with Game three, if necessary, being played at 9 a.m. on Saturday.

All games will be played at Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium.

The evening began with a coin toss that gave the White Sox the home-field advantage. The first two Pirates batters were retired on grounders, but they then loaded the bases on an error and two walks before the final out was recorded on a pop up.

The Sox started with a hard shot to the Pirates' pitcher, Nick Erickson, who then threw the batter out at first base. Travis Walker followed with a single and was then brought in by a Nathan Green triple.

The White Sox added another run on a suicide squeeze by Jamar Guy to make the score 2-0 and the third run of the inning came around as Jason Louwama (whose brother Chris has signed with the Florida Marlins) reached on an error and later scored on a single by Jeremy Pearson.

After having batted around in the first inning, the Sox came fresh with their lead-off batter in the second inning. A well-placed fly ball and a hard shot past the Pirates' second baseman went for singles and put the first two batters, Shaun Larson and Walker, on first and second.

Green then sent the ball flying deep off the center field fence, giving him three RBI for the game. By the time the inning ended the White Sox had tacked five more runs onto the lead the score was 10-0.

The Pirates finally got on the board in the top of the third inning. Kris Schneider would get on first by getting hit by a pitch and three batters later scored on an RBI single (the Pirates' only hit of the game) by Frank Nicks.

The game continued in the same manner, with the Sox scoring at every opportunity and eventually ending the game in the fifth inning under the run rule.

Nathan Green, who had three RBI in the game, is confident about his team's chances. "We've got the best team in town. We expect to take [the championship] in two games."

Guy and Walker combined on the one-hitter, striking out five.

Contributing to a 12-hit White Sox offense were Walker (4-for-4, four runs scored, one RBI), Green (3-for-3 with a triple and two doubles, three runs scored, three RBI), Larson (two singles, two runs scored), Jamal Barnes (one double, two RBI), Guy (one single, one run scored, one RBI), Pearson (one single, one RBI), Louwama (two runs scored, one RBI) and David Goff, Justin Frost and Kenne Scott (one run scored each).

The Pirates then had to meet the Athletics, who had won two straight games since dropping their opener 8-7 to the Red Sox, in the Loser's Bracket finals to see who would meet the White Sox in the Series finale.

The Athletics looked like they would cruise to victory, leading 3-0 through the top of the fifth inning and holding the Pirates hitless.

The Pirates were not about to give up their crown without a fight as four Athletics errors and a two-run double by Joe Harris put the champs ahead 4-3 after five innings.

The Athletics answered with four runs of their own in the top of the sixth inning, with an RBI double by Curt Scott being the big blow.

The Pirates tied the game in the bottom of the sixth inning without the benefit of a hit and the ORLANDO - University of Central Florida baseball pitchers Mike Maroth (Orlando/Boone HS), Kevin Gordon (Clearwater/Lakewood HS) and Todd Bellhorn (Oviedo/Oviedo HS) and shortstop Eric Riggs (Brownsburg, Ind./Brownsburg HS) were all selected Tuesday during the opening day of the 1988 Major League Baseball First Year Player Draft.

Maroth was selected in the third round by the Boston Red Sox. The southpaw lefthander posted this past spring, finishing his junior season with a 4.09 ERA and 3-3 mark.

Gordon, a right hander that finished 3-1 with a 2.61 ERA in just his second season of competition at UCF, went in the third round to the Colorado Rockies.

Bellhorn, a left handed pitcher and younger brother of Oakland Athletic infielder Mark, designated hitter and right fielder for the Golden Knights last season, was selected by the New York Mets in the ninth round. He finished his senior season with a team-leading 10 wins and 64 strikeouts. The first team all-Trans America Athletic Conference honoree's 3.09 ERA was tops among the starters. Last season he was a ninth round selection by the San Francisco Giants.

Riggs, a first team all-TAAC selection and former UCF basketball star, was selected in the fourth round by the Los Angeles Dodgers. He led the Golden Knights in batting average (.394), runs scored (64), hits (87), doubles (30), RBI (67) and slugging percentage (.697) while setting new single season school records in doubles and slugging percentage.

Bellhorn named to All-Atlantic Region

ORLANDO - University of Central Florida pitcher Todd Bellhorn (Oviedo/Oviedo HS) was named to the 1988 American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-Atlantic Region second team as released by Georgia Southern coach Jack Stallings.

Bellhorn finished his senior season with a team leading 10-2 record, including wins in his first eight appearances of the season, and 64 strikeouts in 61.2 innings of work. His 3.09 ERA also led the UCF starters as well as the Trans America Athletic Conference. The first team All-TAAC selection hit .390 with 36 RBI and a career and team-high 13 home runs this season.

Bellhorn left his mark in the UCF record books, finishing among UCF's all-time top 10 in starts, strikeouts, games played, at bats, runs, hits, doubles, home runs, RBI, walks and sacrifices.

UCF and former Oviedo star Todd Bellhorn was doubly honored Tuesday, being named to the All-Atlantic Region second team and being taken in the ninth round of the major-league baseball draft by the New York Mets.

Sunniland, Vaughan, Sharks pick up wins in Women's softball

From Staff Reports

SANFORD Sunniland Corporation stretched its winning streak to five games, the Sharks won a battle for second place and Vaughan Incorporated rallied late in a battle for third in Sanford Recreation Department Women's Spring Slow Pitch Softball League action at Pinehurst Park Tuesday night.

W.D. Associates got out of the box fast, scoring three runs in the first inning and five runs in the second inning to take an 8-0 lead.

But that would be the last offensive threat from W.D. Associates as the Vaughan Incorporated defense held W.D. Associates to a single and a double over the final 5-2/3 innings.

Vaughan Incorporated rallied back into the game offensively by scoring four runs in the second inning and three runs in the third inning.

The score remained 8-7 W.D. Associates until Vaughan Incorporated took the lead for good with four runs in the fifth inning and then capped off a 17-8 triumph with six runs in the sixth inning.

The Sharks put on a defensive show in the second game, holding the Eagles to one double and four singles and allowing only one unassisted run on a pair of errors in the fourth inning. The Sharks finally broke a scoreless tie on a two-out, three-run home run by Sheila Sanders in the bottom of the third inning.

The Sharks closed out the 5-1 victory with two runs in the fifth inning on an RBI single by Sanders, following a triple by Tanya Geiger, and an RBI triple by Denise Stallings.

Sunniland Corporation, which has not lost since dropping a 5-4 decision to Curt's Alleycats in the season opener, got a measure of revenge, jumping on the Cats for four runs in the fourth inning and five runs in the second inning.

Sunniland Corporation then built the lead to 10-0 in the top of the fourth inning before Curt's Alleycats hit the league-leaders with an eight spot in the bottom of the fourth frame.

The rally was short-lived, however, as Curt's Alleycats would not score again while Sunniland Corporation plated a single run in the fifth inning and three runs in the seventh inning to close out a 14-8 victory.

Sunniland Corporation is now 5-1 on the season and leads the Sharks (4-2), the Eagles and Vaughan Incorporated both 2-2, W.D. Associates (2-2) and Curt's Alleycats (1-2).

Next Tuesday night at Pinehurst Park, W.D. Associates takes on the Eagles at 6:30 p.m.; Curt's Alleycats challenges the Sharks at 7:30 p.m.; and Vaughan Incorporated battles Sunniland Corporation at 8:30 p.m.

Doing the damage for Vaughan Incorporated were Lori Poe (one home run, one triple, two singles, four runs scored, six RBI), Gina Green (three doubles, one single, three runs scored), Margaret Clevenger (four singles, one RBI) and Paula Songer (one double, one single, two runs scored).

Also contributing were Cathy Lynn (one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Lynn Webb (one single, one run scored, one RBI), Carol Garner and Debbie Berning (one single and one run scored each), Luanna MacLennan (one single), Bonnie Chaplin (three runs scored) and Carol Norman (one RBI).

Facing the W.D. Associates offense were Marie Byrd (one triple, one double, one run scored, two RBI), Colleen DeGue (one double, one single, one run scored, one RBI) and Angela Whitney and Diane Colangelo (two singles, one run scored and one RBI each).

Also, Linda Stafford (one double, one RBI), Debbie Cole (one single, one run scored, one RBI) and Michelle Berning, Lisa Garrett and Lois Krueger (one run scored each).

The Sharks were led by Sheila Sanders (one home run, one single, two runs scored, four RBI), Tanya Geiger (one triple, one single, two runs scored), Denise Stallings (one triple, one single, one RBI), Patty Polly and Lisa Berg (two singles each), Robin Blahop, Gloria Ehrd, Kathy Spellman, Deborah VanDemark and Jenny Blowers (one single each) and Carrie Sutton (one run scored).

Providing the offense for the Eagles were Eleanor McCormick (one double), Dawn Evans (one single, one run scored) and Marie Dye, Teresa Newby-shill and Becky McCarnan (one single each).

Powering Sunniland Corporation were Carol Cranick (one triple, two singles, three runs scored, two RBI), Teresa Finck (two doubles, one single, one run scored, three RBI), Sue Bagley (three singles, one RBI) and Rosa Williams (one home run, one single, two runs scored, two RBI).

Other hitters were Ann Lanza (one double, one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Barb Martin and Dino Wilson (two singles and two runs scored each), Belinda Anderson (one home run, two runs scored, one RBI) and Kim Myers (one double, one RBI).

Doing the hitting for Curt's Alleycats were Kim Curtis (one triple, two singles, one run scored, one RBI), Becky Simpson (three singles, one run scored, two RBI), Leah Sparrow (two singles, one RBI) and Sue Nickell (two singles, one run scored).

game went to extra innings tied at 7-7.

Robert Chambers led off the eighth inning for the Athletics by being hit by a pitch. John Fletcher singled Chambers to second and the runner moved up on a wild pitch ahead of a double by Justin Gorman. Chambers scored on the play but Fletcher was gunned down at the plate.

Gorman then preserved the victory, retiring the Pirates in order, the final two on strike outs, in the bottom of the eighth inning.

Providing the offense for the Athletics were Gorman (one double, one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Fletcher (one double, one single, three runs scored), Scott (one double, one single, one run scored), Dustin Annett (two singles, one run scored, one RBI), David Sanchez (one RBI) and Chambers (one run scored).

The Pirates were led by Harris (one double, one run scored, two RBI), Jon Brooks (one single), Ken Erickson (one run scored, one RBI), Jeremy Heckle (two runs scored) and Nick Erickson, Frank Hicks and Jason Polanski (one run scored each).

The Baltimore Orioles were busy in Seminole County on Tuesday as they selected Seminole High outfielder Tim Raines Jr. (above, 1998 overall) in

year draft and will begin his pro career after returning from a vacation to Barbados.

CS was one of several Seminole County players picked in yesterday's draft.

Felipe Lopez of Lake Howell was the first local player taken, going eighth overall in the first round in the Toronto Blue Jays.

The Baltimore Orioles were the most active in the area tabbing a trio of Seminole Athletic Conference stars, Oviedo pitcher Ben Knapp in the second round, Seminole outfielder Tim Raines Jr. in the sixth round, and Lake Howell pitcher Ryan Smith in the 10th round.

Another player with Seminole County roots, Casey Batters, a former Seminole PONY League star before moving to Atlanta, was taken by the Chicago Cubs with the third pick overall.

The 6-foot-10, 175 pound outfielder graduated from Hardeeville High School in Kenosha, Wis. and hit .300 with 22 home runs, 61 RBI and 36 stolen bases this season.

The draft continues today through Thursday and several other county players are expected to be taken, including Seminole pitcher Lance Odum who was expected to be taken during the first day.

Williams spent a hectic week in preparation for the draft and his father, C.J. Williams, said his son thought he had a shot at the first round after hearing some of the on-line speculation which appeared in magazines and internet sites over the past several months.

Since the end of Seminole's season, Williams has worked out with seven teams of eight that invited him.

During a harrowing final weekend before the draft, Williams tried out with the Expos, the Tampa Bay Devil Rays and the Florida Marlins, who former teammate Chris Loarwana signed with and will report to next week.

Yesterday, after watching the phone for several hours, the call finally came and Williams is prepared to head for Jupiter, Fla., next week for the Expos' rookie camp.

Lopez didn't have to wait as long for the call. Most publications had him listed as a high first-rounder and several publications called him the second best Florida in the draft (behind University of Miami star Pat Burrell who went No. 1 in the Philadelphia Phillies).

He lasted only until Toronto nabbed him with the eighth pick overall.

Lopez (6-foot-1, 170 pounds) brings a bat which garnered a .331 batting average (38-for-73) with seven home runs and 26 RBI for Lake Brantley this season, a cannon for an arm, excellent range, blinding speed (36 stolen bases) and mental strength that came with his overcoming a controversy last season regarding his transfer from Apopka High which put the Patriots 1997 state championship into question.

The University of Miami was high on Lopez, but the shortstop made it clear since the beginning of the season that he intended to play professional ball.

The Orioles took him in the first round for Knapp, Smith and Batters.

Batters is the oldest team in the major leagues and is expected to begin a major housecleaning as they languish near the bottom of the American League. Veterans such as Roberto Alomar and Rafael Palmeiro are on the trading block and the average age of the starting lineup is 33.

Raines, the son of New York Yankees outfielder/Designated hitter Tim Raines Sr., was expected to go as high as the first round, but he waited almost until the end of the first day of the draft.

Little Rick, as he is known, received the news in New York where he was watching his father play the Chicago White Sox at Yankee Stadium.

Knapp, whose father Chris was the seventh player taken in the 1979 draft by the California Angels, was considered a first-rounder at the start of the season and signed with the University of Florida.

Bates' expertise said his stock dropped as he went 4-5 for the year, but also struggled from a lack of run support while dominating opposing batters down the stretch.

But the season could not ignore his 95 mile-per-hour fastball which left him as a strong candidate to go early.

Smith was a star center on the Lake Howell basketball team and was limited during the baseball season by an injury. The 6-foot-8 right hander signed early with the University of Georgia.

Today and tomorrow, several other Seminole County players should be selected, including Odum, Lake Mary's Brian Batters, Lake Howell's Brian Batters, Oviedo's Ryan Smith, and other players from Oviedo, Lake Howell, and Lake Mary.

With the current heat wave that has hit Central Florida, the time has come to turn off the oven. Recently, it has been too hot to stand over a grill and BBQ. When weather like this hits, the only reasonable option for the chef of the house is cold meals.

Produce changes in price on a daily basis, and as a result I am going to dispense with the cost breakdown in this weeks column. The only rule to follow with salads is there are no rules. Any food that you like can be a fabulous salad or cold dish, if you get a little creative. The only rule that I have in my kitchen is not to waste good food. Use your imagination, get creative and have fun, there are no limits.

This weeks "TIP OF THE WEEK" is a safety issue. For that reason, I am including it in the top of this article. Hot weather affects food bacteria levels; and therefore, it requires special handling. Consider your menu carefully and handle your end product with extreme care in order to protect you and your guests.

Many of the most popular salads and summer dishes are mayonnaise based. This is the first step toward food poisoning. Mayonnaise is one of the products in your kitchen that bacteria loves. It is the base ingredient of many of the culture mediums used to grow bacteria in laboratories. Whenever you use mayonnaise, it should only be removed from the refrigerator long enough to get out what you need and put back immediately. Only use a sterile bowl on a flame or boiling water) urned to enter the container. Cross contamination is a very real problem with mayonnaise. The yellow tint that you see on the surface of your mayonnaise is the result of aerobic bacteria, most of which is reasonably harm-

Family photo not stepmom's business

DEAR ABBY: I have read your column about my young, and I know you have addressed this topic before, but I'm hoping you'll go over it again. My husband was married once before. We lived together for a few years and were married a year ago. His 20-year-old son (I'll call him "Sonny") recently bought a new home. In the house Sonny hung a family picture that was taken years ago. It included his mother, father (my husband), his and his sister. When I first saw it, my feelings were very hurt. I told my husband I thought it was inappropriate, since the marriage is history and he is now married to me. I wouldn't have a problem with the picture being kept in a place above — but in the main entrance to Sonny's house? Sonny's mother came into the picture and said she had the picture taken and had it hung in the house. I should refrain from going over to Sonny's house. Abby, please give my husband, his son and me some advice about this. I think it's time for all of us to live in the present. I'd like to see a picture of Sonny and his fiancée hanging on the wall instead. Don't you agree? PUT OUT IN PEDESTALTON, IND.

for that. Besides, the house belongs to Sonny, and what he chooses to hang on the walls is his business, not yours. Now that the family has separated, why not give him a lovely commemorative present — a beautifully framed picture of you and his father to hang on the wall next to the family portrait? And if you feel uncomfortable by gossamer, offer to treat him to a gourmet present of his and his fiancée to hang on the other side to balance the grouping. DEAR ABBY: When you marry, should you address your new letters as "Mrs. and Mr." or "Mr. and Mrs." or by their first names? PUT OUT IN PEDESTALTON, IND.

Caring for needy patients

PETER GOTT, M.D.

If you would like to write to Dr. Gott send your letter to: P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

DEAR DR. GOTT: In many of your columns, you tell patients to see their doctors and undergo testing. But this is a big problem for those of us who are poor and lack health insurance. For example, in my community, doctors won't even see a patient who is uninsured, on welfare or who cannot pay. What's more, even if we are examined, and treatment prescribed, we can't afford the prescriptions. Sure, people need regular exams, blood tests, mammograms, sigmoidoscopy and so forth. But for many of us, this is a hypothetical situation that is not the case in the real world.

she cannot contribute some small amount toward medical care. While no medical system is ever close to being perfect, the poor and needy in our country can often find the help they require. To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Insuring Your Good Health." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR READER: For the past 20 years, I have crusaded against excluding the poor from our medical system. Such an omission goes against the grain (or should) of any doctor who has pledged to take care of sick patients regardless of their ability to pay.

Judging from your letter and many others, this situation has not improved during the time I have ranted and raved. I do not know a single physician who fails to carry out charity work for those patients who cannot pay. Of course, there are limits: No doctor can afford to have a large percentage of his practice made up of nonpaying customers. But all of us should devote some time and skills gratis to those in need. Moreover, in many municipalities, there are free clinics for the poor. All hospitals are committed to performing some free work for sick people. Finally, most pharmaceutical companies have programs to supply free prescription drugs to those individuals who cannot afford treatment.

Naturally, it takes some digging to find such resources.

I believe that you (and others) should check with the social service departments in your communities. Such departments are well aware of the doctors, hospitals and clinics that believe as I do. Although it may seem to be a daunting task, I am confident that with this professional help, you can receive at least the basic medical care that you require. Be "up front" about your financial difficulties. Don't try to beat the system, which is — after all — voluntary. Try to approach the problem in a dignified, calm and adult manner. Nothing puts off doctors more quickly than a demanding, ungrateful person who pretends he or

WIN AT BRIDGE

On the path ever upward

By Phillip Alder

It is no good bidding a beautiful slam if you then misplay it and go down. Not only have you lost a juicy slam bonus, but you have also thrown away a sizable game bonus, which you could have collected if you had been less ambitious in the auction. How would you play in six hearts (or six no-trump) in today's deal? West leads the club jack. Two clubs is strong, artificial and forcing. The two-no-trump response (which shows a balanced eight points or more) is my least favorite because if the contract should be played in no-trump, it is probably better to have the big hand declaring. Also, note that although the opener has all four aces and is interested only in kings, he must start with four no-trump, then continue with five no-trump. (An immediate jump to five no-trump is the infamous Grand Slam Force, asking about trump honors.) With the other suits solid, the only potential problem is in hearts. A careless declarer would play the ace and another, finishing one down here. A more thoughtful player works out how to overcome a 3-0 break. After winning trick one in the dummy, he calls for a low heart, covering the ace and leading back toward dummy's queen. This is better than leading a low heart from hand on the first round because East might have a singleton king, when the recommended line would garner an overtrick. Watch out for the perfect safety play.
