GOSSIP by OUR CORRESPONDENTS THAT MAY OR MAY NOT INTEREST YOU

MOORE'S STATION

We feel favored that Rev. C. H. Summers was here to preach a Thanksgiving sermon. Mrs. Summers and their little sons accompanied him and dined with us.

Mr. Ingram spent a portion of last week at Silver Lake. He has some real estate there.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Hart of St. Augustine are visiting relatives in Geneva and here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Chase and daughter of Pargallfield, Me., will arrive here this week for the winter. They will reside in the Moss house on Railroad street.

Mrs. Lizzie Raulerson of Lake City is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Mitchell.

Mrs. Ella Greenland's mother and sister of Columbus, Ohio, will soon join her here for the winter.

Mr. De Pew of Topeka, Kansas, is preparing to plant a hundred acres of potatoes in this vicinity. He has rented Mr. Harper's Beardall avenue farm and other land about here.

The work on the Geneva ferry road is progressing. The road is being straightened and a good job being done. Folks on this side of the river are much pleased.

Early fliers saw Jack Frost Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

There have been thirteen solid cars of lettuce shipped from Joe Cameron's farms up till Wednesday of this week. More to follow.

We think it splendid the dear old robin red breast is to be protected by law, and think the bob white needs more protection. We know they were shot out of season about here this year.

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

Dr. Mentzer of Rock Springs, Wyo. spent last Thursday in Cameron City. He was here on a business trip and spent some time at Oviedo. He has returned to Wyoming.

Mr. Smith of Marion county was here Tuesday of this week, trying to sell a span of mules. He did not succeed.

A party of people from New York and Philadelphia were looking at our farms and gardens and admiring everything.

Mr. Goodwine, wife and daughter of Wichita, Kansas, have come to Florida to enjoy the winter and made their first call at Minnick Place.

Mr. Brumley of Celery avenue was a caller at the Greer home Sunday.

J. C. Ellsworth, Jr., and wife were visiting at the Minnick's and Marshall's Sunday evening.

Rev. T. B. Lawrence of Rock Springs, Springs, Wyo., has rented five acres of Dr. Minnick's farm and will move his family here in a few weeks. They will live in the house owned by Mr. Marshall on Jessup avenue.

On Tuesday evening the neighbors gathered at Dr. Minnick's and talked over the matter of a Thanksgiving dinner at the church, and after due deliberation decided to have a Christmas dinner instead.

Madison Court House Burns

The Madison county court house was burned early Tuesday morning as the result of a cigar stump being carelessly thrown in a pile of trash during a meeting of citizens last night.

The loss is about $25,000, covered by insurance.

All the county records were saved.

Carnegie Gives Money Away

Andrew Carnegie, in a statement announces that all but $25,000,000 of his fortune, which will be disposed of under his will, will be left to the Carnegie corporation of New York, which has been made his residuary legatee and which will carry on his educational and charitable work.

Mr. Carnegie's statement likewise explains his reasons for planning to pension ex-presidents of the United States as he provided for recently through the Carnegie corporation. In making his announcement, telling how he had gone about putting his "gospel of wealth" into practice, Mr. Carnegie said:

"I resolved to fulfill the requirements of the 'gospel of wealth' by transferring funds and have done so except that I found it desirable to retain for awhile personal distribution of my United States military telegraph corps pensions and Pennsylvania railroad pensions to Pittsburg division men and their widows, because my old boys would dislike the change and so no doubt would others upon my pension list. To meet these payments and others under my will $25,000,000 of bonds upon which the New York state tax has been paid, have been reserved. But the New York corporation has been made my residuary legatee and all surplus left after meeting the provision of my will goes to it.

Honored Mercer Davis

Miss Dorothy Davis entertained the Sanford society buds last night in honor of her brother, Mercer Davis, who is visiting his parents for a few days. Mercer is making his home in Palatka with his grandmother, Mrs. F. D. Ackerman and his many Sanford friends were glad to greet him again under such auspicious circumstances.

About thirty of the young people were present and they made merry until a late hour. The Thanksgiving games were greatly enjoyed and were new and novel. The prizes were most unique. For instance, Adelalde Higgins, voted the prettiest girl present was banded a package carefully and tenderly wrapped and upon opening it a fine large Irish potato rolled out. This seems to have been a put up job on the Irish and savors much of T. K. Bates. It is safe to assert that the boys and girls have never as thoroughly enjoyed a social event as heartily or entered into the games with such zest, and after delicious refreshments had been served the merry crowd departed with a feeling that Miss Dorothy Davis was a most charming little hostess.

Those present were Adelalde Higgins, Muriel Harrold, Douglas Abernathy, Lettie Caldwell, Lillian Herring, Elenor Herring, Helen Hand, Ruth Roberts, Francis Gonzales, Annie Anderson, Fannie Reba Munson, Dorothy Davis, Frank and J. D. Woodruff, Sydney Chase, James Higgins, Reginald Holly, Hume Rumph, Alfred Robson, Billy Holden, Fred Wight, Morris Spencer, Griffin Herring, Walter Rowland, Arthur Dickens, Mercer Davis, Robert Hines.

Gunmen Sentenced

Gyp the Blood, Whitey Lewis, Lefty Louie and Dago Frank, the gunmen convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, were sentenced by Justice Goff today to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing during the week of January 6.

Each of the prisoners was sentenced separately, and in each case Charles G. F. Wahle, their counsel, moved that the verdict be set aside and the judgment be arrested.

Each motion Justice Goff successively denied.

One of the grounds for Mr. Wahle's action was that "the verdict is the result of passion, prejudice and other influences."

None of the condemned men gave any visible sign of his feelings.

Accompanied by Sheriff Harburger and twelve deputies, the four were forced through a big, silent crowd outside of the Criminal Courts building, thrust into the prison van and taken to the Grand Central Station, where they boarded a train for Sing Sing. There with Charles Becker, former lieutenant of police, condemned as the instigator of the Rosenthal murder, they will await execution.

The Event of the Season

The musically inclined and all the people of Sanford who delight in a lecture recital and good music are promised a treat in Edward Baxter Perry, who will appear at the High School Auditorium on January 3rd at 8 o'clock. This fine attraction has been secured at a large figure but it is thought that enough tickets can be sold at fifty cents each to make it a paying venture. Every one is cordially invited to attend the Lecture Recital, one of the best events of the season. The ladies will call upon you and sell the tickets.

Married in Orlando

Mr. Allen Boyd Wallace of Sanford, the bugaboo of Orlando during the baseball nightmare of last summer, was married in Orlando last night to Miss Florence Stringfellow, also of Sanford.

They came down in an auto, and had a blowout on the road, with the result that they did not reach the Presbyterian manse, where the service was performed by Dr. Stagg, until something like eleven o'clock.

The happy couple left the city on the midnight train for a visit to Mr. Wallace's relatives in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.—Reporter-Star.

Rev. D. J. Blocker Will Preach

Rev. D. J. Blocker, of DeLand will conduct services at the Baptist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the evening at 7. All are cordially invited to be present.

SANFORD'S WEATHER STATION

Congressman Clark Writes About the Weather Observatory

Sanford will have something more than a flag staff and the weather reports if Congressman Clark has his way, for he is working on the plan to give this section something more complete than the ordinary weather reports. Being the center of the vegetable growing industry of Florida and surrounded by beautiful orange groves Sanford is recognized as the logical site for a sub station for the information regarding the sudden chill blasts that from time to time nip our tender vegetable and sometimes freeze the orange trees.

Hon. J. N. Whitner has labored long and faithfully upon the establishment here of a complete weather bureau and in this matter has received the assistance of Hon. Frank Clark, who has ever been the friend of the Sanford section and is willing and anxious to aid us in every laudable enterprise, not only because of his friendly feeling, but because he knows our needs better than any of our national public servants.

Congressman Clark wired the information several days ago that Sanford would have such a station established and that a letter would follow. Today he writes the following:

Hon. J. N. Whitner, Sanford, Fla.:

Confirming my telegram to you, from Jacksonville, that the Department has ordered a weather station established at Sanford, I desire to say further that I am informed that it is the purpose of Prof. Moore to make some special investigations at Sanford which will be very valuable to the vegetable growers along the line of frost and frost damage to vegetables.

Please do me the kindness to acquaint the public with these facts.

With kind regards and best wishes, I am

Yours very truly,
FRANK CLARK.

North Florida Oranges

Taylor county has grown a great many oranges this year. Almost every home has a few trees and all are heavily loaded. We cannot begin to estimate the number grown. It reminds us of old times when Taylor grew more oranges than almost any other county. And they are as finely flavored as any to be found in South Florida. Orange growing could be made to pay here almost as well as in other parts of the state.—Perry Banner.

Thimble Party

Mrs. T. A. Newton on Union street has issued invitations to a thimble party Saturday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Hazel Osborne of Rochester, N. Y. who is the guest of Mrs. James Moughton.

Guild Will Meet

The Guild of the Episcopal church will meet on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. T. A. Neal. All members are earnestly urged to be present as business of importance is to be transacted.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it. Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute. But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—if you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

Col. Thrasher Believes Spoils Belong To Victor

WRITE VIEWS FROM DISTANT LAND

Europe Took Great Interest In The Late Presidential Election And Result

The following letter from Col. M. Thrasher was received today: Geneva, Switzerland, November 13, Editor Sanford Herald:

Now that the bitter and shameful contest has been fought out and won by Woodrow Wilson, I venture to say that there are a few things we should remember not to forget, and some suggestions to be made by one who has never asked for an office from his county, state or the Federal government. All Europe has been intensely interested, because of the vituperation, cruel charges and counter charges by Roosevelt and Taft, the one against the other, such as liar, thief, robber and worse, and to such lengths and depths that the educated, cultured and refined stood agast, amazed and astounded, as they read from day to day, such charges and counter charges made by the President and Ex-President of the United States, the one against the other, after five years of the closest and most confidential friendship, and naturally they watched and waited with deep interest as the campaign progressed, and with a still deeper and more profound interest the final result of Nov. the 5th.

And now they ask, "How could this result possibly happen?" How is it that those two men who had assailed each other so unmercifully, with the most cruel epithets, and each backed by the partisan press, have received many millions of votes from their admirers and friends, and yet Dr. Wilson is elected the President of that "boasted land of the free and home of the brave." The result of the voting was known in Paris, London, Berlin, Rome and the other old world capitals almost as soon as in New York, and these people are still thinking, wondering, speechless, and waiting for an explanation. It seems to be the consensus of opinion at home and abroad, that the clean, manly, dignified, sane and gentlemanly campaign of Dr. Wilson, devoid of rancor, abuse, vituperation and slander is the one crowning glory and the one redeeming feature of the Presidential contest, and that the overwhelming and triumphant election of Woodrow Wilson is a most splendid tribute to the high character of that ripe, scholar sane and level headed man, true American gentleman and Democrat. And at the same time shows the wisdom, common sense and sanity of a vast majority of our ninety odd millions of citizens. As between Taft and Roosevelt, they say "There is little choice between rotten apples."

Every one practically thinks Dr. Wilson is the man who is equal to the occasion, and to the emergency of the hour and wish him unmeasured success.

But what will he do? Like Cleveland, he believes down in his great soul in the "divinity of honesty." But like Cleveland, great and splendid man and President that he was, I hope he will not be slow in "turning the rascals out." In this Balkan war to the victors belong the spoils of war. Andrew Jackson Democracy and Democratic religion claim the spoils. If called on for advice I should say, "Dr. Wilson, arise early on March 5th, 1913, and begin before breakfast, and as rapidly as you can sign your name dismiss or remove every prother's son of the office holders who are possibly be turned out."

Be in Florida, and on through all the states. Clean and fumigate the Augean stables" and see that every Federal office is filled by honest, reliable, long suffering and long waiting Democrats." Hear my reasons Listen! In 1860, when Lincoln was elected President, I was too young to vote, and from that day till this glad hour, we have had one Democrat for President! And consequently, with civil service rules and what not, practically every Federal office is now, and has been throughout that long, long period, held by Republicans and scarcely a Democrat has held an office, or participated in the administration of Federal affairs, except to shout and vote every four years, and as in the case of Samuel J. Tilden to be openly defiant, and shamelessly cheated in the count, and actually robbed of a splendid victory. Am I not right? Ask old stagers like Bob Davis, Minor S. Jones, Ben Robinson, Joe Whitner, John Pace, App Rossetter, Frank Foster, M. F. Robinson and others. They know the facts. Every one of them has been voting, shouting, and praying for Democratic victories for— for, well, half a century, and will soon be too old to vote, and before they die I want them to see the Promised Land of real Jeffersonian and Jacksonian Democracy. The wholesale removal will not affect any of the brave battle scarred Grand Army men, for they are all dead or drawing pensions. And if per chance one of them happened to be holding a Federal office, he has held it, doubtless, long enough to have feathered his nest well, and being the same true, brave and courageous man he believes in justice and fair play. Remove him too. But double his pension and he will not kick. Those fellows deserve the care of a grateful country, and those brave fighters whom I met at Manassas, Gettysburg, Seven Pines, Malvern Hill and the Crater at Petersburg, Virginia, whose every hilltop and smiling valley has been ensanguined and made rich with the blood of the slain, are entitled to all the pensions they have or may hereafter receive.

It has been said that the third tiermer is the man of destiny and will be elected in 1916. Many urge that Dr. Wilson is the man of destiny and will surely succeed himself. We shall see.

This is too long a letter already, but at the risk of being tiresome I have written the following soliloquy, and if you see fit, publish it along with, and as a part of this letter:

Oh! Bull Moose that I am. Woe is me. The personification of woe. "As the eagle soaring in his pride of place, I've been by mousing owls, hawked at and killed." Yes, I've been slugged over the ropes, whipped to a frazzle, scourged, skinned, scandalized, abused and and shot." Booker and Dr. Crum, avaunt! You have been my undoing. "Shades of Annina, I hate you." I am and, sore, sour and sick of it all. 1916. Yes. No, no.

And when I think of what I am. And what I used to be. I think I've thrown myself away. Without sufficient cause.

Listen! It is obvious, know, Ding Dong, Ding Dong, Ding Dong. Quoth Nevermore.

There are plenty good waiting Democrats, and if Dr. Wilson will use his pen just right, they and their children's children will bless him, and the gazing world will applaud and approve. The being out in the cold for fifty years has created the necessity, and necessity knows no law. Then to H-o-l-l-i-a-x with civil service, Dr. Wilson

RELIABLE CLOTHING

RELIABILITY is one of the points on which we have a decided opinion. We want you to have the utmost confidence in everything we say in regard to our Clothing. We sell nothing but the best and we know them to be thoroughly reliable. We know that the makers intended to make garments of proven reliability.

If for any reason whatsoever this condition is not thoroughly carried out in the garment we have sold you, we want to be told of it so that we may make it correct for you, thus serving a double purpose---first, giving you the satisfaction which you deserve for the money you have invested and secondly and more important, retaining your good will and having you as a walking advertisement for the goodness of the garments we sell.

Entered as second-class mail matter August 22nd 1908, at the Postoffice at Sanford, Florida, under Act of March 3rd, 1879

Office in Herald Building Telephone No 14b

The editor of the Fort Pierce News is an aspirant for the position of postmaster of his thriving town. There are about 165 editors in Florida, and the editor of the News thinks they "ought to be taken care of" with the first 165 offices given out. Editor Holly of Sanford ought to be given first drawing from the hat holding the 165 fat jobs.—DeLand Record.

The cool weather of the past week will work wonders with the coming lettuce crop, and the stuff that will go to market in the next few weeks will be the finest that has ever left Florida. The quality ought to make the price and if the growers will only demand a fair profit on the stuff and create an f. o. b. market here there will be no question about their making good this season.

Capt. R. H. Marks of this city is a candidate for the position of Register of the U. S. Land office at Gainesville. This one of the juicy plums soon to be plucked by a Democrat and there is not a Democrat in the entire south more worthy of the position than Capt. Marks, a Confederate officer, a staunch Democrat, a southern gentleman and a man beloved and respected by a large circle of friends all over the south.

It is said that seems to be sweeping the north is bringing the tourists to Florida and Sanford is getting a share of them. Next season with our new tourist hotel this city should be made the rendezvous for the tourist and sportsman and there will be no reason in the world to go anywhere else in Florida for the best hunting, fishing, automobiling and every other pleasure that makes Florida the playground for the winter visitors.

The Reporter Star regrets the hasty action of the other day, when an editorial was published favoring county division and attempts to hedge on the proposition by saying that Sanford is trying to take too much territory. No lines have been drawn as yet and if the lines contemplated were made public the boundaries would give the southern half of the county more than two-thirds of the land in the county and give the Sanford side less than one-third. The Reporter-Star will have to find a better excuse for walking backward and we more than half suspect that their hand has been called by the politicians who have threatened to cut off the county pup.

LEGAL PRINTING

"One of the reasons why the Sanford Herald wants a division of the county is on account of the legal printing. It never gets any of it. It is not worth the trouble if you take it at the rates that some of the Orlando papers bid for it. We have been in the business for years and have never taken legal printing for less than statutory rates and we never will. A county paper has hard times at best and the cutting and slashing of rates is unnecessary and foolish. Legal printing is the only cream in the business, and we are going to have the cream or nothing. Skim milk rates don't go here.—Winter Garden Times.

If The Herald ever takes any legal printing it will be at the legal rate and nothing else. As the matter stands now none of the legal printing comes here if the county officials can keep it in Orlando.

JUST ONE MOMENT

As stated before The Herald will not take up any more space in the county division matter. This part of Orange county expects to divide and no human agency will prevent the division. As to whether the county will be large or small is left to the actions of the people of the southern half.

It is said that the citizens of the county can talk about higher taxes in the new county. There will be no higher taxes in the new county. We are separating to reduce taxes and the high taxes in Orange county will be no affair of our end of the county. The expense of a new court house will be nothing, as there are several buildings that can be used for the next ten years here if the new county site is decided by popular vote to be placed in Sanford. The only expenses incidental to the creating of a new county will be the furniture and the records, and the sum for these few items should not be large.

But just remember this! There is already a movement on foot and it has been brought up in open meeting of the board of county commissioners to buy a lot and build an addition to the court house at Orlando because the business of the county has increased to such an extent that the present quarters are inadequate to the present needs of the county.

If the question of county division had never been raised the tax payers would have been confronted with the payment of about $100,000 for additions to the present court house and the people of the north end think that since the business of the county has increased so rapidly primarily from the great increase from this end that the best move under the circumstances would not be the building of an expensive addition to the present court house, but to endeavor to build a court house at this end of the county and keep the business at home.

Think it over! Do you want to spend $100,000 more at Orlando and still be twenty-five miles away and receive none of the benefits of the taxes or would you rather keep the money for the court house and spend it on good roads for the next ten years and after we are rich and prosperous in our small county build a small, new court house?

THE "SHOP EARLY" ADVICE

With supernal courage, paragraphs all over the land have entered upon the annual routine of advice to Christmas shoppers—"visit the shops and see what they have to offer"—"buy early and avoid worry in the last days before Christmas"—"consider the amount of weariness you can save the salespeople, if you do the bulk of your shopping now," etc., ad infinitum.

Knowing paragraphs, you could explain this seeming anxiety in several ways. One is that the early Christmas shopping advice is as much expected as the weather report—and the canny paragrapher would give his audience what it is looking for. Another reason is that advertising patrons of the paper get abundant assistance in this manner and the more a merchant prospers the more he advertises. A third reason is that frequently the paragrapher has dwelt in households where the winding up of preparations for the winding up of the glad Yuletide finds the whole family in a devilish stew, where tears from the women folks and beastly exhibitions of ill temper among the men all react on the hapless youngsters for whom the "merry Christmas" is being made.

But there is no sense in exposing the modus operandi of the paragrapher. His advice to shop early is entirely relevant and might be elaborated into volumes by illustrations taken from real life.

For instance, take the case of the clerks who are to sell you those loving tributes which you will bestow upon relatives and others, you "owe it to" these clerks will be worked to a frazzle by Christmas eve, even if you and your friends are considerate enough to do your buying early, but you can subtract just so much weariness from their spirits and possibly, by keeping your nerves un-rasped, you can be of assistance at the last difficult moments to others who have been unable to complete the awful gift list.

The Christmas present giving custom praised be the enlightenment of the ages—is of course growing unpopular among thoughtful people, who are wondering if it is not time to stress the Christmas spirit idea more, but as long as the great day is observed, it will begin to the children first of all and for them gifts should be provided in all generosity. There is seldom anything of the shoddy wish to "pay back" or "put him under obligations" or to "stand in" in the thought of the Christmas toys for the boys and girls. The paragrapher should make his advice say: "Do your Christmas shopping early, spend your money on the kiddies and let a card or a rose suffice for the grown up friends who have sense enough to understand."—Miami Metropolis.

ORLANDO WAKES UP

Bad roads give rise to good roads talk. Our people have had such a sickening dose of bad roads that even the most unprogressive has at last gotten the idea of good roads to percolate through his cranium.

The lesson has been a rather severe one and the loss has been prodigious, but it is a lesson well learned and now we are all convinced that good roads are vitally essential to our existence as a city and county.

So slow has Orlando been and so slow the county that Sanford, with not over a fourth of our ability went ahead with her brick streets and, becoming disgusted with the prodigality of the rest of the county proceeded to bond her own district for brick roads.

Possibly the only lesson for us in the delay is to profit by Sanford's experience, as well as by any mistakes she may have made.

But we are right up against it. Something must be done. If it is not quickly done we may consider our city and county back numbers. The first to introduce good roads, we have allowed ourselves to lag behind all the towns about us that have profited by our earlier enterprise.

This matter, discussed at some length by the Orlando board of trade at its last meeting, is recognized by the board, by the hundreds of automobile owners, by those who use vehicles of any sort, by our merchants and particularly by the observant and critical new comer, who has cash in his pocket to invest, as the most important matter for instant and serious action.

We have always stood for advancement along the line of good streets and good roads.

We believe that to hang back, clogged with the banacles of a "penny wise and pound foolish" policy when all the world has demonstrated that the only way to secure the benefit of good roads is to bond for them, will become our death knell. We are for the issuing of the bonds permitted us in the city and if there is any doubt about the legality of the matter, to secure the right at the next sitting of the Legislature.

As to the county roads, considering that Sanford district is preparing to pave on its own account and the fact that an effort is being made to divide the county, and the further fact that the proportionate cost would be less, with more to show for it if Orlando district were bonded, rather than the balance of the county, we are inclined to the opinion that the district plan would give the best results, unless the entire county would go into it heartily as a means of preserving the unity and good feeling among our people.

Whatever the plan, we trust that between the city council of Orlando, the board of trade, the county commissioners and the efforts of the citizenship generally we will wake up to this intensely interesting and most important question.—Orlando Citizen.

HIS FIRST PATIENT NOT AN INVALID

Wonderful Revelations of the Stethoscope When Placed Over Girl's Heart.

BY BELLE KANARIS MANIATES.

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

The doctor sat in his office at the sanitarium of the sulphur springs contemplating a telegram in a perplexity which lifted at the entrance of a young man with laughing brown eyes and a complexion of deep sea tan.

"Well, Fred, for once you are on hand when wanted. What brought you here?"

"I was on my way north to spend my fortnight's vacation. Missing connections, I ran up to see you."

"Just in time to make yourself useful. It is imperative that I run down to Brighton for the day. I want you to take my place here."

"Great Scott, Uncle Walter! I haven't practiced for two years—not since I went into the manufacturing business."

"Well, you haven't forgotten how to examine hearts, have you? For the next two hours that is what you must do, and fill out these slips for the attendants. I do not keep the office open in the afternoon; and there are no patients here at present requiring much medical attention. I must leave at once."

He was gone before the young doctor could expostulate further.

His first caller was a young woman whose grace and beauty made him change his attitude of mind toward his uncle.

"I wish to see the doctor," she said.

"I am the doctor," he replied.

"We just arrived," she explained.

"and I came to see about arrangements for the baths."

He took one of the slips from the desk.

"What is your name, please?"

"My name is Ellnor Grayson."

When he had filled out the slip with the exception of temperature for bath,

"I Wish to See the Doctor."

he placed the stethoscope to her heart and began to listen to the fluttering beats of that organ.

"Oh, wait! Stop!" she cried in laughing confusion, as she arose from her chair. "I am not ill—I—"

"But," he expostulated, a puzzled pucker in his brows, "didn't you come to take the baths?"

"No!" she protested. "I came with my aunt, Miss Amantha Webb, who has rheumatism."

His discomfiture was soon relieved by his boyish mirthful laugh which rang out heartily and wholesomely.

"I beg your pardon!" he apologized. "You see I expected no one but invalids, and—well, I am glad that you are not one."

"Your mistake was very natural," she acknowledged.

He was about to explain that he was only a substitute doctor when the door opened and a patient entered. Miss Grayson at once left the office.

"Bring your aunt down at any time this morning," he said, holding the door for her to pass out.

For an hour and a half, he mechanically listened to hearts and filled out slips, while his own heart beat quickly at each opening of the door in expectation of seeing again his first caller.

At 11 o'clock he closed the office and hurried to the grounds, confident that she would be out of doors. He finally found her sitting on the wooden bank of a little brook.

"My aunt is asleep," she said looking up with a charming smile. "She will come in this afternoon."

He seated himself beside her, and from disclosure of her aunt's rheumatic tendencies, they drifted into matters of the day, and presently she discovered with astonishment that it was the luncheon hour.

He walked up to the sanitarium with her and left her at the elevator. Having determined to offer his professional services to his uncle for a fortnight, he did not inform her that he was not the regular physician.

When he went into the dining room, he saw Miss Grayson sitting at one of the tables chatting with a man whose face seemed familiar to him. As he passed, he heard her explaining to her companion that he was the doctor. During the meal his memory succeeded in identifying the man as one with whom he had placed a large order for goods a couple of weeks before.

After dinner, he was unfortunate in not being able to get a glimpse of her, and he returned to the doctor's office from where he was summoned to the bedside of patients who were confined to their rooms with slight ailments. After this he strolled again through the grounds. When near a little vine-clad pergola, he heard her voice. In answer thereto he heard another voice saying: "No, there is only one doctor in the institution, Doctor Morgan, a kindly elderly gentleman with white hair."

Morgan reflected, in consternation, that the girl's companion at breakfast had doubtless informed her that he was manager of an automobile company, and now this person was confirming her suspicions. At this moment a bellboy came to inform him he was wanted to prescribe for a new patient.

By the time he was at liberty it was the dinner hour. When Miss Grayson came into the dining room, she gave him an odd look, and a rather distant bow. Again she finished her meal before he had left the room. As he came out he gladly welcomed his uncle who had returned.

"Well, Fred, how did you make it?"

"Fine! Uncle, don't you want me to remain a couple of weeks and help you out?"

"Indeed I do! I thought your love for the profession would return. But I must go in to dinner."

"Come with me a moment first."

His uncle followed his swiftly striding nephew to the veranda.

"Uncle, do you know that white-haired woman the one next to the beautiful girl?"

"Surely. She has been here all summer."

"Then introduce me to her and explain that you left me in charge today."

Together they approached the two women.

"Mrs. Benson," said the elder physician, "let me present my nephew, Dr. Frederick Morgan. I left him in charge today as I was called out of the city."

She in turn presented Miss Grayson and then announced her intention of dining. She was accompanied by the older doctor, and Morgan slipped into the vacated chair.

"The stethoscope is a wonderful instrument," he said gravely. "In that half moment I listened to your heart I learned that you lumped too readily to conclusions."

"I didn't need a stethoscope," she smiled demurely, "to tell me that you did the same. Think how you mis took me for a patient!"

"We are certainly quits," he laughed. Then as the notes of a waltz floated out from the wide hall, he continued:

"The stethoscope told me something more—that you were fond of dancing. And I am to be here two weeks and help my uncle. Tomorrow, you may bring your aunt to the office. But come! Can you resist that music!"

"Do you think," she asked sweetly, as they went inside, "that tomorrow you will know all of Aunt Amantha's characteristics?"

How Taste is Cultivated.
People who live in climates where malaria abounds, frequently have to take so much quinine that they get to love the taste of it, and to take it daily, even when they do not need it. Just because it tastes good to them. And yet quinine is one of the bitterest of drugs and these same people, did they move away from the malaria district for a few years, would soon get to detest the taste of it.

UNDER OBLIGATION TO NONE

Columbia Has Many Students Who Owe Their Education to Their Own Efforts.

One man in three meets at least a part of his expenses by his own earnings at Columbia. Beside the obvious occupations, like tutoring, stenography, newspaper, library, gymnasium, religious and social work of various kinds, there is a man who makes his living dressing windows, another who practices osteopathy, another man who divides his time between college work and the management of a theatrical star; a teacher in the Ferrer school, a taxidermist, an expert in color photography, a vaudeville performer, a hospital orderly, a Pullman porter, a printer, technical assistants from three of the great city laboratories, a professional baseball player and a tree doctor.

One of the most popular undergraduates started life as a newsboy. Last winter a sophomore of eighteen was tempted away from the college by the offer of a $2,000 position in a publishing house, where he had worked before coming to Columbia. One student spends his summers upon a Central American plantation, another adds not only to his own income but to the reputation of the university by contributions to the most dignified of American reviews.—Columbia Monthly.

The knowledge of courtesy and good manners is a very necessary study. It is like grace and beauty that which begets liking and an inclination to love one another at the first sight and in the very beginning of acquaintance and consequently that which first opens the door and intrmits us to instruct ourselves by the examples of others and to give examples our selves, if we have any worth taking notice of and communicating.—Cervantes of Interview. An unidentified bird had captured the palm in this neighborhood for a unique place in which to build its nest. It has selected a wasps' nest at the eave end of a house in Lovely street and built its nest therein. The nest is made of cotton batting, sticks and straw. The wasps have been at work on the nest for several weeks and what they will have to say when they return and find their house occupied remains to be seen.—Baltimore American.

CATARRH CURED

Drive The Poison Germs Out of Your Blood With Leonard's Blood Elixir and Get Well

No other disease is as common and prevalent as catarrh. The mucous membrane, that is the pink flesh lining the inside of the mouth and respiratory organs discharging an irritating fluid. This condition is called catarrh and is due to poisonous germs in the blood.

No local treatment can cure catarrh. It may give relief for a short time, but catarrh poison is in the blood and the trouble will soon return, even worse than before.

Leonard's Blood Elixir cures catarrh in the right way and in the only way, by purifying the blood and driving out all the poisonous catarrh germs from the system. Do not expect to be cured by any local application. Catarrh is a deep-seated affection that needs the persistent use of a blood purifier like Leonard's Blood Elixir, although the first bottle almost invariably shows a decided benefit. In fact there is nothing that gives as quick relief in catarrh troubles as this remedy.

In all blood diseases such as tumors, ulcers, rheumatism, syphilis, kidney and liver complaints, catarrh, etc., Leonard's Blood Elixir is the best home treatment that can be used; in fact it is better than the medicines used in many hospitals and will give quicker and more permanent results. It has cured thousands of cases of blood poison after they were given up by physicians who said there was no help for the patients.

Leonard's Blood Elixir is a true blood purifier and maker of new, rich, red blood. Careful experiments have shown that it increases the amount of new blood several ounces a day. In this way it gives new life and new vigor to the system and tones up and strengthens the organs by furnishing a supply of clean, pure, rich, health-giving blood. Circulating through the veins of the mucous membrane, this new, rich blood drives out the catarrh germs and puts the whole system into a healthy condition so that the inroads of catarrh can be and are resisted. No sufferer from catarrh should go a day longer without using Leonard's Blood Elixir.

The $1000.00 guarantee given by Mr. Leonard inspires confidence in the use of his blood Elixir. Every dealer is authorized under this $1000.00 guarantee to refund money on first bottle to any purchaser of Leonard's Blood Elixir who is not perfectly satisfied with the results it has given. No other remedy for catarrh or blood poison has ever given a guarantee like this because no other remedy ever equaled Leonard's Blood Elixir in scientific merit and curative powers.

Smooth Young Men Worked People For Big Sum

CAPTURED AT WINTER GARDEN

They Are Said To Have Fleeced Putnam County People Out Of Ten Thousand Dollars

Marshall and Cozart, two apparently high toned, young men, operating a fraudulent bond scheme, were arrested at Winter Garden Monday night by Sheriff Kirkwood and Deputy Benny Lawton, assisted by Sheriff R. L. Kennedy of Putnam county, to whom the prisoners were given to be returned to that county, where the warrant for their arrest was issued.

Sheriff Kennedy arrived in Orlando Monday and placed the warrant in the hands of Sheriff Kirkwood. Information having been received that the young men wanted were in Winter Garden, the party proceeded to that place Monday night, and were passed on the way by the parties wanted, who in company with some young ladies, were returning from the show in Orlando. The young ladies were taken to their homes, and Cozart was arrested in his auto on his way to the hotel, where Marshall was found and placed under arrest.

The warrant charged the young men with operating a fraudulent interest-bearing bond scheme, having defrauded several parties in Putnam county out of large sums.

According to Sheriff Kennedy a few citizens of Crescent City had been relieved of $10,000 in cold cash by these men since some time in October. One man had been a victim to the amount of $4,000, while others invested in smaller sums.

Mrs. Hammond, who resides in the western part of Orange county, was induced to give her check for $3,000 for some of these bonds, on last Saturday, but it was too late for them to get it cashed. Sunday she was telling her friends of her investment, and the matter getting to the ear of the bank cashier, she was advised to stop on payment of the check, which she promptly did and saved her three thousand dollars.

It is not known whether other parties in this county were fleeced or not, and the smooth young men were taken to Palatka Monday night by Sheriff Kennedy.

The Sheriff stated that while the men were operating in Crescent City, they purchased a new Cadillac car, and were living in great style. They gave their check for the car, but it was returned. After the warrant was issued $3,475 of their money was garnished in the Crescent City Bank. They are also wanted in Birmingham on the same charge, but the Putnam county authorities will not give them up till they have been tried here.—Reporter-Star.

To the voters of Sanford, Fla.:
At the solicitation of numerous friends and citizens, I have consented to become a candidate for councilman at the coming election. Have been a citizen of Sanford for over twenty-five years and have always refused office heretofore. If elected will try and do my duty to the whole people, without favor.

C. C. WOODRUFF.

Preparations are being made in Arcadia for the establishment of a canning factory to be located in that town. One of the proprietors of a like establishment that is now in operation at Brooksville has been in Arcadia looking over the ground. He made a proposition to the local business men to organize a stock company, one-half of the stock of which he offered to take himself provided the citizens would take the balance. A committee is now at work getting up subscriptions to the stock, and is meeting with success.

Notice to Telephone Subscribers
On December 1st, 1912, the following rates will take effect, applying to all telephones in the city limits only:
Business private line per month.....$2.50
Residence private line per month..... 2.00
Business party line per month..... 3.50
Residence party line per month..... 1.50

Extension sets wall type 1.00 per month extra.
Extension sets desk type 1.25 per month extra.
Installation charge made on every new phone installed 3.00.
This amount is deducted at the end of the year, provided the phone is not discontinued within that time.

A special rate of four winter service of four months will be made as follows: Business phone, $12.00 in advance; residence phone, $10.00 in advance.

These rates represent an advance over the present ones of only 50 cents per month. This company has been furnishing telephone service at a lower rate than any company in Florida. On account of the necessary heavy expenditures of installing underground cables and making our system metallic this advance is absolutely necessary to meet our operating expenses.

Our subscribers are now receiving the use of nearly 500 phones and the rate charged in other cities of the size of Sanford is usually $4.00 for business and $2.50 for residences.

The new rate still gives a $1.50 respite to those who will use a two party line.

AFTER THE WATERLOO

SIXTY-SECOND IS MEMORIAL

Congress Meets Today For the Short Term Session

Many of the Old Guard Will Bid Farewell to Colleagues and Retire From the Capitol

Washington, Dec. 2.—Congress met promptly at noon with crowded galleries looking down on the animated scenes below. Speaker Clark of the House and Senator Bacon of the Senate, rapped the respective bodies to order.

The Senate adjourned after twenty-two minutes, in memory of Vice President Sherman, and Senators Heyburn and Rayner. The House met for an hour and ten minutes, and also adjourned on account of the death of several members.

While the present session is merely the expiring stage of a Congress soon to go out of existence and to be superseded in political control and policy after Mar. 4, yet today's session in the Senate and House bring together for the first time since the recent overturning those leaders and elements of the various parties who have been most prominent in public affairs. The old faces and figures are again in evidence today, although some of them, like ex-Speaker Cannon, will soon pass off the Congressional stage, while others, like Speaker Clarke and Chairman Underwood have had their tenures renewed and strengthened.

As a whole, however, the dominant note as both branches of Congress assemble is that new conditions, new policies and new men have been ushered in as a result of the recent election and that about the only function of the present short session, lasting until March 4, is to pass annual supply bills and wind up what remains of the old regime.

In the Senate, Vice President Sherman has been removed by death, from the presiding officer's chair, which will be temporarily filled by Senators Bacon of Georgia, and Gallinger of New Hampshire alternating. The Republican control of the Senate with about fifty votes as against the present Democratic strength of about forty-two, will continue until March 4, although this control is conditioned largely by the presence of two elements, regular and progressive, in the Republican total of fifty. Senators Heyburn of Idaho and Rayner of Maryland, have died since the last session closed, but in other respects the personnel continues unchanged since WW personnel continues unchanged until March 4.

In the House Speaker Clark and the various chairmen of the two preceding sessions continue to direct affairs, with a total Democratic vote of 230, giving a Democratic majority of about thirty-three.

The personal aspect was very pronounced as the session began today, the air of Democratic victory pervading the capitol from end to end. Scores of men whose names have been prominently identified with affairs of Congress for many years, and who have shaped politics and legislation, faced their last three months of service as the session opened.

In this notable company were the deans of House and Senate; "Uncle Joe" Cannon, former speaker, and center of many turbulent sessions of the House; and Senator Shelby H. Cullom, for thirty years a Senator from Illinois, a personal friend and contemporary of Lincoln, and who was elected to his first term in the National House of Representatives in 1855.

There's A Difference.

A man will bum around a saloon for five hours and spend $10.75 for booze and cigars and never imagine for a moment that he has a right to manage the place. But he will spend a nickel for a newspaper with the firm belief that the purchase gives him the right to dictate the policy of the sheet.—Gainesville Sun.

Play Postponed

On account of continued illness, Mrs. J. W. Barnes has decided to postpone the play, "The Union Depot for a Day," until after the holidays. Notice will be given when the rehearsals are resumed.

COUNTY DIVISION COMMITTEE

Chairman Forster Makes His Appearances for Firing Line

The question of county division was set several notches ahead when Chairman Frank P. Forster, of the committee of 100, announced his selection of an executive board and sub-committees. Considerable discussion hinged on the selecting of an official statistician, whose function it will be to gather authenticated statistics relating to the material development of the area which will be comprehended in the new county, it finally being the unanimous opinion and decision of the executive board that this most important function should be bestowed upon Mr. H. C. DuBose, a thorough and expert accountant.

The executive board is composed of Hon. D. L. Thrasher, chairman, who is also vice chairman of the committee of 100; L. R. Phillips, S. O. Chase, L. P. McCuller and G. W. Spencer, the latter being the present mayor of the city of Sanford. The personnel of the committee on county lines is Hon. Thomas Emmet Wilson, chairman; M. F. Robinson, E. E. Brady, R. H. Marks and C. R. Walker. The committee on petitions is composed of Henry McLaulin, chairman; C. H. Leffler, Geo. A. DeCottes, D. A. Caldwell and Felix Frank. The committee on finance is composed of A. T. Rossetter, chairman, W. W. Agernathy, N. H. Garner, W. J. Hill and C. H. Dingee. The committee on transportation is composed of H. R. Stevens, chairman; W. J. Thigpen, L. A. Brumley, Julius Takaach, J. R. Holland, John Meisch, J. H. Overman, Roy Symes and R. J. Holly.

Mr. B. P. Whitner was made financial secretary and Thomas K. Bates was made secretary to the committee of one hundred.—Times-Union.

At the Imperial

Mazo & Marion, the act appearing at the Imperial the first half of this week was successful in entertaining a large crowd of people last evening. Prof. Waza does some sleight of hand tricks that are above the average and his comedy is funny in the extreme. He is assisted in presenting a first class act by Miss Marion, who sings several new songs in a pleasing way. The act is different each night.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday a new act will appear at the Imperial. Miss Victoria Powell, the English Comedienne and quick change artist will give the patrons of the house something new in Vaudeville. Her act is said to be a big hit everywhere.

The voting contest goes merrily on and votes are still piling up. Every evening just before 7 o'clock the front of the Imperial has the look of a real voting place and the girls and boys are in position and soliciting votes for their favorites. Next Friday and next Monday all votes will count double. Be sure to get votes on those days as each vote is then worth as much as two on any other day. Girls having credit for 250 or more votes will find their standing by referring to the following list:

Helen Gonzales	512
Helen Peck	483
Margaret Berner	422

Auction Bridge

Mrs. B. W. Herndon was hostess of the Auction Bridge Club Monday afternoon. Two tables of bridge were played. Mrs. O. W. Brady made the highest score, and won the pretty prize, a bronze wall vase. When the games of cards were concluded lobster salad, crackers, cheese balls and coffee were served. Mrs. Herndon's guests were Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. A. P. Conrilly, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Mrs. T. A. Neal, Mrs. Robert Newman.

Gov. Gilchrist has called a special election to be held in Gadsden county on the 31st of December to elect a senator to fill the vacancy made by the death of Hon. James E. Broome.

THE LODGE OF SORROW

Elks Held Annual Memorial Services on Sunday

ABSENT BROTHER IS HONORED

Interesting Program by Sanford Elks Was Greatly Appreciated by Many Visitors

The Elks of Sanford most fittingly observed their Memorial Day of Lodge of Sorrow last Sabbath in the Imperial Theatre, it being the first Sunday in December, a day held sacred by the members of the order in memory of their absent brothers.

The Imperial Theatre had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, a bank of ferns and potted plants flanked the base of the proscenium and the rear of the stage was covered with the club colors, purple and white from the centre of which purple and white streamers radiated to the corners of the stage, the whole effect from the auditorium being most striking and when the lights were off and the star of hope gleamed brightly from the centre of the stage the picture was complete.

Special music had been arranged for the occasion and while the audience assembled Miss Madge Ward softly played a voluntary piano solo. When all had been seated Exalted Ruler, E. E. Rowland arose and in few well chosen words explained the Memorial Day observance and calling the Elks to order executed the ritual work.

The roll call by the secretary, O. L. Taylor, calling for the absent brother, W. D. Holden, was one of the most impressive moments of the occasion and was followed by a beautiful solo, "O, Dry Those Tears," by Miss L. Josephine Dameron, while the lodge remained standing.

Rev. Langley invoked the divine blessing upon the members and their benevolent spirit and fraternity, and most fittingly followed a duet, "Fraternity" by Messrs. Polk and Woodruff.

Thanatopsis was to have been read by Mrs. J. W. Barnes but illness prevented her attendance and after the able rendition of "No Shadows Yonder" by Miss Dameron, Miss Stumon and Messrs. Polk and Murrell, the eulogy was delivered by Hon. Geo. A. DeCottes.

At all times a fluent speaker, Mr. DeCottes was at his best at the memorial exercises and his address was one of the best ever delivered here upon any occasion, and the eulogy on "Our Absent Brother" gave a clear and concise revelation of the sacred memorial of the Elks and their fraternal spirit that is manifested in every corner of the civilized world. Mr. DeCottes also gave a brief sketch of the life and labors of the late W. D. Holden, whose likeness in a life size portrait was displayed at one corner of the stage.

"The faults of our brothers we write upon the sand, Their virtues on the tablets of love and memory."

At the close of the address the entire audience arose and sang, "Blest be the tie that binds."

Hon. Cromwell Gibbons of Jacksonville was to have made an address on "Elkdom," but owing to illness in his family he could not be present and at the last moment Rev. D. J. Blocker of DeLand volunteered to fill out the program. Being called upon and unprepared and not a member of the Elks would have dismayed the majority of men but Rev. Blocker was equal to the occasion and gave an appreciated address on Friendship, Love and Benevolence and outlined his conception of fraternity and the power for good in the mottoes of all orders.

The male quartette, composed of Messrs. Polk, Woodruff, Moore and Murrell followed with the selection, "Where the Sun Will Never Go Down" and their rendition was highly commendable.

The ritual work of the lodge followed and after the song, "Auld Lang Syne" by the audience standing and the benediction by Rev. J. D. Langley the second Memorial Day of Sanford Lodge of Elks passed into history.

Officers of Sanford Lodge No. 1241 B. P. O. E. are as follows: E. E. Rowland, Exalted Ruler; S. Runge, Esteemed Leading Knight.

BALLOONIST DASHED TO DEATH

Ostrich Farm at Jacksonville Scene of Fatal Parachute Jump

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 2.—Richard Frayne, aeronaut, twenty-five years of age, a member of the firm of Frayne & Crosby, Balloon Company of Boston, was dashed to death late Sunday afternoon, in the presence of fully 8,000 persons, who had gathered at the Tri-County Fair, being held at the Ostrich Farm. Frayne and his companion, Jack Crosby, started on their ascension at 4 o'clock this afternoon amid the cheers from thousands of throats.

Crosby says that when about 2,000 feet up and when he was ready to cut loose, he noticed that Frayne did not have his hands through his wristlets and warned him. When Crosby had started on his drop he was surprised to see Frayne's body shoot past him and fall to earth. His parachute opened, but the jerk threw from the ropes. The unfortunate man fell in the main driveway of Evergreen Cemetery, near the Ostrich Farm, every bone in his body being broken.

His home was at Lowell, Mass., and his only living relative is a brother, Charles Frayne, connected with the Whitney stables at Brighton Beach.

Book Lovers Club

Mrs. C. H. Dingee was hostess of the Book Lovers Club Friday afternoon at her charming home on Sanford Heights. The guests were entertained at a very delightful Salmagundi Party. Five progressive tables were played. The first prize, a handsome silver deposit vinegar bottle was won by Mrs. M. E. Symes; Mrs. N. J. Perkins received the booby prize, a game of "Old Maids." After the conclusion of the pleasant games chicken salad, saltines and coffee were served. Mrs. Dingee's guests were Mrs. Henry McLaulin, Mrs. Luke, Mrs. Deane Turner, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, Mrs. N. J. Perkins, Mrs. J. W. Brady, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. C. F. Polk, Mrs. R. H. Marks, Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. E. B. Brown, Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. M. E. Symes, Mrs. J. C. Bennett.

Camping Party

Mrs. W. T. Deane, accompanied by her sons, Tenney and Robert, Misses Alice Caldwell, Alice, Lucy and Annie Whitner, with Ned Chittenden, were a pleasant party who spent Thanksgiving at Lake Jesup, in the enjoyment of camp life for a short while. They returned Friday noon and report a fine time.

Tallahassee is to have another bank. C. F. Mizelle will organize the new institution which will have a capital stock of $50,000.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is American in every principle and practice, and illustrates every great American doctrine. All members are equal within the portals of an Elk Lodge, and there are no ranks and titles, differing only as they may excel each other in doing good in silence and without parade. All Elks are equal, rich and poor, learned and poorly educated, famous or otherwise, alike. One of the grand aims of the order is to teach men how to live, that they may enjoy all the good things of life without abuse, and under proper restraint, curbing excess and selfishness. Manly hearts and honest records are the only requisites for admission to membership. Its ranks are the most widely representative, and the candidates have to meet no test of class, creed or calling. Possessed of those qualities that enable a man to make the world better for his having been in it. All men are welcome as brother Elks, and the nobler side of their nature encouraged, with the high aim, as has been expressed, to make its members better sons, kinder brothers, better husbands, more useful citizens and neighbors.

THE RIVERS AND HARBORS

Appropriations Will Be Passed at This Session

FLORIDA WILL RECEIVE A SHARE

St. Johns River Will Be Remembered to the Beautiful Tune of $761,800.

Estimates aggregating $56,766,992 for improvements to river and harbor works throughout the country during the next fiscal year were submitted to Congress today in the annual report of Gen. William H. Bixby, chief of engineers of the army. The sum is $16,311,373 greater than appropriated for the last fiscal year for the same purpose. Of the total $43,829,010, including $250,000 for examinations, surveys and contingencies of rivers and harbors, for which there may be no special appropriation submitted, is to be provided for in the regular river and harbor appropriation bill at this session of congress. Estimates for improvement include the following for Florida: Miami, $145,000; St. Johns river, $761,800; Hillsborough Bay, $200,000; channel from Apalachicola river to St. Andrews Bay, $130,000.

It is stated that the Chicago Cubs will certainly train somewhere in Florida this spring. The two cities under consideration for this project are Tampa and Jacksonville. Charles W. Murphy, the owner of the Chicago Nationals is going to visit Tampa some time next month and will personally look over what that city has to offer in this line. A good diamond with adjoining club quarters are necessary. If the Cubs do come to Florida they will bring twenty-eight to thirty-five players and four or five newspaper correspondents, as well as several magazine writers. In all the party would include from forty to forty-five.

A big new canning factory is being erected at Gonzalez, almost in the suburbs of Pensacola. The building is more than half completed now and part of the machinery has been installed. The promoters of the canning industry expect to begin operations in about ten days. The cannery will handle principally sweet potatoes the first year, and if this experiment proves successful all kinds of vegetables will be handled later.

The first cucumbers of the season from the Everglades, grown on the Davie farm, reached the city yesterday, shipped from Zona by Mrs. C. L. Steele. As they got in in time for the Thanksgiving market they commanded a fancy price, bringing $1.80 a dozen, or at the rate of $10.40 a hamper. A little over five dozen were realized on the first picking from five hills.—Miami Herald.

In Fort Pierce the people are delighted over the completion of the municipal lighting plant. The News of last Friday said that as soon as proper tests were made the lights could be turned on and business begin with the plant. Within two weeks it was expected that everything would be working smoothly.

A new $10,000 firm is to have headquarters in Jacksonville. The firm will be known as the Security Company and will engage in buying, selling, conveying, leasing, mortgaging and general dealing in property, and will also appraise property and sell and control abstracts of titles.

The Volusia growers will get in the neighborhood of a half million dollars for the present crop of oranges, remarks the DeLand Record. "Three-fourths of the crop will be marketed from the west or St. Johns side of the county."

St. Petersburg is soon to have an electric fire alarm system. The city has an excellent fire department with a fine record and now the efficiency of this service is to be greatly increased by installing a fire alarm system.

"The Marion county fair for this year was a magnificent success," says the Ocala Banner. "Thousands of people have been in attendance and the exhibits were numerous and attractive."
