Don't Give Up, Girls — You Can Lose Weight If Dolly Dimples Did

ORLANDO, Fla. — On U.S. 441 near Lockhart is a sign: Madame Celest—Palmetto.

Inside a small bungalow behind the sign lives a sprightly lady of 53, height 5 feet, weight 125, known to her friends as Mrs. Celestia Geyer.

Mrs. Geyer's measurements are significant. She once made a living as a fat lady in circuses and carnivals around the country.

Dolly Dimples, as she was known in those days, weighed 555, was seven feet around the waist and wore dresses made from five yards of material.

She smiles as she talks of that night in 1926 when she and her husband went to the Happyland carnival on the outskirts of Detroit.

As they walked by a sideshow tent a man motioned them over and introduced himself as manager of the carnival.

"What's the matter?" she asked, anticipating his next words. "Am I fatter than your fat lady?"

The man replied that his fat lady, Jolly Pearl, was twice as fat but he could use her as a bally girl. That's a come-on girl who stands out in front while the hawkker urges the crowd to buy tickets.

For 28 years Dolly Dimples toured the country, first as a bally girl and later as a full-fledged fat lady.

Her fans showered her with cakes, cookies, ice cream and candy. Her weight and her prestige increased until 1950. Just before the season began she weighed over a quarter of a ton and was stricken with a near-fatal heart attack.

Her doctor issued the poetic ultimatum: "Diet or die."

Equipped with a calorie chart, Dolly began mixing up dishes to conform to a daily ration of 800 calories—equivalent to a generous slice of apple pie a la mode.

In a year she lost 410 pounds. She has kept losing on her fare of specially devised concoctions and today weighs a diminutive 125.

As quick to capitalize on her thinness as on her obesity, Dolly has written a book listing her secret diet foods, special hot baths and skin shrinking cream.

THE ONLY UPSET in the 30th running of the Hambletonian event's history, the record being held by his cousin stakes at Good Time Park, Goshen, N. Y., sire, Hot Mon, who won in 1947. In the winner's camp as the winner, Scott Frost, tipped over his circle (L. to R.) are: Joe O'Brien, driver; Sol Camp, gold cup. The heavily-favored bay colt won in two straight heats, turning in the second best time in the event's history.

Tatum Has Winningest Percentage

By BOB HOOBING
The ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Jim Tatum, who transformed Maryland's plodding Terrapins into one of the nation's football powerhouses, has the winningest percentage of all major college coaches who have been at the job 10 years or more.

Tatum's teams, one at North Carolina, one at Oklahoma and eight at Maryland, have won 78 games, lost 19 and tied 4 for a percentage of .782.

These statistics were revealed today in the official Collegiate Football Record Book, put out by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Tatum enjoys his distinction as the winningest of major college coaches only because the gentleman who succeeded him at Oklahoma, Bud Wilkinson, hasn't reached the 10-year mark.

Wilkinson's teams have won 73 contests, tied 3 and lost only 8 in eight years for an amazing 90.1 percentage. He is a cinch to take over the lead in the 10-year group at the end of the 1955 season.

The Sooners haven't suffered a loss in 45 Big Seven Conference contests under Wilkinson. Their record includes a 21-game winning streak dating from a loss to Santa Clara in 1948 to Kentucky's Sugar Bowl upset Jan. 1, 1951. It's the longest in modern football since Notre Dame's 35-game streak and Army's 32 were punctuated by ties. They now have a 20-game unbeaten string going.

Blak's record covers a total of 21 coaching seasons in which his teams won 140 games, lost 40 and tied 12. Dodd, like Tatum a 10-year man, has won 62, lost 26 and tied 2 for .733.

The statistics listed Coach Andy Gustafson, University of Miami, with 11 years as head coach in which his teams have won 65, lost 39 and tied 2 for a .623 percentage.

Pastor Steps Down

The appointment of Dr. James A. Stewart, pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church of Jacksonville, as Dean of the Chapel of Stetson University was announced by President J. Ollie Edmunds.

"No appointment to the University in recent years has given us greater satisfaction than this," said Dr. Edmunds. "As Dean of the Chapel, Dr. Stewart will be at the very center of the community of Christian scholars that comprises this university. He will be responsible for the formal worship services of the university community, will teach in philosophy, and will serve as spiritual advisor to both students and faculty. His duties will commence with the fall semester and he will have charge of the opening chapel services."

Dr. Stewart is a native of Ireland, and as a boy worked in the ship yards of Belfast. He received his education in the universities of Ireland, England, and the United States, and holds the degrees of Master of Religious Education and Doctor of Philosophy. He has served pastorates in Oklahoma, Mississippi and Kentucky, as well as in Jacksonville.

As pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church in Jacksonville for eight years, he has been a popular leader of young people and of professional men and women. He has taught in Cuba and at Jacksonville Junior College. At Stetson he will hold academic rank as Professor of Philosophy. He is married and the father of three daughters.

Fall From Ladder Fatal For Captain

LONDON — A fall from a ladder aboard the tug Turmoil yesterday took the life of Capt. Dan Parker, 63-year-old skipper who tried to save the American freighter Flying Enterprise in 1932.

Parker and the Turmoil battled the stormy Atlantic five days in an effort to tow the Flying Enterprise to port. When the ship finally went down off the coast of Ireland, the Turmoil rescued her captain, Kurt Carlson, who had refused to leave his ship.

Benson Dislikes Controls

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson has stated repeatedly that he dislikes federal crop controls. But circumstances are requiring that he employ them more than any of his predecessors.

He has invoked rigid marketing quotas this year on wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and major types of tobacco.

Before the year is over, he will have to impose them on the same crops for next year.

Although farmers themselves may or may not like the controls, they have been writing a pretty good record of approving them. The Farm Law of 1938, authorizing marketing restrictions, requires that they be approved by at least two-thirds of the farmers voting in a referendum.

Since then, the department has held 68 such referenda. In 49 of them, growers approved quotas while in 18 they disapproved.

The circumstances that require Benson to use quota restrictions are the accumulation of surplus crops and a requirement of farm law that the limitations be invoked — subject to grower approval — when over-supplies develop.

By the time this year's harvest has been completed, upwards of 12 billion dollars worth of farm surpluses are likely to be stored under government farm programs.

Farmers themselves are under great economic pressure to approve quotas. If the quotas are approved, the government will support grower prices of the affected crop at a relatively favorable level. But if they are rejected, the support levels are cut to a very low level.

Inasmuch as market prices follow closely the support level, many farmers hesitate to vote against controls lest prices drop to depression levels.

In most cases where Benson has invoked controls, he has in effect apologized, explaining his dislike of the idea that farmers be controlled from Washington. Yet he has never once suggested that the law be changed to eliminate the controls. He has said that he realizes they are needed until war-expanded farm production has been adjusted to peacetime demands.

In the beginning authority to use quotas was limited to crops described as being "basic" to agriculture. These were cotton, wheat, corn, rice, peanuts and tobacco. None was ever proposed for corn, although there have been times when the supply approached the point where it would have been necessary to invoke quotas.

Last year Congress amended the law to exempt corn from quotas. This action was taken upon the generally accepted contention that it would be impossible to enforce corn quotas because such a large portion of this crop is used as livestock feed on farms where it is grown. The other crops covered by quotas are largely market crops.

Whether the referenda give a true picture of how farmers feel is a matter of conjecture. Often less than half the affected growers go to the trouble to vote.

Members Of Choir Are Dinner Guests

Members of Williams Chapel Choir of Altamonte Springs were recent dinner guests of the Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Williams, 603 Celery Ave.

After the delicious meal the Rev. Williams and choir were in charge of the service at the congress which convened at St. Luke M. B. Church. The Rev. H. L. Bradley, pastor, delivered a sermon taken from the 19th chapter of St. Luke.

Following the address, the Rev. Bradley left for Tallahassee to resume his study at Florida A. & M. University.

Bad News For Baldies

STOKE MANDEVILLE, England, (AP) — Bad news for baldies: The great hair-raising scheme under way at the hospital here appears to be proving a failure.

It's not official yet, but the 80 bald hopefuls experimenting with the drug pyridyl carbimide report sadly they've grown barely a new hair.

"We've just one or two new fuzz patches to show," a hospital spokesman reported. "Otherwise, I'm very much afraid it's been a washout."

The experiment was launched last November after a Glasgow doctor reported two oldsters on his books sprouted a new fuzz after taking the drug for artery trouble.

His findings, reported in the medical press, set off a nationwide rush for the drug, despite official warnings it was unsafe to use without medical supervision.

D. P. D. N. Wilkinson, general medical consultant at the hospital, roped in the 80 local baldies for the pilot experiment. They've been taking four pills daily, and their scalps have been photographed every month.

In a week or so the 80 men will parade before the cameras for the last time and a panel of doctors will study the results.

"It's going to be a big disappointment to thousands," the hospital spokesman said.

"But there we are—it was worth a try."

SMALL GROUP PRESENT

NEW YORK, (AP) — Of 171,500 first and second-grade children eligible for a second antipolio vaccine shot only 865 turned up yesterday at the city's 24 health centers. Inoculations will continue through Friday.

A Health Department spokesman said many parents prefer to wait until fall for the second inoculation and some family doctors have recommended this. The spokesman also noted that many children are out of town on summer vacations.

CALM AND BLISSFUL MAY BE CHANGED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Looks as if Calm Road and Blissful Avenue in residential Henrico County may not be calm or blissful much longer.

A real estate developer, who's building new homes in the area, asked the county supervisors yesterday to change the name of Calm Road to Rivermont Drive, and the name of Blissful Avenue to Academy Road.

Palio Victim Files Suit For Support

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Palio victim Ann V. Adams of Jacksonville, Fla., has filed suit for $70 weekly alimony and custody of her minor child without divorce against Kenneth V. Adams, charging cruelty.

Mrs. Adams, paralyzed from the neck down, charges that when she retired at night to an iron lung Adams "deliberately operated the hoist in such a manner that I was practically thrown into the iron lung."

In her suit filed yesterday, she also charges him with being intoxicated while pointing her into the lung once and that she had submitted a brain operation. She said he took away religious books she was studying and burned them.

Housewives Are Best Engineers

By DOROTHY ROE
 AD Women's Editor
 Today's housewives are the world's best engineers, says Arthur Bregstein, an expert on automation in the kitchen.
 "All the fantastic automatic devices in today's homes have been suggested in the first place by women," says Bregstein, executive vice president of a company which makes roaster broilers, electric skillets and such electrical robots which do everything but set the table.
 "Before we plan a new appliance, we go first to the housewife, find out what they would like to make life simpler, what are their chief gripes about the appliances, what they would like a broiler or a percolator or a skillet to do. Then we get to work and produce it."
 Although today's kitchens seem marvels of automation, those of tomorrow will be even more amazing, Bregstein said.
 "In another decade, the housewife will cook her meals and wash her dishes by remote control. She won't have to go near the kitchen if she doesn't want to."
 Bregstein says next January his company will unveil its newest "secret weapon" against drudgery—a cooking unit that will even think for the housewife.
 "It will make it impossible to get the roast too well done or too rare," says he. "It will take all the guesswork out of cooking."
 Bregstein believes today's American women are tops in the history of the world. Says he:
 "Women can do anything in the business or professional world today—and they are doing it. They are so far ahead of their grandmothers in charm, efficiency and general capability that there's no comparison."
 "I have no nostalgia for the so-called good old days."
 Don't depend on the thumping test when you are buying a watermelon. The truth of the matter is that it is difficult to tell just how ripe the watermelon is until it is sliced in half or a plug is cut into it.

Marilyn Offered Video Drama Role

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Curvaceous Marilyn Monroe has been offered a chance to appear on television in the type of role she says she wants.
 Albert McClery, producer of a projected series of dramas to begin on NBC-TV, said yesterday he has asked Miss Monroe to star in a "The Brothers Karamazov."
 Said McClery: "Naturally, it would be impossible to pay Miss Monroe the level of Hollywood salary to which she is accustomed and which she deserves."
 There was no immediate reply from Miss Monroe or her studio.

 Those present to enjoy the evening with the honoree were Mrs. M. L. Raborn Jr., Miss Joann Moore, Miss Margaret Morrison, Miss Gail Bittling, Miss Joan Wright, Miss Patty Raligan, Miss Rosa Cole Boyle, Miss Judy Irvin, Miss Betty Ann Carter, Mrs. Robert Graham and the hostess.
LOOK, NO DIRT
 A new soil retardant is available commercially for treatment of rugs, carpets, and upholstery material, according to manufacturers. It is said to be colorless, odorless, non-flammable and safe for home use. It is made from sodium silicate, derived from sand. It is sprayed or brushed on everything from painted walls to lamp shades. As the liquid carrier evaporates, particles fill crevices and leave a smooth surface which dirt has no place to lodge.

Bride Loves Hubby; Will Have No Part Of Annulment Suit

WINNETKA, Ill., (AP)—A 16-year-old bride says she loves her Army corporal, whose letters from overseas won her heart, and she will have no part of her mother's suit to annul their marriage.
 Mrs. Louise Sterling, widow of a sporting goods company vice president, filed a complaint charging Cpl. Stephen Doerner Jr., 21, with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. She acted after Doerner and her daughter Barbara Jean eloped last Wednesday and were married at Shawneetown, in southern Illinois.
 Barbara Jean allegedly falsified her age.
 Doerner was released on $1,000 bond yesterday, and A. Lee Adams, Winnetka justice of the peace, continued the charge.
 The corporal gave himself up at Ft. Sheridan, near this fashionable Chicago suburb, after learning of the complaint. His return to duty in France, originally scheduled tomorrow, was postponed until the case is settled.
 He began corresponding with Barbara Jean after his father, a television repairman, saw the girl's picture while making a call at the Sterling home. He asked if his son could correspond with Barbara Jean and Mrs. Sterling agreed.
 Thirty letters later, on July 5, Doerner came home on furlough and began to date Barbara Jean regularly. Then they eloped.
 Barbara Jean is now at a boarding school with her parents. She says she wants to accompany him back to France.

Martin, Lewis Due To Stay Together

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Martin and Lewis say they're going to keep on being Martin and Lewis.
 After weeks of feuding, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis met yesterday in the office of Paramount boss Y. Frank Freeman. Afterward the studio said that the pair "agreed to continue on as America's highest paid comedy team."
 There had been talk of a splitup. Some said the two hadn't spoken to one another recently. Yesterday they did. But Martin said later "Not too much was said. We both agreed to fulfill the contracts, go back to work, and try and make the best of everything."
 Lewis wasn't available for comment. It had been reported that one cause of the friction was that Martin thought he was becoming merely a foil for his partner's humor.

Romantic Naples Left With Only 3 Organ Grinders

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—There are only three organ grinders left here, and one of them is sad about it.
 "Think of it!" says Pasquallino Magliano. "Only three organ grinders in Naples. Doesn't seem possible, does it?"
 Even at that, Pasquallino's hand-cranked mechanical piano doesn't turn out the old songs like "Funicoli, Funicola." His collection leans strongly to American folk music and cowboy laments.
 "Once in a while, just for old time's sake," he says, "I put in the wire for one of the old songs, maybe 'O Sole Mio.' Mostly the people in the sidewalk cafes and on the balconies seem to like to hear these new tunes."
 "Can you still make a living out of it?" he was asked.
 Pasquallino made the sign of the cross, joined his expressive hands in a symbol of prayer.
 "Just barely! Yes, just barely enough for daily bread. Of course in summer, with the tourists here, it's a little better."
 Pasquallino was surprised to learn that Americans associate a monkey on a chain with the organ grinder.
 "That is an old Sicilian trick," he snorted. "We never used them here. Who'd trust a monkey?"

Off-Street Parking Much Talked About, Now Let's Do Something

Off-street parking has been a subject talked about, pushed around, put off and misunderstood.

There comes a time when automobiles nearly outnumber shoppers that are seen walking around through stores and offices. Try to find a place to park for a moment when you're asked to pick up a package to take home. Try to slip into a parking place to get a package of cigarettes.

Day by day, from one corner to the next, parking is at a premium. And, as parking spaces become less frequent, traffic courtesy becomes a thing of the past.

Packing out of a parking place, anywhere downtown, motorists keep you hemmed in, sometimes for as long as 15 minutes. Motorists will not stop, unless they are anxious to drive into your parking place, and then traffic is held up for another minute, backed

TODAY'S BIRLIE VERSE

Take heed and hearken, O Israel; this day thou art become the people of the Lord thy God.—Deut. 27:9.—We used to hear about certain ones certain nations being chosen, the elect. So they are, but we are told that he that cometh unto me will I in no wise cast out. All candidates are elected.

Ike May Have To Move From Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa., (AP)—If part-time farmer Dwight D. Eisenhower holds onto that city job in Washington for another five years or so, he may have to move out of his farmhouse.

The way people keep giving him things for the 150-acre farm, the time could come when there wouldn't be enough room left for the President, his wife and his golf clubs.

Cows, farm equipment, furniture—almost everywhere the President goes somebody gives him something. And the Eisenhower goes a lot of places.

Nobody has troubled to keep books but it's known that he has received at least eight head of livestock, mostly Black Angus, since word got around he was interested in building a herd.

This is in addition to, among other things: Two pigs, one of them named Pansy.

A flock of chickens. A chain saw. A spice box for Mrs. Eisenhower.

An antique sofa and an equally antique fireplace mantel, both presented by the White House staff.

A 20-foot flagpole and a hand-carved Maine pine American eagle.

A silver Paul Revere bowl. And, most recently, from the American Legion Boys Nation, a 24-horsepower cultivator.

Probably the most elaborate gift has been a complete flower garden, set up at a Washington flower show last year and later moved to the Eisenhower farm on the edge of Gettysburg battlefield. Right pretty one, too. Serpentine brick wall and everything.

All sorts of people bestow gifts on the President—livestock breeders, Republicans, Democrats. The latest Black Angus heifer, Blue Bonnet, was presented at a Women's National Farm Club affair by Democratic congressional leaders Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Usually the people who make these gifts have nothing to gain from the White House—except, sometimes, a little incidental publicity. The makers of one piece of farm equipment, for instance, were overjoyed that their trade name showed up in news photographs.

Giving things to presidents is an old American custom—and one up behind the person's car stopped in the line of traffic.

What a blessing to the shopper, knowing that off-street parking is provided with no limit to the amount of time that one can park. With this feature provided the motorist-shopper, parallel parking will in turn provide a wide street for traffic with less hazards for both the motorist and pedestrian.

Let's get the motorists off the streets, safely parked, and into Sanford's stores. Money is spent IN the stores not in the parking spaces.

Taxpayer Finds Friend

A demanding public, and sometimes a very selfish public, keeps the cost of government mounting daily.

Whatever a neighbor earns by frugal evaluation of available resources, is so often admired with covetousness.

There's a bit of back-patting to be done, however: here in our own county where the tax millage for 1955 has been reduced by 2 mills.

Neighbors around us are increasing their millage. One is leaving millage as it was last year. All over the country we hear of higher taxes, mounting costs, frills and bangles that add dollars to the taxpayers bills but no comfort to his existence.

We have a grand new million dollar hospital for which we are assessed a mere three mills. Our general government operation will cost the citizen only seven mills. The fine and forfeiture fund will remain at its same level of 1 1/2 mills.

But, in the road and bridge fund, where the millage assessed in previous years has been 4 mills, this year the taxpayer will be billed at the rate of 2 mills. An important fund with its source of revenue cut exactly in half. Yet our county leaders say we will get even more of the good things for our county from that fund. Big machinery for road improvement, $25,000 worth, will be bought, more roads planned, improvements on the drawing board.

The taxpayer has finally found a friend.

WASHINGTON — Get Business Men Out of Government! That's Objective of New-Fair Dealers—Why? Two Reasons:

First—They corrupt semi-socialistic thinking of New-Fair Deal trained bureaucrats. . . . show that free enterprise can't function according to theory. To New-Fair Dealers that's bad. Must stop.

Second—New-Fair Dealers are desperate to curb Eisenhower popularity. This group knows direct attack on President would be a disaster with an annihilating bang. Attacks on Eisenhower's business man administration have failed. So—next best move—keep business men out of government positions.

New Creations of Abuse—Closing doors of Congress have been marked by a new crescendo of . . . unsupported . . . abuse of business men serving government as temporary employes without compensation. WDC's as they are called in the capital city.

Legal Restrictions of Business Men—This is what New-Fair Dealers are seeking. Amendment to so restrict business men is pending in Defense Production Act. Will report on outcome in next issue.

Conflict of Interest—New-Fair Deal argument against business men is that they are bound to have a conflict-of-interest between their relationship with their company and their relationship with government.

Bullied down . . . this means the New-Fair Dealers hold that business men will use their government position to favor their own companies.

Patriots in war—Crooks in Peace—That's how the New-Fair Dealers put it. In wartime business will be prompted by patriotism to serve the government loyally and honestly and will not favor their respective companies. But the New-Fair Dealers seem to think a business man acts differently in peacetime.

JOHN STRACHEY, tells of a veteran cattleman from the J. Southwest who was taken to his first bullfight in Mexico City, and was fascinated from its start. Finally the star matador strode into the arena. A savage bull made straight for him, but the bespangled hero, armed only with a gorgeous cape, twirled it about in the air, avoiding the brute's lunges by the fraction of an inch.

The crowd roared its approval, but the old cattleman did not join in. Obviously disgusted, he snarled, "Mister, if you don't hold that neck still, how in heck do you expect the critic to run into it?"

Red China Said Ghost With Shadow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States treats Red China as a ghost that casts a shadow. It does not concede Communist China legally exists. But it deals with the Red China. This country refuses to recognize the Communists as the lawful rulers of mainland China although they have governed its almost 600 million people ever since running Chiang Kai-shek off the mainland to Formosa more than five years ago.

But an American ambassador and a Red Chinese ambassador are discussing in Geneva now the release of their nationals from each other's country. They may discuss more than that.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dulles, who says the Geneva meeting doesn't imply recognition of the Red regime, is having an intercontinental debate with Chou En-lai, Red Chinese premier and foreign minister.

Each is talking directly to the other but not officially so—each is making public statements intended for the other's ears—to find out what the other is willing or likely to yield.

The end Dulles and Chou may meet too. Since both insist that peace in Asia, each would have to convince the other by concessions. One thing the Red Chinese want is a seat in the United Nations. The United States has blocked that, with help from other countries.

The United States might no longer want to block it if Chou gave sufficient peaceful guarantees. Including an agreement not to attack America's ally on Formosa, China, who claims to be the lawful ruler of mainland China. Once Red China was in the U.N., the United States could hardly continue to withhold recognition. Yet, if it recognized Red China, it would be recognizing two Chinas: one on the mainland, one on Formosa.

That would in effect mean condemning Chiang to die of old age on his island. It would be American agreement that Chiang no longer had any legal claim to the mainland. Therefore, he could not expect American support for an invasion.

An invasion by Chiang, which couldn't be done without full American support, is academic anyway. The Eisenhower administration, which once talked of unleashing him, long ago changed its mind and has him solidly bottled up on Formosa.

But recognition and a U.N. seat for Red China won't come overnight. Last week President Eisenhower said this country's position on Red China—nonrecognition and opposition to U.N. membership—hasn't changed.

The United States has forces in South Korea, and as long as American troops are in the South, Red China is pretty sure to keep troops in the North.

Over the weekend a story came out of the State Department to this effect: that top U.S. policy makers are considering withdrawing American forces from South Korea in Japan. Perhaps this was a hint to the Red Chinese to do the same and thereby prove their peaceful intentions and get rid of the U.N. tag of aggressor.

Murder In Egypt Is Rarely Seen On Front Pages

CAIRO (AP)—Murder in Egypt rarely hits the front pages. Life seems cheap in this country where tempers match the heat of the sun and Arabian Nights traditions flourish a step outside cosmopolitan Cairo.

A classic story is the stabbing of a waiter by a customer because there was a fly in his dish of black beans. One headline read, "Man killed, 10 injured in Cafe Clash over Pasteur (3 cents)."

This kind of unpremeditated mayhem is usually the result of bazaar arguments with the mercury hovering around 100.

Next come the "honor" crimes, an old custom. In pre-Islamic times some desert Arabs buried the baby daughters alive lest they grow up and bring shame and dishonor to the household. Islam prohibited this practice but today in some Egyptian villages it takes very little to slit the throat of a girl. Sometimes a mere whiff of scandal leads to a killing.

Another big source of crime is vendettas which flourish in upper Egypt. Some vendettas date back a hundred years. Often the original reason for them is forgotten.

Skin Rash May Result After Dip In The Lake

By MERRILL H. BURBANK, M.D.

SWIMMER'S Itch is a summer hazard found in many small, sheltered lakes, especially the lakes found in the Midwest.

It's caused by the microscopic larvae of the schistosome worm, a colorless, swimming organism which is a little less than a millimeter in length.

These parasites penetrate your skin while you are swimming or wading in contaminated stagnant lake water. You'll seldom find them on wave-swept beaches.

After burrowing into your skin, the parasites die. They cannot enter your blood stream, but they can give you a rather trying time.

Within a few minutes after leaving the water, you'll feel a prickling sensation. A rash will develop on your skin and it will begin to itch.

In an hour or so, both the rash and itching will disappear. They'll return in about 10 or 12 hours, however, and this time they'll stick with you for about a week.

The disease is not communicable and eventually it will cure itself.

Simple Preventions: A couple of simple precautions, however, can save you from a week of scratching and itching.

As soon as you leave the water wash thoroughly and dry yourself with a towel. Be sure to rub briskly in most cases, this is enough to prevent swimmer's Itch. But rubbing your body with alcohol is an additional precaution, and might be advisable if you have reason to suspect the water is infected.

Soothing Lotion: Once the Itch starts there's not much you can do but apply a soothing lotion. There is no other treatment.

The worm which causes swimmer's Itch in the United States is a parasite of snails, waterfowl, and possibly muskrats, but it is not a parasite of man.

You can eliminate these parasites from small ponds by treating the water with copper sulfate or copper carbonate to destroy the infected snails.

QUESTION AND ANSWER: W. C. K.: Are myocardial infarction and coronary thrombosis similar ailments?

ANSWER: Myocardial infarction means death of some of the heart muscle tissue. This occurs frequently in cases of coronary thrombosis in which the blood supply to the coronary arteries is cut off. Thus, a coronary thrombosis often produces a myocardial infarction.

'The St. Johns' Popular Steamer During Civil War

WINTER PARK, — The most famous blockade steamer which engaged in coastwise traffic out of Florida during the Civil War was "The St. Johns". She made 666 successful runs out of Palatka and Fernandina, according to entries recently made in the Union Catalog of Florida of the Rollins College Library. This information and other facts about blockade runners out of Georgia and East Florida were drawn from an article by Marcus W. Price in the quarterly journal of maritime history, "The American Neptune".

Another source of blockade information is from "Florida's Golden Sands", by Alfred J. and Kathryn Abbey Hanne who gathered much of their material in Nassau, center of blockade running, which reported in the South in 1864 goods valued at more than $30 million.

The Hannas discovered that cargoes landed from Nassau along the Indian River were hauled overland to the St. Johns river and there loaded on small steamers for delivery to the interior. One of these, the "Hattie Brock" was captured by the Federal in Lake Harney. On board were 100 bales of cotton and a quantity of turpentine and rosin bound for the Bahamas.

Oil Boom Did Much For Senator

ATLANTA, Ga. — Had it not been for the oil boom in the West, Sen. Walter Franklin George might not now be, at 77 years of age, adding daily to an already venerable stature and rendering more service to the nation. Had it not been for the oil boom of 1901 he might have been merely a successful lawyer.

He had his degree from Mercer University in 1901. His law degree was obtained the next year. About two weeks before graduation a young struggling lawyer in Vienna, Ga., offered to sell his practice and a half dozen small cases he had on his books. He was excited at the prospect of discontinuing his law practice. Young George borrowed the necessary $200 and on graduation, went right into his own office.

Here we have an illustration and, perhaps, the key to the man. The young graduate gave to those cases that night and day preparation. He figured the established lawyers on the other side would not do much to prepare their cases since they would be up against a "babe" and a beginner who would try to compromise.

Somewhat to their dismay, when the court session opened George reported "ready."

He was ready too. His case was a case he had that made an impression on the judge. The case was one which filled the courtroom. Those were the days when "court work" was meaningful. Lawyers rode the circuits and crowds came to listen. The word got around that this young fellow George was a winner. He tried more cases that year than any other lawyer and, while few were important he won them.

There is an apocryphal story that by 1906 the young lawyer had so great a share of the local practice that other lawyers all had taken up insurance as a solution to make up their deficit in law.

Sen. Walter George is not a genius. He has no unusual gifts. He is the living illustration of the fact that genius is 98 per cent sweat and work. He had to study hard and work hard to be ready for a lawsuit. But when it came, he was ready.

That has been his history in the Senate. When Walter George speaks the galleries fill up. His fellow senators remain to hear him. They know he will not be speaking but to get something into the record, or for political effect. He never speaks until he is "ready." His preparation is thorough and to the point. He does not embellish. It says that his voice has one of those organ-like tones. He is content to let the facts speak for him and to present them in an orderly array.

The key to the man's position is that he works at a constant until he is prepared—ready to present it.

He has had serious opposition only once since he won an overwhelming victory in 1922 to fill the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Tom Watson. This opposition was in 1934 and is a part of the George legend. That

48 Games Left For St. Louis To Look Better

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, staggering along with an undependable bullpen and little hitting punch, have just 48 games left to prevent what could be the club's worst National League finish since 1910.

Branch Rickey, as field manager that year, brought his club in seventh. Four Cardinal clubs have finished sixth since the World War I days, including Eddie Stanky's 1934 model, but none has hit the No. 7 spot.

The Cardinals and Harry (The Hit) Walker now stand with a 46-60 mark, 26 games off the pace and 3 1/2 games behind sixth-place Cincinnati. And they've lost 10 of the last 13 games.

St. Louis, since including the 1910 finish, has been in the league's second division only nine times against 27 first-division berths.

Walker, who took over from the ailing Stanky during the current season, said today:

"Relief pitching has been the big problem. And it doesn't make any difference who's in there."

The Hal, after throwing seven pitchers into a losing cause against Philadelphia Sunday, held his hurling staff after school for 90 minutes with a closed-door conference.

After the meeting, which he described as "one of the best we ever had," he said the trouble appeared to be an attempt to pitch "too fine." He was hopeful the meeting "may have related them. It might have helped a bit."

With the pitching collapse has come a slump at the plate. Bill Virdon, rookie outfielder, has been the only consistent clutch hitter. He's batted in 9 of the 19 runs scored over the past five games.

Stan Musial, the club's No. 1 slugger, in the last 10 games has brought home only six runs.

At this stage of the game, the whole St. Pete team was in very loose condition, mentally, and the relief pitcher Bob Kuykendall walked a couple of more runs in. Then to really add insult to injury, the Card pitcher Shirley got up and poled a long 'un to clean the bases.

The next Sanford hitter was so tired from running around the bases that he relented and popped out to left field, the side, in this little gem of an inning Sanford amassed a total of 11 runs.

In the ninth the Saints first sacker rapped a nice homer but it was a little late for that.

The winning pitcher was Jim Shirley and the Saints pitchers were Hexter and Kuykendall. The final score was, Sanford 11 and St. Pete 4. Both clubs got seven hits.

Don't forget the game tonight when the Cards again face the St. Petersburg Saints. Game time is at 7:30.

Little League Play Set This Afternoon

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A Negro boys baseball team from Pensacola is scheduled to make its debut in the Florida Little League tournament late this afternoon and the three white teams apparently are ready to play against it.

The city stepped aside and left the decision to Little League officials.

Orlando boys voted to go ahead with the game although one of the Orlando managers resigned.

Miami, which meets St. Petersburg in the other semifinal today, is ready to play the Negro team if they meet in the final game tomorrow, Co-manager Joe Clemente said.

St. Petersburg Manager Harry Repaid told a newsmen his team would refuse to take the field but he later denied he said it and the team sponsors at St. Petersburg said, "The team will take on any future opponent, whether it be Negro or white."

The city of Orlando stepped out of the controversy after Asst. City Atty. Donald P. Bentersitt said there was no state law nor city ordinance against a Negro team meeting a white team.

Indians Moving Forward

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cocoa Indians, who gave Orlando close pursuit in the first half of the Florida State League race, are moving toward the front in the second half.

Booming a dozen hits while Jim Wheeler checked Gainesville with six, Cocoa beat the G-Men 11-3 last night and wrested third place from them. Orlando stayed 7 1/2 games in the lead on a 1-0 victory over West Palm Beach while Sanford clung to second place. Daytona Beach lunged a sixth straight defeat on tailed Lakeland 9-3.

Alex Gorday pitched his 21st victory for the Orlando Flyers. West Palm Beach got only two hits off him. Orlando scored the lone run in the third on a double steal, spoiling Dave Hogan's four hit pitching for the Braves.

Cocoa's batting punch against Gainesville was touched off by Doug Williams' two run homer in the first.

Daytona Beach also packed plenty of wallop in its victory over Lakeland. Jack Slade led the 10-hit islander attack with two doubles and two singles. Orlando Pena pitched his 17th victory, spreading out eight hits to the Pilots.

Top attendance for the night was 1,100 at Sanford. At Daytona Beach 489 turned out; Orlando 673 and Cocoa 455.

Torrid Bostonians Storm To New York For Crucial Games

NEW YORK (AP)—Breathing fire and oozing confidence, the torrid Boston Red Sox storm into the Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener of a three-game series with the reeling New York Yankees.

In the past two months, the Sox have won 43 of their last 56 games for a fantastic .769 mark and have fought their way to within a game and a half of first place in the American League.

The Yanks, on the other hand, have won just 12 of their last 34 games for .353 mark.

"Right now our chances are as good as anyone's," chirped Jackie Manager Pinky Higgins. "What we do will depend a great deal on our 13 remaining games with the Yanks. But the games mean a lot to the Yanks too."

Higgins indicated he would start Willard Nixon against Whitey Ford in the first game. Nixon is a natural, having beaten the Yanks in three of four tries.

Yanks Manager Casey Stengel will pitch Don Larsen tomorrow and Bob Turley Thursday. Higgins has not decided who will oppose them.

Stengel has nothing but worries. He's concerned over the club offense and went so far as to admit that this is the poorest club, so far as consistent hitting is concerned, that he's had since he took over in 1949.

"Ever since they beat us in that July 4 double-header, those Red Sox have been hot," observed Stengel gloomily. "They're getting pitching, hitting and fielding. Well, maybe we can cool them off in the same place."

College All-Stars Prepare For Friday

CHICAGO (AP)—The College All-Stars, fit and ready, were to begin tapering off drills today for their Friday night football game with the Cleveland Browns.

Trainer Carl Erickson reported that all 49 members of the squad are in tip-top shape and Coach Curly Lambeau said there will be no more contact to avoid possible injuries.

Barring injuries this week, it'll be the first time in five years that an All-Star team will enter the game without a casualty.

That was in 1950 when the All-Stars defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-7. Since then, the Stars have lost four straight.

Odds favoring the Browns by 14 points, dropped to 12 points over the weekend.

The largest opening day crowd in major league history was the 13,100 at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium in 1948. The Indians played the Browns.

Series Could Mean Beginning Of End

By ED WILKS

Call 'em critical, crucial or just plain crazy, man, but a pair of three-game series that open to night could be the beginning of the end for New York, Boston, Cleveland or Detroit in the frenzied American League pennant race.

While first-place Chicago tries to get the suddenly not-so-litless Kansas City Athletics back in perspective, Boston rumbles into New York and Cleveland play host to Detroit.

What's more, all four of the clubs chasing the White Sox must face the other contenders in more than half of their remaining games.

Chicago has the best spot—with 48 games to go, but only 23 against the next four clubs. Detroit is the worst off, slated to play 31 of its remaining 45 games against the first division.

After his Yanks lost series to Chicago and Cleveland and split with Detroit on their current home stand, Manager Casey Stengel today tagged the Red Sox as "Maybe the toughest yet."

In yesterday's only game, the Brooklyn Dodgers lost 1-0 to Chicago with the usually unreachably Don Newcombe shut out from what could have been his 19th victory.

It was Newk's second defeat of the season, and both have been to the Cubs. This time it was a home run by Gene Baker, who had half of Chicago's six hits, that beat the big right-hander.

Sad Sam Jones was the winner on a four-hitter, although he was in hot water with six walks. Jones, now 10-15, fanned seven while getting his first victory since July 3.

The decision gave the Cubs a sweep of the three-game series—their first over the Dodgers in Wrigley Field since 1947.

"Right now our chances are as good as anyone's," chirped Jackie Manager Pinky Higgins. "What we do will depend a great deal on our 13 remaining games with the Yanks. But the games mean a lot to the Yanks too."

Higgins indicated he would start Willard Nixon against Whitey Ford in the first game. Nixon is a natural, having beaten the Yanks in three of four tries.

Yanks Manager Casey Stengel will pitch Don Larsen tomorrow and Bob Turley Thursday. Higgins has not decided who will oppose them.

Stengel has nothing but worries. He's concerned over the club offense and went so far as to admit that this is the poorest club, so far as consistent hitting is concerned, that he's had since he took over in 1949.

"Ever since they beat us in that July 4 double-header, those Red Sox have been hot," observed Stengel gloomily. "They're getting pitching, hitting and fielding. Well, maybe we can cool them off in the same place."

NEW YORK (AP)—Breathing fire and oozing confidence, the torrid Boston Red Sox storm into the Yankee Stadium tonight for the opener of a three-game series with the reeling New York Yankees.

In the past two months, the Sox have won 43 of their last 56 games for a fantastic .769 mark and have fought their way to within a game and a half of first place in the American League.

The Yanks, on the other hand, have won just 12 of their last 34 games for .353 mark.

Series Could Mean Beginning Of End

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Call 'em critical, crucial or just plain crazy, man, but a pair of three-game series that open to night could be the beginning of the end for New York, Boston, Cleveland or Detroit in the frenzied American League pennant race.

While first-place Chicago tries to get the suddenly not-so-litless Kansas City Athletics back in perspective, Boston rumbles into New York and Cleveland play host to Detroit.

What's more, all four of the clubs chasing the White Sox must face the other contenders in more than half of their remaining games.

Chicago has the best spot—with 48 games to go, but only 23 against the next four clubs. Detroit is the worst off, slated to play 31 of its remaining 45 games against the first division.

After his Yanks lost series to Chicago and Cleveland and split with Detroit on their current home stand, Manager Casey Stengel today tagged the Red Sox as "Maybe the toughest yet."

In yesterday's only game, the Brooklyn Dodgers lost 1-0 to Chicago with the usually unreachably Don Newcombe shut out from what could have been his 19th victory.

It was Newk's second defeat of the season, and both have been to the Cubs. This time it was a home run by Gene Baker, who had half of Chicago's six hits, that beat the big right-hander.

Sad Sam Jones was the winner on a four-hitter, although he was in hot water with six walks. Jones, now 10-15, fanned seven while getting his first victory since July 3.

The decision gave the Cubs a sweep of the three-game series—their first over the Dodgers in Wrigley Field since 1947.

School Workshop To Be Started Here

AN "AJ" SAVAGE aircraft is going through Field Carrier Landing Practice operations which play an important part in the role of a Navy Pilot. (Official Photograph, U. S. Navy)

Low-Flying Planes Play Important Role

Probably the most annoying cause of loss of sleep is that due to noise. Noise that is man-made and for no apparently good reason can be doubly disturbing.

During the past two weeks the AJ "Savage" aircraft squadrons based at the Naval Air Station have been conducting early morning and evening FCIP or Field Carrier Landing Practice operations.

The landing area of the Essex Class carrier is only 84 feet wide and 350 feet in length. The hugeness of the AJ, however, limits it to only a few feet to either side of the centerline of the deck.

Too high and he will have to circle the ship; too low and he is in danger of hitting the deck ramp; excess speed multiplies errors in placing the plane on the desired spot; lack of speed can cause the plane to falter in mid-air and plunge into the water like a wounded bird.

EVANS IN HOSPITAL. A telegram sent to the Sanford Rotary Club from Boston, Mass., revealed that Frank Evans of Lake Mary is confined to the hospital.

Mrs. Evans, in her telegram yesterday, said that Evans is in the New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston.

He is being confined, at present, she said, for observation.

Regardless of the undue noise these low flying aircraft make and the unorthodox hours they keep, they are all part of the vast stratagem of our armed forces.

There is greater security in having them fly low than enemy bombers winging silently overhead many miles above us.

Mrs. Golt Announces Program

A three-week pre-school workshop will get underway here in Sanford, Mrs. Margaret Golt, co-ordinator of instruction for Seminole County Schools, announced today.

The workshop will begin, Mrs. Golt said, with teachers reporting for duty at their respective schools next Monday, Aug. 15, and the actual work getting underway at Seminole High School the following day.

The pre-school workshop, part of a long-range in-service training program for Seminole County teachers, is sponsored by the University of Florida and the General Extension Division, and will be under the direction of Dr. C. L. Eggert, Professor of Education at the UoF.

Others who will serve as full time consultants are as follows: Dr. James Wattenberger, Asst. Professor of Secondary Education at the UoF, consultant on Secondary Curriculum.

Dr. Roy F. Bergengren, acting head of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education at the UoF, will serve as consultant on Arts and Crafts.

Dr. Joseph Fordyce, head of undergraduate counseling at the UoF, will serve as consultant on Guidance.

Harland Merriam, assistant professor of education at the UoF, will serve as consultant on reading.

There will be several part-time consultants assisting in the workshop here in Sanford where 140 Seminole County teachers will participate. Those serving in this field are:

Mrs. Lucy Nulton, instructor at the UoF's P. K. Young Laboratory School will serve as consultant in the field of elementary curriculum.

Dr. Joseph M. Lens, professor of education at the UoF, will serve as consultant on administration.

Dr. Albert Pitts, assistant professor of education at the UoF, will serve as consultant in the field of elementary curriculum.

A number of members of the staff of the State Department of Education will also serve as consultants during this three-week workshop that is expected to be the last one held in Seminole County due to legislative technicalities.

Those expected to assist here are: Dr. Victor Johnson, consultant in the field of guidance, Thurman Bailey, area coordinator in the division of vocation and adult education, D. E. Williams, consultant on administration; Mrs. Lucy Nulton, consultant on elementary education; Zolite Maynard, consultant on health, safety and physical education; and Miss Joyce Pritchard of Row, Peterson Co., will serve as reading consultant.

"The workshop," said Mrs. Golt, "is divided into seven basic divisions. They are reading, arithmetic and mathematics, guidance, administration, elementary curriculum, secondary curriculum, and on Aug. 24, the entire group of teachers will go to Daytona Beach to attend a district meeting of the Florida Education Association, Aug. 30, is registration day in all schools," said Mrs. Golt.

Coupe Completely Demolished Here; Driver Is Charged

The body of a 1955 Studebaker Coupe was completely demolished when the car went out of control and turned over twice before coming to a stop.

The accident, occurring last night shortly after 8 o'clock on North Seminole Boulevard, was investigated by Sanford City Patrolmen L. E. Rock and C. C. Dodson.

According to the officers' report, Carl William Swanson Jr., 31-year-old Navy man attached to Hawthorn Two at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, lost control of his automobile as he attempted to pass another car near the City limits.

The automobile skidded 125 feet before coming to a stop and turned over twice in 30 feet.

The report stated that the driver was following another car which had stopped in preparing to make a left turn. Swanson, passing on the left at a "fair rate of speed," got too far to the left and lost control.

The driver was not injured and damages to the yellow coupe were estimated at $600. Charges of "careless and negligent driving" were made against Swanson who gave his home address as 1021 N. W. Third St., Miami.

Jaycees Will Hear Bob Lamont Speak

Galloway Gets Man Returning To Scene

A 40-year-old negro was taken into custody this morning, said Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway, when he returned to the scene of his earlier actions.

Constable Galloway said that Florence Bolat, 20th St. and Grapeville Ave., reported that a man had beat her. For this, Galloway said, the woman swore to a warrant for the man's arrest.

Unable to find the negro man, Galloway said he was notified that Hardy Brown, alias Joe Brown, returned to Florence Bolat's home again last night, broke in and beat her.

"I picked him up this morning," Constable Galloway said. "The negro is charged with 'assault and battery', and a bond of $100 has been set. Brown gave his home address as 1380 Lake Ave.

25 Banshee Jets To Arrive At Base

A group of 25 Banshee Jets are arriving at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station today, according to Lt. H. W. Sherman, Public Information Officer for the local Naval Station.

The group of jets are being evacuated from the Brunswick, Ga. Naval Air Station, and will remain at Sanford's Naval Auxiliary Air Station until danger from the hurricane is over.
