SUCCESS OF 2ND FIGHT OF PALMS SEEMS DUBIOUS

Interest In Nearing Scrap Lags Despite Ballyhoo Efforts

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor. MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Despite the combined efforts of the "600 millionaires" of Madison Square Garden, the social enthusiasm and ingenuity of the ballyhoo experts, it seemed today that the success of the second battle of the palms, less than a week off, hangs in the balance. This involves the art of the science as well as the commercial outcome of heavyweight fights in a city resort area that has perhaps never diversified sports activity than any other in the country, considering the range from dog-fighting to jai alai to roque and lawn-tennis.

The expert task of "building up" the year's venture was handicapped from the start by a lack of popular enthusiasm for the champion of Phil Scott, the British champion, against the chief American, heavyweight boxer, Jack Sharkey. This task has not been lightened by events here, what Scott's workouts being featured at intervals in a damaged ring, or as happened yesterday, out of the ring completely by a sparring partner.

Jack Sharkey, by contrast with this, has impressed the most unbiassed critics as being in probably the best fighting condition and temperament of his career. The Boston sailor after an in-and-out career seems to have found an incentive in the prospect of gaining recognition as a world's title holder by next summer. It has stimulated his work and frame of mind. As a result he stood today an almost prohibitive favorite to beat Scott. A consensus of expert opinion indicated a belief he would win inside three or four rounds at the most. At the same time, the critics, by a strange twist of reasoning, argued that Scott's chances of winning, though outside at the best, will be considerably enhanced, however the fight goes. This is based on the idea that Scott is a slow starter, unlikely to gain confidence until he has discovered himself. All credit for six or seven rounds have passed.

The "gate" for the battle had not passed the $200,000 mark, with five days to go, and they reported only an outside chance that it would come anywhere near the figure of $407,000 grossed for the Stribling-Sweeney fight a year ago. The best guess was that it might reach $300,000 although Frank J. Bruen, general manager of the garden, generally predicted without qualification that the next few days would see the turning point and a rapid approach to the 1929 figures. His optimism was not shared by the experts.

Fairly residents, not much change in the advance "dope" on the fight card as a whole is anticipated in the few days remaining before the fight. A climb into the ring, serious work has been finished in all the camps. Most of the debate has been concentrated on the outcome of the semi-final, between Victoria Campolo and Johnny Rizzo. The experts will be disappointed if the final's produce a cock of the hat. Campolo is the favorite, but Rizzo may have been a "set-up" and he stakes his little future in this bout. Unless he wins, it is the downhill road for Johnny. The Tommie Loughran-Percy Charles and Jimmy Maloney-Moise Bouquillon bouts also promise plenty of action.

FLORIDA SCHOOL OF PHARMACY IS HIGHLY PRAISED

Dean Leigh Declares Much Credit Is Due Capable Professors

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 19.—The rapid growth and the great distinction which has come to the College of Pharmacy, established in the University of Florida in 1927, is pictured by Dean Thomas R. Leigh in the lead story of the February issue of the "Florida Alumnus" which made its appearance here today.

Dr. Leigh highly praised his faculty, declaring, "The College owes its progress and standing primarily to the high order of scholarship and the co-operative spirit of its professors. All of the professors who teach the professional subjects hold the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in their respective branches. Each professor in the Department of Chemistry, Pharmacy, Pharmacology and Pharmaceutical Science is encouraged to do some in spite of his to do research work and he finds heavy teaching load. One professor has, in fact, been awarded twice in succession a research grant by the American Pharmaceutical Association in recognition of his meritorious investigations. Four textbooks and numerous reports on research have been written by the Professors of the College."

Dean Leigh's article informed that there are now 777 students enrolled in the various courses in chemistry, with 53 pursuing the curriculum which leads to a degree in pharmacy.

Of late was the comment recently made by a Johns Hopkins professor of Chemical Education, who following a visit to the University, wrote, "It is certain that you and your faculty have put Florida among the leading states in chemical education." The article by Dean Leigh carried a report by Professor John G. Beard, president of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, in which Professor Beard recommended the University of Florida for further graduate work by offering the Ph. D. course, his recommendation in part stating, "you appear better prepared than any other school in the south to give the needed to offer advanced work. Your faculty, facilities and equipment, research attitude, policy and perspective combine to make you an institution of the highest order in every way for giving the Ph. D. course in Pharmacy."

Body of Man Found In Sand Upon Beach Is Identified Today

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—The body of an elderly well-dressed man, partially buried in sand on Hollywood Beach early yesterday was identified today as that of George Seymour, 72, of Detroit, Mich. Police expressed belief that he had been lured to the beach from his winter home at Miami and robbed and slain.

Identification of the body was established by L. O. Santoro, chief of detectives at Miami. A H. Glenn of Detroit and J. N. Smith of Miami, Glenn and Smith have at the same time been on Northwest First Street at Miami where Seymour stayed.

Seymour was known to have been feeding on the beach at the end of the year, which is usually done in the bag of the beach which he had brought with him. He was feeding actually to the rate of one or two feedings each grain of sand, and rapid assimilation than a normal man.

As a result of these experimental feedings, police now have a basis on fact to guide them in the management of body which, under normal conditions, the best thing to do is to feed them early. If there is some special reason for withholding food for his first two or three days he can be fed without causing the risk of starting his chicks. Baby chicks, shipped by parcel post, or prepared probably should not be fed before being shipped.

Don't forget the next meeting of the Seminole Poultry Club, Tuesday Evening, Feb. 25, Seminole High School Building. Some very interesting and instructive work is planned for the evening program.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY ENJOYS EXCELLENT YEAR

Closes Great Work Of 1929 Without Deficit, States Report

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 20.—The thousands of friends and contributors to the Children's Home Society of Florida, all over Florida, will be glad to learn that the society closed its great work for the year 1929, with a clean bill—and with funds enough on hand to provide food, shelter and care for its family of nearly 1,000 children for the month of January and a portion of February. Considering all the unfavorable conditions which the Home Society has experienced during the year, and particularly in view of the deficit of over eight hundred dollars which faced the society last fall, it does indicate a fine performance in support of this great work by the good people of the entire State.

The Home Society's financial aid and care to exactly two thousand and two hundred and six orphaned and neglected children—foundlings and babies—during every portion of the state last year, and through the New Year, 1930, with a family of 968 little needy and homeless children under its aid and care, in its four Receiving Homes at Jacksonville, Miami, Pensacola and Lakeland, in its various family boarding homes, foster homes, hospital, schools, etc.

The State Superintendent, Marcus C. "Daddy" Fagg, is very proud of the wonderful support given to the Children's Home Society of Florida last year—and desires to say a very definite word of appreciation to all the men, women and children, churches, clubs, Sunday Schools, civic and women's clubs, business men, farmers and others who have made the Society's wonderful record of service possible last year, and is pleading for a continued support through the coming year. "Daddy" Fagg wants to keep the Society out of debt and will gladly welcome any contributions of money, food, or children's clothing—from anybody in Florida. He is also very anxious to secure more good family homes for the scores of homeless children now under his care in order that room can be made for scores of other little care-waiting children in the Headquarters of St. James Hotel, Jacksonville, Fla., which is being renovated and devoted to all the services.

Plans are being formulated to start this work in the local community next month.

Starving Baby Chicks is Found
A popular belief that baby chicks should be starved for the first 18 or 22 hours to prevent bowel trouble has finally given way to scientific knowledge. It is now known that early feeding is not harmful. However, neither does delayed feeding seem to be harmful.

EXHIBIT FROM COUNTY GIVEN PRAISE AT FAIR

The exhibit from the county was praised in the Reporter-Star "Against a background representing the rising sun is a map of Florida, made entirely of celery, outlined in oranges and the sea represented by large bunches of lettuce. Then at either side is tier on tier of most beautiful celery, each bunch separated from the next by a large bright gold fringe. The combination of the green, white and gold tell the story of citrus and celery culture graphically and artistically. The booth itself is outlined in bunches and bunches of celery, and there are many crates of celery showing how it is prepared for shipment."

Funds, by which the exhibition of this county was made possible, were donated by the Sanford Okaloa Truck Growers, Inc. Chase and Company, The American Fruit Growers, and the City Commissioners.

Conditional Pardon Granted To Slayer Revoked By Board

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A conditional pardon granted Gil Thomas, at whose home in Ocala county Sheriff Farmer, of Kissimmee, was seriously wounded recently and one convicted was killed and another wounded, has been revoked by the state board of pardons, it was announced today.

Thomas was conditionally pardoned on Oct. 27, 1929 while serving a 25-year sentence from Ocala county for second degree murder. The shooting of Farmer occurred in the yard of Thomas' home, Harry Barnes, paroled by the board, was killed, and Harry Terwilliger, whose sentence was commuted, was seriously wounded.

Revocation of Thomas' pardon was on the ground that he apparently took the part of the convict, instead of the sheriff, in the shooting of the report of the board said.

Tobacco

... a golden lining for the Florida pocketbook

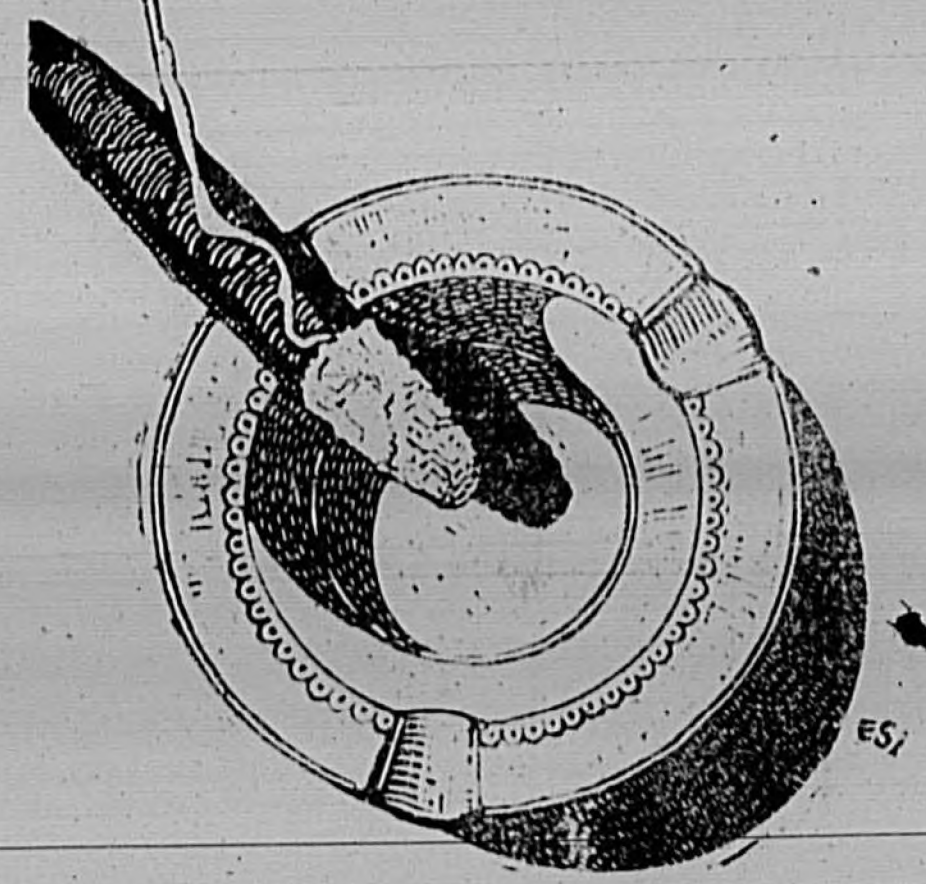

TOBACCO manufacture ranks second only to lumber products among the great industries of Florida—the production of cigars and cigarettes pouring an annual income of more than $40,000,000 into the pocketbook of the state.

Florida has 297 cigar factories, three cigarette factories and eleven concerns engaged in the manufacture of other tobacco products. Although the industry is centered in a few principal cities there is a wide distribution of small factories throughout the state. One of the larger manufacturers produces 450,000 cigars daily—estimated, to be the largest volume output in the South.

Due to the fact that consumption of tobacco is not materially affected by periods of depression, the tobacco industry does not suffer from unemployment fluctuations. There are approximately 12,000 persons constantly employed in Florida tobacco manufacture.

One Florida city alone, producer of half the expensive cigars sold in this country, manufactured nearly four million more cigars in 1929 than in 1923—the best previous year in history.

With tobacco manufacturing considered as one of the most dependable barometers of business in Florida, this State faces an unusually optimistic and prosperous future.

Tobacco Crop Increases in Value.

In recent years Florida has developed a tobacco producing belt which now covers eighteen counties. In 1929 the tobacco crop sold for $3,454,000 as compared with a value of $2,682,000 the year before.

For years, the staple tobacco crop of Florida has been of the shade variety which is used for cigar wrappers. With the growth of the cigarette industry, the acreage devoted to the open field variety has rapidly increased and now leads in volume by almost a million pounds.
