To Restore Veterans Day To Nov. 11
Nixon Seeks Veterans Benefit Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon today proposed cost-of-living increases in veterans' pensions and an eight per cent boost in GI benefits as part of a $13.6 billion legislative package for veterans.

Nixon also urged that Congress restore Nov. 11 as Veterans Day, repealing part of a 1968 law which switched the holiday to the fourth Monday in October.

The proposals were contained in a special message to Congress, one of a series Nixon is sending to Capitol Hill before his State of the Union address Wednesday night.

The President said his administration is preparing legislation to grant the 2.4 million persons receiving veterans pensions the same type of automatic cost-of-living increases available to Social Security recipients.

He also said the veterans pension program should be restructured to assure that the neediest pensions will receive at least as much as adult welfare recipients.

Nixon said the eight per cent increase in education benefits he is seeking will supply an extra $200 million in aid for the more than two million taking advantage of the GI bill education and training allowances. The increase is needed, he said, "to keep pace with inflation."

Legislation is pending in both House and Senate to provide for a 13.6 per cent increase.

The President reported that the Veterans Administration is embarking on the greatest program of hospital construction in its history.

He said a record $276 million is being sought in fiscal 1975 which begins next July 1 for hospital construction, and that his budget will provide funds to hire an additional 7,600 medical personnel.

In addition to the medical, education and pension benefits, Nixon said America should "repay her debts to the men and women who have served her well," by setting aside certain days to commemorate their service.

Let's re-enact a most common movie scene in which the chaplain steps up to the doomed prisoner....

And he says "Spolaki, do you have any last wish?"

"Yes, sir, I'd like to be at the Orlando Sports Stadium tonight to see Smokin' Joe belt the "big mouth" right outta the ring!"

For a guy who tries to impress us with his peaceful religious intentions, All surely did a good job at trying to incite whites against blacks during his interview on Saturday's Wide World of Sports program.

Mediator Confident Of Union OK
IBEW Delegates Meet In Sanford On Pact

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer

Delegates from 11 union locals of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) will meet in Sanford today to discuss a new agreement with Florida Power and Light Co. to end a three-month strike of 4,500 electrical workers, according to local union president L. J. Bass.

Union members will vote on the new contract no later than Thursday, said Bass. He would not comment on whether he thought members would accept the contract.

Other union officials have said they are fully supporting the new agreement.

In the Sanford area about 200 workers are involved in the strike at both the power plant and the service center, said FPLM manager in Sanford, Scott Burns.

Burns said he has had no official notification of IBEW proceedings and is at a loss to say whether strikers will accept the new contract.

He confirmed the strike has to some extent adversely affected the running of the local company. "Any time you have a strike, both sides and the general public suffers," said Burns.

He added there have been no acts of vandalism as a result of the strike in the Sanford area as they have had in the southern part of the state. "I think our boys should be commended for this," said Burns.

A negotiator for the IBEW, W.A. Geschke, commented, "We're recommending the agreement whole heartedly."

Chief mediator William Usery said he is confident the union membership will vote to accept the settlement hammered out late Saturday. He said specific terms of the pact worked out by federal mediators working with union and company negotiators will not be disclosed until the union membership vote is taken.

But Usery said provisions include "considerable changes on several points" that were rejected by union members in the company's last offer in December. Usery said he was confident the agreement would be accepted by the IBEW membership.

"I would certainly hope that the workers would ratify it because it's the very best settlement that could be worked out," Usery said. "I've been involved in a lot of national disputes and some difficult ones, and I can say that this was a very difficult one."

Thomas Fortner, FPLM, director of labor relations, said the agreement could lead to "a very smooth transition" to normal operations.

"We want to try and improve industrial relations now and insure industrial peace—that would mean working at not having any more strikes," Fortner said.

The core of contention had been the status of 155 union members the company says participated in acts of vandalism against FPLM property.

The company wanted to suspend or discipline the workers, while the union insisted that there should be no action taken until they were found guilty of wrongdoing.

Newspaper Claims

Aide Cashed Gurney Check

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Edward Gurney's fund raiser, Larry Williams, apparently cashed a personal $10,000 check from the Florida senator intended for deposit, the Florida Times-Union reported in Sunday's edition.

Gurney "appeared shocked and then angered" when told that the check was presumably cashed rather than placed in the account of a land investment company called Oxnard, the Jacksonville newspaper said.

Gurney told a press conference Dec. 6 in Jacksonville that he gave the check to Williams for deposit to Oxnard, formed by Williams, Gurney and former Gurney administrative aide Jim Groot for land investment purposes.

The Times-Union article on Gurney's finances followed a newspaper audit of the senator's records. Gurney had invited the paper to make the investigation.

Williams, who has been indicted by a federal grand jury, was Oxnard's president, and Gurney said the check was to pay for legal and personal expenses of the corporation. The check, drawn on the senator's personal account at the Commercial Bank of Winter Park, was dated July 24, 1972.

Williams, 29, of Orlando has been accused of collecting thousands of dollars on Gurney's behalf during 1971-73 in return for promised favors from the senator's office in awarding Federal Housing Administration contracts.

Gurney, under fire for Williams' fund-raising activities, has denied knowledge of any illegal activities.

The Florida Times-Union said the check apparently cashed by Williams was endorsed by him on July 25, with a license number and address on the back, at the South Orlando First National Bank.

The check was marked "paid," but, the newspaper said, a cashier at the bank declined to verify that the check had been cashed.

Longwood, County Agree To Reestablish Clinic

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

County Commissioners and Longwood City Councilmen this morning agreed to speedily pursue information from both levels of government to put back in operating condition. Renovations to turn the 15-year-old clinic building into a city hall annex began 30 days ago.

New councilmen, Don Schreiner and June Lormann, along with veteran councilman, E.E. Williamson, announced they would return the building to Health Department use when they assumed office this month.

However, lame duck councilmen within days after the city election in December accepted a bid from Harris Construction Co. and ordered renovations to proceed.

County Commissioners John Kimbrough, Greg Drummond and Mike Hattaway told Schreiner, Mrs. Lormann and Williams this morning they are prepared to put the building back in operating condition for a Health Department facility and are completing applications for Hill-Burton Funds (Federal) to expand the building.

The commissioners were unable to estimate the time necessary to put the project to bed and reopen the facility.

They said within the week, however, County Sanitarian Val Robbins will have estimates on space needs for the operation.

Assistant County Attorney Howard Marsee said agreement has to be reached on major provisions of a lease with the city property.

At the same time the city officials said they will be gathering information on whether the city should expand municipal offices in conjunction with the county work on the building.

In another city-county joint project, Drummond invited city officials to attend a work session at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday to discuss the possibility of piping drainage water through the state ditch running from SR 44 to Fairy Lake. Drummond said the state has acquired right-of-way for the ditch and the piping might be accomplished through a joint county-city effort.

Unless Shipments Resume Gasoline Rationing: A Spring Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline rationing may be necessary by spring unless the Arab nations resume oil shipments to the United States, says Sen. Henry M. Jackson, who headed three days of energy crisis hearings last week.

Meanwhile, the Federal Energy Office urged utilities to cut power use by five per cent below normal next month.

The request came Sunday in the announcement of residual fuel allocations for utilities, which the FEO said will permit them to meet about 95 per cent of their normal power needs in February.

Jackson indicated Sunday that gasoline rationing may be necessary by the second quarter of the year.

"I don't think there's much doubt about it unless there are some developments overseas which indicate that we will get extra crude material," the Washington Democrat said on the CBS program "Face the Nation."

VISITORS EYE GLASS DISPLAYS

GLASS mass-produced in the 20's, 30's and early 40's has recently come into its own with dealers and collectors searching out rare pieces of the so-called Depression Glass. The new-found popularity was demonstrated Saturday and Sunday with the success of the show held at the Sanford Civic Center.

Federal energy chief William E. Simon said the February allocations to utilities will affect 148 utilities in 39 states, primarily on the east and west coasts.

Actual fuel deliveries are expected to be about five per cent less than in February 1973, FEO spokesmen said, because some utilities have switched to coal or other methods of generating power.

The allocations, FEO said, are designed to provide for 30 per cent of February needs plus to provide least a 12-day inventory of oil by March 1.

Under Internal Revenue Service rules firms operating abroad can deduct most of the taxes they pay to foreign governments from U.S. taxes due.

In other energy-related developments: —Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said on the WABC-TV "Eyewitness News Conference" in New York that the oil companies should be regulated in the same manner as public utilities, if not actually transformed into utilities.

The Saudi Arabian oil minister, Ahmed Zaki Yamani, said King Faisal is considering cutting Saudi oil prices because of concern over international trade.

Under the NBC program "Meet the Press," Frank N. Kard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said he would oppose gasoline rationing except as a last resort.

Kard also said he does not expect gasoline prices to reach the $1-a-gallon level some have predicted.

House Minority Leader John J. Rhodes of Arizona, appearing on the ABC program "Issues and Answers" said he would certainly favor some action to keep gasoline from going any higher."

Sisters Flee Inflation
KEY LARGO, Fla. (AP) — The three Kostakos sisters are selling their home and little fruit and vegetable business because they say taxes and inflation have turned their retirement dream into a nightmare.

Mary Kostakos says property taxes on the modest combination home and store she shares with sisters Virginia and Martha have climbed from $40 in 1956 when they purchased the property to $500 this year.

Their dream of retiring to a little business on the Florida Keys began in the 1920s when they first visited the area as members of an all-girl band.

Timber Arson Probed
SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Forestry officials blame thoughtless hunters for starting a fire which took rangers four days to extinguish around the 2,000-acre Myakka State Park.

The blaze, whipped by high winds, destroyed 1,000 acres of timber and pasture land in Sarasota County before it was brought under control Sunday.

Women Nab Attacker
MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Police answering an attempted rape call rushed to an oceanfront park Sunday night to find two women standing over a burly man moaning on the ground.

Police gave the following account of the incident: Kimberly Speranza, 19, of Miami Beach was leaving a restroom in the park when she was attacked by a man. Her cries for help were answered by vacationing Holly Priokpa, 20, of Chicago.

Together, the two women beat and kicked the man and held him until police arrived.

Wrongdoing 'Rejected'
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — An anonymous letter accusing four Supreme Court justices of receiving bribes from race track owners has been "rejected as irresponsible" by the Florida Judicial Qualifications Commission.

The investigation of this letter and its source is terminated and the file on this matter is closed," the commission said in an order Friday.

Legislature Meets To Repeal DST

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — State officials begin today working out details to remove most of Florida from Daylight Saving Time following the deaths of eight school children in early morning traffic accidents.

The Cabinet was to hold a special meeting to examine such questions as how soon clocks may be turned back in the Eastern Time zone and what action should be taken for the nine counties which may remain on Central Daylight Time.

Legislators gathering for committee meetings also were expected to examine whether a special legislative session Gov. Reubin Askew scheduled for Tuesday should examine other matters such as revising Florida's tough oil spill law.

Legislators gathered for the special session, Askew said it would be confined solely to the DST question as it applies to the Eastern zone where 94 of every 100 Floridians live.

Members are already scheduled to be in Tallahassee for legislative meetings, and I am confident they can accomplish this single action in prompt order with little disruption of their regular committee work," Askew said in a statement Saturday.

Since DST went into effect nationwide Jan. 6 as an energy conservation measure, the Florida Highway Patrol has reported deaths of eight school children in early morning traffic accidents compared with two for the comparable three weeks last year.

Pressure for Askew to act to end DST has been growing in legislators, parents and teacher groups calling for a change.

The federal DST law allows legislatures in states in two time zones to exempt one portion of the state from DST and put all the state on uniform time.

Many school districts moved classroom opening hours up 30 minutes after DST went into effect and a return to Eastern Standard Time would require rescheduling classes and bus routes.

It also would require some rescheduling of business hours such as stock brokers' offices whose operations are tied to the New York market.

"Any amount of disruption in commerce would be small indeed when compared to the life of even a single child whose death could be attributed to a too-early start on his or her school day," Askew said.

Candidate Ethics Bill Due
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Elvin Martinez, D-Tampa, says his elections committee is working on a bill to put dirty tricksters out of the business of spilling state political campaigns.

Martinez hoped to put the bill together in a meeting today if the special session of the legislature doesn't interfere.

Lawmakers assembling in the capitol for regular committee work have been called into special session Tuesday by Gov. Reubin Askew to exempt the Eastern zone of Florida from Daylight Saving Time.

Martinez called his committee's proposed bill a code of ethics for candidates.

"This is an attempt to address ourselves to the moral aspects of campaigning with regard to dirty tricks, misleading ads and things of that nature," he said.

The elections chairman said, "For a clean politician like I am, it's hard to conceive of things that are dirty."

He said the bill would prohibit behavior such as the letters distributed by Donald Segretti in the 1972 Florida presidential primary charging Sens. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., indulged in sexual misconduct. The letters were on stationery of Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Candor Plan Biggest Failure?

COPLLEY NEWS

President Nixon's press spokesmen say "Operation Candor," the President's program for making "full disclosure" of information on Watergate-related matters, has been concluded.

If that's the case, this operation by Mr. Nixon was a bigger bust than his economic programs, and it takes something to top those failures.

What did Mr. Nixon reveal during "Operation Candor?"

Principally he revealed his personal financial affairs including his tax returns. However, they raised more questions than they answered, at least in regard to the amount of taxes he paid—or didn't pay. The questions are so numerous and of such consequence that a congressional committee has been asked by the President to decide the propriety of some of his deductions, and the Internal Revenue Service is reevaluating his returns.

The concluding chapter in "Operation Candor" was the release of two papers answering questions that Mr. Nixon was asked by the premises of political controversies in 1971 when he intervened in the ITT anti-trust case and ordered an increase in federal price supports for milk producers.

These contained little if anything new. They were just warmovers of previous administration defenses on these subjects. And Congressman John Anderson of Rockford, one of the Republican leaders in the U. S. House, pointed out that the specter of perjury has arisen on the ITT matter; Mr. Nixon said he talked to former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell about an appeal of a court decision on ITT, while Mitchell earlier testified under oath that he never talked to the President about ITT case.

The President and his White House spokesmen must be more out of touch with the American people than even they've been alleged to be when they make statements like the one by Deputy Press Secretary Gerald Warren. Warren said Mr. Nixon now feels he has laid to rest all Watergate-related charges against him.

At the same time the President was releasing his so-called "white papers" on the milk and ITT matters, he was denying hundreds of documents and tapes to the Senate Watergate Committee. And he has never made any thorough explanation of the White House "plumbers" operation, the secret spying group that operated under the direction of the President's staff.

Many of the American journalists who have visited the "Republic of China" have come back with glowing reports about the progress being made there.

In some cases, the reporters have seemed to go overboard in their euphoria about the "new China."

What happens when the shoe is on the other foot? How do PRC newsmen describe the United States?

A group of 21 Chinese journalists visited the United States in 1973 and several have published accounts of their visit. The most recent report to appear was by Li Po-li, deputy editor in chief of China Reconstructs magazine. His article, "Impressions of the U.S.A.," was very similar in tone and context to those written by others in the group of Chinese visitors.

First of all, it should be noted that China Reconstructs is the official PRC magazine for telling the story of China's nation-building activities to foreign audiences. The circulation is believed to be at least 100,000 and separate editions are printed in Arabic, English, French, Russian and Spanish.

In China, "managed news" is the rule rather than the exception. There will be no arguments from any side that Li's "impression" of the United States were approved as containing what Peking wants the world to think about China's views of the United States.

In the complex world of propaganda, this is not a simple exercise. For a variety of reasons, Peking may want to take a slightly different view of the United States than the world at large. The British during World War II set a stirring example of a nation united in its determination to survive. The country today is torn in bitter dispute over who is to blame for its economic troubles and what should be done about them.

There is no question that coal and railroad unions have displayed a crash public-opinion attitude in choosing the height of a winter fuel shortage for their strikes and slowdowns. The logic behind their action has been hard to grasp. They apparently feel their countrymen are willing to endure cold and darkness for the sake of convincing the government that its wage controls should be more lenient. If the coal miners and trappers fail to see the connection between labor costs and inflation, we can assume that most other Britons do.

Or do they? The reluctance of Prime Minister Edward Heath to try to resolve his impasse with the unions with a parliamentary decision may stem from opinion polls which show that his Conservative Party might have a hard time staying in power. The public, it would appear, is split between blaming Mr. Heath for mismanaging the economy and blaming the country's economic deterioration on the Labor Party which has been the architect of British socialism and is the political arm of British labor unions.

An election at this time could be fatal for Mr. Heath if his Conservatives are willing to confront the British people with the issue in the starkest terms. It is not so much a question of whether the current government has pursued the right fiscal and monetary policies in recent years as whether there are any policies at all which can sustain the debts the government is incurring as the proprietor of nationalized industries and the bankroller of cradle-to-grave welfare programs.

It is a fact that the United States has been effectively quelling an incipient movement to establish a Palestinian nation on the west bank of the Jordan.

It is also a fact that the Arab governments, who have used the "liberation" of Palestine, so successful has Israel been in combating their commando operations and routing out of the West Bank, with the help of the United States, have killed more guerrillas than has the Israeli army. Hundreds of fedayeen were wiped out by King Hussein of Jordan in his strike against them in September, 1970.

Were Israel to disappear tomorrow, there would not be peace in the Middle East. Palestine would continue to be the cockpit of war as its "liberators" fought with one another for leadership.

It is likely that Syria would take the opportunity to annex more of Palestine, as it annexed the Golan Heights in 1974. Jordan and Egypt could be expected to move in to divide up the rest. Russia, attracted like a shark to blood, would reap what advantages it could from the situation.

The Palestinian problem must be solved, but it will not be solved until the Arabs repudiate the extremists and sit down in good faith at the bargaining table with the Israelis.

It has become a truism to say that lasting peace will never come to the Middle East until the claims of the displaced Palestinians are settled. But it is a dangerous fallacy to believe that the guerrillas speak for all Palestinians, or even any significant number of them. They do not even speak for all the PLO.

In the past decade, some 60 guerrilla splinters have come into existence for shorter or longer periods. The PLO, which

President Nixon's Policy Termed 'Bust'

The truth is that Mr. Nixon's credibility is so much in doubt that no statements by him, unsupported by documentary evidence, will have little effect toward clearing him of blame in Watergate and related matters.

In his defense, White House loyalists insist he declared his intention to donate the papers before the deadline and left it to underlings to implement his wishes.

We have spent several weeks investigating the President's tax returns. From sources who have followed the developments closely, we can now provide the curious chronology of the Nixon papers.

In an ordinary taxpayer backdated a document to gain a half-million-dollar tax write-off, he would find himself in the soup. Most likely, he would be investigated for filing a false claim and evading taxes.

The question is whether Nixon donated his vice presidential papers before July 25, 1969. This was the last day he could take a tax deduction for the papers.

Jack Anderson Curious Chronology Of The Nixon Papers

WASHINGTON — President Nixon "must have known" that a backdated deed was used to obtain his celebrated $750,000 tax deduction.

This is the statement of sources who are completely familiar with the preparation of the President's controversial tax returns. They contend that he not only instructed his subordinates to seek the deduction but kept a sharp eye on their efforts.

The President, who specialized in tax law as a young lawyer, fully understood his tax returns before signing them, stress our sources.

Dear Abby Tell Mate You're Not Sex Object And Leave

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: The other night, after a fairly calm evening with my husband offered me to one of his friends. You can't imagine how much this hurt me. I did the only thing I could think of doing. I refused in no uncertain terms, even tho he tried his best to talk me into it.

My husband and I finally went to bed, and made love before going to sleep. I love my husband, but I doubt that he really loves me. He has tried to get me to go to bed with his friends before, and every time I've told him no, and not to ask me again, but he keeps on trying.

I have told my husband that if I want sex outside of my marriage, I will do the choosing, but so far I am satisfied with him alone.

I get depressed every time I think about my husband's wanting to pass me around to his friends, and lately I've been taking it out on our 2-year-old son. I am open for suggestions.

NOT FOR LENDING

DEAR NOT: My suggestion would be to leave him, and look for a man who would respect his marriage vows as you respect yours. But first I would give him an opportunity to get his head together. If he refuses counseling, then leave him—unless you want to continue to live with a man who regards his wife as his personal property—and a sex object.

DEAR ABBY: I am one woman who is against women's lib because it advocates free love for women as well as for men.

Maybe I'm peculiar, but I don't want any free love before marriage. What I do want is a man whose moral standards are just as high as mine.

Why should a girl remain pure for a husband who has slept with so many girls he has lost count?

DEAR POLLY: I hope someone can tell me how to remove milk stains from dark woodwork. Even full strength cleaning products do not do the job. So far I have only been able to scratch the area with an abrasive pad but this is not satisfactory. It leaves marks and is time-consuming. — MRS. P.L.C.

DEAR POLLY: I am one woman who is against women's lib because it advocates free love for women as well as for men. Maybe I'm peculiar, but I don't want any free love before marriage. What I do want is a man whose moral standards are just as high as mine. Why should a girl remain pure for a husband who has slept with so many girls he has lost count?

DEAR ABBY: The harking doe prob- can be solved, and very easily. Our neighbors simply would not believe that their dog, which they kept outside on a chain day and night, barked and howled constantly when they were not home. Our patience grew thin, especially on Sundays when they drove off somewhere for the entire day. One Sunday we put our tape recorder out under our bedroom window, and made a two-hour recording of the canine concert. When they returned after their Sunday sojourn we hid the recorder in our bushes, locked our patio gates, turned up the volume, and went to the movies. In two days the dog had disappeared.

DEAR TRANQUIL: This may not have helped your friendship with those neighbors, but it certainly did improve the neighborhood.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

POLLY'S POINTERS Milk stains are stubborn

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns the size of cans of insect spray. I do not see why they cannot have small sizes so one could be kept in the car to combat flies or even stinging insects that often become a hazard to safe driving. A spray that would not harm the upholstery or otherwise stain the interior would help. — JOANNE.

DEAR POLLY — I think I have a solution for Bonnie's scorching blouse. The laundry guide that came with my washer says that for scorch stains one should launder with detergent and a bleach that is safe for that particular fabric. When scorch is heavier cover stain with a cloth dampened with hydrogen peroxide, cover this with a dry cloth and press with a hot iron. Rinse well. One word of caution: severe scorch often cannot be removed because the fabric is damaged. I do hope this helps. — CATHY.

DEAR POLLY: I want to tell Bonnie I'm free and simple answer to her problem with iron scorch on a nylon blouse. It is the good old sun. When an article is scorched while ironing go ahead and finish the job. Then hang it in the sunshine for a while and the sun's rays should draw out the scorch mark. This has worked for me even when the marks have been old ones. The item does not necessarily have to be hung through. I hope this will help others, too. — MELBA.

DEAR GILLS — Do remember that the color and fabric have much to do with the success or failure of any such Pointers. Often one wrong may be righted and another created. Be sure ALWAYS to test an inconspicuous spot before trying anything. Some authorities suggest a solution of one part hydrogen peroxide (not hair bleach) and three parts water. Let scorched article soak in it and then rinse well. Some fabrics require only washing with detergent to remove scorch. Testing is important not only for the stain but the garment color and fabric. — POLLY.

Oswald: "In the 30s it was common practice to open one spade with a hand like the one held by South. Opener would be afraid to lose the spade suit if he didn't bid it first. This practice led into general disrepute. Players were playing too many 4-3 and even 4-2 spade fits with disastrous results."

Jim: "There seemed to be no way to handle this type of hand until Philip Flannery of Pittsburgh devised a special convention. The opening bid of two diamonds is artificial and shows five hearts, four spades and 12-16 high-card points."

TODAY'S QUESTION
Your partner continues on one spade. What do you do?
A—Bid one heart. If your partner holds four spades he can bid the suit at the one level.

Mother Blamed On Divorce

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

FESTIVAL OF LANTERNS BALL

Lucy is a sexual casualty! Her mother was partly to blame for stressing the wrong goals in Lucy's love affairs. So beware of playboys! They may have plenty of $$$ but often lack common sense. So study this case with care!

CASE Z-337: Lucy R., aged 24, is a disillusioned divorcee. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I've already made a sorry mess of my life!

"But it is partly Mother's fault, for she was always obsessed with my marrying a rich man."

"So she contrived to have me introduced to wealthy playboys in our city."

"However, in college I really fell in love with a poor boy who was working his way through school."

"He waited tables at our 'gallant, industrious boy that I began to date him regularly."

"We were engaged in our senior year but Mother broke it up."

"On the rebound, I met a playboy named Teddy at a New Year's Eve party."

"A lot of drinking was going on, and this playboy suggested that we run away and get married."

"So in such a mixed up state of mind and a little dizzy from a few drinks, so I finally agreed."

"Mother was delighted, but I soon found that my husband and I had very little in common."

"Within 3 months he was running around with other girls."

"And he had no trade or profession, for his millionaire father merely advanced him a cash allowance on the first of each month."

"But he always spent that early on a baby, so I felt there was really nothing left to hold me."

"His father felt I could straighten him out if I got pregnant."

"Teddy was opposed to our having a baby, so I felt there was really nothing left to hold me."

"And when another girl in town filed a paternity suit against him, that was the last straw!"

Oviedo Personals

Mary Earle Walker guest speaker. Mrs. Walker spoke on Cancer and self-examination. There will be future programs at the Agriculture Center Pertaining to weight control and leadership training. Barbara Ward was hostess and served delicious refreshments to the following: Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Iva Ward, Mrs. R. C. Benckert, Mrs. Inga Gilmore, Mrs. Ella Cuver;

There really must be some sort of "bug" floating between the communities of Seminole County because it seems as if every other person I know has fallen under the dreary scourge.

The latest victim is my friend Ruth Davidson. I finally got in touch with Ruth by phone and she tells me that she is feeling much better now and is on the mend.

Also on the sick list was one of my most favorite bank officers, Pennie Olliff who was confined to her home last week but thank goodness she is much improved and back at the Citizens Bank.

Pennie is one of the folks whom I have known for a very long time in Oviedo and I am proud to say that Joe and I were selected to "buy" her daughter Linda's wedding (more on this later) but I'll tell you this much if it hadn't been for Joe and his help, I bet I would have been up the proverbial creek without a paddle as I was trying for a come-back from the flu.

Speaking of Pennie, I am sure that most of my Oviedo friends are aware that Pennie's mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Olliff is confined to Florida Hospital after having a nasty fall, how about sending her a card?

If Mrs. J. H. Staley is not on the sick list, I bet that she was, almost, after having received a call from Russ from channel 9 at WKIS who called to ask her if she was looking at a "Dialing-For-Dollars" show. She would have been at least $150 richer.

It just happened that I turned on the television and happened to hear the tail end of the conversation, but from the remarks which were passed, I don't think that Mrs. Staley was a bit flustered!

Let's forget, happy birthday to Walker Rawlinson, one of my favorite rose lovers over at Mead Manor. His son, Jim, called me to invite me over for the DeMolay installation ceremony and honestly if you could ever attend one of this special program I bet you would come away with most eyes too.

"Flower Talk" so beautifully rendered by David Platt would be worth the trip to me. It is one of the most moving and inspiring presentations which I have EVER HEARD in my life.

The Oviedo Homemakers Club met at the Memorial Building on Jan. 18 with Mrs.

9-10-30 ABC ABC THEATER "Judgment: The Trial of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg" Stanley Kramer, prestigious movie producer and director, once referred to as the film industry's "boy wonder," makes his first incursion into television in a series of documentaries and commentaries on great and controversial trials. The opening "Judgment" concerns the spy trial, conviction and execution of atom spies Ethel and Julius Rosenberg—the first to be tried in this country as atomic spies and the only spies ever executed in peacetime. A compelling courtroom drama, it stars Hershel Bernard and Brenda Vaccaro. Kramer contends half-truths convicted them, her brother, David Greenglass, who turned state's witness, and Morton Sobel. The later two escaped the chair. The documentary suggests strongly that the truth has never been known.

Saudi Arabia Warns Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Saudi Arabia's oil minister warned Japan today against President Nixon's conference of oil-consuming nations and urged the Japanese instead to make a direct deal exchanging their technology and industrial equipment for Saudi oil.

"The price of our oil won't be in terms of dollars but in technology and industrialization," Ahmed Zaki Yamani told a news conference.

Since Japan is in a strong position to supply both, he continued, it can make a bilateral arrangement that will guarantee to steady flow of oil it needs.

Yamani said he thinks one of the purposes of the conference Feb. 12 to which Nixon has invited Japan and other major oil consumers is to block such bilateral deals.

Irish March For 'Bloody Sunday'

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — More than 6,000 supporters of the Irish Republican Army marched through Londonderry Sunday with black flags to commemorate the 13 Roman Catholic demonstrators killed by British paratroopers "Bloody Sunday" two years ago.

The marchers headed in the Bogside district before the old city walls and heard speaker after speaker attack the moderate and moderate-to-right elements who have joined Protestant moderates in the province's first coalition government.

British troops kept in the background. Afterwards several youths ran around the city walls, stoning soldiers and jeering. They dispersed at nightfall.

Teenager Jailed In Nassau

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A Milwaukee, Wis., teenager has been jailed in Nassau in a police investigation into the murder of three American tourists, the latest a high school girl from Detroit.

Asst. Police Commissioner John Crowley said Michia Shobek, 19, would be taken before a magistrate today for a formal charge in connection with the slaying of Katherine Smith, 17, a student at Northwestern High School in Detroit.

Shobek was also being questioned in the violent deaths of Paul Howell, 50, a Massillon, Ohio, attorney slain Dec. 5, and Irwin Bernstein, 44, of Ocean City, N. J., killed Jan. 18, Crowley said.

British Wildcat Rail Strike

LONDON (AP) — A 24-hour wildcat rail strike promised more difficulties for British commuters today. Signalmen and rail clerks defied leaders of their union and said they would not work today to protest being sent home Sunday without pay.

The signalmen, guards and porters have been drawing pay as usual for weekend time but for seven weeks have been unable to work because of the ban on weekend work by engineers and firemen demanding wage increases in excess of Prime Minister Edward Heath's anti-inflation ceilings.

The government railway board for the first time refused to pay 20,000 nonworkers for doing nothing Sunday and estimated it saved $80,000.

Cairo-Suez Road Cleared

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli forces gave up their positions along the Cairo-Suez road today to end the first phase of their pullback on the Suez front, the Israeli military command announced. Israeli forces were also completing their withdrawal from the ports of Adabiya and Ataka, on the Gulf of Suez, and the high escarpment at Jebel Ataka, the southernmost point of Israel's advance on the west side of the canal. Cairo said the road from Cairo to Suez would be opened officially to civilian traffic Tuesday.

Vietnam Fighting Continues

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — More heavy fighting was reported today on the first anniversary of the ceasefire that was supposed to end the Vietnam war but didn't. Neither the government nor the Viet Cong held any special ceremonies to mark the anniversary. But the South Vietnamese command reported that 62 Viet Cong and 15 government soldiers were killed and 19 government wounded in three battles in the Mekong Delta. In Cambodia, the daily shelling by the Khmer Rouge insurgents killed six more persons and wounded 19 in Phnom Penh.

As Greeks Pay Last Respects General Grivas Honored

LIMASSOL, Cyprus (AP) — The announcement said that before his death Grivas had named his successor and EOKA's struggle against President Makarios would continue. But opinion was divided over whether the small band of guerrillas — estimated at only a few hundred men — could survive without the 75-year-old general's dedicated leadership and mystique.

Some observers predicted the movement would soon collapse. Ignoring the underground war he had been waging since 1971 to overthrow President Makarios, the Greek government hailed Grivas as a national hero. And while Makarios had no immediate comment on the death of his old comrade and recent bitter foe, all Greek Cypriot soldiers were closed for three days of mourning.

Grivas died and lay in state in the house he used as his headquarters when he led his EOKA army of guerrillas against the British. There was no immediate indication whether Grivas would be buried in Cyprus, his birthplace, or whether he would be given a state funeral in Greece, where he spent much of his life.

Or Temporary farewell is the question pondered by an Israeli soldier as he waves to Egyptian soldiers from across the Suez cease-fire line at Ismailia.

May Drop Temporarily Arab Oil Prices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Saudi Arabia's oil minister says King Faisal might reduce the price of Saudi oil because of the effect of the recent big increases on both developed and underdeveloped countries.

The oil minister, Ahmed Zaki Yamani, told a news conference in Tokyo Sunday that his king is worried about the trade deficits other nations are likely to incur as a result of the higher oil prices.

But Yamani indicated that any reductions Faisal might order would be only temporary. He said present oil prices are much below oil's true value as far as supply and demand is concerned. He added that his government is trying to set a fair and reasonable price.

Yamani and Belaid Abdessalam of Algeria are on a foreign tour explaining Arab oil policy. They also are apparently drumming up barter deals for oil that will bypass the Western countries that heretofore have marketed most or all of the Arab oil.

Yamani told the newsmen in Tokyo that his country will supply any nation with oil "proportionate to its degree of contribution to the industrialization and technological development of Saudi Arabia. He added that his government puts Japan at the head of the list of such potential buyers.

Meanwhile, the Suez front between Israel and Egypt continued as Israeli troops continued to withdraw from their enclave on the west bank of the Suez Canal. But Israeli and Syrian forces duelled Sunday for the second straight day.

Tonight Muhammad Ali and Joe Frazier finally get together in a 12 round re-match of their "Greatest Fight of the Century." I won't go into a long article on this epic confrontation as I am sure you have read and heard all you want to, and then some. I will simply say that you can view the fight on closed circuit TV at the Municipal Auditorium, and if I were you, I would be there. It might be the last time you will ever see one of the two greats, as the looser figures to hang 'em up after tonight, and no matter what you think of either as a person, they both figure to go down as two of the greatest fighters of all time.

I don't believe that ever before in history two men came along in the heavyweight division at the same approximate time with the ability of Ali and Frazier.

My pick in the fight is Frazier, the last time I went for Ali, but off of his Norton effort I have to figure Smokey Joe will be able to take him. But, Frazier is not the type to be upset by a setback; their first war took quite a bit from both, butters.

I look for Ali to take the opening rounds, the middle ones to be close and Joe to stop Ali in the 11th. If he doesn't Muhammad should take a narrow decision.

I will be there to report my observations and will write my findings in Tuesday's paper.

Back to Ahumada and Cassidy. Jorge is the man that came to this country with a "rod" but not outstanding record and has set the light heavy division on its collective ear. First he stopped T.N.T. Carroll (who had just held Mike Quarry to a draw), stopped Ray Anderson (one of the few fighters to last the distance in a title fight with Foster), dethroned Jose Gonzales (the most under rated light heavy in the world), stopped Bill Wagner (another one who had just fought a draw with Mike Q.) and in his last bout became the first fighter to ever score a clean KO over Andy Kendall.

Cassidy is an Irishman that has had his ups and downs throughout the years, but is currently riding high in the world rankings. His last big win was a three knock down job over world class light heavy Jimmy Dugree. Currently his mark is at 43-14 with 19 KO's, but he has shown a tendency to cut, something that Ahumada can shoot for.

Jorge has a 36-5-1 mark with 20 of those wins coming via the KO route.

Ahumada had better be able to fight a lefty if he hopes to come home with this win. Cassidy is an awkwardly clever fighter who can hit pretty good, especially with a straight left hand. Neither fighter can take an exceptional punch as many of their defeats have come before the final bell.

Another light heavy that still figures quite prominently in the title scene is Philadelphia's Richie Kates. On January 7, Kates might have put the end to the frustrating career of Jose Gonzales, by taking a one-sided decision from the New Yorker.

Born in Puerto Rico 34 years ago, Gonzales began appearing on nation wide TV back in 1960, with a win over former champion Issac I.ogat. Since that time his record reads like "Who's who of Boxing." He has stopped this same Bobby Cassidy, and former world slightheavyweight Vincente Rondon (before Rondon won the title), defeated former welterweight champ from Miami, Luis Rodriguez, dethroned current high ranking middleweight Billy Douglas, held the American Middleweight title, and is the only man to drop Ahumada here in the U.S. Other names on his record are Emile Griffith, Benny Briscoe, Dick Tiger and Miami's Florentino Fernandez. Despite all his wins and crowd pleasing style, Gonzales never once got a shot at a world crown.

I can't blame him for some of the bitterness that he has expressed in the past, for many not who as worthy have been given the opportunity that Jose deserved.

Word has reached me that Tony Licata will be getting $10,000 for his 12 rounder with former five times world welter and middleweight champ, Emile Griffith. The New Yorker, by the way of the Virgin Islands, is taking some $10,000 big ones and the bout is being billed as a fight for American and North American Middleweight Title. Griffith is currently a 8-5 favorite over the unbeaten Chinese-Italian for their February 5 bout in Boston.

I am going to go along with the home-town boy and pick Licata in a close verdict. This one should definitely go the distance as neither is really a great puncher.

Dane Bobick the heavyweight that got himself bombed out in the Olympics by Teofilo Stevenson in the biggest upset the U.S. suffered in the ring, will be seen down in Miami Beach, also on the fifth.

Bobick is currently on a bum-of-the-month tour and is signed to take on 240 pound plus, James Summerville. The giant James, was seen here early last year with Tommy Howard, but really is not much of a main event fighter.

Bobick should score another KO and I will pick him to win in four.

Malcom Tait once had a plan to bring in Bobick with Cyril Clark. It was Malcom's idea that if Clark could be gotten ready, he could stop the Olympian. I am sure that Dane would have taken the best as fighters with records like 10 losses, 10 times stopped, are the types that he has been meeting. Lately, I agree with "Mal", if Cyril could have caught him he would have knocked him out. But, the fight was never made, so we will never know if Clark could have pulled the upset of the decade. It's a shame he never got the chance.

Prognostications

Undeclared, Vinny Curto brought my record in pugilistic prognostications to 5-3-1 by winning a 10 round decision over Baby Boy Rolle in Miami Beach. The fight, the toughest one that the 18 year old has had to date, ended with Curto badly cut, but a clear winner over the light heavy right champion of the Bahamas.

John L. Johnson, who was seen here last year stopping Tommy Howard, finally got knocked off, dropping a six rounder after seven straight wins. His conqueror was James Scott, who looked sensational in his pro debut.

Over in Fort Worth, Leroy Caldwell and someone named Kid Hercules had their main event called off when only 83 people showed up. Caldwell can be remembered for his upset over James Helwig last year at the Sports Stadium.

From Lake Brantley Team Lyman Runners Establish World Mark

By JOHN CHERWA Herald Correspondent

At 4:40 p.m. Saturday afternoon Lyman cross country runner Tom Herron passed the 22 mile, 110 yard barrier to establish a new World's Record in the 10 man 24 hour run.

Ten Lyman cross county and track stars set out on Friday afternoon at 5:30 to establish the record in this unusual event. The mark was previously set by a similar group of runners from Seminole County school Lake Brantley, on May 21, 1973.

When the clock stopped at 5:30 p.m. Saturday the Lyman runners had totaled 234 miles, 1404 yards, a new global mark.

The rules of the event were simple. Ten runners were designated to run continually for 24 hours. If a runner feels he can't run anymore another runner may step in but his miles do not count toward the total.

Dennis Burns was the burners totaling 32 miles. Interestingly enough two hours prior to the start of the run Burns engaged in a Metro Conference soccer match.

Glenn Otto totaled 30 miles with Tom Herron getting 29. Jimmy Copeland accounted for 28 while Kenny Duncan had 26. Mark Bousquet gathered 25 and Bruce Caldwell 24. The remaining three runners were injured at one time or another during the marathon run.

James Mikell came down with severe leg cramps but still managed 18 miles. Mark Hawley accounted for 17 miles but was completely exhausted during the early morning hours. Mark Swearingen totaled only five miles before having to retire because of chest pains.

During that time 9 "filler" miles were run by Mark Reyes, Ronnie Duncan and Willie Smith. Herron turned in the fastest mile of 4:57.1 on the 18th mile. The group started out fast and the record looked like theirs but around 4 a.m. Saturday the pace slackened off and running became difficult. Coach David Huggins explained this was the most trying time of the event.

From that point the Hounds kept a near even pace until the record was broken and it was hard to find any volunteers to run. Burns ran the last five miles.

Coaches Huggins and Larry Baker said "this is something you do only once in your life and it is doubtful whether another Greyhound will ever try to top this feat."

"If anyone gets the record, they deserve it," said Huggins after the event.

Whether the record will be broken or not could be by Brantley cross country coach Mike Gibson who told the Herald he will try to look for ten runners to take the record back to the Forest City school.

Hound Tenacity Pays With Win Over Oviedo

LONGWOOD — Super defense on the part of the Lyman Greyhounds took the charge out of Oviedo's "lightning war" as the Lyman team won the 1973-74 season.

Leon Cobb and Glenn Patterson for most of the second half giving the Hounds an upset 43-32 win, Saturday night.

Playing their normal style of Lyman basket ball, the Greyhounds scored, then Cobb, then it was matched by Eddie Brody. Cobb on two from the line, followed by another Cobb bucket. Robbie McCall got one from the line for the nine points.

Glenn Patterson picked up the first Lyman bucket but he was forced the Lions out of their fast break type offense with blanket coverage of Oviedo stars Leon Cobb and Glenn Patterson.

Before a shot Cobb has a tendency to dribble once and the Hounds closed in on him. Friday night against Gainesville Buchholz Cobb scored 31 points but could only manage 12 against Lyman.

Oviedo's other gun, Patterson, found himself in early foul trouble as Lyman took advantage of their knowledge about the Oviedo cager. Patterson likes to drive whenever possible and the Hounds used that fact to draw charging fouls. Patterson dropped to 10 points.

Returning to action this weekend was Lyman's Randy Wright. The 6'6" senior gave the Hounds needed height and added another offensive weapon.

Wright scored seven buckets and went two of six from the line for 16 points. Glidus had three buckets for six points. Against Gainesville, Oviedo cut through their press but found the Greyhound press trouble. The Lions were fighting the 10 second clock most of the evening.

Oviedo struck like lightning in the opening minutes and it looked like win number 11 would be easy. It was 9-0 before the Hounds scored. Patterson scored, then Cobb, then it was Cobb on two from the line, followed by another Cobb bucket. Robbie McCall got one from the line for the nine points.

Uclans Topple Irish, 94-75

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Keith Wilkes told everyone "it was just another game," but the UCLA senior admitted later that the Bruins' 94-75 victory over Notre Dame meant quite a bit more.

"This wasn't another game because they were the team that beat us," Wilkes said, and the Bruins played the Fighting Irish.

Whipped on by a boisterous crowd of 12,674 at Pauley Pavilion, where the Bruins now have won 60 straight games, Wilkes, Bill Walton and freshman Marques Johnson, making his first start, led the assault as UCLA averaged their only defeat in their last 91 games, the 71-70 victory by Notre Dame, and the UCLA senior admitted later that the Bruins' 94-75 victory over Notre Dame meant quite a bit more.

The Irish, 13-1, lost a 12-game winning streak after breaking UCLA's all-time skein of 88, and the No. 1 national ranking undoubtedly will return to the 15-1 team of Coach John Wooden, whose club seeks an eighth consecutive national championship.

Although they lost by one at Notre Dame, the Bruins were still 16-point favorites in the rematch. UCLA lost an 11-point lead in the last 3 1/2 minutes in the defeat, but there was no way they would blow a 26-point cushion when Walton fouled out with 5:39 to play.

The two-time college player of the year had 23 points, 11 rebounds and 7 assists when he got his fifth foul. He flashed the victory sign to his bench and trotted off to the locker room to have his knees, bothered by tendonitis, receive customary ice treatment.

Wooden said his Bruins are No. 1 and he got no argument from Digger Phelps, the Notre Dame coach who noted: "Walton is super, a super player. He really turned it on. They were ready to play because they lost last week, that as Wooden had said he would stick to his usual lineup, even after Marques scored 20 points in relief against Santa Clara Friday night.

No freshman had started for Wooden in 22 years. Wilkes scored 18 of his 20 in the first half, when UCLA played a 16-point lead at one point, and Johnson came out shooting to hit 14 of his 16 shots after intermission.

John Shumate, Notre Dame's 6-9 center, had 25 points but only five rebounds. He said the key to defeat was the third foul whistled against forward Arlando Dantley in the first half, which made Shumate work the boards with little help.

Crimmins' 36 Points Blasts Howey, 91-76

Bouncing back from losing to Taylor Pearson Friday night, a loss which snapped a four-game winning streak, Trinity Prep defeated Howey Academy Saturday night, 91-76.

Fal Crimmins from Sanford, who in his last three ball games has been scoring below his 20 point per game average, exploded for 36 points. The win brought Trinity to 11-4 so far this season, while the Howey Hawks dipped to 5-10.

Crimmins, showing he could score from anywhere on the floor, hit consistently from the thirty feet out and spearheaded an effective fast break. Doug Dyon and John Kerbs added scoring support hitting fourteen points apiece. Dyon scoring from outside and Kerbs playing tough under the boards.

The Saints used the torrid scoring pace of Crimmins to open up a huge 20-13 first period bulge and added another 27 points during the second half to take complete control of the game 57-34.

Brothers John and Rick Lapp, who share duties with Kerbs as boardmen for the Saints, turned in sound performances underneath. Jim Nussbaum, a fiery six-footer and Ray Parsons, continued to show improvement as ballhandlers. The Saints began to put some much needed playing time under their belts for the all important stretch drive coming up next month.

Trinity can still get into the district play-offs but will have more games like Saturday night's whipping of the Hawks to boost them to a tournament berth.

In Friday night's contest against Taylor Pearson it was not to be denied. Lapp and Parkham that spurred a peppy

Pearson five to an upset over the Saints. The Saints possibly looking ahead to Howey were stopped by the team they had beaten earlier this season having taken their first loss in five games.

Laver Tops Ashe
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — You have to admire Arthur Ashe's optimism. He elected to receive first against Australia's Rod Laver in Sunday's final of the $100,000 U.S. Professional Tennis Tournament. That's like kicking off to the Miami Dolphins.

"I always elect to receive," said Ashe. "It gives me the extra serve in a tie breaker."

Yeah, Arthur, but first you have to get to a tie breaker.

The 35-year-old Laver served three quick aces in the first game of the first set and went on to beat Ashe 6-1, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, to earn the $100,000 first prize. Ashe consoled himself with $7,000.

Ashe remarked Saturday after reaching the finals of the initial 1974 World Championship Tennis (WCT) competition that he felt he knew how to beat Laver, but was concerned he had the skills to carry out his game plan.

Yarborough Beats Petty
RIVERSIDE, Calif. — Cale Yarborough head of Richard Petty in a final stretch battle to win the $107,000 Winston Western 500-mile stock car race.

Connors Loses Final
OMAHA, Neb. — Earl Miller of West Germany won the Midlands International Tennis Tournament with a 6-3, 1-6, 6-1 win over Jimmy Connors of Los Angeles.

Nichols Gets Win

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "As you get older," Bobby Nichols said, "The wins feel even better than before. But they come harder; a lot, lot harder."

The big guy, 37-year-old former national PGA champion and now the club pro at Akron's Firestone Country Club, escaped with a victory he didn't expect Sunday when gritty little Rod Curli missed a 10-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole of the $170,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

"I'm surprised to win," Nichols said. "I really didn't expect to. I figured he'd make that putt. I was never really confident about it."

Liquori Another Chance
Marty Liquori gets another shot at the latest mile sensation — "Country Boy" Tony Waldrop — while strongman George Woods takes a well earned rest tonight as the indoor track circuit moves to Philadelphia.

Lightning one of five sub-6-minute mile entries in tonight's mile at the Philadelphia Track Classic, lost for the first time in Madison Square Garden Friday night when Waldrop, a 22-year-old North Carolinian, captured the feature event at the Wanamaker Millrose Games.

Event Over B.J. King
MISSION VIEJO, Calif. — Chris Evert scored an easy 6-3, 6-1 victory over Billie Jean King to win the Mission Viejo women's tennis tournament and collect the first prize of $10,000.

Grapplers Score Over Satellite

By JOHN CHERWA Herald Correspondent

LONGWOOD — Thoughts of a district championship loom bigger and bigger in the eyes of the Lyman wrestling team as they topped highly rated Satellite Beach Saturday 38-8 bringing their 11th win without a loss.

The Satellite Scorpions along with Cocoa are the top teams in the prestigious Coast Conference and the Lyman grapplers had an easy time with the east coast squad.

Before the season started Head Coach Bill Scott said the team would have three major tests before district, Merritt Island, Satellite Beach and Cocoa. Thus far the Graysounds have had no problem with the first two with the match with Cocoa on the horizon.

As with most matches the Hounds start on the winning foot with Armando Parys leading off at 100 lbs.

Parys scored a takedown and near fall in the first period, a reversal in the second and a near fall in the third for his 20-0 victory. The final buzzer with a reversal.

John Shumate, Notre Dame's 6-9 center, had 25 points but only five rebounds. He said the key to defeat was the third foul whistled against forward Arlando Dantley in the first half, which made Shumate work the boards with little help.

Paul Richards continued the Lyman winning ways in what had to be his toughest match of the year. Richards took the early lead with a takedown in the opening frame. The second period had both Richards and Scorpion Mike Turowski score on reversals.

Tonight the Lyman team returns to Metro Conference competition with a battle against Winter Park. The match will start in the area of 6:30. Both varsity and jayvee lineup should be the same as Saturday's match.

Bowling 'Explosion' Paces Pats Over SNA

Lake Brantley swept a pair of basketball games from out-classed Sanford Naval Academy Saturday night, topping the Blue Jackets 70-56 in varsity action after taking JV opener 48-28.

Junior player maker Ray Bowling led the Brantley Attack to its ninth win in 17 contests with 26 points, with three other Patriots hitting the double figure mark.

Each member entered in the doubles event must also enter in the singles competition and visa versa. Those entering singles must also enter the doubles match.

Steve Hargis reached his scoring average of last season with 17 points for runner-up honors among the Pats, while Penn State will begin basketball relations with Ohio University when the Bobcats visit the Nittany Lions on Feb. 28. The teams also will meet Ohio State, Dec. 8 at Columbus.

Anthony Collins, who is sharing the role of inside man with Dave Nelson, came up with 15 points, one of his best performances ever and Toby Strober, who replaced former Brantley player Marcus Riviera, came up with 11 points.

Rick Van Antwerp's 10 points for the Middies and Vince Werl's eight were the only other middies beside Woodall who had a chance at the double-digit mark.

SNA found only one man who could score against the Brantley Buck, Sophomore Mike Woodall, who cut the cords for 20 markers.

DETROIT BATTERED, BEATEN BUT UNBOWED IN CHICAGO

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Pistons were battered and beaten Sunday — but unbowed.

In a National Basketball Association game marred by 65 foul calls, five technicals and the ejection of Detroit Coach Ray Scott after a confrontation with referee Bob Rinkel, the Pistons were beaten by the Chicago Bulls 109-91.

"Nothing will ever change in Chicago for us," declared Scott, whose team was playing its third game of the weekend. The Pistons beat Houston Friday night and Seattle Saturday night.

"The situation always has been lousy, and I will be the most surprised person in the world if something will happen," Scott said. "Our team comes here real loose and then it gets the book thrown at it for trying to play the game."

The Bulls, leading 85-81 early in the fourth quarter, outscored Detroit 16-1 in the next six minutes to break the game open.

The loss left Detroit 14 games behind Chicago in their battle for second place in the Midwest Division.

Scott was tagged with two technicals and ejected in the second quarter following a violent confrontation in which he tried to attack referee Rinkel. Coach Dick Motta of the Bulls was assessed one technical, as were players Norm Van Lier of the Bulls and Bob Lanier of the Pistons.

Suns 127, Bullets 107
Keith Erickson, acquired from Los Angeles in a pre-season trade for Connie Hawkins, scored a season-high 28 points and grabbed 10 rebounds for Phoenix.
