

The Sanford Herald

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

VOLUME XXIII

Member Associated Press

SANFORD, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 1932

Five Cents A Copy

NUMBER 149

DAWES WARNS AGAINST BONUS FOR SOLDIERS

Says Payment Would Have Disastrous Effect Upon Nation's Monetary System

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Charles Dawes today warned the House Ways and Means Committee that payment of the soldiers' bonus in new currency would have a disastrous effect upon the country's monetary and credit systems.

The head of the Reconstruction Corporation related that his organization lent $243,000,000 to 1600 banks up to April 1 and said the (twelve withdraws) of bank deposits in the United States had stopped 10 percent.

A check in appropriations for the Treasury Department was opposed by Secretary Mills on the ground that such a procedure is "not business like" and "may not even be economy." Mills made his views known in a letter to the Senate committee in charge of the Treasury Department appropriations bill as the House Economy Committee renewed efforts to complete the program by which $200,000,000 can be saved next year in government expenditures.

Mills recommended the enactment of President Hoover's proposal for a five-day week for permanent employees and a month's furlough without pay for employees on an annual basis.

House leaders fighting the cash bonus movement yesterday looked favorably toward a large slash in veterans loan charges as a possible substitute for the $2,000,000 cutout.

This plan contemplates restoration of the maximum value of the maturity values of bonus certificates whittled away by unpaid interest on loans. It is receiving prominent attention in cloak room gossip.

Representative Hawley of Oregon, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee which now is considering the bonus issue, said he favors amendment of the interest requirements though he is not fully determined on the exact course to follow.

Each opposition witness has favored such a change. Some prefer complete retrospective repeal of the four and one-half percent charged veterans on their certificate loans. Others favor reduction of this interest figure to the lowest rate paid by the government for money.

"The bonus advocates argue that the interest will eat up the value of the certificates by the 1945 maturity date," Hawley said. "Some action might be taken to prevent this."

The effect of such a plan will be learned from Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator, who—with Charles G. Dawes, head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—will open official administration testimony against the bonus.

Representative Palman, Democrat, Texas, submitted immediately such legislation would not be an acceptable substitute for full payment.

"It would not give us the currency regulation we need but would cost the government $60,000,000 a year," he said.

The committee meanwhile heard two more veterans assail the bonus payment. They were Col. Benjamin F. Castle and Capt. Knowlton Durham, both of New York.

"We believe the veterans are badly led," Castle said. "I don't mean with their organizations. I mean by a lot of self-appointed political leaders who promise to lead them into the lush fields of the treasury."

"Why was it that just after the American Legion convention voted down the full bonus payment, a number of Congressmen announced immediately that he would introduce a bill for such payment?"

Durham contended Congress never intended to pass a cash payment before 1933. Both Castle and Durham said they belonged to the veterans committee for reducing the cost of living and formerly were affiliated with the service men's anti-bonus league. Palman issued a statement later saying this league had been financed largely by Andrew W. Mellon.

WEST PALM BEACH—Sunshine Laundry and Cleaning Co., capitalized at $50,000, granted charter.

Georgians Come To Pay Harris Tribute

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—Georgians came from the hill country and lowlands today to pay tribute to Senator William Harris and escort his body to its final rest. The village is in mourning for the illustrious son and the mayor proclaimed all business closed during the services. Governor Russell headed the visiting Georgians who included virtually all state and house officials.

COUPLE IS FOUND SLAIN FOLLOWING VIOLENT SCUFFLE

Murder Spot Marked By Envelope Bearing Victim's Name

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—The murder spot marked by an envelope bearing one victim's name and address, an estranged father and husband was found slain yesterday in Garden City Park, the envelope attached to a stick a few inches from his head.

Richard Whitney, president of the Senate Banking Committee swooped down in New York's financial district and handed subpoenas to some of the biggest firms in the Stock Exchange. Their names were selected from the list of 24,000 short accounts submitted to the committee last week by the "commodities trust" by

Richard Whitney, president of the Exchange.

Issuance of the subpoenas marked a new turn in the committee's investigation of administrative charges of bear raiding to depress the market.

The brokers were called because of a belief that many of the large short accounts listed through their firms in the list furnished the committee were under fictitious names. William A. Gray, the com-

(Continued on Page Three)

River Association Stages Meeting In Ocala Wednesday

The St. Johns River Improvement Association, at present agitating the construction of a St. Johns River canal near here, will soon ask the Seminole County Commissioners to include the sum of $500 in their budget for 1932, the money to be used to pay this monthly meeting of the Association, function for the employment of engineers who will collect all available data on the proposed route, and present it to Congress.

Several hours after the bodies were found by K. L. Hubert, also known, according to his automobile, Brinker's coupe was found abandoned in Haynes. There were bloodstains on the seat.

Police found Brinker's divorced wife, Ruth, and their seven-year-old daughter, Dorothy, in their Brooklyn home. Mrs. Brinker disclosed she had been separated from Brinker since 1926. She had not seen him for three months, she said, but at that time he told her, "a certain girl first two shots at me."

Bronx police said Mrs. Brinker could give little information. She disclaimed knowledge of the "certain girl's" identity or her motive in slaying her husband. Mrs. Brinker was taken to Minetta for further questioning.

This action was taken at the monthly meeting of the Association, held at 10 a.m. yesterday morning, and attended by H. M. Paterson, Karl Lehmann, R. L. Haines, J. H. Haines, Webster, Haines and Fred T. Williams, of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The Jacksonville engineering firm of Hillis and Youngberg, recommended by civil engineers in this section, including Mr. Williams, had been engaged to make the survey. At yesterday's meeting the firm announced that the total cost of the survey will not exceed $6000. The Association voted to apportion this cost among the counties immediately affected, and Seminole County's share was announced as $500.

Important among the matters disposed of at the meeting was the passage of a resolution calling upon all chambers of commerce, city and county commissions, civic clubs, large industrial and manufacturing houses, and business firms in Central Florida to protest against the proposed elimination of the 71 beacon lights along the St. Johns River from Jacksonville to Sanford.

The district attorney declined to advance a motive for the killing. Jealousy was suggested and Edwards confided an interest in the removal of the ring.

The district attorney declined to advance a motive for the killing. Jealousy was suggested and Edwards confided an interest in the removal of the ring.

Another woman who called herself Mrs. Josephine Brinker was questioned by District Attorney Edwards who said she had less to do with Brinker but had a business named Tillotson in California.

The district attorney declined to advance a motive for the killing. Jealousy was suggested and Edwards confided an interest in the removal of the ring.

"It would not give us the currency regulation we need but would cost the government $60,000 a year," he said.

The committee meanwhile heard two more veterans assail the bonus payment. They were Col. Benjamin F. Castle and Capt. Knowlton Durham, both of New York.

"We believe the veterans are badly led," Castle said. "I don't mean with their organizations. I mean by a lot of self-appointed political leaders who promise to lead them into the lush fields of the treasury."

"Why was it that just after the American Legion convention voted down the full bonus payment, a number of Congressmen announced immediately that he would introduce a bill for such payment?"

Durham contended Congress never intended to pass a cash payment before 1933. Both Castle and Durham said they belonged to the veterans committee for reducing the cost of living and formerly were affiliated with the service men's anti-bonus league. Palman issued a statement later saying this league had been financed largely by Andrew W. Mellon.

WEST PALM BEACH—Sunshine Laundry and Cleaning Co., capitalized at $50,000, granted charter.

GRESHAMVIEW—Local post office may obtain new equipment.

BEAR HUNTERS CALL ON MANY TO FACE PROBE

Subpoenas Are Issued For Some Of Largest Firms Dealing On Stock Exchange

WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—In a sudden and dramatic series on Wall Street, the Senate bear hunters yesterday served subpoenas on a score of New York brokers directing them to appear today for investigation of their short selling accounts.

Without warning, agents of the Senate Banking Committee swooped down in New York's financial district and handed subpoenas to some of the biggest firms in the Stock Exchange. Their names were selected from the list of 24,000 short accounts submitted to the committee last week by the "commodities trust" by

Richard Whitney, president of the Exchange.

Issuance of the subpoenas marked a new turn in the committee's investigation of administrative charges of bear raiding to depress the market.

The brokers were called because of a belief that many of the large short accounts listed through their firms in the list furnished the committee were under fictitious names. William A. Gray, the com-

(Continued on Page Three)

Three Days Will Be Set Aside For Sanford Youth During National Affair

Three Days Will Be Set Aside For Sanford Youth During National Affair

Three days during the week of April 30-May 3 will be set aside for the boys of this county, according to G. E. McKay, heading a group of men now completing plans for the county's observance of National Boys' Week. T. W. Lawton is vice-chairman of the committee on details.

Boys' Day in Churches, Sunday, May 1, will find the Sanford Ministerial Association co-operating to the fullest extent, offering special services intended to develop the spiritual and moral side of the boys, he said.

Boys' Day in Industry, Monday, May 2, will be observed in inspection tours of Seminole County's leading industrial plants. E. O. Shinholser is chairman of a group of men who will lead boys of the junior and senior schools of the county through the following plants—the mechanical and car shops of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad; the telephone exchange; the Florida Power and Light Co. plant; Sutton's Wash. House; Mountain Ice Co. plant; Shinholser and Zachary Trade mills; Brown Paper Co.; Seminole Ice Cream plant; Old Fibre Brush Co. plant; and various printing plants and newspaper offices.

Boys' Day Out of Doors, Saturday, May 3, will conclude the week, and will begin with a street parade at 10:00 o'clock in the morning, an event scheduled to be the most unique ever seen here.

Included in the parade will be the Sanford Jumbo Antlers Band, making its first public appearance; Boy Scouts from Sanford, Orlando, Deland and Eustis, in uniform; a section devoted to pets of every description, with Dr. T. W. Baker planning each display; a boy's

(Continued on Page Three)

DRY CANDIDATE TAXPAYER WAR ON WET PLANK IS IN CHICAGO ENDS NOT ACCEPTABLE WITH COURT ACT

Prohibitionists "Can't Trust Sincerity Of Such A Candidate"

Restoration Of City's Financial Credit Is Possible By Decision

CHICAGO, Apr. 21.—(A.P.)—A strike of taxpayers in Chicago was ended yesterday by a ruling of the state supreme court yesterday, held President Hoover will direct the Treasury to spend all the money available to him in the past few years in politics, particularly in the 1930 elections, to carry out his program of cutting 10 percent cuts in all appropriation bills.

After the trial of the 1930 election, the House and Senate agreed to a budget of $100,000,000.

Both chambers of Congress, however, insisted on a budget of $100,000,000.

Hoover's budget was accepted by the Senate.

Social And Personal Activities

MISS MARGARET REEDER, Society Editor

Office Telephone 145.

Social Calendar

THURSDAY

Seminole Chapter Number Two Order of the Eastern Star will have its regular meeting at 10:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall, Grand Chapter reports will be given.

FRIDAY

Special meeting of the Sarah Fisher Methodist Orphanage Club will be held at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. D. Parker, Myrtle Avenue.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at 3:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. M. McClelland, French Avenue.

The East Side School play, "The Flower Festival," will be given at 8:00 o'clock at the Junior High School auditorium. The public is invited.

The N. da V. Howard Chapter of the U. D. O. will meet at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Miller, Palmetto Avenue.

Regular meeting of Seminole Rebekah Lodge Number Twenty three will be held at 8:00 o'clock at the Odd Fellows' Hall.

MONDAY

The regular business and social meeting of the Truth Sociaus Class of the First Methodist Church will be held at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. P. Crenshaw, 1312 East Seventh Street, with Mrs. Crenshaw, Mrs. W. M. McElroy, Mrs. W. E. Fields, Mrs. W. A. Barnes, and Mrs. F. E. Mitchell as hostesses.

"The Runaround" Will Be At Milano Friday

It's perfectly true that the man doesn't live who knows all about women.

It is just as true that, though women probably know men better than men know them, the women doesn't live who knows all about men.

Now, how to catch them.

And in that fact lies the value for women, of Radio Pictures' comedy-drama success, "The Runaround," featuring Geoffrey Kerr and Mary Brian at the Milano theater Friday.

Together with the story is given a revelation of all the little tricks of the man-managing profession which the weaker sex simply cannot afford to miss.

In this wholesome but ultra sophisticated story, is the opportunity to learn how a Broadway beauty not only lands millionaires who want everything except marriage, but also makes them like it.

Kerr, as an English fellow of wealth, aspires to a cozy love nest without benefit of clergy, but instead he lands on the bark of plain old matrimony. He doesn't even turn out to be the captain. He merely becomes the mate.

All that, together with colorful slants of New York night life, Gotham cabarets and the follies of the pleasure, acquire, the scintillating and surprising performance of Kerr, fresh from the New York stage; the entirely new style of Mary Brian, the bewigged comedy of Joseph Cotten and of John Wayne, magnified and abetted by Marie Dressler, make "The Runaround" more than worth while.

Mrs. Byrd Hostess At Party Honoring Bride

With Mrs. Jack Smalley, a bride who has recently moved here, as honor guest, Mrs. Clyde A. Byrd entertained with a bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home on Melville Avenue with the members of the Pine Sours Club and a number of other guests in attendance. Mrs. Smalley received a potted plant as a memento of the occasion.

After several impressions of bridge, high score prize for the guests, a Refreshing House, while Mrs. Edward McNeil, who had high score among the club members, received a large gift basket.

Soap, dyes, carnations and suds were sprigged in vases and hung about the room where the guests were entertained. At the tea hour, a salad course and coffee were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Rogers, Mrs. G. Bennett, McCall, Mrs. Hugh G. Whelchel, and Mrs. A. W. Lee, Jr.

These presenters were: Mrs. Jack Smalley, house supper, Mrs. William E. Williams, Mrs. L. F. McDonald, Jr., Mrs. Jack McDonald, Mrs. Peter Schaefer, Mrs. Edmund McNeil, Mrs. B. B. Rogers, Mrs. A. W. Lee, Jr., Mrs. Ray G. Fox, Mrs. Lee Conover, Mrs. Charles L. Park, Mrs. Hugh C. Whelchel, and the Misses Julie Higgins, B. E. Griffin, Martha Lane, of North Carolina, Mrs. Buford Powell and Beatrice Howell.

THAW'S NEW BUST

WESTWOOD, Mass., April 21.—Robert E. Thaw, Jr., 28, a nephew of Harry E. Thaw, was informed yesterday morning that two other young men suffered minor injuries in a crash of their airplane near the Westwood airport. Police said they had been flying and that the engine went dead while the plane was in a dive.

Eastern Star Group Meets On Wednesday

With over 200 guests in attendance, the members of Seminole Chapter Number Two, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained with a tea yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club from 4:00 o'clock to 6:00 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Glenn E. McKay, who was recently elected worthy grand matron of the grand chapter of Florida. Q. E. M. Guests were members of the Sanford Woman's Club and other special guests.

As the guests arrived they were introduced to the receiving line composed of Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, worthy matron; Mrs. McKay, Mrs. W. T. Langley, president of the Woman's Club; Mrs. R. F. Crenshaw, executive matron; Mrs. H. F. West, Mrs. G. W. Bailey, Mrs. J. D. Parker, and Mrs. Sybil Heath.

Other past matrons who assisted in receiving the guests were Mrs. Eugene Higgins, Mrs. H. W. Turner, and Mrs. E. N. Scott.

Mrs. McKay wore for the occasion an afternoon gown of white angel skin lace fashioned along simple lines with a long flowing skirt. Completing the outfit was a short jacket of the same material which had short sleeves.

The two long tea tables placed in the large club auditorium were adorned with lace cloths and decorated with silver baskets of pink radiance roses. Lighted candles in silver holders cast a soft glow about the room. The following past presidents of the Woman's Club presided at the tables: Mrs. John G. Leesman, president of the Order of the Red Rose, Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. B. E. Tolan, Mrs. E. A. Douglas, Mrs. John McLean, and Mrs. H. M. Papworth.

Refreshments were served by the Misses Billie Wright, Sarah Maye, Chloe Roach, Mary Nichols, Hazel Harvey, Elizabeth Mathis, Pauline Crawford, Marlene Turnquist, Marjorie Haynes, Martha McDonald, Frances Johnson, and Mary Maxwell. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Seminole Orchestra, composed of high school students.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Katherine Adams, Mrs. Minnie Baggett, and Mrs. Mae Robinson, of Orlando; Mrs. Ulla Clinton, grand organist, Mrs. Dohn, Mrs. E. H. Eamer, Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Matthews, Mrs. J. E. Morris, Mrs. W. R. McDaniel, and Mrs. Z. B. Mathis, of New Smyrna; Mrs. Mae T. Donovan, past worthy grand matron, Mrs. Martha H. Carter, past worthy grand matron, and grand secretary; Mrs. Edith Horne, Mrs. Anna Gray, Mrs. Florence Milne, Mrs. Myrtle E. Smith, Mrs. Lisa Landers, Mrs. Theburn, Mrs. Myrtle Hartzel, of Daytona Beach; Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Winona Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Christopher, Deland; Mrs. Ruthlyn Cole, of Topeka, Kan.; Mrs. J. H. Teague, of Laurens, N. C., and Mrs. Tuck, of floral City.

County on the way to a normal condition," said Mayor Carmack. "Now the balance of the 1928, 1929 and 1930 taxes are payable. This will place Chicago in a position to pay its obligations."

County Tax Attorney Bell said the court's action was a "necessary forerunner to the re-establishment of the public credit of this community."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed alike. Attorneys for the plaintiff contended that there was $10,000,000,000 of taxable personal property in Cook county but that only $100,000,000 of it was placed on the books.

Asked what their course would be in the event that a "doubtful plan" was adopted and President Roosevelt should accept it, he pointed to a copy of the resolution and said "he would have to take the consequences."

The supreme court, hastening its order at the request of the state legislature, did not give its formal opinion yesterday. In a recent Illinois decision, which held the 1930 roll valid, the high court ruled that a court of equity might issue a writ of mandamus to force assessing officers to correct fraud, but such a court could not invalidate an entire tax assessment roll.

The case centered on the contention of real estate owners that personal property was not being assessed according to Illinois law which says all property must be taxed