PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Charles E. Knapp, alleged bond swindler was in the hands of police today, but all but a fraction of the $320,000 charged with stealing, still was missing.

Sought for nearly a week after his disappearance, supposedly with the money, nearly a third of his funds of the closed Brotherhood Savings and Trust Company, Knapp was arrested, with his wife, in a cabin in a wild, mountainous section of Fayette county last night. In his possession was found less than $600. He was brought here, and questioned for several hours but stoutly maintained he did not know where the balance of the money was.

Early today police said, Knapp declared the money had been taken from his car at pistol point by a man "named Russe," introduced to him as a Chicagoan.

Eight New Witnesses Called From Indiana to Appear in Chicago Senate Inquiry

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—More disclosures regarding political activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana were made today by the Senate campaign fund committee.

Walter F. Bossert, of Indianapolis, former grand dragon in Indiana, said he got information that unless he had changed his policy of refusing to support Klan approved candidates for political office he would be removed.

Bossert said he heard about his prospective removal from "so many politicians in Indiana," he could not remember all the sources.

The witness told Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, the committee chairman, that it was he who introduced Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to William F. Zumburn, an official of the Ku Klux Klan.

J. H. Fox of Eustis is wanted for swindling, according to circulars received here by police authorities. Fox visited Sanford and other cities of Central Florida and represented himself as an authorized representative of the American Railway Journal and obtained renewals of advertising from local merchants.

Fox is charged in the circular with fraudulently using the name of R. A. Edwards, grand lodge officer of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, in order to secure the endorsement of local railroad men. With this endorsement he solicited advertisements from local merchants and collected the money. He is also said to have stolen a Studebaker automobile.

With Fox is A. D. Amersutz, who is said to have deserted his wife and child at Glendale, Calif. Fox also is married.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP) Political activities of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana were described in part by Hugh P. Emmons, of Southland, former exalted cyclops, who was the subject of further inquiry today by the Senate campaign funds committee.

Questioned for more than three hours yesterday by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, the committee chairman, that it was he who introduced Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to William F. Zumburn, an official of the Ku Klux Klan.

In the beginning his recital Emmons quoted Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, as saying the Klan owed a debt to Senator Watson because of his assistance in the securing of Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas.

"I always figured he had too much sense after having been a member a year myself," the witness said.

The cyclops testified that Evans had told him that if Watson became president he would name as ambassador to William Zumburn, now of Washington, but formerly of Kansas City.

EUGENE V. DEBS PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Socialist Leader Dies After Being in Coma Since Last Friday; Heart Failure Said To Be Immediate Cause

Five Times Head Of Socialist Ticket

Convicted and Served Prison Term on Charge of Ob- structing Draft During War

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Eugene Debs is dead. The indomitable will that carried the veteran socialist leader through a turbulent career including a term in prison for obstructing the draft, broke last night under the flood of years and the strain of heart disease from which he had suffered for 25 years.

Nearing his 71st birthday, the five times nominee of the Socialist party for the presidency, died peacefully in a suburban sanitarium, surrounded by the immediate members of his families and leading representatives of the party.

Debs sank into coma last Saturday, coming out of that strange halfway place between life and death only a few minutes Sunday, during which he motioned for his wife for a pencil and in a feeble scrawl scratched out W. E. Henley's famous poem, "Invictus," ending with the lines "I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul." Friends explained that the verse, written by the English author in a hospital, was his life long source of inspiration.

Funeral services will be held at Terre Haute, Indiana, his birthplace, Friday or Saturday, after which the body will be taken to Indianapolis for cremation. The Terre Haute services probably will be public.

Debs suffered a nervous breakdown a month ago and was brought to an Elmhurst sanitarium for rest and treatment. His advanced years and the heart disease he had been forced to fight of virtually throughout his mature life left him with little resistance, and kidney disease adding its complication several weeks ago, tipped the scales completely against him.

Debs was a patient at the same sanitarium in 1922 and his friends recalled the comment he made on his condition at that time: "The newspapermen have to keep pace with modern times. There is a rush about news-gathering that we never had before. For example, I appreciate my own unimportance, but when the report was given out that I was ill, the Associated Press sent a representative to find out my exact condition. I suppose they have my obituary already written, but I'm going to prevent its publication as long as possible."

Born in Terre Haute, November 5, 1855, of a family in modest circumstances, Debs' long career included the presidency of the American Railway Union, during which he won a strike on the Great Northern Railway, and lost another when President Cleveland called out troops to guard trains. He was presidential candidate of the Socialist party, publisher of a Socialist newspaper and frequently spoke as Socialist.

KEY WEST ISLAND ESCAPES CENTER OF THE BIG STORM

Monument To U. S. Sailors Maine Disaster Said to Be Wrecked

No Americans On Long Death

Damage to Property May Reach Sum of Thirty Millions

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Bright weather allaying fear of the populace that the West Indian hurricane which yesterday swept Havana and Western Cuba, and hammered at Key West might strike the lower Florida mainland with full fury, efforts were directed early today to communicate with the Bahama Islands in the vicinity of which the storm center was reported to be passing.

While the lower east coast suffered gales and driving rains last night, reports brought here from the storm area indicated that no great damage was done in Miami and other towns and communities in the path of the winds. Key West was said to have escaped the center of the tropical storm which took a known death toll of thirty and about three hundred injured in Cuba. Aside from uprooted trees and other minor damage the island suffered little material damage from a wind that at times reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour.

However, wire communications into the storm area remained virtually paralyzed and it will be several hours before a complete check of the gale's damage can be made.

Extensive preparations for any eventuality is believed to have in large measure prevented damage and suffering. One man is known to have been killed in Miami. A pedestrian succumbed to injuries received when hit by a falling sign 55' high early last night. Hard as it is in Miami and other communities visited by the terrific hurricane of September, emergency relief measures, taken yesterday after warning of the storm's approach, remained in force throughout most of the night and were dropped only after rising barometers and weather bureau assurances early today convinced officials that the hurricane was passing out to sea.

Radio stations up until 9 o'clock this morning had been endeavoring to communicate with Nassau, capital of the Bahamas.

No success was reported, but operators remained on duty hoping to receive news of how the British possessions fared.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Railroad service between Key West and Miami was to have been resumed at 9 o'clock this morning, local Florida East Coast Railroad officials stated. Train No. 70, which was scheduled to leave Key West at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, was delayed when 1,000 feet of track near Woodall were washed out. The regular work was completed during the night. Rail service northward from Miami was not impaired. A special train to take the place of the Key West train was made up at Miami as soon as work that the northbound train was delayed.

SANFORD POINTS BIG TEN TEAMS TO SATURDAY'S MAKE READY FOR ST. CLOUD BATTLE FEATURE GAMES

Every Member of Squad Follows Saturday's Tilt With Orlando Here; Morale is Much Improved

(By BILL DUBOSE)

Sanford High engaged in the first football practice session since the Orlando game yesterday afternoon. Monday's practice was called off because of an inter-class game. None of the men have been reported on the injury list after the hard game with Orlando. Although badly defeated by Orlando the team showed a marked improvement. The team was in much better shape for the Orlando game than for the Palatka game the week before. With the continued improvement that the team has shown and with the valuable experience that the line, which at the beginning of the season was entirely green, has had in the three games that have been played Sanford high is expected to take all of the games that remain to be played without a great deal of trouble.

Daytona Beach is the only game that is being feared by the local gridder and this game should not prove to be as hard as the last two games and the team has almost a month to prepare for the close which is to be played in Daytona Beach on Armistice Day. Stiff practice sessions are to be held all of this week and a great deal of attention is going to be paid to the aerial game which is improving each week. In the game with Orlando several passes were completed for short gains. Sanford High has two good men to pass in Maxwell and Mobley while Captain Thompson, Stoinoff and Higgins have shown themselves to be adept in snaring the ball out of the air. Both Captain Thompson and Stoinoff grabbed several passes from the air when it looked as if they would be either intercepted or broken up.

Higgins who has been a candidate for one of the backfield berths all season was sent in for Entzinger at end during the last of the Orlando game and he played a fine game. He is going to make some work hard to keep him from becoming a regular as he is showing lots of ability. He can run with the ball, pass, kick and is also a good man on the defense. This is his first year at football and he has another year at school after this year and it is certain that next year he will be one of the best men on the squad. Stodesbery, who is also playing his first year for Sanford High, proved that he was a great little ball carrier in the game Saturday when he gained more yardage than any other individual on either team. He has three more years after this one and it looks as if he will be all-state material before he finishes school.

Next Saturday the local gridder will journey to St. Cloud for a game with St. Cloud High. This game while not expected to be one of the hardest will undoubtedly prove a stiff game and the local boys are working hard to be in good condition for the game. The following week Titusville is to play here and this will be the first game that Sanford has ever played with the East coast aggregation. It is known of the strength of Titusville.

Angus Fordham, who was injured in practice last week may be able to report for practice the latter part of this week and play against St. Cloud Saturday. At the present time he is the only man on the squad who is disabled, although there are a few who are still sore from the Orlando game.

Michigan's Clash With Illinois Draws Much Interest With Chicago-Purdue Game Also Claiming Attention

(By BILL DUBOSE)

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Michigan's chance of retaining the Big Ten title it won last year are at stake in Saturday's game with Illinois, 1925 runner-up and leading challenger this fall, but almost as much interest has been attracted toward the Chicago-Purdue clash, in which two dark horses will show their conference speed. The 1926 model of the Maroon machine which clinched the championship two years ago, battered and shaken by last Saturday's decisive defeat at Pennsylvania's hands, faces the test of the year in Purdue, never a strong contender for the grid iron honors but since its holding of Wisconsin to a scoreless tie now rated the mysterious stranger in the account's title fight.

Purdue, swinging from a strong stand against Navy to the holding of the Badgers last week, appears in the midst of a climb that makes Phelan's fighting squad a favorite to down Stage in the thirty-fifth consecutive year of his coaching. The Badgers have everything to lose. Having downed Iowa last week, the Illinois invade Ann Arbor. The absence of D'Ambrosio at end and Tim at half for Illinois, from injuries, is a factor in the rating of Michigan as favorite.

Northwestern tests its chances in the conference race in Saturday's non-conference tilt with Buckeye's Notre Dame eleven, annually a Big Ten stumbling block and already this fall conqueror of Minnesota, who smothered Indiana at the latest move in a fall campaign so far notably successful.

Minnesota views the game with Wabash, Saturday's other non-conference affair, with optimism. Spears, encouraged by the Gophers' showing in Michigan's victory, thinks the contest will further temper his varsity for the remainder of the Big Ten games.

Wisconsin is working to develop for Indiana the offense which failed to materialize against Purdue, while Pat Page sees in his second conference game a chance for Indiana's first Big Ten contest in more than three seasons.

The Ohio State triumph over Columbia in New York last week makes the Buckeyes favorites over Iowa, eager to offset the defeat at the hands of an Illinois without the aid of the Grange who battered the Hawkeyes for three long years.

Delmonte has hung up a $5,000 prize as an attraction to the country's best golfers. This tournament, which will be played on the Pebble Beach course, will be an amateur professional affair opening Dec. 10, with 72 holes of medal play on the following Saturday and Sunday.

Four other California tournaments follow the Delmonte championship at Sacramento December 17-19, $2,500; at Fresno Dec. 21-23, $2,500; at Long Beach, Jan. 1-3, $2,500; and at Los Angeles, Jan. 5-9, $10,000.

Brazeton and Cullop Sent to Washington

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Garland Brazeton, promising left-handed pitcher, and Nick Cullop, veteran outfielder, are going to the Washington team from the Yankees as the result of the arrangement by which the Yankees obtained Dutch Ruether, the New York club announces.

When waivers were asked on Ruether by Washington, all but the Yankees refused to put in a claim. Ruether was known then to be suffering from appendicitis, but he took part in the world series.

A league rule prohibits the transfer players except by waiver after June 15 of any season.

Just Make Their Business Unprofitable

If the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has its way, the house-to-house seller of goods will be eliminated from the business life of the state. The organization thinks that there is no longer any beneficial use for peddlers in a state where most people are within convenient distance of mercantile establishments selling the articles, or "something just as good" which the peddler offers for sale.

In most respects the Chamber of Commerce is correct. Probably ninety percent of the peddlers "working" Florida contribute nothing to the state's betterment. And many of this ninety percent do the state positive harm. Perhaps it would pay to eliminate all house-to-house canvassers and sellers of goods just to get rid of the ones that are of no economic value to Florida people. But the Florida Chamber of Commerce must bear in mind that it will be a special-aid to many a mail-order house.

When people live in isolated places or in communities where they are not constantly invited to buy their supplies from local merchants, they welcome the peddlers. And they especially welcome the mail-order-house catalogues which are just about the most successful "canvassers" for out-of-the-state mercantile houses that could be employed.

The big department stores in Chicago and New York do not send house-to-house canvassers to Florida. They send their picture, advertising worded catalogues. They send goods ordered on approval, even, and they always find customers in localities where local merchants do not take the trouble to go after the business for their own stores.

After the Florida State Chamber of Commerce succeeds in getting rid of peddlers of one kind and another, it should make a careful study of methods of getting rid of patronage for mail-order houses. The Herald already knows of one effective way to do this, and takes pleasure in divulging it. Briefly put, the way to get rid of any business method is to make it unprofitable.

In other words, if the Florida State Chamber of Commerce really is interested in ridding the state of itinerant sellers of this and that and the other thing; if the Florida State Chamber of Commerce rightly includes in the list, the mail-order-house selling, then let that organization show the merchants of Florida it is their job to offer competitive attractions.

When people can find out through their daily paper where they can buy the things they need in their home town, at fair prices and of good quality they never think of waiting until the peddler comes around nor of looking up their wants in the mail-order-house catalogue.

That is all there is to it.

This Message Should Travel Far

The Herald would like to hear that a million or so leaflets carrying a reproduction of a St. Petersburg Times editorial were being used by Florida boards of trade and other civic organizations in a bombardment of capitalists and business men generally of other states.

Under the caption, "Capital's Big Chance," the St. Petersburg Times in three short paragraphs writes a message that Florida would find of inestimable value if its people would help to send it to men who are doing successful things. The Herald certainly takes much pleasure in publishing it here, and suggests that Herald readers send it on where it may be read by people in other parts of the country. The Times says:

Capital cannot move the rich soil, the sunshine and the moisture of Florida to Northern states. Capital cannot deny that artificial heating of manufacturing plants in Northern climes is a big factor in the expense of operation. Housing, heating and clothing expenses of workers are less here than in Michigan or New York. Florida has health. Health of labor is a serious concern in the operation of factories. Sunshine is hard cash in the industrial development of this state. Florida provides a greater variety of foods produced throughout the year than any other state in the Union. She has railroad, steamship, truck, bus and air route service she has 6,500 miles of hard-surfaced roads, is building another 1,182 miles at a cost of $14,000,000 this year. Industrial success in Florida is posted in her 2,500 manufacturing plants, with production valued at $183,000,000 a year. Capital cannot carry the Florida sunshine to the North the big chance for capital today is to build industries in "the playground of the world." Florida is rich in natural deposits, rich in green growth, rich in her bordering seas, supremely rich in her forests, fibers, grasses, fruits, vegetables.

Capital, study the opportunities in this long list of raw materials for manufacture in Florida: Furniture, paper, roofing, cement, porcelain, lacquers, glassware, chinaware, insulation, commercial feeds, canned goods, file, filters, cotton goods, tobacco products, vegetable hair, buttons, fertilizers, leather, awnings, tents, lawn furniture, art stone, pottery, creamery products, acid phosphates, fish products, oil products, kaolin and fuller's earth products, including essential oils for sachets and perfumes and cosmetics.

SAYS THE MIAMI Tribune: "There is a tradition that 'editorials are not read.' It is held to most tenaciously by news writers. The editor of the 'Spectator,' a daily published at Columbia University, had a feeling that this was the case with his paper. It wasn't any use laboring to write editorials, he thought, when the subscribers wouldn't read 'em anyway. So, partly to save labor, and partly to make a test, he clipped solid block of Smiths from the telephone directory and inserted them in the middle of an editorial about nothing in particular. Nothing that young editor ever wrote attracted such attention. He is convinced now that people do read editorials. Also that if there is anything unexpected or unusual in them, they notice and appreciate it. The aforesaid tradition is based largely on the old-fashioned custom of printing long-winded editorials, perfunctory and academic, dealing largely with politics and abstractions. Anyone who has followed the development of American newspapers knows that there has been a noticeable change in editorial writing as in any other department. Editorials are now shorter, more vital and more human than they used to be. They deal more directly and honestly with real life. So naturally they're read."

QUEEN MARIE sat in the city hall, then went her way. Immediately one woman after another sat in the chair, revealing the survival of fetishism in modern times.
 The savage, buried in us, believe that inanimate objects have spiritual power and consciousness.
 A child kick at the table that hurt his head, and a woman sitting in the queen's chair are fetish
 worshippers, as such as the African witch doctor that carries in his magic bag part of the human brains for coming, a lion's hair for bravery, the claw of a tiger, a serpent's fangs, etc.

IN HER first message to Americans on American soil Queen Marie says:
 "I am just a woman of fifty, who is brimful of joy and excited pleasure at the thought of seeing you."
 American ladies that are fifty and trying to look fifteen, please take notice. It is better to be a natural, joyful woman at fifty,
 than a poor painted lady with your face lined, paraffin under your skin, rouge on your lips, flesh colored silk stockings showing your knees, with no object in the world but to look young, which you can't do.

 The queen will go her ways,
 however, and Aimee and Peaches
 — the ones we know, or some others, will come back to the front page.

THEY are our natural and permanent intellectual diet.

MAKENZIE KING, Canadian
 premier, says truly that all talk of Canadian annexation by the United States is foolish. It's as foolish as to talk about Canada
 annexing this country.

But Canada and the United States, rubbing and owning these northern lands, should be closely united in business, as well as close friends.

Americans would welcome a working agreement by which the free trade between our 48 states
 could be extended to include Canada. That would give Canada the advantage of quantity production in the United States, which she cannot get for herself for a long time to come.

FIRST OF all would come uniformity in tariff. There is no difficulty that could not be arranged to the advantage of both countries.

In this country there is no more desire to own Canada than there is in Canada to own the United States. It is an excellent thing for us to have a able pace
 maker on the north.

A NUMBER of American financiers, including J. Pierpont Morgan, sign an international manifesto demanding that tariff and other trade barriers be pulled down and free trade established.
 The manifesto refers, let us hope,
 to Europe only.

ANYBODY WHO imagines that
 "world-wide prosperity is to be built up by putting American manufacturers and workers on a par
 with labor and industry in Europe, Asia or Africa doesn't know the United States. Ask President
 Coolidge. He knows.

ON OCTOBER 27 the nation will celebrate navy day. What has it actually got to celebrate in the way of a modern navy? The navy
 on the water is no longer important. Only boats under water and flying boats count. There is no use talking about celebrating navy day in this country until we have an air navy worth celebrating.

WE HAVE good sailors, good fliers, a few of them, splendid marksmen, any number of brave-men willing to do any kind of work. But our navy, if real modern war came, would be about as useful as the Russian regiment whose ammunition didn't fit their guns.

Nothing but flying machines fit modern warfare—whether naval or land warfare.

PROUD AMERICANS, good words, especially, are grieved by statements made in modern histories of George Washington. Men in each generation live as their generation lives.

Washington was no exception Living in slavery days, he had slaves, their quarters on his Mount Vernon plantation are visible. Living in an age when everybody
 drank temperately, and manufactured some of his alcoholic drinks, wisely, that he might know what was in them.

Can They Get the Road Opened Up in Time?

THE MEANEST YET
 MIAMI HERALD

The Herald has not thought advisable to reply to some of the papers of the North that are now emptying their vials of wrath
 upon Florida and Miami, as a result of the controversy over relief funds which has gained considerable publicity, but here comes The Danville (Virginia) Register, with an editorial, so contemptible, so mean and so untruthful that The Herald is compelled to break its tentatively adopted rule, in order, if possible, to set that paper and some of its readers right on Florida.

Here is a part of its lengthy screed against certain classes of men in Florida:

"When the groundwork of the Miami land movement was first considered, the realtors decided to muzzle certain sections of the press and some public officials.
 This was comparatively easy with the lure of heavy advertising and the promise of political favors. It was tacitly understood that all news that found its way into print
 should be in the nature of a boost.
 Real estate men inserted advertisements with the distinct understanding the publishers would give them publicity, which was in reality an advertisement disguised as news,
 and the space of the free publicity was usually commensurate with the size of advertisement. Mythical profits derived from small investments, the climate of Florida, the fish, fruits and vegetables of the Gulf stream became topics of conversation. Never a word was mentioned about the exorbitant prices, heat in summer, rains in winter or the business failures, suicides and narcotic traffic. Legitimate news was throttled and the prospective buyers never knew bootleggers flourished indifferent to punishment, that the female sum of the United States was not molested, and that gambling rooms operated in the business district.
 This information was concealed and the only mode of obtaining data was to attend police court sessions regularly."

What The Register has to say about the newspapers of Florida or of Miami with reference to its accusations that they suppressed
 everything but real estate news
 during the rush times of 1925, is so palpably false that it hardly needs correction.

There were no such conditions
 here as depicted by The Register and the Register is perfectly aware that it was slandering a great and prosperous community when it alleged that bootlegging flourished unimpeded and unpunished, that the female sum of the country was not molested here, when discovered, and that gambling houses operated openly in the business districts.

There was no such condition here in any greater degree than obtains in Danville, except, perhaps as to disposition of population, and violators of the law are dealt with as promptly and as effectively here as they are in Virginia, and the newspapers told of every incident when arrests were made or convictions returned.

The Register slanders better newspapers than it is by asserting that it was tacitly understood that all news that found its way into print should be in the nature of a boost and that real estate men inserted advertising with the distinct understanding that publishers
 would give them publicity.

That practice was discouraged
 by every newspaper in Miami and,
 moreover, the newspapers of this city carried on a regular campaign against all doubtful real estate propositions and refused to receive advertising from any development company that could not show good faith in its transactions.

Public officials and the press
 were not muzzled by real estate speculators and developers, and The Register knows that its assertions to that effect were barefaced prevarications, and nothing else.

Florida will suffer for some time by the unscrupulous newspapers of the North whose predictions to tell the truth are overshadowed by their meanness and desire to injure other communities and commonwealths.

TRUTH ABOUT FLORIDA
 NEW YORK SUN

Elsewhere in The Sun appears an advertisement of more than ordinary news value. This is the full page address of S. Davis Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. Written at Miami, it offers to tell "the truth about storm damage in Florida."

To those who followed closely the news dispatches which came through when full communication with the hurricane zone had been restored Mr. Warfield's letter may have few surprises. The complete returns showed that, terrible though the storm had been, the material damage done, even in the region between Miami and Hollywood, was not as great as had been indicated at the beginning.

But Mr. Warfield's announcement is of a very definite value in that it is a concise review, from an authoritative source, of the injury done by the hurricane. It is authoritative because Mr. Warfield's railroad is extending its lines through the territory on the East Coast that suffered most and because the head of a great corporation like this could not afford to mislead his public even if he wished to do so—a contingency unthinkable in Mr. Warfield's case.

Mr. Warfield appears to regret,
 not that the truth was told about conditions after the hurricane, but that the impression went abroad
 that some cities of communities had suffered "wholesale ruin or devastation." There is no denial that many houses were flattened,
 many businesses destroyed, and many lives lost.

Miami district buildings of flimsy
 construction were damaged "to the extent of 50 per cent." At Hollywood similar buildings "sustained severe injury." But, as the newspapers reported as soon as careful examination was possible, buildings of good construction withstood the wind.

Mr. Warfield's statements relative to human distress agree with the news dispatches. About 125 automobile camps were toys in the hurricane and their populations, numbering perhaps 18,000 persons not permanently resident in Florida, were left without shelter.
 These were the unfortunates most in need of the good offices of the Red Cross.

The Warfield advertisement is of particular interest in the North.
 Here was sorrow that an ambitious State should have been injured and a somewhat selfish but quite human regret at the possible prospect of Florida's being unable to care for all the tourists who regard it as a desirable vacation place. Mr. Warfield, however, makes the unqualified statement that the districts injured will, before the winter season opens, have facilities "equal to, if not surpassing, those of 1925." This is most cheering news, particularly when it comes from a man with complete access to the facts and an obligation to make the facts public.

The woman pays and pays, but man hasn't always got it.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

An interesting meeting marked the opening of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club for the season Wednesday, when they began their fall program with a box luncheon in connection with a regular business meeting.
 The club house was decorated with quantities of cut flowers combined with green, carrying out a color scheme of yellow and green, zinnias, cosmos, elder and golden rod predominating.
 Luncheon was spread at small tables centered with crystal baskets filled with merigolds and zinnias, and during the serving of the luncheon an informal discussion of club work took place.
 In the absence of the Department chairman, Mrs. Edward Markell, the vice chairman, Mrs. Fred Wilson, presided. Plans were made for further beautification of the city parks, building grounds and parkways. The city nursery has on hand numbers of plants all ready to be set out, it was said.
 It was also announced that the old cemetery had been taken over by the city, and water placed there. At an early date, there is to be a superintendent in charge.

who purchased a lot last week. Electricity and water service are being installed in the dwellings of Messrs. Green Bullock and Keet of West Goldenrod.

 The meeting was well attended not only by the older members but also by a large number of new comers.

Friends of Mrs. Zachary Sanders will be glad to hear that she is getting along nicely after her recent operation at the West Memorial hospital in DeLand. Her mother, Mrs. A. K. Jordan, arrived here Sunday from Red Springs, N. C. to stay with the Sanders family for some time.

Following the service at the Community church last Sunday evening the congregation voted to accept the lots available on Wilbur Avenue between Third and Fourth Streets as the site for the new church building. The new church and cabinet have been installed.

Miss Middleton Weds Mr. Strong in Miami

A very interesting wedding was that of Friday, October 15, when Miss Ruby Middleton became the bride of Ernest C. Strong of New Orleans, the ceremony was performed by Rev. R. N. Merrill at The White Temple Parsonage, Miami, in the presence of a few friends.

The bride was lovely in a gown of beige georgette combined with Valencia blue velvet and worn with hat, shoes and other accessories also of beige.

Mrs. Strong is the youngest daughter of R. B. Middleton, and has made Sanford her home since early childhood. She attended the Sanford High School and for the past few months has been associated with the Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Strong is from New Orleans, and is construction manager for the Southern Bell Telephone Company and is at present located in Miami.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will return to Sanford and make this their home.

Protect Dancing Girls

Five pounds sterling per week and a return ticket from Berlin to London is the minimum required of a German theatrical producer for engaging an English dancing girl for his revue. The British government insists that a British girl may have a passport to Germany only if she can show a contract for five pounds or more weekly, and if the equivalent of a return ticket has been deposited with a London bank.

Mrs. Mary Harris of Jacksonville, who has been visiting in Sanford as the guest of Mrs. Allen Jones, leaves Thursday afternoon for her home.

Miss Mary Akers of Chattanooga, Tenn., arrived here Wednesday morning, of Kansas City, day evening. She was called here to Sanford to make the funeral arrangements for her mother, Mrs. W. H. Akers, who died in Jacksonville last week.

UREA IS THE most highly concentrated nitrogen fertilizer on the market, containing 46% available nitrogen equivalent to 53.5% ammonia. However, this is not its sole advantage. It is available to the plant roots as soon as it comes in contact with them. UREA is particularly valuable for crops which bring the greatest returns when placed on the market early. Not only increasing the yield of vegetables and fruits, but makes better size, color and flavor.

CALCIUM NITRATE (Nitrate of Lime) contains 15% nitrogen, equivalent to 18.8% ammonia. In addition it supplies lime, which weakens acid soil and puts a sweetness in the soil. It makes sandy soils hold water better, and prevents them from drying out so rapidly. It does not leave a harmful residue in the soil, nor readily leach away.

Truck growers throughout the South are increasing their yields and profits through the use of these new synthetic nitrogen fertilizers. If your fertilizer dealer and supply you, write to A. A. Smith, Inc., Southern Distributors, 805 Grand Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Key West Escapes Major Damage In Terrific Hurricane

The city had been resumed this morning.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. Oct. 21. (AP) Southeast Florida which stood by during the night awaiting breathlessly the advance of another of the West Indian hurricanes which have wrought such havoc in the state recently has relaxed in the sunshine of Thursday morning.

The storm center seems to have moved out to sea in a northeasterly direction and when last located was south of the Bahamas.

One line of communication connects Miami with West Palm Beach. All commercial and press wires are down. Reports from there received by the Palm Beach Radio Company at 8 o'clock this morning indicated that the storm had missed there and that all fears of a repetition of September 18 have passed. Passengers on north-bound trains out of Miami say that the city seems normal this morning.

Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale report no loss of life or property. Stiff winds and light rains were the only evidences of a storm there.

Rough seas, discolored skies, a falling barometer, wind and rain threw fear into the Palm Beaches during the night but all is clear and safe this morning.

Communication lines are being restored with all possible haste and business here has opened as usual for the day.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Florida's lowest was quiet early today as a tropical storm whipped the seas and had swept the island a populace which had been the victim of a storm.

With the arrival of a train from Miami the city were relieved, reporting that extension had reduced the minimum. There were more than the usual passengers on board the train which left Miami this morning, a half Richard Gray, United meteorologist at Miami, said the citizens that had passed. These passengers word of fatalities other than the one at a falling sign at Miami.

J. A. Caruthers, Orange deputy sheriff, a passenger, estimated that reached a velocity of nearly 40 miles an hour at 7 p. m. and midnight. He said that only a few were broken by the

Of Injured Men To Practice Cheer To Several Elevens

Oct. 20.—(P)—Rehearsals lightened the preparations for the games gathered today in eastern football.

BILLY EVANS Says

Uncertainty of Baseball Baseball is a most uncertain pastime.

If, in early September, some one had expressed the opinion the finish would be closer in the American League than the National, his sanity would have been questioned.

Yet such proved to be the case. From start to finish the National was a hectic affair. On the contrary, the American League looked to be a walkover for the New York Americans until the home stretch was reached.

Starting the final month of play, the Yanks went west with a lead of something like eight games. It looked like a cinch.

After playing three games in Detroit and six in Cleveland, the commanding lead had been whittled away to a three and one-half game margin.

As a matter of fact, the Cardinals had the pennant in the National several days in advance of the Yankees.

How badly the Yankees slumped on the western invasion is proved by the figures, which show but six wins in 17 games.

An Unusual Club In a way no more unusual ball club ever won a major league pennant than the Yankees. Incidentally, there never was an easier year in the history of the American League to win a championship.

Three sustained winning streaks put and kept New York in the race. They covered 35 victories, rung up as follows, 10, 11 and 8 games.

Deduct these three victorious runs, totaling 35 games, from the Yankees' 91 games won and you have only 56 wins spread over the rest of the season.

So if you except the three winning streaks from the Yankees' record, the club played less than .500 ball during a greater part of the season.

To be exact, in the 119 games played, aside from the 35 victories, New York won 56 and lost 63 for a percentage of .471. Concrete proof of the statement that the Yanks are an unusual ball club.

Regulation Ball Parks

Regulation ball parks must come sooner or later. The world series of the past three or four years is making apparent the necessity of such a thing.

By regulation ball fields. I mean parks where the distance from the home plate to the extreme end of the right and left field foul line is exactly the same.

Football games are played on regulation fields. The distance from goal post to goal post on every gridiron is exactly the same. All tennis courts are laid out the same way. There is a set distance for every regulation bowling alley. It is the same in most every sport.

Not so in baseball. There is nothing regulation about the big league ball parks. A home run on certain grounds would be an easy out on others.

Win Individual Honors

Yankee and Pirate players took down quite a few individual honors during the 1926 major league season; more so, perhaps, than usually fall to the lot of single clubs.

Babe Ruth, for instance, led in home run hitting with 447 wallops. The Bamb had a tremendous lead on Al Simmons, his nearest rival. Simmons poked out but 19. Ruth's 47 was 12 shy of his big league mark of 59 established in 1921.

The Bamb also topped the Johnsonian circuit in scoring runs. Ruth brought in 139 tallies in 152 frays, slightly less than one to the game. Gehrig, a teammate, ranked second to Ruth with 135 in 155 tilts. Earl Combs, another, came in fourth with 113. Thus the Yankees boasted three of the four run-scoring leaders, a feat quite out of the ordinary.

Gehrig added another honor to the Yankee list by showing the way in three-base hits. He crashed out 20. Gehrig, along with Tony Lazzeri, Huggins' second baseman, played in every one of the team's 155 games. They were two of a handful of players not missing a game all season.

Cuyler and Waner

Hazen Cuyler and Paul Waner, Pittsburgh's youthful stars, duplicated the Ruth. Gehrig feat in the National League. Cuyler, as was the case in 1925, led the run-scoring crowd with 112 in 157 games. Waner was second with 101 in 144.

Cuyler also took down Max Carey's old base-stealing honors. Cuyler swiped 35 cushions during the chase, leading "Sparky" Adams of the Cubs by seven. Adams played in three fewer games than did the Pirate.

Waner hit .335 and really is entitled to the old league batting crown, having played considerably more games than Bressler, Hargrave, Williams and some of the others who topped him in the averages. Waner was at bat 535 times, Bressler 298, Hargrave 326 and Williams 336.

Waner's all-round showing, by the way, was one of the high spots of the season. It was the young star's first year in big time company. He certainly made good with a vengeance.

Cuyler played in 157 games, not being out of the Pittsburgh lineup for an entire contest all season. More than that, he took part in more battles than any player in either league.

Pitchers Show Way

The Yanks and Pirates also produced stars in the pitching department of the pastime.

The Yanks had the second highest hurler in the American in Herb Pennock, frail southpaw. Pennock turned in 22 triumphs. He ranked next to George Uhle of Cleveland in victories. Uhle reached the quite remarkable figure of 27—remarkable nowadays, at least. Urban Shocker, another Yankee, came in third with 19.

In the National League, Ray Kremer and Le Meadows of the Pirates were two of the best. Each won 20 games, the largest number dished up by any gunner in the Heydler organization.

Kremer topped them all in the percentage column, losing but six. Meadows dropped nine, finishing fourth in the averages.

Summed up, the Yankees and Pirates produced quite a cluster of individual leaders during the season with Ruth, Gehrig, Cuyler and Waner pulling down double honors.

75-Piece Band To Go With 'Fighting Gators' To Georgia

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, (Special to the Herald)—Oct. 21.—Through the generosity of a number of citizens from all parts of the state, the 75-piece University of Florida military band, known as the finest band in the South, will be enabled to make the trip to Athens, Ga., with the Fighting Gators when they grapple with the University of Georgia Bull Dogs on Oct. 30. Thirty in the Georgians' homecoming gridiron attraction.

With funds raised by a benefit game between the varsity reserve and the freshmen team and with receipts from the grid-graph an order of $3,000 worth of uniforms for the Gator band has recently been placed and, for the first time in history of the state university, its band will come out in their own orange and blue uniforms at the Georgia-Florida game.

The students of the University of Florida take almost as much pride in their championship band as they do in their football team, and well they may for the wonderful band has been the inspiration for more than one Gator victory in the face of a seeming defeat, and it has been no small factor in the attaining of the high war department rating which the R. O. T. C. regiment now holds.

Perhaps nothing reflects the growth of the University during the past few years any more than does the growth of the band from a mere handful of 75 untrained musicians who are the acknowledged masters of any other university band South of the Mason-

Rollins Develops Offensive Game For Stetson Tilt

Rollins' Tars are developing an offensive game for their clash with the Stetson Hatters one week from Saturday, according to reports from Winter Park.

This will be the first important S. I. A. A. game of the season for the Tars. It promises to be a tough game for Rollins. Stetson was held to a scoreless tie by Spring Hill College Saturday.

The football dope on the two teams resolves itself into a mess when comparing scores made so far this season. Rollins defeated the strong Springfield Athletic Club, 7 to 0, and Springfield trounced Stetson, 39 to 0, and Duval High won from the Rollins yearlings, 13 to 6.

"Pinky" Zohler, hard playing end for the Tars, is back again in practice, having recovered from an infection of the arm, which kept him out of the Springfield game. Goodell and Wolf, diminutive quarterback, are recovering from serious knee injuries sustained in the South Carolina A. & M. game, and have reported for practice.

From present indications the Tar outfit will be in good condition to meet the Hatters. The clash with the Mercer Bears will be a tougher game for Rollins than the Stetson tilt. This game will be played in Sanford Armistice Day.

THEY mean the way I roll 'em and smoke 'em all day long. I don't mind their wise-cracks. I've discovered the one tobacco for home-rolled cigarettes . . . Prince Albert. And I wouldn't trade places with the discoverer of the North Pole.

You begin to understand "why" the instant you open the tidy red tin and release that wonderful P. A. fragrance. That's tobacco, Fellows! The smoke is equally fragrant . . . fragrant and cool, like a breeze-swept orchard in blossom-time. Fragrant and cool and mild.

No matter how many you smoke, your tongue never says "stop." Yet these cigarettes are not wishy-washy. They have that full, round body that makes you want another . . . and another. Get yourself some Prince Albert and the makin's papers today.

If you like a pipe, or think you might like it if it liked you, try Prince Albert this way too. I smoke P. A. both ways. It doesn't bite my tongue or parch my throat. Pipe or cigarette, it doesn't matter. It's the tobacco that makes all the difference in the world.

Invited to Football Game

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 21.—An invitation to witness the football game in Ch. month was extended to Princess Ileana, Princess of Rumania, Princess of Greece, by Jones H. Ingram, director of the Naval Academy, during the visit of the royal party here yesterday.

Ingram said that if arrangements were made she will accept the invitation. "For she never has seen a football game. Princess Ileana was enthusiastic. "I would like to see the game," she said. "I would like to sit on the bench with the players."

Ingram promised to see her wish.

Here Is What New Yorkers Are Doing
 Fifth Avenue is still one place where it is fashionable to use your legs, especially if your clothes are worth being inspected. And it lets you observe the latest models in legs. Time was when you had to look for legs in the chorus but no longer.—Fifth Avenue is the big parade of everything in the limb line.
 Even the old cow has broken into Fifth Avenue, not on all four feet, but with her hide. She has had a prominent place on fashionable menus ever since New York began to exalt the head waiter, but now her hide has got into the smart shops made up into fur coats. You can get something smart in either Holstein or Jersey, or whatever is your favorite dairy herd.
 Most men, in the West, are afraid of spats, yellow gloves and canes, but in New York it is different—men here trim themselves up, even on week days.
 The derby hat is back, not the brown derby, but the black bowler. It is one item in a correct ensemble with a double breasted vest, so short that it looks like a chest protector, spats, glove and cane. The cane are crookless, topped with a silver cap.
 New York is kind to the fat men. They dress them up in gold braid and brass buttons and stand them in front of the swagger shops by way of service, but mostly for decoration. One of these gold trimmed doormen is as important to some shops as its big brass door knob. There also are thin doormen, but the fat boys with their inviting smiles seem to be the favorite model.

Many of the big office buildings in the downtown section, house thousands of people. And when the elevators begin to pour them forth into the streets for lunch it takes traffic squads of policemen to handle the streaming crowds.

A Chinatown restaurant—there are a number which still hang on to all the trappings of the Occidental version of the Celestial dining-place—is making quite a play of a special dinner which runs thirty courses. One dish consists of cabbage, cooked as the stuffing of roast chicken. The chicken is thrown away after serving as the roasting-utensil.

A rainy day does not daunt many of the Fifth Avenue bus patrons who prefer to ride on top. They clamber up stairs and sit under a canopy of umbrellas.

It probably is the birthplace of more new songs than any other city in the world, the metropolis still hangs back with gusto to its old-fashioned Sidewalks of New York.
