CUTTING THE SEED CROP.

It is not an uncommon practice for the farmer to allow the seed crop to remain on the fields an excessive period, in order that more of the green pods may develop. In such fields on the same plant are found ripe pods bursting open, as well as fully developed, half grown and newly forming pods.

Observations show that many of the chalcids flies infesting the earlier or first pods have had sufficient time to complete their life development, emerge from the seeds and deposit their eggs into the green pods growing on the same plant upon which they themselves were fostered.

In view of this the seed crop should be so handled that the setting of pods will be as uniform as possible, and the crop should then be harvested as soon as the larger number of the pods are ripe.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PLOWING.

Depth Depends Upon Season of the Year and Kind of Soil.

The depth at which land should be plowed depends much upon the season of the year, the kind of soil and the physical condition of the subsoil. Fall plowing, except for fall sown grain, should invariably be deeper than spring plowing, as there is more time for it to become sufficiently settled and compact. Whenever land is plowed quite deeply and the climatic conditions do not thoroughly settle the furrows it should be thoroughly worked before it is planted.

Heavy soils need to be plowed deeper than the lighter types of soils. Such soils usually have quite compact subsoils, and they are benefited by being brought to the surface. It is also a benefit to heavy soils to bury the vegetable matter at a good depth, as this will assist in keeping the subsoil from becoming too compact.

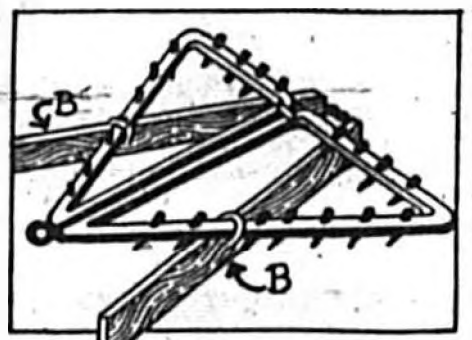

Lighter soils are very much the opposite. Their subsoils are usually not too compact, and it is better to have the vegetable matter mixed with the surface soil. Deep plowing of such soils has a tendency to make them too loose, and care should be taken to thoroughly compact them before they are planted to crops.

Plowing land continuously at the same depth every time has a tendency to form a hard, compact layer in the subsoil at that depth. This is an undesirable condition and can usually be avoided by varying the depth slightly from year to year. New land when first brought under the plow should not be plowed too deeply. While it may be desirable to ultimately have a furrow six or seven inches in depth, it should be brought about gradually by plowing a half inch or so deeper every year.

Filler For Dead Furrows.

To fill the water furrow, or dead furrow, that disintegrates left by the turning plow, take a peg tooth harrow and two 1 by 6 inch boards four feet long, writes P. P. Parsons of Doris, N. M., in the Missouri Valley Farmer. Set the boards between the teeth of harrow, starting them a little to the side of the center in front and slanting them so they almost meet at the back. This when drawn over the water furrow from end to end will draw the soil back into the ditch. Reverse the boards to level down the ridges. One section of an adjustable harrow with teeth set straight will do as well as a peg tooth.

SPRING CARE OF BEES.

Now is the time to remove all drone combs from the brood nest and replace them with good worker combs. If worker combs are not available, then use frames with full sheets of foundation in them.

All queenless colonies should be given young queens that can be secured from the queen breeders in the southern states, and if it is not convenient to send for them then give from some strong colony a nice comb of young brood with freshly laid eggs in it, and from these queenless colonies several good queens can be reared and the entire colony requeened.

It is a mighty good thing to requeen the entire colony every season, for it not only means less swarming, but more bees raised from a vigorous queen and an upbuilding of the stock.

The honey from the early fruit bloom will be the honey on which the early brood is reared, while the main supplies from the early flow will be in June from the clovers.

For this reason it is best not to place supers on the hives until the proper time arrives, though this is not an infallible rule, as one should be governed by the condition of the brood nest.

If the tops of the brood-combs are filled with honey and nicely capped with new caps, then put the supers on for either comb or extracted honey.—Farm Journal

Bad Practice Discouraged.

Getting married in Burma is not entirely a pleasant operation. Custom warrants the practice of throwing stones at the house of the newly-wedded, but not blackmail, and when recently a band of Burman youth demanded money before they would depart the law stepped in and sentenced the leaders to heavy imprisonment and corporal punishment.

On a Polished Table.

To prevent scratching of a polished table, attach with glue tiny pieces of white felt to the bottoms of dishes that are to be placed thereon. Common baking soda sprinkled over a grease spot on the floor will remove the spot if boiling water is poured over it.

Had a Good Reason.

"Why do you never make any money?" "Because I am so particular about the company I seek," replied the man who is ever self-reliant. "A fool and his money are soon parted. I associate only with wise men."

A marvelous flower grows on the isthmus of Tehuantepec. Its chief peculiarity is the habit of changing its color during the day: in the morning it is white, when the sun is at its zenith it is red, and at night it is blue.

FOURTH WEEK'S GRIST OF THE LEGISLATIVE MILLS

BILLS KEEP POURING IN AND BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE ARE DOWN TO HARD WORK

The supreme court has rendered an opinion to Governor Trammell in the suspension cases pending before the senate affecting Sheriff George Baker of Palm Beach county and Sheriff W. S. Spencer of Tampa, that makes it imperative for the governor to take action to have them removed immediately.

The opinion is in keeping with the policy adopted when the senate appointed a committee to investigate their duties in the matter, since the suspension was to be made effective at a future date, and so far as is known is the first suspension made under these conditions in history. The opinion in brief is as follows:

"The governor has no power to postpone to a future date the effectiveness of an order of suspension. It must be observed also that the section under discussion makes no provision for any action by the senate whatsoever upon a report of communication by the governor of a simple suspension of an officer without any recommendation for removal.

"Every permanent removal must be accomplished by the joint action of both the governor and the senate. In every case if a suspension from office the governor has the power to appoint some one to perform the duties of the office."

The governor stated that he would amend his order and call for suspension or removal immediately by the senate, and that he expected to have the senate act at once.

Until the state of Florida does its part in protecting fish after they are planted and removes all interference with the work of the United States government agent engaged in the work, the United States fisheries bureau will not do anything for Florida, is the statement of H. F. Moore, assistant United States commissioner in his address before the Florida legislature at Tallahassee, says the Jacksonville Times Union.

Heretofore the senators and representatives have come to the government for assistance, but would not get it because of existing conditions such as minority and petty laws in counties; and there is no adequate law in the state for the protection of the fish natural or planted in the state.

Mr. Moore said the following things must be carried out before the government can take action relative to establishing a fishery: first, the state must do her part in enacting laws for the protection of the fish and shellfish after planting; second the laws must be enforced, and officials required to enforce them must have sufficient funds to employ officers enough to carry out the law; third, the United States government will not tolerate any interference with its agents engaged on the work and until the proper measures are passed in the state the fisheries bureau cannot afford to spend much money in carrying out this work.

When these measures are enacted, he said, the government will render all proper assistance.

He declares that past legislatures have exempted many little creeks and bays from the general law by county act, and no law that can be enforced has ever been passed; for where parts of them could have been enforced otherwise, there was not sufficient money available to hire the officers needed for enforcement.

He declared that double the number now engaged in the Florida fish industry could be employed after a little judicious legislation and enforcement; but if this is not provided for in a few years there will be practically no fishing industry in the state to boast of. Florida's fish laws to the present time, he declared, have gone with the perfume of her flowers, up in the air.

The pending fish bills to control the salt water fish of the state as well as the fresh water fish, with various regulations, licenses, etc., will no doubt be enacted. But with the number of local bills that are now on the calendar applying to individual counties, bills that are being held up to await the passage of the general bill, it appears there will be little left to the general fish water regulations.

Every county has different conditions in water ways, and the only way that the local bills could be made effective is to be enacted after the general bill in order to repeal any parts of the general bill that conflict. Every local bill that conflicts with the general bill will be repealed by the enactment of the state-wide measure.

The Welaka Fishermen's Association has had a representative in the capital for several days in the interests of the fresh water fish bill, which would put a tax on all fresh water fish caught and offered for sale. The committee in the house has amended this bill to reduce the tax to one-twentieth of one cent per pound and it has been agreed to by the association representatives. This was the only serious objection to the measure when presented.

The salt water fisheries will be covered by the Shell Fish Commission when the bill now pending is enacted.

An effort will be made to repeal the law that prohibits railroads issuing mileage to newspapers in return for advertising. Although attacked at every session for some years, all measures introduced to repeal the law have met defeat.

Senator Zim of St. Augustine on Thursday introduced a bill to require railroad companies to publish their passenger train schedules in newspapers and to authorize the payment for same with transportation. What attitude the newspapers will take on the question this year is unknown, but the railroad representatives will fight the bill.

When the question comes up for debate in the senate there will be the usual flow of oratory about allowing the railroads to muzzle the press through this method of advertising exchange. On the other hand the editor of the small town weekly that does not enjoy the railroad advertising because the railroads must pay the cash for the space would be in line to get at least a ticket now and then, and to perambulate over the great state of Florida in search of more things to boast.

Another railroad bill by Mr. Zim authorizes railroads in the state to grant special excursion rates to leagues, or other organizations under certain conditions.

By an overwhelming vote the house passed the Crosby resolution providing for submission a constitutional amendment known as the "grandfather clause." Passage of the resolution by the senate and adoption by the people at the next general election would make thousands unqualified to vote.

The amendment proposes the following:

All male persons over twenty-one and United States citizens must be residents of the state one year and of the county six months; must be able to read and write any section of the constitution; applicant must own in his own right property to the value of not less than $500; must not have been convicted prior to the time of application, of larceny, robbery, forgery, perjury or bribery.

The fifth provision follows: "Provided, however, that no person, or such lineal descendant of such person, who was on January 1, 1867, or prior thereto, entitled to vote under constitution and laws of the states or territories, or entitled to vote under any form of government, or any naturalized citizen or his descendants shall be denied the right to register and vote because he shall not be able to read and write as above provided, or because he shall not own property of value above specified. Naturalized citizens of the United States, however, at the time they apply and before they shall be permitted to register, shall present to the registration office certificate of his naturalization or a duly authenticated copy thereof."

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 56 to 6 and was immediately certified to the senate.

SANFORD'S FLOWER SHOW AND PLANT SALE HELD SATURDAY WAS A REAL EVENT OF THE SEASON

MANY HANDSOME YARDS AND PORCHES WERE INSPECTED BY THE JUDGES AND PRIZES AWARDED TO THE SUCCESSFUL CONTESTANTS—THE CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN A BIG SUCCESS

The flower show and plant sale under the auspices of the City Beautiful and Civic committees of the Woman's Club Saturday afternoon was a notable event, closing as it did the civic program that began on Wednesday with the reception of the welfare department, followed Thursday by the clean up campaign and on Friday by the inspection of Sanford home grounds and porch displays. The committees of which Mrs. Henry Wight is chairman of one, and Mrs. W. E. Watson the other, have accomplished wonderful results, the flower show being a tangible proof of their labors of the past few months. Credit is due also to the little Junior Civics, for they inaugurated the City Beautiful campaign in the early fall by the sale of seeds, which was the beginning of more than one garden from which flowers were entered for the flower show.

Friday morning four automobiles conveyed the judges, Prof. Henry Nehrling, Mr. T. L. Meade and Mr. Muse and the members of the City Beautiful and Civic committees on a tour of inspection through the streets of Sanford and never in the history of the town had it been more worthy of inspection for Sanford was at its best, bedecked in gorgeous array with its beautiful gardens, well kept grounds and attractive porches. The awarding of prizes was difficult to decide, for so many had grown such a variety of blooming plants the town was ablaze with beauty. However, the judges made a second tour of inspection in the afternoon to make their final decisions.

Fruit Trees

To Mrs. S. Runge was awarded the handsome prize of a Foster grape fruit of the finest variety, for having the largest assortment of fruit trees and plants in the home grounds.

Mrs. Runge's garden is unique and interesting, containing many unusual plants, some of these from foreign lands. Fruits grown such as oranges and Kumquats, peaches, plums, figs, bananas, pine apple, Chinese cherry, Japan plum, mulberry trees, grapes, guavas, alligator pear and straw cherries. Among other interesting specimens are the cactus, the cactus, the cactus, any one of which is a curiosity in itself. A few plants too thrive in this wonderful garden, as well as the usual everyday flowers generally found in every little garden plot.

Flower Show

There could be nothing prettier than the gorgeous display of amaryllis; the stately pure white callas and Easter lilies, or the sweet pansy faces and other exquisite blossoms and handsome ferns, palms and pot plants on exhibition at the flower show. At 5 o'clock when the room was thronged with daintily gowned women, it was a scene of rare beauty that greeted one upon entering, for it was indeed a brilliant setting for the eager, enthusiastic spectators and gracious women whose energy and service had made possible such a successful display. To the left of the entrance the tables and shelves were banked with great masses of the brilliant hued amaryllis from the Mead Nurseries; to the right palms and ferns and a fine display of potted geraniums in a variety of colors. In the window off setting the glowing flowers within were the plant prizes contributed by Reasoner Bros. of the Oneco Nurseries, Prof. Henry Nehrling of Palm Cottage Gardens at Gotha, and T. L. Meade of Oviedo and W. Allen Burpee of Philadelphia.

Immediately in front of the entrance was a stand of nasturtiums, and through the center extending to the back of the room were wonderful bowls of roses, baskets of verbenas, red and pink; pansies; daffodils, daisies and lilies; violets, mignonette, geraniums, gladioli and every other flower that can be grown at this season in Florida. Vases of gorgeous blooms of every variety and color stood upon tables and stands placed around the rooms.

Upon one stand was the lovely, demure pansies, entered by Mrs. W. A. Ginn.

Upon another, a huge bowl of delicately tinted sweet peas, the entry of Mrs. Zachary.

Attracting much attention was a tall vase of stately callas and a lower one of Easter lilies, with pansies and violets nestling in the moss at their base. These were arranged with attractive taste and culled from the garden of Mrs. Henry Wight.

Perhaps the loveliest stand of all was that which contained a tall Japanese basket vase of ragged robins in blue and white, the entry of Mrs. B. F. Whitner and surrounded by smaller vases of poppies, sweet peas and white carnations, their delicate beauty enhancing the rare, exquisite loveliness of the ragged robins. The poppies were so lovely, their silken beauty coming in a close second to the first vase prize winner, the ragged robins. They were grown by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher and Mrs. W. E. Watson among their roses. Worthy of special mention were the bouquets of wild flowers gathered and displayed by the children. This table also contained a bowl of water lilies, lovely in their purity and waxy beauty. Minton Winn entered these in the wild flower contest.

Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Sr. entered a large exhibit of handsome begonias, geraniums and ferns and was awarded the greatest number of prizes.

A rare specimen of the ice plant was placed on exhibition by Mrs. Tyner.

One of the largest tables contained an assortment of a vivid variety of flowers from the garden of Mrs. E. G. Stevens.

Artistic skill and taste was manifested in the arrangement of the various entries, ferns, plants and flowers being shown to the best advantage. The tables and stands were draped with the richest material, giving a splendid effect that was altogether lovely.

At 5 o'clock the prizes were awarded by Hon. D. L. Thrasher, who made one of his pleasing little talks, paying a tribute to the women of Sanford for their interest which, he said, had been the uplift of its civic beauty and pride and thanking the committee in behalf of the city for the opportunity and development of such an exhibition of marvelous beauty.

The garden prizes were awarded with especial reference to the showing of spring blossom; the object being to encourage the planting of such things as will bloom in winter and early spring. The following gardens from various sections of Sanford were chosen as prize winners: Those of Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Minnie Jones, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Dr. Robson, Mrs. Stephens, with favorable mention for Mrs. Melach, Mrs. Harrold, Mrs. Musson, Mrs. Terbeun, Mrs. Herndon, Gate City House, Mrs. Wendt, Mrs. Zachary, Mrs. Davis.

Three special prizes were given, i. e., to Mr. and Mrs. William Gray for the quick and beautiful garden effect around a home newly built within the past year. Six fancy caladiums.

To Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart for the spirit shown in beautifying the grounds of a rented home. Six fancy caladiums.

To Mrs. William Leffler for a gorgeous border of amaryllis. Six fancy caladiums.

To Mr. and Mrs. Runge for choice and numerous varieties of fruit trees in their home garden. 1 Foster grapefruit tree.

For attractive veranda effect prizes were awarded Mrs. Dingee, Mrs. Chittenden, Miss Nellie Evans, St. Johns Hotel, Mrs. D. G. Monroe, Mrs. Aylett Fitts.

The garden prizes were palms of the variety Latania Borbonica; the veranda winners will add to their collections, Dracena Terminalis.

At the flower show prizes were awarded as follows: Handsomest arrangement nasturtiums, six fancy caladium bulbs, Mrs. Harrold.

Handsomest arrangement of pansies, collection of Burpee's Dahlias, Mrs. Ginn.

Prize for Grammar School student, arrangement of wild flowers, fifty cents, Eunice Tyner.

Special prize for wild flowers shown by child, fifty cents, Minton Winn.

Best display of sweet peas, collection Burpee's dahlias, Mrs. Zachary.

Most artistic vase arrangement, Mrs. B. F. Whitner.

Best display roses from one garden, six hybrid amaryllis, Mrs. Ginn.

Best miscellaneous cut flowers from one garden, six hybrid amaryllis, Mrs. Stephens.

Best palm, specimen palm, Mrs. Minnie Jones.

Best odd specimen, three Rex begonias, Mrs. Fitts.

The committee wish to gratefully acknowledge generous donations from Prof. Henry Nehrling of Gotha, Fla., Mr. T. L. Mead, Oviedo, Fla., Reasoner Bros., Oneco, Fla., W. Allen Burpee, Philadelphia, Pa.

Special thanks are due Prof. Nehrling, Mr. Mead and Mr. Muse, who acted as judges in the garden contest, and to Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Buchanan and Mrs. Ayres, who judged for the flower show.

Special courtesies were received from Mr. Hynes, Sanford Electric Co., Sanford Light & Fuel Co., Mr. Long, Mr. Abernathy, Mr. Davison, Mayor Thrasher, Mrs. Meisch, Mr. M. F. Robinson, Hill Hardware Co., Manager Herndon of the Star Theatre, Lernald Hardware Co., and last, but not least The Herald Publishing Co., to whom the committee feel that much of the success of the flower show was due, owing to the generous advertising.

Service at Holy Cross

This Wednesday night's service at Holy Cross Church promises to be of the greatest possible interest and benefit for everybody. The rector has taken for the subject of his address, "Domine Quo Vadis?" the meaning of Jesus and St. Peter on the Ardan Way, Rome. The address will be illustrated by the best slides obtained from New York City. It practically covers the subject matter of that great book by Henryk Sienkiewicz, "Quo Vadis?"

There has been a large number of people attending each week, the series of services with the illustrated addresses, and it is expected a larger number will also be present this Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m.

There is no admission, but an offering is asked to help the Brotherhood of S. Andrew to meet the heavy expenses. Everyone is invited.

Many Changes in Star

Sanford claims to have one of the best equipped moving picture houses in the state in the Star Theatre. Manager O. P. Herndon is giving his patrons the best that money can buy in the nature of films and equipment and just now is engaged in decorating the interior of the theatre with water color effects, new lights and a better machine. A few weeks ago a new apparatus was installed that will give the operator an alternating or a direct current and this arrangement gives the clearest of pictures. A new screen will also be placed on the stage this week and the pictures will be constantly improved until the very acme of perfection is reached. The stage has also been done over and the entire interior now presents an effect that is most pleasing to the patrons of this popular place.

In a few weeks the new serial picture "Runaway June" will be presented at the Star and each week the new chapters will be given in the Sanford Herald, thus giving the people the chance to read the story in advance and see the pictures the following night.

The Star will give the people of Sanford some good features and also the regular run of good films all during the summer months and as the theatre building is cool and well ventilated the patrons of the movies are assured of a place to go during the long evenings of the summer time.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH DISCOVERED NEAR HERE

ELDER PLACE HAS SPRING THAT CONTAINS THE FINEST WATER IN THE SOUTH

Few people in Sanford are aware of the fact that within a few miles of this city the proverbial Fountain of Youth sought by Ponce de Leon is located but such is the fact. This spring is situated on the magnificent country place of P. M. Elder about five miles from Sanford on the Sanford Orlando road and gushes up from a bed of blue clay in a surging current, coming to the surface as cool and clear as a crystal and the wonder of it is the fact that this water is as soft as a maiden's kiss in the moonlight. Soft water in this part of the peninsula is usually surface water and all other spring water and artesian wells are hard, very hard and usually full of sulphur.

To find a deep and gushing spring that contains no sulphur and that does contain the analysis of the Elder well is a find indeed and this spring in time will make the Elder farm one of the most famous watering places in the state. At present Capt. Elder, with his proverbial good nature and liberality will ask nothing for the water and it is free for the asking. The spring is near the road and is open to the public at all times. On Saturday it was cleaned out and now presents a pretty picture under the shades of the magnificent oaks that grace this fine country home. Upon the advice of some of Capt. Elder's friends he had this water analyzed last week by Dr. Baker, a famous analytical chemist and professor of natural sciences of Rollins College and the following analysis was shown:

Spring Water: color, clear; reaction, neutral, free ammonia, none; albuminoid ammonia, none; chlorine, 6 parts per 1,000,000; total solids, 8 parts per 1,000,000; nitrates, trace; hardness, 38 parts per 1,000,000.

The absence of both free and albuminoid ammonia in the spring water and its very small amount of chlorine indicate its good quality - the indications are that it is of exceptionally good quality.

A very desirable feature of this spring is its softness, containing less than one fourth of the amount of calcium and magnesium carbonates found in many waters of this region, and just about enough, as many authorities think, for supplying the lime and magnesia requirements of the body.

Many people in Sanford are now using this water and make daily pilgrimages to the Elder place to get this panacea for all ills and it is almost certain that some day in the near future this water will make the Elder place so famous that some enterprising firm will buy the farm and make the spring a commercial enterprise. H. B. Coney of Orlando, a son-in-law of Capt. Elder's is very enthusiastic over this spring and has already introduced it into Orlando, where it readily found favor with all the physicians who are recommending it to their patients.

As will be seen from the analysis the water is chemically pure and is probably as good if not better than the famous lithia water that is brought here at a high price. Capt. Elder wants it understood that the water at the present time is free to any one who wishes to get it and this is a great opportunity for those who are troubled with the ills of mortal flesh.

Meantime the people of Sanford can congratulate themselves upon the fact that not only has the city the best water works system, the flowing wells and other good water but they can always take a ten minutes trip to the Elder place and get the water that will enable them to live forever.

Then, Schaaf Improving

Word comes from the hospital at Orlando that Theo. Schaaf is improving and that he will recover from the difficult operation performed a few weeks ago and return to his home and business in a few weeks.

Mr. R. C. Bradshaw and daughter, Mrs. Martha Cust are the first to purchase one of the new model Fords.

This is good hotel weather.
Now is the accepted time to get together on the hotel.

This is the week that we were to build one of the new hotels.

Yesterday was Memorial Day and not one word about it in Sanford. What a pity.

In some ways Sanford is one of the heat cities in the state and in other ways it is absolutely dead and laid out.

The Florida legislature is grinding away and seemingly are making progress. We hope for the best and pray for the results.

The A. C. L. may as well take all the trains off. The Railroad Commission seems to have no objections and why should we worry.

Miami has 500 members of the Chamber of Commerce, Orlando is working for that many. Other cities in Florida are making summer campaigns for larger membership in the Board of Trade. What is Sanford doing?

According to City Attorney DeCottes a house on wheels can be moved into the fire limits. This will start a merry moving day and the next few weeks will see several sky scrapers on wheels moved into the down town districts.

The ladies at least are alive in Sanford as their flower show last Saturday attested. We will turn the building of the new hotel over to the ladies unless the men of Sanford come to the front. The ladies of Sanford would almost make us become a suffragette.

Sanford Herald says: "There seems to be plenty of rumors around Orlando about county division and it makes us tired. If there are any rumors about county division we have not heard them and we are ready to cease this constant bickering between the two cities. There is no reason for Sanford and Orlando to keep up the county division fight. The last legislature settled that matter."

This is a tiresome subject. But you know, Friend Hob, this last scare-head didn't come from Orlando. It was an invention of a Tallahassee correspondent, for which our folks are not responsible. We like to think it is "settled." We fought when there was something to fight about, but believe that now settled, and if it remains settled, the two counties should prosper and remain brothers, or sisters or cousins or something. Orlando Citizen.

HARDEE NOT GENEROUS
Mr. Cary Hardee, speaker of the house is quoted to have said upon his election:
"I shall treat all members alike, and no county or section will have cause to know that I have remembered whether its representatives supported me or one of my opponents."

Mr. Forrest Lake was Mr. Hardee's strongest opponent, which means that he had a larger following than any other member. But we fail to see in looking over Mr. Hardee's appointments that Mr. Lake's name is at the head of any of them. This was without doubt an intentional slight which will be resented not only by Mr. Lake but by his friends as well. Mr. Hardee would have shown a much broader spirit had he given Mr. Lake a chairmanship and lived up to the fine spirit of his quoted words.—Reporter-Star.

We are glad the Reporter-Star has commented on this attitude of the speaker. We noted it at the time of the appointments but being one of Lake's supporters and in his home town hesitated to bring out this question and since the Reporter-Star has seen fit to do so it gives The Herald an opportunity to question Speaker Hardee's generosity that the newspapers harp about. We have nothing against Speaker Hardee and will uphold his hands in every way possible but it was very apparent to all concerned that he did not give Forrest Lake the chairmanship of any committee and gave him but little in the few committees where he was given a place. Maybe Forrest Lake did not want a position and maybe this matter is perfectly satisfactory to Mr. Lake. We do not know anything about it and have not asked Mr. Lake about the appointments, but since Editor Reese has mentioned the fact we are right glad to call attention to the fact of an apparent punishment of a rival. Can Mr. Hardee explain?

Fertile Florida
They are shipping potatoes in car load lots from the Indian river country; and yet the raising of potatoes for the spring market is a new experience in that section, according to the Melbourne Times. There are numbers of just such "new" things that are to bring greater riches to Florida.

Sweet potatoes are one of the most profitable crops in Florida. It is estimated that the acreage this year will be fully 25 per cent larger than last season. Growers are beginning to realize that sweet potatoes of uniform size when raised in such quantities that shipment can be made in car lots are a money maker. There is a steady increase in the demand for good stock. The yield per acre is large, and the returns per acre compare favorably with any other crop in Florida, when fertilizer, labor and condition of soil are taken into consideration. For northern markets the Jersey red, Triumph and Jersey Yellow are the most popular varieties. All southern markets prefer the yellow yams. Sweet potatoes are in demand the year round. Prices range from 60c to $1.25 per bushel. They can be raised on almost any kind of land, and by cooperation the growers of every county agree to plant a certain number of acres which would insure shipments of carlot to the markets. There is not a time during the entire year that sweet potatoes are not in demand to a certain extent. Of course, prices fluctuate considerable but the southern sweet potato is a staple article and growers are realizing the fact more every day.

Kissimmee is planning to have a fair day and has announced that on May 3rd there will be a general display of farm products, canned goods, and preserves, and now the Valley Gazette says that the stockmen of that vicinity will add to the importance of the date by bringing in fine cattle for a big cattle sale. The idea at first was only for the display of Osceola county products, but the cattle sale will add interest to the occasion. Stock will be brought from adjoining states and this will be offered along with Florida range cattle. Within the past year the live stock industry has attained greater prominence than for many years past and a sale such as is proposed in Kissimmee will attract considerable attention.

A novel banquet was tendered in the domestic science department of the Manatee county High School Friday night at which twenty boys of the Gardening Club of the High School were present, with Principal Gillespie, Prof. King, instructor in the agricultural department and others. The discussions were directed along the line of "back to the farm," and the spread provided from vegetables produced by the boys, with a tempting chicken pillow were hard to surpass. There were addresses by Professor Gillespie, Professor King and Josiah Varn. A number of the boys spoke, giving ideas concerning the world in which they take such delight. These fellows are in the business not only for pleasure but profit. Prof. King is in correspondence with Dean J. J. Vernon of the State Agricultural school and has received assurance that provision will be made for scholarships for members of the club who make a worthy record in their work this season.

Reply to Mr. Price
I did not intend to publish any of the inside workings of trade unions, as every one knows them to be secret orders. (I wonder if Mr. Price would have the audacity to ask the K. P.'s or I. O. O. F.'s for their inside workings) although there is nothing to be concealed in regard to them.) Of course nearly everyone could indorse our principles for they are good and sound and non-union men should indorse them.
Mr. Price charges organized labor with causing or trying to cause more involuntary servitude than all other agencies combined. I ask him to name five union men in Sanford who are not union men of their own free will and champions of organized labor. He can't do it.
Now Mr. Price asks a few questions:
1st. What were the direct causes that led to the formation of the buildings trade unions in Sanford? The direct causes were long hours of labor and low wages.
2nd. What did the members expect to accomplish by such organization? They expected to advance their interests individually and collectively; for instance, shorter hours per day and a higher rate of wages. Also to increase the efficiency of members by meeting once in a while, etc.

3rd. Did they obtain the desired results and how? They did, to a certain extent, and are gaining every day. Their methods have always been peaceable and so far as I have any knowledge of there are no strikes or lockouts on record among the building trade unions of this town. Much can be gained by persuasion of the whole.

4th. What methods are in use today in Sanford in dealing with those who refuse to accede to the demands of organized labor? I maintain that this question is out of place as organized labor has demanded practically nothing in several years that has not been conceded. Right here I want to protest against Mr. Price's insinuation that a non-union man is honest, self reliant and competent, and a union man is just the reverse. He knows that our members are as honest, competent and self reliant as any bunch of non union men he could name. I won't step into your strap on the boycott, Mr. Price. It is too plain, a blind man could see it. Our members patronize those whom they wish to. We tell no member who they can or cannot trade with, nor have I ever heard of a man being fined or punished for trading with unfair firms. They just don't want to. Certainly a man or an individual can trade with whom he pleases. Next, that ad in the Sanford Herald was merely an advertisement for organized labor, as some people say they do not know where to find a union man. They know now.

6th. How does membership in a union instantly change a man from all that is vile and vicious into an industrious, honorable, competent mechanic? I pass this question as not being worth an answer. Talk sense.

7th. Ask any grammar school boy what a negro mechanic is and he can tell you. So unorganized labor does not recognize such a term as "negro mechanic?" Then I want to ask, what are these negroes who are employed as mechanics? If not mechanics why do certain people employ them as such?

8th. The word scab has not been used by me in any of these articles. A reference to it is unjust and unfair.

Now, as to the balance of the article. Labor as a commodity is worth what it will bring in the open market. If a man can demand five dollars per day and get it he is worth it. I have tried many times to explain that organized labor does not have to be paid at a uniform rate. We have only a minimum. If a man is worth more, pay him more by all means. The things unorganized labor stands for, mentioned by Mr. Price, are all good and not opposed to those of organized labor except that we think a man should have a working card also, when looking for employment, it is surely an asset.

Now, I believe I have answered Mr. Price's questions to the best of my ability.

The thirteen original colonies formed a union and out of it grew the United States of America, our country. Doubtless, Mr. Price would have objected, had he been living at that time. An old revolutionary slogan was, "United we stand, divided we fall." Which would also have been distasteful to him. One of the obligations we take in our unions is to acquiesce to the will of the majority, which is one of the fundamental principles of our government. Mr. Price evidently does not take any stock in such nonsense.

His article sounds as if it was from the pen of a dyspeptic, whose indigestion was ruined by a diet of embalmed beef way back in Spanish-American war days. He seems to think organized labor did it.

Respectfully submitted,
C. C. Pearson.

"Build Now"
The "Build Now" movement is being agitated over the entire United States. Especially is the building movement being agitated in the south. All building material is the cheapest that it has been for years, labor is plentiful and even real estate has slumped. There is no reason for this except a matter of mind. Money has never been more plentiful. It is going begging in the financial centers. People do not want money at any price for big im-

ELECTRIC MAIL SERVICE
WILL MEAN A TELEGRAPH SERVICE IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE POSTOFFICE
This Electric Mail Service which the Telepost Committee of the United States Senate in its report of March 4, 1915, recommends to the consideration of the Postmaster General, means a telegraph service throughout the United States Post Office. The rates at which the Telepost will give this service are one cent a word for 10 words and one-half cent a word for 50 words or more. The electric mail service will differ from the present telegraph service in rates and in that the postal facilities would be used to collect and deliver messages sent at the reduced rates. In case Special Delivery or messenger service is desired an additional payment of ten cents would be required.
This service is made possible by the Telepost Automatic system of telegraphing by which as high as 1,000 words per minute can be transmitted over a single wire.
From the point of view of the Post Office, the Electric Mail means a letter or card handled by the Post Office just as any other letter or card is today handled, with the single exception that instead of being carried by train the contents of the letters or cards are transmitted by wire between the two postoffices.
From the point of view of the message sender, the Electric Mail means a message sent by Telepost, just as any other telegraph message is sent, with the difference that the collecting of the message at one end and the delivering of it at the other is done by the regular collectors and carriers of the Post Office.
Where a message is delivered on a postal card it will be called a telecard, which means ten words for ten cents. When it is delivered in a sealed envelope, the message is called a telepost, which means 50 words or less for 25 cents, and 5 cents for each additional 10 words or less. These rates will be uniform, regardless of distance, between any two points connected by Telepost lines.
The Electric Mail will be quicker than a letter, much cheaper than a telegram.
By this service several communications may be exchanged during business hours between the business sections of all cities having frequent Post Office collections and deliveries.
The Telepost is now being introduced in St. Louis and Chicago and to extend it as rapidly as its lines are built or leased.

Accident to S. Runge

S. Runge had a serious accident yesterday that might have cost him the use of his hands. While inspecting his auto truck in front of the Sanford Corn Crib Works he had occasion to get some gasoline on his gloves and shortly afterward in lighting his cigar his gloves caught on fire and both of his hands were badly burned before the gloves could be torn from his hands. He sought medical aid at once and it is thought that nothing real serious will result from the burns but it will be some time before he can use his hands.

Parish House Pictures

The moving pictures at the Parish house are a source of amusement and instruction, to old and young alike and the house is filled every time the pictures are shown. The Wizard of Oz on Saturday night was great and the pictures were remarkably clear on the screen. The Parish House expects to have the pictures all during the summer and the shows will be well patronized as they are given for a most worthy cause. On Monday and Saturday nights the admission is ten cents and five cents. On Wednesday nights a free will offering is made.

Notice of Meeting Meeting of the Literature Department of the Woman's Club takes place Wednesday, April 28th at 3:00 p. m. at the club rooms. Let every member attend and enjoy the program. "The Sage of Snap Bean Farm" by Mrs. C. C. Woodruff. Following this will be a continuation of Mark Twain's quotations from authors on the year's program.

Growing Alfalfa

Mr. R. Marsh, local agent for the Standard Oil Company for Sanford brought to the Herald office a specimen of alfalfa, measuring nearly two feet and grown by him in his yard. Mr. Marsh is working hard to discover a means of raising this remarkable plant in Florida and from the specimen shown it looks as if it were on the right road. Alfalfa has worked owners for some of the northern and western states and if it can be successful raised in Florida it will prove to be one of the greatest innovations that has come to Florida in many years.

Suggestions and information from those who are interested or who have made attempts to grow alfalfa in the state will be welcomed by Mr. Marsh, as this is practically his first attempt and any information will be greatly beneficial.

Good Moving Pictures

The initial "Moving Picture Entertainment" at Holy Cross Parish House by the Senior Brotherhood of S. Andrew, which was "The Wizard of Oz" was a great success in all ways, last Saturday night. As well as the "Pageant of San Francisco," given last night. From the selection of titles, even thus far the public can be assured that whatever is put on at the Parish House is always "something extra" and will be worth seeing. For the present there will be entertainments on Monday and Saturday nights. The subjects will be always posted on the advertising boards. Flat admission of ten and five cents.

This is an undertaking of large size and by representative numbers of Sanford young men and boys. To help them in their work certainly ought to appeal strongly to absolutely everyone who desires to see a work among young men and boys carried on successfully, as now has been done for upwards of three years by the Rev. Rector of Holy Cross Parish. They all have the free and constant use of the Parish House in the same manner as a Y. M. C. A.

Peace Convention

It is thought that now is the acceptable time for a state wide effort in behalf of the advocacy of peace.

Nearly all Europe is involved in a dreadful war of destruction of men and treasure on a scale so tremendous that Americans stand appalled, and the realization of feeling is such that they must be ready for any reasonable measure looking to the preservation of our own peace and the restoration of peace in those war-torn countries over the waters.

Not many local organizations are in existence within the state, but thousands of disciples of peace are living throughout the counties of Florida and this call to a convention in Orlando is with the hope that there will be a getting together of these forces, forming local and state organizations.

The call is made upon pastors of churches, leaders of educational institutions, officers of women's clubs, and others to urge attendance upon this meeting.

Well known advocates of peace will address the three days meeting commencing April 29, among them, Arthur D. Call and Dr. J. J. Hall, national officials; Judge Charles B. Parkhill of Tampa, and Dr. W. F. Blackman of Rollins College.

The San Juan hotel will be regarded as headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chadderton, after spending the winter in Sanford left Thursday for their home in Milford, Conn.

Aspinwall-Takach

A marriage surrounded by much interest is that of Miss Lucille Aspinwall and Mr. Julius Alexander Takach which took place Sunday morning at ten o'clock at the Episcopal Rectory, Rev. Arthur Peck officiating. The bride and groom were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Talbot and Miss Frances Aspinwall. The bride wore a handsome going away gown of blue gaberdine with stylish hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Takach left immediately after the ceremony for Daytona by auto, from which place they took train for Jacksonville. They left on the Clyde steamer for New York where they will remain until July for Mrs. Takach to continue her musical studies. Upon their return to Sanford they will begin housekeeping.

Mrs. Takach is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Aspinwall. Mr. Takach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Takach and is identified with his father in the automobile business. And in farming.

Every Week Bridge

Mrs. T. A. Neal graciously entertained the Every Week Bridge Club and two tables of guests on Thursday afternoon with one of the most delightful of the club series of games. A color scheme of yellow was used in the adornment of the rooms. The dining room was particularly pretty with its perfectly appointed table, at which refreshments were served and its bowls and vases of yellow cut flowers placed upon tables and cabinets. A handsome Madeira luncheon set covered the table, that was centered by a lovely white and yellow basket of flowers, tied with a yellow satin bow of ribbon, candles, yellow shaded, through which the light filtered like sunshine completed the charming arrangement. A delicious salad and sandwich course was served. The club prize was won by Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin and to Mrs. S. E. Barrett, Sr. fell the guest prize, in each case a pair of silk hose. Mrs. Neal's guests were Mesdames C. O. McLaughlin, S. E. Barrett, Sr., Margaret Barnes, S. E. Barrett, Jr., W. D. Holden, G. F. Smith, C. M. Vorce, Puleston, Newman, Gabbett, A. P. Connelly, R. W. Herndon, Hurl Bishop, Anderson and Miss Annie Parramore.

Candy Sale

The little members of the Junior Civic League with their usual enterprising had a very tempting candy booth at the entrance to the flower show Saturday afternoon and "sold out" long before the afternoon was half over. On the inside, under the auspices of the two committees a cooked food sale was also in progress and while the flower show was intended to be and was, entirely inspirational a nice little sum was realized from the two sales, to be applied on the building fund expenses of the Woman's Club house.

Mrs. Tom Williams and Mrs. H. H. Hill were hostesses to a very delightful missionary social Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Williams for the benefit of the window fund of the Truth Seekers Class of the Methodist church. A free will offering was presented the class, the proceeds of the charming afternoon. Delightfully pleasing was the program of music and readings. Miss Florence Frank rendered "Dreams of Spring" on the piano. Miss Gladys Morris delighted with a song entitled "A Perfect Day," followed by two readings. Anna Mason gave a piano number and little Erminia Houser sang very sweetly. Another pleasing piano solo was rendered by Carolyn Spencer. Fruit punch and wafers were served and the entire afternoon much enjoyed. The rooms were charming and attractive with quantities of red and yellow flowers prettily arranged.

Epworth League

The young members of the Junior Epworth League will furnish the program at a joint meeting with the social service committee of the missionary society of the Methodist church, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Phillips Friday afternoon. Missionary exercises, songs and recitations will be the order of the afternoon. Refreshments will be served. A silver offering will be received and the public cordially invited to enjoy the pleasures of the afternoon and assist in a good cause.

Box Social

At the home of Mrs. Anna Walker Friday evening the Ladies' Union of the Congregational church gave a box social, one of the most delightful and novel entertainments ever given by this society, always famous for its unique and original affair. In the course of the evening a charming program of music and recitations was rendered among them being a humorous reading by Lucille Rines that was greatly enjoyed. The Sunday school orchestra rendered two violin numbers, being wherever they are heard. Their selections were "A Boat Song" and "Daisies and Lillies." Misses Eva Walker and Margaret Strong rendered delightfully a piano duet. One of the most pleasing numbers was a piano solo by Miss Bertha Packard. The abbreviation contest furnished much amusement but must have been "easy" for eleven successful guessers had to draw for the final decision, which fell to Mr. Geo. Armstrong. He was presented with a bouquet of panpies. That Mr. Harry Kent has missed his vocation and should have become an auctioneer was demonstrated Friday night when he auctioneered off the boxes and baskets containing lunches. His efforts to induce prospective buyers to "raise the bid" met with gales of laughter and resulted in a splendid sum being acquired. His humorous witty attacks brought many of the bids to $1.50 and few boxes were knocked down for less than $1.00. Mrs. Davison kept up the spirit of the fun by invariably opening the bid at a "quarter" and raising it to "twenty-five cents." Much of the pleasure of the evening was due to the genial courtesy of Mrs. and Miss Walker at whose home the recital was held.

Junior Pupils' Recital

Saturday afternoon another of the enjoyable pupils' recitals was given at the studio of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson and there have not been any more thoroughly pleasing, assisted by Mrs. Carl Ferran of Eustis who gave several charming readings and Mrs. Geo. Hoy, whose sweet soprano always gives pleasure. It was regretted that Marion Newton, the six year old little artist-student was not on the program, however she will appear in another recital very soon. Each number is worthy of special mention but the girls graciously concede their privilege to the boys who rendered so beautifully the two piano number, a military march by Christiani. It is so very unusual to see four young boys junior students at the piano at the same time that it was commented upon by the audience most favorably and their number received with enthusiastic applause. The recital program follows:

- Mirthful Moments—Engleman Helen Peck, Anna Mason, Katydid, Helen Terwilliger, Humoresque—Dorah Lucille and Adele Rines Summer Night (2 pianos) Saratorio Winnie Strong, Izetta Stone Anna Mason, Kathleen Brady March of Giants—James Rogers Antonette Luke Reading—"Mustard Plasters"—Mrs. Carl Ferran Military March—Christiani Royal Klintworth, Raymond Phillip, Teddy Runge and Willie Runge Valse—Godard Vocal Solo, Land O'Lea—Foote (By request) Mrs. Geo. Farm Crops First Oranges Second

The Florida fruit grower and farmer may as well face the music and dauber to the tune set for him. The numerous orange and grapefruit market of the past season must have brought him to a sudden realization of the broken eggs he has been carrying in one market. Oranges and grapefruit are gilt edged products when all that is gold glitters but not all glittering is gold. Oranges as a side issue for the business man, oranges as main issue for the well to do many may be all right, but oranges should be for the farmer purely a secondary consideration, a mighty fine second when they pay and a purely inconsequential second when they fail to pay. In other words, truck crops and common field crops, hogs, cattle and chickens should be the farmer's first consideration for these are at once his living and his staple money crops. The Florida farmer is no different from any other, though his methods may be. The rule the world over is first force the soil to yield an everyday living and then figure on the profit. If there is gilt-edged profit so much the better. And right here is where orange growing comes in. The farmer given a living out of the general crops of the soil will be a man three headed when his oranges pay and still he will not be run down at the best when a bad orange season comes, as it sometimes does. COUNTY HAPPENINGS

GENEVA NEWS

No epoch making events have happened in Geneva the past week but the usual things have taken place—the things that are, as we some times say, "dull" and ordinary. But we do well not to forget that "success still lies in the one old word, "druggery;" the doing of one thing, one thing, one thing, long after it ceases to be a pleasure." So let us not shun the "galling yoke" of the commonplace things.

Mr. L. M. Sheldon is erecting a 14x18 foot building with wide swinging doors and a concrete floor at the rear and to one side of his residence. What does it all mean?

Mrs. and Mr. Fay Weston of Daytona are visiting friends here this week.

One week from this Saturday, April 24 there is to be a Mayday picnic at Lake Harney under the auspices of the two Sunday schools. The entire neighborhood is expected to participate, at least they are all welcome and invited.

Tennis is being freely indulged in five days a week at the school house. A wholesome recreation.

Mr. Matthews is overhauling L. M. Rehbinder's car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pattishall, their daughter, Miss Georgia, Miss Agnes Clark and Mrs. J. Q. Adams attended the Lee wedding at Oviedo.

Mr. and Mrs. Vandecarr of Rochester, N. Y., are being entertained this week by Mr. and Mrs. Porter Wakefield of Tenova Lake Front. Miss Georgia Pattishall is home for the summer. She has been in Jacksonville the past winter.

Last Saturday Mrs. Frank Jones gave a fish fry at Lake Harney in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Starling of New Smyrna. About forty or fifty were present to enjoy the fruit of the lake.

Mr. Cedar was severely stung the night of the 20th, while fishing in Lake Harney by a stingerec.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Raynor of Sanford have been here the past few days visiting here parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain.

The pillow party from White City that stormed the home of Reed Dooley last Tuesday night was a grand success. Friends to the number of twenty-four composed this party. As their custom is they went without warning and therefore were very much unexpected. However, after all members of the family, including the two sisters of Mrs. Dooley, Misses Summers of Springfield, Ill., had rubbed their eyes open the fun began. In a very informal way they all "piled out" and proceeded to carry out their program which consisted of fun making of any kind, climaxed by the last number on the program, namely the chicken pillow. This was cooked over an open fire and carried to tables within the house, where it was served with a rare relish. It was as pleasant as it was surprising. Some one wants the line, did you say? All right then I'll hang up.

Encle Eben.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "don't realize how much patience an' perseverance dey has in deir systems until dey gets ambitious to fill three-card flush an' inside straights."

FLORIDA CITRUS EXCHANGE

Twenty million boxes of oranges and grapefruit. Think of it! Barring disaster, Florida will have this enormous crop to sell within five years.

If this great volume of fruit is thrown on the market without proper organization for its handling, the growers will obtain little or nothing for most of it.

On the other hand, if the crop is marketed co-operatively, with proper work to increase demand in the meanwhile, all this fruit that is of good quality can be sold at satisfactory prices.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is ready for this problem of the near future. It alone of the marketing agencies is conducting an adequate campaign to develop demand. Its sales forces has been strengthened to aggressively cover the whole country. More and more it is selling fruit in new markets instead of in the auctions. Join the Exchange!

DAVIS LIQUOR BILL PASSES BOTH HOUSES

FOURTH WEEK OF LEGISLATURE FINDS THE SOLONS RIGHT ON THE JOB

At midnight the Davis regulation bill becomes effective, having passed both houses. The vote taken in the house today resulted 45 to 23, five members being absent.

Under this law saloons will close at 6 p. m. to reopen at 7 a. m. No screens will be allowed, all goods to be sold in sealed packages and taken away from premises to drink. Clubs and hotels are prohibited serving drinks where meals or lunches are sold.

The senate insurance committee today withdrew the compulsory investment bill requiring foreign companies doing business in the state to invest 50 per cent of their reserve premiums in Florida.

Senator Himes' bill establishing a state road department, passed the senate this morning.

The house killed the fresh water fish bill by striking out the enacting clause.

The Davis bill provides that liquors shall not be sold in less quantities than half pints and that the packages shall be securely sealed. This does away with drinking in saloons, and converts the saloons into dispensaries. It is said that no state where the sale of liquor is permitted has such a drastic law as the Davis law.

While there has been much call for a reapportionment, it is now considered that there is little likelihood the legislature will take up this question at this session. Under the constitution of 1885, a reapportionment is called for every ten years. The first reapportionment under the constitution was made in 1887, and although it has been many years since the representation in both houses has been changed except by the addition of new counties, it is believed by many legislators that it is not up to the present assembly to order a reapportionment. They are of the opinion that that is a burden which should fall upon the coming legislature, the one to sit in 1917.

There has been a great demand among the newspapers of the state and from the people that the legislature take up this matter.

When it does come up, which is not at all likely this session, it might be expected that the west Florida representation in both houses will look upon the matter with disfavor. There has been much growth down the East Coast during the past decade, a reapportionment would give that section a far better representation; west Florida feels now that she is unable to get many things that she would like to see because of this fact and for that reason it might be expected that this section of the state would not like to meet such a situation.

Containing that the game in each county is not the property of the state, but that same is owned by the county and that the matter of enforcing the laws should be left to the counties individually, certain members of the house of representatives will make a vigorous fight for the restoration of the old game law system and for the abolishment of the present fish and game department. A measure introduced in the senate by Senator Gornto and to be introduced in the house by Representative Wilson of St. Johns will take the enforcement of the game laws out of the hands of the present game commissioner. It does away with this department created by the 1913 session of the legislature, declares the ownership of game and birds in the several counties of the state; provides for the protection of same; provides for hunters licenses, and for game warden, repealing chapters 6534 and 6535, acts of 1913, relating to the same subject.

The members of the house opposed to the game commission will endeavor to have the bill passed which will leave the matter entirely up to the counties, except as to the regulation of the season.

Senator Jones of Escambia is author of a measure which would take from the railroad commission the power to supervise the regulation of telephone service and rate in cities, except as court of appeal. Mr. Jones believes that this is a matter which should be left to the cities of the state and he would by his bill take from the railroad commission this responsibility and give to the city governments in towns of over five thousand population.

Mr. Jones would give to the city the rights to regulate the charges and requirements, but would give the telephone companies the right to appeal to the railroad commission. The bill would also validate contracts given the city of Pensacola and other cities the free use of the telephones. This practice was recently declared a discrimination by the railroad commission and hundreds of people who received free use of the telephone were thus deprived.

EAST COAST ANNUAL

The Record Company of St. Augustine has announced that it will issue an East Coast Annual, which is planned to be a comprehensive possibilities of this section. The publishers' announcement says:

"It is a well known fact that all of Florida is developing with marvelous rapidity. Indeed, development during the past year or two has assumed such proportions as to make it hard to get those to appreciate who are not residents of the state and in direct touch with conditions. It appears to the directors of this enterprise that an Annual or a Year Book of some kind is of vital importance to those who are interested in Florida, for the purpose of keeping the public mind up to date as regards what is being accomplished in the most progressive state in the Union.

It would be a big thing to undertake to cover the growth and development of the whole state of Florida for one year and it is not our purpose to attempt such a task. There is already in existence an excellent annual covering a portion of the Gulf coast of Florida, so we will limit ourselves to East Florida, which we will define by naming the following counties that will be touched upon in the book which we are now preparing for publication: Nassau, Duval, Clay, St. Johns, Putnam, Volusia, Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Osceola, St. Lucie, Palm Beach, Dade and Monroe.

Will Build New Docks

The Clyde Line will make extensive improvements at this place and the lumber is already on the ground ready to put into place. The workmen have been waiting on the bulkhead before starting the operations but the idea now is to go ahead and start and let the bulkheading proceed after. The Clyde Line will build a new dock from the bulkhead to the deep water and from the bulkhead in the street will be bricked, making a fine approach. The entire plan of the new improvements have not been given to the public but it is understood that it will be extensive and in keeping with the great improvements being made by the city.

BIRD DAY TUESDAY

Next Tuesday will be Bird Day, having been designated by Governor Trammell and by the grace of the state superintendent of public instruction and the Sanford schools will observe the same. The children will form a gigantic parade and traverse the principal streets and break ranks at the High School auditorium, where appropriate exercises will be held.

Boys Band Tonight

The Boys Band of Sanford will render a program tonight at the Baptist Temple. The band has put forth every effort to make this concert a special success and call on the people of Sanford to encourage them by their liberal patronage. It has been quite an expense to the boys and the promoters to get the band under headway and these concerts are being given with the idea that the people are willing to help at least the admission price. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock and the small charge of 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children will be made.

Remember they are our own Sanford boys and girls and give them your personal and financial assistance.

FOR THE COUNTY HOME DONATIONS ARE SOUGHT

LADIES WILL CANVASS THE CITY ON BEHALF OF THE INDIGENTS

There will be a house to house canvass made by a committee of ladies Monday morning, under the leadership of Mrs. W. W. Abernathy for the purpose of soliciting and collecting bed linen, table linen, table ware, china and silver, and all such necessary articles for the equipment of the county home. Please meet the ladies cordially and with a package ready to be carried away with them. This is going to be a whirlwind canvass and the committee mean business for the need is great. The home or building has been acquired and some furniture with which it can be temporarily supplied but it requires these other important things immediately that it may be made habitable for those who are on the waiting list. This is one of the greatest needs and biggest charities in the county and should have a ready, willing support from the county seat.

Housekeepers are urged to look over their household equipment and cull something from their linen chest, china closet and silver to give in such a worthy cause.

Please every one try to give something, if but one pair of pillow slips, a sheet or towel or perhaps one knife and fork, but do not let the committee go away empty handed. Give something. Remember to have your package ready when the call is made.

The ladies who will call will be Mrs. W. W. Abernathy and committee in the Davison car, central section of Sanford. Mrs. C. H. Dinger and committee in the Hagan car, Heights. Mrs. B. J. Stirling and committee in Dr. Miller's car, central section. Mrs. John Meiser and committee in Moseley car, West Side. Mrs. H. H. Chappell and committee, Chappell car, Celery avenue. Mrs. C. R. Walker, Walker car, east of Palmetto, west of Gatchel's store.

Will Name New Place

The committee appointed to select the name for the new ice cream parlor and restaurant will report to-morrow morning at ten o'clock and the name of the winner will be posted in the ice cream parlor immediately after. The one who sends in the best name will receive a gallon of ice cream free.

THREE OF A KIND

Tallahassee, April 29. Senator Wells, he of burrard bill fame and pipe is trying to get a royal flush and wants two more cards.

He has already Capt. "Jerms" Alexander of Deland and Col. Walter P. Corbett of Jacksonville and Major Forrest Lake of Sanford.

He wants to know just where another such three prominent and distinguished bearing men can be found, such able raconteurs, and generally all round fine fellows; and at the capitol last night he was bewailing the fact that two more could not be had there to fill out the pentagonal star.

Judge Worley of Miami was suggested and Sam Harrison of Duval was suggested but the senator sighed and replied "Alas, even the three I have here are not in that class, that pair would do as holder for drawing to a royal flush."

Sold Two Maxwells

K. R. Murrell sold two Maxwells in the past week, one to J. F. Hickson and one to Howard Lyman of Forest City.

Baptist Services Next Sunday

Rev. George Hyman has returned and will fill the pulpit at both hours on next Sunday. The schedule of services will be as follows: 9:30 Sunday school. 11:00 Preaching, "Every Sunday Evangelism." 6:30 Jr. B. Y. P. U. 6:30 Sr. B. Y. P. U. 7:30 Preaching. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Sanford will meet at this service in a body and Rev. Hyman will deliver the annual sermon for them. Subject, "Our Unused Selves." You are invited to attend all the services at the Temple.

BETTER SANFORD HARBOR AND A YACHT CLUB

WELL KNOWN BOAT BUILDER ANXIOUS TO START FACTORY ON LAKE FRONT

The vexatious question of how the city would arrange a harbor for boats along the bulkhead seems capable of solution and solved in a most profitable manner. S. Sherman, the well known boat builder who has been in business at Beesford for several years has disposed of his shipyard at that place and is anxious to come to Sanford, recognizing the possibilities of this place after the tourist hotel has attracted the wealthy yacht owners here for the winter months.

Mr. Sherman is anxious to secure a place on the lake front where he can have boat ways, a turning basin and place to keep yachts during the summer months. It is now the opinion of those who are interested here that a yacht club in connection with the boat yard would be something that is greatly needed and the club would not only be composed of the winter tourists but people of Sanford who have never been able to keep a boat here without a suitable harbor for protection. The city could assist in this work by allowing the dredge to make the turning basin and use the sand to fill in the bulkhead. The new harbor would be built just at the end of the bulkhead at either the west or the east end wherever the owners offered the best terms.

This matter will be brought before the Commercial Club at their next meeting and there is no doubt but what the council and the people interested will assist in every way to get this boat building plant and yacht club here for it will mean much to the city in many ways.

Mr. Sherman is an experienced boat builder and would employ several assistants and this business in time would give the city a good pay roll aside from the many yachts it would attract to the city. At his Beesford plant he now has many fine yachts for the summer and the people who cruise in Florida waters in the winter are all anxious to place their boats in fresh water for the summer if possible and there is no point quite as well located as Sanford.

RETURN FROM KENTUCKY

A. P. Connelly and R. D. Waring have returned from a week's trip to Louisville, Ky., and other cities in the southland. While in Louisville they closed the deal for the Sanford House and other properties recently purchased by Benjamin Drew here from the Holden Real Estate Co. The new owners are capitalists of Kentucky and Indiana and they will be here next week to start something with their new possessions. Mr. Connelly is reticent about the new deal and just what the new owners will do in regard to a hotel but states that they intend to build up Sanford and have not bought the property for a quick sale but will develop it and become Sanford boosters in every respect.

Sunday Evening at Star Theatre. All not attending services elsewhere in Sanford are cordially invited to worship with the Methodists next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the pastor will present the view of the church toward amusements. The subject will be "The Christian and Amusements." This will be a sane statement about some popular evils. If you want to know why the church opposes the dance and other things of like kind, hear Rev. Steinmeyer's sermon Sunday night.

Sunday School Picnic. The Baptist and Methodist Sunday schools of Oviedo will give a picnic at White's wharf on Lake Jessup next Tuesday, May 4th. Every one is cordially invited to bring their baskets and join the good people of Oviedo on this lovely outing. Many from Sanford have signified their intention to be present as this annual affair is always pleasant and the picnic grounds are famous for their beauty and fine fishing and boating.

Respectfully, M. E. Key, Press Com.

CONTRACTOR VISITOR HERE

Among the prominent visitors to the city yesterday was J. F. Ange of Orlando. Mr. Ange has been a resident of Orlando for the past several years and before coming to Orlando resided in Indiana and other states where he has monuments in the shape of fine buildings erected by him. He was the contractor for the Yowell-Duckworth building in Orlando and has built several fine homes for the Elks in various states. He is greatly interested in Sanford and was here going over the city with R. D. Waring, who is anxious to locate men here of the Ange type of boosters. Neither one of these gentlemen would state just where they intended to put up a building in Sanford but they are looking and developments will follow.

Notice. The members of the Home Department of the Methodist Sunday school are requested to be present at the Star Theater next Sunday morning at 10:30 to march from there to Central Park, where the annual children's day exercises will be held at 11 o'clock. Be sure to be on hand. Mrs. G. W. Bailey, Supt.

Sunday School Social

On Friday evening, April 23rd, Miss Thusa Tarbell entertained the senior classes of the Baptist and Methodist Sunday schools. All enjoyed the games of bottle fruit basket and magic music. Miss Georgia Pattishall played "Down by the Old Mill Stream." Mrs. Tarbell, assisted by Mrs. Dooley served ice cream and cake. All regretted that it soon came time to depart, for Miss Tarbell is an ideal hostess. Those present were Messrs. Payne Daniels, William Kilbee, Horace Raulerson, Paul Dooley, Tommy McLain, Ossie Flynt, Edwin Raulerson and Miss Kate Flynt, Lois Grant, Abgie Doudney, Georgia Pattishall, Elizabeth Stones, Calla Grant Thusa Tarbell and Mrs. C. W. Culpepper.

FAVOR COUNTY BONDS

Messrs. Bates and Fuller, two of Altamonte's most prominent citizens were in the city yesterday consulting with Secretary Haynes of the Commercial Club regarding the bonding of the county for brick roads. Mr. Bates is the owner of the Altamonte Hotel and Mr. Fuller is proprietor of the Altamonte Grocery Co., and both of them are good roads boosters and greatly interested in having the road between Seminole and Orange paved with brick. They state that the people of their section are heartily in favor of bonding for this road and that the entire county should get the habit.

Sanford Library

For the gratification of all those who helped in the efforts lately made to pay Library debts I send in the following report.

When we moved into the new room improvements were made at a cost of $31.29 for carpenter work and $10.00 for wiring for lights.

Subscriptions for magazines expired in April so here was another need to be met ($27.00).

The income from loaning books does not average more than $10.00 monthly. So while there are no other expenses connected with the opening of the rooms electric light is given by the Utilities Co. and voluntary service by every one serving as librarian the Library seldom can have very many dollars in reserve for emergencies.

A raffle sale in January paid the electric light bill of $19.00, and the late sale April 17th, those who contributed to it will be glad to learn brought in $34.00, enough to settle the carpenter bill.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Hoy, seconded by members of the Music Department of the Woman's Club the musical of the 22nd was arranged. Tickets sold by Miss Frank and others brought $32.00. After paying for room rent and printing a balance of $21 was left.

Our magazines are paid for, for the year. Library room rent paid to May, and we are free from debt, so the effort has been worth while.

Speaking for the ladies in charge of Library affairs we thank every one who gave time, service or talent to concert or sales.

Respectfully, M. E. Key, Press Com.

SOUTHERN BELL CO. BUYS LOCAL SYSTEM

NEW COMPANY WILL GIVE PATRONS BEST PHONE SYSTEM IN STATE

The city of Sanford will greatly benefit by the recent sale of the property of the Sanford Telephone Co. to the Southern Bell Telephone Co., in which all the lines and equipment of the former home company pass into the hands of the latter company. The position of the telephone company here had resolved itself into the question of whether the home company would keep the plant with no additional equipment to take care of the constantly increasing business and operate at a loss or dispose of the business to a larger company that could guarantee the best of equipment and service to the patrons. The general public has been heartily in favor of the transfer and the city council after ascertaining the attitude of the public did not hesitate to grant the Southern Bell a new franchise backed by a petition signed by the patrons of the line.

It is now learned that the new owners will spend a large sum of money on the plant here and will endeavor to give the patrons one of the best equipped and most complete telephone systems in the state, in fact it will be a model telephone system in every respect. Every subscriber will have a new phone of the automatic type in which the old method of ringing the bell will be abolished. All lines will be metallic from the phone to the central office and most of the system will be of copper wire with the cables underground in the business portion of the city.

The central office will be of the most modern type and will be located in a more central portion of the city in a new building to be erected by the owners. The central office and switchboard will have an equipment that will cost about $25,000 and will be perfect in all details.

All of these great improvements, costing the owners such a sum of money will mean a slight raise in the rates but no raise will be attempted until all of the improvements have been made and the rate will then be in advance on the business phones, the residence phones rates remaining the same.

On account of these many improvements the new equipment will not be installed in complete form for some time and it is estimated that about six months will be required to place the system in the shape that the new equipment requires. Chief Engineer Wilder has spent over two months here inspecting the entire system and knows the needs of the system and all the materials have been ordered and will be shipped here at once. His surveys and plans have been approved by the officials and the estimate of the cost made after his report was approved.

In all the new telephone system for this city and county will be one of the best in Florida and the officials appreciating the attitude of the city officials and the public in general have been most generous on their part toward Sanford and the citizens will be proud of their new plant when it is completed.

It will also be good news to the patrons of the telephone system to know that local men will have charge of the Sanford system. Jesse F. Karnatz will be acting manager and W. A. Parr will be acting superintendent; which means that the business office and the mechanical department will be in good hands and the patrons can be assured of courteous treatment at all times.

The Herald congratulates the owners of the Sanford Telephone Co. upon their sale and the new owners, the Southern Bell Co., upon their purchase and we extend the glad hand to the new company for we believe that mutual cooperation will redound to the credit of the patrons and the company. Service is what is needed these days and service in what the new company expects to give the patrons.

C. S. Walker died in Ottawa, Kansas, April 8th, 1915. Mr. Walker was at one time a resident of Sanford, was a brother to L. H. Walker and Mrs. L. M. Brown of Sanford, also of Mrs. L. B. Garst of Savannah, Georgia.
