Treatment Arms White Blood Cells To Fight Cancer

By Gino Del Quercio
UPI Science Writer
BOSTON (UPI) — National Cancer Institute researchers have developed a promising cancer treatment using a genetically engineered drug that transforms cells from the body's immune system into cancer killers.

However, the NCI researchers said the treatment is still in its earliest stages of development and has severe side effects, and researchers engaged in similar studies warned it should not be thought of as a wonder drug.

The treatment proved successful in 11 of 25 severely ill cancer patients, who had not responded to any other forms of therapy, the NCI researchers said Wednesday in a special report in the New England Journal of Medicine.

"For the first time, we can take the immune system of a patient, alter it, and use it to cause regression of a tumor," said Dr. Steven A. Rosenberg,

'Not since the development of chemotherapy 30 years ago has there been a completely new treatment for cancer.'

NCI chief of surgery and an immunologist.

"This represents the first step in the development of a whole new treatment of cancer," he said. "Not since the development of chemotherapy 30 years ago has there been a completely new treatment for cancer."

The treatment has four stages. First, lymphocytes — white blood cells that fight infectious agents — are removed from the cancer patient's body using a special filtering machine. The cells, about 10 billion in all, are treated with the genetically engineered drug interleukin-2, transforming them into cancer killers.

The activated cells are then injected back into the patient, who is given more interleukin-2, which stimulates the cells to grow and multiply. The cells seek out cancer cells and destroy them.

Rosenberg stressed his findings are preliminary and very few patients have been tested. Of the 11 who improved, one melanoma patient showed a complete regression that has lasted a year. The rest had a partial regression.

The treatment reduced the size of four varieties of cancer: colon cancer, kidney cancer, lung cancer and melanoma, a severe form of skin cancer.

Dr. James T. Kurnick, a Massachusetts General Hospital researcher who has been experimenting with similar interleukin-2 treatments, said the drug is useful but should not be considered a cure.

SHS Football Team Rushes To Help City

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer
The Seminole High School football team took to the field Tuesday and Wednesday to kick-off Sanford's drive to obtain a $650,000 Housing and Urban Development grant.

Dressed in their black and white jerseys, the 25 volunteers went door-to-door in Sanford's Georgetown neighborhood to compile the economic data that must be included in the city's grant application.

If obtained, the small cities funding will "open a window of opportunity" to certain Sanford residents by enabling them to revitalize their homes, City Manager Frank Faison said. However, when city commissioners voted on Nov. 25 to seek the grant, they also accepted the responsibility of completing a complex fund application that had to be sent to HUD by Dec. 23.

Within this limited time, the city must not only target a specific neighborhood for administration of the funds, but interview every homeowner within the area to develop economic profiles. Selected were the approximately 180 homes located within the confines of Orange and Locust Avenues and 7th and 12th Streets.

The football team's selection as demographic ambassadors resulted from a chain of contacts that began at city hall and concluded on the playing field at Seminole High.

Kim Smith, the city's director of administrative services, called Sara Jacobsen, chairman of Sanford's scenic improvement board. Ms. Jacobsen contacted Seminole High football coach Dave Mosure, and he asked his players if they were up to the task.

According to Mosure, the team readily agreed to the request.

"Usually they're the ones asking for support," he said. "This time it's nice the team can help the community."

Mosure added he "wasn't surprised" his players immediately agreed to provide assistance. "That's the type of kids they are," he said.

Under Dismissal Threat?

Top County Officials Quit Jobs

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

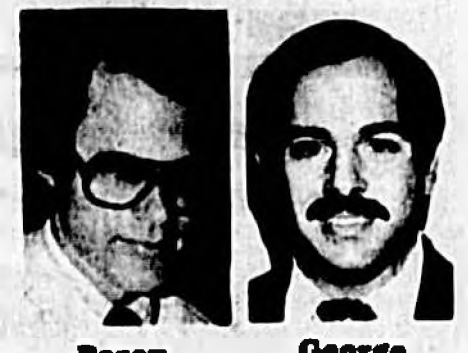

Three key Seminole County officials, including Deputy County Administrator Richard George, have resigned their positions for reported differences of opinion between them and County Administrator Ken Hooper. And at least one of the three said if they did not resign, they would have been fired.

Besides George, Director of Public Services John Percy and Parks and Recreation Manager Leonard Carswell have tendered their resignations effective immediately.

All three were reportedly told to resign by Hooper or be fired, although Hooper would not confirm that. He accepted the resignations this morning after being verbally told by the three late Wednesday and early today that they intended to resign. Hooper said the three listed no reasons for their resignations in the letters, although Percy's states he resigned "per ... discussions."

Percy, who has worked for the county some 12 years, said this morning he was "stunned" Wednesday morning when Hooper "asked me to resign."

Percy said he "probably was naive," not to have recognized that the discussions Hooper had with the three men over the past several weeks were leading up to their being asked to resign. He said Hooper had indicated during those discussions that he (Hooper) was displeased with certain aspects of their work.

"But those things seemed, by themselves at each meeting, to be minor differences or problems we felt we could go back and examine and correct. Apparently, although Hooper never said that, they all led up to his asking me to resign Wednesday."

Percy said when Hooper asked him to resign, he told Percy it was because he (Percy) was not handling his division heads correctly. "I didn't think to ask him Wednesday in what way was I not handling them properly ... I wish I had," Percy said today.

Percy said he has no immediate plans for the future, and will probably wait until after the holidays to look for another position. He said he was granted

Yankee Lake Attorneys Seek January Hearing

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Attorneys for both sides in the Yankee Lake condemnation suit will file a joint motion to request a January hearing date that doesn't conflict with their trial schedules.

With five of the suit's lawyers engaged in private practice, the agreement was seen as the most practical for all of the parties involved, according to the request that will be presented to Seminole County circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi at Mohday's case management conference.

The agreement was reached at Sanford city hall Wednesday during day two of City Manager Frank Faison's deposition to attorneys representing Jeno Paulucci, his agent, Nick Pope, and Seminole County in the city's suit to condemn the Yankee Lake property. The city manager will be required to continue his deposition next week.

Once Faison has concluded his testimony, Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, the city's commissioners, City Clerk Henry Tamm, Utilities Director Paul Moore and the city's financial consultants and engineers will be subpoenaed, according to Mack Cleveland, attorney representing Paulucci and Pope.

spent Wednesday reviewing the city's wastewater program documents with Cleveland and Jim Spoonhour, who is also representing Paulucci and Pope, and attorney Howard Marsee, who was hired by the county.

The data they addressed consists of more than 100 multi-page exhibits weighing about 50 pounds. It includes engineering studies, maps, correspondence and memos.

According to Cleveland, the defense attorneys "want to see everything the city has done since the inception" of its wastewater program, which targets the 2,867-acre Yankee Lake property for effluent disposal. The county, however, owns the site and plans to build its own treatment and disposal system there.

Sanford's condemnation proceeding is attempting a "quick take" of the land from the county through the establishment of "public need and benefit."

Marsee and his co-counsel, Ross Stanton, were hired by the county for their expertise in eminent domain proceedings. Paulucci, through Pope, sold the Yankee Lake site to the county on Nov. 21. The next day, Marsee filed a notice of appearance in district court, "on behalf of Seminole County."

Copies of the document were sent to Spoonhour, Colbert and First American Bank and Trust of Palm Beach and Freedom Savings and Loan of Winter Park. The banks, and Pope, are named in the city's suit.

According to Colbert, although the attorneys' trial schedules, including his, may make scheduling the suit "a bit difficult," he's still confident a decision regarding the quick take action will be made within 60 days from now.

As the lone attorney retained by the city to plead the case, Colbert apparently is not intimidated by the battery of attorneys he'll face in court. At Wednesday's deposition he said he is confident the court will grant Sanford ownership of Yankee Lake.

He also commented on the detailed attention the attorneys are affording the city's wastewater management program. Colbert said this contrasted with the response Sanford received last summer and fall when it was negotiating for the land and proposing a joint-venture agreement with the county. "We couldn't get anyone to talk to us then," he said. "Now..."

Weldon Ends Term On Hospital Board

Dr. Earl Weldon, 56, Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Central Florida Regional Hospital since 1980, is stepping down following two terms on that board.

Hospital by-laws allow only two consecutive terms on the board, according to Hospital spokesman Kay Bartholomew. Dr. Jorge Gomez, vice chairman of the board and John Schirard, Jr. will be ending their concurrent terms at the same time, she said. There are nine members on the hospital board.

Weldon is President of Seminole Community College.

Grand Jury Indicts Man In Shooting Death Of Wife

A Seminole County man was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in connection with the barroom shooting death of his estranged wife. In an unrelated case, the same grand jury declined to indict a Sanford man on a charge of manslaughter following the death of a man who had refused medical treatment.

Indicted was Charles Vernon Foley, 49, of Lake Howell Road, south Seminole County. He was arrested Nov. 2 at Charlie's Lounge on Howell Branch Road near Winter Park.

According to court records, Kathleen Yates Foley, 44, of Orlando, was shot once in the head at about 3 p.m. Nov. 2. She died about an hour later in Winter Park Hospital, Winter Park.

She was shot after arguing about marriage in a bar with a man. The man then went home, next door to the bar, and slept for awhile. After he woke, he armed himself and returned to the bar where he reportedly pulled a .38-caliber handgun from his boot and shot Mrs. Foley once in the left side of the head.

The suspect reportedly told investigators he remembered hearing the shot but did not remember firing the gun.

In the second case, the grand jury declined to indict William Lloyd Jellis, 26, of 1505 W. 25th St., in connection with the death of Timothy D. Holt, 19, of 113 West Ridge Drive in Sanford.

According to court records, Holt was injured during the early morning hours of Nov. 2 when he was struck to the pavement at a convenience store by a man. Holt refused medical treatment and went home with his father. When his parents couldn't wake him

Harriett Laban, vice president of the SEA, writes totals from different schools after teachers' votes on contract were counted by SEA members and volunteers Wednesday.

Teachers Accept Contract Offer

In a final vote Wednesday, Seminole Education Association members approved a contract offering a 6.5 percent pay raise for the more than 2,200 teachers in Seminole County. The contract guarantees an average pay increase of $1,438.

SEA Executive Director Marshall Ogletree said he believes the pact will assuage the county teachers' frustrations over the three month-long negotiations. The contract calls for a one-time longevity bonuses of $250 to $300 for teachers with more than 15 years experience. A central factor in the pay dispute was veteran teachers' disgruntlement over larger pay hikes offered beginning teachers in the contract offer rejected in August.

The pay schedule in the approved contract will be retroactive to August 19, when school year began.

Ratifying the pact were 1,320 teachers, or 83.4 percent of SEA members. Voting against the contract were 263 teachers.

The Seminole County School Board must yet put its stamp of approval on the pact, but Ogletree said that's "in the bag" for the board's Dec. 11 meeting.

Recovered Stolen Jewelry Leads To Arrest

An Altamonte Springs woman's find of a piece of her stolen jewelry at an Orlando jewelry show on Nov. 23, led to the Tuesday arrest of a 36-year-old Orlando man, accused of burglarizing her home and stealing over $17,000 worth of jewelry and sterling silver items.

Connie Boone's find of the item taken from her home at 1348 Franklin St. brought Seminole County sheriff's investigators to the Eur-Am Coin Mart on Park Avenue in Winter Park, where the owner reported having bought additional items of jewelry and sterling silver. The owner reportedly identified a suspect from a sheriff's photo lineup, a sheriff's report said.

A suspect was picked up in Orlando and questioned at the Casselberry police station and at about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday James Berchell Arnett was charged with dealing in stolen property in the case. He was being held in lieu of $3,000 bond.

WOMAN FOILED ABDUCTION
A 28-year-old Lake Mary reported to a Seminole County sheriff's deputy she was punched in the face by a man who tried to pull her from her car when she parked along U.S. Highway 17-92 in Longwood, at about 10 p.m. Tuesday.

The woman foiled the man when she punched him once in the face, locked the doors of her car, where she had been trying to fix a loose speaker in the rear seat, and drove from the scene.

The man and the driver of the blue, early-1970s model car he had jumped out of and then returned to, pursued the woman's car at speeds of over 100 mph onto State Road 434 and through Winter Springs. By the time the woman got to Tuskawilla and Red Bug Lake roads she had lost sight of the pair and went home to call the sheriff's department, a sheriff's report said.

The woman said when she was approached by the man who grabbed her and began to struggle and fight he yelled to the driver of his car, "We've got us a good one this time," the report said.

The woman said the man used his left fist when he punched her in the face several times and that the driver of the car called the assailant, "Mickey." The woman did not see the driver of the suspects' car well enough to describe him to the deputy, the report said.

Since the assault and attempted abduction occurred in Longwood the sheriff's deputy turned his report on the incident over to Longwood police investigators.

Longwood police confirmed Wednesday morning they have picked up the investigation, but have made no link between the suspect's reputed comment, "We've got us a good one this time," and any other reported incident in Longwood.

CLUB IN CAR
A Sanford policeman who stopped a car because of an expired license tag reported spotting a club on a seat of that vehicle and in a search of the car reportedly found over 20 grams of marijuana and cigarette rolling papers. He arrested the two Jacksonville men who were in the car.

The stop was made at about 11 p.m. Thursday on Third Street at Oak Avenue. The driver of the car, Jimmie Justin Wilson, 21, has been charged possession of over 20 grams of pot, possession of paraphernalia and possession of a concealed weapon. His companion, William Bernard Wright, 21, has been charged with possession of marijuana. Both were being held in lieu of $8,000 bond each.

SENTENCINGS
A south Seminole County man has been ordered to serve 2 years probation for aggravated assault and battery, and not to abuse his wife. It was one of two sentencing hearings held Monday.

John Edward Shirey, 48, of 1500 Gladiolas Drive, received the sentence and order Monday from Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor.

Shirey was arrested July 11 after his wife, Susan, 44, told deputies that her husband had kicked her then placed his foot on her stomach, pinning her to the floor of their house.

According to the sheriff's report, Mrs. Shirey watched as her husband loaded a .22-caliber handgun. He then reportedly stuck the gun in her face and said he was going to kill her, the report said.

Mrs. Shirey activated a household burglar alarm and while her husband called police to tell them it was a false alarm, she broke free and bolted out of the house. She called police from a neighbor's house.

She suffered a bump on her head and a bruise on her head. Shirey awaits disposition of another wife-assault charge stemming from an incident Oct. 11. The case, initially a misdemeanor, has been transferred to circuit court which handles the more serious felony charges.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
A $700 electric guitar was stolen from the car of Jeffrey Alan Laroche, 20, of 29 Narcissus Drive, Sanford, while parked at Fern Park Station, Fern Park Boulevard, Fern Park at about midnight Tuesday, a sheriff's report said.

Sandra M. Bordonarg, 42, of 134 Fairway Ten, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies $200 was stolen from her home Monday.

A diamond ring and gold bracelet with a combined value of $1,900 were stolen along with a $1,500 video camera from the home of Joan D. Rutkowski, 32, of 209 Redwing Court, Casselberry on Tuesday, deputies reported.

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a possible suspect who may have stolen a 1985 Toyota worth $15,000 from Willett Toyota, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, on Monday or Tuesday. The theft was reported by a sales manager.

Twenty-three Christmas trees belonging to Thomas M. Bonacciso, 25, of 621 Greenbrier Blvd., Altamonte Springs, have been stolen from a lot on State Road 434 in Longwood. According to a sheriff's report, the theft of the trees, valued at $391, occurred between Nov. 29 and Tuesday.

A $1,500 electric range was stolen from a home being built at 937 Willow Run lot 11, Casselberry, on Monday or Tuesday, according to a report builder Richard Thomas, 34, of Orlando, filed with sheriff's deputies. The range belongs to Arosa Developers of Orlando.

DUI ARRESTS
The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:
—Regina Ann Bekits, 25, of Mt. Dora, was arrested at 1:02 a.m. Wednesday, on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, after her car almost sideswiped a sheriff's patrol car and almost ran off the road.
—Abdulaziz Al-Nomer, 25, of Jacksonville, at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday after his car was in an accident on Interstate 4 at Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs.

DUI SENTENCES
The following persons have pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence or having an unlawful blood alcohol level.

The first-time offenders have had their driver license suspended for 6 months, been ordered to pay a $250 fine and court costs of $27.50, and complete 50 hours of community service. When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits. In cases where the sentences differ, the actual sentence is reported:

—Kenneth Michael Hinson, 34, of Orlando, arrested Sept. 14, Longwood police after his car was involved in an accident on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Longwood.

—Michele Teresa Welsch, 26, of 350 B. Maine Ave., Longwood, arrested Oct. 10 after she failed to dim her car's bright lights and drove onto the sidewalk several times on State Road 434 in Longwood.

—Billy Nelson Beam, 22, of 261 Short St., Lake Mary, arrested Sept. 10 after his car ran a stop sign and reportedly drove onto the sidewalk along Country Club Road at Third Street in Lake Mary.

—Willie Cray Jr., 40, of 100 Seminole Gardens, Sanford, arrested Oct. 2 on Brisson Avenue at State Road 46, east of Sanford, after his car was seen driving erratically. He was fined $500, ordered to spend three weekends in the Seminole County jail. His driver license was suspended for 6 months and he was placed on 6 months probation.

—William Gordon Eright, 28, of 204 W. 17th St., Sanford, arrested Sept. 7 after his car was seen traveling erratically on 17-92 in Sanford and reportedly crossed onto an oncoming lane and drove into an oncoming car.

He was fined $500 and was ordered to spend 3 weekends in the county jail. He was also ordered to serve one year probation and his driver license was suspended for 5 years.

—Edward Pender, 55, of Hidden Harbor Marina, Lake Monroe, arrested Aug. 10 after his car ran off State Road 46 west of Sanford.

—Tyrone Robinson, 20, of 73 W. Orange St., Apopka, arrested June 18 after driving on the wrong side of Celery Avenue in Sanford. He was arrested on 11th Street in Sanford after a police pursuit.

—Brian Anthony Soucy, 40, of Jacksonville, arrested July 13 after police saw his Chrysler run off State Road 434 twice, swerve in and out of lanes, and almost collide with another vehicle while attempting to pass it.

—Patrick Joseph Walsh, 30, of Brandon, arrested Oct. 3 after his car failed to maintain a single lane on 17-92 in Longwood.

—Kenneth Earl Williams, 29, of Orlando, arrested Oct. 6 on Interstate 4 in Lake Mary after police saw his vehicle cut in front of another car.

The following person arrested on a charge of DUI has been found guilty of the lesser crime of willful and reckless driving:

—Bobbie Jean Delau, 26, of 741 Faith St., Maitland, arrested Sept. 10 on Interstate 4 near Lake Mary after her car was clocked at 30 mph and seen weaving on the roadway. She received the usual sentence.

Apples Will Have Irradiated Glow

Why do those month-old apples have that special glow?

They've been irradiated, that's why. But why would anybody want to bombard apples with radiation?

To kill bacteria and preserve freshness, without chemicals or refrigeration. Food irradiation is a process which has been around since the 1950s, but only now is there a chance that irradiated food will be on counters of American supermarkets.

An industry group called the Coalition for Food Irradiation is lobbying Congress and the Food and Drug Administration to permit irradiated food to go on the market. It is supporting a bill that would change the definition of irradiation from "food additive" to a "food process" and prohibit states from regulating or banning irradiated food.

The FDA has given permission to radiate pork — to kill trichinosis — and is close to approving irradiation for fruits and vegetables.

On the surface, irradiating food sounds like a wonderful idea. Radiation would kill the bacteria but not remain in the food. It would greatly extend the shelf life of many foods. By slowing down spoilage, it would have uses in the military and in combatting world hunger, its proponents say.

The problem is that irradiated food has not been sufficiently tested to ensure that it won't cause cancer and other unforeseen health problems. How could this happen?

Radiation not only kills bacteria, it alters other molecules in the food. Many of the millions of altered molecules may be harmless, but some may be carcinogenic.

The FDA tests chemical preservatives on food by feeding doses to rats and seeing the effects. But the FDA has not done enough rigorous testing on irradiated food, though studies by the Agriculture Department found tumors in animals that ate irradiated food.

Irradiating food could also pose health dangers to food processors who work with the radiation and to communities where radioactive waste products are transported and stored.

Is irradiating food worth the risks?

Environmental factors are viewed as having an increasingly prominent role in causing cancer in modern society. Until the possible side effects of Americans eating tons of irradiated fruits, vegetables and meats are clearly spelled out, it makes no sense to put irradiated food on the market at this time.

The FDA should do a rigorous, long-term study of irradiated food and its health consequences before authorizing irradiation of fruits, vegetables and other meats. It should require that any irradiated foods be prominently labelled with the word "Irradiated." Consumers must know they are buying irradiated food.

Perhaps the sponsors of the irradiated food bill should first convince their colleagues in Congress to serve irradiated bean soup in the congressional dining room for a few years, before using the public as guinea pigs.

Anti-American Terrorism By Americans

In recent weeks, a pattern of terrorism has been directed against American citizens who comprise the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee.

This organization was formed several years ago under the leadership of my former U.S. Senate colleague from South Dakota, James Abourezk. Abourezk, now a Washington attorney, helped launch the American-Arab group to combat discrimination against persons of Arab descent in the United States and the Middle East. In a sense, the group, with a membership of 13,000, is the Arab counterpart to the Jewish Anti-Defamation League.

On Aug. 16, a bomb planted at the ADC office in Boston exploded and seriously injured a policeman.

Less than two months later, on Oct. 11, a powerful bomb blasted the ADC office in Santa Ana, Calif., killing Alex Odeh — the organization's West Coast regional director — and injuring eight other persons.

Then, on Nov. 29, a fire of highly suspicious origin destroyed the national headquarters of ADC in Washington.

On Nov. 8, an FBI spokesman said that agents had found a possible link between the California killing of Odeh and the Jewish Defense League — a group of hate-filled fanatics who claim to represent Israeli interests. The head of the JDL, Irv Rubin, said publicly at the time of Odeh's death that, "He got what he deserved."

The JDL denies that it was involved in the killing of Odeh, a 41-year-old father of three young children.

It is now vital, as ADC officials have declared following the Washington fire, that the FBI increase its efforts to get the facts on these three terrorist attacks against American citizens.

American public figures, myself included, have repeatedly denounced terrorism when it is used by Arab extremists against Israeli citizens or against Americans in the Middle East, including the Marines who were killed in Beirut. And we deplored the killing by PLO hijackers of the elderly, wheelchair-bound American on the Achille Lauro.

But it is even sadder when a young American father is killed at his office in a peaceful American city, far from the turmoil of the Middle East battleground. For another American to publicly applaud his death is, to say the least, a manifestation of barbaric behavior that justifies a full FBI investigation.

The fire that destroyed the national headquarters occurred just two blocks from my Washington home on Connecticut Avenue, D.C. Assistant Fire Chief Maurice Kilby has called the fire "very suspicious." Referring to the swift, almost explosive spread of the blaze, he added: "There's no way a fire can get that much headway so quickly."

Activists Adjudged Innocent

After more than a year of investigations, indictments and trials, the federal government has failed to make its case that there was massive election fraud in several central and southern Alabama counties where white resistance to growing black political power is greatest.

The first three members of the so-called Black Belt 8 tried this June: Albert Turner; his wife, Evelyn; and Spencer Hogue Jr., all of Marion in Perry County, were found not guilty. More trials are to come.

Turner and Hogue were charged under a 36-count indictment with altering the absentee ballots of black voters in a September 1984 election. Had they been convicted, they'd have faced up to 115 years in prison each and fines of more than $40,000.

Albert and Evelyn Turner are well-known Alabama civil rights activists. They filed the early 1960s lawsuits that first brought federal officials into Perry County to help local blacks register to vote. In the mid-'60s, Albert Turner worked for Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and when King was murdered in 1968, he led the mule train that carried the civil rights leader to his grave.

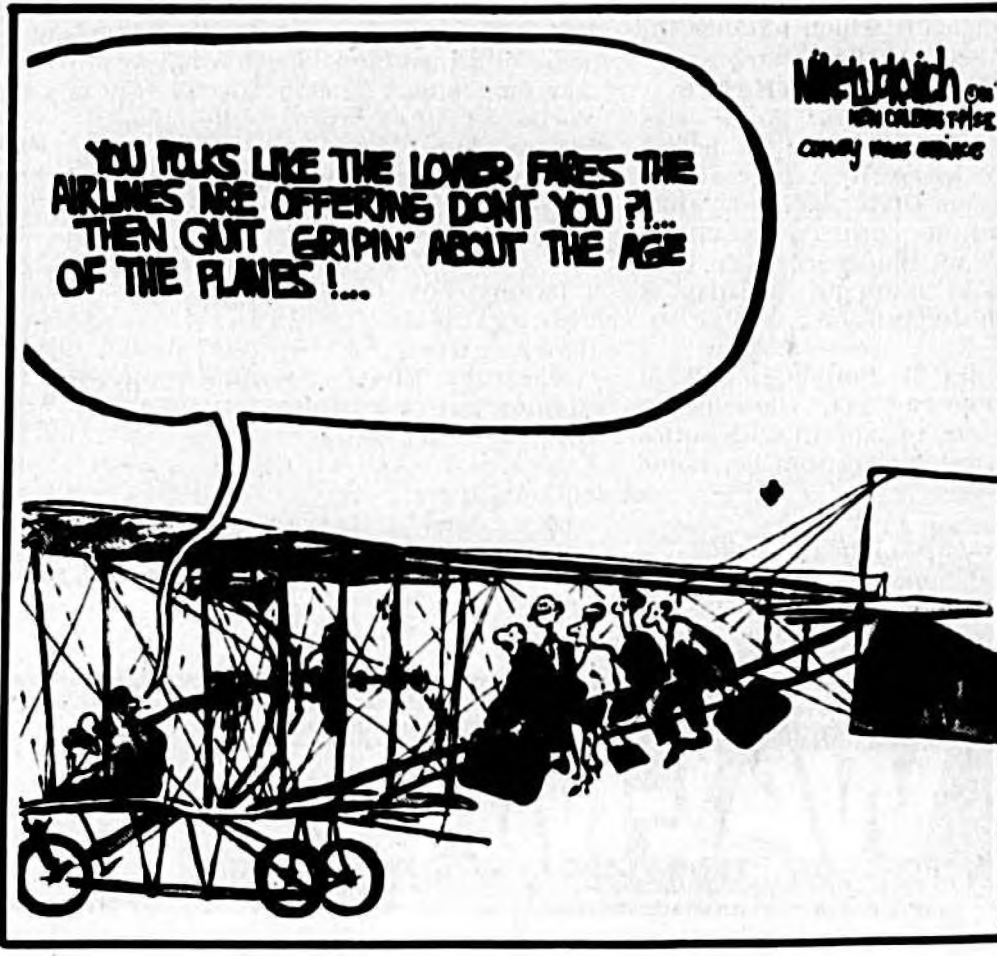

The current attack on the use of absentee ballots is ironic. For several years after the 1965 Voting Rights Act, whites in Southern counties with black majorities maintained their dominance by using absentee ballots of whites who had long since moved out of the county, and in many instances out of state as well.

In recent years, blacks have used the absentee-ballot technique too, not to cast votes for people out of town or out of state, but for elderly black residents and for those who could only find work outside their home counties.

But a rally in Selma last week celebrating the end of the first round of trials signaled the beginning of new demonstrations across the Black Belt.

Next year, we're going to do even better," said Wendell Paris, the man who has become chief spokesman for the Black Belt 8. Where we voted 500, we're going to do 1,000. And where we did 1,000, we'll do 2,000."

We want to serve notice on Uncle Sam not to mess with us," one of the Black Belt 8 said. "We're with him when he's with us, but when he turns his face away, watch out."

Justice Must Prevail

The deaths of 59 innocent people in the commando attack on the hijacked Egyptian flight 648 were, of course, a fearful price to pay for that victory of civilization over barbarism, but let no one say the price was too high. As a matter of fact, this tragedy may paradoxically avert others even worse by demonstrating to would-be terrorists that their demands will be rejected and their threats ignored, no matter what the cost may be.

It is also arguable that this whole episode might never have occurred if the terrorists involved had not had, in their mind's eye, the recollection of previous occasions on which responsible nations dithered and palavered with fanatics whom it is stretching a point to call human.

It cannot be reiterated too often that one must never bargain with terrorists, no matter what the alternative may be. As long as such people know there is a chance that their threats may succeed, they will keep on making them. When they become convinced that threats will not succeed under any circumstances, the rational individuals involved in this conduct will stop it. Men poised precariously between sanity and sheer lunacy may not be deterred, but these (fortunately) are rare.

It is noteworthy that, despite the carnage on Malta, comments on Egypt's commando raid on the plane have thus far overwhelmingly endorsed it as necessary. The Egyptian government has defended its decision. The U.S. government promptly endorsed it. The airline's captain gave it as his opinion that there was no other choice. The surviving passengers agree — apparently unanimously.

What we must cultivate, when confronted with these life-and-death decisions, is the ability to visualize, not only the unlucky individuals being held hostage at a given moment, but the scores, hundreds, even thousands — not yet chosen by Fate for that ordeal, but living, breathing human beings all the same — who are doomed to it if such practices are countenanced and seem to be getting somewhere. Future victims of terrorism are not as easy to sympathize with as current ones; their relatives don't appear on television making tearful appeals to President Reagan.

Nor can we forget those who have already paid the highest price and remain — as yet — unavenged. How long has it been since you heard or read the name Robert Stethem — the young Navy man who was coldbloodedly murdered by the hijackers of TWA 847 before they even dispersed his fellow hostages around Beirut? Those three killers are still at large, and it is gratifying to read the other day that a federal grand jury in Washington has indicted them by name. It would be foolish to assume that this was just a routine gesture on the part of the U.S. government or a spasm of helpless fist-shaking. Rather, it has the look of some sort of necessary legal preliminary to other actions yet to come.

Luckily, in Ronald Reagan, America has a president who is not likely to forget these people.

President Restudies Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has three years to go in office and his goal at the time he sought re-election was to complete his agenda.

The agenda has been mainly focused on reducing the role of the federal government in all aspects except for national security. In many ways he has succeeded in changing the direction of the country, turning to the right.

There have been cutbacks across the board in social programs. Reagan would have preferred to scrap many of them, but he found that was an impossibility because of the power of the constituencies.

He has appointed men to top positions who are striving to impose the conservative philosophy on their departments and agencies.

Education Secretary William Bennett is striving mightily to redirect his department to ideologically redirect the federal role, advocating back to basics, prayer in the schools and other Reagan goals.

Attorney General Edwin Meese wants to return to the founding fathers interpretation of the Constitution on the assumption that social changes in 200 years should not be considered by the Supreme Court.

He also wants to wipe out the 20-year-old affirmative action program, the impetus for broadening the employment opportunities of blacks, Hispanics and women under federal contracts.

The president has not made a final decision on whether to go along with Meese's recommendations, although he is against any quotas. The Reagan Cabinet is split on the subject with only a minority advocating a change.

Furthermore, the National Association of Manufacturers, with 13,500 members, has urged Reagan not to revise the executive order affecting affirmative action requirements for federal contractors.

In terms of reorienting the thinking of Congress to spend less on domestic programs, the president has been successful. But the plight of the farmer has blocked his drive to eventually eliminate price supports and other federal assistance programs.

But Reagan has failed in his promise at the start of his first term to balance the budget by 1984.

The $200 billion-plus deficit still looms as a major shadow over his accomplishments.

Suit Urged Against Pacemaker Company

By Jack Anderson And Joseph Spears

WASHINGTON — Three years ago, we began a series of reports on pacemakers, which keep half-a-million Americans alive. We highlighted charges that heart patients, who depend on these life-or-death devices, are paying too much. Worse, some patients have been stuck with faulty battery-operated heart regulators.

Now the Justice Department is considering a request that the world's largest manufacturer of pacemakers be sued to recover Medicare funds spent for the surgical replacement of faulty components in one model.

The cost to Medicare of the replacement operations could eventually total between $65 million and $101 million, according to an internal estimate in August by the Food and Drug Administration.

A spokesman for the pacemaker manufacturer, Medtronic Inc. of Minneapolis, told our associate Tony Capaccio that the company was not aware of the specifics of the Aug. 28 request. This was made by Terry Coleman, who was then the acting general counsel of the Health and Human Services Department.

"There has been no discussion between the Department of Justice and us," the Medtronic spokesman said. "We're willing to stand the scrutiny. Our attorneys said they'd be surprised" if Justice decided to sue.

Coleman's 28-page request asked Justice to "institute litigation against Medtronic Inc. to recover Medicare reimbursement paid in connection with the surgical replacement of certain of their defective pacemaker leads."

The leads — plastic-coated wires that connect the pacemaker unit to the heart — were recalled by Medtronic in March 1984, after doctors at the Lancaster, Pa., General Hospital reported problems and the story got widespread coverage. Under stress, the thin plastic coating can crack, allowing blood to seep through to the wires and cause a short circuit. The Food and Drug Administration has estimated that as many as 20 percent of the pacemakers fail after three years' use.

Since then, the company said, it has spent $1.2 million in credits for trade-in pacemakers, plus reimbursement of as much as $600 each for corrective surgery. But health officials pointed out that the replacement operations generally cost $5,000, which means Medicare is stuck with about $4,400 per replacement. Medtronic has paid the full cost of 93 operations for (hardship) patients.

The replacement surgery for 180 patients at Lancaster General Hospital cost Medicare $676,300, according to the request to the Justice Department. Medtronic has recommended that patients still using the pacemakers with defective wiring undergo monthly monitoring. The FDA estimates these monthly checkups by physicians could cost Medicare anywhere from $1.5 million to $7.7 million a year.

Reps. John Dingell, D-Mich., and

Ron Wyden, D-Ore., have been following the pacemaker case. In a letter last month to Attorney General Edwin Meese, they wrote: "It appears that the Department of Justice now stands as the last recourse for the American taxpayer and the innocent patients, all of whom have been financially victimized by the conduct of the pacemaker manufacturer."

The congressmen joined in the Health and Human Services Department's request that Medtronic be sued for Medicare's losses. In his request, Coleman said department officials "are persuaded that the United States will be able to maintain a direct action against Medtronic."

Footnote: Only 14 of the known 18,000 wearers of the pacemaker with the faulty wiring are totally dependent on their devices and risk death in the event of an abrupt failure caused by a short circuit, according to an FDA document. Most of the remaining patients may need only the monthly checkup.

IN BRIEF

Petrochemical Industry Supports New Superfund Corporate Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Leaders of the petrochemical industry are urging lawmakers to support a controversial plan that would help pay for the Superfund toxic waste cleanup program by establishing a new broad-based corporate tax.

The tax plan, which would raise nearly half the $10.1 billion budgeted by the House to finance Superfund for another five years, is included in legislation slated for debate before the House today.

But alternatives have been proposed to replace the proposed excise tax with general revenues or by increasing the separate Superfund tax paid by the petrochemical industry.

The Superfund bill carries a budget more than six times larger than the $1.6 billion spent during the first phase of the cleanup program, which began in 1980.

Dems Seek Reagan Tax Support

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is giving a qualified endorsement to the House Ways and Means Committee's tax overhaul bill, but Democrats say he needs to work harder to reverse Republican opposition threatening to kill the plan.

With House Democrats pressing for clear presidential support, Reagan Wednesday issued a carefully worded statement which did not strongly push the bill, but said both the committee measure and an alternative drawn by House Republicans "represent substantial progress from current law."

"We do not want to risk damaging, perhaps irreparably, an entire year's effort to achieve real tax reform, so I strongly believe the legislative process must be allowed to go forward," Reagan said.

A House vote on the Ways and Means bill is expected next week. The Republican alternative is given virtually no chance for passage in the chamber, where Democrats have a firm majority.

No Centerfold in Braille

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Blind Americans, accusing Congress of discrimination and censorship, filed suit to demand the federal government resume printing Playboy magazine in Braille.

The American Council of the Blind and other groups announced Wednesday they were challenging a new law that bars the Library of Congress from continuing to produce Braille Playboys at taxpayers' expense.

The Braille copies, which contain only articles — no photographs, cartoons or advertisements — had been distributed to about 1,000 readers through the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped for the last 15 years.

Although the new law halted production of Braille Playboy, public libraries continue to offer the magazine for sighted people at taxpayer expense, said American Council of the Blind spokesman Oral Miller.

Evidence Indicates INS Duped

CHICAGO (UPI) — Immigration authorities who thought they were questioning Soviet sailor Miroslav Medvid when he jumped ship near New Orleans in October were actually talking to a Soviet agent who duped them, two men claim.

Evidence shows Medvid was probably killed after he jumped ship twice in futile efforts to seek asylum in the United States, said Julian Kulas, a Chicago attorney.

During a news conference with Kulas and several others Wednesday, Joe Wyman, the first person to find Medvid on the shores of the Mississippi River, said the man who was interviewed was not Medvid.

He said the man was a Soviet agent he had seen at the police station after Medvid jumped the first time.

Sanford Planners Foresee Annexation

Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's Planning and Zoning Commission offered the city commission a multi-colored conceptualization of the future through the presentation of an interim land use map that anticipates heavy annexation into the city of land lying in northwestern unincorporated Seminole County.

P&Z chairman John Morris requested the City Commission at the Monday workshop session to adopt the map's boundaries and multiple land use designations as "a reference" that will be used by city planners and those considering annexing into Sanford.

Morris also asked the commission to hire consulting engineers to assist the P&Z in developing a new comprehensive plan for the city. The project has been undertaken to comply with a state mandate and the engineers' assistance will cost approximately $50,000, according to Planning and Engineering Department

Director Bill Simmons.

The requests will be formally considered by the commission at its regular meeting on Monday night.

State legislation prohibits comprehensive plan, land use maps from including areas beyond present city limits and the interim map will be amended before being submitted as part of Sanford's plan. "We'll pull its boundaries in to city lines," Simmons said.

In addition to a land use map and the building zones it designates, the city's comprehensive plan must address housing, conservation, recreation, traffic, and police, fire and utility services. With the consulting engineers' assistance, Morris estimated the entire report would be completed within three months. It will then be sent to various state agencies for approval, he said.

The approximately 4-square miles of county land included on the interim map prompted the city commission to request the P&Z take steps to discuss its effort with county planners. Morris said his previous attempts to do this had been unsuccessful, but that he would "try again" to contact county Planning Director Tony Vanderworp.

Morris told the Evening Herald last month he made several calls to the county planning department during the four months the P&Z worked on the interim map. Vanderworp, however, said he had never been contacted.

Earlier this fall, the county brought suit against Sanford for annexing approximately 220 acres of land into the western quadrant of the city. The county contended the annexation violated a state statute which prohibits the creation of enclaves. At last week's city commission meeting, an annexation request was denied after the commissioners debated the possibility that it might create an enclave and thus be challenged by the county.

Commissioner David Farr acknowledged at Monday's meeting that annexations "are a touchy issue," but said nonetheless, "the county should be given opportunity for input" regarding the interim map.

One of the map's prominent features is a 3,500 foot circle of county land surrounding the intersection of State Road 48 and Interstate-4. According to Morris, this is an area of "primary growth" that will ultimately become "highly developed" as commercial city property. To accommodate the traffic this will engender, the P&Z anticipates that area's railroad right of way will eventually be developed as a road and Reihhart and Upsala Roads and Oregon Avenue will be extended and/or widened.

The interim map also designates medium and low density residential development for the county's recharge area lying north of the I-4 circle.

Anne Baxter Is Reportedly Brain Dead After Collapse

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anne Baxter, the Oscar-winning actress whose movie and television career has spanned nearly a half-century, collapsed on a Manhattan street and reportedly was brain dead.

Baxter, 62, the granddaughter of architect Frank Lloyd Wright, was taken to Lenox Hill Hospital Wednesday, but the exact nature of her illness was not immediately disclosed.

A spokeswoman for the hospital said the actress, who makes her home in Connecticut, was in the intensive care unit and was listed in critical condition.

The New York Daily News today said doctors had classified her as brain dead but a hospital spokeswoman today refused to confirm or deny the report.

Baxter, who had been appearing on ABC's "Hotel" series, is being kept alive until her three daughters arrive at her bedside, said ABC spokeswoman Carol Fleisher.

Bill Barron, a spokesman for the actress in Los Angeles, said Baxter collapsed while taking a walk and was brought to the hospital by ambulance. "A heart attack or a stroke has not been ruled out," he said.

Baxter, known to Hollywood as a refined but often adventurous woman, played a variety of roles throughout her career, ranging from a mischievous villainess in television's "Batman" to the beautiful Egyptian queen in "The Ten Commandments."

She shocked Hollywood when, in 1959, she quit acting to marry Australian cattle rancher Randolph Galt and moved to his 36,000-acre spread, 10 miles from the nearest neighbor.

Four years later, she was back, saying she had been unable to handle the "isolation and loneliness."

Baxter won an Academy Award as best supporting actress for her performance in the 1946 adaptation of Somerset Maugham's "The Razor's Edge," in which she played an unhappy American girl drowning her troubles with drink in Paris.

She was nominated four years later for an Oscar for her portrayal of the scheming young actress in "All About Eve."

Most recently, Baxter played the wealthy widow who owns the "Hotel" on ABC's hit series. She replaced Bette Davis in the series when Davis suffered a stroke.

Baxter was born May 7, 1923, in Michigan City, Ind., and was raised in Bronxville and surrounding areas of New York.

She made her debut on Broadway at age 13 in "Seen But Not Heard," followed by an appearance in the play "There's Always a Breeze."

Baxter was given a long-term deal at 20th Century-Fox and made her first film, "Twenty Mule Team," starring Wallace Berry, in 1940.

Longwood Parade Set For Saturday

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Congressman Bill McCollum will be the grand marshal of Longwood's Christmas Parade to be held Saturday on State Road 434 slated to begin at 10 a.m.

Longwood Mayor Harvey Smerilson will be the Shrine grand marshal.

This will be the only Central Florida parade to feature all of the Bahia Shrine's 42 parade units, including Gus the camel, drum and bugle corps, bagpipers, oriental band, jazz band, clowns, cars, and motorcycles.

There will be 92 units the approximately 2-hour parade which will include 500 Shriners and 1,500 other participants, according to William Goebel, director of Longwood Parks and Recreation Department.

The parade theme is Christmas in Longwood.

To help relieve some of the traffic and parking problems in the parade area, the city will provide shuttle bus transportation between the parade route and Lyman High School on County Road 427.

Goebel recommends spectators bring their folding chairs, due to the length of the parade.

Oil Glut And Price Plunge Concerns OPEC

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — OPEC experts met today before the weekend start of the annual year-end ministerial conference to discuss the latest plunge in oil prices caused by a new glut of oil on world markets.

The experts report Friday to the six-member OPEC Market Monitoring Committee chaired by oil minister Mana Saied Otaiba of the United Arab Emirates.

That committee in turn will make recommendations to the full conference of 13 ministers that begins Saturday.

Most ministers arrived today and met in small groups on the upper floors of the Hotel Intercontinental, sealed off to outsiders.

Saudi Arabian oil minister Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani said the conference would concentrate on efforts to devise a pricing strategy.

Industry analysts said OPEC's daily production ranges from 17.5 million to 18 million barrels.

Briefly answering reporters questions on arrival, Yamani said "no" when asked if he expected any change in individual production quotas and "yes" about prices being the central issue.

All members of bitterly divided OPEC are selling as much oil as they can for whatever price they can get after pricing and production discipline collapsed at the last meeting in Vienna in October.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT

The Eastern freeze extended as far south as Dixie today, packing Salvation Army shelters in the South and prompting New York City police to prowl the streets for a third night in a row searching for the shivering homeless.

Early today, the mercury in the upper Midwest fell 1 degree below zero at Blsmark, N.D. In the East, temperatures in the teens were reported as far south as New York and freezing readings reached into the Carolinas. A storm that dumped up to a half foot of snow in the northern and central Plains Wednesday pushed toward the Great Lakes today, and advisories for blowing snow and hazardous roads were posted in Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. At least 24 people have been killed by snow and bitter cold since a snowstorm pushed out of the Rockies Sunday. An 85-year-old Cincinnati woman died Wednesday when the flame went out on a gas stove she used for warmth. In the South, the Greensboro, N.C., Salvation Army shelter was packed beyond capacity with 43 people Wednesday night, and officials said they expected the situation would get worse as temperatures got lower. "There are still people who haven't come in yet," director Don Bovender said.

"They take what they can for a few nights, then start stocking in here." It was only 29 degrees today in Raleigh, N.C., where people were waiting in line when the Salvation Army shelter opened at 6 p.m. Salvation Army worker Bobby Bledsoe said, "They're waiting outside every night since it got cold."

IN BRIEF

Trio Indicted For Conspiracy To Defraud Area Firm And Army

ORLANDO (UPI) — Two Florida men and a Georgia resident have been indicted on federal charges of conspiracy to defraud Martin Marietta Aerospace Inc. and the U.S. Army of about $144,000 worth of computers and supplies.

U.S. Attorney Robert Merkle said Wednesday a 22-count indictment was returned against Charles S. Deneen III, 31, of Orlando.

Single counts were brought against William W. Welch, 34, of Eustis, and Timothy E. Strickland, 23, of Alpharetta, Ga., formerly of Gainesville, Merkle's office said.

Deneen is a former Martin Marietta manager of business operations at the Pershing engineering center, and Welch is his former assistant. Strickland is the former part owner of Compumax Corp., a retail computer outlet in Gainesville.

The grand jury indictments accuse the trio of creating false and fraudulent material requests and other documents on Martin Marietta Pershing Missile contracts with the Army to purchase Commodore 64 computers, supplies and equipment from Strickland.

Health Care Up, Costs Down

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The head of the governor's task force on prison health care Wednesday said two teams of doctors report improved conditions at the main prison hospital at Lake Butler after a recent inspection.

Bill Bryant also told members of a Senate subcommittee the state may end up paying less than was first feared to settle an inmate lawsuit over medical conditions.

The state has spent more than $9 million boarding inmate inmates at Alachua General Hospital in Gainesville since June, when a federal judge barred surgery and care of critically ill inmates at Lake Butler.

The two independent teams of doctors reported improved conditions at the Lake Butler prison hospital since last December, when a federal team said poor treatment caused the needless death of 17 prisoners between April 1982 and April 1983.

The South Rises Again

OKLAWAHA (UPI) — Rebel sympathizers and Union troops will clash again this weekend in a re-enactment of the only Civil War fighting in Marion County, a hotbed of secessionist support even before the war erupted.

"Marion County tried to secede from the Union three weeks before any of the states did," said Lois Kohl, a historian organizing restaging of the unsuccessful Union raid a few months before the war ended.

The historic skirmish occurred in 1864 when two companies of Union troops crossed the Oklawaha River at Sharpes Ferry, turned south and burned Marshall's Plantation, a supplier of sugar to the Confederacy.

Re-enactments of the battle will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday at the Lake Weir Chamber of Commerce. Kohl said the fight couldn't be staged at the original site, because researchers are uncertain where the plantation was.

County To Stop Suit If Oviedo Annexes

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

The City of Oviedo is moving ahead to annex 58 acres adjacent to the Riverwood Subdivision, two enclaves the county claims were created when Oviedo annexed a 1,500-acre parcel in November.

The Seminole County Commission voted Monday to challenge in court the annexation of Riverwood Subdivision, located east of Oviedo on Highway 419. The county had until Dec. 18 to challenge the annexation and said Monday the suit will be dismissed if the enclaves are annexed within the next three months.

Oviedo City Planner Randy Cohen said the city council Monday accepted petitions from property owners in the out-parcels. The council instructed city staff to review the proposed annexation and report back on Dec. 16, after which the city attorney will begin drafting the necessary ordinance, he said.

By state law Oviedo must advertise annexations for four weeks and then hold two public hearings, meaning that the annexation will not be finalized until late January or early February, Cohen said.

Deputy County Attorney Bob McMillan said Tuesday he was told by the property appraiser's office that it had received no annexation petitions from land owners of the reputed enclaves.

Property Appraisal Office Director Ross Wontenay said Wednesday, however, that petitions by three property owners in the out-parcels were verified by the county on Nov. 21, two days after the city voted to annex the 1,500-acre Riverwood parcel, and were returned to Oviedo.

The petitions were made by property owners B.F. Wheeler Jr., Gopal K. Saxena and George W. and Mary E. Pryce.

McMillan said the county will not file the challenge if the out-parcels are annexed by Dec. 18 and that if it files it would drop the lawsuit when the parcels are actually annexed.

Cohen predicted the property could be annexed within the next three months but not by Dec. 18 due to time constraints on advertising and holding public hearings.

"They (the county) are aware of our time frame," he said.

The county had asked Oviedo to delay the Riverwood annexation in order not to create enclaves, unincorporated parcels surrounded by city property. Enclaves are forbidden by state law.

Oviedo City Council Chairman Jane Dees questioned "under what possible auspices" the county is filing the lawsuit.

Challenging the annexation is the county's "prerogative," but Oviedo has "done what they suggested needed to be done," Dees said. Obtaining petitions from property owners in the out-parcels is the first step in the annexation process, she said.

"We are going ahead. They can do anything they want to," Dees said. "They are fighting for their existence because we are annexing their tax base and that is understandable. But this annexation is being done at the request of the property owners and in the proper way. I don't see the need for this posturing."

She said she understood that the annexation issue was to be taken up at the county commission's Tuesday evening session. The action was approved, however, at the commission's morning meeting as an add-on to the county attorney's report.

The county agreed to notify Oviedo before filing suit, and Commissioner Barbara Christensen said she wants the county to withhold filing if Oviedo can show that the petitions are "in hand."

"If they can assure us that everything is being carried forward I would like to hold off until it gets closer to the eighteenth (Dec. 18)," she said.

Even if the annexation petitions have been received, they can be withdrawn at a later date, replied County Administrator Ken Hooper. "But Dec. 18 is our last chance," he said.

"We want to work with them (Oviedo) on water and this isn't a good way to start this thing," Christensen added.

The county has offered Oviedo a park site in exchange for a wholesale water agreement to provide service to the residents of the Black Hammock area.

Commissioners called the move to challenge the annexation the "fairest way" to clear up the enclave question with Oviedo.

...Resign

two months' administrative leave, but didn't know if the other two who resigned were also given administrative leave time. Lois Martin, county personnel director, said today George was granted administrative leave time until Jan. 17, and Carswell, annual leave, until March 7.

Percy added: "I had hoped to stay with the county at least another year and a half. I would have liked to see the county library expansion project completed. We kind of felt that we were instrumental in getting it started. I feel a little bad about this. I had just hired an administrative assistant to help with the workload, and I feel that we were about to make a lot of improvements and get a lot of things straightened out that needed attention."

Hooper, according to Percy, had talked with county commissioners and told them he intended to ask for their resignations and that he would fire them if they did not. Percy said he spoke with one county commissioner who told him that was true, but that commissioners felt they should stay out of it since Hooper, as county administrator, should be allowed to make such decisions. At least three county commissioners who were asked to comment on the matter — Bill Kirehloff, Bob Sturm and Fred Streetman — declined. Carswell and George also could not be reached for comment today.

Although a decision on replacements for the three has not been made, Hooper said the county will post the positions immediately and begin the interviewing process. He said the three men indicated they will seek positions within local government or the private sector outside Seminole County.

Hooper called Percy and Carswell "long-time county employees." He said all three were "truly dedicated employees" and that it is "with regrets that they are leaving the county."

George leaves a $44,600 position he has held with the county since April. Prior to coming to Seminole County, he held various positions within the Volusia County government since 1974, including special projects coordinator for the Volusia County county manager's office.

George's duties as deputy county administrator included coordinating staff offices and special projects. He resides in DeLand with his wife, Theresa.

Percy has been employed with Seminole County since June 1973, when he was hired as assistant county planner. In March 1975, he was named land development administrator and in April 1976 director of public services.

His duties in the $43,900-a-year position included coordinating management of the library services, facilities maintenance, parks and recreation and county extension service divisions. Percy also oversaw special projects in the county's construction program. He resides in Lake Mary.

Carswell began his county employment as program specialist with the Manpower (CETA) Division. In July 1979, he was promoted to manager of the Manpower Division. He has held the $35,100-a-year position of parks and recreation manager since November 1982.

Carswell lives in Casselberry with his wife, Deborah, and his children, Christopher and Timothy.

at noon the following day, he was taken to the hospital where he was declared brain dead. Caused of death was bleeding in the skull. Holt then became an organ donor.

Jellis was arrested Nov. 6.

According to court records, Jellis and Holt, in a truck together, were in the parking lot of Lil' Champ on French Ave.,

20th Street Sanford, when Jellis reportedly got mad at Holt. Jellis ordered him to get out of the truck. He did and walked to the driver's side of the car. Jellis reportedly got out of the truck and hit Holt once. Holt was knocked to the ground and his head hit the pavement. Jellis then drove away, police reported. Emergency medical technicians were called to the scene, but Holt refused help and transportation to the hospital.

...Team

Also in the teams' cheering section is Mayor Bettye Smith, who said the effort displays "marvelous community spirit. They're terrific to give their time to help the city."

Now that the data has been collected, it will be reviewed by consultants the city hired to oversee preparation of the grant application. Mrs. Smith said the consultants, Candeb, Fleissig and Associates, told her Sanford stands a 95 percent chance of receiving the funding. She attributed the high odds to the city's not having applied for community development funding in four years and a HUD small cities rating, which put Sanford's economic need second only to Key West.

Mrs. Smith also said the city may apply for a grant in March that would address the rehabilitation of commercial property. She pointed out the city would be under less pressure to assemble this application because there would be more time to compile economic profiles. Also, with a spring track team at her possible disposal, the effort could probably be completed in no time at all.

...Treatment

"I don't think interleukin-2 should be considered a new pentecillin, but it should be considered in the armamentarium (aggregate of resources) as we develop new approaches," he said.

Interleukin is a protein produced by the body in extremely small quantities. Interleukin-2, a similar protein created by genetic engineering, can be administered in the quantities needed for the therapy.

The treatment has severe side effects, the worst of which is swelling that can hinder the function of the lungs, kidneys and other organs. The side effects disappeared when the treatment stopped.

The NCI, which can test four to eight patients a month, has been the only place testing the treatment, but it will be joined by the University of Wisconsin (Clinical Cancer Center).

Chemotherapy the treatment of cancer through drugs, damages most tissues. Side effects can include nausea, partial loss of hair, loss of appetite, sterility and damage to the bone marrow, making the body unable to properly control infection, bruising or fatigue. Most side effects disappear when chemotherapy ends.

Montgomery: Woodham Throws Only To Score

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

After competing in a dog-eat-dog area during the regular season, Pensacola Woodham will see what the chow in the Central Florida area is like Friday night when it invades Lake Mary High for the 5A-1 Section playoff. Kickoff is 8 p.m., and advance tickets are available at the Lake Mary High athletic office. Reserved seat tickets are $5 and general admission tickets are $4.

Woodham, the defending 4A state champion, comes in with a 9-2 record with both of its losses coming to teams in the Pensacola area. Both of those teams, Pensacola Escambia and Milton, are 3A schools.

Former Oviedo High coach Joe Montgomery, now the coach at Pensacola Pine Forest, said that Woodham is not as strong as last year, but that it is still a powerful football team.

"This bunch from Woodham is not as good as they usually are," Montgomery, who has been at Pine Forest four years, said. "They'd be in fourth place in our (4A) district. But they are still a good team."

Montgomery said Woodham, which beat his Pine Forest team, 17-10, is mostly a running team that throws only to score. Woodham runs out of the I-formation with Jason Hawkins the leading ballcarrier. Hawkins rushed for 925 yards this season.

Quarterback Victor Dirden is quick and adept at running the option. Pensacola's top pass catcher is Sherman Sausberry who has 10 touchdown receptions this season.

"They're an option team that relies on the strength of the offensive line," Montgomery said of Woodham. "All of us up here do. The forward pass is practically nonexistent."

Montgomery said Woodham coach Don Sharpe uses hand signals to call all the plays which may present a problem for the Rams. "It's unique if you haven't seen it," he said. "He (Sharpe) uses it to give him another eight to 10 seconds to call the play. You'll see discipline like you've never seen with this team."

Sharpe compiled some pretty impressive statistics before coming to Pensacola Woodham. At Adulisa, Ala., his teams had an incredible win streak of 59 which included three straight state championships.

Last season, Sharpe guided Woodham to the 4A state crown by with playoff victories over Fort Walton Beach Choctawhatchee (19-14), Lake City Columbia (33-6), Lakeland High (28-13) and, in the final, Miami Southridge (20-7).

"We haven't got anybody that we've played to compare with Woodham," Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said. "Nobody we played is like them. They're quicker on the outside than anyone we've played and run the option well. On defense, they cover the field well and pursue really well. They're a well organized ballclub."

Nelson said practices this week have been good and that he and the Rams are preparing "with a great amount of gusto, intensity, care and thoroughness."

INJURY REPORT — Nelson said that both junior quarterback Shane Letterio and senior linebacker Brett Mollie will be ready to go Friday. Both were injured in last week's 7-3 regional win over Lake City Columbia. Nelson said Letterio was okay but, "I don't know how much of a pounding he can take."

Nelson also said Mollie is limping some but should be at full strength Friday night.

Oak Ridge 'Charges' Past Tribe

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

WINTER PARK — First-year Seminole cage coach Bill Klein, who admits he forgot what losing was like during two unbeaten years as freshman coach, was re-introduced to the wrong side of the scoreboard Wednesday night in the first round of the Rotary Tip-Off Classic Invitational.

Klein's Seminoles fell behind early against Oak Ridge, rallied to tie and halftime and even led in the second half before self-destructing in the fourth quarter en route to a 67-63 setback to the Pioneers.

Seminole had several opportunities to reassume control but charging fouls and missed free throws held it back. On five occasions Seminole scored but had the bucket negated by a charging foul.

"If the referee calls that charge three times, there's a good chance he's going to call it that way again," Klein pointed out. "We have to understand that and pull up and take the short jump shot. That, too, will come with experience."

Seminole, 1-1, opposes Winter Park, 0-1, in the losers' bracket today at 5:30 p.m. Coach Bo Clark's Wildcats were blown out by Seabreeze, 67-46, in Wednesday's second game. Tonight, Edgewater plays defending champion Mainland at 7:15 and West Orange faces Jones at 9.

Klein took the loss in strides "After the DeLand game I was worried about us scrapping to get the ball," he said. "We got down on the floor and went after it, we just didn't come up with many."

Seminole had played Oak Ridge, 1-1, during the summer league and Klein said all three encounters were close games. He expected and received the same Wednesday night.

The Pioneers continually beat Seminole's zone and man-to-man defenses for open shots from the wings and had no difficulty rebounding the much bigger (6-7, 6-7, 6-4) Tribe. Seminole failed to exploit its size on the offensive boards and were usually limited to one shot.

Basketball

Joel Berry, who wore out the 'Noles with a game-high 24 points, scored seven points as Oak Ridge bolted to a 15-6 edge halfway through the first quarter. A three-point play by Seminole sophomore Andre Whitney and two 15-footers by junior Jerry Parker pulled the Tribe within 22-15 at the end of the quarter.

Seminole, which starts two sophs and a junior along with two seniors, hit its stride in the second quarter. Senior Robert Hill turned in a pair of steals while Mike Wright added four consecutive points and Parker hit a big bucket to give the Tribe a 31-30 lead with 1:15 left in the half.

Craig Walker, a 6-7 sophomore, added the second of his three dunks to push the Tribe ahead, 33-32, but Torris Winston dropped a free throw to send the teams into halftime tied at 33.

"We came out too timid at the beginning of the game and again in the second half," Klein said. "They were a little bit more cohesive than us. We still have to develop a pattern of substituting. That's something that comes with experience."

In the third quarter, Oak Ridge spurred to a 47-43 lead but a Whitney steal and hoop, a Henderson bucket and a 22-footer with five seconds left gave the Tribe a 49-47 edge going into the final eight minutes.

The Pioneers, who coach Jeff Asher rates second or third in the Metro Conference, outscored the Seminoles, 9-2, to take a 56-51 lead midway through the fourth quarter.

Parker, who popped off the bench to hit 12 points, fired in a jumper to pull the Tribe within 62-59 with 2:35 to play. Berry came back with one free throw but Seminole turned in over.

Walker, however, came up with a nice steal and Seminole had the ball with 1:48 to play. On successive chances at the foul line, though, Walker and Henderson each missed one-plus-ones four seconds apart to hamper the comeback.

Walker finally converted two free throws with 58 seconds to play to bring the Tribe within 63-61 but Tony Glover, who finished with 17 points, dropped two for the Pioneers and when Glover hit a bucket with 11 ticks to go, Oak Ridge ensured the victory and a spot opposite Seabreeze, 1-0, Friday night at 7:15.

Whitney led the Tribe with 15 points. Parker and Henderson each tallied 15 while Walker finished with 10. Senior Rod Fossitt pulled down eight rebounds while Henderson and Walker had six each. Hill finished with three steals.

ALTMONTE SPRINGS — Lake Howell and Lake Brantley, a pair of boys basketball teams looking for some early season success before they get into the meat of their schedule, open the season tonight in the third annual Patriot Invitational Tip-Off Tournament at Lake Brantley High School.

Lake Howell, 0-1, the defending champion, opens tonight's action at 6:30 against New Smyrna Beach, Lake Brantley, 0-0, with first-year coach Steve Jucker at the helm. Plays Wymore Career Education Center at 8:30 p.m.

Jucker, whose father Ed coached Cincinnati University to back-to-back NCAA championships in 1961 and 1962, has paid his dues with nine years at the junior varsity and assistant level before succeeding Bob Peterson this year.

"I'm looking forward to it," he said Wednesday. "We have a lot of guards who are good perimeter shooters but I don't know what we're going to do for an inside game."

Jucker said Wade Wittig, a 6-2 senior who came on strongly at the end of last year, and 6-0 senior Mark Moser will carry the scoring load. Dave Hardwick, a 5-10 senior, will play the point and be the defensive leader. Bret Bell, a 5-11 junior, will play power forward and 6-2 sophomore Darren Leva moved into the center slot vacated by 6-8 Greg Courtney.

"Wittig and Moser will have to handle the scoring load," Jucker said. "Hardwick is a relentless defender. He has good quickness and anticipates well."

"Bell plays pretty tough around the basket. We're kind of throwing Leva to the wolves. He's inexperienced but he has to develop."

The Patriots' depth comes from guards Steve Stark, Steve Morse, Mike Morris, Geoff McLean and Donny Palmer. Joel Miller, a 6-3 senior, and Barry Shirley, a 6-3 junior, will lend muscle underneath.

While Jucker banks on his depth at guard, Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson has the unpleasant task of replacing two of the best backcourtmen to wear the Silver and Blue.

Basketball

Herald Player of the Year, and point guard Scott Anderson formed a solid duo last year but both graduated. "You just don't replace people like Efrem and Scotty," Robinson, who is beginning his 12th year, said. "They were in the program for three years and do real good jobs for us."

Robinson said he will turn to 5-11 senior John Lowe to handle the point and 6-1 senior Todd Peterson to be the shooting guard. "Lowe is making the adjustment from the wing but he's a real tough kid who scored 13 in our opener," Robinson said. "Peterson was hurt last year. He's our best outside shooter. He just has to get his confidence up."

While the Silver Hawks may lack the backcourt firepower of last year, Robinson, who was an all-around standout at Crooms High in the late 60s, said his frontcourt will be an area of strength.

Kevin Lienard, a physical 6-4 senior, returns along with 6-5 senior Fred Hicks and 6-4 junior Randy Keller. "We have real good size and our inside game should be strong," Robinson said. "Lienard plays real smart inside and Hicks is a good passer. Keller has been a surprise. He's our best defensive player."

Lake Howell will also benefit from the return of 6-2 junior Terry Gammons, a fierce rebounder who was injured (separated collarbone) during football season. "Terry wants to play next week but we may hold him out until after Christmas," Robinson said.

Gammons' younger brother, Aaron, a 6-1 freshman, heads the reserve strength. He is joined by guards Mark Schnitker, sophomore Phil Clark, J.J. Banks, a 4-8 whiz from Philadelphia, becomes eligible Tuesday. Shane Johnson, a 6-2 junior, will backup at point guard and forward.

Today's tournament will begin with a pair of junior varsity games. Lake Brantley plays Wymore at 3:30 p.m. Lake Howell, 1-0, takes on New Smyrna at 5 p.m.

Christmas Gifts: A Correct Reel Is A Real Challenge

Christmas is rapidly approaching, and many anglers hope to find a new reel under the Christmas tree. Buying a new reel, however, with all latest technology, is almost as complicated as buying a home computer.

We are all getting accustomed to new advances in technology. Video-cassette recorders, 24-hour banking, and men flying into outer space are now routinely accepted as part of our lives.

Tackle manufacturers are also responding to this new technology, and competition among them is keener now than ever before. Magnetic cast control, graphite frames, built-in microcomputers, titanium drags, and air turbines are but a few of the new gadgets built into fishing reels.

It is important that prospective buyers of fishing reels are not distracted by all of this glitter. It is critical to keep in mind the two basic features of any fishing reel — adequate line capacity and a smooth drag system.

The line capacity of any reel should be directly related to the species of fish to be pursued with that particular reel. If the reel is going to be used entirely in freshwater for largemouth bass, line capacity is not critical.

Bass do not make long, powerful runs, and a reel capable of holding 100 to 150 yards of line is adequate. If the reel is also going to be used in saltwater for redfish and trout, the angler should look at reels with 150 to 200 yards of line capacity.

Jim Shupe

A decent sized redfish can take out over 25 yards of line in a hurry. Saltwater reels usually require greater line capacity than freshwater reels. This is simply because saltwater fish are usually larger and the water fished is usually much deeper.

Many saltwater fish, such as king mackerel and wahoo, can take out over a hundred yards of line before the fisherman can catch his breath. Some of the largest saltwater reels hold up to 850 yards of 130-pound test.

Serious anglers purchase reels with slightly more line capacity than they need in order to recover line faster. It is important to keep in mind that the larger the diameter of the spool (including line), the more line that can be retrieved with each turn of the handle.

Once the desired line capacity is determined, the drag system should be closely examined. The line should flow smooth off the spool against the drag. The drag should also have a wide range of settings between free spool and full drag. These settings should be spaced so that a small adjustment will not effect the drag setting dramatically.

Above all, a fishing reel should be functional. Additional features should be considered only after the line capacity and the drag system have been checked out thoroughly. Gadgets and fads will change from year to year, and what is "hot" one year may well be outdated the next. The key essentials of adequate line capacity and a smooth drag will always remain critical factors in reel design.

JIM'S TIP — Many large fish, both freshwater and saltwater, are lost at boatside. When playing a large fish that you really want to land, remember this tip. Most large fish panic when they see the boat and will make at least one short, strong run. Keep your drag moderate and let the fish make its run(s). Work the fish back to the boat after it has stopped. Many anglers panic or become too impatient and break the fish off. It may have taken you years to hook this trophy, so why not take a few extra seconds to land it?

FISHING FORECAST — Del Abernethy at the Osteen Bridge Fish Camp reports that bass fishing is improving in the St. Johns River. The water level is steadily dropping and the bass are being forced back into the main river channel. The current water temperature of 74 degrees will drop due to the recent cool weather. Frank Evans and Mike Rankin won the December Osteen Bridge Bass Contest. They won both first place and big bass honors (the grand slam) and took home $413 for their efforts. Speckled perch are still rated as good in Lake Monroe.

Ronnie Rollins from Highland Park Fish Camp reports that bass are still active in Lake Woodruff and in the main channel of the St. Johns River. Most of the larger bass are being caught on wild shiners fished near heavy cover. Gus and Steve Slinger and seven bass to nine pounds, 12 ounces. Most of the bass being caught are in the three to five pound range. Speckled perch are only rated as fair, with an average of 12 fish per boat.

Snook action at Sebastian Inlet is still rated as fair. As the water temperature cools, the snook will become less active. Most of the snook being caught weigh between 10 and 15 pounds. The one-ounce Red Tail Hawk jig tipped with a six inch red plastic worm has been a good lure for snook. The trick is to work the jig just off the bottom, out of the rocks. If you don't lose a few ligs, you aren't fishing correctly. Many fishermen are looking forward to the winter run of large flounder. Last year, flounder up to 14 pounds were caught.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral said that a few dolphin and wahoo have been caught in 200-250 feet of water. Action in the buoy line is still slow due to dirty water. Flounder and bluefish are still active in the port. Use finger mullet for the flounder and top water plugs for the bluefish. Trout and redfish will soon start to seek out the deep holes in the Banana and Indian rivers. There are plenty of roe mullet in the Merritt Island Barge Canal just waiting for fisherman who can use a castnet. The best time to net these mullet is early in the morning.

Fishing at New Smyrna is improving. Bluefish, sheepshead, drum, and redfish are being caught in the jetties. Mangrove snapper, trout, and flounder are being caught in the river. Shrimping has been slow at Oak Hill. The shrimp have been running deep, and only the wing netters have been good catches.

McCroery Claims Psychological Win After Curry Loses Temper

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Milton McCroery is claiming a psychological victory heading into Friday night's welterweight title unification bout against Donald Curry. Curry, a 4-to-1 favorite, lost his temper at Wednesday's press conference. He lashed at McCroery and his Kronk Boxing Club teammates for remarks made about Curry and his handlers.

"I'm going to take your string bean heart," Curry told McCroery. "I'll knock you out in the seventh or eighth round. You Kronk fighters, you better be ready too because I'm not through with you, either."

The outburst was out of character for the usually calm Curry. He was upset at comments McCroery made earlier in the week questioning his heart, and at one of McCroery's Kronk teammates for mocking the English of his Mexican-American trainer Paul Reyes.

Lakers Slip Past Jazz In OT

The Los Angeles Lakers admitted the Utah Jazz outplayed them in most phases of their Wednesday night game. The Jazz, however, were forced to admit the Lakers outdid them in two crucial departments: desperation heaves, and overtime.

Maurice Lucas nailed a 60-foot shot at the buzzer to force overtime, and the Lakers outscored the Jazz 11-7 in the extra period to take a 131-127 victory.

"This was the most bizarre game I've ever been in," Lakers coach Pat Riley said after his team notched its 12th victory in its last 13 games. "Lucas' shot was a prayer. I laughed. We practice them every day before practice but the funny thing is Lucas never practices them."

In other games, Boston cruised past New Jersey 130-111, Atlanta downed Portland, 109-98, Denver beat Indiana 119-105, Philadelphia edged Washington 115-110 in overtime, Phoenix nipped Chicago 107-99, and the LA Clippers whipped Sacramento 128-103.

Mixed Combo Made In Heaven

LARGO (UPI) — A golf partnership made in fiscal heaven looks like the combination to beat in today's opening round of the $500,000 Mixed Team Classic.

The 72-hole event, which pairs PGA and LPGA stars, is sponsored by J.C. Penney and will be televised nationally this weekend.

Curtis Strange, the top money winner on the PGA Tour in 1985, returns to Bardmoor Country Club to play with LPGA money champion Nancy Lopez. The Lopez-Strange team won this event in 1980 and finished tied for second last year, one shot behind Mike Donald and Vicki Alvarez.

The 48 teams will follow a unique tournament format as PGA players begin from the men's tees and LPGA players start from the women's tees. On par 4 and par 5 holes, the players each hit tee shots, then trade balls for their second shots. Once on the green, the team selects one ball.

Allen, Barber Lead FSU Win

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Randy Allen scored 19 points and guard Pee Wee Barber added 16 with 7 assists to lead Florida State to an amazingly easy 76-67 win over North Carolina State Wednesday night.

Allen hit on 7 of 11 field goal attempts and 5 of 7 free throws in lifting FSU to a 2-1 record.

The win came on the heels of one of FSU's most disappointing performances — an 85-67 loss to in-state rival Florida last week. North Carolina State, who dropped out of the UPI top twenty rankings this week from a 14th spot last week, fell to 3-2 on the year.

Florida State led throughout, hitting 55 percent of its shots in the first half to take a 44-35 halftime lead. The Wolfpack pulled to within 8 on several occasions in the second half, but Florida State would not allow the game to get any closer.

Aulby Becomes $200,000 Winner

SAGINAW, Mich. (UPI) — Mike Aulby vaulted from 80th to 33rd in the fourth round of the $125,000 Touring Players Championship Wednesday night, to become the first $200,000 winner in PBA history.

Aulby, who has won 12 tournaments, averaged 241 in the fourth round and survived the cut to the top 37 for the fifth round Thursday. He entered the tournament with 1985 earnings of $199,800 and is guaranteed at least $1,100.

Mark Baker regained his lead in the tournament with a pinfall total of 5,530 through 24 games.

Third-round leader Amleto Monacelli was second with 5,487, just 19 pins ahead of Alan Granat.

Tampa Keeps Memorial Winless

TAMPA (UPI) — The University of Tampa, behind the 22-point, 16-rebound performance of Nate Johnston, easily defeated winless Florida Memorial College 73-52 at the Spartan Sports Center Wednesday night.

Johnston tallied 22 points on 9 field goals and 4 free throws in 28 minutes of action. Also in double figures for the Spartans, now 4-2 after six games in the season's first 12 days, was Todd Linder with 16 points and 7 of 11 from the field.

Florida Memorial, now 0-8, was led by Leonard Pooler with 16 and Wesley Frater with 13.

DePaul Dumps St. Francis, 93-48

ROSEMONT, Ill. (UPI) — Dallas Comegys scored 18 points and DePaul clobbered St. Francis (N.Y.) 93-48 Wednesday night.

DePaul broke to a 22-7 lead with 9:30 left in the first half. St. Francis drew to 29-19 on a basket by Darwin Purdie but DePaul pulled in front 36-23 at halftime.

DePaul scored the first 14 points of the second half with Comegys and Terence Greene getting 6 each. The Blue Demons led 50-23 with 15:30 left.

Lampley had 17 points, Greene had 12 and Holmes 11 for DePaul, 2-0. Purdie had 14 points for the Terriers, 2-1.

Orlando Hosts Rugby Tourney

The Orlando Rugby Club in conjunction with the 1985 Florida Citrus Sports Holiday will host the 14th Annual Florida Citrus Bowl Rugby Tournament.

This year's event will take place Dec. 7-8 at the Central Florida Fairgrounds on west highway 50 (Colonial Drive) and the Orlando Renegades practice field.

Teams committed to the tournament besides Orlando are: Miami Smugglers, Winter Park Iron Horse, Fort Lauderdale Knights, Bay Area Pelicans, Atlanta Renegades, Medical College of Georgia and NOVA from Virginia.

Lake Mary's Rally Swats Hornets — Brantley Wins, Eyes Buchholz

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Down 3-1 with less than 20 minutes to play in the match, Lake Mary's Lady Rams erupted for four goals in a six-minute span for a 5-3 victory over Bishop Moore's Lady Hornets Wednesday night in the season opener for the Rams at Lake Mary High.

Lake Mary returns to action tonight at home against Lake Howell. The Lake Howell and Lake Mary boys play at 6 followed by the girls at 8. The matches were moved to tonight because of Friday's sectional football game at Lake Mary.

The Lady Rams to a 1-0 lead 13 minutes into the game when Kristen Jones scored on an assist from Donna Rohr. The Lady Hornets, in their first season of girls soccer, tied it at 1-1 22 minutes into the game on a penalty kick by Kris Geltz. Geltz is a transfer from Oviedo High.

The score remained 1-1 at halftime but Bishop Moore came back to take a 3-1 lead 21 minutes into the second half. The first goal was a home goal (scored for Bishop Moore by Lake Mary) while Chrissie Westbrook scored the Hornets' third goal.

"I got a little upset at that point," Lake Mary coach Bill Eiselle said. "The girls got a little complacent. We had a lot of opportunities early in the game that we didn't capitalize on. And we had a few defensive breakdowns that allowed Bishop Moore's other two goals."

Soccer

Lake Mary started the comeback trail with 10 minutes left to play when Kelley Broen scored on an assist from Jones. Broen's goal came on an indirect dead ball from 30 yards out. Jones tapped a pass to Broen who fired in over the Bishop Moore goalkeeper's head.

One minute later, the Lady Rams tied the score at 3-3 when Broen scored on an assist from Brooke Taylor. Taylor took the ball down the middle and passed off to Broen who hammered in her second goal.

Lake Mary took the lead with five minutes remaining when Rohr scored on an assist from Broen. Broen crossed to Rohr on the right wing and, after one touch, Rohr blasted the ball past the keeper, inside the far post.

Lake Mary completed the scoring when Michelle Mattingly scored on Rohr's second assist of the night.

LADY PATRIOTS TUNE UP ON OVIEDO

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots have swept to two straight victories the past two days, but they haven't assaulted the net the way they are capable.

That's because Brantley is stockpiling as much ammunition as possible for Friday night's shootout with Gainesville Buchholz' Lady Bobcats.

After posting a 3-0 victory over Winter

Park on Tuesday, the Lady Patriots blanked Oviedo, 4-0. Wednesday night in the Seminole Athletic Conference opener for both schools at Lake Brantley High.

"It was a good win but we're still not playing well as a unit," Brantley coach Larry Kaskey said. "We need to overcome that against Buchholz. They (Bobcats) are one of the top teams in the state."

Buchholz has all but four of its players returning from last year's squad which took state champion Lyman to penalty kicks in the Burger King Tournament. Leading the way is senior goalkeeper Andrea Deyrup, one of the top keepers in the state.

In Wednesday night's win, Brantley struck for two goals in the first half and put the Lady Lions away with two more in the second. Jennifer Josephs opened the scoring with an unassisted goal and Shawn Beers made it 2-0 with another unassisted goal.

In the second half, Cara Marien scored on an assist from Julie DeRusso to make it 3-0 and Jennifer McManus scored the fourth goal.

Oviedo couldn't get much offense going as Kaskey said the Lions had just one real good shot at a goal. The came on a breakaway by Cathy Bergman but Bergman was stopped before getting off a shot by Brantley sweeper back Reenie Deaver.

Sessions Ends TRC Title Hold

Don Causseaux homered and drove in four runs while Albert Key ripped five hits as Sessions Well Drilling captured the championship of the Sanford Men's Softball League with an easy 19-5 victory over Thorne Land Clearing Wednesday night at Pinchurst Field.

Sessions' victory enabled it to finish the season with a 19-2 record, one game better than 18-3 Tim Raines Connection. The championship also ended a five-year domination of the Sanford League by the Connection.

TRC nipped Brown Boveri Electric, 2-1, and McKee Development topped Cardinal Industries, 12-3, in other final games Wednesday.

Key ignited a five-run second inning with a single while Ray Bowling drove him home two batters later. Causseaux, who doubled twice and singled in addition to his homer, laced a two-run double before Willie Harrison brought home two more with a single.

Sessions put the game out of reach with a seven-run fifth inning. Doug Dowdy and Chuck McMullan doubled before Causseaux came through again with his two-run homer. Willie Harrison singled and winning pitcher Tom Gracey followed with a double. Pete Harrison smacked another double to scored Gracey. Joe Ervin then reached on an error. Tim Rogers singled and Key doubled for another run.

McKee, meanwhile, broke open a tight game with nine runs in the sixth inning to drop Cardinal. The VonHerbults brothers — Bernie, Brian and Bobby — all hand RBI singles. Brett VonHerbults had an RBI double an inning earlier.

Ed Matsak had four hits to lead McKee while Randy Forrest added two. David Reiford had three hits for the losers.

In the TRC win, Eddie Jackson doubled home the winning run in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Lloyds: Chris Wins, But John Succumbs

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Chris Evert Lloyd, following her husband onto center court, Thursday defeated Claudia Kohde-Kilsch 6-1, 7-6 (8-6) to advance to the finals of the $1.5 million Australian Open.

The defending champion, however, enjoyed far greater success than her husband. John Lloyd was dispatched earlier by Ivan Lendl 7-6 (7-5), 6-2, 6-1, sending the Czechoslovakian into the men's semifinals.

Tennis officials said they could not remember when a husband and wife played consecutively on any center court.

Evert Lloyd appeared headed for an easy straight-set decision, trouncing the lanky West German 6-1 in the first set and leading 4-1 and 5-2 in the second. But Kohde-Kilsch was victimized by a highly questionable line call on set point in the 12th game when Evert Lloyd hit a lob that appeared to go inches off the court.

Tennis

The lineswoman failed to call the ball out and the crowd booted as Kohde-Kilsch appealed to the umpire to overule the call.

The West German, her confidence seemingly gone, offered only token resistance in the tie-breaker, which Evert Lloyd won 8-6.

Kohde-Kilsch had fought back after trailing 2-5 in the second set. She broke Evert Lloyd in the ninth game to draw to 5-4.

Evert Lloyd termed the line call bad luck for her opponent.

"But that's tennis," she said.

The Lendl-Lloyd contest was played under far more civil conditions than Wednesday's blockbuster in which John McEnroe stormed off the court after being upset by Slobodan Zivjotovic.

Simplicity Wins

Sanora Homeowner's Association selected the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Briggs, 223 Odham Drive as "Yard Of The Month" for November. Simplicity is the essence of this well-kept lawn. Pittosporium and ligustrum, with a few annuals for color border the house, which is open out to the street with the exception of a sycamore tree showing its fall coloring. A few colorful leaves have fallen to signify that winter is on the way.

Blind Classmate Overlooked At 35th High School Renunion

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended my 35th high school class reunion. It was the first reunion I had ever attended and I could hardly wait to get there.

Unfortunately, it was a big disappointment. Very few people spoke to me. When the class picture was taken, even the people standing next to me ignored me.

I learned later that they were embarrassed because they didn't know what to say to a blind person.

Dear Abby

man, Abby, if they had just said, "Hello, my name is So-and-so," believe me, I would have kept the conversation going.

I enjoy talking to people. My mind and hearing are not impaired, but a blind person can't walk around a room, patting shoulders and getting chummy like a sighted person. We just sit in our chairs and wait for people to come to us. I wanted so much to talk to some of my classmates, but very few would speak to me.

Please print this to let sighted people know that it is up to them to initiate a conversation with a blind person.

MR. ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: I'm glad you wrote. Your letter gives me an ideal opportunity to share some helpful hints on how to interact with a blind person. I quote a booklet provided as a public service by the Braille Institute:

"When you enter a room, please speak to me so I will know that you are there, and tell me your name immediately. Also introduce me to everyone else in the room; otherwise I may not know that they are there. If possible, let me know that 'Mr. Brown' is across the table, and 'Mr. Smith' is seated at my left, etc.

"Also tell me if there is a dog or cat in the room, then guide my hand to a chair. Describe the furniture placement and objects I might be apt to bump into, such as a door-left ajar, a footstool, or a child's toy on the floor.

"Don't give me undeserved compliments or make patronizing remarks about accomplishments that are commonplace for a sighted person.

"If I have a Seeing Eye Dog, remember that he is not my 'pet' — he's on duty, doing the job for which he was trained.

"Please don't raise your voice to me. I am not hard of hearing; I'm only blind. If you are accompanying me to a store or restaurant, please encourage the clerks and waiters to speak directly to me, not through you. I am able to think, make decisions and talk. I just can't see.

"I am really the same as a sighted person, so please don't treat me as though I'm 'special.'

Socialized Medicine Caused By Avarice

As a professional guild, doctors appear enthusiastically to reject the increasing obtrusion of governmental control. If, at a dinner party, you suggest to doctors that this control is overdue, your host may have an unintended riot on his hands. Nonetheless, two facts are clear: (1) the government is trying to control medical costs, and (2) doctors have conveniently short memories.

Until the mid-1960s, most physicians and hospitals took care of what used to be known as "charity cases." The average M.D., upon finishing his training, would pretty much expect to devote part of his practice to treating patients who would never pay him. This self-imposed obligation was tedious at times, but we generally accepted the responsibility as a part of doctoring. Although we routinely performed free work in hospitals, offices and clinics, we obtained gratification from putting our talents to use for people who needed our help but couldn't pay.

However, when Medicare was introduced, doctors' orientations convulsively altered. We no longer had to give free care to aging, penniless destitutes or — for that matter — to aging, middle-income sick people. Of course, organized medicine fought the program every foot of the way. Nowadays, to hear them talk, you'd think they invented it.

In some ways, early Medicare was Utopia for persons over 65; it was certainly a cornucopia for physicians. Being adaptable, we readily sank our fangs into the banks of this financially rewarding political cow. I might add that everyone else did, too. We wanted money and we got it. We chose not to listen to doomsday soothsayers who warned that, given escalating medical costs and a soaring retirement-age population, Medicare would begin to topple and changes would be forthcoming.

It did, and they are. Today's healers are crying "foul!" now that stringent restrictions are being put on health care for the elderly. You can be sure there will be more limits, caps and regulations in the future. And, horrors of horrors, many of these restrictions may soon be adopted by private insurance companies that serve the under-65 crowd. This is the dawning of socialized medicine. Doctor, and — despite the many reasons for runaway medical expenses — you are partially responsible.

Most M.D.s continue to care about medical expenses. Some doctors, however, persist in overcharging; clearly, they must be restrained. At present, individual patients remain relatively disinterested in medical costs because most expenses are paid by the government or by third-party insurers. This is "funny money"; it comes from somewhere other than the consumer's wallet.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Here are two good "don'ts" to remember when it comes to doubling. First, don't make a close double when the opponents freely bid a game that they expect to make. Second, don't double when you will be alerting the declarer to the best way to play the hand. In today's deal, West forgot both rules.

After the double, declarer knew he was running into a stack of trumps behind him. Rather than lead out trumps, he embarked on a different tack. After trumping the opening diamond lead, he played the A-K of spades and trumped a spade in dummy. He trumped another diamond, and then played king of clubs and a club toward dummy, West, who could not gain by ruffing in, discarded a diamond. Declarer took dummy's club ace, ruffed a third diamond in his hand and played the jack of spades.

At this point declarer had eight tricks in, and West had to be careful or South would score an overtrick. (If West discards a diamond on the fourth spade, declarer can ruff in dummy and then lead clubs to end play West in the trump suit.) It's certainly not clear that West would have avoided all these problems by quietly passing, but it is more likely that declarer, to his detriment, would have played trumps earlier if West had not made a precipitous penalty double.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY DECEMBER 8, 1985

A broader range of interests will be developed in the year ahead, and you will have opportunities to do many things you've always wanted to try. Lots of social involvements are also likely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) What you can't accomplish on your own today can be done through the assistance of friends. Pals won't mind being sought out for favors. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Things will work out quite fortunately for you today, provided you are willing to share what you gain. Be generous.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is the appropriate time to put into action an important plan with which you've been toying. Move now while conditions are ripe.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your chances for fulfilling two ambitious objectives are good today. The obstacles that have had you blocked can now be overcome.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take ample time evaluating an important decision today to be sure you don't overlook any salient points. Be safe, not sorry.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you will have greater patience and resolve for handling a testy situation that you have been trying to avoid. Clear it up now.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You may learn a valuable object lesson from a least expected tutor. You'll not resent the lesson or its source.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your greatest joy today will be derived from being helpful to others, especially if they're people with whom you have strong emotional bonds.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Use your wit and humor when dealing with associates today. They'll lighten up and be cooperative when they see you are not awayed by events.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is a good day to concentrate on your financial or commercial interests. Your astuteness in these areas is enhanced. You should do well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll function best today being at the head of the pack rather than just being another member. If leadership is required, grab the scepter.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your financial prospects look promising today, especially regarding situations that have generated earnings for you previously.
