C., to co-operate again this year in maintaining a fair price level for the growers.

Improvements To State Parks Are Urged By Board

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 22.—(Special)—Among the recommendations made in the Florida Park, Parkway and Recreational Area Study report, completed under the sponsorship of the Florida State Planning Board, of which George G. Gross is executive secretary, are the expansion of recreational facilities in existing state parks and improved access to main highways; the acquisition of areas which, because of their scenic, scientific, archaeological and historic values should be preserved; and the acquisition and development of ocean and gulf beach areas to provide recreational opportunities for year-around population as well as for out-of-state visitors.

The report in which these and other recommendations are made is a 128-page, mimeographed volume in which all phases of recreation are discussed and recommendations based on a study of the park and recreation areas, and the need of the people of Florida in this respect.

The Florida State Planning Board believes that recreation planning is a social necessity because provision of adequate recreation areas and facilities is one of the major factors in defense against anti-social influences.

Recreation in Florida has unusually significant economic implications to our tourist industry—our source of greatest revenue, the report says, recreation is a large, fast-growing business which is becoming increasingly competitive among the states. Florida City to Key West as an overseas gateway; a study of rivers, streams and lakes to determine recreation possibilities; the acquisition and development of areas in sections of the state not now served; that priority be given to areas and facilities which meet mass needs; enlargement of aviation facilities; acquisition of land for wildlife areas; establishment of recreation programs in state parks; development of recreation areas and facilities in rural sections; and expansion of recreation in state institutions. The legislative requirements necessary to carry out the recommendations are listed.

The report also recommends that the activities of all federal, state, county and municipal agencies be coordinated into a statewide recreation program, and that an educational program be conducted to acquaint people with the recreation and conservation areas and facilities throughout the state.

Seed of New Corn Is Released To Farmers

QUINCY, Jan. 22.—(Special)—The Florida Experiment Station is now releasing to farmers seed of a new variety of yellow corn, Florida Yellow, for 1941 planting. It is said to be especially adapted to northern and western Florida.

Field records for five years have shown the new variety to yield as well as the prolific white varieties on test, averaging slightly more than 24 bushels per acre at Gainesville and 26 bushels at Quincy. It has outstanding strength of stalk, a very high percentage of the stalks standing upright at harvest time. The ears are covered with long light heavy husks which afford protection against weevils and ear worms.

J. D. Warner, agronomist in charge of the North Florida Experiment Station, where the seed are for sale, believes that the new variety will greatly increase average production of yellow corn in Florida.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(A.P.)—If you can make seven or eight 23 with nine left over, you're the mathematical wizard the NAVY needs to name its new two-ocean fleet.

That problem's got to be solved, or there's going to be a bounty on admirals in 10 states disappointed when a battleship isn't named for each. There are only seven battlewagons still unchristened, and 23 states are contesting for the honors.

Senators, representatives and civil delegations are pushing so hard to win the nomenclature sweepstakes. Even Navy Secretary Frank Knox of Chicago is on the spot, because there's no U. S. Illinois. # How to FIGHT "FLU"

Beware Coughs That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble in the lungs and capillary system. It softens and soothes the inflamed bronchial mucous membrane. And your doctor will tell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the Creomulsion cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION
For Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

THE FIRST RULE IS—don't take unnecessary chances. Avoid draughts and crowds. Dress warmly. Keep dry. Don't work or play too hard. Get plenty of sleep. And at the first sign of a cold or a "run-down feeling," see your doctor.

THE SECOND RULE IS—build up your resistance to the "flu" germs that hit the air. One good way to do that is to get plenty of fresh Florida grapefruit.

Florida grapefruit is loaded with resistance-building vitamins. It is especially rich in Vitamin C. And it also supplies the precious minerals that help alkalize your system in nature's own way.

Many physicians prescribe diets consisting almost entirely of citrus fruits after "flu" has struck.

But don't wait until it's critical that you build up your resistance to this swift and deceptive disease.

See that every member of your family gets plenty of fresh Florida grapefruit regularly. Two big glasses of fresh-squeezed juice every day are more than enough. And eat this delicious fruit daily "on the half shell."

Proper reasonable prices make this a "treatment" every family can well afford.

For your flu cure of a possible one bottle, see your doctor.

Hundreds Killed In Rumanian Disorders; Tobruk Is Captured

Over 14,000 Italian Prisoners Are Taken As Libyan Base Falls To British Iron Guard Said Behind Rebellion Legation Says Premier Antonescu Has Complete Control

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 23—(AP)—Although Rumanian legations in southeastern Europe declared that Premier General Antonescu had mastered Rumania's rebellion, diplomatic sources expressed the belief that some disorders still continued. They asserted that at least one high general had been killed in the fighting in Rumania. It was said that General Antonescu was calling for more volunteers in the Rumanian army.

A bloody civil war with Rumanian rebels was reported today in the Rumanian North Africa. The British reported the capture of Tobruk, which was controlled last night. More than 14,000 Italian prisoners were taken. Reports of widespread disorders in Rumania varied. Rumanian sources acknowledged "some disorders" but asserted that Dictator Premier General Antonescu had complete control.

Rumanian sources acknowledged "some disorders" but asserted that Dictator Premier General Antonescu had complete control.

The capture of Tobruk, 80 miles deep into Libya, after 21 days of siege by land, sea and air was said to have knocked out of the war 100,000 Italian troops, or two-thirds of Marshal Graziani's army of Libya. When the British blitzkrieg swept across the desert on Dec. 1, overpowering 81st Battalion, Bullen, Bardia and wading out the Italian invasion of Egypt, Graziani had about 200,000 troops.

The Australian troops surged into Tobruk behind a battering ram of tanks and a terrific assault by British warships and bombing planes after completely cutting off the sea route for the 20,000 Italian "horrible" holding the Mediterranean port and line.

Last night it was stated by Gen. Sir Archibald Murray, commander of the British forces, that the capture of Tobruk was a "decisive" blow to the Italian army. He said that the British had captured 14,000 Italian prisoners and that the city was now in British hands. ## R.A.F. Raids Factories In Ruhr Section

German Aerial Activity Is Limited; Greek Forces Report New Success

By Associated Press
The R.A.F. carried the fight to Germany with overnight attacks on the steel, oil, and munitions works at Dusseldorf, pounding the heart of the industrial Ruhr for the twenty-first time. The Germans engaged in only limited aerial activity over Britain.

The Greek High Command, meanwhile, reported new successes on the central Albanian front. Britain is "getting into its war stride" with 40,000,000 troops ready to repulse any German invasion of the British Isles but there is a shortage of manpower in the war factories supplying these forces with weapons, Prime Minister Churchill said yesterday.

Defending the policies of his eight-man war cabinet, Churchill spoke in the House of Commons in support of the government's drastic new plan to conscript men and women workers — by compulsion where necessary — to speed up the nation's arms output.

The armed forces, Churchill said, may be compelled to reduce their demands for greater manpower during the next six months to provide workers for vital industries such as armaments.

The armed forces are enormous, he explained, because in 1939 they were set up along with a vast series of plants and establishments with the view of "continuous action on the continent of Europe against the German enemy."

Last June, however, the British armed forces were driven off the European continent. Sufficient factories have been established to supply the British armed forces with all necessary weapons and supplies, he said, and the 16th month of the war finds 100,000 more workers in munitions and aircraft plants than at the end of four years of the World War.

"We are now about to enter for the first time in this period of manpower stringency because for the first time we are going to have apparatus and layouts which this man and woman power will be required to handle," he told the members of Commons.

District Coordinator Attends Conference To Lay Groundwork

Employees in Sanford stores will have an opportunity again this year to learn improved methods of selling a course on principles of merchandising education by the distributive education section of the Florida State Board for Vocational Education.

Miss Evelyn Neal of Daytona, coordinator in the Central Florida district for vocational classes, was present at a meeting of a group from the Sanford Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last night to decide what course would be offered and to lay the groundwork for tentative plans call for the course to begin week after next.

Miss Neal said today, and the instruction period will last about 10 weeks. The coordinator will go to Orlando soon to arrange for an instructor, she said, and will return to Sanford probably next week to make final arrangements for the course. One class a week will be held. The day and time will be selected later.

Asked what type of people would be particularly interested in a class in the principles of merchandising, Miss Neal replied, "Anyone who comes in contact with people." Employees of stores will be the principal beneficiaries of the classes, she explained, but managers are also invited to attend.

Content of the course will be outlined in the future, the coordinator said, since the instruction for each city is patterned after its particular needs. "Similar classes are being held all over the United States, as well as in Florida," Miss Neal declared. "In Daytona recently the employees of a mail order company attended such a course."

Negotiated Peace Is Called Preferable To Victory By Either Side In War

Flier Calls For 10,000 Aircraft

United States Urged Not To Enter Any Foreign Conflict

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(AP)— President Roosevelt reported to Congress today that $13,466,534,331 of the emergency relief funds had been spent by the government from April, 1935, to Dec. 31, 1940.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(AP)— Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh told the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a hearing on the lease-lend bill today he'd prefer "negotiated peace" in the European war to a victory by either side.

A victory on either side, he said, "would result in production of Europe of a type we've never seen" and would be "one of the worst things that could happen."

Lindbergh asserted he opposed the bill first because it was a step "away from democracy" and second because "it's one more step closer to war and I don't know how many more we can take short of war."

Asked whether he favored continued aid to Britain, Lindbergh said that was "a very difficult" question, adding inasmuch as this country had taken a stand on the issue "we cannot very well justify dropping that policy."

Lindbergh declared flatly that even a combination of the United States and Great Britain could not win the war "on the present basis" of aid to Britain.

He called for the creation by this country of an air force of about 10,000 first line planes with an equal number of reserves to insure American security, and urged this country not to enter any foreign war.

As the afternoon hearing on the lease-lend bill began yesterday, Chairman Bloom made public a letter from Secretary Morgenthau saying that British dollar and gold assets available to pay for American war supplies had increased $30,000,000 since information on the subject was given out Jan. 15.

While the House hearing was going forward before the smallest crowd so far, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided to begin similar hearings today. Secretary Hull's proposal will be called as the first witness, followed by other high federal officials who supported the bill before the House group.

Senator Barkley, the majority leader, expressed hope after a conference with President Roosevelt today that the lease-lend bill could be disposed of by Congress within 6 days. The House committee agreed late in the day to conclude hearings Saturday and to begin consideration of amendments Monday.

The committee has arranged to hear Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Gen. Hugh S. Johnson today. They have been invited by what Chairman Bloom has called the "minority" of the Committee opposed to the bill. Bloom said William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France, would be called as a "majority" witness Saturday.

Can you tell me if you use it and what you think of it? Housewife: I'll be glad to give you my opinion because it's my favorite bread. There you are, folks—there's one of many housewives who has found a recipe for curing those "stale bread blues."

Home Demonstration Notes

A farm home without trees, shrubbery, a lawn, and flowers—like a picture without a frame—is forlorn and abandoned to a friendless atmosphere. It sticks out of the landscape like a sore thumb, when it could so easily be "tied to the ground" and made to be a part of a perfect arrangement pleasing to the eye and more satisfactory from many standpoints.

Bleaching Tips Of Hair Is New Glamour Trick Of Smart Women

By Betty Clarke AP Feature Writer

"Bleaching the tips" of the hair is the newest glamour trick of socialites and career women. It follows the "blonde streak" vogue which got under way in many places last Fall.

Latest star to have the tips of her blonde hair bleached is the tennis champion, Alice Marble. "I've never known exactly what to do with any hair," declared Miss Marble, whose locks are fine and soft, to be admired but hard to keep in place.

Laura de Gez, who has given many beauties new glamour with bleaching or streaking, suggested these changes for Miss Marble: The tip bleach one inch from the ends of her hair, which, because of her tennis playing, is only three inches long.

A coronet braid of golden brown, a bit darker than her own gold-blond hair and with short ends tucked under, for night wear. And also for evenings, the front fluffed into a soft pompadour with the back combed loose and fluffy too.

Other American beauties have taken Miss de Gez's suggestions for glamour. Mrs. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton has a streak which sweeps from her widow's peak diagonally across from her center-parted hair.

Perreen Fitzgerald of the radio reverses the process, as Miss Marble does at times, by tucking brown hair around her blonde tress.

Jane Crawford dramatizes her auburn hair with a streak of gold. "If you want to experiment with the new glamour trick, you should put yourself in the hands of an expert, according to Miss de Gez. The secret of having a perfect blonde streak, for instance, is to give it clean sharp edges," she said.

The bleaching agent should not spread fuzzily to the roots or locks of nearby hair. White cream should be used to give body to the bleaching agent, she insisted.

The smartest streak is a lock of hair no wider than one-half inch at the roots.

pany were given an intensive training for two and a half hours every day for a week before a branch of the store was opened. The manager said he was well pleased with the results of the course.

The State Board of Vocational Education believes that "an adequate program in distributive education will result in significant benefits to producers, to workers, and to owners of distributive businesses."

The board is "to increase the skill or knowledge in a specific distributive occupation, prepare them in a distributive occupation and changing to a related kind of work in another distributive occupation; or prepare them for promotion to a full-time distributive occupation."

The George Brown Act, approved on June 8, 1936, authorized appropriations for funds to be used by each state in the field of distributive occupations. Each state matches this sum given it by the federal government to be used for the support of the classes. State support is given through the county, whose part it is to offer its cooperation and use of facilities for the classes.

Miss Real says she hopes later to have classes organized especially for those engaged in particular occupations such as grocery stores, furniture stores and clothing shops. No charge is made for the classes.

Law Leads Most Men To Capitol, Stinnet States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23—(AP)—The legal profession may be no superhighway to fame and fortune, but it still is the best route to Congress—and by far.

for less than 1 percent of the working male population over 21 years old, but for a long time now it has accounted for from 25 to more than 70 percent of Congress.

ZXI YMSTO UZJLS QMZTF?

It's late at night. You're quietly reading. And suddenly a "quaser" line jumps out at you from the printed page. Chances are your eyes are playing tricks on you. It's not their fault, however. They've been working hard for you all evening—perhaps in a dim light, or under harsh, raw, glaring light. Those eyes of yours are tired!

Modern light is mellow, glareless, and helps reduce dangerous eyestrain. Try a modern E. E. S. lamp and notice the difference. Or install inexpensive modernizing equipment for as little as $2.75 per room. After all, sight is precious and good light is cheap.

Hamtramck in Detroit, Mich. There is hardly a week that Dr. Tenenowicz doesn't fly to Detroit to bring a baby into the world or help some ailing patient avoid going out of it.

Still, it is the legal profession that rides the baby train. Just why seems pretty obvious on the surface. Primarily, the reason is based on that dubious premise that men who spend their lives fighting over the laws of the land should be best equipped to make them.

Reporter Finds Returning From War Isn't Easy

By William McGuffin
NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Covering the war is a damn commo to the job of getting home.

To reach New York from England—once a five-day trip on a great Atlantic liner—you have to fly a thousand miles out of your own back to get to Lisbon.

Then, if you're lucky, you get a steamer. If not, you come on a new ship of the American Export line which makes no pretense of measuring up to the luxury liners that used to fight for your money.

Either way, you go still farther out of your way to stop at Bermuda for British censorship. Altogether you travel roughly 1,500 miles more than on the old direct northern route.

A British Overseas Airways plane to London is the only means open to Americans for getting out of England. The State Department forbids those to ride British ships and has not felt it possible to send over the S. S. Manhattan, an originally intended, to reschedule the at least 1,700 Americans who are imprisoned there.

Uncle Sam's okay the plane. It costs $140 one way. But getting the necessary cash is the most important item. Up to the time I left, only 16 passengers were being carried a week. When I finally got my seat after six weeks of delay, there was a waiting list of 200.

About the only ones who can get aboard are Americans and English war correspondents, diplomats and officials.

It's not only a hard work to get out, it is costly and dangerous as well. In addition to the $140 fare to Lisbon, you must pay a ship fare ranging from $10 to $40 or a clipper rate of $45. When I went to England little over three years ago I traveled on the Bremen for $142. This expense, however, is nothing compared to that of an English friend of mine who had to fly over the world to get to Cairo from London.

The dangers of travel, of

Twin Pack Bread Runs Statements Of Users In Ads

Using ideas which consumers themselves have expressed about the new style loaf, Southern Twin Pack Bread is beginning a newspaper advertising campaign throughout the South to tell other housewives about the new wrapper which was marketed for the first time last year.

The unusual procedure of using statements from consumers in writing the advertising for the bread came when Southern Bread bakers set out to find what the housewife wanted—and what she thought about the new Twin-Pack wrapper.

Trained interviewers made door-to-door inquiries and hundreds of housewives voiced their opinions in this South-wide survey. Housewives so overwhelmingly proclaimed their preference for the convenient, thrifty Twin Pack loaf and were so willing to share their satisfaction with other consumers that their statements, word-for-word, are now being on their year's work at an advertising.

These "messages from one housewife to another" describe the revolutionary Twin Pack wrapper as containing two half loaves individually wrapped and rewrapped again in the outer waxed wrapper, thus keeping bread fresh longer and doing away with stale bread waste.

This double-packed, double-wrapped loaf is the first drastic change made in the merchandising of bread since the marketing of sliced bread—and, so says housewife consensus, "Southern Twin Pack is the greatest bread idea in years!"

The Southern Twin Pack 2-1-1 loaf, which contains a half loaf of white and a half loaf of wheat bread, is also praised in these new "consumer advertisements" as giving the added value of two kinds of bread for the price of one.

In addition to giving the housewife the type package she prefers, Southern Twin Pack bakers are again stepping forward to give consumers the kind of bread they have long wanted by adding Vitamin B1 to the white

Civil War Spreads Throughout Rumania

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 22 (AP)—Civil war between Rumanian extremists and soldiers of Dictator General Antonescu spread rapidly throughout Nazi-dominated Rumania today and news dispatches said several hundred persons probably had been killed in bitter fighting.

Dispatches from Bucharest said there had been more than 30,000 were fighting for them. The revolters also were said to be claiming the ascendancy in most cities in Rumanian Transylvania, the remnant of the vast province which the Axis left to Rumania last year in an enforced settlement between Rumania and Hungary.

course, are much greater for the English than for us. American ships steam with all regular lights on and some extra ones as well to spotlight American flags.

The Siboney, on which I returned, was stopped twice—by the British. We switched from the rail as the signal light of the British patrol boat blinked from the darkness in conversation with our operator. It would have been simpler by radio—but that would have tipped off the Germans.

Our next contact with the British was at Bermuda. Every American ship and plane puts in here on both incoming and outgoing voyages and the British censor
