Chairman Sees Little Hope Of Passing New York Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Banking Committee is drafting a measure that would provide $6 billion in loan guarantees to New York City, but the panel's chairman says he sees little hope that the bill will ever get to the Senate floor.

The legislation was to come before the committee today, although there were indications the panel would not be able to work for lack of a quorum as senators hurried to start a long Veterans Day weekend. The panel originally had planned to begin voting on various provisions of the proposed bill.

But the measure lost the key support of Sen. Adlai I Stevenson III on Thursday night and that appeared to doom any hope of the measure being approved by the

Police Officers Turn In Badges

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - Barred from striking by a state law, virtually the entire police force in this capital city of 370, 900 persons turned in their badges in a wage

That left 16 policemen, aided by state troopers and sheriff's deputies, to patrol a city whose limits cover an area larger than Los Angeles, and twice the size of New York City. The normal number of police is 597. Mayor Patience Latting urged city residents to remain calm. She called an emergency City Council meeting which lasted 31/2 minutes, just long enough for Police Chief I. G. Purser to report that with the state and county help, more police cars were on the streets than was normal for a Thursday night.

Lawyers Seek Treatment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Patricia Hearst's lawyers, expressing concern for her mental health, took steps today to give the jailed heiress the psychiatric treatment they say she needs.

With the approval of U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter, the defense team prepared to bring their own handpicked psychiatrist in to treat her. They did not immediately identify the psychiatrist they have chosen. Lawyer Albert Johnson said Miss Hearst's immediate treatment was "an emergency matter for the preparation of her defense and her mental wellbeing." But he said there had been no drastic change in her condition and "she is not in turmoil."

Central Planning Bill Rapped

AMELIA ISLAND (AP) - A former economic adviser to ex-President Richard Nixon says a bill for centralized economi: planning introduced by Sens. Hubert Humphrey and Jacob Javits "might have been written by a high-school civics class."

Economist Herb Stein said he didn't think Humphrey -Minnesota, and Javits, R-New York, were serious about the bill.

"Congressional supporters will use it for preaching and ablicity," he told a conference sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Turkish Ambassador To France

Gunned Down On Paris Street PARIS (AP)-The Turkish ambassador to Paris and the chauffeur of his car were killed today by gunmen on a Paris street, an embassy officer said.

The embassy said that Ambassador Ismail Erez was riding in the car on Quai Kennedy near the Turkish Embassy when the shots were fired.

The ambush came two days after gummen killed the Turkish ambassador to Vienna in his embassy.

Army Reduces Street Fighting

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Army intervention reduced street fighting in Beirut today, but the government radio said Christian and Moslem gunmen were still kidnaping motorists on several highways despite the presence of army tanks and security checkpoints.

Security officials said both sides had exchanged many kidnap victims, leaving 40 unaccounted for. They included two American Embassy employes believed held by leftist

"Flying roadblocks" set up by fast-moving bands of armed men kept most Beirut residents indoors today, although street battles tapered off to scattered clashes between two Christian and Moslem neighborhoods and some sniper fire in the downtown banking district.

Armed Forces Put On Alert

LISBON, Portugal (AP) - Portugal's armed forces were put on full nationwide alert today and armored cars took up strategic positions in Oporto, 180 miles north of Lisbon, where far-left military officers scheduled a neeting despite a government ban.

The moves followed a series of bombings in Lisbon aimed at moderate left-wing officers and civilians and because of "increasing reports of planned sabotage within the barracks," a spokesman for the military security forces said.

There were no injuries in the bombings.

Franco Shows Improvement

MADRID, Spain (AP) - Gen. Francisco Franco, Spain's ironfisted 82-year-old leader, is fighting back after two heart attacks and has improved slightly after suffering a relapse, his doctors said today.

The 11 physicians attending Western Europe's last dictator said signs of heart failure noted 24 hours earlier had been reduced, and that "progress from his coronary illness continues its normal course." Car Said Fleeing From Burglary

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Federal Grand Jury, IRS Probe Kirk Aide Charges

MIAMI (AP) - A special investigation is being conducted by a federal grand jury and the Internal Revenue Service into allegations that two top aides to former Gov. Claude Kirk Jr. accepted payoffs in return for state road contracts, The Miami Herald reports.

The probes into contract procedures in the former Republican governor's administration are based in part on 1972 testimony obtained by federal prosecutors in Newark, N.J., the Herald said today. At that time, Fort Lauderdale architect Herbert Anson told prosecutors he paid $45,000 to Kirk aides Robert D. Hoffman and Lloyd Hagaman Sr. in return for contracts, ## the newspaper quoted unnamed sources as saying.

Askew Moves On Disclosure

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Gov. Reubin Askew has taken the first official step in launching his campaign for a constitutinal amendment to require full financial disclosure by government officials.

The charter of The Sunshine Amendment Inc. was filed Thursday, Askew, former Florida Democratic Chairman Jon Moyle of West Palm Beach and former House Republican Leader Donald Reed of Boca Raton were listed as subscribers.

Hoyle, who will be the campaign manager, was named president of the organization, which will handle the funds. Reed is the vice president and James B. Krog is secretary-treasurer.

Scout Leader May Lose Job

MIAMI (AP) - A Bible-toting executive of the South Florida Boy Scout Council says he stands to lose his job after being convicted of selling four ounces of cocaine to a federal undercover agent. Murkel B. Coppins, 29, district field executive with the Boy Scouts in Miami, was convicted Thursday along with former Dade County Health Department worker Jerome

E. Martin, 29. Agent Forrest Beverly of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration testified Coppins was reputed to be Martin's supplier when he bought the drugs from the health worker in May and June.

Cost Differences Cited

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Members of a blue-ribbon panel looking for ways to increase efficiency in higher education say they can't understand the wide differences in costs at the state's 28 community colleges. A report Thursday to the Florida Public Post-Secondary Education Finance Committee showed that the cost per student in certain programs could vary by as much as $900 among the community colleges.

New York Dancers Should Pay Fiddler

New York's Mayor Abraham D. Beame is looking to Congress to bail his city out of its financial mess and, "avert a national urbay." tragedy," as he terms New York's potential downfall.

The fact is that this nation's largest city has been led down the path to financial ruin by leaders like Mr. Beame who have ignored economic prudence and spent with utter disregard to the consequences. New York has long had a reputation for knuckling under to unreasonable demands from its municipal unions.

For example, the sanitation men last summer blackjacked the city into accepting demands it couldn't afford by refusing to collect the garbage.

Now, a trash collector in New York City gets $16,000 a year - not counting built-in overtime! This, strange as it seems, is within mere dollars of what a policeman or fireman earns.

Now that the axe is on the brink of falling, Mr. Beame wants all American taxpayers to come to his rescue and share a burden. In return, Mr. Beame offers only promises that they'll do better next time.

We believe the taxpayer in America - in Florida and in Seminole County - is already carrying a sufficiently heavy tax load without paying for imprudent management by New York's elected leaders.

The Herald heartily endorses the stiff stand taken by Florida Congressman Richard Kelly, who represents Seminole County. He told Mr. Beame: "You had the dance and now its time to pay the fiddler - and you want the rest of the people from the rest of the United States to pay the bill for you."

We further agree with Mr. Kelly that the responsible citizens of New York have the resources and the drive to solve this problem for themselves.

If indeed our nation's largest city is on the verge of becoming a "national urban tragedy" as its mayor claims, then New York must tighten its belt , sharpen its pencil and solve its financial problems by prudent management. As former controller for that great city, this should be right. down Mr. Beame's alley.

It is indeed time to pay the fiddler - but let the dancers ante up.

Hanoi Shame Grows

Many Americans may regard the resettlement of Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees in our country as the last hapter to be written in our participation in the war in Indochina. They are mistaken. We cannot close the books on that war until the Communist governments now in power in Southeast Asia fulfill their obligation to help account for the 836 Americans still listed as missing in action.

Thirty months have passed since the signing of the Paris truce agreements which included a pledge by Hanoi to cooperate in clearing up the fate of MIAs, along with 36 Americans who were once known to be prisoners of war but were never repatriated.

Congress last month voted to set up a special Committee on the Missing in Action, assigned to pursue this problem either through interenational organizations or by direct contact between our government and the governments of North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

It is difficult for the U.S. government to put any diplomatic pressure on these governments. However, that task should not be difficult for other nations which have established relations. with the Communist regimes in Southeast Asia. It can be impressed upon them that the stature and recognition they seek must begin with their acceptance of a fundamental humanitarian obligation. The agony of American families whose men remain on MIA and POW lists has been protracted beyond any justification. The world community should get that sometimes reach the level of outright silliness. message through to Hanoi.

Halloween, that night when all little people turn into ghosts, goblins and ghouls, is just around the corner. Matter of fact, it's just one week from tonight when we're subjected to tricking-or-

With that thought in mind, Rich Quigley, safety officer of the Sanford Police Department, has issued some Do's and Don'ts that should be closely observed by one and all.

Too, he wants to remind all motorists that throughout the next week there will be many children dressed in Halloween regalia attending a variety of parties and all drivers should be particularly observant of these youngsters as they walk along some of our highways and byways.

Drivers are urged to use a bit more caution than normal and to pay particular attention in residential areas and for children who might carelessly be darting out from behind parked cars and crossing busy streets.

For the young people, Quigley issues these items of importance:

The labor union movement would never have gotten anywhere in the United States had it not been for the short-sightedness - some would say, stupidity - of 19th-century and early 20th entury employers.

The union movement has been a staunch defender of the free enterprise system (sometimes, it seems, more than many capitalists themselves) and a bastion against ommunism

The American worker's productivity is among the highest in the world and the gains he has won through collective bargaining have on balance, been among the least of all the forces esponsible for the inflation that plagues the

To recognize all this, however, is not to say that there is no danger of the pendulum swinging too far to the other side. If some employers could at one time use armed troops to break up a strike, some unions today can hold a figurative gun to the head not only of management but of the public itself.

Just such an analogy was drawn in the recent 'capitulation" of the mayor of San Francisco to demands of unionized city workers. The financial plight of New York City is blamed in no small part on excessive gains in wages, not offset by comparable gains in productivity, by municipal workers.

If the strike is no longer considered the Letters To The Editor weapon of forst resort by the older and more mature industrial unions, it is more and more frequently being seized by policemen, firemen, Prisoner Accepts Jesus sanitation workers, teachers and others who can demands are met.

To Court range thinking, but White House sources now say that if William O. Douglas gives up his Supreme Court seat before the 1976 elections, he will likely do so to a lady: Carla Hills, perhaps, the 41-yearold Secretary of Housing and Urban Develop-The sources stress that timing is essential to the prospect. They say that Jerry Ford recognizes the political attractiveness of naming the first woman to the high court. But if Douglas hangs on until after the election, even if Ford were to be elected, the impetus behind the plan would diminish. "He'd still consider a woman." one aide says, but by that time there would be pressures on him to name someone for ideological rather than expediential reasons.

There is of course no sign from Douglas that he's ready to cooperate in this venture. Though 76 and partly paralyzed from a stroke last December, he has said repeatedly that he's not thinking of retirement, his persistence fired in part by a feud with the President that dates to the time Ford tried to have Douglas impeached. However, the White House apparently feels Douglas' attitude will not matter in the end: already there are hints that the justice's own colleagues have been urging him to step down Part of the White House strategy, indeed, may be that Douglas will give up more easily if he knows his place will be taken by a woman. Douglas is known to be worried that the philosophic blend of the court, now just about balanced, may be weighted toward conservatism in the event of his premature resignation. ## God Can Use Psychiatrists

Q. Is it wrong for a Christian to see a psychiatrist? I've heard people say if I rely on God, He'll solve my problems and I won't need a psychiatrist.

A. I certainly am not against the help of doctors and psychology. I have spent hours counseling, and I know it's valuable in helping people. Some people have trouble accepting this kind of help because they see healing as either medical or divine, as from God or from man. I don't. I believe ALL healing is from God. Anything that helps you and is good for you is from God, for every good and perfect gift comes from Him (James 1:17).

Healing is more than a surface thing. It's more than a touch - it's something that makes you want to be well, to live in a state of health. And it begins deep inside. Let me give you an example.

There's a story in Mark 2 of a paralytic who was lowered through the roof into the room where Jesus was. Before Jesus said, "Arise. . . and walk," He spoke to the man's spirit and said, "Thy sins be forgiven thee." Jesus saw that a greater sickness than paralysis gripped the man's inner self. And that had to be dealt with first, for the paralysis of his inner man was hindering his total healing. The miracle of the man's physical healing followed his spiritual healing. Without knowing it, we may harbor resentments, and hurts, and guilt in our hearts. And when we do that, we limit God by not opening up to His Spirit. If there's something wrong inside, we've got to get it out. This is where we may need some help -in opening up. And a psychiatrist or counselor can be an instrument of God's love in helping us examine ourselves.

Jesus works through many instrumentalities to bring us the total healing He wants us to have. He doesn't separate our mind and our soul and our body. When I have a need of healing, I'm not overly concerned how it comes - I just want it to come. If I'm under the care of a doctor, I want that to work. If someone is praying for me, I want that to work. I want every instrument God uses to work. And then I believe we are to give the glory to God because whatever form it takes, all healing comes from

Halloween, that night when all little people turn into ghosts, goblins and ghouls, is just around the corner. Matter of fact, it's just one week from tonight when we're subjected to tricking-or-

With that thought in mind, Rich Quigley, safety officer of the Sanford Police Department, has issued some Do's and Don'ts that should be closely observed by one and all.

Too, he wants to remind all motorists that throughout the next week there will be many children dressed in Halloween regalia attending variety of parties and all drivers should be particularly observant of these youngsters as they walk along some of our highways and byways.

Drivers are urged to use a bit more caution than normal and to pay particular attention in residential areas and for children who might carelessly be darting out from behind parked cars and crossing busy streets.

For the young people, Quigley issues these items of importance:

New York's Mayor Abraham D. Beame is looking to Congress to bail his city out of its financial mess and, "avert a national urban tragedy," as he terms New York's potential downfall.

The fact is that this nation's largest city has been led down the path to financial ruin by leaders like Mr. Beame who have ignored economic prudence and spent with utter disregard to the consequences. New York has long had a reputation for knuckling under to unreasonable demands from its municipal unions.

For example, the sanitation men last summer blackjacked the city into accepting demands it couldn't afford by refusing to collect the garbage. Now, a trash collector in New York City gets $16,000 a year - not counting built-in overtime! This, strange as it seems, is within mere dollars of what a policeman or fireman earns.

Now that the axe is on the brink of falling, Mr. Beame wants all American taxpayers to come to his rescue and share a burden. In return, Mr. Beame offers only promises that they'll do better next time.

We believe the taxpayer in America - in Florida and in Seminole County - is already carrying a sufficiently heavy tax load without paying for imprudent management by New York's elected leaders.

The Herald heartily endorses the stiff stand taken by Florida Congressman Richard Kelly, who represents Seminole County. He told Mr. Beame: "You had the dance and now its time to pay the fiddler - and you want the rest of the people from the rest of the United States to pay the bill for you." We further agree with Mr. Kelly that the responsible citizens of New York have the resources and the drive to solve this problem for cial plight of New York City is blamed in no themselves.

If indeed our nation's largest city is on the verge of becoming a "national urban tragedy" as its mayor claims, then New York must tighten its belt, sharpen its pencil and solve its financial problems by prudent management. As former controller for that great city, this should be right. down Mr. Beame's alley.

It is indeed time to pay the fiddler - but let the dancers ante up.

Hanoi Shame Grows

Many Americans may regard the resettlement of Vietnamese and Cambodian refugees in our country as the last chapter to be written in our participation in the war in Indochina. They are mistaken. We cannot close the books on that war until the Communist governments now in power in Southeast Asia fulfill their obligation to help account for the 836 Americans still listed as missing in action.

Thirty months have passed since the signing of the Paris truce agreements which included a pledge by Hanoi to cooperate in clearing up the fate of MIAs, along with 36 Americans who were once known to be prisoners of war but were never repatriated.

Congress last month voted to set up a special Committee on the Missing in Action, assigned to pursue this problem either through interenational organizations or by direct contact between our government and the governments of North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

It is difficult for the U.S. government to put any diplomatic pressure on these governments. However, that task should not be difficult for other nations which have established relations. with the Communist regimes in Southeast Asia. It can be impressed upon them that the stature and recognition they seek must begin with their acceptance of a fundamental humanitarian obligation. The agony of American families whose men remain on MIA and POW lists has been protracted but jurisdictional jealousies among unions beyond any justification. range thinking, but White House sources now say that if William O. Douglas gives up his Supreme Court seat before the 1976 elections, he will likely do so to a lady: Carla Hills, perhaps, the 41-yearold Secretary of Housing and Urban Develop-

The sources stress that timing is essential to the prospect. They say that Jerry Ford recognizes the political attractiveness of naming the first woman to the high court. But if Douglas hangs on until after the election, even if Ford were to be elected, the impetus behind the plan would diminish. "He'd still consider a woman," one aide says, but by that time there would be pressures on him to name someone for ideological rather than expediential reasons. There is of course no sign from Douglas that he's ready to cooperate in this venture. Though 76 and partly paralyzed from a stroke last December, he has said repeatedly that he's not thinking of retirement, his persistence fired in part by a feud with the President that dates to the time Ford tried to have Douglas impeached. However, the White House apparently feels Douglas' attitude will not matter in the end; already there are hints that the justice's own colleagues have been urging him to step down

Part of the White House strategy, indeed, may be that Douglas will give up more easily if he knows his place will be taken by a woman. Douglas is known to be worried that the philosophic blend of the court, now just about balanced, may be weighted toward conservatism in the event of his premature resignation. A woman, however, even a woman less liberal than he would like, might tempt that Seminoles and DeLand Bulldogs played Friday side of him that has for decades crusaded for

God Can Use Psychiatrists

Q. Is it wrong for a Christian to see a psychiatrist? I've heard people say if I rely on God, He'll solve my problems and I won't need a psychiatrist.

A. I certainly am not against the help of doctors and psychology. I have spent hours counseling, and I know it's valuable in helping people. Some people have trouble accepting this kind of help because they see healing as either medical or divine, as from God or from man. I don't. I believe ALL healing is from God. Anything that helps you and is good for you is from God, for every good and perfect gift comes from Him (James

Healing is more than a surface thing. It's more than a touch - it's something that makes you want to be well, to live in a state of health. And it begins deep inside. Let me give you an example.

There's a story in Mark 2 of a paralytic who was lowered through the roof into the room where Jesus was.

Before Jesus said, "Arise. . . and walk," He spoke to the man's spirit and said, "Thy sins be forgiven thee." Jesus saw that a greater sickness than paralysis gripped the man's inner self. And that had to be dealt with first, for the paralysis of his inner man was hindering his total healing. The miracle of the man's physical healing followed his spiritual healing. Without knowing it, we may harbor resentments, and hurts and guilt in our hearts. And when we do that, we limit God by not opening up to His Spirit. If there's something wrong inside, we've got to get it out. This is where we may need some help -in opening up. And a psychiatrist or counselor can be an in-strument of God's love in helping us examine ourselves.

Jesus works through many instrumentalities to bring us the total healing He wants us to have. He doesn't separate our mind and our soul and our body. When I have a need of healing, I'm not overly concerned how it comes - I just want it to come. If I'm under the care of a doctor, I want that to work. If someone is praying for me, I want that to work. I want every instrument God uses to work. And then I believe we are to give the glory to God because whatever form it takes, all healing comes from

DuBose, Gators Ready

GAINESVILLE (AP) If Jimmy DuBose has a gleam in his eye, it may be because the running star of Florida's wishbone attack sees a chance to better last week's 204-yard performance Saturday when the Gators meet Duke in their homecoming football game.

After all, Ricky Bell of Southern California ran for 256 yards against the Duke Blue Devils in the opening game of the season, and Duke has yielded an average of 365 yards a game to opponents.

The 215-pound DuBose goes into this game with 765 yards for the season. Just 92 more and he will break the Florida season record of 856, which Tony Green set last year as a freshman.

Green, after a slow start, is in form, improving Florida's rushing potential along with junior Larry Brinson. The Gators are among the nation's top four in total offense with a 435.8yard average.

The Gators, ranked 12th nationally and 5-1 for the season. are favored to add 3-3 Duke to their list of victims even though senior quarterback Don Gaffney is out with a cracked bone in his left wrist.

Junior Jimmy Fisher will start at quarterback, with sophomores Billy Kynes and Terry LeCount backing him up. LeCount may also double as 35-34-69 wide receiver, a job he learned quickly this fall behind three 34.35-69 more experienced quarter-35-34-69 backs.

LAKE MARY- Ex-Fire Chief Charles (Chuck) Smith said in September as he resigned his city post that the fire department would participate in this year's December election, adding he hoped to get replacements for the incumbent councilmen.

Herald Staff Writer

Apparently he has made good on his promise. Just before the candidate qualifying period ended Friday, Roger Stumbo, an active member of the fire department and an appointed city fire commissioner, and ex-Mayor Margie Hess, a registered nurse with the volunteer department, filed documents to have their names placed on the December ballot. Stumbo is challenging incumbent Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. for a berth on the governing body while Mrs. Hess is opposing incumbent Councilman Harry Terry, for the group five post.
